

CGA may fund Family Planning

by MARIA KAHLER

Discussion pending the allocation of $4500 to Columbia-Montour Family Planning took up the bulk of CGA's bi-weekly meeting held on Monday, April 2.

Council also debated the issue of spending $600 for the town visitation day.

Monies used for resume duplicating, car rentals for the wrestling team and Computer Shanner Forms for the Student-Faculty Evaluation were among those items passed by CGA.

Although Family Planning is funded through the federal government, that money is used for minorities and females under 18. They receive no money for college students. Since some 603 out of 900 of their patients are college students, a question arose as to how Family Planning is using the money given to them by CGA. After a motion to pass the issue was defeated, it was agreed that it will be brought up at the next meeting.

"The best way to enhance good relations between the towns people and the students is through a dance, stated Dr. Mulka, director of student activities when discussing the spending of $600 for various activities for the town visitation day. He felt that CGA would probably not spend the entire $600 allocated for the events, and feels that a dance would provide a nice environment to communicate.

Several council members argued that too much money was being spent for visitation day. However, it was brought up that at an earlier meeting that the suggestion for the visitation day came from the students with the understanding that the town would be our guest. With a majority vote of 23-13, the motion was passed.

Mr. Richard Wenner, democratic candidate for county commission addressed the college council. Wenner, a native of Columbia county returned here 7 years ago, and urged all to vote on May 15.

The election committee reported that CAS, ARS (Association of Resident Students), and class officer elections will be held together on April 23-24. Submissions are due on April 18.

It was also reported that there is a new award for outstanding teacher abilities. All students and faculty are urged to participate and get involved. Recommendations should be given to Dr. Mitchell, vice-president of student affairs, at Ben Franklin Building.

Frank Lorah explained that all those interested in making copies of their resume's are invited to do so every Wednesday, in Waller Administration Building. Resume's will be accepted no later than 4:30 p.m. on Wednesday's, and can be picked up on Thursday's provided you supply your own paper.

CGA's next meeting will be held on April 23 when plans for discussing the budget are in order.

Campus bank to be investigated

Student dissatisfaction with the banking services provided by the campus branch of the Bloomsburg Bank - Columbia Trust Company, was one of the topics of discussion at a recent meeting of CGA's College Council.

As of the discussion, CGA has created an ad-hoc Branch Bank Committee to research student opinion on the banking operation.

The ad hoc Committee will record specific student complaints about the levels of service, charges, and minimum account regulations at the campus bank.

Chairing this committee will be Neville Mercer, a CGA Commuter representative.

He stated, "Many of my friends and constituents have indicated that one of their major concerns is the branch bank and its increasingly restricted services. Some have said that Bloomsburg Bank - Columbia Trust only seems interested in offering the minimum of service at the maximum price."

"If student consumers feel this way about the college-enfranchised facility, it seems that not only CGA should be investigating, but that the student life should wake from its slumbers and respond to student demands for satisfaction. We should be conducting a full-scaled inquiry. I think the results would show a general concern about the bank's attitude."

Mercer stressed that these opinions were his own, and not necessarily those of other committee members.

Any student interested in either joining the committee or voicing their opinions are asked to contact Neville Mercer at box 116 Kehr Union, or by calling the CGA office at 389-3621.

The Campus Voice will be cooperating with the ad hoc committee, and hopes to print a questionnaire in an upcoming issue which the committee will be tabulating.

CGA awards undergraduates

For the second year, the awards committee of the Community Government Association is awarding three undergraduate Service Certificates, to the outstanding freshman, sophomore and junior, based on academics, participation in student activities, leadership ability, responsibility and initiative.

All underclassmen are eligible for this award. They must be nominated by an advisor, professor, coach, fellow student or one's self.

Nominations should be written in letter form telling why the nominee is a good choice for the award. Nominations should be submitted at the Kehr Union Information Desk, no later than Wednesday, April 18, 1979.

Winners of the award are chosen by the awards committee and will be presented at the Spring Awards convocation on April 29, 1979.

Award encourages inspired teaching

A new faculty program has been announced by academic affairs designed to acknowledge and encourage faculty-inspired teaching initiatives that are designed to increase student learning, enhance the learning process in some way, or enhance student attitudes toward learning.

Students and faculty can submit nomination statements for candidates who will be presented a $200 Teaching Initiatives Program award and certificate of merit.

According to James V. Mitchell, vice president for academic affairs, any and all teaching initiatives will be considered.

The deadline for receipt of nominations is May 1, 1979. Nominations should be submitted to the office of the vice president for academic affairs with copies to the appropriate department chairperson and dean.

Applications are now being accepted for the position of Executive Editor and Business Manager of the Campus Voice for the 1979-80 academic year.

Applications should be submitted to the present Executive Editor of the Voice by Wednesday, April 18, 1979.

There will be a complete staff meeting of the Campus Voice on Wed., April 18th. Editors are asked to be there at 7:30 p.m. and the staff at 8:00 p.m. Everyone is urged to attend, because the election of next year's executive editor will take place.

Check the proposed budget

Wouldn't you just love to spend $453,980: A little on sports, some more on newspapers and radio stations and whatever is left over on vehicles.

The Community Government Association is about to approve a budget which will allocate exactly $453,980 for those things, as well as recreation, music, artists and lectures and many organizations.

The way the CGA divided up the money this year may stir concern since many groups did not receive any raise in funds and many more had funds cut.

The finance committee, who prepared the budget, explained that the college has limited student numbers, a change from the steadily growing admissions of the past few years. The Community Activities Fee from each student is a large source of funds for the budget and a limit on the number of students puts a limit on the available dollars for divying up.

Presented for your interest is the PROPOSED 1979-80 CGA BUDGET. It will be voted on for approval at the Monday, April 26 CGA council meeting. We suggest you take any questions about the figures to the CGA representatives or finance committee members before that meeting. The CGA phone number is listed in the directory.

AND HERE THEY ARE: the new little sisters of TKE fraternity of BSC. They are presently pledging - that well-known time of initiation. (Photo by Tom Shields)

by JEAN KRAUS

Tau Kappa Epsilon (TKE) has done it! They've gone co-ed! They have adopted seventeen girls to become their "little sisters" within their bond of brotherhood. They have given them the privilege of becoming the first "little sisters of TKE."

These seventeen girls are now preparing themselves to become a special order of girls who will be ready to work in cooperation with the TKE chapter.

A special two-week pledge program has been organized to help the girls become familiar with their future brothers. This pledge program, initiated March 25, includes various unusual activities in which all members of TKE could participate.

In the past week, the girls had cocktails with their big brothers, tucked five of the TKE brothers in bed, roller-skated to all hours of the morning after partying at the "Junction" and wore hats to signify to everyone just who they are.

But pledging is not all fun and games. The girls must obtain signatures from all 75 TKE brothers, learn the Greek alphabet and pass a national test to become a "Little Sister of TKE."

SELECTING THE GIRLS

The group of girls now pledging were selected from 32 girls who rushed TKE. Only this minimum amount of girls were selected, because TKE wanted to start out small so as to make a strong organization to build upon in the future.

All girls were judged upon interest, enthusiasm and willingness to promote TKE.

The girls selected include: Cathy Bair, Barb Burgert, Mari Conway, Cyndee Cohen, Debi Gaul, Kathy Hughes, Carol Kallmeyer, Patti Knight, Cindy Mihalow, Cindy Mirra, Donna Muro, Lynne Peters, Tracy Rust, Wendi Schuck, Cindy Sieger, Marty Tryba and Cheryl Zachary.

Preston Hay, committee chairman for the little sisters feels the program is a success.

Fulfill your musical desires

by MARY WRIGHT

The sound of music is gaining quality and volume in Bloomsburg, due largely to the vision and determination of Dr. John Master, Associate Professor of Music at Bloomsburg State College.

Its most recent manifestation is the establishment last Fall, through the Office of Extended Programs, of a Preparatory Program in Music, initiated by Dr. Master and coordinated by Mr. Ralph Wolfgang.

The instructional program is comparable to that of Susquehanna University. It includes private lessons in voice, beginning guitar, and all the individual band and orchestra instruments; but whereas Susquehanna University draws its instructors from its senior music students under direction from the faculty, Dr. Master points out that the BSC program employs only teachers who are "all qualified experts in the particular specialty they teach."

The program commenced in September with four students and has already increased to 28. Students range in age from children to mid-20's, and there are no limits.

Dr. Master emphasizes that the lessons are meant "to supplement and not to replace the typical class lesson offered in the public schools."

Uncaring behavior

TO THE EDITOR

I do not quite know how to begin this letter because the incident which triggered it has no provable relationship to the areas of my concern. If nothing else, the incident has aroused me enough to cause me to express my concerns. First, the incident.

On a recent Saturday morning (1:30 a.m.), my daughters were driving out of Bloomsburg via Lightstreet Road. Adjacent to the Nursing Department and Science Hall, they and other motorists were forced to stop by five or six college-age males whose intent appeared to be to stop traffic. They were running around in the roadway and, in one case, lying in it. As my daughters were allowed to pass, obscenities were shouted at them and the car received two sharp blows. The girls were frightened but were able to continue homeward. Examination showed that the car suffered a dent in one side (complete with sneaker print) and had paint chipped out on the other. The repair estimate is over $100.

It is difficult to express the anger I feel as a result of this mindless, irresponsible, but willful, behavior. Perhaps I should feel fortunate. I have been a member of the BSC community for over twenty years and have never before experienced anything like this. One of our visiting student teachers from England has not been so lucky. During her short visit, she has had money stolen and has been rudely awakened to the sound and feel of glass falling on her as an object crashed through her residence hall window.

The damage to property on and off campus, the invasion of the rights of others, the physical abuse of individuals, the utter disregard for anyone or anything except certain persons' own "animal house" pleasures — these are my concerns. They aren't just mine; they are the concerns of many people who have spoken to me since the car accident occurred.

I believe that the abusive behaviors have increased over the past few years and that there are definite reasons for those increases. In that regard, I will only say that it is my opinion that there are certain "social" trends at BSC which are detrimental to the well-being of the institution and its students. Even when the institution suffers, it seems to me that the students are the ultimate losers. This leads me to the real reason for writing this letter. I'll speak directly.

I think that all of you who are not behaving as I have described should become concerned about what is happening. I'll go a step further - I think you must become a part of the solution, for your own good. Students who are acting out in various ways are having a disastrous effect on the rest of you. You are being labeled because of their behavior. Their efforts are working against public and legislative support for state college appropriations or financial aid programs. And why should people join you in fighting tuition increases when they feel that students are knocking colleges and communities apart? To be fair, some students are. Citizens feel, correctly so, that there are not enough goods and services to go around in today's world much

BSC bands play the hits

by JULIE STAMETS

The annual joint spring concert of the Concert and Studio bands of the BSC Department of Music will be held on Sunday afternoon, April 8 at 2:30 p.m. in Haas Center for the Arts.

The Studio Band, a 20-piece jazz band under the direction of Stephen Wallace, will lead off the program with recent pop hits and also older ones such as "The Big Bands Are Back," and "Early Autumn," that will feature Mark Robbins and Jim Pino as soloists on alto and tenor saxophones, respectively.

"What a Difference A Day Made" will feature baritone Lee Mueller as the vocalist. The more contemporary selections will include "Send In The Clowns," a medley from "Star Wars," and the "Evergreen" theme from "A Star is Born."

The Concert band, a 60-piece wind and percussion ensemble under the direction of Stephen Wallace and Nelson Miller, will perform a wide variety of selections, including marches, beguines and more contemporary numbers.

"The Gallant Seventh"

march and "Parade of the Tall Ships" will lead off the Concert Band. Other selections include a medley from the hit Broadway show "Annie," to be directed by Wallace.

Nelson Miller will take over with "Autumn Beguine" and "Flute Royale," featuring Janet Keyser as flute soloist. Selections from "Rocky," "Barry Manilow in Concert," and "Lyric Dance," will bring the Concert Band up to the finale, "Broadway Spectacular."

Admission to the concert is free, so come and usher in Spring with the Concert and Studio Bands.

MASTER PROFILE

From the time he came to Bloomsburg in 1972 Dr. Master has been promoting musical quality and performance within the College and the Community. He came well equipped to do so. He has a doctorate in music from Combs College of Music in Philadelphia, having previously taken a Master's in Music at West Virginia University.

In the sixties he was for some time director of the Norwalk Youth Symphony in Connecticut, a group he describes as being "PARTICULARLY FINE." During his years in Philadelphia he was director of that city's All-City Junior Orchestra.

He is himself an accomplished violinist with a musical family. His wife Catherine, plays and teaches piano, their daughter Gretchen plays violin, and their daughter Cathie Jo is a cellist.

Seven years ago he started offering public performances at BSC with a group of four performers, giving Sunday afternoon recitals: himself, his wife, and Hester and Suzanne Huffnagel. Subsequently his two daughters joined them. During this time he was working on developing a College Community orchestra.

In 1975 came the first full-fledged orchestra concert which has since been an annual late-Fall event with a concert for area schools in the Spring. From some 35 members it has grown this year to seventy.

FORMING THE PROGRAM

The Preparatory Program is also Dr. Master's conception.

The reputation of BSC is being adversely affected and that affects you, too, where recruiters and employers are concerned, as well as legislators, community members and others. Very importantly, your own feelings are concerned. A piece of you will always be tied to BSC, so that when it soars, you will feel proud, and when it falters you won't. I could go on.

What can you do about all of this? I am not sure, but I feel certain that awareness, concern and indignation on your part are necessary before any real progress can be made. To be sure, groups other than students have roles they must assume, and it is my intent to urge their cooperation as well.

Sincerely,

John S. Scrimgeour

An Easter message

TO THE EDITOR:
AN EASTER MESSAGE
TO

THE COMMUNITY

As spring's earthy freshness and greenness intoxicates the sun-purified atmosphere, we prepare to celebrate the feast of Easter. Many will, no doubt, go to Florida or to some other sun-drenched subtropical resort to spend a few happy days in the sun and surf. However, how many will truly consider the real meaning of Easter?

There would be no Easter without One Man, the Lord Jesus Christ! Easter is the feast of His glorious resurrection from the dead; it is the feast of Faith and of Hope. It is this great feast, the Christian Passover, (I Cor. 5: 7) which animates those who believe in Christ with such great assurance and confidence to go forth and to proclaim the Good News of Salvation.

The Resurrection of Jesus Christ is the Hope of Glory for mankind. (Eph. 1: 18-20) Jesus shows us that human life is not nasty, naughty, barbaric and terribly short, but that it is intended for the bright promise of future immortality to those who are willing to believe in

Him as Savior and Lord God. (Jn. 5: 24) Jesus said to the Apostles, "Because I live, ye shall live also." (Jn. 14: 19)

Yes, to live with Jesus for all eternity! Is there not a more beautiful goal than this: To behold forever and to commune with the Living God? Yet so many refuse to accept His invitation.

So many are shackled to their sinful nature. That man is wicked by nature is a truth made terribly manifest throughout History. But God has provided hope for us through His Word, Jesus Christ, who is perfect God and perfect man.

Christ died on the Cross willingly to take away the sins, phobias, neuroses and various "hang-ups" of the human race; (I Pet. 3: 18) His Blood was the laver of regeneration (I Pet. 1: 18-19), which proved the love of God for finite man; but the story does not end here!

No, for the Power of God raised Jesus from the grave on the third day so that He who gave His life to free man from evil, might be the Source of Life (Rm. 6: 8-11) to all who would accept and receive God's claims on man through Jesus Christ. (II Cor. 5:15)

Yes, Christ triumphed over nature to reclaim mankind for the Supernatural, for the enduring eternal. (Gal. 1: 4) He gives to us the gift of eternal life which He won for us; not strictly for the future, but even now we can live as new creations (II Cor. 5: 17) if we will allow the Spirit of the Risen Christ to dwell in our hearts.

Indeed, Jesus is the Resurrection and the Life; (Jn. 11:25-26) He has altered irrevocably the process of human history. The aggressive vitality of the Christian Faith through 2,000 years can only be the result of a deep-abiding conviction that its Leader lives!

Christ has gone to prepare a place for those who love Him; He will return with the clouds, and all shall behold the Risen, glorified Christ coming to establish openly the Kingdom of God! (Rev. 1: 7)

The question I leave you with, is this: Will you face Him as friend, or as judge? He lived, died and rose again for your justification, or acquittal from sin; (Rm. 4: 25) but you must either accept or refuse His gift. Hear the words of the Risen Jesus, "Choose ye the good, that ye may live!" (Deut. 30: 19)

Sincerest greetings
in the Risen Christ,
Hildebrand Christians

Concerning the current nuclear radiation at Three Mile Island, what is your opinion now of the use of nuclear power?

compiled by Mark Wark

Bob Graham - "It's sad when 'Big Buck' companies have more power in deciding our fate, than we ourselves do. I feel no sympathy for organizations who believe in something that can do no better than destroy our hopes of leading a healthy, clean life."

"With our technology, we sure as hell ought to be able to do better than this. The sun's out there just waiting to be fully harnessed, and it's clean. It's been keeping us alive for a long time. Why don't we use it to our benefit? Because it's impractical economically! When someone puts a mangy dollar before people's lives, that's sad."

Joe Surdoval - "I feel the same as before the incident. The American people have been misled about the safety of 'nukes.' The technology for making them safe has not kept pace with the technology for building them. Their proponents must keep revising their estimates of what radiation level is safe, after people exposed to the old 'safe' level, get cancer. This incident is only the last of many near-catastrophes. The severity, however, predated it from being covered up. Even the original governmental regularity agency helped to conceal accidents from the public. It is going to take a tremendous amount of public outcry to force wind-fall corporate profits to take a back seat to public safety."

Laura MacMurray - "My opinion of nuclear power has always been negative. If the power plants are as safe as the NRC says they are then why are they, as power sources for major cities (highly populated cities) located in isolated areas such as Three Mile Island and the Berwick area? I believe we have other, much safer sources of energy that should be taken advantage of, such as solar energy. I don't believe that the building and completion of nuclear plants should be pursued further."

Hilary Brown - "Nuclear power is a good form of energy, but it involves some dangerous risks. There are other forms of energy available to us that don't involve such risks. I'm against nuclear power because I don't think we need it. If we had learned how to use what we had more efficiently, nuclear power wouldn't be where it is today."

Furnished Apartments, downtown Bloomsburg, 2 blocks from college. Please form your own groups of 7, 6 and 3. Landlord pays heat and garbage collection. Call 752-2373 after 2 p.m.

John Burke - "After the incident in Harrisburg, I think that all nuclear power plants should be closed down. The threat of fission poisoning is too great and I don't plan on dying sooner than need be. It's also going to cost the government too much to clean up Three Mile Island or scrap it."

think they've helped the brothers become a little closer to each other."

The other brothers of TKE feel the same way.

"It's really different," says Chris Betterly who has a little sister this semester, "I can talk to my little sister like she is my sister. I buy her flowers and such. It's great."

Cindy Mirra, who had doubts about becoming a little sister, is really enjoying herself. "I'm having a great time. We kidnapped some of the brothers the other night and it was a riot."

The girls will become full-fledged sisters on April 5. Once they become little sisters of TKE they can participate in float building, fundraisers, service projects, help with rush parties, attend banquets and date parties, share in fraternity life and will always be welcome at the TKE house.

Any girl on campus can become a little sister including girls in sororities or any other organizations. The only requirements for becoming a little sister are a 2.0 cumulative average and 12 credits.

Pledging for next semester has not yet been determined but a future pledge class is inevitable!

Admissions holds mini orientation

The Admissions Office and the Center for Academic Development will be sponsoring a mini orientation for prospective freshman on April 19 and 20.

The objectives of this orientation will be to: reacquaint or acquaint students with campus faculty, staff and facilities; to follow up on financial aid or admissions applications; to provide students with group dynamics experience; to expose students to dormitory living; to expose students to BSC student leaders and activities; and to expose students to classroom experience - lectures, note taking and class discussions.

CGA to hold faculty evaluations

April 23 marks the week of Faculty Evaluations. CGA's Student Faculty Evaluation Committee will have two different ways of conducting the Evaluations this year.

After asking all faculty members to cooperate in a controlled evaluation which is administered in the classrooms during regularly scheduled times, only 50 percent of the members agreed to participate. So, the committee is conducting an uncontrolled, out of the class version of the evaluation. The uncontrolled evaluation will be administered to any student wishing to evaluate any faculty member not participating in the controlled version. The names of all non-participating faculty members will be posted at the polling sites.

Off-campus students may evaluate professors across from the Info Desk in KUB. On campus students polls are located in C-D lobby in the Scranton Commons.

The committee has revised the evaluating process. This year they will be using the computer for more efficient and accurate results.

Here is the questionnaire that will be administered:

Answers

- A - Strongly Agree
- B - Somewhat Agree
- C - Neutral
- D - Somewhat Disagree
- E - Strongly Disagree

1. I learned a lot from the professor in this course.
2. This professor is a tough grader.
3. The professor graded me fairly.
4. The professor adequately covered the material on which I was tested.
5. My interest was generated by the professor's presentation of course materials.
6. The professor is willing to help students.
7. The readings were very useful in this course.
8. I would recommend the professor teaching this course to another student.

Commuters to elect officers

The Commuters Association of BSC will hold elections of officers for next year on Monday, April 9.

The offices which will be voted on are: male and female president, male and female vice-president, secretary, treasurer, newsletter writer editor, and publicity chairperson.

The elections will be held at the Commuter luncheon on April 9, and at the Information Desk.

The Commuter luncheon is open to all BSC commuters and will be held from 11 p.m. to 2 p.m. in the multi-purpose room of the Kehr Union. The cost is only .50 with a coupon found in the COMMUTERCATE, the commuter newsletter.

The menu for the luncheon includes: Macaroni salad, relish tray, baked beans, ham barbeque, fried chicken, au gratin potatoes, assorted desserts and fruit punch.

A commuter at BSC is a student who is either living with a parent or spouse. Any questions concerning the commuter activities should be directed to John Trathen, assistant director of student activities, in the Kehr Union.

ONE OF THE MANY ACTIVITIES sponsored by the Program Board is Siblings Weekend. This year Siblings Weekend will be held on May 5 and 6. Here a BSC student's sibling enjoys one of the many events held for the youngsters on Sibling Weekend.

Seniors — Last call for senior picture proof returns will be April 10, from 11:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. in the Coffeehouse, top floor Kehr Union.

He first began campaigning for it seven years ago, but his first attempt was turned down by College authorities. He tried again five years ago. The answer was still a firm no.

Dr. Master does not give in easily. Two years ago he tried again and this time, as he puts it, "the climate was better." The College - Community Orchestra was established and successful and he feels this helped in influencing the College authorities. He negotiated first with Dean Drake and then with Dean Wolfe of the School of Extended Programs.

"It has been an uphill battle," said Dr. Master. "Many times I felt like Don Quixote tilting at windmills."

But his perseverance won. Early last year he received College approval and a grant for three weeks' work during the summer to get the program organized. "It took the whole summer," he said, "but I didn't mind that. It was worth the time."

Organizing the program included building up a reservoir of available teachers within a fairly long radius of Bloomsburg. All are music teachers of proven experience and ability. All come to the college to do the teaching, unless other arrangements are made to the mutual satisfaction of student and teacher.

Dr. Master spent many hours during the summer talking with band directors and music teachers at area schools. Many of his staff of teachers are drawn from these and are also members of the orchestra.

To get the program well established in the surrounding communities he needs cooperation from all the school music departments however, and communicating this isn't always easy. He feels that some of the people with whom he spoke are misdirected, insecure, and feel vaguely threatened by it.

"It will take some gentle persuasion to overcome their insecurity and make them realize that they can only benefit from it," he said.

He is also sensitive to the fears of private music teachers in the area and the need to erase these fears and help them understand that the program can help, not hurt.

Mr. Todd Hunter, who lives in Ashland and is band director at Minersville High School is one of the instructors in the program. His ability and versatility at this is apparent with my own family. He teaches one child flute, one oboe, and the third percussion. In the orchestra he plays trombone.

He can and does teach all band instruments and has a wide knowledge and appreciation of music. His feeling for it is evident in his teaching.

Currently there is a tuition fee of $5 per lesson and funding is something of a problem. The program was evaluated last year by the State Arts Council.

But Dr. Master has some reservations about state funding which, he says, "would turn the program around and make it free to the public." He is not totally against this, but handling applications would be difficult.

Priority would be based according to talent, which creates problems. "Ability to pay must be taken into consideration," he said. "If judgments have to be made they will have to be made intelligently."

Dr. Master has some long-range visions of what will grow from this beginning. He plans to start music ensembles as soon as students in the program have acquired sufficient skill.

Since a music major has now been established at the College he hopes the program will help discover talented people to take into this course. This is what Dr. Master calls his "selfish view."

In addition he feels strongly that the College has a responsibility to the Community to help it grow in all areas that it can, and in his area that means expanding its musical horizons. He feels that the attitude to music is somewhat inverted through lack of exposure, and that perspectives need changing. He hopes this program may accomplish some of that.

Carruthers: an inch away from the Olympics

by FRAN BOLGER

Jeff Carruthers is on the track team. Not a particularly earth-shattering revelation on the surface, lots of people are on the track team. What makes Carruthers newsworthy?

Well, it just so happens that Carruthers can jump higher than anyone around. When you're a high jumper on the BSC track team and can do that, you become newsworthy.

Carruthers holds both the indoor and outdoor high jump records at Bloomsburg State (7' and 7'1" respectively). He has been an All-American pick the last two years and if he can clear 7'2" (the qualifying height) he may be making a trip to the Olympic trials.

A senior accounting major originally from Newtown Square, PA., he participated in Cross Country, indoor and outdoor Track, and Ice Hockey while attending Marple Newtown High School.

A high school standout, the decision to matriculate at Bloomsburg came after Carruthers was recruited by Ron Puhl and Phil Krause and a visit to the campus. "I picked Bloomsburg because I liked the campus and it has a good business program", stated the affable two-time co-captain.

Carruthers receives almost no specialized coaching. He cited that Coach Hinkle does a good job with facilities at hand but there is really no one available for extra help.

ALSO A RESIDENT ADVISOR

While track is a large part of Carruthers life, he still finds time to work as a Resident Advisor and is also an active member of Tau Kappa Epsilon.

Carruthers has been an R.A. for the past two years and enjoys his job. "You meet a lot more people in the dorms than off-campus", he commented. He enjoyed the atmosphere at Montour better last year (to say nothing of the scenery) when it was co-ed, but still finds his wing interesting.

As a senior Carruthers is wrapped up in the "I - gotta - find - a job" syndrome. He hopes to find gainful employment in the accounting field in the Philadelphia area.

He also wants to pursue his track career with one of the clubs in the Philadelphia area, perhaps with the Pacers or Pioneers.

"Barring injury, we have a good chance at the conference title", answered Carruthers when asked what he forsees for the season.

With the season underway, Carruthers can be seen at Nelson Fieldhouse "Fosbury Flopping" his way to fame and fortune.

Jeff Carruthers
HOLDS BSC RECORDS

Golfers tee-off

"This year's BSC golf team should be stronger than last year's because of the addition of several low handicap golfers, along with minimum losses due to graduation," stated head golf coach Robert Reeder.

The team compiled a 6-5 record last season and finished eighth at the conference championships.

Last year's team medalist, junior Dave Cichan, leads a group of veterans which includes team captain Allen Ruffner, and James Dalton. Both men are seniors.

Among the newcomers expected to play a significant role in the golf team's fortunes are junior John Labosky, and freshmen Eric McKee, Joe Roeder, Dave Ogden and Kevin

"It is anticipated that the strongest competition in the Penn Conference East will come from East Stroudsburg State College and Shippensburg State," speculated Reeder.

However, Bloomsburg should be ready for them, having practiced at Myrtle Beach, South Carolina, over spring break.

The men's first match, scheduled for Monday against King's College was rained out. See Wednesday's edition for details about yesterday's match against Mansfield.

All home matches are being shot at Frosty Valley Country Club in Danville.

Men display depth; place 5th at invitational

by CINDY PECK

The men's track team made an impressive showing at the Fourth Annual Towson State Invitational track and field meet Saturday when they placed fifth out of 21 teams.

The competition on Saturday was tough, as new records were established in 14 of the 21 events. Bloomsburg captured the fifth spot with a total of 52 points.

In the 3,000 meter steeplechase, BSC's Mark Bond placed third with a time of 9:43.5. Ray Distasio placed fifth in the shot put with a distance of 45'3", while Chris Haser followed right behind in sixth place with a 44'11½" throw.

BSC placed fifth in the 400 meter relay with a time of 43.6; relay members were: Robert MacIntosh, Jim Mailey, Greg Speas, and Jerry Werkheiser. MacIntosh scored the Huskies' only first place finish with his 23'¾" distance in the long jump. Werkheiser placed fourth with a jump of 22'¾". MacIntosh and Mailey tied for seventh in the 100 meter dash with identical times of 10.6.

In the 800 meter run, Carter White placed third with a time of 1:55.2. "I was really pleased with his performance," said Coach Hinkle on White's run. Another trackman that Hinkle is particularly pleased with is sophomore Rich Loman, who placed fifth in the 400 meter intermediate hurdles with a time of 55.5. "His times have been superb so far," stated Hinkle.

The Huskies had two place winners in the high jump. Jeff Carruthers jumped 6'10" to place second, while freshman Mike Wenrick took fifth place with a jump of 6'6".

MacIntosh added more points to the Huskies' score with his fourth place finish in the 200 meter dash; he was clocked at 21.7. Tom Groff finished third in the 1500 meter run with a time of 3:58.8. Mike Nelson, White, Carruthers, and Loman teamed up in the mile relay to place sixth with a time of 3:23.7.

"I was happy with our ability to score with some of the teams there that established new records," said Hinkle.

"I was especially happy with MacIntosh's performance, as well as Groff's. Groff's 3:58.8 in the 1500 meter is comparable to a 4:16 mile," Hinkle pointed out. "That quality of running is certainly a reflection of his potential."

The team is progressively improving, according to Hinkle. He mentioned that he is looking ahead to the meet at Lehigh tomorrow, when he will be taking the whole team.

"The fellows did a super job at Towson," concluded Hinkle. "But the younger people really have to work twice as hard at this point. I'm looking for our younger people to come around in the next few meets."

WOMEN OPEN SEASON

The women's team traveled to Indiana Saturday to compete against Indiana, Slippery Rock, and Clarion, where BSC placed last.

"The competition was overwhelming," stated Hinkle. "The athletes were a little bit ahead of us. It made our girls aware of what they'll be facing."

Doing an impressive job for BSC were Helene Yench, who threw the discus over 100', Marie Hoffner, who threw 90' in the javelin, and Colleen Tomlinson, who ran a 5:26 in the 1500 meter run. All three are freshmen.
