Who collects fee?

by JULIE STAMETS

Following the passage of a referendum calling for a refundable mandatory fee for CAS (Commonwealth Association of Students), problems have arisen at four state colleges regarding the collection.

Indiana, Kutztown, East Stroudsburg, and Bloomsburg state colleges have been facing these problems.

According to Frank Lorah, Student Life Accountant, Bloomsburg State's problem stems from a discrepancy over who should do the actual collecting of the fee. Lorah said that it was a general assumption that the fee would be collected by the Community Activities Office instead of the Business Office although there had been no provision for this manner of payment.

Out of the 14 state schools, 13 approved the mandatory CAS fee with Clarion State College being the only school to defeat the proposal.

According to Marcy Carey, Public Relations Director for statewide CAS in Harrisburg, the mandatory fee, now that it is refundable, can be reimbursed to a student. If any student opposes the views of the CAS organization, he or she can submit a written request and receive a refund.

AFTER THE RAINS CAME... Friday's miserable weather forced the jamboree indoors. However, Saturday proved to be a gorgeous day for music and crafts in the sun.

Crime: increasing problem

by NANCY ROWLANDS

The increasing number of criminal acts on campus has become a problem at BSC, according to campus security.

The dollar value on reported theft in the year of 1977 was $12,476 as compared to the dollar value of $8,179 in 1976. In 1975 the monetary value of reported theft was $5,198. There has been a drastic increase in theft as each year progresses. It is predicted for the year of 1978 that the monetary value on theft will by far exceed the value of previous years. This prediction is validated by the fact that in the months of January through July, the dollar value on reported theft was $8,010, a figure very close to that of the total value in 1976. It should be noted that the figure given for 1978 was not for the complete year. There are still five months left in this year which have not been included in this figure.

During the year of 1977, 156 criminal incidents were reported to security of these incidents, 98 were thefts. So far in 1978, 164 incidents have been reported. Of these incidents, 78 were thefts.

Following close behind theft, is the large number of acts of criminal mischief, the majority of which is tampering with fire equipment. Few students realize the seriousness of tampering with fire equipment. The equipment is placed in the buildings for the safety of those persons within the building. In the case of an actual fire, injuries may result due to faulty equipment.

Security offers a few words of advice: if any students have any valuable personal belongings, bring them to the security office. They will engrave your name, social security number or any marking which will aid in identifying the article if stolen. One other point that cannot be stressed enough is 'lock your door,' even if the room is left unattended for a few minutes. One solution to reducing the number of criminal acts occurring at BSC is campus-wide concern and the cooperation of the students and security.

Financial office improves system

by NANCY FAUSNAUGHT

The financial aid office has greatly improved their system over the past two years, according to Tom Lyons, director of financial aid.

The PHEAA form (Pennsylvania Higher Education Assistance Agency) has recently replaced the FAF (Financial Aid Form). There is no charge for PHEAA; FAF was $4.75.

In one year Lyons expects to have developed a system that students will not be negative toward. He hopes they will feel financial aid is there to help them.

Lyons also explained the procedure to obtain student employment.

A PHEAA form must be filled out and sent to Harrisburg. The form takes four weeks to be processed.

A student must then fill out a blue student employment application, which can be obtained at the financial aid office. On it a student should list any skills he has and the particular supervisor for whom he wishes to work.

Next year the deadline for these applications is March 30. This is earlier than this year's deadline, which was April 30. "This gives us extra time to deal with any problems that might come up," Lyons explained.

Lyons' advice to students seeking employment on campus is to read the forms carefully, take their time in filling them out, and leave nothing blank. Leave zeros if something is not applicable.

Piano recital scheduled for tomorrow night at 8:15 in Carver Hall has been cancelled.

Renovations made to help handicapped

B.S.C. is making changes on campus to enable the handicapped to move around on campus, in accordance with Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act.

The first steps in this renovation were taken this summer. Curbs were cut out around Ben Franklin, Haas, and Hartline, along with concrete ramps and special parking spaces for the handicapped.

There are three major areas on campus which will be renovated in the following order: public areas, residence halls, and classroom buildings.

In the future, doorways will be enlarged, mirrors, light switches and phones will be lowered and residence hall rooms will be renovated for the handicapped. These are just a few of the changes that are planned for the future to help the handicapped here at BSC.

PARKING FOR THE DISABLED... One of the major grounds renovations was the setting aside of parking spaces at key locations for handicapped people.

Foot-stomping time slated for Haas

by JEAN KRAUS

Creation is the production of new inventions which widen and improve the universe; creativity is a unique art.

Johnny Lyon, vocalist and leader of Southside Johnny and the Asbury Jukes, has proved his creativity by producing a new style of soulful blues as heard through the sounds of his group — Southside Johnny and Asbury Jukes.

Lyon has mixed the trumpeting soul music of the early '60s with the street corner harmonies of the '50s and has added a piece of hard blues for modernization to yield a sound of excitement that sets his audiences on fire!

Southside Johnny and the Asbury Jukes got their start in the early '60s at the Stone Pony bar in Asbury Park, New Jersey. There, the band played their music to customers and frequently jammed with other new artists, such as Bruce Springsteen.

When Springsteen finally left the club to rise to stardom, the Jukes continued to play at the Stone Pony, as well as other clubs along the East Coast, building a better sound and following. Through promotion from the Stone Pony and Springsteen, (Springsteen would promote the group at his concerts), Epic records finally listened to the group and offered the Jukes a contract. The group's first hit came in the Fall of '75 with a cut from their debut album "I Don't Want to Go Home." The group has also cut another album "This Time It's for Real" which has never received the credit it deserves.

This summer, Southside Johnny and The Asbury Jukes have opened the concert for the Rolling Stones in Chicago.

The Jukes have also played a medley of oldies with Springsteen in John Share's Capital Theatre on New Year's Eve of '78. The musical production was broadcast live through New York on WNEW.

The Jukes were at the Dr. Pepper Festival and "as usual, had the whole crowds bouncing up and down on their seats."

Southside Johnny and the Asbury Jukes will be performing at BSC on September 17 at 9 p.m. in Haas Auditorium. Tickets are $4.00 and are available at the Information Desk of the Kehr Union.

Robert Palmer, renown musician and artist of such albums as "Sneakin' Sally Thru the Alley" has called the Jukes "the most dependably exciting performing band in the East."

Listen to the words of Robert Palmer, this exciting band is not one to miss!!

LET THE GOOD TIMES ROLL! Once again, the Fall Jamboree proved that the weather could not stop students from participating. Although rain moved Friday's activities inside, Saturday could not have been sunnier. Above, the crowd gathers to listen to one of the several groups scheduled for the Jamboree. Right, one entertainer "fiddled" the afternoon away.

Frosh tea offers answers

by SUE POTTER

Come out, come out, wherever you are! Freshmen, this is probably the only opportunity you will have here at BSC to learn what our campus offers and get all of your questions answered in one evening.

Kehr Union's multipurpose room is the setting for the Freshmen Social, at seventhirty Thursday evening, September 14, 1978. The Association of Resident Students has planned an informal evening of music, refreshments and sharing of information to welcome the new freshmen.

A relaxing guitar recital featuring Toby Loyd will set a friendly, cordial atmosphere for freshmen to mingle with one another and with administrators.

At 8 o'clock p.m. Mrs. McCormick will welcome the guests with a talk directed to the freshman. Throughout her years here at BSC Mrs. McCormick has acted upon her concern for students and has a wealth of experience to draw from for this occasion.

Other speakers include representatives from the counseling center, who want to help with personal problems as well as academic; Kehr Union, revealing all of the programs they sponsor, which are grand in quantity and in quality; CGA, explaining the activities of our community government association; IFC and ISC, sharing the pains and pleasures of rushing and life in the Greek world; and ARS, who we have to thank for their concern for freshmen women and men.

Resident deans have also been invited to the Freshman Social to answer any questions students may have concerning residence hall living.

According to Dave McIlwaine, President of ARS, "This year's Freshman Social is an opportunity for freshman to meet one another and to be exposed to activities on campus. The people you need to talk to are right there".

Dress is informal; all freshmen are urged to attend. This an opportunity for students to see what they can give to BSC as well as what they can take advantage of, aside from academics.

BSC Soccer: on the ball

by PETER PRINZ

With their most successful season (10-1) and a 2-0 preseason behind them, the Huskies' soccer team will open their defense of the Eastern Division title this Saturday, September 16, at 1 pm at home against top rival Shippensburg.

According to coach Dr. Louis Mingrone, Shippensburg will be the test of the year. "There will be a lot of pressure," he commented. "Everyone is out to get us, because we made them look foolish last year. And Shippensburg ended up just behind us in the standings."

Mingrone will have 22 veterans back from last year, with 12 freshmen and transfers to total the squad's number at 34. "We have a very good group of freshmen," he mentioned. "I even had to cut many talented individuals that could have formed a good J.V. team."

Although satisfied with the strength of the offense and its scoring ability, Mingrone still hopes to work out some weaknesses in the defense and to better the communications between his fullbacks and halfbacks. The main support he sees coming from forward Jim Mailey (two time regional all-American and all-conference), halfbacks Jim Delp (two time all-conference) and captain John Millhouse, as well as fullbacks John Lockwood, Glenn Chestnut, Mark Fideli, and goalie Horst Bernhart.

Referring to the schedule for the '78 season, Mingrone pointed out that this year's is even more difficult. Cheyney State College, a new conference team, and Indiana University of Pennsylvania, a western division power, will be new challenges for Huskies.

"We are playing better schools. We have the talent and personality to play anyone. There will be darn good soccer played home and away," Mingrone concluded.

In their second exhibition game the Huskies defeated Bucknell 4-3 in a three period game, with the first squad playing the first and third period. Three goals by Jim Mailey and one by Brian Tarlecki led to a 4-0 lead in the first period. Bucknell shortened the lead in the second to 4-3, but remained scoreless in the last. Rick Monaco (3) and Mailey accounted for the assists.

"I CAN'T COVER HIM...you try" Lebanon Valley's No. 10 seems to be saying as BSC's Jim Mailey manuevers the ball towards them during the scrimmage with Lebanon Valley.

Up to this point of the game, the Huskies had been basically sticking to the ground, mainly giving the ball to Morucci. But for the last quarter, quarterback Rick Kneisley went to the air. At one stage of the fourth quarter, an Ithaca punt had put the Huskies on their own one yard line. Kneisley promptly opened up the offense, completing passes to wide receivers Duane Frantz and Ed Bugno. Just when it appeared the Huskies would complete the 99-yard touchdown drive, safety Scott Colton picked off a pass intended for Frantz at the 15 yard line, and the Huskies were frustrated again.

On the next series, though, Bloomsburg was not to be denied. Mixing his pass with the running game, Kneisley marched the Huskies 77 yards in 11 plays, capped off by a one yard touchdown run by Danny McCallum. Hafer's kick was good, bringing the score to the final 25-7 count.

Game Statistics Close

Although the score was lopsided, the game statistics were close, as Ithaca rolled up 240 total yards to BSC's 202. Morucci had himself another great game, as he rushed for 143 yards. Mees led the Bombers rushers with 85 yards, and John Nicolo added 59 yards, mostly on second effort.

HUSKY HEADLINE - The Huskies will try to get back on the winning side Saturday, when they travel to Shippensburg for a 1:30 game.

Huskies 'bombed' by Ithaca 25-7

by AL SCHOCH, JR.

Ithaca College turned three first half Bloomsburg State fumbles into touchdowns, as the Bombers defeated the Huskies 25-7, Saturday afternoon at Redman Stadium.

The Huskies started off the afternoon in good shape, as running back Mike Morucci took the ball on the first play from scrimmage and ran it 15 yards. However, the play was called back because of a clipping penalty, and the game went downhill from there. On fourth down, the ball was centered over punter Randy Hafer's head out of the end zone for a 2-0 Ithaca lead. Ithaca took possession on the ensuing free kick at the Huskies' 44 yard line. There, Bomber running back, Matt Mees, took the ball up the middle and all the way to the end zone. The extra point try failed, but Ithaca was ahead 8-0 with 12:39 left.

Ithaca scored on their next possession. After recovering a fumble, they controlled a 55-yard drive, with Mees again scoring. With Tom Darling's kick, Ithaca lead 15-0.

It wasn't that Bloomsburg couldn't move the ball, it was just those few breaks. The Huskies had great success on the ground through much of the game, mostly on the running of Morucci. The junior running back would constantly come up with five or six yards a carry, but those fumbles cost the Huskies the game.

Another fumble.

Toward the end of the half, the Huskies were driving again, but another fumble halted the surge. Ithaca, showing the signs of a champion, capitalized on the mistake with another long drive, ending with a one yard TD run by quarterback Steve Manning. With PAT, the Bombers led 22-0 at the half.

That was all the visiting club needed as they racked up their second win of the season in as many games. The final points for Ithaca came on a third quarter 36 yard field goal.

Stealing a phone call Isn't a game.

Most students play by the rules when placing a long distance call. They take advantage of bargain rates and make their calls during the discount periods. If you're not sure when you can call at discount rates, check your phone book.

A few students think it's O.K. to break the rules by stealing their telephone calls. They're not beating the system, they're taking advantage of all of us, because it drives up the cost of providing telephone service.

Students who break the rules also run the risk of paying a large fine. Spending time in jail. And getting themselves a permanent police record.

It's just not worth it!
