Sixteen Seniors Awarded Keys at Honor Assembly

Sixteen members of the graduating class were presented Service Keys this morning at the annual Honor Assembly held in Carver Auditorium. Each year keys are awarded for service rendered the college to ten percent of the Senior Class who have accumulated a minimum of twenty points.

Breaking all existing college records for service points, Alfred Chiscon, a science and mathematics major, received the first key with a total of 89 points. The previous record has been set last year by David Newbury, whose 81 points topped Thomas Anthony's seventy-some record.

Editor-in-chief of Obiter 1954, Al edited the Maroon and Gold during his sophomore and junior years. This year he served as Vice-President of Kappa Delta Pi, Treasurer of Phi Sigma Pi, Man representative of his class, and completed his second year in College Council. During his college career he was an active member of the Olympian, Bloomsburg Players, Science Club, and Men's Glee Club.

The second key was presented to Harriet Williams, English and French major, who accumulated 65 points. Harriet was highly active on the staff of the Maroon and Gold, serving as Associate Editor while a junior and this year as Editor-in-Chief. She also served two years on the Editorial Board of the Olympian. A two-year College Council member, Harriet was Woman Representative of her class while a junior.

C.G.A. President Michael Crisci received the third key with a total of 61½ points. A general Business major, Mike served as President of his Freshman Class and Man Representative of his Sophomore Class. A four year College Council member, Mike was C.G.A. Vice President while a junior.

The fourth key for 60 points went to Charles Andrews, an English and Spanish major. Charles has been active in publications, editing the Olympian while a sophomore. This year he was Business Manager of the Maroon and Gold, having served on the paper's Editorial Board for two years. Vice President of his Freshman Class, he was Class President as a sophomore and Man Representative while a junior. This year he also served as President of Kappa Delta Pi.

Subsequent service keys were awarded to Elaine Gunther Yeager (57½), Gerald Houseknecht (54), Mary Jo Williams (45½), Patricia Boyle (44), Dolores Doyle (42), Myra Albertson (42), Louise Schullery (41), William Jacobs (41), Albert McManus (38½), Robert Von Drach (33½), Phyllis McLaren (33), and Merlyn Jones (33). The range of service key points stretched from 33 to 89.

Audio Visual Aid Conference Held On April 2 and 3

The Pennsylvania Audio-Visual Association of Teachers of Education held its conference at B.S.T.C. on April 2 and 3. This group meets twice a year and consists of about forty men from thirty Pennsylvania Colleges and Universities. The President of the organization is Dr. Blair E. Daniels, Director of Audio-Visual Education for Temple University. The Secretary is V. A. Champa, Director of the Film Library of Millersville State Teachers College.

Today's Activities To Begin With Annual Meeting in Carver Hall Auditorium

Hundreds of alumni and friends of B.S.T.C. are welcomed back to the campus today to enjoy a day of reunion. A full program of events is planned, beginning with the Alumni Meeting in Carver Auditorium at 10 a.m.

This year class reunions have been scheduled for classes who graduated at intervals from five to fifty-five years ago. Today, the grand old alumni up to '83, plus '94, '99, '04, '09, '14, '19, '24, '34, '39, '44, '49, and '50 will reign supreme.

Rev. Singer To Address Seniors At Baccalaureate

The Rev. James M. Singer, pastor of St. Matthew Lutheran Church, Bloomsburg, will deliver the Baccalaureate sermon to the 1954 graduating class of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College Sunday afternoon, May 23. Pastor Singer, who accepted a call to St. Matthew Lutheran Church earlier this year, will preach on the subject: "Three Secrets".

The Rev. Mr. Singer was born in Manheim and educated in the Manheim Public Schools. Following his graduation from high school in 1941, he attended Gettysburg College, graduating in 1945. He graduated from the Theological Seminary at Gettysburg in 1947.

In his student days, Pastor Singer served as student assistant in St. James' Church, Gettysburg; Messiah Church, York; and St. (Continued on page 4)

January Graduates Receive Diplomas

On January 19, 1954 degrees were conferred upon sixteen students here at Bloomsburg State Teachers College. The honor assembly was held in Carver Auditorium at 10:00 a.m. The speaker of the exercises was the Reverend Peter K. Emmons, pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian Church in Scranton.

Two awards were presented by Mr. Earl Gehrig, this year's senior class adviser. Fred Del Monte received a certificate of nomination to Who's Who In American Colleges and Universities, and a much coveted service key was awarded to Keith Smith.

The sixteen seniors receiving degrees were: Robert Castle, Fred Del Monte, Russell Dinger, Harry Gray, Joan Havard, Joseph Iles, Mrs. Veronica Kane, Mrs. Marjorie Kline, Alfred Knecht, Howard Mar, Kenneth McAnall, Jevita McCauley, Donald Peterson, Keith Smith, and Thomas Stefanik.

Graduation Speaker

Dr. Paul Weaver To Be Speaker at Commencement

Paul S. Weaver, president of Lake Erie College, the 97-year old liberal arts college for women in Painesville, Ohio, will deliver the Commencement address at the Bloomsburg State Teachers College on Monday, May 24. President Weaver, nationally known for his distinguished leadership as Dean of Religious Life at Stephens College and teacher of its famous Burrall Class, will speak on the subject, "Courage in the Commonplace."

Twice described in Reader's Digest, the Burrall program was directed by Dr. Weaver and, as he so aptly puts it, "religion became the factor which integrated the students' lives because the teaching of spirituality has become absolutely necessary for the continuance of healthy living."

A graduate of Franklin and Marshall College at Lancaster, Pa., President Weaver completed five years of graduate study at Yale University, where he studied philosophy, religion, and psychology. He is now completing his sixth year as president of the Lake Erie College. Dr. Weaver is widely recognized as a gifted speaker and during the past sixteen years has lectured in approximately two hundred colleges and universities across the country.

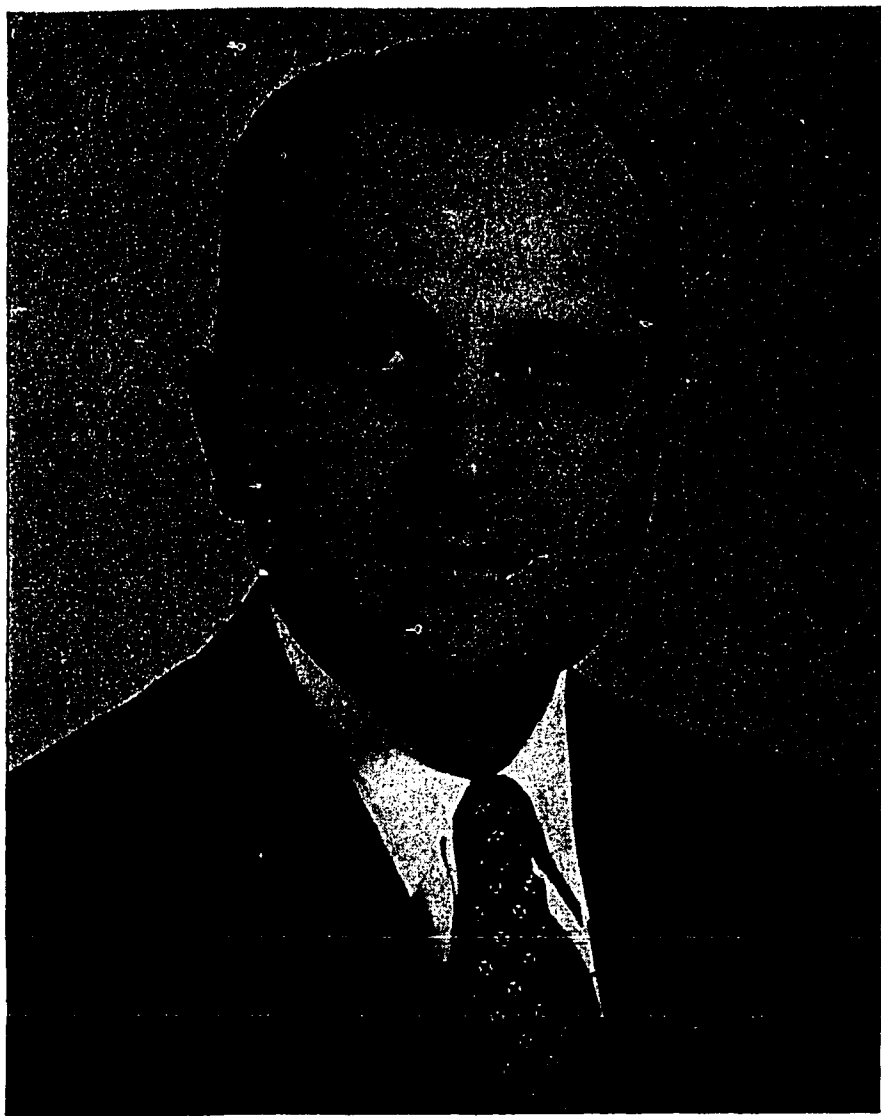

Five New Members On College Faculty

MRS. MILLER

The new Dean of Women, Mrs. Elizabeth Miller, came to B.S.T.C. from Locoming College, Williamsport. Her home is in South Williamsport.

Mrs. Miller received her Bachelor of Science from the State Teachers College at Slippery Rock and a Master of Education from Penn State.

Dr. North Serves Bloomsburg for Quarter-Century

Dr. Thomas P. North, popular Dean of Instruction at Bloomsburg State Teachers College, this year celebrated his twenty-fifth year at Bloomsburg.

Born in 1893 in Punxsutawney, Pennsylvania, Dr. North received his bachelor's degree from Pennsylvania State University in 1917, and his master's degree from the same institution in 1927. During this intervening period, Dr. North began his teaching career as a science teacher and was one of the commonwealth's first teachers of vocational agriculture under the provision of the Smith-Hughes Act. In 1919 he became the supervising principal of a consolidated school in Jefferson County.

In his desire for further education, he wasted no time in obtaining his Doctor of Philosophy degree from Cornell University in 1929. Immediately after his graduation, he replaced Prof. Oscar Hugh Bakeless on the B.S.T.C. faculty and is celebrating the twenty-fifth anniversary of his arrival at the "friendly college" this year.

Until 1941, Dr. North's skills were utilized in the teaching field, particularly in the course in Introduction to Education, now designated as Professional Orientation on the 1954 schedule cards.

Since 1941 Dr. North has devoted his time and efforts to improving the standards and ideals of B.S.T.C. as its Dean of Instruction.

In Dr. North's twenty-five enjoyable and profitable years on the B.S.T.C. faculty, he places high on his list of "greats" his small part in the development of students' responsibility and their more mature mental outlook. This increased interest is apparent not only in the Community Government Association, but also in the student participation in various committees and organizations on campus.

Ivy Day Oration By Edmund Longo

Edmund Longo delivered the Ivy Day Oration for the Class of 1954 on May 19 immediately following the Senior Honor Assembly. Longo, a business student, has been active in Pi Omega Pi, Business Education Club, and Kappa Delta Pi. He was also C.G.A. treasurer for 1953-54.

The Ivy Day exercises were held this year in Waller Hall court. The program began with the singing by the class of "Halls of Ivy". Longo was introduced by William Jacobs, President of the Class of 1954. Following the oration, Jacobs planted the traditional ivy and presented the spade to Arnold Garinger, President of the class of 1955.

A piano duet, "Dance Ukraine" was played by Myra Albertson and Mary Jo Williams. Music director was Nelson A. Miller. The Ivy Day Exercises Committee consisted of Patricia Boyle and Edmund Longo.

85th Anniversary Of Normal School Was Celebrated

It was a fortunate day for the residents of Bloomsburg when J. P. Wickersham, State Superintendent of Public Instruction was traveling through this town on a fall morning in the year 1867. For it was then the Superintendent realized the ideal location of the Bloomsburg Literary Institute for a State Normal School. Upon returning to Bloomsburg, Dr. Wickersham expressed that opinion and, on March 9, 1868, a resolution was adopted stating an agreement to establish a State Normal School.

On February 19, 1869, the school was formally recognized as the Bloomsburg State Normal School and Literary Institute.

When, in May, 1927, Dr. G. C. L. Riemer, President of the Bloomsburg State Normal School returned (Continued on page 4)

Hi Ya, Hon!

Ella Kline

"Hiya, hon!"

Every BSTC student from 1904 to 1954 has heard this cheery greeting from one of the most well-liked and indispensable persons at the college on the hill. Ella Kline is leaving us after fifty years of faithful service, and with her will go a bit of the "spirit that is Bloomsburg."

Returning graduates will find Ella as friendly and smiling as the day they wandered through Waller or North Hall seeking—and finding in her—a companion who was willing to listen to all their problems. To many students, Ella was their introduction to Bloomsburg dorm life when they saw her scurrying through empty halls in September. And what B.S.T.C. dorm-dweller could forget her shining face peering in the door each Wednesday morning to ask for the sheets?

To Ella, the high spots of the college year are Homecoming and Commencement, because on these occasions she welcomes back her countless friends and recalls with them their experiences at Bloomsburg. No matter how hard she must work on extra room preparations, she looks forward with eager anticipation to these occasions each Fall and Spring.

In Ella's opinion, B.S.T.C. students have changed very little in her half-century of meeting new people. They are all "her children" and she loves to hear from them at Christmas and on her birthday—December 23.

Born in 1887 in Rohrsburg, Pa., Ella Kline came to Bloomsburg to "help out" in 1904. She left a year later, but returned in 1913 to stay for several years. 1918 saw her final return to B.S.T.C. and Ella has been a part of Bloomsburg life ever since.

For several years she rented an apartment on Fourth Street in Bloomsburg and there baked delicious pies for her favorites in the dorm. Later she bought a house in Rohrsburg where her two sisters and two brothers lived, and where she plans to retire after this summer session.

Ella admits that when she first came to B.S.T.C. she had no intention of staying fifty years, but came merely to temporarily help in the housekeeping department. She recalls such now-famous students as Dr. Kimber C. Kuster and Mr. Howard Fenstermaker, and has seen the terms of six college presidents.

The modern fire towers and entrances are among the biggest improvements, in Ella's opinion, to the college. She clearly recalls the inside winding stairways that were the only means of entering or leaving the dormitories. Also, the new pressrooms and bathrooms are a vast improvement over the crowded facilities that existed before their installation. She remembers plainly the dark room beneath the present lounge in which the coeds ironed their clothes in by-gone years.

Embroidering and raising African violets are Ella's chief hobbies, as evidenced by her window full of beautiful plants and the numerous delicately embroidered cloths in

Flag to Honor War Dead Is Presented

A large American flag which has flown over the United States Capitol has been presented to the Bloomsburg State Teachers College by Mr. and Mrs. Warren Johnson of Catherine St., Bloomsburg. The flag, secured through the efforts of Congressman Alvin R. Bush, of Muncy, will be used on holidays to commemorate the great and continuing debt owed those who made the supreme sacrifice in World War II. It is an addition to the Bloomsburg Beacon, the beautifully-lighted clock tower of Carver Hall, dedicated to former Bloomsburg students who fell in battle during World War II.

Ph.D. Awarded to Richard Hallisy

The degree of Doctor of Philosophy was awarded to Mr. Richard G. Hallisy by the University of Pittsburgh at its annual graduation ceremonies on August 26, 1953. Dr. Hallisy, Director of Business Education, now joins the growing list of distinguished Doctors on the B.S.T.C. faculty, having received his Bachelor's degree at Whitewater State Teachers College in Wisconsin and his Master's degree at the University of Iowa.

the college, nomination to this group entitles the name and college career of the selectee to be printed in the annual publication, "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities."

"Those receiving certificates included Charles Andrews, Alfred Chiscon, Michael Crisci, Mary Ruth Dreibelbis, Gerald Houseknecht, William Jacobs, Phyllis McLaren, Louise Schullery, David Superdock, Harriet Williams, and Elaine Yeager.

Nominees for Who's Who Certificates were announced by Senior Class Adviser Earl Gehrig. They were presented by Dr. Harvey A. Andruss. Dr. Andruss announced the names of service key winners; Senior Class President William Jacobs presented the keys. Band awards were given by Mr. Nelson Miller; Alumni President Nelson gave life-time athletic passes to five eligible senior lettermen: Barney Osevala, Joseph Glosek, Merlyn Jones, Ronald Steinbach, and Bernard Mont.

William Jacobs gave the Bible Reading during the assembly. Mr. Howard Fenstermaker was at the organ during the Processional, Alma Mater, and Recessional. Mr. Miller directed the singing of the Alma Mater. Honor Assembly Chairmen were Patricia Edwards and Alfred Chiscon.

Following the Honor Assembly, Ivy Day Exercises were held in Waller Hall Court, with Edmund Longo giving the traditional oration. Arnold Garinger, President of the Class of 1955, accepted the spade used during the ceremonies from Senior President Jacobs. Myra Albertson and Mary Jo Williams were at the piano.

her two-room apartment in Waller Hall.

A special tea honoring her fifty years of work at B.S.T.C. and the Waller Hall gifts of an autograph book and a china wedgewood college plate are the highlights of Ella's last year at Bloomsburg. One of her most treasured possessions now is the 1954 edition of the OBITER, which was also presented to her at the courtyard tea held on Monday, May 17, 1954.

Ella has never begrudged a moment of her time to the friendly college for her life at B.S.T.C. has been more fun than work. Her greatest wish is that all "her children" realize how much she appreciates the kindness and love everyone has given her in her life (Continued on page 4)

Dr. Hallisy Directs Business Contest

The Twenty-second Annual Business Education Contest under the direction of Dr. R. G. Hallisy and sponsored by the Business Education Department was held on Saturday, May 8, 1954, on the campus of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College. Twenty-seven high schools from the surrounding area were represented in the contest by over 150 students. Examinations were given in Bookkeeping, Business Arithmetic, Business Law, Gregg Shorthand, and Typewriting.

The number of contestants who were given an hour examination in the following subjects are: Business Law—eight, Business Arithmetic—fourteen, Bookkeeping—twenty-seven, Shorthand—thirty-one, and Typewriting—thirty-four. Three specific rules of the contest are as follows: (1) all contestants must be currently enrolled in the subject in which he or she is competing; (2) no contestant may leave the examination room during the examination except in an emergency; (3) a team of contestants shall consist of five students who have participated in three or more events, and no more than one event may be entered by any one student.

Prizes were awarded to the winners of each subject, and the winners were determined by the statistical method of ranking.

Again this year the Business Machine Show was added to the program to increase the students' knowledge of modern office equipment, and to give visiting teachers and students an opportunity to observe competent demonstrations of the machines.

B.S.T.C. Thespians Highly Acclaimed For Presentation

To a large and highly appreciative audience, the cast of "Blithe Spirit" presented Noel Coward's hit play on Tuesday evening, April 6.

Superb acting on the part of William Ottaviani as Charles Condomine, Joan Curilla as his second wife Ruth, Avery Williams as his first wife Elvira, Jean Robison as Madame Arcati, Joanne Graeber as the maid Edith, and James Luchs and Wylla Bowman as Dr. and Mrs. Bradman made the play one of the most successful ever.

Mr. Boyd Buckingham, B.S.T.C. speech faculty member, directed the play.

Professor of India Visits Bloomsburg

Bloomsburg State Teachers College was extremely fortunate to have on campus Mr. Nirmal Chandra Chatterjee, a professor of education at Visva-Bharata University in Santiniketan, India. A Full-bright Scholar on a six month's visit to the United States, Mr. Chatterjee made a first-hand study of teacher training methods practiced in this country. He studied the new teaching techniques adopted in American secondary schools, and he observed especially the classes of teachers-in-service and B.S.T.C. students in their practice teaching. He was also interested in the methods used in the Special Education class at the Benjamin Franklin Laboratory School and in the Speech and Hearing Clinic.

Mr. Chatterjee arrived at BSTC on Sunday, March 8, and remained here for approximately two weeks. He had previously spent two weeks on the campus at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, and upon leaving Bloomsburg, he went to Kansas.

Twelve Seniors Are In Who's Who

Twelve members of the Senior Class were chosen to appear in the 1954 edition of "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities." Selections were made on the basis of personal traits, leadership, practical qualities, professional promise, potential usefulness to society, actual ability, past record, scholastic achievement, and service to the college. The choice was made by the following and approved by President Andruss: Dr. North, Mr. Hoch, Mrs. Miller, Dr. Hallisy, Miss Hazen, Dr. Engelhardt.

The twelve chosen were: Charles Andrews, Alfred Chiscon, Michael Crisci, Mary Dreibelbis, Fred Del Monte, Gerald Houseknecht, William Jacobs, Phyllis McLaren, Louise Schullery, David Superdock, Harriet Williams, and Elaine Gunther Yeager.

Scores of Seniors Visit BSTC Campus

The F.T.A. played host on Saturday, May 1, to high school seniors at the annual Visitation Day which was held on the campus of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College. The invitations were sent to all high school seniors who expressed an interest in attending this college through the recruitment program conducted by Mr. John A. Hoch. Invitations were also sent to those prospective students who have corresponded with Dr. North. The committee in charge hopes to get all F.T.A. members and all members of the college community actively interested in this project.

The program was conducted through the morning and afternoon. It began with registration at nine o'clock. Following registration there was a general meeting, variety show, luncheon in the dining room, and track meet. One of the most interesting events scheduled was a film on campus life. All visitors were taken on a complete guided tour of the buildings, dormitories, and all other points of interest on the campus. The F.T.A. members acted as guides for these tours.

Mr. Henrie Wins N. Y. Fellowship

A fellowship to study in the financial district of New York City has been granted to Charles H. Henrie. The fellowship will enable Mr. Henrie to study in New York City for a period of three weeks. All expenses will be paid by the Joint Committee on Education representing the American Securities Business.

The fellowship was awarded to Mr. Henrie to enable him to continue a research project on "How To Buy and Sell Stocks."

Miss Joan Christie Coed of the Year

Two weeks of mounting suspense ended in February when lovely Joan Christie was named the student's choice in the OBITER sponsored "Coed of the Year" contest. Crowned at the Freshman "Underwater Fantasy," Miss Christie was chosen from the eight contestants in an election held in Waller Hall.

Miss Christie, one of the two Sophomore contestants, comes to B.S.T.C. from Shenandoah.

Dr. Kehr Elected To National Post

Dr. Marguerite W. Kehr, former Dean of Women at Bloomsburg State Teachers College, has been elected a member of the National Advisory Board of the United States National Students' Association. James M. Edwards, president of the association extended the invitation to Dean Kehr to serve as a member of the board following the unanimous vote of the National Executive Committee.

Waller Hall News

Well, as our busy coeds are packing their luggage, another year has passed at B.S.T.C. Anything unusual happen this year? Not too much, things went along in their normal pace.

We opened our room doors last September to find newly painted walls — pink, yellow and gray. When room judging time came around, most of the rooms looked like a page out of "House Beautiful." Later in the year — much later—towel racks were added to the rooms. Most of our girls used their woman's eye for interior decoration and converted the racks into knock-knock shelves. Pretty cute, too.

During football season, the girls found a new use for the bed sheets and hung "Beat West Chester" signs all over the place.

We've had our usual fire drills—early in the A.M., dorm parties, and the Waller Hall Tea, introducing the new officers.

Oh, yes, we've had two new elevator operators who tried successfully to cope with us. Maybe the paint and elevator operators have changed, but life at Bloomsburg and Waller Hall goes on, each coed loving every minute of her college "daze".

Teacher: "Can you give me a quotation from the Bible?"

Student: "And Judas went out and hanged himself."

Teacher: "Can you give me another?"

Student: "Go thou and do likewise."

Book by Mr. Rygiel Placed in Library

Mr. Walter S. Rygiel, a faculty member of the Business Education Department, is co-author with Dr. Charles G. Reigner, president of the H. M. Rowe Company of a typewriting textbook, "Rowe Typing," third edition, which is published by the Rowe Company. The book was copyrighted in January.

for the Waller Hall Governing Board. She and Mr. Hoch are advisers to C.G.A.

Music and refinishing antique furniture are two of Mrs. Miller's many hobbies and interests.

She did social work with the Locoming Board of Public Assistance for five years and was Dean of Women at Edinboro State Teachers College for five years.

MR. MILLER

Mr. Nelson A. Miller, who is the new band director, made his home in Johnstown before coming to Bloomsburg.

He received the Bachelor of Science degree from Indiana State Teachers College, a Master of Education degree from Penn State, and he has been working on a Doctor of Education degree at Penn State. He spent one summer working at the University of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Miller teaches introduction of music and directs the college band and chorus.

One of Mr. Miller's prides is his record library which he is enlarging. He also likes photography and fishing.

His family has moved to Bloomsburg. They have two boys, one four years old and the other, three months.

MISS FONTANA

Miss Mary Louise Fontana is the new college dietitian. Miss Fontana, who is from Matamoras, Pennsylvania, graduated from high school at Fort Jervis, New York.

She has had experience in hotel and dining room management. She was dining room hostess at Breakers Hotel in West Palm Beach, Florida and at the Skytop Club at Skytop, Pennsylvania before accepting the Bloomsburg appointment. Before that she was associated with the Fontana restaurant in Matamoras and the Payroll Division of Swank's, Middletown, New York.

MR. BUCKINGHAM

The new freshman speech instructor is a former graduate of B.S.T.C. Mr. Boyd Buckingham taught two years at Athens and six years at Sayre before coming to Bloomsburg.

Besides his degree from Bloomsburg, Mr. Buckingham holds a Master of Science from Bucknell and is now working on a doctor's degree at Penn State.

He is teaching Speech I and II, and is in charge of the Dramatic Club, which will present a three-act play this year, Alpha Psi Omega, and the college radio broadcasts.

Mr. Buckingham is interested in radio and speaking. He enjoys flying, which he learned while he was a student at B.S.T.C. During World War II he was a pilot of B-17's and served in the European theater.

While a student at B.S.T.C., Mr. Buckingham was active in extra-curricular organizations. He represented the Junior Class in CGA and served as president of the sophomore class and CGA. During his Junior year he was president of Alpha Psi Omega.

His wife is also a graduate of B.S.T.C. They have two children, a girl five years old, and a boy six months old.

MR. McCURDY

Dr. Joseph A. McCurdy was employed to take over the mathematics classes at B.S.T.C. He is now teaching College Algebra. Fundamentals of Mathematics, Analytic Geometry and Teaching of Secondary Mathematics.

Professor McCurdy did his undergraduate work at LaFayette College and received his Masters Degree at Penn State. He obtained his Doctors Degree from the University of Pittsburgh.

After completing his education at these institutions, Mr. McCurdy traveled to Aix-en-Provence, France, where he taught Physics and English. He has also instructed at Mt. Mercy College in Washington and Carnegie Tech in Pittsburgh. Aside from his teaching career Dr. McCurdy has worked in electronics for the Westinghouse Corporation.

Senior Hurler

John Dennen

John Dennen, tall, slender, and with a pleasant smile, is one of Coach Yohe's starting pitchers. Johnny, a senior, is a day student from Exchange, Penna. He majored in science and math and did his student teaching at Bloomsburg High School this semester. His athletic career here was short but successful. Johnny played ball only in his junior and senior years here, but in high school he was a four-letter man in both soccer and baseball. Both last year and this year the 21-year-old righthander compiled a 2-1 record. In his last appearance for the Huskies he pitched a two-hit shutout against the University of Scranton for six innings, and then was relieved by Bob Dipipi who completed the task, allowing only one hit in the remaining three innings. The Huskies were victorious by a score of 6-0. Johnny has also been active in almost all the area's twilight leagues during the past summers. With all this experience Johnny still feels he isn't major league material and doesn't plan to play any pro ball.

After graduation John plans on entering the service. He has selected the Navy Cadet program, and expects to be called in the fall. After his enlistment expires, he wants to teach in a small school and coach athletics.

Johnny feels his greatest thrill while playing for the Maroon and Gold was last year when he beat West Chester, one of the strongest college teams in the East. In his sophomore year in high school he also turned in a top performance by beating a team with a 17-0 record.

He thinks that this year's Husky baseball team, "Has a lot of ability and potentiality with a lot of good prospects for the future; but their hitting should be and could be better." Johnny also said "if the team would stick together this summer, they would develop into a top-notch club that could beat most any team played."

John liked Bloomsburg and said that he will always remember his years here at the Friendly College.

College Students At Band Festival

Four students from Bloomsburg State Teachers College were selected to participate in the Pennsylvania Intercollegiate Band Festival held April 22, 23, and 24 at Bucknell University. The Bloomsburg students invited to play at the festival were: Stephen Wolfe, Harrisburg, clarinet; Nancy Tovey, Danville, baritone; Nancy Green, Hazleton, French horn; and Jean Naughton, Williamsport.

They were among 140 student musicians from 30 colleges and universities who took part in the three-day program to be climaxed by the Seventh Annual Pennsylvania Intercollegiate Band concert, on Saturday evening, April 24, in Bucknell's Davis Gymnasium.

Guest conductor for the festival was Eric Leizder, noted arranger and conductor, who is associated with the Goldman Band of New York City.

Red Cross Gets 167 Pints Blood

On April 1, a total of 167 pints of blood were obtained in the visit of the Red Cross bloodmobile unit here at B.S.T.C.

The majority of blood donors were college students with a number of townspeople helping to boost the total. The bloodmobile was set up in Waller Hall Lounge.

Football Revue

The 1953 football campaign is now history, but the memories of that thrilling season will long be remembered by the Mount Olympus faithful. The final record showed six wins against two defeats, yet the real story can't be told in the cold figures of the win-loss column. The story of a successful grid campaign must be told by the efforts of the 30-odd men that strove to make the Saturday afternoons the exciting successes that they were.

Coach Jack Yohe was back again at the helm of the Huskies for his second year, assisted by John Hoch, Harold Shelly, and Joe "Bells" Colone, as he had been the year before. At the outset of the fall drills, Coach Yohe was faced with the problem of replacing three graduated ends, 2 of which Russ Verhousky and Charlie Brennan were all-state timber. Graduation also took Ardel Zeibentuse, a four-year varsity veteran at a guard slot, and first-string quarter-back Dave Linkhorst. Also absent from the autumn workouts were Bo and Ted Rainey, who had been first-string runners the year before. Bo Rainey was the Huskies leading scorer the previous season, but he and Ted answered Uncle Sam's call. Morey Shultz, a wingman on the '52 kickoff squad, and Tony DiPaulo, Yohe's first-string center from the year before entered the Marines, leaving openings for prospective freshmen and upperclassmen who had been relegated to substitute berths.

The biggest problem for Yohe and his staff was, of course, the replacement of his two varsity ends. Yohe found in Bob Stroup, a former Marine from Johnstown, new hope for an end berth. Another reliable end turned out to be Bobby Cumens, a single-wing blocking back converted to an end slot where he was forced to also handle the punting duties. Charlie Pope, who had played end the year before on the defense, was switched to play both ways. Williamsport's Sammy Belle, a fast moving sophomore, also found himself in a starting berth on occasion. The center problem left vacant by DiPaulo was kicked around by two veterans of the year before who had filled in for DePaulo, Eddie Connolley and Charlie Skiptunas. Another freshman who broke into the starting lineup by the end of the season was Ray Severance.

The backfield vacancies were filled by freshmen Bob Tilburg, 180-pound halfback from Kane, considered one of the most promising running backs among freshmen in the state, and Charlie Casper, a mite-mite from Bellefonte at 140 pounds, who handled the extra point duties as well as reserve ball carrying.

The season opened at Wilkes with a night contest. Wilkes drew first blood, but the Huskies weren't to be denied as they pushed back with senior Bernie Mont scoring on a plunge and then adding the extra point for good measure. Barney Osevala scored before halftime to give the locals a 13-6 lead. Late in the fourth quarter, Yohe called on Bobby Tilburg, who carried twice and covered over forty yards for a score. Casper added another for good measure. The Huskies came home a 27-6 winner.

The following Saturday the Huskies traveled to Mansfield to supply the opposition for a Parents' Day celebration. Jimmy Browning got loose for one long run; Tilburg again scored as did Osevala. The Huskies took this one 26-7.

In the first home appearance of the season the Huskies put on a scoring demonstration as it should be done for a Homecoming Day crowd taking Trenton Teachers into camp 48-0. Coach Yohe and his split T-formation never looked better.

Into every life a little rain must fall. This was Scranton U on a certain Saturday last fall. The College Hill lads found pass defense a problem, and they took this one on the chin by a 25-7 score. The statistics showed that the Huskies outplayed the Royals in every department but scoring. By this time the forward pass was becoming a nightmare.

California and the forward pass gave us a scare, but we did finally come out on top by a 20-13 margin. California employed a single-wing offensive, making use of their scouting notes that proved the Huskies could be passed on. On this Saturday, Coach Yohe had another backfield combination: Harvey Boughner, a soph from Treverton, who had made such a fine showing against Scranton (Continued on col. 5)

SPRING SPORTS

The spring sports on College Hill were quite successful as coaches Yohe and Shelly had fine material in their respective fields. Shelley's cinder-men took one event after another as they registered one of the highest all-time scores in winning their first meet in two years with Lock Haven State Teachers College.

Coach Shelly was gifted with some valuable freshman material, and received excellent performances from his returning runners. Jerry Kopec, the only senior on the squad and veteran of four seasons, showed the newcomers how it's done as he ran his usual fast 100-yard dash. Al Tucker, who ran a 9.8 at his native Coatesville, pulled a muscle and couldn't participate with the Husky trackmen.

The sophomore class was represented in the high jumping contests by Keith Weiser, who earned his letter. Bush took places in his best event, the pole-vault. Berwick's Dick Caton won a letter as a freshman last year and repeated this year with another in winning two first places in the meets' three 220-yard dashes. Others who have helped Hal Shelly, but at one time or another were injured are: Bob Huntz, Harrison Morson, Samuel Belle, Ron Krafjack, and Alex Boychuck.

A big share of the Husky points garnered during the season were earned by freshmen. Two Williamsport boys, John Wool and Edward Bresnick, have shown Shelly the kind of material that other coaches would like to have. The two boys earned enough points in the first meet for their varsity letter. At the massacre of Lock Haven, Wool scored 14½ points in winning the mile and two-mile runs, tying for first in the high jump, and tying for third in the 100-yard dash. Bresnick scored 13 points with a first in the javelin and shotput, and a second in the discus. Other freshmen who will return with the sophomores for a successful season next year are dashmen Charlie Thomas and Brit Kile, weightmen Jerry Kaufman, Harry Hughes, Joe Sims, and Abe Brassington, and hurdler Dave Sammon.

The 1954 edition of the Bloomsburg baseball team was about the youngest ball club in the State Teachers Circuit. Jack Yohe, along with Hal Shelly, worked with some of the squad for a great .385 average. Ron has played some of the best games in roving the Mt. Olympus outfield that B.S.T.C. has seen for quite some time. He has never batted below the much sought after .300 mark. Johnny Halcovich and Ken Hiday worked second and first respectively, and hit quite well in that same order.

Returning next year in the outfield will be two of the smaller men on the roster, James Starr and Charles Casper. Starr hadn't played as a freshman due to a leg injury, but this year he has produced well in the pastures. Charlie Casper, ex-Bellefonte flash, is one of the frosh to make the Husky squad and play the center field position. Charlie has capable legs and a fine arm which will be welcome to Coach Yohe when next season comes around.

The other infielders with Halcovich and Hiday are Robert Cumens and Terry Zackowski. This was Cumens' third season on the diamond of Bloomsburg. Bob posted a fine batting average, and had a great variety of fielding games at the hot-corner. Terry Zackowski covered short-stop with a veterans' attitude. His bat owns the first home run hit at Bloomsburg this season. Coach Yohe believes that Terry, by the end of the four years at B.S.T.C., will be one of the greatest ever to play for him.

The catching department was handled by John McCarthy, Joe Keefer, and Bobby Aurand. Hurling for the Huskies were two men with a lot of stuff. John Dennen, a senior playing another season in Husky uniform, threw from the right, and threw quite right. John had his best game against the much-rivalled West Chester baseballers even though he lost. He struck out twelve men and gave up only four hits. His relief man, Bob DiPipi, averaged six strikeouts a game. Bob will return next year with Charlie Kwiatkowski, who has been having trouble this year. With almost a returning first team, Coach Yohe will have a fine '55 season.

The human brain is a wonderful thing. It starts working the moment you wake up in the morning and doesn't stop until you are called on in class.

Basketball 1953-54

Defending State champions of S. T. C. conference would have again been champs had the season ended at the close of the first semester, but as the season wore on the hard-fighting, but inexperienced Bloomsburg Huskies couldn't keep the pace.

Plagued by the loss of seven seniors, Coach Shelly had a rebuilding job ahead of him out of two seniors, one junior, and a mammoth, but talented sophomore squad. That was undefeated as freshmen the year before.

When the season started, the lineup had one senior, one junior, and three sophomores in it, and looked comparatively good; but as the games were played, a freshman and the other senior worked their way into the starting lineup and it looked like Coach Shelly had found the right combination. Then came the disastrous second half of the season. The Huskies lost six games, winning only two, and ended the campaign with a lowly 9-7 record.

The season, however, wasn't so bad as it seems, because the underclassmen, who played a great deal this year, were now broken in and ready to regain that championship as hustling, experienced basketball stars. Losing only two seniors, Joe Ondrula, the Huskies leading point getter, and Jerry Kopec, hustling Foty Fort play maker, both of whom ended brilliant careers for the Maroon and Gold, Shelly feels his cinderella freshmen of '52-'53 and his only '54-'55 senior, Fred Betz, will be ready to take on any competition thrown at them by the opponents, and come out on top. It is the best looking future the Husky basketball fans have seen in a long time, and one to look forward to in returning to B.S.T.C. for another term in the fall.

The past season had some remarkable highlights such as breaking the century mark against Cheyney, winning 101-78. Ondrula's field goal with five seconds to go at Lack Haven put courage in the hearts of the players who were becoming demolished. So another season came to a close on College Hill, with an exciting turnout and more enthusiasm than usual, and pointing to the future once more.

Annual Sales Rally Held March Fourth

The annual Sales Rally was held March 4, at 8:15 p.m. The program for the evening consisted of two speakers supplied by the National Sales Executives. The speakers talked on the techniques of selling.

Some of the former speakers will possibly be remembered by their nicknames such as: "Doc" Sharer, Elmer "Sizzle" Wheeler, and "Sunshine" Gene Flack who threw cigars into the audience and whistled.

A dinner was served in the college dining room preceding the program for the invited guests.

The first sales rally was held in February of 1946, and each year shows continued growth in quality and attendance.

Students Represent BSTC at Convention

At the annual F.T.A. state convention Evelyn Weaver was elected to the office of state secretary-treasurer. Evelyn is a junior business student from Muncy. Her official duties will be to handle all State F.T.A. correspondence and also to issue the monthly F.T.A. news letter.

The convention was held this year at Slippery Rock S.T.C. Six delegates from our local F.T.A. were sent to the convention. Miss Hazen and Mrs. Baker were also present at the convention.

Delegates attending the convention were: Mary Jo Williams, Peggy Haupt, Evelyn Weaver, Allan Walburn, Joseph Colone, and Al McManus.

Senior Slugger

Ron Steinbach

For the past four seasons, the outfield of the Bloomsburg Huskies has been guarded by the able legs and strong arm of Ron Steinbach. While attending Bethlehem High School, Ronny earned two varsity baseball letters and graduated in 1949 with an excellent .375.

Ron came to College Hill in the fall of 1950, enrolling in the business curriculum. Under Coach Redman, Steinbach was able to win his varsity letters in his freshman and sophomore years. He turned his hand each fall to the basketball court and the game second only to baseball, intramural basketball. Ron relaxes best at golf and watching the Phillies, who he thinks will win the pennant this year.

University; Mike Lashendock at quarter, another sophomore; Jimmy Browning, still another sophomore; and finally senior Barney Osevala at fullback. That is the pattern of backfield changes that Yohe continued to make in an effort to break up the passing threat.

The highlight of the season came when the Huskies made the longest football journey in the history of the school, to New Haven, Connecticut. This was one of the hardest-fought of the fall classics that we have had the pleasure to watch since coming to Bloomsburg. Bloom scored on the first play from scrimmage as Browning went 52 yards. New Haven scored on the right arm of the leading passer in the nation's small colleges up to that time. New Haven failed to convert after the score, so they trailed 7-6. New Haven fought right back, scoring again on a forward pass, to take a 12-7 lead. Bloom marched back to the one-foot line to be held on downs. On the second play after taking over, New Haven fumbled, and it was Browning again to recover, and Osevala carried over to give us the final score, 14-12. Up until half-time, New Haven had a perfect six for six in the passing department; in the second half, however, Yohe turned the trick with his umbrella defense for the forward pass. The forward pass was no longer a threat to Bloom defense.

After a week layoff, the big one of the season was here — West Chester. They were in first place in the Teachers' College Conference, and since Bloomsburg was in second place, this game was to decide the champion. The school was in a week-long celebration to prepare for the game. On the Huskies' second running play Jimmy Browning got loose for a 34-yard TD sprint that was to be called back. Not long after that he scored legally on a Lashendock-thrown pass. Bloom had a first quarter lead 7-0. The second quarter went much the same until the last four minutes when the Rams pushed over two scores before Bloom knew what had happened. West Chester scored again late in the fourth quarter but this was only a finality. Final score—West Chester 20, Bloom 7.

The last game of the season saw the Bald Eagles of Lock Haven travel to Mt. Olympus to be the victim of another scoring spree. As it was the last afternoon of the season, Coach Yohe trotted no less than sixteen backs on the field. The highlight of the afternoon was Barney Osevala's last touchdown as a Husky. This came after a 70-yard run in which he stepped out of bounds on the one. The next play he scored, making it an even 24 touchdowns for four years. Score was Bloom 46, Lock Haven 13.

Under-Currents

Welcome home Alumnus, Alumni and Aluminums. We've missed you since Homecoming Day. From all standpoints, B.S.T.C. has come through with another very successful year (I say this because I passed). We had winning teams in sports, our new lounge was worth waiting for, and the rejuvenation of Carver Hall made it a pleasure to go and pay your bills.

I suppose you all think college is a lot different from when you graduated, (you did, didn't you?), but it's not. People still moan about too many tests in one day, John Hoch still keeps order in North Hall, Dr. Kuster knows more biology than we'll ever hope to, and Rock's still have the best food in town, so I bet if you stop and think, things haven't changed.

One thing for sure hasn't changed. One Richard (Burley) Grimes still puts in his appearance about every other week-end. Any of you who have been in contact with Bloomsburg in the last 10 years must know Burley. If everyone was as faithful as he is, we'd have the biggest active alumni group in the world.

This Senior class has been one of the finest ever to come out of the "amiable institution of higher learning on the Knoll." Every class has one or two capable people, but I've never seen so many in one bunch. Mike Crisci, president of C.G.A., Bill Jacobs, class president, Al Chiscon of Obiter fame who by the way may put us on the map. He is going on to Purdue to pursue more knowledge in Biology (he came closest to knowing as much as Dr. Kuster, about half). Chuck Andrews and Harriet Williams, who have done the "Maroon and Gold" and "Olympian" are also great workers. If anybody can find a better bunch of people let me know. I want to see them.

I suppose you're all wondering who I am, and wondering who ever told me I could write a column. Well, I'm a Junior from Harvey's Lake (I know you didn't, it's small) and the picture flatters me so that should give you a good idea of me. (ugh). When Newberry left they scraped the bottom of the barrel, and this is what happened. Don't feel badly, you only have to read one.

It's kinda hard to write to folks you don't know cause you can't dig anyone, and, if I wrote about those I know it would be better to quit now, but Harriet says finish and those are real bullets so I shall ramble on.

Boy, we're really coming up the line now. Guess what we have hiding behind the mailboxes. A switchboard and a real live operator! When you want to call someone now, you tell her the number and she gets it from the other operator. It's a lot more fun because now you can hear two operators say "number please?"

Perhaps it would be beneficial to cleaner living if all you folks would carry umbrellas because for some reasons, the fine feathered friends are no longer such. Two days in a row two of my friends were made late for class by missiles from heaven. Just a friendly warning!

Well, I can't think of too much more to talk about with you, and there are better things to do on Alumni Day than read a paper, so I'll just say good bye to you all until Homecoming when, as I said once before, with the help of Uncle Sam, Dr. North, and Dean Hoch, I hope to welcome you back again. We're always glad to see you. Now to the Seniors; you're all terrific and I'm gonna miss ya. (Especially you, Chisk).

Good luck and don't forget us.

Til next September,
U. C.

Dr. North Serves

Another of the most notable improvements on our campus during the past quarter century, to Dean North, has been the progressively higher quality of students who both enter and graduate from Bloomsburg State Teachers College. In his own words, "This higher standard is especially gratifying to the administration."

With the centralization of the administrative offices on the first floor of Carver Hall, Dr. North believes we will be able to increase our service to the students and alumni of B.S.T.C.

Matters pertaining to instruction and accreditation are expedited through progressive methods of organization in Dean North's new offices.

Dr. North has devoted himself to the cause of teacher education and teaching as a profession. He has been an indefatigable worker in both the Pennsylvania State Education Association and the National Education Association, has held membership on the following committees of the Pennsylvania State Education Association: Vice President and President of Higher Education, member of Executive Council, first chairman of the Commission on Teacher Education and Professional Standards. Presently he is member of the advisory committee to the State Council of Education and acts in all advisory capacity to the National Commission on Teacher Education. Dr. North has served as a consultant on teacher education on the national level from U. of New Hampshire to Stanford U. and had the honor to represent Pennsylvania at the Clinic on education for the State of Michigan.

On January 15, he accepted a call to serve at Bloomsburg's St. Matthew Lutheran Church.

ed from a Harrisburg visit, he brought with him the news that Bloomsburg State Normal School was now Bloomsburg State Teachers College.

In 1934, the first class matriculating as freshmen in the Department of Commerce in 1930 was graduated and found ready placement in the high schools of Pennsylvania and adjoining states. Since that time thousands of students have graduated from Bloomsburg and have entered the teaching profession.

Therefore on Feb. 19 eighty-five years of service as a teacher-education institution were recognized when the Bloomsburg State Teachers College celebrated the Eighty-fifth Anniversary of the chartering of the Normal School of the Sixth District at Bloomsburg. Along with appropriate exercises commemorating the anniversary of teacher education, the College dedicated the lighting of the clock tower of Carver Hall to the former students who made the supreme sacrifice in World War II.

Dr. Francis B. Haas, a former president of the College and now State Superintendent of Public Instruction was among those who spoke during the program. Dean Emeritus William Boyd Sutliff, Dr. Elna H. Nelson, president of the Alumni Association, and Reg. S. Hemingway, Esq., president of the Board of Trustees were also included on the program.

There was an Open House in Carver Hall from 2:30 until 4:30 Friday afternoon for students. The newly-constructed offices were open for inspection at that time.

The Columbia County Alumni held their annual dinner in the College dining room at 6:15 p.m.

Members of the Board of Trustees and Gold Star parents were guests of the College for the alumni dinner. Following the dinner there was Open House in Carver Hall and the newly-remodeled Waller Lounge.

heavily on the able shoulders of Steinbach. Ron has not batted under .300 while attending BSTC. His best year seems to be this year with a .385 average. This year's ball club would certainly miss the clutching of Ron and his teammate, Johnny Halcovich. Ron thinks John will hit the heights in big league ball.

Steinbach said that Coach Jack Yohe is one of the best conditioning coaches today. He keeps the boys hustling at all times. Because of only three seniors lost by graduation, Coach Yohe ought to go places next year.

After graduation, Ron would like to try his favorite sport in the service or with his hometown semi-pro Steelers. Teaching is Ron's ambition, and he would like very much to coach high school ball.

For present students and faculty members, as well as returning graduates and friends of Ella Kline, the very best way to show appreciation for her half-century of outstanding service would be to remember Ella with a Christmas or birthday card sent to her address—Orangeville R. D. #1, Pennsylvania.

We can not realize until she's gone, just how much we'll miss Ella's cheerful "Hiya, hon!"
