For the past twenty years the State Teachers College, acting through the Business Education Club and Pi Omega Pi Fraternity, has sponsored annual contests for students of business subjects. Beginning in 1931, with twelve schools participating, these contests have continued to grow until at the present it is necessary to limit the number of entries to around forty schools.

These contests are competitive examinations conducted to encourage scholarship in bookkeeping, business law, business arithmetic, Gregg shorthand and typewriting. The scores are computed in teams and the winners receive a plaque. All contestants on each team are ranked, and the total of these rankings constitute each team score. The team with the lowest total of the rankings is the winner.

In past years the teams that have won are: Bloomsburg High School, Trevorton High School, Collingdale High School, Danville High School, Easton High School, Cass Township High School, Slatington High School, Ridley Park High School, Nether Providence High School, Abington High School, Stroudsburg High School, William Penn High School, Fountain Hill High School, Wyoming High School, Cataqua High School, Latrobe High School, Berwick High School, and Northampton High School.

Many book and machine companies demonstrate and display their products. The companies entering this year are: American Book Co., Gregg Division-McGraw-Hill Co., H. M. Rowe Co., Lyons and Carnahan, Prentice-Hall Inc., South-Western Publishing Co., Addressograph-Multigraph Corp., Burroughs Corp., Friden Calculating Machine Agency, International Business Machines Corp., Kurtz Brothers, Miller Office Supply and Equipment Co., Monroe Calculating Co., Ralph C. Coxhead Corp., Remington Rand Inc., Ritter's Office Supplies, Sound Scriber, Lam-blyn Company, and the Underwood Corp.

Airplane Trip for Aviation Clubbers

At the April 22 meeting of the Aviation Club, a flying trip was scheduled for Thursday, April 29. Members interested in flying got their "chance of a lifetime" when Mr. Sterling, club adviser, piloted a Piper Cub airplane with one member of the club at his side. The idea was to give each interested party a chance to fly an airplane. Mr. Sterling took off, flew for a couple of minutes, landed, and began the routine all over again with another member of the Aviation Club.

Preceding the flight, a film entitled "How To Fly," was shown promptly at 12:30 P.M., Thursday, April 29, in the Audio-Visual Aids room. This film gave each member a general knowledge of how to pilot an airplane so when Mr. Sterling told him to "take the controls," he knew what to do.

The flight was scheduled for 3:30 P.M. and proved to be a very interesting experience for all concerned.

Science Club Visits Bloom Water Works

The April 22 meeting of the Science Club was held in the form of a field trip to the Bloomsburg Water Works. The club members met at the steam plant at 3 P.M. and proceeded from there by cars to the water works. At the plant the members were taken on a tour of the installations. In charge of the arrangements for the trip were Patricia Hartman and Harold Sacks.

President Oren Baker presided over the business meeting which was held at the water works. At this time nominations were made for officers for the first semester of the coming school year. The nominees were: President, Al Walburn, Joe Shemanski, Robert Blyler; Vice-President, Alton Schmidt, Mike Homick; Program Chairman, Byron Bishop; Ronald Kanaki; Secretary, Elaine Fowler, Patricia Hartman; Treasurer, Barbara Adams, Oren Baker.

Annual Fashion Show Theme Is 'Round the Clock'

"Fashions 'Round The Clock'" will be the theme of the Eighth Annual Fashion Show staged by students of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College on Friday, May seventh, it was announced by Charles H. Henrie, faculty advisor of the annual event. Mr. Henrie said that the public is invited to attend both the matinee and evening performances, which will be held in the Carver Auditorium.

Eighteen students have been selected as models, including three Freshman women, who will be appearing in the popular affair for the first time. Tryouts for models were held five days, and rehearsals have been held three days a week for the past two weeks. Since Easter vacation, practices have been held each day.

Mr. Henrie announced that the following have been selected as

Dr. Paul Weaver To Be Speaker at Commencement

Paul S. Weaver, president of Lake Erie College, the 97-year old liberal arts college for women in Painesville, Ohio, will deliver the Commencement address at the Bloomsburg State Teachers College on Monday, May 24. President Weaver, nationally known for his distinguished leadership as Dean of Religious Life at Stephens College and teacher of its famous Burrall Class, will speak on the subject, "Courage in the Commonplace."

Twice described in Reader's Digest, the Burrall program was directed by Dr. Weaver and, as he so aptly puts it, "religion became the factor which integrated the students' lives because the teaching of spirituality has become absolutely necessary for the continuance of healthy living."

Campus Sheik To Be Announced at Jr. Prom Tonight

Shades of the Arabian Nights! And that's just what it's all about, too. The Junior Prom, to be held Friday, April 30, in Centennial Gymnasium, has as its theme the Arabian Nights. As you enter the lobby, you'll feel that you're standing beneath the romantic desert sky so well known in song and story. Once inside the gym you will find that the entire room represents a huge tent like those often found in movies. The doors leading to the gym will, naturally, be the entrances to the tent. From inside, the lobby will look for all the world like the deep blue of an evening sky, complete with moon. The tent's color scheme will be aqua and pink, harmonious and bright enough to suit any Arab. Ah, yes, the refreshment stand! Well, that will represent an oasis, what else? The refreshing drink to be found will be lime sherbert, to match the rest of that section's greenery, of course. Miniature tents and palm trees will grace each of the tables which will stand along the sides of the tent, and spring flowers will also add to the romantic mood.

The centerpiece will revolve around the shiek's throne, also of the movie variety. Pillows and luxurious materials will form this seat. The shiek? Well, he'll be chosen by a committee of young ladies whose names are not to be divulged as yet. The qualifications will be much like those which are followed in choosing a queen. Personality, looks, and you know the rest. His date will be crowned with him, by the way. The finishing touch to the whole gala extravaganza lies in the fact that none other than Arnie Garinger will act as MC. There's been a lot of hard work and deep thought put into this affair and the junior class is hoping to see an excellent turnout. Will you be there? You may even be chosen as shiek—who knows?

The matinee performance will begin at 2:15 p.m., while curtain time for the evening show will be 8:15 p.m. Women guests at the Spring Reunion of the Caldwell Consistory have been invited to attend the matinee. No tickets will be necessary for either the matinee or evening performance.

Much of the success of the Eighth Annual Fashion Show will depend upon the work of a group of students who are called "Store Coordinators." Mr. Charles H. Henrie, director of the popular event, said today that these coordinators are busily engaged in planning and executing many of the details that make the big show a high spot in the college social calendar. ## Mr. Henrie Wins N. Y. Fellowship

A fellowship to study in the financial district of New York City has been granted to Charles H. Henrie. The fellowship will enable Mr. Henrie to study in New York City for a period of three weeks. All expenses will be paid by the Joint Committee on Education representing the American Securities Business.

During the three-week period, Mr. Henrie will be given an opportunity to see how the various departments of the New York Stock and Curb Exchanges actually function. It will permit him to watch the day-to-day operation of different types of security firms—such as a large underwriter of municipal securities, a large brokerage firm, an over-the-counter security trading firm, an odd-lot firm, etc. An opportunity will be given also to talk with and question partners and officers of these firms and institutions.

The fellowship was awarded to Mr. Henrie to enable him to continue a research project on "How To Buy and Sell Stocks." As a part of this project, Mr. Henrie has secured the educational materials published by the 623 members of the New York Stock Exchange.

Last December, Mr. Henrie was an educator guest of the National Association of Manufacturers at its Annual Congress of Industry, in New York City.

Mr. George Stein Speaks to Students

Students in Speech and Hearing viewed a film "We Speak Again", on loan from the American Cancer Society, which told about the operation which removes the vocal apparatus when it becomes malignant. Present at the showing was Mr. George Stein, president of Maxwell Manufacturing Company of Millville, who had such an operation 17 months ago. He spoke of his experience, told how he had learned to talk without vocal cords and how he makes adjustments to various phases of life because of the condition. He said that the (Continued on page 2)

Visitation Program Arranged by F.T.A.

The annual F.T.A. Visitation Day will be conducted on campus tomorrow. Each year the local Future Teachers invite prospective students to Bloomsburg in order to show them our campus and add a little to their knowledge of the teaching profession. Approximately eighty-five high school students are to attend this year's Visitation day. (Most of them are from the central part of the state.)

The Co-chairmen of the Visitation activities, Louise Schullery and Olive Jean Fedrigon, have planned an interesting day for our visitors. At the first meeting Dr. Andrus will welcome the high school students to our campus. The meeting will be followed by a tour of the campus, lunch, and a grand floor show starring "Arnie Garinger and his boys." After the show, which will be held in the lounge, the students will attend the track meet.

Many of our B.S.T.C. classmates decided to attend Bloomsburg when they were introduced to the campus on "Visitation Day." Let's cooperate with F.T.A. in making this year's Visitation Day a success.

SEVENTEEN

by MARION DURICKO

Alice Kent came down the carpeted stairs daintily, regally, with all the savoir faire of a young lady who knows she is elegantly dressed. She wanted to float down the stairs, but gave up that idea when she had to step over two super-rocket jets and her young brother Timmy on the bottom steps.

"With a room of your own," she said giving him a glance of family-type hatred, "with a big basement, a yard, and a garage, you have to have your landing field on the stairway."

"Hey, Mom," said Tim, his voice carrying well into the living room. "She's wearing your new shoes. The one's with no fronts, where your toes stick out."

"I'm well aware of it, Timothy," said his mother calmly. "And please take that junk out on the porch. Let's see you, Alice."

"Your pink topper, too, Mother. Please, just this once? You sort of half-promised."

Her mother's sigh indicated that things might be going a little too far.

"After all, Alice, aren't you just a wee bit too dressed up for—" "Oh no, Mother. You're always saying I'm too sloppy. Then when I do get dressed up..."

The sigh was acquiescent. "All right, dear, the coat. But kindly remove my good lapel pin."

Timmy came in from the porch, neatly catching the screen door with his heel, "Get goin'," he said, thumb over shoulder. "He's here."

The hallway whirled a little. The mirror caught and held her face. Glowing? Definitely. Hair, slick. Mouth red; teeth white.

"Good-by, Mother." "By, dear."

Walk calmly. Float if possible — no jets. Three steps down to the street. Oh, mur-der, what a beautiful car. He sees you now. Float!

"Hi, Alice. Sorry I'm a little late." Bob Parrish eased the hand down on the car.

She fumbled at the car door. No catch. Don't be so darn clumsy. And then he was at her side.

"It's a trick," he said. "Here." The door whispered open. "Slide in." The leather seat was unexpectedly cool and she squirmed delicately.

"Some days everything seems to go wrong," he said. "Ever have that happen?"

"Gee, yes," said Alice. "Some days everything seems to go wrong." "I think I've had my share today." His head twisted sideways and he smiled. "Swell of you to come at the last minute, Alice. Hated to call you like that but, as I said, everything went wrong."

"Perfectly all right," she managed. "I - I really didn't have anything planned."

"Well, I appreciate it. And I might as well tell you that you look mighty fetching tonight."

"I'm just thrown together," said Alice hastily. "Really just pitched in a heap."

"Very pretty heap," said Bob.

Down Spruce Avenue and a stop at the boulevard light. His lean, brown hands slid around the wheel easily, confidently. Two boys she knew careened across the intersection on a tiny, loud-voiced motor scooter, swaying nimbly through the traffic. Beside her, Bob laughed suddenly.

"I'd probably have given my right arm to have one of those things at that age," he said.

"Those boys are complete idiots," said Alice definitely, shaking her finger at Bob.

"Well, I don't think I'd have enough nerve to ride one myself now," Bob replied.

She wished he wouldn't talk that way. It made her feel ridiculously young. And there wasn't that much difference. He was, maybe, thirty-one. Fifteen years. Of course, when she was thirty-one he would be forty-six, and that was shudderingly ancient.

Her mind spun slowly and deliciously as they glided along the boulevard. The car motion ceased so gradually that she hardly realized they had reached the big white house.

"You go on in, Alice. I'll only be a second. Mother's there in the swing."

The tall silver-haired lady came across the porch smiling—handsome, kind, amiable.

"Alice, my dear, it's so nice to see you. We're happy you could come."

"I was happy I could make it, Mrs. Parrish."

"Let's go inside where it's cooler." They moved through the wide doorway. "Marie, Alice is here."

The blond girl swung away from the mirror. "Alice, darling. Bob felt miserable calling you at the last minute. I suppose he's told you this has been one of those incredible days."

"Let's get going. I've ordered dinner for eight o'clock," said Bob.

"Alice, you probably think we're a little 'crazy,'" Marie said. "But it's Mother's birthday and our anniversary and—Listen. Is that the baby?"

"Alice, I hope that little scamp doesn't give you any trouble."

"Goodnight, dear. We'll see you later."

"Goodnight, both Mrs. Parrishes," said Alice solemnly. "And good-night, Mr. Parrish."

She watched as they purred away in the beautiful car, then walked slowly into the living room and picked up a movie magazine.

After all, seventy-five cents an hour and probably a piece of cream pie in the ice box wasn't bad. Not bad at all.

process of re-learning to speak is not very difficult. In 1953 fatalities from this operation were 4 in 100 whereas in 1936 there were 70 fatalities to every 100 operations. He said the research of the American Cancer Society was largely responsible for this improvement.

PACE SETTERS

By Joan Curilla

What an extraordinary thing it is! It brings out old men, violets, perspiration, bathing beauties, roller skates, freckles, bears, porch swings, undershirts, flies, bare shoulders, scrub buckets, kids, baby carts, cold beer, mosquitoes, Cadillacs, tennis rackets, longer days, serene evenings, and cotton dresses. What is this miraculous thing? Summer sun!

Nanette Hoy "came out" in a crisp white and black striped cotton sporting spring-length sleeves. Jet buttons, a black patent belt, and a big black rose under the white pique collar were the only trimmings. Nanette chose to wear black patent pumps to compete with this fresh looking outfit.

Summer skirts are always refreshing after looking at heavy somber woollens for seven months. Some lovelies I noticed are: Betsy Hendershot's "Old American" pink and brown on white print; full with knife pleats. Viv Scott's full navy blue with a blouse to match. Jet buttons from neck to hem. The new green shade makes a pretty sight in the form of a pleated skirt when Jo Graeber wears it with a fresh, white blouse.

The newest of new! Helen Rutkoski's new paisley print is as smart as it could be. The black pencil-line print on white isn't so "paisley" that you can't see the dress, a two-piecer. Knife pleats give the skirt a full but slim appearance and rhinestone studded jet buttons add sparkle to the tucked-front blouse. Best of all the blouse is made so that it can be worn either in or out.

Jan Yozviak looked sweet and lovely in a pretty print of aqua and white stripes with pink roses. The sleeves are gathered and caught at the bottom with a bow while the bodice boasts the new "pie-cut" neckline.

Navy linens take first place—Bobbie Roadside is the proud owner of a box suit with big white pearl buttons, Alberta Semanski's suit takes a different turn with a crest-trimmed blazer jacket.

Attractive solids, different hues, and brand new prints are setting the pace for summer fashion. Watch for the new paisleys and flowers that are bursting forth on our clever coeds.

NEWS BRIEFS

Last Thursday, the assembly applauded the performance of Dora and Ellis, vocal partners in Costume Cameos. The couple, dressed in full costumes, sang excerpts from "Showboat", "The King and I", "The Chocolate Soldier", and some Irish numbers.

For the coming programs, we will have a concert by the mixed chorus and the installation of the C.G.A. officers for the coming year. For the concert the chorus will render such novelty numbers as "The Band Played On", "Chop Sticks", and "Throw It Out the Window". The last two assembly programs will be the Scott Morrison Conversation Concert, and the Senior Honor Assembly.

The assembly program committee, under the guidance of Mr. Fenstermaker and Honora M. Noyes, has planned a tentative schedule for the 1954-55 college year.

The staff of the Waller Hall Handbook has begun on the 1954-55 version of the publication. The theme of the handbook is the Modern version of "The Woman that Lived in a Shoe". The editorial staff is Marion Duricko, editor; Anne Swortwood, Wylla Mae Bowman, Muriel Neilson and Pat Goditus.

A Wesley Fellowship outing is being planned for sometime in May, and it will be in the form of a werner roast.

Election and installation of new officers will take place at a camp-fire service.

Watch the bulletin board for further information.

Knox Fellowship held a dinner meeting at Fest's Restaurant on April 12, 1954.

Plans were made to send representatives to the Presbyterian Conference the week-end of May 14, 15, and 16.

L. S. A. met April 26 for a regular dinner-meeting honoring senior members.

Nominations and elections for officers were held. The following are the new officers: Dick Bitner, president; Charlotte Rummage, vice-president; Betty Hoffman, secretary; Jean Griffiths, treasurer.

Waller Hall News

Now that the warm weather is here to stay, the coeds of Waller Hall are spending as much time as they can, that is as much as their studies will allow, enjoying the wonderful outdoors. The tennis courts are beehives of activity these spring evenings. Jo Graeber, Mickey Bellock, Jo Hester, Jan Ference, and Deets Stanton are just a few of the girls who rush through their dinner just to get a court.

No, this isn't the 4th of July. However, this seems to be the season for sparklers. Among the Waller Hall debs who became engaged recently are Sally Morgan and Mary Ellen Henning. Sally's soldier is a B.S.T.C. graduate, John Di Rico. Emmy Lou's young man is a senior at Drexel.

In case Joan Curilla hasn't noticed, the girls in Waller Hall want to give special notice to Curt English's new light blue suit. It's really sharp.

Congratulations to Evelyn Weaver who was recently elected secretary of the State F. T. A. Nice work, Evie.

Birthday greetings were extended recently to B. Bernie Butz and Beverly Bryan. Beverly had her friends home to the great metropolis of Montoursville for her birthday. Butzie couldn't possibly fit all her friends into "Glen Lyon", so the gang had a nice time right here on the campus.

DAY WOMEN'S NEWS

Have you noticed how springy the women's day room has been looking lately? That's because we always have bouquets of fresh flowers here and there. Miss Waldron and some of the girls interested in keeping our day room pleasant have been bringing flowers from home and any day you look into the day room you can find daffodils, tulips, lilacs, or other spring blossoms perfuming the room.

The big news in the day room this week is the election results. As we told you in the last issue of Maroon and Gold nominations were made before Easter vacation, and the girls had several weeks to think it over and decide which candidates they feel will do the best job.

Elections were held Monday, April 26th, from 10:00 until 3:15. Elaine Gunther headed the election committee, and Phyllis Makowski and Shirley Eveland helped with the secret balloting.

Winners were announced at a covered dish luncheon held Wednesday, April 28th. The names announced were: President: Patricia Hartman; Vice-President: Carol Wearing; Official Board Members: Seniors: Hope Horne and Shirley Redline; Juniors: Nancy Ebersole and Elaine Fowler; Sophomores: Lovell Lindenmuth and Arlene Rando.

The luncheon was the last party of the year for the Day Women. At this party seniors are always guests of the underclassmen.

The menu for the luncheon was as follows: ham, scalloped potatoes, baked potatoes, baked beans, pickled cabbage, harvard beets, rolls and butter, olives and pickles, celery and carrots, and potato chips.

Next thing we'd like to mention is the individual parties held for Arlene Rando and Gloria Buckley. The freshman girls planned the joint party.

On April 9 a small birthday was held honoring Bertie Knouse. Diann Jones, Shirley Redline, and Peggy Bartges were the ear-pullers. Turkey pies and home made cake were the main dishes on the menu.

Another surprise party celebrating the birthday of Yvonne Zeisloff was held Tuesday, May 27th. Guest at this party were Phelma Hilla, Lovell Lindenmuth, Joanne Gardner, Dorothy Diltz, and of course, Yvonne.

Beverly Hough, Joyce Lundy, and Marcy Cedor had a barbecue party last week.

That's all the news for now—see you next issue!

Yohemen Register Decisive Victory Over Mansfield

The Bloomsburg State Teachers baseball team won over the visiting Mansfield team by a 15-2 score. The highlights of the game were home runs by freshman Terry Zachowski, pitcher Bob DiPipi, and senior Ken Hidlay. Returning stars of last year's ball club, Ron Steinbach and Johnny Halcovich, had three and two hits, respectively.

Veteran John Dennen started on the mound for the Yohemen and pitched for five innings and gave up only four hits. Dennen pitched his best ball for three innings. In the fourth inning, lead off hitter Danny Umiker hit a Texas Leaguer behind second base for their first hit.

Bloomsburg drew first blood in the first inning when Steinbach singled over the box into center-field. He advanced to third as Bob Cumens was safe on error of their shortstop. John Halcovich hit in the clutch with a single to left scoring Steinbach. Jim Starr hit deep to left to end the inning.

Mansfield scored in the top of the fourth as Umiker got his initial poke and then advanced to second on a wild throw. Merritt hit a high fly out into right field. Steinbach lost it in the sun, scoring Umiker. Steinbach threw a beautiful peg to Halcovich putting out Merritt tying to advance to second.

The Huskies came right back with three runs in their half of the frame. Leading things off to a bang was little Jimmy Starr as he hit a slow roller to short and beat it out. Hidlay came up next and pounded the ball deep into right center for a home run and two RBI's. Pitcher John Dennen hit through the hole between second short, and stole second and went to third on a passed ball. Zachowski singled to right scoring John for the third run of the inning. Bob Cumens got himself a single to right, but was stranded as Halcovich struck out.

Mansfield scored again on a single, a stolen base, a fielder's choice, and a fly hit by Watkins deep into left with the score on a tag.

Again Bloomsburg had a sitting spree. Hidlay started things off as he rapped a single into center field. Aurand hit safely through short, and Dennen punched one over first scoring Hidlay. Aurand scored on the overthrow to home. Terry Zachowski came up next and hit his home run out into the red ash banks of right field. Steinbach got his third hit of the day, but was still on base as Cumens flied out.

Bloomsburg added one run in the seventh with Bob DiPipi's home run blast into center field. Mansfield was three up and three down, and then the Huskies went hitting again. Girton, Cheron, Halcovich, Shustack, and Fisk hit successive singles off reliever Bob Hackitt and scored five big runs helped along with three walks of Hackitt.

John Dennen was the winning pitcher, and the loser was Joe Eno. Mansfield struck out three while Dennen whiffed three; DiPipi fanned a beautiful seven in four innings.

First Road Game With Lock Haven Results in Loss

The Huskies' first road appearance of the season was unsuccessful as they came back from Lock Haven on the short end of a 6-2 score last Saturday. The College Hill Lads haven't been able to annex a victory from the Bald Eagles since the coming of Coach Jack Yohe to the baseball helm. The only league games the Huskies lost last season were to this same club.

Charley Kwiatkoski got the nod from Coach Yohe for the starting assignment, but it just wasn't Charley's day as he only stayed around to face seven batters. On his very first pitch he hit short stop Ed Weaver, and then walked the next man on five pitches. With two on and nobody gone, Lock Haven's versatile Mike Yelovich laid a bunt down the first base line in an attempted sacrifice. Kwiatkoski raced in to field the bunt, but fell on the wet grass, so all hands were safe. With the bases loaded and nobody gone the clean-up batter, Chuck Meyers, stepped in and hit a single through second base scoring two runs. Ski got the next man to pop up, but he walked the next two men forcing in a run. With the bases full of Bald Eagles and three runs across, John Dennen came on in relief with only two days rest.

The first man Dennen faced hit what appeared to be a routine double-play ball; it was fielded successfully by Johnny Halcovich, but in his attempt to throw to short stop Terry Zachowski the ball went wide of the bag and two more runs were marked up for Lock Haven. Dennen then put out the fire by striking out Jerry Petuck and getting Weaver to pop up.

The Yohemen weren't able to get a hit off Petuck until the fourth inning when Ron Steinbach led off with a line drive double that went over the center fielder's head and into the street for a ground rule double. Steiny went to third on an infield out by Bobby Cumens and scored on Johnny Halcovich's single.

After the first inning Lock Haven was only able to score once more, and that was in seventh when they put a walk, a hit, and an error together for their sixth and final run of the afternoon. Johnny Dennen was very effective as he struck out eight, walked only two, spaced two hits as he pitched seven and 2/3 innings. The Huskies stranded six men on the base paths. Ron Steinbach and Johnny Halcovich had two hits each to lead the Huskies hitting department, while Mike Yelovich also had two hits to pace the Bald Eagles in hitting. The Huskies out hit Lock Haven eight hits to five, but the first inning told the entire story.

Trackmen Break Two-year Jinx In Lock Haven Meet

On Tuesday afternoon, the 1954 edition of the Bloomsburg Track and Field team traveled to Lock Haven State Teachers College and walked away with their first win over a 2-year span, 78-48. Despite the cold, steady rain, the Huskies took one event after another and gave B.S.T.C. one of the highest-scoring victories a Maroon and Gold track team has ever registered. The times for the running events were slow and the results of the field events were comparatively poor since the track was extremely muddy. The rain that poured down about halfway through the events made it almost impossible to finish the meet.

The Huskies suffered only one injury, but it might have been a costly one: Al Tucker pulled a muscle in his left leg while running the 100-yard dash, and will be lost to the Huskies for some time.

The leading scorer for the victorious Huskies was John "Buzzy" Wool who scored 14 1/2 points in winning the mile and 2-mile runs, tying for first in the high jump, and tying for third in the 100-yard dash. Right behind Buzz was another Williamsport graduate — Ed Bresnick who scored 13 points with a first in the javelin and shotput, and a second in the discus. Nearly every man who made the trip to Lock Haven earned at least one place, and many of them got two places.

The Husky winners for each event:

- 100-yd. — Kopec, 1st; Thomas, 2nd; Wool, tied for 3rd. (10.7)
- 220-yd. — Caton, 1st; Boychuck, 2nd; Thomas 3rd. (24.8)

- 1-mile — Wool, 1st. (4.56)
- 2-mile — Wool, 1st. (11.26)
- 110-yd. high hurdles — Sammon, tie for 1st; Kile, 3rd. (18.0)

"Perchance we might be informed of what resides in yon jug on yon mantle."

"My lover's ashes," murmured the landlady with a solemn tone of reverence.

"Alas, so he has passed on to the great beyond?"

"Heck, no, he's just too lazy to use an ash tray."

Young man: Sir, I want your daughter for my wife.

Father: And I, sir, am unwilling to trade.

SPORTS SCUTTLEBUTT

by BILL BITNER

HUSKIES TO ENGAGE IN INTERCOLLEGIATE WRESTLING . . . 1955 will see the Huskies return to the intercollegiate mat sport for the first time since it was discontinued back in the late thirties. During this period the College Hill Grapplers were coached by Ken Horner of Shamokin who wasn't on the faculty of the college, but traveled to Bloomsburg every day for his coaching duties. Just who will handle the coaching duties next winter hasn't been released as yet by the Athletic Committee, but it is certain that he will come from the present coaching ranks.

Just how much the future mat coach will have to work with stands as a huge question. On campus now are several boys who have been outstanding high school wrestlers, but that has been in most cases many pounds ago. Of course, in wrestling the success of your team depends on the balance of the squad. There are in dual meets in intercollegiate wrestling eight weight divisions starting from 123 pound class to the unlimited class which is over 177 pounds. From the looks at some of our former high school stars, they should all qualify for the over 177 pound class; so the first job of the mat mentor will probably be to pare the weight off some of "bigger" fellows.

A look around at some of the likely prospects to handle the grunting and groaning next winter we find a couple of Shamokin boys: Red Welliver, who was a former state champ at around 147 pounds; Tommy Persing did his wrestling for the Greyhounds at 167 pounds. From the looks of things, however, Tom is away off the 167 class at the present. Also from Shamokin is Larry Feibig, a freshman who does his best work around 130 pounds. From over Williamsport way we have a couple of heavy weight in Harry Hughes, who was beaten in the semi-finals of the state heavyweights last year, and Ed Bresnick, who has been working out at around 177 pounds. Another frosh who at the present is undoubtedly in the unlimited class at the present, but has hopes of making the 177-class is Kingston's Don Wright. Don had only one year of high school wrestling at Kingston, and in his first outing was pinned by Harry Hughes in the first period. However, Don went undefeated for the rest of the season until he lost in the state finals for heavyweights. Don Wise, a former Forty Fort Flyer, who more recently has been working with the Harrisburg YMCA mat team at 167 pounds, should also be a strong addition to the team, as well as his former teammate from Forty Fort, Dick Hurtt. Dick will be a senior next season, and shouldn't have any trouble making the 147-weight class. One of the few 123 pound hopefuls is Wayne Boyer, a freshman from Mifflin who had some good high school meets to his credit, and will have no trouble in getting back to his high school wrestling weight.

A tentative schedule for next season has been drawn up by the Athletic Director, Mr. Hoch, and it will post eight teams who are long in experience and probably just as deep in talent. Two of the teams on the tentative schedule, Indiana and Edinboro Teachers, are not definite because of the great traveling distance involved. However, it is well to note that the perennial favorites in the Teachers College ranks, West Chester, Lock Haven, and Millersville will be met. The tentative schedule is as follows:

Jan. 8	Sat.	Millersville	Home
Jan. 15	Sat.	West Chester	Away
Jan. 26	Wed.	East Stroudsburg	Away
Feb. 5	Sat.	Wilkes	Home
Feb. 9	Wed.	Lock Haven	Home
Feb. 12	Sat.	Indiana	Away
Feb. 19	Sat.	Edinboro	Away
Feb. 26	Sat.	Lincoln University	Home

Shotgun wedding — A case of wife or death.—The Keystone.

A dumb girl is a dope. A dope is a drug. Doctors give drugs to relieve pain. Therefore, a dumb girl is just what the doctor ordered.

Two drunks in a mid-town bar were discussing life. "I had the darndest dream last night," said one. "I dreamed that suddenly about one thousand funny little men were dancing on top of my body. They had pink caps and green suits and funny red boots that curled up in front."
"Yes," agreed the other, "and there was a tinkly little bell at the toe of each of the boots."
"How do you know?" asked the first one in surprise.
"There are a couple of them still sitting on your shoulder, said the other."

"The large number of divorces indicate that America is still the land of the free," someone observed.

"Yes," said his friend, "but the steady level of the marriage rate shows it's still the home of the brave."—Ursinus Weekly.

Wearing her new evening gown, which was extremely daring, the wife paced up and down for her husband's inspection.
"Well, how do I look?" she said finally.
"I hate to say it, dear," replied her husband, "but you're getting fat."
"She gave him a look of annoyance."
"In the best places they say 'plump,'" she corrected.
"Well, then," retorted her spouse, "you're getting plump in the best places."

Under-Currents

by Arnie Garinger

Spring is here at last. And in the spring, a young man's fancy turns to what the girls have been thinking about all winter (tennis). U. C. has been here three years and I believe even if it rained after they rolled the courts, Van Drach would put on boots (short ones) just to be the first one to play tennis in the spring.

If there are any of you people reading this who would like to play tennis but are afraid you'll look silly, come up and watch when Pope and I play Betz and Fanichello. You won't worry about looking silly anymore.

During Easter vacation I saw Tommy Persing and Martie in Wilkes-Barre. Tom made Martie wait while he rode up and down the escalator for 15 minutes. It's a good thing Dubbs Thomas wasn't along or they'd still be there. Shamokin will come along, Tom, be patient.

Angus' mother is gonna be mad at him because he didn't get any green slips this semester and they nearly had the living room papered with them, too.

Next year when we play Lock Haven in baseball, we may as well send the training school over cause we wouldn't win if we got 21 runs the first inning. It's just a jinx. We have never beaten them over there in six years.

Wait till they come over here, huh, Rubber Arm.

Up North Hall we had an ugly contest. Now I won't tell you who won, (no, not me, but I placed a strong third), but let me tell you about a conceited guy. Jim Nicholas voted for HIMSELF. Smell him.

Talking about tennis matches, Angus and Ondrula were teamed up against Longo and Gavio. Some girl looked at Joe and Bird Dog and cried, "My Lord, one's six feet up and the other's six feet across." By the way, Joe's the only one I've ever seen who can return the ball while on his back, his stomach, or hanging on the fence.

I think that everyone should know that we do have some intelligent people here. Al Chiscon got word that he will receive a fellowship from Purdue University, which means he'll teach and go to school and get paid too. Lots of luck, Al. I'll bet everybody is glad for you.

Bobby Dipipi says that the wind must have been with him when he clubbed that home run against Mansfield. He says that usually, to hit a ball that far, he has to throw it up and hit it and then go where it lands and hit it again. Don't kid us, Bobby, they feed 'em well up in Old Forge. B-burg has something to be proud of.

Evie Weaver has got elected to be sec. treasurer of the state F.T.A. From what I hear the other schools were just giving names for nominations but McManus got up and gave a rousing speech on Miss Weaver's excellent background and she got elected.

Can't figure out why, but during the winter, fellows coming from the gym and Navy Hall, always went through the building, but now they all walk around by the terraces. Nothing out there but girls in bathing suits. Oh, by the way, have you girls noticed the huge telescope mounted on Harvey Boughner's window?

Do come up and watch the softball games after supper. Two games for the price of one. It may not be the best brand of ball played, but it's the funniest. You can't study while it's light, so come up.

While in the day room, I was asked why I don't write something about the Day girls. Now this is a very difficult thing to do because the only time I ever see a Day girl is when they run into the lounge, buy a drink, and run out again. Let me cite just two fine examples of the Day girls—they don't cause any trouble, and they listen to good music on their radio.

Well, tried to say something about everybody, even if I didn't know what to write. Keep your chins up, some day I might get an inspiration and write something readable for once. Remember, fourteen more days, and it's time to start work for real.

Mr. Gieseche gave an interesting talk on the status of the German Church.

Borrowed Banter

There are three kinds of women—the beautiful, the intellectual, and the majority.

An old lady about to die told her niece to bury her in her black silk dress but to cut the back out and make herself a dress.

"Oh, Aunt Mary," said the niece, "I don't want to do that. When you and Uncle Tom walk up the golden stairs, I don't want people to see you without any back in your dress."

The old lady replied: "They won't be looking at me. I buried your Uncle Tom without any pants."

Customer: Do you have any notions on this floor?

Floorwalker: Yes, Madam, but we usually suppress them during working hours.

Bus Driver: "All right back there?"

Feminine voice: "No, wait until I get my clothes on."

Three people were killed in the rush to the back of the bus to see a girl get on with a bundle of laundry.
