

CGA Exec Council revokes CGA car

By ROBERTA CLEMENS

The Community Government Association revoked the use of CGA vehicles for one week to the Campus Voice at Monday's Executive Council meeting. The action was taken after The Campus Voice staff appealed the same decision that was made three weeks ago at an Executive Council meeting.

CGA claimed that the action was taken because the Campus Voice staff had received a few parking tickets throughout the year, and on one occasion, a car was not returned on time.

A Campus Voice representative, present at this week's Executive Council meeting explained that the reason the original action was appealed was because at the original meeting where the first action was taken, no one from the Campus Voice was there to present their side of the conflict.

The issue was brought up at the last CGA College Council meeting, held the Monday before spring break began. It was voted at this College Council meeting that the Campus Voice should have a chance to present their side of the council at the next Executive Council meeting.

A vote was taken at Monday's Executive Council meeting and the result showed that the Executive Council would stick to their previous decision.

In other action at the bi-monthly meeting, Jeff Ringhoffer, president of CGA expressed the need for a smooth transition from the present CGA officers to the newly elected CGA officers. According to Ringhoffer, the new officers will be instated at the last College Council meeting held this semester, which will be in late

ARS Program for students

THOMAS M. PERRY III

The Association of Resident Students is on the move. Trips and programs fill the remainder of the spring semester calendar with events to meet a wide range of interests.

A New York City trip on Saturday, March 14 is the next event of the semester. A bus will leave Elwell Hall at 8:00 a.m. and arrive at St. Patrick's Cathedral. Students will be free to tour the city at their own discretion, according to Joe Ozmina, co-president of ARS. The cost will be $7.

Another trip will be geared toward basketball fans. On Wednesday, March 18, ARS will sponsor a journey to Philadelphia for a professional basketball game between the Indiana Pacers and the hometown 76ers. "The $11 fee will pay for transportation and tickets for really good seats," said Mike Huben, ARS representative. The bus will leave Elwell Hall at 3:00 p.m.

"The fees required from the students are necessary in order to defer the total cost of the trips," Ozmina said. Money budgeted from the CGA accounts for the difference.

A weightlifting tourney, open to those students with a current BSC Community Activities sticker will be held on Tuesday, March 24. It is scheduled to begin at 7:00 p.m. in multi-purpose room A of the Kehr Union. Six weight classes will range from 140 pounds to above 220 pounds, with the winner of each class receiving a trophy and the runner-up, a shirt. In addition, a trophy will be offered for the best lifter among the lighter three weight classes and another for the heavier three weights. Entrants must sign up at the Kehr information desk in person.

ARS will sponsor events into April when a shopping trip to Reading, Pa. is planned for Saturday, April 4th. The excursion will begin at 8:00 a.m. in front of Elwell Hall and con-

Profs ponder Human Science Center

By C. L. Ulrich

Faculty members expressed comments and concerns about the preliminary "Occupancy and Renovation Plan" for the new Human Service Center, Hartline Science Center, and Sutliff Hall at a hearing last week and during individual interviews.

One major concern dealt with the distribution of office space.

At Wednesday's hearing Robert Rosholt, chairman of the Political Science Department, said, "The Political Science Department can get by with general purpose facilities. However, we do need office space. In Bakeless there are wall-to-wall people."

According to the preliminary plan, all faculty offices for the Nursing, Psychology, Sociology, and the Education Departments will be in the new building. Also, approximately 1,100 square footage of the new building will be used for additional faculty offices and administration areas.

According to the preliminary renovation plan for Hartline

Science Center, the Math Department offices will be relocated to the basement, with the Biology Department taking over the Math Department offices on the first floor.

Paul Cochrane, associate professor in the Math Department, expressed his opposition for this relocation on the basis that the offices would offer "no privacy and no security."

At Wednesday's hearing, Dr. Cochrane claimed that the approved decision to relocate Math Department offices was made by Dr. Stephen Beck, Chairman of the Math Department. Dr. Beck received "no input or planning from other members of the Math Department," charged Dr. Cochrane.

Dr. Beck refused to comment when approached about the issue.

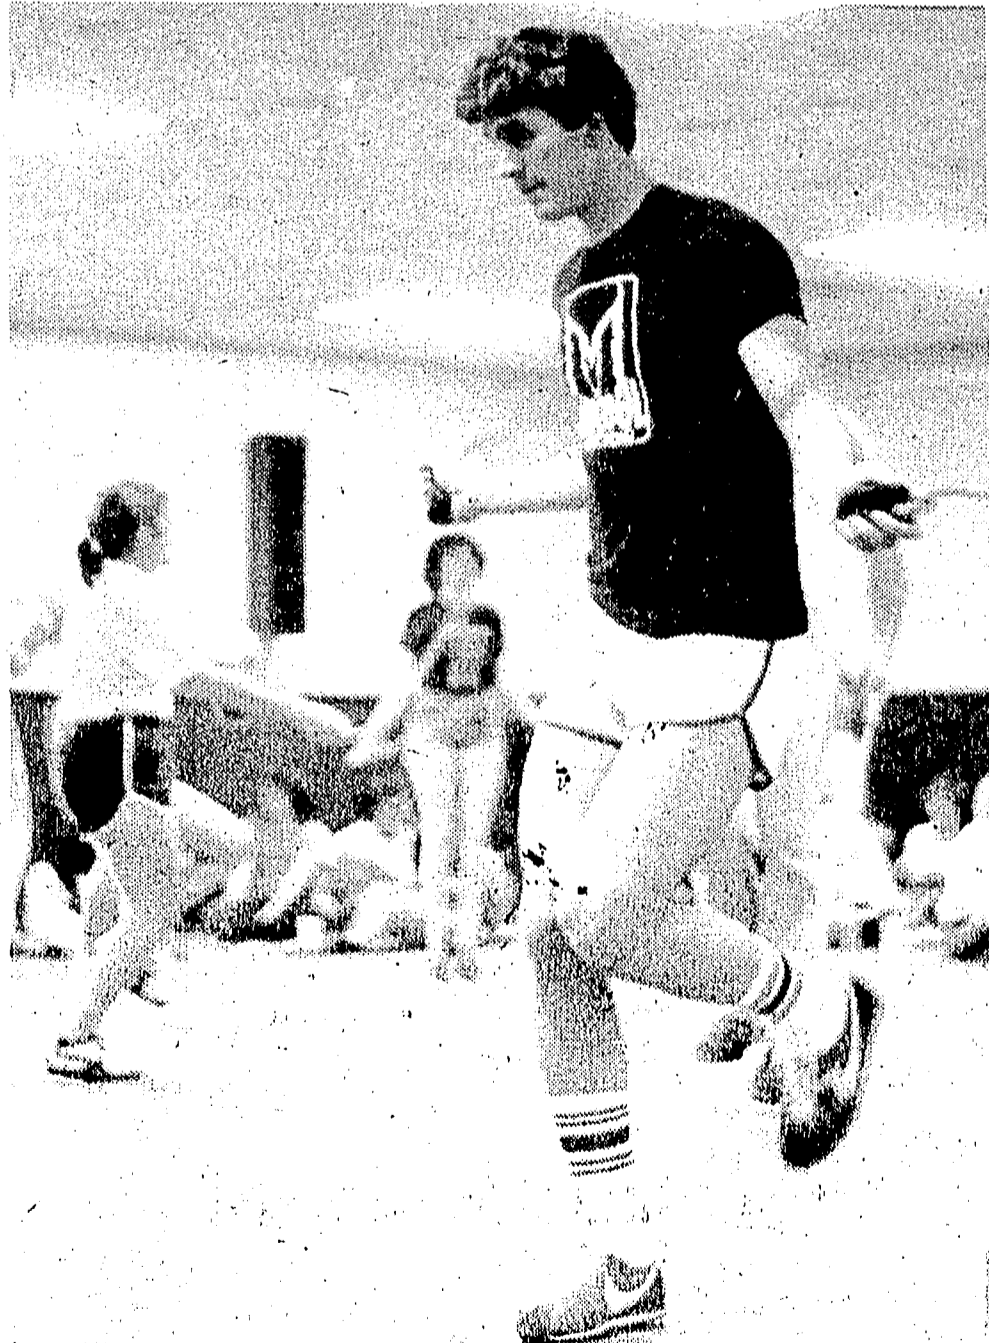

Raymond Babineau, professor in the Department of Secondary Education who is working as facilities consultant of the project, commented that the major problem with the

VITA thrives on BSC campus

BY PATTI SHOENER

A number of Bloomsburg business students, in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service and the Columbia County Agency for the Aging, are currently participating in the VITA (Volunteers in Tax Assistance) program. This program deals with the students volunteering their time to aid the elderly citizens of the community in preparing their tax returns, while concurrently gaining invaluable experience for themselves. The service is performed at the Court House every Monday through Friday from 12 to 3 p.m. The students have been assisted in preparing for this program through various informational sessions conducted by Dr. Norman Hilgar and Prof. Charles Baylor. This is the first year the business department is working to provide this service for the community but hopes to establish it as an ongoing project.

LEIP Interns in Harrisburg

Three students from Bloomsburg are currently interning for one semester in Harrisburg with the Life Experience Internship Program, (LEIP). Presently, there are 43 interns from all over Pennsylvania and other nearby states participating in LEIP. These students receive credit for practical work experience.

The following students are from BSC: Maryellen Baker, junior Accounting major, interning in the Department of Banking, Jean Kiewlak, senior Geography major, interning with the Department of Environmental Resources, Bureau of State Parks, and Cynthia Thomas, a senior Computer & Information Science major, interning with the Department of Environmental Resources, Bureau of Information Systems. Dr. Brian Johnson, Department of Geography and Earth Science, coordinates LEIP internships for BSC.

LEIP interns have the opportunity to meet many important state officials while in Harrisburg. At weekly seminars, students have the privilege of talking with members of the Governor's Cabinet. They watched history being made when the Governor presented his budget to the House of Representatives, and the Senate. Several interns have also sat in on sessions of the Legislature. LEIP provides their interns with quality placements, special events such as the photo session, career counseling and social activities — which all adds up to a meaningful, exciting semester in Pennsylvania's Capitol City.

Applications are now being accepted for the summer and fall program. For more information on this tremendous learning experience, contact Dr. Johnson or the LEIP office at 800 North Third Street, Harrisburg, PA 17102, 717-234-8213.

Loan next year?

Most of you know, by now, that tuition will be rising at least $200 the next two semesters. BSC's and the state colleges' primary purpose is to provide high quality, low cost education to those who can't afford $8000 a year. Yet, even as the state colleges are losing their affordability, the attitudes expressed by most of the students at BSC cling to 3 basic myths.

The 3 ideas presented here are myths and are totally untrue.

The first myth goes like this: "So what if tuition's going up? I'll just get a bigger loan or more grants."

Unfortunately, the federal government has recently said that in the next four years student aid will be cut back drastically. Federal loans (NDSL, GSL) which have low interest rates and long repayment policies are going to be severely restricted! Under Reagan's budget, the loans will only be given to the truly needy and students will be required to pay interest payments immediately!! Over the next 2 years, 100,000 fewer students will be able to get loans. Grants will also be reduced. The average Pa. state college student receives $1,046 in grant money but Reagan has proposed cuts of up to $300. He hopes to reduce student participation in the BEOG grant program by an estimated 286,000 students in both 1981 and 1982. The state grant program (PHEAA), is also going to be cut by 3 million dollars.

The second myth is that we, as students, can do nothing but sit back and let others control our financial difficulties. For many years that may have been true. But the state colleges in Pa. are extremely lucky. Since 1973, CAS, (Commonwealth Association of Students), has been lobbying for your rights in Harrisburg. Since 1973, CAS has prevented 3 tuition increases. We have introduced legislation into the State House and Senate which has been favorable to YOU! Last year, CAS led the fight to get money to build and renovate buildings on our campus. CAS has gained a good reputation in dealing with State Lawmakers. Rep. Roger Fisher, Chair, Pa. House Education Committee, says of CAS, "They are an effective and energetic voice in Harrisburg for state students."

However, even with the great success CAS has had, many students still see us as separate from them: "Yeah, you go to Harrisburg and fight to lessen my tuition." CAS can not do it alone. We need your support and active participation to be an effective force in deciding our own destiny. If we unite and work together, we can succeed!

"River and Blues" to visit BSC

By GINNY REED

The Susquehanna River and Blues Band will be presented by the Kehr Union Program Board this Sunday from 8-10 p.m. in the Coffeehouse.

The five-member local group has been performing together for about a year. The band has been well-received in area clubs and bars in which it has played regularly.

One reason may be its versatility: not only does its repertoire include old favorites from The Band, Commander Cody and David Bowie, but also some very intriguing original numbers.

Members of the band include keyboardist Bob Matthews, rhythm guitarist Jeff Brown, bass player Dave Kessler, lead guitarist Lenny Kishel and drummer Chuck Dangler.

Theatre group brings "Hot Molasses"

By BETSY WOLKIM

In accordance with this week's Minority Awareness events, the Cultural Affairs Department will host the musical production "Hot Molasses", to be performed by the nationally recognized Freedom Theatre Company at Haas Center March 1 at 8:15 p.m.

Freedom Theatre is a non-profit, Black theatre company from Philadelphia. Founded in 1966, it strives to offer the theatre arts to all gifted Blacks. In doing so, it was ranked in 1978 among the top 6 of 187 Black theatre groups in America.

Its production of "Hot Molasses" is "...a fast-paced, brown sugar sweet variety show", with plenty of laughter, dance, and song. Its upbeat, comedic theme enabled it to receive local television coverage.

According to Cultural Affairs director Dr. Ted Shanoski, "Hot Molasses" goes in line with the Broadway smash-hit "Bubbling Brown Sugar".

Freedom Theatre's original productions have gained attention from the media in its vicinity. Through its travels to Baltimore and Harrisburg, and in keeping within its Philadelphian boundaries, the company has gotten extensive ovation.

"Hot Molasses" is just one of the many happenings during this week of culture. Tickets are not required and there is no admission fee.

Scheduling Advisement

Scheduling-advisement for Fall Semester 1981 begins Monday, March 9 and will conclude Friday, March 27, 1981. Students should obtain a Fall Semester 1981 class schedule book from the College Store and arrange an appointment with their advisors as soon as possible.

Pass-Fail Option notifications for Spring Semester 1981 have been mailed to student mail boxes before the spring break.

AD Club prepares for competition

By DEBBIE BERKLEY
BSC students interested in advertising can use their creative talents and gain practical experience by becoming an active member of the Advertising Club. The Club, a charter member of the American Advertising Association, provides students with the opportunity to be a part of a national advertising competition, sponsored by the Advertising Women of New York. Last year's competition was held in New York, but it is still uncertain where this year's will take place. The campaign for this year will be Coors Premium Beer.

Mr. Steve Batory, associate professor of Business and advisor to the Advertising Club explains that the club is open to anyone — business and non-business majors.

Need creative people
"There is a need for creative people who have a knack for any type of communication," says Batory.

Putting together an advertising campaign and preparing for national competition requires people who are willing to work hard. A plans book and presentation must be compiled for the competition. BSC's Advertising Club will be competing with about 15 other schools (Universities and State Colleges).

"Every school receives the same information to work from, so it is purely competitive," says club president Larry Moyer, a senior majoring in Accounting. He was an active participant in last year's Nabisco campaign.

Every competitor must follow certain rules and regulations established by the AAF. Each team may consist of five presenters, and everyone uses the same equipment to prevent any one team having an advantage. Still, larger schools with more facilities beforehand have a slight advantage.

We lacked pizzazz
"We didn't know what to expect last year, so we lacked the pizzazz needed to make a better presentation," says Moyer.

The objectives of the competition are to provide students with a realistic problem which can be solved through team effort, organization, knowledge and creativity; to encourage students to solve the problem realistically using limited manpower, facilities and money; and to demonstrate to advertising professionals the effectiveness of advertising education in colleges and universities.

Moyer comments that the competition is as if the clubs are actually bidding for an advertising account. It is also rewarding and exciting for the artists to see their work displayed in front of six judges who are experts in the field of advertising.

In the beginning of the campaign, each school receives a case study prepared by the company's research team. It describes the background, current status and sales of the company. This year's Coors' campaign is aimed at the legal college age student. The project is not without its problems.

"One problem with the campaign is that Coors is only marketed in 17 western states, and it is not marketed on the east coast," says club member Mike Ross.

During the competition, teams show a story board and use a sound track to present their campaigns. They are judged on marketing techniques, advertising themes and objectives, sales promotion, and media techniques. The plans book, no more than 50 pages is judged on organization, graphics and format. The presentation is worth 40 percent of the total points, and the plans book merits the remaining 60 percent.

There's talent at BSC

Copywriters, artists and musicians are needed to make this year's campaign a success. "There is a lot of respectable talent at BSC, but no one is willing to come out," says Moyer.

By March, the plans book and presentation must be complete. This requires more student cooperation and involvement. This competition is a chance for BSC students to show their creative and organizational abilities.

GRACE AND POISE coveted the dancers form during the ballet performance on Monday night.

Duo concert at BSC

The Villanova Women's Glee Club, directed by Barry Prager, will appear in a combined concert with the Husky Singers, under the direction of William Decker, in Carver Auditorium on March 14, at 8:15 p.m. The concert is open to the public free of charge.

Selections of light music will comprise the program of choral and group numbers. Three barbershop quartets from the Husky Singers will perform as well as a folk group from Villanova. Each choir will sing spirituals, popular songs, and a few serious pieces, culminating with a combined performance of "The Impossible Dream" from MAN OF LAMANCHA.

remained unshaken." The pastor as well as the congregation was thankful that Bitterman was able to a martyr and "that he was deemed worthy to die for Christ." The church had held prayer meetings (as did the BSC group) for Chester, but it was as Bitterman's father said, apparently "God's will" for him to be martyred.

Bitterman's mother added that the family was "fully prepared for what the Lord wants."

According to Associated Press, Secretary of State Alexander M. Haig Jr. issued a statement saying, "the barbaric murder of Chester Bitterman by terrorists in Colombia is a despicable and cowardly act which we totally condemn." Apparently this was the only government reaction.

United Press International reports that Bitterman's wife and two young daughters left Colombia Sunday after the funeral services in Loma Linda, Colombia, where Chester Bitterman was buried.

The M-19 had demanded that Bitterman and his mission be expelled from the country, because of their belief in God and also claiming that Wycliffe was a CIA front and Bitterman an agent. President Reagan, the Colombian Government, and Wycliffe refused to negotiate with the terrorists.

Abell announces candidacy

John H. Abell, 912 Country Club Drive, has announced his intention to seek the Democratic nomination for Bloomsburg Town Council in the May 19 primary.

Appointed to the Town Council last August, Abell, 36, has served as the chairman of the Recreation committee as well as a member of the Administrative and Community Development committees. He also acts as the Council's liaison to the Town Park Improvement Association. Since his appointment, he has played an active role in all aspects of local government with special emphasis on the leasing of Athletic Park to the YMCA, town pool renovations, land acquisition for the Town Park, flood protection projects, and the recent adoption of a salary-based remuneration package for tax collection.

Since joining the BSC administrative staff eight years ago, Abell has served the Bloomsburg community in a number of leadership positions. He spent several years as secretary and later vice-chairman of the Town Planning Commission. In addition to his recent election to the Board of Directors for the Bloomsburg Public Library, he also cites his former membership on the Citizens' Advisory Board and the Bloomsburg Area School District Long-range Planning Committee. Co-founder of the Committee on Town-Gown Relations, he has actively promoted positive relationships between the college and the community at large.

The 1966 graduate of St. Lawrence University holds a B.A. degree in History-Government as well as a masters degree in college administration. He has continued his graduate studies at Bucknell University with coursework in educational law and public school administration.

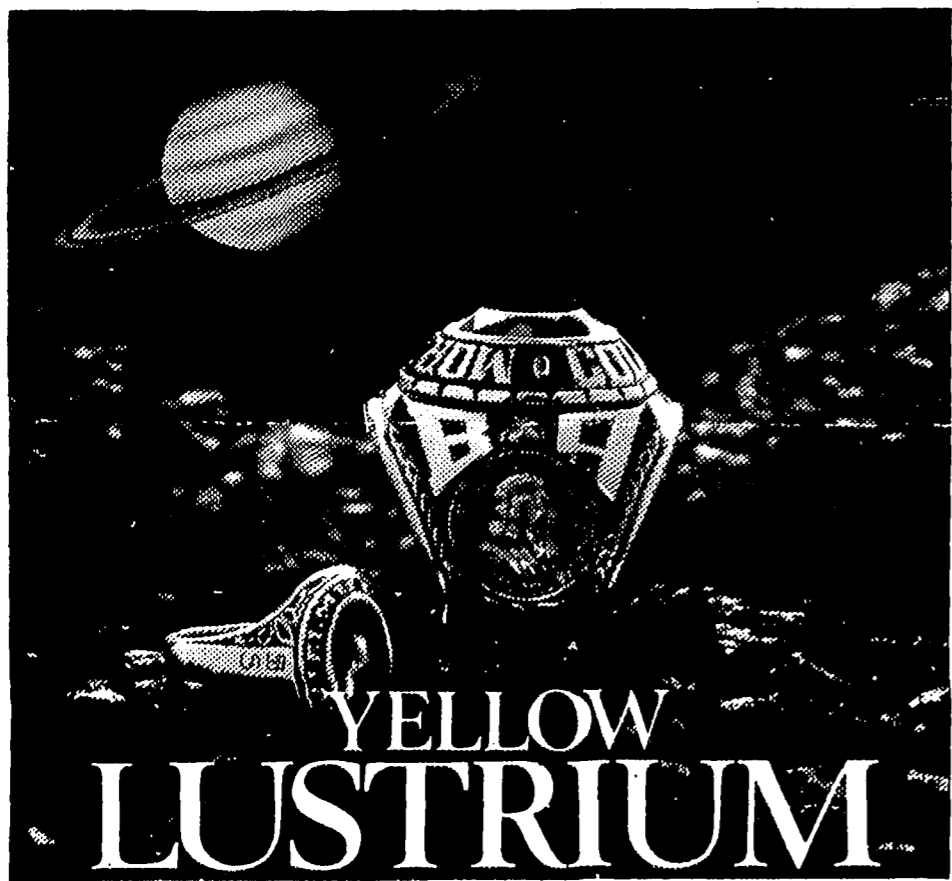

With respect to his qualifications for office, Abell states: "On the strength of my performance as a member of Town Council, my training as a professional administrator, and my record of public service over the past several years, I feel that I have a unique opportunity to continue serving the citizens of Bloomsburg as an effective, responsive town councilman."

Hostage Bitterman shot

By DAN CAMPBELL

Chester Allen Bitterman III, the missionary hostage held captive by leftist guerillas in Colombia since January 19, was executed early Saturday morning after the last of many deadlines passed around 4:00 a.m. His body, with a lone bullet hole in the heart, was found about a half an hour later. He was 28.

For the past week, Bitterman's condition was unknown. Then on Friday, a guerilla spokesman said that there would be no more deadlines and that Bitterman's mission group (Wycliffe Bible Translators) "had better start negotiations immediately, because this is the last chance that we are going to give him."

Later in the night, a Wycliffe spokesman said that the mission's negotiator had been trying to contact the guerillas but had gotten no response.

Then late Friday, the guerilla group, known as M-19, announced that time had run out. Bitterman's body was found a few hours later in a hi-jacked minibus wrapped in a M-19 red and black flag.

Bitterman had been heavily drugged before being murdered so, apparently, he did not suffer.

Bitterman had been corresponding with BSC's Christian Fellowship group, with whom he shared his work and needs - including his concern about guerilla activity in the Bogota area.

Kathy Whitmer, a student at BSC and a member of the Christian Fellowship, is a member of Chester's home church in Lancaster, Pennsylvania. She attended services at the Calvary Independent Church on Sunday, as did Bitterman's parents. The missionary was remembered during the services as well as afterwards. The churches supported Bitterman's work in Columbia.

Whitmer said that the churches "faith in God" (Continued on Page 6)

RA possibles evaluated

BY JOHN FERGUSON

Evaluation of applicants for Resident Advisor (RA) positions were held Sunday, Feb. 8. The process involved answering questions and certain hypothetical situations to see how each applicant would handle and interpret them as an RA. The second phase of the selection process was an interview before Feb. 20 with a dean and a senior RA.

The candidates went to Bakeless Center where they were divided into groups. The group members were presented questions and situations by an RA. The job of the RA was to present the materials and explain the purpose. That RA then had a say in the evaluation of his or her group members at the end of the day.

Along with the RA was a dean who observed individual reactions to the questions and the way candidates handled the situation presented.

According to Tony Gallo, assistant to the dean of Northumberland Hall, "The group interacted very well and acted mature in certain situations."

A major problem with the selection was a lack of applicants - especially among males. Thirty men applied for RA positions. While sixty girls applied for the positions.

Even with these low numbers, Joe Pavlacka, RA for Northumberland commented, "There was a definite mixture among the group. Some candidates expressed freely while others did not contribute to group discussion."

project (now only in its planning stage) is concern for the Math Department offices.

However, Dr. Babineau said this problem should be solved by today when the plan should be complete.

The preliminary plan for the renovation of Sutliff Hall will result in all spaces being assigned to the School of Business. General purpose classrooms will still be assigned by the Registrar with priority given to business courses. "We haven't run into any problems with this plan," Babineau said.

There is generally a good feeling about the project as a whole. "The new building will meet a lot of unmet needs for the Mass Communications and Nursing Departments in particular," Babineau said.

Gertrude Flynn, chairperson of the Nursing Department, is pleased with the appropriations the department received. "The first hurdle is over. We got the appropriation. Everyone pulled together to get this," Flynn said.

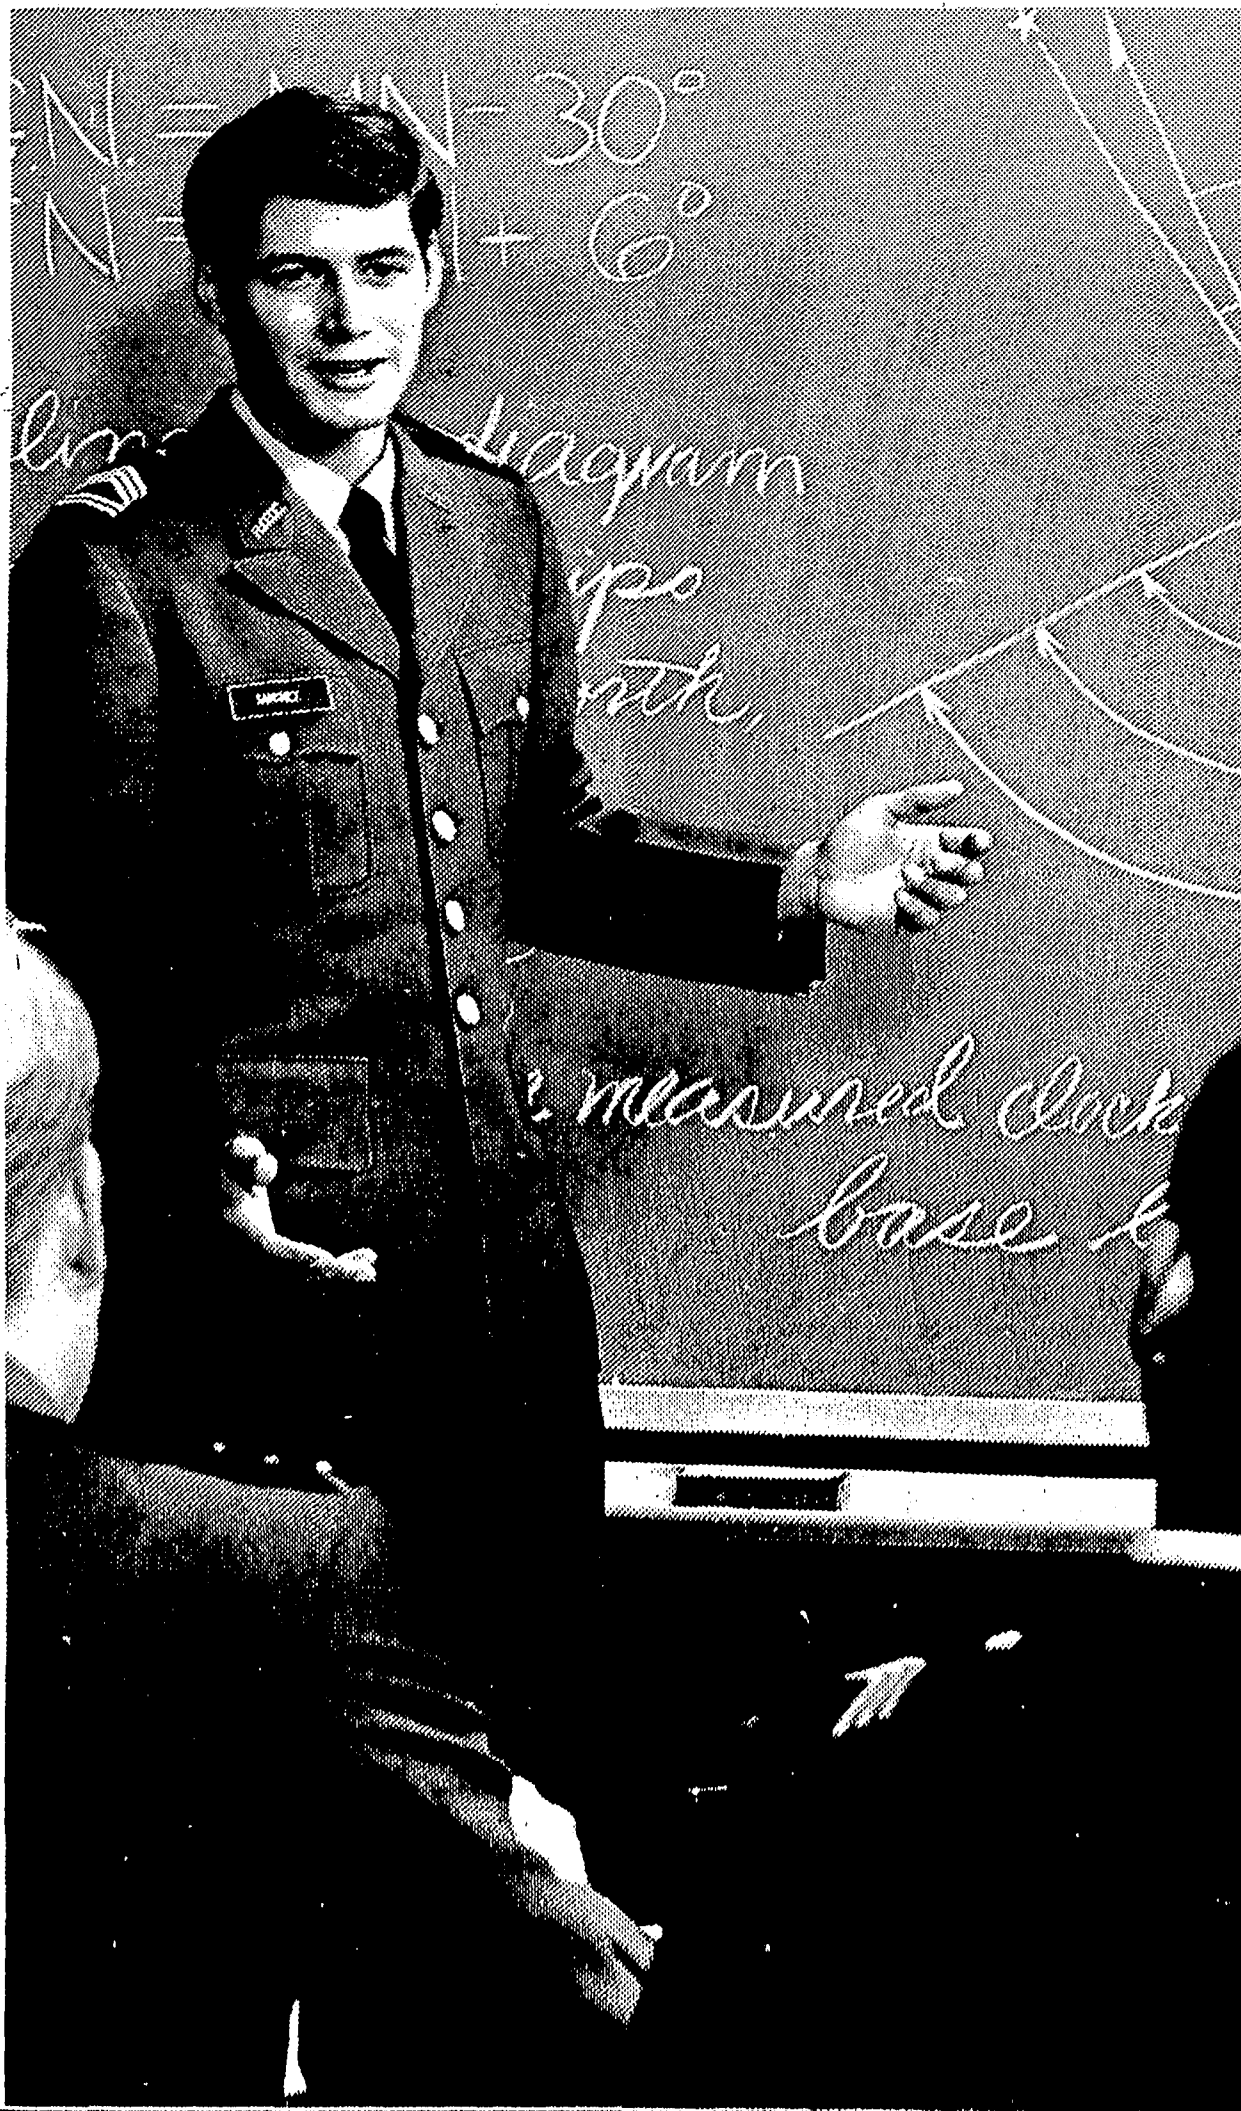

Lee Ann Pietrzykoski, vice president of the Mass Communications Club, is glad that facilities to help the Mass Communications Department grow are finally being provided. "BSC has the potential for a strong Mass Communications Department. We are anxious to see the program developed," Pietrzykoski said.

The Communications Departments should be quite satisfied with the generous portion of the building allotted to the Technology - Media Complex, said Richard Alderfer, associate professor of Speech, Mass Communications, and Theater.

"We have the building because of the coordinated efforts of students, faculty, and administration in planning for it and justifying the need for it to the legislators," said Dr. Alderfer.

Although the "Occupancy and Renovation Plan" for the Human Services Center, Hartline Science Center, and Sutliff Hall is not complete, progress is being made on this project.

YOUR LAST 2 YEARS OF COLLEGE COULD BE YOUR FIRST 2 YEARS OF MANAGEMENT.

The Army ROTC 2-year program trains you to become an officer for a modern organization - today's Army - which also includes the Army Reserve and Army National Guard.

An officer who is not only a leader of men, but a manager of money and materials as well.

That's why one of the things you'll learn in our 2-year program is management training skills.

Your training will start, the summer after your sophomore year, at a six-week Army ROTC Basic Camp.

You'll earn over $400 for attending Basic Camp. And up to $1,000 for each of your last 2 years of Army ROTC.

But the biggest reward comes on graduation day. That's when you receive both a degree in your chosen major and a commission. And join the Army management team.

Bloodmobile needs donors

BY JILL TYNDALL

The Bloomsburg Chapter of The American Red Cross will have a bloodmobile at BSC on March 18 and March 19. Donations will be greatly appreciated - students and faculty are invited to donate blood on these days between 10:45 a.m. - 4:45 p.m. The bloodmobile will be located in Union Multipurpose rooms A and B.

Facts You Should Know

- 1) Every seven seconds someone needs a pint of blood, and one pint of blood can be used to save as many as five lives!
- 2) Donating blood is physically good for you. By donating blood you are preventing a build-up of germs and diseases in your bloodstream. The blood is then processed and tested at the Blood Center. If anything abnormal shows up in the testing, the blood center will contact you immediately.
- 3) Most people, especially the young, can donate blood. Some of the reasons why people cannot donate include the following: they've had hepatitis, high blood pressure, weigh less than 110 pounds, or are on medication. If you do not fit into any of these categories, you most likely are a suitable donor. If you are uncertain whether or not you can donate, let the experts decide.
- 4) The actual time it takes to give blood is only seven minutes. The entire process, from the time you walk in, until you leave, takes approximately 45 minutes...but think about it...isn't 45 minutes of your time worth saving a life?

Mike Azar, BSC comptroller, and advisor to the Council reported that budget hearings for the requested budgets of student organizations will be held Saturday, March 14 from 10 A.M. to 4 P.M. and Sunday, March 15 from 1 P.M. to 4 P.M.

Appeals for the decided budgets will be held on Saturday, March 28.

Azar also reported that $30 has been allotted to the Campus Beautification campaign. This committee is being formed by CGA to make students respond to keeping the campus clean.

In final action, during open forum, Paul Felkner commented that a few of the CGA vehicles are unsafe due to mechanical problems. He also suggested that drivers of the vehicles should be required to take a test to show their knowledge of how a vehicle works, so that they can determine what is causing a malfunction in the CGA vehicles. Ringhoffer said that a committee would be set up to look into all possibilities.

Swim team seventh

By CINDY PECK

A fourth place in the 400 yd. medley relay and a sixth place in the 400 yd. individual medley gave the mens' swimming and diving team seventh place with 80 points in the 22nd annual State College Swimming and Diving Championships held last weekend at Clarion State College.

Clarion, who has been the champion for the past 10 years, amassed 681 points to again win the championship. Shipensburg placed second with 341 points.

Coach Eli McLaughlin expressed much praise for "The Pentagon," as the five who traveled to states termed themselves. They are sophomore captain Phil Spampinato and freshmen Carl Helstrom, Tom DiMarco, Matt Thran and Phil Christian.

The team of Christian, Thran, Spampinato and Helstrom took third in their heat of the 400 yd. medley relay to advance to the finals, where they placed fourth to put BSC's first 22 points on the board.

Spampinato placed second in his heat in Friday's trials of the 400 yd. individual medley with a new personal best time of 4:27.61. This advanced him to the finals, where he garnered sixth place and nine points for the Huskies.

In Thursday's trials of the 500 yd. freestyle, DiMarco placed second in his heat with a new personal best time of 5:10.75, but did not advance. Spampinato also failed to advance in the 200 yd. individual medley, although he placed fifth in his heat with a new personal best of 2:06.86.

Helstrom, who McLaughlin said "shows a lot of promise," took sixth in his heat of the 50 yd. freestyle with a new personal best time of 22.87.

DiMarco just missed advancing to the finals when he took second in his heat of the 200 yd. freestyle with a new personal best time of 1:52.80. Helstrom, who "entered as a longshot and did a super job," in the 100 yd. butterfly, placed fifth in his heat with a time of 57.85 to advance to the consolation finals, where he placed eighth with a time of 56.24.

Christian, who took third in his heat of the 100 yd. backstroke, took ninth in the consolation finals with a new personal best of 57.78. Thran also advanced to the consolation finals in the 100 yd. breaststroke, where he took ninth with a time of 1:03.48.

In the 800 yd. free relay, the team of Helstrom, DiMarco, Spampinato and Christian took seventh in trials and consolation finals, where they knocked over 40 seconds off their seed time with a 7:33.81 final time.

In Saturday's trials, DiMarco took first in his heat of the 100 yd. freestyle with a time of 50.98, but failed to advance. Helstrom, who swam the race in 50.97, took fifth in his heat and also failed to advance.

Christian took fourth in his heat of the 200 yd. backstroke with a new personal best of 2:08.33 to advance to the consolation finals, where he took eleventh with a time of 2:07.18. Thran took eleventh in consolation finals of the 200 yd. breaststroke with a new personal best time of 2:19.76 after taking fourth in his trial heat.

Spampinato improved his seed time by seven seconds in the 200 yd. butterfly by taking fifth in his trial heat and eleventh in the consolation finals with a new personal best time of 2:07.24.

The 400 yd. free relay team of Helstrom, DiMarco, Spampinato and Christian was beaten by East Stroudsburg by .44 in the trials. However, they did beat E.S.'s trial time as the Huskies swam to a 3:23.29 time in the consolation finals.

"The five are eager," said McLaughlin. "I have so much respect for them."

Wrestlers win EWL crown

By DAN CAMPBELL

The BSC wrestling team tallied four titlists one second place and two third place finishes en route to becoming Eastern Wrestling League Champions over the last weekend in February.

The Huskies defeated defending champion Clarion St. 72-67. Clarion was heavily favored to win the tournament after winning the regular season championship. During the season the Huskies finished in a tie for second with Penn St. and Cleveland St., all having 4-2 EWL records.

Todd Cummings, Ed Fiorvanti, Don Reese, and Tom Fiorvanti all won EWL crowns, qualifying them for the NCAA tournament to be held in Princeton, N.J. Al McCollum also qualified as a result of his second place finish.

Gibbes Johnson and Butch Snyder just missed qualifying, both of them finishing third. Bucky McCollum had to default when he suffered his third shoulder injury of the year.

Todd Cummings is a sophomore from Smithtown, New York. His overall record for this year is 25-9-3 (9-3-3 duals). His career record is 39-25-4.

Wrestling at 118 lbs., Todd's championship was no easy matter. After eight minutes of scoreless wrestling with Lock Haven's Mike Millward, last year's EWL runnerup, Todd managed 1 point in the overtime period to win his crown. Todd has been a giant killer all season long.

Wrestling next at 126, Ed Fiorvanti worked wonders when he pinned defending EWL champ Dan Foldesy of Cleveland St., the host school of the tourney. Ed was also a Pa. Conference Champion.

Ed is from Massapequa, New York. His overall record this year is 26-9-0 (10-4 duals). Fiorvanti's career mark at BSC is (57-20). He pinned six opponents this season. Ed is a senior.

Don Reese made it 3 for 3 for the Huskies. Reese, two time EWL champ at 126, decided two time EWL 134 lb. champ Randy Miller of Clarion 6-3.

Reese, recognized as one of the best 134 lb.ers in the nation, had an unbelievable record this year. His log reads 34-2-2 overall, 15-0 in dual meets, 13 pins, 4 superior decisions, 6 majors. His career mark is 125-26-2. A two time state champ in high school, Reese is now a three time EWL champion. He is currently a junior. Don is from Hughesville, Pa.

Next came Al McCollum at 142. His opponent was Penn St.'s Bernie Fritz, whom he had beaten 8-2 at Bloomsburg on Feb. 19. But this time Fritz, a runnerup in last year's EWL tourney, came out on top in a 2-1 win.

Al is a junior from Sunbury, Pa. He was 29-9 this year (14-3 duals). He had 8 pins. His career mark is 61-25-2. He was also a runnerup in the Pa. Conference.

Tom Fiorvanti continued the Huskies' dominance of the finals round of the tourney. Going into the EWL, Tom had a 22-11 record (11-4 duals). Tom won a close 6-4 decision over Pitt's Mike Bond, last year's runnerup.

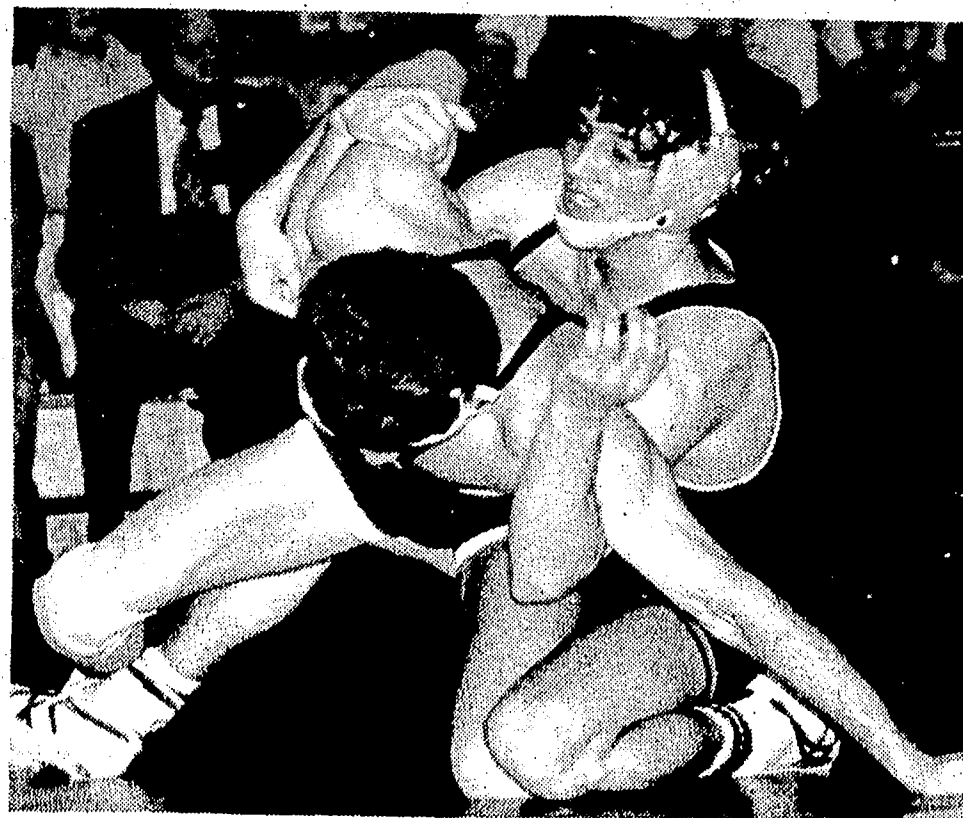

Tom is the younger of the Fiorvanti brothers, a sophomore at BSC.

Gibbes Johnson decided West Virginia's Nick Ruland and Butch Snyder decided Lock Haven's Steve Williams on their way to third place finishes that allowed the Huskies to capture the team championship.

Greg Sacavage wrestled at 190 lbs. lost to Joel Johnson of Penn State in the first round. The team didn't take a heavyweight to the tourney.

Coach Roger Sanders was ecstatic. He described the EWL Championship as "without a doubt the greatest team performance in my nine years at Bloomsburg. It was a super team effort considering we went without a heavyweight. The

Wenrich, Bardsley lead Huskies to title

Bloomsburg and champions. The two words are now synonymous.

Yep, you got it! In case you

Bardsley pushed the Husky lead back to 10 with two consecutive jumpers from the side of the key. BSC never led by more than 12 and IUP cut the tournament with a 76-70 win over Clarion State on Friday, Feb. 27th at Nelson Field House.

Tillman finished the night with 14 points on five of nine scoring burst in the opening minutes of the second half propelled the Huskies to a 45-40 lead. Clarion pulled to within one, 64-63, with 4:30 remaining but Bloomsburg's four-to-score offense maintained the Husky lead.

All five BSC starters hit double figures led by Mike Wenrich (16), Tillman (14), Jon Bardsley (12), Casey (11), and Francisco (10).

Clarion was led by Vernon King and Joe Malis with 19 and 17 points respectively.

ESSC THRASHING

February 25th meant the beginning of spring break for most students at Bloomsburg State College. However, to the BSC basketball team, it meant the beginning of post-season playoff action.

The Huskies of Bloomsburg destroyed East Stroudsburg State College, 80-57, in a preliminary round of the Pennsylvania Conference playoffs.

With the win, BSC advanced to the opening game of the conference tournament against Clarion State College. All tourney games were held at Nelson Field House.

The one-sided victory also meant revenge for Bloomsburg. East Stroudsburg gave the Huskies a scare in their first meeting as BSC pulled out a squeaker, 69-67. The Warriors then turned the tables and embarrassed Bloomsburg 57-44, as the Huskies shot a miserable 36 percent from the floor.

Bloomsburg shot much better in the two team's third encounter, hitting a torrid 63 percent from the field. Mike Wenrich burned the nets on 11 of 13 shooting, 7-8 in the first half, as the Huskies built a 38-27 lead at intermission.

The first few minutes of the second half led to the downfall of the Warriors as Bloomsburg went on a 14-4 scoring spurt that pushed their lead to a commanding 21 points, 52-31.

Jon Bardsley and Barry Francisco backed Wenrich's game high 23 with 13 and 12 points, respectively. Both played a smooth floor game. Ken Casey also made double figures with 11. Freshman Tom Mason also had a hand in the scoring, as the walk-on from Neshaminy-Langhorne lead the reserves with four markers.

Bloomsburg's defense played a key role in the win by limiting Stroudsburg's all-time leading scorer, Don Bones, to a career low seven points. Lutz paced the Warriors with 13.

lightweights have carried us on their shoulders all season long and they came through again. They certainly lived up to what we knew they were capable of, even though no one else gave them much credit."

Sanders added that qualifiers would leave for Princeton on Tuesday. He said that, "Probably Eddie and Donnie will be seeded. We're ready. We won't be going down there for a vacation."

Steve Sefter, Penn St. heavyweight was voted outstanding wrestler of the tournament.

haven't heard by now, during spring break, Bloomsburg State College became basketball champion of the Pennsylvania Conference by capturing the conference's tournament held at Nelson Fieldhouse.

Bloomsburg defeated the "Big Indians" of Indiana University of Pennsylvania, 72-63, behind a great individual performance from sophomore Mike Wenrich.

Wenrich was a one man wrecking crew. He finished with 29 points, 19 in the first half, including BSC's first eight points of the game. The six foot-five forward from Reading was on fire, hitting eight of nine field goals in the first 20 minutes, finishing 12 for 15 and five for five from the free throw line.

The Huskies trailed 11-10 when Wenrich hit a three-point play at 12:30 to send BSC out in front for good. It also ignited a 17-6 scoring burst that gave the Huskies a 10 point cushion with five minutes remaining in the half. Jon Bardsley pumped in eight during the burst including a long jumper from the corner with two seconds left to set the halftime score at 37-25.

Things were shaky for Bloomsburg at the start of the second half, as IUP scored the first six to close the gap to 37-31. Brown nailed a long jumpshot and Mitten made a nice steal and scored. BSC turned the ball over on a 10 second call, giving Scott the opportunity to score on a strong inside move.

lead to seven on three different occasions.

Bloomsburg then spread its offense with a semistall. The Indians were forced to foul. Unfortunately for the Indians, Terry Conrad and Barry Francisco converted the one-and-one free throws.

Conrad really iced the game with 20 seconds left. He made a clean steal near mid-court, drove for a layup and was fouled, setting the final score, 72-63.

Wenrich led all scorers with 29, followed by Bardsley with 16. Francisco played a good all around game, netting 10 points, pulling down six rebounds, and dishing out five assists.

Scott (19), Mortaon (15), and Mitten (13) did most of the scoring for the "Big Indians".

In addition to the big win, Bardsley and Wenrich were honored for their fine individual play. Both made the all-tournament team. Wenrich was also chosen Most Valuable Player, totalling 45 points on 19-for 27 from the field and grabbing 14 rebounds.

The win was Bloomsburg's 23rd, a new school record. It also marked the first time in six years that Cheyney State did not win the PA. Conference.

HUSKIES TOP

CLARION

Led by the inspired play of Bill Tillman, the Huskies of Bloomsburg State College advanced to the championship of the Pennsylvania Conference shooting from the floor. The senior tri-captain from Cranford N.J. soared high above everyone to block numerous shots, intimidate shooters, and pull down seven rebounds.

The first half saw Clarion jump out to an 11 point lead, 22-11, before Bloomsburg fought back to within one at intermission, 36-35. Ken Casey, Barry Francisco, and Tillman each had eight in the half to pace the Huskies.

Alvin Gibson shocked everyone when he was ejected from the game because of a flagrant foul at the 12:47 mark of the first half. Terry Conrad was on the receiving end of the foul. The two players had exchanged words which led to Gibson throwing a punch at Conrad that landed on his head.

Conrad was shaken up, but returned to action later in the game. Gibson averaged over 21 points per game and his ejection caused problems in Clarion's offensive attack.
