1958 COED TO BE NAMED TONIGHT

Student Government Association To Convene on Campus

Joanne Bechtel

Beverly Tuckwood

Pam Fox

Judy Goss

Nancy Herman

Annette Williams

Carol Ely

Nikki Scheno

Centennial Gym To Be Scene of Sweetheart Ball

Tonight at 9:30 p.m. the sweetheart of the our campus will be chosen to be Coed of the Year. Each class has two representatives; they are Carol Ely and Annette Roush, seniors; Joanne Bechtel and Nancy Herman, juniors; Nikki Scheno and Pamie Fox, sophomores; Judy Goss and Beverly Tuckwood, freshmen. This year's Coed will be crowned by Lorraine Basso, Coed of 1957.

The crowning will be the highlight of the Sweetheart Ball, which is sponsored by the Freshman Class. Music will be provided by the Joe Stanton orchestra. Refreshments will be served picnic style in the gym lobby.

The entire theme will be built around the idea of sweethearts and the color scheme will be pink and white. Couples will dance under a crepe paper pavilion and on each table will be a small silhouette of a couple dancing. The bandstand will be surrounded by green hedges, and don't be surprised if you see a few lovebirds and squirrels dashing about the Sweethearts' park! From the ceiling there will be suspended eight large silhouettes representing each one of our sweethearts.

Programs will be provided for all the girls attending the dance to keep an account of the night's festivities.

Presiding over the introduction of the eight sweethearts and crowning of the new Coed will be Carl Janetka, co-ordinator of the Coed of the Year Contest.

Notes from the Dean's Desk

Announcement of those students who have attained a perfect academic average for last semester has been received. They are: Donald Kerr, a junior sec. from Catawissa; Sandra McBride, senior elem. from Williamsport; Glenn Reed, sec. soph., Treverton; and Mrs. Delores Plummer, elem. sen., Bloomsburg.

Current probation list numbers 150. This is the smallest number in several semesters. Approximately half of the students on this list are from the Freshman Class. The heads of the Departments are currently holding a series of individual meetings with the students. College policy regarding academic deficiency is being outlined for the students at these meetings. Recommendations are sent to the Dean's Office and student and parents are notified at this time.

Those students who have a crowded feeling in classes numbering 45-50 should note that a recent analysis of classroom situations has revealed the average class this semester numbers 31. Last semester's average was 33.

Mr. Donald Rabb and Mr. George Stradtman of the science and mathematics dept. have been selected as representatives to the Annual Convention of the National Association for the Advancement of Science to be held in Washington, D.C., on March 7, 8. This year's theme is centered around the "Improvement of Science and Mathematics teaching" in connection with teacher education.

BSTC will again be represented at the Annual Shamokin Career Day sponsored by the Shamokin Rotary Club on Wednesday, March 5. The Dean of Instruction will meet with three groups of students interested in secondary education. Other faculty members from BSTC will be Mr. Ulmer—art; Mr. Miller—music; Mr. O'Donnell—elementary education.

The Dean of Instruction will be ready to meet with students who cal talent, a magnificent voice and physique, an engaging personality and concentrated energy.

Intercollegiate Press Bulletins

AMHERST, MASS. (I.P.) — A three-year program of research and experimentation, subsidized by the Carnegie Corporation, is now in its second year at the University of Massachusetts, according to a report released here by Dr. Stowell C. Goding, who heads the French department at the University.

Dr. Goding described the planning and designing of a language laboratory which will be part of a new liberal arts classroom scheduled for construction this year. For the University's projected enrollment of 10,000 by 1965, Dr. Goding said the laboratory is planned to accommodate 2500 students a week. The 85-place lab will include two-way listening and recording operations.

The laboratory will also include use of film slides, radio and television. The basic technique is now under study by the University language staff in a 20-place experimental lab. This year the faculty will devise a variety of lesson and study techniques to determine how tape recording equipment may be used most effectively.

The relationship of the lab to the classroom is also under study here. Dr. Goding presented the two prevailing schools of thoughts: First, all teaching should be done in the classroom with the laboratory reserved for drill; second, that material should first be presented in the lab, then analyzed and elaborated in class.

"We are happy to note that both groups consider the lab an aid and not an end," Dr. Goding said, explaining, "we are making no attempt to force one group into the others' mold."

Bloomsburg Will Host Delegates To Annual Convention of STC Student Government Association

The College Council has announced its plans for the Annual Convention of the Student Government Association of the State Teachers Colleges of Pennsylvania to be held on the BSTC Campus from Thursday, April 10 through Sunday, April 13. Student Council members from the fourteen State Teachers Colleges will be represented by four students and one faculty adviser. Accommodations for the women delegates have been made at the Hotel Magee and the men will stay at Tenny Town Motel. The principal speaker will be Dr. Charles Boehm, Superintendent of Public Instruction. BSTC Student Government officers of the Convention CGA President Luther Natter proposed that this year's convention be held at Bloomsburg. The policy of host college after this year will be according to alphabetical listing.

Upperclassmen Win Battle of Classes

Thursday, February 13, Carver Hall Auditorium was the scene of the annual Battle of the Classes sponsored by the Iota Chapter of Phi Sigma Pi, in co-operation with Time Magazine. The upperclassmen were represented by: seniors, Nancy Klotz and Douglas Boden and juniors, Mary Ann Thornton and Donald Kerr. Sophomores, John Longo and Linda Bartlow and freshmen, Barbara Wainwright and James Simon made up the roster of underclass representatives.

Questions on topics varying from international affairs to sports were asked alternately to each side with a time limit imposed. The upperclassmen proved to be the better informed as shown by their score of 13½. The Junior Class copped top honors by getting 7½ out of 13½. Mary Ann Thornton was high scorer and was awarded a year's subscription to Time Magazine.

The entire program was broadcast by WHLM and WCNR and replayed later in the day. Judges were Dr. Herre, Mr. Rabb, and Mr. Van Norman. Quizmaster was Dean John Hoch, timekeeper Mr. Harold Shelly with Mr. Boyd Buckingham as broadcasting co-ordinator.

The following students have been appointed to head the various committees necessary to make the convention a success.

Entertainment—John Valania.
Talent Show—Irwin Parry.
Registration and Dining Room—Norman Balchunas.
Hotel and Motel Reservations—Robert Leiss.
Arranging for Assemblies and Panels—Jack Herman.
Guidance—Carl Defebo.
Supplies—Judy Moore.
Art—Barbara Hockenberry, Kim Wahl.
Bohemian Ball and Newspaper—Mary Galatha.
Informal Reception and Banquet—Robert Steinruck.
Programs—Betta Hoffner.
Registration and Hospitality—Mary Ann Thornton.

A tentative program schedule has been set up for the convention and includes an address by the keynote speaker Dr. Boehm, and an address by President Andruss. Other highlights of the program include a General Assembly, panel discussions, Bohemian Ball, Talent Show and Banquet. The 15 member panels will be selected from the eighty delegated to the convention and will be open to BSTC students if (Continued on page 4)

Carl Palangi To Sing February 27

Carl Palangi, popular young bass-baritone who will sing February 27 at Bloomsburg High School under the auspices of Civic Music Association, has been widely acclaimed for his triple starring in opera, concert and television. Known for his regal performance as the Tsar in Boris Godunoff, Mr. Palangi has proved equally successful as actor and singer in such strongly contrasting roles as Don Giovanni, Mephistopheles, and Jabez Stone in The Devil and Daniel Webster.

Winner of the San Francisco Music Critics' award, Mr. Palangi has been a featured soloist with the San Francisco Symphony under Pierre Monteux and Arthur Fiedler, with San Diego Philharmonic and other West Coast orchestras. He is a member of the San Francisco Opera Company, and in radio and television. On his last visit to Europe, Palangi received flattering opera and film offers in France and Italy, but returned to the United States to increase his already extensive repertoire of roles.

Looking back a dozen years to his boyhood, no one could be more surprised than Mr. Palangi himself that he should have turned out to be an opera singer. At fifteen he was driving a beer truck in Cleveland in the afternoon, going to school in the morning, and boxing in the evening, with no thought of becoming a singer. He trained as a boxer, but with the advent of the war found himself in the Navy. Here his rich bass voice was discovered and commandeered for solo performance with the Great Lakes Naval Choir. Not until after the war, however, did Palangi decide on a musical career. Encouraged by musical experts, he then began intensive studies in voice, languages, acting and repertoire. Those who know him best attribute his phenomenal success to a rare combination of dramatic and musi-

Campus Court--What's Your Opinion?

Within the next few weeks the student body at BSTC will be asked to vote in favor of or against an Interim College Tribunal. This vote will be a guide to the vote of College Council on the same subject. If the student referendum is favorable toward it, and if Council approves it, the Tribunal will be one of its greatest steps forward that student government at this college has taken.

The Tribunal will consist of nine members — three seniors, three juniors, and three sophomores — to be appointed by a seven-member committee consisting of the presidents of the three upper classes, the president and vice-president of the Community Government Association, and Dean of Men and the Dean of Women.

The Tribunal will be allowed jurisdiction only in those cases involving parking and academic dishonesty. It is hoped that the areas of jurisdiction will be expanded to include more of the violations of campus policy which are now handled by the Dean.

Any action will, for the most part, be initiated by students. However, action may be initiated by instructors, administrators, or policemen. A reviewing committee will consider changes in order to determine whether or not there exists a true case. If one exists and it is felt that it merits formal Tribunal action, it will be entered upon a docket for consideration by the Tribunal.

The hearings will be conducted as soon as possible and deliberated with as much speed as possible. A faculty advisor will be present at the trial to assure the student that justice is served in the interests of him and of the college. Infractions such as violation of campus parking policy, speeding or reckless driving on or near the campus, cheating, possession of answers or tests, aiding students in tests and plagiarism are among these to be considered. Penalties recommended for these infractions include reprimands, warnings, notification of parents, fines, compensation for damages, suspension of privileges, probation, suspension, expulsion, restriction, or a combination of penalties.

Some students, through lack of information, may misunderstand the true nature and purpose of the Tribunal. It is not a punitive body; it exists to help all of us. This point cannot be overemphasized. For this reason, a referendum will be held on February 27. Here the student body and the faculty will be given ample opportunity to air their views and to question a panel with regard to the nature of the Tribunal. As has been stated previously, the outcome of this referendum will be a guide to College Council and their approval or rejection of such a body.

It is understandable that some of the students and faculty will greet such an innovation in our student government with reluctance, since most of us are reluctant to give way to any change. However, if we use foresight while entertaining this idea, I am sure we will approve it. Here is a chance for all of us to take on a semblance of maturity. It is no easy task to pass formal judgment on one's fellows, but it is a sign of maturity that we are able to accept such a challenge. All of us at one time or another may be called upon to serve or a jury. This is a privilege, not a right, and here is our chance to cultivate mature and objective judgment. We must welcome it.

A student Tribunal allows a source of relief to students who have legitimate complaints. It assures us that we will be judged by other students who are familiar with our problems. It allows the broadening of the whole range of student sanctions in cases where discipline is required. A college official has relatively few choices in disciplining a student. The Tribunal is of great activity value. It will provide an outlet for participation in learning and practicing self-government.

Apart from benefitting the students who participate as justices on the Tribunal and those who will be tried, it will benefit the entire college community. Of course, it is recognized that neither cheating nor the parking problems, nor any other problem which may at a later date come under the jurisdiction of the Tribunal, will be immediately solved. But the problems will be alleviated to some extent, and eventually reduced to a minimum.

The Tribunal is not a court set up looking for business. On the contrary, it is to discourage business, but not to drive it underground. The success or failure of the College Council Tribunal, if and when it is approved, depends almost entirely upon the students. If they will accept this as an aid and not a hindrance, as a sincere action and not a farce, it will benefit the entire college community. It will most certainly lighten the load of the administration with regard to any needful disciplinary action. Surely, it will aid the instructors in their plight to end academic dishonesty. And, it will aid those of us who resent the fact that there are a few among us who are cheating their way through college, while we must work that much harder to negate their efforts. Incidentally, those people who are cheating may someday be teaching our children and lowering the standards of the teaching profession.

If everyone shows a sincere interest in next Thursday's assembly program, the College Council will be qualified to make an intelligent decision on the matter of the Tribunal.

CIARDI ON CAMPUS

Student efforts to secure the services of John Ciardi, eminent lecturer, have been successful! Mr. Ciardi is Professor of English at Rutgers, poetry editor of the SATURDAY REVIEW OF LITERATURE, executive editor of Twayne Publishers, and is on the Board of Directors of the National College English Association. He has just completed a new book of poems for publication early next year and is putting the last touches on "The Techniques of Poetry", to be published next year by Houghton Mifflin. His visit here is being sponsored by campus organizations who have made financial contributions to a special fund. The Day Women's Association, Day Men's Association, Resident Men's Council, Phi Sigma Pi, Kappa Delta Pi, Sigma Alpha Eta, Maroon and Gold Newspaper, and Community Government Association have all shown their interest in this way. Administration, faculty, and student cooperation has been almost 100%. This is indeed a compliment to their intelligence and a step forward for our campus.

Everyone is invited to attend the assembly this Monday evening at 8:45 pm in Carver Hall Auditorium to hear Mr. Ciardi. A tea sponsored by the Faculty Wives will be held after the program in the College Commons Lobby, Tuesday during the morning assembly Mr. Ciardi will discuss Dante. This will not be a regular freshman assembly and EVERYONE is encouraged to come.

THE Commuters . .

Citizens!
 We are writing this in blood! Those darn veins just won't heal. We really want to thank all those blood donors who are now pinned to the Red Cross. We hope you'll be very happy together.

Orchids of the week to Pete Ego and Irving Alexander for changing our tire on Route 11 in sub-zero weather. We picked up the two hitchhikers and took them exactly five feet and three inches before a tire went flat. Honest boys, it was not premeditated and you'll feel much better as soon as you're out of the hospital. What's a little frost-bite between friends anyway.

Honorable mention goes to the man in the green truck who pushed us down Market Street the day before. We were taking Sandy Clark home. After the truck episode we were afraid to stop again so we just slowed down and she jumped out. Sandy is right across the hall from Pete and Irving.

Also, honorable mention goes to the grandmother who kept us over night when the car froze. We think the above mentioned are going to chip in so we can live in the dorm. They figure it's more expensive to bail us out of our little escapades than to send us to Waller Hall.

It's just a good thing Miss Mettler is a sweater-girl, it got so cold in the lounge on blood day that she supplied eight cardigans to quaking donors.

We won't mention the name of the girl who got a valentine saying, "When they ask me what I see in you, what should I tell them"? Better watch that, Stiney.

Another commuter in the lime-light this week is Pat "Yardley" Long. If Pat doesn't like a joke she simply belts the offender on the head with her alligator purse. Getting a cauliflower ear, Shankweiler?

Our editress has become a commuter in order to do her student teaching in Berwick. (Plug for the old home town). How did you like the limburger cheese your protegee's put on the radiators on Career Day, Mary? Believe us, things weren't like that in the good old days. We blame it on Rousseau.

Notice John Lipovsky's black eye? Contrary to rumor, Marianne Shutovich had nothing to do with it. Actually, John was studying the pendulum in Science Hall when the earth suddenly rotated which explains the discolored aqueous humor. (Some of our humor is off-color aqueous too).

Hear about the three girls who took Joe Pental and Beau Hutteman out to lunch? The catch was they had to do some minor repairs to Sandy Kashner's car first. Some people will do anything for a free meal.

We leave you with this one plea. During this harsh winter, don't forget to scatter bread crumbs for your feathered friends. Remember — The bird you save may be Robin.
 — NIKKI

CGA Elections Coming

- March 20 — Open CGA meeting — nominations of candidates who have previously been approved.
- March 27 — Primary election
- April 1 — Speeches in assembly by those who have won in the primaries
- April 9 — Election Rally
- April 10 — Final Election.

The Old Philosopher

Hello there friends, Romans, and countrymen, lend us your ears for we have come to "praise" you not to slander you. Our ambition is to "keep 'em smilin'." And our first joke of the week comes from Dr. Martin who says, "A busy college student is a happy one." And speaking of being happy, Mrs. Beeman really enjoyed her life as a Co-ed in Waller Hall. Mr. Stradtman's favorite song, since he's teaching Sci. in Mod. Civ., is "The Bible Tells Me So."

Now that Dr. Selders is teaching a Reading class the up and down signs should be replaced in Science Hall. Evidently, the failure of the signs until now was due to a lack of reading ability on the part of the students. Jay Jones told Dr. Lanterman he's going to get himself a new pencil, because the one he has spells incorrectly. Speaking of writing what well known campus personality sends post cards to high officials in Moscow (interested J. Edgar Hoover?)

You say your name is Marlene Barbarette and now that you've finished student teaching, you have Teaching of Social Studies. And another ex-student teacher, Norman Fowler, finds Prob. of Sec. Ed. his favorite course this semester. We hear George Herre takes very good "notes," hence, he should have no difficulty in passing his courses. You say you've noticed that Gary Reddy is as popular on the dance floor as he is at the polls. Speaking of dancing we haven't been doing much of it in the Husky Lounge lately. And poor Herb Rosenberger was just learning how to dance. And "Big G" was thinking about learning too.

Attention certain profs, there is a "g" not a "v" in John Nagle's name. And we think Jill Baylor has potential for becoming a fine waitress—just learn to balance your tray at the scrape table. And Sis Wallichus has the easiest schedule on campus—30 hours of Lounge. Conscientious Phil Crocarno just can't seem to concentrate with all that noise on third floor. And if we were picking a girls All Star basketball team our first choice would be Bouncin' Barb Batzel. And by the way Janice Kunes—what is your political philosophy. The Red Cross reported that Hess' must have been busy the night before the Bloodmobile unit visited the Husky Lounge.

You say knitting still seems to be the fad on campus. However, Gerie and Martha of the College Commons prefer beautifully crocheted handkerchiefs. Congratulations Ruth Lundhall and Joe Kessler on your recent engagement. And thanks to Dr. Fike BSTC has more committees than the U. S. Congress. And remember kiddos a slip of the lip will sink a ship, as one of our business teachers found out, when he made a reference to the business department.

You say the library has become the busiest place on campus thanks to Drs. Serff, Martin, Herre, and Seronsy. If library assignments keep increasing a two weeks advanced reserve list for seats will be required. You say Dean Hoch's comments remind you of Time's movie reviews.

Bill Stevenson, like his namesake Adlai, is always striving for a bigger and better Bloomsburg. And how are the business students enjoying Typing IV? While we're on the subject of business students, which one of you got a copy of Uncle Wiggley's Fairy Tales for his birthday? Maybe Sue Hoffman can use it for student teaching.

If you missed the BSTC-King's game you also missed Coach Shelly's initial appearance on the Friday night fights. Many of the student teachers received valentines, no one, but no one, can match Charlie Jessop's. In addition to the fine performance of the Huskies at last weekend's game the fans were amused by Carl Sweet's gift, a "cry" towel to the Kingsmen. Was Ray Burger's fine performance on the court due to Dr. Herre's advice based upon 33 years of experience? Mae Bush will be happy to know that her ever lovin' Stiney is going to stop being a commuter, because he can never find a parking place for his Stutz Bearcat. We like Short Shorts.

Many of our students thought Miss MacDonald wrote Profiles in Courage, and sometimes it takes quite a bit of courage to go and get clued in on your profile. Many of the coeds on campus think the new Philosophy instructor is real George.

And various and sundry people on campus have told us if the "Old Philosophers" ever launched a satellite, we'll have to call it "Smutnik." Attention Dr. Maupin—President Eisenhower just assigned a commission to put the stink back in carnations. All you pinochle players—Dee Panzetta has recently mastered that game and is interested in proving it. Has Marie Walsh learned how to spell yet?

Compulsion is . . Compelling

by JANE NEFF

In the 1920's a horrible crime was committed. Newspaper accounts of the murder of a small boy and his two assassins, who seemed only to have a thrill motive, shocked the nation. As a result of this crime, the most controversial trial of our century developed. Many of the most prominent lawyers and psychiatrists of that time were involved in the defense and the prosecution. The brilliant defense of the late Clarence Darrow saved the boys from hanging, and they were sent to a penitentiary for a life sentence. Since that time one has died, and the other one unsuccessfully sought a parole last year.

Rather than seeing another gruesome crime on this order, Meyer Levin wrote Compulsion . . . in the hope of applying it to the increase of understanding of such crimes that has come, during these years, in the hope of drawing from it some further increase in our comprehension of human behavior."

Why did two brilliant Chicago University students from wealthy homes commit such a murder? Why was it committed in such a manner? There was no concrete motive, but one may speculate on the reasons. Both Leopold and Loeb were of superior intelligence, and perhaps they had read too deeply into the philosophy of Nietzsche. They believed themselves to be "supermen" not bound by the laws of common people. The crime itself was meticulously plotted as part of a pact formed between the two boys, and the victim chosen was of little importance.

Their friendship and "murder pact" was heightened by a homosexual relationship. Also one must not overlook the influence of home-life and society on these boys. Particularly, Leopold felt the stigma of being Jewish, of being socially unacceptable among members of the opposite sex. Might circumstances have been different if Leopold had not been sent to a private school because of his puniness?

Since Meyer Levin was a contemporary of Leopold and Loeb at the Chicago University, and was involved in the trial through his newspaper work, his account of the crime and trial proceedings is authentic. Mr. Leopold, in a radio interview concerning his parole, said Compulsion is very fair and accurate. I would recommend this book, not so much for its literary value, as for the psychological issues which lead to a broader knowledge of the criminal behavior.

179 Pints of Blood Donated at Bloomsburg

A Red Cross Bloodmobile Unit visited BSTC campus Thursday, February 13. Nikki Scheno, a sophomore business student, was chairman of this year's program.

The bloodmobile opened at 9:45 A.M. with donations continuing until 4:15 P.M. Members of the BSTC faculty and student body contributed a total of 179 pints; this was 9 pints over last year's total.

Volunteer workers from Bloomsburg, and many area nurses assisted Dr. Beckley, Bloomsburg physician. Doughnuts, juice, and coffee were served to all donors. Dinner was served in the college commons for all the volunteer workers.

SPORTS HI-LITES

by Jim Wagner

Many of us who saw the recent game against Kings College thought, (and maybe our thoughts were justifiable), that the officiating was not at an all time high. There are many reasons why we may have thought that way, one being that game was played rather roughly, and another, that it was a relatively fast moving game.

Each basketball game is now being handled by two individuals who we call officials or referees. The terminology applied to rating the "refs", ranges from lousy to good. Regardless of who the two men are on the court, they cannot even attempt to please everyone. Are you satisfied with the present system of officiating? If you are a coach, player, or just one of those uncouth individuals who sit in the stands and call themselves fans, your answer will probably be no.

In passing, the sportsmanlike conduct which is traditional of BSTC players and fans had just scraped an all time low against Kings. Booing officials is bad enough, but once students begin to boo coaches and players, it is carrying it to a ridiculous extreme. It is a blow to the integrity and pride attached to Bloomsburg. It is best to remember that there are ten ball players on that court at one time, and, there are only two officials to cover all the action.

Maybe three officials would help to alleviate the controversial question of lousy officiating. That is, in addition to having one official stand along the side lines at about mid court and one under the basket, it might be possible to put one in either corner opposite the side on which the one official is at mid court. This would give the two "refs" in the front court the advantage of seeing fouls committed underneath or around the basket. The referee at the midway mark is to cover any action around the key and fast breaking by the opposition. Another way in which we might improve officiating is to have an age limit put on the "ref." You know as well as I do that those officials at the game against Kings were not spring chickens, and after the game were more than tired. The younger officials have more stamina and, more than likely, would keep themselves up to date on current changes in basketball rules and regulations.

In regard to changing rules, one of the most frequent mistakes an official might make is to give a charging or blocking foul to the wrong player. The rule states that the defensive man must have position on the court before the contact is made. That is, if a Husky began on an open drive-in, and an opposing player just moved out in front of him, the foul should be charged against the opposition for blocking. The difficulty arises when we try to determine whether or not the man had position on the floor.

As long as the nation continues to have athletic contests there is going to be a variety of opinions regarding officiating. There can be no sure cure-all to the officiating as long as people have individual differences. The idea of three officials has been boiling around in scholastic and collegiate basketball for several years, and many prominent men have voiced their opinions in favor of the plan. If you have any suggestions for improving the current system of officiating, drop your opinions in the Maroon and Gold office.

QUICK PICK UPS

In sixty-seven games over a period of the last four years, Millersville lost only two STC contests—both to West Chester. If the Marauders avenge their only loss to West Chester and repeat last year's results into expected Millersville, West Chester and Indiana victories, the conference could end in a three-way tie. A West Chester win at Millersville will practically assure the Rams of their first STC basketball title. STC teams have won 32 and lost 28 basketball games against non-conference foes thus far this season.

JAYVEE BASKETBALL

Husky Pups Record Seventh Victory

The Huskies made a clean sweep of the night's proceedings as their understudies chalked up their seventh straight victory by defeating the Bald Eagle Jay Vee squad, 99-66, in the preliminary tilt. Four Huskies hit in double figures with Stokes setting the pace with 18 points, and Strausser, Peck, and Sweet chipping in with 15, 13, and 10 points. Kohler paced the Bald Eagles with a 20-point performance, while Mark hit for 13 points for the losers.

Sweet Paces Team In Bloomsburg Win

The Husky understudies rolled to their sixth straight triumph by clobbering the Montgomery Merchants from Northumberland, 87-60.

Paced by Carl Sweet and Ed Stokes, the Pups maintained a 46-34 count at the halfway mark. Sophomore, Carl Sweet, continued to hit with his patented jump shot at the start of the second period, and the Huskies began to turn the contest into a rout.

Sweet was high point producer with 23, while Stokes, Peck and Strausser had 12, 13, and 12 respectively. Fisher and Kupec made a valiant attempt for the losers by contributing 14 and 13 points to the losing cause.

Pups Squeak Out Narrow Victory

The amazing JV charges of Coach Norm Hilgar continued their spotless pace by proving to be too much for the Kings College understudies as was evidenced by their 78-72 victory. It was the eighth straight victory for the Pups.

After trailing 16-4 early in the first half, the Pups came to life through some fine shooting by Eddie Stokes and Pete Perialas to lead 38-37 at the half. The second half was all Bloomsburg as the Pups came on to score 40 points to cinch their victory.

Eddie Stokes lead the way for the local force with 23 markers, while Bill Conrad displayed some fine basketball mastery to net himself a neat 15 points.

Junior Cagers Defeat Lycoming

The Bloomsburg Junior Varsity continued its spotless record by trouncing the Lycoming Warriors' understudies, 80-59. It was the 9th consecutive win for the charges of Coach Norman Hilgar.

Trailing at half time, 38-37, the Pups staged an attack spearheaded by Ed Stokes and Carl Sweet in the second half to pour in 43 points. The Junior Warriors were unable to keep up with the fantastic pace set by the BSTC understudies.

Ed Stokes lead the Pups with 22 tallies while burly Carl Sweet ripped the cords for 18. Lycoming had five men in the double figures to show a well-balanced attack.

Bloomsburg Bows to Lycoming Cagers

On Saturday night, February 15, the Shellymen journeyed through a blizzard to Lycoming College in Williamsport where they were surprised by a powerful Warrior team. Lycoming got off to a fast start and was never in serious trouble as they rolled to their second triumph of the season against eleven defeats by drubbing the Huskies, 79-67.

Paced by the brilliant shooting of big Ed Boyd, the Lycoming hoopsters had compiled a twenty-three point lead at the halfway mark. Displaying a good fast break and a tight defense, the Warriors literally scalped the Huskies in the first half.

Bloomsburg, upon returning from a blistering halftime talk, began to glister away at the Lycoming lead and at one stage of the game narrowed it to three points. Lycoming's Ed Boyd once again began to hit and proved to be too much for the Shellymen as he sparked his team to a late rally, which sealed the Huskies doom.

Leading the Warriors were Ed Boyd with 32 points while Habel contributed 19 to the winning cause. Bill Swisher lead the Huskies with 26 tallies.

West Chester in First Place in STC Conference

Johnstown, Pa., Feb. 18 — West Chester continues to lead the 14-team pack in the mad scramble for the championship of the Pennsylvania State Teachers Colleges Basketball Conference. However, the Rams have a hard row to hoe in their remaining four conference games, especially those two games at Millersville and Bloomsburg. The return engagement at Millersville takes place next Saturday where the Marauders await to repeat last year's revenge performance.

Lock Haven's third STC overtime game of the season Saturday, in which the Bald Eagles nosed out Slippery Rock, 86-81, may prove to be the deciding game of the season in determining the champion of the eight-year-old conference. Slippery Rock closed a 16-point deficit to tie the game, but could not win the game in the overtime. The Rockets had to win to help the Indiana cause in the Saylor-system of ratings used by the conference. A Slippery Rock win would have given Indiana a first-place tie. The game was the fifth overtime game, (including two double overtimes) played in the STC play this season—a new STC record. In only other weekend game East Stroudsburg defeated Kutztown, 71-67.

Men's Bowling League Begun

The Men's Intramural program has recently included bowling as an activity for the late winter and early spring months of the school year. Bob Mescan, league secretary, has pointed out that the bowling will be based on a regulation league pattern. At present, there are only seven teams, but the eighth is being formed in order to facilitate scheduling. All bowling is to take place at the newly constructed Zephyr Lanes on the new Berwick highway. The time for the matches has been set at 9:00 on Wednesdays. Bob Mescan wishes to stress the fact that cooperation is essential for the success of the program.

BSTC Cagers Seek Win At Mansfield on Saturday

On Saturday evening, February 22, the Bloomsburg Cagers will travel to Mansfield in hopes of scoring their second victory of the season over the Mountaineers.

Anyone who witnessed the last encounter between the two clubs will remember that it was a thrilling game which Bloomsburg won 84-83. There was much controversy over the final score as a Mansfield player scored a basket a split second after the gun sounded. Bedlam broke loose as the Mansfield bench protested the decision, but the officials walked off the floor before any serious trouble arose.

The Huskies expect another tough struggle in the coming game. Shelly will use his same starting five once again. Ray Burger, who has been filling in for the injured "Hacker"

Schaefer has been playing great ball especially in the rebound department and with his continued good play we expect the Huskies to come home with another victory.

We can probably expect the same starting five from Mansfield once again. Coach Bill Gibson will probably start John Peterson, Gary Einderle, Mike Gamble, Hal Hansen and Ron Ferestone. Another man who will see plenty of action is Felb, who dropped in 25 points for the Mountaineers here at Centennial Gym.

But we have faith in our Huskies and once again we are picking them by ten points over the Mansfield Mountaineers.

Huskies Clip Bald Eagles' Feathers

The Huskies of BSTC got back on the winning side of the ledger by virtue of an 81-75 triumph over a surprisingly strong Lock Haven squad on the latter's court. The victory made it possible for the Shellymen to even their season record at four wins and four losses.

With Gustave and Shutovich hitting the Husky courtsters got off to an early lead and were never headed, although the Bald Eagles did throw a scare into the local forces by narrowing the margin to only four points, 75-71, late in the game. However, some fine clutch foul shooting enabled the Huskies to maintain the upper hand for the remainder of the contest.

Leading the Husky pack was senior Jim Gustave, the Plains point machine, with 31 points on thirteen field goals and five for six from the free throw line. Freshman, Norm Shutovich, continued to show his mastery on the boards by pulling down twenty-one rebounds while dumping in the like number in points, his high so far in a Husky uniform. Al Goodling paced the Eagles with twenty-three points.

Roger Hotz on Top In STC Conference

JOHNSTOWN, PA., Feb. 13 — If Roger Hotz can continue his current scoring pace, the California Teachers' cager may establish two new scoring records in the Pennsylvania State Teachers College Basketball Conference.

Hotz paces the 14-team field with 194 points in seven games for the best average of 28 points per game. He tallied more than 30 points in each of the last two STC games but he must step up this pace to at least 35 points per game in remaining three STC contests to set two new records — high average and high totals.

The high-average record of 29.6 points is held by former Californian, Jim Kennedy, who set the mark in eight games in 1952-53 season. High total points scored in one season is held by John Parker of Millersville who tallied 289 points in 12 STC games in 1955-56 season. Players scoring more than 100 points thus far this season are:

Matmen Score Three Victories

Grapplers Down ESSTC

Rebounding from two consecutive losses to Millersville and Lock Haven, the Husky matmen defeated a scrappy East Stroudsburg aggregation by a 24-7 margin at Centennial Gymnasium on February 5.

Pete Valania, wrestling his first varsity match for the Huskies, went down to defeat, 5-0, at the hands of Holstead in the 123 lb. division. Jim Garman chalked up his fourth consecutive win by pinning Reilly in the 130 lb. class. Then came the surprise match of the evening when Dick Rimple stepped onto the mat prepared to meet Allen Schaare, a 137 lb. freshman, and former New Jersey High School State Champion. Schaare was undefeated, and is one of the outstanding wrestlers in the conference. The match was a suspense-filled battle all the way as Rimple continually displayed his wrestling prowess over his able opponent. When the final buzzer sounded, Rimple had come through with a splendid 5-4 victory, hiking the team score to 8-5. The next match in the 147 lb. division, was a draw between Fake and Bolmer. With the score 10-7, Rohm defeated Zarbatany, 3-0. Asby added three more points by defeating his opponent 3 to 0. Chidester, in the 177 lb. class, came through with a pin over Whittley, making the score 21-7. "Stosh" Elinsky won over Andy Gall in the unlimited class, 4-3.

Commenting on the 24-7 victory, Coach Houk stated that the boys were in tip-top condition for this meet and were anxious to jump back on the winning side of the ledger.

Jayvees Win Over Wyoming Seminary In Both Clashes

The Bloomsburg State Teachers College Junior Varsity wrestling is rapidly gaining recognition as they rolled to a close 20-18 victory over the ever dangerous Seminararians from Wyoming.

Scoring pins for the Huskies were Sullivan, Stevenson, Withers and Orband. Hank Orband's pin in the unlimited class gave the victory to the Huskies Pups.

Huskies Beat Indiana

The Bloomsburg Huskies grappling squad, paced by some magnificent wrestling in the lightweight divisions, rolled to their third victory of the season by defeating Indiana State Teachers College, 16-11. Indiana put up an unusually fine battle, and had it not been for decisive victories by Valania, Garman, and Rimple, which compiled an early lead for the Huskies, BSTC would have had their hands more than full in order to notch the victory.

Pete Valania displayed a variety of wrestling holds as he clobbered his 123 lbs. opponent, 7-0. Next in line was the versatile demon from Sunbury, Jim Garman, who with only five seconds left in the match, pinned Moratti. Rimple continued his mat mastery by squeaking out a 12-10 victory over Hock in the 137 lb. class. Walter Fake drew for the second time this year as he and Carmo battled to a 6-6 deadlock. Bloomsburg's Bob Rohm had his trouble with Dick Einsel before finally outwitting the Indiana grappler to decision him 3-1. After Rohm's victory, the BSTC guns were silent as Asby lost 5-2 to Ernich; Ferguson decided Chidester, and Stan Elinsky fell prey to Diltz, to make the final 16-11 in favor of the Huskies.

Junior Matmen Edge Lycoming

The Lycoming jay vee wrestling squad went down to defeat at the hands of Coach Russell Houk's jay vee grapplers, 17-13, at Lycoming on Thursday, February 6.

In the 123 lb. division, Wallis of Lycoming pinned Andy Litavec in the first period. Dale Sullivan immediately evened the count by pinning Ofirry in the 130 lb. class. Ever improving Bill Stevenson decided Manson 9-2, while Nash, of Bloomsburg, decided Bencotter, 3-1. In the 157 lb. division, Don Ker

Trounce Lincoln

The Huskies of BSTC blasted their way to a 31-3 victory over Lincoln University at Oxford. With James Garman, Walter Fake, Bob Asby, Jack Chidester, and Stan Elinsky pinning their opponents, the charges of Coach Russell Houk had little difficulty in rolling to their fourth victory of the campaign.

The only Husky defeat came when Humphrey decided the rookie Husky grappler, Litavec, 3-1 in the 123 lb. class. From this point on, it was all Bloomsburg. Jim Garman pinned Joseph in the third period. Dick Rimple continued on his merry way with a handy 8-3 decision over Rice. Big Walt Fake pinned Bellups in 43 seconds of the first period. Versatile Bobby Rohm decided Kenducks 8-1, while Bob Asby, Jack Chidester, and Stan Elinsky pinned Dickenson, Nichon, and Wade respectfully to close out the Husky triumph.

decided Ed Cunningham, 7-4. Cunningham was State Champion at Indiana High School three years ago. Roland Cunningham fell prey to Thomas of Lycoming as he was pinned early in the second period. Paul Withers continued to show improvement as he handily gained another victory for BSTC by deciding Parsell in the 177 category. In the unlimited, Dick Confer decided Hank Orland, 5-0.

from now, the University is "definitely planning a series of conferences when we shall hold open house and share with our colleagues the results of our project." tion, between two and three years NEW HAVEN, CONN. (I.P.) — President A. Whitney Griswold of Yale recently called for a substantial increase in the proportion of the nation's wealth which goes to higher education to insure continued strengthening of our educational system in the face of the inflation which is attacking it on two fronts.

The two-fold nature of inflation, as pointed out by the Yale President is "partly a dilution of educational values caused by an inflation of the demand for higher education that is expected to double the present enrollment of our colleges and universities by 1970; partly an economic inflation in which the bare costs of existence are outracing the University's income.

President Griswold listed four conclusions drawn from his review of Yale's position in the national educational economy. The first is "that since Yale cannot stop the inflation (economic) it will have to learn to keep up with it. Our charges must be made to reflect our costs more accurately than they have in the past or than they now do if the charities we receive and our grants and contracts are to be computed realistically in relation to our needs.

"This is what is done with all other goods and services. It must be done with education or education will continue to be discounted and denied even its minimum requirements.

"A second conclusion is that we must find new sources of income to make up the margin by which the income from our endowment has declined in relative value.

"A third is that we shall have to be much bolder than we have in the past in exploring all possible sources of income, since none is as certain as the old fashioned, individual private philanthropy that has brought us to our present eminence.

space is available. Topics for discussion will include student government organizations and extra-curricular activities.

Your College Council urges interest on the part of each and every one of you. BSTC is known as the "friendly college", and it is our hope that every member of the college community will do his best to maintain this reputation. This Convention can be a success if each of us offers traditional BSTC hospitality to every visiting delegate.

will attend 1958 Summer School sessions on Monday, March 3.

A survey of the present enrollment indicated a record number of 1163. 185 men and women will be graduated in May or at the end of 1958 summer session. A total pool of 978 students will be left to form the upper class enrollment. The Dean's office allows a 10% deduction for withdrawals, drop-out, and academic casualties. Since it is obvious that the new dormitory and classrooms will not be completed for the beginning of classes in Sept. 1958 the total enrollment will not exceed 1200. This will allow room for only 325 qualifying students including new freshmen, transfer students, and returning veterans. This number is considerably less than Sept. 1957. The Dean expects to close enrollment early in spring with a waiting list.

Interim Judicial Code

Due to many complications — human and mechanical — concerning the recent issue of this newspaper, Friday, February 21, this judicial code was not included as scheduled. With due respect to the Council Committee who worked so diligently in forming this code for the approval of the College Community, we would like to compensate for our error as much as is possible by this special publication.

It is necessary for this code to be in the possession of every student and faculty member before the assembly program of Thursday, February 27. Freshmen are also urged to attend this meeting.

At this time, in order to impress upon students the importance of the approval or rejection of this Code, a panel of the Interim Judicial Committee will discuss the proposal and answer questions concerning its merits.

At some later date not yet determined, a referendum of the students and the faculty will be held to determine the reactions of the College Community to the proposed judicial code. These reactions from students and faculty — the people who will have the responsibility of supporting and enforcing the tribunal if it is finally approved — are important and necessary to guide the Council's decision on the matter. However, it must be clear that the final approval or rejection of the code must rest with the Council and President Andruss in accordance with powers granted to them in the C.G.A. Constitution.

It must be remembered that the Code printed below is not yet LAW. It must be studied by everyone concerned (and everyone is concerned), discussed, voted upon in a referendum, and then finally approved or rejected by College Council and the administration.

This Code is the result of a long and deliberate study and is presented as a step in the broadening of student self-government. Whether or not it will be accepted is important, of course; but the careful and thoughtful study of its merits by every student and faculty member is of the most immediate importance. Students are asked to bring their copies of this supplement to the assembly program on Thursday, February 27.

PREAMBLE

The Interim College Tribunal of Bloomsburg State Teachers College, under authority delegated by the Council of the Community Government Association and the College Administration, has been organized to function until either it is replaced by a permanently established College Tribunal or until the authority vested in it is withdrawn by College Council and the College Administration. It is hoped that the service rendered by the Interim Tribunal will ultimately justify the establishment of a permanent College Tribunal in full faith that a responsible student conception of justice is possible of realization and beneficial to the College Community.

Within limits of jurisdiction delegated by College Council and the Administration, the Code embodies prevailing conceptions of socially and morally acceptable student conduct and informs each student of behavior considered detrimental to his welfare and that of the College Community.

This code is intended as a guide to the Interim College Tribunal. It is not intended to be exhaustive. Student justice is conceived as constantly growing and in being subject to reworking as perfection in it is sought. Therefore, it is hoped that this code will remain a flexible document sensitive to the changing needs of the College and its students.

ARTICLE I. Membership

The Interim College Tribunal shall consist of a voting body of nine students, including both men and women, comprised of three representatives each from the Sophomore, Junior, and Senior classes; a non-voting Faculty Adviser; an Alternate Faculty Sponsor; and a non-voting Secretary.

Voting membership shall be attained through designation by an Appointment Committee of seven members consisting of the presidents of the three upper classes, the president and vice-president of the Community Government Association, the Dean of Men and the Dean of Women. Initial student appointments shall be made by an Appointment Committee consisting of the named representatives from the classes and the Community Government Association as organized when this code becomes effective. Except for the initial Appointment Committee, each succeeding Appointment Committee shall include in its membership, in addition to the Dean of Men and the Dean of Women, the prescribed class and C.G.A. officers elected in the Spring of each year to serve the Sophomore, Junior, and Senior classes and the Community Government Association during the next College year.

Not less than fifteen days before the end of the initial year and not less than fifteen days before the end of each College year thereafter, the Appointment Committee shall designate three Freshmen to serve, beginning in their Sophomore year, in replacement of the three graduating Senior members of the Tribunal. Such appointments shall be made in the Spring of each year after new class officers have been elected and installed and prior to the final meeting of the College year of the College Council of the Community Government Association. Whenever vacancies occur on the Tribunal for reasons other than graduation at the end of the College year, the Appointment Committee shall meet as soon as is convenient thereafter to appoint a successor from the appropriate class organization.

A non-voting Secretary to serve the Tribunal may be designated by the Business Education Club from its membership. Whenever the position of Secretary becomes vacant, a replacement may be appointed by the Business Education Club.

The Faculty Advisor and an Alternate Advisor shall be appointed by the College President.

Any student appointed to the Tribunal or as Secretary to the Tribunal at time of appointment shall be required to possess the same cumulative quality point averages required for eligibility in the major offices in other Campus organizations. The Appointment Committee shall endeavor to apportion appointments as to sex and resident and non-resident status so as to maintain, at their discretion, an equitable representation of both men and women and of resident and non-resident students. Membership on College Council shall not render a student ineligible for appointment to the Tribunal if otherwise eligible in the opinion of the Appointment Committee.

All student appointments shall be subject to the approval of the College President.

Student members shall continue to serve as voting members of the Tribunal from the time of appointment until graduation, or until leaving College, or until resignation either voluntarily or upon College Council's request for reasons such as dereliction of duty.

ARTICLE II. Interim College Tribunal Organization

Section 1. CHIEF JUSTICE

At the initial meeting of the Interim Tribunal and thereafter at the initial Tribunal meeting of each College year, the Tribunal shall select from its Senior membership, one person (man or woman) to serve as Chief Justice or presiding chairman for this and all other Tribunal meetings of the College year. In the event that a Chief Justice should resign from the Tribunal, at the next Tribunal meeting immediately following the appointment of his successor, the Tribunal shall select a new Chief Justice from its Senior membership.

A. Duties. The Chief Justice shall:

1. Preside at each meeting of the Tribunal.
2. Call Tribunal meetings whenever the number and/or the nature of cases entered upon the docket warrants formal Tribunal action or whenever there is business requiring Tribunal action.
3. Appoint Reviewing Committees whenever, in his opinion, such are deemed necessary.
4. Report, by typewriter briefs, to the defendants, the College President, and to the Vice-President of the C.G.A. the action taken by Tribunal on all cases adjudicated.

Section 2. REVIEWING COMMITTEE

At the initial meeting of the Interim Tribunal and thereafter at the initial Tribunal meeting of each College

...r, and whenever the Chief Justice deems desirable the Tribunal shall designate from its membership a Reviewing Committee composed of the non-voting Faculty Advisor and three voting members of the Tribunal.

A. Duties. Action requiring the Tribunal's functioning shall be initiated through the Reviewing Committee. It shall be the duty of the Reviewing Committee to briefly review the charges made in each instance to determine whether there exists a true case meriting formal Tribunal consideration. A simple majority vote of the Reviewing Committee shall be sufficient to determine that a true case exists and shall justify the entering of such case upon the docket for Tribunal action.

Section 3. FACULTY ADVISOR AND ALTERNATE FACULTY ADVISOR

The Faculty Advisor shall be appointed by the College President in accordance with College policy.

A. Duties. The Faculty Advisor shall have no vote in Tribunal decisions but he or she shall give official representation to the Administration's interests by being present for all Tribunal and Reviewing Committee proceedings except at such times when the Tribunal might be deliberating over evidence and deciding upon its verdicts. At such times, the Faculty Advisor shall withdraw to another place, there to remain available and subject to call if needed for advice or clarification of policy. The Advisor shall not be held personally responsible for Tribunal verdicts.

B. Alternate Faculty Advisor. The Alternate Faculty Advisor shall perform the duties of Faculty Advisor whenever the latter must be absent or cannot for any reason perform his duties.

Section 4. TRIBUNAL SECRETARY

The Tribunal Secretary may be appointed by the Business Education Club from its membership.

A. Duties. The Tribunal Secretary shall have no vote in Tribunal proceedings but shall attend all Tribunal sessions and shall keep stenographic reports of proceedings and shall assist the Chief Justice in preparing reports on the disposition of cases brought to the attention of the Tribunal.

ARTICLE III. Procedure

Section 1. INITIATING ACTION

Action on cases falling within the Tribunal's specific area of jurisdiction may be initiated by any informing or accusing student, College instructor, College administrative officer, campus policeman, or town policeman. Such action shall be initiated through written reports of charges briefly stating the facts of alleged infractions. Such reports shall be signed by the informants or accusers, and they shall be submitted to the Reviewing Committee, Interim College Tribunal in care of the College Post Office.

Section 2. ESTABLISHING TRUE CASES

Whenever reports of alleged infractions are submitted, the Reviewing Committee should meet to briefly consider the charges in order to determine whether there exists true cases meriting formal Tribunal consideration. Where it is established that true cases exist these shall be entered upon a docket for consideration at the next formal meeting of the Tribunal.

Section 3. TRIBUNAL HEARINGS

When the date has been set for hearing a case, the Chief Justice shall notify the defendant, the informer or accuser, and other interested persons of the charges and the time and place of the hearing. At the outset of a hearing the Chief Justice shall read the charges to the defendant and ascertain whether the defendant pleads guilty or innocent. When a plea of innocence is made the Chief Justice shall and, where a plea of guilt is made, the Chief Justice may, at his discretion, so direct the hearing as to clearly reveal all relevant details of the charges, and of circumstances under which the alleged infraction occurred. The defendant shall be given opportunity to defend himself against the charges and he shall enjoy the right to present and question witnesses in his own defense. The accuser shall also have the right to present and question witnesses in support of accusations. In cases of alleged academic dishonesty, whether or not the instructor is the informant or accuser, the instructor is the informant or accuser, the instructor involved shall be given the opportunity to be present at the hearing in order to express his observations pertinent to the case. In such instances it shall be determined whether the instructor, in accordance with his prerogative, has exercised independent disciplinary action and, if so, the nature of the discipline shall be noted by the Tribunal.

In cases where guilty pleas are entered and the written charges are sufficiently detailed to guide in the determination of just penalty, the Tribunal may, at its discretion, elect to confer directly as to the penalty to be imposed without hearing evidence.

After all testimony is heard the Tribunal shall retire to a room other than the place of the hearing and there, in private, they shall deliberate until a verdict is reached. Whenever a verdict of guilty is reached, further deliberation shall fix a just penalty.

Verdicts and penalties, if any, shall be reported promptly and verbally to defendants. Written reports shall be also made to the defendant, to the College President and to the Vice President of C.G.A.

Section 4. TRIBUNAL QUORUM AND CONVICTION VOTE

An attendance of at least seven student members and of the faculty advisor shall constitute a quorum for official Tribunal action. A two-thirds vote (six votes) of the total Tribunal membership shall be required for a conviction.

ARTICLE IV. Areas of Jurisdiction

Initial areas of jurisdiction for the Interim College Tribunal, as delegated by College Council and the College Administration, shall include cases of alleged traffic or parking violations and cases of alleged academic dishonesty. Areas of jurisdiction may be extended by further delegation by College Council and the College Administration.

Section 1. INFRACTIONS

1. Violation of campus parking policy.
2. Speeding or reckless driving on or near the campus.
3. Cheating in examinations.

Grapplers Down ESSTC

Rebounding from two consecutive losses to Millersville and Lock Haven, the Husky matmen defeated a scrappy East Stroudsburg aggregation by a 24-7 margin at Centennial Gymnasium on February 5.

Pete Valania, wrestling his first varsity match for the Huskies, went down to defeat, 5-0, at the hands of Holstead in the 123 lb. division. Jim Garman chalked up his fourth consecutive win by pinning Reilly in the 130 lb. class. Then came the surprise match of the evening when Dick Rimple stepped onto the mat prepared to meet Allen Schaare, a 137 lb. freshman, and former New Jersey High School State Champion. Schaare was undefeated, and is one of the outstanding wrestlers in the conference. The match was a suspense-filled battle all the way as Rimple continually displayed his wrestling prowess over his able opponent. When the final buzzer sounded, Rimple had come through with a splendid 5-4 victory, hiking the team score to 8-5. The next match in the 147 lb. division, was a draw between Fake and Bolmer. With the score 10-7, Rohm defeated Zarbatany, 3-0. Asby added three more points by defeating his opponent 3 to 0. Chidester, in the 177 lb. class, came through with a pin over Whittley, making the score 21-7. "Stosh" Elinsky won over Andy Gall in the unlimited class, 4-3.

Commenting on the 24-7 victory, Coach Houk stated that the boys were in tip-top condition for this meet and were anxious to jump back on the winning side of the ledger.

Huskies Beat Indi

The Bloomsburg wrestling squad, paced by Rimple, rolled to a 12-10 victory of the season by Indiana State Teachers. Indiana put up a fine battle, and had decisive victories by man, and Rimple, v an early lead for BSTC would have h more than full in c the victory.
