

The Mock Convention: three weeks and counting

by MIKE FRANTZ

The lines are being drawn for the 1980 Mock Convention and early results indicate that the convention weekend voting will be nothing short of an all-out battle.

Indications of a battle were provided last Saturday when platform representatives of the state delegations met in Kuster Auditorium to debate the platform of issues that will now be presented to the convention on April 18 - 19 in Centennial Gym.

Representatives from King's College, Susquehanna University, and Penn State at Wilkes-Barre, as well as many from BSC, met in Kuster to vote on the various issues, including the use of nuclear energy, a four-day work week and balancing the federal budget.

With the Pennsylvania primary election taking place April 22, the BSC Mock Convention's platform of issues should be a good indicator of various student concerns. Past conventions have received considerable media attention.

The vote at Saturday's recommendation meeting was the final vote before the expected 1,500 delegates assemble at Centennial Gym in less than three weeks. Many delegation seats are still available.

The revised platform recommendation includes the foreign relations plank, the energy plank, the economic plank, and the social welfare plank. A sample recommendation from last Saturday's meeting reads: "The United States should continue research without necessitating a commitment to the production or implementation of the neutron bomb; in order to insure sufficient technology to maintain parity with other nations, should such action become necessary to the defense and well-being of the United States".

Other recommendations range from unshackling the C.I.A. and strengthening safety restrictions on nuclear power plants to providing tax credits for solar energy and banning planned obsolescence.

Except in the balloting for the president and vice-president, which will be done by an alphabetical roll call of each state, all convention voting will be done by voicing aye or nay. The prevailing side in the voice vote will be determined by the chairperson of the convention.

During the convention, it will be the secretary of the convention who will indicate to the delegates the nature of each amendment including any changes. Those who might wish to speak for or against any amendment would report to the resolutions chairperson, giving their name, state, and position (affirmative or negative). The speaker's list will alternate, first affirmative, then negative, until the speaker's list or the time allotted is exhausted. No delegate can speak more than once upon the same amendment. The time allotted to each delegate will be determined by the convention chairperson, secretary, parliamentarian, and chairperson of the resolutions committee.

The BSC Mock Convention is not interested in advancing the cause of any particular party, platform, or candidate, nor is it concerned with the political affiliation of individual delegates. The intention is to give students exposure to participation in politics in as realistic a manner as possible.

There are many seats still available. Act now!

For more information, stop in the Convention Headquarters located on the side of the College Store, or call at 389-3625 or 389-2504.

Join the 1980 Mock Convention and let YOUR voice be heard!

A dining experience

By CRAIG A. TROUT

Have you heard any rumors about the faculty dining room being converted to a restaurant for students? If you have, they are no longer just rumors. The faculty dining room will remain as such for lunch, but will be open to student diners who want a change from the ordinary Commons menu during the dinner hour.

To start out, it will be open only two nights a week, but depending on how everything goes in the beginning, it may be changed to three, four, or possibly even five evenings a week. The new concept will be a sit-down restaurant with a pleasant atmosphere and a limited menu. There will be waiters and waitresses for each table, who will take your order. The food will then be prepared to order. To start, the menu will have such items on it as lobster, steak, filet mignon, other beef specialties, veal, possibly fowl, and a variety of other things.

The new restaurant will have seats available through reservation only. Meal ticket holders will be able to use their tickets to pay for part of the meal, while non-meal ticket holders will have to pay the full menu price.

The first delay in opening was caused by a six month wait to gain approval. The only delays preventing the opening now are a waiting period for equipment delivery and the designing of the menus. Although the opening is not yet scheduled, it is expected to be within the next three weeks. The opening will be advertised through the Campus Voice and the BSC radio station.

CAS Found

Consumerism: a main concern

by CHARLES McKEOWN

The Commonwealth Association of Students Foundation Project was formed with the goal of improving the grievance and information procedures at the state-owned colleges and university level. However, for optimum results, the project essentially requires feedback from a well-informed student body.

How can the CAS Foundation Project improve present college policies — financial, legal, academic, or social — unless the students themselves detail any shortcomings they have discovered? The answer is that without this feedback, the project can not function at its highest level.

In essence, the students should have a working knowledge of the CAS Foundation Project before any changes in college policy can be intelligently recommended.

The project is a 22 monthly plan made possible by a federal grant from the Fund for the Improvement of Post-secondary Education. The CAS Foundation of BSC procured the necessary funds as did West Chester and Slippery Rock State Colleges.

The primary concern of the project is "student consumerism", meaning that the students are buying a product — their education. If the students discover any injustices in their educative system or feel they have been mistreated in any way, they have a right to voice their opinions.

The project is designed to ensure that certain rights for students are upheld and that the students are aware of them as well as their responsibilities.

College policies are outlined in numerous publications such as The Pilot, Bucks for Huskies, residence hall manuals, etc., and the CAS Foundation Project is reviewing these principles and will suggest revisions where necessary. Here is where student opinions can play a major role in trying to revise any inequities in the system.

A prominent policy presently under scrutiny is the "search and seizure" rule. The project has certain criteria to follow, (fairness, relevance, and clarity), when reviewing a policy such as this, and will recommend changes only if the rule doesn't meet their criteria.

The foundation itself is composed of a salaried project coordinator and a voluntary review panel. The panel is composed of 15 people, or when nine are voting student members, three voters representing faculty and management, two non-voting students, and one non-voting management member.

When all data is presented by the students and the panel has reviewed the policies, any recommendations of revision will be made to the appropriate governing bodies.

Susan Appleby, BSC's project coordinator of the CAS Foundation, is currently helping in the process of revising the grievance policy. Additionally, she originated a survey and polled some of the students on any problems or changes they would like to see.

"The main observations," according to Appleby, "were that although the majority were satisfied, financial aid concerns were most prevalent. Also, most students are uninformed about academic appeals and the grievance policy."

Another discovery was that students have lost credits and or money due to misinformation.

Now, how are all these revisions, surveys, and studies going to directly affect the student?

"We're trying to make life better for everyone on campus," said Appleby on a WBS

Increased fees

An increase of $35 per semester in the housing fee, along with an increase in the food service charge tentatively estimated at $15 per semester were approved by the college Board of Trustees at a recent March meeting.

Also discussed was a contribution to the Town of Bloomsburg for the purchase of fire-fighting equipment.

The housing and food service charges are in addition to the $75 per semester increase in the basic fee announced recently by the Pennsylvania Department of Education.

The exact food service charge will be set after the publication of the Wholesale Price Index, which determines the increase by contract.

For the 1980-81 academic year housing will cost $335 per semester for double occupancy and $305 for triple. Food service fees, subject to adjustment later, have been estimated at $266 per semester for the 20 meal plan, and $251.50 for the 15 meal plan.

Hints to find those summer jobs

Looking for a summer job? More people than ever are looking for summer jobs, according to Lynne Lapin, editor of the 1980 Summer Employment Directory of the United States. Lapin warns, "If you really want a good summer job — something you can put on your resume after graduation — you'd better apply before the end of April. The best summer jobs go fast."

Getting a summer job often depends on learning the special things summer employers look for in a job candidate, Lapin says.

"You're in a better competitive position for a summer job if you know in advance what your interviewer wants to hear, or what an employer would like to read in a letter of application," she says. Here is a list of eight important "do's and don'ts" for summer job seekers that Lapin compiled while interviewing the 30,000 employers who seek summer help through the 1980 Summer Employment Directory of the United States.

1. Most summer employers want people with leadership personalities. Be attentive in a personal interview, show energy and enthusiasm. Asking questions shows you're interested. In a written application, mention experiences that show your leadership qualities — offices held in clubs or organizations, for example.

2. Employers hire people who look and act healthy. Be careful about your appearance in a personal interview. Stand up straight, sit up straight and don't slouch.

3. When you apply for a summer job by mail, watch your presentation, not only appearance (of course, you should type neatly) but also content. Don't say, "I want to spend the summer in Maine." The employer will think you care more about the scenery than about his summer theater.

4. When you get an application blank in the mail from an employer, respond immediately, and fill out the form completely. Employers are looking for people who get the job done fast and thoroughly.

5. Don't apply for a job if you can't stay for the whole season. Employers expect you to keep your contract commitments. Many employers will pay you a bonus on your base pay throughout the summer only if you stay past Labor Day. If your school starts before Labor Day, maybe you should talk to the administration about the problems that creates for you and for everybody else who wants a summer job. Or you could investigate late registration.

6. If you have good speech and communication skills and (continued on page five)

by DAN CORONA

The advanced planning class, under the direction of Mr. John Serff, department of geography and earth science, travelled to Reading Community College to attend a workshop entitled "Practical Planning for the 1980's on Saturday, March 22. The day started at 9 a.m. with a plenary session which gave a general idea of what to expect from the day's activities.

Executive director of the Economic Opportunity Council of Reading/Berks County, William F. Richardson, welcomed all. He then explained the fashion in which the program was constructed and how one can get the most out of it.

The program was broken down into three groups. Each group consisted of four sessions. Each session involved the use of speakers and panelists, all from the community planning field, who conducted lectures and group discussions.

The first group was entitled the "Duties of the Planning Commission." It included sessions which dealt with "Basis for Community Planning in Pennsylvania"; "Comprehensive Planning Process"; "Zoning and the Zoning Hearing Board"; and "Implementing Techniques."

The second group was entitled "Implementing Your Community's Plans and Goals." It included sessions which dealt with "Innovative Planning, Zoning and Development Approaches; Addressing Environmental Concerns-Resource Preservation with Development; Current Legislation and Recent Court Cases; and Historic Preservation and Adaptive Reuse."

The third and final group was entitled Energy and Planning. It included sessions which dealt with Introduction to Community Energy Conservation Strategies; Energy, Land Use and Community Energy Management Planning; Energy Conservation through Subdivision and Zoning Regulations; and Energy Conservation in Building Codes.

Each student attended four sessions, each being approximately 55 minutes in length. They were given an option of taking all the sessions in one group or mixing sessions from different groups.

All students found the sessions enlightening and highly adaptable to the current course work at BSC as well as to preparation for their internship experience in the field of urban/regional planning.

Editorial Letter

Know the facts

TO THE EDITOR:

In response to both your editorial and the CGA article, which appeared in the Friday, March 28, 1980 issue of the Campus Voice, I would simply like to say that you should refrain from calling CGA a bunch of clowns until you can get facts of the CAS billing problem correct.

The error I am referring to concerns the statement that CAS billing has been handled by the Community Activities Office since the referendum was passed in 1978 (only two years, not three). In fact, the CAS billing was a separate billing for $1.00 per semester that was handled by the Business Office and the institution, not Community Activities or CGA. It was not until the fall of 1979 that Community Activities became involved by agreeing to bill only freshmen for the CAS fee right along with the Community Activities fee bill. When the billing for the spring of 1980 was not done — through a fault of the administration as well as Community Activities, we, CGA, agreed to do a second billing and fulfilled that obligation. This attempt to collect the fee was hampered by the fact that CAS did not keep accurate records of students who did or did not pay. Although I am in favor of some funding for CAS, I firmly believe it is important that all of the groups involved share the blame for this mix-up equally.

As far as the comment on the officers of CGA acting like a three-ring circus, that comment has some merit but it is far more important that the students be aware that their officers, and only a few student representatives, were the only members of College Council that even bothered to discuss the CAS billing problem — because of the members lack of interest or boredom, not the rules of procedure. While some people did become overly emotional — I feel we should commend them for at least participating in the debate rather than sitting at the meeting with their mouths closed like so many others.

FIRE BIDS APPROVED

The Board of Trustees approved the fourth annual contribution of $9,600 to the Town of Bloomsburg towards the purchase of fire fighting equipment, to be used to fight fires or smoke in high rise buildings.

Town Council approved the bid of Lancaster Tower Company, Lancaster, Pa. for the delivery of the equipment. The date has been estimated from nine to twelve months from the date the contract was awarded. The total amount needed for the purchase is $216,909.

radio interview last December. "They will be living by policies that are updated and relevant to their way of life. Also, they will receive a handbook which clearly defines their rights and responsibilities on campus."

So it appears BSC students have something to look forward to clearly outlined rules and regulations in a handbook, and an updated grievance policy to air complaints. Now what more could you ask for?

Mock Convention

Original speaker 'has a price tag'

by JIM PEFFLEY

A first for the Mock Convention, since its establishment, has recently been taking place via mail. Sen. Larry Pressler, a South Dakota Republican, has been unanimously withdrawn from an honorarium for which Pressler would have appeared as keynote speaker for the Convention.

According to various media and the Convention committee's advisor, James W. Percey, the problem occurred over a misunderstanding of funding. Percey stated that Pressler was to have been given $200 for air fare, overnight accommodations in the Campus Suite, meals and transportation to and from the Wilkes-Barre/Scranton airport.

These provisions were to be given, besides a $1,000 honorarium for the senator, who reached hero status by refusing to be bought by undercover FBI agents in the recent ABSCAM scandal. The honorarium was to be given in appreciation of Pressler's integrity and honesty.

PROBLEMS ARISE

However, the convention committee shortly received a letter stating that the speaker's fees would cost an additional $500. The committee, in a secret ballot, unanimously agreed to withdraw the invitation. According to Percey, "An honorarium is not negotiable." The honorarium could have been accepted or denied, but not bargained for.

According to an article in the Miami Herald, Pressler's reasons for the increase was to help pay for a private plane charter, since other obligations would prompt his immediate departure. According to a letter from Pressler to President McCormick, it was noted that Pressler has made it a practice to donate honorarium awards to charities.

Although Pressler may have been insulted, Percey has also received insults. In an anonymous letter from Florida, addressed to the "cry-baby" advisor of the convention, the writer makes clear, in several unpublshable terms, how he viewed the committee's withdrawal.

LETTER COVERAGE

To further comment on Pressler's monetary request, the committee sent several letters to newspapers in Pressler's home state. From there, the story was picked up for the Associated Press wire.

According to Percey's letter, Pressler's action conflicts with the reasoning behind giving the honorarium. "An honorarium is an honorary award in recognition of services upon which no price can be set."

The committee has already replaced Pressler with Senator George McGovern for the keynote speaker position. As to the matter of the letters, G. Alfred Forsyth, dean of Arts and Sciences, has drawn up a list of student names for Pressler and a conference telephone call between the students and Pressler is a possibility.

Five faculty retire; over 100 years service

The retirements of Bloomsburg State College faculty members Dr. Bruce Adams, Clayton Hinkle, Dr. Ralph Ireland, Dorothy McHale and Alva Rice were accepted at the Wednesday, March 19, meeting of the college Board of Trustees.

Adams, professor of geography, will retire in May at the end of the current academic year. He joined the faculty in September 1956 and will have completed 24 years of combined teaching and administration at the college. He has a total of 39 years of teaching.

During his tenure at BSC, Adams has been active on many college committees as well as in campus organizations. Among these have been the College Senate, Graduate Council, Distinguished Faculty Awards, Academic Affairs, International Education, Long-Range Planning, Bloomsburg Foundation and the Faculty Association. He is a past-president of the latter professional group. He has also served on Middle States (continued on page six)

Who will fill Dan Flood's place?

BY LEE G. VIVIAN

On Wednesday, April 9th, there will be a special election in the state of Pennsylvania's 11th Congressional District. That election will determine who will fill Dan Flood's vacated position in the United States Congress. There are currently six candidates vying for that position: Richard Adams, Frank Harrison, Paul Kanjorski, Ed Mitchell, Raphael Musto, and James Nelligan. Mr. Harrison and Mitchell have been actively campaigning on the campus of BSC. The Campus Voice had the opportunity to talk with Mr. Mitchell. Here are the questions and answers that resulted from the interview:

CV: As the United States observes the one year anniversary of the accident at Three Mile Island Nuclear Plant, what are your views concerning nuclear energy and its future?

Mitchell: I am opposed to nuclear power as an alternative source of energy. I realize that we can't shut down existing plants, but I am in favor of an eventual phase out of these plants. I also feel that there should be no new plants permitted to operate unless effective evacuation plans are contrived. I would like to see the Berwick plant converted to coal producing rather than nuclear energy. I also favor solar energy as a valuable future source.

CV: How do you feel about the funding of college educations, and specifically the current tuition increases?

Mitchell: I feel that in the attempts to balance the budget, President Carter is placing the burden on the taxpayer. Most of the cuts in his budget came in the area of education, and in fact, the largest cut is in the state revenue sharing plan, which deals with education.

CV: How do you feel about President Carter's proposed budget cut?

Mitchell: I am opposed to a symbolic balancing of the Federal budget. In fact, President Carter has proposed an important fee which will actually increase inflation. I feel the U.S. must become more productive. The U.S.'s productivity has actually declined in the past year.

CV: What are your views concerning the draft and registration?

Mitchell: I am totally opposed to registration for the draft in peacetime. The country will not save any thing by this method. In fact, the registration will cost 14 million dollars more to implement, and will save only seven days over the nonregistration policy now in effect.

CV: What are your opinions concerning the situations in Iran and Afghanistan?

Mitchell: I feel that there should be economic sanctions placed on Iran, and that there should be no diplomatic relations with this country until the situation is reminded. Also, the United Nations Commission should be called in again, in efforts to settle the situation. Concerning the situation in Afghanistan, I feel there should be an Olympic Boycott by the United States, and that we should encourage full ally support of the boycott.

CV: What do you consider the most important topic for the Presidential primaries and the elections coming up.

Mitchell: No doubt, the economy will be the major concern.

CV: Which candidates are you supporting for the President, and why?

Mitchell: I am supporting Senator Kennedy for President. I feel that his price and wage control plans will be effective and beneficial to the economy. I am opposed against a symbolic balancing of the economy and budget, and that is all President Carter is doing right now. We don't need that in The White House.

Students are encouraged to vote in this election. This is the Congressional District which will represent Bloomsburg State College in Congress, so it is important to vote.

Kocher appointed ass't. director

Charles L. Kocher, of Columbia, PA, and a former Espy, PA resident, has been appointed assistant director of physical plant at Bloomsburg State College in action by the college's Board of Trustees Wednesday, March 19.

Kocher, who has been Director of Buildings and Grounds at Millersville State College since 1968, succeeds Joseph Metro, whose resignation was effective January 1.

Kocher, the son of the late Dr. F. T. Kocher, a well-known Espy veterinarian, and Anna Kocher, a guest at the Klingerman Nursing Home in Orangeville, attended Scott Township schools and served in the Merchant Marine for UNRRA in 1946. He received a Bachelor of Science degree in Agriculture Education at Penn State in 1950, and the Masters Equivalent in Vocational Education at Penn State in 1959. He was a public school teacher in Mildred, Northumberland, and Pottstown for 13 years before joining the Pennsylvania Farm Management and Business Analysis Service, a branch of the Pennsylvania Farmers Association, in Lancaster county.

In 1967 he was appointed to the faculty at Millersville State College to plan and develop a soils course for the Earth, Space and Science department and in October he was assigned responsibilities as Director of Grounds. The following year he was appointed Director of Buildings and Grounds.

"The appearance of our campus and the condition of our buildings are important at Bloomsburg," BSC President James H. McCormick stated. "We are pleased to have a man of Charles Kocher's experience and background to help us keep Bloomsburg attractive to students and an asset to our community."

In his new position Kocher will assist Charles Robbins, director of physical plant.

After-break rallies

The proposed tuition increase, the university bill, nuclear energy, draft registration and search and seizure procedures on campus. When may the students give their own input concerning these important issues?

attend the rally and let CAS and legislation know just how you stand on these issues.

A demonstration to show support for the American hostages in Iran and their families will be sponsored by the BSC Veteran's Club on April 8.

The march, to begin at 5:30 p.m. in front of the Kehr Union Building, is designed to show moral support for the hostages and their families.

Anyone is invited to join in the march, to be ended at the Town Park.

On Wednesday, April 9, the Commonwealth Association of Students (CAS) will hold an A-Day rally from 11 am. to 3 p.m. outside the Kehr Union. Tables will be set up for distributing information and musical entertainment will be provided. All students are urged to

Residence hall lottery renews room contracts

As a reminder to all residence hall students wishing to renew their residence hall contracts for the 1980 - 81 academic year, the room lottery will take place April 10.

The room lottery offers eligible upperclass students an opportunity to renew their residence hall contracts and to state a preference for a room assignment.

The lottery will be held from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on the above date and will be held in the Kehr Union Coffeehouse. Any resident student who has earned 65 credit hours or less at the completion of the fall semester (1979) may renew his - her residence hall contract for the 1980 - 81 school year.

To participate in the lottery, a student must complete and sign a 1980-81 Residence Hall Contract (available at hall main desks), pay a $50 room reservation deposit at the college Business Office on or before April 10, and submit a 1980-81 contract and draw a lottery number at the room lottery desk in the Kehr Union on April 10. Your roommate can draw a number for you if you cannot attend the lottery in person.

For further information on building choices, persons with or without roommates, co-educational housing opportunities, and single rooms and voluntary triples please consult the room lottery instructions recently distributed in each residence hall. Extra copies of these instructions are available from the Housing Office, Room No. 16 of Ben Franklin.

If there are any questions concerning the room lottery, contact John Abell, director of Housing, at 2713.

Hints to find those summer jobs

an outgoing personality, you'll have a better chance in a summer job interview. An articulate person has a definite edge over someone who's more reserved and shy.

7. If you want a high-paying position in an expensive resort, you must bring some professionalism to the job. That means experience in a similar job and it also means a professional attitude. Professionals don't just work from 9 to 5 o'clock, and they don't have to be told what to do; they show initiative and imagination on their own.

8. Think of yourself as a product. What can you do? Who could use your skills, your experience (babysitting, newspaper routes, work on school papers, school plays, church work) and your enthusiasm. Package yourself appropriately, with a well-written resume, and market yourself systematically.

Lapin thinks that her own position as editor of the 1980 Summer Employment Directory of the United States is possibly one of the most interesting year-round jobs there is. "Every year we contact 30,000 employers across the country to update the Summer Employment Directory. You talk to some really wonderful people that way, and mostly you hear about good relationships that develop between employers and summer workers.

Some employees return to the same summer job all through high school and college. Some eventually go into their summer line of work as a career after they finish school," Lapin said.

Greeks invited to compete for pinball prizes

Fraternities and sororities nationwide are invited to compete for 20 new Stern pinball machines in a three-day campus fund-raiser which will benefit the American Heart Association (AHA). Colleges and universities across the country have already joined the fight against heart disease by signing up to participate in a national fund-raiser competition in April, AHA's "Youth Awareness Month."

The contest has been designated a national special event by the National Youth Committee of the AHA and is being sponsored by Stern Electronics, Inc. (a major pinball game manufacturer) and National Lampoon magazine.

Any sorority or fraternity chapter is eligible to enter by staging a three-day fund-raising activity the weekend of April 11.

Nineteen Greek houses raising the most money will be awarded Stern's explosive new Muhammad Ali pinball game; the next 50 houses will receive complimentary, life subscriptions to National Lampoon.

In addition, one "Ali" machine will be presented to the fraternity or sorority that raises funds in the most novel or comedic manner.

In May, a representative of the house creating the most original fund-raiser event and a delegate of the top fund-raising chapter will be flown to Stern Electronics in Chicago for an award dinner.

Applications and total Alpha to Omega rules of entry are available by telephoning the American Heart Association at (214) 750-5300.

THE EASTER BUNNY is eagerly anticipated as Melissa Johns and Chris Kline eye the chocolate bunnies in the College Store currently on display. Some lucky person will win the bunnies in a drawing.

Abernathy starts convention week

The Rev. Ralph Abernathy, president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, will speak at Bloomsburg State College on Tuesday, April 15, at 8 p.m. in Carver Hall. His appearance is being sponsored by the Human Relations Planning Committee in conjunction with the Mock Republican Convention.

Abernathy rose to national prominence when he joined with other black leaders in organizing the now-famous Montgomery, Ala. bus boycott of 1955-56. Since then he has been arrested 38 times for acts of civil disobedience.

Concerning his arrests, Abernathy responded, "I would be thrown in jail a 39th, if it would advance the cause of freedom."

He assumed the presidency of the Southern Leadership Convention in 1968. In 1973 he submitted his resignation to the conference's national convention, but it was refused. Since then, Abernathy has preached on behalf of racial equality and justice across the nation and around the world.

His trips have taken him to Ghana, West Africa, for the Conference of Positive Action for the Peace and Security of Africa; to Rome for a meeting with Pope Paul IV; to Oslo, Norway, to witness Dr. Martin Luther King's acceptance of the Nobel Peace Prize; and to East and West Germany, where he received the Peace Medallion from the German Democratic Republic.

In 1972 Abernathy was named in a Harris Poll as the most respected black leader in America among blacks polled.

A call for writers; cash prizes awarded

The Society for Collegiate Journalists is sponsoring a writing contest. Any student may enter an original piece in any of the contest categories which are: best radio commercial, best WBSC I.D., best news story, best feature story, best sports story, best photograph and best advertisement design.

Entries are to be delivered to the Campus Voice office no later than April 18. Winners of each category will be announced April 25. The entries will first be judged by a small committee of society members. Janet Rusnak, Roberta Clemmens, JoAnn Borski and Al Sukowaski will select five entries from each category. Those five entries will then be judged by the entire organization. The best entry from each category will receive $5 for first place. There will also be an honorable mention for each category.

The contest is being sponsored by the society in an attempt to encourage more students to write and to promote the many areas of journalism in which students may become involved. The only restriction to the contest is that the entry must be original and turned in to the Campus Voice office no later than April 18.

Association and Department of Education program evaluation teams at Kutztown and West Chester State Colleges. He has held membership in numerous state and national organizations, and he served as president of the Pennsylvania Council for Geography Education in 1965. He was presented the Council's Distinguished Service Award in 1973.

Adams was assigned the responsibility for developing the Department of Geography and Earth Science and served as departmental chairman for the period 1962-1968.

From 1942-1945, Adams served as a photo intelligence officer with the rank of lieutenant in the Eighth Army Air Force in the European Theater of Operations.

He was awarded battle stars for participation in the Rhineland Offensive and the Ardennes Offensive - the latter better known as the "Battle of the Bulge."

Adams is a native of Lock Haven where he received a Bachelor of Science degree from Lock Haven State College. His masters and doctorate degrees were conferred by the Pennsylvania State University.

Before coming to Bloomsburg, Adams taught geography and social studies in the high schools of Canton and Williamsport, Pennsylvania.

The Adamses will continue to reside at 5 W. 11th St. in Bloomsburg.

Hinkle, senior member of the faculty, will retire at the end of the first semester of the 1980-81 academic year, completing 34 years at his alma mater, BSC. He will have a total of 40½ years service in the field of education.

A native of Easton, Hinkle, graduates from Easton High School with honors in 1931. He worked five years in Easton before enrolling at BSC where he earned his B.S. degree in business education in 1940. His Master of Education was awarded from Temple University in 1943 and additional graduate studies were taken at Penn State, New York University, Columbia University, University of Pennsylvania, and Northwestern University.

Hinkle began his teaching career in the Junior High School of Easton and after two years was named director of Business Education and Placement at Easton High School. He joined the business education faculty in January, 1947. He served as advisor to the Student Christian Association for 18 years; faculty advisor to the College Canteen for a number of years; chairman of the graduate Studies Committee for five years; and supervised a sixth grade typing program for six years. At the eastern conference of the Pennsylvania Business Education Association in 1968 he was the recipient of the Outstanding Teacher Award.

In addition to holding memberships in numerous professional organizations, Hinkle has served as vice-president and secretary-treasurer of the former BSC Faculty Association, program chairman for the Eastern PBEA Conference, has been both a speaker and chairman at sectional meetings of PBEA conferences, and has served as Columbia County Treasurer of the BSC Alumni Association.

He has been active in church and community activities. For a number of years he served as a Sunday School teacher, Sunday School superintendent, and a member of the Church Council in both Easton and Bloomsburg; advisor to the senior high Lutheran League at St. Matthew Lutheran Church in Bloomsburg; advisor to the Lutheran Student Association for 15 years; and active in the YMCA having served as a member of state committees for a number of years.

Hinkle is married to the former Kathleen Myers of Bethlehem and the couple have a son Lee and a daughter Anne. Professor and Mrs. Hinkle reside at 224 Leonard Street in Bloomsburg.

Ireland, professor of sociology and social welfare, joined the staff in August 1969. His retirement will be effective at the end of the 1979-80 academic year. Ireland is completing 22 years in the field of education, eleven of which were at BSC.

A native of Toronto, Canada, Ireland received his B.A. degree in sociology from the University of Toronto and his M.A. degree in sociology from the same institution. His doctorate with a major in sociology was earned at the University of Chicago.

Prior to his teaching experience, he served in the Canadian Army and during World War II held the rank of captain. His other teaching assignments include U. of Toronto, U. of Chicago, Fisk U.,

Northern Illinois U., C.W. Post College and just prior to coming to BSC, Indiana U. of Pennsylvania.

McHale joined the faculty of Bloomsburg State College as Associate Professor of English in September 1968.

McHale was born in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, and received her early education in the Mt. Lebanon public schools of that city. Her Bachelor of Arts degree was earned at Trinity College, Washington, D.C. She earned her Masters of Arts degree in English at the University of Pittsburgh and has taken additional courses at that institution.

From 1946-61, McHale was an instructor in English at the University of Pittsburgh and on arriving in Bloomsburg in 1963, became a part-time instructor at the college for five years. Prior to entering the teaching field, she was associated with the American Theater Society, Pittsburgh Office, from 1938-1943. Her father is a retired director of Carnegie Institute, department of Fine Arts.

She is the wife of Michael

McHale, associate professor of speech, mass communication and theater at BSC. The McHales reside at 630 East Second St., Bloomsburg.

Rice, who came to Bloomsburg State as an associate professor of English in 1960, will complete 45 years in the field of education when she retires this May. In addition to student advising, during her 20 years at BSC, she also served on the English Department Evaluation Committee and secretary for departmental staff meetings.

Rice received her BS degree from Madison College in 1935 and her MA degree from Indiana University (Indiana) in 1947. She has taken additional credits at George Washington U., U. of Kentucky, U. of Oslo in Norway, Catholic U., and the U. of London in England.

From 1935-39, Rice taught at the elementary school level in Arlington, VA before joining Shenandoah College for two years in 1940. She then has successive faculty positions at Indiana University, Marshall College, and Slippery Rock State College before coming to Bloomsburg. Also, in 1951-52, she was a teaching lecturer at Albany Normal in the Philippines.

Husky tennis teams post victories

by CINDY PECK

With two recent victories over Haverford and Dickinson, the men's tennis team has brought its record to 6-2 for the spring.

The netters visited Haverford, on March 26, who had been undefeated previous to their loss to the Huskies, and had been ranked number 5 in the country in Division III.

NEW RECORD

Top singles player Rob Vance set a career win mark with 96 when he defeated Rich Marks 6-2, 6-2. The record had been held by Jim Hollister, a 1978 BSC graduate.

Number two player Ken Grove had to default to Doug Zlock due to an injury, and Craig Diehl defeated Bill Schneider 6-1, 6-4. Marty Coyne, in the number four spot, was the inner over John Volinsky 7-5, 6-3.

Dave Superdock was defeated by Mike Hoffman, 7-5, 6-4. Number six player Steve Blechschmidt defeated Rob Cosinuke 6-1, 6-3.

Bloomsburg swept the doubles for a 7-2 victory.

The Huskies beat Dickinson March 28, 9-0 for their ninth shut-out of the year. They also traveled to Shippensburg Friday where they were ahead 4-0 when the match was postponed because of rain. It will be completed at a later date.

WOMEN POST WIN

The women's tennis team opened the spring season with a 7-2 victory over Villanova.

Women's track 'off and running'

By KEVIN KODISH

Capturing first place in six of 15 events, the BSC women's track team copped the top spot in a quadrangular meet last Thursday at Shippensburg.

The Huskies easily achieved the first slot by rolling up 157 points. Millersville edged Shippensburg 108-107 for third, and Kutztown ended fourth with 58 markers.

Bloomsburg won both relays, the 400 and 1600 meters. Laurel Mowery, Connie McFeatters, Diane Alfonsi and Beth Banaszek combined for a time of 51.62 to clinch first in the 400 relay, while Wendi Farrell, Lisa Hague, Banaszek and Deb Sabalesky clicked off a 4:17.43 mark in the 1600 relay to win that race.

Anne Grab claimed the victory in the 1500 m. run with a time of 5:12.86. Grab returned later to pick up the third spot in the 800 meter run, sprinting to a 2:16.31 time. Lauren Meymaris backed up Grab with a third place finish in the 1500.

Mowery nabbed her second win of the day when she zipped off a 16.31 in the 100 meter hurdles. Teammate McFeatters finished second in the event with a time of 16.87.

HURDLES

BSC received first and second place in the 400 meter hurdles. McFeatters ran a 70.93 for first place, and Mowery followed with a second place mark of 72.79.

Alfonsi and Banaszek finished one-two in the 200 meter dash. Alfonsi broke the tape in 27.55, and Banaszek turned in a 27.64 for the runner-up position.

Alfonsi and Banaszek didn't get the top two spots in the 100 meters, but the duo did the next best thing. The two Husky sprinters were second and third, respectively, in the dash. Alfonsi ran a 12.76 for second, and Banaszek turned a 12.78 for third place.

The Huskies got points in the 400 meter dash when Hague clipped off a 62.31 for second place. Teammate Terri Purcell followed Hague in third with a 63.78 mark.

BSC's Farrell and Purcell were second in the 800 and 3000 meter runs, respectively. Farrell was clocked in 2:38.04 in the 800, and Purcell raced to an 11.36 time in the 100.

Sabalesky recorded a third place performance in the discus, with a throw of 33.12 m. She was backed by Jane Reed, who threw 26.68 meters for 6th place.

The Huskies received two fourth place finishes on the afternoon. Sabalesky heaved the shotput 10.14 meters, and Marie Hoffner threw the javelin 31.16 meter for her fourth place honors.

The meet gave the women a 3-0 record for the season. They will now meet East Stroudsburg on April 12.

Vets club prepares for April showdown

In one of several scheduled warm-up games, the BSC Veteran's Club basketball team battled a group of locals, the Bloomsburg Marauders, last week in Nelson Fieldhouse.

The Vets are priming for their contest with the Philadelphia Eagles slated for Thurs., April 10 at 8 p.m. This will be the Birds' second appearance at Bloomsburg; five years ago the Eagles lost to a team comprised of BSC faculty by a mere three points.

According to club president Jerry Simkonis, the Vets have been working hard to maintain BSC's unbeaten mark against the Philly team. The Vets practice daily at the fieldhouse with both a morning and evening workout.

The team may need the practice, as it will face the likes of 6'9", 295 lb. Harold Carmichael, quarterback Ron Jaworski, and others.

Among the Bloomsburg faculty members joining the Vets in the stand against the Eagles will be Dr. Peter Bohling of the economics department and Michael Lynn of the business department.

During the game, two footballs autographed by the Eagles squad will be given away. Also, the players will be available during halftime to sign autographs.

Tickets, $2 for students, $3 for adults, and $3.50 at the door, are available at the Information Desk, Record Revue and Bill Weis Pro Shop. The Vets Club invites all to come out and watch what should prove to be an exciting event.

BSC 'nine' returns from Virginia

by KEVIN KODISH

The BSC baseball team opened its 1980 season with a trip to Virginia and returned with a 1-2 record.

Coach Clark Boler's troops lost a doubleheader against Liberty Baptist, but came out a winner in a game versus Bridgewater College.

In the opener of the twinbill with Liberty Baptist, the Husky bats were silenced by the three-hit pitching of Lee Guetterman. The Huskies lost the game by a 2-0 score.

The winners had two runs on seven hits. Jack LaCesa took the loss for Bloomsburg. Huskies Todd Hoover, Gary Thorp and Jeff Long collected hits. Long's hit was a single, while Hoover and Thorp ripped two-baggers.

Liberty Baptist got their first run on a squeeze bunt that went over LaCesa's head. The hosts second tally was walked across the plate.

SLUGFEST

Bloomsburg dropped the second game by a 10-9 count. The Huskies scored seven runs in the first two innings, but then watched their lead shrink into a one run deficit, 8-7.

BSC was able to tie the score at 8-8, and later at 9-9, but Liberty Baptist got a run in the last of the seventh to pull out the win in the slugfest.

Miller was the winning pitcher. Mark McCue absorbed the loss for Bloomsburg. Liberty Baptist had 10 runs on 10 hits, and the Huskies recorded nine runs on nine hits.

Bloomsburg had a pair of batters come up with two hits in the game. Phil Fenton had a double and single, and Glenn Hoffman rapped two solid singles. Ted Ritsick also roped a double for BSC.

HUSKY TRIUMPH

Doug Richie and McCue combined to hold back Bridgewater College 4-3 for Bloomsburg's first win of the year.

The big inning for the Huskies was the seventh. In that frame, they scored all four of their runs on three singles, two walks, a sacrifice and a Bridgewater error.

Jack Behan was the hitting star, collecting a double and two singles. Fenton had two singles, and Hoover, Crosley and Jim Quinn added hits.

Bloomsburg out-hit Bridgewater eight to six in the victory. Richie got the win, and Larry French was the losing pitcher. McCue picked up a save for his fine relief work.

"I would have been pleased if we could have played more games while we were there, but I thought it was worth the trip," stated Boler when asked about the trek south.

The mentor added more about the trip. "The kids got a lot out of it. We were ready to play once we got some practice. They responded well in the games and everything worked out fine."

What does 1980 look like for BSC? "We anticipate a better record than last year. The year will depend on how the young players come along," concluded Boler.
