Number 3

To Those Returning:

Homecoming is a time when we turn to our College and those things which have gone before.

Scott, in writing —

*"Breathes there a man, . . .
Whose heart hath ne'er within him burn'd
As home his footsteps he hath turn'd"*

described a spirit of patriotic pride, which is much the same as that which causes you to return to your College and to read this greeting from

Harvey A. Andrews
President.

Phi Sigma Pi Pledges Initiated to Fraternity

Strange things are happening at BSTC this week. Sixteen jovial young men have turned up on the campus wearing shirts, ties, suit coats, purple and gold ribbons, and strange signs printed across their foreheads. They've picked out a song (popular or otherwise) and have spent the entire week singing it at request. It all seemed very confusing to the student body until it was discovered that the "honorable members" of Phi Sigma Pi were behind the phenomenon. Then the antics began to make sense—or at least became fairly understandable. In short, the members of the Professional Education Fraternity have been having a "field day" with the pledges. These humble fellows are addressing all members as "honorable", honoring the college colors, and singing "I Am a Pledgee of Phi Sigma Pi."

Initiation for the fraternity began Monday as "Know the History Day" came into effect. Upon being asked by a member each pledgee unhesitatingly gave the history and principles of the Phi Sigma Pi Fraternity. The members were apparently concerned about these fellows for they insisted on escorting them to every class that day. It was evident that the pledges were deeply impressed by their concern for they spent all day Tuesday showing their gratitude in small kindly ways. They were seen doing such good deeds as polishing shoes, running errands, and carrying books.

Reciting a quotation for "Teaching Is An Art Day" would have been all right had the author of this particular passage been short-winded. A day of speech making had weakened the pledges' vocal chords but there was enough spirit left for a great pep rally that evening. Around eleven o'clock the pledges put their last breaths in.

Social Usage Club Formed This Year

Will you be a fourth for bridge? How many times have you been asked this question and been forced to give a negative answer simply because you did not know a bid from trump? Well, here is your chance to become one of the crowd.

A Social Usage Club is being formed under the direction of Miss MacDonald and Dr. Englehardt. Open to all college men and women, the club's only requirements are the will to learn and regular attendance.

The Social Usage Club will meet at 4:00 p.m. in the social rooms of Science Hall on the first, third, and fourth Wednesdays of each month. The next meeting will be October 17, when election of officers will be held. This is also the last opportunity for new members to join.

Don't miss out on this fine chance to improve your social standing. Soon you can be the fourth for bridge.

Waller Hall Girls Judged on Room Appearance Tuesday

In connection with the festivities of Homecoming, the annual judging of rooms in Waller Hall was held Tuesday evening, October 9, with A.A.U.W., faculty, and student judges participating in the program.

Waller Hall was a beehive of activity as the hour for room judging approached. The committee heads were busy with last minute preparations, while all girls gave their rooms a critical glance to make sure everything was in place.

At 7:15 the student judges Carol Ely, Peggy Davies, Deanna Morgan, Connie Schreder, Bobbie Bowen and Peggy Wilkinson, met the faculty judges Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Ulmer, Mrs. Blair, Mrs. Malletta, Miss Keefer, and Miss Barnes. The A.A.U.W. judges, Mrs. Paul Barret, Miss Elsie Bower, Mrs. Robert Coy, Mrs. Ernest Engelhardt, Mrs. Richard Metcalf, Miss Thursabert Schuyler, were introduced.

After selecting three superior rooms on each floor, the judges enjoyed a tea planned by Mary Grace.

Wednesday morning, Mrs. Beman, the final judge, checked the top nine rooms. First, second and third winners were chosen, and the remaining six rooms received honorable mention. Six other rooms on each floor were given awards for attractiveness.

Today many alumnae will walk through our dormitory and see again the rooms in which they once lived, and recall cherished memories of their days at BSTC.

"B" Club Scavenger Hunt a Success

Johnnie Ray's new hit, "Walking In the Rain," seemed to be an appropriate theme for the "B" Club scavenger hunt which was held on September 27. Despite the rain, sixteen freshmen girls joined in with the "B" Club members for a night of fun.

The freshmen divided into four groups, each group accompanied by a "B" Club member, and set out to get a long list of such articles as another freshman girl, a false fingernail, a picture of Elvis Presley, and the comic section of the "New York Times" (which incidentally, does not have a comic section.) One of their most difficult and most useful tasks was to go into Waller Hall and capture a fly in a milk bottle. The main purpose of this quest was to rid the dorm of some of those pesky creatures.

Kaki Crew's group was the first to secure all of the articles. Each girl received a Bloomsburg pennant.

A few of the girls then went swimming, but most of them went to Miss McCammon's house for cider and doughnuts. Most of the girls looked a bit bedraggled after walking in the rain for quite a while, but it gave the freshmen an opportunity to meet the "B" Club members and become acquainted with their activities.

40 Hr. Work Week Now in Operation

A forty-hour work week for all non-instructional employees became effective on this campus October first. The change reflects the results of planning by college officials during the past two and a half years. The number of working hours for each employee has been gradually reduced and hourly rates have been so adjusted that employees' salaries will not be decreased. Approximately five full-time employees have been added to the non-instructional staff. Provisions for the forty-hour work week also reflect the progress and increased enrollment of the college.

Homecoming Events Begin Tonight with Big Bonfire

With several thousand alumni and friends invited to return to Bloomsburg for the twenty-ninth annual Homecoming, college students and faculty have been busy making preparations to accommodate and entertain the visitors.

Students Display Dancing Talents

Gayer than usual was the Wednesday night record dance. For on October 3, the BSTC students rhythmically showed their versatility during contest dances.

While dancing to a dreamy tempo, LaRue Karwois and Joe Stancato were declared the winners of the slow dance. Pat Petock and Ed Watts, who executed their routine to a fiery Latin tempo, were the mambo champs. Twirling and stomping characterized the entrance of the polka division. Dotty Horning and Al Nuss received top honors. Annette Williams and John Oustrich were runners-up in this event. Hot-stepped and sure-footed were Renie Terzopolis and Ken Swatt, who were claimed queen and king of Rock and Roll. Ann Tooley and Bob Bottorf, despite his leg injury, came in second in the jitterbug division.

The judges for this snappy event were Mrs. Deveney, a sister-in-law to Mr. Blair of the college faculty, Miss Mettler, and Miss Zinn. Due to the abundance of dancing talent, the judges had difficulty in choosing the winners.

Because of the generosity of the management of the Columbia Theatre, a free pass was awarded to each of the winners.

Soc. Rec. Committee Announce Program

In the one month since school began, social life on campus has been thriving. The Social Recreation Committee, under the direction of co-chairmen Deanna Morgan and Bill Crammer has already arranged many events. Next on the schedule is the Masquerade Dance, featuring The Starlighters with BSTC's Chick DeFebo. The combination of good music and refreshments should insure a large turnout and an enjoyable time. An informal dance not on the calendar will be held in Centennial Gym the Saturday night following the West Chester game.

Many original ideas have been incorporated in the schedule of activities planned for this year by the committee. An all-college to-boggan party has been arranged to be held January 5th at Eagles Mere. Saturday, April 6th, there will be a splash party from seven until nine p.m. followed by a Sock Hop in the Gym. During the first week of May, our traditional May Day exercises will be held. That evening there will be a record dance in the Husky Lounge from nine until eleven.

The social events of the year will be terminated by a wicker roast and a record dance May 18th at the outside fireplace on Navy Hall grounds.

Along with the many new activities, there will be several square dances, winter sports parties, record concerts, and Friday night movies in Carver Auditorium.

Orders Taken for Junior Class Rings

Bloomsburg's Juniors, who ordered their class rings recently, will receive them shortly before Christmas. Orders have been taken by Mr. Arby Nolan, a representative from the branch office of the Balfour Company located in Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

Stones for the rings were available in the following colors: garnet, ruby, blue spinel, sapphire (light and dark), and black onyx. Stones selected are to be either buffed or faceted and come in two different sizes.

Although most alumni will not arrive until Saturday morning, members of the student body will get things underway Friday evening with a giant bonfire and pep parade. During the week, the campus and nearby areas of the town will be decorated in keeping with the theme of the gala occasion.

Saturday's activities will begin at 10:30 with a concert by the Maroon and Gold Band on the terrace near Carver Hall. Alumni and friends will have an opportunity to inspect new buildings and improvements on the campus before and after lunch which will be served in the college dining room at 11:30.

One of the major events of the afternoon will be staged on colorful Mt. Olympus, when the Mountaineers of Mansfield State Teachers College meet Coach Yohe's Huskies in Bloomsburg's first conference game of the season. The Huskies, 1955 conference champs, are eager to demonstrate, for the alumni, the football prowess they hope to use in bidding for the crown this year.

Following the game, refreshments will be served at an informal get-together in Navy Hall Auditorium. This meeting of old friends has become increasingly popular with alumni, and with the large number of alumni expected, the affair should be more successful than ever.

A cafeteria dinner will be served in the dining room, beginning at 5:30 p.m. The day's activities will be terminated with an informal dance in Centennial Gymnasium from 8:30-11:30 p.m. with Gerry Kehler and his orchestra providing the musical background.

The campus always provides a picturesque and beautiful setting as the seasons change, and this year, with nature getting an able assist from the decorating committee, the pattern should be better than ever.

SCHEDULED EVENTS

Pep Rally and Bonfire — Friday Night
Band Concert — 10:30 Saturday Morning
Football Game — 2:00 Saturday Afternoon
Homecoming Dance — 8:30-11:30 Saturday Evening

Two New Members Join Majorettes

The MAROON and GOLD congratulates Pam Fox and Janet Gross, two recently chosen freshman majorettes. These girls, chosen from a group of ten, were selected by Mr. Nelson Miller, director of the Maroon and Gold Band, Mr. Warren Johnson, sponsor of the cheerleaders, Donald Schlaugh, drum major, Sue Hoffman, and Molly Mattern, returning majorettes.

Pam, a freshman in the elementary curriculum is majoring in special education. She is a graduate of Sunbury High School where she was a majorette for six years.

Janet, from Wyoming, Pennsylvania, is majoring in business education. At Wyoming High School she was a majorette for four years. Both Pam and Janet twirled in the two past games with Sue Hoffman and Molly Mattern, our capable majorettes from last year. These four girls add a touch of charm to our fine Maroon and Gold Marching Band.

Orders were taken last week by George Chaump for Juniors and Seniors who desired to get their rings before leaving school in May.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

by MAE ROMIG

A Freshman stopped me in the hall and remarked, "Say, there's a lot of talk going around about Homecoming. Just what is this homecoming? What's it all about?"

I was tempted to give any of several answers. Homecoming is the time of year when all the old graduates return to their Alma Mater, primarily to watch the present football squad overwhelmingly defeat its opponent, engaged mainly because of its inability to play football. That was my Freshman conception of Homecoming.

Homecoming is the day when the alumni swarm back to BSTC to tour the campus, note the improvements while bemoaning the long-lost good old days, try to recapture them through renewing old friendships, eat in the college cafeteria, and suffer through a football game arranged for their entertainment. Caustically, I recalled my second impression of Homecoming.

I knew both of these conceptions were biased, untrue. The basic parts were there but they were out of proportion. Even as I hesitated, attempting to arrive at an adequate reply, the Freshman disappeared to join a friend down the hall.

Later, alone in my room, I still sought an answer to his question, "Just what is Homecoming?" Homecoming—Homecoming, I repeated, but somehow it came out in reverse, Coming Home, and I knew I had my answer.

Homecoming is the one time of the college year when all the former students return enmasse to revisit their Alma Mater, some out of a sense of duty, many out of pride, and some merely out of curiosity. In so doing, all are saying in effect, "BSTC, you have played an important role in my life, in giving me some rudiments of an education, in enabling me to form lasting friendships. You have been an integral part of my life. Under your guidance I grew to maturity. And when you thought the product was complete, you handed me a diploma and said, "Go prove yourself."

"But when I left Bloomsburg, a part of you clung to me, refusing to be shaken off. And it still clings, as year after year on Homecoming Day I return once again to BSTC, not to relive old memories, not to contrast present conditions with the 'good old days', and not to watch a football game. Of course, I hope to meet old friends, but that is of secondary importance. All I ask is a chance to mingle freely with all the others before and after me who have shared my experiences at BSTC."

The Veep Speaks                      by LU NATTER

Since all members of our college community are members of the Community Government Association, I feel that it is necessary to inform you of the happenings at the council meetings.

The first two regular meetings of College Council were held on September 24 and October 8.

The first item brought up for discussion was that of the disorder in the area adjacent to the faculty lounge. The idea of "pigeon holes" to facilitate storage of books was suggested by myself; however, no definite conclusion to the problem was reached. So it looks as though we must rely on you, the students, to carry your books to your rooms prior to eating and to hang your wraps on the space provided. It is your college as well as mine and we ask you to keep it looking orderly for visitors.

The problem of re-defining the terms of Day and Dorm students was next on the agenda. It seems that the students are now defined, for administrative reasons, as Resident and Non-Resident students. In order to have unity, it was moved that the recommendation of a special committee, appointed to study the classifications, be approved.

In regard to Evelyn Gilchrist's request that the lounge be open to seniors during assembly, it was noted that it would raise the problem of keeping non-seniors from using the lounge at this time. A special committee was appointed by the president to investigate this matter.

The matter of appropriations to the various organizations was brought up next. After Mr. Martin explained the policy in effect, we agreed to accept the present policy.

The proposed College Council budget was discussed briefly, but was held over until mimeographed copies can be made available to all.

Here is an item of interest to those students taking the Senior Life-saving course and the Water Safety program. It was approved by Council to award extra-curricular credit to those students taking such courses here at BSTC.

Approval was given to Phi Sigma Pi to hold a mock election urging all eligible students to vote. This election will take place prior to the national one.

For those students interested in forming a Camera Club, Council suggested that they select an advisor and make the proper motion before a future meeting of the College Council.

A big item at the first meeting was to review the proposed C.G.A. budget. After comments were noted and amendments made, the new budget was approved.

Now that you, the students, have read what took place at the first regular meetings, let me remind you that it is your privilege and duty to let your representatives know your problems and questions so they may be brought before council.

Three New Members Added to Board of Trustees

Three new members of the Board of Trustees of BSTC attended their first meeting on Wednesday, September 19. They are the Hon. Carl E. Fleckenstine, R.D. 2, Orangeville, Pennsylvania; Hon. Harold L. Paul, Masonic Building, Pottsville, Pennsylvania; Mr. Leo S. Dennen, R.D. 1, Turbotville, Pennsylvania.

In addition to the new members, the Board of Trustees includes the following officers and members: Mr. Fred W. Diehl, President, Danville; Judge C. William Kreisher, Vice-President, Catawissa; Mrs. Elsie Yorks Jones, Secretary-Treasurer, Bloomsburg; Mr. Earl V. Wise, Berwick; Mr. Victor C. Diehm, Hazleton; Mr. Charles D. Steiner, Shamokin.

Seated in the following order are President Harvey A. Andruss, Mr. Leo S. Dennen, Hon. Carl E. Fleckenstine, Mr. Fred W. Diehl, Judge C. William Kreisher, Hon. Harold L. Paul, and Mrs. Elsie Yorks Jones.

Veteran's Pipeline

One Change Allowed in Degree Goal Under Korean Bill . . .

According to the Veterans Administration a student training under the Korea G. I. Bill may change from one undergraduate objective to another without losing his one permissible change in program.

This means that a student may change from one undergraduate objective to another without losing his one permissible change in program.

This means that a student may change from an A.B. in Liberal Arts to a B.S. in Education, for example, or from a math major to a social studies major if this change of program does not require more training time than was originally required to complete the course. A change from one undergraduate degree to another, therefore, is allowed and does not constitute a change in goal.

However, a student whose original designated objective was a bachelor's degree cannot go on to a master's degree without a program change.

No Jobless Pay . . .

A question was asked, "I have been working full time while going to school under the Korea G.I. Bill. Recently a work stoppage has caused me to be laid off. Am I entitled to G.I. unemployment compensation since I cannot find a job, even a part-time one?"

The answer in most cases is no. Veterans are not eligible for jobless pay if they are currently enrolled under the Korean G.I. Bill and are taking regular schooling of half time or more. However, veterans taking correspondence courses such as flight training or courses less than half time may receive unemployment compensation if these courses do not restrict their availability for work. School hours must be scheduled to prevent a conflict between school time and working hours.

DAY MEN'S NEWS

The Day Men's Association is the largest student organization on campus, and certainly one of the most active. Every year they make available two fifty-dollar scholarships. The recipients of these scholarships are determined by the Awards Committee, which is headed by Dr. Kuster.

The Day Men's Association will sponsor a Square Dance on November 14, in the Husky Lounge. Music will be furnished by Ed Ritter; cider and doughnuts will be served.

Under the leadership of John Ford, President; Virgil Hettinger, Vice President; Jack Hartzel, Secretary; Philip Mosler, treasurer; and Dr. Herre, Faculty Advisor; the Day Men's Association is looking forward to another highly successful year.

LOUNGE LIZARD

by E. JAY

Now, you might think after reading this delightful column that I am completely mad and roaring at the end of a stout chain (some of my teachers think so too), but that's not at all true—I'm just dashing around with my head under one arm. It saves wear and tear on the neck!

As a pledged lounge lizard, I look about me to observe that the freshmen girls (as always) are doing great and so is Bobby Boyle. The pep rally in the lounge was terrific and the cheerleaders did a swell job. The only trouble was I couldn't see for the crowd. We would be going great if we could get a couple hundred students up to the games to cheer the team to victory. It works wonders. Why don't we try it sometime? My eagle eye caught our terrific guys in action against Delaware. Practice makes football players!

I see that congratulations are in order for Shirl Sieler and George Vivacqua. Good Luck! Speaking of luck, I guess the student teachers really need it. All it takes is a hand on the head to get the kids in order—right Moose? Student teachers in Williamsport have a lovely marking system—24 E's and 1 B in their grade books. Honest! Almost better grades than we get up here on the hill! Barb Lentz thinks that even though you're student teaching, you can't get this place out of your blood. Now don't be too sure—tests, classes, excuse blanks! Have they forgotten already? And who was it that asked Cris Boop if she was on the ball!

What goes in second heaven? I see the password is twenty-one or could it be the huge signs. Did you hear about this new card game? It's played with round cards with numbers on them and you always lose—Eh, Swegzy? Consolations to Kautz and Bert for their lack of funds. Phil must have worked hard!

Then there's the smokers and Marianne and her love life. To keep up the noise we have a transfer, Nancy Ault, who loves to kill flies. Just because they're spooning on her geography book! No heart.

I see fourth floor has "trials and tribulations" of bunk beds. Better see Emma K., she'll help you out. There are always ways to SAW out of these problems. And then there are bars on your windows to protect the girls from burglars. More like a zoo each day.

Now, back to the lounge, my usual vacationing spot. Darn such business—milk is now 15c, what fund are they contributing to these days? To top it all off—what a little sleep does for one. As Mr. Blair said, "Okay, Sack Rat," meaning Charlie Riegel, of course. But you should see him after sleep and milk! He sings, hoots, roars, laughs—almost takes over Bo's place. Maybe the milk's spiked—that could be the reason for the 15c. But what goes now Charlie, did you sit on a tack?

Up in North Hall I hear Bottorf's been collecting college newspapers. Did somebody mention his name in the last issue? Or could it be his roommate is papering the walls.

Bye now, and don't study too hard (next joke). So glad to see Mary Galatha around. Oh, I'll be dead yet. Don't sleep at eight o'clock—they have lovely drills that sing to you each morning.

Oh yes! Senior pictures are coming out and they are just lovely. Like little gremlins—Eh, Mar?

The question for the month is: "How did you get the window shade down, Evie?" Suzi still hasn't figured it out, but neither did I.

— Lounge Lizard

"My gracious Elsie, the girls must be getting slimmer if they can fit six girls in a two girl room!"

LET'S BEAT MANSFIELD MOUNTAINEERS

SPORTS HI-LITES

by DON COFFMAN

The annual Homecoming festivities here on College Hill will again focus their attention on the gridiron. Our once-beaten Huskies will match their wits with a stubborn, fired-up Mountaineer eleven from Mansfield State Teachers College. The Mountaineers found the going rough in their first two outings, but last Saturday afternoon they staged a tremendous upset over a highly favored crew from Kings College. Therefore, they can be expected to give our Huskies an uphill battle tomorrow afternoon.

Turning back the pages of history, we would have to search hard to find the last time a Husky eleven lost on Homecoming Day. In fact, the last time the Huskies were defeated on Homecoming Day was way back in 1947. Since that time the locals have compiled a commendable victory string for Homecoming. In 1950 they blanked Kutztown State Teachers, 35-0, and the following year swamped Shippensburg, 40-14. Again in 1953 and 1954 they showed their power on the field by collecting decisive conquests over Trenton and Wilkes by scores of 48-0 and 44-0 respectively. As you all may remember, the tide quickly changed, for Bernie Koval and company, from Kings, hard pressed the Huskies last year before falling, 20-19. The fans this year may again expect a near repeat of last year's traditional Homecoming tilt.

The Yohemen appeared strong after their first win over Delaware State; however, a strong defensive line by the Red Dragons of Cortland, and a few serious injuries on our Husky squad slowed down the Husky drive last weekend. The Mountaineers, who upset Kings last weekend, are determined in their bid to upset the Homecoming festivities here on the local campus. They have a hard-running halfback in Vince Syracuse who figured in two of the three scores the Mountaineers made last week.

The battle in the State Teachers Conference play has already thrown the race into a mad free-for-all. Top-seeded California State Teachers has already lost two conference tilts, both at home. Two weeks ago the feared Vulcan eleven lost to Indiana STC in the final minutes, 6-0, and last week they were beaten by a powerful Lock Haven team, 14-0. In all indications, California's bid for victory has already been cut off; however, they still may hold the key to the final victor in the race as they will play both West Chester and Bloomsburg.

The once feared Red Raider team from Shippensburg, who will entertain our Huskies next weekend, also have apparently dropped from the scene as they were defeated by a potent East Stroudsburg squad. The Warriors of East Stroudsburg also hold on as a threat for this league championship. The Warriors at present remain undefeated as they downed Shippensburg 13-0 last Saturday.

According to Merle Agnella, STC Conference Publicity Director, West Chester is the team most likely to succeed as champions of the Pennsylvania State Teachers College Conference. At the present time, the Rams have not played a conference tilt; however, last week they were upset 33-7 by New Haven STC.

All this seems to point out that the conference title will be decided right here in the east after all, with West Chester, East Stroudsburg, and Bloomsburg as the big three. California and Lock Haven definitely will hold a major role in the final decision, but they are not expected to go all the way.

In order for the Huskies to capture the coveted crown, there will have to be more of that old college spirit behind them, such as that which was displayed on Mt. Olympus last Saturday. The attendance for the first two games has been disappointing and disgraceful for a college our size. Now with the opening of conference play, the Huskies will need more than ever your devoted patronage. Let's keep that college spirit with us for the remaining games. Remember, following our game tomorrow, the Yohemen play four straight away contests. So let's support our team, home and away!

QUICK PICK-UPS . . . Kings College has made a change in their football Homecoming tilt for this year. They were originally scheduled to tangle with the University of Scranton on October 20; however, Homecoming will be held the following week when the Monarchs entertain our Huskies in Wilkes-Barre Memorial Stadium. . . One of the rare oddities occurred on the football field a week ago Saturday at California STC. With the Vulcan team hosting Indiana, Freshman George Polonoli scampered off on a touchdown run of about 45 yards when, for no apparent reason, the ball squirmed from his hands and was recovered in flight by Indiana's Dick Denville. Polonoli was on Indiana's four yard line and could have easily scored had the ball not squeezed out of his arms. This rare action took place in the first period and, no doubt, changed the complexion of the entire game. . . West Chester cannot carry Frosh on their varsity football squad since their male enrollment has gone over the 750 mark according to Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference Rules. West Chester is the only eleven belonging to the ECAC in the State Teachers College Conference. . .

Harry Hughes Sparks Huskies Forward Wall In Saturday Game

Harry Hughes

When the Maroon and Gold eleven take the field against the Mansfield Mountaineers tomorrow, the locals will have Harry Hughes as one of their co-captains. Once again Harry will be called upon to spark the Husky forward wall. Harry is the 5'11", 205 lb. right tackle for the Yohemen.

He came to BSTC from Williamsport High School where he starred in football and wrestling. There under the tutelage of Tom Vargo, Harry grasped his early pigskin pointers. Here at Bloomsburg Harry is showing that his high school training paid off. Not only is he a capable performer on the gridiron, but he is also a mat star for Coach Blair's wrestling squad.

Although Harry has put in a good performance in every game for Bloom, he says his most exciting moment came during his freshman year when he caught a blocked punt and ran ten yards to paydirt.

Jim Browning and Charley Skip-tunas rank as Harry's favorite teammates with the Huskies.

When he is not "roughing it" atop Mt. Olympus or in Centennial Gym, Harry enjoys bowling and fishing as his favorite pastimes.

Harry's major fields at Bloomsburg are social studies and geography. Next semester he will do his student teaching.

After receiving his diploma in May, Harry plans on a teaching career, but may first spend a few years in the Army. We wish the very best to Harry and thank him for his fine service to BSTC.

Huskies Beat Delaware in Home Opener

Strong Delaware Eleven Suffer 13-0 Defeat

The Bloomsburg Huskies, reigning State Teachers College Champions, showed true championship form in downing a strong Delaware State Teachers team 13-0 on Mt. Olympus Saturday, September 29.

The highly touted Delaware team, composed mainly of lettermen, was the team which had only 15 points scored against it all of last season in compiling a 7-1 record. Bloomsburg clicked beautifully in stifling the Delaware Hornet's scoring sting and in crashing Delaware's formidable line.

Bloomsburg's first touchdown came after a 54 yard march down the field. With 11 seconds remaining in the first quarter and the ball on the 3 yard line, halfback Bo Rainey crashed through the left side of the line to score and then converted to make it 7-0.

Delaware staged a 50 yard drive in the third quarter which carried them to the Bloomsburg 1 yard line, but the Husky defense held preventing a score. Another drive of 55 yards in the final period met the same determined resistance on the goal line. A thrilling moment in this staunch defense came when the Huskies' Eddy Watts batted down a Delaware pass in the end zone.

Bloomsburg's final score came when end Bob Asby recovered a Delaware fumble on the Hornet's 1-yard-line. Two plays later quarterback John Oustrich rammed over the line on a quarterback sneak to tally and make the score 13-0.

The Huskies seemed to be in strong command throughout the game and truly showed the makings of the championship team we expect them to be.

Malczyk's Career Is Outstanding In BSTC Athletics

Joe Malczyk

One of the Huskies expected to give Mansfield plenty of trouble in tomorrow's Homecoming clash is veteran fullback, Joe Malczyk. Joe's football experience speaks for itself. Under Coach Ray Garlinsky at Newport High School, Joe first proved his finesse on the Nutcracker line. In fact, Joe made the 1948 Wyoming Valley All-Scholastic Team as a tackle. Joe garnered 10 letters in football, basketball, and baseball at Newport.

We are proud that Joe chose BSTC to further his education. On the Mt. Olympus gridiron and diamond Joe has displayed the athletic prowess he is noted for.

Joe has been a mainstay of the Husky backfield for the past few seasons. He can always be relied upon to pace the locals' offensive attack. Stockily built, Joe has the knack of smashing through the visitors' defense, thus causing headaches to opposing linemen.

As for favorite teammates, Joe states, "They're all tops in my book." He enjoyed playing on previous Husky teams and is expected to bolster the Yohe charges this season.

His most exciting moment in sports was in 1948 when he was chosen to the All European Command Team. One year later, Joe received the most valuable player award for this German grid team. Another of Joe's sports thrills was playing in the Vistles Bowl before 57,000 fans.

A Secondary student, Joe is now student teaching at Bloomsburg High School in social studies and biological science. After graduation he plans to teach and coach. His excellent record should be a great aid in the future. Good luck, Joe, from all your BSTC classmates.

Bee & Jake Say . . .

Well, the leaves are changing color and the weather is getting a little nippy—guess it's about football time again. You couldn't really tell from the number of students at the games. Honestly, where's your school spirit? You must have some! Let's get on the ball—the team would like a little support, to say nothing of the cheerleaders!

Speaking of cheerleaders, those peppy little gals are getting new skirts. They're like the old ones, but nevertheless, they are NEW.

While we're on the subject, we'll mention something about clothing that looks appropriate for a game. Something casual is the keynote. We don't mean casual to the point of slacks or bermudas—here on the BSTC campus it's just not allowed. At one of the scrimmages, we saw a neat looking outfit—a straight, dark brown, wool skirt, beige sweater, and a bulky knit black, beige and white striped sweater over it.

As the weather turns cooler, blazers and suede jackets will become popular. They look neat with almost any type of skirt, except those that are worn over three or four crinolines. Then, as the weather becomes still colder, car coats will be about the coziest and warmest to wear. We peeked into some closets here in Waller Hall, and saw some very nice, colorful coats. Although khaki is very popular, one in particular was a bright red woolly car coat, lined in navy, with a collar that can be converted into a hood. We think it should keep its owner warm even during the snowiest of football games.

We peeked into some closets here in Waller Hall, and saw some very How about giving those shoes a good shine? And that isn't just for the girls—you men around campus can take a hint, can't you?

See you at the football game . . .

$41,000 CONTEST

Open to All College Students (Faculty, too!)

Nothing to buy...nothing to write

...and you may find you know more about people than you think!

How well do you know human nature? Can you tell what subjects interest people most? Here is a chance to test your judgment—show how good an editor you are—and you may win $5,000 for yourself, plus $5,000 in scholarship funds for your college.

It's fun to try. Maybe you can top other students in colleges across the country... and you can match wits with the editors of Reader's Digest.

Why do far more college graduates read Reader's Digest than any other magazine? What is it that makes the Digest the most widely read magazine in the world—with 11 million copies bought each month in the United States, plus 9 million abroad? Why is it read each month by at least 60 million people, in 12 languages—Arabic, Danish, English, Finnish, French, German, Italian, Japanese, Norwegian, Portuguese, Spanish and Swedish?

Can you spot in a typical issue of Reader's Digest the universal human values that link scholars, statesmen, scientists, writers, businessmen, housewives? Can you pick out the articles that will be most popular with the average Digest reader?

You may find... you know more about people than you think!

Here's all you do. Study the descriptions (at right) of the articles in the October Reader's Digest—or, better still, read the complete articles in the issue itself. (But you are not required to buy The Reader's Digest to enter the contest.) Then simply list the six articles—in order of preference—that you think readers of the magazine will like best. This will be compared with a nationwide survey conducted among a cross section of Digest subscribers.

Follow the directions given below. Fill in the entry blank, paste it on a post card, and get it into the mail before the deadline. Additional blanks are obtainable at your college bookstore.

All entries must be postmarked not later than midnight, October 25, 1956. Don't delay. In case of ties, the entry with the earliest postmark will win.

Just pick in order the six articles
you think most readers of October
Reader's Digest will like the best.

READER'S DIGEST CONTEST, Box 4, Great Neck, L. I., New York

In the space opposite the word "FIRST" write the number of the article you think will be the most popular of all. Opposite the word "SECOND" write the number of the article you think will rank second in popularity. List in this way the numbers of the six top articles in the order of their popularity. (Note: Use only the numbers of articles you choose. Do not write the title of any article.) Clip and paste this coupon on a Government post card.

Cheerleaders Lend Enthusiasm to Game

Leading the student body as they cheer the Huskies on to victory in the 1956 football season will be six able cheerleaders, sponsored by Mr. Johnson. Returning to cheer and head the group will be Sandy McBride, a junior from Williamsport. Annette Williams of Hanover Township, also a junior, will continue to arouse school spirit with peppy cheers and infectious grins. Two spirited sophomores, Ann Beeson and Margie Marson, both of the Philadelphia suburbs, will again lend their talents to the success of pep rallies, parades, and games. Chester's June Locke and Kingston's Ginny Hardy represent the freshman class and complete the cheering squad.

Present at every home game, pep rally, and parade, the cheerleaders add much to Bloomsburg's school spirit. A colorful picture in gold sweaters and new maroon skirts, the squad is an attractive and enthusiastic group before the student body.

The cheerleaders purpose is to spark an intense interest and enthusiasm for the Husky team as it faces powerful opponents. The cheering squad stirs spirit as it leads songs and cheers to build the fighting morale of the Bloomsburg team. Cheerleaders never work alone. They are merely the leaders of the entire student body working to inspire good sportsmanship, thus spurring our team on to victory.

At all pep rallies, in the Husky Lounge and at Navy Hall, the cheering squad is there promoting school spirit and showing the football team the confidence placed in the Huskies by their classmates and teachers. No parade on college hill is complete without the cheerleaders. They are an integral part of football at Bloomsburg.

THE PEPPER POT

by BILL SHERIDAN

To be here or not to be here. That is the question facing most Bloomsburg students as the weekend draws near. It appears that the latter solution is the one they most often choose. The reasoning behind their decision puzzles many of us who are in the habit of avidly following the Husky elevens in their gridiron endeavors.

Last week we suffered our first defeat at the hands of the powerful Dragons of Cortland, but not without a well contested struggle, as the score indicated. Those students who were at the game cheered with great fervor until the final whistle. Unfortunately we weren't the recipients of many breaks in the game against Cortland and still more woeful was the fact that we were unable to capitalize on those we were fortunate enough to get. The outstanding factor of the game was the enthusiasm and spirit shown by the fans. The improvement over that of the previous week was marvelous. Frankly, it is my belief that it may have been a result of the speeches given at the bonfire pep rally by Joe Malczyk and Bo Rainey.

Joe called upon the student body to recall the commendable job they did last year. He also pointed out that this year's freshmen class had inherited a crown whether they were desirous of it or not. In accepting this crown the students must also realize the responsibilities entailed.

In Bo Rainey's stirring speech he stated that it was his opinion that this year we possess the potential to be the highest spirited student body in the area if only the student body would accept Bloomsburg as their home. Bo's seriousness reflected the feeling of many who have been here at Bloom for a few years.

Is this week to be a "Homecoming" or a "Homegoing". Certainly we can stay for this the last home game. Why don't we all go up to Mt. Olympus on Saturday and show the returning relative of this family that we want to aid our brothers on the team and support them as they deserve?

Is it too much to ask of ourselves to sacrifice a little for our home? We can all be winners if we all have the pep.

SCHOOL SONGS

MISTER TOUCHDOWN

Mister --- Touchdown --- U.S.A.
Chorus:
 They always call him Mister Touchdown,
 They always call him Mister Team.
 He can run and kick and throw
 Give him the ball and just look at him go.
 Hip, hip hooray for Mister Touchdown,
 He's going to beat 'em today.
 Let's give a great big cheer for the hero of the year
 Mr. Touchdown U.S.A.
Repeat Chorus

(Verse)

Remember the day he murdered Minnesota,
 Remember the day he pickled old Purdue,
 The boys at Notre Dame have never been the same —
 He took Wisconsin's white and red,
 And made it black and blue instead.
 And look at the way he broke the heart of Harvard,

He knocked the double L from Illinois . . .
 So look out sister . . . here comes Mister . . . Touchdown U.S.A.
 (Return and sing chorus once)

MY GIRL'S A HULLABALOO

1. My girl's a hullabaloo
 She goes to college, too,
 She wears Maroon and Gold
 I'm telling you.

2. We go to all the games
 I furnish all the change
 She and the other dames
 They all go, too.

3. As I grow older
 I shall grow bolder
 And I shall hold her
 Close to my shoulder.

Chorus

(Repeat after each verse)
 And in my future life
 She's going to be my wife
 How in the world did you find that out?
 She told me so.

ALPHA PSI OMEGA PLANS INITIATIONS

At a recent meeting of the Alpha Omicron Pi chapter of the co-educational dramatic fraternity, plans were discussed for the forthcoming initiations, which will consist of both a regular and a formal initiation. They will be held on October 16 and 23, respectively.

Membership qualifications call for outstanding work in the Dramatic Club for a period of at least three semesters and a quality-point average of 1.5.

Officers of the fraternity for 1956-57 are Gerald Donmoyer, president; Margaret Wilkinson, secretary; and Barbara Brunner, treasurer. Mr. Boyd Buckingham will continue to serve as adviser of the honor society for the coming year.

GAMMA THETA UPSILON

The Delta Chapter of Gamma Theta Upsilon, the coeducational Geography Fraternity, held a special meeting on Wednesday, October 3. At this meeting twenty-two students were accepted as nominees for membership. Initiation is scheduled for October 18 to 25.

Tentative plans for future meetings include both local and out-of-town speakers. Interested freshmen and upperclassmen will be invited to attend open-house programs.

The fraternity meets on the fourth Thursday of each month. Mr. W. B. Sterling is the advisor.

PI OMEGA PI

The first meeting of the Pi Omega Pi, Alpha Delta chapter of the professional business education fraternity, was to be held in the form of a picnic on Thursday, October 4, at Gehrig's Grove. The weather man, however, wasn't in favor, and the picnic was rained out.

The fraternity's program plans include a talk by President Harvey Andruss. Initiation of eligible members will take place in November.

KAPPA DELTA PI

Kappa Delta Pi, the coeducational honor society in education, held its first meeting on Thursday, October 4.

The induction of new members, to be held next month, was discussed and a tentative schedule for the coming year was planned. Meetings are held on the first Thursday of each month.

The officers for 1956-1957 are: president, Ed Augustine; vice-president, Don Hare; recording secretary, Semina Cole; corresponding secretary, Miriam Miller; treasurer, Enola Van Auken; historian, Marilyn Ritter; advisor, Dr. Nell Maupin.

to some songs for the Waller Hall girls after which sixteen very hoarse students dragged themselves to their rooms.

Thursday was very appropriately named "Laundry Day" for the sixteen fellows spent most of the day at the red brick building below Navy Hall picking up laundry. Requests were obeyed immediately without any question.

"The best in school spirit" is required for Friday, "Exhibition Day", and pledgees are out with BEAT MANSFIELD signs, BSTC songs and cheers. The pep rally to be held tonight will be much obliged for the support it will be receiving from them.

Strange things are still happening at BSTC because the sixteen pledgees of Phi Sigma Pi have one more day of initiation. The Homecoming Football Game should gain some added zest when they appear with suits, ties, topcoats, and pipes.

Mr. Rygiel Presents Awards

BSTC was once again honored by the presentation of a trophy. However, the presentation was in honor of scholastic achievement rather than the usual athletic award.

A nation-wide shorthand contest, sponsored by the Esterbrook Pen Company, was conducted on a collegiate basis. Judgment was made on neatness, correctness and form of shorthand outlines. The eighteen members of Mr. Rygiel's shorthand class received first place honors and Mr. Rygiel was presented with the trophy by Dr. Thomas B. Martin, Director of the Business Education Department.

Members of the class received an Esterbrook Pen engraved with their name in addition to a certificate of merit:

Maroon and Gold Band To Perform Saturday

Everyone here at BSTC will be seeing and hearing a great deal about one of the biggest and most highly developed organizations on campus—the Maroon and Gold Band.

Each year, students who have participated in their high-school bands and those with an interest in band music are invited to join this hard-working group. They meet, under the direction of Mr. Nelson Miller, six hours a week, rehearsing and planning programs for the coming school year.

The Maroon and Gold Band is both a marching and a concert band. During the football season it is seen on the field at half-time playing college songs and displaying original skits.

After football season, the band begins preparing for several concerts to be given during the remainder of the school year. They combine marches, classical music, and rock and roll into several entertaining performances.

This season the band has performed at the Delaware and Cortland games and will tell the "Story of Two Alumni", this weekend, to a crowd of Homecomers during half-time at the BSTC-Mansfield game.

In the lead, strutting and twirling, will be the four peppy majorettes, Sue Hoffman, head majorette, Molly Mattern, returning from last year, the two freshmen, Pam Fox and Janet Gross, and the drum-major, Don Schlauch. In addition to performing at our home games, the band will march on the fields of West Chester, Kings, and Shippensburg.

At the helm of the band, as president, is Alan Kleinschrodt assisted by Vice-president Don Kerr, Secretary Dorothy Stoudt, and Treasurer Kenny Swatt. Under their leadership, the organization will conduct six concerts—the first to welcome visitors and friends to BSTC Homecoming will be on Saturday morning at 10:30 in front of Carver Hall.
