Chorus Presents Program for Methodists

At 5:00 p.m. on Sunday, February 6, 1955, the Bloomsburg State Teachers College Mixed Chorus, under the direction of Mr. Nelson A. Miller, presented a program of sacred music at the Bloomsburg Methodist Church. The program was divided into three parts. In the first part the chorus sang: "Praise the Lord, O Jerusalem," "Lord, God of Hosts," "Lo a Voice to Heaven Sounding," and "Adoremus Ti." The second part consisted of the Girls Ensemble singing: "For Music," "Little Lamb, Who Made Thee?," "Holy, Lord God," and a solo, "Still, Still With Thee," by Joyce Lundy, soprano. The selections rendered by the chorus in the third part were: "Songs of Praises," "Climbin' Up The Mountain," "I Walked Today" (Continued on page 6)

Central Park to Be Featured at Freshman Dance

"Come Take a Stroll in Central Park" . . . this is the invitation the freshman class is giving to all B.S.T.C. students and faculty to attend their Freshman Hop on February 25. Music for the occasion to be held in Centennial Gym will be provided by Jerry Kehler and his orchestra. Decorations for this dance will be centered upon the theme of Central Park and will be under the supervision of Marianne Angradi and Ross Bartleson. Helping to plant the trees will be John Shirey, Francis Meyers, John Aitken, Peggy Lynch, Mary Galatha, Nancy Klotz, Mary Cuber, Mary Grace, Roberta Bowen, Chuck Kuntz, Bill Calderwood, Leo Novakowski, Ken Lynn, Kenny Weiskerger, Nancy Hughes, Margaret Brinser, Phil Mosur, Betta Hoffner, and Jane Owens.

The publicity committee is well underway with their plans. Those aiding in the advertising department are Mary Jane Barninsky and Dick Connelley, co-chairman, and Alice Kehler, Deanna Morgan, Paul Crisler and Charles Lepore. The ticket committee, composed of chairman Gerald Donmoyer and Annette Williams, Dale Biever, Deanna Morgan, Nancy Frantz, Richard Hoffman, and Alfred Miller, have set the price at $2.00 per couple.

"Let's Take a Walk" and "An Old Fashioned Walk" will be sung by a group of Freshman boys at intermission. Members of the entertainment committee who have planned this diversion are chairman Edward Braynock, Allan Nuss, Barbara Brunner, Cameron Myers, and William Freed.

The program committee has already completed the task of providing attractive souvenirs for the girls. Emy Park and Arnie Redboard are co-chairman of this important committee.

The members of that indispensable refreshment committee are Mary Heatley, Carl Shively, and Paul Anderson, while Nancy Suwalski and Arnie Redboard.

A moment everyone will be waiting for will be the Coed-of-the-Year crowning, which is a traditional highlight of the annual Freshman Hop.

Growing Need for Graduate Study Seen at B.S.T.C.

A growing need for the addition of a program of graduate studies to the curricular offerings of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College is indicated by the results of a study which is now being made of the 1845 graduates of the college from 1941 to 1953. Only 18 percent of the more than 1250 alumni who answered the questionnaire mailed to them have completed the requirements for the master's degree, leaving more than a thousand graduates of the college who would likely be interested in course work at the grad-

Dramatic Club To Present "Lo and Behold"

"Lo and Behold," a comedy in three acts will be presented by the Bloomsburg Players, on March 1, 1955 at 8:15 p.m. in Carver Auditorium. It is the story of a Nobel Prize winner who dies, leaving one-third of his estate to perpetuate his house as a sanctuary for his spirit. In the after-world, he finds that his is not the only spirit who haunts his house. To complicate matters, the former model who cooked his last meal, returns to the scene of his death and is mistaken for his illegitimate daughter.

The cast of the delightful play includes Donald Schlauch, Alvin Davis, Gerald Donmoyer, Wylla Bowman, Alice Swartz, Doyle Lynn, Anthony Aiello, and Avery Williams. Deanna Morgan and Robert Ebner are the prompters. Mr. Boyd Buckingham is the director.

Co-chairmen of the committee in charge of properties are Hazel Coleman and Nancy Homsher. John Sandler is stage director. Judy Bolling is chairman of the make-up committee, while Shirley Andre has charge of costumes. Walter Fox and his committee will take care of lights and curtains. Mary Rager has charge of ticket sales.

The play is being produced by special arrangement with Samuel French and Company.

Ethel Alpenfels, Anthropologist, Addresses AAUW

"The American Family in a Time of Change" was the theme of Dr. Ethel J. Alpenfels, noted anthropologist and authority on social behavior, in an address at eight o'clock, Thursday, January 27, in Carver Hall Auditorium.

Dr. Alpenfels was brought to Bloomsburg by the local branch of the A.A.U.W. The proceeds are to go to the fellowship fund of the organization.

"We must emphasize in our teaching, the moral, ethical, and spiritual values," declared Dr. Alpenfels in her informative and interesting outline of the many phases of our culture which affect the family and youth.

Ours is a mobile nation—one which lives by the clock and puts greatest value upon youth, she said. This puts the adolescent under great stress. She spoke of the necessity of developing a flexibility toward change.

In speaking of children, she stressed the need for bringing men into elementary education so that children can identify themselves with older men. Each person, she said, is the sum total of all the identifications he has made with his elders. It becomes important for that reason, she said, that parents be good models for their children and see that they select other good models in personal contact, books, and television.

The all-important Editorial Board is composed of Anthony Aiello, Elnor Evans, Joanne Hester, Keith McKay, and Sue Osborn.

Contestants are Announced For Annual Obiter Coed Contest

The fifth annual Coed of the Year contest was officially launched with the announcement in Assembly on Thursday, February 3, of the contestants for the coveted title. Two girls will again represent each class, making a total of eight lovely coeds from which one will be chosen on the basis of beauty, poise, and personality to reign as queen.

An all-day election will be held several days before the Freshman Hop on Friday, February 25, at which time the winner will be announced. "In Central Park" last year's coed queen, Joan Christie, will also relinquish her throne to her successor.

The director of the OBITER Coed Contest is again Tom Higgins. Selection of the coed candidates was made by a committee of male students, including the Presidents and Man Representatives of the four classes, the President of Phi Sigma Pi, the Presidents of the Men Day and Dorm Association, the Editor-in-chief of the OBITER, and the President of C.G.A. Those on the committee were Arnie Garinger, Bob Cummins, Bob Evans, Bob Groover, Ken Weir, Ed Shustack, Bob Asby, Carl Shively, Tom Higgins, Joe Kinder, Ed Chase, Keith McKay, and Ed Connolly.

This year's election and crowning will be given radio coverage by the downtown stations and press coverage by the local newspaper. In addition to several gifts presented to her at her crowning, the coed queen will receive a full page picture in the 1955 edition of the OBITER.

Graduate Work

uate level, if and when it is offered at Bloomsburg.

A total of 229 Bloomsburg alumni reported that they have been awarded graduate degrees since their graduation. Of that number, 186 are men and 43 are women. Those who have earned advanced degrees represent roughly one-half those who said they began graduate work.

The Class of 1947 holds the distinction of having the largest percentage of its members in the master's degree class—43 percent, but all six male graduates of the Class of 1944, who returned their questionnaires, hold graduate degrees—a record of 100 percent.

Bucknell University leads the list of institutions which granted master's degrees to Bloomsburg graduates, the Lewisburg institution having conferred graduate degrees on 76 B.S.T.C. alumni. Teachers College, Columbia University, is second with 27, while New York trails with 25 and the Pennsylvania State University is fourth with 20. In all, thirty American universities and colleges are represented on the list of institutions which Bloomsburg graduates have reported as having conferred on them master's degree.

College authorities have been studying the possibility of establishing a graduate program on a part-time and summer basis. A faculty committee headed by Clayton H. Hinkel is developing certain items of information concerning the demand for graduate work, and a postal card survey of the graduates of the institution as well as public school teachers in the college's service area will be made in order to determine how many would be interested in work at the graduate level on part-time and summer basis. Approval by the State Council of Education is necessary, however, before any graduate courses can be offered.

Profile of the Week

Since the arrival of one of BSTC's most personable young student teachers, rumor has it that the females at Berwick High School are really "up in the air." Hailing from St. Clair, this versatile and unassuming member of the Senior Class is President of the Men's Dormitory Association and has marked his career here at Bloom with honor upon honor. Needless to say, we're speaking of Joseph E. Kinder, or just "Joe" as he is known to his host of friends.

Joe's success dates way back to his high school days when he was winning laurels for St. Clair High. Being captain of his football team and an outstanding player on the baseball squad, Joe was presented with the Babe Ruth Award for good sportsmanship. In his Sophomore year, he displayed his leadership by being a class officer.

In September, 1951, Joe enrolled in the Business Curriculum at Bloomsburg and soon became engrossed in sports; namely, football and baseball. His second year on campus found him Vice-President of his Class and an active member of the Sophomore Dance and Business Contest Committees. In his Junior Year, Joe was entrusted with the important positions of treasurer of the Men's Dormitory Association and Co-chairman of the Junior Prom. Because of his friendly manner, he was placed on the Hospitality Committee that same year. This year, his responsibilities continue to mount. Joe is President of the Men's Dormitory Association, Co-chairman of the Obiter Advertising Committee, and he will serve as Chairman of the Senior Ball in May.

Joe's scholarship exemplifies the fact that he is a well-rounded individual. He is an active member of Phi Sigma Pi, the Varsity Club, and he serves his fellow-students well on College Council.

As for his future plans, along with his dreams of marriage and a home, Joe would like to continue his studies so that some day he may be the proud possessor of a Master's Degree. The students of BSTC wish the best of everything to Joe Kinder, a friendly, ambitious, graduate-to-be, who certainly deserves much success and happiness.

ORCHIDS and ONIONS

by "Butch"

ORCHIDS to Oggy, not only for his noble assistance to the gal in our Telephone Hour, but for his brilliant interpretation of the announcements each Tuesday and Thursday in the Auditorium.

ONIONS to a certain Instructor for asking Al Miles what his Dad taught at Lehigh. (Does Al look that much like Jensen)?

ORCHIDS to the three hundred and seven guys and gals who turned out to hear the Vienna Boys' Choir... It was an exceptionally good program, wasn't it?

ONIONS to Don Carey, who tried to steal the show by stealing ORCHIDS from our column for his auditorium ad-libbing.

ORCHIDS to Emy and "Pork," 'cause it's been thirty-nine days that they've been steady dating.

ONIONS to a chubby little guy from Lock Haven. We still have hopes for ya' Chuck, but please... "MAKE WEIGHT!!!"

ORCHIDS to Haywood Henry for some of the best Clarinet we've heard in a long time. Max Kaminsky won't hold on to him for too long.

ONIONS to the "Dirty Bird Club" ... for forming such an exclusive organization. The "Rinky Dinks" (class of '56), and the "Beaver Patrol" (class of '57), weren't nearly so rigid in their entrance exams.

ORCHIDS to Tommy (Jumpin' Jack) Welliver. We not only saw some fine wrestling but some expert showmanship at the Wilkes meet!!

ONIONS to Skip's roommate for that majestic melting masterpiece he built in Bobby Ebner's room on Sunday night. Yep... a smiling snowman in the center of the room. (You should have seen Ebner's shoes floating out the door!)

ORCHIDS to "Tiger" Bob Poller... anyone who can continue to smile at an unwanted nickname deserves mentioning, at least!

ONIONS to anyone who missed the Jazz Concert, 'cause we know a lot of kids who had one great time. It has now been proved that such a daring adventure will pan out. Let's see that a similar performance is given next year.

What's Your Opinion?

Max Kaminsky and his Dixieland Band certainly added zest and excitement to the social life at B.S.T.C. Other than a jazz concert, what forms of entertainment or recreation would you like to have at B.S.T.C.?

Mary Grace: "I would like to hear some choruses, either college or professional, bands, or community sings. Gymnastic groups would provide an interesting opportunity for kids to prove their athletic ability — especially swimming."

Emmy Parks: "Something that I would enjoy watching is a hypnotist! Wouldn't you just die laughing at seeing someone like Oggie Kosloske hypnotized? There's nothing like an All College Variety Show. Numerous students with varied talents would certainly make a really worthwhile evening of entertainment."

Dick Connolley: "I think that the lounge should be made open a night and juke-box installed. This would provide all-around entertainment for everyone."

Bob Asby: "Upon talking with people that attended the jazz concert, I find that Max Kaminsky was well-liked and that we as students should try to promote more entertainment of this and other kinds."

TOP to TOE

BY TUCKY

With all the cold-cold weather we've been having recently you can see all our B.S.T.C.'ers donning their heaviest of coats and sweaters.

Speaking of coats, Rita Gydos looks very attractive in her very different one with a black velvet top and grey wool skirt, giving the appearance of a dress.

Joan Rieder certainly wears her royal blue fitted coat with a full-full skirt very well. An exceptionally unusual sailor type collar which comes up high in back and folds neatly down on Joanie is really attractive.

Wool jersey tops are very popular these days. Emy Park looks adorable in the palest of pink with tiny pearls and rhinestones around the scoop neck.

An attractive contrast of color on Judy Meyers and Carol Ely gave these two freshmen girls a special look. Judy wore a very pretty pink jersey and full blue skirt, while Carol looked equally as attractive in a rust color jersey and full green skirt. White blazers are another popular addition to the wardrobe. Marion Duriko and Muriel Neilson looked very neat in theirs with a red and grey design on the pocket.

Jeanne Crocker looks very petite in her charcoal grey suit with it's yards and yards of skirt, fitted jacket and three-quarter-length sleeves. Jeanne tops her outfit with a pink satin ascot at the throat.

Getting dressed up for church on Sunday is usually an ordeal, but not for Sandy McBride and Marianne Angradi. Sandy contrasted her blonde hair and a very sweet black taffeta dress with a full skirt and square cut neckline. She added to it's attractiveness with a white bolero jacket; a very nice combination.

Marianne looked very pretty in her slate blue silk acetate dress with a full skirt and sleeveless top with a square cut neckline. Her dress also has a matching fitted jacket with six covered buttons down the front, a peter pan collar and three quarter-length sleeves. On her collar and cuffs tiny pearls and rhinestones add to an already attractive dress.

A welcome to the new freshmen and may I add, keep on sporting your warm winter clothes which add so many bright colors in contrast to our snowy campus.

Honor Roll of Hits

Spike Jones, aware that one must always keep changing one's repertoire, has added a "flea circus" to his troupe. A large screen will be used to magnify the antics of the fleas for the audience. Dogs will not be allowed in the audience. No salary fee was mentioned. Not too original!

Trumpeter, Shorty Rogers, on tour with Stan Kentons Festival of Modern Jazz, is getting ready for the year's baseball season. When he comes off the road he intends to wax an album entitled "World Series." The sides will carry such titles as "Safe At Home," "Hot Runs and Errors," "Homer Was Never Like This," "You're Out," "I Got To First Base," "Left On Second Blues" and "Kill the Umpire."

Chalk up another success for Jackie Gleason. One of his latest, "Tawny" is on the bestseller charts and "Music For Lovers Only" is still there after two years.

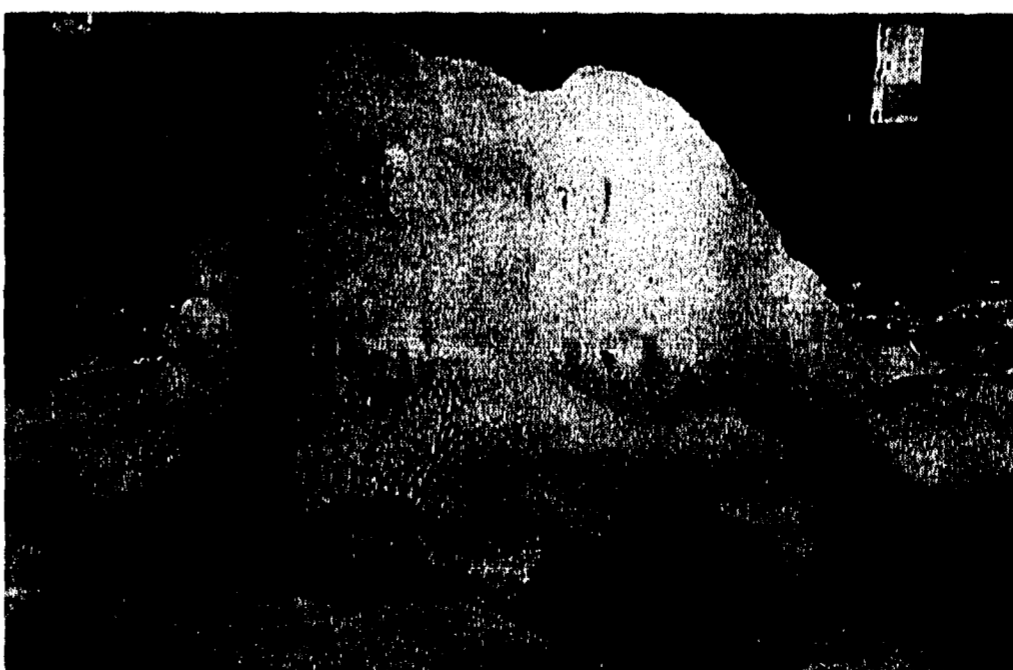

It is seldom that two songs of extensive popularity are found on the same recording. An exception to this rule, however, is the very popular "Earth Angel" by the Pelicans. The flip-side offers a very spicy tune entitled "HEY, SENORITA".

Another example of two-fold enjoyment on a single disc is "SINCERELY" and "NO MORE" as recorded by the very lovely and talented McGuire Sisters.

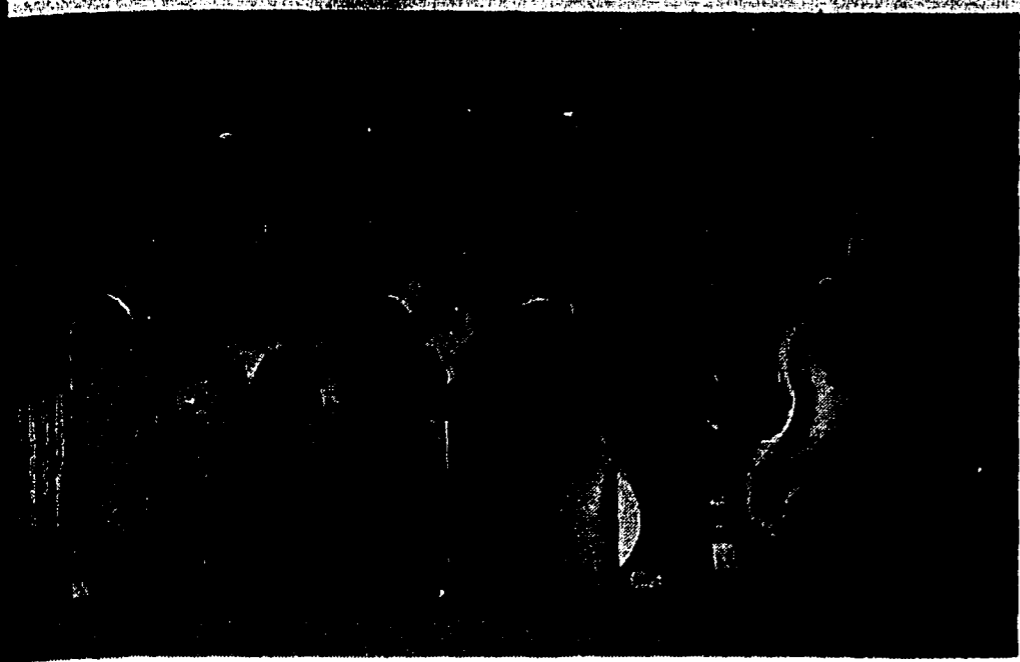

Nat "King" Cole offers his latest contribution to the recording audience entitled "THE SAND AND THE SEA".

Her nibs, Miss Georgia Gibbs, warbles a "crazy mixed-up" melody entitled "TWEEDLE DEE". The tune is certainly a trick one. However, I have still to find an appropriate adjective to describe the lyrics.

Joni James certainly has what it takes to be a recording star! Practically every record that girl has cut in the last few years has acclaimed recognition in the honor roll of hits. Her latest waxing "HOW IMPORTANT CAN IT BE" is no exception!

Teacher Workshop Offered Here On Saturdays

Area teachers have been offered an opportunity to take Saturday morning classes on the campus of Bloomsburg State Teachers College. It was recently announced by John A. Hoch, Dean of Instruction. Dean Hoch said that workshops in Social Studies and Geography, and English and American Literature have been programmed for the second semester. Classes began Saturday morning, February 5th.

Mrs. Janet Engelhardt, formerly a teacher in the Muncy-Muncy Creek Senior High School, conducted the Literature Workshop, which met at 7:30 a.m. in Room 101, Noetling Hall. Three semester hours credit may be earned in English and American Literature, Children's Literature, and Recent Trends in Teaching English. Credits may be used towards permanent certification, extending or renewing certification, or the degree of Bachelor of Science in Education.

Mr. Edward Barton, a member of the college faculty, conducted the workshop in Social Studies and Geography in Room E, Noetling Hall, at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. Three semester hours credit may be earned in History of United States and Pennsylvania, History of Civilization, Geography of the United States and Pennsylvania, and Teaching Social Studies in the Secondary School.

Anne Swortwood to Represent College For Mademoiselle

Pennsylvania State Teachers' College will be represented this year on Mademoiselle's national College Board by Anne Swortwood. She is one of the 700 students who competed with applicants from colleges all over the country to win a place on the board, according to Mademoiselle.

As a College Board member, she will represent her campus and report to Mademoiselle on college life and the college scene. She will complete three assignments that will help her explore her interests and abilities in writing, editing, fashion, advertising or art, in competition for one of twenty Guest Editorships to be awarded by the magazine at the end of May.

The Guest Editors will be brought to New York for four weeks next June to help write, edit and illustrate Mademoiselle's 1955 August College Issue. Their transportation will be paid to and from New York and they will receive a regular salary for their work.

In addition to their work on the magazine, Guest Editors will interview outstanding men and women in their chosen fields to help clarify their career aims, will visit fashion showrooms, publishing houses and advertising agencies and will be Mademoiselle's guests in a round of party and theatre-going.

What's Your Opinion?

Musical entertainment is always enjoyable, as well as a good rampolen act is always liked by all. Now and then a good magician or a juggler is amusing, and there are always thrills, and laughs when a good hypnotist such as Mr. Ernst performs.

Why make a few people do all the work? Let's everybody support these drives for more social recreation.

College Students Actively Take Part In All Fellowships

Now that the students are adjusted to their new schedules, the church fellowships are planning new activities.

The Reformed Fellowship will feature a movie about problems of marriage at their next meeting on February 9. This is a follow-up of the discussions held during Religion-in-Life Week. The movie is one of a series of three. The members were guests of the young married couples Sunday School class at supper last Wednesday night. After supper, the class presented a hilarious mock wedding. This group plans to take orders for home-made Easter eggs and sell them in the dorms. This project was very successful last year.

Wesley Fellowship attended the Mixed Chorus concert in the Methodist Church on Sunday night, Feb. 6. They joined the members of the church in the final "family night" of the season. The men of the church served the supper. After this, the fellowship met as a group. Alan Eardley was in charge of the worship service. A filmstrip, "The Faith of a Guy," was shown. The Reverend Thomas Hopkins led the group in a discussion about the film. Since this fellowship has changed its meeting night to Tuesday, many more of the Methodist students should be free to attend.

Newman Club is planning a Pre-Lenten dance and party for Wednesday, Feb. 16. President Ronnie Krafjack appointed the following committees: Refreshments, Don Paralis, Kay Kehrl, Hubert Smoczynski; Cleanup, Bob Huntz, Mary Lou Thornton, Ed Siscoe; Program, Joan Christie, Oggie Kozloski; Publicity, Bernadine Butz, Helene Clark, Joe Kwak, Ed Siscoe. After the meeting, the members were taken on a tour of the new school. The officers were pleased with the attendance.

A Bible-study program was started by Knox Fellowship with an illustrated talk by the Rev. Varre Cummins. The group is studying the Bible as a whole viewed from key books of the scriptures. This meeting was held in the third floor lobby of the Hotel Magee. Pie and coffee were served. On Monday, Feb. 7, the fellowship attended a dinner meeting at the church. As a continuation of the Bible-study program now in progress, a film, "The Living Word," was shown. In the future a weekend retreat is planned which will provide a chance for fellowship while enjoying a few days in the country "away from it all."

The Lutheran Student Association had a sauerkraut supper on Monday night, Feb. 7 in the church's social rooms. At this meeting it was announced that the Lutheran Student Conference will be held at Buck Hill Falls on February 25, 26, 27.

The Canterbury Club has been having difficulty in getting organized because the minister has been ill.

Most of these church fellowships are very active and offer varied programs. They cordially invite all new students (and old ones, also) to join and take part in the meetings.

Day Women's News

Darl Myers, and Mrs. Bettie Cogley. This brings the total of day women to eighty-four.

Congratulations are in order to Hope Horne, Janet Wintersteen, and Allene Burlingame, who received engagement rings over the Christmas holidays, and to Marian Cipolla who received a diamond earlier in the year. Best Wishes.

BSTC Students Mob Centennial to Hear Kaminsky Jazzmen

Enthusiastically accepted is the way in which Max Kaminsky's All Star Jazz Concert can be described here at Bloomsburg State Teachers College. The huge crowd of students and faculty gave Max Kaminsky, as he said, "the warmest welcome anywhere." Everyone enjoyed the dixie-land inspired music which kept feet tapping and hands clapping to the beat of the fast rhythm.

Max Kaminsky had a wonderful combination of all-stars who brought out the jazziest music from their instruments. Every instrumentalist came in during one or another of the songs to play a solo. The All-Stars consisted of a trumpet played by Max himself, a trombone, piano, drums, clarinet and bass. The combo presented a wide program of concert-style jazz music—some of which we knew quite well and some which Max introduced to many. Some of the numbers played were: "Basin Street Blues" and "St. Louis Blues," arranged in a steady Basin Street Tempo, and "Perdido" which also was given the same treatment. Max then gave us "The St. James Infirmary Blues," in which he proved his talent as a vocalist a la "Satchmo." As the thunderous applause subsided, a voice from the audience requested "Sunny Side of the Street" which Max then rendered. "Tenderly" was played in a true smooth fashion by the trombonist. Of course, no Jazz Concert would be complete without "When the Saints Come Marching In," and Max and his all stars obliged—much to the delight of the audience. "Muskrat Ramble" and "That's a Plenty," two popular tunes today, were played with that jazzy Kaminsky beat.

In taking a poll of the Freshman reaction to the Jazz Concert, this reporter received the following replies—"It sends me"—"Super Duper"—"Tee-riffic"—"Jazzy"—"Real Cagy"—"Real Gone"—"Cool" and "You can't hardly get them no more." And I think all of us here on the campus of B.S.T.C. feel the same way, so we take our hats off to the Social and Recreation Committee for bringing us The Max Kaminsky Jazz Concert.

Behind Closed Doors

by Ken Weir

There doesn't seem to be any single problem of great importance concerning College Council just now unless it would be the forth coming nominations and elections during March. In a very few weeks petitions will begin to circulate and now is the time to line up the possible candidates, plan campaigns, and encourage eligible people to enter in the race for community government offices.

Several times in the past years, candidates were too few, and many ineligible people were nominated. Being a member of College Council has its obligations, but it definitely offers a valuable experience which should carry over to adult life.

So let's begin thinking about student leaders for '55-'56, now! All you need is a 1.0 cumulative average and a 1.5 average for the last semester. Some of us don't fit into that category, but there are several hundred others who do!

Ed Siscoe has been appointed by the Council to edit the Pilot again next year. After the fine job he did last year, I'm sure we can count on an excellent Pilot again next September.

Mary Heatley and Carl Shively, Freshman representatives, and Bob Asby, Freshman President, were welcomed to the Council only a few weeks ago, but already they have taken an active interest in campus affairs. Mary now has the honor of representing her class in the popular "Coed of the Year" contest. Carl was appointed by President Connolley to represent our college at the annual Student Government Conference at the Indiana State Teachers campus on March 24, 25, 26. (Sally Stallone, Joanne Hester, and yours truly will also represent the Huskies, along with Dr. Herre). Bob has his hands full just now making final plans for "An Evening In Central Park," (or the Freshman Hop). And so... "Hats Off," to the Freshman officers... we wish them lots of luck with their first class sponsored dance. (Let's have a crowded dance floor for them on the 25th!)

College Library Secures Current Books on Travel

We young people who are fortunate enough to be in college are subject to at least one distinct disadvantage: we cannot travel physically to various parts of the world. Since travel can be a broadening experience, this physical curtailment may become a serious handicap. However, it need not be so because just a few steps from our door, we have a wealth of authoritatively interesting books which permit us to travel, and to savor the senses of people all over the globe. This is what is known as vicarious passage, a means which sometimes can be more profitable than the actual thing, because in these vicarious experiences we are guided by the mind and heart of the professional writer.

The college library's current book display, "Travel Through Reading," serves as a recommendation to us of some most stimulating current books on travel. Suggested for your information and pleasure are:

The Spanish Temper

by V. S. Pritchett

In The Spanish Temper, Pritchett describes, not only the Spanish landscape and environment, but the realities behind the life and thought of the people, as well. His analytical approach to Spanish politics, economics, religion, art, and literature vitalize on the printed page an exciting and captivating land. The former literary editor of The New Statesman and Nation unites the past and the present as he introduces to the reader the intellectual and the man on the street of today, as well as Don Juan, Don Quixote, and Sancho Panza of the past. A particularly excellent book for students of geography, history and Spanish.

A Window on Red Square

by Frank Rounds, Jr.

Frank Rounds, Jr., a former American attache at the United States Embassy in Moscow describes his eighteen months inside the mystery which lies behind a partitioned world. In this book, the author offers some fresh insights into the lives of the post-war Russians. Five Members of Faculty Attend Workshop Session

Five faculty members, Miss Edna J. Hazen, Director, Elementary Education; Miss Grace Woolworth, Kindergarten; Mrs. Iva Mae Beckley, Grade Two; Mrs. Ann Scott, Grade Four; and Mr. Russell F. Schleicher, Grade Five; attended a science-arithmetic workshop held for Elementary teachers, Friday, January 28. Eight leading education authorities conducted the workshop which was held for teachers grouped in each of the areas of kindergarten through grades 1 to 6. Along with gaining much help from the workshop, the faculty members enjoyed meeting B.S.T.C. graduates in Elementary Education, who are now teaching in Allentown schools. It was a great satisfaction, too, to hear from Superintendent John S. Cartwright and Assistant Superintendent Dr. Ethel McCormick that they like Bloomsburg's graduates very much. They are planning to come soon to interview more candidates. Among the recent graduates with whom our B.S.T.C. faculty talked were: Joan Greco, 1953; Marilyn Lundy, 1952; Irene Endler, 1953; Theresa Charney, 1953; Jean Meier, 1952; Renee Paul, 1947; Lorraine Utt Moyer, 1946; Helen Burlingame Pegg, 1951; Dorothy Johnson, 1943; Blodwen Edwards, 1948; Fred Dent, 1944; Charles Harmany, 1947; Robert Welliver, 1946, now principal of a new school building; and Mrs. Ann Northrup Riszhe, 1948, Elementary Supervisor at Emmaus.

as a sharp, probing tool which he chisels a record of an enthralling adventure in one of the most colorful countries on our planet. In The Big Tree of Mexico, Skeaping shares many rich incidents with his readers, including his search for a model in the revealing dance halls of Mexico City, and his reactions to vivid fireworks and gay feasts of the village. This book is illustrated with over thirty-five drawings and photographs by the author.

Great Adventures and Explorations

Edited by Vilhjalmur Stefansson

Oft times, explorers in history have been rebels—cold, ruthless, and unyielding—in their search for the fabulous treasures of wealth and glory. Edited by Vilhjalmur Stefansson, with maps designed by a foremost cartographer, Richard E. Harrison, Great Adventures and Explorations is a series of accounts from many lifetimes to the present, as told by the great explorers themselves.

Wrestling Comes to B.S.T.C. Campus

Contestants are Announced For Annual Obiter Coed Contest

The fifth annual Coed of the Year contest was officially launched with the announcement in Assembly on Thursday, February 3, of the contestants for the coveted title. Two girls will again represent each class, making a total of eight lovely coeds from which one will be chosen on the basis of beauty, poise, and personality to reign as queen.

An all-day election will be held several days before the Freshman Hop on Friday, February 25, at which time the winner will be announced. "In Central Park" last year's coed queen, Joan Christie, will also relinquish her throne to her successor.

The director of the OBITER Coed Contest is again Tom Higgins. Selection of the coed candidates was made by a committee of male students, including the Presidents and Man Representatives of the four classes, the President of Phi Sigma Pi, the Presidents of the Men Day and Dorm Association, the Editor-in-chief of the OBITER, and the President of C.G.A. Those on the committee were Arnie Garinger, Bob Cummins, Bob Evans, Bob Groover, Ken Weir, Ed Shustack, Bob Asby, Carl Shively, Tom Higgins, Joe Kinder, Ed Chase, Keith McKay, and Ed Connolly.

This year's election and crowning will be given radio coverage by the downtown stations and press coverage by the local newspaper. In addition to several gifts presented to her at her crowning, the coed queen will receive a full page picture in the 1955 edition of the OBITER.

uate level, if and when it is offered at Bloomsburg.

A total of 229 Bloomsburg alumni reported that they have been awarded graduate degrees since their graduation. Of that number, 186 are men and 43 are women. Those who have earned advanced degrees represent roughly one-half those who said they began graduate work.

The Class of 1947 holds the distinction of having the largest percentage of its members in the master's degree class—43 percent, but all six male graduates of the Class of 1944, who returned their questionnaires, hold graduate degrees—a record of 100 percent.

Bucknell University leads the list of institutions which granted master's degrees to Bloomsburg graduates, the Lewisburg institution having conferred graduate degrees on 76 B.S.T.C. alumni. Teachers College, Columbia University, is second with 27, while New York trails with 25 and the Pennsylvania State University is fourth with 20. In all, thirty American universities and colleges are represented on the list of institutions which Bloomsburg graduates have reported as having conferred on them master's degree.

College authorities have been studying the possibility of establishing a graduate program on a part-time and summer basis. A faculty committee headed by Clayton H. Hinkel is developing certain items of information concerning the demand for graduate work, and a postal card survey of the graduates of the institution as well as public school teachers in the college's service area will be made in order to determine how many would be interested in work at the graduate level on part-time and summer basis. Approval by the State Council of Education is necessary, however, before any graduate courses can be offered.

Profile of the Week

Since the arrival of one of BSTC's most personable young student teachers, rumor has it that the females at Berwick High School are really "up in the air." Hailing from St. Clair, this versatile and unassuming member of the Senior Class is President of the Men's Dormitory Association and has marked his career here at Bloom with honor upon honor. Needless to say, we're speaking of Joseph E. Kinder, or just "Joe" as he is known to his host of friends.

Joe's success dates way back to his high school days when he was winning laurels for St. Clair High. Being captain of his football team and an outstanding player on the baseball squad, Joe was presented with the Babe Ruth Award for good sportsmanship. In his Sophomore year, he displayed his leadership by being a class officer.

In September, 1951, Joe enrolled in the Business Curriculum at Bloomsburg and soon became engrossed in sports; namely, football and baseball. His second year on campus found him Vice-President of his Class and an active member of the Sophomore Dance and Business Contest Committees. In his Junior Year, Joe was entrusted with the important positions of treasurer of the Men's Dormitory Association and Co-chairman of the Junior Prom. Because of his friendly manner, he was placed on the Hospitality Committee that same year. This year, his responsibilities continue to mount. Joe is President of the Men's Dormitory Association, Co-chairman of the Obiter Advertising Committee, and he will serve as Chairman of the Senior Ball in May.

Joe's scholarship exemplifies the fact that he is a well-rounded individual. He is an active member of Phi Sigma Pi, the Varsity Club, and he serves his fellow-students well on College Council.

As for his future plans, along with his dreams of marriage and a home, Joe would like to continue his studies so that some day he may be the proud possessor of a Master's Degree. The students of BSTC wish the best of everything to Joe Kinder, a friendly ambitious, graduate-to-be, who certainly deserves much success and happiness.

ORCHIDS and ONIONS

by "Butch"

ORCHIDS to Oggy, not only for his noble assistance to the gal in our Telephone Hour, but for his brilliant interpretation of the announcements each Tuesday and Thursday in the Auditorium.

ONIONS to a certain Instructor for asking Al Miles what his Dad taught at Lehigh. (Does Al look that much like Jensen)?

ORCHIDS to the three hundred and seven guys and gals who turned out to hear the Vienna Boys' Choir. . . It was an exceptionally good program, wasn't it?

ONIONS to Don Carey, who tried to steal the show by stealing ORCHIDS from our column for his auditorium ad-libbing.

ORCHIDS to Emy and "Pork," 'cause it's been thirty-nine days that they've been steady dating.

ONIONS to a chubby little guy from Lock Haven. We still have hopes for ya' Chuck, but please. . . "MAKE WEIGHT!!!"

ORCHIDS to Haywood Henry for some of the best Clarinet we've heard in a long time. Max Kaminsky won't hold on to him for too long.

ONIONS to the "Dirty Bird Club" . . . for forming such an exclusive organization. The "Rinky Dinks" (class of '56), and the "Beaver Patrol" (class of '57), weren't nearly so rigid in their entrance exams.

ORCHIDS to Tommy (Jumpin' Jack) Welliver. We not only saw some fine wrestling but some expert showmanship at the Wilkes meet!!

ONIONS to Skip's roommate for that majestic melting masterpiece he built in Bobby Ebner's room on Sunday night. Yep . . . a smiling snowman in the center of the room. (You should have seen Ebner's shoes floating out the door!) ORCHIDS to "Tiger" Bob Poller . . . anyone who can continue to smile at an unwanted nickname deserves mentioning, at least!

ONIONS to anyone who missed the Jazz Concert, 'cause we know a lot of kids who had one great time. It has now been proved that such a daring adventure will pan out. Let's see that a similar performance is given next year.

What's Your Opinion?

Max Kaminsky and his Dixieland Band certainly added zest and excitement to the social life at B.S.T.C. Other than a jazz concert, what forms of entertainment or recreation would you like to have at B.S.T.C.?

Mary Grace: "I would like to hear some choruses, either college or professional, bands, or community sings. Gymnastic groups would provide an interesting opportunity for kids to prove their athletic ability — especially swimming."

Emmy Parks: "Something that I would enjoy watching is a hypnotist! Wouldn't you just die laughing at seeing someone like Oogie Kosloske hypnotized? There's nothing like an All College Variety Show. Numerous students with varied talents would certainly make a really worthwhile evening of entertainment."

Dick Connolly: "I think that the lounge should be made open a night and juke-box installed. This would provide all-around entertainment for everyone."

Bob Asby: "Upon talking with people that attended the jazz concert, I find that Max Kaminsky was well-liked and that we as students should try to promote more entertainment of this and other kinds."

TOP to TOE

BY TUCKY

With all the cold-cold weather we've been having recently you can see all our B.S.T.C.'ers donning their heaviest of coats and sweaters.

Speaking of coats, Rita Gydosh looks very attractive in her very different one with a black velvet top and grey wool skirt, giving the appearance of a dress.

Joan Rieder certainly wears her royal blue fitted coat with a full-skirt very well. An exceptionally unusual sailor type collar which comes up high in back and folds neatly down on Joanie is really attractive.

Wool jersey tops are very popular these days. Emy Park looks adorable in the palest of pink with tiny pearls and rhinestones around the scoop neck.

An attractive contrast of color on Judy Meyers and Carol Ely gave these two freshmen girls a special look. Judy wore a very pretty pink jersey and full blue skirt, while Carol looked equally as attractive in a rust color jersey and full green skirt. White blazers are another popular addition to the wardrobe. Marion Duriko and Muriel Neilson looked very neat in theirs with a red and grey design on the pocket.

Jeanne Crocker looks very petite in her charcoal grey suit with its yards and yards of skirt, fitted jacket and three-quarter-length sleeves. Jeanne tops her outfit with a pink satin ascot at the throat.

Getting dressed up for church on Sunday is usually an ordeal, but not for Sandy McBride and Marianne Angradi. Sandy contrasted her blonde hair and a very sweet black taffeta dress with a full skirt and square cut neckline. She added to its attractiveness with a white bolero jacket; a very nice combination.

Marianne looked very pretty in her slate blue silk acetate dress with a full skirt and sleeveless top with a square cut neckline. Her dress also has a matching fitted jacket with six covered buttons down the front, a peter pan collar and three quarter-length sleeves. On her collar, and cuffs tiny pearls and rhinestones add to an already attractive dress.

A welcome to the new freshmen and may I add, keep on sporting your warm winter clothes which add so many bright colors in contrast to our snowy campus.

Honor Roll of Hits

Spike Jones, aware that one must always keep changing one's repertoire, has added a "flea circus" to his troupe. A large screen will be used to magnify the antics of the fleas for the audience. Dogs will not be allowed in the audience. No salary fee was mentioned. Not too original!

Trumpeter, Shorty Rogers, on tour with Stan Kentons Festival of Modern Jazz, is getting ready for the year's baseball season. When he comes off the road he intends to wax an album entitled "World Series." The sides will carry such titles as "Safe At Home," "Hot Runs and Errors," "Homer Was Never Like This," "You're Out," "I Got To First Base," "Left On Second Blues" and "Kill the Umpire."

Chalk up another success for Jackie Gleason. One of his latest, "Tawny" is on the bestseller charts and "Music For Lovers Only" is still there after two years.

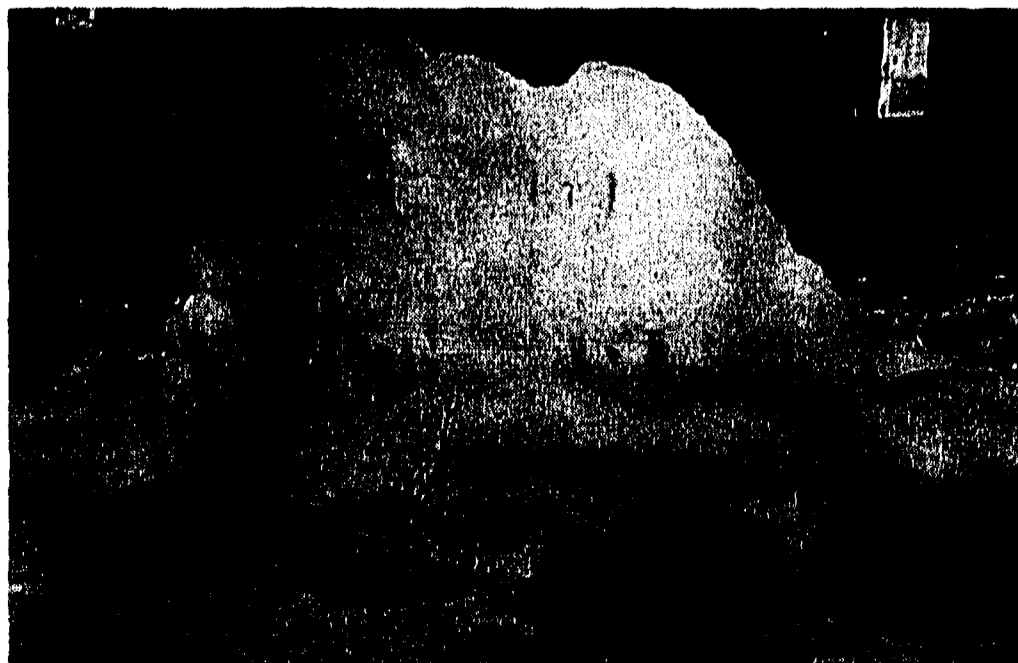

It is seldom that two songs of extensive popularity are found on the same recording. An exception to this rule, however, is the very popular "Earth Angel" by the Pelicans. The flip-side offers a very spicy tune entitled "HEY, SENORITA".

Another example of two-fold enjoyment on a single disc is "SINCERELY" and "NO MORE" as recorded by the very lovely and talented McGuire Sisters.

Nat "King" Cole offers his latest contribution to the recording audience entitled "THE SAND AND THE SEA".

Her nibs, Miss Georgia Gibbs, warbles a "crazy mixed-up" melody entitled "TWEEDLE DEE". The tune is certainly a trick one. However, I have still to find an appropriate adjective to describe the lyrics.

Jon! James certainly has what it takes to be a recording star! Practically every record that girl has cut in the last few years has acclaimed recognition in the honor roll of hits. Her latest waxing "HOW IMPORTANT CAN IT BE" is no exception!

Teacher Workshop Offered Here On Saturdays

Area teachers have been offered an opportunity to take Saturday morning classes on the campus of Bloomsburg State Teachers College, it was recently announced by John A. Hoch, Dean of Instruction. Dean Hoch said that workshops in Social Studies and Geography, and English and American Literature have been programmed for the second semester. Classes began Saturday morning, February 5th.

Mrs. Janet Engelhardt, formerly a teacher in the Muncy-Muncy Creek Senior High School, conducted the Literature Workshop, which met at 7:30 a.m. in Room 2, Noetling Hall. Three semester hours credit may be earned in English and American Literature, Children's Literature, and Recent Trends in Teaching English. Credits may be used towards permanent certification, extending or re-earning certification, or the degree of Bachelor of Science in Education.

Mr. Edward Barton, a member of the college faculty, conducted the workshop in Social Studies and Geography in Room E, Noetling Hall, at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. Three semester hours credit may be earned in History of United States and Pennsylvania, History of Civilization, Geography of the United States and Pennsylvania, and Teaching Social Studies in the Secondary School.

Anne Swortwood to Represent College For Mademoiselle

Pennsylvania State Teachers' College will be represented this year on Mademoiselle's national College Board by Anne Swortwood. She is one of the 700 students who competed with applicants from colleges all over the country to win a place on the Board, according to Mademoiselle.

As a College Board member, she will represent her campus and report to Mademoiselle on college life and the college scene. She will complete three assignments that will help her explore her interests and abilities in writing, editing, fashion, advertising or art, in competition for one of twenty Guest Editorships to be awarded by the magazine at the end of May.

The Guest Editors will be brought to New York for four weeks next June to help write, edit and illustrate Mademoiselle's 1955 August College Issue. Their transportation will be paid to and from New York and they will receive a regular salary for their work.

In addition to their work on the magazine, Guest Editors will interview outstanding men and women in their chosen fields to help clarify their career aims, will visit fashion showrooms, publishing houses and advertising agencies and will be Mademoiselle's guests in a round of party and theatre-going.

What's Your Opinion?

Musical entertainment is always enjoyable, as well as a good trapeze act is always liked by all. Now and then a good magician or a juggler is amusing, and there are always thrills, and laughs when a good hypnotist such as Mr. Ernst performs.

Why make a few people do all the work? Let's everybody support these drives for more social recreation.

College Students Actively Take Part In All Fellowships

Now that the students are adjusted to their new schedules, the church fellowships are planning new activities.

The Reformed Fellowship will feature a movie about problems of marriage at their next meeting on February 9. This is a follow-up of the discussions held during Religion-in-Life Week. The movie is one of a series of three. The members were guests of the young married couples Sunday School class at supper last Wednesday night. After supper, the class presented a hilarious mock wedding. This group plans to take orders for home-made Easter eggs and sell them in the dorms. This project was very successful last year.

Wesley Fellowship attended the Mixed Chorus concert in the Methodist Church on Sunday night, Feb. 6. They joined the members of the church in the final "family night" of the season. The men of the church served the supper. After this, the fellowship met as a group. Alan Eardley was in charge of the worship service. A filmstrip, "The Faith of a Guy," was shown. The Reverend Thomas Hopkins led the group in a discussion about the film. Since this fellowship has changed its meeting night to Tuesday, many more of the Methodist students should be free to attend.

Newman Club is planning a Pre-Lenten dance and party for Wednesday, Feb. 16. President Ronnie Kraffack appointed the following committees: Refreshments, Don Paralis, Kay Kehrl, Hubert Smoczynski; Cleanup, Bob Huntz, Mary Lou Thornton, Ed Siscoe; Program, Joan Christie, Oggie Kozloski; Publicity, Bernadine Butz, Helene Clark, Joe Kwak, Ed Siscoe. After the meeting, the members were taken on a tour of the new school. The officers were pleased with the attendance.

A Bible-study program was started by Knox Fellowship with an illustrated talk by the Rev. Varre Cummins. The group is studying the Bible as a whole viewed from key books of the scriptures. This meeting was held in the third floor lobby of the Hotel Magee. Pie and coffee were served. On Monday, Feb. 7, the fellowship attended a dinner meeting at the church. As a continuation of the Bible-study program now in progress, a film, "The Living Word," was shown. In the future a weekend retreat is planned which will provide a chance for fellowship while enjoying a few days in the country "away from it all."

The Lutheran Student Association had a sauerkraut supper on Monday night, Feb. 7 in the church's social rooms. At this meeting it was announced that the Lutheran Student Conference will be held at Buck Hill Falls on February 25, 26, 27.

The Canterbury Club has been having difficulty in getting organized because the minister has been ill.

Most of these church fellowships are very active and offer varied programs. They cordially invite all new students (and old ones, also) to join and take part in the meetings.

Darl Myers, and Mrs. Bettie Cobley. This brings the total of day women to eighty-four.

BSTC Students Mob Centennial to Hear Kaminsky Jazzmen

Enthusiastically accepted is the way in which Max Kaminsky's All Star Jazz Concert can be described here at Bloomsburg State Teachers College. The huge crowd of students and faculty gave Max Kaminsky, as he said, "the warmest welcome anywhere." Everyone enjoyed the dixie-land inspired music which kept feet tapping and hands clapping to the beat of the fast rhythm.

Max Kaminsky had a wonderful combination of all-stars who brought out the jazziest music from their instruments. Every instrumentalist came in during one or another of the songs to play a solo. The All-Stars consisted of a trumpet played by Max himself, a trombone, piano, drums, clarinet and bass. The combo presented a wide program of concert-style jazz music—some of which we knew quite well and some which Max introduced to many. Some of the numbers played were: "Basin Street Blues" and "St. Louis Blues," arranged in a steady Basin Street Tempo, and "Perdido" which also was given the same treatment. Max then gave us "The St. James Infirmary Blues," in which he proved his talent as a vocalist a la "Satchmo." As the thunderous applause subsided, a voice from the audience requested "Sunny Side of the Street" which Max then rendered. "Tenderly" was played in a true smooth fashion by the trombonist. Of course, no Jazz Concert would be complete without "When the Saints Come Marching In," and Max and his all stars obliged—much to the delight of the audience. "Muskrat Ramble" and "That's a Plenty," two popular tunes today, were played with that jazzy Kaminsky beat.

In taking a poll of the Freshman reaction to the Jazz Concert, this reporter received the following replies—"It sends me"—"Super Duper"—"Tee-riffic"—"Jazzy"—"Real Cagy"—"Real Gone"—"Cool" and "You can't hardly get them no more." And I think all of us here on the campus of B.S.T.C. feel the same way, so we take our hats off to the Social and Recreation Committee for bringing us The Max Kaminsky Jazz Concert.

Behind Closed Doors

by Ken Weir

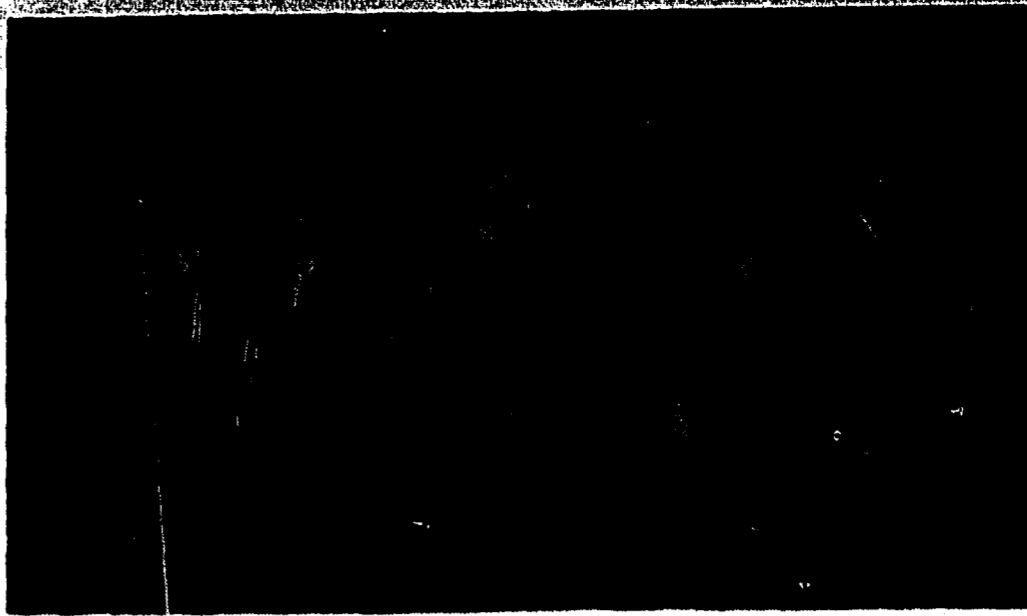

There doesn't seem to be any single problem of great importance concerning College Council just now unless it would be the forth coming nominations and elections during March. In a very few weeks petitions will begin to circulate and now is the time to line up the possible candidates, plan campaigns, and encourage eligible people to enter in the race for community government offices.

Several times in the past years, candidates were too few, and many ineligible people were nominated. Being a member of College Council has its obligations, but it definitely offers a valuable experience which should carry over to adult life.

So let's begin thinking about student leaders for '55-'56, now! All you need is a 1.0 cumulative average and a 1.5 average for the last semester. Some of us don't fit into that category, but there are several hundred others who do!

Ed Siscoe has been appointed by the Council to edit the Pilot again next year. After the fine job he did last year, I'm sure we can count on an excellent Pilot again next September.

Mary Heatley and Carl Shively, Freshman representatives, and Bob Asby, Freshman President, were welcomed to the Council only a few weeks ago, but already they have taken an active interest in campus affairs. Mary now has the honor of representing her class in the popular "Coed of the Year" contest. Carl was appointed by President Conolley to represent our college at the annual Student Government Conference at the Indiana State Teachers campus on March 24, 25, 26. (Sally Stallone, Joanne Hester, and yours truly will also represent the Huskies, along with Dr. Herre). Bob has his hands full just now making final plans for "An Evening In Central Park," (or the Freshman Hop). And so... "Hats Off," to the Freshman officers... we wish them lots of luck with their first class sponsored dance. (Let's have a crowded dance floor for them on the 25th!)

College Library Secures Current Books on Travel

We young people who are fortunate enough to be in college are subject to at least one distinct disadvantage: we cannot travel physically to various parts of the world. Since travel can be a broadening experience, this physical curtailment may become a serious handicap. However, it need not be so because just a few steps from our door, we have a wealth of authoritatively interesting books which permit us to travel, and to savor the senses of people all over the globe. This is what is known as vicarious passage, a means which sometimes can be more profitable than the actual thing, because in these vicarious experiences we are guided by the mind and heart of the professional writer.

The college library's current book display, "Travel Through Reading," serves as a recommendation to us of some most stimulating current books on travel. Suggested for your information and pleasure are:

It was a great satisfaction, too, to hear from Superintendent John S. Cartwright and Assistant Superintendent Dr. Ethel McCormick that they like Bloomsburg's graduates very much. They are planning to come soon to interview more candidates. Among the recent graduates with whom our B.S.T.C. faculty talked were: Joan Greco, 1953; Marilyn Lundy, 1952; Irene Endler, 1953; Theresa Charney, 1953; Jean Meier, 1952; Renee Paul, 1947; Lorraine Utt Moyer, 1946; Helen Burlingame Pegg, 1951; Dorothy Johnson, 1943; Blodwen Edwards, 1948; Fred Dent, 1944; Charles Harmany, 1947; Robert Welliver, 1946, now principal of a new school building; and Mrs. Ann Northrup Riszhe, 1948, Elementary Supervisor at Emmaus.

Great Adventures and Explorations
Vilhjalmur Stefansson

Often times, explorers in history have been rebels—cold, ruthless, and unyielding—in their search for the fabulous treasures of wealth and glory. Edited by Vilhjalmur Stefansson, with maps designed by a foremost cartographer, Richard E. Harrison, Great Adventures and Explorations is a series of accounts from many lifetimes to the present, as told by the great explorers themselves.

Huskies Suffer Upset at Hands Of Bald Eagles

In a complete reversal of form, the Bald Eagles of Lock Haven turned the tide on the high riding Bloomsburg Huskies by defeating the Shellymen by a 72-65 upset. The Huskies previously waffled the Center County tutors by an overwhelming score of 84-59.

In the earlier meeting the two teacher rivals, Coach Shelly was faced with the problem of holding the score down on the charges of Coach Darrell Black. But this meeting was a completely different story. The Locals had trouble in finding the range throughout the entire game, which was played at Lock Haven, in the first appearance of the Huskies in the second semester.

Lock Haven employed the services of only one new player, Kenny Albright, who along with Denny Dittman hit the cords for 23 points each. Albright wasn't on the Lock Haven playing roster during the first meeting of these two teams, but provided the difference with his one hand push shots from the outer part of the key.

The Husky sled was paced by Bobby Evans, who racked up nine goals from the field and one free throw for 19 points. The Coal Township pivot ace also led the all-important defensive rebound column, by snatching six of the twelve that the Huskies were able to garner from the Bald Eagle offensive boards. This was the fewest number of rebounds retrieved by the Huskies in the past three years.

Just behind Evans in the scoring department was steady Freddy Betz, Husky field captain. The senior guard hit six field goals and five for five from the charity toss line for a 17 point night.

This was the first game that the Lads from the Hill were forced to play without the services of Larry Bush and Sam Belle, two of Coach Shelly's strongest bench reserves. Bush and Belle withdrew from college because of academic difficulties. With the absence of these two outstanding reserves who won their monogram in their first two years at Bloom it forced Coach Shelly to call on frosh reserves, who need only to be tested under varsity fire. This was the second loss of the current campaign against six wins.

DRAMATIC CLUB

A meeting of the Bloomsburg Players was held on February 1, 1955 at 7:00 p.m., in Carver auditorium. The president, Anthony Aiello, presided.

Committees and their chairmen were appointed, for the play to be presented for the college community. The Properties Committee consists of John Sandler, Hazel Coleman and Nancy Homsher. Dan Kressler, Virginia Horne, Alvin Davis, Beverly Thomas, David Hines, Ed Braynock, Peggy Wilkinson, Margie Myers, and Barbara Brunner make up the Stage Committee. In charge of tickets is Mary Romig, while Judy Bolling takes care of make-up. Shirley Andre has charge of costumes. The prompters will be Deanna Morgan and Virginia Horne.

After the business meeting a workshop was held. Keith McKay and Joanne Hester were placed in a situation where, in a real production, it would be necessary to ad lib. Member of the club were urged to give them lines, to tell them how and where to move, and also to act as critics.

Huskies Stampede Cheyney Quintet In Centennial Gym

The Bloomsburg Huskies annexed their sixth victory of the current campaign, as they ran rampant over the Wolverenes of Cheyney State Teachers, by a 96-43 count, on Saturday, January 29, on the hardwoods of the Centennial Gym.

It was the Huskies' second victory over the charges of coach William O'Shields for the present schedule, and the six win in as many outings against the Chester county school since taking them on the cage calendar some three years ago.

In the previous meeting of these two high point getters, the Huskies came out on the long end of a 109-102 scoring mele. However, the Cheyney lads have been unable to score more than fifty points in any performance they have put on at the Centennial court. The inability for Wolverenes to hit on the massive den of the Huskies, is due largely to the fact that their home hardwoods are only a little over half as large as that of the Centennial Gym, and the size of the floor seem to take its toll on the men of O'Shields.

Coach Shelly used the entire Bloom bench, eleven in all, in the first appearance of the College Hill Lads at home during the new semester. All eleven got into the scoring column despite Shelly's efforts to keep the game from obtaining a one-sided scoring outcome. Cheyney played without the service of their big scoring punch, Bones Parker, who was sidelined with blisters. The last time the locals saw Parker he hit the hoops for 39 points.

Pacing the scoring for Bloom, who led in the game by as many as sixty points, was frosh Jim Gustave, in his debut as a varsity starter. Gustave, the Plains' jump shot artist, replaced Len Kozick as a starter owing to the fact that Kozick had been hospitalized with a broken nose. Gustave played his roll to the hilt, as he dumped 11 field goals before being ejected on personals.

Captain Fred Betz continued his hot scoring pace when he contributed eight field goals for a total of sixteen points. Betz, and the others of the first five saw limited duty because of the one-sided score.

Close behind Betz was the "Kane Kommet," Keith Weiser. The sharp shooting junior weighed in with seven field goals and a foul for fifteen points.

From the CLUB HOUSE

The first regular Science Club meeting for the second semester was held January 27, 1955 at 3:00 p.m. in Room K, Noetling Hall.

The new president Michael Homick took charge of the business meeting.

Program chairlady, Patricia Hartman, was in charge of the program. Three films were shown: "The Frog," "The Butterfly," and "The Honey Bee."

The next regular meeting will be held Thursday afternoon, February 10, 1955.

The regular meeting of the Student Christian Association was held January 19, 1955 in the Social Rooms of Science Hall.

Willard Snyder, president called the meeting to order and reminded the group that UNESCO Stamps were for sale. The money received from these stamps is sent to Korea for the improvement of their schools and also to buy new school supplies.

A short devotional service was held, including the reading of the scripture by Betty Lou Moyer. Following this, the movie "A Boy and His Prayers" was enjoyed by all. Then the meeting was adjourned.

The Student Christian Association held its regular meeting Wednesday, February 2, 1955 in the Social Rooms of Science Hall.

Mr. Hinkel, advisor, called the meeting to order, due to the absence of the officers. Following this Peggy Gerhart read the scripture and Margaret Wilkenson led the group in prayer.

Then Nancy Homsher introduced Mr. Howard Fenstermaker who gave a most interesting talk on the "Book of Acts." This was his second time he talked to the group and I am sure they would welcome him back soon again.

Since there wasn't any further business the meeting was adjourned.

The first meeting of Women's Chorus for the second semester was held on Tuesday, February 1, at 4 p.m. in Room 33 of Science Hall. New members were welcomed by the director, Mrs. Evans. The meeting served as a practice period for the group.

The regular meeting of Kappa Delta Pi was held January 18, in the social rooms of science hall.

During the business meeting, delegates were chosen to represent the Bloomsburg chapter at a conference to be held in Buffalo, New York, March 5. The delegates are: Grace Histed, Sally Morgan, Janice Bower, Alice Fisher, and Edward Siscoe.

Miss Edna J. Barnes showed slides on her trip to South America and also souvenirs which she obtained there.

The Business Education Club held its first meeting of the second semester on Thursday, February 3, in Navy Hall Auditorium.

Reverend Varre A. Cummins, pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Bloomsburg, spoke to the club members on the subject of Marriage. He stated that marriage is merely a partnership between husband and wife, in which they share all that they are and all that they have. Problems arising from this partnership were also mentioned, however, unfaithfulness, religion, disagreements regarding rearing of children, in-law, financial and drinking problems seem to be prevalent. Many of these develop from trivial areas of disagreement to very serious hardship because most people do not feel free to take their troubles to others.

Several tips and questions were given on how you can prepare in advance to avoid marital problems.

A meeting of Alpha Psi Omega, the dramatic fraternity, was held on Tuesday, February 1, 1955. Judith Bolling was elected president, to take the place of Sherrill Hiller, who is student teaching this semester.

A committee consisting of Elizabeth Adams and Glenna Gebhard was appointed to take care of properties to be used during the initiation of new members on February 9. Another committee including Judy Bolling, Doyle Lynn, and Wylla Mae Bowman was appointed to take charge of the initiation ceremony.

It was decided that the members of the organization would go to New York City on March 12, 1955, to see the musical comedy, "Pajama Game."

The meeting was then adjourned.

Bloomsburg Writers Series:

Dr. Cecil Seronsy

During the Renaissance the teachers spurred their pupils on by emphasizing the fact that learning is a pleasure.

If you have ever had a class with Dr. Cecil Seronsy, you undoubtedly know that this is one of his main objectives—to make learning a pleasure. Perhaps, it is the pleasure the student derives from listening to Dr. Seronsy's interpretations of the great works of literature. Dr. Seronsy, professor of English at B.S.T.C., and our Bloomsburg Writer of the week, possesses many more qualities, which are exemplified by his contributions in the writing field.

A native of Youngstown, Ohio, Dr. Seronsy received his early education there. He received his B.A. from the University of Virginia, and then for a short time attended Ohio State University. During this time in Ohio, Dr. Seronsy taught in high school for eight years. He then attended the University of Chicago and obtained his Master's Degree and Ph.D. at Harvard University.

During this period, Dr. Seronsy taught for several years at Purdue University, Northeastern University at Boston, and for a while was a Teaching Fellow in general education at Harvard University. He came to B.S.T.C. in January, 1953.

Dr. Seronsy revealed that he is especially interested in the poetry and prose of the Renaissance. His Doctoral Thesis consisted of a series of studies in an Elizabethan poet—Samuel Daniel. Dr. Seronsy has no special preferences in reading; he likes a variety of types along with literary criticism and poetry.

When asked his favorite author, Dr. Seronsy meditated awhile and revealed, "I find it impossible to single out any one author or work as a "favorite" because so very much of the literature of the world is rich."

Dr. Seronsy holds memberships in the Modern Language Association of America, The American Association of University Professors, and The National Education Association.

Classified under hobbies, Dr. Seronsy admitted a liking for good conversation, picnicing and gardening—but not flower gardening.

This brilliant man, whom B.S.T.C. is proud to claim as a faculty member, has had numerous articles and notes published principally in the learned journals. Dr. Seronsy has several other articles that are soon to be published and he is also planning the publication of a book on Elizabethan Narrative Poetry.

Professor Seronsy's numerous works include, "Daniel and Milton" published in Notes and Queries in 1952. Also published in Notes and Queries in 1953 were, "A Skeltonic Passage in Ben Jonson" and "Dryden and Belinda's Loilet."

In the 1953 edition of The Harvard Library Bulletin Dr. Seronsy's "Coleridge Marginalia in Lamb's Copy of Daniel's Poetical Works" appeared. Also, in 1953 Dr. Seronsy's interpretations included: "Daniel's Panegyric and the Earl of Hertford" in the Philological Quarterly; "Daniel's Manuscript 'Civil Wars'" in the Journal of English and German Philology, and "Wordsworth's Annotations in Daniel's Poetical Works" in Modern Language Notes in which Dr. Seronsy tells the public of Wordsworth's attraction to the poetry of Daniel.

In the Shakespeare Quarterly of 1953 "Dekker and Falstaff," Dr. Seronsy finds it remarkable that Dekker's The Wonderful Year offers some descriptive details that are reminiscent of the famous robber scene in Shakespeare's Henry IV.

In 1954 in Notes and Queries appeared "Nathaniel Ward and Izaak Walton" and in Studies in Philology there appeared "Marginalia by Coleridge in Three of His Published Works."

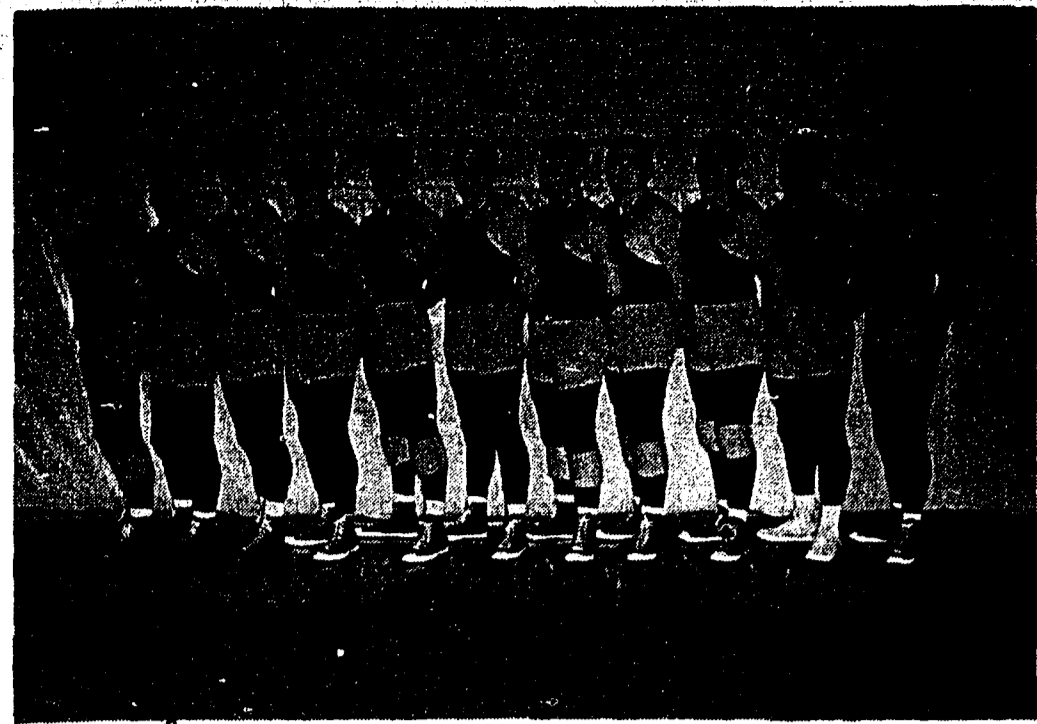

The works of Dr. Seronsy express the genius and versatility of an exceptionally brilliant man. We are certainly proud to have him as a faculty member of B.S.T.C.

Art Students of B.S.T.C. Decorate Bulletin Boards

Students in Mr. Herberholz's college course, "Teaching Art in the Elementary Grades," are solving a practical problem of teachers. They have taken on the task of filling the large bulletin board on the first floor of the Benjamin Franklin School. The class is divided into groups who will be responsible for doing this. Hitherto children have displayed their work here. Each grade, with the help of the teacher, planned what would be placed on this board. Imagine their surprise and delight to find someone else had done it.

Husky Grapplers Bow to Strength Of Golden Rams

West Chester's Golden Rams continue their athletic supremacy over the Bloomsburg Husky by shutting out the newly organized wrestling team by twenty-six to nothing score at the Chester County college. The charges of Coach Jack Yohe made a better showing than the score indicates and in losing to the phys-ed majors made a very good accounting of themselves. Bloomsburg will meet West Chester in another mat encounter that is scheduled for the 17th of February.

Chuck Kuntz, Yohe's 123 pound entry dropped a 4-2 decision to Ed Forseythe in the opening match of the evening.

Jimmy Bohner the Rams fast moving 130 pounder took Kenny Lynn over with a take-down that was good for two, a perdiciment for another point and a reversal that added still another two points. Time was also credited to Bohner and West Chester now led in the meet by a 6-0 score.

In the 137 pound division Bill Troiani managed four escapes but Mike Miconi put together 14 points for his own cause to take the 137 pound match.

Bloomsburg's one big hope of the evening was their captain, Red Welliver who gave a good account of himself for the first two periods, and held a commanding 2-1 lead with less than one minute in the match. At this point his worthy opponent John Pescatello made a perdiciment and a three point near-fall to take the 147 pound decision.

Bill Corcoran dropped the 157 pound honors to Bob Hoffman by a 4-2 score. Hoffman scored on an escape, a two point reversal and a final point for a time advantage.

Chuck Reyner took Bob Asby over 8-3 in the 167 pound tilt. Reyner was one of the best wrestlers that has come up against a Bloom matman thus far.

The 177 pound raucous went to West Chester's Ken McLane in a shut out fashion 4-0. McLane got an escape, a two point take-down and a point for time advantage.

Big Harry Hughes ran into trouble after he jumped out in front of Kenny Ober 2-1 in the opening stanza, the lead was short lived however, because Ober, a great football guard for the Rams fought back and managed to pin Harry with only six seconds remaining in the opening period.

Men's Intramural Basketball Now Under Full Steam

Men's Intramural Basketball got off to a good start with Al Tucker as Commissioner for this season, and Dr. Paul Wagner, newly named baseball coach, continuing in his position as faculty sponsor.

Commissioner Tucker has compiled the following team standings, including the game played on Monday, February 7, except the one between the Weavers and the Greeks:

Teams	W.	L.	Pct.
Saints	3	0	1000
Greeks	2	0	1000
Weavers	2	0	1000
Whiz Kids	2	1	.667
Coal Crackers	2	1	.667
Unknowns	1	1	.500
Vets	1	1	.500
Mighty Mites	1	1	.500
Sharples	1	1	.500

East Stroudsburg Indians Suppress Husky Mat Squad

One of the best showings to date made by the newly instituted wrestling teams was made on January 26, when the Yoheman traveled to East Stroudsburg and fell short in a 16-11 effort.

The loss was the third of the season for the Huskies, and again they were victims of a time-tested mat crew, seasoned with experience. Coach Yohe in an effort to build a strong team for the future has been wrestling five freshman in the first eight, which should prove to be a strong nucleus after meet experience takes its tolls.

In the opening bout of the afternoon meet, Allen Nuss wrestled in the 123-pound decision and met with a strong Stroud opponent, Vic Petrino. Petrino took Nuss in one minute and forty seconds for the first five points.

The 130 pound class pitted Sal Everts for Stroudsburg and Kenny Lynn for Bloom. This match was a see-saw affair that saw Lynn leading through the first two periods, Everts, in the third period, caught up to end the match in a five-five tie. Score was Stroud 7, Bloom 2.

Bill Troiani, another Bloom frosh, suffered a close decision when he lost two to nothing to Marsh Bogar in the 137 pound tussle.

Husky captain, Tom "Red" Welliver, had an easy time in taking his 147 pound Stroudsburg counterpart, Harry Nuskin, by a 7-2 tabulation. Nuskin was held scoreless to the third period when he managed two escapes from the clever Welliver.

In the 157 pound battle Bill Dentith was complete master of the situation as he took Bloomsburg's Bill Corcoran to task by a six to nothing final reading.

Freshman Bob Asby showed he has learned his lesson well in his first-year of wrestling as he led Hank Hayes all the way in a close 167 pound decision that went to Bloomsburg. At this point Bloom trailed 13-8 and still had a slim chance to take the whole show.

The match was decided as Bill Shaw took Don Wise in a 9-5 interesting 177 pound duel. The match was decided when Shaw got take downs in the first and second periods. Wise fought back with two reversals in the final period but it was too late.

In the heavy weight classic the Huskies' Harry Hughes proved to be too much for Strouds' giant Wally Cox. Hughes scored an easy shut-out decision. Final score was Stroudsburg 16, Bloom 11.

Potatoes, Greyhounds, Shakey Club, Phantoms, Fordhams, and Arabs.

The League's leading scorers, excluding the Monday night contests, are as follows: Gergen 34, Garinger 28, Abazinskas 27, Zachowski 22, Trivelpiece 20, Young 19, Rykniec, Shustak, Mielke, and Brassington each have 18 points. Monday night's games saw the Coal Crackers defeat the Unknowns by a score of 48-28. The Vets won by forfeit from the Shakey Club when the players of the latter team failed to show. The game of the evening saw the Whiz Kids falter in an overtime period of 3 minutes to last season's league winners, The Saints, with a final score of 32 to 30. Another deciding game, the one between the Greeks and the Weavers was not over in time for this release.

For good basketball, and lots of fun and excitement, why not go to Centennial on Monday nights?

BSTC Matmen Lose to Wilkes In Local Gym

An enthused crowd was on hand to greet the Huskie grapplers in their return to Centennial Gym. It was the fourth start for the winless locals who have been unable, as yet, to produce a winning combination. Coach Yohe had hopes of turning the tide against the visiting Wilkes College matmen but again the falls were against him and the Huskies as the final score read 19-13 in favor of the Valley lads.

Bloomsburg's Harry Kuntz was again unable to make the weight at 123 pounds and forfeited his match to Samuel Sugar of Plymouth. They wrestled an exhibition match in which Chuck looked the stronger man, but the visitor proved to be the quicker and pinned Kuntz in the second period.

The second match, between Kenny Lynn and Bob Morgan, saw another pin with the up river Colonel on top. This victory gave Wilkes a 10-0 lead which proved too much for the Huskies to overtake.

Bill Troiani gave a good account of himself in the 137 pound class but it was not enough to overpower the smooth visitor who gained the decision and a 13-0 advantage for his team.

Bloomsburg first points were registered by Captain Red Welliver who outclassed Ahmed Kazimi, a student from the Trans-Jordan. It was Red's speed and skill that enabled him to pin his opponent in 1 minute and 40 seconds. Welliver used a half-nelson and crotch hold to do the trick.

One of the most thrilling matches of the evening was witnessed in 157 pound tussel between Charles Abenmoha of Bloom and Don Mcfadden. Abe gained the lead but Mcfadden soon tied the score on a reversal. Abe, who has improved since the beginning of the season, wrestled hard and was able to make a quick reversal as the buzzer sounded ending the second period. The match ended the score tied at seven each but the referee awarded the decision to Mcfadden on time advantage. This victory boosted the Colonel lead to 16-5.

Bloomsburg could still win the meet by gaining two falls and a decision or tie two with decisions and a fall.

Bob Asby did his best for the Huskie cause in a see-saw contest but the visiting grappler eked out a close 8-6 win. Bob was injured in the final period which hampered him the closing minutes.

Porky Wise, another improved Yohemen, went to work immediately in gaining a decisive 4-0 victory in the semi-windup. The win boosted the Huskie point total and made the score read 19-8 Wilkes.

The heavyweight finale brought the crowd to its feet as Bloomsburg's most consistent winner, Harry Hughes, turned in the fastest pin of the evening. He did it with a neat crotch-half-nelson hold in one minute flat. The five points were not enough to overcome the Colonels, who posted a 19-13 victory.

It was obvious that the boys have worked hard and it is impossible for victory to evade the Yohemen much longer, if they continue to improve.

SPORTS SCUTTLEBUTT

by BILL BITNER

FINAL FOOTBALL TRIBUTE TO BE PAID TO SIX GRID SENIORS

... On the 22 of February, Jack Yohe will award the six graduating seniors the schools last reward for four years of athletic service to Bloomsburg teams. So as the last applause dies out and awards are in the hands of their worthy recipients, four seniors will have the highest tribute the college pays to the men who served them well on the grid-iron. The cheers and applause are short lived, but the compensation must surely lie in the fond memories. Of the six graduating seniors four will receive the Gold Key which is symbolic of four years of varsity service. Those to receive this award are Eddie Connolley, John Panichello, Don Thomas, and Charlie Pope. For three years of varsity competition the school awards a Gold Football. The two senior co-captains, Bob Cumens and Tom Persing will both receive this tribute. Others slated to receive the three year old charm will be juniors Bobby Groover, Jim Browning, Chuck Skiptunas, Mike Lashendock, Alex Boychuck, and managers Arnie Garinger and Tom Higgins.

After two years of varsity play, which includes a minimum of 17 quarters during each football season, the familiar maroon sweater with the two gold stripes becomes the usable trophy. Those to receive this award are Bobby Dipipi, Harry Hughes, Frank Kaminski, Joe Kwak, Chuck Casper, Harv Bougher, Bob Stroup, and Dick Strine.

The varsity "B" the initial monogram of course is the one year award for the 17 quarters. Chick DeFebo, George Chaump, Dave Johns, Bob Asby, Ed Watts, Irv Alexander, Don Bohensky, Joe Wascavage, Mo Morson, and Joe Malczyk will garner this first year award.

Coach Yohe has also made it known that the football team will be treated on the 24th of February to the annual football banquet, which will be held at Buck Horn. The order of the evening will be no speeches, just plenty of turkey.

Shellymen Come Through to Win First Half Final

The charges of Coach Harold Shelly traveled to Mansfield ready for most anything, and for the first half of the game saw just what they expected, plenty of trouble from the Mountaineers. But the outcome saw the Husky side of the scoreboard showing 84 points against only 55 for the host Mansfield team.

The game, which was the last scheduled encounter for the locals until after the start of the second semester, gave the team a five win, one loss record to date. This victory, however was made even sweeter because of the revenge element that was added to the plot. It seems that the Mountaineers turned the boys from the Hill back in last season's finale, and this marked the first time in many moons that a Mansfield team was able to take a Bloom team to task in any sport.

The Dallas Dandy, Len Kozick pointed the way for the Huskies in the scoring department by hitting the hoops nine times from the field, and then added two free tosses for a banner night of twenty points.

Right on the heels of Kozick was the Kane sharpshooter Keith Welsler, who had another one of his amazing shooting performances when he made nine out of twelve shots from the field and for good measure added one for one in the free throw column.

At the end of the first half the Huskies had their hands full in a nip and tuck game which saw the biggest margin established when the two teams left the floor for the first half break. Score then was 40-33 in favor of the College Hill cagers. Rebounding was the first half plague of the Huskies but this was remedied in the first ten minutes of the second-half, when big Bob Evans started controlling both boards with a lot of help coming from Mo Morson. This ten minutes was probably the best ball the locals have played in recent years.

Kings Revenge Loss to Huskies

The Bloomsburg Huskies fell prey to the Monarchs of Kings College last Saturday night at the Kingston Central Catholic High School floor by a 84-74 score. This represented a revenge for the Monarchs as they were victims of the Shellymen in the seasons' opener at the Centennial Gym, in a game that saw the locals post a one-sided 19 point victory margin.

The first half was all Bloomsburg. The boys from the Friendly College never were behind and when the buzzer sounded for the half the Huskies were enjoying a seven point advantage.

The first ten minutes of the second half were some-what of a nightmare for the charges of Coach Harold Shelly as they were able to post only three points. Kings took advantage of the weak Bloom offensive and jumped to a seven point lead. From this point the two teams battled on a fairly even keel until with one minute to go Fred Betz made a foul shot that put the Husky cause to within three points of the Monarchs. This was the last and fatal gasp for the air of victory by the Shellymen, Kings wasn't to be denied. The need for possession of the ball forced the Centennial cagers to press and in doing so they fouled Kings in what seemed to be an endless stream of free throws during the last minute of play.

It was Betz who pointed the way again for the Huskies in the scoring department, by posting nine goals from the field and four from the charity line for 22 points. Betz hit with amazing accuracy from the outside all evening, and in making nine field goals he shot only twenty times for a percentage of 45%.

Len Kozick, a Wilkes-Barre area product gave the Valley fans a good showing despite the fact he was forced to play with a mask to protect his broken nose of a week ago. Kozick hit the score books with eight goals and two fouls for eighteen points.

Hilltop Hi-lites

by Suzy Hughes and Evie Gilchrist

Well, kiddies, by this time we're all settled down to a long semester. Once again we're all suffering from lack of sleep, and lack of mercy on the part of our—and we say the word with reverence—teachers.

By this time the upperclassmen have started to get over the stiff necks they acquired from stretching to see the new occupants of the once empty balcony seats.

The student teachers are in the swing of things and have become the center of attraction for all the little brownies. It's rumored that Ruthie Gillman has already been given a small token of affection from one of her kiddies—a cement block!

If you see any B.S.T.C. students studying dictionaries, don't be alarmed. They're not trying to break any curves; they're just trying to beat the all time high in Scrabble. Who knows, we may even increase our wee vocabs. This is also a good remedy for loneliness. We hear that Dotty Barnes is thinking of buying Harvey Boughner a set for Valentine's Day.

Speaking of loneliness, Shirl Seiler and Dick Hurtt have so much to talk about that they overwork the Williamsport and Bloomsburg mailmen between weekends. Is this one of the reasons for post office congestion?

No Graeber! Don't hit us! We'll mention your name..... Joanne Graeber. (Hope we spelled it right or she'll never forgive us.)

Chic DeFebo seems to have charmed the little blonde waitress at the Grille. At any rate, she only charged him a quarter for a bacon, lettuce, and tomato sandwich. Chic, what those calories are doing to your figure! How about letting Jim Nicholas in on your secret. He could use it from his nose to his toes. Maybe if the Grille had waiters instead of waitresses, Corinne wouldn't have malnutrition, and we wouldn't be writing this column.

The next time the little night watchman shines his light in your car and says, "You can't park here," tell him you're studying the constellations for your Elementary Science class. Please send all thank-you notes to Mrs. Beeman for this perfect excuse for "star gazing."

Speaking of excuses, can the guys use cold weather as an excuse for the lids they're wearing around campus? What's next—earmuffs and red woolies?!? If worse comes to worse, maybe Sandy McBride will lend you the pair she found in the lounge. Did one of our students lose these?

True, the pride o' Scotland was a shinin' i' the eyes o' Don MacLean and Bill Ambrose as they took in every word spoken by MacDonald and McGregor. And oh those cool, cool, bagpipes—'twas like heaven on earth for those two laddies. Ya just can't hardly get assemblies like that no more! That show affected them like Max Kaminsky and his boys affected the jazz fans. Some of our own guys assisted Max in adding local color to the concert.
