Coed of the Year

Obiter Queen, Miss Lorraine Basso, and her Court.

Amid the splendor of "High Society", Miss Lorraine Basso, Bangor, was crowned Coed of the Year. Annette Williams, reigning queen, graciously relinquished her throne to Lorraine at the Freshman Hop, Friday, February 15. Attractive Miss Basso, a sophomore, was elected Coed by a vote of BSTC students over seven other contestants representing the Freshman, Sophomore, Junior, and Senior classes.

Lorraine, wearing a floor-length gown of blue tulle, looked radiantly happy as Bob Asby, Master of Ceremonies, presented her as Coed of 1957. "I don't believe it," she whispered to her escort, John Seamon, before she ascended the stairs to a high golden throne accented with maroon velvet.

An engraved loving cup and a sterling silver bracelet were given to Lorraine by the Obiter, sponsors of the annual Coed of the Year contest. A full page portrait of Miss Basso will appear in the 1957 issue of that publication.

The seven other contestants, Sue Osborn, Margaret Yohn, Bobbie Creamer, Mary Grace, Ann Beeson, Pam Fox, and June Locke, formulated the queen's court. Before the dance they appeared on WHLM, a local radio station. Immediately following the crowning, Miss Basso, Miss Williams, and Mr. Asby were interviewed by Al Kessler of WHLM. Lorraine explained that she has been active in the Bloomsburg Players, the Student Christian Association, and the Newman Club. She was also a candidate for the title of Varsity Queen at the Varsity Club dance in November.

The Freshmen carried out the "High Society" theme by using champagne glasses, bottles, and silhouetted dancing couples for decorations. Soda pop bottles, dressed in aluminum foil and sparkle paint, were sold as souvenirs of the dance.

Eight Freshman Models Will Help To Enhance Fashion Show

Recently chosen Freshman models and Judy Ulmer, commentator.

Eight freshman girls will step into the fashion spotlight April 4, at BSTC's Annual Fashion Show. They are Lois Carpenter and Sandy Clark, Bloomsburg; Sally Reif-entahl, Forty Fort; Ginny Hardy, Kingston; Susan Heckman, Reading; Alice Shaw, Elizabethtown; Carol Thomas, Nicholson; and Sandy Jones, Bangor.

Fashion coordinator is Judy Ulmer. Narrating for the millinery and children's department will be Mary Grace.

Sandy Lewis, sophomore, Huntington Mills; Peggy Markovci, sophomore, Palmerton and Suzanne Young, sophomore, Sunbury. Children, ranging in age from toddlers to the pre-teens will also be included in this Fashion Show.

Chairman for the store coordinators is Janet Plummer. Her committee includes Ann Peal, Barbara Watts, Molly Mattern, Nancy Hane, Nancy Hughes, Mary Cumber, Dolores Stanton, Mary Faith Fawcett, Jean Naughton, and Sally Stallone. Eight local stores will make their merchandise available for the show.

Dan Kressler will again be in charge of the stage setting. He is using as a theme the mysterious Calypso lands.

Mary Jane Ertle will provide music at the organ.

Cullen, Carney To Demonstrate Sales Techniques

Initial plans have been completed for the Eleventh Annual Sales Rally which will be held Thursday, March 7, at 8:00 p.m. at BSTC.

Charles H. Henrie, coordinator for the annual event, announced the two of the nation's top speakers and sales executives will be present to describe and demonstrate effective sales techniques. Featured on the program are Charles Cullen, President of Charles Cullen and Associates, Sales and Public Relations Consultants, and Ralph W. Carney, Retired Vice-President of the Coleman Lamp and Stove Company of Wichita, Kansas.

Cullen, who is still in his thirties, has trained thousands of business and professional men and women in tested methods of successful leadership and salesmanship. Proof of the effectiveness of his program is self-evident in his own record—during the past ten years he has been elevated to the vice-presidency of one firm and became executive vice-president of another.

Carney, who had a meteoric and spectacular career with the Coleman Company, is rated as one of America's most successful sales executives and a top-flight speaker. His enthusiasm and pioneering in sales techniques played a large part in the expansive growth of the company.

Attendance at each of the past rallies grew so consistently that a large number of last year's audience found standing room only. Mr. Henrie indicated today that an effort will be made to provide additional accommodations for the more than a thousand service club members, high school and college students, teachers, and businessmen and their employees who are expected to be present.

Last year, delegates to the rally came from seventy-five communities in Central Pennsylvania.

Members of the Benton, Berwick, Bloomsburg, and Danville Kiwanis Clubs are planning to accept an invitation to attend a pre-rally dinner in the college dining room at 6:30 p.m.

Two Kadelpians At AC Convention

"Education for a New Morality" was the topic of Dr. Agnes E. Meyer's address to regional chapters of Kappa Delta Pi on Saturday evening, February 16 at the Hotel Traymore in Atlantic City. Present at this annual convention of Kadelpians were representatives of colleges and universities from Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Washington, D.C., and Maryland. BSTC's delegates from the Gamma Beta Chapter of the fraternity were Connie Ozalas and Arlene Rando.

The conference began Saturday morning with registration at the Madison Hotel and continued with a general session and welcome from the official hosts, the Zeta Alpha Chapter of Paterson, New Jersey. Committees were formed to discuss various problems.

Time was provided for the delegates to see some of the sights on the Boardwalk. Many of the members visited Convention Hall to see exhibitions of school equipment, textbooks, pamphlets, and periodicals displayed for the American Association of School Administrators' Convention.

Dinner was held at the Traymore Hotel. Mrs. Meyer's address to delegates followed. Entertainment was provided by the Curtis Institute of Music, featuring Mr. Wayne Connor, tenor, and Leo Luvisi, accompanist. The presentation of Laureate Members and guests brought the 1957 Kadelpian Convention to a close.

Janetka, Parry Win CGA Vice-Presidential Nomination. Bechtel, Campbell, for Secretary; Balchunas, Golden, for Treasurer; Peck, Wood, for Assistant Treasurer

The first step for eight candidates running for CGA office is over. Victorious in the primary election last Tuesday, February 26, nominees chosen by student and faculty vote now face what looks like a rigid two week campaign before the general election, Thursday, March 21.

Prior to the election, all aspirants for the offices of president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, and assistant treasurer had been nominated in the regular assembly on February 19. Only two persons, Raymond Hargreaves and Luther Natter, were suggested for the presidency; thus, those candidates did not enter the primary election.

In the primary, Carl Janetka and Irwin Parry won the vice-presidential nomination over Joseph Andrysick and Kenneth Swatt. Janetka, a sophomore from Hatboro has been president of his class for two years, giving him a seat in the College Council. Parry, Blakely, is a sophomore transfer student from Syracuse University where he was a freshman representative to the student government association of that college.

Louise Campbell and Joanne Bechtel edged out Mary Ann Thornton for the secretarial nomination. Joanne, a sophomore business student is a member of various organizations including the Maroon and Gold and Obiter publications. Her home town is Easton. Louise, from Lewistown is also a sophomore in the business field. She has served on the CGA for two years as the woman representative of her class.

For treasurer, Peter Valania lost to Norman Balchunas and Patrick Golden. Balchunas is probably best known as the accordionist for BSTC's jam session group. From Shamokin, he is also vice-president of the Junior Class. Golden, Darby, is now vice-president of the sophomore class and a member of a CGA committee.

James Peck and Kenneth Wood were victorious over Edward Brower in the assistant treasurer contest. Peck, from Boyertown, is the only freshman nominated for CGA office this year. He was co-chairman of the Freshman Hop. Wood's interests have been the football and track teams. He is a sophomore from Mechanicsburg.

Choraleers Resume Rehearsals Thurs.

At 3:00 p.m. on Thursday, February 21, singing voices were again heard in Science Hall. To many students, this was a welcome sound. Owing to college policy regulations, the College Choraleers had to reschedule their Monday evening rehearsals. Mr. Nelson Miller, director, after taking a poll of the chorus members, found the hours 3:00 to 5:00 p.m. on Thursday the most advantageous time to hold rehearsals.

Maroon and Gold Concert Band Tapes Program

At the regular assembly, February 26, the Maroon and Gold Band, under the direction of Mr. Nelson Miller, broadcast its annual mid-winter concert from Carver Auditorium.

This organization changed readily from a rousing marching band to a concert band, requiring the hard work of Mr. Miller and forty-eight band members.

The program consisted of the following selections: "Fall In", the VFW marching song; the "Romeo and Juliet Overture", by Bellini; "Four Winds Suite", by Budka. The latter suite consists of four movements: "Lullaby", a flute solo played by Denise Wenkenbach; "French Waltz", for E flat saxophone played by Dorothy Stoudt; "Spring Mist", an oboe solo by William Steinhart, guest soloist from Bloomsburg High School; and "Petite Polka", a clarinet solo by Barbara Batzel. Also included in the program were: "Autumn Beguine", by Stewart; "Salute to Grofe", arranged by Paul Yoder and "Semper Fidelis", by Sousa.

This program was the second in a series of four concerts to be presented by the Maroon and Gold Band this year. The next broadcast by the band will be on May 7, and an outdoor concert will be held May 8, preceding the May Day activities.

Hargreaves, Natter, Vie for CGA Presidential Campaign Victory

Raymond Hargreaves

Luther Natter

While the other candidates for CGA offices awaited the primary election results, Luther Natter and Raymond Hargreaves were already plotting out their campaign strategies. Nominated for the Community Government presidency Tuesday, February 19, these young men continue to battle for the highest office any student can obtain at BSTC.

Both candidates are in the Junior Class, (as stipulated by the CGA constitution) and both have had College Council experience, Natter as Vice-President, and Hargreaves as Junior Class representative.

Hargreaves, from Scranton, is also a member of Phi Sigma Pi, Pi Omega Pi, president of the Business Education Club, chairman of the Business Education contest, and a member of the Pilot staff.

Natter spends much of his time working behind the Husky Snack Bar. He is also a member of Phi Sigma Pi, FTA, and the Maroon and Gold staff. Luther comes from Spring City.

Students and faculty will choose the next President of the Community Government Association on Thursday, March 21. As president, either Luther Natter or Raymond Hargreaves will (1) preside at CGA and College Council meetings, (2) represent the school in social activities at the college and in the Bloomsburg community, (3) administer CGA decisions through the vice-president and other officers, (4) appoint all special committees.

Social Recreation Committee Replies To Queries

by D. MORGAN and B. GOWER

In reply to a few of the questions concerning social activities, the co-chairmen of the Social Recreation Committee offer these answers.

- What are the objections to Wednesday night dances?
There are no objections, as long as the dances do not conflict with the social calendar policy. This is true for dances proposed for weekends.
- Why are there not more activities on weekends?
Mainly, because they have not been placed on the social calendar.
- If a student wishes to voice his opinion or offer any suggestions, whom should he contact?
To contact either of the Social Recreation co-chairmen place the written request or opinion in their respective mail boxes.
- What is the policy concerning the Hi-Fi set?
A student may petition any member of the Social Recreation Committee to secure the phonograph from the Council office. Only members of the committee are permitted to operate the set.
- What is the procedure for requesting an Open House at the Centennial Gymnasium or an informal Jazz Concert in the Husky Lounge?
A student may contact one of the co-chairmen of the Social Recreation Committee and request the proper reservation for that activity. As long as the activity does not conflict with the social calendar and the activity is requested far enough in advance, it may be scheduled.
- What changes have been made in the college social calendar?
The following calendar changes are approved on the basis of a report made by the special committee on Social and Recreation activities.

*The Square Dance scheduled for May 15, 1957 is to be combined with the wiener roast scheduled for May 18, 1957. Hours are to be 8:00 to 11:00 P.M.

In case of rain, the May Day and Dance will be held on Friday, May 10, 1957.

The date for administration of the Salk Polio Vaccine inoculations will be set in the near future. A final tabulation of the permission slips indicates that 470 students and faculty members have applied for these inoculations.

Of the 470 to receive the polio shots, 438 requested the series of three inoculations, seven the last two, and 25 the last of three shots. Due to the size of the demand, the cost of these preventive shots has been reduced to one dollar each.

Maroon and Gold Sponsors Contest

Like to win a bit hard cash while you are helping your favorite CGA candidate win an election victory? The Maroon and Gold is giving you the opportunity to do just that by offering prizes of seven, five and three dollars to the best three campaign posters on display here at BSTC. We have selected as judges for the contest, Bill Kautz, CGA President, Deanna Morgan, Co-Chairman of Social Recreation Committee, and Arnie Redbord, Business Manager of the Maroon and Gold.

The judges will review the posters on Thursday, March 14. All posters must be registered with the Maroon and Gold Editor before that date. Winning posters will be announced in the March 22nd issue of this publication. The decision of the judges will be final.

Groups as well as individuals may submit posters for consideration. For more information on contest rules and standards of judging, consult the Maroon and Gold Bulletin Board.

A special election issue of the Maroon and Gold will be published on March 15. The staff will run campaign advertisements and gimmicks. Candidates should consult the Maroon and Gold for complete information.

A March 22nd issue will announce the winners of the CGA elections held March 21.

.. Club News ..

A covered-dish Valentine luncheon honoring twenty-three new members was held February 14th by the Day Women's Association.

Bruce Miller, president of the Science Club, has announced plans for educational field trips as a part of this semester's club program. Included in this program will be a trip to the Bucknell Science Fair in April.

Dr. Englehardt was guest speaker at a regular meeting of the Business Ed. Club, held February 21st. The next guest speaker will be a tax collector.

Recently elected members of the Men's Resident Council are as follows: Paul Spahr, president; Ronald Romig, vice-president; Irwin Parry, secretary; and Dan Fritz, treasurer. Following the election of officers, John Nagle, George Vivacqua, John Valania, and John Jones were selected to represent the off-campus students on the executive committee.

At an election held by the freshmen girls, Lillian Snyder and Joanne DeBrava were elected to represent them on the governing board of the Waller Hall Association.

Rose Coulter, Dotty Stoult, Art Leshner, and Ronnie Davis have been selected by the members of L.S.A. to attend the annual North Atlantic Regional Conference held today at Buck Hill Falls.

Sandra Raker, Donna Mattocks, John Ford, and Frank Mackert will represent the Business Education Department at the Eastern Business Teachers convention in New York, April 18th and 19th. Dr. Martin, Mr. Hinkel, and other faculty members of the Business Department will accompany the students to New York.

Mrs. Sutliff Is Added To Faculty

Mrs. Lois Sutliff, a former resident of Danville, is presently serving as the women's physical education and health instructor at BSTC. She is substituting for Miss Lucy McCammon, who is recovering from an operation she underwent several months ago.

A graduate of the public schools of Danville, Mrs. Sutliff attended the Mary Washington College in Fredricksburg, Virginia, for two years. She then attended the State Teachers College in East Stroudsburg, where she earned the Bachelor of Science degree. Prior to coming to BSTC, Mrs. Sutliff taught for three years at Nescopeck Senior High School.

Besides her teaching and household duties, Mrs. Sutliff is also interested in horseback riding and swimming.

Mr. Sutliff is a graduate of Ithaca College, Ithaca, New York. He taught music in Montgomery, and in Forty Fort before going into business with his father.

The Sutliffs have one daughter, Suzanne, twenty-two months old.

Who Is A Christian Asks Paul Anderson In Religious Address

Paul Anderson, well-known member of the college community, delivered the sermon at the Vesper Services held February 17, at the First Methodist Church of Bloomsburg. The subject of his address was "Who is a Christian?"

In a five-point definition he defined a Christian as the person who attends church regularly, devotes time daily to prayer and devotion, accepts some definite task in church work, supports his church by tithing, and lives with Christ as his example.

He ended his sermon on the note that Christ is available to anyone who will accept him.

Paul is a junior in the secondary curriculum here at BSTC. Upon graduation in January, 1958, he plans to teach for one semester. He will then enter Drew Theological Seminary at Madison, New Jersey, where he will pursue a course in theology.

Dr. Kuster Gets Hail

While studying about atmospheric conditions in the Teaching of Science course last week, Carl Shively, a science major was attempting to describe the formation of frost. After a somewhat lengthy description, Carl realized he was wrong. He paused then replied soberly to Dr. Kuster, "I'm giving you hail".

Mystery-Comedy Thrills Audience

Carver Hall Auditorium was filled on Tuesday evening, February 19, for an excellent performance of "The Shop at Sly Corner," by Edward Percy. The mystery-comedy in three acts staged by the Bloomsburg Players under the direction of Boyd Buckingham.

Donald Schlauch, Deanna Morgan, Ann Tooley, and Gerry Donmoyer headed the cast. Turning in a brilliant performance of comedy relief was Bob Stish who played the role of a clever thief. Others in the cast were Wayne Gavitt, Raydel Radzai, Maureen Barber, Joseph Zapach and Robert Corrigan.

An elaborate stage setting was built for the play. Mr. Buckingham was assisted by Robert Ebnert, student director.

The backstage crew consisted of prompters, Lorraine Morlock and June Pope; stage set, Francis Buck, Barbara Brunner, and Willard Boyer; properties, Margaret Wilkinson, Doris Brown, and Martha Sofranko; costumes, Carol Clark, Mary Lou Wagner, and Betty Barron; and makeup, Joanne Specht, Audrey Brumbach, Patricia Antonio, and Loraine Basso. William Sheridan, Elsa Horvath, and Dale Biever were ticket chairmen. The ushers were Joan and Jean Matchulat, with Virginia Deibert, Lorelei Reed, Lola Rigel, and Sally Sayles serving as co-chairmen. Mrs. Mary Jane Ertel added a colorful touch to the presentation with appropriate organ music during the intermission.

Following the presentation of the play, "The Shop at Sly Corner", a soiree was held by Alpha Psi Omega for the cast of the play in the Day Women's Room. Guests included Dr. and Mrs. Harvey A. Andruss, Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Herre, Miss Edith Zinn, the play cast, and members of Alpha Psi Omega. Canopes, petit fours, punch, mints, bon bons, and nuts were served. A centerpiece, made up of the Masques of Tanhauser, trailing ivy, and candles, highlighted the table. The college fidelity set was used to provide a musical setting. Climaxing this event was the presentation of a desk lamp to Mr. Buckingham as a token of appreciation for the work he did in making this production possible.

Coaches Are Guests At Athletic Dinner

Six hundred persons were present Monday evening, February 25, at the Fifteenth Annual Community Athletic Dinner, sponsored by the Bloomsburg Boosters Club held at the Caldwell Consistory. Guest speakers were Hugh Devore, head coach of the Philadelphia Eagles, and Lou Little, football coach at Columbia University. Edward Schuyler, Editor of The Morning Press, was master of ceremonies.

Among the special guests of the evening were John A. Hoch, Jack W. Yohe, Walter Blair, and Norman Hilgar of the BSTC faculty. The program was opened by the singing of America, and the invocation was given by Reverend James M. Singer, Pastor of St. Matthew's Lutheran Church.

Following a fine meal, the guests of the evening were introduced and special awards were presented to the outstanding Bloomsburg High School football player, the outstanding player of the Midget Football League, and the Bloomsburg Boosters Association choice for the Meritorious Service Award.

Edward Hogan, publicity director of the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League, was on hand to present Hugh Devore, and Orlo Robertson, sports director of the Associated Press, New York, introduced Columbia University football coach, Lou Little. Harold L. Moyer and William H. Logan of Bloomsburg were in charge of group singing, and dinner music was provided by Jack Hartzell's Orchestra.

The program was concluded with the singing of the National Anthem.

Advice to Lovelorn

Mildred V. Lovelace

Dear Reader,

Is your life unhappy? Are you troubled with problems with members of the opposite sex? Is there some seemingly insurmountable object in your love life? Maybe I can help you. Simply drop a line to me—Mildred Lovelace, Box 138, BSTC. And now for this week's problems.

Dear Mildred,

My boyfriend is a second semester freshman and he is in a bad way financially. I am a senior. What shall I do? — Gert

Dear Gert,

By all means quit school immediately. Marry him, get a job in a factory or as a waitress and support him. All your worries will be over. — M.V.L.

Dear Mildred,

I'm rather corpulent, have acne, strabismus, halitosis, silicosis and the tiniest trace of jaundice. The coeds of BSTC ignore me. Why? And what can I do? — Rodney Croop

Dear Rodney,

I can for no reason understand the attitude of the Bloomsburg girls. You have lovely handwriting. However, my advice is: Transfer to Wilkes. The coeds there will date anything. — M. V. Lovelace

Dear Mildred,

I am a timid and very plain looking Freshman. I never come out of my room except for classes and meals. However, at dinner one night I fell passionately in love with a handsome senior who participates in baseball, basketball, track and wrestling. He's also rather popular and I hear he's even president of the most important organization on campus—"Me Buddies" Club. How can I get him to notice me? — Mabelene Drusella Gooch

Dear Miss Gooch,

Come out of your shell! Then this will be no problem at all. Try spilling your tray on his head as you pass his table at lunch. Smash into him when changing classes. Sit in the front row at basketball games and trip him when he runs by. I'm sure he'll notice you. But caution! Play it cool. Act hard to get. Make him think you're a queen. And most of all, act sophisticated. Here's a suggestion—try using a cigarette holder.

SPORTS HI-LITES

by DON COFFMAN

Climaxing a most successful wrestling season, the Husky matmen captured third place in the 14th Annual Wrestling Tournament at Lock Haven State Teachers College last weekend. The highlight of the tournament came on Saturday night when Jim Garman, after placing second last year, emerged victorious as the 123 lb. champion of the State Teachers Colleges. Harry Hughes, Bobby Rohm, and George O'Connell also placed in the tournament. After two years of building, Coach Walter Blair presented a team of which Bloomsburg can be proud.

The Huskies enjoyed a good season in dual meets as well—with a pleasing 6-3 record, losing to powerful Lock Haven, Millersville, and West Chester. Lock Haven and Millersville placed first and second respectively in the Tournament. The loss at West Chester was a tough one, as Garman failed to make his weight, which cost us the match.

On an individual basis, the Blaimen appear to be in good shape for the coming years. Harry Hughes will be the only Senior departing from the squad. Jim Garman, state champion, will be back for a couple of years, along with Dave Rimple, who has proven to be one of the most promising freshmen on the team. Two other place winners from the tournament, George O'Connell and Bobby Rohm, will also be on the roster for added strength.

So with the close of one season, the prospects for the future look exceptionally bright. When handing out praise, recognition must not be overlooked in the person of Al Hoffman, who worked long and hard in shaping the matmen into the status which gained Bloomsburg recognition.

Throughout the season the Huskies have been well supported by the student body both home and away. Those students who made the trip to Lock Haven last weekend aided in bringing victory back to Bloom. I think that our students gave an exhibition of school spirit that will remain in the hearts of all those attending the tournament, especially the LHSTC student body. It surely was a fine example to set—and no finer place was more fitting.

This spirit not only prevailed during the wrestling season but also during the basketball campaign. To those few who made the long and tiring trips with the team to nearly all the away games—the team is appreciative.

The 1957 State Teachers College Wrestling Champions are as follows:

|-----------------------------------|
| 123 lb. — Jim Garman — Bloomsburg |
| 130 lb. — Gallucci — Lock Haven |
| 137 lb. — Hammaker — Lock Haven |
| 147 lb. — Goldthrope — Lock Haven |
| 157 lb. — Clark — Lock Haven |
| 167 lb. — Price — Millersville |
| 177 lb. — Elwood — Lock Haven |

The champions of the 1956-1957 season will be announced later.

Kings' Cagers Halt Huskies

Before a packed house which included many Kings fans, a hot shooting aggregation from Kings College defeated the BSTC cagers by a score of 82-72. The game was marked by many foul calls as the officials kept the pressure on the boys throughout the game. Kozick, Boyle, Swisher, and Covington were forced to leave the contest via the five personal foul infraction. The Centennial cagers kept pace with the Monarchs during the first half as the score was Kings 41, Bloom 37, at the intermission. Early in the second half, ace rebounder Len Kozick, was evicted for 5 fouls. Later, Bill Swisher was waved out by the officials for fouls and he was soon followed by Bob Boyle as he committed his fifth foul. The crowd contested many of the refs' calls, some of which were often bewildering to the partner referee.

After hurting his ankle early in the tilt, Jim Gustave returned to the line-up and netted 20 points on 7 field goals and 6 charity shots. Bill Swisher followed closely behind with 19 markers on 7 field goals and 5 free throws. Jim Snyder also hit double figures as he dumped in 5 field goals for 10 points. Joe Wallace, sporting a 31.4 points per game average, kept pace as he poured 30 points into the net to pace the Monarchs.

Men's Intramurals Held Monday Nights

The men's intramural basketball program began on Monday, February 18, and will continue every Monday evening from 6:30 to 9:30 until a champion team has been established. Sixteen teams are included in the schedule which will operate on a tournament-elimination basis.

Eight teams will be playing this Monday night and will close out the second round. After Monday only eight teams will remain in active competition. Referees are chosen from volunteers.

Millersville Trips Bloomsburg 106-66

The powerful Marauders from Millersville defeated the Huskies from Bloomsburg on Friday, February 22 by a 106-66 margin on the Marauder's hardwood.

The crafty and power-laden cagers of MSTC jumped off to a fast lead and were never threatened by the offensive efforts of scrappy Bloomsburg. John Parker, Sly Williams, and Jim Bishop paced the aggressive Marauders throughout the first half.

"Hacker" Schaefer, John Mascioli, and Len Kozick lead BSTC with 13, 12, 10 respectively. The Huskies were greatly handicapped having to play without the services of Jim Gustave who is disabled with an ankle injury he received during the Kings College game.

Huskies Lose Decision As W. Chester Wins

Failure of their 123 pounder, Jimmy Garman, to make weight sent the Huskies of Bloomsburg State Teachers down to a 16-14 decision at the hands of West Chester in the final match of the season at West Chester.

The Blaimen ended the season with a 6-3 record.

The Huskies waged a tremendous comeback after Jim Garman failed to make the weight in the opening match and then in an exhibition scored a 13-8 decision over his opponent. Garman made the weight on one scale but at the official weighing he failed by a quarter of a pound and, after taking off the necessary weight, it was too late to make the scale.

After Dick Rimple picked up the first three points for the Huskies, the locals dropped the next three matches to trail 16-3, before Bob Rohm scored a decision, 6-0. Stan Elinsky picked up a 5-0 decision to make it 16-9 and Harry Hughes did his best by pinning his man in the first period of the unlimited weight.

- 120—Garman, B, forfeited to Lenhart, WC.
- 130—Rimple, B, decisioned Gerstemyer, WC, 5-3.
- 137—Cawthern, WC, pinned Eltringham, B, 0:27, second.
- 147—Meconi, WC, decisioned Bellharz, B, 10-5.
- 157—Piscitello, WC, decisioned O'Connell, B, 7-3.
- 167—Rohm, B, decisioned McIntyre, WC, 6-0.
- 177—Elinsky, B, decisioned Whistler, WC, 5-0.
- Unlimited—Hughes, B, pinned Emerick, WC, 1:16 first.

Annual Scholastic Tourney Gets Underway on Campus

The 30th Annual High School Invitation Tournament got underway Wednesday night, February 27, at Bloomsburg State Teachers College Centennial Gymnasium. The director of the 1957 tourney is Mr. Jack W. Yohe.

The second evening of contests will begin Saturday night, March 2, with games scheduled through the month of March on the 5, 7, 9, 12, and 14, ending on the 16 with the "Night of Champions". The BSTC Tournament has the sanction of the P.I.A.A. but non-member high schools may enter competition if they meet P.I.A.A. requirements for school and contestant.

Kingston High School was last year's Class A champs. Pine Grove and Butler Township took tourney honors in the Class B and C competition.

As has been the rule in the past, trophies will be awarded to the champ and runner-up in each class. Also sterling silver basketballs will be presented to the individuals of the winning team in each class. Every boy who takes part in tournament play will receive a certificate of participation.

The final night of tourney action is termed "The Night of Champions". At this time an All-Tournament Team will be selected and tournament officials will pick the 1957 "Outstanding Player".

Another colorful feature of the annual event is the selection of the outstanding cheerleading squad of each class. Trophies will be presented to the winners at the "Night of Champions".

Fourth Straight Gained by Huskies

The Bloomsburg Huskies gained their fourth straight triumph by defeating the Lock Haven State Teachers College five 107-57 on the Husky hardwood. BSTC got off to a fast start and were never threatened after the opening minutes of the game.

Jim Gustave and Len Kozick paced BSTC's scoring attack with 23 and 20 points respectively. Bobby Boyle added more fuel to the fire by contributing 16 tallies. Garold Terrette was the big gun for Lock Haven with 13 points.

Under-currents . . . by KEN WEIR

The sleepy little hamlet known to localites as Light Street sparkled with a special glow last Friday night. And the old-timers are still talking about the annual social event that is remembered by young and old. Yes indeed, last week Light Street's own "Mousie" Davis had a birthday party. Now when "Mousie" Davis has a party you can be guaranteed it won't be any gypsy affair. The event was planned with the same care given any debutante's introduction to the social set. The Davis family considered having the party in the new Philadelphia Sheraton during its formal Grand Opening. But they settled for the firehouse in Light Street instead. Sixty-five local Co-eds were invited and what took place is not especially suitable for telling in this "lily white" column. And so while the housewives chatter about "Mousie's" party over the backyard fences . . . we want to wish her many "more of the same."

Sometimes it's interesting to know what other folks are reading . . . but we don't mean for book reviews or extra credit or anything like that. Helene Sowa just finished "Benton's Row" and Ron Behers is thinking about the draft as he enjoys "No Time For Sergeants." Bob Hess just finished Philip Wylie's terrific "Tomorrow." Bobbi Ceamer is enjoying Steve Allen's "Fourteen For Tonight." Mickey Graff didn't especially like "Good Morning Miss Dove." Bob Biemesderfer is chuckling with all those who are reading "The Last Parallel." "Honey" Pomes has chosen "How Do I Love Thee," to be followed by everyone's favorite "Marjorie Morningstar." Bill Calderwood has been philosophizing with Paul Harvey in "Remember These Things." And we just finished an unusual novel by Edwin Daly—a junior at Yale—entitled "Some Must Watch." We recommend it wholeheartedly. Also, you might enjoy "A Surfeit of Honey" by Russell Lynes—one of our sharpest, and most amusing social critics. But so much for that.

If anyone wants a few laughs, just talk to Ginny Holt. Ginny's from suburban Philadelphia, but she summers in Beach Haven, New Jersey and she knows the "inside story" on every beachcomber in town. She especially delights in lurid tales about the "natives" and their antics. Just mention Beach Haven to Ginny and she'll begin asking if you know the dozens of folks she gabs about. Take our word for it . . . she's another Hedda Hopper.

If anyone can fight their way through the barricades of campaign posters—it's not the fault of the folks aspiring for the coveted College Council posts. We couldn't help but notice one troublesome poster. We sill haven't decided about the Bulganan story. Was the opposition responsible or did Carol think he was "too democratic," or what was the story? But Ike did say he liked Carl J. . . . sure he did . . . Ike Smultz, retired delicatessen owner . . . whoever he is!

On the other side of the fence we have "Cap" Parry. Cap speaks Japanese fluently and from most of the College Council meetings we've attended it seemed that this talent would be a great asset. Everyone talks at once anyway . . . why must everyone speak English? Whitey Farrell has been building rockets . . . printing napkins, etc. . . but Parry has friends elsewhere . . . he came to us from Syracuse and probably has a lot more tricks up his sleeve. Is it true he's made an arrangement with General Sarnoff of N.B.C. for a show to be sent out from this remote spot?

As usual we have the names of the month. Yes Norm Fowler missed a few classes last week . . . reason? . . . stiff neck! Joan Schuyler has turned down the most interesting of all proposals! Ray Hargreaves capitalizes on Davy Crockett on a most unique low-fidelity record. Mary Grace plans her all black costume for the Senior Ball . . . but who can afford a black orchid? Jo Bechtel wonders about the girls on Waller Hall's second floor and their very exclusive Flusher's Society. Molly Mattern nurses a bruised nose from her Ozark Hoedown struggle with Blke Bottorf. Bill Pohutsky wonders about moving Commencement to Centennial Gym! Bo Rainey wonder why Pete Valania was so anxious to bury him last weekend. And Lu Natter wonders about record dances and setting up pegs and all those silly games . . . but while the cat's away the mice will play . . . (they say). Nat Marsallo—like the old lady that lived in the shoe . . . "she had so many proposals, she didn't know what to do." And congratulations to Jim Garman and Lorraine Basso . . . each one a real winner in his own right!! Did you hear that Pat Petock asked Mr. Stradtman in a recent Phys. Sci. class if "anyone has ever gotten close enough to a star to take a picture to see if it really has five points." And she was serious!!

CGA Convention At Lock Haven

The State Convention of State Teachers College Student Government Associations will meet at Lock Haven STC, March 29 and 30. Lu Natter is chairman of the delegation from BSTC. The delegation includes Nancy Suwalski, Dave Spahr, Carl Janetka, Evie Gilchrist, and Miss Zinn, of the faculty.

They will leave at 8:00 a.m. Friday, and return Saturday evening. College Council is providing $100 to cover expenses.

There will be panel discussions on problems common to State Teachers Colleges in Pennsylvania. BSTC suggested twelve topics for consideration. These topics included Freshman customs, extra curricular activities, faculty chaperones and Bermuda shorts.

Co-Pilot Editor Elected by Board

At a regular meeting of the Waller Hall Governing Board, Betty Stiff, a junior in the business curriculum, was elected editor of the 1957-58 Co-Pilot.

Betty hails from East Stroudsburg where she was graduated from the East Stroudsburg High School. While in high school she worked on yearbook layout. This experience will help her in organizing the Co-Pilot, the handbook which helps girls to become better acquainted with Waller Hall.

Here at school Betty is active in many phases of college life. She is a junior representative to Governing Board; a Little Sister Counselor; a member of the Social Recreation Committee, Student Christian Association, Future Teachers of America, and Business Education Club.

After the staff has been chosen, Miss Edith Zinn, Assistant Dean of Women, will work along with the group in the capacity of advisor. When a theme is selected the girls will begin work on a handbook which is a "guide to successful living in the Waller Hall Community."

"Ozark Hoedown" Was Big Success

BSTC guys and gals stomped rubber-soled feet to the lively music of Ed Ritter's orchestra at the Ozark Hoedown on Wednesday night, February 20, in Centennial Gym.

Confusion was kept at a minimum by having the dancers walk through the steps before beginning the actual dancing. Couples were given time to catch their breath between squares by indulging in less-strenuous round dancing. One outstanding square dance which everyone seemed to enjoy was the traditional "Kiss in the Moonlight."

The refreshment committee, headed by Dick Connolly, was kept busy all evening supplying coke and pretzels to the exhausted crowd.
