

Hagan's Hollerings

VOL. LVI
No. 26

A publication of Looney Students Inc.

New classes added to spring master schedule

by PUFFLEY THE MAGIC DRAGON

Once again students have made out their class schedules before the Registrar completed the list of classes. Although schedules are made out for next semester, these courses will be offered in case anyone needs to add a course or finish their General Education requirements. If the courses are successful, they will be offered again in the fall. All courses will count towards the General Education requirement.

Physical Education: The Physical Education department has added the following courses: Beginning Nose - picking for novices only, Wind-breaking I and II, Fencing II (a follow-up of fencing I in which students will have the opportunity to build their own picket fences,) and, for those who hate swimming classes, Dry swimming, in which students will practice swimming strokes in the gymnasium and thusly have a fun time.

Humanities: This department now includes: Beginning Swahili, Literature for Imbeciles, Mongoloid Art, Music for the Hard of Hearing, and History of the Norwegian Aardvark.

Social Sciences: New classes include: Sociology and the Insane, Psychology for the Sex-crazed (required of all journalism students), and The Cultural Evolution of Professors.

Natural Sciences: This section has no new classes. However, the Biology Department has added a follow-up of Human Sexuality, called Necrophilia for fun and profit. A lab session at the morgue is a pre-requisite.

Also, the Business Department has added the course - How to Cheat on Your Income Tax Forms and Get Away With It.

Once again, BSC has added courses designed to enliven and round out the student's knowledge.

New housing accommodations found all-over BSC campus

by SMALL CHANGE

and Eileenweeny-CHILLYBEANY

On campus housing, ts an outrage! Triples, field mice, silverfish, (and we aren't even allowed to own goldfish). Why, it is an outrage.

We at the Campus Voice have found an answer. We have found alternate living accommodations on campus. There are 112 in Elwell alone! Why should we be forced off campus in the prime of our lives?

These startling new accommodations provide private baths, hot and cold running water as the season wills, the ultimate in privacy, and notepaper is provided daily. These are single occupancy, but residents can count on 24 hours visitation.

Following are the statistics and other vital information pertaining to On-Campus Housing. The information was compiled by the diligent Small Change and equally unimportant Eileenweeny-chilly-beany.

Building	No. of Male Residences	No. of Female Residences
Carver Hall	2	2
KUB	6	6
Old Science	8	8
Bakeless	12	21
Hartline	16	16
Library	4	4
Sutliff	4	10
Commons	5	5
Nelson
Fieldhouse	14	20
Navy Hall	9	9
Ben Franklin	9	9
Haas	5	8
Centennial	4	4
Elwell	112
Montour	65
Schuylkill	65
Northumberland	30
Luzerne	56
Columbia	100
Lycoming	40

GRAND TOTAL: 564!!!

Concerts slated

by MOUTH RAPALOT

It is now time for someone to defend that much maligned committee, BSCC. No folks, despite an article somewhere else in this paper it doesn't stand for Bringing Stiff Corpses Committee. We are a diligent bunch of student activists, who try as we may just can't seem to please the average tasteless college student. Subsequently, the committee has now scheduled the following groups for next semester:

1. Lynyrd Skynyrd (they're going cheap this year)
2. Elton John Hunsinger
3. Smooch
4. Fleetswood Cadillac
5. SuperWhore
6. Billy A. Hole (the piano repair man)
7. The Dead Boys
8. Jimmy Mack and the Red Tapes

Well from this line-up of talent you can plainly see that next semester should prove to be even more culturally stifling then ever before. And to all those people who have complained about the location and cost of concerts, our new policy is, all concerts will be held in the 7th floor bathroom at Elwell, complete with different prices for sink, urinal, and toilet seats.

What's in a name?

by PUFFLEY

THE MAGIC DRAGON

Many institutions on campus rely on Acronyms. You know, the condensation of many words into one by using all the first initials. Well, the Campus Voice has found out - through investigative reporting - that we have all been fooled. Those acronyms mean more than we thought they did.

For instance, we always thought that CGA was Community Government Association. WRONG! That innocent group is really the Call Girls Association.

Interested? Read on and find out just what BSC is all about! Here is the entire compilation: CAS-Crafty As Sin, CCAA)Communist Council on Acronym Awareness, ASPA - A Small Pitiful Alumnae, A PSCUF A Powerful Society for Constipated Ugandan Fellows, CEC - society founded by Marie Antoinette (Come Eat Cake), BSCC - Bring Stiff Corpses Committee, and, of course, NORML National Organization for the Reform of Marine Lovers.

Of course, some acronyms were to complex for us to figure out (such as OHHELL). But one was so vile, so awful, so disgusting, and so ludicrous that we leave it up to the readers to figure out. It is BSC.

CGA

BSC gets sniper

SMALL CHANGE

CGA held one of their gayla affairs the other day (as if you really care), and several peachy ideas were kicked around.

The Vets club officially petitioned CGA for a sniper and a SWAT team. The proposal has a dual purpose; to help the club in their "Don't forget, hire the vet" drive, and town-college relations. The sniper would be chosen from the club's membership, and on an undisclosed date, would take a position up in Carver's tower, and begin to fire upon townsfolk and students alike. The SWAT team, also members of the club, would then be dispatched, and eventually capture or kill the sniper.

The Vets club representative, GI Joe, felt that this would not only bring Bloomsburg national attention, but more importantly, bring the town and college together under a blanket of fear that afterward would solidify relations.

The concert committee, BSCC, offered to schedule an outside concert in conjunction with the Vets club proposal. Specific dates can't be given at this time, but after their next meeting, CGA is expected to reach their final decision.

The newly formed Necrophilia Club asked CGA for funding to send their members to the National "Get Stiff With a Stiff" convention to be held in Washington's Arlington National Cemetery. CGA decided to match the clubs funds that will be raised in their "cold flesh" fund drive.

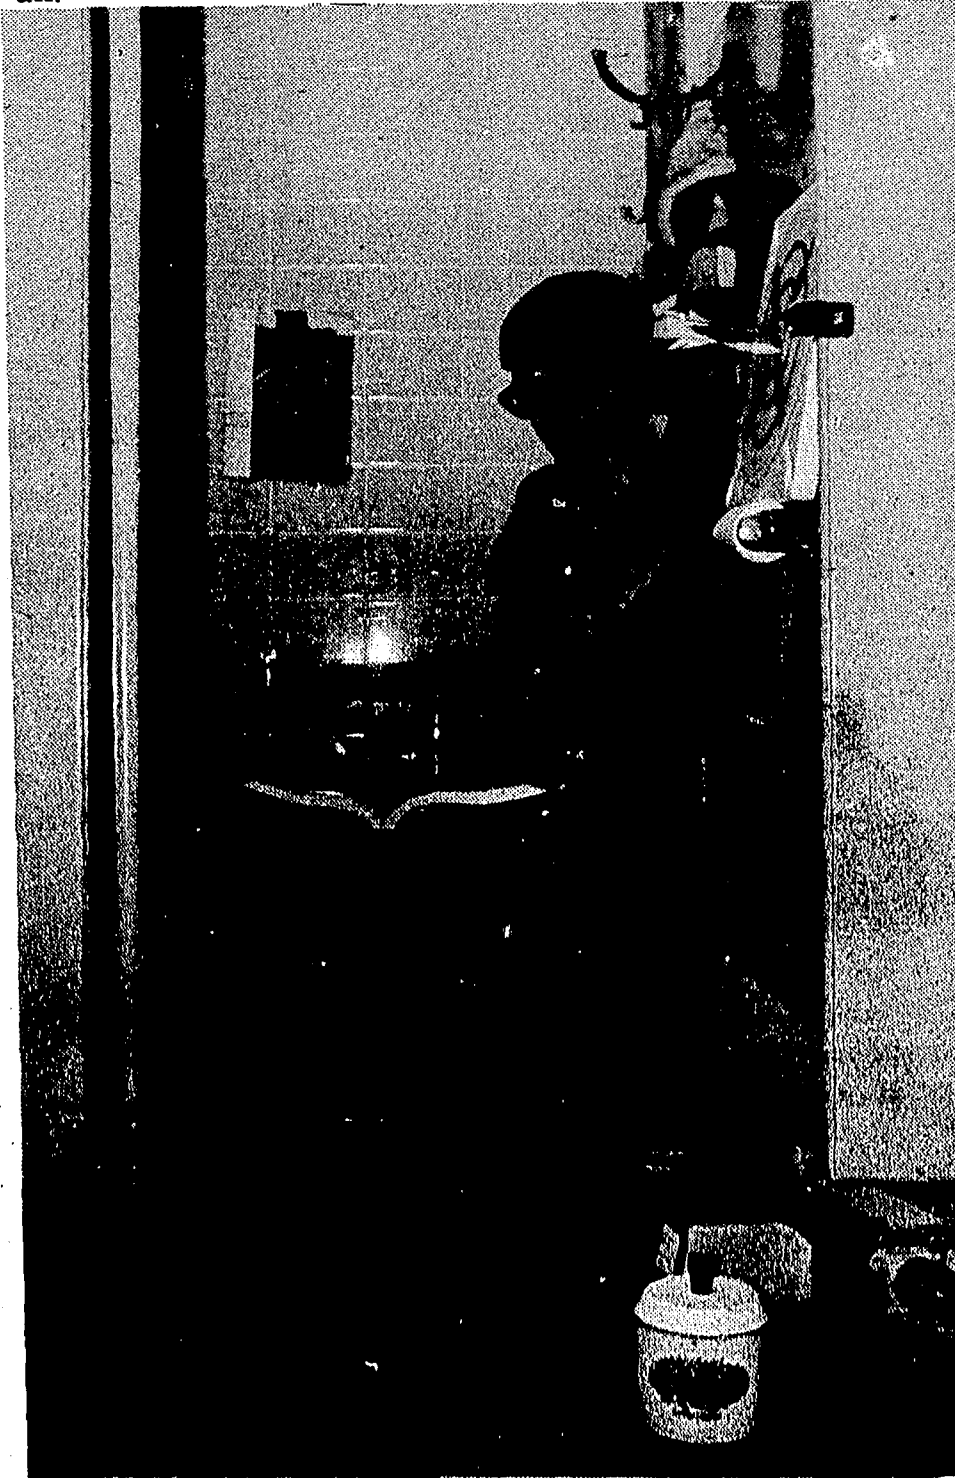

CGA treasurer, Jerry "Cash" Eisenhart then that CGA use the remainder of the years funds to send himself and the rest of CGA to the Bahamas to study how funds can be spent by students on the island, and how long the funds can last. The motion was quickly passed by all members present.

Mr. Bill Hess then informed CGA that it was closing time, and the meeting was adjourned.

The residence hall male-female assignments are up to the disgression of the housing office. (Note: Some of the figures are rough estimates.) Since this housing has just been discovered, they will be open only to probies, but come Fall of '78 they should be open to all.

The housing office, we believe, has kept these suites under raps too long! Five hundred and sixty odd campus residents need not be off campus, if only for the stinginess of the housing office. WATERGATE!

Dear Washington Post...

THERE'S NO PLACE LIKE HOME... Snooze editor Puffley the Magic Dragon checks out one of the new on-campus rooms. The rooms are designed for single-occupancy, have running water, and appear to be very cozy. If you are required to move off campus, are tripled, or sick of your roommate, why not check into one of these cozy rooms? (Photo by a camera, dummy!)

Apologies to C.C. Moore

by AL SUKOMAHOSOWITZ
and
THE GREAT NABU

'Twas the night before Christmas, when all through the halls
Not a student was stirring, within their four walls:
The decorations were hung in the hallways with care
In hopes that Saint Nicholas soon would be there.
The students were nestled all snug in their beds,
While visions of finals week danced in their heads.
And McCormick in his night-shirt, and Griffis in his cap
Had both settled down for a long winter's nap,
When out on the campus there arose such a clatter,
They sprang from their beds to see what was the matter.
Away to the window James flew like a flash,
Tore open the shutter and threw up the sash.
The moon on the breast of the new fallen snow
Gave a lustre of midday to the campus below.
But, what did his wondering eyes happen to see,
But a miniature sleigh and one giant Hus-ky,
The little old driver and all of his elves,
Arrived at the chiming of Carver Hall's bells.
I knew in a moment without even a pause,
That it had to be the man they call Santa Claus.
Pulling the Husky the elves cursed as they came,
Santa whistled and shouted and called them by name:
"Now, Nardi! Now, Hagan! Now, Duncan and Surdoval!
On, Neupher! On, Zyla! On, Norton and Abell!
To the entrance of Elwell, to the doors of Columbia!
Now push and pull! The whole damn bunch of ya!"
Dropping their beer cans as they hurried along,
Santa and his elves were merry with song,
So up to the president's house Santa Claus gurgled
As the president watched so his house wouldn't be burgled.

When James looked out the window he saw in the yard
Eight little creatures and one giant tard.
As James made his way across the living room floor,
Santa fell from his sleigh and banged his head on the door.
As he entered the house and slammed the door shut,
James thought that this man was some kind of nut.
The giant pack that he dragged on the ground,
Looked like a garbage bag that he had found.
His eyes were all bloodshot, his nose like a cherry,
His cheeks were all rosey and boy was he merry!
The drool from his mouth stuck in his beard,
And I could hear all the elves outside as they jeered.
The stump of a pipe he held tight in his teeth,
And the smoke it encircled his head like a wreath.

From all of the beer he drank he had a pot belly
That shook when he laughed like a bowl full of jelly.
He was clumsy and plump a right jolly old elf,
And James laughed when he saw him in spite of himself.
A wink of his eye and a twist of his head
Soon gave James to know he had nothing to dread.
He spoke not a word but went straight to his work,
And filled all the stockings; then turned with a jerk,
And laying his finger on the side of his cheek,
He walked out of the door and said something in Greek.
He sprang to his sleigh, to his team gave a whistle,
And away they all pulled at the speed of a missile.
But I heard him exclaim as he drove out of sight,
MERRY CHRISTMAS TO ALL AND TO ALL A GOOD NIGHT?

WELL, I FINALLY DID IT...ana i'll be home as soon as I finish taking my finals!" said this proud BSC graduate. Let's hope they can't recall the diplomas.
(Photo by Sae Cheeze)

Kampus Kwizzz..

- 1.) The Gadfly is.....?
  - a.) Third cousin to the horsefly
  - b.) A wayward firefly
  - c.) An oversexed tse-tse fly
  - d.) Just a bunch of shit
- 2.) The Resident Advisor system should be....?
  - a.) Abolished
  - b.) Run out of town
  - c.) Converted into the metric system
  - d.) Taken out of Ben Franklin
- 2.) The penalty for rape on the BSC campus will be....
  - a.) Immediate enlistment into the Bloomsburg Police Force
  - b.) Child support
  - c.) Twenty lashes
  - d.) Twenty laps
- 4.) The 19 year old drinking age will....
  - a.) Make it tougher for town cops
  - b.) Increase the AA membership
  - c.) Increase the consumption of Thunderbird in Philly
  - d.) Increase plopfizz-fizz
- 5.) Student off-campus housing should be owned by?
  - a.) Math department
  - b.) Housing department
  - c.) Sanitation department
  - d.) Mafia
- 6.) What is the newest concoction by the Commons Crew?
  - a.) Egg McCormick
  - b.) Colonel Sarris Fried Chicken
  - c.) Norton's Frozen Pies
  - d.) Uncle Abell's Perverted Rice
- 7.) The slogan for the Campus Cash is?
  - a.) Pass your Cash
  - b.) Pass your Gas
  - c.) Pass the Buck
  - d.) Pass out
- 8.) Our CGA president is?
  - a.) A high school sophomore in love for the first time
  - b.) A nerd
  - c.) Corrupt
  - d.) Jose Surdovale
- 9.) Tuition in the spring will be?
  - a.) Too much for even a winner of the Howard Hughes Will
  - b.) Won't be payed off by 1980
  - c.) Will be as costly as a women's intuition
  - d.) "Won't be enuf," says Harrisburg.
- 10.) Bloomsburg's housing situation is...?
  - a.) Ridiculous
  - b.) On-campus
  - c.) Off-campus
  - d.) Off the wall

Merry Christmas and Happy Holidays to all of you from all of us!
See you in January...

Sins of the academic world

by WILLIAM N. M. BAKER

today i would like to speak on the sins of the academic world. i wish to give a few purely hypothetical examples of sure measure student correctional methodology.
mr. fred botherly instructs in the english department of a well know obscure state school of higher intrest. his students, which number near the 130 mark, began to get restless and agitated toward the end of the semester due to the fact that they felt the class time wasn't adequately covered and they were ill prepared for the final exam.
he notified the department chairperson of this "uprising - potencial" and was quickly assigned a late exam date. the last day, the last period, botherly was overwhelmed with the joy only derived from inflicting severe agony on those who you really have no feelings for. the students were dismayed and abandoned all hope of getting a reasonable achievement ratio.
and that my friends is how the system worked in this instance. there are several modifications of this theory. one uses the term - paper - morale - depresser, this tactic is announced at the beginning of the semester but is never truely covered until the week before finals and two days before the due date. don't forget the spell the professor's name wrong failure method. professors tend to change their names in the ending weeks of the semester to insure no one to get the name correct. hence, one can avoid correcting the paper when the professor is an unknown. this is one of the dasterliest deeds known to academic slavery. truely, the student should be aware of his professors motives so as to judge who, where, how and to what extent the professor will attack him.

Hagan's Hollerings

Executing Editor ..... Barbaric Pagan
 Business Miser ..... Ebenezer Grifts
 Circulation Manager ..... Felix the Cat
 Snooze Editors ..... Betsy Ross,
 Puffley the Magic Dragon
 Creature Editor ..... Eileenweenyhillybeony

Shorts Editor ..... Future Shock
 Polaroid People .... Small Change, Ill Paglatatlan
 Crappy Editors ..... Slim Pickins
 Betweeny the lines Sweeney
 Money Grubbers ..... $ick Ritler
 Advisor ..... Duke Richard the Savage

Reporters: Bike Meatty, Reverend Baker, Al Sukomahosowitz, The Great Nabu, Mouth Rapolat, Ed (I want to be like my dad Russ) Hauck, Eric No mo ah, Y. Rex Reed, Manure Flushing, Menachem Schlacter, Chris Pressedham, Ellie Hatched, Small Change, Pindy Ceck, and all sorts of other crazies!!!

Photographers: Bob McMuffin, Reese Cup, Morse Code, Ledger Germain and Thomas Jefferson.
 Dark Room Manager: Palm Reader
 Cartoonist: Dexter's Brother
 Grubbers Staff: Mark Hauck (Ed's Brother?) Reverend Baker and Hairy Chest.
 Circulated Staff: Poor Marshmallow, Brian Seashell and Joe Italiano.

Hagan's Hollerings are located anywhere we see fit to work!
 Hollerings is governed by spur of the moment thoughts with final responsibility for all material with anyone who wishes to take the blame.
 Hollerings reserves all rights to chop up stories and distort any story submitted. A maximum of one word is placed upon all letters and we make no exceptions. All letters must be signed but they probably will be burned in spite of content or signature. Names will never be withheld nor will they be printed. (Figure that one out!)

NOTE: The opinions voiced in the columns, feature articles, and editorials are all our own so if you don't like it, tough!!!

"NEW FROM KAY-TELL...IT'S ILLVIS..."

YES...ILLVIS IS DEAD NOW...BUT THAT DOESN'T MEAN YOU HAVE TO GIT AT HOME AND BE ALONE... NO SIREEE...NOW THERE'S "ILLVIS"...JUST AS REAL AND FULL OF AIR AS EVER...BLOW HIM...UP...AND HAVE A REAL FUN TIME (CAREFUL...DON'T MAKE HIM TOO FAT)...PUT HIM ON THE TOILET SEAT AND WATCH HIM FALL OFF, TURN BLUE AND BECOME STIFF...

NOW ONLY $29.95

THUMB TACK

AIR VALVE...BLOW ILLVIS AS MUCH AS YOU WANT TO...

PULL THE STRING...ILLVIS GROWLS AND ROLLS HIS EYES...

HEAVE DRY-CELL

ILLVIS'S PERSONAL SHOE TREES

EKS-LAKS DEBITORY CHAMBER

ATHLETE'S FEET

WANT YOUR ILLVIS TO LAST LONGER...SIMPLY GIVE HIM HIS WEEKLY EKS-LAKS TILL AND ILLVIS WILL KEEP GOING SMOOTHLY FOR MONTHS TO COME

Question submits exciting adventures

by MENACHEM SCHLACTER

With the coming of the new semester right down the alley, Question has submitted the new listings for their outdoor programs. There are some exciting new events to be held for students, while gaining the advantage of academic credit.

First, and perhaps most conservative, will be the month sleep-over in Siberia. Question will pay all expenses except car travel, food, water, and housing. You and a guest will have the unique opportunity to survive the clean, fresh, commie air and sub-zero temperature, while earning one to three credits! Providing you make it back, Question will provide free treatment for exposure, frostbite, and malnutrition.

If that doesn't appeal to you, Question also offers you the chance to run the rapids of the Colorado River. The prerequisite is that you own docksiders and a pair of spiked trackshoes, because when running on the rocks amidst 40 mph rapids, things get a bit slippery.

For you underwater fans, Question offers a three credit shark wrestling course. A takeoff from the motion picture "Namu - the - Killer - Rapist Shark" you earn an easy "A" grade by successfully pinning the shark under 20 ft. of water. To remove any danger of injury, your mouth is wired shut.

Saving the surprise for last, Question has unveiled the newest addition to its Spring program - Woolly Mammoth Hunting. According to Questions director Steve Berserk, there are still believed to be a few prehistoric Mammoths left roaming somewhere in the backwoods of Israel.

You and a partner (six credits) will join the hunt (in progress for 6,000 years) armed with WWII phasers and communicators. The only mandatory rule is that the furry fella be taken alive, so phasers must be set on stun.

Hopefully you have taken an interest in this continuing outdoor program and will keep a lookout for sign up times and dates. No promises, but a glimpse of the Winter schedule highlights include Unicorn hunting, Inter continental Balloon travel, and Tubing on the Mojave Desert.

LOVE NOTHING, THIS MEANS BUSINESS...One of BSC's male tennis players seems a bit down-trodden over the match with Neanderthal College. See the back page for the recent coverage of the match.

(Photo by the camera, again!)

So, fellow students, another semester has reached it's long awaited conclusion. Finals are closing in, and so is Christmas (shop early and often!). Grades, if you haven't thought about them now, it's a bit too late, the handwriting is on the wall (For a good time call Rachel...). But why worry, all the high school drop-outs got all the jobs months ago, anyhow.

Well, I've got the answer! There is a future for you in the U.S. Government! Yes, there are positions opening up right now that pay thousands of dollars a year to their employees!

Just think, You too could be one of the people that makes those country shaking decisions. And all it takes is a few months a year, that's all! If you are interested in this and other big-pay government jobs all you must do is send in your Energy Plan to:

James Schlesinger, Energy Secretary
co/The Capitol Building
Washington, DC 20037

The drawing for the GRAND PRIZE, a full time government job, including fringe benefits, will be held on January 20, 1978. All entries must be received on or before December 31, 1977.

Don't hesitate, this may be the big break you've been waiting for! Send in your Energy Plan today!!!

Punk rock band surfaces on BSC campus

by T. REXREED

I have seen the future of rock and roll and its name is "Billy Bong and Death On Arrival". This band is Bloomsburg PA's addition to punk rock, the new wave that is sweeping the world, tearing up and throwing out both the past and the present, and offering nothing as an alternative. And it's about time too. Punk Rock is a refreshing change from the elements of life today (i.e. love, sharing, honor, happiness, hope, aspiration, Burger King Whoppers, etc.). It replaces these tired themes with a void as wide as it is deep, and introduces limbo as an alternative to heaven. Yes, it is indeed about time, and now we B.S.C. students can be proud that we have a band that will lead us into that void, and help us become the non-entities that we were meant to be.

"Billy Bong And Death On Arrival" is one dynamite band. Their approach to music is incredibly free form and spontaneous since they haven't let the technical elements of music (i.e. learning how to play their instruments) bog them down. None of them have any musical training or experience whatsoever, refusing to even tune their instruments for fear that it might hamper their creative, open-ended style of composing. Their lyrics are incredibly stark, leaving nothing to the imagination. Poetic elements such as imagery and metaphor are completely ignored.

Says leader Billy Bong, "Our writing is more, uh, expressive than most bands, man. I mean, we just do it, that's all. No matter how it turns out, you know? It's like ... verbal diarrhea, man ... fast, fluid, and hot as hell."

Like their music, the individual band members are quite unique. The lineup includes Billy Bong on lead vocals, Benny Nothing on bass guitar, Opal Dyke on drums, and David "Berkowitz" Warp on guitar. Their stage act is nothing short of astounding. I caught them at a recent engagement at the Hotel Magee in downtown Bloomsburg. The Magee is an up and coming punk rock club reminiscent of New York's CBGB's. In their short fifteen minute set they poured Mr. Bubbles all over the audience, set fire to Warp's guitar, hung silver lamay athletic supporters from their ears, stabbed a picture of Amy Carter and then doused it with beer, rode a live donkey across the stage and then cut off its tail, overturned three fishbowls and laughed while the fish hopped up and down on the floor, ate three jars of peanut butter, became legally ordained ministers, tripped three tray bearing waitresses, took turns blowing each others noses, and danced around in indian costumes while Bong, on his knees, screamed the word "radish" into the microphone over and over again for ten full minutes. It was an incredibly relevant performance, one that made me seriously think about my life, my direction, and myself. I'm certain that the emotions that flowed through me as I watched these young artists on the stage were easily as strong as those experienced by Alexander Graham Bell when he found out that his words "Watson, come here, I need you," were heard by his assistant through the first telephone.

If anything speaks for this band, their lyrics do, and they do so with a vengeance. Let's take a look at some of their songs, each one a punk rock masterpiece. One song, entitled "Masochistic Baby", speaks the truth about being a newborn and the slobbering self-indulgence of infancy is revealed for the first time: "Alright baby, you got it down, two months old and your already in the ground, you got on mothers case, your crying did perturb her, so she left you fat and naked to smother in your Gerbers." If nothing else, it's real.

"Bring McCormick Home For Lunch" is a daring, outright political attack on our college president. "Hey, hey Brian Sarris, I got a recipe for you. Your commons food don't cut it so here's something new. Hijack McCormick and run him through your slicer, add some bread and mayo and we'll all have a turkey sandwich." It's a blistering attack, one that could probably ruin McCormick's career if it ever hit the airwaves.

Perhaps the song that puts this band into perspective the best is one written by Bong entitled, "Doomsburg Slate Collage". The title, a cleverly concealed play on words, gives us a hint to the song's content, namely, a defiant description of life at B.S.C. "Well teacher see's me, 'You got an E on your exam,' he whines, so I turn to him and tell him to stich it where the sun never shines, the coed's they are nervous 'cos the boys won't keep away, We're goin out tonight to have a panty raid, and the Campus Voice is yelling 'Apathy's in town', me, I say let's burn Huskeyville to the ground, and we lost McDonalds basketball french fries - 'we was robbed I hear them say', so intead I'll go get torpedeed by a Barrigans Sub today."

What more can I say about this band? They are the most important addition to the Bloomsburg community to come along in years. They'll take you nowhere, isn't that what you've been waiting for?

Act Now and Save!

Attention BSC Students! Here's a Christmas gift you can give to all of your family and friends.

The Campus Voice at $10 a semester. Yes, your friends and family can enjoy this Journalistic Masterpiece at the new low-low price of $10 a semester. Call now our operators are on duty

24 Hours 389-3101

Raphiel's Silver Cloud Lounge

"The Little Vinyl Place"

This week's special - A Breaded Salisbury Steak, shake and bake topped with a provocative sauce of Velveta and Half-and-half. Smothered in Campbell's Tomato soup.

Personal BSC

Congratulations on your new job J.J.

Merry Christmas Elizabethan Madrigals

Girl available for SIO's date party.

For more info call Mrs. Bochicchio

Happy Birthday Jerry Eyes & ears

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year Campus Voice Staff

Congratulations Craig you finally made it!

Neanderthals beat Sidney Barstools

by SMALL CHANGE

The Men's tennis team lost their most recent match, to Neanderthal College, by the embarrassing score of 500 to nothing. The powerful Neanderthal team killed three members, and seriously wounded four others.

In the first match, Bloomsburg's Sidney Barstools, swept the first two sets, only to be wiped out when he was hit in the head by one of his opponent's serves. Neanderthal's team was found using rocks for balls. Bloomsburg's coach pressed formal charges on Neanderthal's team, but soon retracted them. Neanderthal's coach, in a show of good will, let him go and sacrificed a fatted calf to the god's instead.

The next two matches found Bloomsburg with first one, then two less members on the team. Red Roughsore was fatally wounded when he was struck by his opponent's racket, following Red's first point. The next casualty was Ben Dover, who was eaten by his opponent between sets.

Adam Balm and Sal E. Mander both forfeited their matches due to burns received when the team's bus was burnt. Both were trapped inside but were able to escape before the bus exploded.

The fifth match found Neanderthal's best player against Bloom's John Barleycorn. As you can imagine, John Barleycorn must die.

The final match also ended before the first serve. Jose Canyousee, Bloom's exchange student from Mexico, had his hand broken when he shook hands with his opponent at the start of the match.

Memorial services will be held this Sunday for the victims of the match. Better luck next time, guys!!

SPORTSMAN OF THE YEAR...Huskies number 35 was named sportsman of the year for his unusual defensive moves and tactics.

BSC aims for Rose Bowl

by FUTURE SHOCK

It's only two and a half weeks away now, and the Bloomsburg football team, still on an emotional high after last week's thrashing of Texas, are setting their sights on the January 2 Rose Bowl meeting with Michigan.

Although most newspapers around the country say that the Wolverines are playing the Washington Huskies, we all know that it's our Huskies that will be in the granddaddy of all bowl games.

When asked what the game plan is for the Huskies, coach Ron Puhl put it bluntly, "Well, I don't know. But any team that throttled such a squad as Texas should have a lot going for them. I believe now that we have the exact mixture of running, passing, and defense to come out on top in Pasadena."

All-American running back Mike Morucci and quarterback Joe Perotti will be the men on the spot for Bloomsburg. If they can mix up the plays just right, it could mess up the Michigan defensive tacts. On defense, such standouts as Doug Pfautz, Lou Sanutti, and Chris Betterly will be keying on the high powered Wolverine offense.

Now, you may ask, how did a team such as Bloomsburg get picked to play in the Rose Bowl. Well, it started with a mistake in the medical laboratories at the University of Pittsburgh. Some how or other, a Pitt med student developed a virus that infected half of the school. With football players Matt Cavanaugh, Elliott Walker, and others incapable of playing, the Penn State game was cancelled.

Well, Penn State needed another game (most likely another win) in order to get into the fight for the national championship. With Oklahoma, Texas, Alabama, and Arkansas unavailable, the Nittany Lions sent out bids, open to anyone, for a season ending game. Bloomsburg Athletic Director Cecil Turberville immediately jumped at the chance of playing Penn State, and the game was scheduled. The rest is history. Morucci gained 350 yards, Tom Brennan caught ten passes for 654 yards, the defense held the Lion offense of Chuck Fusina, Tom Fiskee, and Jimmy Cefalo to a mere 2 yards total offense, as the Huskies twisted the Lion's tails, 139-0.

Top-ranked Texas just happened to be off the next week, so Turberville shrugged off the critics and scheduled the Husky - Longhorn encounter. The Cotton Bowl crowd was stunned when Bloomsburg lineman Walt Savitts lowered the boom and knocked Heisman Trophy winner "Soup" Campbell unconscious on the first play of the game. With Campbell out, it was a piece of cake for the Pennsylvania team, rolling to a convincing 49-0 triumph. This time reserve back Tony Williams and fullback Frank Yanik combined for 248 yards, and Dan McCallum and Ed Bugno scored twice each.

By mere chance, the entire Washington football team scheduled its winter break trip to Hawaii over the New Year's holiday. With no competition for the Rose Bowl game, Michigan announced the challenge for any team. Turberville again went to work, and finally made the deal. "I talked to (Michigan coach Bo) Schembechler. He was a little hesitant, but he finally gave in. I'm sure it will be a fine experience for our boys."

Well, in two and a half weeks, the cinderella story will come to an end. No matter what the outcome, the 4-5 team that rocketed itself to national fame in two weeks will never be forgotten.

*****

Another game won

*****

by BIKE MEATTY

The Bloomsburg basketball team won another game on Saturday, as the Huskies, with a record of 2-3, knocked off number one ranked Kentucky, 110-34. Al Williams had 48 points.

*****

Grappler switches colors

by FUTURE SHOCK

In these days of athletes moving from team to team, it was to no one's surprise when Bloomsburg wrestler Andy Capelli, switched uniforms earlier this week, as he traded his maroon and gold uniform for a Danville State green and orange set of threads.

The outspoken, colorful, flamboyant grappler, last season's top Husky wrestler, had his usual controversial answer to the question, why the move? Capelli said, "I wanted to."

Husky (6' 2", 210 pounds) coach Roger Sanders was not pleased with the move. But, he has a trick up his sleeve. "We were looking in the records in the admissions office, and we noticed that Floyd "Shorty" Hitchcock flunked one of his courses. Well, now he has to go back to school to get his diploma back, and that would make him eligible for this season's matches."

"I don't understand it," said Hitchcock, a one time national champion, "I never took that course, coaching wrestling."

New players added; Coach 'a happy man'

FUTURE SHOCK

HAWAII — Bloomsburg baseball coach Clark Boler returned from the recent baseball meetings a happy man, as he added a few players to the Husky roster.

The six year coach from Alabama ignored all, budget restrictions and signed superstar Lyman Bostok to a four-year scholarship in physical education. The former Twin outfielder said "I always wanted to go to college."

To bolster the pitching staff, Boler promptly traded Bruce Wilson to the Houston Astros for veteran Joquin Andujar, third baseman Enos Cabell, and a Curvemaster pitching machine. Wilson was unavailable for comment.

With the addition of Bostok, Boler probably will put him in center field, and moving Tom Fulton to right. This probably will put last season's right fielder Scott Vercoe in the designated hitter role.

WANTED:

Wanted: One stone or metal husky. Must be an outside dog. Call BSC.

Services required. Professional dartist needed weekly. Campus Voice KUB

Experienced writers! Fringe benefits; chance for promotion. Campus Voice KUB

Recycle Newspapers all colored glass' Curbside last Saturday of the month.

Have we got a trip for you! Tired of spending Spring Break at home? or work with absolutely no relaxation? Come with us to sign up at the Care Union Info Desk. Cost is only $825<sup>00</sup>.

Outer Mongolia

Price includes meals (mongolian style) travel (mongolian style) and accomodations (mongolian style). Get out of a Rut! Come to Mongolia. (mongolian style)...