

Reagan Approves Cuts

The budget cuts which Ronald Reagan signed into law August 13th included sweeping changes in most federal student aid programs. The changes in the major programs are outlined below.

GUARANTEED STUDENT LOANS

1) Students who apply for GSLs after August 23, 1981, will have to pay a new fee called a "loan origination fee." The amount of the fee is five percent of the total amount of the loan. There will also be a new "insurance fee" amounting to 1.5 percent of the loan.

2) All students, regardless of financial worth, used to be able to get GSLs. But as of October 1, 1981, students from families with annual incomes over $30,000 will have to demonstrate financial need in order to get a GSL. Congress and the U.S. Dept. of Education are still debating what constitutes "need."

PELL GRANTS

1) Students now get less money per year from Pell Grants, which used to be called Basic Educational Opportunity Grants. Last fall a maximum Pell Grant per year was $1800. President Carter lowered it to $1750. Under the new Reagan law, the maximum is $1670.

2) Congress will raise the total amount in the Pell Grant pot from $2.6 billion this year to $3 billion through fiscal 1984.

NATION DIRECT STUDENT LOANS

1) The interest rates on NDSLs will go from four percent to five percent annually.

2) In congressional trading, financial directors were told a $100 million NDSL appropriation would be restored to the budget. It wasn't. When the program was finally refunded this summer, the appropriation was $14.8 million lower.

3) Congress will keep it lower. It mandated no increase in NDSL funding (currently $286 million) through 1984.

NO-GROWTH PROGRAMS

Congress resolved not to increase funding for:

1) Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants for at least three years (current funding is $370 million).

2) College Work-Study for three years (current funding is $550 million).

3) State Student Incentive Grants for three years (current funding is $77 million).

4) Trio Programs for the Disadvantaged for two years (current funding is $170 million).

PARENT LOANS

1) After October 1, 1981, interest on Parent Loans will rise from nine percent to 14 percent per year. Interest is now tied to the interest rates paid on Treasury notes. If they fall below 14 percent and stay low for a year, then Parent Loan interest rates will fall to 12 percent.

2) Despite much debate, Congress decided to let independent students — those putting themselves through school on their own — keep taking out Parent Loans. But the independent student can't get more than $2500 per year in combined Parent and Guaranteed Student loans, or more than $12,500 total through a college career.

STUDENT SOCIAL SECURITY

1) The administration originally wanted to stop school Social Security benefits to some 800,000 students who currently qualify for benefits if their covered parents are disabled or deceased. A compromise kept benefits intact this year.

2) The amount of the benefits will be cut by 25 percent in fall, 1982. No new students will qualify for Social Security benefits as of then.

Architects Inspect Building Site

Architects who will design the $6.4 million Human Services Center at Bloomsburg State College inspected the proposed site for the building during a visit to campus Tuesday, September 29.

The architectural firm, Burkavage and Evans, of Clarks Summit, will work from the educational specification for the building prepared by the college and submitted to the Pennsylvania Department of Education and the Department of General Services, which has responsibility for the project. The specification suggests a basic need for a three or four-story building with 73,000 square feet for space to accommodate the programs designated to use the facility, with an additional 14,000 square feet for other classrooms and offices requested if the appropriation will support it.

Present occupancy plans provide for assigning space in the new building to the departments of nursing, psychology, sociology, elementary education, secondary education, and educational studies and services, with appropriate laboratory facilities, classrooms, conference or seminar rooms, and faculty offices. Plans also include a technology-media complex with provisions for audio-visual media services, television and radio studios, an auto-tutorial laboratory, a curriculum materials center, and a campus health complex.

The specification proposes on a space available basis inclusion of general purpose teaching rooms and possible expansion of the technology-media complex to include computer information science and mathematics instruction facilities.

Because the location for the building is in an area presently assigned for parking, the architects have been asked to consider parking problems and both vehicle and pedestrian traffic patterns in both the design and selection of the actual site. The possibility of including either underground or ground level parking within the building area has been suggested.

Planning began eight years ago. It has been coordinated by the campus-wide space and facilities committee working with faculty members, academic departments, and general administration. With the passage last December of the capital budget bill that provided funding, Dr. Raymond E. Babineau, who chaired the space and facilities committee, was appointed educational facilities consultant to review plans with all academic departments and to prepare the education specification for the building.

The building will be located in the area between Bakeless Center for the Humanities and the Waller Administration building. Steam, water, power, an sewer lines were installed in the area several years ago. The exact location, to be selected by the architects, is expected to enhance the general appearance of the campus and the mall east of the Harvey A. Andrus Library.

Honor Society Seeks Members

The Scholastic All-American Search has begun, but nobody seems to know about it.

According to President Mark A. Anderson, not one single BSC student has submitted an application for the fall 1981 class.

"In fairness to each school and to its students, it is our policy to accept members from each of this country's 1,500 schools," he said.

The honor society is a small, non-profit organization comprised of undergraduate students from all fifty states and several foreign countries.

"We started out with only six members, but our 'All-American' appeal forced us into a nationwide organization" according to Anderson.

The goal of the annual Scholastic All-American Search is to admit top students from each community college, junior college, undergraduate, and graduate school in the country. The organization has no local chapters, instead seeks intellectually mature students on a nationwide level. Students are chosen on the basis of their leadership abilities, physical vigor, and intellectual prowess.

Students wishing further information are asked to send a stamped self-addressed envelope to the Scholastic All-American Honor Society, Post Office Box 237, Clinton, New York, 13323.

Greeks Play Blowball

Scott Shaffer, Inter-fraternity President announced that The Bloomsburg State Echo-bowl is scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 17th.

"The fraternities and Sororities of Bloomsburg State College are sponsoring this unique event as a fundraiser for the Easter Seal Society", commented Kathy Boyle, Inter-Sorority Council President.

Sixteen teams composed of men and women will compete for trophies and T-shirts. Brawley Distributors, New Cumberland, Pa. will supply trophies, equipment, and expertise.

The single elimination tournament is a sporting event of sorts which can best be described as a game combining soccer, hockey, and good old American kickball using an innovative cleaning tool — manufactured by Echo, Inc. — called a power blower.

The gas-powered blowers are used to move a 7" Nerf ball between two goals on opposite ends of a 60' by 100' playing field. Brawley Distributors will supply and maintain the hand-held blowers for the tournament.

Each individual and team will be challenged to raise as much money as possible to help fund the free services of the Easter Seal Society which include: TAPLine, a 24 hour crisis intervention service, the child development center for handicapped pre-schoolers, summer camping, and an equipment loan program for the physically handicapped.

The Society provided service to over 9,000 clients in 1980-81.

Thoughts for the Day

Do you have a catchy quote, favorite saying, or an interesting tidbit of information that could be entertaining to our readers?

The Campus Voice is looking for "thoughts for the Day" from all you quick-witted students and faculty members out there. Your original material can be of a solemn, informative, satirical, or just plain humorous nature.

Please submit all fascinating proverbs to the Campus Voice office, second floor of the Kehr Union building, or to Box 97 in the mail room located in the games room, ground floor of KUB.

Letters to the Editor

REPLY TO EATING

Dear Editor:

This is a response to a letter which appeared in last week's Campus Voice.

Dear Happy,

I was glad to see your letter in the latest Campus Voice, but there are a few things you don't seem to understand about my opinion. Allow me to clarify.

I know Mommy isn't cooking my meals and I don't expect the "galloping gourmet" to make me steak and lobster. I'd just like to be able to identify what I'm eating.

Do you enjoy having no beverage with your meal or eating off dirty plates? Let's be realistic. My opinions were, for the most part, justified. By the way, just what was the point of your letter? Were you trying to defend the Commons, or was it just a personal attack on me? If it was a personal attack, your attitude is no better than you claim mine to be.

From the Archives

Many students experience the heady exhilaration of new-found freedom when they enter college away from home. How that new-found freedom is managed often determines college success or failure.

However, there was a time when the casual freedom of today was unheard of, and the college leash in loco parents was taut indeed. The following are examples of rules that were a part of student life beginning in the late 1860's and continuing virtually unchanged until World War I:

1. No Student shall be absent from his room at night after the hours indicated by the ringing of the study bell; and in twenty minutes after the ringing of the retiring bell, all lights must be extinguished.

2. The use of tobacco, in any form, in or about the building, or on the way to or from school is prohibited.

"Students will not at any time indulge in the use of liquors."

3. Students will not at any time indulge in the use of intoxicating liquors, nor frequent places where they are sold.

4. Teachers must at all times have access to the students' rooms.

5. Rooms found unnecessarily dirty will be cleaned at the expense of the occupant.

6. Students will not at any time leave the grounds of the institution without permission.

7. Students will be required to attend public worship once on the Sabbath, at such place as their parents or guardians designate, and the Normal School Bible Class in the afternoon.

Knocks and $$$ for Diplomas

Campus Digest News Service

It is the college degree for the uncolleged but painfully educated. The University of Hard Knocks, Inc., or UHK, issues diplomas annually to those applicants who haven't received a college degree, who are successful, and who attest to the belief that education means taking your lumps in the real world.

There are between 600 and 700 people out there who hold the degrees. Each has parted with $100 for the honor. The founder of the University, James Comstock, officiated at the graduation ceremonies as he has for the past 30 years.

The mock university is not without famous supporters. Sen. Barry Goldwater holds a degree and Sen. Jesse Helms who recently received his degree.

The ceremonies take place on the campus of Alderson-Broadus College, a bonafide educational institution in Philippi, W. Va.

This education recognition program began as a joke when Comstock, a graduate of Marshall University in West Virginia was in the newspaper business with an uncolleged friend. His friend was so impressive, Comstock gave him a degree from the school of hard knocks. The idea grew and prospered.

Although UHK might have trouble getting accredited, it doesn't seem to bother anyone involved. After all, the graduates know they are graduates whether they have the piece of paper or not. Because what they have to show for their experience is reflected in UHK's school colors: black and blue.

Children See Soap Opera Sex

Campus Digest News Service

Children may think that most people are wealthy businessmen or doctors, have illicit affairs or become prostitutes. The source of these notions—daytime soap operas.

A study by the University of Pennsylvania's Journal of Communication says soaps are the cause of many misconceptions by children about modern life. Researchers watched hundreds of hours of soaps and recorded each sordid embrace and steamy romance.

They found, for example that in 65 hours of soap operas, only 6 percent of the presumed sex scenes were between people married to each other.

Some soap opera writers defend their products, saying that they try to reflect life validly.

Crackdown on diploma mills

Campus Digest News Service

The California legislature has started a commission to help combat the "diploma mills" in the state.

Diploma mills are unaccredited institutions that give out degrees, often without requiring coursework.

A consultant for the legislature says the present California laws are among the most lax in the country. Schools need only to show $50,000 in assets and file an affidavit with the state with its address and a list of directors.

The approximately 200 diplomas now in existence in California are not required to meet any academic standards. The commission is expected to issue recommendations to revise the laws

Movie Shows All the Sides of Life

By KATTA D'ORBEGOSO

Showing at the Capitol Theatre on Main St. in Bloomsburg, Simon's movie, "Only When I Laugh." It is a picture nobody should miss. It is a window into that so much talked about world of theatre. It presents to us theatre actors and actresses as they really are — their successes and failures in the profession — as well as in their private lives.

The central theme though, does not stay with the actors. It's theme deals with immaturity. It is for that reason that the film, which is based on Simon's screen play, "The Gingerbread Lady," is advisable for all ages.

Marsha Mason as Georgia Hines is superb! Not since "The Goodbye Girl" has her performance been so clear and natural. Mason succeeds in capturing the character of an alcoholic actress who is afraid of responsibilities and recognition.

Kristy McNichols as Georgia's daughter, plays a love-hungry child, deprived of her mother's attention. Her acting is fine, but could have been better.

Mason and McNichols give the audience lots of laughs in scenes depicting their first breakfast together (pancakes a la carte) to the hurried flight that takes place when two Don Juan teenagers try to pick up Mom and daughter.

Co-starring in the film is James Coco as Jimmy, a veteran if not often heard of comedian. His part as the aspiring actor who has absolute devotion for his friend Georgia was very well played.

A second best friend for Georgia is co-star JoAnn Hackett as Toby. She happens to be quite rich and overly preoccupied with her beauty. Her beauty is not a barrier for her friends Georgia and Jimmy, though; she is never forgetful of them.

Simons couldn't have picked a better place to film the movie. New York City is seen in all its mastered splendor and social decay — both being combined wisely according to the scene. It can be said that New York City was an actor itself.

On the whole, the movie combined comedy and tragedy. After giving the audience a good insight into the alcoholic's motives, the film ends with Georgia's final acceptance of herself, which is her first step to permanent recovery.

Homecoming Events Slated

Fall is in the air and preparations are well underway for the 1981 Homecoming at Bloomsburg State College scheduled for the weekend of October 9-11.

The theme "I Am Music" has been selected to afford float and residence halls entrants the opportunity to decorate in commemoration of a great musician, composer, group or type of music.

"Due to the broad spectrum of subjects and time, we are looking forward to some interesting and exciting decorations," states Dr. Jack Mulka, advisor to the committee.

Redman Stadium will provide the setting to kickoff Friday's evening events. The traditional pep rally begins at 7:30 p.m., immediately followed by the display of famous Zambelli fireworks. The Freshman Sweetheart and the five finalists for Homecoming Queen will be announced at the pep rally.

Saturday, October 10, is another action-packed day as residence hall judging begins at 8:45 a.m.

Returning alumni will register in Carver Hall beginning at 9:00 a.m. Classes of 1956, '61, '71 and '76 will hold reunions at the Sheraton at Danville later in the day.

The Homecoming parade begins at 10:00 a.m. at the Bloomsburg High School parking lot and will proceed up Market Street, Main Street and Second Street to Centennial Gymnasium. Representative Ted Stuban is the Grand Parade Marshal and Boyd F. Buckingham, vice president for administration, the Honorary Parade-Marshal.

Also at 10:00 a.m., a soccer game between BSC vs. Lycoming will begin in Redman Stadium. Then the BSC Huskies meet West Chester in a 1:30 p.m. football game at Redman Stadium. Half-time ceremonies will feature the winners of the dorm and float contests and the crowning of the 1981 Homecoming Sweetheart.

The Sheraton Inn at Danville and the Kehr Union are the locations for Saturday's evening events. A dinner, preceded by a social hour, is set for 7:00 p.m. and a dance featuring "Nature's Way" begins at 9:00 p.m. at Sheraton Inn. Arrangements to attend these activities should be made through the Alumni Office (389-3613). Students will dance to the music of "Risk" in Kehr Union on campus beginning at 9:00 p.m.

Sunday evening brings the Homecoming events to a musical close, as the traditional Pops Concert featuring the Concert Choir and Husky Singers under the direction of Dr. William Decker and Women's Choral Ensemble under the direction of Dr. Richard Stanislaw begins at 7:00 p.m. in the Haas Center. At 9:00 p.m. the Kehr Union Program Board will feature folk singer Rod MacDonald in the Kehr Union Coffeehouse. Both of these events are free to the public.

Additional information on Homecoming events can be obtained by contacting Dr. Mulka at 389-2918 or Cheryl Zachary, homecoming chairperson, at 784-3900.

Operating costs of colleges up

Campus Digest News Service

With budget cuts sweeping across the country, American colleges have still managed to accumulate operating costs that are higher than ever.

The operating costs of American colleges and universities will rise to $71.5 billion this year according to the National Center for Education Statistics.

The same federal agency is expecting almost no increase in the number of college students nor faculty members. Projected college enrollment this year is 12,135,000 compared to last year's 12,115,000.

Revenues not including funds for buildings or gifts to endowments were up 12.5 percent. About one fifth of the revenues for America's colleges were collected from students in the form of tuition.

CGA Committees Are Important

By PRINCE MASSEY

CGA is the Community Government Association at BSC. Its fourteen Standing Committees are the backbone of the organization.

The following is a brief description of each committee.

The Publicity Committee informs students on items of business which will be discussed at College Council meetings.

Complaints against a student organization, and approval or disapproval of all new student organizations on campus are handled by the Student Organizations Committee.

The Elections Committee makes certain that all requirements as outlined in the Pilot are adhered to concerning student elections.

A Budget Committee meets approximately one month in the spring to determine organization's and athletic team's budgets for the following year.

The Finance Committee listens to requests for funds needed by athletics and other organizations.

Several of the committees oversee social events and plan celebrations. Those committees concerned with organizing social events and celebrations are: Parents Weekend, Homecoming, and Awards Committees. The Concert Committee organizes all concerts. Recreational projects to benefit the students are the concern of the Recreation Committee.

Published results of professor evaluations are gathered by the Faculty Evaluations Committee.

The Lawyer Committee lets students know when a student lawyer will be on campus.

An Investment Committee investigates CGA use of approximately $360,000 in the Husky Contingency Fund.

Lastly, a Committee for Student Rights and Freedoms makes certain that students' rights are not violated.

"The CGA would not be successful without competent students serving on these committees," says Karen Chawaga, president of CGA.

Dr. Phillip A. Farber, Professor in the Department of biological and Allied Health Sciences, was a participant in the September seventeenth and eighteenth program sponsored by the American Society of Clinical Pathologists and the Geisinger Medical Center. His presentation dealt with "Cytogenetic Studies in Hematologic Disorders." The program was entitled "Advances in Medical Technology."

On September fourteenth Dr. David E. Washburn, Director of the Multiculture Center and Professor of Educational Studies at Bloomsburg State College, gave the keynote address to the United States Department of Defense Dependents Schools - Atlantic Region Administrators Conference at Leicester, England. Dr. Washburn is presently an exchange professor at the City of Birmingham Polytechnic, in England where he is also Senior Research Fellow with the International Center for Multicultural Education. His audience at the conference included the directorate staff, school administrators, and Curriculum Coordinators of the Department of Defense Dependents School - Atlantic Region. The Atlantic Region includes Cuba, Bermuda, the Azores, Iceland, and Western Europe. Dr. Washburn's topic was, "Multicultural Education in the United States: Origins, Development, and Prospects."

Dr. Connie Schick, Department of Psychology, recently attended a five-day work shop on "Stress and Type A (Coronary-Prone) Behavior." It was conducted by the Albert Einstein College of Medicine as part of their Therapies for the 80's Summer Institute.

Participants learned the principle of stress from environmental, personality, social and physiological points of view, with an emphasis on individual differences in stress reactions due to inherited and learned factors. Identification of an experimental efforts to alter the Type A Behavior Pattern were also taught. The final two days were used to critically review past and current research aimed at reducing Type A behavior in coronary patients and others at risk. Since stress cannot be avoided in the modern world and heart disease is still the number one killer in America, extensive research has been conducted into the psychological aspects of this disease and recently into psychotherapy programs aimed at its prevention.

Halloween Run to be Sponsored By Program Board

By VIRGINIA REED

The Recreation Committee of the Kehr Union Program Board is sponsoring a "Halloween Madness Fun Run" on October 31. The five kilometer (3.1 mile) race will begin at 11:00 a.m. from the Bloomsburg Town Park.

The course of the run, which is completely flat, starts at the Town Park, proceeds down River Road to the Bloomsburg Fairgrounds, and back to the Park via Railroad Avenue. Time splits will be given at the one and two mile marks.

Participants are encouraged to dress in Halloween costumes as there will be special awards for best individual efforts. Run Coordinator, Rick Leandri, reminds participants that costumes should in no way limit your vision, breathing, or freedom of movement since you will have to run in them.

According to Leandri, awards will be presented to the top two finishers (male and female) in each of the five race categories- Freshman, Sophomore, Junior, Senior, and Open (graduate, faculty, staff, other). Special prizes will also be awarded in a costume competition based on originality, humor, and vest and worst costumes.

The entry fee for the race is $3.00 and includes a T-shirt. Applications can be picked up at the Information Desk, Kehr Union Games Room Office, and all dormitory desks. All entry forms and fees should be returned to the Kehr Union Games Room Office by October 26, 1981. Numbers can be picked up on the day of the race between 9 and 10:45 at the Town Park. Late registrations will be accepted at this time.

For more information about the race, contact Rick Leandri on Tuesday's from 4-12 p.m. at 389-2127 or any time at 387-1672.

Campus Welcomes New Deans

By AMY BENNETT

BSC has two new Resident Deans for 1981-82, Mike Ford in Northumberland Hall, and Mike Sowash in Luzerne Hall.

Ford, a native of Long Island, New York, is a 1980 graduate of BSC with a degree in Secondary Education and Communications. While attending Bloomsburg, he was a Resident Advisor for two years, a Senior Resident Advisor, Executive Assistant for CGA, Vice-President of the Association of Resident Students, and president of the Bloomsburg Players.

Before taking the position at BSC he taught Decision Making and Communication Skills to Junior High students at Central Buck School District in Doylestown, Pennsylvania.

"I believe in a preventative educational approach to discipline," says Ford, "I base this on the fact that if the students like where they live, and get along with their R.A.s, they will abide by the rules."

Different projects he has planned for the dormitory include a roller skating party and an installation of HBO. The installation is being paid for by the hall residents.

Mike Sowash, from Greenville, PA, is a 1974 graduate of Slippery Rock State College, with a degree in Recreation and Park Administration. He also has 12 graduate credits in Counseling and Education from the University of Scranton.

Prior to taking the position of Resident Dean, he worked in the Kehr Union for six years, two as night manager and four as Assistant Director of Student Activities and the Kehr College Union, in charge of operations.

"I feel that in order to be a successful Resident Dean I must maintain one-on-one contact with the students," says Sowash, "I also believe that the social and cultural aspects of residence hall living are just as important as discipline."

Some of the activities Sowash has planned are a roller skating mixer with 2nd floor Lycoming and decoration theme for Homecoming - "Walk Through Music".

State Funds up, Tuition Down for Colleges

Campus Digest News Service

Community colleges enjoyed having a larger percentage of their budgets paid by state funds and students enjoyed paying a smaller percentage of the budgets last year.

This information comes from a study by the National Association of College and University Business Officers.

The study found the median percentage of revenue from tuition and fees declined from 16.5 percent in 1978-79 to 15.1 percent in 1979-80.

The median percentage of revenue from state appropriations, which was 53.3 percent the year before, was up to 58.5 percent last year.

Although support from state sources increased, funds from local government declined in 1979-80. Local entities donated 9.9 percent of community college budgets compared to 11.7 percent the year before.

Also shown in the study was a decline in revenue from private gifts from a median of $3 per student to $1 per student.

Although the burden of supporting community colleges is shifting from students' tuition, students may not be paying less because the budgets of the colleges are steadily increasing.

Funds spent by the colleges per student for general and educational purposes was $2,676 in 1979-80, up 5.9 percent from $2,528 the previous year.

The study was based on a sample of approximately 400 public two-year colleges.

Law Interviewers Pay For Privilege

Campus Digest News Service

Columbia University's School of Law has taken a novel approach to the practice of law firms coming in to interview students for jobs.

Why not make the firms pay for that privilege?

Although many of the law firms have balked and called foul play, others were glad to make a $200 a day donation to the school for a crack at the students.

Columbia is not alone in its new policy of selling interviews to those seeking to fill positions. The Boalt Hall School of Law on the campus of the University of California at Berkeley gets $150 a day from potential employers. This produced $30,000 in income for the school last year. Some have dropped out because of the policy, but most of the major firms find it fair and shell out the extra cash.

Many of the schools around the country are waiting to see how these two schools do with their new policies. If there is a low attrition rate among recruiters, it is likely that many schools will be following in their footsteps.

Bloomsburg Fair Rounds Up

The Bloomsburg Fair had something for everyone to enjoy as the face on this little girl shows.

For those who worked up an appetite betting the crowds, a wide variety of foods suited to any taste were available to fairgoers.

For those likened to be carried away, balloons could be had by all.

Bundled up to brave the cold weather, this girl seems perfectly happy with her guilted friend.

Suit filed over pledge's death

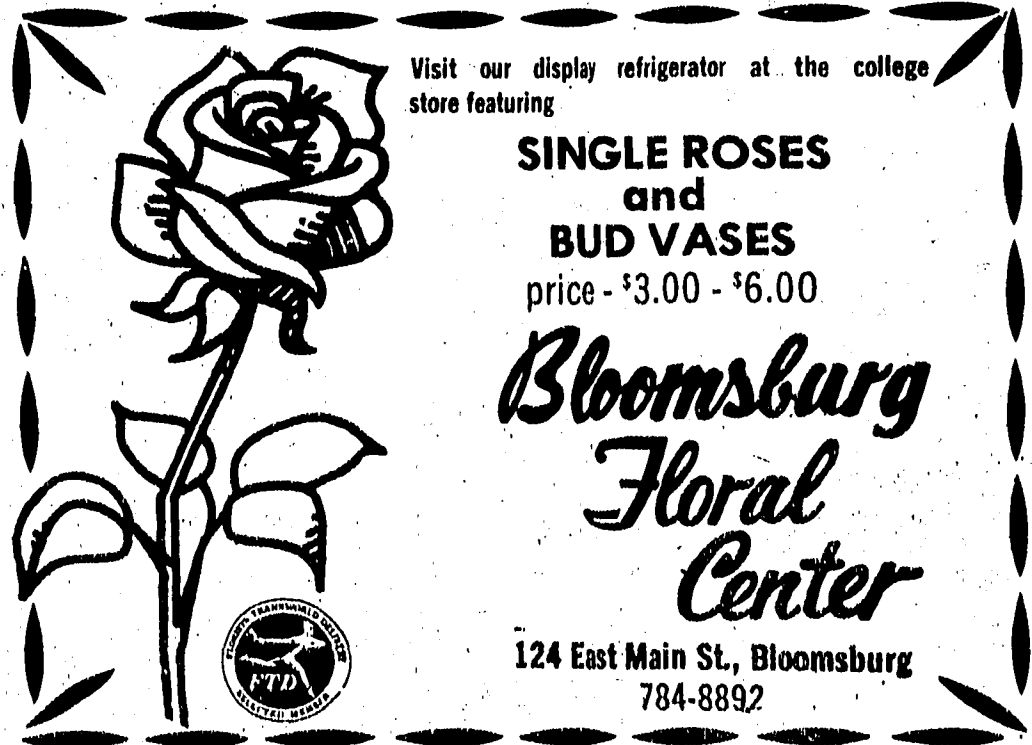

Campus Digest News Service

The death of a Mississippi State University student Curtis Huntley, in an alleged hazing incident, has resulted in a $2 million lawsuit against three students at that university.

Filed by the dead student's father, Hugh L. Huntley of Knoxville, Tenn., the suit names three former pledges of the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity and their parents.

Huntley's son died from injuries he received when he jumped out of a car as he was allegedly being driven to a mud hole used for dunking pledges.

Representative Assembly Holds First Meeting

By ANGEL GRASSO
and

The first meeting of the Representative Assembly (RA) was held last Wednesday at 3 p.m. in Multipurpose Room A.

Last year's R.A. Chairperson, Robert Rosholt opened the meeting by introducing members and calling role. Members were briefed on election procedures for the new Chairperson.

"I am not seeking election to a third term since the twenty-second amendment limits the President to two terms, this may be a good policy for the R.A.," said Rosholt. "I hope the person elected will be strongly supportive of the purposes of the R.A., including the important role we give to students."

President James McCormick welcomed new members, and thanked everyone who contributed last year. He discussed the budget problem, saying it would be a very tight year because of increases in salaries and benefits. He said that Governor Thornburgh recommended all federal agencies to take a one percent budget cut. This one percent would need to be divided among different areas. "The difficulty will be trying to make cloth fit the table" McCormick commented. "Federal taxes are going to have a great impact on budgets."

Following McCormick's address, nominations for R.A. Chairperson were held. Dr. Craig Himes and Dr. David Minderhout were the nominees. Minderhout won the election in a close race.

"I am looking forward to getting a lot accomplished this year," Minderhout said. His two major concerns were absence of student and faculty participation, and the lack of publicity for the R.A.

Rosholt explained new committee election procedure. Last year problems arose because some people who wished to be on committees were not nominated. This year representatives may indicate their first and second committee choices, and these will be compiled on a ballot.

The last thing discussed was the compressed schedule the Friday after registration. The schedule, which was derived to protect Monday classes, received a lot of criticism from faculty and students.

The meeting was recessed and Segment II of Rep. Assembly was scheduled for today at 3 p.m. in Multipurpose A.

Students Sponsor Fair Booth

The BSC Nursing students sponsored a Blood Pressure booth in the Agricultural Building at the Bloomsburg Fair. Testing was free, and there was a large turnout. The majority of people who had their blood pressure taken were elderly people, and people with a history of high blood pressure.

Approximately ten Nursing students, two freshmen, four sophomores, two juniors, and two seniors, each worked a two-hour shift from 10:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. every day. The two freshmen gathered medical information about individuals for the American Heart Association. For example, if they have high blood pressure and are taking medication, and how many times a year they have their blood pressure taken.

It is important to have your blood pressure checked regularly because high blood pressure can lead to heart attack or stroke. Some causes of high blood pressure are smoking, stress, high cholesterol, hereditary factors, and being overweight. A couple ways to avoid high blood pressure are exercise and proper diet.

A new concept in selecting students for admission is being tried at Brown University.

Those students who demonstrate they have done a year of full-time volunteer work will be given preferential treatment when it comes to being admitted or considered for special scholarships.

The amount of money to be put into the scholarship fund has not yet been determined, but the university estimates about 100 students will be affected with the birth of the new policy.

Qualifications of students required under the preferential treatment program include the following: a year of work for little or no pay for a public or private entity which helps the elderly, the handicapped, the ill or disadvantaged people. The student also could satisfy the requirements by serving in the military or working in a program devoted to conserving natural resources.

Man from Glad bids Stanford funny farewell

STANFORD, Calif. (CH) — John Anderson may have been criticized as a lecturer at Stanford, but as a stand-up comic he earned high marks.

In his farewell address as a guest professor, Anderson belied his serious, intense image with a speech that poked fun at himself, Stanford students and presidential politics. "I will never compromise my view of the intelligence of Stanford students, but I wish they'd stop asking me what it was like to star in 'Mission Impossible,'" Anderson said. "I'm really getting tired of walking through White Plaza hearing 'Man from Glad, Man from Glad.'"

He also spoke of a presidential race against Kennedy - Stanford President Donald Kennedy, that is. "I know there's always been that Kennedy mystique," Anderson says. "But my research assistants have just discovered that Donald Kennedy is not Ted's, John's or Bobby's brother, but in real life is ... Elvis Costello. You know you've never seen them together. Now you know why."

The speech was written by Anderson's research assistant and another Stanford student, both of whom are members of the Hammer and Coffin Society that publishes Stanford's humor magazine. The former candidate's daughter says her father "wanted to do something different."

The crowd of 100 students found the change refreshing. They gave Anderson a standing ovation after hearing lines like, "Do you ever get the feeling that the only reason we have elections is to find out if the polls were right?"

'Kevin's Korner'

BY KEVIN KODISH

Here we are, October! It's time for the major league baseball playoffs. As most of you know, this year there is an extra round of playoffs. For the first time ever, a best-of-five division series is in effect for both leagues.

In the National League East, it's the Phillies against their arch rivals, the Montreal Expos. One must seriously wonder how many times the Expos can be turned away. Philadelphia rooters hope the Phils can eliminate Montreal for the third straight season.

It was a little bit hilarious to me when I saw the Expos down the Mets for the second half title. Montreal isn't any further than they ever have been, but they are jumping all over each other and breaking out the champagne!

The defending world champions will send ageless Steve Carlton to the mound in game one of the series. Montreal will counter with their ace hurler, Steve Rogers. Game time in Olympic Stadium is set for 1:05 p.m.

Over in the Western Division of the senior circuit, it will be the Los Angeles Dodgers against the Houston Astros. The Texas franchise lost one of their key performers in pitcher Don Sutton, but look for them to put up a great fight against the ancient Dodgers.

The "Brew Crew" of Milwaukee won the second half title of the AL East, edging the Detroit Tigers on the final weekend. The New York Yankees will provide the opposition for the Brewers. The series will open in Milwaukee, and if the Brewers can get ANY pitching, they will win this series.

The Oakland A's stand off against the second half champs, the KC Royals, in the AL West playoffs. The Royals host the first two games before the series resumes in Oakland. The Royals were hot the entire second half, so look for them to be in good condition offensively.

HUSKY FOOTBALL

The Bloomsburg football squad had last Saturday afternoon off. Clark Boler's gridders resume action this Saturday with a home contest with West Chester.

To date, the team sports a record of 0-4. After getting shutout in the first game this year, the point output has steadily gone up, but the defense continues to give up many points.

In the four tilts, the Husky opponents have scored 35, 38, 42 and 36. The individual totals for BSC look like this: 0, 17, 19 and 26.

Quarterback Kurt Werkheiser has completed 56 of 112 pass attempts so far this year, good for 731 yards. He has been intercepted 10 times, however.

The Huskies are going to have to establish some sort of running attack if they are to win this year. So far, BSC has only gained 230 yards rushing on 169 tries, an average of just 1.4 yards per carry. By contrast, the opposition has rolled up 1040 yards on 223 attempts, an average of 4.7 markers per crack.

Mike Blake leads the Husky receivers in receptions and yardage. Blake has hauled in 23 passes for 362 yards, good for a 15.7 average per catch. Stan Kucewicz has caught 15 passes for 214 yards, a 14.3 percentage per reception. Both Blake and Kucewicz have accounted for a TD catch, as have Steve Moran and Harry James.

Werkheiser and Dave Fahrer have handled the punting chores thus far for the Huskies. Werkheiser has hit 18 punts for 665 yards, for an average of 36.9. Fahrer has a 31.8 average on his four kicks.

Punt return yardage is another area BSC is getting burned bad. The Huskies have received nine punts, but have only 14 total yards in returns. Husky foes have 120 return yards in 13 attempts.

Steve Meszaros has done a fine job returning kickoffs for BSC. So far, he has taken six kickoffs and has 179 yards and a touchdown. Tim Stanton also has a good average, 94 yards in six tries.

John Bolton is the leading tackler for the defense. The senior Harrisburg native has 12 unassisted tackles to go with 18 assists. The standout has also recovered a fumble and knocked two aerial attempts to the ground. Jamie Sochovka, Chris Blackburn, Mike Miller, and Steve Forshey are all on Bolton's tail, as all the defenders are within nine defensive points of one another.

This week is the homecoming game for BSC, and hopefully a good crowd will be on hand to cheer the Maroon and Gold to victory.

Here is the remaining football schedule:

OCT 10 West Chester H; 17 — Millersville A; 24 — Cheyney - H; 31 — Kutztown - A.

NOV 7 — E. Stroudsburg - H; 14 Edinboro - H.

See you in two days with my collegiate forecasts!

Women Swimmers Look for Improvement

By TINA KLAMUT

The women's swim team looks forward to another successful season as they begin practice this week at the Nelson Field House pool.

"The girls look very strong this year and I'm very optimistic about the season," said Mary Gardner, coach of the team.

Last year the women swimmers enjoyed a very successful season. They had their best showing ever at the Pennsylvania State Conference Meet, tying with Shippensburg for second behind Clarion State. The Huskies also had their best finish at Division III Nationals, where they finished seventh out of about 100 teams.

"This year," Gardner predicts, "I am hoping for a strong second place finish at the Conference meet because Clarion will be out of reach again. I also think we can finish higher at Nationals."

Clarion State is the powerhouse of the Conference; they have won the Conference meet for the past eight years in a row, plus they were Division II National Champs the past two years. Bloomsburg competes in Division III at the National level.

Linda Smith and Sue Bender will be the only two seniors on the team this year. However, Linda is the only three-year veteran. Sue joined the team last year after transferring schools.

Linda is a very competitive swimmer and the fifteen All-American titles she holds prove just that. She swam for Bloom the past three years and is looking forward to her last year of swimming.

"We have a super bunch of freshmen coming in and I'm really looking forward to swimming with them. I think we will have an exceptional season this year. But no matter how we do competitively, it should be a fun and exciting season," Linda said.

Linda and Sue both have busy schedules. They may feel "older and older" each year as the new freshmen come in, but their love for the sport keeps them swimming year after year.

"Mrs. G is a super coach and we think the world of her. She's the one who keeps us going when we feel we can't go any more," Sue said.

There will be seven other veterans plus 14 freshmen joining Linda and Sue this year.

Returning from last year are All-Americans: Kathy Sheridan, Tina Klamut, Kelly Reimert, Sue Boyer; letter winners: Kim Amway, Mary Beth Gallagher and Diver: Darci Lausenslager.

"Last year the women swimmers enjoyed a very successful season."

"We lost only two girls last year: Lee Ann Pietrzykoski and last year's team captain, Sue Brophy. We will miss them both but I'm sure the freshmen will be more than willing to take their places," Smith said.

The women's swim team is scheduled to begin competition at the end of November and will continue until the beginning of March when the National Championships are held. The team is young and strong this year with a lot of experience to take them to the National Championships once again this year.

BSC Stickwomen Post Three Victories

By MARY HASSENPLUG
In a nearly picture perfect field hockey game, B.S.C. downed East Stroudsburg 3-0. Coach Jan Hutchinson was elated with the victory, "It was a fantastic game! It was by far our best performance. I'm really happy with how well we played. Everyone was on and did their job. It was a beautiful team effort."

Bloomsburg came out strong and forced E.S.S.C. to go on the defensive right from the start. Sharp and accurate passing combinations gave B.S.C. many opportunities to score.

Midway through the first half, Lynette Kyle cashed in on a fine cross pass for the initial goal. The score remained 1-0 at the half as B.S.C. totally dominated Stroudsburg.

The second half was no different. The Huskies came out with the momentum on their side and waited only seven minutes for Linda Hershey to knock in the second goal. She was assisted by Linda Turnbull.

Bloomsburg maintained control and stayed on the attack throughout the half. Karen Nilson had an exceptional game - quickly stopping any type of threat to B.S.C.

With seven minutes left to play, Linda Turnbull converted a pass into the final B.S.C. goal. The complete dominance by the Huskies is revealed in the final game statistics. B.S.C. had 26 shots on goal to E.S.S.C.'s three. Corner shots totalled 10 for Bloomsburg and zero for the opposition.

Hutchinson commented, "The stats definitely have us way ahead, but I was happy with the play itself. The fans saw a quality game out there. This is a really big win for us and an indication of how well we can play."

TWO MORE WINS

The Huskies faced two fine opponents on Friday, the University of Pittsburgh and Wilkes College. In the first game, B.S.C. defeated Pitt 2-0.

The victors started out well by controlling the ball and making quick passes. Pitt, however, gained the momentum at the end of the first half and stopped the Huskies attack. The half ended in a scoreless tie.

But Pitt came out fast in the second half, while B.S.C. seemed to shy away from the ball. It wasn't until midway through the half that Jean Fetch scored on a corner shot and brought the momentum back to Bloomsburg. The Huskies scored again late in the half when Jane Seislove turned a pass from Diane Imboden into the final marker.

B.S.C. outshot the Panthers 17-7, but Pitt had 9 corners to Bloomsburg's 8.

The Huskies then faced Wilkes College and posted a 1-0 victory. It was a slow moving game with the teams fighting both each other and the cold. The first half went scoreless as B.S.C. looked sluggish and could not put together a successful attack.

Finally, fifteen minutes into the second half, Linda Turnbull rushed the goal after a corner shot to knock in the Huskies lone marker, Linda Hershey assisted Turnbull for the goal. Hutchinson commented on the game, "We never really play our best against Wilkes, but I can see that we are improving over all. We are becoming more consistent and our attack is getting stronger. The team is in good shape and hopefully will continue to play well." The Huskies host Shippensburg on Thursday at 2:30 which should be a tough, hard fought game.

HOME ACTION. The action is tough in this recent field hockey game on BSC campus. The team won three games last week and will host Shippensburg Thursday.
