SMASH THE GOLDEN RAMS!!

Girls' Orchestra Special Feature At Varsity Dance

Something new has been added! The Varsity Club, an all-male organization consisting of men who are major letter winners in sports at Bloomsburg, is going to have an all-girl orchestra to play for their annual Thanksgiving Dance this year. Could there be some connection? Anyway, it's a novel idea, and it'll be entertaining to come and dance to the music of this out-of-the-ordinary orchestra when the doors of Centennial Gym are opened wide Friday night, November 20. The price of tickets for this gala affair will be $1.00 per person, and dancing will continue from 8:30 to 11:30.

The Varsity Club dance is the only major dance of the school year which calls for informal dress. The highlight of the evening will be the crowning of the Varsity Queen during intermission. This lucky lass will be selected from a group of five girls, who have been chosen by a committee. All the club members vote on these five girls to pick the queen. She will preside over the dance on a royal throne decorated in the Thanksgiving theme. Candidates for the Varsity Queen of 1953 are: Freshman class, Bobbi Roadside, Marlene Herrick; Sophomore class, Joan Christie; Junior class, Jan Ference; Senior class, Shirley Evedland.

The committee which has the ticklish task of choosing the nominees is made up of Bob Evans and Rudy Holtzman. Ed Connelly heads the committee responsible for securing the orchestra, and his helpers include Tom Persing, Don Thomas, and Joe Ondrula. The man (?) in charge of making sure that all of B.S.T.C. knows about the dance is Arnie Garinger. Helping Arnie in the Publicity Committee are Tom Higgins, Joe Kinder, Bernie Mont, and Bob Cumens.

The all-important tickets are the responsibility of John Nemetz, chairman, and Mike Lashaddock, Tom Shuey, Charles Kwiatkowski, Bob Stroup, and Jerry Kopec.

Hanging the crepe papers and trimmings in the gym will be a committee headed by Larry Bush. Other members are Charles Skiptunas, Fred Betz, John Panichello, and John Angus.

Merlyn Jones is chairman of that much envied group, the refreshment committee. Helping him will be Charles Pope, Joe Glosek, Ronnie Steinbeck, and Floyd Williams.

All in all, it promises to be one of the really special occasions of the year, one of those events that has the fellows discussing it for a week afterward, and that requires a whole page in a girl's diary. So why not put on your best bib and tucker and attend the Varsity Club dance? You'll have some really happy memories to take along home with you over the Thanksgiving holiday.

Officers Elected For Mixed Chorus

The Mixed Chorus, now consisting of about 120 members, has Mr. Nelson Miller as its enthusiastic director and advisor. Anyone interested in music is cordially invited to join this activity since there are no try-outs. The members meet in Science Hall, Room 22, every other week on Thursday afternoons at 3:00 p.m. After football season the chorus will be held every Thursday from 3:00 to 5:00 p.m. in order to enable other students to participate. The music, in part, is provided by a C.G.A. budget which enables the chorus to secure a variety of popular, comedy, religious, and secular music.

As yet, there is no special scheduled program as far as concerts, or assemblies are concerned. Smaller groups, however, will be selected later, and the chorus intends to prove its talent if an open date (Continued on page 4)

All-College Show Destined To Be Colossal Success

Try-outs held on Monday, November 9 in Carver Hall Auditorium produced a wealth of talent for the annual All-College Talent Show to be shown on December 3. Fresh acts from the mighty Frosh class plus some of the widely-acclaimed performances of last year's shows should combine for the best show ever.

The pride of the 1952 Frosh Show as well as a member of last year's All-College Show, Mary Hoffecker will be long-remembered for her Hawaiian hula and tap dance routine. A repeat performance will certainly go over big with her appreciative audience—particularly the male sections!!

Junior Grace Histed delighted the try-out committee composed of Rusty Miller, Joan Christie, Phil Gergen, Arnie Garinger, and Bunny Bowman, as did Sophomore Earla Meyers, another star of last year's successful Freshman Show.

So well-liked was Yvonne Kissler's "Desert Song" in the 1953 version of the Frosh Talent Show that she is a sure performer for December 3—especially after her outstanding try-out on Monday night.

Mel Arter Will Be Featured at the Annual Cotillion

The annual Sophomore Cotillion will be held in Centennial Gymnasium on the evening of December 11. Mel Arter and his orchestra will provide the music to accompany the theme of "Christmas Sleighride."

William Bitner and Bernadine Butz head the ticket committee composed of Judy Stephens, Pat O'Brien, Joan Christie, Robert Groover, Elderson Dean, and Paul Peiffer. Harrison Morson, chairman, Nanette Hoy, co-chairman and Byron Evans are in charge of publicity. Programs will be handled by Doris Kryzwicki and Curtis English. Muriel Nielson is chairman and Nancy Homsher is co-chairman of the invitation committee. Arrangements are in charge of chairman Mary Hoffecker, co-chairman Robert Huntz, Robert Brush, Warren Kline, and Don Carey.

The decoration committee headed by Vivian Scott and Ed Chase includes Barbara Bennett, Marion Walsh, Ann Vermilya, Emma Miller, Ronnie Krafjack, James Nicholas, Charles Skiptunas, and Pasquale Gianguilio. Shirley Fisher, Ronald Girton, and John Watts will help chairman Bertha Knouse and co-chairman James Harris with the refreshments. In the clean-up department, Walter Kozloski is chairman and Joan Raab is co-chairman. Helping them will be Marge Duttlinger, Jackie Desmond, Marge Felton, Hubert Smoczynski, and Joseph Keefer. The entertainment committee is composed of the class advisors and officers.

Bus. Ed. Club Hears "Your Voice Is You"

The regular meeting of the Business Education Club was held Thursday, November 5, in Navy Hall Auditorium at 3 p.m. President Tony Hantjls called the meeting to order. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved, and the treasurer's report was heard.

Old and new business was taken care of before Mr. Hantjls introduced Mr. Rath, a representative from Bell Telephone, Wilkes-Barre, who in turn introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Tinsley. The program she presented was entitled "Your Voice Is You." It was both amusing and educational. She brought out the fact that when speaking over the phone, your (Continued on page 4)

Great Display Shown at Annual Ram-Husky Clash

This afternoon our Huskies play the West Chester Rams on Mount Olympus at 1:30 p.m. Since the Rams have become the Huskies' most bitter rival, a big weekend has been planned by the college students and faculty.

Our rivalry with the Rams began three years ago. Since that time the Huskies have won one game and the Rams have taken two. With the Rams invading our campus today quite a welcome has been prepared.

The campus has been decorated by students with signs, posters, and crepe paper. Don't be surprised if it is hard to distinguish the campus from the decorations. Long porch has a morale-breaking theme for West Chester. Wonder what we can do to the morale of the fast running Fred Prender? Signs, banners, and posters everywhere. Waller and North Hall feature signs hanging from their room windows, which spell out slogans for our team.

Friday night at 6:30 the weekend was started with a bang-up parade forming at Carver Hall Fountain and moving at 7:00 o'clock. The parade was led by the Bloomsburg High School Band. The Susquehanna Greys Drum and Bugle Corp also marched in the parade and the Bloomsburg Huskies Band formed the last section. Floats were scattered through the middle of the parade with the students following the band. The parade marched to the Square and there the band and cheerleaders led the students in songs and cheers. The band then counter-marched back through Main St. up to Navy Field where a spirited Pep Rally and bon fire was held. Capable Arnie Garinger was the master of ceremonies. The Dorm Men made the plans, making this rally the biggest and best ever held!

The floats in the parade were decorated by numerous organizations competing for the prizes offered by C.G.A. Pep Committee and the Dorm Men's Association, each organization offering two prizes. The Pep Committee judged floats on the basis of originality and awarded first and second prizes of $5.00 and $3.00. The Dorm Men judged the floats on the basis of elaborateness and offered the same prizes. Mrs. Beeman and Mrs. Johnson were the judges. Phi Sig, Dramatic Club, Football Managers, Waller Hall Men, Dorm Men, Friendly Vets, Day Women, Pi Omega Pi and Waller Hall 4th floor girls entered floats.

The Day Men sponsored a Round and Square Dance in Centennial Gym following the pep-rally. Ed Ritter and his orchestra furnished the music. Cider and doughnuts were served.

This is just the skeleton of a well planned week-end. It has been heard around campus that there's nothing "going on" here on week-ends. There is something "going on" this week-end! What say? Lets all stay and support the Huskies.

All in all this should prove to be the best week-end at B.S.T.C. for 1953. Let's show the team and our coaches how much we appreciate our terrific ball carriers. Since the game is being played on Mt. Olympus let's all get out and make lots of noise.

Revised Textbook Widely Received

Burgess Business Law, a textbook revised by Dr. Harvey A. Andruss, and published by Lyons and Carnahan of Chicago, has been adopted by Oklahoma, Oregon, and Mississippi. This is a total of less than 20 states in which this text book has been adopted. The book will go into its second printing in January 1954.

Twelve Members of Senior Class Chosen To Represent Bloomsburg in Who's Who

Twelve outstanding members of the Senior Class have been chosen to appear in the 1954 edition of "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities." All selections were made on the basis of personal traits, leadership, practical qualities, professional promise, potential usefulness to society, actual ability, past record, scholastic achievement, and service to the college. The choice was made by the following and approved by President Andruss: Dr. North, Mr. Hoch, Mrs. Miller, Dr. Hallisy, Miss Hazen, Dr. Engelhardt.

Charles Andrews

"Chuck" has excelled in both the political and journalistic affairs on campus. Class vice-president in his freshman year, he rose to the presidency while a sophomore and was sent back to council as class representative as a junior. This year he is president of Kappa Delta Pi, national honor society on campus. For three years he served on the Olympian staff, becoming its editor while a sophomore. A four year Maroon and Gold member, Charles served on the Editorial Board for two years, this year becoming business manager of the organization. He is also a member of Phi Sigma Pi, and is on the staff of Obiter '54. He was in College Council for two years and at present is a senior committee chairman. Hailing from West Pittston, Chuck is a secondary student with fields of concentration in English and Spanish.

Alfred Chiscon

Al has particularly excelled on the campus literary scene. Serving on the Maroon and Gold staff for four years, he became News Editor of the publication while a freshman, Associate Editor while a sophomore, editor-in-chief while a junior, and a feature columnist while a senior. A member of the yearbook staff for three years, Al was on the Editorial Board of Obiter '53 and is Editor-in-chief of

$300 Donated by Class of 1948 for New Score Board

The class of 1948 has donated $300 towards the purchase of an electric football score board on Mt. Olympus.

Discussion on the project of buying an electric football scoreboard began last year when Henry Marini, president of the class of 1953 presented the plan to College Council. The approximate cost of the scoreboard would be $1,265, including installation, and includes all the necessary equipment for operation. The class of 1953 decided to give $350 to this fund, if the Community Government Association would give $300, with the provision that the balance of the necessary fund be raised within the next three years by future classes who choose to join the class of 1953 in this project. If at the end of three years no class has contributed to this effort, the class would decide on another memorial at a reunion.

The dimensions of the scoreboard that the class considered were seventeen feet, four and one-half inches by nine feet, five and one-half inches. These dimensions do not include the height of the steel uprights on which the scoreboard will be placed. The numerals for the scores are two feet high and the numerals on the clock are one foot high. The clock is eight feet in diameter. The scoreboard is made of aluminum with a protective coating.

If the scoreboard is bought, it will not be installed for a year or two, as the football field is in the process of being excavated and possibly relocated, which would necessitate moving the scoreboard.

Obiter '54. He was also on the staff of the Olympian. A member of College Council for two years, he this year is man representative of the Senior Class. He is also treasurer of Phi Sigma Pi and vice-president of Kappa Delta Pi. He is or has been a member of the Assembly and Calendar Committees, Science Club, Men's Glee Club, and Bloomsburg Players. He is also a member of F.T.A. and is a senior committee chairman. A secondary student from Kingston, Al is concentrating in Science and Mathematics.

Michael Crisci

Mike has taken the lead in the political aspect of college life. The only student on campus to have served on College Council for four years, Mike began his career as Freshman Class President. Becoming Man Representative as a sophomore, he ran for C.G.A. Vice-President, made it, and from there it was just a step to the presidency he now holds. Mike is or has been a member of the Social Recreation and Pep Committees, Phi Sigma Pi, Kappa Delta Pi, Pi Omega Pi, the Business Education Club, and F.T.A. Taking part in the Business Education Contest for four years, Mike served as assistant chairman last year and will take over the reins as head student chairman this year. Coming from West Pittston, Mike has followed the business curriculum during his stay here.

Mary Dreibelbis

Highly active in speech correction activities on campus, Mary Ruth has served as secretary of Sigma Alpha Ega and, this year, is president of that organization. She also displayed her lovely vocal talents in two all-college assembly programs and on the college television show held last year. Mary has been a member of the Bloomsburg Players and Women's Chorus. This year she is a member of Kappa Delta Pi and F.T.A. A day student hailing from Bloomsburg, Mary is in the elementary and speech correction fields.

Fred DelMonte

Fred, an Accounting and Social Studies student, served as Sophomore Class president, Aviation Club president, and served on College Council. A member of the Aviation Club, he also belongs to the Day Men's Association, Business Education Club, Customs Committee, and served on the Evaluation Committee. A day student from Shamokin, he is also a member of Kappa Delta Pi and Phi Sigma Pi.

Gerald Houseknecht

Jerry is perhaps best known at present for the important position he holds as president of the Day Men's Association. He went to that office after serving a year as assistant treasurer of C.G.A. This summer he served as Associate Editor of the Pilot, and at present he is president of the Bloomsburg Players. He is a member of Kappa Delta Pi and Alpha Psi Omega. He has served as both president and vice-president of S.C.A. He has been a member of the Men's Glee Club, College Choir, Maroon and Gold, and Hospitality Committee. He has appeared in a Public Play given by the Dramatic Club and at present is also a member of F.T.A. A day student from Bloomsburg, Jerry is in the English and Social Studies fields of secondary education.

William Jacobs

Bill is best known now as president of the Class of 1954. He went to that position after serving a year as treasurer of C.G.A. A three year member of Pi Omega Pi, he served as president of that business education fraternity while a junior. At present he is a member of Kappa Delta Pi, Phi Sigma (Continued on page 3)

A Problem for the Faculty

A question continually popping up lately wherever students meet is that of instructors keeping their classes in session until the very last minute. While starting out as habitual with but a few faculty members, the problem seems to have spread until at last it has become "a major gripe" among B.S.T.C. students. More than a few students look at their watches in one class and discover their next class has just begun. More than a few instructors have the impression that students in this modern world can jet propell themselves to their next class in a matter of seconds.

In by-gone days, ten minutes was provided for a short but sufficient "break" between classes. But this has grown to be a thing of the past. Fault has been placed upon our non-functioning clocks. The clocks which do run in some buildings are usually mere approximations of true time. Once upon a time the Carver Tower Clock was to be the basis for campus time. But it has been demoted to a mechanism that chimes on the hour to remind our faculty that the class they have already kept ten minutes overtime might possibly have other things to do.

All this is no exaggeration. The class that always arrives at assembly after the Bible reading is completed is not tardy because of the lengthy distance they had to come. The faculty members who keep their classes into the noon hour are really not accomplishing anything. Students don't learn while they are thinking of the ever-lengthening lunch-line they will have to face if and when they are excused. For that matter, any instructor who attempts to squeeze an extra five minutes is, in effect, only talking to himself. The students are too busy wondering how they are going to make it from Centennial to Carver in three minutes.

Upon polling a few instructors, the best reason heard for this sad state of affairs was that since the students come into class late, they have to be kept later. But, the only reason (with the usual exceptions) that any mass of students is late is because the instructors of the class before have detained them.

We are not the only ones suffering with this problem. East Stroudsburg's publication suggests a cow bell to be rung in mid-campus every so often to "clue" the faculty. In old B. S. T. C. faculty members went through the dormitory halls in the morning ringing a bell to awaken the students. Perhaps the students should use a good old "cow bell" to awaken our professors to a few important matters. Then again, if financial difficulties did not intervene, we could purchase accurate watches for our faculty. But would they set them with the clock the students use? At any rate, something should be done.

PACE SETTERS

By Joan Curilla

Who isn't looking forward to the coming holiday seasons? Most home towns offer a big Thanksgiving game, dress-up dances, and all of the gay, colorful Christmas festivities. Or perhaps you aren't as far-sighted and can only see as far as the nearing events on campus. In any case, we are constantly thinking of new clothes and if you are in the market for party duds, I have done some research so that I might give a hint as to just what is being worn in the best circles. Oh well, you know what I mean.

Every season there is something new perking up in after-five costumes. This year we have a unanimous trend toward lace. For formal wear, black French lace is found covering azure silk faille or white slipper satin. Another new color is rose-blond, always with a touch of azure. Evening wear has a new covered-up look achieved with long sleeves (but low decollete) and a sweeping-backward emphasis.

Formal street wear comes more closely to our level. Here we find princess lines and Empire waists, dressed-down satins and dressed-up wools. A perfect example is Judy Bauer's black wool sheath glowing with a silk sash of the same color. It serves a dual purpose for Judy can cover-up with the black wool jacket for a dressy suit effect.

Barbara Laubach steals the spotlight in her black velvet suit. It's that shimmering, soft velvet and sparkles with large rhinestone buttons — the type one pictures with candlelight and soft music.

Another candlelighter is worn by Marlene Gobster. This dress, however, is a light-weight silk of the palest lavender streaked with a metallic gold thread. It's wonderful to get really dressed up!

As for you boys, all I can say is borrow Pop's tux or drag out the navy blues. Of course, a white dinner jacket looks terrific with dark trousers, maroon tie, and handkerchief.

Getting away from men's formal wear now, I noticed two more nice sport jackets. Elderson Dean has a definitely different version. This is a deep teal coat with a tie belt. Right sharp, I'd say. With him was Keith McKay in a pale aqua jacket cut on bold lines which were accentuated with darker saddle-stitching. Who said men's clothes were dull?

Incidentally, a little bird told me that "Crusher" Conner bought three beautiful sport jackets just recently. Let's see them, boy.

If you're wondering why you see Jo Graeber's name in here, it's simply because this is the only way I can get her to read the paper. Besides, if it weren't for her typewriter, this column would never be. See ya.

Waller Hall News

"Snow" use trying to cover up the fact that Ole Man Winter has arrived at B. S. T. C. — snowmen, snowballs and all! If you don't believe it, ask Muriel "Why-Don't-You-Pick-Me-Up-And-Smoke-Me-Sometime" Neilson. Our fourth-floor quiet hours enforcer boarded a 6:20 bus to West Pittston and arrived at said destination 10:30! Reason — Snowbound. Her only comment was, "Them's mighty hard seats." Our Philadelphia lassies, Judy Stephens, Mary Hofecker, Peggy Gearhart, Ann Ryan, and Bobbie Roadside, also experienced a similar long and weary trip home. But now everyone's back safe and sound and lite in Waller Hall roars on!

Congratulations and oodles of best wishes to Lynda Bogart who has joined the long list of Waller Hall engagees.

Party! Party! On November 18, each floor will have a Thanksgiving party with refreshments, entertainment 'n all.

Last Tuesday to the distinct chagrin and inconvenience of the girls in Waller Hall, they were again rudely awakened at 11:30 to the chiming of the fire alarm horn. Not only were they forced to stay on Long porch for 10 minutes, but were also forced to meet in the school lobby for the purpose of taking roll.

LET'S GO, HUSKIES!

News Briefs . . . Down Beat . . .

At a meeting recently held by the Dramatic Club of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College, a one-act play was presented. Alfred Chiscon and David Hines were the co-directors of this play. Those taking part in the production included Mike Crisci, Virginia Horne, Al Chiscon, and Bob Biemesderfer. At each meeting a one-act workshop play is presented and directed by members of the club.

The members are taking an active part in the big weekend—our game with West Chester. They entered a float in the parade last night; the theme was The National Thespian Crest, the masks of Comedy and Tragedy. In this case West Chester was Tragedy, and Bloomsburg, Comedy. Dame Victory was the reigning queen.

The football players were characterized by Ken Weir and Bob Biemesderfer. Victory, by Jan Ference. Other members of the club in colorful costumes walked before or behind the float.

The committee for the float included Jan Ference, Joan Curilla, Jo Graeber, Shirley Fisher, and Dick Williams.

Miss Gladys B. Fish, special consultant of speech and hearing in the Pennsylvania Department of Public Instruction, was the guest speaker of Sigma Alpha Eta at its November meeting held at 8:00, Tuesday, Nov. 10, in the Science Hall school rooms.

Miss Fish informed the group of the newly developed Hearing Center at Harrisburg, one of the seven centers to be established in the state as a result of the increased state aid to the Special Education Department. Two centers have been already established at State College and Reading.

The 7:7:2 law was also explained by Miss Fish. This law, passed by the last legislative session, will make it possible for school districts, on a county-wide basis, to receive financial assistance from the state for workers with the handicapped. This will mean increased opportunities for teachers of speech and hearing. Funds will be available for this program September, 1954.

Pat Boyle was program chairman, and Charlotte Rummage and Peggy Lou Noll were in charge of refreshments.

The Science Club held its regular semi-monthly meeting on Thursday, November 12, at 3:00 p.m. in Room 22 of Science Hall, Ed Connelley presiding.

After the regular business meeting the speaker, Mrs. Beeman, a member of the B.S.T.C. faculty was introduced. Mrs. Beeman's talk was chiefly concerned with "The Ocean of Air" at the bottom of which we humans exist. Some of the points discussed by the speaker were: The origin of our Solar System; the fact that life in our "high flying" modern world necessitates an understanding of the various layers of our atmosphere; and a discussion of the technique which makes possible our modern "marvels."

The last meeting of the Athenaeum Club featured an interesting program with Mr. Ray Calabrese, from the local radio station, speaking to the group about music appreciation. Individual interpretations of several musical selections were discussed by the group. During this discussion period, Mr. Calabrese answered several of the students questions. Carolyn Yost was Chairman for the program.

Ray Anthony, whose record of Dragnet is the biggest orchestral selling record of recent months, is one former Glenn Miller sideman who will not be seen in the upcoming film version of the late maestro's life. The young man, who joined the group in 1940 and left to go into the Navy in 1942, is too busy with his own band to take time off to do a stint in the films. After his four-year hitch in the service, the leader took up his trumpet and formed his own band, playing the top spots in the country. He is Capitol Records' number one band, and previous to Dragnet, his biggest hit was Nevertheless.

Talking about Dragnet, there's a plethora of recordings from television, following the same pattern set by all the discs based on film themes in the last few years. There's Melancholy Serenade from the Jackie Gleason show; Johnny Desmond etched Danger from the action program of the same name; and to lighten it all up now, there's Mr. Peepers from the comedy half-hour starring Wally Cox.

Eddy Arnold won Down Beat's first hillbilly and western disc jockey poll. Over 500 deejays were polled, and Arnold won the male singer's division; Kitty Wells, the female; Pee Wee King, the large band; Homer and Jethro the small units, and the Carlisles, the vocal group slot. Biggest h&w record was Your Cheating Heart; and the best tune, Crying in the Chapel.

Coast Turns . . . Eddie Cantor does a little better than the late Al Jolson, who warbled for Larry Parks in his life story. Cantor, who does the songlog for Keefe Brasselle in the film, "The Eddie Cantor Story", gets credit in an introductory prologue. Walt Disney films have inspired more song hits than any other source. Way back in 1933, Frank Churchill of the Disney staff knocked out, for "The Three Little Pigs" film, Who's Afraid of the Big, Bad Wolf, and then, until his death several years ago, did more than 30 hit tunes. His biggest success was "Snow White" in which he had eight hit numbers.

Jazz Scene . . . Look for some action on the English Musicians Union, which has banned American band appearances in Britain. Sensational tours just finished by Lionel Hampton and Stan Kenton, have the fans in an uproar. More than 3,000 Kentonites took special trains and boats from England, to attend the concerts by the Maestro in Ireland . . . incidentally, Kenton cancelled his scheduled tour with Duke Ellington, claiming that it was all a mistake, and that both were too big to do joint concerts . . . Dixieland is still strong, a recent bash on the Coast bringing in a smash $18,000.

petition, is indicating that it is the best of his career. Floyd learned his football under Ashley's Coach Dick Murphy, for whom he played four years. Floyd was also a stand-out varsity basketball and baseball star in high school, but upon coming to Bloomsburg decided that football and his studies would be enough to keep him busy.

Floyd decided upon Bloomsburg after several of his high school teachers, who were graduates of the friendly college, prompted him into giving their alma mater a try. Floyd came to college hill as an elementary student in the fall of 1950 and made a berth on Coach Redman's team that season. It was during his first two seasons that Floyd played under the single wing formation, making the big switch when Coach Yohe introduced the fast-moving split T in the fall of '52. During his junior year Floyd came into his own and was able to play considerably more than he did as a single wing tackle. By the time his senior year had rolled around he was ready for a starting nod. This season he has been an outstanding defensive star as well as a sharp downfield blocker. Floyd was able to hold a starting assignment on Coach Yohe's teams all season despite the pre-season surplus of tackles in the pack.

Floyd expressed his feelings on the '51 championship as being the best team he has played with. Like all his senior teammates he says beating West Chester 16-7 at Berwick was as big a thrill as anyone could want. When asked about the best player he has competed with in his four years, he replied that West Chester's Charlie Webber, a tackle of Little All-American fame, was a real tough customer. About his own teammates? Floyd thought for a minute, and answered that Russ Verhousky, a great end on last year's team, was about the best, with Merlyn Jones not too far behind.

Phyllis McLaren, and Business Education Club. He is also chairman of the Dining Room Committee and served earlier in the year as a member of the Customs Committee. Bill is a general business student from Manchester.

Phyllis McLaren

Phyllis' beauty, charm, and personality received all-college recognition when she was chosen "Coed of the Year" as early as her sophomore year. Phyl has been a Fashion Show participant for four years, serving as narrator for two of them. She has been a four year member of the Bloomsburg Players, served as chairman of the Social Recreation Committee while a junior, and at present is a senior committee chairman. She also is or has been a member of Kappa Delta Pi, Women's Chorus, and F.T.A. Phyllis is an elementary student coming all the way from Orlando, Florida.

Louise Schullery

Louise is best known as president of the Waller Hall Association. She was secretary of the organization while a junior and has been on the Governing Board for four years. Last year Louise served as chairman of the 'Kid's Xmas' project. She has been president of S.C.A., vice-president of Women's Chorus, and a four year election board member. At present she is also Treasurer of the "B" Club, a senior committee chairman, and a member of College Council. Last

Joe Glosek

For the past four seasons the center of the Husky line has been manned by the former Coal Township star Joe Glosek. While playing for the Purple Demons under Coach Walt Marshall, Joe contributed his services as an outstanding guard and center, playing four solid years. He wound up his high school grid career on a team that won seven in a row, starting a streak that was to cover a period of three seasons and extend the victory column to 27 games without a defeat.

Joe came to College Hill in the fall of '50 as a 17-year-old hopeful trying for a berth on Coach Redman's powerhouse of that season. Joe had no trouble making the required number of quarters to earn his letter that season. When spring rolled around he was out for baseball, another sport at which he was a standout at Coal Township. It was during his freshman season that Joe feels he came into contact with the best of the Huskies since coming to Bloom, namely Frank Perry, a team captain and all-State guard.

It was the fall of '51 that Joe feels the Huskies had their best team. His biggest thrill came when the team beat West Chester for the championship. When Joe was asked about the best player he had played against, his reply was Earl Hirsch and Scranton's fullback of the '52 season, Big Paul Burak. "It was Burak that wrecked us at Scranton last year," explained Joe, "and Hirsch—well, he was always tough."

In Joe's sophomore year he paced the baseball Huskies at the plate with a big .385 batting average while doing a great job in right field. Last season Joe had trouble getting started, but as the season wore on he managed to get his eye and hit the longest home run of the season, a ball which traveled well over four hundred feet in right center field.

This season has seen Joe called upon to alternate as one of the

Joe Glosek

Huskie's co-captains and to play defensive guard and linebacker. In the New Haven game it was Joe who broke through the Owl line to block the extra point and maintain a 7-6 lead for Bloom. In the California game it was Glosek again in the role of linebacker intercepting a Vulcan pass and helping to end a would-be scoring drive.

Joe's plans for the future include getting married this summer. If Uncle Sam isn't interested, he would like to go into teaching and take a try at coaching.

SPORTS SCUTTLEBUTT

by BILL BITNER

A LOOK AT THE RECORDS . . . Today is the ninth time that Bloomsburg and West Chester have met on the gridiron. In the first eight meetings the Rams came out on the long end of the final tabulations no less than six times, with the Huskies being able to register victories in 1926 and in 1951. The twenty-five years between victories went by because the series was broken off in '29 and was not resumed again until the '50 season. We are unable to recall the former series that ran from '25 to '29, but when the two teams squared off again at West Chester in '50 the Rams pounded out a 31-6 victory to spoil a perfect slate for the Huskies that season. The following year at Berwick's Crispin Field the State Teachers College Championship was decided when the College Hill heroes took an unbeaten West Chester eleven over by the score of 16-7. Last year West Chester was in complete charge of a 26-6 victory to round out an undefeated season for the Philadelphia-area tutors, and a Teachers College Championship. The scores in the series are as follows:

	West Chester	Bloomsburg
1926	0	9
1927	40	7
1928	13	0
1950	31	6
1952	26	6

In the '50, '51, and '52 seasons the Ram's big one-two punch was their touchdown twins, Earl Hirsch and Fred Prender. Hirsch, who graduated last June, was named on the All-State teams and was an outstanding star in the North-South game. He was a leading draft choice for the Philadelphia Eagles but turned his back to football in favor of a shot at baseball with the Milwaukee Braves farm system. Last year Hirsch was the big gun against Bloom. The state's leading scorer played about 59 of the 60 minutes while Prender played only limited time. This season finds Prender the state's leading scorer, only 15 points behind Gettysburg's Joe Ujbolti. Prender, a 6'1" — 180 pound senior, hails from Radnor, Pa. Behind Prender is the Rams' highly touted passing ace from Vermont, Ray Spafford. The fullback chofes are expected to be handled by Alex Nieman, a 5'6" — 180 pounder from Philadelphia's Northeast High.

Still handling the coaching reins for the Rams is Glenn Killinger, who was named by the great Walter Camp as All-American for Penn State in 1921. In recent years he has written a book on the split-T formation of which he is an ardent advocate. From 1947 to 1951 Killinger had as his backfield coach the Huskies' own Jack Yohe.

It is well to note that Barney Osevala, the Huskie's co-captain has scored every year again West Chester, and in every season he has managed to get six touchdowns. To date Barney has tallied five times, and he needs one more to keep his record intact, hopefully at the expense of W. C.

BROWNING AND THE HUSKIES RATE IN THE NATION . . . The National Association of Inter-scholastic Athletics has released figures showing the Huskies to be sixth in the nation among small colleges in total defense, which includes passing and rushing. No figures were available this week on rushing defense, but it is believed that the Huskies could possibly be number one or two in the department because they have allowed a total of only 402 yards net gain in their six games to date. The team has allowed 35 passes to be completed against them for a total of 524 yards.

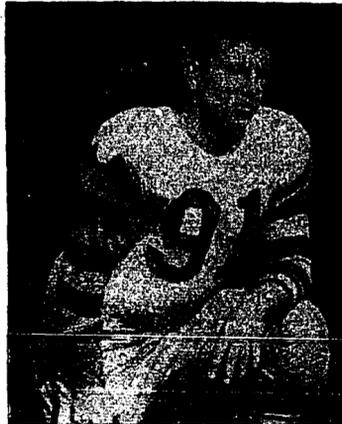

On the other hand Jimmy Browning, the former Mechanicsburg Wildcat, is among the top twenty in the total rushing. This includes rushing and pass catching. Jimmy has run up a total of 369 yards running and has caught a total of eight passes for 178 yards, which gives him an average of 91 yards per game.

Merlyn Jones

Merlyn Jones has been called one of the best blockers to have played on Mount Olympus in recent years—not only by fans but by players and coaches alike. The stocky 21-year old senior from Wilkes-Barre's Coughlin High School has made a name for himself in the realm of athletics, in the classroom, and in his extra-curricular activities since coming to Bloomsburg four years ago.

While at Coughlin, Merlyn was held to two years of football because of an eligibility rule enforced upon him in his sophomore year. However, Coach Lou Palermo made good use of the two seasons he had to work with Merlyn and developed him into a fine guard, catching the attention of Coach Bob Redman who was then the Huskie's grid mentor. Merlyn was graduated from Coughlin with a B average, and also participated in track while at the coal region high school.

Enrolling in the secondary field, majoring in science and math, Merlyn started his college career in the fall of '50 with sufficient time being found for his first love, football. Under Coach Redman, Merlyn was able to win his varsity letters in his freshman and sophomore years, and in the spring he assisted Coach Redman as he has Coach Yohe as student manager of baseball. Under Coach Yohe he was able to garner a starting berth in the '52 season but played mostly on offenses, developing his highest skill of the gridiron sport—blocking. Merlyn has been a regular starter so far this season, but during the California game he fell prey to a painful knee injury and had to sit out the New Haven encounter.

Merlyn, not being unlike his fellow seniors, feels that beating West Chester was the biggest thrill he has enjoyed while participating in the autumn sport. He also feels that the championship team was the best team he has seen on the Hill. When asked to consider the merits of his teammates, Merlyn expressed his sentiments in the direction of Barney Osevala, who has starred for the four years that Merlyn has been at Bloomsburg. When considering his opponents, the name of Charlie Webber of West Chester background was the best he has ever been up against.

Besides his connections with football and baseball, Merlyn has served on several CGA Committees, is currently president of the Men's Dormitory Association, member of Phi Sigma Pi men's honor fraternity, treasurer of the Varsity Club, and Sports Editor of the 1953 Obiter.

John Nemetz

Pacing the Huskies' tackle corps for the past four years has been Shamokin's Big John Nemetz, a product of Coach Ray Jones' Greyhound football machine. John captained the 1948 grid team of Shamokin High and in 1948 and '49 was district champion wrestler in the 185 pound division.

Upon graduation in '49 John considered the University of Pittsburgh's offer but decided to wait a year, enrolling at BSTC in 1950. He was able to make a starting assignment on the 1950 aggregation that was to be beaten only by West Chester in the final game of the season. The following year the local lads avenged that setback by eliminating West Chester from the unbeaten ranks and winning the State Teachers College Championship. During that season John was an outstanding lineman on an outstanding team. John considers winning the championship the biggest thrill he has enjoyed in eight seasons of football. However, he feels that the best team he came up against since he started playing football was the West Chester team that beat the Huskies in '50 at West Chester by the score of 31-6. And after playing three seasons against Earl Hirsch, he is forced to give West Chester back the nod as the best he has come up against.

John figures that his best teammates have been Frank Perry and Russ Verhousky, both all-staters. Besides being an outstanding footballer for the past four years, John has helped Coach Harold Shelly's cindermen considerably with the weight events, especially the shot put. John is also a member of Sigma Alpha Eta, the Aviation Club, and has served in numerous capacities with the Varsity Club.

After the '51 championship year John was voted to the first team all-state Teacher College team, the second team All-State, and no less than honorable mention on Little All-American. Last season he repeated on the all-state Teachers College list.

John plans to be married on Thanksgiving day, and has a prospective job offer in New Jersey.

Under-Currents

by Arnie Garinger

After having such a wonderful week (passed all my courses) Harriet gave me quite a jolt by saying "Have a column ready Monday night." For a while I thought there had been a lost week because I distinctly remembered handing one in the week before but she explained that a paper was coming out for the West Chester game. Well! U. C. is going on a hunting trip over the weekend so don't be surprised if you find buck shot in your paper. Cumens never could shoot too accurately anyway.

The big thing which will be on everyone's mind this week is the West Chester game. Each year, Bloom and West Chester battle it out for the Conference Championship. U.C. has seen two of these games and in 1951, there was never a happier group of students than us after the Huskies beat the Rams 16-7 at Crispin field in Berwick. That's the day that Ferrili ran the 100 yd. dash, Killinger flipped his derby on the field, Osevala ran the Rams into the ground, and B.S.T.C. made history. Now our team might not be as big physically as they were then but we're as big in spirit and every bit as good. Maybe it's wrong to keep pounding on one item, but it's so important. If the student body gets behind the team and pushes, there can be another great day in Bloomsburg. Bring anything to the game that makes noise, (No not Panichello, he plays), and show the guys that they don't have to do it alone. Not if you're behind them.

Each Saturday there are four nice young men who scream and swear at me for not putting their names in the column on Friday. So for various reasons, mainly because I'm going deaf, here are the culprits. You can get autographs at the game Saturday. Tom Higgins, Koch, Pieffer and Biemesdefferer. Happy? Are we buddies again?

Rumor has it that to round out that 240 pound offensive team of the "Friendly Vets" will be John (Swivel Hips) Koch and John (Bird Dog) Angus. Angus really isn't a vet but he looks like one so it's O.K. Little girls at the high school are saving their meal money because Joe Ondrula is selling 8"x12" wallet size pictures of self at the end of the term!

By the way things are coming along, soon will be able to have a roaring fire in the fireplace, toast marshmallows, and sing drinking songs in our renovated lounge. Say about Easter time?

Today it's snowing for the first time, and all the ground crew men are jumping up and down with glee because you can't rake leaves if you can't see them.

Since the administration offices are being moved and the lounge done over, why can't the mailboxes be spread out a little, because Tuesdays and Thursdays after assembly it's worse than the rush after the public trials and someone may get maimed for life.

John Koch says that Omar the tentmaker made one of our full-back's football pants. Don't you believe it. Even though they are 46's, Wilson sporting goods made them.

Mr. Shelly's hopes for another championship team were let down a notch when Paul Shoop decides not to come out for the squad, and to put more work on his studies. Paul declined all intramural offers too, because he didn't want to give any team an unfair advantage.

Uncle Burley was the only teacher to brave the snow and wind to come up for the conference, and then they didn't even have it. Was he dismayed? Not a bit! He'll be back for the W.C. game and bring loads of goodies for a victory party.

Skanmer couldn't find his laundry bag Sunday night so he borrowed Betz's argyle socks that someone knitted for him and used them for a bag.

You folks seeing the Huskies in action for the first time should know that we here have nothing but admiration for them because of the way they practiced in the snow all week. This certainly showed how they feel about winning this game.

Forgot something last time but it's never too late. To the Frosh—Congratulations on a very fine talent show. Some people think Kaufman is crazy, some of us know it, but no one ever shook Carver Auditorium rafters any more while U.C. has been here.

This was written in one hour so it figures that it won't be too clever so here's what you do. Cut out Under Currents, run it through your coffee grinder behind the closet door, put it in a bag and throw it all over Mt. Olympus. I never was one to stick my neck out (because my ears stick out enough) but I predict that the next time U.C. comes out, it will consist largely of how we dumped the Rams Nov. 14th, 1953.

See you at the game!
U. C.

Bus. Ed. Club Hears "Your Voice Is You"

voice is the only thing the person on the other end has by which to judge you. They get a mental picture through your voice. To prove her point she played a tape recording of different voices and then showed cartoons that matched each voice. Mrs. Tinsley told the club how Bell Telephone operators are selected and trained. Some points she stressed were: speak distinctly, take your time, and above all, make your voice interesting.

Revised Textbook

planned for a one semester or one year course. Materials suggested by the Consumer Education Study of the National Association of Secondary Principals have been included to aid in building: better citizens (jurors, witnesses, and voters), better consumers (home-makers, buyers, and employers), and better businessmen (salesmen, employees, and employers).

Dr. Andruss' book is based on the principle that "a good citizen must know the law before he can obey its dictates, and protect himself, his family, and his property." He has given particular emphasis to the "processes by which laws are made, enforced, and interpreted." Included are modern illustrations and tables. Dr. Andruss has also inserted recent legislation in its proper position.

The book is accompanied by a workbook and a teacher's manual and key. The workbook itself is 160 pages in length, the manual 100 pages. Contained in the workbook are outlines, objective tests, and case situations for judgment and completion by the student.

All-College Show

Maroon and Gold Band, Ken Hilday and Joe Kissinger, have teamed up for a trumpet duet that's really terrific, according to reports from committee chairmen Doris Kryzwicki and Bill Bitner.

Ask any ten upper-classmen whom they remember as the star performer in the Frosh Show of '52 and nine of the answers will be Eleanor Nichols. Once again Eleanor and her "magic marimba" will delight the B.S.T.C. body if the try-out committee have their way.

What happens when two North Hall crooners meet up with a groaner from Waller? — you guessed it, a trio! — this time composed of Rudy Holtzman, Charlie Pope, and Bill Phillips. A brave booming bass is all that's needed to make this the "coolest" quartet in Talent Show history. Any applicants, contact Box 227!

A uke and guitar trio composed of Kaki Crew, Jean Stravinsky, and Bob Arbogast as well as a vocal solo by Frosh star Brit Kile provided other promising acts that should make a hit with all B.S.T.C.'ers.

Diane Jones, of 1952 Frosh Show fame, and Joe Bromgard, a recent talent show celebrity both offered outstanding try-out numbers, as well as Freshman Nancy Pearce, remembered by the entire school for her superb "I Love Paris".

A promise of a combo headed by George Schell and Phil Gergen, and a real treat in the form of Dutchie Meyers are just a hint of the acts waiting for the student body come December 3.

If try-outs are any indication of success, this year's All-College Talent Show is a sure hit before its curtain even goes up.
