

Dollar deficit hits, Trustees discuss effects

Dollars, spending of and scarcity of, was a common theme at last week's quarterly Board of Trustees meeting.

The 1979-80 college fee schedule, and financial contribution to the towns purchase of an aerial lift fire truck, the job freeze and staff salaries, sparked discussions among board members.

In the rest of the 2½ hour meeting, the board appointed a committee to screen applicants for the student trustee position and appointed 12 full and part-time faculty members and granted a two-year leave of absence without pay.

BASIC FEES RISE

fee schedule, which raises the cost of living and attending classes at BSC.

Room rent for on-campus students will be increased in the coming year, with the approval of the board. McCormick justified this increase because the college buildings are not supported by tax dollars.

Double rooms will cost students $300 per semester and triple rooms will cost $275.

The newly adopted fee schedule lists basic fees for the coming year at $475 per semester. The college has no control over the basic fee, which is set by the state.

Tentative prices for meal tickets according to the schedule place the 20 meal plan at $228 per semester and the 15 plan at $214.50. These meal figures are to be confirmed after the cost of living index is available in April.

TRUCK FUND GROWS

The third $9,600 payment to the town for the purchase of a fire truck was authorized by the board, totaling the contribution to $28,000. The town is holding this money in an account until the funds are needed. The town and the Community Government Association (CGA) are also contributing to the fund.

The state froze hiring at state institutions earlier this year, but BSC managers were able to thaw the freeze for seven

Noise results in arrest

By MICHELLE SARGENT

Lee Jacobs, president of Delta Omega Chi fraternity, was arrested Monday morning, March 12, on charges of unnecessary noise, said Sergeant Albert Battisti of the Bloomsburg Police Department.

Jacobs was arrested as a representative for the whole frat according to Battisti.

Battisti was called to the DOC house, located on Main Street, at 12:15 a.m. March 9, with a complaint of excessive noise and vulgar language.

Battisti approached the house and asked to speak to Jacobs whereupon he was told Jacobs was unavailable. Battisti then asked to speak to someone who lives in the house. Jim Grimes responded to the officer's request.

Battisti asked Grimes to come across the street into the police car to discuss the complaints. Battisti informed Grimes that neighbors had complained of the "blockbuster party." He advised Grimes to have the party cleared out in half an hour. Grimes was cooperative and assured the officer the party would be stopped.

Forty-five minutes later, another complaint was registered so Battisti sent an unmarked car around to the back of the house. The officers reported the noise to be "excessive."

Battisti approached the house again and asked for Grimes. Grimes was informed by Battisti that he would be arrested as a representative for the house. Grimes protested and told Battisti he didn't live in the house, thereby falsifying a police report.

Battisti informed Grimes to tell Jacobs he would be arrested for the house.

Battisti said he was "very disgusted at the lack of cooperation" from the fraternity.

The police department also related that they had been called to the house on the two previous weekends and gave the fraternity warnings.

A lawyer is not always necessary

By MIKE MIXELL

The District Court, (Justice of the Peace) is the place to go if you have a legal claim of less than $2000 against a business or individual. In Pennsylvania, a person can sue in this small claims court without a lawyer for a minimal fee.

A suit of less than $300, $20 for a suit between $301 - $500, and a cost of $25 for suits between $501 - $2000. The cost of a landlord tenant suit is also $25. These costs can be recovered if you win the suit.

The procedure for making a complaint is as follows: Go down to the District Magistrate's office (Don Holter in Bloomsburg), fill out a written complaint containing your name and address, the name and address of the person that you are suing, the amount of the suit including all extra expenses and a short statement explaining reason for suing.

After the complaint is filled out it is sent by registered mail or delivered by the sheriff to the person being sued. Within 20 to 90 days of the complaint a hearing is scheduled.

Freshman responses polled

Last fall, 1244 matriculating Bloomsburg State College freshmen (this number does not include first year transfer students) responded to a national voluntary questionnaire compiled by the American Council on Education and The University of California at Los Angeles.

The questionnaire is part of an ongoing research program to foster a better understanding of how students are affected by their college experiences.

BSC is the first higher ed. choice of 80% of the freshman class.

All individual responses were held in confidence. A sampling of summary, or overall results, will be presented within this article. BSC freshmen, for the large part, fell within national norms with regard to question response. That is, as a whole, they tended to answer questionnaire items the same way as other freshmen across the country.

Several items on which deviation from the national norm have reached or exceeded five percentage points will be noted. It should be mentioned that not all students responded to all questionnaire items; many omitted one or more.

Here is a profile of Bloomsburg State College freshmen responses. Percentage figures have been rounded to the nearest whole number.

Most BSC freshmen last September had graduated from high school in 1978 (96 percent), and 82 percent were 18 years old at that time (as compared to the national norm of 77 percent). Ninety-seven percent of the freshmen class are white (as compared to the national norm of 85 percent); two percent are black (11 percent is the national norm) and the remaining one percent are distributed among American Indian, Oriental and Mexican-American populations.

GRADES AND MONEY

The average high school grade attained by the freshman was "B" (31 percent), and 48 percent fell within the top quarter of their class. Seventy-one percent come from homes where estimated parental income falls between $10,000 and $30,000; 75 percent receive financial assistance worth $600 or more from their parents (national norm is 68 percent receiving that much assistance).

Most fathers of first year students are professionals (31 percent business persons, 7 percent educators, 6 percent engineers) or skilled and semi-skilled workers (19 percent). Approximately one-third of freshman mothers are full-time homemakers (32 percent); 12 percent are involved in clerical work and 9 percent are unemployed. Forty-six percent of all parents are Roman Catholic (national norm is 34 percent).

Bloomsburg State College is the first higher educational choice of 80 percent of the freshman class and the second choice of 17 percent. Fifty-nine percent indicate that BSC has a good academic reputation as a very important reason in selecting this college, along with its low tuition (23 percent) and the fact it offers "special education programs" (27 percent).

Reasons noted as very important in deciding to go to college include "get a better job" (81 percent), "make more money" (58 percent) and "meet new and interesting people" (70 percent).

Ballet enacts magical flight

by JEAN KRAUS

The Ohio Ballet, an artistic company of florant dancers, will perform at Haas Center on Thursday, April 5 at 8:15 p.m.

Heinz Poll, artistic director of Ohio Ballet, has choreographed many beautiful compositions of which the ballet company will perform just a few selections.

Concerto Grosso, a selection divided into three movements of diversified music by Ernest Bloch, is one of these pieces to be performed by the ballet.

Also included in the program is Summer Night, a piece underplayed with music by Frederic Chopin, scenes from Childhood and On and Off Day, a long performance that presents dancers in various aspects of a day such as "Strolling Along", "Throwing Pebbles" and "Breezy Afternoon." "Going Home", the last section of On and Off Day, is performed by the entire company.

Tickets to the Ohio Ballet are available free to faculty and students at the Information Desk of the Union. Other reserved seats cost $4.00.

Class promotes student sensuality

by TODD MOYER

An excerpt from a spring semester course states the following, "To become sensual, become aware of your inner self through music and dance."

Although the course description is not that of General Biology or English Composition I, it is a description of the course offered in belly dancing. Through the School of Extended Programs, other classes offered are Auto Mechanics for the Novice, Science for Families, How to Play the Game of "GO" and The Care and Maintenance of Houseplants.

Each fall and spring semester the School of Extended

Programs offers several non-credit courses. Classes are usually instructed by a faculty member of BSC or a person who has an equal amount of knowledge in the specific area.

The course fee is dependent upon the type of course being offered. Classes meet for five consecutive weeks and are held primarily at night.

Course ideas are received by administering a questionnaire to the local community. After collecting the interests and suggestions, a 10 member committee selects which subjects will be offered as a course. The committee consists of doctors, a local attorney,

Members urge alumni return

BSC now has an organization in its infant stage and it is growing quickly. It's the Undergraduate Alumni Association (UAA), under the advisement of Donald A. Watts, executive director of BSC's Alumni Association.

Its purpose is to gain valuable insights from the alumni's knowledge and experience. In essence, the members wish to tap the alumni's resources.

Specifically, the organization plans to bring BSC graduates to campus to have them share with our students meaningful knowledge in areas related to the job market and career development.

The UAA wants also to aid the Alumni Office, increase the number of internships available to students and keep the alumni informed of UAA activities with a newsletter.

These are just a few of the many advantages that our organization has to offer you. Its full potential has not yet been realized. That is why we need responsible students to work with our alumni.

The UAA invites you to attend their meetings. If anyone is interested in joining, contact James Harlan at 2520-3621 in the CGA Office on the top floor of the Union.

Graduation slated for fairgrounds

After much discussion as to the pros and cons of four different graduation proposals, the decision was made to have one graduation at the fair grounds, but, weather permitting, each individual's name will be read and he will then stand and be recognized.

If the weather is bad the class will sit in the grandstand and be recognized as a whole. More seniors indicated they wanted one graduation rather than three separate graduations. The fairgrounds have more parking facilities than the campus and there will be no limitations on invited guests.

In spite of the problems the administration found with graduation at the fairgrounds they took the seniors wishes into consideration. Many thanks to the faculty and administration.

But, this proposal is under consideration for next year and the junior class should be thinking about it now. CLASS DUES ARE NOW $9.00. AFTER MARCH 30 THEY WILL BE RAISED TO $11.00. THE FINAL DEADLINE WILL BE APRIL 20. DUES MAY BE PAYABLE TO "THE CLASS OF '79." THEY MAY BE PAID AT THE INFORMATION DESK.

People die, as does film

by ROBERT McMULLIN

How often in Spring are we able to see timely releases about Halloween movies?

Spring 1979, the public is very fortunate to view a new low budget movie "Halloween". After a quick inspection of lead performers, I was unable to recognize any stars, except the Jack-O-Lantern on the left hand side of the screen.

From the beginning to the end of the flick, intense tension is encountered. After twenty minutes, the normal viewer becomes weary of the ever slow, careful and delicate panning technique of the camera. Many times, you are looking through the eyes of the crazy murderer who escaped from a psycho-jail ward.

The plot boils down to three days, Oct. 31, 1963, Oct. 30, 1978 and Halloween, 1978. What happened in 1963 is compared to the contemporary ideas of 1978. Basically, the film involves teenagers having a good time partying. Suddenly, something goes wrong. I believe the plot and graphic detail scenes were developed around a Hustler magazine.

Within the movie, the soundtrack builds around the high dramatic tension. Elton John could've made the piano theme in his nightmares.

Unfortunately, the drama builds to a saturation point; never does a viewer become relieved. Consequently, the ending with everlasting murders, returns to be killed over and over again.

Education, Dr. Mary Lou John, director.

They have announced that the program was established through a grant that was given to Bloomsburg State College from the Toyota Corporation.

Dr. Patrick Carone, president of the Pennsylvania Consortium for International Education accepted the check for $86,946 from Isao Makino who is president of the Toyota 20th Anniversary Celebration Fund and president of Toyota Motor Sales, USA Inc.

Eighteen non-profit organizations received a grant which totals $1,002,875, for a closer relationship between the United States and Japan.

The grants were presented at the Japan House, New York City, in November. During that time, it was Toyota's 20th anniversary in the American auto market and the company's growth to number one importer of motor vehicles.

Member institutions of the Pennsylvania Consortium will use the award to include Japan in their international studies and exchange programs. It will provide a program to be used by all 12 Pennsylvania colleges in the consortium, involving symposiums and workshops.

This will develop Japanese cultural and business awareness programs, and establish a mutual exchange program with Japanese colleges.

Bloomsburg State College is showing their appreciation of the award by promoting Japanese Awareness Week

Coordinators of the workshops are: Professor Hitoshi Sato, BSC Speech and Theatre department; Professor

Barbara Stohman, BSC Art department; Mrs. Gene Murphy, chairperson of BSC Women's Club, International Interest Group; Dr. Ralph Smiley, BSC History department and Mass Communication; Dr. Joseph Vaughan, BSC Biology department; Ms. Susan Hibbs BSC Health, Physical Education and Athletics department; Ms. Margie Schaeffer, BSC Health, Physical Education and Athletics department; Dr. Michael Lynn and Professor Charles Chapman, BSC Department of Business Administration; and Professor Roger Sanders, BSC Department of Health, Physical Education, and Athletics.

What if Christ returned today?

A THIEF IN THE NIGHT is a motion picture about Bible prophecy. It shows what can happen when Jesus Christ returns. This story centers around Patty, an average girl caught up in living for the present, with little concern about the future and what happens when this thinking finally catches up with her.

The fast moving pace includes a young man confronted by a deadly Asian cobra, a young girl's daring escape from jail and a take-over by "The Imperium" that regards all, who are properly identified, as enemies of the system.

Filmed on location in Iowa, this picture portrays the Biblical prediction, "There will be no place to hide."

A THIEF IN THE NIGHT was given the "Best Film of the Year" award by the National Evangelical Film Foundation of Valley Forge, Pennsylvania. The lead actress, Miss Patty Dunning, was given the "Outstanding Female Actress" award at the same time.

The film has been produced by MARK IV PICTURES, INCORPORATED, of Des Moines, Iowa.

The film will be shown on March 25 and 26 at 8:30 p.m. in Carver Hall. All are invited to attend the free presentation.

and nutritional meals can be prepared from whole, unprocessed foods.

Dr. Edward Kryzkwa, a nutritionally-oriented physician from Montandem, will speak on April 6.

The cost for the entire workshop is $3 per person. Registration is preferred before the workshop, by phoning 387-0436 or 784-2351.

Macauley named as dean

Dr. Howard K. Macauley, professor of Educational Studies and Services at BSC has been named dean of the School of Professional Studies. The appointment was announced at the March 14th college Board of Trustees meeting.

Macauley replaces Dr. C. Stuart Edwards, who is retiring after 21 years at the college. Selected by a search and screen committee, he is not a stranger to the position, having served as acting dean during the 1977-78 school year, when Dr. Edwards was on sabbatical leave.

A native of Philadelphia, Macauley received his elementary and secondary education in the schools of Reading. He received his Bachelor of Arts degree in English and Social Studies at Bucknell University, a Master of Arts degree in Journalistic Studies at Sanford University and a Master of Education degree in secondary education at Temple University. His Doctor of Philosophy degree in Education was awarded by the University of Pennsylvania in 1972.

He joined the faculty of Bloomsburg State College September, 1967, as an associate professor of education. In 1973 he received a promotion to the rank of professor.

From 1957 to 1960 he was a teacher of English and social studies at the junior high level in the Pennsbury schools, Bucks County and served for the next three years as assistant principal for guidance counseling. He served for two years in the United States Army counter intelligence corps, Berlin, Germany, with the rank of lieutenant and completed three years in the United States Army security agency, reserve, as battalion adjutant with the rank of captain.

He has served on several committees at BSC, including the Presidential Long-range Planning Commission, the Academic Affairs committee of the School of Professional Studies, the NCATE and Middle States evaluation committees, the APSCUF legislative committee and the committee on faculty research grants. He has been co-author of several books, articles and monographs and has served as a consultant to the Shamokin School District. He has also been active in Little League and Boy Scout activities.

Macauley and his wife, Marion, reside at 2810 Old Berwick Road, Bloomsburg. They have three children; Deborah, David and Douglas.

Four non-instructional retirements were announced at the meeting, including one security officer. Kevin O'Conner, board member, questioned the effect of these freezes on BSC's health and security standards.

SALARIES QUESTIONED
Before appointing the new faculty members, board members questioned the varying salaries listed for each member. In a fast paced round of questions, McCormick confirmed that instructors could be paid more than deans and vice presidents, only if their summer workload is heavy.

STUDENT SEARCH LAUNCHED
The search for a student board member was prompted by Jeff Hunsicker, who will graduate in May. Joseph Nespoli was appointed representative to the student search and screen committee.

FACULTY APPOINTED
Faculty members appointed were Gaspare Chiarelli, Julia T. Collins, Nancy L. Gilgannon, Aquila B. Kiani, Beverly V. Romberger, and Peggy M. Jewkes. Part-time faculty appointed were Nancy W. Hoffman, Marion B. Petrillo, Judith A. Pointer, Lucille S. Rosholt, Diana L. Veith.

Dr. Joseph Vaughan was granted a two-year leave of absence without pay.

Stealing a phone call isn't a game.

Most students play by the rules when placing a long distance call. They take advantage of bargain rates and make their calls during the discount periods. If you're not sure when you can call at discount rates, check your phone book.

A few students think it's O.K. to break the rules by stealing their telephone calls. They're not beating the system, they're taking advantage of all of us, because it drives up the cost of providing telephone service.

Students who break the rules also run the risk of paying a large fine. Spending time in jail. And getting themselves a permanent police record.

It's just not worth it!

Lawyer - not always necessary

At the hearing each side has the opportunity to state their views. It is advised to bring along any cancelled checks, witnesses, or papers to prove the story. The plaintiff is permitted to ask the defendant questions but he will also be permitted to question the plaintiff.

After both sides have spoken and the District Justice has cleared up any questions the case is closed. The justice may make his decision immediately or may reserve decision. In any event he must give a decision within five days.

If the plaintiff wins the suit the defendant has 20 days to appeal to the Court of Common Pleas. If the defendant does not appeal and refuses to pay the District Justice will issue a writ of execution. This entails having the sheriff try to collect the rest. The sheriff is allowed to set aside the defendant's property to pay the debt. The amount of the debt includes any extra expenses incurred by you. The expense of using the sheriff can be included in the damages.

RECOVERY OF SECURITY DEPOSITS

The most common use of the District Justice Court for college students is the recovery of security deposits. After moving out of an apartment the tenant is entitled to be refunded the deposit or to be provided with an itemized list of damages and the amount deducted within 30 days of departure if the tenant notifies the landlord in writing of their forwarding address. It is absolutely essential to notify the landlord in writing of the tenants new address.

If the tenant does not put the landlord on written notice and the landlord fails to act within 30 days the tenant can sue for double their security deposit in District Court. The landlord is also prohibited from deducting any money for damages if they fail to respond within 30 days.

Softball team prepares for opener

by DENISE RATH

"We certainly have the potential for a very good season," stated coach Jan Hutchinson concerning the outlook for the 1979 BSC softball team.

STARTED IN JANUARY

Workouts began back in January and a final squad was determined before spring break. With a large number of returning players, the confidence that comes with experience will be a definite plus for this year's team. Also, Hutchinson noted that the increase in the size of her pitching staff will be another positive factor.

DEFENSE AN ASSET

The team has been concentrating on hitting and its speed - two areas that Hutchinson felt needed the most work. In her opinion, the squad's strongest asset is its defense.

The season opener will be a double-header with the University of Scranton on April 6. The schedule for this season has been extended to include Wilkes College and Millersville State College (a double-header). In addition, Hutchinson hopes to pick up a contest with West Point.

The 1979 BSC softball team includes seniors Donna Santa Maria, outfield; Sandy Serafin, outfield; and Janie Yurosits, second base, shortstop. Yurosits sat out last season with a knee injury.

These juniors have been selected to the squad: Carolyn Bartoni, shortstop; Karen Caswell, first base; Sally Houser, first base; Jodi Goldberg, pitcher; Ann Lambert, infield; Jeanette Mitroka, outfield; and Roberta Spezialetti, third base.

First-year members are: Deb Chuhinka, pitcher, shortstop; Kathy Connelly, pitcher; Chrissie Kazel, catcher; Sue Kelly, pitcher; Joan Mahoney, outfield; Suzi Moyer, outfield; and Rita Washburn, outfield.

Assisting Hutchinson will be Nina Strausser and Maureen Mulligan. Lisa Mangioni will serve as team manager.

Richards, Dardaris All-American swimmers

by CINDY PECK

Men's swim team captain Wayne Richards and his teammate Pete Dardaris brought honor to BSC last week by receiving All-American honors at the NCAA Division II National Championships at Northern Michigan University in Marquette. Richards placed third in the 200 yd. butterfly, while Dardaris placed ninth in the consolation finals.

Richards was seeded in the fastest heat of preliminaries, along with PA state conference champion Don Walker, of Clarion. With his new BSC record time of 1:55.10, Richards took second in his heat to advance and be seeded fourth in the finals. Walker just made it into consolation finals.

"The final race was just superb; it brought the house down," commented coach McLaughlin.

Richards led throughout the race with the exception of the last stroke, where he was touched out by two other swimmers. Dan Dittus of Oakland University placed first with a time of 1:54.83, while South Dakota State's Bradley Reynolds took second with a time of 1:55.03, which is a new team record.

Richards has become the first BSC swimmer ever to win All-American honors four years in a row.

"Words cannot express my personal feelings for Wayne," said McLaughlin. "He has exemplified dedication, hard work, and was such an inspiration for others to do well."

McLaughlin also emphasized that Richards will be strongly missed and very difficult to replace, not because of his outstanding swimming ability, but because of his support of McLaughlin's philosophy as a coach.

In the 200 yd. backstroke, Dardaris placed second in his heat in the trials with an outstanding time of 1:58.92 to advance to consolation finals, where he placed ninth. In producing his time, Dardaris became the first BSC swimmer to break the 2-minute barrier in the backstroke.

McLaughlin stated, "Pete swam a smart race and he worked hard to achieve not only his time, but also to gain All-American honors."

Other Huskies competing in nationals were John Krick, Randy Spence, and Steve Price, who teamed with Dardaris in the 400yd. medley relay. Although their time of 3:36.94 was their season best, it was not strong enough to qualify for finals. Price and Dardaris also competed in the 100 yd. backstroke.

BSC placed 23rd out of 42 teams by amassing 16 points. Considering that his was a rebuilding year, this was "just outstanding," according to McLaughlin.

Association, will release rankings on March 27, April 11, April 25 and May 10.

Ice hockey team loses in semi-finals

by MARK JESTEN

The Bloomsburg State ice hockey team ended its 1978-79 season last Tuesday, March 13, losing in the semi-final round of the Northeastern Pennsylvania Amateur Hockey League playoffs.

TEAM'S THIRD YEAR

The team, only in its third year of organized competition, and first in the NEPAHL, ended its season with a 11-10-1 record. The icemen reached the semi-finals before losing to last year's defending champions, the East Mountain Nordmen, in a three-game playoff series.

HYATT CAPTAIN

The team is headed by seniors Kevin Hyatt, captain, Ken Curcio, goalie, Mark Jesten and Brian Loudy. The men competed against such teams as Scranton University, Wilkes College, Kings College, East Stroudsburg State College and others.

HOPES FOR NEXT YEAR

Team coach and advisor, Carl Beamer, expressed high hopes for next year as the squad has several returning underclassmen, including Jerry Valletta, Michael Grady, Mike Polkowski and Dean Bertsch. Other members of the 15-man squad included Dave Kirwin, Bob Umpenhauer, Chip Harpold, Gary Mammele, Mike Ziemak and Tim Koehler.

INTERESTED?

Anyone interested in playing ice hockey for BSC next year should contact any of the returning team members or Coach Beamer by early next fall.

LeCesa hurls ten strike-outs in scrimmage

by JIM QUINN

The Bloomsburg baseball team lost a twelve-inning scrimmage with Susquehanna University on Sunday, 10-5. Coach Boler, however, was pleased — the scrimmage gave Boler a good look at his squad. He used 29 players in the game, each man getting at least four innings of work.

Scott Richards, Brad Moharter and Jack LaCesa split the mound duties for BSC. LaCesa led the Husky hurlers with ten strike-outs. Errors and walks plagued BSC, as 11 Susquehanna batters walked and four reached base on errors.

Bloomsburg's batters managed nine hits off of two different Susquehanna pitchers. Seniors Brent Bankus and Ken Miller led the Huskies with two hits a piece.

Susquehanna will host the Huskies again on Thursday. BSC will then play a home scrimmage on Saturday against Luzerne County Community College. The site of this "home" scrimmage will probably be the Central Columbia High School field. The Danny Litwiler field at Nelson fieldhouse is in poor condition.

Bloomsburg's official home opener will be on March 29 against Penn State.
