D. Cesare Delivers Ivy Day Address to Graduating Seniors

Donald Cesare delivered the Ivy Day oration for the Class of 1952 on Wednesday, May 21. The speaker was a graduate of Old Forge High School where he starred in three varsity sports, and at the Teachers College he sparkled as a varsity guard on Coach Bob Redman's 1951 State Teachers College championship eleven. He was active in campus activities and is a member of a number of honorary scholastic and professional fraternities including Phi Sigma Pi and Kappa Delta Pi.

The Ivy Day exercises were held this year in the Waller Hall Court immediately following the Senior Honor Assembly in Carver Auditorium. The planting of the ivy was done by Thomas Anthony, president of the Senior Class, and the spade used for the planting was presented to Henry Marini, newly-elected president of the Class of 1953.

The Ivy Day program was only one in a number of events of the day which was climaxed by the annual Senior Ball and Banquet which was held Wednesday night in the Irem Temple Country Club near Dallas.

Eligible Seniors Given Service Keys

Service Keys were awarded to eligible seniors during a special assembly held on Wednesday morning. Awarded on the basis of extra-curricular participation, keys are awarded each year to the ten percent of the class having the most accumulated points.

Thomas Anthony received a key for having the greatest amount of points in his class. Second in line was John Burns and third was Lola Delbert. Other seniors receiving keys included Jeanne Ruckle, Dick Powell, Eleanor son, Laura Philo, Maynard Harring, Joyce MacDougal, Priscilla Abbott, Marilyn Evans, Nancy Swartz, Margaret Bourdette, and Michalene Casula.

Alumni Note:

Dear Dr. Andross,

I want to thank you for sending, "The Bloomsburg Story," it's quite interesting, and we have enjoyed it. I'm especially interested in the individual instruction class, it is something you didn't have when I was attending Bloomsburg. I am sure this type of instruction is a great help to those students who need it.

Harry and Lou kept us pretty well up to date on sports, by way of the Morning Press. Bloomsburg has a fine coach, not just a football coach, but an educator as well. Those kind of coaches are few and far between. I think Bloomsburg is lucky to have him. I brag quite a bit about our school and its brainy football squad and have had quite a hard time convincing some people because of the past seasons' mud slinging throughout the nation. If it is as tough staying on that team as it was several years ago, I'm satisfied and pleased with Bloomsburg and all those who have a part in its functioning. I met Richard Bacon, who is employed by the Northern Commercial Company in Anchorage, several weeks ago. He was at one time a tackle on the Binghamton, New York High School team and is a Coach Redman boy. He is just a little fellow, six feet two or three, weighs two hundred and twenty pounds and sports a General Grant beard.

Recently I read something to the effect that Mt. McKinley Hotel was taken over by the U. S. Army for soldiers on leave. Healy Fork, according to the map, is between fifteen and twenty miles north of McKinley Park on the Alaska Railroad and nearly two hundred and fifty from Chenega. It would take better than thirty hours for me to make the trip by water and land and two and a half hours by bush pilot. I want to write Mr. Witkaski and find out if Healy Fork has accommodations for tourists—especially in the line of hunting and skiing.

My son was two years old February 9 and of course he is the Lord and Master. Connie and I agree that he needs a little something to bring him down off his high horse. I never knew that just

WELCOME ALUMNI!!

Dr. Andross Edits Business Textbook

Dr. Harvey A. Andross, President of B.S.T.C., has had published his revision of the textbook, "Burgess Business Law". Designed to fill the requirements of a two-semester course, the new edition is equipped to meet the need of the citizen, juror, consumer, employer, and employee. The textbook is divided into two main sections: The Layman and the Law, and The Layman and the Lawyer.

Basing his book on the principle, that "a good citizen must know the law before he can obey its dictates, and protect himself, his family, and his property," Dr. Andross has given particular emphasis to the "processes by which laws are made, enforced, and interpreted." He has included modern illustrations and tables and has inserted recent legislation in its proper position.

The early chapters of the textbook are introduced by a brief incident showing legal problems arising in the daily life of a typical American family. In this manner, law in the home is illustrated by having parents, children, friends, and relatives shown in direct contact with it. Following each incident are questions regarding everyday legal situations.

Dr. Andross has also placed in his revision a copy of the United States Constitution, together with two hundred questions pertaining to it. Following each chapter he has placed a list of legal terms which should be remembered by the reader.

Published by Lyons and Carnahan of Chicago, "Burgess Business Law" will be accompanied by workbook and a Teacher's Manual and Key. The book itself will be 640 pages, and the manual 100 pages, and the workbook will contain outlines, objective tests, and the case situations for judgment and completion by the student.

B.S.T.C. Graduate Elected to Council

At the annual meeting of Pennsylvania State Education Association at Harrisburg, Miss Freda Jones, a teacher of mathematics in Kingston High School, was elected to the executive council of Pennsylvania Council of Teachers of Mathematics.

A graduate of B.S.T.C., class of 1917, Miss Jones was class historian, honor student, Ivy Day poet, and editor of the campus magazine, the Literary Society Journal. Upon leaving Bloomsburg, Miss Jones received her B.A. from Syracuse University, and her M.A. from Columbia University.

Miss Jones was one of three mathematics teachers chosen from the entire state and will serve for a period of three years. She is a member of the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics and has served on several committees of that organization.

She also was elected to Pi Mu Epsilon, a national fraternity composed of those who have attained distinction in the field of mathematics.

RECEIVE AWARDS

Harry O. Hime, '85, Washington, D. C.; Dr. Helster U. Hower, '81, Berwick, Pa.; Mrs. Florence Hess Coll, '88, Culver City, Calif.; and Miss Mary A. Good, '97, Wapwallopen, Pa. have been named recipients of Distinguished Service Awards presented by the Alumni Association. This high honor is bestowed upon alumni who have achieved meritorious recognition for outstanding work. Mr. Hime, before his retirement, was Secretary of the Board of Education in Washington, D. C.; Dr. Hower, a practicing physician, was a former member of the Board of Trustees; Mrs. Florence Hess Coll was extremely active in organizing alumni in the Philadelphia area; Miss Mary A. Good was a former teacher of chemistry at the college.

Day's Activities To Begin With Annual Meeting in Carver Hall Auditorium

B.S.T.C. Alumnus Is Named as Delegate

Dr. Henry J. Warman, associate professor and secretary of the Clark University Graduate School of Geography, and former student and outstanding athlete at Bloomsburg State Teachers College, has been nominated to serve as the representative of Clark University on the Honorary Advisory Group to the Organizing Committee of the Third Pan American Consultation on Geography. The conference will be held in Washington, D. C., July 25 through August 4, 1952, with the Government of the United States serving as host. Dr. Warman will join representatives of various federal agencies, national organizations, and universities concerned with geographic problems. Dr. Warman was also recently elected Vice President of the National Council of Geography Teachers. He will become President of the organization in 1953.

A B.S.T.C. graduate, class of 1932, Dr. Warman played football and basketball throughout his four years, captained the football team in his senior year, and for two years was a member of the track team. He served as president of his class in both his sophomore and junior years, vice-president of the North Hall Student Council, and in his junior year was elected vice-president of the Student Government Association.

Celebration Expected To Bring Hundreds of Graduates to Campus

Hundreds of Alumni and Friends of B.S.T.C. are welcomed back to the campus today to enjoy a day of reunion. A full program of events is planned beginning with the Alumni Meeting in Carver Auditorium at 10 A.M.

This year class reunions have been scheduled for classes who graduated at intervals from five to seventy years ago. Today, the grand old alumni of '81-'91 inclusive, '92, '97, '02, '07, '12, '17, '22, '27, '32, '37, '42, and '47 reign supreme.

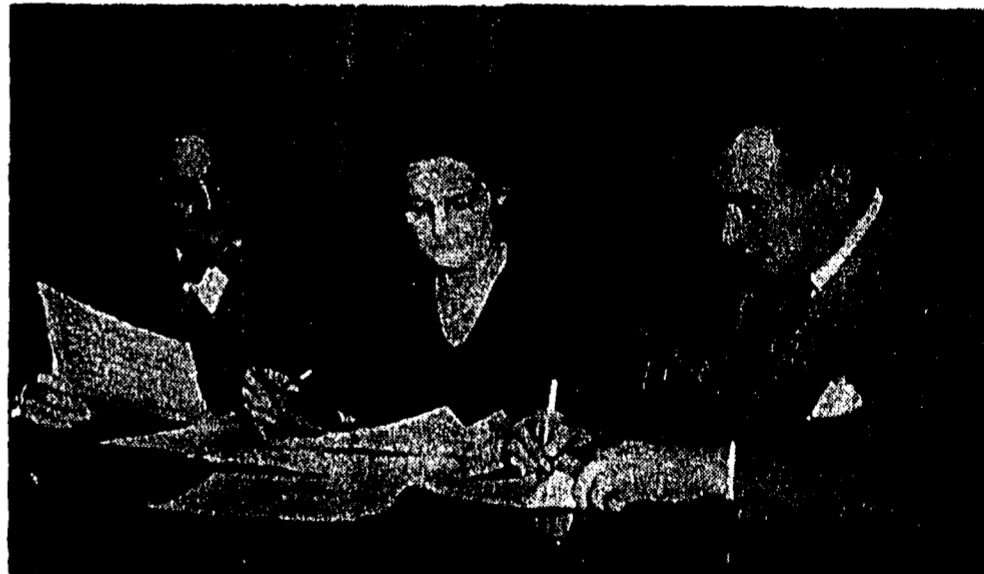

The alumni luncheon will be served in the college dining room at noon, and the various classes will hold their reunion meetings beginning at 2 o'clock. A number of classes, however, are planning special luncheons and meetings throughout the day.

Climax of the day's activities is the annual baseball game with Wilkes College on Mt. Olympus. Coach Bob Redman's Huskies will be striving to cap a good season with a win over their area rival. Game time will be 2:30 P.M.

A feature of this year's Alumni Day will be the distribution of a new college publication, "Bloomsburg Through the Years," a history of the college and an alumni directory. The attractively bound book also contains the songs of the college in an easily-detached form as well as pictures of historic interest.

History and Development Of B.S.T.C. Is Presented In New College Publication

The long-awaited college publication, "Bloomsburg Through the Years," is being given out to Alumni today and may be secured by presenting a receipt for a three-year membership in the Alumni Association. The 72-page book contains the history and development of the present State Teachers College from its beginning as an Academy in 1839 through the subsequent stages of development from Literary Institute in 1856, State Normal School in 1869, to State Teachers College in 1927.

The attractive 9x12-inch publication has a maroon cover with a half-tone reproduction of the State seal in the upper left-hand corner. The title, "Bloomsburg Through the Years," and the dates of the four stages of development are over-printed in black. The back cover contains a simulated wood block print in maroon of the pergola in the college grove with a legend taken from Act II, Scene I of "The Tempest," "What's past is prologue." The inside of the cover contains a screen reproduction of the map of the Commonwealth in maroon with half-tone reproductions of presidents and principals of the college since 1890 to the present. The general layout and design were handled by Mr. Edward T. DeVoe, chairman of the Publications Committee.

Edited by Dr. Kehr

Dr. Marguerite W. Kehr, Dean of Women, edited the college publication and was responsible for coordinating the great amount

The Year's Review 1951-1952

B.S.T.C. opened its doors for the first semester in September, 1951, by admitting approximately 770 students to classes. A cordial welcome was extended to four new members of the faculty: Mrs. Hufcut, head dietitian who replaced Della M. Thayer; Mr. Ralph Fisher Smith, music instructor, who replaced Harriet Moore; Miss Elsie Bower and Miss Elinor Kiefer, who replaced Miss Muyskens and Miss Zealberg as college librarians.

Dick Powell and his customs committee quickly began orientating the incoming Freshmen to the wonders of college life. Early in October, the Honorable Walter H. Judd, Congressman from Minnesota, gave an authoritative address on foreign affairs to the college assembly. The annual Talent Program under direction of the Freshman Class was presented on October 25. A week previously, the National Male Quartet, the most famous of its kind in America, presented the first of the downtown music series.

The twenty-fourth annual Homecoming Day was held on Saturday, October 20. Hundreds of alumni and college friends returned to the campus for a day filled with colorful activity.

November saw B.S.T.C. act as host to numerous regional educators for the fifth annual conference for elementary and secondary teachers. The theme of this year's conference was "Trends in Language Arts."

On November 19, to the music of Mel Arter and his orchestra, the Varsity Club held its annual stag dance. Highlight of the evening was the naming of freshman coed, Sherrill Hiller, as Varsity Queen—1951.

It was announced that ten members of the Senior Class had been selected to appear in the publication "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities." Among those chosen were Tom Anthony, Doris Bowman, Lola Deibert, Mike Dorak, Henry Hurtt, Eleanor Johnson, Richard Laux, Joyce MacDougall, Richard Powell, and James Whibley.

Under the sponsorship of the F. T.A., Joy Elmer Morgan, distinguished editor of the N.E.A. Journal, spoke in Carver Auditorium on November 15. Six students from B.S.T.C. were awarded scholarships during the December 4 assembly program. They were David Superdock, Helen Rutkowski, Kenneth Kirk, Patricia Boyle, Robert Price, and Lawrence Kszanznak.

December 14 marked the date of the Sophomore Cotillion. With a winter-blue and silver motif and the music of Lee Vincent, it was one of the biggest social events of the year. Charming senior Peggy Bourdette was named as Snow Queen at the Cotillion's intermission.

The downtown music league presented on December 7, Marias and Miranda, internationally known singers. The Waller Hall girls presented a memorial photograph of Mr. William Trump, former night watchman, to the college during a program held December 18.

Dr. Leslie Pinckney Hill, President Emeritus of Cheyney State Teachers College, presented the principal address at the January Commencement exercises held on January 16. His topic was "The Individual in a Harried World."

Two new instructors were added to the faculty at the start of the second semester. Dr. C. Cornelia Brong was named a teacher of speech correction and speech, and Miss Dorothy Stolp was named as teacher of general speech and English, Miss Stolp was also named as director of dramatics and became head of the campus radio programs.

Carleton Smith, internationally head of the National Arts Foundation, presented an inspiring talk known speaker and traveler, and on World affairs in a January assembly program. The annual quiz program, "The Battle of the Classes," was presented in the latter part of January, the Senior Class being named the victor.

Early in February, B.S.T.C. played host to eighteen Austrian students and teachers who put on a charming evening program of folk songs and dances. February also saw the once-a-year coming of the Olympian, college magazine. Under the editorship of Charles Andrews, this publication brought together a wealth of student literary achievements.

Again in the second semester, scholarships were awarded to six more B.S.T.C. students, this time to Nancy Sue Williams, James Luch, Faith Eunson, Virginia Horne, Ruth Thomas. The first of the Class of 1951 scholarships was sophomore in the Business Curriculum.

Contestants having been selected for the Obitier "Coed of the Year" Contest, the vote of the student body indicated that lovely sophomore Phyllis McLaren was the lucky winner. The Freshman Class soon announced that the "Mardi Gras" was to be the theme of their annual Freshman Hop. Held on February 22, the semi-formal featured the music of Deacon Hill and his band. At this dance the "Coed of the Year" was formally crowned.

The second annual appearance of the Red Cross Bloodmobile on campus found 137 students and faculty members able and willing to donate blood. The appearance of the unit was arranged by Dr. Wagner, chairman of the drive.

"Doc" Sharer and Hary Bowser, nationally noted sales training experts were the main speakers at the sixth annual sales conference held early in March.

After perhaps the most fervent campaigning done in years, five new C.G.A. officers were elected for next year. Chosen for president was Edwin Cunfer and for vice-president Mike Criscl. Four B.S.T.C. delegates attended the 14th Conference of the Student Government Associations of the Penna. State Teachers Colleges held at West Chester March 7.

Recognizing the need for instructors for the teaching of techniques needed for Civil Defense, B.S.T.C. sent four delegates to the Federal Civil Defense Administration Training School at Rydal, Pa.,

Three Members of B.S.T.C. Faculty Leave This Year

During 1951-52, three instructors resigned from the faculty of B.S.T.C. Miss Alice Johnston resigned at the end of the first semester, and Mr. Robert Redman and Mr. Edward A. Reams will leave at the end of the college year.

Mr. Robert P. Redman has resigned as head football coach and social studies instructor at B.S.T.C. to accept a position at the East Orange High School, East Orange, New Jersey. There he will serve as head football coach and teacher of senior social studies.

Mr. Redman was selected for the East Orange position from a field of a hundred candidates. As football coach, he will have four assistants serving under him.

During the past five years, he has guided B. S. T. C. through its greatest era of football. He was named football coach at B.S.T.C. in 1947. His first season saw six victories and two defeats. 1948 produced an undefeated season; in 1949, B.S.T.C. lost only to Wilkes College. The only football loss in 1950 was to West Chester State Teachers College, with 1951 showing a second undefeated year. Mr. Redman's overall football record at B.S.T.C. is thirty-eight victories and four defeats.

Mr. Redman is a graduate of Swarthmore College and holds a Master's degree from Duke University. At Swarthmore, he captained the baseball team, was president of the athletic association and Letter S Club, a member of the Block and Key, senior honorary society, and of the Phi Delta Theta national fraternity. Phi Delta Theta recognized him in 1948 as its coach of the year. During World War II, he served forty-two months in the Navy and rose to the rank of Lieutenant Commander.

After six years at Sayre High School, Mr. Redman coached five years at North High School, Binghamton, New York. After leaving the Navy, he returned to Binghamton for one semester. He left there for the Triple Cities College (now Harpur) where he was athletic director. From Triple Cities he came to B.S.T.C.

In 1951 Mr. Redman was Coach of the Year of the State Teachers College Conference. The Harrisburg Exchange Club and the Harrisburg Sportswriters and Sportscasters Association also gave him one of the two awards for distinctive achievement.

Mr. Edward A. Reams was born and reared in Kansas. He received his M.A. at Columbia and later secured a teaching position at Lock Haven State Teachers College, where he stayed until 1925. He left Lock Haven to come to Bloomsburg where he replaced the late Dr. Brill in the field of Social Studies.

During the war Mr. Reams acted as Dean of Men on campus. He also taught a ground school course in Civil Air Regulations and offered social studies to the V-12's who trained here. During his years at the college on the hill, he has also coached Bloomsburg's tennis team and accompanied them on trips to meet competing teams.

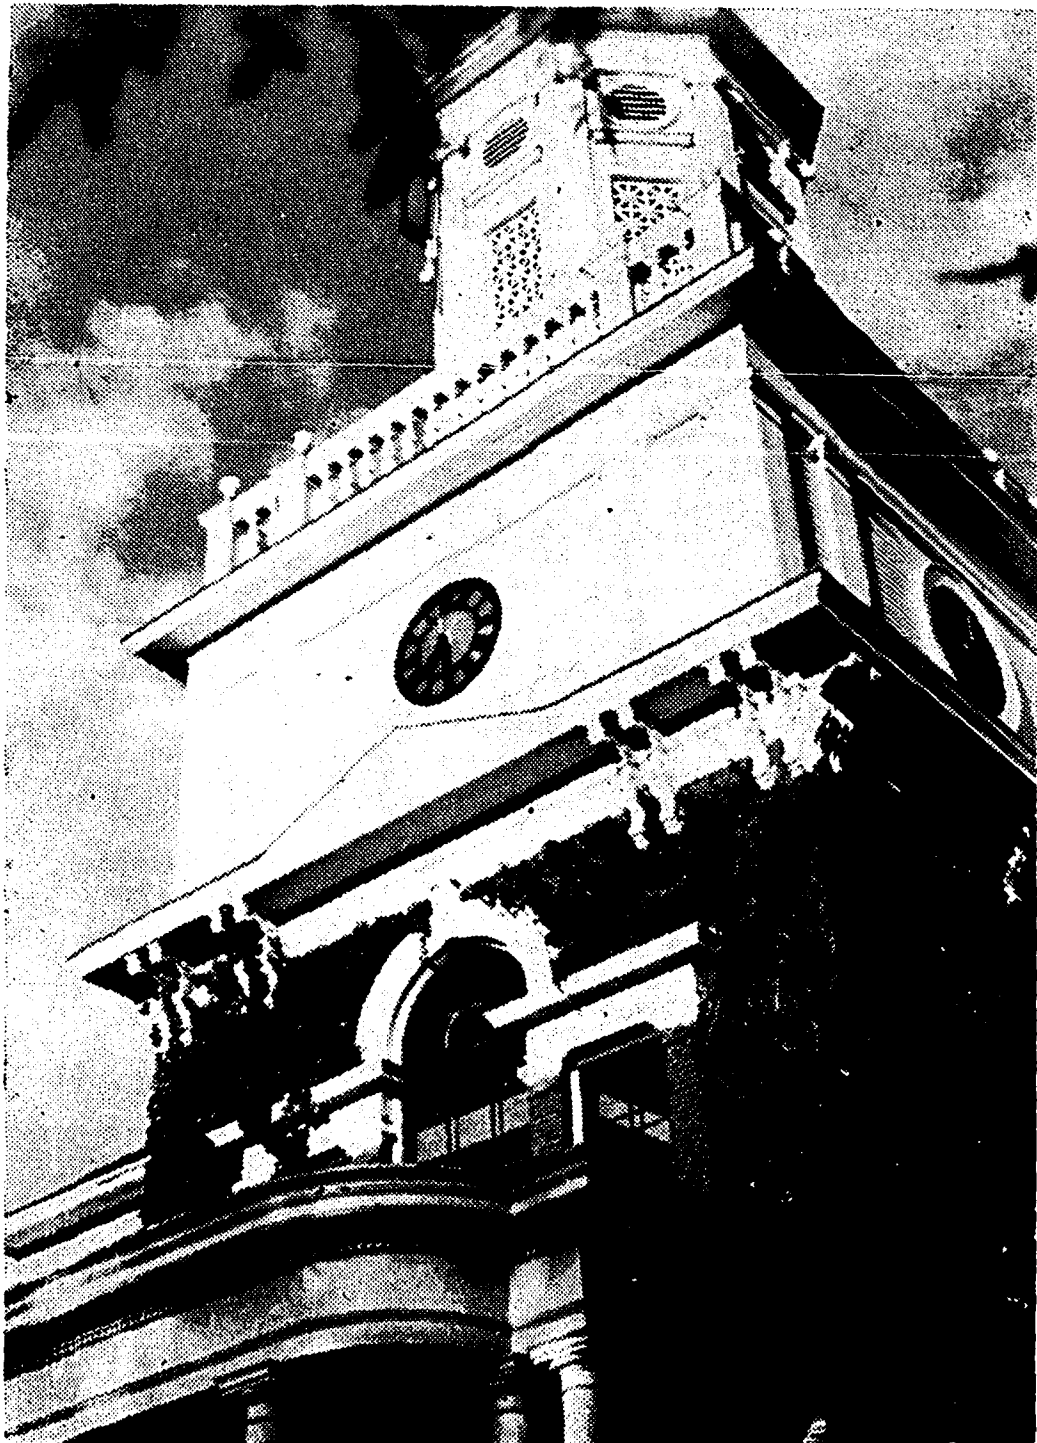

It is interesting to note that Mr. Reams, so much a part of our college, has studied in schools ranging from the west coast to the east coast, having studied at Southern California and New York University.

When asked if he had encountered experiences which might be of interest, Mr. Reams replied that he had never "turned the world upside down."

Mr. Ream's address is 1324 Eastridge Drive, Whittier, California; he says that he is offering a door prize for the first visitor who is from Bloomsburg, Pa.

"There's a Tower on Old Carver . . ."

Welcome to Bloomsburg:

*I saw the towers of Bloomsburg as I was passing by,
The white towers of Bloomsburg against the autumn sky.
The river flowed beneath them across the purple hills.
The town lies just below them with all its stores and mills.
The towers shine white at Bloomsburg above the mountains grand.
Looking at the clock there, no matter where you stand.
There's a tower on old Carver and on sprawling Waller too
This first one is the larger that shines against the blue.
Students who come to Bloomsburg and see September's haze
Are reminded always of their happy college days.
Up the street to Carver with its ever-welcoming door,
They've climbed with eager footsteps for four score years or more.
So we set up our signposts for those who follow here,
That they may see the towers that we have tried to rear.
Our towers may not point upward like fingers to the sky,
But looking always at them we cannot fail to try
To serve our Alma Mater and to it e'er be true,
For the years look down upon us and others that we knew.*

"B" Club Alumnae Go On Club Outing

It was "welcome home" for "B" Club Alumnae on May 16, 17, and 18 when the "B" Club of B.S.T.C. held its annual weekend trip to Eagles Mere.

On Friday, May 16, a large group of "B" Club members, faculty and guests gathered on Long Porch. When all was ready, they stowed themselves and their luggage into cars provided by Miss McCammon, Club sponsor; Miss Barnes; and Mrs. Baker, all of the college faculty, and headed for the Hotel Allegheny in Eagles Mere.

When all had deposited their luggage in their rooms, the group went to Miss McCammon's cottage where a delicious supper of home-made foods had been planned and prepared by Ann Gengenbach and Nancy Tovey. After supper, the group traveled to High Knob to enjoy the sunset. Saturday morning was left free for hiking around beautiful Eagles Mere Lake. Alumnae were arriving all morning.

1951-52 Marks Another Fine Year in Husky Sports Activity

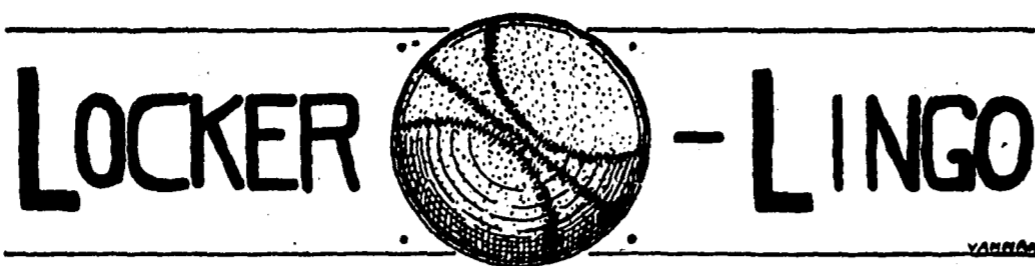

Basketball, '52

Mr. Shelly's basketball wizardry finally reigned on the State Teachers College courts this past season as the Maroon and Gold cagers dribbled, swished, and bucketed their way to a brilliant record of 12 happy nights against 4 reversals. With Chuck Daly, Kane ace, leading the Husky pack with 203 points, the BSTC boys lost only to Millersville, Lock Haven, Mansfield, and Kutztown, all in foreign dens. Another phenomenon lay in the fact that Shelly's stars didn't bow to any team twice this year—quite a feat considering the strong opposition in Millersville and Lock Haven.

The Huskies opened the season with an easy home verdict over Harpur. Mediocre success followed as the locals bowed in close tilts to Kutztown and Millersville. After the New Year, the Husky Hoopsters found new life and rolled over practically all competition. As the campaign ended, the Maroon and Gold had up-ended seven consecutive foes to set their final chart at 12 and 4.

Shelly's free use of substitutions was advantageous on almost every occasion, and the closeness in individual scoring showed this true. After Daly, were Byham, Williams, Linkhorst, and Erickson in tallying—all four of these boys scoring over 120 points.

With the loss of but three players via the diploma route, the Shelleymen can well point to next season when old standby Maroon and Gold talent will show its full might on the courts of the Tutor Conference.

by Harry Brooks

1952 marked another year of triumph in B.S.T.C. athletic circles. To begin with, our Huskier than Husky football team rolled over eight tough opponents to blaze through an undefeated campaign—their second in four years. The top tilt of the year was the battle with West Chester, whom the Maroon and Gold clawed into submission by a 16-7 score.

On the hardwood, Harold Shelly's hoopsters had their most successful campaign in years when they dumped twelve of sixteen foes, and had a winning streak of seven consecutive victories when the season closed. Good material for the next campaign will no doubt bolster that record. The cinder boys had a tough time again this year. The small squad performed brilliantly considering their lack of depth, and several individual stars such as Joe Fieffer, John Scrimgeour, and others kept Bloomsburg on the "track map."

On the baseball diamond, Redman's boys finish out the season today against a Wilkes college nine who earlier in the season dropped their home fray with the Huskies, by a 9-0 tally. The Maroon and Gold had lost only three games at this writing, and at the same time, had defeated some of the little power of the East. Rider, West Chester, and Indiantown Gap, a G.I. nine loaded with professional talent, all fell under the wake of Husky bats and fine pitching by some new hurlers around here, Creasy and Holtzman. Makowski, another hurler was the only pitcher back from last year's staff, and he performed just as well as the rookies. Creasy or Makowski will probably pitch in today's fracas with the Colonels of Wilkes College.

Another milestone must be mentioned. One of the main cogs in the Bloomsburg athletic wheel is leaving at the end of his season as baseball coach. Bob Redman, head mentor of the undefeated Husky gridders and leader of the diamond boys, has resigned, and will move in as head coach of East Orange, N. J. High School. Redman has been an asset that will be hard to replace here at the Friendly College, but all the students, his co-workers, and friends of the college wish him added success in his already brilliant career. He has become a permanent part of Bloomsburg, and all the memories that this college will bring to us in the future.

Teachers College Champions - 1951

Again last fall, the versatile Bob Redman with his assistants John Hoch, Harold Shelly, and "Bells" Colone manned the Husky reins, and whipped the growling gridders into shape to net B.S.T.C. its second unbeaten, untied campaign in four years. Despite the fact that the Redmen faced their most strident schedule in years, they came out on top to bowl over eight fighting opponents, and also annex the first Teachers College Conference Title. With these achievements heaped atop all past laurels, the Huskies can well wear their new-found crown with permanent pride. Nineteen Fifty-one will pass on in the annals as another banner year in par excellent football at Bloomsburg, surpassing all previous grid-war glories at the tough but "Friendly College on the Hill".

In the initial fracas of the 1951 campaign, the Maroon and Gold generated their high-powered offense sparingly to electrify Mansfield's tame Mountaineers 20-7 on Berwick's Crispin Field. On this early September night, the Redmen marched on to an easy win behind the double touchdown treks of Bob Lang, and Tom Spack's flashy 71 yard jaunt. The outcome of the game was never in doubt as the Huskies led at halftime, 20-0. Mansfield tallied in the last stanza against Husky reserves.

On September 29, the Lock Haven Tutors journeyed to Athletic Park for the second tilt of the season. With gazelle-like running by Bob Lang, Barney Osevala, and Tom Spack, the Huskies clipped the Bald Eagles' wings for a 35-6 decision. "Daddy" ripped off two trips to paydirt in the first half, then Spack, Osevala, and Brennan participated in the victory drama by slamming over three more tallies in the second act. Dave Linkhorst boojed five extra points to boost his season's total to seven for eight.

Again Athletic Park was the scene of battle and once more the Redmen raced to victory. This time the Millersville gridders fell, 40-14. Behind the high-octane arm of D'Amico and their Bunyan-like end, Alexander, the Millers made it an exciting melee for three periods before the running of the reliables Lang, Osevala, and Spack, made the contest a rout. The Huskies tallied three times in the first half, then garnered another three in the third and fourth stanzas to mark the highest point since 1949.

Sports fans awaited the all-star fray between the visiting Red Raiders from Shippensburg and Redman's Huskies scheduled for Olympus on Homecoming Day. They were not disappointed. The largest Alumni Day crowd in several years watched the Huskies romp, run, and wreck the Red Raider offense to down Rambo's air minded aggregation, 40-14. The first quarter was a tense affair as a long Shippensburg pass put the Raiders out in front 7-0. But not for long. Behind the brilliant passing arm of Tom Spack and the running of "48" point Lang, the Huskies slugged back to send the Red Raiders home "Blue Velvet" under the wake of six touchdowns. Lang, Verhousky, Osevala, Spack, and Thurston appeared in the Huskies T. D. parade.

Playing their first battle on foreign turf, the Redmen found the Pennsylvania Dutch country to their liking and promptly walked away with a 28-0 verdict over Kutztown. Despite their lack of punch in this game, the Huskies had the power in the clutch. Brilliant line play by Nemetz, Verhousky, and Lambrinos halted an early Golden Avalanche drive, then in the second quarter the listless Huskies came to life as Tom Spack found the airplanes free to pass to Charlie Brennan for a T. D. Spack also ran for a Bloom six-pointer. The score at intermission read, Bloom 14, Kutztown 0. The game marked the first time Lang was held scoreless, and also the first time the opposition was held free of scoring. "Link" booted four more extra points for a 21 for 24 percentage.

Once again the Maroon and Gold spread out the traveling maps and paddled up the Susquehanna to meet "Pappy" Ralston's scrappy Wilkes gridders on a bitter cold November evening in Kingston stadium. A handful of hardy B.S.T.C. eskimos watched the Huskies' blood circulate long enough to snow-under the Colonels, 27-7. What little Al Nicholas could do for Wilkes wasn't enough as Lang, Osevala, and Long crossed the final chalk mark for Redmen's eleven. After leading by only 7-0 at half-time the Maroon and Gold began to roll in the final stanzas. Lang tallied twice in the third period to ice the frigid prelim to the big tilt with West Chester the next week.

Perhaps the most widely publicized fracas in Bloom history took form on sunny Crispin Field before a crowd of 4,000 on November 10th. "The battle of the year" with West Chester's Golden Rams resulted in a brilliant Husky upset, 16-7. In addition to the revenge win, the Huskies toted off the first Tutor Crown in the newly organized Teacher conference.

Early in the initial stanza, the Golden Rams' Hersh "shook-up" the crowd by scampering 33 yards to put the flock ahead, 7-0. A few minutes later, after "Irish" Brennan tackled Hagan in the end zone for a B.S.T.C. safety, "Crazy Legs" Lang ripped a page out of 1920 football and raced 34 yards for a "statue of liberty" T.D. Bloom led at the quarter, 9-7. Late in the second period, Osevala clinched the upset by tallying to end the scoring for the day. See-saw play marked the second half, but the most exciting performance was put on by the Giltless Rams' genial mentor, Glenn Killinger, when he flipped his fedora on the field. All the boys, both on the line and in the backfield shined in the victory.

In the season's final fray, Indiana's Indians came scalp hunting on Mount Olympus and found the Husky warpath a dead end. Thus the B.S.T.C. gridders ended an exciting eight game schedule with a 20-0 win, to cop an undefeated, untied, season. After the strong M. and G. forward wall halted an early Indiana drive, the Huskies attacked with atomic power and shoved the hopeless Red and White visitors up and down the soggy turf for the remainder of the game. With this win the Huskies fought to their second unblemished record in four years and recorded their thirty-eighth victory in forty-two tries—truly an accomplishment for the "Friendly College."

Baseball, '52

Today is the final curtain for Coach Bob Redman of the Husky baseball squad. The past baseball season has been another successful one for the genial mentor. Up until the time of this writing "Robbies Rovers" are flying home with an overall 8 win - 3 loss record, with two of their games rained out.

History and Development of B.S.T.C.

of material contributed by former and present members of the college faculty. Dean Emeritus William Boyd Sutliff delved into the faded manuscript records of early boards of trustees of the institution and prepared a very interesting and readable history of the organization and development of the "College on the Hill." Dr. Francis B. Haas, Superintendent of Public Instruction and President of B.S.T.C. from 1927 to 1939, wrote the Foreword.

Other contributors who were responsible for various phases of the development of the college include Dr. Andruss, Nevin T. Englehart, former Superintendent of Grounds and Buildings; Dr. Thomas P. North, Miss Edna J. Hazen, Mr. W. C. Forney, Mr. John C. Koch, former Dean of Men; Mr. George J. Keller, Dr. H. Harrison Russell, Mr. John J. Fisher, Mr. S. L. Wilson, Mr. Howard F. Fenstemaker, Dr. E. H. Nelson, former Athletic Director, now President of the Alumni Association; Miss Ethel A. Ranson, Miss Harriet M. Moore, Miss Alice Johnston, Mr. Earl N. Rhodes, former Director of Secondary Education and Placement Service; Pearl L. Mason and Catherine I. Zealberg, former College Librarians.

Current Currents

by Dave Newbury

Welcome and stuff . . .

I won't be here when the Alumni arrive, but as an official representative of Current Currents, I would like to extend the C. C. gladhand to all visiting dignitaries who fall into the Alumni category. I know that there is something about "the hill" that creates a sort of homey feeling. (I even find myself saying "I'm going home" when I return to B.S.T.C.) If this is a disease, it certainly is one to want to have. You probably know that a great deal of the strength of any school is the interest the Alumni have in it. I hope you find something here this Alumni Day to get those restive memories flowing.

Some Changes Have Been Made . . .

As you Alumni will notice (if the grapevine hasn't clued you already), there will be some gaps in the memory lineup when you visit B.S.T.C. this time. The more recent Alumni will note the absence of Robert Redman, champion coach, champion teacher, and champion guy. Then too, E. A. "Prof" Reams will no longer be with us. Mr. Reams has been going on the "Hill" twenty-six years, so a lot more alumni will notice his going. Among the missing (but not in spirit) will be Alice Johnston, of Speech and Dramatics fame. All in all, there will be some things to notice when the alumni blow into town.

Big Things of the Year . . .

Some of the big things of the year were the undefeated football season, the Co-ed of the Year, Phyl McLaren; the May Queen, Peg Bourdette; The Obiter, one of the best; Victory over West Chester, football; and one of the best Senior Classes (in at least a year—easy Anthony, I couldn't insult all the classes that came before yours.) Some of the big things in school are never heard about—the big things like a Freshman learning how to get along with his classmates or college students becoming men and women. Most of you alumni have been out awhile in the teaching end of this business and so when you return you bring much more than you took. Trade what you know; like money, its not worth anything unless you use it.

The New Crop . . .

Two days after this mass of verbage breaks into print, a whole new crop of Alumni will be turned out. Some will go to teaching posts, some to posts in industry, and some to army posts. No matter where they go or what they do from now on they cannot escape the effect that Bloomsburg has had on their lives. The proof of this will be in the next alumni day when they too will flock back up the "Hill" just as you alumni have done.

Agree or Disagree . . .

You may agree or disagree about whether the changes that have been made in the last twenty years have been good or bad, but at least have an opinion. Your interest in the school is best shown by the amount and intensity of your gripes and praise. Too many times we are prone to think that because a person does not praise everything about his Alma Mater he is tearing it down, but at least this is better than the sticky gray nothingness of total disinterest. While you are here, look around and — have an opinion of some sort.

Among the Souvenirs . . .

Among the memories that you alumni will take away with you, there will not likely be anything you have read in C. C., but at least do this — remember that students still sit up nights to put out the M. & G., that students here still think enough of their college to put in extra hours, that college means more to them now than just studies. And when you think of this, also think to come back again next Alumni Day and bring a friend who wasn't here this year.

Three Members B.S.T.C. Faculty

B.S.T.C. in January, 1952, with no fanfare and scarcely any record of her personal history. She graduated from Park College with a B.L. degree. She secured her M.A. from Columbia University, and has done graduate work at the Universities of Wisconsin, Michigan, and Chicago; the Central School of Speech, London; and the New York League for the Hard of Hearing.

Miss Johnston came to Bloomsburg in 1926 as instructor in speech and speech correction. She has also served as director of the Bloomsburg Players and public plays, and The College Hour. She has helped to found B.S.T.C. chapters of Alpha Psi Omega, national dramatic fraternity, and Sigma Alpha Eta, national speech fraternity.

During World War II she worked in an army hospital with injuries cases concerning speech and speech organs.

Miss Johnston is now residing in Albuquerque, New Mexico, where she operates a private speech clinic.

mony, Donald Cesare ended his oration by saying — "So long as her walls shall stand, so long as her towers point like fingers to the sky, may this ivy we plant today grow sturdy and strong and its green never fade. Long after we have departed, may it keep alive the memory of the Class of 1952!"

In his oration, Cesare discussed the significance of Ivy Day, tracing the history of the traditional planting. In part he said, "The ivy is indeed a suitable parting gift to our college. It is beautiful and strong . . . it has tenacity . . . its green leaves never fade but remain a symbol of strength for all time."

He expressed the hope that Alma Mater grow in power and fame and her loyal students be as numerous as the leaves on the vine, her teachings as firmly rooted in truth as the ivy in the soil.

"B" Club Alumnae

The annual softball game, featuring Seniors and Alumnae versus underclassmen, took place Saturday afternoon. The Alumnae rallied after a slow start, but could not bridge the difference, and went down to a humiliating 29-23 defeat.

Informal initiation of new members of the Club was held after dinner Saturday, in the form of a court trial, with Alumnae serving as court personnel. Elizabeth Huber ruled as judge, with Betty Fisher as District Attorney and Kay Hess as Court Crier. Mary Rush and Kathryn Abbott were members of the jury. Also tried for high crimes, such as having been kind to "B" Clubbers during her years of teaching, was Miss McCammon; Miss Barnes was tried for other misdemeanors.

Many of the group journeyed to Hughsville in the evening to attend a square dance.

At Sunday dinner, "B" Club pins for outstanding service were awarded to three Seniors; Janet Price, Marilyn Evans, and Priscilla Abbott. The weekend concluded with a visit to Rainbow Farms, the Phipps Estate. Warm, sunny weather made this year's outing one of the most pleasant ever held.

Attending were: Kathryn Abbott, Betty Fisher, Kay Hess, Elizabeth Huber, Faythe Hackett, Mary Rush, Priscilla Abbott, Margaret Bourdette, Geraldine Funk, Marilyn Evans, Ann Gengenbach, Anna Bittner, Lenora Macgill, June Pichel, Janet Price, Ruth Paul, Nancy Tovey, Patricia O'Laughlin.

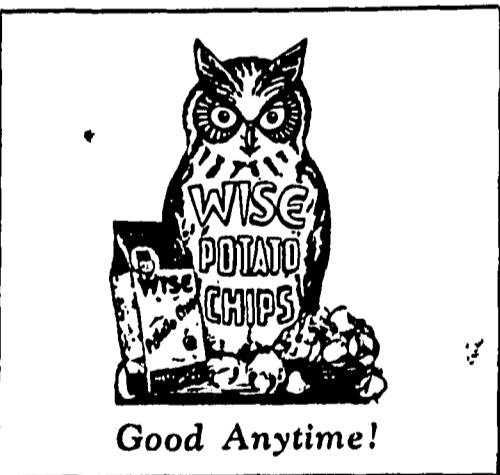

Betty Hoffman, Janice Pugh, Jeanette Mincer, Rose Marie Grant, June Lukac, Janice Bower, Ann Kornfeld, Doris Sadowski, Evelyn Weaver, Miss Barnes, Miss Hazen, Miss McCammon, Mrs. Mulford, Mrs. Baker, Miss Stolp, Miss Cavanaugh, Mr. and Mrs. Forney.

for a special two week's course of instruction. The representatives were Coach Harold Shelly, James Cherrington, Keith McKay, and Jeanetta Mincer.

Miss Peggy Bourdette, chosen earlier in the year as Snow Queen, was elected Queen of May to preside over the traditional May Day ceremonies. Dr. Ernest Englehardt was selected to act as editor for the Journal of the Association of Penna. State Teachers College Faculties for the college year 1952-53.

Style, fashion, and vogue were the cry of the sixth annual fashion show held May 2. Under direction of Mr. Henrie, this year's show used the theme of the Greatest Girl on Earth—The American Girl.

In keeping with the present election year, Phi Sigma Pi sponsored a mock political convention held in a special three hour assembly. The program followed closely the regular procedure which would be followed in a National Major Party Convention. In all, five candidates were nominated: Eisenhower, Warren, Taft, MacArthur, and Stassen. Eisenhower received the nomination for president on the second ballot, with Warren getting the vice presidential bid.

With rain offering a slight threat, May Day was held with its usual pomp and pageantry. Twenty maypoles were wound on the terraces by the training school children and college girls.

And so, with the Senior Class busy preparing its Ball and Banquet, the Honor Assembly and Ivy Day being held, another chapter of B.S.T.C. history was completed.

Alumni Note:

one two year old could have so much energy. I'll sign him over to Coach Redman at the age of eighteen and see if he can take some of the starch out of him.

If everything goes according to plan, we will be leaving here the latter part of May to attend summer school at Brigham Young University, and from there proceed to Pennsylvania to visit my family. We want to spend time at Lou and Harry's. I was politely told that if I didn't—(Well you know Harry). I will at that time give an account of myself for the past three years. We have been looking forward to this vacation for a long time now. I'm getting somewhat cranky and it's beginning to show. All in all the past three years have been pleasant and healthy ones, and we like our work.

Hoping this finds you and Mrs. Andrus enjoying the best of health. Thank you again for your thoughtfulness.

Sincerely,
Jim Sampsell

(Editor's note — James Sampsell was a graduate of the class of 1949. While at B.S.T.C. he was a member of F.T.A., Gamma Theta Upsilon, Athletic Club, and participated in football.)

Sgt. Leo J. McDonald, a graduate of B.S.T.C., is now teaching geometry and mathematics classes at the Armed Forces Education Center at Camp Zama, Japan. A large staff of well-qualified instructors has been assembled by the Army to teach U. S. Military personnel in Japan.

History . . .

College Songs Are Feature

For the first time in the history of the college, the four popular college songs, "Alma Mater," "My Girl's a Hullabaloo," "Old Bloomsburg," and "Maroon and Gold," have been reproduced with full music scores for piano. Mr. Howard F. Fenstermaker, who composed the music for the last two mentioned, arranged the scores. The publication is so designed that the songs fall in the center section of the book, an arrangement which will prove convenient for pianists.

Another feature of the publication is the inclusion of the names and addresses of all living alumni from 1879 to 1950 inclusive. This is the first time a complete list of alumni has ever been published in a B.S.T.C. publication. The directory appears in the second section of the book and covers 28 full pages.

Four photographs taken from alumni files will be of interest to "old grads." In the "Student Life" section are reproductions of the popular Washington Excursion in 1910 and the Kappa Delta Pi installation group in 1931. An early football squad and the 1900 BSNB baseball team are reproduced in the sports section. A line cut reproduction of the institution as it appeared at the turn of the century and an aerial view of the present campus are also included in the publication. The latter scene illustrates the poem, "Alma Mater," written by former Dean Sutliff.
