

Bookstore robbers sentenced

If you get arrested...

by ANDREA HOHOLICK

According to John Trathen, acting vice-president for Administration, and Richard Neuffer, chief of safety and security, procedure at BSC is divided into three separate areas.

The first is under normal circumstances, and prior to the beginning of the formal arrest procedure. Every attempt is made to contact at least two of the following individuals; special advisor to the president, vice-president for Student Life, vice-president for Administration or the president of CGA. The reason for this procedure, according to Neuffer is "to keep people informed."

Also, in maintaining the safety and security of the college, in instances where immediate safety of property or personnel is in jeopardy, the security officer has the right to make an immediate arrest, if necessary. In this case, the following three summary offense citations shall be used: criminal mischief, disorderly conduct and defiant trespasser.

To clarify these, Neuffer added, security writes up the citation, and sends it to the magistrate. The magistrate then determines the fine.

Usually, the magistrate incites fines of $51-300 for disorderly conduct, and anything up to $500 for criminal mischief, such as damage to a dorm room.

Trathen then added that technically, at a state institution like BSC, no one under 21 is allowed to have alcohol, but each situation tends to be a little different. Basically, RA's are concerned with noise. Most students involved in alcohol related arrests are caught because of disorderly conduct.

Both men agreed, however, that considering the amount of students concentrated on campus there is no real problem with students' abuse of alcohol, or other crimes.

The third area of the arrest policy deals with the bookstore arrest policy. In the case of shop lifting, for example, immediate action is taken, and persons involved are sent downtown.

Overall, Neuffer said that security officers are equivalent to the police officers in town, and handle most crimes on campus.

Last year the College Store was robbed three times, each by the same people, but only two of the robberies were resolved. The incidents involved two known males who were former Bloomsburg State College students.

The men entered through the east side of the store facing Ben Franklin. They crawled over a fence and broke a window that allowed access into the building.

The first robbery took place on or about July 17. The merchandise that was taken was worth $468.90. Only $81.00 of that amount was recovered.

The second robbery was on Oct. 12 and the missing merchandise was worth $607.57 with only $56.00 of that recovered. The total amount of the stolen merchandise was $1076.47.

One of the men received two counts of burglary, a $750.00 fine, 7 to 23 months in Columbia County Jail, a restitution of $538.67 and he will have a permanent record.

The other man received one count of burglary, a fine of $500.00, two to three months in jail, a restitution of $220.00, and he will also have a police record.

The merchandise they took from the store included jewelry, clothes, 24 tape cassettes, wrist watches, pen and pencil sets, etc.

The men were sentenced about two weeks ago and they are currently in Columbia County Jail.

Two students Intern in at Capital

This Fall two students from BSC are getting a firsthand look at what work in the State's Capitol is really like. They are interns in the Life Experience Internship Program, earning a full semester's worth of credit plus a weekly stipend.

Meeting and having their picture taken with the Governor, as shown above, is only one of the many advantages of being an intern. They are earning valuable work experience which will help them obtain a job after graduation, they are developing professional maturity, and getting to meet important and exciting individuals.

The two students interning are Ed Madalis, a senior majoring in Political Science interning with the Department of Education and James Nash, a senior majoring in Business Administration Accounting interning with the Department of Health.

The students designated as "interns" are placed in responsible training positions in

Musical groups will perform Sunday

by ROBERTA CLEMENS

The halls of Haas Auditorium will become alive with the sounds of music on Sunday afternoon when the Women's Choral Ensemble and the Husky Singers will join together in a concert featuring contemporary and formal music.

The concert, which will begin at 2:30 p.m. is free to the public.

The Women's Choral Ensemble is under the direction of Dr. Richard Stanislaw. For their first half of the concert the group will perform such contemporary pieces as: "Blowin in the Wind," by Bob Dylan; "Look Up America," the Coca Cola theme song, words and music by Bill Backer, Billy Davis and Rod McBrien; "It's a Musical World," by Leslie Bricusse and Anthony Newley, arranged by John Coates Jr. and the new "CBS Overture," arranged by Dick Behrke.

On the more formal side, for the second half of their performance, the fifty-voice all-female group will perform: "Messe Basse," by Gabriel Faure; "Three Sacred Songs for the Night," by Houston (continued on page six);

BSC women's needs probed

by DIANE LANGLEY

"We at Bloomsburg State College need to deal more aggressively with issues facing women students," stated Joanne Day, assistant director of the Career Development and Placement Center.

On November 1, 1979, student survey's were sent to a random sample of 800 women. Up to date, only a few hundred surveys have been returned. On these surveys were questions dealing with each possible facet of a woman's involvement in college life.

"As the enrollment of women increases, meaningful support services and programs must be offered to assist them in coping with academic, career, and personal lifestyle planning," said Ms. Day.

It all started with a small group of women called W.I.N., (Women's interests Now). Their first objective was to organize a survey to be sent to other educational institutions.

The questions the survey dealt with were to find out what student organizations and services the school had that were directed at or for women.

With the completion of this data, the W.I.N. group then prepared a survey for the women students and faculty of BSC. When this information is collected, the group can then prepare to organize service that BSC can utilize to fulfill the needs of its women population.

C.G.A. and other various organizations have agreed to fund W.I.N. and their activities.

If the surveys show a need for additional women's services, a new women's center will be opened.

"One of our purposes is to make it more comfortable for women to leave the college environment and enter the career world," stated Miss Linda Zyla, Dean of Schuylkill and member of W.I.N.

Possible counselors of the center are the staff members from the counseling center and also volunteer workers.

As of yet, no office on campus has been chosen for the center.

If anyone is interested in helping to organize a women's center, your ideas would be appreciated. Contact Joanne Day - Career and Development Placement Center.

The assault of a BSC coed this past week prompts the following reminder from the Office of Student Life. Women students are advised to refrain from walking alone in the evening hours when going from their residences to other places on campus or in the community. We encourage women students to walk in pairs or groups. We cannot stress strongly enough that students heed this advice. Our staff and security force will continue to do everything possible to make the campus and surrounding areas secure so that such incidents will not reoccur; however, each student must also do their part. If you have suggestions as to how we can assist in this area, please contact Dr. Jerrold Griffis, the vice president for Student Life, Ben Franklin, Room 11 or Extension 3811.

Unmentionable subject

It is, by now, common knowledge that a sexual assault occurred last week and that the victim was a BSC co-ed. However, the way the matter was handled by the college came as a surprise to me and other media.

Sunday night, the Voice received a phone call from the Morning Press, asking if any statements or notices had been sent to the females on campus. Much to the surprise of both newspapers, it was found that only the articles in both papers were available for information.

So where has the college been? Recently I received a statement from Dr. Jerrold Griffis of Student Life on the college's stand on this touchy subject. The date of the statement, which appears on page one, is Monday, November 12 — over a week after the incident.

What about a release from security? When I called them, they referred me elsewhere, stating they knew nothing of the matter and that it was not up to them to notify the female dormitories.

Well, since the only information available at the time came from either the Morning Press or the Campus Voice, I thought I'd inquire as to preventive measures taken by the college.

Robert G. Davenport, from the Counseling Center, said that from time to time the center holds presentations on the subject. Information pamphlets and victim counseling is also available. Although there are no particular plans for this semester, Davenport felt the center will probably hold a presentation on rape next semester.

CAS is also working on the matter. By next semester, the organization plans to prepare a rape prevention program. In the dorms, it was noted by Jennie Carpenter, dean of Lycoming, that informal gatherings with the students are occasionally held to inform the females of current incidents and ways of preventing this violent and demeaning crime. However, Carpenter agrees with the Voice that the college should have prepared a statement shortly after the incident of last week.

So, there you have it. No one will know of assaults apparently until the newspapers in the community go to work on articles. Although several avenues are open to explain rape prevention, the shocking fact of rape cases is usually held until deadline time.

From now on, I urge the females of this campus to proceed with caution and use their common sense. DO NOT walk alone at night and, above all, avoid placing yourself in a position of victimization.

Although it appears common sense may be the best bet, many student proceed unthinkingly until an event jars them into a logical frame of mind. Since no notices are given except in newspapers, it is advisable for students to keep their common sense attuned constantly. Remember, no one will warn you.

76's take over NBA

by JEFF NIETZ

On Nov. 10, the BSC Association of Resident Deans chartered a bus for students to the Philadelphia 76ers vs. Boston Celtics National Basketball Association game.

Winning a hard-fought contest 95-94, Philadelphia took over sole possession of first place in the Atlantic Division of the Eastern Conference of the NBA. The win was significant for the Sixers, in that they lost a game the night before, allowing Boston to move into the top position. Sports experts feel this game was a preview of what is to come at playoff time.

THE "DOCTOR"

Philadelphia's offense was a virtual one-man show. Julius "Doctor J" Erving led the scoring with 37 points. Combining outside jump shots with spectacular driving layups, Erving scored his highest total of the year.

Philadelphia's defense was led by Daryl Dawkins and Caldwell Jones. Both controlled the defensive boards so well that Boston was allowed only seven offensive rebounds in the entire game.

Donkey ball thanks

TO THE EDITOR,

On behalf of the Newman Student Association I would like to thank all those involved in our fundraiser, The Donkey Basketball Game played Saturday, Nov. 10 in Centennial Gym. Thanks to all the professors and WHLM personnel who made up the teams.

Also, thanks to the athletic department for allowing us the use of Centennial Gym, and to the maintenance department for their cooperation.

Thanks to all who supported us by buying a ticket and attending; giving a donation; or praying that this would be a success. A special thanks to all NSA members who helped: especially Brian McCafferty for coordinating the game; Dean Norton, our advisor for the help in the administration; and Barb Shaloka and her crew for publicity.

We only made around $100, but we learned that God really does take care of us, and that everyone had an enjoyable time in a friendly atmosphere.

Sincerely in Christ,
Michael A. Goc, president

Not enough folk music?

by CHERYL PETERSON

Are you interested in folk music and feel you don't get enough of it at the Coffeehouses?

Carole Boughter, a recent BSC graduate, has solved your problems.

Boughter, the organizational director of the Coffeehouses, has now organized a music co-operative.

The first music co-op in the Bloomsburg area began with Boughter having spontaneous conversations with friends and acquaintances.

She received a lot of positive feedback, so she organized monthly folk concerts. The concerts take place in peoples homes, where the combination of the informal setting and the intimate nature of the music make for a rare evening of song and music.

Each person who participates in the co-op pays five dollars at each performance.

The next music co-op featuring Margaret MacArthur is Nov. 17 at the home of Ron and Carol Bebbler, Main St. in Lightstreet. The music begins at 7:30 p.m.

MacArthur played at BSC two years ago at the Folk Music Jamboree.

She plays the breadboard harp and the mountain dulcimer.

MacArthur also sings.

On Sunday, Dec. 9, the music co-op features Alice Gerrare and the Harmony Sisters. (Time and place have yet to be announced.)

If you are interested in attending one of the co-ops or would like more information write to Carole Boughter, Music Co-op Box 88, Bloomsburg, Pa. 17815, or call 377-0899 or 784-8181.

RUSSIA RESEARCHING NEUTRON WEAPONS

Russia is stepping up its research spending in search of ways to counter the effect of neutron weapons, U.S. intelligence sources have said.

President Carter approved the manufacture and stockpiling of key elements of neutron warheads last year but has withheld permission to assemble and deploy the weapons.

The intended purpose of neutron warheads, according to U.S. planners, is to halt a massive soviet tank attack in Central Europe. The Russians enjoy an estimated three - to - one advantage in armor over Western armies there.

Intelligence sources, who asked not to be named, said the Soviet Academy of Sciences has allotted increased funds for research on the effects of neutron emissions on humans and for a study of possible methods to neutralize such effects.

The Russians said to have assigned additional scientists to the task and to have built special labs to accommodate the broadened research effort.

There was no indication whether the Russians might be trying to develop their own neutron weapons.

Leonid Brezhnev, first secretary of the Soviet communist party, has said Russia will not make neutron weapons if the United States refrains from doing so. But Carter has called the Brezhnev offer meaningless because the Soviets are not threatened by tank attack from the West.

The White House has said Carter ordered stockpiling of neutron warhead elements to cut down on possible delays to produce finished weapons and send them to Western Europe.

The warheads would be placed on Lance missiles and fashioned into eight-inch artillery shells.

The neutron warhead is designed to halt attacking Soviet tanks by sickening and killing their crews with shafts of intense radiation.

The warhead would differ from older tactical nuclear warheads by limiting the area in which humans and buildings would be destroyed by blast and heat from the nuclear explosion.

PRINCESS GRACE TURNS 50

Princess Grace of Monaco turned 50 last Monday. Of the occasion, she was quoted as telling friends in Monte Carlo, "What can I say to those who ask except that I am 50 years old, but my heart is still 15." It is 25 years since Grace Kelly, of Philadelphia, won an Academy Award and 23 years since she traded her Hollywood throne for a marriage to Prince Rainier.

CARTER BANS IRANIAN OIL

On Iranian situation, President carter has decided that no more oil shall be imported and that all students here from Iran illegally should and will be deported.

The oil stoppage is an apparent attempt at economic pressure, though many feel it is more symbolic and it will raise the prices of oil products produced in the U.S.

The amount of oil imported stands at 700,000 barrels a day between 3-4 percent of our usage. The actual cost to consumers is expected to be minimal.

As it stands, the sixty or so Americans that are being held hostage seem to be in good physical health, although, there are many cases of mental fatigue.

Moslem rebels defeated Soviet backed Afghan troops and seized all the important areas of a large province of Afghanistan in three days of intensive fighting.

The Urdu language newspaper said 1,600 men died in the clashes in Badakhshan province in northeast Afghanistan which borders China, Pakistan and the Soviet Union.

Moslem rebels reportedly explosives to their chests and flung themselves on Soviet made tanks, destroying 22 vehicles. The newspaper said two bridages of Afghan army and a colonel surrendered to the guerillas and later twelve Soviet advisers found among the troops were shot to death.

Six American congresswomen visited the Cambodian capitol and received assurances from the pro-Vietnamese government. They stated that they would allow more supplies to be flown into the country to alleviate famine and disease.

Representative Elizabeth Holtzman, leader of the delegation, said foreign minister Hun Sen agreed to allow relief flights to the city at a greater rate than the present one-a-day.

SENIOR CITIZENS CAN KEEP THERMOSTATS AT 70 DEGREES

The U.S. Department of Energy now permits "facilities that are specifically designed for use by senior citizens" to keep their temperatures at 70 degrees, the Pennsylvania Department of Aging announced.

This nationwide exemption from the 65-degree settings which are the rule in all other non-residential buildings, was granted by the federal agency after the state department of aging issued a news release urging all older persons in the state to keep their thermostats at the higher setting.

The department cited the dangers of accidental hypothermia, a potentially fatal condition for one out of 10 older persons.

"It is a step that may very well have saved some lives this winter," said Gorham L. Black, Jr., secretary of the department of aging. "I am very happy that the energy department, in taking this action, has recognized the needs of older persons throughout the country."

Black noted that the 70-degree setting applies only to those facilities recognized as being solely for senior citizens and only during the period of time they are so used.

HAGER PROPOSES ABOLISHMENT OF PA STATE DEPT.

Senate Minority Leader Henry Hager has proposed legislation to abolish the Pennsylvania Department of State. Its functions would be reassigned to agencies with corresponding responsibilities, except for the Profit Occupation Affairs and the Election Bureaus, which would become independent agencies.

Hager said the move would eliminate several ranking positions, saving $500,000 a year.

Celebrate the Harvest!

As this year's bounty has been gathered, Americans are reminded of the feast shared by the Pilgrims and Indians in the early 1600's. But today our attention is also drawn across the sea to suffering Cambodians.

The campus ministries at BSC are sponsoring a Harvest Celebration to rejoice in the bounty.

A bonfire along with hot apple cider will warm the celebraters as songs and circle-dances keep them moving. A special appearance by Chief Seattle will give participants a taste of life on the west coast one hundred years ago.

The City of Seattle was named after this great chief who was forced to sell the territory of Washington State to the U.S. government knowing they would destroy the sacred land of his people.

A special feature of the evening is the dedication of funds donated by students to Cambodian refugees. This money will be sent through CROP, an anti-world hunger organization. One hundred percent of the money will help the Cambodian refugees; none of it goes for administration costs.

Celebrate the harvest on Friday, Nov. 16! The bonfire will burn between the library and WAB from 6 til 7.

Make contacts in the ad world

Anxious for an opportunity to use your special talents and skills? Wondering what it's really like to work on an advertising campaign? If so, then the BSC Advertising Club is for you.

The Advertising Club, the local chapter of the American Advertising Federation, is open to students of all majors interested in the many aspects of advertising.

Recently formed, the club plans to participate in a national competition sponsored by the AAF. The competition involves the preparation of a complete advertising campaign for a national company. This year's competition focuses on the Nabisco Snack Foods.

Preparation for the competition involves creating a dynamic, exciting campaign including graphics, photography, music and dialogue. However, the work doesn't stop there, as many marketing details and the actual cost to implement the program must also be determined.

The competition occurs first on the regional level in New York City in April, where presentations will be judged by five representatives from the advertising industry. Our region includes schools from Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, New York, Maryland and Washington, D.C. The winning school then advances to the national level to compete with other regional winners.

The club offers valuable experience and the opportunity to make many contacts in the advertising world. The next meeting is scheduled for Nov. 20 at 6:30 in the Kehr Union Coffeehouse. Explore your future today with the Advertising Club!

Boston's scoring was led by last year's NCAA Player of the Year, Larry Bird, who tallied 22 points.

"BARN-BURNER"

The game was exciting to the last seconds. Although Philadelphia led throughout the whole game, the Celtics came back to take the lead late in the fourth period. The score saw-sawed back and fourth in the waning minutes of the game.

Finally, with 24 seconds left, Erving sank a 14-foot jumper to put the Sixers ahead by one. Boston then called a time-out to set up one last play. The Celtics quickly went to Bird, who fired up a 12-foot jumper, but missed. Boston's Dave Cowens got the rebound, but also missed his shot. Jones of the Sixers grabbed the rebound and held onto the ball until time ran out.

The game was highly publicized from the beginning because of its importance to the standings. The lead for the conference had just changed hands from Philadelphia to Boston and this was the first meeting of the two teams this year.

Collegiate All-Star Jim Bird faced playing for the first time in Philadelphia in addition to having to guard Julius Erving. Put all these things together with the exciting style of play that the two teams exhibit and you were bound to have a wide-open, well-played game.

If you are interested in going to see the Sixers in action, watch for information in The Campus Voice or check with the information desk in the Union.

Democrats to hold seminar

The Young Democratic Clubs of Pennsylvania will sponsor a state-wide one-day seminar to review the Delegate Selection Process for the 1980 Democratic Presidential Convention. The plans for the gathering were announced by organization president Robert E. Belfanti, Jr., of Mount Carmel.

Belfanti said the seminar is being sponsored by the Young Democrats in conjunction with the National Committee's Affirmative Action Platform and at the request of the Democratic State Chairman, Alex Debreczeni. The seminar leader will be the Chairman of the Democratic State Affirmative Action Committee, William Myrtetus.

The seminar is scheduled for Sunday, Nov. 18, 1979, beginning at 1:00 p.m., and will be held in Harrisburg at the United Steelworkers of America Hall, located at 1024 Herr Street, Belfanti stated.

According to Debreczeni, the statewide organization agreed to coordinate the seminar for the younger voters in hopes of educating those Democrats who are interested in seeking a delegate position to the convention. The session is open to all registered Democrats 35 years of age and under.

Community Theatre is growing

"Theatre is as important to a community as churches, schools and grocery stores," according to the Bloomsburg Theatre Ensemble. With that philosophy in mind, students of Alvina Krause formed BTE in order to establish and maintain "a professional, regional, repertoire theatre," according to Laurie McCants, publicity director.

In the summer of 1976, eight graduates of Northwestern University came to Bloomsburg to coax Krause out of retirement and to teach them her knowledge of the theatre. Since those first, crucial months of intensive training, the group has grown to become an organization which now includes elected officials and paid members.

"Bloomsburg has been very receptive. Our growth, in part, has been due to the great interest," said McCants. She added "our attendance has grown with each performance." BTE is interested in getting people to attend their performances instead of sitting at home. One of their primary goals is to expand the concept of live theatre in this area.

"Genius in the theatre has always been concerned with the search for the elementary: the mystery of human experience, the truth behind the surface of life, the bedrock of human existence," according to Krause BTE's teacher and artistic director.

The renowned Krause, 86, is a former Northwestern professor who taught such famous people as Charlton Heston, Paula Prentiss, Patricia Neal, Carol Lawrence, Richard Benjamin, Marsha Mason and many others. She is an action-oriented teacher who believes that acting involves the training of both the mind and the body. The demanding Krause feels that the actor should serve the play and the playwright, not his own personal goals. The actor must understand what the play is trying to say.

Presently, BTE is involved in a high school program called "Theatre Arts in the Classroom." It is curriculum-oriented and involves workshops in which members of the ensemble perform major scenes from such works as "Macbeth," "Romeo and Juliet," "The Importance of Being Ernest," "Our Town," and "Pygmalion." The purpose is "to bring life to the plays," many of which, according to McCants, "were never meant to be read."

Macbeth was performed on campus Tuesday, Nov. 6, in Bakeless, as a part of this theatre program. BTE brought to life this age-old drama for all those who attended.

There is a growing relationship between BTE and the BSC Players. "The more things going on the better," said McCants. "We try not to schedule anything against each other."

The next public performance of BTE will be "A Christmas Carol" in Carver Hall auditorium in December. Auditions were held for area children and adults for small parts in the play. During the preceding week, BTE will sponsor a "Spirit of Christmas Week" to make people aware of the various activities going on in the area. If any campus organization or individual is interested in participating, contact Jim Peffley at the Campus Voice Office (389-3101) or at 387-0401.

Ticket sales and grants are two of BTE's primary sources of funds, although they are also supplemented by individual contributions. They have been awarded generous grants from the Pennsylvania Council of the Arts and the American Association of University Women. Even though many Bloomsburg merchants are supportive of BTE, members still put in a lot of "walking time."

If there is anyone interested in becoming an apprentice or simply wishing to get involved with BTE, they should call the BTE office at 784-8181 and arrange an appointment with Jim Goode, President of the Ensemble. Enthusiasm and interest are always welcome at their rehearsals on the third floor of the Bloomsburg Town Hall.

ALVINA KRAUSE and Bloomsburg Theatre Ensemble bring community theatre to Bloomsburg. An upcoming event of the ensemble is the coordination of Spirit of Christmas week in Bloomsburg.

Save those cans

by JOYCE BAUER

Elwell Hall is participating in a voluntary aluminum can recycling program.

Since this is the first attempt to work on an aluminum can recycling project, Elwell will test it on a trial basis. Elwell was chosen since it is the largest residence hall here at BSC.

The girls living in Elwell are working in conjunction with the Columbia County Volunteer Recycling Program. Flo Thompson heads the committee in charge of the project. Maureen Mulligan, assistant dean of Student Life is also serving on this committee.

Signs and specially marked trash cans have been placed throughout the building to make it convenient for the students to participate. If the project is successful the trash cans in Elwell used for the collection of cans may be painted to resemble the soda cans which are placed in them.

Throughout the year, the janitors working in Elwell, as well as in the other dorms, have sorted empty bottles and cans from the rest of the trash. Elwell's janitors have reported that as many as three or four large trash barrels can be filled with cans alone, every day. Instead of just throwing these cans away they will now be recycled. Any profit made by the project will, for now, go to the County Voluntary Recycling Program.

Along with the small trash cans inside, a large dumping bin will be located behind

Elwell. Collection of the cans in the bin will be determined by the amount of cans being deposited.

"I think it will be an easy thing to do," said Mulligan. "We can help the cause and make the janitors' job a little easier. If it works, chances are it will move to the other buildings. If it doesn't work we'll 'can' the whole idea."

Groups to sing

Bright and "Psalm XIII," by Brahms.

The Husky Singers under the direction of Dr. William Decker is made up of 35 voices. They will be performing a wide variety of musical pieces. Among them are some folk pieces such as: "Mary Had A Baby," by Malcolm Sargent, and "I Wish to Be Single Again," an English folk song by John Ricketts.

A few spiritual songs will also be featured. They are: "Don't Leave Me Lord," written by Decker, a BSC faculty member; and "Balm In Gilead," by William I. Dawson.

Other informal pieces which will be performed by the Husky Singers are: "I'll Never Fall in Love Again," by Bert Bacharach; "I Write The Songs," by Barry Manilow and "I'm Sorry," by John Denver.

As an added attraction to the concert, the two groups will join their voices and sing a selection involving many mixed parts. The 85 voices will perform "O God Our Help In Ages Past," by Alan Hovhaness. The performance will feature Stanislaw directing and Decker playing the organ.

Officers of the Women's Choral Ensemble are: President, Robin DePrefontaine; Vice-President, Marci Basham; Secretary, Roberta Clemens; Treasurer, Mel Conrad, and Librarians, Mary Williams and Patti Loughin.

Officers for the Husky Singers are: President, George Groom; Vice-President, Charlie Regec; Treasurer, Kevin Crosley and Secretary, Gregg Giannuzzi.

Interns

the Harrisburg area. During the semester, the intricacies and operations of State government are explored and practical experience is gained by the students which ultimately prepares them for the job market.

Both students earned a full semester of college credit for their work experience. In addition to working, they kept daily logs and attended weekly seminars. The seminars afford interns, from the various colleges and universities, the chance to get acquainted, share experiences and attend lectures featuring many notable speakers.

The internship program began in 1973 in the Department of Education when 23 students from 11 State-owned colleges served internships in 12 State agencies. This highly successful program was designed to acquaint students with the procedures of State government, and, at the same time, parallel their major course of study. In addition to State government, interns are placed with State-related associations and non-profit organizations.

This past year, 133 students from 30 State-owned and private colleges have interned in the capitol city. LEIP is sponsored by the Pennsylvania Association of Colleges and Universities (PACU). LEIP's director, Barbara J. Miller (pictured directly to the left of the Governor), is a former intern through this program.

LEIP is presently accepting applications for the Spring 1980 semester. If you would like more information on how to become a LEIP intern contact: Miss Vicki Myers, a former intern, or Dr. Brian Johnson in the geography department. Or, contact LEIP Headquarters at 800 North Third St., Harrisburg, PA 17102 - telephone (717) 234-8213.

Dardaris leads swimmers to fourth place finish

BY CINDY PECK

The men's swim team placed fourth at the 8th Annual Millersville Relays on November 10.

Host Shippensburg State College scored 436 points to defend their title, while William and Mary College placed second with 212 points and third place Towson chalked up 180 points. BSC tallied 168 points.

In the 400 yd. medley relay, the team of Pete Dardaris, Randy Spence, John Conte and Jeff Baskin placed fifth with a time of 3:51.54. Reik Foust, Frank Jacoby, Phil Spampinato and Tim Briddles failed to place in the same event.

The team of Foust, Spence, Baskin and Dardaris was clocked at 4:01.49 to place third in the 400 yd. backstroke relay, while Jacoby, Spampinato, Briddles and Glenn Miller did not place.

In the 110 yd. crescendo medley, BSC placed fifth with a time of 11:45.73 with Foust swimming the 50 yd. backstroke; Spence, 100 yd. butterfly; Conte, 200 yd. breaststroke; Bill Wolfe, 400 yd. freestyle; Dardaris, 200 yd. backstroke; Jacoby, 100 yd. breaststroke and Spampinato, 50 yd. butterfly.

Conte, Dardaris, Jacoby and Baskin combined to place fifth in the 400 yd. breaststroke with a clocking of 4:35.33, while Spence, Spampinato, Dardaris and Baskin were timed at 3:56.6 in sixth place, Eric Chuss, Miller, Foust and Jacoby failed to place in the 400 yd. butterfly.

The 400 yd. individual medley team of Spence, Jacoby, Baskin and Dardaris placed third with a 3:56 time. Spampinato, Foust, Conte and Mike Henderson did not place.

Wolfe, Briddles, Baskin and Dardaris placed fourth for the Huskies with a time of 7:44.5 in the 800 yd. freestyle. In the last event, the 400 yd. freestyle, the teams of Baskin, Wolfe, Briddles and Dardaris; and Foust, Spampinato, Miller and Jacoby did not place.

"EXCELLENT SHOWING"

"Although they never quit, the guys had pretty much expended their energies by the last event," stated head coach Eli McLaughlin. "The last event hurt us because it gave Towson the edge over us."

McLaughlin noted that the team did a commendable job and learned a lot. He had much praise for the team members.

"Dardaris had a fantastic day," commented the coach. "He was really a workhorse, having participated in all eight events."

Speaking about sophomore Wolfe, McLaughlin said that Wolfe's time of 4:11 in the 400 yd. freestyle shows that he will be a strong distance swimmer as he gets in better shape. He mentioned that Jacoby looked "very smooth in the 100 yd. breaststroke, as well as in his other events."

Sophomore Spence, who is recovering from a shoulder problem, is back in good form, according to McLaughlin, but will have to contend with the chronic aggravation of pain in his shoulder.

"Foust and Conte were certainly not in their best form," said the head coach, "and they were unhappy with their times. I'm confident, though, that they will be ready by the Indiana Relays on December 1."

Mentioning freshman Baskin, McLaughlin said that he shows tremendous promise. Baskin competed in seven events at the relays.

SEASON OPENER

The Huskies' dual meet season begins at home on December 4 against Bucknell. According to McLaughlin, his team took advantage of the opportunity to look closely at Towson in the relays, since BSC will host Towson on December 8.

The BSC divers competed at Penn State on November 10. In 1 meter diving, Tom Cole placed 29th out of 47, while Scott Weigand placed 41st and Eric Slingerland placed 44th.

In 3 meter diving, Cole placed 23rd, Weigand placed 34th and Slingerland placed 41st.

McLaughlin stated, "The divers did an outstanding job considering the competition included many larger colleges."

Intramural Outlook

by JIM PUDERBACH

Beta Sig captured the 1979 men's intramural softball title, by downing SIO-Red in the final play-offs.

The final four teams were Beta Sig, SIO-Red, Scorpions and Delta Pi. The Scorpions defeated Delta Pi in the semi-finals of the loser bracket, then the Scorpions were beaten by SIO-Red. SIO-Red then faced undefeated Beta Sig.

The final game was a close match with SIO jumping off to a quick 3-0 lead. The men of Beta Sig, however, were not to be denied the team championship. The squad bounced back and handed SIO a convincing 9-5 loss.

The top four in order of their finish were: 1) Beta Sig, 2) SIO-Red, 3) Scorpions and 4) Delta Pi. Points for this sport are awarded to the top four teams. Points are also given for the amount of wins a team has accumulated during the tournament. A team receives 10 points for each win and also valuable participation points. Congratulations to all participants and especially the undefeated and untied men of Beta Sig.

PING-PONG

The Scorpions and FCA have tied for the team championship in this year's ping-pong tournament. DOC placed second, while SIO-Red took the third spot.

The tournament attracted many good players and the level of competition was very high. Congratulations to Rob Vance of the Scorpions, the individual champion, and also to runnerup Joe Fuhrum of FCA.

RACQUETBALL

Racquetball singles competition are nearing completion. There are five men still alive as of this printing. Brian Stackhouse of the Scorpions will play Jim Dietrick, who is playing unattached, in one of the semi-final rounds. Scott Markley, who is also unattached, will play the winner of the Walp-Carl Harreden quarter-final match. The two winners of the semi-final matches will meet for the championship. Good luck to the final five participants.

VOLLEYBALL ON TAP

The volleyball tournament got underway this week, with 30 teams shooting for the title. Among the teams is last year's champion, the Soccer House, who will try to retain its title.

Also, the sports of badminton and archery have started and there will be additional information on these after the break. Have a good holiday and look for more key results in the Intramural Outlook.

(continued from page eight) named to All-Star teams. The majority of the first-year players saw three or four years of varsity ball in high school and have good knowledge of the game.

Hibbs commented on her team thus far, "We have a good group of kids. There is no glory hounding or misconceptions about what roles the individuals will be playing on the team." As to the team's style of play, Hibbs said, "We will have a balanced attack. We aren't star-orientated."

Hibbs added that many of the athletes can play two positions and the depth of the team is strong. Hibbs says it will be a challenge to be able to use their abilities.

As to the conference competition, Hibbs reveals, "Shippensburg is the toughest and most consistent team. Lock Haven will be tough to deal with. It looks like Indiana in the West, and East Stroudsburg is a possibility."

Two players chosen for national squad

Kathy Connelly and Kim Rice, BSC varsity field hockey players, have been selected to an all-Mid-East team which will compete in the National U.S. Field Hockey Association tournament on Nov. 22-25.

This is the first time Bloomsburg players have been chosen to participate in a national hockey tournament.

Connelly, a defense player, is a sophomore from Hackettstown, NJ. She attended Blair Academy in New Jersey. Also a sophomore, Rice plays an attack position; she is from Southampton, PA, where she attended William Tennent High School.

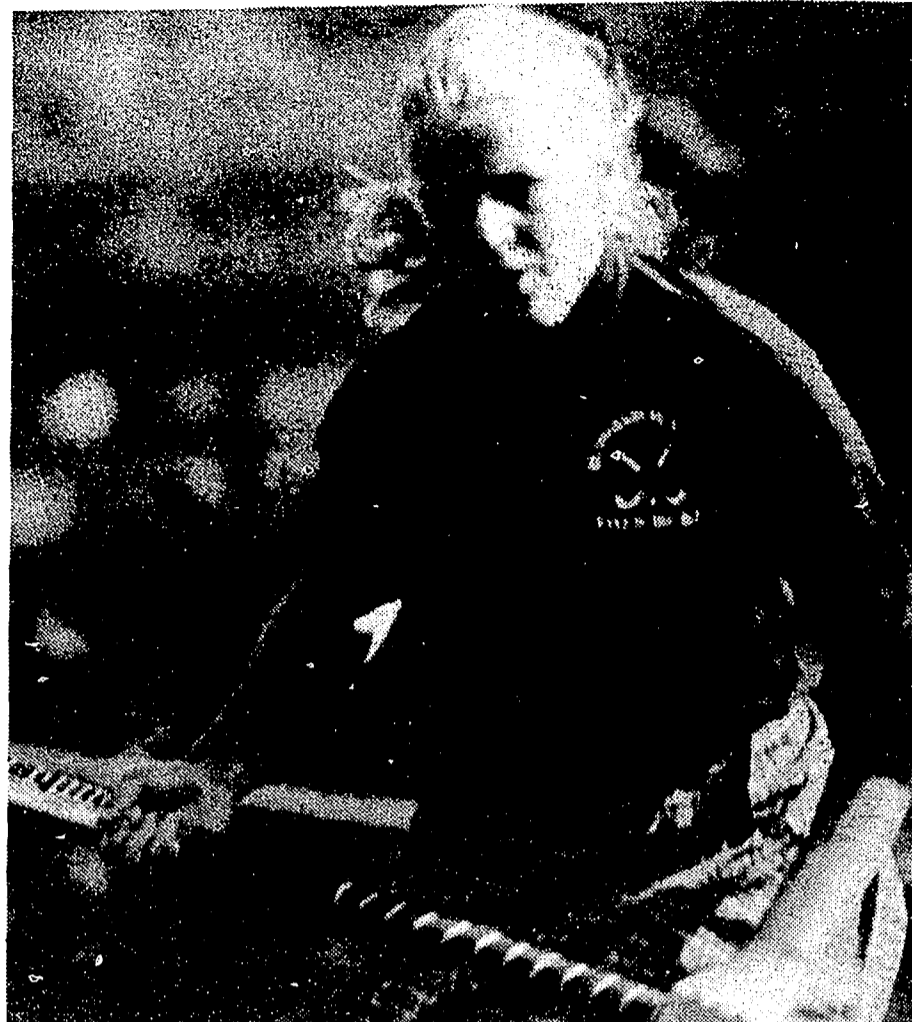

The route to nationals began at the Susquehanna Field Hockey Association tournament held on Nov. 3 and 4 at Susquehanna University. Ten teams, including BSC, took part in round-robin play to determine a team champion. Those competing were: Lycoming, Juniata, Wilkes and Marywood Colleges; Bucknell and Susquehanna Universities; Lock Haven State College; and Statewood and Center County Clubs. Bucknell captured the team title, defeating Lock Haven in the final round.

FIVE SELECTED

After the second day of play, an all-star team was selected to represent the Susquehanna Association at the Mid-East tournament held on Nov. 10 and 11 at Conestoga Valley High School in Lancaster, PA. Five Bloomsburg players were elected to this squad: Connelly; Rice; Lauren May, a junior attack player from Douglasville, PA; Joan Mahoney, a second-year defense player from Stroudsburg, PA; and Diane Imboden, a freshman attack player from Leola, PA.

At the Mid-East tournament, Rice and Connelly were selected to play at nationals, which will be hosted by the Wardlaw-Hartridge School in Edison, NJ.

The BSC varsity squad turned in another winning season, finishing with a 5-4-1 mark. The junior varsity team collected an outstanding 6-1-1 record.

Cagers feature young talent

by KEVIN KODISH

With two starters returning and a host of freshman talent, the BSC women's basketball team hopes to rebound from last year's 7-9 record. The 1978-79 mark was the first losing season in a decade.

Gone from last season are seven seniors, including Terry McHale, who averaged 10 points per game. The 1978-79 squad lost four of their games by a combined total of only 11 points. An interesting fact is half of the club's 16 games were decided by five points or less.

Head coach Sue Hibbs is excited about this year's team. The coach noted that the rapport of the team is good so far, and she is very encouraged with their progress to date.

This year's roster features four seniors, two juniors, five sophomores, and 11 freshman.

RETURNING PLAYERS

Back from last year's starting team are seniors Sally Houser and Pat Lyons. Houser is a center standing at 5-10", while Lyons is a 5-9" forward. Other senior members include 5-9" forward Gail Hopkins and Loretta Sutcliffe, a 5-10" center.

Guards Mindy Lerit (5-6") and Karen Tronsue (5-5") comprise the team's only juniors this season.

Debbie Chuhinka (5-10" guard-forward), Trina Knittel (5-10" forward), Debbie Oxenrider (5-8" forward), Kathy Pladus (5-5" guard) and Teresa Tafelski (5-9" center-forward) compose the quintet of sophomores on the 1979-80 squad.

Of the 11 freshman on the roster, two will see varsity duty. They are Hilarie Runyon, a 5-11" forward, and 5-7" guard Cheryl Sedlak.

Other freshman comprise in the junior varsity team are: Diane Alfonsi (5-8" forward), Rhonda Frederick (5-7" forward), Rosemary Grube (5-5" guard), Susan Hicks (5-6" guard), Julie Loucks (5-9" forward-guard), Maureen McDonald (5-7" guard-forward), Teresa Smith (5-8" forward), Debbie Thom (5-1" center), and Kathy Urbas (5-4" guard).

TALENTED NEWCOMERS

Hibbs reported that many of the freshman have good credentials. The newcomers received "Most Valuable Players" awards on their high school teams, and many were
