CAS Plans Rally to Fight Increase

By DEBBIE BERKLEY

Approximately 100 BSC students attended the "Fight the Hike" meeting last week in the Kehr Union Coffeehouse to discuss possible solutions to this semester's tuition increase.

"This is not a dead issue," said Eric Stonecipher, the campus organizer for CAS. "There is legislation in the House and court action will be taken on behalf of the students."

According to Stonecipher, the increase has been the "most abominable scene of non-democracy." He cited the need to reach out to students who feel they can't do anything. "I don't think BSC students are apathetic because apathy is nothing more than helplessness."

A surprise speaker at the meeting was Dr. Eric Smithner, unofficially representing the faculty of BSC. He expressed the concern of his colleagues and urged the students to get more support from other groups on campus. "If everything works out, students can get their $75 increase rescinded," he said.

Mr. Thomas Davies, the liaison between AP3CUF and CAS in Harrisburg, addressed the group. "I believe the faculty does support the protest," he said. "They don't want their payment coming from the students and they will support them in their fight."

Possible plans of action were discussed at the meeting such as, boycotts, rallies, letter writing campaigns, and phone-ins. A rally was agreed upon and Dr. Julius Kroschewsky, president of BSC's APSCUF, agreed commenting, "A complete boycott of classes would be counter-productive." He also added that there would be less antagonism between students and faculty with a rally.

While a large percentage of BSC students didn't attend the meeting last week, there are still things they can do now. According to Michelle Kessler, BSC's CAS coordinator, "On Solidarity Day, Feb. 11, starting at 11:00, there will be a press conference with BSC organizations, faculty and administrative representatives. Also, at noon, there will be a rally. Kessler encourages student participation.

"Solidarity Day and the finalizing decision to fight is up to the students," said Stonecipher. He pointed out that the main point lies in the definition of a fee, which means something that a person pays in return for a service of good. "You aren't getting a benefit from an increase which pays for salaries from four years ago — how many present students were here in 1977?" asked Stonecipher.

Was Tuition Hike Illegal?

By KATHY DOUGHERTY

CAS believes no person should be denied access to public higher education due to lack of information, money, counseling, or programs to meet their needs. CAS also believes that those directly affected by decisions made with regards to public higher education should be guaranteed equitable input into the policy-making process.

The above-mentioned rights of the students in Pennsylvania State Colleges and Universities (PSCU) system have been violated in a recent decision made by the Board of State College and University Directors (SCUD Board) at the recommendation to raise PSCU basic fees $75 for the spring semester 1982. This recommendation came from chief executive officer and Secretary of Education Robert Scanlon, and the Thornburgh administration.

Representatives of the PA State College and University System have tried to work within the current decision-making guidelines set forth in Act 13, which governs the state college and universities. Their efforts to "work within the system have resulted in an unfair tuition increase forced onto students, most of whom have already paid their bills for the spring semester as well as developed financial plans for coping with their educational expenses. Unlike these students, the current administration and the Department of Education have not made financial plans for their obligations which include the longstanding and inevitable debt owed to the Association of Pennsylvania State Colleges and University Faculties for a negotiated 4.5 percent pay increase four years ago. Not only does the Commonwealth want the students to pay for its mistakes and mismanagement, but its officials shut out any student input into the decision-making process, hoping to slide a $75 increase in tuition by as a result of "inflation and rising costs on the campus level."

The Board of State College and University Directors held two meetings during the semester break with the sole purpose of voting upon the tuition increase. The first meeting became a "closed to the public workshop," and students who had traveled hundreds of miles were expelled without the opportunity to voice their opinions and concerns. Subsequently, a second meeting was held one week later with inadequate public notice. CAS received official notice the day of the meeting and quorum was obtained by hooking two SCUD Board members into the meeting via conference call. The vote resulted in 5 members supporting the increase, 3 opposed.

Secretary Scanlon acted immediately upon the "recommendation" of the Board and issued a press release and orders to fully implement the dissemination of the billing statements for the additional $75.

CAS exposed the issue to the media and began to question the entire decision-making process as well as pursuing the legislative and legal questions raised by the injustice.

Several issues are being pursued at this point to determine the legality of this decision. One issue, the quorum question, asks if the two "phone in" votes really account for a fully present group of voting members. A second issue, meeting advertisement, was clearly violated. Notice was not given in accordance with the SCUD Board's internal policies as all members of the SCUD Board were not fully

BSC Students to Participate in Regional Competition

Four BSC students, Robert Jones, Jr., Tim Keller, Iris Hall III, and Mary Brinker, accompanied by debate coach Jim Tomlinson, will participate in the Pennsylvania College Energy Debate regional competition Wednesday, Feb. 3 at Harrisburg Area Community College.

Other teams from East Central Pennsylvania including Wilkes College, the University of Scranton, Millersville State College, and Elizabethtown College, will also be competing for two positions in the final competition, to be held in March.

Twenty-one colleges and universities in Pennsylvania entered the competition, co-sponsored by the Pennsylvania Electric Association and Westinghouse Electric Corporation. The winning team will receive a prize of $1,000. The second-place team will receive $400.

The resolution to be debated is: "should construction of new coal and - or nuclear generating facilities in Pennsylvania be encouraged and fostered to meet expected energy needs by the year 2000?"

Teams must be prepared to debate both sides of the resolution. Each team is made up of four undergraduates — an advocate and three expert witnesses. The format for the debates will resemble the popular "Advocates" program that appeared for several years on the public television network. Teams will not be told which side of the issue they will debate until the time of competition.

A panel chosen from among community leaders, public officials, labor and others will judge the competition.

The Pennsylvania Electric Association is an organization of the 12 investor-owned electric utilities in Pennsylvania, which supply 98 percent of the electric energy used in the state.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I wish to bring to your attention an incident that happened quite recently to me.

Over the weekend I went to do my laundry in Elwell Hall. Upon entering the building, I was told to take my dirty laundry with me and leave since it wasn't "my night." Because I am an off-campus student, I was told that the only day I can do my wash is Monday.

As it is, Monday is the worst day academic-wise for me. I have classes from the morning until 4 p.m., with a night class at 6:30 p.m. The time between is just enough to walk home, fix something to eat, and walk back up to campus.

I think this situation is totally unfair. I did not want to live off-campus, but because I have too many credits and I am not an RA, I was almost forced to find other living quarters. What right do dorms have to regulate hours that people can do wash?

I understand that dorm residents have first priority, but what right do they have to tell us we can only do laundry on a certain night? And if we have to do our wash on a specified night then dorm students shouldn't be allowed to do their wash that night - but that isn't the case.

Many students don't have cars to take them to town laundries, so they use the college facilities. Wash can get pretty heavy when you are carrying it up hills, and it is disheartening to find out that the dorm closest to you won't allow you to do your laundry.

I wish the college would get its act together and allow off-campus students to do their wash when they want. Clothes get dirty every day of the week, not only on a specific day.

Police charged with brutality

Campus Digest News Service

Two students at the University of Massachusetts at Amherst have filed a $3.1 million suit against 11 university policemen in federal district court.

The suit charges that in March of 1980, police threw the students to the ground, jumped on their backs, stepped on their arms and legs and pulled their hair.

The students, who were charged with disorderly conduct, also charge that supporting evidence given by witnesses was withheld when the case came to trial.

"Vice Squad" is Graphic

By RICK DiLIBERTO

A graphic illustration of life on the Hollywood streets, living day to day without assurance of staying alive, and the tough life of prostitution - all are depicted in the Avco-Industries release, Vice Squad, currently playing at the Columbia Theater.

It may prove enjoyable if you like seeing young girls roped to beds and beaten to death, men castrated, or tough pimps killing anyone who gets in the way of their "business."

From a cinematic viewpoint, this writer saw it as deficient due to its centering around one lack-luster plot, with no parallel plots. Director Gary A. Shuman apparently thought it satisfactory to have "Ramrod" (Wings Hauser), a psychotic pimp, stalk "Princess" (Season Hubley), an experienced member of the world's oldest profession, while the dedicated cop (Gary Swanson) tries to prevent it.

Although exciting, the blood and gore approach is beginning to wear upon audiences, as many viewers of Vice Squad will attest.

QUICK FLICKS: Hauser felt the graphic approach was necessary, saying that the film's main objective was to steer young girls away from prostitution. He said there are over 3,500 runaways coming to L.A. each year. "A lot of them do turn to prostitution," he said. This writer's only question is, How can these young runaways, desperate enough to consider prostitution, dig up $3.50 to see Vice Squad?

Union Video Games Competition Begins

Do you have the dreaded Pac-Man Fever? Does the sound of the electronic games entice you into dropping your last few dollars into those hungry coin slots? Well, hold on to your control sticks video addicts! The Kehr Union Games Room is going to challenge your skills by sponsoring both monthly and weekly competitions on selected video games.

Monthly competition is February 1 - February 28. Competing teams must be male - female and will play between the hours of 8 and 9 p.m. Gift certificates of $25 have been donated by local stores as prizes for the monthly competition.

Weekly competition will also take place Monday through Friday. High score for the week wins a T-shirt. Shirts will be on display in the showcase in the ground floor Scranton Commons entrance of Kehr Union.

Contestants should sign up in the Games Room. A student ID will be required at the time of registration. Teams will be responsible for reporting their high scores to the games room attendant.

Be sure to check upcoming issues of the Campus Voice for announcements concerning monthly and weekly video game competitions.

informed of the meeting date. A third issue being pursued at this point in breach of contract. By virtue of the agreement between institutions and students negotiated at the beginning of the spring semester for the $625 tuition, were the terms violated by raising it after fees were already paid? Were students given reasonable notice?

While the preceding questions and legal actions are being undertaken, CAS is urging campuses to educate their constituents with respect to all facets of the issue. Further, CAS has called for a "don't pay the increase" action, asking students to withhold payment of the increase until the March 1st deadline set by the administration. Additionally, a statewide Student Solidarity Day has been slated for February 11, 1982 to more fully address the issues on the campus level.

Joyce Cheepudom, CAS Executive Director, commented, "The fight to stop the tuition increase is far from over. We are exploring legal remedies as well as continuing our work to gain legislative support for our cause."

Any students who are upset by the tuition increase and want to do something about it are encouraged to call the CAS Tuition Hotline, (717) 233-7619.

Team Captures 18 Trophies

By KAREN HALDERMAN

This past weekend the Bloomsburg State College Forensic Team captured 18 trophies, including a 1st place team Sweepstakes award and a 1-2-3 sweep in Informative Speaking, at the College Forensic Association Winter Tournament, held in Burlington, Vermont.

As a result of an outstanding team effort, Bloomsburg placed 1st in Sweepstakes in the two-day competition, in a field of over 80 competitors from 11 schools in 5 states.

Leading the team to victory were Bonita Hull and Karen Halderman, placing 2nd and 5th respectively, in Pentathlon.

BSC dominated in Informative Speaking, with Lucie Capozzolo placing 1st, Marian Wilson 2nd, and Kim Hall 3rd.

In Dramatic Duo, the team of Hull-Karen Pingar placed 1st, and the team of Hull-Halderman placed 3rd.

In Persuasive Speaking, Hull placed 2nd and Harry Strausser

III placed 4th. Strausser also placed 3rd in Extemporaneous Speaking, and 5th in Impromptu Speaking.

In Oral Interpretation of Literature, Hull took 3rd, and Halderman placed 4th. In Humorous Interpretation, Pingar placed 3rd and Halderman 5th.

The team of Hull-Halderman also placed 3rd in Improvisational Pairs.

Capozzolo captured a 3rd place win in Lincoln-Douglas Debate, with a 3-1 record.

Also participating in the tournament and contributing to the team victory was Bob Lightcap.

Graduate Assistant Susan Waters and Forensics Coach Harry C. Strine III, President of the CFA, traveled with the team.

CAMPUS SHORTS

Centennial Pool Open to Public

Centennial Pool on the BSC lower campus will again be available to the public free of charge at certain times during the current semester of the 1981-82 college year.

The new schedule for Fridays (7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m.) and Saturdays (1:30 p.m. to 3:30 p.m.) is as follows: February 5 and 6, 12 and 13, 19 and 20, 26 and 27; March 19 and 20.

The following rules and regulations must be adhered to by those persons using the pool: bring a lock for the locker and remove it when leaving; showers must be taken by every person before entering the pool; all children who cannot swim effectively must be accompanied by an adult; and, bathing caps must be worn when hair is longer than acceptable length; if questionable, check with lifeguard with whom complete cooperation is expected.

A portion of a recent $1250 gift from Kawneer Company, Inc. of Bloomsburg will be used for payment of student lifeguards that are required to open the pool to the public. The balance of the gift will be utilized to continue the campus beautification program. Kawneer has made an annual gift to the college for a number of years.

BSC Facilities Well Utilized

Well over 1000 individuals from area groups and organizations utilize the physical facilities of BSC each semester, according to Dr. Frank Davis, vice president for administration.

Requests come from such groups and organizations as the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Bloomsburg YMCA, Civil Air Patrol, PennDOT, Department of Public Welfare, Soil Conservation Service, Bloomsburg Christian School, U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary and the Bloomsburg Unitarian Universalist Fellowship.

In most cases there is a minimal fee which varies from building to building, whether the organization or group is non-profit or profit-making, and if special services are required. On occasion a classroom is supplied free of charge.

"Although we do have flat rates established for both non-profit and profit organizations, we take a good look at each individual request to determine the overall cost," Davis commented: "since we are a state-owned institution and taxpayers are involved in the requests, the fees charged are very reasonable. We're very happy we can make our facilities available to communities of the area."

BSC Professor Guest in NYC

Dr. Alfred E. Tonolo, professor of language and cultures, recently attended the annual convention of the Modern Language Association of America. Dr. and Mrs. Tonolo were dinner guests of the Head of the Cultural Center of Spain during their stay in New York City.

Security Issues Theft Warning

Investigator D. Ruckle of the Security Office issues a precautionary warning to applicable persons who may be unaware that the removal of any college property from the campus without authentic permission is prohibited. Students having done so or, who are in possession of such items will be prosecuted accordingly. This not only includes items of furniture, fixtures and custodial supplies, but also laundry carts for whatever purpose they may be used. The consequence imposed for this wrong-doing isn't worth it to the individual involved.

The purpose of college property is to provide furnishings for the students. Removal of this property not only defeats this purpose but becomes costly for replacements. Students should put forth the effort to stop theft because they are paying for it in the long run.

Prof Attends Archaeology Conference

Robert R. Solenberger, associate professor of Anthropology and director of the BSC Archeology Project attended the joint sessions of the Society for Historical Archeology, Jan. 7-10 in Philadelphia. The convention included a guided tour of the Atwater Kent Museum of Philadelphia History, the city archeological laboratory housed in the Balch Institute for Ethnic Studies, and two 18th century mansions- the Powel House and the Hill-Physic-Keith House.

The three-day conference focused on historical archeology in the United States and Canada and concerned itself largely with unearthing, restoring and preserving buildings and landscaped of the Colonial period, including the careful techniques of excavation and interpretation of soil profiles involved.

Speakers addressed the need to save various historic structures from destruction and looting and pointed out that there have been recent cuts in government funding for archeology and preservation. Also, it was pointed out that amateurs can be organized and private funding found by those who catch the vision of saving our past as a "cause."

Persons interested in obtaining information on the different aspects of archeology can contact Solenberger in the department of Philosophy and Anthropology.

BSC Wrestling...

They're the Same Ones

By DAN CAMPBELL

"I couldn't believe it was the same team that wrestled Wednesday," said a much happier Roger Sanders, after his team had beaten Cleveland State the day before for the first time ever. And they did it in convincing fashion, winning eight of ten matches for the final score of 30-8.

What Sanders had alluded to by mentioning Wednesday was a defeat that came at the hands of Lock Haven last Wednesday. The Bald Eagles beat the Huskies 22-19. But the score didn't tell just how bad it was for the Husky grapplers.

Lose Six of Eight Matches

In what Sanders called "one of the worst performances by a Bloomsburg State College wrestling team in a long time," the Huskies lost six of the first eight matches. Twelve of BSC's points came on defaults at 190 and heavyweight — long after the match was over.

Don Reese and Tom Gible each won decisions, Don Reese a 12-4 major over Dan Parsley and Tom Gible a 4-2 win over Joe Baranik.

John McFadden and Joe Wade collected the defaults.

"I was very disappointed in the team's performance," Sanders indicated on Friday. "Especially the performances of Gibbes Johnson, Butch Snyder and Tom Fiorvanti."

Fiorvanti lost 13-3, Johnson lost 6-3 and Snyder lost 8-3 to Ken Parsley, Doug Buckwalter and Steve Williams respectively.

Sanders added that the three weren't the only ones to lose. Todd Cummings was pinned at 118 pounds by Ken Whitsel. Troy Dagle lost to Mike Millward 4-3 and Al McCollum lost at 142 to Wade Potter 8-2.

Sanders didn't want to take anything away from Lock Haven, however.

"They were ready for us," said Sanders. "When ever they needed a point they got it."

Lock Haven is now 3-0 in the Eastern Wrestling League. They have beaten Cleveland St., Millersville and BSC. The Huskies had beaten the Bald Eagles six straight times.

Sanders concerned

But their it was on to Cleveland, Ohio and a team the Huskies had never beaten. Until Saturday that is. The team "Came back hard," said a very pleased but yet concerned coach on Sunday.

His concern came from the fact that Tom Fiorvanti and Gibbes Johnson lost again.

"We really need good performances from our upper classmen," pointed out Sanders. "They have been wrestling some pretty good kids — but they're good too. We just can't seem to get them on track," concluded the coach.

Todd Cummings and Troy Dagle started things off right for the Huskies as each won decisions — 10-2 and 12-8 respectively.

Dagle beat last years National Junior College Athletic Association's runnerup, Carrey Welling.

Don Reese and Jack Wilson each came away with pins.

Al McCollum beat Dan Foldsey 7-5 while Tom Gible drew with last year's EWL beat Dan Foldsey 7-5 while Tom Gible drew with last year's EWL runnerup Mark Johnson. Butch Snyder beat Mark Litts 12-11 and John McFadden beat Vince Sakas 12-6. Sakas was a third place finisher at heavyweight last year in the EWL.

Tom Fiorvanti lost a 1-0 decision to Randy Cole on a penalty point while Gibbes Johnson, lost 13-7 to Phil Kennedy.

Sanders added that the team was real hungry and fought hard after Wednesday's loss. BSC is 2-1 in the EWL.

"We gutted out some tough situations," Sanders said. "We really wanted this one."

Clarion Match Rescheduled

The previously postponed match with Clarion has been rescheduled for Wednesday, February 10. It should be a barn burner. The preliminary match before this Friday's Pitt match will be the intramural wrestling finals. They start at 6:00 p.m.

Rush Schedule

By DENISE ANTOLIK

Once again, it's "Rush" time for all girls interested in pledging a sorority at Bloomsburg State College. Any girl who wishes to go through "Rush," must meet the requirement of a 2.2 overall cumulative average for freshmen and a 2.0 for upperclassmen. The Inter-Sorority Council announces the schedule for Spring Rush 1982:

Bardsley Scores 1000th

Bloomsburg State College's Jon Bardsley, went over the 1000 point plateau in his career in a 52.44 win over East Stroudsburg State College on Wednesday night, January 27, 1982.

The 5-10 senior scored 11 points in the contest and now has a total of 1004 in his four seasons at BSC.

His feat will be recognized prior to the start of the Huskies next home game (Mansfield) on February 3, 1982.

He is averaging 13.1 ppg. for Coach Charlie Chronister's squad, which now stands at 11-3 overall and 6-0 in the Pennsylvania Conference's Eastern Division.

Bardsley was also named to the ECAC's Weekly Honor Roll for his efforts in the Huskies' games against Cheyney and Philadelphia Textile.

J.B. scored 18 points in a key 54-53 victory at Cheyney. His jumper with 10 seconds remaining in the contest provided the winning margin and allowed BSC to take over sole possession of first place in the Pennsylvania Conference Eastern Division. In addition, Bardsley handed out eight assists and grabbed three rebounds.

In the Huskies 71-69 triumph at Philadelphia Textile, he turned in a 25-point, four assists, four rebound performance.

For the week, the guard shot 16 for 28 (57.1 percent) from the field, 11 for 14 (78.6 percent) at the foul line, and contributed 12 assists and seven rebounds.

The two wins upped Coach Charlie Chronister's squad to 9-3 overall and gave it a 5-0 mark in the division.

Men's Basketball...

Huskies Win Eleventh

By DAN LOUGHLIN

Bloomsburg State College's men's basketball team upped its overall record to 11-3 by winning their fourth straight with a 52-44 victory at East Stroudsburg last Wednesday night.

Bardsley Player of Game

ESSC elected to set a slowed-down tempo after being blown out by Bloomsburg 77-47 on Dec. 12. Jon Bardsley, who was named the Time Markets-McDowell Oil player of the game, netted eight of the Husky's 20 first-half points as BSC took a five-point lead into intermission.

Bloom jumped out quickly to open the second half by outscoring the Warriors 11-4, taking a 31-19 lead. East Stroudsburg narrowed the margin to 36-31 with 6:48 left, but that was as close as they would come.

Barry Francisco and Mike Wenrich each connected on five field goals and three of four free throws to pace Bloomsturg with 13 points. Bardsley finished with 11, also hitting five shots from the floor.

East Stroudsburg was led by Earle Greer with 20, and Mike Angelos and Joë Whalen with 10 each.

Next Three Games Home

HUSKY NOTEBOOK: BSC was outrebounded 39-34...Bardsley's MVP honors are his fourth in the last five games...BSC is currently ranked ninth in NCAA Div. II...Other familiar Top Twenty teams include No. 10 Cheyney State and No. 13 University of Maryland at Baltimore County...UMBC only has three losses — two of those thanks to BSC...Huskies are at home for next three games...Tonight Mansfield visits, Sat. night Cheyney seeks revenge, and a rare Sunday afternoon game finds Slippery Rock sliding into Nelson Fieldhouse for a 2:00 tap-off.
