Eagle Plume Dons Indian Garb Before BSTC Assemblage

Mr. Charles Eagle Plume, member of the Blackfoot Indian Tribe in Montana, spoke in assembly, March 15, 1956. He is also a graduate of the University of Colorado where he earned his degree in anthropology. Eagle Plume's theme was that of developing and fostering better racial relations.

Attired in the costume of the Blackfoot, Eagle Plume created a colorful and unusual appearance. An eye-catching headdress consisted of two white black-tipped eagle feathers. To insure protection against the magical powers of the "enemy", he wore a breastplate of deer shinbone.

Eagle Plume continued to explain that the apron-like loin cloth which he wore was embroidered by hand with thousands of tiny beads secured by the Indian women from the traders. His deer-hide leggings were made separately for each leg, and the jingling sleigh bells he wore were for the purpose of keeping time as he danced.

Eagle Plume also demonstrated and sang several types of Indian dances, including a hunting dance.

Turning to a more serious vein, Eagle Plume referred to American History, establishing the fact that many points of similarity exist between the Constitution of the United States and that of the Iroquois Confederacy.

Clarice Shows New Trends in Head Gear

"Hats by Clarice" was the topic Monday evening, March 12, 1956 in Science Hall. Clarice, a well-known hat designer from this area, presented a very unusual as well as entertaining program.

Wisely chosen from the audience, Kaki Crew as model was effective in showing the proper styles for the various face and head shapes. Whether it be for an oval, oblong, triangle, square or round face, Clarice had a hat especially for each. Chosen from the audience to model these different creations were Barbara Raski, Tina Valente, Joan Reider and Barbie Lentz.

With a flower taken off here, a ribbon added there and a slight bend of the brim, Clarice produced various striking effects.

As for today's trend in millinery, the "heavy look" was stressed. Hats are larger and placed forward, covering most of the forehead with about one and one-half inches between the arch of the eyebrow and the brim of the hat. We might add a note of interest for the girls with a high forehead. Clarice stated that you may be proud of your high forehead, it shows distinction! And you can always wear hats well.

There are certain hat styles which always remain in the height of fashion. Very popular this Easter will be the sailor brim, with navy and beige as the exceptionally popular colors. In choosing your new Easter bonnet, be sure to look for the hat that compliments you, and not only because it is in "style".

"The Corn Is Green" Well Received

Touring Players Inc., considered the most vital theater organization in America, presented the drama, "The Corn Is Green" to an enchanted audience of students, faculty, and townspeople at Carver Auditorium Tuesday, March 20. The play, written by Emyln Williams, a Welsh playwright and actor, was of special interest to BSTC students because its theme hit doubly hard at home—teachers and coal mining.

A school teacher, Miss Moffat, goes to a Welsh mining town, starts a school for the underprivileged miners, and there discovers a young genius among the crude colliers. The author's main interest seems to be in character analysis rather than plot or action.

"The Corn Is Green" was given in three acts and required the excellent and talented performance of ten men, five women, plus the extras.

Juniors Formulate Plans for Prom

On Friday, the Thirteenth of April, all the "Ghouls and Witches" of BSTC will climb College Hill to attend the Junior Class' version of the "Sorcerer's Ball."

Music for the affair will be supplied by the "Swinging Creeps" of Jerry Remley.

This dance promises to be one of the highlights of the Spring social season here at the Friendly College.

Helping "Tanker" Joe with this wild "Sorcerer's Ball" will be the following Committee Chairmen: Publicity, Barbara Tuckwood; Invitations, Ella Johnson; Decorations, Joe Specht and Joe Graeber; Tickets, Bill Snyder and Shirley Seiler; Dance Program, Joe Garcia and Lynda Firmstone; Refreshments, Mary Jane Miller and Jack Phillips.

Five Candidates Wind Up Campaign with Speeches

The 1956 campaign drew to an end on Tuesday in assembly when the presidential and vice-presidential candidates presented their pre-election speeches. Bob Evans, this year's President of College Council, told the student body that the Constitution of the Community Government Association specifies that each candidate for president and vice-president should make a speech before the college community. Evans also introduced each candidate in turn.

Presidential candidate, Evelyn Gilchrist, a business student from Pottsville, was the first to speak. Evie, one of the few women to ever be nominated for this office, expressed her appreciation for the nomination. She has been a very active member of the college community for the past three years, serving as Editor of this year's OLYMPIAN and acting on various committees.

William Kautz, a secondary student from Harrisburg, pointed out that "it is your duty and obligation to choose your president wisely." Bill has been both a dorm and a day student, and therefore is familiar with the problems of both groups. He promised to inform the college community accurately of affairs of College Council, so that the best interests of all will be served. Bill has served as a member of a student government association elsewhere and as an officer of a civic association.

Lenard Kozick, a Junior secondary student from Dallas, emphasized the necessity for teamwork in community government. He pointed out the limitations of the office of president, but also stated that it had great possibilities. Len has served in the capacity of Fire Chairman and is an outstanding member of the Husky Basketball Squad.

Candidate for vice-president of the C.G.A., George Chaump, is a secondary student from West Pittston. George pointed out that a student government is only as good as its leaders. He stated that without the students' co-operation, the most important word in Community Government Association—Community—loses its meaning.

Luther Natter, an elementary student from Phoenixville, was the second candidate to speak for the office of vice-president. Luther, a transfer student, was greatly impressed by the spirit of campaigning and general interest in government here on campus. In his appeal for votes, Lu emphasized the fact that we should exercise our right to vote.

Mock Interviews Featured at FTA

The Future Teachers of America met at four o'clock, on March 14, in the Carver Hall Auditorium.

The vice-president, Jackie Albert, was in charge of the meeting. The secretary, Rosalind Verrona gave her report and this was followed by Joan DeOrio's treasury report.

It was decided that the officers and the advisors ought to pick the delegates to attend the state convention to be held at Millersville State Teachers College. The advisors and officers will also decide the amount of money to be used for this purpose.

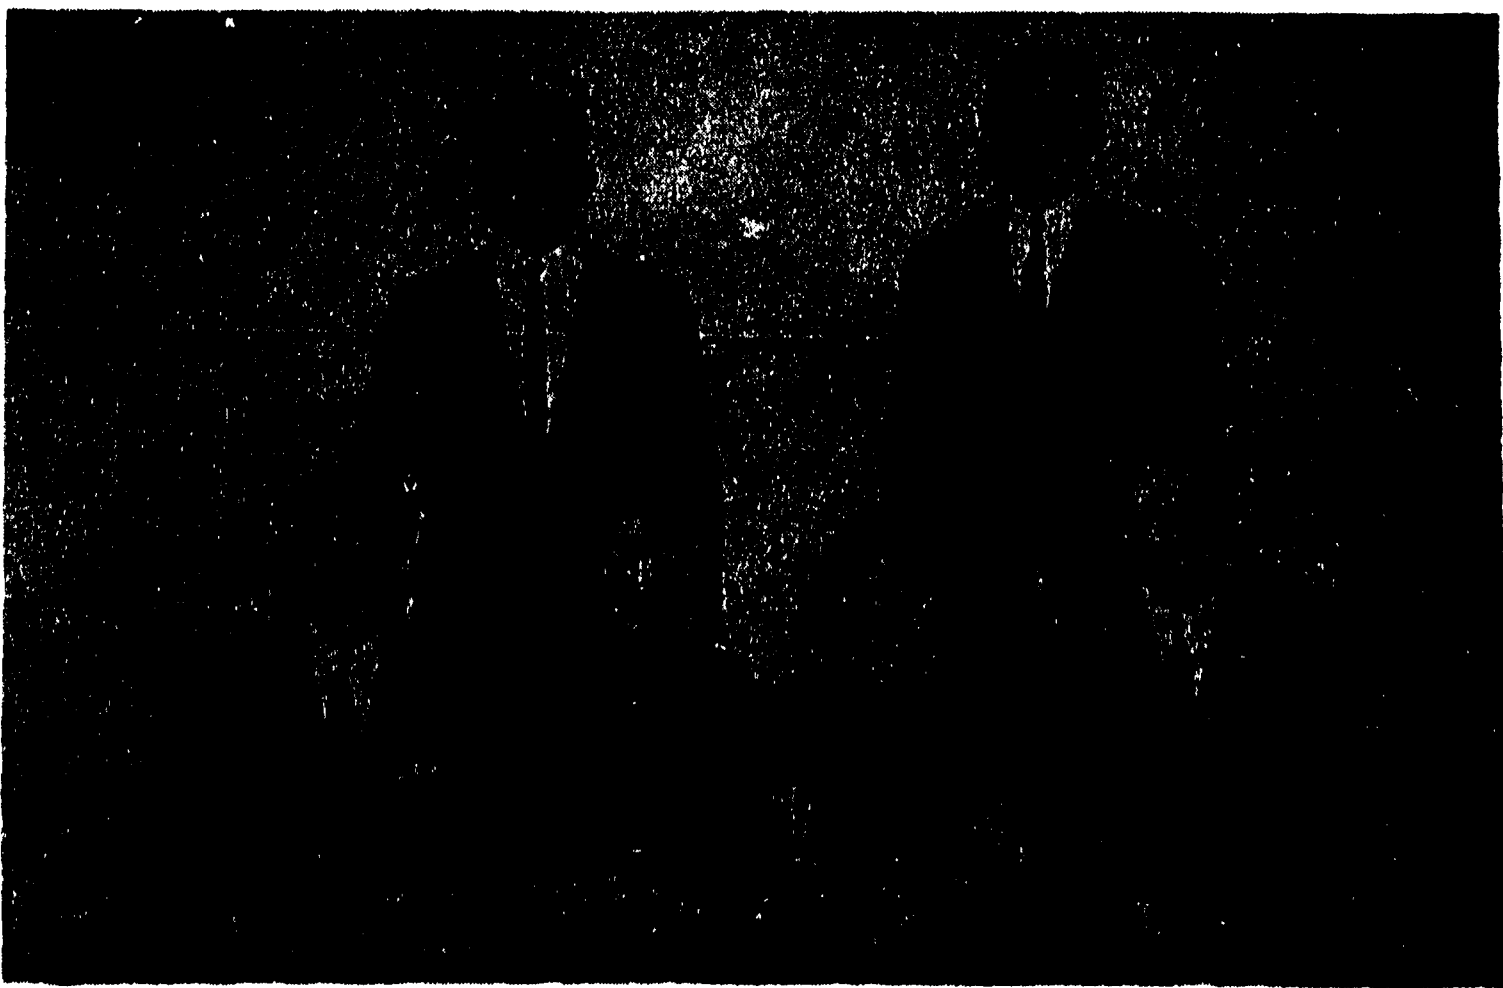

The Vice-president then introduced the program chairman, Jean Zimmerman. Miss Zimmerman announced that the program for the day would be interviews for teaching positions. The interviews were unrehearsed and exactly as they would be in the actual situation.

The first interviewer, Mr. Jones, from Scott Township, interviewed Miss Martha Starvatow, a senior in the elementary curriculum. The second interviewer, Mr. Williamie from Millville, interviewed Mr. William Phillips, a senior in the secondary curriculum.

The advisor, Dr. Englehardt,

EACH OF YOU HAS WON

A visitor to our college last weekend was amazed at our spirit on campus over the current elections. "Why", he remarked, "you people have more spirit than Macy's at Christmas!"

How true this was, for during the past three weeks the interest and co-operation has been unusually outstanding. The spark of interest was ignited on the day of nominations for C.G.A. officers in assembly and grew steadily through your efforts into a blaze of suspense, ending with the final election results. The gay campaign slogans and colorful posters backing your favorite candidate did much toward creating a real political spirit. We congratulate the campaign managers and appreciate their ingenuity. It was their hard work that motivated the college community to participate so actively in the election. This type of co-operation goes far toward developing self-sufficient citizens.

If all our campus activities were supported by such enthusiasm and were followed by such a great number, a more intense feeling of continuity would be developed—not only among the students, but between students and faculty.

Too often groups and individuals are criticized for lack of interest, lack of co-operation, or lack of participation and appropriate reactions; however, here we have a situation where all of these factors were met with ardent vigor. Commendations are in order to you, the student body, for arousing defunct interest in your government.

If your favorite candidate is now an officer on the 1956-57 College Council, you undoubtedly feel a sense of victory—a knowledge of a job well done. If your candidate was defeated you should still have this feeling of achievement—for you have done your part in creating unity on campus. You have made BSTC a living example of democracy!

VETERAN'S PIPELINE . . . by RICHARD MEASE

Veterans—able-bodied and disabled alike—may have had a tough time getting into the swing of things immediately after World War II, but right now they're financially better off than non-veterans. According to a Veterans Administration study, the average veteran is earning $500 more a year than the average non-veteran.

Even more astounding is the fact that the average disabled veteran earns more than his able-bodied counterpart. The reason for this seems to be that over 650,000 disabled veterans have had specialized vocational training, and of these who completed their courses, 95 out of every 100 are employed.

Back in 1947, when things were still fairly tough for ex-servicemen, their average income was $2400 a year, as compared with the non-veterans' $2600. As the years went by, however, veterans' average income went up to $3600, a 50 per cent jump, while the yearly average income of non-veterans went to $3100, only a 20 per cent increase.

With facts like these to back up the veteran, little room is left for pessimism concerning the future.

NO DUAL BENEFITS

Q. I have applied for unemployment compensation under the Korea G.I. Bill. Can I continue to sign for unemployment checks until I receive my first school check, or must I stop as soon as I begin college?

A. You will not be eligible for GI jobless pay after you start college under the GI Bill. Dual receipt of such benefits is not permitted. Moreover, you will not be "unemployed" while attending school full time.

RESERVE PAY TAX

Q. I would like to know whether Reserve pay is taxable and if it is, are the taxes taken out before the pay checks are issued to trainees?

A. Reserve pay is subject to federal withholding tax deductions based on the number of exemptions claimed on TD Form W-4 (Employee's Withholding Exemption Certificate).

SCHOOL CHANGES

Q. Assuming that the same program of study is followed satisfactorily, how many changes in schools are allowed to a veteran under the Korea GI Bill?

A. There is no restriction in the GI Bill on change of school where the veteran is taking the same program. However, where subsequent parts or courses of the approved program are to be taken in a school other than the one giving the first part of course, a veteran must apply to the VA regional office for approval of a change of school. If in order, the VA will issue a supplemental certificate authorizing the veteran to continue in the second school.

INSURANCE DATE

Q. When paying a GI insurance premium, what date does VA consider payment to be made—the date a veteran puts the check into the U.S. mails or the date the check actually reaches VA?

A. The postmark date on the envelope is considered as the date the premium was paid.

TRAINING LIMITS

Q. Is time used in school under Public Law 894 subtracted from the 36 months a veteran is eligible for under the Korea GI Bill?

A. Total training under both laws cannot be more than 48 calendar months, with Korea GI Bill training not to exceed 36 months. Therefore, if you have had more than 12 months' training under PL 894, your GI Bill entitlement would be reduced by the difference between 36 and the number of months over 12.

HONOR ROLL of HITS . . . by ANNETTE

Attention all record collectors! Dash down to your nearest RCA Victor dealer as fast as your chubby little legs will carry you for one of the greatest savings in record history. RCA is recently offering coupon books which can save you up to $24.00 on record purchases during the year beside entitling you to three free RCA Victor albums. Be sure to find out more about this money saving offer at your dealers at your earliest convenience. Remember—you are under no obligation to buy and you may save considerable money on the latest releases in popular and classical albums.

Speaking of classical albums, Capitol has recently released two of the world's most famous operas on 33 1/3 LP records. The first is the complete opera "Don Giovanni" by Mozart, which is often considered "the greatest work ever created." It is performed by such world famous artists of the opera as Giuseppe Taddei, Caesar Valbeti, and Carla Gavazzi. The second is "Highlights from Madame Butterfly" by Puccini. Included in this are some of the loveliest arias from this great tragedy. Another fine classical album, also by Capitol, is Rudolph Firkusny at the piano playing Beethoven's "Moonlight Sonata" and "Pathetique Sonata."

We have just mentioned two fine recording companies, RCA Victor and Capitol, and it would be only fair to mention a few words about the great job that Columbia is doing, also, in producing some of the better recordings of the day. Mainly, we'd like to mention the man who has been putting out more recordings than anyone else in the musical field lately. That is, of course, Andre Kostelanetz. It would be impossible to mention all of his most recent recordings, but some of his greatest are Gershwin's "Porgy and Bess", Tchaikovsky's "The Queen of Spades", and "Sleeping Beauty", Groefe's "Hudson River Suite", Verdi's "La Traviata", as well as the music of Fritz Kreisler.

Sigmund Romberg and Vincent Youmans.

Now let us turn to the mellow side. Numerous albums have been recorded in the past by Jackie Gleason and his orchestra. However, many people aren't in the know as to whom the praise for the fine trumpet solos belongs. It actually belongs to a young man named Bobby Hackett who has finally come out with a fabulous album of his own. It's entitled "Soft Lights and Bobby Hackett." Be sure to watch for it.

For something on the novel side, Steve Allen, star of the recent smash movie "The Benny Goodman Story," has just recorded a dandy. It's "I Never Harmed an Onion, So Why Should They Make Me Cry?" Good question! Incidentally, while you're home for your Easter vacation try to see Steve's TV show "Tonight". It's guaranteed to really make you laugh. Remember—"Tonight" 11 to 1 on most local channels. Another star of this program, Eddie Gormet, has also recently released a hit recording entitled "Too Close for Comfort."

A big trend in the popular field in the past few weeks has been to the strictly instrumental side. Such favorites have been "The Poor People of Paris," "The Theme From the Three Penny Opera," "The Man With the Golden Arm" and many others. However, the latest one to join this group is "Midnight Blues" by Nelson Riddle and his orchestra.

Other pop hits of the week are "Don't Tell Me Not to Love You" by Joni James, "Can't You Find It in Your Heart" by Tony Bennett, and "Nosey" by Lu Ann Simms.

The song of this week is a novel number by Perry Como—"Hot Diggity".

Oh yes, and keep your ears open for the latest hit from France, "When It's Strawberry Time In Normandy, I'll Come Back and Get Rash With You."

The Male Scene FADS 'n FASHIONS . . . by SANDY

This column originally meant to be an epistle on the female attitudes toward the latest male fashions. However, the longer I considered the subject, the more I realized how little I knew about the whole situation. Say, male fashions are changeable, aren't they? We have just become accustomed to V-necked sweaters and paild belts, etc., only to find that they have been replaced by crew neck sweaters and horizontal striped belts. And men think women are changeable?! So after some deliberation, I gave up the idea of being a fashion editor for Esquire and decided to be just plain complimentary.

The first and perhaps most important compliments go to the entire male population of B.S.T.C. for their over-all good taste in clothes. Believe it or not, we girls are conscious of what fellas wear, and can be just as critical as you are about our fads and fashions. But on the average, we find little to criticize because we are genuinely proud of our male cohorts. So hats off—we are glad Bloomsburg can claim such well dressed men.

The next "congrats" in order go to our championship football team and their sharp new blazers. They certainly look nice and I know I don't need to say that they were well worth all the effort.

My last compliments go to the male student teachers. I believe everyone has noticed how stylish these fellas look each day. It's no wonder so many of them acquire fans in their classes. We're proud of you, too.

I must apologize for not living up to my intentions of submitting a discourse on male fashions, but then it's nice to feel so especially complimentary for a change. Seriously, we do notice what you wear and on the whole, admire most of your choices. All we ask is that knickers don't invade the campus! Again, congratulations and compliments to such fashionable fellas. I know I can speak for all the girls when I say — "We're proud of you!"

UNDECIDED LOCATION

The senior committees concerned with planning for the Senior Ball held a meeting recently. Because the Ball cannot be held at the Irem Temple Country Club in Dallas, the committee must decide on another location for their dinner and dance. The other committees are also functioning.

Dr. Andruss Awards Coaches; Dean Hoch Presents Blazers

Members of the 1955 football squad of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College received awards and special recognition in an assembly held this morning in Carver Auditorium.

An anthracite coal football trophy was received by the team from the Forty-Four Kingston Kiwanis Club in recognition of their victory over Wilkes College last fall.

John A. Hoch presented each team member with a blazer, bearing the college seal, in recognition of his efforts in winning the conference championship. Coach Yohe and his assistants were presented a gift by Dr. Harvey A. Andruss, President of the College.

The following players received awards:

Gold Key: Charles Skiptunas, James Browning, Michael Lashendock, Robert Groover, Thomas Higgins.

Gold Football: Harry Hughes, Frank Kaminski, Joseph Kwak, Harvey Boughner, Robert Stroup, Dick Strine, Robert Rainey.

Sweater: Carl DeFebo, George Chaump, Robert Asby, Edward Watts, Joseph Malczyk, Robert Biemesderfer, Irvin Alexander, Joseph Wascavage, Harrison Morson.

Varsity "B" Letter: Jonah Gobic, Frank Prusch, Walter Zegarski, Bernard Zaborowski, James Brokenshire, Thomas Vaxmonsky, John Oustrich, Gerald Wood, Donald Holmes, John Rogus, Kenneth Wood, Joseph Johnston, Woodrow Rhoads, James Long, Oscar Snyder Covington, Ronald Romig, Joseph Butz.

Second Grade Has Fine Bulletin Board

The second grade children of the Benjamin Franklin School, under the supervision of Mrs. Iva Mae Beckley, have decorated the main bulletin board of the building with pictures that they have drawn from their observations of the dining room construction. Each member of the class portrayed the action that interested him most, and five pictures were chosen for display.

The pictures were titled "The Men Are Digging" by Sandra Martin, "Men Are Laying Brick" by Jan Marie Wilson, "This Is A Power Shovel" by David Maneval, "Men Working" by Ann Miserod, and "Steam Shovel Digging" by Carter Reese.

This creative bulletin board has added a colorful touch to the Benjamin Franklin School, and at the same time has shown the interests of the second grade pupils in this new project.

Day Men Nominate For Coming Term

A special meeting was called by Donald Beck, President of the Day Men's Association, following the assembly of March 8, 1956.

The purpose of this meeting was to nominate candidates to the various offices for the coming term. Two nominees and an alternate were named for each office. The two candidates and the alternate, respectively, are listed as follows: President, Grant Ewell, John Ford, and William Dupkanick; Vice-President, Virgil J. Hettinger, Duane Belles, and Paul Ternosky; Secretary, Charles Fahringer, Jack Hartzell, and Leonard Kapochus; Treasurer, Phil Mosier, Dale Biever, and Fern Goss.

The C.G.A. will prepare the ballots and announce when the voting will take place.

The possibility of purchasing additional book lockers is still being discussed with C.G.A. Another feature to be improved upon by the day men is the condition of the pillows on the sofas. It is believed that zip-on covers would alleviate the possibility of the pillows being torn.

As no further business was presented, the meeting was adjourned.

Sandy McBride Captain Next Year

At a recent meeting of the cheerleaders and their advisor, Mr. Warren Johnson, Sandy McBride was elected captain for 1956-57.

The cheerleaders also received their awards in assembly. The following award were presented by Mary Hoffecker, a former captain: Bobbi Roadside, a junior and this year's captain, was awarded a white wool blazer in honor of her being captain, and a crossed-megaphone emblem for three year's service. Barbara Lentz, a junior, received a gold megaphone for her two years on the squad. Sandy McBride, a sophomore, was presented with a gold megaphone signifying two years on the squad. Margie Morson and Ann Beeson, freshmen, and Annette Williams, a sophomore, received gold letters with an embossed megaphone for one year's service.

SPORTS SCUTTLEBUTT

by BILL BITNER

WHAT IS PAST IS PROLOGUED. . . Now that the record of the 1955-56 Husky basketball team has been inked into permanency, it is Scuttlebutt's pleasure to eulogize for the final time on a Husky hardwood season and a Bloomsburg basketball team; a team that at times came close to being called great.

The over-all record of the Shelly crew when set down in cold hard figures reads eleven wins and six losses. Of the six defeats two went to Millersville, two to Kings College, one each to Mansfield and Wilkes. Accurate foul shooting could have reversed the decision on five of the six occasions. Only at Millersville and at Kings were the Bloomsburg dribblers outscored from the field. Only on one occasion, Wilkes at Wilkes, did the Locals really give a poor showing. This was the final meeting between these two schools in basketball and the Eddie Davis coached Colonels celebrated the break by beating the Huskies for the second time in the last eight outings. Millersville took the Huskies (as they have every other Teachers College team for the past three years) once by five points and again by 15 at Millersville.

The Centennial cagers will lose Keith Weiser, their captain and four-year varsity competitor; Bob Evans, the main stay in the pivot position for three years who has played more minutes than any of his teammates for the last two seasons; Mo Morson, another reminiscent of the undefeated Husky frosh four years ago—a valuable rebounder who has always been an asset; Elmer Robinson, a defensive player with cat-like reflexes that Coach Shelly has been able to use with effectiveness; and finally, Jimmy Starr the scale model dribbler with the deadly set shot. These players will undoubtedly leave a big gap for Coach Shelly to fill next winter, a gap that in part can be taken up by Len Kozick, Bob Boyle, Jim Gustave, Bill Swisher, John Schaffer, and Jim Snyder.

The following is a complete set of statistics for the 1955-56 season as compiled by this desk:

Matmen End Season Garman Garners 2nd

LOCK HAVEN, March 3, 1956 — The Huskies finished fifth out of seven teams entered in the State Teachers College Wrestling Tournament conducted here the last two days.

The Huskies had been expected to make a somewhat stronger showing, due to their fine 5-3 record in dual meet competition.

Jim Garman, the sensation of the tournament, gained a second place, losing only to the incomparable Charles of West Chester.

Joe Cawthern, controversial 130 pounder, finished fourth after battling John Croft of Indiana, who later proved to be State Champ in his initial match. Cawthern lost by two points.

Among the outstanding performances for the Huskies was Charles Riegel's decision loss to Bill Fischer of Millersville. Riegel, a freshman from Sunbury, battled Fischer who was outstanding wrestler in the 1955 Tournament, to a standstill and lost 6-5.

Bob Asby garnered a fourth place for the Maroon & Gold in the 167 pound class.

Captain Don Wise, an unusually clever, scientific wrestler, overcame a serious handicap to come on and win a third place in the 177 pound division. Wise has been hampered by a pinched nerve in his left shoulder which left the arm almost useless.

Harry Hughes was spectacular in his two wins in the heavyweight division. Hughes pinned his first opponent in forty-one seconds and his final opponent in twenty seconds. In between these two wins was a disputed loss to Elwood Reese of Lock Haven. Hughes had apparently pinned him when the official claimed that Reese was off the mat. This brought a storm of protest from the Bloomsburg fans, and was one of the most controversial matches in the entire tournament. Even coaches who were not involved could not agree as to whether Reese had been on or off the mat. Hughes brought home a third place medal for his efforts on the mat.

The Huskies garnered 27 points and trailed Lock Haven, West Chester, Millersville and Indiana in that order.

The individual Champions in each weight class were as follows:

- 123 lbs. — Charles, West Chester
- 130 lbs. — Croft, Indiana
- 137 lbs. — McIntyre, Lock Haven
- 147 lbs. — Mielon, Millersville
- 157 lbs. — Fischer, Millersville
- 167 lbs. — Rainier, West Chester
- 177 lbs. — Elwood, Lock Haven
- Hwt. — Rees, Lock Haven

Girls Intramurals Huge Success, Many Participate at Gym

Even though it isn't too well known around campus, the boys aren't the only ones with intramural basketball teams. Each Thursday evening in Centennial Gymnasium can be heard the sound of whistles blowing and girls shouting, "Aw, that's not a foul." This year eight teams were entered in the basketball program, each team playing eight games. Some very fast and oftentime heated competition takes place with each team striving to become the intramural champion. This year the "Amazing Amoebas", undefeated team of last year's play, repeated this same feat to become the only team that hasn't dropped a game in competition. Captained by Marilyn Miller, this Junior team has such outstanding players as that "defensive demon", Carol Nearing and the "hook shot artist", Nancy Green. This year's Freshman Class has provided quite a bit of basketball talent with five Freshmen teams participating.

For those who are interested in sports other than basketball, provisions are made each Thursday evening, for the pool to be opened. Such games as volleyball, badminton, cageball and ping-pong are also on the agenda providing for the recreational needs of all girls.

Come spring, an intra-mural softball program will be set up again, providing a little excitement for those who like to watch a fast, fun packed ball game. Many will remember the swift pitching of Joan Yohn and the slugging prowess of Joanne Graeber in last year's competition.

Participation in these varied activities helps the girls to earn credit toward their admittance into "B" Club, the girl's athletic organization. To be eligible for this club the girls are required to earn one thousand points in individual and group sports. Points can be secured by such activities as hiking, dancing, team competition and individual sports. Some of the activities sponsored by this organization are cook-outs, group parties, an annual trip to Hershey to attend the Ice Capades and a weekend trip to Eagles Mere.

All girls are encouraged to participate in the women's athletic program of the college, regardless of whether they are a member of the "B" Club or not. The program that is set up for each Thursday evening provides an opportunity for each girl to become better acquainted with her classmates and at the same time get the physical exercise that is so necessary to good health.

Mat Captain Ends Final Season At Bloomsburg

Don (Pork) Wise came to the Friendly College from Forty Fort, Pennsylvania. While a student at Forty Fort High School, Don began his career as a wrestler, winning the varsity monogram twice. He also was a member of the football and track teams at the valley school and won the varsity letter two years in each sport.

"Porky" Wise

After entering B.S.T.C., Don found no outlet for his wrestling energy since the sport was not on the program. Subsequently he joined the wrestling team of the Harrisburg YMCA where he added to his laurels by winning a third place in the national meet, and a fourth place in the state meet.

Last year when the call was sounded for candidates for the initial wrestling team at B.S.T.C., Don was one of the first to answer the call. As a member of the team the past two seasons he has won the varsity letter both years. Don was also a member of the track squad in his freshman year at Bloomsburg.

Don was elected Captain of the wrestling squad by his teammates this season. When asked whom he regards as his favorite teammate, Don said the whole team, a team which he has been proud to captain. He added that the efforts of Jim Garman cannot be overlooked, however, as Jim has done a terrific job as a freshman. Pork's biggest thrill as a wrestler was in defeating a former teammate twice. He defeated Dadurka of Wilkes by a decision last year, and pinned him this past season. Both men were wrestlers at Forty Fort High School. Don won a place in the STC meet in 1955 and 1956 and finished third in the 177-pound class both years.

Pork's hobbies are reading and sports. He enjoys reading novels very much and is an ardent sports fan.

After graduation Don intends to enter the Army and later begin a career as a business teacher. He is also interested in someday coaching a team of his own. We at Bloomsburg wish Don the best of everything and would like to take this opportunity to thank him for a job well done.

Tourney Ends As Kingston Triumphs

Kingston, Pine Grove and Butler Township were crowned Champions of their respective classes in the 29th Annual Invitational High School Basketball Tourney held at B.S.T.C. the past three weeks.

Kingston defeated a fine quintet from Pottsville to become the Class A Champions. The Huskies from the Valley showed a great deal of scoring punch; this was enough to overcome the threats by the Crimson Tide of Pottsville. The final score in this tilt read Kingston 85, Pottsville 74.

Pine Grove defeated the Miners from Minersville to gain the Class B Trophy. The Miners put on a fast finish to close the gap to 67-65, but ran out of steam with thirty seconds left to play.

Class C found the Butler Township overwhelming the charges of John Zoshak from Foster. The final score read 76-55.

The Tournament was climaxed by the introduction of the All-Tournament Team. Robert Valatka of Kingston was chosen "Outstanding Player."

A word of praise must be given to Tourney Director Jack Yohe for the excellent handling of the many details that go to make this tournament a success.

Mock Interview

Husky Nine Faces Building Year

Seven Starters Lost

According to Husky pilot, Dr. E. Paul Wagner, the defending State Teachers College titlists will be in for a rough time of it when the cry of "play ball" rings from Mt. Olympus. With seven regulars missing from the lineup "Doc" will use returning lettermen Ed Shustack and Chuck Casper, who played center and left field respectively, to form the nucleus of his green squad.

Of those players lost, three were graduated, two went into the armed service, and two will be unable to participate in the spring sport. Lost to graduation were second baseman Bob Cummins, third baseman John Halcovich, and pitcher Rudy Holtzman all of whom hit over .300. Holtzman had a 1-0 record last season while performing for the Bloom mound squad. Terry Zackowski, a .500 batter who held down the shortstop position, and Franie Fisk who clipped off a .315 average besides roaming in the right field pastures, were inducted into the service between semesters. Although still in school both first baseman Bob Stroup, and backstop Harvey Boughner will not be in uniform this season. Of Boughner, Coach Wagner had high praise saying, "Harv was the best Pennsylvania college catcher I saw in action last year."

In the pitching department the Huskies have some experience but lack depth. This problem might be improved by the return of Bobby Dipipi to the hurling staff to aid regulars John Huda, who compiled a 3 and 3 log, and Charlie Kwitkowski, a senior who chucked three victories while losing none during the last campaign. To complete the staff "Doc" will have Senior Jim Starr, a relief hurler, and sophomore Bill Freed, plus any Freshman candidates for this vital position.

The battle for infield duties should prove interesting with all positions vacant. Among the outstanding candidates will be Jim Snyder of Hershey at first, Joe Snyder a freshman from Hazleton and John Osterich who saw some action at third. The Bloom mentor will have some tough decisions to make in filling these defensive holes before the first game against Mansfield on April 18.

With the return of Casper and Shustack, both with two years of varsity experience, only the right field spot will be in contention. Sophomore Jonah Goobic has a slight edge over the freshman candidates but no one is assured of a position on the squad.

A total of 53 men attended the first baseball meeting at which time Dr. Wagner announced that March 19 would be the date of the initial practice on the Hill top diamond, weather permitting.

Although much hard work lies ahead, the Bloomsburg fans are confident that "Doc" Wagner will field another top team and bring honor to our Hill Top Alma Mater.

Senior Manager Of Husky Matmen Completes Season

Jim Nicholas, the Husky Matmen's manager the past two seasons, hails from Edwardsville, Pennsylvania. Jim was the manager of the Edwardsville High School Basketball team for three years. For his efforts as a manager, Jim was awarded the varsity letter twice.

Upon institution of the grappling sport at the Friendly College, Jim applied to Coach Jack Yohe for the job of manager. Wrestling has long held a place of high regard as one of Jim's favorite pastimes. Jim feels that the Huskies have come a long way under Coach Yohe in the first season and Coach Blair in the past season. He predicts that big things can be expected from BSTC wrestlers in the future.

The most thrilling event Jim recalls as manager of the Huskies was the defeat the Huskies handed to Wilkes College this past season. The 17 to 15 match was, and still is, the topic for much conversation from Scranton to Harrisburg. The wrestlers who hold top honors with Jim are Red Welliver, Captain of the 1955 squad; and Jim Garman, a member of this year's team. According to Jim, the Huskies have a real champion in Jim Garman.

Jim lists among his hobbies reading and sports. As everyone on campus knows, he will talk about any sport whenever he has the opportunity. Jim is a sports writer for the Maroon and Gold. (Continued on page 4)

Keith Weiser Top Husky Cager, Completes Career

Keith Weiser

Northwestern Pennsylvania's contribution to the Friendly College, Keith Weiser, played his final season as a Husky cager. Keith hails from Kane, Pennsylvania, where he was an all-around athlete. He collected no less than seven varsity letters at Kane High School; two for football, two for basketball, and three for track.

After his arrival at BSTC Keith lost no time in making himself known as one of the finest basketball players ever to wear the Maroon and Gold of the hill-top college. Keith has won the varsity monogram four years as a member of Coach Harold Shelley's cage squad. Keith also added to his laurels by winning three varsity letters as a high jumper on the Husky track team.

When asked who he would pick as his favorite teammate, Keith chose all of his teammates as being the greatest group of fellows he has ever been associated with.

His greatest thrill in sports came in the 1954-55 season when BSTC defeated West Chester STC on their own court. Keith stated, "It was one of those nights when I did very few things wrong. I had 23 points which was the highest game of my college career. It was also a thrill to finish with a 13 and 4 record, the best a Bloomsburg team has had for many years. I was proud to be a member of that team."

Keith's hobby is sports, with basketball holding first interest and baseball running a close second.

After graduation it will be a tour with the Army and then teaching and coaching in a Class B—if possible—high school. If it is not possible to obtain a high school coaching position, Keith would like to try his hand at coaching a professional team.

We at B.S.T.C. extend our best wishes for anything Keith undertakes. We know he will be a winner.

Saints Ousted by Upstart Units; "Doc" Pleased by Crowd

You've probably seen the lights burning in Centennial Gymnasium every Monday night for the past two months and have wondered why. Well, it is the men's intramural basketball tournament being held under the direction of Dr. E. Paul Wagner and student director, James Brokenshire.

Starting on the ninth of January, fifteen teams, Pmoa's, De Rogs, Saints, Vets, Cinderella Kids, Frosh, Mighty Mites, Syndicate, Scotts, Dukes, Wreckers, Indians, Up-Towners, Units, and Coal-Crackers, began double elimination play which ended on the fifth of March with the two finalists, Units and Coal-Crackers, battling it out for the championship. The winners will be presented with suitable awards, the traditional maroon and gold reversible jersey with INTRAMURALS in broad letters across the chest. This will end the three year reign of the Saints as intramural champs. Monday night's championship game will be preceded by an exhibition game between these same Saints and the Pmoa's.

This annual affair has a large participation, approximately one hundred fifty men taking part. The varsity basketball players officiate these games, with an average of (Continued on page 4)

ROSES AND STINKWEEDS

Roses to the waiters. They have finally become unionized under the CIO-AFL set-up. Lou Marsillo and George O'Connell have been elected president and vice-president respectively of the local (No. 1182).

Stinkweeds to Art Lasher. What do you mean "No Deals"? Anderson has been secretly buying votes for a dollar a head. Students supporting Mr. Anderson (better known as "Honest Andy") will receive remuneration for their support on the day Mr. Anderson gets the C.G.A. Bankbook.

Roses to the new Sentry Station now located at the post office. This system will prevent overcrowding of the lobby, which is a hazard in case of fire. —Fire?

Stinkweeds to the Assembly Committee. We found out that they have not scheduled Bobbie Burns ("I Wanna Be A Soldier") for any of next year's programs.

Roses to Major General John Risks (USAF). B.S.T.C. is assured of full air support if attacked by the enemy. Says General LeMay (SAC) of John, "Good man! He does nice work!"

Stinkweeds to Mary Heatley for getting a birthday cake for Lou (32). We dislike thoughtful people.

Roses (Sincerely) to Mr. Williams. A tip of the After Hours' hat this week goes to the manager of our College Book Store and Snack Bar for being a darn nice guy to all of us.

Stinkweeds to the Freshmen English II classes. One young student was inspired (?) to produce this little gem:

He grabbed me by my slender neck
I could not yell or scream
He dragged me to his bedroom
Where we could not be seen.
He threw aside my flimsy wraps
And gazed upon my form.
I was cold and chilly,
He was nice and warm.
He pressed his feverish lips to mine
I could not make him stop.
He drank my very life away —
I could not call a cop.
He made me what I am today —
Hated, broken, thrown away.
That is why you see me here —
An empty can of Ballentine's beer.

Roses to Irvin Alexander, who received a gold dish-scraper as a token of appreciation for two years of faithful service at the scrapetable. Irvin was moved to tears as he was presented the gift. Irvin, by the way was All-State Teachers College Scrapetable Champion in 1955.

Great Day for Irish at BSTC

"Top 'o the mornin' to you, me young colleen. Sure 'n t'was a wonderful splash party and dance yesterday, eh?"

It seems that everyone who went to the St. Patrick's Day festivities thought they were a great success.

The week-end started off in great style with the impromptu record-dance on Friday evening. The snow disappointed those who had planned on going home; however, it made tobogganning and sledding on trays just wonderful. The weather inside was much more temperate for dancing. The fire gave a cheery atmosphere to the dance, and C.G.A. generously offered free cokes to all who were at the dance.

The splash party on Saturday afternoon offered a little extra—a record player livened up the atmosphere and made swimming even more fun than usual. However, there was plenty of room in the pool for more students. Maybe the snow discouraged some people from walking to Centennial. I'm certain the effort wouldn't have been wasted had they gone.

Saturday evening there was another record-dance in the lounge. This was also very successful.

Hat Dance Brings Fancy Creations

Walking into the Husky Lounge on the night of Wednesday, March 21, between the hours of 8 and 10 p.m., any newcomers on campus might have thought they were attending an early performance of an Easter parade.

The cause for wonder was only a new and novel Hat Dance, held by the Social Recreation Committee, with music provided by the Starliters and featuring our own Chick DeFebo.

To be admitted to the dance all that was needed was a hat. Our own co-eds certainly had many original ideas and it would seem that we have several future hat designers treading our campus.

Prizes were awarded for the most beautiful, most grotesque, most modern and most original hats.

Culinary Talents Used by "B" Club

The monthly meeting of B Club was held on March 1, in the form of a dinner at Miss McCammon's home. A brief business meeting was held before the dinner was served. The B Club pledge was taken by Bobbie Roadside, Margie Yohn, Nancy Green, Deets Stanton, Mickey Graff, Sue Osborn, Marilyn Ritter, Gloria Barber and Margaret Brinser which made them official members of the club.

Cheering Squads Receive Trophies

Last Saturday night saw the championship cheerleading squads of the Basketball Tournament receive trophies for their efforts. St. Clair in class A, St. Edwards of Shamokin in class B and Montgomery Clinton of class C competition were victorious.

Our college cheerleaders judged the entries of the three divisions involved. The points upon which the judging was based were the general appearance of the squads, their functioning together as a unit, the sportsmanship involved, the spontaneous reaction shown by the group and the general overall conduct shown by the squad.

All three first prize squads were attired in red corduroy jumpers with crisp white blouses. Bobbi Roadside, the captain of our College cheerleaders, presented the trophy to the class C entrants. The Junior member of our squad, Barb Lentz, awarded the class B prize and the class A trophy was presented to the championship squad by Sandy McBride, the captain elect of Bloom cheerleaders.

Mrs. Beeman Speaks To Kappa Delta Pi

The regular monthly meeting of the Gamma Beta Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi was held on Thursday, March 8, at 7:00 p.m. in the social rooms of Science Hall. Ed Siscoe presided at the business meeting. An announcement was made that the Horace Mann plaque has been refinished.

Jeanne Zimmerman, chairman of the program committee, introduced Mrs. Beeman, who spoke to the group. Refreshments were served and the meeting was adjourned.

Student Stricken By Appendicitis

Alan Kleinschrodt, our crier in assembly, was rushed to the hospital March 7th, with an acute attack of appendicitis. Before his removal to the hospital, Al spent the night in the infirmary under the watchful eyes of a capable male nurse, Ken Weiskerger.

Al appreciated all the cards sent by students. He expects to be back before Easter vacation.

five games being played a night. There is also a great amount of spectator interest in the tournament.

With intramural basketball nearing the end, the men are looking forward to the intramural softball tournament, which will be started as soon as weather permits.

and he writes the wrestling articles that appear throughout the season.

Upon graduation, Jim expects to begin his career as a business teacher. He is also interested in obtaining a position as an athletic director and wrestling coach. After he obtains some experience in his chosen profession, he is planning on a tour of duty with the Army.

The students at BSTC extend their best wishes to Jim for a bright and happy future. May all of his teams be winners.
