Business Education Club Holds Meeting In Navy Auditorium

The Business Education Club held its regular meeting on Thursday, October 19, in Navy Hall Auditorium.

The club observed Pennsylvania Week. Betty Speal, a member of the club, gave an interesting talk on Pennsylvania's Resources.

Mr. Rygiel, the club sponsor, gave a report on a survey which he has conducted in 1st, 2nd, 3rd, and 4th class school districts in Pennsylvania. The survey included two hundred schools, and these schools represented sixty-two of the 67 counties. The object of the survey was to determine what shorthand standards and curricular practices exist in the four classes of school districts in Pennsylvania.

The following were some of the topics considered in the survey:

- (1) Passing grades used by different schools.
- (2) Grade placement of shorthand.
- (3) Selection of first year shorthand students by the various schools.
- (4) Text used in teaching shorthand.
- (5) Reading rate requirements.
- (6) When and during what years transcription started.
- (7) Minimum transcription rate requirements for passing grades.
- (8) Minimum dictation rate required to pass the course.

Mr. Earl A. Gehrig Writing Texts in Accounting I and II

A two-volume college textbook in Accounting I and Accounting II is being compiled by Mr. Earl A. Gehrig, a faculty member of Bloomsburg State Teachers College and instructor in the Business curriculum of the college.

Mr. Gehrig has already completed the first volume of the book. This volume is now being edited by the H. M. Rowe Company of Baltimore, Maryland, but it will be about a year before it appears on the market. In the meantime, Mr. Gehrig is working on the second volume, so that both volumes will be presented to the public almost simultaneously. The books, both accompanied by practice sets, will probably make their appearance some time in December of 1951.

Visual Ed. Group Holds Clinic in Carver Auditorium

An audio-visual education clinic was held at the Bloomsburg State Teachers College on Wednesday, November 1, from 1:00 to 4:00 p.m. in Carver Auditorium. The program was arranged by Mr. U. F. Goodall, Chief of Radio and Visual Education, Department of Public Instruction.

The first part of the program included a demonstration of the opaque projector, the filmstrip projector, and the motion picture projector, along with direction on their maintenance; an explanation of the use of the equipment in the educational program; and an investigation of the extent to which the equipment can be used in the service area. The program was followed by a question and answer period.

During the second phase of the clinic information was given concerning the procedure and terms which schools must follow in order to secure audio-visual materials from the Pennsylvania regional library.

1950 Homecoming One of Best in College History

The 1950 Homecoming celebration started with a big bang. The giant pep rally, bonfire, and snake-dance on Friday night paved the way for the big weekend.

Saturday festivities began with the presentation by the Maroon and Gold band, under the direction of Mr. Charles Henrie and Mr. Howard Fenstermaker at 10:30 in the Waller Gymnasium. The band played the following selections: "Repsz Band," "Tzena, Tzena," "March Independentia," "New Ashmolian Marching Society & Conservatory," "Hoop De Do," "The Thunderer," "The Jolly Tar," "Glory of the Gridiron," and the "Alma Mater."

From 12:15 to 1:15, open house was held in the Waller Hall and North Hall dormitories; visitors and students alike availed themselves of this opportunity to see the living quarters of friends and relatives.

At 2:00 P.M., the Huskies smashed Kutztown State Teachers College 35-0; the game, which was to have been the highlight of the day, proved to be a holiday for the Maroon and Gold, who scarcely let the Golden Avalanche see the ball.

A get-together in the Waller Gymnasium after the game gave alumni, visitors, students, and faculty a welcome chance to chat and renew old acquaintances. Refreshments of cider, coffee, and doughnuts were served.

Festivities closed with an informal dance from 8:00 to 11:30 P.M. Saturday night in Centennial Gymnasium. Music was furnished by Al Anderson's orchestra. The affair proved to be an overwhelming success, with what was estimated to be one of the largest throngs ever in attendance at a Homecoming dance.

Dr. Nelson Elected To Presidency of Alumni Association

One of the features of Homecoming Day at Bloomsburg State Teachers College was a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Alumni Association held at lunch time in the dining hall. Also attending the meeting were presidents of the different branches of the Alumni Association and their wives.

Program planning for the coming year was discussed. Some of the plans are to have the alumni meeting before commencement, to establish outpost branches of the Alumni Association in the different counties, and to hold the

Time Magazine Prints Letters of Faculty Members

An honor has been bestowed upon two members of the college faculty . . . that of getting letters published in Time magazine. It is quite a coincidence that both the letters should have been accepted for publication almost in the same issue.

Dr. J. A. Russell sent the following letter of praise to the editors of Time for their superb biography of the great living American poet, Robert Frost:

"Congratulations to Robert Frost for having the excellent sense to choose such a Time-worthy biographer. Also to Time for having established such an all time high for lodging pebbles of American biography where future slingshooters cannot dislodge them."

Time magazine replied with the following letter:

"Dear Dr. Russell,

Many thanks for the double-barrelled congratulations on our October 9 cover story about Robert Frost. You were very kind in paying tribute to Time for the story.

Since we thought we'd like to share your congratulations with Time readers, we're publishing

Mr. Edwin Barton To Leave B.S.T.C. In the Near Future

Mr. Edwin Barton, who is substituting for Dr. Ralph Herre, will leave the B.S.T.C. campus on November 10, when Dr. Herre will return from Columbia University where he has been attending a series of conferences.

Mr. Barton was born in Mt. Carmel, Pa. and moved to Bloomsburg when he was three years old. He lived in Bloomsburg until he entered college. He first attended Trinity College, Hartford, Connecticut, where he received his B.A. and M.A. degrees in history and political sciences. Later he attended the University of Minnesota, New York University, and Columbia University. At Columbia he received an M.A. degree in education and application in social studies.

For the past twenty years, Mr. Barton was head of the department of social studies in the school district of Elizabeth, New Jersey. He returned to Bloomsburg last year.

After his nine weeks of substitute teaching is completed, Mr. Barton is planning to join a local historical group which is studying this particular region.

Senior Class Meets To Approve Proposed 1950 Class Budget

At the recent meeting of the class of '51, action on two main items of business was completed. The proposed class budget was adopted by the seniors and committee appointments were made.

The budget was drawn up from a list of estimated expenses. As the budget stands now, January graduates must pay class dues amounting to $15.88 in the near future; May seniors are required to pay $11.62 to Jack Reese, class treasurer, by April 1, 1951. Members of the class agreed to be assessed for an increased amount of dues if incurred expenditures should exceed the estimated totals.

Committee chairmen appointed by President Richard Kressler to supervise senior activities are: Announcements, Diane Snyder; Class Memorial, Emory Rarig; Caps and Gowns, Gerald Bacon; Class Photograph, Marie Mattis and Homer Zeigler. Chairmen of activities for January seniors are: Banquet, Rita Dixon and Carolyn Vernoy; Ball, Andrew Maceiko and Russell Hawk; Investigations and Arrangements, Richard Waechter; Invitations, Nancy Morgan; Orchestra, Robert LePard; Dance Program, Norman Kline; Dance Ticket, Francis Bodine; Decorations, Joan Grazel; Refreshments, Wanda Petraitis; Transportation, John Klotzko. General chairman is George Reck.

Committee functions will be directed by Mr. Rygiel who has charge of senior activities.

College Speech Clinic Expands Clinical Practice Training

The Speech Clinic of Bloomsburg State Teachers College now has three hours of clinical practice besides the classroom work. The clinic is open on Tuesday from two to three for the training school pupils, from three to four for college cases, and Saturday morning from nine to ten for cases outside the clinic.

The children come from surrounding towns. Milton, Sunbury, Lewisburg, Berwick, Danville, Catawissa and other nearby towns send their cases to the clinic.

The children who come from these towns are referred by physicians in their towns or by the Geisinger Hospital. The county psychologist has also referred a few children to the clinic who

Young Concert Artist Thrills Large Audience With Fine Performance

Sylvia Zarembo, popular nineteen year old pianist, presented a concert in the Bloomsburg High School Auditorium at 8:30 p.m. on Thursday evening, November 2. The attraction was the second on the schedule of the Bloomsburg Civic Music Association series.

Miss Zarembo began her program with Johann Sebastian Bach's Organ Fantasia and Fugue in G minor, a selection alternating dramatic passages with passages of deep reflected beauty. This was followed by Thirty-Two Variations in C minor, an original melody by Ludwig Van Beethoven.

Sonata in B flat minor, Opus 35 by Frederic Chopin was the next selection played by the young artist. The sonata is made up of four movements: Grave-Doppio movimento, Scherzo, Marche Funebre, and Presto.

The next melodies to be played were Sonata No. 3, Opus 46 by Dmitri Kabalevsky and Suite pour le piano by Claude Debussy. Miss Zarembo concluded the concert with Sonetto del Petrarca, No. 104 by Frans Liszt and Mephisto Waltz, also by Liszt.

The pianist has appeared with adult orchestras since she was a child. At the age of seven, she was guest soloist with the Women's Symphony Orchestra of Boston. Two years later she made her debut in New York with the Philharmonic Symphony and the next year appeared in a Town Hall concert.

At twelve the youthful musician had played with the Philadelphia Orchestra and the New York Philharmonic. She has made guest performances in several large cities including Cleveland, Montreal, and Chicago. Miss Zarembo is currently on her third tour under the direction of Impresario S. Hurok.

College Plans to Discontinue Summer Post-Session

This summer the college will abandon the post-session of summer school and resume its pre-war calendar. President Andrus has announced that the summer sessions will consist of a pre-session and a regular session; thus, there will be only nine weeks of summer school. The three-week session will begin June 11 and end June 30, and the regular session will extend from July 9 to August 17.

The decrease in the number of the veterans on campus is the main reason for the change, as Voting Is a Privilege . . .

On November 7, thousands of civic minded men and women will go to the polls to vote for the people they want to serve them in public offices. On that same day, many men and women who could be voting will not bother going to polls. These indifferent individuals will feel that they do not have time or that their vote will not count. Possibly the reason these people do not vote is that they spend so much time criticizing those who are in office.

In last year's election, a tie occurred between two candidates for Borough Council in Lycoming County. One vote either way would have made a great deal of difference in that borough.

Most of us do not realize that voting as we know it is not just one of our rights, but a privilege—a privilege enjoyed in very few countries.

Last year, veterans organizations did a great deal to influence people to vote for the veterans' bonus. They could have done their country and themselves a great favor by getting the veterans to vote. Last year in Pennsylvania, less than twenty-five per cent of the veterans were registered to vote and less than twenty per cent voted, despite the fact that the election greatly concerned them.

People do not have to be conquered to lose their freedom. It can slip away by merely surrendering their rights and privileges.

When we fail to vote or vote carelessly, those who would misuse our government often come into power. When this happens, people think that the government is becoming sovereign. However, let us remember that it is not the government that becomes sovereign; it is individuals. But what is more important, we can always do something about it by exercising our voting power.

Soccer's Future As a Varsity Sport

The Community Activity Budget for the school year 1951-1952 shows no allocation for the continuation of the soccer team. Is this a mistake—or does the college intend to drop soccer as a varsity sport?

There are some who state that the interest in soccer is waning. These people are far from right; there have been more students trying for a place on the squad this year than in any year past. We would also like to state that this year's squad has one senior, two juniors, eight sophomores, and approximately fifteen freshmen. Do these facts indicate a loss of interest in soccer?

There are others who say that soccer offers participation for only a few. The soccer team carries a squad of twenty-two players, and there is seldom a game in which all do not participate. Both baseball and track carry smaller squads, and both have smaller participation!

If we were to divide the cost of participation in which the twenty-two man soccer squad is allotted $900 and the fifty-five man football squad is allotted $6,500, we would find that the cost per man in soccer is $40.90 while the cost per man in football is $118.18.

Soccer, baseball, and track show a loss because admissions are not charged. We realize this fact, but we also pay an activities fee so that we can have some participation in the sports of our choice.

In closing, we would like to say that most of the men who play soccer come here to obtain an education, and that soccer is secondary in this respect. We play soccer because we enjoy playing it and because we know it is a fine sport.

Intramural League Schedule Revised

A conflicting schedule forced the officials of the College Intramural Football League to revise its set-up. All games played previous to Monday, October 30, were cancelled.

Here are the results of games played on Monday, October 30:

The K.P.'s, paced by Williams and Barkley, defeated Hausknecht's Fraternity, 13-6. Taylor and DiRico's stiff defensive play contributed much to the victory. Pfeiffer scored Hausknecht's lone touchdown on a run.

In the other contest, Navy managed to hang on and score a 20-14 win over Army. Rhoads' completion of two passes to Kopec and Berry's run gave Navy its 20 points. Johnson's great passing ability kept Army in the game. His receivers for the two Army scores were Smith and Jones.

On Tuesday, October 31, Army and the Coal-Crackers played to an 8-8 deadlock. Kennedy played well for the Coal-Crackers, while Von Drack, Creasy, and Andrews paced the Army team.

The other game featured a high-scoring contest as the Amehbas won over the Roughnecks, 32-19. Led by the Womer brothers, the

Journalism Class Makes Tour of Grit Publishing Company

On Tuesday afternoon, October 24, 1950, the journalism class of B.S.T.C., accompanied by Mr. Edward T. DeVoc, instructor, made a trip to Williamsport to visit the Grit Publishing Company.

The class was split into two groups to tour the plant. Each group was accompanied by a guide, who explained the purpose and workings of each part of the plant.

The Grit Publishing Company actually has two businesses: commercial printing and the publishing of Grit, a weekly tabloid devoted to rural and small-town areas.

At the time of this visitation, programs for a Penn State football game were being printed and assembled.

The tour of the plant, which required over two hours, included observations of: the linotype machines in operation; the drawing and processing of illustrations; processing of half-tone and line cut illustrations; the processing of color illustrations; the printing, assembling and shipping of the papers; and the commercial work involved in subscriptions and delivery.

Speaking of . . . OPERATIONS

by Calvin Kanyuck and Max Kaplan

Rumor has it that Mary Jane Dorsey is arranging a coming-out party for her appendix at the Bloomsburg General Hospital sometime in the near future. Get-well cards, flowers, and visits will be in order. Pleasant recuperation, Miss Dorsey. We hope everything comes out all right.

Kilne didn't decline . . .

Norman Kline, popular B.S.T.C. senior, who declined the nomination for vice president of the C.G.A. in the 1949 elections, was nominated for vice president of the F.T.A. at its first meeting of the year, Wednesday evening, October 25, in the Navy Hall auditorium. This time Kline didn't decline, and won.

Elected besides Kline were James Kleman, president; Mary Jane Dorsey, secretary; and Geo. Young, treasurer. With such leadership, the F.T.A., this year, should soar to new heights of accomplishment.

Henry Wallace may be mistaken

In the November issue of Coronet magazine, Henry Wallace asserts, "As yet I am not willing to admit that Russia wants a shooting war, but I may be mistaken . . ." He admits he was mistaken when he thought Russia had more sense than to impose Moscow-trained communists on Czechoslovakia, or to carefully train and arm the North Koreans for aggression against the United Nations. "But if Russia's purpose is to clamp an iron-clad communistic control on more and more nations, then it is obvious that we must prepare at once to fight because, in such case, the Stalin menace will be greater than the Hitler menace ever was . . . For the sake of his own people and the world, I pray that Stalin may see the light which Hitler failed to see." We hope so too, Mr. Wallace.

Science marches on . . .

Have you noticed the fragrant aroma emitting from Science Hall? No, that isn't Chanel No. 5, it's Mr. Lanterman's qualitative analysis class making with the hydrogen sulfide. You might as well get used to it, as no mercy will be shown.

Hit the road!

Although the freshman crop is new and supposedly inexperienced, the 10:00 o'clock "corridor-rush" is handled in a veteran-like manner. Doorway Romeos beware: when Dean Kehr gives you that "past-your-bedtime" look and sugar-coated smile, take the hint, fellows, and hit the road.

Interesting facts and figures . . .

In the last decade, not a single blonde has been selected as "Miss America" . . . Irving Berlin, America's No. 1 songwriter, can neither read nor write music. Using the hunt-and-peck system himself, comes time for business, he employs a musical secretary who writes down his tunes for him . . . If you live to be ninety-nine, the probabilities are that you will have spent at least thirty-three years of your life in bed . . . Plastic surgery has prettied up the noses of such famous personalities as Milton Berle, Perry Como, and Dean Martin.

Waller Hall News

The annual judging of attractive dormitory rooms in Waller Hall was held Wednesday, October 25. Judging of rooms was a tradition before the war and was revived in 1948. Prize-winning rooms were chosen on the basis of the general impression of the room, its suitability, furniture arrangement, wall decorations, neatness, color, originality, and livability.

Three individual groups judged the rooms: faculty women, student House Committee members, and women of the Bloomsburg branch of the American Association of University Women.

In the faculty group were Mrs. Thomas P. North, Mrs. John A. Hoch, Miss E. Marjorie Stover, Mrs. Edward Sharretts, Mrs. William B. Sterling, and Mrs. S. I. Shortess. Representing the AAUW were Mrs. Miles W. Katerman, Mrs. Harold R. Miller, Mrs. H. S. Keller, Jr., Mrs. John L. Macdonald, Miss M. Beatrice Mettler, and Miss Honora M. Noyes. The student group included Shirley Coleman, Florence Mertz, Betty Heil, Rosella Danilo, Margaret Haupt, Elvira Thomsen, Jane Maurer, Lois Keiffer, Rose Marie Domaleski, Janice Gustin, Jane Seeley, Janice Pugh, Nancy Unger, and Irene Endler.

Eight dormitory rooms were designated as three-star rooms. The rooms chosen were those of Betty Gale and Regina Herchel; Philomena Piccolo and Ila Mae Coursen; Shirley Coleman, Florence Mertz and Jane Maurer; Mary Grace Almers and Marjorie Ayre; Irene Endler and Nancy Unger; Lois Dzuris, Lois Newman and Marilyn Evans.

From these rooms, Mrs. Charles R. Beeman selected three top winners. First prize went to Shirley Coleman, Florence Mertz and Olive Mouery; second prize to Betty Gale and Regina Herchel; and third prize to Janice Johnson and Jane Maurer. Mary Grace Almers and Marjorie Ayre received honorable mention.

Students who served as hostesses for the judges were Shirley Walters, Dorothy Watkins, Janice Johnson, and Judy Smith. Patricia Penny was chief receptionist.

After the judging was completed, a party was held in the dormitory clubroom for the judges. Chairman of the party committee was Elizabeth Baer; assisting her were Antoinette Czerwinski, Theresa Charney, Lois Keiffer, Maxine Shirey, and Janet Pierce.

On Saturday, October 28, as part of the annual Homecoming, Open House was held in the dormitories from 12:15 to 1:15. In Waller Hall members of the House Committee served as hostesses on each floor, showing the guests all the special rooms and the outstanding features of the girls' rooms. Chief hostesses were Eleanor Johnson and Janice Gustin on fourth floor; Lola Deibert and Elvira Thomsen on third floor; and Nancy Swartz and Betty Heil on second floor. On each room door in Waller Hall was posted an autograph book for visitors to sign, and symbols indicating what official dorm offices the occupants of the room fill. The decorations added a festive note to the Homecoming atmosphere.

The autograph books were made by freshmen girls under the supervision of Patricia Taylor, Kitty Mitchell and Olive Mouery. The colorful symbols were designed and made by Barbara Hessert and Jeanne Krzywicki.

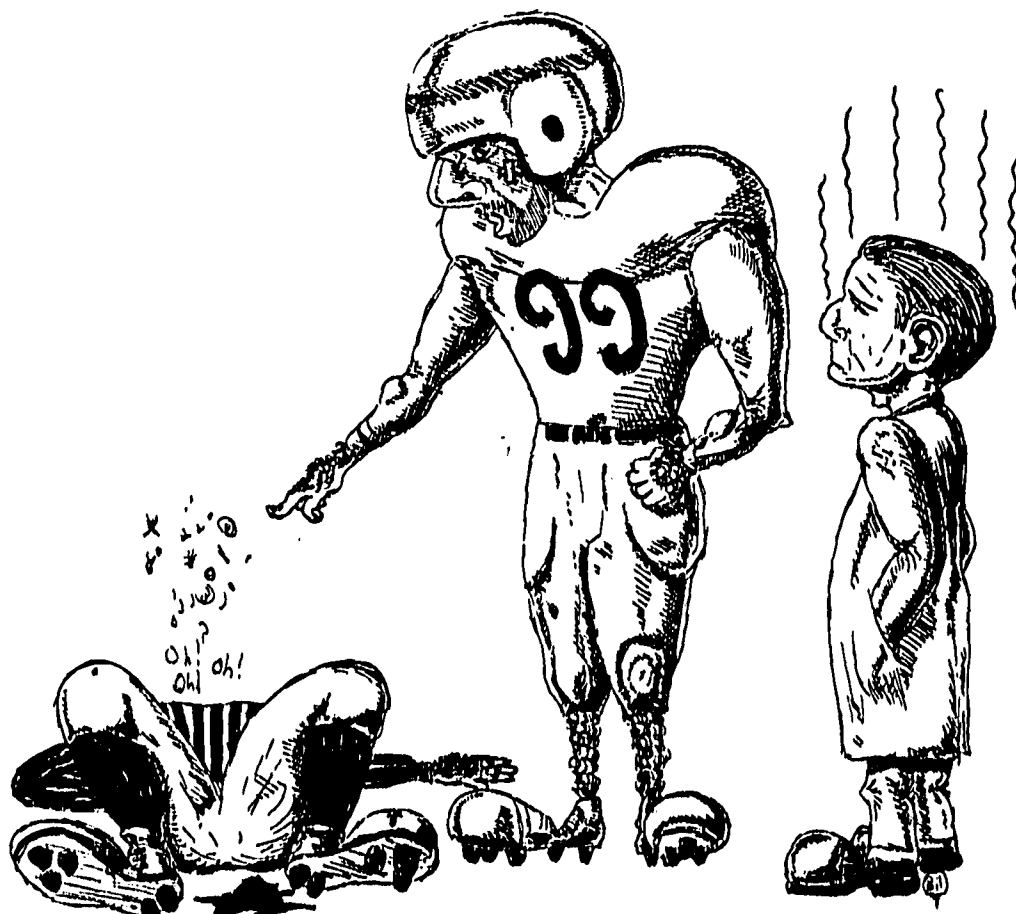

Varsity Club to Hold First Dance

The Varsity Club will hold an all-college dance on November 20, from 8:00 to 12:00 p.m. in Centennial Gymnasium. Admission will be eighty cents per person. The proceeds from the dance will be put into a fund to be used for the purchase of suitable awards for graduating members of the club.

Candidates for membership in the Varsity Club must have a varsity letter in one of the major college sports.

The recently elected officers of the club are: President, Dan Parrell; Vice-President, Ed Tavalsky; Secretary, Al Eremich; Treasurer, Frank Perry.

The Varsity Club is a new organization on campus, and members hope to obtain the support of the entire college community for their first social events of the year. Tickets for the dance may be purchased from any member of the club. Buy your tickets now!

Huskies Crush Kutztown 35-0 Before Homecoming Crowd

Lang Gathers Steam on An End Run!

Bob Lang comes whirling around the right side of the Kutztown line as John Dietz gets ready to throw a block at a would-be Kutztown tackler.

Husky Gridders Out To Even Old Score With Wilkes Colonels

The final whistle sounded and the Bloomsburg following gazed at the score board and saw in reality what they had hoped to be a bad dream. It read: Wilkes College 20; Bloom 7.

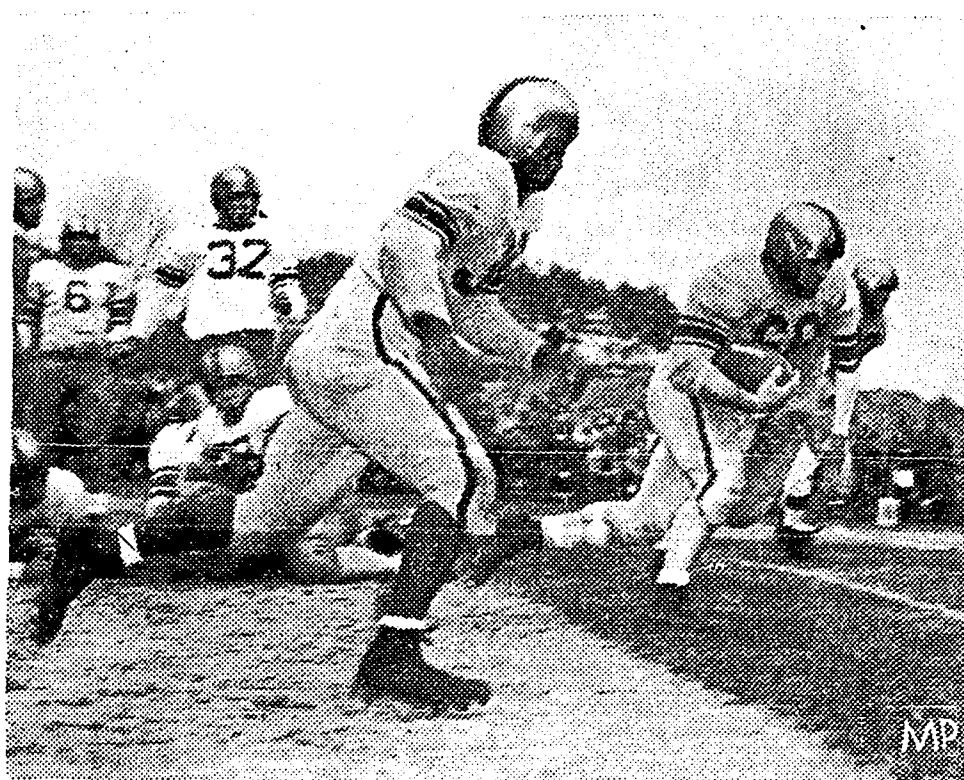

That was the opening game of 1949; and Mr. Upset, demon follower of all coaches, struck early and cruelly at Bob Redman's hopes for two consecutive undefeated football seasons here at Bloomsburg. The Huskies bounced back from their first defeat in fifteen games and won the remaining eight games on their schedule.

Now it's 1950, and the Husky victory song is ringing loud and clear after five straight wins, which extends the present win streak to thirteen games. Again we are face-to-face with fiery George Ralston and his unpredictable Wilkes College Colonels, who boast two wins, two losses so far this season.

The Colonels won their opener by defeating Ithaca 14-7. They then suffered two straight losses as they dropped to Saint Francis, 20-0, and University of Bridgeport (Connecticut), 25-13. Last Saturday, the Ralston-coached team defeated Lycoming College 26-14 for their second win.

Coach Ralston has had a terrific re-building job, as he saw twenty-five of his lettermen walk the graduating trail last spring. Starting with nine returning lettermen, headed by Co-Captains Leo Castle and Norm Cross and ace halfback Al Nicholas, bright stars in an otherwise dark sky, Ralston has built up his squad and presents a definite obstacle in the Husky's path. When the two teams meet tomorrow, the Huskies will probably meet these gentlemen: Al Molosh, and John Strojny at the terminals; Ed Bogusko, 215 pounder, and Frank Radaszewski at the tackle slots; Norm Gromak and Olie Thomas, outstanding senior, in the guard spots; while Jack Jones will hold down the pivot spot. Their backfield will revolve around Norm Cross at the quarterback spot. He will be flanked by the speedy Castle and the shifty Nicholas at the halfback positions. Ed Davis,

18-year-old All-Valley fullback from Plymouth will round out the backs.

Coach Bob Redman will undoubtedly use the same combination he has all through the season. That will show Ed Tavalsky and Russ Verhousky, veteran ends, on the flanks; Big Charley Baron will team up with Senior Al Eremich at the tackle positions. Don Cesare, sturdy Junior, and Frank Perry, veteran Senior will be at the guard spots and flanking either Tom Schukis or Tom McLaughlin, who will anchor the line at center. In the backfield, George Lambrinos will do the signal calling and blocking at the quarterback spot. Bob "Daddy" Lang will open at the tailback, and his speed will be matched with that of "Spook" Spack at the wingback; crashing from the fullback slot will be the reliable "Bunch" Parrell.

The game will get underway at 2:30 p.m. at Athletic Park here in Bloomsburg. It is the last home game of the season, so let's stick around and back the Huskies.

Big Games on Tap As Nation's Teams Swing Into Action

The college football season is now in its seventh week, and plenty of big games are on tap.

The game of the week will undoubtedly be the Penn-Army clash at Franklin Field. The Black Knights, fresh from a 34 to 0 win over Columbia will meet George Munger's Red and Blue, who had to fight every inch of the way to beat Navy, 30-7.

On past records, Army will be voted as favorites, but watch out for the upset. Last year Army won 14-13, but Penn is greatly improved this season.

Undefeated Lehigh had the scare of its life when they came from behind to defeat Rutgers. This week, however, they should breeze through Muhlenburg easily.

Princeton, with one eye on the remainder of its schedule and the other on the Ivy League Crown, will try to continue its unblemished record when the Tigers play Colgate. After their decisive victory over Cornell, they shouldn't have too much trouble.

Other games in the East feature Holy Cross over Harvard, Boston College over Penn State, Rutgers over Brown, Temple over Delaware, and B.S.T.C. over Wilkes.

In the South, Alabama will meet Georgia in one of the outstanding games of the South. Both teams are good, and the score could go either way; however, Alabama is favored by a small margin. Mississippi State plays at Auburn in another game. Duke plays Georgia Tech; the engineers are favored to win, but Duke is full of surprises. Once-beaten Maryland should defeat George Washington.

In other Southern games it should be: Clemson over Duke; Kentucky over Florida; L.S.U. over Mississippi; Miami of Florida over Georgetown; Tennessee over Washington and Lee; and Pittsburg over West Virginia.

In the Middle West, Ohio State, who now sits in the driver's seat as far as Big Ten honors go, will

Parrell Scores Three Touchdowns To Tie for State Scoring Honors

Howard Dribblers Daze Huskies With Soccer Wizardry

The Husky soccer team suffered a 5-0 loss at the hands of powerful Howard University on the winners field, Friday, October 27.

Howard, which always fields a fine team and which is rated near the top of college soccer ranks, was lead by Innocent, one of the nations best forwards who scored two goals.

Howard had built up a 4-0 lead by halftime but was held to a single score by Coach Harold Shelly's boys during the final half.

The Husky Squad left campus Thursday for the game and returned late Friday evening. During their stay they were housed in

Spack Has Perfect Day With Two T.D. Passes Completed on Two Tries

Behind the terrific scoring of Danny Parrell, who smashed over the goal three times, the Huskies gridders bowled over Kutztown 35-0 before 3,000 Homecomers. The powerful fullback from Hazleton ran his touchdown efforts to ten for the current campaign and is now tied for the state leadership in scoring.

Before the first canto was too far gone, Parrell smashed over for the initial Husky score, and Ed Tavalsky's "educated toe" booted the extra point to make it 7-0. Following repeated attempts to crack the Maroon and Gold line, the Berks County boys were forced to punt. Again Danny did most of the ball toting until he finally powerhoused over from the one yard line to run the count up to 13-0. Once again Tavalsky booted the placement to register the score at 14-0.

After running wild on the ground during most of the first two quarters the Huskies then took to the air and completed two successful T.D. passes, and the tally at half time showed the locals in certain command, 28-0.

In the final two stanzas, only the reserves, all of whom were used, managed to keep the score down by racking up but one touchdown in the third quarter, although they threatened several times. Even with the third and fourth strings in, the visitors could do nothing. Only once during the entire game did they move close enough toward the Maroon and Gold goal to throw a few scares into the crowd, and by that time, the count was 28-0 in favor of the Huskies.

One of the finest runs of the game was torn off by Daddy Lang, who skirted the right end without any interference. After straight-arming two would-be tacklers, he galloped for a gain of more than twenty yards. Another outstanding feature of the tilt was Johnston's Ed Tavalsky's perfect kicking of five extra points. His

Bloom, West Chester Top T.C. Standings

Following its convincing 35-0 Homecoming victory over Kutztown, Bloomsburg moved one step closer to its third consecutive Teachers College crown. The Huskies have won five of the mythical conference games and have lost none to date; two formidable foes have yet to be met; unbeaten (in teachers college competition) West Chester and once-beaten Indiana. These two games, plus Saturday's game with Wilkes, are the only obstacles in the Huskies' fight for their second undefeated season in three years.

Following are teachers college standings as of October 28:

	W	L	T	Pct.
Bloomsburg	5	0	0	1.000
West Chester	3	0	0	1.000
Indiana	4	1	1	.800
Shippensburg	2	1	1	.714
E. Stroudsburg	2	1	1	.714
Slippery Rock	1	1	0	.500
Clarion	1	1	0	.500

Lock Haven	1	2	0	.333

LOCKER - LINGO

by Harry Brooks

Another run-away for the Husky grid machine took place last Saturday afternoon before a fine Homecoming crowd on Mount Olympus. This time, Kutztown fell to the Redman charges, 35-0. This was the largest point total racked up against the Berks County eleven and their worst defeat in the past two seasons. Meanwhile, future Maroon and Gold foes fared both hot and cold in the pigskin wars. West Chester pushed aside a weak Millersville squad 26-7; Wilkes subdued Lycoming 26-14; and Indiana bowed to Clarion Teachers, whose record thus far has been far from impressive.

With Wilkes moving into town to battle the Huskies, there should be a sellout crowd down at Athletic Park to watch the local gridders seek revenge on the Wilkes-Barre aggregation. Last year, Wilkes topped the Huskies 20-7, but this week should find that score just about doubled and reversed.

Five undefeated state teams remain since Scranton University bowed to Quantico Marines, 42-21. Carnegie Tech, F. & M., Lehigh, Drexel, and Bloomsburg all romped to victories. Meanwhile, little Thiel College of Greenville, Pa., leads the state in defense, having had only 13 points chalked up against them. Bloom is second in defensive power with 19 points scored against us.

Predictions for state teams who will battle this week to determine their undefeated status:

BLOOMSBURG40	Wilkes 7
Drexel13	W. Md.20
Lehigh21	Muhlenburg 0
Carnegie Tech33	W. & J. 6
F. & M.14	Ursinus 6

Notre Dame28	Navy20
Ohio State24	Northwestern14

Texas35	S. M. U.28

The soccer boys dropped a 5-0 verdict to Howard University, of Washington, D.C., last week; this is by far the most formidable opponent on the Husky schedule. The season chart now stands at 3 and 3. The Indiana tutors move to Mount Olympus this Saturday to battle Coach Shelly's charges.

In the feature article on Bob Redman, head football coach, in last week's Homecoming issue, it was inadvertently mentioned that he appeared on this campus in the latter part of the 1947 season. Many apologies, Mr. Redman. This talented mentor arrived on the Hill in the summer of 1947.

Also in the correction department—Alden J. Dankes, former Husky grid coach, died in September, 1946, not in 1948. He passed away before the season was two weeks old. Mr. Hoch took over the reins during the 1946 campaign.

Large Class Takes Senior Red Cross Instruction Course

A course in Senior Red Cross Life Saving and Instructing began Friday, October 20, in the pool of Centennial Gymnasium. The course is under the direction of Mr. Robert Spaid, Jr., of the Columbia County Division of the American Red Cross. He is being assisted by Hazel Thompson, Nancy Heebner, Henry Hurtt, and Robert Wire. The class consists of 18 college students.

The classes are being held each Monday from 7:19 p.m. and each Tuesday and Friday from 4-6 p.m. It will consist of 20 hours of Red Cross life saving and 16 hours of pre-instructor's course. It will be concluded the week of December 4, following a week's final water tests.

The first meeting, on October 20, was spent on elementary swimming and strokes. On October 23, a movie entitled "Heads Up," demonstrating the various approaches and carries, was shown.

Another letter was written to Time magazine by Mr. Edward T. DeVoe. Mr. DeVoe's letter was somewhat on the humorous side and pertained to a misused interrogative pronoun in an article about George Bernard Shaw. The following sentence was supposedly spoken by Shaw: "Who's bottom is she playing with, anyway?" (Hospitalized Shaw made the retort to a doctor who, having heard the famous author's objections to being rubbed with oil, said, "That's nothing.")

Mr. DeVoe's witty reply was: "Who's English are you using?" Time replied with the following letter:

"Dear Mr. DeVoe:

It looks as though Time's copy-reader needs a "who's who" after the error that crept into the October 2, People section! We enjoyed your curt, clear, and concise reprimand, and are publishing it along with another letter and an editorial comment in the October 23 Letters column.

Cordially yours,
Audrey Simon
for the Editors."

Mr. DeVoe realized the far-reaching circulation of Time magazine when he received the following telegram:

"Tatielek, Alaska,
Edward T. DeVoe, department of English B.S.T.C. Bloomsburg Penn. BOTTOM BOTTOM WHO HAS THE BOTTOM ANYWAY. REGARDS JIM"

The sender of the telegram is Jim Sampsell, a graduate of B.S.T.C., class of 1949. Mr. Sampsell is now living in Alaska.

Training School Teachers Hold Gala Masquerade Party

The teachers of the Benjamin Franklin Training School held a Halloween masquerade party for the elementary student teachers of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College. The party was held Tuesday evening, October 24, in the Training School; it was attended by more than forty co-operating and student teachers.

The gala affair started with a grand march, after which prizes were awarded. The prize for the most original costume was won by Delphine Buss. The most authentic costume was judged to be that of Miss Barnes. Andrew Maceiko's was voted the funniest, while the costume of Roy Beyers won the honor of being judged the ugliest.

Traditional Halloween games were played, and Mrs. Olive Bee-man told fortunes. Refreshments of pumpkin pie and cider were served.

Newman Club Party

The Newman Club held its annual Halloween Party on Monday night, October 30, in the St. Columba's Church Hall. A large crowd turned out to dance to the music of "Bloomsburg's Own" Hank Marini and his band, and to enjoy the refreshments that were served.

Mr. Gehrig is a former student of the "Friendly College on the Hill." He received his B.S. degree at Pennsylvania State College, and later did his graduate work at Bucknell University and Northwestern University, where he received his degree of M.B.A.

Ted Krensavage reported last week to the Veterans' Hospital at Wilmington, Del., for a check-up. He will remain there for ten days, after which he will return to his position as film-librarian of the Visual Aids Department of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College.

Big Games on Top

meet Northwestern in a crucial conference game. The Buckeyes should make it their fourth conference victory. In another squeaker co-champs, Michigan and Illinois will play each other—this one is a toss-up. Wisconsin, which also has Big Ten intentions, will play Purdue, and they should win. Notre Dame is host to the Middies this week. Both teams have had very unsuccessful seasons this year, the Naval Academy winning one out of five and Notre Dame two out of five. In past records, however, Notre Dame is favored to win in a close game.

Other Mid-West games are: Michigan State over Indiana; Iowa over Minnesota; Iowa State over Kansas State.

In the Southwest, Oklahoma—Colorado, and S.M.U.—Texas feature the big games of the week. Oklahoma is aiming for its twenty-seventh straight win and a new inter-collegiate record.

The nation's number one team, S.M.U., will have to dig in to maintain its undefeated record when they meet Texas. Last year S.M.U. eeked out a 7-6 win. This year's battle should prove just as interesting. Other Southwest tilts include: Arkansas over Texas A & M; T.C.U. over Baylor; Wyoming over Idaho; Kansas over Utah; Missouri over Nebraska; and Arizona over New Mexico.

The big game in the far West is the California-Washington clash. This could very well decide the Rose Bowl entry. California is favored to defeat Washington in a close battle. Other far West contests are: Oregon over Washington State; U.C.L.A. over Oregon State; Santa Clara over College of Pacific; and Stanford over Southern California.

FASHIONS a la femme

by Dot Cedor

Hair is taking on a longer length and occupying a prime spot in the fashion features. Probably no season in years has been so important to the fashion-conscious than this fall, when hair fashions are definitely in the transition stage. The short hair cuts of past seasons are being replaced by fluffy inspiring curls about the face.

Melon sleeves are fashion news. The sleeves are just what you would imagine them to be. They are featured with balloon fullness and are caught below the elbow (and sometimes above the elbow) with a wide band. The silhouette does not require slimmness but should be at least slim in feeling. Coats are attractive in velveteen or fleece with the new sleeves.

Other significant silhouettes are the Dior tunic coat, the "trumpet" and the dagger-and-sheath dress silhouettes. The tunic coat features flaring tunic lines belted in with saucy dash at the waist. The "trumpet" line moulds the torso to below the hipline then fans out with rushes of fullness. It is done in any fabric from silk taffeta to velveteen and wool. The dagger-and-sheath look features a narrow basic dress with an overskirt to fit the occasion. You will be in vogue with a fringed or beaded overskirt for your most important affair.

Articulation cases are handled, including cleft palate and stuttering. There are approximately 35 cases now being cared for in the clinic; they are of various types. Seven students clinicians have had courses in speech preparing them for this work.

Miss Alice Johnston gave a talk before the P.T.A. in Milton on Monday, October 23 in the high school auditorium. The subject was "Speech Correction in Public Schools."
