58 Representatives from 13 State Teachers Colleges Attend Annual Convention; Dr. Charles Boehm Is Keynote Speaker

Yesterday, Thursday, April 10th, Bloomsburg State Teachers College became host to the 1958 Annual Student Government Association Conference. Fifty-eight delegates and eight advisors from thirteen State Teachers Colleges of Pennsylvania (all are represented except West Chester) assembled here to participate in a four-day series of meetings. The keyword and general theme for this conference is "apathy"—of college students.

A general assembly with Dr. Charles Boehm, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, delivering the keynote address, marked the opening of this important affair. The delegates were then invited to attend "The Bohemian Ball" held in Husky Lounge last evening.

Today's schedule for the conference delegates consists of a general assembly in Carver Auditorium, eight panel discussions, and a special evening event in Navy Hall Auditorium entitled "Monte Carlo Night".

The program for Saturday, the third day of the conference, will include reports of the panel discussions from the previous day and a business meeting. Later in the day the College Commons will be the scene of an informal reception and a banquet in honor of the visiting guests. A dance, to which everyone is invited, will be the feature for Saturday evening. Bloomsburg will bid farewell to the visiting delegates as they depart from our campus at the conclusion of the conference on Sunday afternoon.

The main purpose of the conference—to discuss student apathy—will be carried out in the various panel discussions on Friday. This general theme has been divided into eight specific topics with a faculty advisor, discussion leader, summerizer, and eight panel members to talk about and arrive at some conclusions for each one. These panelists will discuss—"Apathy Toward Student Government", "Apathy Toward the Prestige of the State Teachers Colleges", "Apathy Toward Scholarship", "Apathy Toward Discipline Being Handled by Student Governments", "Apathy Toward Cultural and Social Activities", "Apathy Toward College Spirit", "Apathy Toward College-Community Relationships", and "Apathy Toward Parking Regulations".

BSTC delegates and panel members include Mary Galatha, Nancy Suwalski, Ronald Romig, James Peck, and Joseph Zapach. Three other Bloomsburg representatives will fill important positions in one of the panel discussions: Mary Ann Thornton, who will act as summerizer for panel eight; Irwin Parry, who will be the discussion leader for panel five; and Mr. Walter Blair, who will act as faculty advisor for panel six.

Planning the '58 conference are the present officers of our CGA—Lu Natter, president; Irwin Parry, vice-president; JoAnn Bechtel, secretary; Norman Balchunas, treasurer; and Kenneth Wood, assistant treasurer. Appointed as committee chairmen for the conference are: Mary Ann Thornton, hospitality chairman; Barbara Hockenberry and Kim Wahl, art chairmen; Carl DeFebo, guidance and parking chairman; Judy Moore, information chairman; John Valania and Robert Steinruck, social chairmen; John Herman, furniture chairman; Robert Leiss, housing chairman; Nancy Suwalski, program chairman; and Mary Galatha, Bohemian Ball chairman and newspaper chairman.

CONSTITUTION CHANGE

The question on a CGA Constitution change regarding the inclusion of a representative from the Special Education Department in College Council membership was passed in yesterday's election.

Faculty Association Honors Teachers, Superintendents

Members of the Faculty Association of BSTC met Wednesday, April 9 in the College Commons to honor two retiring members of the college faculty, and two retiring County Superintendents who are alumni of the college.

The two retiring faculty members, Miss Edna Hazen, Director of Elementary Education, and Miss Lucy McCammon, Assistant Professor of Physical Education, have a combined total of more than sixty years of service at the college. Mr. Howard Fenstermaker, for many years a colleague of the retiring faculty members, presented them with a gift and an oral tribute on behalf of the Association.

Attending the dinner as guests of President Harvey A. Andruss were Dr. Charles Boehm, State Superintendent of Public Instruction; Mr. Warren Wrangler of the Department of Public Instruction; Mr. Ray Cole, Bloomsburg Alumnus and retiring Columbia County Superintendent; Mr. Fred Diehl, BSTC Alumnus and retiring Montour County Superintendent.

Newly elected officers of the Association were introduced to the members and their guests. They are Dr. Edward DeVoe, President; Mrs. Margaret McCern, Vice President; and Miss Gwendolyn Reams, Secretary-Treasurer.

Pseudo-Intellectuals Gather at Greenwich Village Bohemian Ball

Deep Purple Is Juniors' Dream

The Junior Class, a la Duke Ellington, has selected the theme of "Deep Purple" to provide an exotic setting for this year's Junior Prom. The mood will be enhanced by the fascinating dance rhythms of Gerry Kehler and his orchestra. Kehler's Williamsport aggregation played at BSTC two years ago and the return engagement suggests that the group is in the groove.

Kenny Swatt has selected a repertoire of talented chairmen who hope to "send" you to the Centennial Gymnasium: Orchestra arrangements are by John Galinski; Beth Sprout has promised a generous supply of goodies; Joe Butz and Jill Baylor are keeping decorations a top secret until prom nite; Larry Fisher takes his cue as budget chairman and genial Carl Janetka is handling publicity; program will be provided by Kay Nearing; Kim Wahl's eye-catching advertising has already been on display, and Louise Campbell announces that tickets will cost just two dollars per couple.

The stage is set for Friday, April 18 from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. Dress will be semi-formal and everyone is invited.

Black sweaters, leotards, berets and cigarette holders were at a premium last night when the Maxwell Bodenheims and Francois Sagnans of 13 state teachers colleges gathered in the Husky Lounge where they enjoyed an evening of "hot jazz, exotic refreshments and uplifting atmosphere." The Bohemian Ball, sponsored by BSTC's Community Government Association, opened the conference's three day social program.

Music from progressive jazz to rock and roll to the un-classifiable was played by the turtle-neck sweatered Encores. The Hazleton-area group made it's initial appearance on the BSTC campus last night.

Waiters served olive-garnished cokes to the guests while lovely ladies laden with eyeshadow and hair dye distributed baskets of stick pretzels.

The seldom decorated Husky Lounge shouted "Vive le Boheme" as a satiny black spider made its way down a king-sized web, and candles flickered in wicker covered bottles. Modernistic paintings and travel posters added to the artistic motif.

Mary Galatha, chairman of the dance was in some way assisted by over forty people. Students submitted paintings, gathered wine bottles, and helped in many ways. Everyone cannot be named but some of the more prominent are Nancy Hughes, Nancy Suwalski, "host" Jim Davies, Bobbie Creamer, Peggy Lynch, Eloise Kaminski, Barby Hockenberry (who did all publicity work) and Judy Moore. Others who helped were Deisroths, Wood Catering, Mrs. Loreman and Mr. Williams, Lounge manager.

Romig, Zapach, Scheno Eberhart, Terzopolus Win in C.G.A. Elections

A brief, last minute campaign rush ended yesterday as students and faculty went into voting booths to elect the 1958-59 Community Government Association officers.

Victorious are Ronald Romig, newly chosen president; Joseph Zapach, vice-president; Nikki Scheno, secretary; Jack Eberhart, treasurer; and Connie Terzopolus, assistant treasurer.

Romig, a Secondary student from Boyertown, is honored as winning the highest office any student can hold at BSTC. He is a member of College Council, the Election Committee, and Phi Sigma Pi. He was chairman of the fraternity's Battle of the Classes this year and represented his class in last year's contest.

Ron won the final election over Ken Swatt, a dean's list student from Shamokin. In the Business field, Ken is a member of many organizations and is now President of the Junior Class. BSTC's present vice-president, Irwin Parry, was eliminated as a candidate in the March Primary election.

Sophomore class president, Joseph Zapach of Freeland topped Jim Peck for the vice-presidency. Zapach, a Business major is president of the Dramatics Club, chairman of the Business Education Contest and a College Council member. Peck, also is a Council representative and is a member of Phi Sigma Pi.

Also representing the Business curriculum is Miss Nikki Scheno, Berwick, as the winner of the contest for secretary of CGA. A commuting student, Nikki recently was crowned Coed of the Year 1958. She has been chairman of the College Bloodmobile program for two years and is a feature writer for the Maroon and Gold. The other secretarial candidate was Jean Matchulat of Moscow, Pa. She is a member of the Business Education Club, Maroon and Gold typing staff and has served on various committees.

The 1958-59 treasurer of CGA, Jack Eberhart, is a sophomore from Williamsport, majoring in Speech Correction. The losing candidate is Marlene Staude, sophomore, a general business student from Souder-ton.

Connie Terzopolus, Shenandoah, only freshman candidate, was victorious over Bill Thomas of Forty Fort for the office of assistant treasurer.

It's Our Pleasure

Welcome to the Friendly College on the Hill, delegates. Our students have been expecting you and are prepared to make your visit here as pleasant as possible.

Bloomsburg has had many conventions held on her campus but none has been of so much interest to our college community. Business Education and Traffic Safety conferences for high school students and Sales Rallies for businessmen are not related to our entire student body. This conference of State Teachers Colleges' Student Government Associations is, because the problems discussed by you delegates are common to all of our campuses. The basic problem waiting to be solved is that of apathy — apathy toward student government, the prestige of state teachers colleges, scholarships, discipline, cultural and social activities, college spirit, community relationships, and parking regulations. This conference will probably not find a solution, but many forward steps will be taken. The results of the discussions and assemblies will eventually affect many phases of our own Community Government Association. The exchange of ideas and opinions which will take place this weekend is bound to have an important influence on our college life. Bloomsburg is glad to be the scene of this Twentieth Annual Conference, and hopes that your stay here will be both profitable and enjoyable.

The Election Is Over, but . . .

Yesterday our Community Government Association elections were held. The choice of candidates was, as usual, very good. Each one seemed qualified to hold an office. These points were brought out at the Election Rally Wednesday night in Husky Lounge. The campaign speeches given that night were the best ever heard at such a gathering. The important decision of for whom to cast votes was made after listening to the speaker and weighing all the points discussed. However, these rally speeches had only a negligible influence on election results. Why? Because only a negligible percentage of the student body was present in Husky Lounge to hear the speakers.

An election rally is supposed to stimulate the community, to make it seriously consider the importance of its votes. These objectives were reached only partially because of the lack of attendance. There were several reasons for this. Many students were not aware of the rally because they did not see the ONE sign announcing it amid the other campaign posters. Another reason is that they were not in the combined assemblies when the rally was mentioned — possibly because they were not informed of the combined assembly. The most basic cause for the small group of students present was probably apathy — the problem now being discussed by the SGA conference here on campus.

Tuesday before Easter recess the candidates for the most important CGA offices delivered campaign speeches to a combined assembly in Centennial Gymnasium. The number of people there to hear them could easily have been seated in Carver Auditorium. Where were the apathetic students? At least two hundred were sitting in the Husky Lounge having a coffee break between their 9 and 11 o'clock classes. Some students had left for home Monday; others were in their dormitory rooms, while the day students were in their lounges or on their way home after their only classes of the day. It's not possible for anyone to judge a candidate on the small amount of personal contact you might have had with him or her while here at school. How can prospective officers of your government association be viewed objectively if there is no basis for judgement? Personality and appearance are good things to look for when you want a date, but when you are choosing a person who is going to be required to assume the responsibility of a student office, there are many other things to consider. Character, dependability, willingness and efficiency are all important qualifications. All of the candidates had these in varying degrees. You the members of the Community Government Association have voted for those whom you thought would best discharge their obligations. Congratulations to the new officers!!

SGA Banquet, Dance To Honor Visitors

The Student Government Association of BSTC will sponsor a banquet and a dance for delegates to the STC Convention tomorrow, April 12. The banquet will begin at 7:00 p.m. in the College Commons. Irwin Parry, vice-president of the Community Government Association, will be the master of ceremonies. Featured speaker will be Mr. John A. Hoch, Dean of Instruction.

The entire college community is invited to attend the semi-formal dance at Centennial Gym at 9:00 p.m. Music will be furnished by Frankie Reynolds and his orchestra. John Valania is chairman of the dance committee. The Social Recreation Committee is in charge of decorations.

Monte Carlo Night On Mount Olympus

Monte Carlo Night will be held in Navy Hall Auditorium this evening. The Casino will feature pool and poker tables, shell and dice games, chuck-a-luck and wheels-of-fortune, horse racing and roulette. Croupiers with green eye shades and rolled up shirt sleeves will be running the gambling games.

The casino will be open to the delegates of the STC Student Government Association and their guests. Money will be issued to each patron at the door. Prizes will be awarded to the man and woman having the most money after an evening of gambling.

 Willard Ziegler consider this your reminder to give Janet Fry and ?? driving lessons. A promise is a promise you know.

Who is the commuter who drives the blue Oldsmobile with the tattoo on his arm fully exposed to wind and rain? Blushing Billy?

Once again we shall try to tell you about our sorority. Every previous attempt has been foiled by the copyreaders. Our sorority is the Alpha, Beta Gamma Delta Epsilon Eta Theta Iota Kappa Lambda Mu Xi Omicron Pi Rho Sigma Tau Upsilon Phi Upsilon Chi Psi Omega. The only requirement to this sorority is that one must be strong enough to wear the rather large pin necessitated by the name.

In case you are wondering what refreshments will be served at the Bohemian Ball, wonder no more. The menu is contained in the "Olympian" Nova Scotia Recipes — written by Bloomsburg's answer to Duncan Hines.

We're moving up in the world. After listening to WBRX exaggerate that hundreds of college students listen to their informative station, we were touched with a gleam of civic duty and donated our services for an all-college program.

The people of 4th Street are complaining about some of our students. It seems that The Lawrence Welk Combo composed of Bob "Maroon Florm" Thear and John "Buddy Merrill" Corrigan are practicing too much lately and at the oddest hours. Don't give up fellas — your break is coming.

Congratulations to Jack Dent, a local commuter, who got married on Saturday. Best Wishes, Jack.

What commuter found out that the colored Easter eggs weren't hard-boiled?? Sorry Beau but we gave Joe the correct instructions. It must be those long hours of driving.

Damn Charmin'

by JOHN NAGLE

Thursday morning, March 27, Mr. George Feyer charmed an enthusiastic BSTC audience with his piano stylings of classical and popular music. The first four numbers in the program were the "Warsaw Concerto," selections from "The King and I," "Chopin's Etude in E flat major," and one of Mr. Feyer's albums, "Echoes of Paris."

The surprise of the morning was the little story Mr. Feyer told. The story took place in heaven and was about the music masters of the past and their discussion of the music from "My Fair Lady". They all agreed that the music was good and they all wished they had written the score for the show. Then, each one sat down and played a selection from "My Fair Lady" in his own style. Johanne Sebastian Bach played, "Loverly," and Rachmaninoff followed with "On the Street Where You Live." Mozart came on with his version of "The Rain in Spain" and Verdi played "Get Me to the Church on Time," wishing he could have used it for one of the victory marches in his operas. Mr. Strauss ended the medley with his Viennese waltz version of "I Could Have Danced All Night."

The audience thundered their applause and Mr. Feyer came back for an encore playing "The Donkey Serenade," "Round the World," and concluding with "Maleguena."

Mr. Feyer has several recordings on the market and he has appeared on the Ed Sullivan TV Show. BSTC audience reaction indicated that he was one of the best performers we've had on our stage this year.

Cap Parry, are: Jack Herman, Bob Boyle, Genie Beers, Dick Connolly, Bob Corrigan, Tom Fenstermacher, Bob Gower, Nancy Pekala, Dick Stabler, Bob Steinruck, Jack Stinson, Marie Walsh, Carol Yost, and Mary Ann Thornton.

What Price Roongo?

Roongo III is wearing that woeful look these days. And the Husky, mascot of all Maroon and Gold athletic teams on Campus, has a right to look a bit under the weather. You might say she is on her way to the "condemned" cell. That is, if the college community doesn't step in and grant her a reprieve if not a full pardon.

Her only crime is that she likes to eat at least once a day. The story you know — the Alumni Association's refusal to continue supporting the dog — the inability of campus organizations to keep her indefinitely without added source of income — the complete standstill in any action concerning her.

College Council has considered the matter again and again. Several suggestions have been made to handle the fate of the mascot.

1. That Roongo should be given away with the stipulation that she may be borrowed for home games.
2. That she should be boarded at a kennel (charge—a dollar a day at $365 per year).
3. That she should remain on campus grounds, her food and care costs provided for in the College Budget.

4. That annual student-sponsored activities should raise money for her support — activities such as a Mascot Dance or a Roongo Tag Campaign in which students would buy a twenty-five cent Husky tag, the theory much like that behind poppies and Easter seals.

College Council has asked the Maroon and Gold to present some of these suggestions to the students so that a survey of student opinions may be taken in some future assembly. The question, simply, is this:

Are we concerned with Roongo as a dog or as a mascot? If we consider her as a particular dog and figure out how much she costs in proportion to how much use we get from her, the expenses are indeed high. This particular dog will die sometime—probably soon all that money will have been wasted.

But if we are thinking about the symbol of our Bloomsburg Huskies then we must consider how much that symbol means to us. Is it worth paying money for? Can we do without the concrete object? When Roongo III dies will there be a fourth and a fifth and a sixth?

And, finally, if we do think Roongo the mascot as well as Roongo the dog is important enough to want to keep, just what are we as students willing to do to keep her?

That is the question!

KDP Meets with Lock Haven Group

The Gamma Beta Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, with the Delta Sigma Chapter of Lock Haven State Teachers College, held a joint dinner meeting at the Municipal Airport in Montoursville, Tuesday, March 25.

Mr. Henry George, assistant professor of social studies at Bloomsburg was the keynote speaker. His topic was "Education in the Middle East."

Dr. Maupin, advisor to the Gamma Beta Chapter, and Charles Yarrison, president of Delta Sigma Chapter, each gave a brief report on the national convocation of Kappa Delta Pi held recently in Chicago.

Tentative plans were made for another such meeting next year with the possibility of inviting the Kappa Delta Pi chapter of Mansfield.

Batzel and Coons At Band Festival

Nelson A. Miller, Associate Professor of Music recently accompanied two members of the Maroon and Gold Band to the Eleventh Pennsylvania Intercollegiate Band Association Festival at Moravian College in Bethlehem. The band members, Carol Coons, a baritone player from Athens, and Barbara Batzel, a clarinet player from Sinking Springs, were part of a 156 member student band representing 34 Pennsylvania colleges and universities.

The band practiced for three days, culminating their efforts in a public concert last Saturday night. Guest conductor was Walter Beeler of Ithaca College, Ithaca, N.Y. Ray Houston, Director of Band at Moravian College, was the host for the annual affair.

The entire program for the concert was made up of compositions of American composers and was broadcast and recorded by several radio stations in the Bethlehem area.

THE TRIBUNAL What Now?

Last May a group of students proposed a student tribunal or court organized for the purpose of dealing with various violations of campus policies. Mr. Irwin Parry headed the committee. A code was composed that suggested how such a tribunal might operate.

When the code was presented to a committee of faculty members no definite action was taken and, as a result, the 1956-57 college year closed with no decision concerning the code.

At the College Council meeting on September 23, 1957, it was suggested by students that the question of the tribunal be investigated. The chairman of the committee introduced the matter to council for consideration. Since council neither approved nor disapproved of the proposal, Mr. Stradtman moved that a committee be organized to study the possibilities of establishing an interim College Council tribunal and to develop a plan under which such a tribunal might function.

College Council, under a provision in the Community Government Constitution, has the power to sit in judgment of students. This power, up to the present, has not been exercised. The committee headed by Mr. Stradtman presented a printed pamphlet to all students that contained information concerning the Interim Tribunal. Both the Upperclassmen and the Freshmen were given an opportunity to express their views, pro and con, and direct questions to a panel composed of Dr. Ralph Herre, Mr. Stradtman, Irwin Parry, Annette Roush, Ron Romig, and Jim Peck.

On Thursday, March 27, in a referendum the tribunal was voted upon by students and faculty. The final decision, however, rests with college council.

Tuesday, April 1, at a combined assembly the results of the referendum were announced, they are as follows:

SPORTS HI-LITES

by Jim Wagner

Several weeks ago all of us had the chance to witness basketball at its best. Many of us took advantage of that opportunity and went to see the "Night of Champions" in the Thirty-first Annual Invitational Basketball Tourney. From the outside some of us may have thought that organizing and running a tournament was something that the tourney workers did in their leisure time. But it wasn't that easy! Now that the tournament is over they can sit back and reap the meager benefits of their efforts. A feeling of satisfaction is about all the compensation these people receive.

Several people in the tournament are worthy of special recognition. Athletic Director Russell Houk did a terrific job in his "rookie" year as being the top man in the circuit. Coach Houk's duties ranged from telephone calls to contacting officials. One of Mr. Houk's duties was the general organizing of the tourney which consisted of contacting the teams, classifying and pairing them, officials procurement, and many other minor details which were necessary for the proper functioning of a tourney. Mr. Houk was assisted by Dean of Men and Head Baseball Coach Walter Blair, Chief Co-ordinator George Heere, and Assistant Co-ordinator Robert Schalles. The fine work done by Wally Hutz cannot be overlooked. If there was ever a problem to be solved about the tourney, Wally had the answer or knew where to get it. Without Hutz, this columnist would say, the tourney would have been hurting in more ways than one. Wally certainly did a fine job and his efforts should not go unrecognized.

Throughout the entire tournament it was necessary for some of our college men to act as official scorers, timers, and managers. This is about the most gruesome and grinding job at the tourney. All they do is just sit, sit, and sit. Acting in the capacity of scorers and timers were Joseph Zapach, Paul Anderson, Bud Sheridan, and Robert Boyle. One of the responsibilities of George Heere and Bob Schalles was to obtain student managers for each of the teams. This group of individuals assumed the duty of caring for the visiting high school squads. The managers duties consisted mainly of supplying the teams with towels, soap, and oranges, and guidance whenever needed.

Acting the less important roles in the tourney were the ushers, the usherettes, the BSTC cheerleaders, who judged the high school squads, and Coach Harold Shelly and his judges who selected the All-Stars and the All-Tourney Player. Pete Valania and Ronald Romig served in the capacity of managers. This detailed job involved the issuing of towels, oranges, and other miscellaneous items. All of these made a valuable contribution to the tourney.

Last, but not least, was Boyd Buckingham and his public relations staff. It was the duty of these individuals to see to it that both the winning and losing teams received a sports release which was to be printed in their home town papers. It was also their responsibility to put the boxscores in the Morning Press. If there is ever anything you want to know about past tourneys, you can find the answer in the tourney files located in the Public Relations Office.

In summarizing, this foresaid group of individuals devoted unselfishly of their time and energy and should be given some recognition. They did a terrific job in adding prestige to our college and deserve all the credit which they receive.

After a week's layoff for the Easter vacation, the Men's Intramural bowling league is back to normal as they started the second half of the schedule last night. Standings for the first half found Bob Bottdor's Ding Dong Daddies and Bud Weber's Snappers deadlocked for the first place. Close on their heels are the Kingpins with a sixteen up and eight down record.

Charles Puckey is top man in the race for the individual averages with a 168 in eighteen games. Jim Wagner and Bud Weber follow with 164 and 160 respectively. Last week's round of bowling found Robert Mescan bowling a 231 game with a string of six strikes. Bob's total for the evening was 531. Dale Gardner of the Misfits was high total bowler with a 539 triple.

Following is the league standing for the first half along with the first five high averages:

1. Ding Dong Daddies	17-7
2. The Snappers	17-7
3. Kingpins	16-8
4. Freudian Five	14-10
5. Short Shorts	10-14
6. The Heffersonians	10-14
7. Jet Jackson's Misfits	7-17
8. The Whistlers	5-19

High Averages

1. Charles Puckey	168
2. James Wagner	164
3. Bud Weber	160
4. Dale Gardner	160
5. Al Murphy	157

B Club to Sponsor Girl's Sports Party

A Girl's Sports Day, sponsored by the "B" Club, will be held on Saturday, April 26, during which time the BSTC coeds will be pitting their athletic ability against girls from six other colleges. Soliciting invitations to Lycoming College, Susquehanna University, Wilkes College, Bucknell University, and the Mansfield and Lock Haven State Teachers Colleges, the girls are looking forward to a huge turnout, both from the visiting aggregation and girls on the BSTC campus.

The Sports Day is under the direction of Molly Mattern and Audrey Brumbach, and various committees have been appointed to plan and organize the day's activities.

Beginning at 9:30 a.m., coffee and doughnuts will be served in the Centennial Gym. Following these refreshments, softball games will be played on the fields reserved for this purpose. Lunch will be served in the College Commons at 1:00 p.m. Various activities will be included on the agenda for the remainder of the afternoon, including badminton (doubles) and archery. After the presentation of a water ballet, a free swim will be conducted until the termination of the program at approximately 4:30 p.m.

In case of inclement weather, the entire day will consist of indoor sports in Centennial Gym.

Miss Eleanor Wray, women's physical education instructor, stated that the main reasons for the Sports Day is to afford the girls an opportunity to become acquainted with girls from other colleges, to exchange new ideas on physical education, and to discuss the planning and organizing of intramural programs.

L. Haven To Host Huskies In Opening Game of Season

BASEBALL PREVIEW

Soon after our return from the Easter Vacation the Husky baseball squad, coached by Walter Blair, will venture to Lock Haven to entertain our STC rivals in the first game of the season.

Information is lacking on the potential strength or weakness of the Lock Haven squad, but as Bloomsburg fans know, we can never underestimate the power of the Lock Haven nine.

The Husky squad, although plagued with graduation blues, injuries, and withdrawals, has a good nucleus of seasoned veterans returning. Among these are Bob Boyle, Pat "Tiger" DeNoy, Jonah Goobic, John Oustrich, Paul Franklin, Dan Fritz, Joe Pental, Dale Franklin, Joe Panichello, and Bob Rohm.

Pitching appears to be the number one problem in building a winning Husky squad. The loss of Bob DiPipi, Bill Freed, and Ed Wojciechowski will place the burden of chucking on an inexperienced group including: Dale Franklin, Roy Shifflet, Ed Galitsky, and Roy Quick. Joe Pental, our mainstay at short stop, may have to fill in with some mound duty if the need arises. If these hurlers can come through with consistent wins, the Huskies can prove to be a threat to the STC Conference crown.

Jonah Goobic, our seasoned catcher with three years of varsity competition behind him, will be back again. His most important job this year will be the handling of the inexperienced pitchers.

The Bloomsburg infield looks to be the brightest prospect of the coming season. Pental and DeNoy will be back to cover the keystone sack with Bobby Rohm a possible candidate for the third base job. Veteran John Oustrich looks like the most logical candidate for the first base position, which has been left unfilled by the absence of Kenny Hill, last year's regular first-sacker.

Bob Boyle will return again this spring to the right field position. The loss of Chuck Casper and Ed Shustack will give Dan Fritz, Ed Blackburn, and Phil Lockuff a chance to vie for those positions.

On the whole, the outlook seems fairly bright. Coach Blair has summarized the situation in a three point program:

1. Develop an inexperienced pitching corps into a staff of steady, effective hurlers.
2. Develop an adequate first baseman.
3. Develop the hitting power of the outfield as the prime power at the plate with help from Goobic and one or two of the key infielders.

Husky Thinclads Anxiously Await Meet with Kutztown

The '58 Track season will open at Bloomsburg on Saturday, April 12, when the Husky Thin-Clads play host to the visiting Kutztown track squad. The Huskies were victorious in last year's meet with the Golden Avalanche from Kutztown defeating them by a score of 100 to 17.

Eleven lettermen are returning to the squad this year, but Coach Shelly feels that strength of the squad is somewhat spotty and lacking in strength in several events.

In the running events — sprints, mile, two mile, and the hurdles — the Huskies look the strongest. In these departments, Coach Shelly can rely on Ed Watts, Ray Thayer, Harold Giacomini, Matt Mensch, Chuck Loughery and Stan Elinsky. Doughery has been the team's most consistent "point-getter" over the past three seasons.

In the throwing weights — discuss, shot and javelin — the Huskies can depend on seven returning lettermen. Gerry Wood, Tom Vaxmonsky, and Carl Sweet will represent Bloomsburg in the discuss event, with Sweet and Wood also handling the shot. In the javelin throw, the leading contenders are Ken Wood and Nick Volpetti.

Ken Swatt and Stan Elinsky are back once again to compete in the jumping events, and will be assisted by some able freshmen candidates.

Last year the Husky squad won four meets while losing two. In the Penn Relays they placed fourth in STC Mile Relay, and in the State Meet they placed seventh. Coach Shelly, as pessimistic as ever, thinks the Huskies will have to work hard to better last year's record. We must admit that unfavorable weather over the past few weeks has been somewhat of a hindrance to the training program, but we're sure the Huskies will give a favorable account of themselves once the season gets underway.

Gustave Named To STC All Star Team

In the Seventh Annual Pennsylvania State Teachers College Conference All Star Team, Jim "Goose" Gustave was selected to the second team. Jim, senior forward from Plains, was named to the second team after he finished fourth in the conference scoring race with 262 points in 13 conference games. He hit for 339 points in the overall seventeen game schedule to set a new Bloomsburg four-year mark of 950. Jim was second only to Shutovich in rebounding on the Husky squad as he collected 190.

Joe Delise of Indiana was top vote getter according to the twelve coaches who voted. Second in voting was Ronald Botz of Clarion who was followed closely by Roger Hotz of California STC. Rounding out the first team were Sylvester Williams from Millersville and Indiana's Jack Bizyak.

In addition to Gustave, the second team consisted of Gerald Terette, Lock Haven; Charles German, East Stroudsburg; Terry German, West Chester; and Jim Bishop of Millersville. Those gaining honorable mention were Reggie Rife, Millersville; Dick Danielson, Clarion; Walter Askins, Edinboro; Carson Carr, West Chester; Jamie Kimbrough, Indiana; and Dale Shearer, Shippensburg.

Practice Teachers Visit Harrisburg Education Offices

Twenty-five practice teachers of BSTC left the college early Friday morning, March 28, to visit the Pennsylvania State Education Association and the State Department of Public Instruction offices in Harrisburg. The senior students are members of the weekly professional practicum class instructed by Dr. George J. Fike, who accompanied them on the tour.

At ten o'clock in the morning, the group met at the PSEA building. Miss Lucy Valero, former president of the organization, discussed such topics as school law, ethics, professional responsibility, and the extent and expansion of services rendered to the teaching profession by the PSEA. She described the building expansion program designed to meet better the needs of the state, and answered student directed questions on the PSEA role in education.

The editor of the PSEA Journal then directed a tour of the editing facilities of the state education magazine.

At one o'clock the students visited the State Department of Public Instruction. State officials from the Bureaus of Certification, Curriculum, and Supervision and Secondary Education discussed matters pertaining to their respective divisions. Students were introduced to supervisory and curricular material available for use in the teacher's individual instructional program.

The trip was designed to give the students a grasp of education at the state level and education as a state function. The students, by planning, attending, and reporting on the tour, expect to understand the services rendered to teachers and the teaching profession in general by these state officials; as beginning teachers next year, they expect to utilize these services.

The visit to PSEA headquarters was planned by a student committee including Charles Jessup, chairman; Annette Roush, and Raymond Trump. Carl Shively, chairman, worked with Walter Collins and William Hughes to plan the trip to the Department of Public Instruction.

Business Club Plan Banquet

Members of the Business Education Club are currently making plans for a banquet to be held on May 7, at 6:30 p.m., at the American Legion in Bloomsburg. Calvin Ryan is general chairman of the banquet committee. Host and hostess are Mr. and Mrs. William Swoyer and master of ceremonies is John Longo. Other committees include:

Transportation — Lamar Freeland, Ronald Perry, Joe Butz, Jim Garman; Tickets — Calvin Ryan, Joanne Bechtel, Linda Ruggieri; Entertainment — Molly Mattern, Mary Anne Majikas, Joan Stablum, Sue Hayhurst, Larry Fisher; Investigation — Phil Taormena, Donald Yerk; Publicity — John Fenner, Jay Bangs, Joy Driesbach, Willard Boyer; Decorations — Ann Beeson, Audrey Brumbach, Janice Kunes, Hettie Jones, Sophia Kish, Peggy Walker; Invitations — Kay Nearing, Janice Kunes.

The song leader is Phil Taormena, who will be accompanied by Marie Suwalski.

Sigma Alpha Eta

Sigma Alpha Eta, Speech and Hearing Fraternity, is planning a field trip on May 1st and 2nd to the Philadelphia School for the Deaf, and to the U.S. Naval Hospital Rehabilitation Center there.

The fraternity, in co-operation with the college, has started work on the production of a film which will include speech correction services in the clinic, the hospital, and the public schools.

Dean Hoch spoke at the March meeting of the fraternity on the "Relationship of Administration to Speech Correction in Public Schools." A social hour followed the meeting and refreshments were served to members and guests.

At this meeting, the fraternity decided to hold their annual banquet at the College Commons on Thursday, May 15.

Rabinofs in Town Again April 15th

Benno and Sylvia Rabinof, the internationally famous violin-piano team, will perform in Bloomsburg on April 15 at the High School Auditorium as part of their thirteenth nationwide tour. Two seasons ago they made a brilliant tour of the European continent, with a "side trip" to Israel, where they were heard in recital. Last season, at the invitation of the International Exchange Program of A.N.T.A., they toured the near East. This season the Rabinofs will visit Mexico and tour the United States twice before returning to Europe in the late spring.

Mr. Rabinof began his career under the guidance of the famous teacher, Leopold Auer, when he made his debut in Carnegie Hall at the age of nineteen, with the New York Philharmonic under the baton of Auer. Since that bow, Rabinof has been too well known to need introduction to audiences either here or abroad. He has appeared as soloist with leading symphony orchestras in the United States, Canada, and Europe, and has made regular radio appearances over the national networks.

Sylvia Rabinof accompanies her husband on the piano entirely from memory. Before her New York debut in Town Hall, she enjoyed a successful career of her own in Paris and in Switzerland as concert soloist. She is also a composer, with a children's operetta and a suite for chamber orchestra among her works.

Dr. Martin Attends Spring Convocation

Dr. Thomas B. Martin, Director of the Department of Business Education, attended the Spring Convocation at Susquehanna University on Tuesday, March 25, as a representative of his Alma Mater, Indiana University. The convocation is one of nine special events scheduled on the Susquehanna campus as part of their Centennial Year celebration. Dr. Wilson M. Compton, Director and First President of the Council for Financial Aid to Education, Inc., was the featured speaker. Honorary degrees were presented to the following: Orvis Henry Aurand, Lancaster, Doctor of Pedagogy; James Ritchie Cameron, Philadelphia, Doctor of Laws; Wilson Martindale, Compton, N. Y., Doctor of Laws; Joseph Gerald Hagey, Kitchener, Ontario, Canada, Doctor of Laws.

Dr. Martin was one of fifty-four delegates invited to represent colleges and universities.

FASHION DINNER

On March 24 the Annual Fashion Show banquet was held from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. at the Pine Barn Inn at Danville.

The banquet was held for the participating merchants, all those who took part in the presentation of the show, and representatives of the college faculty and administration.

The senior models Mary Heatly, Bobbie Creamer, Mary Grace and Carol Ely were presented with a bracelet with an engraved disc. The presentations were followed by short speeches from local merchants and faculty members.

May Queen 1958 ???

Which of these lovely seniors will reign as Queen of the annual May Day festivities at BSTC? These candidates were nominated by the senior class; the Queen was elected by the college community. The May Queen will be crowned by the CGA president as a high light of the ceremonies. The other seven contestants will form her court.
