

"Hay Fever" presented by Players

Noel Coward's enduringly popular play "Hay Fever" will be presented Carver Hall on the campus of Bloomsburg State College by the Bloomsburg Players Thursday, February 19, through Saturday, February 21, with curtain time at 8:15 p.m.

"Hay Fever", which had two major productions in New York, in 1925 and again in 1931, is a frivolous comedy about a family of four eccentrics and the madcap complications they encounter when they each invite a weekend guest to their country home without having informed the others, and the guests turn out highly unassorted.

The central figure of the disorderly family is a retired actress who, from her long stage experience, has lost any sincerity she may ever have had tends to play various parts from her repertory in whatever situation turns up in her own living room, declaiming corny lines from old plays in place of conversation. This sly travesty on old-fashioned theatrics is the character to be portrayed by Miss Melanie Apple (Judith).

Tony Pastore (David Bliss) will have the role of her novel-writing husband. Rob Novelli (Simon Bliss) and Karen Pingar (Sorel Bliss), the roles of her son and daughter, who are all in the habit of cuing the actress to bring out her best lines. John Toussaint (Sandy), Donna Benzi (Mvra), John Malatesta (Richard) and Carmen Shade (Jackie) play the

Phillies caravan stops in Scranton

By KEVIN KODISH

With a travelling party that boasted National League MVP Mike Schmidt and "Charlie Hustle" Pete Rose, the Philadelphia Phillies stopped in Scranton last Wednesday as part of their 1981 press caravan tour.

The world champions held a press conference at the Jermyn Hotel upon arrival, then made a visit to St. Mary's Center for a dinner engagement that was sponsored by the Scranton Red Sox.

Schmidt, who was also World Series MVP, led the National League in home runs in 1980 with 48. He also topped the league in runs batted in (121), slugging percentage (.624) and total bases (342).

The St. Louis Cardinals have made a lot of roster moves since last season. Schmidt commented on the transactions. "The addition of Sutter is not enough. The Cardinals have weakened themselves by losing Simmons and Reitz. Simmons really solidified their lineup."

General Manager Paul Owens was asked about the possibility of the Phillies unloading left-fielder Greg "Bull" Luzinski. "Nobody is going to get Greg for mpyjomh." Pwems revea;ed "There is no reason Bull can't be a part of the Phillies this year."

The status of pitcher Randy Lerch was also brought up at the meeting. "Randy will probably be traded before spring training. There are six or seven clubs that would be glad to take a chance on him," Owens reported.

Air bands premiere at BSC

By LARRY MURPHY

The Battle of the Air Bands will premier at BSC on February 17, in the Multipurpose rooms in the KUB.

According to Larry Murphy, and Mike Pucillo, who are the coordinators of the events, an air band is a group or individual who get together and mimmick their favorite band or singer.

They perform on a stage and dress as the band or singer would dress, and perform as the band or singer would perform. Pucillo stated that the members of the act are not allowed to sing, they must mime to a record or tape.

The event is being sponsored by the Kehr Union Program Board. The Program Board is offering a first place money prize. Bands will be judged on costume, choreography, and originality.

If you would like to participate in the Battle of the Air Bands, contact Mike Pucillo at 2536 or Larry Murphy at 3631. Deadline to sign up is February 12.

Response to the Governor's budget

While students are busy with their work and are only thinking of their problems for this semester, many students are unaware how Governor Thornburgh will effect our lives next year.

The Governor in his new budget, proposed only 5.5% increase in appropriations to the Pennsylvania state colleges and universities system. In doing this, the Governor has failed to acknowledge the much needed 11.8% increase requested by the Board of State and University Directors (BSCUD).

The difference between the 11.8% increase and the Governor's proposal would come out to be 12.9 million dollars. Students should be aware of the fact that the Governor intends to pass the bill to the students. This would amount to at least $175 per student.

The increase does not take into account the AFSCME Faculty Union raise. These two factors alone will dwindle our increase in appropriations to a probable decrease!

Add the raises to the Governor's budget, and assuming no further assistance to the colleges, the students should be expected to pay as much as $270 dollars extra for their tuition.

Reports from Harrisburg also indicate that the PHEAA grants are likely to diminish ($5 million asked for, Governor proposed $2 million). BEOG funds will be cut next year.

Since PSCU (Pennsylvania State Colleges and University) students pay the highest tuition in the nation for public higher education, CAS student leaders made this issue the number one legislative concern.

The students of BSC must realize that we can fight Harrisburg, we can increase services to our schools, we can influence our legislators.

CAS has a history of setting national precedents within the student movement. CAS obtained a $85,000 HEW grant to develop better and more complete campus information handbooks for students, as well as establish model grievance procedures.

Since 1973, CAS has stopped three tuition increases saving PSCU students millions of dollars. CAS also played a major role in obtaining from the Pennsylvania legislature $62 million for repairs, renovation, and construction of campus facilities on all PSCU institutions.

CAS members have been developing a campaign to fight tuition increases and to push for increased appropriations for state colleges.

CAS is the lobby voice of the 76,000 students in the PSCU system. We are located on 3rd floor Kehr Union. Our phone number is 2723 and we have office hours during most times of the day. Feel free to come up and voice your concerns.

Yeah cheerleaders

To The Editor:

As a point of information to those in the area who may not attend BSC basketball games, I want you to know you are missing not only excellent sportsmanship on the part of our local team, but an exceptional half-time show on the part of our BSC Cheerleaders. Their professional exhibition during the half-time show makes the Dallas cowboy Cheerleaders look like amateurs. We, as a community, can be extremely proud of these young ladies who perform with such agility and professionalism that they can't help but delight every member of the audience.

A Sincere Fan,

Mentally ill helped Step-by-Step

By DEBBIE BERKLEY

BSC students will soon have the opportunity to gain valuable work experience and earn money at the same time. This opportunity is available through the program, Step-by-Step, coming to Bloomsburg in mid-February.

Step-by-Step is designed to help orientate the mentally ill into society. Individuals who have been in mental institutions for years or have been hospital in-patients often find daily activities and simple situations hard to handle. The job of student employees of Step-by-Step is to act as resident counselors. To help ease the difficult transition period for these individuals, counselors teach them to cook, clean, shop and maintain their clothing.

Counselors must be willing to put in 20-30 hours a week, help people who are facing life alone, make friends with someone in need of a friend and help themselves become more understanding human beings. Counselors will be paid for their time.

The work day will be spent in the apartment buildings, designed for the individuals in the Step-by-Step program. These buildings are partially or fully supervised by Program Counselors. These counselors deal directly with the residents' necessities.

Petrina Aquilina, a senior at BSC majoring in Special Education, worked as a resident counselor for Step-by-Step in Wilkes-Barre.

"These people have no idea of the basics- the things we take for granted. In hospitals, life is all structured and patterned for them. It isn't that easy on the outside world," said Aquilina.

The residents in the Step-by-Step program range in age from 18-60. Some go home on weekends, but most are from broken homes and have no place to go. Their mental problems often stem from unhappy family lives.

Step-by-Step has different levels of progression. Those who are still in need of help live in Communal apartments of 8 or 9 people under 24-hour supervision.

The next level is Apartment Training. Here 2 or 3 people live together, helping each other. These people are also under 24-hour supervision.

Both of the people in these first two levels may come and go as they please, but are required to check in and out.

The third level of Step-by-Step is Semi Independent. Here, only two people share an apartment. These apartments are spaced out in the community. The residents are still in need of some help, but there is no 24-hour supervision. A counselor is available for them at any time. These residents advance enough to take classes at nearby colleges. Some hold regular jobs within the community.

All levels face their own share of problems. Residents are required to sign a contract, agreeing to go to regular work shops provided for them. The contract forbids alcohol in the

"Sure I knew you were a Communist. Why do you think I married you? I'm from the F.B.I."

It's their last lecture; what will they say?

What? I only have 45 minutes to talk about whatever I want and that's it for this life? This is the challenge being put to two BSC professors. Right at this moment they are preparing to give what they feel would be their last lecture they would ever give, for whatever reason: retirement, death, etc.

This is, for all intensive purposes, going to be their last lecture ever. What will they talk about? It is up to them.

Interested? Then come and hear them on Feb. 16 and 18. Dr. Craig Himes, biology, in his 20th year at BSC will speak on Feb. 16 and Harry Strine, Speech, in his 11th year, will speak on Feb. 18.

Both lectures will be given at 7 p.m. in Luzerne Hall, first floor lobby.

Refreshments will be served.

apartments because residents take medication and the mix would be harmful to them.

Step-by-Step has proven to be a success in such places as Hazleton, Nanticoke and Wilkes-Barre. New branches are being organized in other places as well. The reason behind the success can be contributed to resident counselors who give their time and energy to those in need.

Counselors will gain from the learning experience of Step-by-Step. They will begin to appreciate their own capabilities, and they will learn responsibility. The rewards are in helping people who are making comebacks into a very unfamiliar world.

Cindy Mirra, a BSC student, did her internship at Step-by-Step in Wilkes-Barre.

"I feel the most important thing is to let people know about the program. While it may benefit Special Education and Psychology majors the most, Step-by-Step is open to anyone," Mirra said.

Step-by-Step gives students the job experience they need after graduation. It may also give summer students part-time jobs. The only requirements are a resume and a short letter stating an interest in this program. Openings will be filled on a first-come, first-serve basis.

If you are interested in becoming a part of the Step-by-Step program coming to Bloomsburg, please write to: David DeMark, 69 Public Square, Suite 14, Wilkes-Barre, PA 18702.

U.S. STUDENTS COME TO AID OF JAILED IRANIAN MILWAUKEE, Wisc. (CH) — Even as most Americans were greeting the returning hostages, a group of University of Wisconsin-Richland Center students were more concerned about a jailed Iranian.

On the day in which the 52 hostages and their families visited the White House, Mohsen Hooshmand Panah, an Iranian student, was visiting the Waukesha County Jail on a charge of violating Immigration and Naturalization Service regulations. Panah was only in jail overnight, however, while a group of his fellow students raised the $1,000 needed to bail him out.

An official of the school described Panah as "popular," "a nice person and a good student." Another administrator praised the American students involved in the bail-out effort. "I'm impressed with this because it shows we in this country are willing to take someone on his individual merit, rather than the group he belongs to," says Dean Donald Gray.

As for Panah himself, while waiting at the jail for the three friends who headed the fundraising effort he told a reporter. "Yesterday, my friend told me he'd get money to get me out. I wasn't surprised (when it came through). They are really good friends. I'd do anything for them if they'd ask me."

Panah may need his friends again when he faces a deportation hearing in February. INS officials have refused to discuss the nature of his violation of student status. Gray says the problem may stem from the fact he dropped out of school last year, when the freeze on Iranian assets threatened his financial support.

'ON, WISCONSIN' DOES NOT BELONG TO WISCONSIN

MADISON, Wisc. (CH) — Wisconsin Gov. Lee Dreyfus is still waiting for singer Paul McCartney's reply to an official request to turn over the rights to the song, "On, Wisconsin" to that state.

McCartney purchased the rights to that song and several other well-known school fight songs when he bought out Melrose Publishing Co. two years ago.

Dreyfus, in a letter dated Jan. 12, asked the former Beatle to give the rights to "On Wisconsin" to the state, in honor of his late songwriting partner, John Lennon. The gubernatorial request was sent to McCartney through Eastman & Eastman of New York, a business firm owned by McCartney's father-in-law. "It was a very nice letter," says Dreyfus' media coordinator, Sue Riordan. "The governor just said it would be a nice thing to do, and it would keep Lennon's memory alive here." Riordan says the governor got the idea from a participant in a call-in show on which he appeared.

Should McCartney comply with Dreyfus' request, it would be a largely symbolic gesture. The strains of "On, Wisconsin" are now heard primarily at University of Wisconsin athletic events and, according to Band Director Michael Leckrone, the school doesn't currently pay royalties to McCartney for use of its own fight song. "It's covered under the UW's ASCAP license, which is required of universities, radio stations, nightclubs and other places where music is played," says Leckrone.

Organic Solar Cells to be discussed

Dr. Allen J. Twarowski, assistant professor at the State University of New York, will be the guest speaker at the 180th meeting of the Susquehanna Valley Section of the American Chemical Society to be held Wednesday, Feb. 4 at Kuster Auditorium in Hartline Science Center on the BSC campus at 8:00 p.m.

Twarowski's topic will be on "Organic Solar Cells," a subject directly related to the conversion of sunlight to electricity.

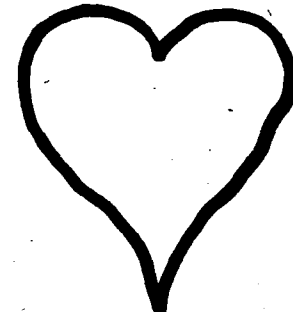

Arrangements for the meeting are being made through the BSC Department of Chemistry. The public is invited to hear Twarowski.

Scholarships available to music majors

Again this spring, scholarship funds are available for music majors. Application forms have been placed in the Haas mailboxes of all current music majors.

Anyone desiring to apply who is not a declared major in music should see Dr. Stanislaw for an application. Scholarships are available in entering students, as well as students currently enrolled, but students must be officially accepted by the Admissions Department and have "declared" the music major. The scholarship application deadline for all currently enrolled students is April 14.

Music scholarships are provided by the estate of Mabel Christian Jury, the fund raising efforts of the American Association of University Women (through the Symphony Ball by the College-Community Orchestra and the Studio Band), the National College Awards Program and numerous gifts from interested and generous community people.

There is also a band scholarship available to both music majors and non-majors. See Dr. Wallace for that special application for the Howard F. Fenstermaker Alumni Scholarship Fund.

THE PSALTERY, A DUO specializing in folk, will perform in a Coffeehouse Sunday at 8 p.m.

Duo encompasses folk for BSC

The Psaltery, a traditional folk duo, will perform in concert this Sunday at 8 p.m. in the Coffeehouse.

It has been said that every once in a while musicians come together who have the same musical tastes and aspirations. Such was the case in 1974 when Lil Labbe and Don Hinkley formed a duo named the Psaltery.

Each had been performing separately for years. Lil worked as a soloist and in a duo since the age of 12 while Don had been working in various combinations encompassing folk, jazz, blues and classical music. As the Psaltery, Lil and Don have since developed a full sound with two voices and two guitars by using harmonies and fingerpicking. Their goal from the very beginning has been to present as much musical interaction within the frame work of a duo as possible.

The music is contemporary and traditional folk with classical and jazz influences. The Psaltery's versatility reaches into composing and performing television soundtracks for the Maine Public broadcasting Network and New Hampshire Public Broadcasting and a soundtrack for a short film produced at the University of Texas in Austin.

The Psaltery has built a strong reputation for musical excellence and without exception audiences have offered warm and enthusiastic responses to their appearances.

The Psaltery has appeared at over 40 colleges and schools throughout the east and in Canada. They are members of the New England and Maine Touring Programs and have recently recorded an album of traditional French-Canadian songs for Philo Records entitled "Un Canadien Errant."

Ski club provides benefits for students

By CASEY MCKEOWN

How does Killington, Vermont sound? Or Elk Mountain, Camelback or Big Boulder?

All are hotbeds of skiing activity and all are apart of 15 planned trips sponsored by the BSC Ski Club for this ski season.

With a line-up of big name ski areas such as those listed above, it's no wonder membership in the ski club has more than tripled in the space of one short year.

New President

Ski Club president Tom Godfrey cited several reasons for this year's jump to 158 members one being the many trips and activities offered. Financial savings is another reason with an average of $4.00 saved per trip by each member. There is perhaps, an even more important reason.

"We want active members," said Godfrey. "We don't want people just hanging around." This is how Godfrey initiated the new members at the first club meeting. Members are expected to be involved and dedicated skiers. Participation is encouraged.

Membership for this semester is now closed but non-members can ski at group rates if they provide their own transportation to ski club destinations. For members, the $10.00 club fee reserves a spot on the bus for each trip and provides a $2.00 refund for lift tickets.

Ski Trip every week

Every Tuesday, a bus leaves Elwell Hall for an evening of skiing at Big Boulder. Weekend skiing, the club feels, is not worth the hassles as most areas are too crowded.

Presently, 16 of the club's members are involved with competitive racing and are preparing for the BSC Invitational racing events to be held at Big Boulder on Friday, Feb. 20. The "Invitational" is open to all BSC students and $10.00 will enter tour name.

Beginners can make out too. Arrangements can be made for equipment rentals and lift-ticket discounts along with private instructions if a means of transportation can be arranged. Interested people should contact one of the club officers - Godfrey, Trish Crossing, Tammy Weir or Preston Hay.

Trips in Future

A trip to Killington, Vermont in early January proved to be a "Super time for all" according to Godfrey. The Northbrook Condominiums offered fine accommodations. Similar trips in the near future are presently in the works.

Beginners, racers and avid skiers alike are all taking advantage of the programs and deals being arranged by the BSC Ski Club. These days trips to Killington, Camelback, Elk Mountain or maybe Lake Placid are the name of the game. Next year, who knows? How does Provo, Utah, Sun Valley or Vail, Colorado sound? Well, keep your fingers crossed.

The women show signs of weakening after an initial display of loyalty to their old lovers, much to the display and delight of their lovers. The plot becomes thick as the lovers reveal themselves to their women.

SPORTS

Bloomsburg's Reese having banner season

By DAN CAMPBELL

Don Reese - yup, he's in the headlines again. And before the season's over you might just get sick of his name. Lord knows that 134 lbers. across the nation are sick of him.

Don's record this year speaks for itself, 22 wins, 1 loss and two ties. His only loss came in the Lehigh Invitational where he wrestled at 126 lbs. and lost to Ricky Dellagatta, who just happens to be the No. 1 126 lb. wrestler in the country. Don lost to this wrestler from Kentucky 26-12.

Coach Sanders said that he wasn't surprised by Reese's success. "Donnie is a 2 time NCAA qualifier, 2 times Eastern Wrestling League champion, and two time Pennsylvania Conference Champion. He's also a good student," added Sanders.

The two ties are another story altogether. Both came at the hands of Iowa St. Cyclone Jim Gibbens. Gibbens has been ranked as the third best 134 lber. while Reese has been ranked sixth in the nation. Their first head to head confrontation came up at the Nelson Fieldhouse on Jan. 16. At the end of the match Don was ahead 6-5 but Gibbens had more than a minute riding time and was awarded the tying point for it.

They met again last Monday night at Ohio State University where Donnie was representing the East team as its 134 lber. in the East-West All-Star Match, where the national best competed head on.

Don was picked by the coaches and sports writers selection committee to represent the East in this annual showcase of the nation's best wrestlers. Reese described the trip as "Fantastic." The NCAA flew him out to Ohio Sunday, where he stayed "in a great house. The sponsors were great, the school was great, and the people were terrific - they treated all the wrestlers fine."

Oh- as to his and Gibbens bout, it turned out a 6-6 draw again, but I'm sure you already figured that out. And the NCAA flew Donnie back in time for practice Tuesday.

Coach Sanders was right about Don being a good student - he has a 3.35 gum and is an Elementary Education major.

Reese said that after he had wrestled Gibbens the first time, he wasn't too happy and wasn't to talkative when they first ran into each other out in Ohio. But after their bout on Monday, they had a chance to talk and actually became friendly.

Don went to high school in Hughesville, which is about 35 miles north of Bloomsburg. In Hughesville he was a two-time state champ.

His three choices for college were BSC, Penn State, and Wyoming. He chose Bloom because it "offered everything I wanted. It was close to home, a good school, and it was division

I, NCAA." When asked what he thought about Coach Sanders, his word was "Terrific." During the summers he doesn't wrestle much - he works on construction. After graduation he plans on working out west. But that will have to wait, Donnie - BSC's got you for another year.

Lady hoopsters bow to Scranton Royals

By KEVIN KODISH

Coach Sue Hibbs and her BSC women's basketball team ran into a very good team Monday night at Nelson Fieldhouse.

The Huskies had to contend with third ranked (Div. III) Scranton University, and the visiting Royals had an impressive arsenal. Though down by only ten points at the half, the Huskies succumbed by a 85-50 count.

Ann Crosson fired in a game-high 16 points to pace the winners. She was followed by teammates Fran Harkins and Fran Gabriel, who tallied 14 and 12, respectively.

Junior Trina Knittel tallied 14 points to lead the Bloomsburg scorers. Hilarie Runyon hit four field goals and four foul shots for 12 markers before making an early exit via the personal foul route.

Crosson started off the scoring in the contest at the 18:50 mark. She dropped in a layup for a 2-0 Scranton edge.

Knittel responded with a three point play to give the locals a 3-2 lead with 16:57 left in the initial 20 minutes.

Unfortunately for BSC, the 3-2 advantage would be the last time they had the lead. Harkins nailed a jumper to give the Royals a 4-3 edge.

M.J. Wertz then dropped in a pair of layups, the second of which came with 16:03 left in the period. The count was 8-3 and things began looking dark for the Huskies.

Kathy Palubinsky contributed a three point play to pull Bloomsburg back to within two points at 8-6, but that was all the Huskies could come up with for the rest of the night.

The guests reeled off eight unanswered points to take a commanding 16-6 lead with 13:30 left in the half.

BSC never came closer than six points the rest of the game. The Huskies did, however, run off a string of eight straight points before halftime.

LOCK HAVEN LOSS

Last Thursday, the Huskies traveled to Lock Haven for a meeting with the Bald Eagles.

They returned to Bloomsburg with an 83-59 defeat.

Teresa Derksen and Sandy Miller did most of the damage for Lock Haven, pouring in 22 and 21 points, respectively. Jan Brown added 14 to the Bald Eagle attack.

Palubinsky netted 21 markers to lead the BSC scorers. Runyon played a strong game, scoring eight points and pulling down 15 rebounds.

STAT PICTURE

Runyon and injured guard Mindy Lerit were the top two scorers on the squad through the first eight games. Runyon had an average of 12.9, while Lerit was close behind at 12.6 per game. Palubinsky ranked third with an 11.0 mark.

Runyon topped the team in rebounds with 96 for a 12.0 average. Deb Thom was next with a 6.8 reading.

Runyon also lead the locals in free throw shooting. The sophomore center hit 78 per cent of her charity stripe attempts so far this season.

Sue Hicks and Lerit yanked one-two in assists. Hicks tallied 32 after eight contests, while Lerit totaled 27.

Lerit heads the steals category with 12 thefts on the year. Hicks, Cheryl Sedlak and McDonald all have eight steals.

The team's record is now 4-7 for the year. They return to action tomorrow at Millersville.

BSC roundballers chalk up win over Scranton

By DAN LOUGHLIN

Paced by the 1-2 scoring punch of Mike Wenrich (25) and Jon Bardsley (22) the Bloomsburg State Huskies held back an intense Scranton comeback to squeeze past the visiting Royals 76-71 Monday night.

It was nip and tuck for most of the first half. The score was 12-11 Scranton when BSC scored six unanswered points. Ron Zynel hit a jumper, Bill Tillman blocked Royal shot at the other end and Bardsley connected on an 18 foot jumpshot from the top of the key.

Tillman made another great block as Bryant Thornwell had a sure two points on a breakaway. Tillman came from behind to make his second straight rejection. This set up a fast break in which Bardsley pulled up to nail a jumper from the foul line to put the Huskies up 17-12.

Scranton kept battling and tied it at 27 with 3:35 left. It was 34-33 when Wenrich took a perfect pass from Bardsley for an exciting ally-ooop play.

Bardsley then hit two fouls with :04 seconds left to set the halftime score at 38-33. Bardsley and Wenrich each had 12 and Zynel scored all 8 of his points in the half.

Bloomsburg came out smoking to open the second half. Wenrich scored the first five points. Bardsley hooked up with Tillman for another ally-ooop to make it 45-33.

Scranton called time-out to regroup, but BSC maintained its 12 point lead until a Scranton flurry pulled them to within four, 57-53.

During that span Bloomsburg's coach Chronister was called for a technical foul when Tillman was apparently fouled on an easy layup attempt. Tom Mineo sank both technicals.

The Huskies maintained their four point lead until Bardsley was called for a technical and Banus connected on a baseline shot to make it 61-60.

With five minutes remaining the Huskies went into their 4-to-score offense and raced to a 67-60 lead on four points from Bardsley and a Terry Conrad jumpshot.

Scranton narrowed it to 74-71 with :03 seconds to play. Bardsley was immediately fouled on the in-bounds pass and iced the game with two free throws.

Conrad also contributed to the Huskie's scoring with 17. Mineo lead the losers with 17 followed by Banus (14) and Kosin (10).

popular figure at the conference. "I think in 1980 we matured as a baseball team," the skipper commented when asked to describe the previous season. "We always knew the talent was there. Last year, we grew up and won as a team." Rose, who set an All-Star game record in 1979 by playing his fifth different position (lb.), responded to the question "Can the Phillies repeat?" "I think teams play better in back-to-back years," the 14-time All-Star said. "The best team I ever played on was the 1976 Reds."

(The Reds also won in 1975.) Joining Schmidt and Rose on the caravan was rookie sensation Keith Moreland. The Texas native hit .314 in his initial big league season, with most of his playing time being a backup to catcher Bob Boone. Green indicated that Moreland will see more duty in 1981. "We're going to run Keith in the infield and outfield this spring. He is going to play." After the dinner at St. Mary's, Phillies broadcaster Harry Kalas served as master of ceremonies for a brief program. He introduced the players and the rest of the travelling party, which included: executive vice president Bill Giles, promotions director Frank Sullivan, publicist and broadcaster Chris Wheeler and publicity head Larry Shenk. Each of the players, as well as Green and Owens, gave a short presentation to the crowd of 400. The speeches were replete with baseball stories, jokes and thanks to the fans for their dedication over the years in waiting for a championship. The Phillies organization concluded the program by showing the 1980 highlight film and saying, "See you this year at the Vet!"

The Cleveland State University Vikings came to Bloomsburg last Saturday to wrestle the Huskies in Eastern Wrestling League competition. Nelson Fieldhouse may never be the same. Both teams came into the dual meet not only as EWL powers but as national powers also, with both teams having been nationally ranked during the season at one time or another. The Vikings came out on top of this one 24-18. The Huskies jumped out to a quick 15-3 lead. Todd Cummings continued to wrestle well, beating Joe Swartz 10-3. It was likewise for Al McCollum who won 5-1 over Randy Cole. Tom Fiorvanti also wrestled well in an 8-3 win. Don Reese was awesome as he pinned his opponent, Don Foidesy, in 7:48. The Vikings three points came when Ed Fiorvanti lost a close 9-5 decision. Things were looking good. But then Cleveland State picked up 9 quick points. Matt Dulka won a superior decision at 158 lbs. over Al Mabus and Mark Johnson won a major decision over Brad Weigle at 167 lbs. The Huskies then lost six crucial points and one of their top performers and leaders when Bucky McCollum had to default because of injury. He dislocated his shoulder — the same shoulder that's been giving him trouble most of his career. He may return this season — but it's doubtful. It would be a real shame seeing he's a senior. But the Huskies hopes were rekindled when Butch Snyder was able to win a 12-6 decision over Vince Sakas. This made the match score 18 points for BSC, 18 points for Cleveland St. Then gutsy but outsized Husky Tyrone Johnson wrestled up at heavyweight. Tyrone was injured and had to default, giving Cleveland State the six point win. Tyrone's shoulder was injured but he may be back next week. And the Huskies trouble's continue as mounting injuries plague a potential top 20 ranking.
