Bloomsburg State College, Wednesday, September 20, 1978

Population reduction difficult

While most colleges and universities work on strategies to avoid sagging enrollments, Bloomsburg State College is deliberately reducing the size of its student population.

Final enrollment reports are expected to be close to the goal set by the institution last winter - a decrease of 150 full-time undergraduate students for the fall semester. The graduate enrollment is expected to remain at the same level as last year, while the enrollment of part-time undergraduates is expected to increase slightly as a result of continued growth in the School of Extended Programs.

CUTTING BACK DIFFICULT

For the BSC Admissions Office, cutting back on the enrollment of new students is not as easy as might be expected. There was an increase of 14 percent over last year in the number of applications for freshmen admission, and an increase of 18 percent in the number of transfer student applications.

"We received a total of 3,270 freshmen and 699 transfer applications for the 1,050 and 180 spaces respectively," Tommy L. Cooper, Dean of Admissions and Records at BSC, explained. "Those spaces were filled by mid-April."

"Bloomsburg is one of the few four-year institutions in the state to have a significant increase in applications. The only explanation I can give for the increase is that the quality of our academic programs in business, nursing, arts and sciences, and teacher education is well known throughout the state. When students visit Bloomsburg, they see an attractive campus, and a friendly, pleasant community, and they come back to enjoy it."

Why cut back when applications are up?

Cooper explained that the college is acting to correct a problem that resulted from a sudden, unexpected surge in enrollment last fall. Undergraduate registrations increased from 4,773 in 1976 to 4,913 full-time students a year ago. This happened in spite of efforts of the Admissions Office to maintain a stable enrollment level.

"We found we had more students than we could accommodate properly," he said. "The administration decided that it would be in the best interests of our students to return to the enrollment level of the fall, 1976."

CUTBACK RESULTS VISIBLE

The college expects the enrollment cutback will help ease campus and community problems that include parking, residence hall accommodations, off-campus housing, and faculty assignments.

BSC Housing Director John Abell said the reduction in enrollment has already produced noticeable results, especially in freeing up space in residence halls. He added that the enrollment cut-back, combined with the opening of a new apartment building downtown, "gives us something we haven't seen for years - there are at least 50 vacancies in off-campus housing, and that's a real break for our students."

"We are now seeing the results of a community-college effort," Abell said. "The community has supported projects to provide more and better housing accommodations, and the college has reduced enrollment in order to ease "the demand for off-campus housing facilities."

Special education grants awarded

The Department of Special Education will be receiving over $70,000 in two grants to help train graduate students and faculty from vocational-technical schools to work with special education students.

The first grant, awarded by the U.S. Office of Education, Division of Personnel Preparation, will be used to train personnel in special education. Seven graduate assistants will be funded by this $25,000 grant, with the remainder of the money used in program support.

Dr. Andrew Karpinski, chairman of the Special Education Department, noted that BSC is one of the few state colleges to receive federal money for this project this year.

The second grant, for $35,732, was awarded by the Bureau of Vocational Education under the Pennsylvania Department of Education. This money will be used to provide two three-credit workshops each semester and during summer term to train vo-tech faculty in the skills necessary to instruct students with special needs.

The workshops will be taught by BSC faculty, with materials funded by the grant. This program will run from July 1, 1978 through June 30, 1979.

Mini-courses

Course variety offered

The School of Extended Programs has scheduled two non-degree mini-courses to help fill out the September schedule of mini-courses. A course in Calligraphy and Italic Writing and a course entitled "Amateur Ensemble Playing for Woodwinds" are scheduled.

The Calligraphy and Italic Writing course features Dr. June Baskin. Baskin will instruct in the introduction to and appreciation of historic and contemporary letter forms and their appropriate uses, practical instruction in Italic writing, hand writing improvement and general calligraphy.

This course will be held on Thursday evenings, September 21 to October 26. Classes will be held in Bakeless Center for the Humanities.

A unique course for music lovers who are interested in Woodwinds entitled "Amateur Ensemble Playing for Woodwinds" is scheduled to run for eight weeks, September 27 to November 15, from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. every Wednesday evening.

All participants are requested to bring a recorder, flute or oboe to review and/or learn new fingering. Players will participate in peer-level playing of simple to intermediate duets, and at the last session of the class trios and quartets will be formed for an optional last session recital. Instructor for the course is Dr. Eric W. Smithner.

Additional information on both of these courses may be obtained from the Office of Extended Programs, 389-3300.

WANTED! Homecoming candidate for the senior class. If you would like to nominate a senior class girl there will be a senior class meeting tonight at 7 p.m. in Multi-Purpose Room A in the Kehr Union. All seniors are welcome. Other issues will be discussed. Come bring ideas or questions you might have.

FUTURE BALLERINAS?...Dance classes featuring techniques of modern, jazz, ballet, creative fitness dance are being offered. Classes are held in Centennial Gym, number 13, from 3:30 - 5:00 daily.

There is an IMMEDIATE OPENING for a News Editor on the Campus Voice staff. Requirements include: experience on any type of publication; available 15 hours a week for Voice work; willingness to work.

Anyone interested should bring a resume to the Voice office top floor of the Kehr Union, today - 4:30 to 5:30; Thursday - 4:00 to 5:00 and Friday - 9 a.m. to 10 a.m. In case applicants are not available at one of those times, place resumes in Box 97 at the Information Desk in the Kehr Union.

Activities abroad

by MARY WELLS

For a college the size of BSC, there is a surprising amount of activity involving students from foreign countries.

First, there is the ever-growing list of foreign students who come to study on our campus. This fall we acquired three new students from Cameroon and one each from Israel, Japan and Peru.

Those returning or continuing here are from: Mexico, Sweden, Israel, Tanzania and Ghana, with two each from Iran and Cameroon.

Another category of students from abroad includes those who are planning to remain in this country and become United States citizens. Of such students new this fall, one is from Laos, one from Iceland and four from Vietnam. Among returning or continuing students in this classification are two each from the Dominican Republic, Puerto Rico and South Vietnam plus one each from India, Guatemala and Poland.

Some of our own students have studies abroad, most recently in France, Mexico, Spain, Argentina and Germany.

In August, Mr. Sylvester, a history prof at BSC, took a group of twenty BSC students to Russia for two weeks, enabling them to earn credit in history or political science in this way.

Last year a group of our student teachers went over to England to spend half a semester in American schools there and the other half in British schools. Five student teachers from Liverpool came here in the spring for their student teaching experience.

We will be reporting more specifically on some of these students, as well as faculty who have been involved in teaching or exploring foreign countries.

Meanwhile, if you are interested in meeting students from other countries, feel free to attend a meeting of the International Relations Club which meets at the Union every other Wednesday evening at nine. The next meeting is being held tonight.

Bloom fair goes country

by KATHERINE MURRAY

The coming of fall in Bloomsburg will be marked with the opening of the Bloomsburg Fair.

The fair, which will run from Monday, September 25 through Saturday, September 30, will include a preview concert + The Grand Ole Opry Spectacular on September 23. Performers at the concert will be Jim Ed Brown, Helen Cornelius, Dottie and Little Jimmy Dickens.

The first day of the fair will be Senior Citizen day. Anyone over the age of 65 will be admitted free of charge. That night's concert will feature Anita Bryant and Guy Lombardo's Royal Canadians.

On Tuesday afternoon any BSC student will be admitted at no cost by showing an ID card. Tuesday night's performers will be Mel Tillis and Jody Miller.

The concerts continue on Wednesday with the appearances of John Davidson and The Sunshine Express, a relatively new group.

BSC students will also be admitted free on Thursday afternoon. Kenny Rodgers will be Thursday night's concert attraction.

One of the highlights of Friday will be the demolition derby. Stars from Hee Haw such as Buck Owens, The Hager Brothers, Susan Ray and George Lindsay will provide the nighttime entertainment.

Saturday's activities will include a pony pulling contest at 10:00 A.M. and a log sawing contest at 11:00 A.M. The week will conclude with performances by Ann Murray and B.J. Thomas.

Another attraction to this year's fair will be the discount ticket prices for all rides on Tuesday and Thursday afternoon.

Peace Corps

Pa ranks fourth

According to figures recently released by the Peace Corps, Pennsylvania ranks number four among all 50 states and the District of Columbia in providing volunteers to the Peace Corps.

More than 2,300 of the Commonwealth's residents have served in the Peace Corps since the programs inception in 1961, with more than 300 presently serving in many of the 63 developing countries in Latin America, Africa, Asia and the Pacific which presently host Peace Corps volunteers. Last year, Penn State University, at State College, ranked number one in the country for the number of applications submitted from any campus, 220 for 1977 alone.

The average age of volunteers is now 27.6 years compared to the 24.5 years average in 1961, and 18 percent are 31 years or older, with 8 percent 61 years or more. Nearly three-quarters of all volunteers have a bachelor's or associate degree, 84 percent are single and 61 percent are male.

ACTION, the federal agency for volunteer service, of which the Peace Corps is a component, has nearly 14,000 volunteers serving in Pennsylvania itself, in VISTA (Volunteers in Service To America), FGP (Foster Grandparent Program), SCP (Senior Companion Program) and RSVP (Retired Senior Volunteer Program) programs around the state.

Persons interested in serving as volunteers in the Peace Corps, or in VISTA, helping to alleviate poverty conditions here at home, should call the recruiting office toll-free (from PA only) at 800-462-1589.

Movies

Pink Panther fans, rejoice!

by ROBERT A. McMULLIN

Peter Sellers returns as the famous Inspector Clouseau, in the "Revenge of the Pink Panther."

Only the bumbling, clumsy, incompetent Chief Inspector Clouseau could be found as a wandering transvestite investigating his own murder. There were 16 assassination attempts on Clouseau's life. Funny enough, two attempts were tried by the ex-chief inspector, who was committed to a mental institution in previous Pink Panther movies. In this movie the ex-chief, acted by Blake Edwards, is released from the hospital and has to investigate Clouseau's death.

Dyan Cannon is the sexy, Farrah - Fawcett type secretary for Douier. Her life is in jeopardy because Douier, the richest businessman in France, wants her life. She threatens to undercover the drug deal called "The French Connection." Meanwhile, Douier believes he eliminated the best detective in the world, only to have it shattered by the uniqueness of Chief Inspector Clouseau.

Balls Inc. supplies Clouseau's disguises. In turn, he gives Balls Inc. free advertising. My favorite line in the movie was "when duty calls, you got balls."

"The Revenge of The Pink Panther" is a must for all Pink Panther fans. Even if you missed a few Pink Panther movies, see "The Revenge of The Pink Panther," because of the humorous effects.

Red Raiders tame Huskies, 35-7

by MICHAEL INCITTI

The last time the Huskies brought a victory home from Shippensburg was 1960. For some reason Bloomsburg does not play well at Seth Grove Stadium. Saturday's game was no exception.

First quarter action saw BSC plagued with poor field position. After the ball changed hands three times, Shippensburg, constantly in Husky territory, put together a five-play scoring drive. It was capped off by quarterback Scott Knudson's two-yard plunge to pay dirt with 7:22 left in the first quarter. Bob Curly added the extra point to complete first quarter scoring.

The two teams exchanged punts three times, the Red Raiders resuming possession on their own 43-yard line. A mixture of passes, and a BSC penalty put Ship at the Huskie 10. A few plays later, premier runner Fred Glasgow took it over from the three, climaxing the ten-play fifty-seven yard drive.

BSC PENALTY AIDS RAIDERS

The BSC penalty that aided the Raiders drive brought the Huskies to life. During their next possession, Bloomsburg exhibited a powerful offense, or rather a powerful Mike Morucci. A thirty-one yard pass, a twenty-yard run, a seven-yard run, and finally a one-yard touchdown burst, all courtesy of Morucci, put BSC on the board. Randy Hafer added the extra point. With 12:31 left in the half, it was 14-7, Shippensburg.

Holding Ship on the next set of plays, the Huskies took over at mid-field. They promptly drove to the Red Raider seventeen. Morucci, running out of the I formation, broke to the outside on a dive play for twenty-seven yards.

Another run of two yards took the Huskies a step closer to the goal and a tie game, but their hopes were marred by the first turnover of the game. BSC quarterback Rick Kneisley's pass was intercepted at the goal line, and ran back to the fifteen by Shippensburg's Linwood Bradley.

On the first play from scrimmage Bloomsburg was hit over the head with an eighty-five yard touchdown as Knudson connected with tight end Todd Chronister on a play-action pass. The extra point was added and with 8:45 left in the half the score stood Shippensburg 21, Bloomsburg 7.

The Huskies, however, were not to be denied. They put together another drive highlighted by a twenty-seven yard pass from Kneisley to Ed Bugno which landed BSC at the Red Raider fifteen with a little under six minutes in the half. The ensuing play option, produced a fumble which was instantly recovered by Ship, a 2 second costly turnover.

With seven seconds on the clock, the Red Raiders unsuccessfully attempted a forty-two yard field goal. The score remained 21-7 at the half.

RAIDERS TAKE ADVANTAGE

Shippensburg opened the third quarter by sailing the kick out of the end zone. It seemed to be an omen of the quarters to come.

BSC hosts tournament

by CINDY PECK

Hampton Institute finished at the top in the fourth annual BSC Invitational Tennis Tournament, while the Husky men finished fourth with 8½ points.

Swarthmore tallied 15½ points, behind Hampton's 24, to nab second place, while Edinboro was close behind with an 11½ point third place.

Haverford, Lehigh, and West Chester each earned four points to tie for fifth place, and East Stroudsburg finished eighth with two points.

Hampton Institute ran away with all three singles titles. In the "A" singles, comprised of players in the top two positions on their teams, BSC's top man, Rob Vance, advanced to the semi-finals by defeating Lehigh's John Speer, 6-2, 6-1, and Bob Amdur, of Swarthmore, 6-4, 6-3. He then lost to the "A" winner, Hampton's Rodney Young, by a 6-3, 6-4 score.

Rick Willders, BSC's number 2 man, lost in the first round to Edinboro's Ron Ross, 6-1, 6-1, but came back in his consolation match to beat Haverford's Marty Litman, 6-4, 6-4.

In the "B" singles, which is for players in the third and fourth positions, BSC netter Ken Grove beat Doug Zlock, of Haverford, in his opening match, but lost to West Chester's Murray Liddick, 6-1, 6-4, in the second round.

Gary Golbitz was defeated in the opening round by Hampton's Joe Ragland, the eventual winner, 6-4, 6-4.

In the "C" singles, for numbers 5 and 6, freshman Craig Diehl defeated Jim Truska, of East Stroudsburg, 6-1, 6-0, and then fell to Swarthmore's Rod Dowdle, 7-6, 6-3. Diehl won in the consolations, 6-1, 6-2, over Dan Dalton, of Lehigh.

The final BSC entry in singles, Mark Raynes, lost 6-1, 6-3, to Lehigh's Kevin Kopp, and was victorious in consolations over Bill Brown, of Haverford, 6-1, 4-6, 6-4.

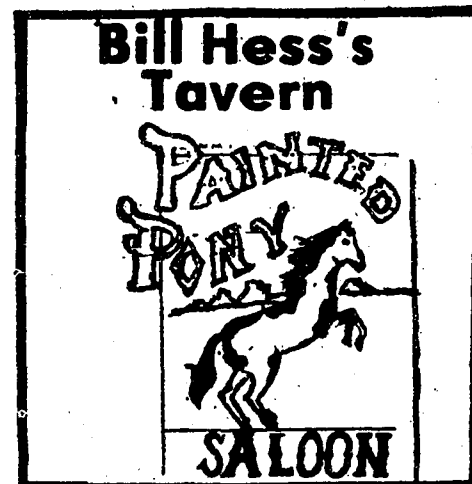

In "A" doubles competition, Vance-Willder tallied a 6-0, 6-3 first round win over East Stroudsburg's duo, and then won by default over Hampton. Vance-Willder lost in the finals to Swarthmore, 6-2, 4-6, 6-1.

Diehl-Grove fell 6-2, 7-6 in the first round of the "B" doubles to Edinboro, while in the "C" doubles, Golbitz-Raynes defeated a Haverford twosome 6-1, 6-0, before losing to Swarthmore 6-4, 6-2.

The Husky men traveled to Scranton Tuesday for their first dual tennis match of the season. They will be competing in the ECAC Tournament on Friday and Saturday at Ryder.

The women's tennis team opens the season with matches at Mansfield on Saturday and at Millersville on Monday.

Women's hockey wins matches

by DENISE RATH

The Bloomsburg field hockey team earned two victories last Thursday afternoon, defeating the women of Trenton State College 3-2 and 2-0. In the first game, the visiting Huskies rallied from a two-goal deficit, scoring each of their three goals in the final half.

Bloomsburg was not scheduled to play Trenton; the game was added as a preseason scrimmage. As with any scrimmage, Thursday's match was intended as a learning experience, both for players and coaches. In that respect, the day was a success and no one complained that the team came away from its lesson with two victories.

Head coach Jan Hutchinson cited some strengths and weaknesses that surfaced during the scrimmages. Bloomsburg's daily work on stickwork obviously showed dividends, as Hutchinson noted that any one of her players could out-manuever any Trenton players.

The Huskies possessed more endurance than Trenton. However, Bloomsburg's weak passing game was apparent when contrasted with Trenton State's exceptional one. A final optimistic note pointed out by the coach: BSC fought for a come-from-behind victory in the first game; such a never-say-die attitude will make them a team to be reckoned with.

On Thursday afternoon, September 21, the Huskies will host Indiana University of Pennsylvania for a scrimmage.

Soccer team suffers a tough loss

by PETER PRINZ

If scoring opportunities decided games, the BSC soccer team would have opened their season last Saturday with a decisive victory. Yet it was Shippensburg that came up with a 2-1 win at Redman stadium.

The Huskies, dominating most of the game with a total of 19 shots on goal to Shippensburg's 10, failed to cash in on two golden opportunities early in the game. Captain John Millhouse, with a 17 yard shot in the 13th minute, and forward

Jim Moyer, from four yards out four minutes later, both missed the goal by only inches. The "Red Raiders", on the other side, went ahead 1-0 on their first big chance in the 22nd minute.

The Huskies kept the pressure on during the rest of the first half. Regional all-american Jim Mailey alone had many scoring possibilities, but often held on to the ball too long. He finally scored three minutes before the half, on a pass from Moyer that the Shippensburg defense couldn't clear.

The second half was dominated by both defensive lines. The BSC fullbacks shot down the Shippensburg offense, but its own offense failed to brake the crowded defense of the opponent. "We played too much through the middle. We didn't take advantage of the open man," coach Dr. Louis Mingrone admitted later, as the Huskies seldom used their speedy wingers George Steele and Rick Monaco, who almost scored in the 47th minute with a shot against the upper pole, to open the Shippensburg defense.

In the 77th minute, the Huskies paid for their only defensive mistake in the second half. The Raiders' right winger took a pass in the BSC penalty box, marched through the defense without being attacked, and scored the winning shot for the guest team. "The inside fullbacks expected a pass," explained defender John Lockwood.

The game was marred by some particularly rough plays. Shippensburg was penalized for tripping a number of times, but only after several BSC players bit the dust as a result of the excessive physical action.

The bright spots in the Husky team were by far the hard fighting fullbacks Glenn Chestnut, Mark Fedele, and Lockwood, plus forwards Jim Moyer and Rick Monaco. Also a very promising hope for the future appeared to be Scott Trontman, a hussling freshman who was substituted into the midfield line.

Football team loses

BSC set up their own twenty, only to fumble the ball away on the second play. As they did throughout the game, the Red Raiders took advantage of the mistake and marched 13 yards for a touchdown. Fullback Tom Lees did the honors and Curly chalked up his fourth extra point to make the score 28-7.

Red Raider quarterback Knudson passed freely through the Husky zone, but BSC hung on when they had to, preventing any more third quarter scoring.

With 6:23 left in the game, reserve quarterback Bob Potts threw ten yards to Kevin Fields to finalize Shippensburg's scoring. The fifty-eight yard drive plus the extra point placed the score at 35-7.

Husky coach Ron Puhl replaced QB Kneisley with Gene Capanigro. He was welcomed by the Red Raider defense with two sacks for minus twenty-three yards. Ship took over and with less than 4:00 minutes on the clock Jerry Sullivan intercepted a pass and gave BSC one last offensive series.

Capanigro broke loose for fifteen yards; but aside from this, the Huskies did not move the ball which was finally intercepted. The Red Raiders let the clock run out leaving the score 35-7.

AWESOME SHIPPENSBURG AERIAL ATTACK

Although it hasn't been stressed throughout the above recap of the game, the Shippensburg aerial attack was awesome. The Red Raiders hooked up on 18 of 33 passes for 357 yards and two TD's. Ship spread their receivers all over the field and consequently split the Husky zone wide open.

BSC led in the rushing department with 126 total yards. This figure in itself is not that terrific, but the reason for it is the Huskies allowed only 111 yards on the ground.

A four-man group of terrorists led by defensive and Kurt Pettis consisting of Dave Ridenour, Doug Pfautz, and Dale Hockenberry constantly waged war with the Red Raider interior lineman, sometimes winning, sometimes losing.

Pettis also spearheaded a fine rush but his harrassment was not enough to stop Ship's aerial onslaught.

Morucci bulled his way for 112 yards on the ground to lead all runners. He was called upon to run quick-hitting plays but was often gang-tackled by a very fast Red Raider defense.

Key fumbles, interceptions and penalties, 7 of them worth 63 yards handcuffed BSC. Along with the Red Raider offense which totaled 468 yards, the Huskies were soundly defeated.

Coach Puhl comments: "The reasons for our loss are many and varied. Mainly we aren't playing together. We can't make mistakes the way we have been. We can't stand around, we have to make things happen."

The Huskies will pit their 0-2 record against Lock Haven State's Bald Eagles next Saturday at home.

CC loses opener

by DOUG TAYLOR

Our cross country team traveled to West Chester Saturday only to suffer their first defeat of the year, 25-33.

Steve Eachus, as he has done so many times in the past, broke the tape first with a time of 25:33. But, the one-two punch of Eachus and Mark Bond just wasn't enough to overcome West Chester's depth.

The Husky runners will try to get on the winning track Saturday, September 23, when they travel to Mansfield State for a 1:45 p.m. start.
