TKE and American athlete on the run once again

By ROBERT STILES

In conjunction with Renaissance Jamboree '81 to be held on April 25, Tau Kappa Epsilon and American Athlete of Bloomsburg are co-sponsoring the 3rd Annual TKE-American Athlete Run.

The charity run will begin at 11 p.m. and cover 10,000 meters (6.2 miles), winding through downtown and rural Bloomsburg. The starting and finishing point will be at the town square on Main and Market Streets. All proceeds from this charity run will go to St. Jude's Children Research Hospital, Memphis, Tennessee.

"I expect this run to be even bigger than last year's run," says Joe Brady, chairman of the run for TKE. "Last year's run was extremely successful, and there have been more people calling up for applications so far this year." A total of 80 runners took part, and $240 was raised for the same charity in the 1980 run.

Applications and information are available at the information desk. Cost for runners before the April 25 date is three dollars, and four dollars on the day of the run. Checks should be made out to Tau Kappa Epsilon and sent along with the application to: Tau Kappa Epsilon, Box 8, Kehr Union, Bloomsburg State College, Bloomsburg, Pa. 17815, but applications will also be accepted up until a half-an-hour before the beginning of the run.

"Each year, the run gets better. In fact, a lot of the runners wanted us to have a race in the spring and fall," says Bob Coy of American Athlete. "Another good point about the run is that it's good for community and college relations."

Trophies will be awarded to the first three finishers. Gift certificates to American Athlete will also be given to the first three finishers in each of nine classes. Those classes are, open, high school, 18-25, 26-30, 31-35, 36-40, 41-50, 51-60 and 61 and over.

The check-in-time is 10:30 a.m. at the square. This is the second service project TKE has been involved in this semester.

Search continues for vice president of academic affairs

By DEBBIE JONES

For the many students who may not have known, there has been a search going on since last November to find a new Vice-President for Academic Affairs.

A search and screen committee was set-up consisting of seven faculty members selected by vote, and one student chosen by the CGA. Members of the committee are: Wayne Anderson, William Baillie, Patricia Boyne, Mary Lieb, Howard Macauley, John McLaughlin, Aaron Polonsky and Kenneth Schnure.

This committee has met formally eight times, beginning on Nov. 24, 1980. It has been a nationwide search drawing applicants from all areas. "We've just seemed to hit a good mixture," says McLaughlin. Over 100 people have applied for the position.

The panel has narrowed their search down to four possible candidates. They will each come to BSC for two day sessions beginning in April. There are requisite skills needed to apply for this position. "This chief academic officer is charged with planning, budgeting, directing, implementing and reviewing all academic programs. This officer reports directly to the president and assumes the president's duties when the latter is absent from campus," as stated in a nationwide advertisement. This officer's starting salary, depending on qualifications and experience will range between $34,621-$41,232.

After April, the committee will narrow their decision down to at the most three possible candidates. They will then present the names to President McCormick. Since this officer will be working with the president, it is his decision on who will be the new Vice-President for Academic Affairs. The chairman of the Search and Screen Committee, McLaughlin stated, "I think that we have identified very good people, and will end our search soon."

Applications are now being accepted for the position of Executive Editor of The Campus Voice for the 1981-82 School Year.

All interested persons should send a resume to Roberta Clemens, c/o The Campus Voice, Box 97 KUB. The deadline for applying is April 24.

Bits-n-pieces

Horrified of Assassination

BY BILL WHITE

As I arrived home this afternoon I turned on the television expecting some entertainment and instead was horrified to see the attempted assassination of President Ronald Reagan out side of the hotel where he had a speaking engagement. Although I have not been much of a fan of Reagan's and many of his policies, I have grown to respect the man for many of the stands he has taken. I am not opposed to the draft, I am against welfare fraud and support Reagan's stand on these matters. I am against his federal hiring freeze and cutbacks to education, and legal aide to the poor.

I am also against anyone who feels it is their responsibility to take matters into their own hands and just because they disagree with presidential and governmental policies needlessly gun down the chief executive of this land and injure bystanders. I am against gun control but I feel now that there must be more careful screening with regards to sale of handguns in general.

This goes to prove that security measures to protect the president are inadequate. Eye witnesses have reported that there was a large crowd of unauthorized people behind the presslines. A heavily armed security force (I noticed in film taken of the shooting that one agent carried an Israeli U.Z.I. submachine gun) does no good when security reconnaissance is not carried out to insure that terrorists cannot get to the president.

This last election had one of the poorest turnouts of the ages as has been seen. Instead of shooting the head of state, injuring innocent people, the people of this country had better use their vote to elect those into office who have their interests at heart.

It is repugnant to me to use violence against a governmental official. It is an act of cowardice which should concern every citizen. It is the hope of mine that this country will return to its senses and uphold those values which we hold dear, those values guaranteed to everyone under the constitution and the Bill of Rights, those values guaranteed to everyone from the president all the way down to the off duty cop and average citizen. I am not gung-ho government but I feel that no one should be shot for standing up for their beliefs and while trying to do the best job he can at an office which we all voted him into. It is my sincere wish that Reagan will soon return to his office and resume his post as the president. WE also wish to offer our sympathy and understanding to all those injured in the tragic assassination attempt.

Stuff yourself in a hot tub

Come one, come all to Bloomsburg's First Annual Hot Tub Stuffing Contest. This event is sponsored by Lambda Alpha Mu and Colonial Stove Shop for the benefit of The American Red Cross. It is being held on April 25 in conjunction with the Spring Renaissance - Jamboree.

The object of the contest is to see how many contestants can fit into the six foot hot tub which can prove quite interesting. The world record is 39 people but we intend to break that record right here in Bloomsburg so be sure to register your team NOW.

Contestants must be at least 18 years old and be on a registered team. Registration forms are available at the Information Desk.

If you have any further questions, contact Scott Blair, 784-6600 or Pam Hazen, 784-8622.

Return the tablecloth

TO THE EDITOR:

Philip Roy must be punished for the kidnapping of the yellow tablecloth. His action was not in keeping with the vandalism and senseless waste that goes on daily at this campus, particularly at the Scranton Commons. The tablecloth is not going to have the opportunity to be soiled by hands too lazy to grasp a napkin. No longer will it be stained, intentionally, by ketchup or graced by the student's "BIC." The tablecloth must be freed!

Mark my words. This is only the beginning. Soon students will rip off trays from the dining hall to use as sleds, faculty members will request free copies of texts from publishers that they have no intention of using for classes, our entire education system will crumble. All because of one yellow tablecloth.

Concerned

Biased on TMI March

TO THE EDITOR:

I would like to make a few comments concerning the recent article in the Voice about the TMI march.

I would first like to say, that the author seems to take a biased view of the subject. This, in itself, is not harmful unless it hampers his ability to relay accurate facts and accounts. I feel that he is not treating fairly the whole account of the accident.

In his first paragraph, he states that "Saturday, March 28, was the third anniversary of the accident at Three Mile Island." It was, of course, the second anniversary. To further refresh his fading memory, the streets of no town near TMI were deserted except to keep people indoors for their own safety. For the record, Met-Ed advised this action.

He also mentions a coverup. I must remind him that any failure to report the facts was not entirely Met-Ed's fault. The media, in general, has been known to misinform the public and create confusion as was evident in the reporting of the recent assassination attempt on the president. As you may recall, many rumors were reported as fact.

The author also states that he knows one of the physicists who worked at TMI. I find this difficult to believe for the following reasons. He stated that his friend said "if TMI approaches critical mass or starts to meltdown,..." that much of the East Coast would turn into a "nuclear wasteland." He makes it sound as if TMI could explode like a nuclear bomb. This is impossible! A nuclear physicist would surely know this.

He would also, naturally, lose his job for speaking to anyone because there is a safety factor that he obviously did not prescribe to. This safety factor that I refer to is designed to prevent the spreading of rumors which many times spawn from facts not released properly. Furthermore, he was a physicist, not a public affairs person.

There may also be numerous reasons for his departure from Met-Ed's staff. The reasons are not nearly as important as are the faulty statements he presented.

The remainder of the article seems to be an accurate account of the rally held Saturday. I do not, in any way, condemn the author for his views on nuclear energy. Nor do I condemn his feelings about the seriousness of the accident. I do, however, become extremely upset when someone misrepresents and misinforms the public on matters which deeply concern us. I personally do not feel that nuclear energy is as dangerous as many believe it to be. I do believe, however, that stricter safety and administrative standards are needed. I also feel that if people would look at all of the other risks they take, the risk of nuclear energy is minimal in comparison.

It is everyone's responsibility to know the facts so that they can accurately base opinions. Therefore, I suggest that everyone interested in learning more about the effects of radiation and doses that the normal human receives go to the science department on campus. There you will find FACTS, not lies or coverups.

Sincerely

Timothy M. Keller

Earn summer credits while working for the government

Students with backgrounds in the humanities or government and international relations have the opportunity to earn credits and hands-on experience this summer while working for government agencies, national associations and political organizations through The American University's Summer Internship Programs.

Seniors and graduate students may earn three to six graduate or undergraduate credits during the six-week programs, June 8-17, in Washington.

The Humanities. Applicants whose major study background is in American studies, history, literature, art or music history, philosophy and religion, will work at selected Washington agencies and businesses. In the past, humanities interns have served in positions at the Smithsonian Institution, the National Trust for Historic Preservation, Library of Congress, U.S. Senate Historian's Office, Museum of African Art and the American Film Institute. Their jobs have included historical research, editing, preservation and museum work.

Government and International Relations. Students with majors in government, political science and international relations will find positions in a variety of public and private sector domestic and international agencies and organizations.

In the past interns have worked for groups such as the Republican and Democratic National Committees, HUD, Congressional Budget Office, Common Cause, National Rifle Association, Sierra Club, Women's Lobby Inc., Americans for Democratic Action, National Urban League, Woodrow Wilson International Institute for Scholars, Middle East Institute, Organization of American State, Japanese Embassy press office, NASA, Office of International Affairs and the Center for Labor and Migration Studies.

Interns who qualify for these programs will work a 35-hour week at the agency in which they are accepted, and will attend weekly seminars on campus with the director of the programs. Selections of applicants for the unpaid positions will be based upon recommendations by the agency supervisor and the assessment of academic performance by the internship director.

Application deadline is May 1. Tuition will be based on the number of credit hours to be earned.

The American University, located in a residential area of northwest Washington easily accessible by public transportation, is four miles from downtown.

Fully air conditioned dormitory housing will be available on campus at the specially reduced rate of $43 per week and students will have access to all university facilities including the Bender Library, tennis courts, indoor swimming pool and free films. Meals may be taken on or off campus.

A free weekend orientation to Washington is available to students accepted into the internship programs.

For information about the humanities internship contact Linda Berenbaum, American Studies Program, College of Arts and Sciences, The American University, Washington, D.C. 20016, (202)686-2676. For information

Security officer gains honors

Mrs. Deborah Barnes, police officer on the BSC security force, graduated with top honors this past weekend in the Pennsylvania State Police Basic Course of 480 hours for municipal police administered at the Northeast Training Center of the Wyoming Valley barracks.

The course, prepared by the Bureau of Training and Education of the Pennsylvania State Police Academy at Hershey, covered 12 weeks for the class of 26 officers.

As recipient of the highest honors, Barnes spoke on behalf of her class at the graduation exercises. The course was comprised of the six main divisions: Introduction to criminal justice, Law, Human value problems, patrol and instruction procedures, police proficiency and administration.

Barnes joined the BSC security force in April 1978 as a CETA employee and became a full-time officer in May 1979. She resides at Catawissa R.D. 2. Her husband Raymond Barnes is Chief of police of Catawissa and Franklin Townships.

Letters to the Editor,

reading "Nukes Suck" that was carried by a delegation from this college. The group was sponsored by the Alliance for Student Voters.

The article does not state who has questioned the banner, or what might have been said about it. It appears that the only individual questioning the banner was a CV reporter. The story was created from a telephone conversation I had with the reporter on Monday evening. During that phone call I specifically requested that certain facetious statements made by me not to be quoted. Without regard to journalistic responsibility the reporter printed the statements. Nothing of substance was printed about the group's attendance at the Harrisburg March nor of the rationale behind the content of the banner.

It is safe to assume that the Morning Press intended not to generate negative feelings toward the students of BSC by printing a photograph of the banner. It simply identified the participation of BSC students in the rally. To do otherwise would be irresponsible on the part of the Morning Press.

One should not enter into a discussion of possible ill reflections on the words "Nukes Suck" for in doing so the CV reporter detracted from what should have been the primary consideration to be addressed, specifically, that there was indeed participation from this college community. The proper focus is that a delegation of 16 students cared enough to rent a van and travel 80 miles to educate themselves and heighten their awarenesses on issues of growing national concern, hopefully to then return and stimulate intelligent debate on these issues within the college community.

The banner was on my own design and making. The wording was effective in that it drew immediate attention to the issue and identified the origin of the group. The slogan reflected the opinion of those attending the rally, not that the entire college supports that opinion. The implication that one would be led to generalize over an academic community such as BSC, with its great diversity of opinion, is ludicrous. Had I intended this erroneous generalization, the banner would have stated that, indeed, BSC feels this way. It did not!

Concern has been expressed over how the residents of Harrisburg and our government officials may feel about a group of BSC students carrying such a banner. My experience at the rally leads me to the conclusion that the vast majority of those present fully endorsed the opinion. The group was well received at the rally and the wording of the banner was applauded with people stopping us frequently to photograph it. Myself and members of the group were interviewed by radio and newspaper reporters interested in a student's point of view (WILQ broadcast a segment of an interview with me stating that Bloomsburg State was involved). Our presence was announced before the crowd of some 10,000 people. Those feeling the compulsion to call Harrisburg to apologize for the group's conduct need not suffer any embarrassment.

I should like to clarify a few specific inaccuracies stated in the article. The Alliance for Student Voters is a recognized student organization of which I am president. I am not a member of CGA Executive Council but merely an elected off-campus representative. I am not in the habit of ripping-off tablecloths from the Scranton Commons; and I challenge the author to provide proof that the banner in question was ripped-off from the Commons last week as alleged.

I think it is a travesty of journalistic responsibility to portray the group's purpose with such arrogance, ignorance, and narrowness.

Disagree on attempt

TO THE EDITOR:

I disagree with Susan McKeon's conclusion to her article on the assassination attempt. Her evidence indicates: "tragic," "terrible," "shocked and angry," "never expected it to be a reality," "life imprisonment," and "maximum sentence." "Apathy and insignificance" in these words?

I believe Ms. McKeon and her conclusion are apathetic and insignificant.

Simon Sez read this article

By DAN CAMPBELL

Simon Sez read this article. If you were present at Bob Schaffer's show at the Kehr Union on Saturday night, your first instinct was to probably read this story. That's good.

Schaffer is "Simon Sez". Well, really he's one of two entertainers that travel the country, playing the old game of Simon Sez.

Except Schaffer's game is really a show. His show not only includes a mass game of Simon Sez, but also a balloon stuffing contest and a coupled shouting match competition.

The show, part of the annual BSC Sibling's Weekend, started around 5:00 Saturday in the Scranton Commons, where Schaffer went to promote his show and to drum up a crowd.

He promised excitement, fun and that every guy would get a chance to kiss a girl. He also promised $1100 to anybody that could survive thirty seconds of one on one Simon Sez.

The real show started two hours later. Schaffer staged a oouuu oooww ouch contest, with the loudest yellers winning.

He also made good on his promise that every guy would get to kiss a girl. He Simon Sez'ed the guys and girls into kissing each other.

The mass Simon Sez game came next. After half of the players were "out", the game was started all over again - to give the honest ones a second chance.

Intermingled with the Simon Sez game was a game where Schaffer had couples chasing each other around, yelling hilarious things at each other.

A balloon stuffing contest was also staged. The female partner was put into old fashioned one piece longjohns. Then the male partner had to stuff as many balloons as he could into the longjohns. The couple with the most balloons stuffed won. To count them, Schaffer delicately popped each balloon with a pin.

Then the one on one contest took place to finish the night. A female was chosen, but with Schaffer's skills (and his own rules) the poor girl didn't stand a chance. But the act was still a riot and entertaining.

Schaffer is presently operating out of Suffern, New York, but is originally from the midwest. He attended the University of Cincinnati and played pro basketball with the Minneapolis Lakers.

This is how his show started. Originally, it was a show of basketball skills, with the Simon Sez mixed in, as well as other bits of entertainment.

Today, Schaffer is one of the most popular acts on the East coast, visiting over 120 college campuses last year.

Senior class banquet scheduled at "Woodlands"

BY MIKE YAMRUS

The Senior Class Banquet will be held Friday, May 15 at the Woodlands Inn (Treadway) in Wilkes-Barre and will feature the local dance band "Spice."

The price of a ticket is between $5 and $7 for seniors and $15.00 for guests. The cost is not definite at this time because all dues have not been collected and a specific figure could not be reached.

In addition to a cocktail hour, sit-down dinner with a choice of chicken Kiev or Veal Parmigiana and music, the bus transportation is included in the price of the ticket. Overnight accommodations will also be provided at a discount rate for those who do not take advantage of the bus transportation.

Seniors are reminded that class dues are $12 due to a $2.00 late fee. This money will be used for caps and gowns, banquet, yearbook, donation to the Alumni Association and other class activities. Checks may be made payable to the Class of 1981.

If any other information is needed, contact Mrs. Joan Walton or Dr. James Creasy, senior class advisors.

Classic Film Series continues at BSC

By D. BYERS

"The Thin Man, (a detective story comedy), and "The Lady Vanishes," (a Hitchcock thriller); considered classics in filmmaking, will be shown at 7 and 9 p.m. Thursday in Carver Auditorium. The films are part of the ongoing classic film series offered free to the college community.

According to Deena DiStefano, BSC chemistry professor and coordinator of the series, the classics are being shown "in an effort to give the viewing public opportunities to see classic films which ordinarily are not as accessible by the public as the more contemporary films."

Because of her interest in fine films, DiStefano has also chosen to reactivate the Literary and Film Society open to students, faculty and staff membership to schedule and promote classic films directed at the BSC community.

Other films scheduled to be shown include: April 23 - "Stagecoach," a western starring John Wayne, Claire Trevor; "High Noon," also a western starring Gary Cooper, Grace Kelly.

For further information on the Film Club or the film series contact DiStefano (HSC-204) at ext. 2107.

BSC employees children may attend school free

By CHRIS CLEAVER

BSC employees' children may be able to attend any state university free.

The Association of Pennsylvania State College Union Faculty (APSCUF) has submitted this benefit proposal to BSC's Board of Trustees.

This benefit would involve Commonwealth employees' children only. It would allow them to attend any state school in Pennsylvania with an all-tuition waiver. Transfer students, graduate students and doctorate candidates would be included.

Currently, Mansfield State College and West Chester State College have this benefit installed in their system.

This same act was previously rejected by the BSC Board of Trustees. The reason given was that BSC is an institution funded by citizen's dollars. No tax paying citizens would benefit, so the act was negated.

Dr. John Mulka, a spokesman for APSCUF, believes that it is still an uphill battle to pass this tuition waiver benefit. "My opinion is that the faculty, administration and staff are unanimously in favor of this program, but it is far from being placed in our system," stated Mulka.

Commonwealth employees are anxiously awaiting the outcome of this proposal which will be voted on this summer.

Marketing Prof. Predicts

"Happiness Breaks" during Reagan term

Dr. William G. Nickels, a marketing professor at the University of Maryland, believes that President Ronald Reagan will start a national trend of scheduled "happiness breaks" during his administration. The president is known as a man who takes the time to saddle the horses at his ranch, get a new hair cut or read a book for pleasure. He has been quoted as saying that he'll continue his relaxing activities as president.

Nickels feels that one reason Nickels said, "Happiness is a skill that can be learned and acquired just like any other skill. Most people can learn this skill if they have the willingness — even those with severe physical handicaps."

He cited the experience of Dr. Warren Johnson, a colleague at the University of Maryland. Johnson has been terminally ill for the last eight years, but claims these have been the happiest years of his life. He applies Nickel's principles in his daily life and has written the foreword to Win the Happiness Game.

Nickels says happiness isn't a birthright, "You've got to work at it, just like you've got to work at being physically fit." The two go together. In fact, Nickels believes happiness is the most important achievement in one's overall well-being.

Nickels recommends that the reader compile a list of what makes him or her feel good and schedule specific times to adhere to that list. Make a commitment to actively participate in these scheduled "Happiness Breaks." This will generate good feeling and make you happier in your work. Thus, it will result in better relationships and a happier society.

"Happiness isn't a birth right, you've got to work at it, just like you have to work at being physically fit."

for the number of people finding themselves successful but unhappy is that they do not take the time to do the things they enjoy. And happy doesn't mean irresponsible. Nickels says, "A happy person is more productive on the job, and even more creative." Those who work at enjoying themselves are equally skilled at enjoying their work, Nickels says.

While in Baltimore recently to discuss his forthcoming book, Win the Happiness Game (Acropolis Books, Ltd.),

Hoopsters boast new record

Despite a disappointing first round defeat in the NCAA Division II national tournament, the 1980-81 BSC basketball team turned in one of the most successful campaigns in the long history of fine basketball at the school.

The Huskies captured the Pennsylvania State Athletic Conference Championship and with it an automatic bid into the national tourney. A 72-63 win over Indiana (A) in the championship game gave the Huskies a long awaited PSAC crown and a first round NCAA meeting with Cal-Poly (SLO). BSC entered the game as the top seed in the Eastern Regional event, but dropped a stunning 71-43 defeat to the Mustangs who battled their way into the final four, eventually losing to NCAA champion Florida Southern.

Coach Charlie Chronister's squad also set a school record with 23 wins (23-7) in recently completed season breaking the old mark of 22 set by the 1973-74 BSC team which lost in the NCAA quarterfinals that year to eventual national champion Morgan State.

Sophomore Mike Wenrich led the Huskies in scoring for the second straight year with a 15.2 average. The forward turned in the top individual scoring effort of the season tallying 29 points on a 12 of 15 performance from the field and perfect 5 for 5 from the foul line against IUP in the PSAC final. He was chosen as the championship tourney's MVP for his performance in the two game event. He was also chosen as a PSAC eastern division second team selection.

The squad's top rebounder was Ken Casey who pulled down 107 rebounds in 12 contests for an average of 8.9. The 6-7 center played in the season's first two games before sitting out the next 18 contests with a stress fracture of his right foot. His return added strength to the middle and he also ended up as the second leading scorer (14.0 ppg) and the Huskies' top shooter (55.1 percent). His top game was in the regular season finale when he scored 18 points and grabbed 18 rebounds against Maryland - Baltimore County.

Junior playmaker Jon Bardsley showed an average of 13.3 ppg and was the Huskies' third leading scorer while doing the bulk of the ballhandling chores. He handed out 180 assists in 30 games (6.0 - game). Both Bardsley and Wenrich were on ballots for All-American and other post season honors. Bardsley also was a PSAC All-Tournament selection and was a member of the conference's eastern division first team.

As a team, BSC averaged 70.3 ppg while giving its opponents 67.5; the Huskies also outrebounded the opposition, pulling down 2.3 more rebounds per game in the 30 contests. The Huskies shot 49.3 per cent from the field compared to 45.6 percent by the opponents. During the 30 game slate, the Huskies played in 17 games against opponents that had shown up in either the eastern or national rankings at some time throughout the year.

Chronister, who was chosen as both PSAC and Kodak NABC Eastern Regional "Coach of the Year," led BSC to its 10th straight winning season since he came to the school in 1971 and the school's 15th in a row! The coach ran his overall record to 169-87 and the Huskies ended up ranked no. 5 in the final NCAA Division II poll.

Street hockey underway

By GEORGE FERRIS

With the 1981 Intramural street hockey season just underway the excitement has already brought large student crowds to the tri-level parking deck on the BSC campus.

The league consists of 15 teams with a maximum number of 16 players per team. The league is split into two divisions, division I and division II.

Division I consists of eight teams which are: DOC, Lemon's Tavern, Red House, Zeta Xi, Salvation Army, and Beta Sigma Delta Bullets. The teams expected to give the most trouble this year are defending overall champions, Red House Xi, and the Salvation Army.

In division II there are seven teams: Taddeos, Starry Knights, Alemen, The Addams Family, Bodaga Lounge, Montour and Dirt Road. Teams expected to do well are Taddeos and Starry Knights.

Each team will play a total of eight games, with the top three finishers in each division advancing into a playoff situation which will determine an overall champion.

Games are played Monday thru Thursday at 5:00 p.m., on the top deck of the tri-level parking lot. Two games are played each night. Games are also played on Sunday afternoons at one, two and three o'clock.

These games have been known to be very physical and also very exciting.

The players are pleased with the support of the students, through the large crowds and ask for the continued support throughout the season.

Matmen 11-6 for season despite drawbacks

The 1980-81 BSC wrestling season was like two seasons in one. In the first few weeks of the campaign nothing seemed to go right for coach Roger Sanders' squad and nagging injuries to numerous starters was the main concern as the Huskies entered the "second season."

BSC's light and middle weights turned in splendid performances throughout the second semester and helped overcome the lack of consistency from the upper weights, which had been depleted or bothered so much by injuries that Sanders was forced to forfeit many individual bouts.

The Huskies started slowly posting a mediocre 6-5 record before winning five of the next six dual matches to finish with a respectable 11-6 mark and ranked 17th in the final Division I poll.

Highlighting the season was BSC's first Eastern Wrestling League Championship and along with the team title four Huskies captured individual crowns. Todd Cummings (118), Ed Fiorvanti (126), Don Reese (134), and Tom Fiorvanti (150) all ended up at the top of their respective weight classes, while Al McCollum (142) finished second and Gibbes Johnson (158) and Butch Snyder (190) showed third place finishes. BSC was represented at the NCAA Division I Championships in the first five weight classes, where Ed Fiorvanti was the only Husky to place, finishing 10th at 126 lbs.

Reese ended the season with a 34-3-2 record and ranked fifth in the nation at 134 lbs. The two ties came against Iowa State's Jim Gibbons, the NCAA champion at that weight. He led the Huskies in five of eight statistical categories.

Coach Sanders now has a record of 103-40-3 and got his 100th win this season with a 41-10 triumph over Indiana University of Pennsylvania.

LEADING THE PACK. The women's track team won their opener 83-34 over Shippensburg last week. Here two BSC track members compete in the hurdles.

Women swim team completes 'Most successful season'

The BSC women's swimming team recently completed the most successful season since the sport was introduced at BSC in 1974.

The Huskies posted a 7-3 dual meet record, tied with Shippensburg for second place at the Pennsylvania State Athletic Conference Championships behind AIAW Division II national champion Clarion, and finished seventh at the AIAW Division III nationals.

Coach Mary Gardner's squad placed 10th at last year's national event, but the addition of several outstanding freshmen to this season's team helped BSC to its finest national showing ever.

Cathy Sheridan topped the group of "super" freshmen by setting four individual team records and was a member of two relay teams that set new BSC marks. She won the Huskies' only PSAC individual title in the 200 yard breaststroke event in a record setting time of 2:37.12. Her other marks came in the 200 yard individual medley (2:16.05), 200 yard freestyle (1:59.26), 1650 yard freestyle (18:00.15) and as a member of the 400 yard freestyle relay (3:39.27), and the 800 yard freestyle relay (8:05.13). The 400 yard freestyle relay team that Sheridan participated as a member of finished second in the national meet.

Freshman Tina Klamut also set several new BSC records including the 50 yard breaststroke (:33.20), 100 yard individual medley (1:03.09), 100 yard breaststroke (1:12.69) and as a member of the 200 yard freestyle relay (1:40.67) and the 800 yard freestyle relay (8:05.13).

Two other freshmen were among the six Huskies who qualified for the AIAW Division III meet. Kelly Reimert was a member of the 200, 400, and 800 yard freestyle relay teams that set new marks, and Sue Boyer competed in the 100 yard medley relay and the 100 yard individual medley at the national meet.

Senior captain Sue Brophy and junior Linda Smith provided the needed leadership throughout the year for the young team and both hold and share numerous school records.

Brophy has bests in the 200 yard butterfly (2:22.43), 100 yard butterfly (1:01.10), 50 yard butterfly (:27.64) and as a member of the 200, 400, and 800 yard freestyle teams and the 200 and 400 yard medley relay teams that set the records a year ago.

Smith shows BSC records in the 100 yard freestyle (:55.61), 50 yard freestyle (:24.82) and the 200 and 400 yard freestyle relays; and 200 and 400 yard medley relays.

All six were named multiple All-Americans for their efforts: Sheridan, Brophy, and Smith in five events; Klamut in four; Reimert, three; Boyer, two.

Women's track wins opener

By KEVIN KODISH

Taking at least first place in 13 of 14 events, the BSC women's track team opened up the 1981 campaign with a 83-34 thrashing of Shippensburg last week at Redman Stadium.

Second year coach Carolyn Wernstadt sighted the meet as a "good start" for the squad. The meet was conducted on a cold and windy day, making it tough on the participants. Wernstadt indicated that less wind and more heat will contribute to better times and distances for the team.

The 440 relay team got the day started on the right foot for the Huskies. Connie Chafey, Laurel Mowery, Diane Alfonsi and Beth Banaszek combined for a winning time of 51.3.

Bloomsburg took the one and three positions in the mile run. Vicki Amici crossed the line first in 5:28.81. Kathy McNally finished in 5:30.23 to gain third in the event.

Mowery won her second event of the day when she captured top honors in the 100 meter hurdles. The sophomore sprinted to a time of 17.21. Deb Sabalesky came in third place with 19.35 clocking.

Suzanne Schneck's 64.0 quarter mile time was good enough for first place in that event. She was backed up by Carol Miller, who took third with a time of 65.14.

BSC dominated the 100 yard dash, as the locals finished 1-2-3. Chafey, Banaszek and Alfonsi garnered the places with times of 11.53, 11.69, and 11.76 respectively.

The Huskies duplicated the feat in the 880 yard run, as the team again "got out the broom" for a clean sweep. Lori Pingitore ran a 2:27.04 to win the race. She was followed by Amici and McNally. Amici's time was 2:28.23, and McNally stopped the watch in 2:33.99.

Mowery capped a perfect day by winning her third event, this time the 400 meter hurdles. Mowery, who placed in the event at last year's conference championships, won easily with a time of 74.03.

Banaszek led the Huskies to yet another top three finish in the 220 yard dash. The co-record holder for the race posted a mark of 27.53. Chafey and Kim Kinney finished second and third, with times of 28.09 and 28.77 respectively.

BSC's top cross country runner in the fall, sophomore Lauren Meymaris, ran away from the field in the two mile run. The distance specialist clipped off a 12:01.38 to clinch the event.

The mile relay team of Alfonsi, Schneck, Miller, and Sabalesky ran a 4:27.18 to nail down that race.

FIELD REPORT

Kinney's jump of 4 feet, 10 inches was good enough to win the high jump competition.

Bonnie Albertson received top laurels in the shot put after a throw of 34 feet, 7 inches. Albertson is just a sophomore, and she holds the school standard in the event.

Sabalesky took care of first place in the discus. Her throw of 100 feet easily topped the field.

Though the Huskies didn't win the javelin competition, freshman Lisa Diehl had a great day. Her toss of 109 feet, 9 inches set a new school record, good for second place in the event.

The team takes to the road tomorrow, as they meet East Stroudsburg and West Chester at West Chester.
