Traffic policies changed

by ROB SCHLACTER

SCREECH! If you clear your eyes you will notice that the 'DO NOT ENTER' sign that you thought you saw is indeed a reality.

This along with various other tidbits concerning traffic activity on campus is in need of some review for the new school year.

The first major change in policy concerns the 'S' turn between the carpenter shop and the laundry. The once famous "honk before you dare" turn has been changed to a one-way (south to north traffic only). Example: If you come down from Columbia Hall or up from Old Science, Schuylkill, and Montour Halls, you will NOT be able to enter by the carpenter shop and laundry. If you're not aware of this already, you've probably found yourself backing your car up after you've already gone through the turn. What this all boils down to is that the only way in to the bookstore, Kehr Union, Luzerne, and Northumberland Halls is to enter by way of the Second Street entrance.

A reminder to all vehicle operators is that no 'H' decal will be allowed to park in the 'C' area (east of Bakeless and Andruss Library). All parking will be according to designated areas as stated in the traffic and parking policy.

If you pull out your policy map on student parking, you should also note that the parking area surrounding the grass and walkway east of the library has been changed to faculty parking. Before you lose your temper, the two rows directly adjacent to the faculty rows, were put in for student parking "C" decal only.

To add a good note to this article, all parking fines will remain the same, but the fine for registration has been reduced from $15.00 to $5.00 for everyone. Who said we're in a period of inflation?

You have now been properly advised on how to avoid the hassles of the men and women in blue — drive safely!

An all college picnic, sponsored by the CGA, will be held Saturday, September 17, at Nobel's Grove. Students, administrators, faculty, staff and family members are invited to attend.

Dinner will be furnished by the Commons for students with meal tickets.

Roller skating between 8 and 10:30 p.m. is available at the cost of $1.25.

A free dance concert featuring the group Haji will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Free bus transportation to and from the picnic will be supplied. The buses will depart from Elwell Hall and run continuously from 10:30 a.m.

This is the first all college picnic in four years. With the help of everyone it may become an annual event.

Dr. Daniel C. Pantaleo, assistant professor of Chemistry at Bloomsburg State College is presently in the Philippines under the terms of a Fulbright - Hays Lectureship, one of the nation's most prestigious academic awards.

Dr. Pantaleo will stay five months in the Philippines. The majority of his time will be spent lecturing at the University of the Philippines in Manila. Another portion of his visit will be in regional science teaching centers throughout the Philippine Islands. The topic, of Dr. Pantaleo lectures, will be sharing his expertise of audio visual aid usage in connection with inorganic chemistry.

Nomination for the award was on the basis of innovation and excellence in teaching techniques in the classroom.

The New Pennsylvania Consortium for Children will hold its first conference at BSC Friday and Saturday, October 14-15. The two-day program is termed "The Children's Advocate...a unified voice for all those interested in the welfare of children."

The purpose of the consortium is to establish an organization of groups, institutions, agencies, and persons to encourage involvement in activities that will improve the lives of young children and their families in Pennsylvania. Its work involves collecting and dispatching information related to the changing needs and services of these children and their families. The group is presently making an effort to set up a telephone network that will improve communication with all agencies primarily concerned with children.

Nearly twenty sessions focusing on aspects related to young children will be conducted at the conference. Many prominent educators from throughout the country will address the participants; these speakers include Dr. Bettye Caldwell, University of Arkansas, who will speak on "Focus on Children of the Future," and Dr. Monroe D. Cohen, editor of the early childhood periodical Childhood Education, whose topic will be "The World's Children."

Some other speakers include: Dr. Daniel Moore, Pediatric Rehabilitation Specialist, Greenwood, South Carolina; Earl Douglas, Pennsylvania Bureau of Child Development; Dr. Carol Cartwright, Penn State; Mrs. Annette Heasley, President, Pennsylvania ACEI (Association for Childhood Education International), and Ms. Bretta Weiss, American Montessori Society, along with representatives of the Commonwealth Child Development Committee

Dr. John R. Hranitz, Dr. Ann Marie Noakes, professors of Elementary Education and Early Childhood Education at BSC, and Mr. Richard Fiene of the Commonwealth Child Development Committee, are serving as the conference committee.

For further information, contact Drs. Hranitz or Noakes, BSC, telephone 717-389-3800.

Professor to go native

Dr. Daniel C. Pantaleo, assistant professor of Chemistry at Bloomsburg State College is presently in the Philippines under the terms of a Fulbright - Hays Lectureship, one of the nation's most prestigious academic awards.

Dr. Pantaleo was among three-hundred other applications competing for this award.

Dr. Pantaleo, joined our Chemistry Department at BSC only in January of this year. He previously taught in the University System of Georgia for six years before joining the chemistry department at BSC. A native New Yorker, he holds a B.S. degree in chemistry from Manhattan College and a Ph.D. in inorganic chemistry from Emory University, Atlanta. Publications of General Science course tapes and slides developed by Dr. Pantaleo have been published in the Journal of Chemical Education.

Dr. Pantaleo, has been noted in all of his previous positions from other colleges as an enthusiastic leader in re-building chemistry departments. Dr. Pantaleo has also served as Chairman - elect for our state region Advisory Committee on Chemistry.

The Bloomsburg Players are back and readily preparing themselves for another semester of plays. Opening their semester of productions is the realistic and heartwarming story of Lu Ann Hampton Laverty Oberlander. Written by Preston Jones, this play was first presented in New York City as one of three full-length plays collectively entitled "A Texas Trilogy". Now presented singularly throughout the country, the Bloomsburg Players chose this play to present wholeheartedly to you, their audience.

Roles have been cast for this major production with Sandie Schuyler playing the lead role of Lu Ann Hampton. Other members of the cast include: Dave Pautsch, Diana Kulha, Scott Cheek, Mike Ford and Mike Goc.

The actors will be under the supervision of Mr. Richey, director; Mr. McHale, theater director; and Mr. Sato, technical director and designer.

This memorial event takes place in Carver Hall Theater on October 5, 6 and 7. Admission is free, so there is no reason to miss it. See you there!

Mitchell - honors and experience

by FAY A. WALTER

In room 115 of the Waller Administration Building is the office of a man whose face and role are not recognized by many Bloomsburg State College students. Since July 1, 1977, Dr. James V. Mitchell has been laboring as the new Vice President of Academic Affairs. In this leadership position, Dr. Mitchell provides guidance in development of academical programs and establishment of degree requirements.

This dedicated man describes himself as a "midwesterner by birth and rearing," for he was born in Chicago, Illinois. Attending the University of Chicago, he earned his bachelors, masters, and doctorate degrees. In the past, he had held teaching positions at such noted institutions as Miami University, Purdue, University of Texas and the University of Rochester. His work as an administrator began in 1967 when he became Associate Dean for Graduate Studies at the University of Rochester. From 1974 until the time of his appointment at Bloomsburg, he was the Dean of Teachers College, Ball State University, Indiana.

His qualifications are exemplified by the many honors he has received throughout his career. Dr. Mitchell was the recipient of the Student Association Award for excellence in teaching from the University of Texas and also was recognized for his experimental design for closed circuit television, submitted in national competition sponsored by the Television Bureau of Advertising. In addition to these, he acquired others, too numerous to mention.

Why has Dr. Mitchell chosen to continue his career at Bloomsburg State College? As a statement in a former issue of the Bloomsburg Paper indicates, he is very impressed with the vigorous and capable leadership in the presidential role, the dedicated and well-qualified faculty, and the "seriousness of purpose" seen in the student body. He feels strongly that the taxpayer is getting more than his money's worth at BSC.

In his limited spare time, Dr. Mitchell enjoys sailing and reading. He also tries to spend as much time as possible with his wife and two married sons. Although Dr. Mitchell's job requires a lot of administrative duties, he has expressed his desire to meet personally with the members of the student body. Therefore, Dr. Mitchell will soon be a familiar figure to BSC students.

Recap of security woes

by JULIE STAMETS

The office of Safety and Security of Bloomsburg State College has developed a recap of reported crime and incidents for the time period beginning January 1977 and ending August 31, 1977. Approximately ten different types of incidents are seen as happening on campus during the eight month span.

Theft, having the highest level of occurrence, was reported ten times during the month of January, increasing slightly each month up to May, and then falling off toward the end of August. A total of 65 theft cases were reported in that time span, eight cases being resolved and a total of 57 cases being unsolved as of today. The number of persons involved included 13 students and five outsiders. Three of the students suspected were cleared by administrative procedures rather than legally, ten others were arrested, eight being dealt with at the Magistrate and two others being petitioned into Columbia County Court. Cost of damages to property resulted in $10,600.

Vandalism was only dealt with six times where the resulting damage came to $397. All six of these reports of criminal mischief remain uncleared. According to Security, Montour Hall was very badly damaged at the end of last summer. Much work was needed to replace ruined walls and fire equipment which were the subject of someone's violent intentions.

Only one case was reported concerning the use of drugs and the possession and consumption of alcohol. The students involved were arrested and the cases were resolved, one by the Magistrate, and one by Columbia County Court.

Tampering with fire equipment resulted in $248 in damage. Usually the pressure gauges were low along with wet hoses.

Perhaps the single, most potent form of crime came in the form of 26 bomb threats, seven occurring during March, two during May, and an astounding seventeen during the month of April. It appeared that "spring fever" hit the people responsible a little too hard. These 26 cases still remain uncleared, but campus Security is working with State Police in an effort to clear up this foolish sort of crime.

The totals for each crime during that eight month period showed that the highest incidence of crime occurred in April. Thirty-nine cases were reported and the month of June showed the lesser amount of crime in the form of only two reported cases. In comparing the eight month results with those compiled for the entire 1976 year, the total cost of damages is very similar. This is not good because there are still four months remaining in 1977 and, not doubt, the occurrence of crime will surpass the 1976 data.

It should be emphasized that a lot of the theft problem on campus could be prevented. Security has acquired a way of electrically engraving a person's "mark" on a valuable item, such as a tape recorder or radio. Social Security numbers, birth dates, or any helpful, identifying information can be engraved onto the item so it could be traced back to the owner in case of theft.

budget crunch, however, only the position mandated by Title IX was filled, and the other was cut from the budget.

Turburville announced changes in the athletic program at Bloomsburg. Women's Gymnastics has been added, bringing the totals to seven women's sports, nine men's sports, and one co-ed sport (golf). Also, Women's basketball will now be played in the Nelson Field House instead of the Centennial Gym.

The only change in the men's program is in wrestling; the Huskies have gained two new adversaries — West Virginia and Cleveland.

Turburville is optimistic about the Bloomsburg athletic program; "We've had a number of winning seasons since I came here, and I expect them to continue."

Movies

"Hooray for . . ."

by SUE LONG

"Silent Movie" wasn't scheduled to be shown on August 29, but that's the way the film began. Due to audio difficulties, the scheduled movie, "The Sting", was silent until the problem was corrected after a forty-five minute delay.

"The Sting" was the first in a series of films which will be shown free-of-charge to BSC students this fall. Profits earned in the College Store, Games Room and other parts of the Kehr Union are used to support the film series which is sponsored by the Kehr Union Program Board.

Victor Grisattias and Mike Petronella, student chairpersons of the movie facet of the Board, select films which they feel will appeal to the majority of BSC students. Student input in this area is greatly encouraged.

Mr. John Trathen, Assistant Director of Student Activities and the Student Union, stated there would be a decrease in the number of films shown this year, but that "the films shown would be of better quality."

In another attempt to increase audience size, the films will be shown in Carver Hall and Haas Auditorium rather than the less-comfortable and smaller KUB facilities.

Many of the times, dates and locations of the movies have been revised since the official BSC Activities Calendar was published. The revised schedule is as follows:

September 14	"The Omen"	Haas	9 p.m.
16	"The Omen"	KUB	9 p.m.
17	"The Omen"	Carver	9 p.m.
October 1	"Silent Movie"	Carver	9 p.m.
	"Silent Movie"	Haas	9 p.m.
20	"Mohogany"	Haas	9 p.m.
22	"Mohogany"	KUB	9 p.m.
28	"Frenzy"	KUB	9 p.m.
29	"Whatever Happened to Baby Jane" and "Frenzy"	KUB	1 a.m.
November 3	"Chinatown"	Haas	9 p.m.
5	"Chinatown"	Carver	9 p.m.
17	"Bad News Bears"	KUB	9 p.m.

Women prepare for this years sports

by HOLLY MILLER

The Women's Recreational Assoc. (W.R.A.) had its first meeting last Tuesday, September 6, in Centennial Gym. The responsibilities of the student representatives, along with information about the different intramural sports were the major topics of discussion.

W.R.A. representatives have been selected by their respective dorm wings, sororities and other groups dotting the campus. The main objective of W.R.A., according to Miss Joan Auten (director), is to inform the students they are representing, the dates, the starting times and the regulations of each sport.

Debbie Farrell, President of W.R.A., called for a vote to decide if tennis should be co-ed. The representatives voted for co-ed by a majority vote, with the stipulation that there must be at least six players on each team; half male and half female.

Miss Farrell stressed, that each representative should inform all participants that the first person on the roster is automatically designated as team captain. The captain has a responsibility to attend all clinics, which will explain the rules for that particular sport. She must also be sure to have the minimum amount of players to be qualified to participate. Each team has a maximum of five minutes after their scheduled time to begin playing, before they are disqualified. Consequently, Miss Farrell urged everyone to be prompt.

Co-ordinators for this year are: Kathy Ptasinski (head co-ordinator), Michele Blozinsky (Asst. co-ordinator); Michele Hopkins and April Reed. The co-ordinators must know the rules for each sport held, set up the equipment, attend all clinics and also have the option to officiate. Miss Ptasinski must also organize the rosters for each sport and make schedules for the referees as well as the co-ordinators.

The clinics, can be attended by anyone, along with the officials, the co-ordinators and the team captains. There they will explain the rules of the sport and the rules of W.R.A.

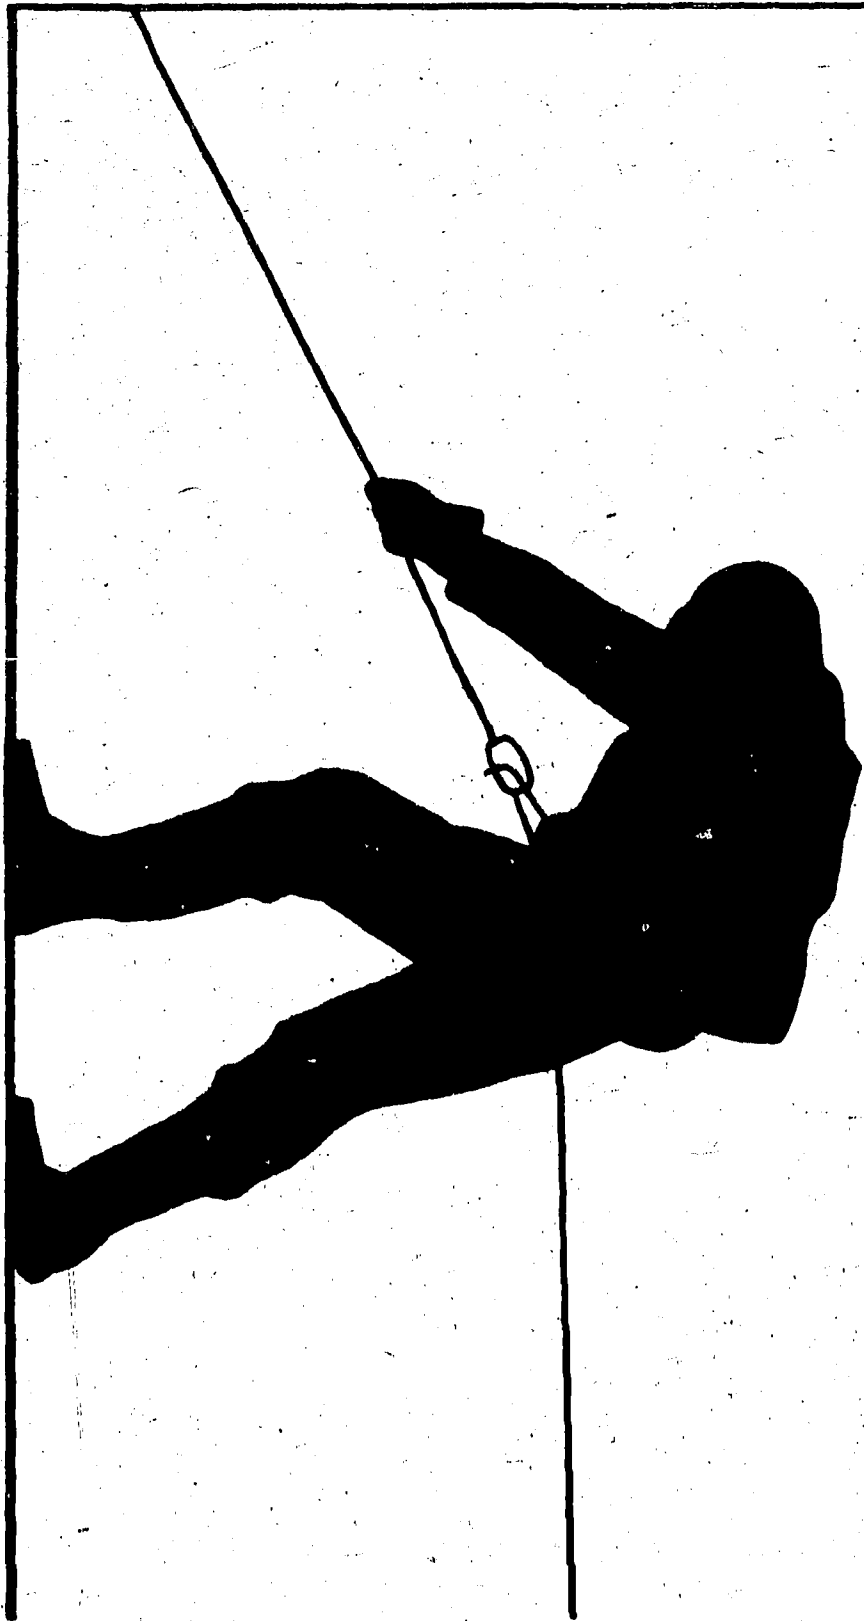

Beginning this year, officials will be paid $2.00 per hour instead of the traditional t-shirt after a certain quota of games, depending on the sport. If interested in becoming an official, contact Kathy Ptasinski at 389-2168. Miss Ptasinski stresses, that it is mandatory for anyone interested in officiating to have an F.A.F. or a P.C.S. She also mentioned that past experience would be helpful, and warns that there is no full-time officials because of the inconsistency of the sport schedules. If interested in officiating, indicate so behind your name on the team roster.

Winning individuals and teams will receive t-shirts of that particular sport. For information of the different sports and their current standings, see the bulletin board at the East end of Centennial Gym, along the faculty offices.

A ten minute slide-tape presentation for new library users will be shown continuously between noon and 5 p.m. today.

Turberville is named new AD

by SUE LONG

H. Cecil Turburville, Jr., a former Associate Professor of Health, Physical Education and Athletics has been named Bloomsburg State College Director of Athletics.

Turberville, a member of the B.S.C. faculty since 1967, has served the college in other capacities. His first job here was that of athletic trainer for the football team he also was Intramural Director and Assistant Director of Athletics in addition to his ten years of teaching.

The announcement of Turburville's appointment was made September 6 after classes. He is a graduate of the University of Alabama.

As the Director, he has found himself faced with several problems in the area of athletics. When Title IX mandated the hiring of a woman coach, B.S.C. was glad to comply and attempted hiring two women to round out the coaching staff. Because of the

Tennis teams are optimistic for '77

by CINDY PECK

This season the men's tennis team will definitely be providing some fierce competition worthy of watching. The team's first match will be tomorrow, when the men host the University of Scranton.

The Huskies, with all members of last season's team returning, have high hopes of a fruitful season. Returnees from the 18-4 team of 1976, who are likely to make the starting lineup are Jim Hollister (captain), Rob Vance, Bill Lantz, Nate Levine, Rick Willders, and Mark Raynes. Hollister, Lantz and Levine are seniors; the remainder of the team are sophomores. Paulo Campos, a native of Brazil, is also expected to see action this season.

The Huskies will be hosting the BSC Collegiate Invitational on September 16 and 17. Among the eight teams who will compete in this important event are Penn State, Temple, and Swathmore, who should provide some tough and thrilling competition.

Coach Burt Reese commented on his team, "We should do very well this year. If everyone plays to his potential, we should only lose to outstanding teams."

Women's Tennis

The women's tennis team is trying a new concept this season. Since both the men's and women's teams are coached by Reese, their practices are being held jointly. Hopefully, both teams will be able to learn from each other.

Joan Riffitts, the only senior returnee, is joined by returning juniors Debbie Sabatelli, Mary McHugh, and Sue Purnell, along with sophomore Tracy Cook. These women will be heading the lineup this season. Donna Royer and Mindi Phillips, both freshmen, are showing much promise for the Husky team.

According to Coach Reese, all matches will be tough this year. The team will take part in a scrimmage on September 18 with the Bloomsburg Women's Tennis Club. This should give the girls "some good match experience", according to women's assistant Coach, Michael Herbert.

One of the highlights of the season will be the Pennsylvania Conference Tournament, which the Huskies have hopes of hosting.

"They all have the potential to be good this year," stated coach Reese. "All of the girls are working very hard to attain this level."

Gridders stun Ship

by MIKE BEATTY

The Husky football team opened its 1977 season with a morale-boosting 6-3 victory over the Shippensburg State College Red Raiders.

The Huskies, suffering from first-game jitters in the first quarter, fumbled the ball on their own 18-yard line, setting up a 26-yard field goal which allowed Shippensburg to score first in the contest.

The Red Raiders, though, would not strike paydirt again, as the Bloomsburg defense dug in for the rest of the game.

With 3:12 left in the second quarter, the Bloomsburg defense blocked a punt deep in Red Raider territory and recovered the ball on the seven yard line. Mike Canzler carried the ball into the end zone on the next play to give Bloomsburg a 6-3 edge and end the scoring.

The game then settled down to a defensive and ball-control struggle. Mike Morucci contributed heavily to the Huskies' offensive attack by averaging almost six yards a carry.

Shippensburg's two long drives in the final quarter were stopped when Mark Collins and Mike Mueller each sacked the Red Raider quarterback, ending Shippensburg's last hopes of scoring.

The Huskies travel to Lock Haven next Saturday to take on the Lock Haven State College Eagles.
