Frosh Talent Show Is Presented at Thursday Assembly

The annual Freshman Talent Show was presented in assembly on Thursday, October 26. Sam Wolcott and Oren Baker acted as Masters of Ceremony.

The program was opened with a vocal solo by Mary Dievelos, who sang "Dancing in the Dark." The next presentation was a piano selection by Carol Vought entitled "Swing Prelude."

Peter Ferrilli won a round of applause for his vocal rendition of "The Stars Will Remember." He was followed by Mary Ann Marz, who played "Variations," a gay piano selection. Next, Mary Ann Fink presented the lovely "The Song Is You" as a vocal solo.

After these individual performances, a team made up of Marlene Wetzel and Sam Wolcott enacted a musical skit to the tune of "Has Anybody Seen My Gal?" This skit depicting the days back "in the twenties" was followed by a modern version called "Moods of '54." Participating in the latter act were Henry Novak, pianist; Geo. Kocher, drummer; and Dick Paul, saxophonist.

John Bogdan entered the spotlight to present "Meditations from Thais."

Dick Paul and his orchestra, the Rhythm Eight, concluded the program with several popular songs. The orchestra, directed by Paul, is composed of Henry Novak, George Kocher, Jim Doty, Kendall Parlette, Larry Miller, Alex Koharski, and Joe Kissinger.

Johnnie Johnson had charge of lighting arrangements for the program. Betty Vanderslice and Gene Stevens served as accompanists. The entire show was supervised by Peggy Bourdette and Clifton Clarridge, freshman student advisers.

B.S.T.C. Delegates To Attend Workshop At State College

Pres. Andruss and Dr. North, who has just returned from the national clinic on teacher education held in Michigan, where he represented the P. S. E. A., and James Kleman, student representative for F.T.A., will attend the Third Annual Workshop Conference at Pennsylvania State College on November 3 and 4.

The conference is sponsored by the P. S. E. A. Commission on Teacher Education and Professional Standards and is attended by delegates representing elementary, secondary, and college teachers; college and university administrators; county superintendents; district superintendents; school principals; the press; P. T. A.; State legislature; Department of Public Instruction; and the Executive Council of the Pennsylvania State Education Association.

Since the conference has chosen as its theme "Characteristics for Teacher Preparation Institutions," twelve topics have been selected dealing with problems in teacher education; these topics have been distributed among twelve groups of delegates. President Andruss will act as a consultant and analyst for the group discussing "Student Personnel Programs." Other topics to be discussed are: Institutional Objectives and Organizations; Professional Personnel; Facilities and Resources; and Programs of Professional Education.

Registration will begin at nine o'clock on Friday, November 3, and at ten o'clock, Dr. North, chairman of a P.S.E.A. committee, will give the P.S.E.A. Commission Keynote address to open the session. The Conference will adjourn on Saturday at 3:30 P.M.

Bloomsburg Players Meet in Carver Hall

The Bloomsburg Players held their regular meeting on Tuesday, October 24, at 7:00 P.M. in Carver Auditorium. A one-act play entitled "Good Medicine" was presented. The play, a riotous comedy, was directed by Barbara Sherman and James Creasy. "Good Medicine" involves the struggles of a young doctor trying to establish himself in his chosen profession.

After he has given up his nearly non-existent practice to work in a grocery store, a wealthy woman "hypochondriac" comes to his office. The doctor's wife, who also substitutes as his nurse, tries to persuade the doctor to accept the

Calendar of Events For Twenty-Third Annual Homecoming

This is B.S.T.C.'s Homecoming day, a day set aside each year for alumni, parents, and friends to visit our college campus. On this day there are various programs for the enjoyment and entertainment of our visitors. The following calendar of events will start at 10:00 A.M. and continue until 11:30 P.M.

At 10:00 A.M. there will be open house in the Waller and North Hall dormitories; everyone is invited to visit the dorms and see "how the other half lives." At 11:00 A.M. there will be a band concert by the Maroon and Gold Band in the Waller Hall Gymnasium. A cafeteria luncheon for alumni and visitors will be held in the College dining hall at 11:30.

Festivities Begin With Concert by Band In Waller Hall Gym

Bloomsburg State Teachers College will celebrate its twenty-third annual Homecoming day today when it extends a welcome to visitors and friends. President Harvey A. Andruss has announced an attractive program of events in a day crowded with merriment and gaiety.

"Homecoming" at Bloomsburg has always meant exactly what the title implies. At this time former students and graduates of the college return to its campus to see familiar faces and to recall memories of school days. The usual custom in the past has been the holding of assembly on Saturday morning in Carver Hall auditorium followed by a welcome speech by the President of the college. This, of course, was followed by the traditional football game, after which the visitors were served refreshments in Waller Hall lounge. Last, but not least, to climax the gala day was the informal dance in the gymnasium.

This year, contrary to usual custom, the Homecoming program will begin with a band concert in the Waller Gymnasium at 11:00 A.M.; the band is under the direction of Mr. Charles Henrie, assisted by Mr. Howard Fenstermaker and Mr. Harold Lanterman.

The cafeteria luncheon for alumni and visitors is planned for 11:30 A.M. in the college dining room, which will be specially decorated in the school colors of Maroon and Gold.

Highlighting the day's activities will be the Homecoming Day football game with Kutztown State Teachers College. The Huskies will attempt to extend their list of victories over the Golden Avalanche in what promises to be an exciting game. The kick-off is scheduled for 2:00 P.M. on the Mount Olympus gridiron.

Immediately following the game there will be a Get-Together in the Waller Hall Lounge. The faculty-student committee is making plans now to entertain hundreds of alumni and friends with a special program and refreshments. Following that event, a cafeteria dinner will be served in the College dining room beginning at 5:30 P.M.

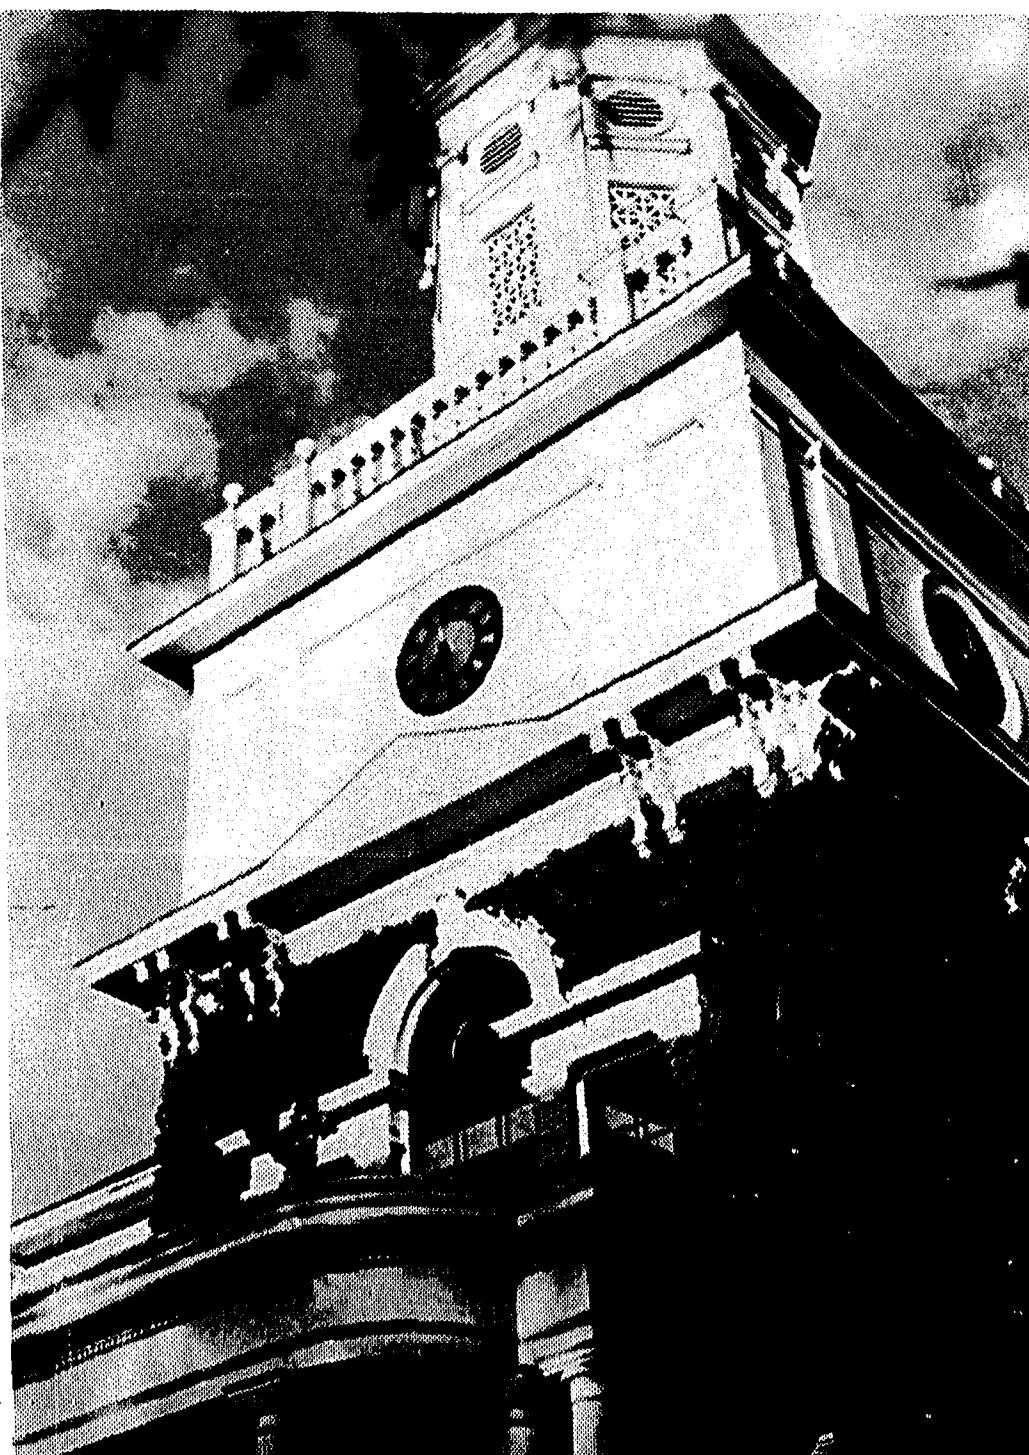

The day's activities will be closed with the Annual Homecoming Day Dance, which will be held in Centennial Gymnasium at 8:00 P.M. Al Anderson will provide the music for the dance.

Students Attend Speech Conference At State College

Speech majors of Bloomsburg State Teachers College, under the supervision of Miss Alice Johnston, attended the fifth annual Undergraduate Speech and Hearing Conference held at Pennsylvania State College on October 18. The main purpose of the Undergraduate Conference is to provide an opportunity for persons interested in speech and hearing problems to discuss their work.

The presentation of speech disorder cases was an interesting part of the Undergraduate Conference. Among some of the cases observed were cerebral palsy, hearing defects, cleft palate, stuttering, and aphasia. Graduate assistants of Pennsylvania State College directed the demonstrations.

Homecoming Day 1950 . . .

This week-end finds the campus in the spirit of Homecoming day. On this day, graduates of Bloomsburg have come from many sections of the country for an occasion they have anticipated for weeks in advance. They are from many different classes, and some are among the oldest living members of the Alumni Association.

The Homecoming Committee has planned entertainment to make the day an enjoyable one for all. The main event will be the football game with Kutztown. Some of the other events will be a get-together in the college lounge and a dance at Centennial Gymnasium Saturday evening. On their return to the campus, it is hoped that Bloomsburg alumni will find each moment enjoyable.

As they walk over the familiar campus, they may notice a few changes, but the true spirit and heart of the school are still here. Their eyes will move from face to face, hoping to see a familiar friend or classmate. Warm greetings will follow the reunion of people who returned with a common interest in mind. Many fond memories will be recalled and relived. Some will pause before the World War II Memorial and remember a friend who died in the service of his country. They will miss others who have passed on; they will long to see those who could not come.

Our alumni will recall the days when they were students here and remember that it was here that some of their happiest times were spent.

Most of us don't realize that days at Bloomsburg will be memorable ones; and that the friends we make here, we will always remember. A better way of explaining this is found in the words of the immortal Shakespeare: "For we, which now behold these present days, have eyes to wonder, but lack tongues to praise."

U.N. Celebrates Fifth Anniversary . . .

On October 23, 1950, the ringing of the Freedom Bell in Berlin marked the fifth anniversary of the drawing up of the United Nations. It was in 1945 that forty-six nations united together to draw up the blueprints for a union to bind nations of the world.

The United Nations is not the first organization of its kind because, as early as the Greek era, a similar organization called the Delphic Amphictyony was established. In early American history, the Iroquois Indians founded the League of the Six Nations. The countries of the modern world tried to unite in the times of the First World War, but this proved unworkable. Historically speaking, the United Nations had its beginnings very recently.

Today there are sixty member nations in the United Nations, an increase of fourteen since its establishment in 1945. These nations, representing different cultures and different races, have

Student Body Shows School Spirit at Pep Rally in Gym

The annual pre-Homecoming pep rally was held during the Assembly period on Tuesday, October 24, 1950, in Centennial Gymnasium.

The spirited Maroon and Gold band ushered the students to the bleachers with stirring marches, after which Master of Ceremonies Charles Edwards took over the program. The entire audience sang "Old Bloomsburg" and B.S.T.C.'s peppy squad of Cheerleaders led the college in cheers and yells.

Coach Hoch made a few remarks; he emphasized the fact that there is danger in the too-complacent attitude of the students towards the Homecoming game with Kutztown State Teachers College. The Golden Avalanche is a heavy team and has shown a good record this season. They will be out to ruin our Homecoming as we spoiled theirs two years ago.

More college songs and cheers followed, and Roongo was introduced to the student body.

Coach Redman spoke a few words about the team and the Homecoming game. He said that this year's team is a surprise to him; at the beginning of the season, he had expected them to win about two out of the eight games. He expressed his agreement with Mr. Hoch with regard to Kutztown.

Danny Parrell was called on to speak in behalf of the team. He expressed the team's appreciation of the enthusiastic support of the students throughout the season.

The pep rally closed with the singing of the Alma Mater.

Audio-Visual Clinic In Carver Hall On Nov. 1, 1950

An Audio-Visual Education Equipment Clinic will be held in Carver Auditorium on November 1, 1950, from 1:00 to 4:00 P.M. School administrators, teachers, and other interested persons have been invited to attend. Mr. U. F. Goodall, Chief of Radio and Visual Education, Department of Public Instruction, has arranged a program in two parts.

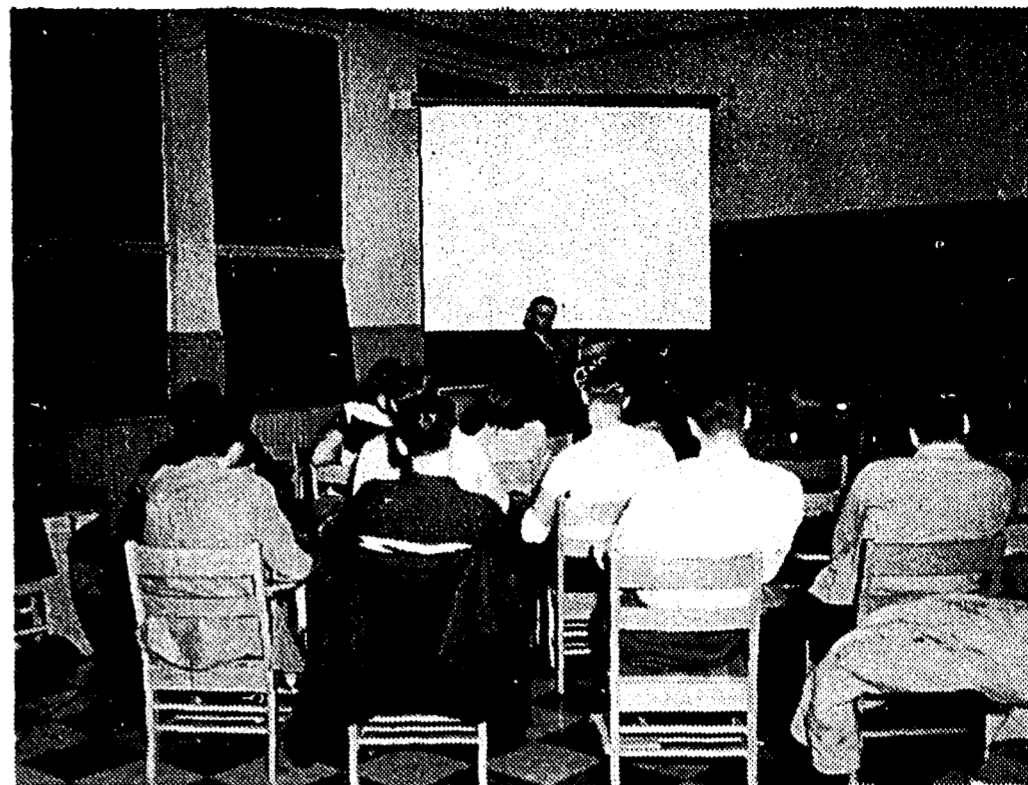

- Part 1 will include:
1. A demonstration before the group of the proper use of the opaque projector, the filmstrip projector, and the motion picture projector.
 2. The relationship of the equipment to the instructional program.
 3. The extent to which the equipment may be used in the service area.
 4. Maintenance of equipment.
 5. Annual reports to be made in connection with the use of the equipment.
 6. A question and answer period.
- Part 2 will consist of information on the procedure as well as terms upon which the schools may secure the Audio-visual instructional materials available from the Pennsylvania regional library.

Miss Ranson Attends Meeting of P.S.E.A.

New Visual Ed. Class in Session . . .

College Establishes New Audio-Visual Educ. Dept.

With the increasing attention being directed to sensory aids in education, the visual education departments of colleges throughout the country are carrying on more interesting and more educational programs than ever before. Bloomsburg State Teachers College is no exception.

Whether students enroll in the secondary, business, or elementary fields, they are required to take a course known as Visual Education. As summarized by the college catalog, the study "considers the psychological principles underlying Visual or Other Sensory Aids, and also studies the collecting and assembling of suitable teaching material." Instructors for the course are Dr. H. H. Russell and Mr. Charles H. Henrie.

In addition to the classroom activities, however, there are other responsibilities which the department undertakes. At the present, Bloomsburg State Teachers College is making plans to serve as the distributing center to the high schools in the area for the educational films which are used in the classroom. Because of these plans, an attempt is being made to expand the film library of the department. In recent years it has been shown that educational films are of immeasurable value in the classroom as an entertaining learning medium.

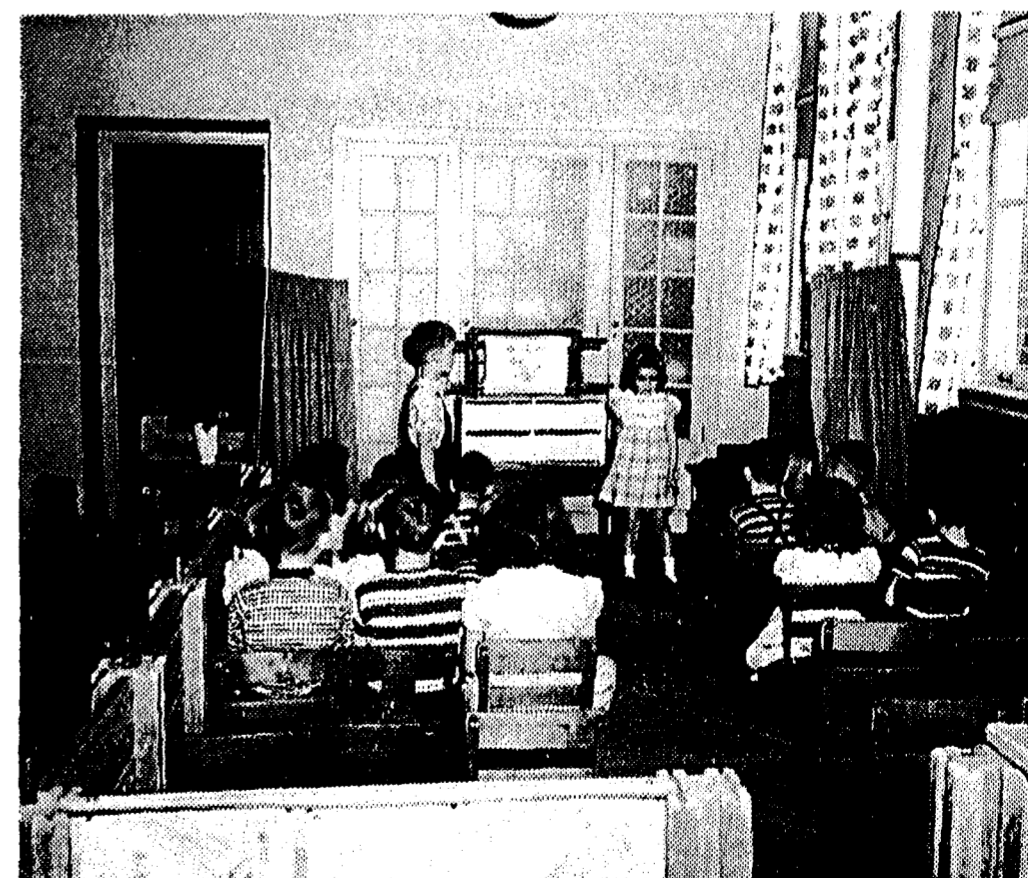

Appointed to the job of film librarian of Bloomsburg State Teachers College is Mr. Thaddeus Krensavage, a graduate of the class of 1950. His work entails the organizing and cataloging of all the films in the library. The majority of these films are vocational.

On the first of November, there will be an Audio-Visual Clinic held here on the campus. Representatives from a number of schools will convene here to discuss problems and methods of sensory education. In addition, the operation of projectors and other machines will be demonstrated. The exact worth of the college's equipment in this department is not known, but it is estimated that it totals thousands of dollars.

The department renders a service to student teachers by permitting them to take out any films which they might desire to use in their classroom instruction. However, they must first give evidence that they can efficiently operate the projector and care for the films.

Besides the visual education staff, composed of Dr. Russell, Mr. Henrie, and Mr. Krensavage, the college maintains an Audio-Visual Committee, headed by Dr. Russell and made up of Miss Hazen, Mr. Hallisy, Dr. Engelhardt, Mrs. Beeman, Miss Johnston, Miss Zealberg, Mr. Henrie, and Mr. Lanterman.

Undefeated Husky Gridders Play Host to Golden Avalanche

by Harry Brooks

Coach Bob Redman's Husky grid machine rolled on last Saturday at the expense of Shippensburg, 26-6, to remain one of the six undefeated eleven in the state. Four others of the six — Carnegie Tech, Lehigh, Scranton, and F&M — marched on to preserve clean slates, while the sixth member of this select group, Drexel, was idle. This week should find the going tough for all six powers, and by late Saturday afternoon things may have gone something like this:

Bloomsburg	27	Kutztown	6
Drexel	20	Wash. (Md.)	7
Lehigh	21	Rutgers	14
Carnegie	17	Case	13
F & M	33	Swarthmore	0

University of Scranton is idle, so we should still have all six teams in the undefeated class next week at this time.

As the Maroon and Gold continued their winning ways last week, our future foes chalked up victories. West Chester swamped East Stroud, Indiana topped Slippery Rock, and Kutztown dropped a mediocre Trenton squad, 12-0. Days ahead look rough for the Husky aggregation, but we have confidence that they will come out on top.

The local booters stopped the Wilkes College soccer team for the second time this season on Mount Olympus, to hoist their record to three wins against two setbacks. It marked the second consecutive victory for the Maroon and Gold.

By looking through the football schedules of other state teachers colleges, we can't help noticing how some of these schools have branched out from the mythical conference to play better opposition throughout the state. Surely Mansfield and Millersville, to name two, are tired of getting wallowed by Bloom, and the fans are getting just as bored watching it. The solution is to play more formidable opposition, such as Geneva, Rider, Waynesburg, and other teams, who are, to be sure, not a power every year, but consistently hold their own within the tri-state area. The problem is: can these schools be scheduled?

Harold Shelly's basketball-minded boys turned out last Tuesday night for the first formal practice. Over fifty candidates reported and more will turn their attention to the courts after the grid season is over. This top winter sport should really be interesting on the Hill, come December.

A final note on possible collegiate scores for the week: last week the crystal ball had seven out of ten right for a percentage of 700, but darned if any of us can win on the football pools.

Huskies Keep Record Intact by Defeating Shippensburg 26-6

Dan Parrell Scores Three T.D.'s to Rank in State Scoring Honors

Displaying the courage and stamina of their namesake, the valiant Huskies of B. S. T. C. cut down the heavier Shippensburg line until they were on equal terms — and then proceeded to methodically whip the Red Raiders until the final gun sounded. The final score was 26-6 in favor of the aggressive Bloomsburg grid-ders.

According to the sports experts, the Huskies were a 10 point underdog as they entered the Shippensburg field last Saturday afternoon. Again, as in last week's game, the B.S.T.C. football team proved the experts wrong.

After a bruising first quarter in which neither team scored, the Huskies proceeded to upset the odds by crashing to an early second period score on the basis of Nemetz's recovery of a Raider fumble on the Bloomsburg 31-yard line. Runs by Spack and Lang and a pass play, Spack to Verhausky, which covered 43 yards, placed the ball on the Shippensburg 14-yard line. Lang reeled off a seven-yard gain and Parrell bulled his way across the Raider goal line.

Coach Bob Redman

Returning Homecomers and grid fans should know by now the gridiron record of genial Bob Redman here at Bloomsburg. His highly-touted teams have won him much acclaim over the last three years in the small college circuits.

"Rapid Robert" (as his college clippings say) came here in the late season of 1947. Since then his teams have compiled an enviable record of 25 wins in their last 26 games. Holding the coaching reins only two games in 1947, he won them both and continued unbeaten through the 1948 season. Opening the 1949 season, Wilkes College dumped the Huskies 20-7 and broke the unbeaten spell, but the Maroon and Gold grid-ders rolled over the rest of their opponents to start a new string of wins. The present season shows a grand total of four wins in four tilts.

Today's game is the Huskies third Homecoming game under the tutelage of Bob Redman and they will be out to win. Let's be there to back a winner!

Strong Bloomsburg Squad Rated as Favorites in Today's Grid Classic

Soccer Team Scores Second Victory Over Wilkes by 4-2 Count

The Husky booters chalked up their third victory on Saturday, October 21, when they defeated Wilkes College, 4-2. The game was played on Mt. Olympus; it was the second triumph over Wilkes for Coach Shelly's boys this season.

Bickert scored the first goal for the Huskies on a penalty kick in the opening period. This was closely followed by a Wilkes score.

In the second session, Pursel gave the Maroon and Gold tribe a lead by booting across our second score.

Paced by Bobby Roan and Dick Gearhart, the Shellymen sewed up the game in the last quarter by pushing across two goals. Wilkes also scored a goal in the last 30 seconds of play.

The game in itself was well played by both clubs, and the boys displayed fight throughout the contest. Furgele and Cleaver looked well on defense for the Huskies.

Huskies Enter Contest With Impressive Record Of 18 Straight T.C. Wins

For the first time in three weeks, the Maroon and Gold grid-ders will trot on the field as favorites, this time to meet the formidable Kutztown eleven. By national ratings, the Huskies were underdogs at both Millersville and Shippensburg, but came out on top in both, beating Millersville 40-0 and Shippensburg 26-6. However, this Homecoming game should not be taken lightly. Kutztown was defeated by Shippensburg earlier in the season, but since then the Golden Avalanche has shown consistent improvement. On the last two Saturdays, Kutztown has emerged victorious. After taking the measure of Cortland, 15-6, they dropped the Trenton Tutors by a 12-0 count last week. They are in fine physical and mental shape after the Trenton victory and will try all-out to spoil the B. S. T. C. Homecoming festivities.

On the other hand, Coach Redman's charges are up for the game, fearing an upset. Many of the Husky grid-ders remember the tough battle they had with the Kutztown eleven last year, before the Huskies finally copped the decision, 27-14. Despite the injuries suffered at Shippensburg, the Huskies will field their usually strong team.

This will be the only game on Mount Olympus again this year. A fine Homecoming crowd is expected to turn out to see the Maroon and Gold try to annex their thirteenth straight win, the nineteenth over teachers colleges, and their twenty-fifth victory in the last twenty-six college tilts. With this enviable record to protect, the Huskies will battle down to the wire; and Kutztown will try equally hard to blot out one of the state's finest gridiron records.

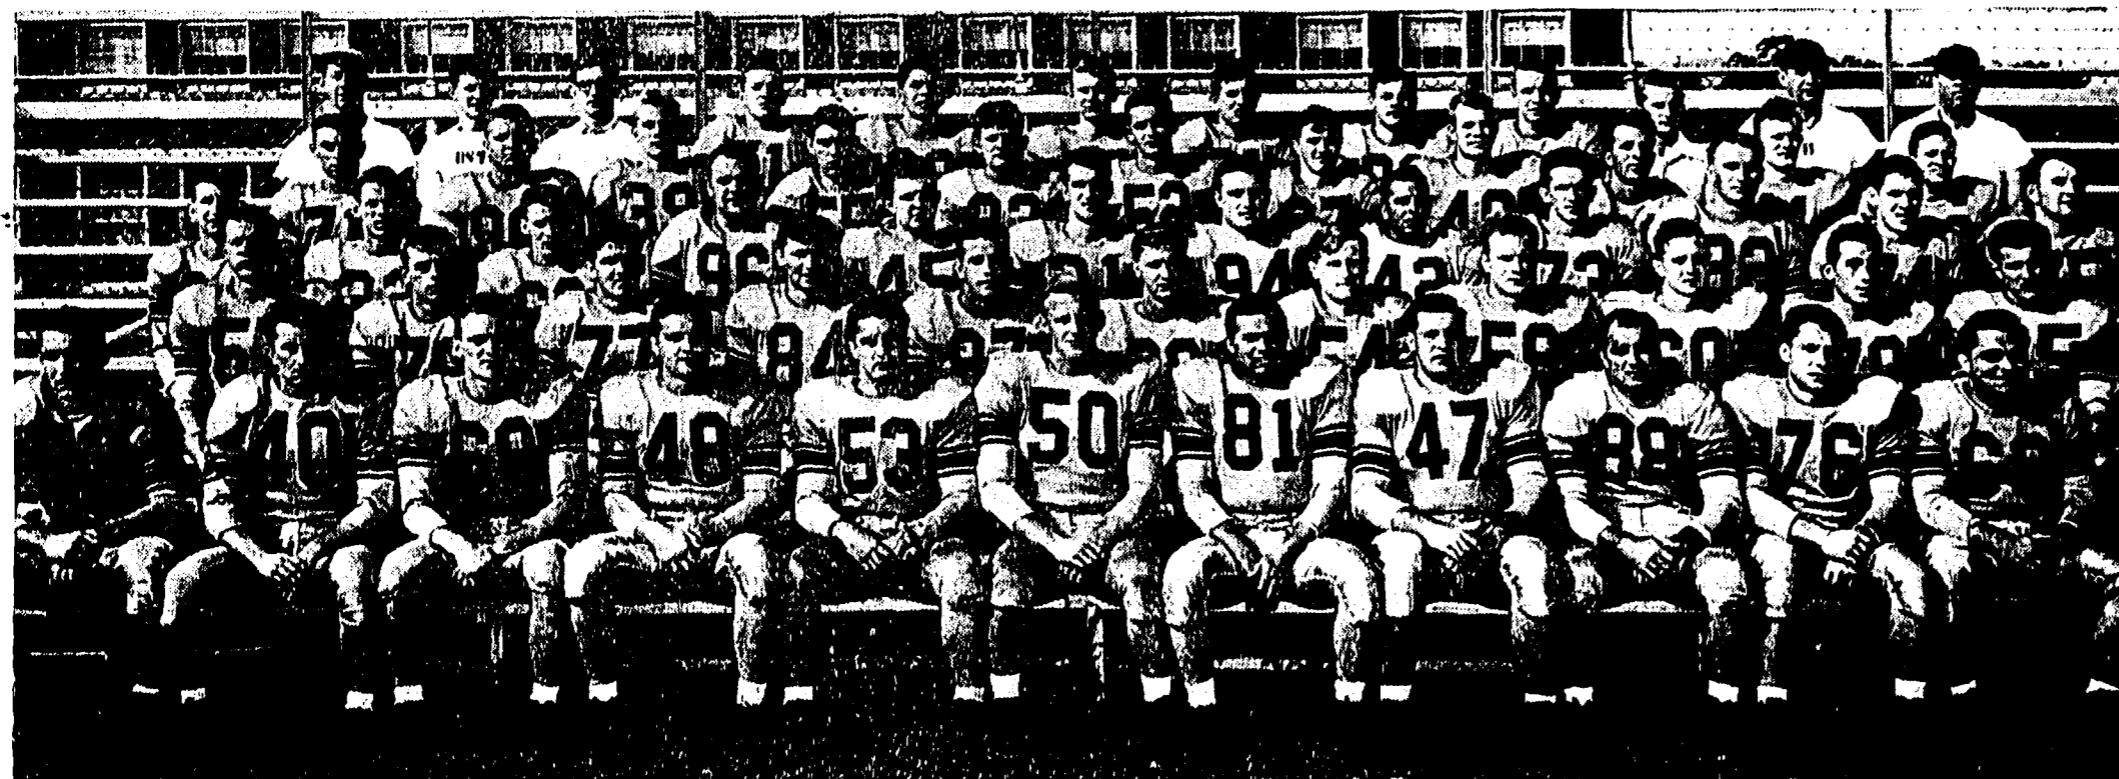

Football scoring records (individual and team) as of October 26, 1950, are as follows:

Varsity Club Elects Officers

The Varsity Club, Bloomsburg State Teachers College's newest organization, elected the following officers at a recent meeting:

President—Daniel Parrell
V. President—Edward Tavalsky
Secretary—Albert Eremich
Treasurer—Frank Perry

Membership in the club is open to any man who has won a letter in any major sport. Dr. Wagner is acting as adviser to the club. A dance is being planned for some date between Thanksgiving and Christmas.

The College athletic field at one time was located on the northwest corner of the present campus at the site now occupied by Science Hall. Traces of the running track are still visible on the east side of the building.

A bitter rivalry was carried on for many years between Maroon and Gold football teams and Wyoming Seminary. Old grads will recall that the town supported the squad wholeheartedly in this long series of gridiron contests.

College COUNCIL HI-LITES

In its meeting held October 23, College Council acted upon the motion to place a new juke box in the college lounge sometime in the near future. There were no dissenting votes to the motion, and pending the approval of the president and re-writing of the contract to the specifications set up by council, the motion was passed. The juke box will be a 1948-model Wurlitzer 24-record-capacity machine. Periodic servicing has been assured by the Vombico Vending Machine Company of Shamokin, Pa.

The college lounge situation was again brought before the council. During an informal inspection of the lounge which followed the meeting, council members were amazed with the evidences of extreme carelessness and vandalism which they encountered. It was decided that some action should be taken to alleviate the situation by stressing to the students that they are, in effect, wasting their own money when they destroy or mutilate lounge facilities. If the "Student Appeal" plan fails, more drastic measures will have to be taken to remedy the problem. A frank discussion of the situation will be held in assembly in the near future.

After considerable discussion, Council decided that the problem of sending eligible council members to Williamsport for student teaching was an administrative one, and further discussion was withheld until Dr. Andruss acts on the problem.

The 1950-51 College Council budget was adopted in its entirety. The question of N.S.A. affiliation will become the feature issue of the next meeting. No provision has been made in the budget to send a delegate from this college to the National N.S.A. meeting next year. However, the present budget does provide for B.S.T.C. representatives to attend the District and State N.S.A. Conferences which will be held during the year. It was pointed out that if the College Council decides to disaffiliate from N.S.A., its current N.S.A. allocation will be transferred to some other activity.

This column, which incidentally had its birth in the Council meeting of October 23, will be published in the Maroon and Gold issue immediately following the regular College Council meetings. All information printed here is subject to the approval of the President of the College, who must approve the minutes of each Council meeting. We endeavor to keep College Council Hi-Lites as objective as possible, keeping personalities out except when we have no other choice.

Tavalsky's conversion made the score 7-0.

On the second play following the kick-off, Mills tumbled on his 28-yard line and the alert Mike Bernot recovered for B. S. T. C. Taking advantage of this break, Parrell passed to Ed Tavalsky, who lateralled to Lang. Lang was stopped on the Raider's 13-yard line. A first down was made by Lang on the three and Battering Dan Parrell again blasted through the Raider line to make the score 13-0. A bad pass from center for the extra point resulted in no chance for a conversion.

Late in the second period the Huskies again scored on a well-executed play in which Parrell handed off to Spack, who in turn ran to his left and fired a pass to Parrell on the right side of the field. Parrell easily jogged untouched to his third touchdown of the game, Tavalsky's conversion was good and B.S.T.C. lead 20-0 at the half.

The raiders came roaring back in the second half as Mills ran the kickoff back to the B.S.T.C. 47-yard line. Passes and runs by Potoczny placed the ball deep into Husky territory. Here the defense stiffened and Potoczny resorted to a fourth down desperation pass which the gigantic Chubb plucked from the air in the end zone. This ended the Shippensburg scoring for the afternoon, as the conversion was wide.

The Huskies threatened several times and finally scored again as a result of Lambrino's run-back of an interception to the Red Raider's 29-yard line.

Hallowe'en

Beware! Beware! The unique of all mysterious days is soon to come. What is this day of magic, lore, and superstition? It's Halloween! Black cats keep away, pumpkins shine bright, and ole' moon slice yourself down to a slim sliver. Halloween brings us the same excitement now as it did when we, as children, masqueraded. Although this day is not taken as seriously as in days of yore, listen to the story of the origin of the most ghostly day in the year.

The mystic rites with which Halloween was originally observed began among the Druids centuries ago, long before the Christian era. Many of these ancient rites were brought from Europe to this country by the colonists of England. Today, most of these rites are called superstitions and are no longer regarded as true — still, many superstitious people hang on to the ancient fallacies. For instance, the Pennsylvania German farmers paint hex signs on their barns to keep evil spirits away. Another ancient belief is that if a man fills his mouth with wheat and goes for a long walk, the first girl whose name is spoken will be his future wife. Have you ever tried to walk around with your mouth full of wheat? Please try it, then whistle. But all kidding aside, Halloween was a very serious thing in its day.

To you and me, Halloween means masquerading, parties, bobbing for apples, and fun galore. Thus, a happy Halloween to each and every one of you, and watch out for the goblins!

Marie Mattis was appointed as program chairman for the November 2 meeting, which will be devoted to a study of the poetry of Ogden Nash. Several members of the poetry club will travel to Wilkes-Barre on November 9 to attend a lecture by Mr. Nash.

Despite the frequent degrading criticism of the United Nations, the results of its work prove its great worth. Truly, the United Nations has "moved forward in every field of human existence."

After many riotous incidents, the wealthy woman reveals that she is posing as a hypochondriac in order to find an honest doctor for the new hospital which she is opening. The doctor is awarded the position, and the play ends happily for all.

The cast consisted of Lucky Pliscott, Mary Lou Todd, and Henry Novak.

Speaking of OPERATIONS

There's a fellow around here who's been operating at high speed, namely one John Kocur. The object of his affection hails from way back yonder in Port Chester, New York, home of Life Savers, the candy with the hole. Doesn't this come under the heading of interstate commerce? If it does, we hope that John has been licensed by the ICC.

"Blue and Broken Hearted" is the theme song of all the eligible young bachelors in the Business Education curriculum since blithe-spirited Marjorie Keller went and got herself engaged. Her engagement was announced during a party by means of a transcription which heralded the event as one of "national, even international importance." Congratulations to you, Miss Keller. We join with the college in wishing you the utmost in conjugal bliss.

The goblins will get you if you don't watch out . . . Statistics show that out of every nine men single at the age of twenty, three are certain to be married within five years. Are you at the critical age? You're trapped, men! If a gal doesn't get you, Uncle Sam will.

"Exotic" was the word for it . . . At the annual Undergraduate Speech and Hearing Conference held at the Pennsylvania State College on October 19, the word "exotic" was mentioned no less than six times in discussing the speech courses throughout the state. A Temple representative started it, and representatives from other colleges kept the ball rolling. What started out as a humorous bit of adjectivity became a verbal Frankensteinian monster.

Making like boids are two former students of B.S.T.C., Elwood Earle and Donald Fasset. Both fellows became "glamour boys" during this past summer, and both are stationed at Air Force bases deep in the heart of Texas. Donald was the messenger boy who was looking for Mrs. Jones in the "57 Varieties Show" last May. We wonder if he has caught up with her in his travels.

Time in my hands . . . When Mr. DeVoe looked through an October 2 issue of Time magazine, he noticed a mistake in spelling which Time's copyreading staff had permitted to go to press. So, taking pleasure in his work, he brought the error to the attention of the editor. Printed in the October 23 issue of Time (page 8) is Mr. DeVoe's rhetorical question to the editor: "Who's English are you using?"

Attention, Social Studies department . . . Here are definitions of various types of government as illustrated by a farmer with two cows:

Socialism: If you have two cows, you give one to your neighbor.

Communism: If you have two cows, you give them to the government, and the government gives you some milk.

Fascism: If you have two cows, you keep the cows and give the milk to the government; then the government sells you some milk.

New Dealism: If you have two cows, you shoot one and milk the other; then pour the milk down the drain.

Nazism: If you have two cows, the government shoots you and keeps the cows.

Capitalism: If you have two cows, you sell one and buy a bull.
