

Campus Elections Slated

BY DEB BERKEY

At Tuesday night's Executive CGA meeting, topics such as campus elections and concert losses were discussed.

Elections for College Council, Representative Assembly, and Freshman class officers will be held September 21 and 22. Petitions are available at the information desk and are due today by 4 p.m. On campus students may vote in the Commons at meal hours. Off campus students may vote in Kehr Union from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Another topic discussed at the meeting was the turnout at the

Ian Hunter-Gary US Bonds concert held Thursday, Sept. 10. CGA allows a budget loss of $16,500 per year for a total of four concerts. At the recent concert, the loss was $11,000. According to CGA president Karen Chawaga, this may hurt the quality of future concerts.

Volunteer Fair Offers Opportunity and Growth

Now that you have experienced the academic atmosphere of BSC, why not expand your knowledge to include things other than classes, reading, laboratories and exams?

A VOLUNTEER FAIR WILL BE HELD ON TUESDAY SEPTEMBER 22, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. AT KEHR UNION. It is being sponsored by the Office of Student Activities.

As individuals, we all possess special talents. Opportunities for growth, both academically and socially, exist by using these talents in helping members of the Bloomsburg community. In addition to the personal satisfaction gained by helping others, volunteers will realize other benefits such as career experience, a chance to meet new people and expand interests, and a better community image.

A job description booklet listing agencies in need of volunteers, within walking distance of BSC, will be available on the 22nd. If you have the interests and talents that they need, why not come meet them? This type of community service will benefit you as well as the volunteer agencies!

The following agencies from the Bloomsburg area will be participating in the volunteer fair:

1. Area Agency on Aging
2. Bloomsburg Hospital
3. American Cancer Society
4. Easter Seals
5. Children's Services
6. Emergency Management
7. Columbia Day Care Program, Inc.
8. American Diabetic Association
9. Family Planning Services
10. PA State Health Centers
11. Columbia-Montour Home Health Services
12. Juvenile Probation
13. American Red Cross
14. American Association of Retired Persons
15. Social Security Administration
16. Conservation District of Columbia County
17. Suncom Industries
18. Telephone Access Program (TAP-LINE)
19. United Way, Inc. of Columbia County
20. Women's Center
21. Mental Health Association of Columbia County
22. Bloomsburg Public Library
23. Bloomsburg Area School District
24. Community Friends School
25. Magic Carpet Pre-School
26. Maple Crest Nursing Home, Inc.
27. Volunteer Recycling

Ballet Course Comes to BSC Students

A non-credit mini-course in Ballet for Children and Adults will be offered this fall at Bloomsburg State College through the Office of Extended Programs.

The course will be held on Saturdays beginning on September 26 and will run through May 1982. Two times are available, 11:00 - 12:00 and 12:00 - 1:00. The instructor is Marcella Stella of Scranton.

Students will be instructed in classical technique stressing proper body alignment, positions, and classical movements. The course is designed and instructed to accommodate the proficiencies of the participant while encouraging correction and artistic growth.

The dancer with experience in ballet will be offered special classes. Interested persons can contact the BSC Office of Extended Programs at 389-3300.

Board of Trustees Approves Personnel Changes, Outside Relations

Institutional advancement and external relations will be given increased emphasis at Bloomsburg State College through changes in the administrative organizational structure endorsed by the college's Board of Trustees last week.

Planning and development, public relations, alumni affairs, institutional research and affirmative action - desegregation will be assigned to the Executive Director of Institutional Advancement in the Office of the President. These functions have been in General Administration or the Office of the President and are being brought together to provide coordination of all external relations and institutional advancement efforts.

BSC President Dr. James H. McCormick explained that the revisions are intended to improve further the college's continuing efforts to respond to changing needs of the institution and the individuals it serves. He said the changes, which will be implemented during the Spring semester, were agreed upon following discussions and consultations instigated early this year.

The Director of Planning and Development will have responsibilities for the college's long-range planning and the development of non-Commonwealth funding sources. The position will replace that of the Director of Grants, currently filled on an interim basis by Peggy O. Bailey, following the resignation of the director earlier this summer. Planning leadership has been provided by Dr. Lee C. Hopple, a faculty member on a half-time assignment since 1973 when the Planning Commission was established. Dr. Hopple is a Professor in the Department of Geography, Earth Science and Geology.

The changes will become effective following Vice President for Administration Boyd F. Buckingham's retirement on December 25. Responsibilities for personnel, physical plant, safety and law enforcement, the computer center, administrative services, and comptroller will remain in General Administration.

Dr. Frank S. Davis, assistant vice president for administration, is serving on a temporary assignment as associate vice president for academic affairs for the Fall semester. His former position is being filled by Paul L. Conard, director of administrative services, and Director of Budget Donald E. Hock is serving as director of administrative services. These administrative changes will terminate when Vice President

Husky Singers Continue to Grow

HUSKY SINGERS HAVE 41 BY RICK DILIBERTO

BSC's male choral group, the Husky Singers, are enjoying perhaps the most successful year in the history of the organization. The first semester enrollment of forty-one men is "the most we've had since I can remember," according to Dr. William K. Decker, advisor and conductor of the group.

The group consists of men from the college community who have an interest in singing and music. No prior musical knowledge is required. While a few of the members are music majors, the great majority of the group represents nearly every other major, including accounting, mass communications, elementary education, business, and chemistry.

The officers of the group are Rick DiLiberto, president, Jeff Wilcox, vice-president, Gregg Gianuzzi, secretary, Randy Beaver, treasurer, and Scott Righter, librarian.

Anyone interested in participating in the group should contact Dr. Decker at 389-3107, or go to Haas Center for the Arts. The group meets Tuesdays and Thursdays, from 2-3 p.m.

Dr. Decker will unveil the group in their first show this year at the Homecoming Pops Concert on Oct. 11.

With Style

by Bob Stiles

Americans have an obsession for labels. They gladly pay $30 or more for jeans so that they can have the words "Jordache" and "Sasoon" written on their bottoms. They buy certain shirts — not because the shirt might be the best made shirt of its type, but because they want to have alligators and foxes displayed on their chests. In short, Americans want the "look" as an advertiser calls it.

But there is one particular group in America which has always wanted the "look". (pennyloafers and jeans in the past.) It is to this group which advertisers — the people who help tell us what is fashionable — direct their commercials. This group is the 14-25 age group.

The advertisers have two strong reasons for their emphasis on this age group: one, this group possesses the largest disposable income in the nation, and two, it is this age group which cares most about what their peers think about them—in this case, how they dress. Wearing the same types of clothes makes acceptance by others much easier. Subconsciously, some even seem to form their own little circle where the only requirement for admittance is that every one looks much the same.

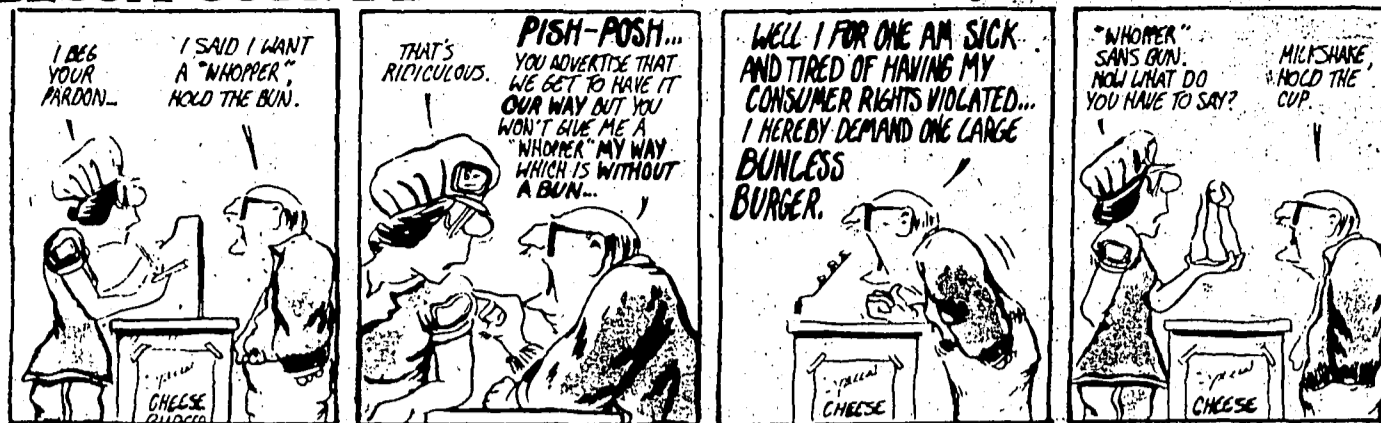

In itself, this willingness to buy higher priced products when there are cheaper priced goods of near or equal quality already on the market, just shows to what extent people will go to be accepted by their peers. In actuality, the purchasing of these higher priced goods is probably of little consequence; there is no apparent harm.

However, it can be harmful when this group begins to judge others by how they dress. When this happens, something of importance is lost: individuality.

And all this time, the manufacturers and advertisers sit back and rake in the dough.

No Gripes with "Stripes"

By RICK DILIBERTO

A film currently playing downtown at the Twin Capitol Theatre is leaving its "stripes of laughter" on the ribs of BSC students. Yes, the long awaited Bill Murray comedy, Stripes, has arrived in town with a roar similar to that of Army tank. After so-so performances in Meatballs, and Where the Buffalo Roam, he puts his sensational comedy process to work in this film.

Director Ivan Reitman sets the scene with Murray as a sometimes - working cab driver, looking for a future and sense of responsibility, or, as the poster advertisement puts it, "a chance to keep the world safe for democracy, and meet girls." After losing his girlfriend and job, Murray decides to join the army with a buddy. Upon arriving the first day, he realizes that army life is not quite as glamorous as the TV ads make it seem. He introduces himself to his peers at bootcamp as a man who women can't resist, mostly "because I don't wear underwear, and when I do, it's usually something really wild." He meets one of his fellow enlistees named Francis, but referred to as "Psycho." He makes it clear that anyone who calls him "Francis," or touches him, or touches his stuff will be killed. A pleasant greeting

Murray wins the respect of his peers when they are awakened at dawn for a five-mile run, and he says, "I think I speak for the whole group when I suggest that this run be postponed until we are further rested." The sergeant then increases the run to ten miles.

John Candy, the new sensation of Second City TV and Network 90, also spices the film with his performance as "Ox." Incidentally, he joined the army to lose weight rather than pay to lose it through an exercise class.

The film progresses through a futile basic training for the group until the night before inspection, when they realize their deficiencies and decide to "train themselves." They do this successfully to music and due to their "spunk," and are chosen by a general to guard a secret army weapon.

This leads to adventures which decorum prohibits this writer from mentioning here, but are hilarious anyway.

Anyone needing a good laugh at army humor should march right down to the Twin Capitol Theatre to see Stripes.

Jamboree Schedule

Saturday September 19

A fun-filled day is planned to entertain both the local and college communities. The jamboree begins at 11 a.m. and lasts until 5 p.m. on September 19. Crafts and entertainment will be featured throughout the day, and everyone is invited to attend. As is customary, the jamboree will take place on the lawns outside of the Kehr College Union. In case of rain, all events will be moved into the Union facility. Don't miss it!!

OPEN MIKE

11 a.m. - Noon — A talent show hosted by Dave Murphy is sure to be a hit, as Bloomsburg State College welcomes you with a multi-attraction show.

JOHN MANION

John is a blossoming, young singer songwriter from Jackson, N.J. Along with his rock n' roll originals, John also includes interpretations of other songwriters, such as Steve Forbert and James Taylor, who are major influences on him. John plays both guitar and piano.

ROLLY BROWN

1:15 - 2:15 p.m. — If you enjoyed Rolly last night at the Coffeehouse, you'll like him even more at the Fall Jamboree.

BOB DOYLE AND THE ALLEGHENY STRING BAND

Bob Doyle on guitar, Tad Marks on fiddle, Rick Lytle on banjo. Dennis Ricker on mandolin and Arch Warnock on bass compose this, knee-slapping bluegrass band. The originality of the band rests in the fact that their material in many cases is so old that it remains brand new especially to young people. Also, be ready to put on your dancin' shoes and hop to some square dancing tunes.

Letters to the Editor

Animal Rights

Dear Editor:

Your readers will be interested in learning that hundreds of students and other individuals dedicated to advancing animal rights, vegetarian, and other life-enhancing objectives will be gathering on October 10-12 in Ocean City, Maryland, to establish task forces and a coordinating structure for grass-roots action. Mobilization for Animal Rights: Conference

'81 represents a cooperative effort of over 30 animal rights and vegetarian organizations, including the American Anti-Vivisection Society, American Association for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, Animal Protection Institute, Animal Rights Network, the Fund for Animals, National Anti-Vivisection Society, Vegetarian Information Service, and Vegetarian Times.

The program will provide workshops dealing both with animal rights issues and with tactics for promoting social change. Among the issues will be: the raising and slaughtering of animals for food, the use of animals in research and testing, the destruction of wildlife, and pet overpopulation. Tactics to be discussed include: organizing, research and documentation, media liaison, lobbying, boycotts, and demonstrations. Several task forces and a coordinating structure will be formed to carry on the work beyond the Conference. Movement speakers, orientation sessions, free discussion, and light entertainment will round out the three-day program.

The setting for the Mobilization Conference will be the Francis Scott Key Lodge in Ocean City, MD. Costs of registration ($35) and of accommodations are very modest. Transportation from Washington will be provided on request. All inquiries should be directed to the Animal Rights Network, P.O. Box 5234, Westport, CT 06881.

Sincerely yours,
Doug Moss,
Coordinator
Mobilization for

Football Support

To the Editor:

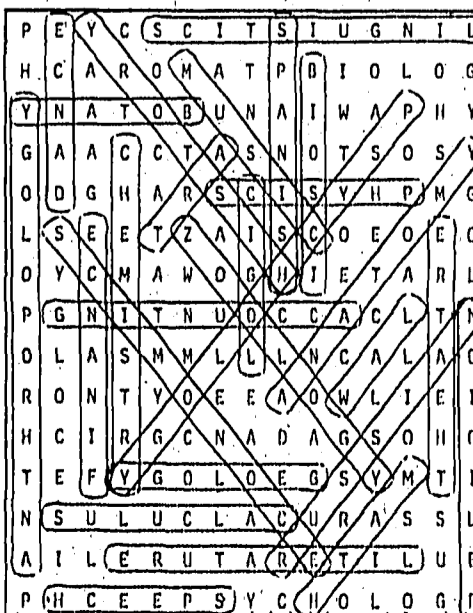

Those students who attended the Bloomsburg vs. Shipensburg football game know that our team has the potential to have a winning season this year. One very important thing, however, is stopping the team from beating the opponent - lack of student support.

As I looked around the stand at Saturday's game I saw only band members, cheerleaders, and a few other people cheering. Where was your school spirit? Even if the team was losing by a few points, we should have cheered even more; we should have shown the players that we care.

Our cheerleaders and the band need support from everyone to cheer for the players. Instead of students being apathetic, we should be proud of Coach Bolter and his team. We can have a winning season with student support!

Get Involved at BSC!

BY KATHY WALSH

College is commonly described as the time and place to broaden your horizons. This learning and growing process does not only pertain to classroom studies. It also takes place by way of involving one self in student organizations.

The questions one should ask are "How can I become involved?" and "what activities and associations are open to me?" The first step is to consult the pilot and-or stop in the secretarial office of Student Activities in the KUB to pick up the listing of over 100 organizations here at BSC. By consulting these two publications, a group or activity may catch your attention.

What to do then? Don't make it a deadend thought. Most organizations post announcements of scheduled meetings on the bulletin boards which are scattered all around BSC dormitories and classroom buildings. Many organizations actually try to recruit members, such as the Campus Voice, which did so in their first fall edition. Involvement in intramural sports begins with just a simple signature on a team roster (found in most residence hall wings). Fraternities and sororities are now holding public meetings in order to brief any interested student.

For those of you who haven't found that "something" you've been searching for, you just may decide to initiate your own group. This can be done by merely stopping in the Student Activities office to obtain the necessary forms. Just keep your eyes and ears open to all that is happening in the BSC community and get involved!

Student Escapes Injury; Rescued by BSC Seniors

Thanks to the efforts of three BSC seniors, a BSC student escaped serious injury early Mon. morning when his legs became lodged between his car and the cement wall of a building.

Mari Conway, Deb Shultz and Kathy Hughes were sleeping in their house on E. 3rd St., when a call for help awakened them at approximately 1:15 a.m., Monday morning. An unidentified BSC student got his legs caught between his car and the wall of an apartment building located behind Elwell Hall to the rear of the rescuers home.

The victim, according to Miss Conway, was trying to start his car, while the gears were in neutral. While he was in front of the car, the vehicle slipped and rolled down an incline, pinning his legs to the wall.

According to the rescuers, the unidentified victim began screaming desperately for help. The girls ran from their second floor apartment bedrooms in their pajamas and pushed the car up the hill just enough to release the trapped man's legs.

Miss Hughes commented, "I thought I was dreaming."

Vehicle Sign-Out Policies Change

Since the accident of May 17, 1981, when a CGA car was unofficially used, there have been important changes in the procedure for acquiring CGA vehicles.

In the past, the procedure was for the student employees to go to the information desk and sign out the vehicles from maintenance. Now they must go to Azar also commented that the student employees in charge of maintenance overall are very responsible and mature enough to carry out their duties efficiently.

New Staff Appointments Made

HARRISBURG — Three appointments to the Commonwealth Association of Students (CAS) staff in Harrisburg are announced by president Sandi Johnson.

Joyce Cheepudom, formerly of Denver, Colo., has been appointed executive director of the association, which serves as a lobbying group for Pennsylvania's state-owned colleges and university. Ms. Cheepudom has served as the director of development for the United States Student Association in Washington, D.C.

A graduate of York College, she majored in elementary education and served as vice president of the Student Pennsylvania State Education Association.

"CAS will be involving students in fighting for their rights and helping them gain access to quality education in Pennsylvania at the lowest price," she said recently.

As executive director, she will be responsible for administering and executing office policy, and will serve as liaison with state agencies involved in education. She also will serve as a liaison with national and state student groups and will disseminate information from those groups.

Brenda Burd, a native of Reading, has been appointed legislative director for the association. A graduate of Dickinson College, she majored in political science with a minor in psychology. Ms. Burd served an internship with the Pennsylvania House of Representatives Consumer Affairs Committee and also had an internship with the Cumberland County Commissioners.

Her responsibilities include lobbying in the state capital to show students' views on bills, and to persuade legislators to vote favoring students.

Barbara Fahey, a native of Taylor, has been appointed public relations director. A graduate of Bloomsburg State College, she earned her bachelor's degree in English. Ms. Fahey formerly was employed as a bureau reporter with the Scranton Times-Sunday Times.

She will be responsible for maintaining state-wide and campus media relations for the association.

Ms. Johnson also announced that Connie Sloan, a student at Slippery Rock State College, has been granted an internship with CAS for the fall semester. Ms. Sloan is secretary to the CAS executive board and is majoring in business administration and public relations. She will assist the staff with organizing and public relations work.

Trustees Emphasize Institutional Advancement

Buckingham retires, and Dr. Davis will assume the duties of interim vice president for administration until a search is completed and a permanent appointment is made. Mr. Conard and Mr. Hock will return to their former positions, and the position of assistant vice president for administration will be assigned to the Office of the President for reclassification as "assistant to the president."

The quarterly meeting of the Board of Trustees also approved the retirement request of Dr. Tobias Scarpino and the appointment of nine new faculty members for the 1981-82 academic year.

Dr. Scarpino, a native of Shenandoah, came to Bloomsburg in 1958 after teaching four years at Millcreek Township High School, Newmanstown. He will retire at the end of the first semester of the 1981-82 college year, completing twenty-seven years in the field of education, twenty-three of which were at Bloomsburg State College. He is a professor of physics.

Scarpino received his Bachelor of Science degree in Education from Kutztown State College in 1940, his Master of Science degree in Education from Bucknell University in 1955, and his Doctorate in Education from Penn State University in 1971.

Dr. Scarpino has enjoyed an excellent rapport with his students. Most recently he has been involved in teaching physics for medical technologists and other science majors, as well as physical science for elementary majors and non-science students.

He has served on many college committees including that of Graduate Council and the Advisory Committee to the Learning Resources Center and the college-wide Merit Committee, along with serving on several departmental committees, some of which he chaired as senior member of the department. He has been deeply involved each year with Physical Science Day for high school students.

Dr. Scarpino has been supportive of community services, having given talks on Lasers and Bubbles to the Rotary and Torch Clubs. He has judged science exhibits at the Bloomsburg Fair and the Junior Academy of Science.

Dr. James McCormick explained that the revisions are to improve efforts

The appointments include: Dr. Mary K. Badam of Shorewood, Wisconsin as Assistant Professor of Speech, Mass Communication, and Theatre. She had been an Assistant Professor at the University of Wisconsin.

Dr. P. James Moser of Vienna, Virginia, as Assistant Professor of Physics. He has been an analyst with the United States Government in Washington.

Dr. Edward Poostay of Lincoln, Nebraska, as Associate Professor of Reading. He has been an Assistant Professor at the University of Nebraska.

Sandra G. Richardson of Bloomsburg as Assistant Professor of Nursing. She was formerly an Associate Professor at Wor-Wic Tech Community College, Cambridge, Maryland.

Appointed as instructors of Nursing were: Judith K. Gaudiano of Danville, formerly an instructor at the Geisinger School of Nursing; Helen R. Robertson of Rowayton, Connecticut, an Executive Director of the Greenwich Health Association, Greenwich, Connecticut; Christine Santangelo of Upper Darby, a staff nurse at St. Christopher's Hospital for Children in Philadelphia; Barbara Synowrey of Danville, a staff nurse at Geisinger Medical Center; Patricia Torsella of Berwick, a Staff Development Instructor at the Selinsgrove Center.

In other personnel action, the Board approved the retirements of the following non-instructional employees:

Homer H. Beaver, groundskeeper supervisor, effective July 24, 1981, with 14 years service at BSC; Jane S. Brobst, custodial worker, effective July 10, 1981, with 16 years 9 months service; Elizabeth C. Brooking, clerical supervisor II, effective July 24, 1981, with 18 years 3 months service, and Eleanor Devanney, custodial worker, effective July 10, 1981, with 18 years 3 months service.

Following review and recommending procedures involving State College and University Administration appointments, the following individuals were approved for appointment beginning as indicated:

Michael J. Ford of West Islip, New York, in the capacity of Assistant Dean of Student Life in Northumberland Residence Hall for the period of August 25, 1981 through May 28, 1982. He is a former junior high school teacher in the Central Bucks School District, Doylestown. He replaces Joseph A. DeMelfi, who was appointed Assistant Director of Financial Aid for the same time period.

Dr. Frank S. Davis is serving on a Temporary Assigment.

William A. Proudman of Henryville, PA, as Director of Outdoor Experiential Learning for a 12 month appointment beginning July 25, 1981. He is a former Outward Bound School Instructor and replaces Ms. Carolyn Birmingham who resigned effective July 24, 1981.

Michael E. Sowash as Assistant Dean of Student Life in Luzerne Residence Hall for the period of August 24, 1981 through May 28, 1982. He is a former Assistant Director of Student Activities in Kehr Union and replaces George Kirlin, who transferred to a position in the Office of Budget and Administration in the Governor's Office effective June 27, 1981.

Ms. Carol A. Barnett, formerly Assistant Director of Financial Aid at BSC, has been appointed Assistant Director of Placement, effective August 22, 1981.

Craft Fair, Oct. 2, 3, 4

The ninth annual Lewisburg Craft Fair will be held on October 2, 3, and 4 in the Lewisburg Armory building, one mile south of Lewisburg, Pennsylvania, on U.S. Route 15.

Amid Central Pennsylvania's autumn splendor, over 75 professional craftspeople and artists will gather from a six-state area to exhibit, demonstrate, and sell their handmade creations. Many new participants will join favorite exhibitors from previous years to offer an array of unique crafts and art in the following media categories: gunsmithing, cornshuckery, designer fashions, potpourri, patchwork, paper cutting, wheat weaving, etched eggs, briar pipes, stained glass sculptures, lamps, and frames; tole painting, rag rugs, dried flower arrangements, wooden toys, artistic carvings, and functional pieces; fiber weavings, macrame, leather items, clay sculpture, dough figures, paintings, watercolors, drawings, photography, Raggedy Ann and porcelain dolls; candles, Christmas ornaments, silver, pewter, coin, and mixed-metal jewelry, and an exquisite collection of fine stoneware, porcelain, and pottery.

Hours for the 1981 Lewisburg Craft Fair are Friday, October 2, 1 p.m. to 9 p.m.; Saturday, October 3, 10 a.m. to 9 p.m.; and Sunday, October 4, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. general admission is $1.50 for adults and $.50 for children under 12. Parking is free.

Kevin's Korner

BY KEVIN KODISH

Hello sports fans! This issue of the Voice marks the beginning of my own personal column!

You can look for this feature in every Friday's edition. I'm going to try my hand at calling several college football games each week. I might not get many correct, but you should have fun looking at the matchups each week.

To go with my collegiate forecasts, I will also list my top fifteen teams in the country.

This year's season should be an interesting one. In the opening week of action, Michigan, Alabama and Nebraska all tasted defeat. Upsets are on the increase, and look for the next few months to be no different than last week.

Has anyone noticed Florida State's schedule the next five weeks? If you haven't, the Seminoles' slate consists of Rd. contests with Nebraska, Ohio State, Notre Dame, Pitt, and LSU.

FSU coach Bobby Bowden had this to say about that scheduling: "I'm not going to worry about it one bit. I knew that schedule was here when I took the job. Of course, I didn't know I'd be here that long."

If you're wondering what game will be televised by ABC television this week, it will be the Notre Dame-Michigan battle from Ann Arbor. The network has also announced that the game between USC and Oklahoma will be telecast Sept. 26.

Well, here goes with my first week of forecasts:

GEORGIA AT CLEMSON: The defending national champion Bulldogs are off to a great start, and Clemson won't have quite enough to stop the Walker express. Georgia will be a 21-17 winner.

NOTRE DAME AT MICHIGAN: This is a real clash of the titans. These teams might be the two best in the country. The Irish cruised to a 27-9 win over LSU last week, while the Wolverines were stunned by Wisconsin. Look for the Michigan team to come out fired up and score early. The Wolverines will make the Irish go home 24-20 losers.

GEORGIA TECH AT FLORIDA: The Yellow Jackets derailed the Crimson Tide last week, but this time they will play more on their level. Florida, 32-13.

USC AT INDIANA: The Trojans are a very good football team. The home field advantage will be of no help to the Hoosiers in this clash. USC will fly home with an easy 38-10 win.

ALABAMA AT KENTUCKY: It's too bad the Wildcats have to play Bear Bryant's boys after they lost! Look out, Kentucky! The Tide will roll by a 35-10 count.

MICHIGAN STATE AT OHIO STATE: The Spartans don't have a bad team this year. The Buckeyes have a very good team, though. Look for the visitors to give OSU a good battle the first half before succumbing 31-14.

FLORIDA STATE AT NEBRASKA: The Seminoles behind their road haul at Lincoln. The Cornhuskers will be licking their chops this week. Losses don't make teams happy, and Nebraska will be in a foul humor because of last week's game. Nebraska will come out a 21-16 victor.

PURDUE AT MINNESOTA: The Boilermakers are looking good, and the Gophers won't be able to move the ball with any consistency. Purdue is your winner, 24-6.

The Rest: Arkansas 31 Northwestern 10; Cornell 14 Penn 10; Missouri 28 Rice 9; Maryland 24 West Virginia 23; Miami 27 Houston 20; Iowa State 10 Iowa 7; UCLA 17 Wisconsin 13.

Soccer Team Among Best in State

Coming off its first rebuilding season since 1977, the Bloomsburg State College soccer team appears to be ready to return to its spot among the leaders in the Pennsylvania State Athletic Conference.

The graduation of three outstanding seniors creates a void, which Coach Lou Mingrone, now in his seventh year at the helm, will seek to fill from a group of talented first year players. Gone from a year ago are tri-captains Toby Rank, a four time All-PSAC eastern division selection, midfielder Brian Farrell, and goalie Greg Malloch.

The boosters enter the season with a six year mark of 48-27-3. After four consecutive winning seasons, BSC slipped to a record of 5-12-1 in 1980, but in the process, a young squad gained valuable experience and is anxious to rejoin other top notch regional contenders in the battle for a post season tournament berth.

Leading the list of returnees is junior Luke Sakalosky, who was chosen to the All-PSAC eastern division team along with Rank last season. He also was the team's second leading scorer a year ago with six goals. Mingrone expects the midfielder "to lead the younger players by example and in the process will be a great help to us offensively." Also returning are backs Roger Stetler and Gary Gallagher, who have been chosen as the captains for this year's team. After contributing four goals last season as a freshman, striker Fred McCaffrey is also back for his second season, as are Terry Gross, Lou Mickley, and Steve Whaley. Senior Ken Neuback will move from halfback to fullback to help bolster the defense, while Rod Koch will move into the goal where he'll battle with three others for the starting role.

Junior Bill Sypawka will add experienced depth to the striker position, while Jim Byrne and Mike Keller, both juniors, are the base on which Mingrone will build his midfield.

"We will still be very young compared to most of our opponents, but skillwise this is the best group I've ever had," commented Mingrone. "The guys have been working very hard as a team and with all this

Linemen: Key Gear of Football Machine

By DAN LOUGHLIN

The trenches — that's where the tough battles are fought. This is the place where a football team needs big, strong, and aggressive offensive linemen.

The offensive line has the huge responsibility of creating holes in the defensive line for running backs and protecting the quarterback on pass plays. Therefore, the success of almost every offensive play depends on the performance of the line.

Moving up in any level of any sport is challenging, to say the least. But moving up to the intercollegiate level from the high school level requires not only physical size and toughness, but also maturity and a sound knowledge of the game's finer points. The latter can only be acquired through actual playing time in real games, which leads us to that old, familiar sports term — experience.

Experience is a key word to the offensive line of the Bloomsburg State College football team. As of right now, the entire starting line consists of returning lettermen. Bill Sproule is the offensive line coach for the second straight year. Sproule feels that this experience is very valuable. "I think one of the strengths of the line is their experience. The first unit is back from last year. They are cohesive and I expect them to play a large part in team leadership."

The Huskies will look to seniors Dave Montagna and Jim Zaccheo to provide leadership. The rest of the starting unit consists of juniors Mike Balik, Dave Gillis, and sophomore John DeMartino. Senior Mike Cerone can also expect to see plenty of action.

Beyond this experienced group lies young and unseasoned players, which brings a little concern to Coach Sproule. "Physically, I have no qualms about the young recruits. They work hard at practice and show great determination. However, they aren't quite ready mentally. But I'm confident that when they get some playing time under their belts, they'll get the job done."

Some of these youngsters include sophomores Dan Brennan and Bill Feiser. Freshmen Keith Bolton, Bill Covert, Mike Galantino, Dave Glenwright, Mike Jupina, Bill Koch and Joe Lincalis round out the offensive line roster.

The line will play a major roll in the success or failure of this year's team. Sproule said, "If they play together as one, opening holes and protecting the quarterback, we'll be alright. If you don't do those things, you don't win ball games."

Hockey Team Finishes Second

by MARY HASSENPLUG

The B.S.C. field hockey team officially opened the season last weekend with an exceptional performance at the Trenton Tournament. The Huskies finished second with a 2-1 record for the weekend.

In the opening game, BSC soundly defeated defending champion Salisbury State by a score of 2-0. The Huskies outshot Salisbury 16-12 in a very well played game.

According to coach Hutchinson, "The statistics were basically even, but we played a great defensive game. We marked better in the circle than we have all year." At the end of the first half, Linda Turnbull turned a pass from Jane Seislove into the initial goal. Diane Imboden, at 14:30 of the second half, assisted Turnbull for her second goal of the game.

The Huskies lost their second game to eventual tournament champions Trenton State, 2-0. Bloomsburg outshot Trenton 9-7 in a defensive battle. The majority of the game was fought at midfield with Deb Long, Joan Mahoney and Jeanne Fetch carrying most of the ball-handling duties. Hutchinson was pleased with her team's performance, "It was a very even game throughout. Everyone did very well. Also, Laurie Snyder did a great job in the goal during the weekend."

In the final game, BSC trounced the University of Scranton 2-1. The Huskies dominated the entire first half by staying on the attack and making numerous shots on goal. Finally, with ten seconds left in the half, Karen Nilson knocked in the game's first goal.

Scranton moved the ball better in the second half, and scored their only goal on a penalty stroke past goalie Kerry Arnold.

The Huskies again took control and continued to attack the Scranton defense. With one minute left in the game, Jane Seislove centered and knocked in a goal with help from Polly Dougherty. The statistics clearly show the Huskies' dominance as they made 12 shots on goal as compared to Scranton's two.

Coach Hutchinson commented on the tournament, "Overall, we performed very well. As always, our midfield line did a great job. They are our strength and played very well. Our two freshmen, Jackie Griffin and Bev Sprout, played a couple of great games. They played nearly every minute this weekend and came through for us. Although we have to work on our attack, we played very good hockey."

On Monday the Huskies battled a very tough Lock Haven team to a 1-1 deadlock. The first half was primarily an even fight at midfield. Neither team had any type of scoring opportunity.

The second half, however, was entirely dominated by Lock Haven. Hutchinson stated, "They are a stronger team than they were last year. They outplayed us even in the first half. We weren't in the game until the last ten minutes. Only then did we finally penetrate and make good inside passes."

Late in the second half, Joan Mahoney made a fine pass to Turnbull who converted it into her team's lone score. The tie raised the Huskies record to 2-1-1. They meet tough opposition in Kutztown and I.U.P. this week. The team hopes that their play this past weekend is indicative of things to come.

young, fresh talent it should be an exciting year."

The roster includes just two seniors and 10 juniors to go along with 12 sophomores and six freshmen. "Once we become accustomed to each other, I think we're going to be a pretty good soccer team. It may take us one more year to be an outstanding team, but we are alleviating all the individualistic play and working as a team and right now that's what matters most to me," stated Mingrone.

The Huskies have picked a tough way to open the season. Coach J. Malcolm Siman's New Jersey Tech squads are annually among the top teams in the country and have posted a fine 168-97-19 record during his 25 year tenure at the school.

"Our first four games are brutal! We open on the road at New Jersey Tech then come home to play Lock Haven, the defending Division II national champs, and after them we have to travel to Shippensburg, who because of our rivalry is always tough, and then Scranton comes here and they lost in the Division III national finals. So when that stretch is over, we should be playing some sharp soccer."

The schedule is as follows: 9-19, at Shippensburg; 9-23, Scranton; 9-26, Millersville; 9-30, at University of Maryland-Baltimore Co.; 10-6, Indiana (PA); 10-10, Lycoming; 10-14, Bucknell; 10-17, Kutztown; 10-20, West Chester; 10-24, at Cheyney; 10-28, Juniata; 10-31, Wilkes; 11-2, at East Stroudsburg; 11-4, at Susquehanna; 11-11, PSAC Championships.

Lock Haven Next Foe for Huskies

The Bloomsburg State College football team (0-2) will be seeking its initial win of the 1981 campaign when the Huskies travel to Lock Haven State on Saturday, September 19th. The clash with the Pennsylvania Conference western division member Bald Eagles is set for LHSC's Hubert Jack Stadium at 2:00 p.m., and will be part of the Community Day celebration at Lock Haven.

Coach Clark Boler's squad held the lead at halftime against Shippensburg last Saturday, but the Raiders used 19 third quarter points to thwart BSC's upset attempt.

Following a Shippensburg fumble on its first possession of the game, the Huskies took the early lead when quarterback Kurt Werkheiser hit runningback Harry James with an 11 yard scoring toss. The Raiders closed the gap early in the second period on a 3 yard run by halfback Dave Friese, but SSC missed the extra point attempt, and the Huskies still led by one. On the ensuing kickoff, BSC's Steve Meszaros took the ball in his own endzone and raced a school record 101 yards for a touchdown to build the advantage. Doug Berry added his second extra point of the day and the score stood at 14-6. Meszaros' return broke the old BSC mark of 99 yards, which he set last year against the same team. Shippensburg scored again before the half, on a Tim Ebersole to Ed Noon 6 yard pass, but again failed on the conversion and the Huskies held a 14-12 lead at the intermission.

Berry's 35 yard field goal in the third quarter added to the lead before SSC scored three times in the quarter, and once in the final stanza to make the final score 38-17. Ebersole threw for 296 yards and two touchdowns, and Friese gained 83 yards rushing while scoring three times. For the day, the Raiders gained 308 yards passing and 298 yards rushing, for the school record of 606 yards in total offense. Against the tough SSC defense, Bloomsburg only managed a total offensive output of 130 yards.

This loss, combined with a season opening 35-0 defeat at Ithaca, dropped BSC to 0-2.

Lock Haven opened the campaign with a hard fought 7-0 victory at Lycoming last Saturday. The teams battled to a scoreless tie after one half of play. The Bald Eagles finally put the lone score of the day on the board after an interception by defensive back Lance Lehner. On the next play, sophomore quarterback Ben Pavalko tossed a 33 yard touchdown pass to wide receiver Bobby Lynn, who made a spectacular one handed grab in the endzone for the touchdown.

A highly touted defense kept Lycoming out of the Lock Haven endzone despite several scoring opportunities by the Warriors. The Bald Eagle effort was aided by two interceptions, two fumble recoveries (including one on the LHSC four yard line), and four quarterback sacks.

Lock Haven's defense is headed by a veteran record-breaking secondary, which picked off 29 passes in 1980. Seniors Tony Garzione and Dave Zielinskie join Lehner in the defensive backfield. The threesome combined for 16 interceptions a year ago and Zielinskie and Garzione were named to the All-PSAC western division team.

All PSAC choice Tony Tillar, who contributed 103 tackles last season, and the team's leading tackler with 128, Carl Dean, lead the linebacking corps.

The defensive line is anchored by ends Dave Price, a senior, and junior Brian Sekerak. Defensively, the Bald Eagles allowed only 10.5 points per game last season.

Sekerak doubles as the punter and was named to the All-PSAC western division team while averaging 39.3 yards per kick in 71 attempts.

The offensive unit returns five starters on the line, which will have the task of protecting quarterback Pavalko. The signal caller completed 50 of 113 passes for 713 yards and eight touchdowns last year. The return of 1979 All-PSAC selection wide receiver Lynn, a junior who missed the 1980 campaign because of injuries suffered in a motorcycle accident, will enhance the passing game.

Lock Haven won last year's meeting in Redman Stadium by a 16-6 count and now leads the series with 30 wins to the Huskies' 25 victories. There have been three ties.
