WELCOME ALUMNI!!

Record Attendance Expected Here Today

A record attendance is promised for the annual Alumni Day activities of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College which will be held today. Dr. E. H. Nelson, president of the Alumni Association stated today that response to Alumni invitations has been most encouraging, and attendance records may be set by the turnout of graduates of the reunion classes as well as others.

The schedule for the day's activities calls for the annual Alumni meeting to be held in the College auditorium at 11:00 a.m. DST. The honored guests in this session will be the various reunion classes, while space on the platform will be reserved for the fifty-year class. An interesting program has been planned by the committee. Following this meeting an alumni luncheon will be held in the College dining room, while class reunions are scheduled for Saturday afternoon, beginning at three o'clock. A number of the reunion classes have planned special gettogethers in lieu of these sessions.

The athletic feature of Alumni Day will be a baseball game between Coach Bob Redman's Bloomsburg Huskies and King's College. The Huskies hold one decision over the Wilkes-Barre tossers and will be out to notch another victory over Coach Tom Brock's collegians. The game will start at five o'clock DST.

The climax of the day's program will be the annual alumni dance which will be held in the Waller Gymnasium beginning at 8:30 o'clock. Laubach's orchestra from Berwick will provide music for dancing. The committee in charge has promised a successful affair.

Student Committees Named for Summer

Announcement was made recently of the appointment of the student committees for the summer session of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College. Theodore Swigonski, newly elected president of the Community Government Association, stated that the committees named would function throughout all three sessions of the summer school. The following named persons will work together in order to assure success to a well-rounded program of summer activities: Budget Committee — George Dotzel; Recreation-Social Committee — Philip Joseph, Chairman; Joan McDonald, Chairman; Jack Purcell, Carson Whitesell, Helen Romanczyk, Audrey Terrel, Richard Grimes, Dolores Shaffer, Lionel Livingston; Canteen Committee — John Trimble; As-

Greetings to Alumni:

This is the year that our college comes of age. Twenty-one years ago the Bloomsburg State Normal School became the Bloomsburg State Teachers College.

Since that time we have awarded 1,500 degrees, bringing the total number of our Alumni to almost 10,000.

We welcome your return to Bloomsburg on May 22, 1948 as a high point in the college year.

Most cordial greetings are herewith recorded by the Board of Trustees, Faculty, Student-Body, and

Highway Safety Clinic To Be Held at B.S.T.C.

Announcement was made recently that a Highway Safety Clinic would be held at the Bloomsburg State Teachers College during the week beginning June fourteenth. George C. Lowe, director of traffic and safety education for the Atlantic Refining Company, will be in charge of the school. The affair will serve as a preliminary for the new program in safety education which will be launched by the College with the beginning of the regular Summer Session, June twenty-eighth.

Mr. Lowe, who was formerly associated with the Department of Highways, Bureau of Motor Vehicles, is one of the outstanding authorities in the field of safety education, and this clinic has been widely acclaimed

Thousands Attend May Day Festivities

Against a backdrop of gaily-festooned Maypoles and a brilliant blue sky, the annual B.S.T.C. May Day was held yesterday on College Hill with an audience of approximately a thousand filling the bleachers and lining the edge of the green.

The festivities, originally scheduled for Wednesday, a week ago, but postponed four times by heavy showers, were held yesterday under cloudless skies. Except for chilly breezes which whipped the scanty costumes of some of the merrymakers, conditions were ideal.

Mrs. Anne Baldy Boyer, College senior, of Catawissa, was a charming queen as she led her court and the troop of entertainers from the grove near Science Hall to the throne placed on the terrace at the rear of Waller Hall. Dressed in a white gown, she carried a colorful arm bouquet of flowers.

Her attendants, gowned in pastel shades and carrying arm bouquets, were Miss Mary Moser, Ringtown; Estelle Friday, Phoenixville; Fern Shellenberger, Bloomsburg; Mildred Palumbo, Mt. Carmel; Barbara Greenly, Bloomsburg; Rose Marie Kraiser, Horsham; Charlotte Reichard, Light Street, and Matilda Patrick, Dupont.

The Queen was crowned by Harry Reitz, Shamokin, president of the Community Government Association, who placed a crown of flowers on her head. From her throne, the May Queen reviewed the procession of several hundred Benjamin Franklin School pupils and College students, who provided an interesting and entertaining program.

by educational leaders, traffic safety authorities and automobile associations.

The clinic will furnish a number of skilled instructors, and dual control cars will be provided. A prescribed route will be set up with the cooperation of officials in the town of Bloomsburg for instructional purposes. The staff will not only give instruction to learners in automobile driving, but licensed drivers who may have their faults analyzed and corrected by the clinic staff.

Dr. Thomas P. North, dean of instruction at the College, said recently that all summer session students at Bloomsburg may register for instruction during the clinic. The College anticipates a large registration for this special training program which is scheduled for comparatively few Central Pennsylvania communities.

Bloomsburg Has Third Largest Enrollment

Bloomsburg State Teachers College ranks third among the fourteen Pennsylvania State Teachers Colleges in total number of students, according to latest enrollment figures released today by the Department of Public Instruction. The local College has 907 students enrolled during the present semester, while West Chester heads the list with a total enrollment of 1680 and Indiana is in second place with 1530 students. The figures do not include Penn State freshmen students now attending the State Teachers Colleges under the cooperative agreement with the Pennsylvania State College.

Crown bearers were Sally Thomas and Barbara Gehrig, while pupils of the Benjamin Franklin kindergarten served as flower bearers and pages. The group is taught by Miss Grace Woolworth.

Based on Greek Olympics

Because the Olympics have been resumed this year, the College May Day was planned to simulate the ancient Greek celebration. The Olympic games were originally featured in a Dutch Dance.

Boys of the second grade had their innings as they performed in Western style, with gun on hip, the country square dance of this country with their feminine partners. Miss Iva Van Scoyce directed this group. The dancing was concluded with an entertaining hula, in grass-skirted costumes, by pupils of the third grade under the direction of Mrs. Lorraine Jones.

Between the dances, boys of the sixth grade participated in throwing events, relays, jumping events, hurdles and boxing matches. As the dancers formed for the traditional Maypole winding, a college quartet, composed of Marion Lake, Carbondale; Ralph Wire, Harrisburg; Jean Richards, Bloomsburg, and Joe Curilla, Shamokin, sang "Sylvia" and "Spring Song."

Colorful Maypole Winding

College women in Spring formal gowns made an attractive picture as they wound Maypoles on the upper terraces of College Hill. Fifteen poles with varicolored streamers were used in the ceremonies and the costumed pupils of the Benjamin Franklin school also participated in the gala conclusion to the afternoon program. From time to time during the afternoon gaily-colored balloons went floating away over the heads of the audience and entertainers as they escaped the grasp of small fry who had purchased them from the balloon peddler near Science Hall.

Amateur photographers also had their heyday as they scurried back and forth snapping pictures of the brilliant procession of the May Queen and her attendants and of the costumed dancers and athletic events.

The May Day program was under the general direction of Mrs. Peter Wisher and Mrs. Robert Redman. Mrs. Wisher directed last year's presentation which was a revival of the college's most colorful Springtime festival. Benjamin Franklin teachers and Miss Elma J. Major and Miss Edna J. Hazen gave assistance.

Properties and stage settings were designed by George Keller and built under the direction of Nevin T. Englehart. The College band, directed by Charles H. Henrie, provided music during the ceremonies and the Olympic athletes were supervised by Peter Wisher. Mrs. Wisher and Mrs. Redman designed the costumes worn by the children and mothers made them. Flowers were provided by Dillon greenhouses.

Tom Lewis Receives P.T.A. Scholarship

Thomas W. Lewis, Northumberland, a senior at the Bloomsburg State Teachers College, was awarded the Pennsylvania Congress of Parents and Teachers scholarship at the May 11 assembly in the Carver Hall auditorium. The annual award of fifty dollars is one of fourteen given by the state organization to outstanding seniors in the fourteen State Teachers Colleges, and the Northumberland man is the second recipient of the scholarship which was presented for the first time last year.

Mr. Lewis, who is quite active in campus affairs at Bloomsburg, served as one of the Huskies' assistant football coaches during the 1947 season and capably tutored the varsity baseball team last spring. He has had extensive experience in all athletics, playing during his four high school years at Sunbury High School and later at Susquehanna University. His playing experience also includes a number of seasons in amateur, semi-pro, and professional baseball. At the present time, Lewis is umpiring baseball games in the Central Pennsylvania region.

A graduate of the Sunbury High School with the class of 1933, Mr. Lewis attended Susquehanna University before entering the armed forces. He served forty-three months with the United States Air Forces, holding the rank of first sergeant when separated from the service at Westover Field, Massachusetts. During his army career, he coached the athletic teams of the U. S. Army Air Forces at Olmstead Field, Middletown, Pennsylvania.

He is a member of the Oscar Hugh Bakeless Chapter, Future Teachers of America, and served as its program chairman for the past year. He is also a member of the following professional organizations: Phi Sigma Pi, honorary social science fraternity, and Kappa Delta Pi, honorary education fraternity.

Safety Ed Training To Be Offered Here

Under the leadership of the State Department of Public Instruction, a program of training for teachers in safety education has been set up in a few teacher-education institutions, and the Bloomsburg State Teachers College will cooperate in making this training available to its students during the regular Summer Session, beginning June twenty-eighth. The program is available to those desiring to become qualified to teach safety education at either the secondary or elementary school level.

Arrangements have been completed to offer a course in "Driver Education and Training" which will carry three semester hours of credits, and if there is a demand, an additional three semester hours of work will be offered in safety education leading to permanent certification in that field. Temporary certification may be earned by taking three semester hours of credit instead of six.

Dr. Thomas P. North, dean of instruction at the College, stated recently that the courses are designed to meet fully the needs of those seeking to equip themselves to teach safety education and train secondary students as automobile drivers. The Department of Public Instruction also indicated that the course can be used to make a teaching certificate permanent and can be taken as an elective course in social studies.

Mr. Robert B. Redman has been named to handle the work in safety education at Bloomsburg. Mr. Redman has had much preparation for this work and attended the recent special training program conducted at Harrisburg for instructors in courses in safety education. It is the hope of the College that a number of classroom teachers from Central Pennsylvania will want to prepare themselves to handle the work in safety education in their respective schools before the September term begins.

Mansfield STC Downs Huskies in 6-2 Game

Mansfield Teachers College, which had lost its first four games, finally found the winning combination on its home field on Saturday when it downed the Bloomsburg Huskies, 6 to 2.

Wilson, who had a perfect day at the plate, led the twelve-hit attack of the Mansfield team. The home club got a two run lead in the first. The Huskies, behind Brunn, tied it up in the third. Then a three-run rally in the fourth decided. Bloomsburg had nine hits, two each by Piestrak, Czerniakowski and Slobozien, but was unable to get many of safeties with men on the runways.

The representatives of the three colleges competed together. When scores were taken only the Indians and Huskies would be considered in compiling one set of statistics and only the Indians and Rider in the other.

However, if the teams had been in a triangular meet the result would have been pretty much the same, with the score East Stroudsburg, 93; Bloomsburg, 48.5; Rider, 12.5.

Veteran's Corner

by Jack Johns

Approximately 100,000 World War II veterans who suffered speech impairments in service may be eligible for special restorative training established by Veterans Administration to help them overcome their handicap.

This training is available under the Vocational Rehabilitation Act (Public Law 16) for disabled veterans, when:

(1) The speech impairment interferes with the satisfactory employment of the veteran or the successful completion of his vocational training.

(2) The physical and mental condition of the veteran is such that speech correction training may be pursued satisfactorily.

(3) There is good promise that specialized training will overcome or reduce significantly the veteran's handicap.

In some cases there may be the possibility that speech impairments can be improved by medical or surgical treatment, VA said. These services will be offered eligible veterans before they are entered in the special speech correction programs.

The type and amount of special training will vary with the needs of each eligible veteran.

Generally the training will be offered in speech clinics of colleges, universities, medical centers, hospitals and public schools; speech clinics operated as adjuncts to guidance or mental hygiene clinics; private speech correction clinics and in curative workshops.

The training centers selected by VA must be qualified and equipped to furnish the specialized training needed by the veteran.

The center must have on its staff competent speech pathologists and correctionists who meet the standards set by the American Speech Association. The physical facilities, equipment and materials of the center must be adequate to furnish effective training. Medical services for necessary diagnostic purposes must be available.
