Foreword

 HIS book comes to you, not as a masterpiece of composition nor as a chronological record of the year's happenings, but rather as an incomplete representation of the class of '15. Time has decreed that the clearest vision must fade, joyful memories grow dim and bright pictures become obliterated. If this third volume of the Calnorsean serves as a reminder of these things, it will have fulfilled its mission.

MISS ANNA BUCKBEE

To
Miss Anna Buckbee
we dedicate this the third volume of the Calnorsean

A Sketch of the Life of Miss Anna Buckbee

History and Civil Government

MISS BUCKBEE was born in Walton, N. Y., January 29, 1855. She graduated from State Normal School, Mansfield, Pa., in 1877. She then taught in the public schools for four years. In 1881 she was elected County Superintendent of Schools of Potter County, Pa., until 1887. She was Principal of a Teachers' Training School of Harrisburg, Pa., 1889-1892. The following year she taught and traveled in Cuba. Returning to the United States she took a position in the State Normal School, Edinboro, Pa.

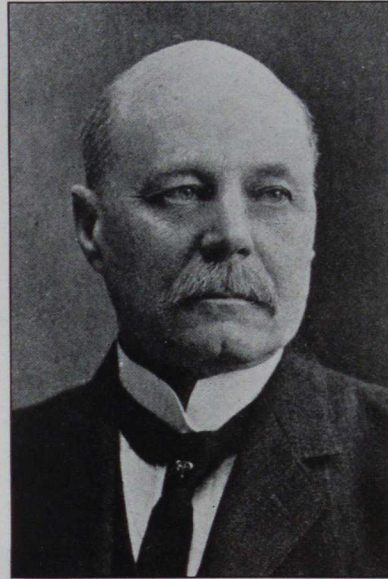

In 1895 Miss Buckbee reached the climax of her career, for she accepted a position in our own State Normal School, and has remained with us ever since. In addition to her duties here Miss Buckbee has found time to lecture at teachers' institutes and educational meetings in Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, New Jersey, West Virginia and Indiana. She was also a delegate to the International Child Study Congress, Liege, Belgium, 1905. She is the author of the Fourth School Year, Chicago, 1904, and joint author with Prof. W. S. Monroe of Our Country and Its People, and Europe and Its People, New York, 1911 and '12. She is also a contributor to educational journals and Cyclopedia of the History of Education.

Miss Buckbee is a general favorite among the students of this school. It is her general helpfulness, her honesty of purpose, and her true and forceful character which leads the members of the class of 1915 to dedicate this the third volume of the Cal-norsean in her honor.

CLASS HISTORY

DOES a history of the class of 1915 seem unnecessary. How can we be forgotten? Is there a soul who hasn't had our greatness impressed indelibly upon their minds? But, we are supposed to tell you about ourselves, so listen!

You are about to read the history of the greatest class that ever passed from the famous halls of the California Normal out into the bright and cheerful sunlight of a busy world. In the history of this institution, other classes have presumed to make this same assertion but it was merely a fabric conceived in the upper story of some poor deluded soul, who knew not whereof he spoke.

We are legitimately proud for this reason. Our class is a large one, especially so, in comparison with last year's class. As far as ability and texture are concerned we far outstrip any class that has ever left these halls. To be frank, we really think that we are, and ought to be considered, the greatest class in every respect—for we have been rivaled only in numbers and when we look back over some of the poor things who composed some of the long lists, many of them were merely overgrown pollywogs, who have since died of ennui, and whose bones have been used for fertilizer.

We are noted for our dignity, a deep regard for class honor, a proper amount of self-appreciation and, in general, our extreme modesty and shy demeanor.

You must not think us conceited in this account of ourselves. The constant din of praise from our teachers, the genuine admiration of our every act by underclassmen and our own knowledge of self-righteousness, have had their effect upon us and consequently, the lofty air and noble aspects we at all times maintain, have become second nature. We are what we seem.

Well satisfied with the past and full of confidence for the future, we say with Lincoln, that while there is a chance, the world may little note, nor long remember what we say here, it can never forget what we did here.

LAVINA EVANS

Class Poem

Better than hordes of wealth untold,
Are thoughts of C. N. S.
Better than legends and stories of old,
Are the ones we tell with zest.
The best that can ever be told,
Is the one of the Green & Gold.
Each member with its record fair,
Has made our class so very rare.
All are so jolly, all so alive,
The Class of One Nine One Five.
When all have left these dear old halls,
Pleasant memories linger within its walls,
Of things untold to this world so old,
Are left by the Class of Green and Gold.
"Impossible it is Un-American"
This our motto, we stand by,
For in it is, we do, we can,
All things that we may try.
The flower adopted by our class,
Is the very best one that grows
In beauty and fragrance,
None surpasses our Yellow Rose.
Oh! C. N. S. Oh! C. N. S.
Thy links we now must sever,
But memories of our school days,,
Will linger with us ever.
Those days of glee,
No more we'll see,
From June to cold December.
But thoughts of thee, so happy and free,
With love we'll still remember.

Here's to the land that gave us birth,
Here's to her sons so true,
Here's to her daughters, too;
Here's to our class, our own dear class,
True as the stars above.
Here's to the day when we'll graduates be,
Here's to the school we love!

FLORENCE FISHER

1915 CALIFORNIA NORSEAN

HARRY WERNER, Berlin, Pa.
"Massah George"

Class President; Philo President; Varsity Football; Speaker at Football Banquet; Brass Band; George Washington in Minuet; Junior Class Play; Deutscher Verein; President of Y. M. C. A.

As President of our class we have had one of the most loyal members, Harry Werner, who has worked very hard at all times to please each member of his class. Harry is a product of a Somerset County farm and can tell you most anything you want to know along agricultural lines. Harry likes to talk and especially to the girls. He once told one of our boys that he was going to ease during the spring term, but he seems to have lost his nerve for we have not heard of his appearance yet. Maybe it is because some of the other fellows will not give him the chance. In 1913 Harry was a substitute on the football squad, but in 1914 he was one of the most trustworthy players and helped many times to bring victory back to California.

1915 CALLED BY NORSEAN

BESS RICHEY, Charleroi, Pa.
"Slocums"

Philo Secretary; Senior Class Vice President; Deutscher Verein.

Bess is one of our good natured girls who takes plenty of time for everything. Hence her nick-name, "Slocums." But Bess, even though a little late, we are always glad to see you come. "Slocums" has one great fear, namely that of becoming "stout built." As a preventative she takes long strolls over the hills on Sunday afternoons. She is interested in Zoology and takes special delight in discussing "Lyons." We anticipate that she will, in the future, be an accomplished trainer. Bess has a very cheerful and optimistic nature, but the one worry of her life is French. Her favorite expression is, "Honest to John, I don't have a word of French today."

IRENE BUTTERMORE, Uniontown, Pa.
"Ikey"

Clio Essayist, Salutatoriam and Secretary. Deutscher Verein; Y. W. C. A.; Class Secretary.

Here is Irene, or to her more intimate friends, "Ikey." She is one of our very efficient girls. Her chief talent, however, seems to be along the line of speaking, both public and private. She was also one of the brilliant History of Education students; having taught before, she often surprised some of the less sophisticated students of the class by her arguments about the teaching of children. Notwithstanding all this, Irene loves her home. Scarcely a week passes that she does not hasten home for Saturday and Sunday.

ELIZABETH GRAHAM, Wilksburg, Pa.
"Pedro"

Philo; L'Alliance Francaise; Junior Play; Class Treasurer; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet.

Somewhere we heard a rumor that this young lady was christened Elizabeth. Such may have been the case, but as "Pedro" we know her far better. She came to C. N. S. in the fall of 1914, and we sometimes wonder how we existed before without her. She is one of those unusual people who talks a great deal, yet always says something worth while. She is also a good student and considers it her duty to investigate the why and the wherefore of everything from natural phenomena to French verbs, sometimes to the embarrassment of the teacher on duty. "Pedro" is one of those cheerful philosophers who never sees the dark side of life. If she ever does, she will speedily brighten it up.

1915 CALLED BY NORSSEAN

BLANCHE ANDERSON, Charleroi, Pa.
"Blondie"

Philo Vice President; Class Donor; Girls' Glee Club; Deutscher Verein.

*"Every lassie has a laddie,
So they say, has I.
Then if a body kiss a body,
Need a body cry?"*

Did you ever hear Blanche sing this? If not, just listen and you can hear her melodious voice floating out of 47 Dixon any hour of the day. Blanche is very fond of having her own way and usually gets it, but who could resist when they hear her say, "Come on, hon." We think our little "Blondie" is a good cake baker, and if you do not believe it, there are many people who will assure you that they are always well "Dunn." She assures us that she is going to teach many years, but it is very hard for us to believe her.

HELEN BALSINGER, Elizabeth, Pa.
"Balsinger"

Philo.

If you hear someone tramping down the hall singing "I Didn't Raise My Boy to Be a Soldier," don't be frightened—it's only Balsinger hurrying to one of her beloved (?) classes. When in doubt consult Helen. She always has a very decided opinion of just how the matter should be settled. If it's the latest dance step, a new dress or how to make some favorite "goodie," she'll be sure to know. Helen likes music, not only vocal but instrumental. Her specialty, however, is playing wedding marches. Energetic, fond of fun and always ready for a lark, she has many friends, who wish her deserved success in her work.

MARGARET BARCLAY, Elizabeth, Pa.
"Maggie"

Clio; Y. W. C. A.; Deutscher Verein; L'Alliance Francaise; Secretary of Junior Class.

*"Her eyes are stars of twilight fair,
Like twilights too her dusky hair."*

One glance at "Maggie" would convince one that she is a firm believer in the merits of anti-fat, for she is a living example, but nevertheless "Maggie" we are sure you will make your way in the world, because you will always stick up for your rights. She is a strong Clio and is always ready to argue with those who differ from her in their opinion about Clio. After one of these arguments, one may here her exclaim, "Oh! well, kids, I was so peeved." Margaret is a good student and is becoming an expert in Domestic Science, she is also very fond of French and we expect to hear of her teaching the subject in some university in the near future.

1915 CALLED BY NORSEMAN

MARIE BARKER, Fayette City, Pa.

"Barker"

Clio; Deutscher Verein; L'Alliance Francaise.

Barker is one of our quiet but energetic school mates. As you look down the halls, you can see her coming with her arms laden with books. Marie's favorite conversation is about drug stores and their employees, especially "Jim." Her favorite flower is the Sweet William. About mail time you can hear Barker in the hall saying, "Has the mail been passed"? We wonder why? When it comes to knowing a great many people, Marie out-shines all others, for when any name of a person along the Monongahela Valley is mentioned, she immediately says, "Why, I know him," and then goes on to describe him for you.

MARGARET BRUCE, Allenport, Pa.

Clio; Deutscher Verein.

Margaret attended Charleroi High a short while, then took teachers' examinations, taught a year and came to California. She is very bright and a hard worker. Margaret is a thorough student and in her search for knowledge has even been known to jump on a chair in order to better see the specimen the teacher was discussing. Margaret is a "south-paw" but it didn't hinder her from drawing life-like cows and cross cats for first grade phonic lessons. "Modest and simple and sweet, the very type of Priscilla."

VIOLET BURKE, Donora, Pa.

"Burkey"

Philo; Editorial Board; Deutscher Verein.

*"Patient and quiet
And always at work,
Here's to our classmate,
Violet Burke."*

"Burkey" is one who is seldom heard, but when she talks, it is generally on a deep subject. She loves to read, perhaps this is a clue to her deep subjects and brilliancy. Although she is quiet and unobtrusive, her sweet manner and unflinching politeness have won for her many friends. We do not know what the Fates will unravel for this little maid, but we feel sure whatever it is, they will give to her the better part, that of always being surrounded by a host of loving friends.

1915 CALIFORNIA NORSEAN

BESSIE BUTTERWORTH, Donora, Pa.

Philo; Deutscher Verein.

*"And still the wonder grew,
That one small head could carry all she knew."*

Bessie is a veritable "Who's Who" in California State Normal School. If new "studes" are mentioned, she can place them exactly, even to the date of entrance. Although Bessie is so interested in current affairs, she is a very serious sort of a person and a hard worker. Teaching rote songs is Bessie's favorite pastime. She is English, but as yet has not shown any strong enthusiasm for the suffrage movement; in the near future however, she may become as famous a worker for the cause as her fellow countrywoman, Mrs. Pankhurst.

HAZEL CAIN, Houston, Pa.

Clio; Deutscher Verein; Y. W. C. A.

Here you behold one of the dwellers of "Paradise Alley." She is a member of the third floor Dixon orchestra and has become quite proficient in her performances on the horn. Her room is a popular visiting place for both students and teachers, although their respective missions are entirely different. She is a good student and likes hard work. There is one exception to this, however, and that is German. Just why on earth one must spend valuable time puzzling over the fortunes and misfortunes of "Wilhelm Tell," she fails to see. We predict that she will become a successful teacher and win credit in her chosen vocation.

ELLA CARNAHAN, McKeesport, Pa.

"Carny"

Clio Treasurer; Y. W. C. A.; Deutscher Verein.

"Carny" is pretty and "petite." She insisted that the photographer do better work for her and this quiet little mouse gave him such a shock that he felt that a cartoon would not do this time. Though "Carny" is a very small person, she carries a very heavy program and therefore this year she joined the ranks of the industrious. One thing in which she is especially proficient is in closing of doors. But why shouldn't she be? She has had special lessons in this direction. "Carny" is one of the dreamers of our class. Often when her blue eyes wear that far-away expression, we would like to say to her, "A penny for your thoughts, little maid," but we feel that that would be asking too much.

1915 CALIFORNIA NORSEMAN

GERTRUDE CARTIN, Canonsburg, Pa.
"Gert"

Philo Treasurer; Washington Birthday Minuet. In the fall of 1914, Canonsburg High School sent us this promising addition to our class. She has a genial disposition and the proverbial "smile that won't come off." She is always ready to help her neighbors out of difficulties and can be depended upon to do exactly what she says. "Gert" can tinkle her fingers over the keys of a piano in a way that makes her audience sit up and take notice. Domestic Science had so many terrors and so few attractions for her that she deserted it for the Manual Training Department. Furniture building appeals to her much more than bread making.

BRICE COLBERT, Dickerson Run, Pa.
"Dicker"

Philo President and Orator; Junior Play; Student Board; Y. M. C. A.; Deutscher Verein; Boys' Glee Club; "Sewing Circle."

"Absence makes the heart grow fonder."

Brice is one of the prominent members of the 1915 class, although he has not spent the entire Senior year with us. But, nevertheless, Philo did not forget his faithful service while present, so they elected him their contest orator. Brice is a graduate of a three-year high and has taught three years. Brice is invariably in a good humor and has never been known to have any disagreement. Always pleasant and agreeable, he goes from California with the best wishes of the entire class.

ELIZABETH COWELL, Speers, Pa.

Philo; Deutscher Verein.

Elizabeth evidently clings to the old proverb that "silence is golden." She very seldom speaks unless necessary but is always pleasant and cheerrul. Her kind ways have won her many friends. She is a true daughter of the soil. Since Mr. Wentzel has given out the garden plots, Elizabeth, unlike her more frivolous sisters, idles away none of her precious study periods, but immediately hastens to secure some garden implements and very energetically cultivates the soil. She never complains but works silently and no doubt will make a very successful teacher.

1915 CAL NORSTAN

IRENE DICKSON, Wilmerding, Pa.
"Calamity"

Philo Vice President and Secretary; Tree Day Orator; Y. W. C. A.; L'Alliance Francaise. The microscope, please, let us behold this midget who now approaches. Don't worry because there is so little of her, for what she lacks in size she more than makes up in energy. If there is any truth in the old saying that, "Good goods are tied up in small packages," we undoubtedly have a prize package here. We feared at first that she might accidentally lose herself and considered it only a neighborly duty to keep a friendly eye on her, but alas! like most small bodies she moved through space so rapidly that both our breath and our eyesight suffered. She is an apt student, undertakes many things and does all of them well, for instance, arguments in English 4.

ALICE DONALSON, Canonsburg, Pa.
"Snick"

Philo; Y. W. C. A. When the fall term opened, "Snick" returned to enter our class. She had started two years ago but stopped to try her success at teaching for a year. Finding herself successful in the art, she decided to finish her course at C. N. S. Previous to this, she graduated from the North Strabane High School. To strangers, "Snick" seems to be one of the quietest girls in the school, but to those rooming near her and who know her best, she is jolly and full of fun. "Snick" is very industrious, as all her grades show, and we feel sure that she will make a mark in the world as a teacher.

MARION DONAHUE, Pittsburgh, Pa.
"Donnie"

Clio; Deutscher Verein. "Donnie" is a girl who is in for everything, and to hear her merry laugh is to know most truly that something's "doin'." Outdoor life is one of her specialties, especially walking. One thing about "Donnie," she talks in her sleep and tells many of her secrets. One of her favorite songs while she sleeps is "Darling I Love You," and one of her favorite studies is Astronomy, observing at night. But nevertheless she will make her mark in the world.

1915 CALIFORNIA NORSEMAN

MINNIE DARBY, Lemont Furnace, Pa.

"Darby"

Philo; Deutscher Verein; Y. W. C. A.

Without a doubt, "Darb" is the best natured and best hearted girl of the class. She can always see the optimistic and humorous side of everything, and her laugh is a sure cure for any case of the blues. No matter how busy she is, she always has time to do something for others. But withstanding all these, "Darb" is an earnest student, and a friend without whom we would be at a loss. She is especially interested in tennis and the study of the violin. "Darb" is the honored member of our class whose teaching was so much admired by visiting superintendents at the Educational Conference. With her pleasing personality and tact, we are certain she will be most successful in the schoolroom.

GAYNELLE DAVIS, Greensboro, Pa.

"Gaymeller"

Clio; Deutscher Verein.

"Music hath its charms."

This young lady looks quiet and demure; and so she is, three-fourths of the time, but far from it the other fourth. After having once heard her giggle, gentle reader, you will never again be deceived. She doesn't giggle for everyone, however, and unless you get to know her well, you may still go on thinking Gaynelle one of those persons who believes that "Silence is golden." She is a good student and "Deutsch" has no terrors for her. Some time ago we discovered that she was a musician and we prophesy quite a future with the violin. In years to come she may use her "scissors" to cut a wide swath through this world.

HALLIE DEVERS, Coal Centre, Pa.

"Hallie"

Clio; Deutscher Verein.

From the head of her class at West Brownsville High, to the Junior Class at California Normal, was Hallie's initial move in joining our class,—nor has she shown any tendency to drop her position. "Honor roll throughout," has been her standard. But think not that she is not one among us. As a lover of sports, she stands pre-eminent. Loyal and true to the Gold and Blue, she has been found at all times, and she takes an interest in all school activities. With her boundless ambition and her superior ability we know that abundant success is to be her share. Good luck, Hallie.

1915 CALCASPAR NORSEAN

MARY DUFF, Perryopolis, Pa.

Clio; Deutscher Verein; Y. W. C. A.

One of the conscientious members of our class is Mary, who joined our class in the spring of 1913. Behind a face so pious and brave she manages to conceal so much life and fun that none of the girls stir her up. We all know where to turn when we wish any favor or desire any sympathy, for Mary is right there on the spot. You can depend on her at all times and in all cases. She has never been known to cut classes or Chapel. From infancy her main mission has been to be a school teacher. Now her greatest ambition in life is to be a German teacher in C. N. S.

"Bill"

Clio "Marshal" and President; Class Orator; Varsity Football, Basket Ball, and Baseball (3 and 4); Captain Football 1914; Business Staff; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet; Boys' Glee Club; Deutscher Verein. "Bill" has been with us for two years and has shown his great abilities from the first. He is a very popular chap especially with certain light- (and red) haired young ladies. On the football field, he was the life of the team, leading us to many a hard won victory. He was also a star in basket ball, not only helping win the school's victories, but those for Clio Society as well. Dunn's literary ability, shown by his hard work in Clio, has led to his being selected class orator. The hope of the class is for his success, and we have no doubt but that he will succeed in whatever he takes up.

ELLEN EASTON, California, Pa.

"Ella"

Clio; Tennis Team, '13-'14; Basket Ball; L'Alliance Francaise; Girls' Glee Club.

"Anxious to learn and be friendly."

Clever and willing to work is this small member of our class. She never fails to recite and will not let anything pass which she does not fully comprehend, but with all her work, Ellen does not neglect athletics. She is a member of the varsity basket ball team and she has taken an active part in the inter-society games. Several times she has represented our school in the Inter-Normal Tennis Tournament. She is also talented in the line of music, being an accomplished singer and pianist. She never wearies of recounting tales of her friends of the opposite sex and of the various summer resorts she has visited.

1915 CALLED NORSEAN

MARY EDWARDS, California, Pa.

Philo; L'Alliance Francaise.

"A daughter of the Gods, divinely tall and most divinely fair."

Behold the French shark! She can translate French by the reams with little trouble! In French class she is an ever present help in time of trouble. If no one knows his reading lesson, Mary will read, if the translation is hard, Mary will be able to give it. Mary is an athletic girl, too, who plays basket ball and tennis. With her great height she might almost lift the ball into the basket.

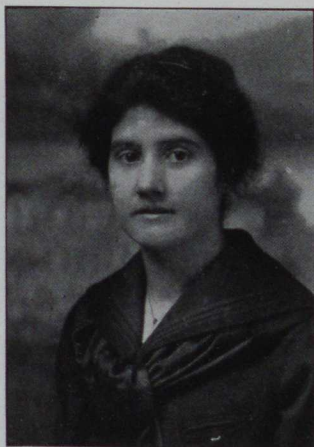

JANE EVANS, Point Marion, Pa.

"Janie"

Philo Salutatorian; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet; Business Staff; Junior Editor; Toast at Washington Banquet; Girls' Glee Club; Deutscher Verein; L'Alliance Francaise.

*In Latin, French, English, too,
Jane's grades are always "A" for a "B" won't do.*

Although Jane is very industrious and always has high grades, she is by no means a book worm. Jane has high ideals, and tries to make them better, and some day we hope to hear from her as a University teacher. The Y. W. C. A. Choir is sufficient proof of her musical ability. She has always taken an active part in literary society, that is, Philo. Jane's smiles and disposition have gained for her many friends. We know this will help her along in life and she will make a success at whatever she undertakes.

LAVINA R. EVANS, Pitcairn, Pa.

"Tommy"

Deutscher Verein; Clio; Y. W. C. A.; Class Historian.

Although encumbered by the name "Lavina Rachel" in her early infancy, she has acquired the more appropriate name, "Tommy." This fair young Miss has taken the advice of one of our lecturers and eats sunshine, which accounts for her generous and cheerful disposition. "Tommy" is noted for her literary ability for which reason she has the honor of being class historian. Her favorite expressions are "Ain't it the truth," or "Them was the happy days."

*"Tis said to keep from idleness
Or flirting,—those two curses,
She spent her leisure, more or less,
In writing po—, no, verses."*

1915 CALIFORNIA NORSEMAN

HANNAH FERGUSON, Washington, Pa.
"Hanner" "Husky"

Clio; Deutscher Verein.

Behold the "good fairy" of Paradise Alley. What she will not attempt exists neither in the dictionary nor the encyclopedia. Since her course in manual training she is able to pick a lock with a nail file or remove a transom with a bread knife. She has an inexhaustible supply of sympathy and as a result has more tales of woe poured into her ear than a Methodist Minister.

If you've flunked a German test, (French and Physics and the rest,)
 Tell Hannah.

*If life's looking mighty blue,
 And you're discouraged through and through,
 She will hand some cheer to you,
 Tell Hannah.*

JOSEPHINE FERGUSON, Belle Vernon, Pa.
"Joe"

Clio; Deutscher Verein.

We have several naturally born clowns in our class and "Joe" is one of them. Notwithstanding her irresistible sense of humor, she possesses the essential attributes of a goodly housewife:—the ability to fry beefsteak and "superintend" the making of coffee. She has journeyed day in and day out from Belle Vernon for four years and we surmise that quite frequently, she has run a race with time and just been able to scramble on to the last coach of the 7:46. A tale is told of how "Joe," on a snowy, cold, wintry day, slid down the hill in her haste to get to the train, and how her indomitable sense of humor saved the situation and brought her out of the snow-drift,—though wet and shivering—with a beaming face.

GERTRUDE FINLEY, Belle Vernon, Pa.
"Geit"

Philo: Y. W. C. A.; Deutscher Verein.

"Geit" is very slim and my how she does travel. She is never still a minute. She seems to work continuously and her results are more than gratifying. However, "Geit" seems to be shrouded by a mystery—Why does she go home nearly every weekend? She won't tell us. "Geit" is one of Miss Lilley's star performers and she makes the class fairly green with envy when she receives such unlimited praise, but she deserves it. We feel sure she will make her mark and we wish her success.

1915 CALIFORNIA NORSEAN

FLORENCE FISHER, West Brownsville, Pa.
"Flossy"

Clio; Y. W. C. A.; Washington's Birthday Cabinet; Class Poetess; (Chapel Oration); L'Alliance Francaise.

If we could print a laugh that is all that would be necessary to describe her. This fair haired damsel is very sedate, (if you just get a glimpse of her back), but a look at her smiling face causes one to reverse their opinion. She is as graceful as a lily. "Flossy" has proven herself to be so by the exhibitions given free of charge while learning to dance the minuet. These demonstrations were given near the corner of Paradise Alley and the waste basket on third floor Dixon. She also was a leader of the orchestra of Paradise Alley. These events given, generally took place on Tuesday evening.

BERTHA FRAZIER, Donora, Pa.
"Bertie"

Philo.

Bertha is a graduate from Donora High. When casting about for a pleasant and profitable occupation, she finally decided upon teaching, so she came to California in the spring of 1913. Although "Bertie" is very small, her interest lies in the big things of life. She has long since foresworn frivolous pleasures, especially dancing under Mr. Sharadin's directions. She is very fond of jewelry, her favorite stones being a ruby and a diamond. "Bertie" also likes up-to-the-minute ragtime, but there is one song of which she never wearies, and that is, "Billy."

BESSIE GEORGE, California, Pa.
"Bess"

Clio; Class Day Reader; Varsity Basket Ball Team; Junior Play.

Bonny "Bess" came to us three years ago, after graduating from the California High School, and began her bright career as a jolly Sophomore. Jolly? Certainly no other word is more suitable, for no matter how cheerless the day or how depressing the circumstances—"Bess" can spread a smile for the benefit of her classmates. Especially has she appeared to a decided advantage in all our dramatic performances and we foresee a career no less brilliant than that of a "Billie" Burke or a Sarah Bernhardt. She has been elected as one of our Class Day performers. Besides her literary ability she figures well in athletics, and we found her a valuable asset on our Varsity basket ball team this year.

"A merrier girl, within the limit of becoming mirth, I never spent an hour's talk withal."

1915 CAL NORSEAN

RUTH GEORGE, Frank, Pa.

Clio Vice President; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet; Deutscher Verein; Class Prophet.

"Her ways are ways of pleasantness."

This quotation describes Ruth pretty well. The fates bestowed upon her many good gifts. She has her share of good looks. This tall, dark-haired girl finds many admirers. Her friends will tell you that she is a fine hair dresser. She would also make a fine milliner as she can copy hats with precision. She is a brilliant Psychology student and should specialize in this line of work. Now, after naming all these good gifts, and mentioning the fact that Ruth is one of the shining lights of the class, we feel that you should know her pretty well.

GERTRUDE GERSTNER, McKeesport, Pa.

"Gert"

Clio; Deutscher Verein; Washington's Birthday Toast; Student Board; Y. W. C. A.

"Gert" is a very domestic person. She loves to crochet. At least she seems to, for she improves her shining hours with this pleasant pastime. "Gert" is not a farmer's daughter as you would soon find if you heard her talking for a little, for such questions as these are characteristic of "Gert": "How many bushels of hay would a farmer need?" "Is that a duck or a goose?" We wonder what "Gert" would do in a garden. Would she be like the girl who pulled up the beans and replanted them saying, "They were planted upside down." "Gert" is fond of asking questions and can ask more questions in an hour than most girls in a week. Perhaps this is why she knows so much. Of course she is a good student. Needless to say "Gert" enjoys many warm friendships.

ANNA GIBSON, Dawson, Pa.

"Ann"

Clio Treasurer; Y. W. C. A.; Deutscher Verein; Latin Club.

"Ann" is known as the most industrious girl on third floor Dixon. She has a very full program consisting of three periods a day. When night comes, "Ann" is so tired out from the labors of the day that she locks her door and sleeps so soundly during the night that even the horn concerts fail to arouse her from her slumbers. She is very talented along the line of literary work, and we predict for her a brilliant career along this line. She evidently has a large correspondence for every night after 4 o'clock one may see "Ann" going to the post office for stamps. She doesn't seem to care for Domestic Science as it is taught in the Normal, but circumstances sometimes alter cases and she will probably change her mind in the future.

1915 CALLED BY NORSEAN

NETTIE M. GILLESPIE, Dawson, Pa.

"Net" "Ma"

Clio; L'Alliance Francaise; Editorial Board; Y. W. C. A.

*Nettie is always bright and jolly,
Her giggle is her greatest folly,
But like most girls, she has another failing,
"My hair! My hair!" she's always railing.*

Nettie belongs to a bunch of third floor Dixon girls, and is always sure to make her share of noise. Although "Ma" is not very fond of work, she always reaches her destination. She is especially fond of dancing, in which art she excells. She is often seen demonstrating the new dances in Dixon Parlor. For Nettie, we predict a bright future in which she will not always be teaching school, but will be making herself and those around her happy as well.

RUTH M. GRIMES, Coal Center, Pa.

Philo.

This dignified looking young lady comes driving along every morning from the suburbs of Coal Center. She prefers her own society to that of the illustrious students of the Normal School, and if by chance she meets any of the young men of the school she passes them by with her head up in the air,—her preference is for more elderly men. Few have been able to pass the barrier of Ruth's reserve, but those who have, have found her to be a very nice young person. We predict for her a long life of usefulness in the schools of East Pike Run Township. The saddest hours of Ruth's life are when she has to walk home.

PAULINE GROF, Meyersdale, Pa.

"Peg"

Clio Valedictorian and Secretary; L'Alliance Francaise; Class Cartoonist; Y. W. C. A.; Sodalitas Latina.

"Peg" is one of the chatterboxes of our class. No one can tell just what she may say next, so it is well to be prepared for the worst. Neither can you tell whether she will be in a serious or a frivolous mood. She is fond of entertaining her friends with stories of pranks she played in her childhood days. "Peg" has a number of talents. She conquered French, German and Latin with very little effort. She has plenty of artistic ability, drawing and sketching being her strong points. Perspective and complementary colors never trouble her in the least. We expect to hear of her later, either as a cartoonist or an illustrator of note.

1915 CALIFORNIA NORSEMAN

ARMOUR A. HAINES, McClellandtown, Pa.
"Amak"

Clio Critic, President, Contest Debater; Inter-Normal Debate; Washington Birthday Cabinet; Junior Class Play; Boys' Glee Club; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet; Junior Class President; Brass Band; Deutscher Verein; Editorial Board.

Here's one of those men who insist on outdoing Clay, Webster, and their kind. You don't want to start an argument with him if you have any hope of eating your next meal. Haines is one of those whole-souled, good-hearted fellows, and is a friend of everybody, (especially the gentle sex.) He has been a shining star in the many activities in which he has taken part and his great ambition is to become a star of the footlights. Whatever he may undertake in the whirl of life, we know that he will use the same steady headwork that he uses on the platform.

ETHEL HAINES, Allenport, Pa.
"Eppie"

Philo.

"Eppie" comes from the renowned city of Allenport. Being fond of travel, she uses the P. R. R. twice daily. She began her higher education in Charleroi High School, but came to us when a Senior in that institution. "Hainsey" never worries about anything. She will always greet you with a smile and a cheering word. It may seem strange, but "Eppie" never spends Sunday away from Allenport. I guess she can't miss Sunday School (?). We hope that she will teach at least two years before applying her knowledge of Domestic Science.

MARGARET HALL, Belle Vernon, Pa.
"Peggy"

Clio; Deutscher Verein; Latin Club.

Margaret is a whimsical little girl from Belle Vernon High School. Wishing to graduate with the class of '15, Margaret came to California in the spring of 1913. She is said to be a man-hater, but we seriously doubt the truth of this assertion. Although Margaret's voice is timid and low, her ideals are high and her thoughts soar, far beyond the walls of her Alma Mater. She is serious and industrious and we wish her all success with her work. Her ambition is to receive her diploma and go West to teach, but, be careful, "Peggy," that some western rancher or mining king does not persuade you to desert your chosen calling.

1915 CALLED NORSEAN

MARGARET HAMILTON, Belle Vernon, Pa.
 "Peg" or "Marg"

Philo; L'Alliance Francaise; Y. W. C. A.
*"And one more kind you will not find,
 In many a long day's quiet."*

Blue-eyed "Peggy" is blest with so many names that we find it hard to choose one. Four years ago she came to us. Three years slipped by ere "Peggy" knew it and then she was a Senior. This meant work and "Peggy" knew it. With many misgivings she began to teach music, but she lived through this and promises to be a fine teacher. "Peg's" favorite pastime is sleeping, though she is very fond of reading "strong literature."

ELDA HARBISON, Carnegie, Pa.
 "Elderberry," "Johnny Fire Top"

Philo Vice President; Washington's Birthday Minuet; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet; Deutscher Verein; Girls' Glee Club.

First and Foremost, Elda has red hair and it is red with a vengeance. Her talents are innumerable. She can draw, sing, dance, paint, and giggle; and her laughter fairly makes your hair stand on end and the cold shivers run up and down your spine. She should have been an Indian. Elda never lets a person stick, but turns in and helps with all her might. Her record is splendid and "A" is a very common occurrence to her. The bane of her existence is the fear of getting "Freckles"—nevertheless she gets them. Her favorite expression is, "My Heart," and her favorite occupation is chewing gum. Elda wears a smile when Dunn's around, that won't come off.

CATHERINE HARPER, Moon Run, Pa.
 "Cat"

Philo Secretary and Vice President; Class Song; Deutscher Verein; Martha Washington; Girls' Glee Club; Student Board.

*"Lessons are tiresome,
 They never really pay,
 But when it comes to singing,
 I'll reach the stage some day."*

Catherine is one of the musicians of the Senior class, in fact we are very proud of her talent and we prophesy for her a brilliant future. However, she does not spend all her time in work, for she likes to have fun and play tennis as well. She is a member of one of the Third Floor Dixon Tribes, and almost any time during the day you may hear her voice asking if the mail has been passed, but Catherine has a very cheerful disposition and is always willing to help wherever she is needed. We feel sure that her general usefulness will make her a success wherever she goes.

1915 CAL NORSEAN

ISABELLE HARRIS, California, Pa.

"Bell"

Isabel's friends and relations predicted that she would be a howling success. Her early life was spent in her native town where she received her Grammar School education, then she entered the High School. Having become too wise for the knowledge dispensary of that place she entered C. N. S. She early aspired to the honor of membership in the renowned class of 1915 and with that end she is graduating. She is very original in her thoughts and is not inclined to accept anyone else's views without due deliberation.

NELLIE HARTLEY, Clarksville, Pa.

Philo; Deutscher Verein.

Nellie is quiet and unobtrusive, but, nevertheless, is one of the brightest girls in our class. The Honor Roll never appears without her name. This little girl surprised us all when she gave her Chapel Speech, as we didn't think such a small person could possess such a large voice. The worst hours of Nellie's life are spent in the Domestic Science room, for, although good in other school subjects, she draws the line when it comes to making biscuits. Let us hope this is only a temporary dislike.

ANNA HENDERSHOT, Charleroi, Pa.

Philo; Deutscher Verein; May Queen Attendant.

Anna is so quiet and unassuming that she doesn't even have a nickname. We see her most frequently in the Registrar's office getting excuses for absence, and according to Mr. Smith, she is the most "unsatisfactory" person in the class. She talks little, but says much and doesn't believe in wasting words. She has to save her breath to use it in running for the trains and even then she usually misses them. We could tell you more about her if we saw her more frequently, but she, "is like a phantom—here one moment and gone the next."

1915 CALLED BY NORSEAN

EMMA HERBOLD, Uniontown, Pa.

Philo; Latin Club.

"Better be little and shine, than be big and cast a shadow."

Here is one of the quiet, dignified members of our number. She has plenty of opinions of her own but seldom expresses them in public. However, when she does, they are usually worth hearing. She has a sense of humor and appreciates a joke whether it be at her expense or some one else's. She is a good student and unusually apt at German translations. Sometimes we even suspect that she likes it better than English. As a teacher of "Deutsch," we feel sure she would be successful.

ETTA HERRON, Speers, Pa.

Clio; Deutscher Verein.

Etta is one of the exceptional people of the class of 1915. She is an exception in several ways; first, unlike the rest of us, she is not at all fond of company of any sort, male company being entirely out of her slightest desire; secondly, she talks very little and in this respect she also differs very greatly from the other members of her sex. Etta is also very bashful and she often prefers to remain quiet in class rather than startle the surrounding atmosphere by her soft, delicate voice.

ELIZA HIGINBOTNAN, Smock, Pa.

Clio; Deutscher Verein; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet; Editorial Board.

*"Very tidy and very prim,
Very industrious and very trim;
With work always ready, whenever the call,
This describes Eliza without a flaw."*

Eliza is one of the few industrious members of the Senior class, in fact she is about the only one who always has her note-book ready to hand in, no matter when called for. She is not a book-worm, however, and is always ready to help her many friends in any way possible. She is a willing worker at all social events and is known as a leader and not a hanger-on. We predict for her a bright future and certain success in anything which she undertakes.

1915 CALLED BY NORSSEAN

MARIE HILL, Beallsville, Pa.

"Ike"

Clio; Girls' Glee Club; Secretary of Student Board.

"Ike" is one of our very studious girls (?) but she is one who does not care to stay with us over Sunday. There seems to be some attraction at home. We wonder what it is. Marie is very dignified, but nevertheless has many friends. She shows a lovable nature and by this and her teaching, we know she will obtain a bright future.

ELLEN HOGE, Waynesburg, Pa.

Clio Secretary; Washington Birthday Speaker; Deutscher Verein; Y. W. C. A.; Latin Club.

Ellen doesn't like to eat (?). That comes fore and foremost. Of course she always has something in her room, but it is to feed the birdies. Ellen studies industriously and has never been known to "run against a snag" in any of her studies, and will enlighten other unfortunates who can not absorb knowledge so readily. Her masterpiece, a wondrous example of eloquence and beauty, is entitled "Was denken Sie?"

*"And still the wonder grew,
How one little head could contain all she knew."*

MARJORIE HORNBAKE, Clairton, Pa.

"Wife"—"Marj"

Philo; Deutscher Verein; Y. W. C. A.

To her most intimate friends, Marjorie, owing to her good nature, is known as "Wife," while to others she is just "Marj." She is of a tall, stately build and from the accompanying picture, the reader might think her to be quiet and demure, but hidden behind this mask is an ample store of merriment and humor. "Marj" likes lots of fun and is a good sport, interested in all athletics, especially tennis. Reading is one of her specialties. Hence the motto, "Lesen Sie, aber studieren Sie, nicht." Nevertheless, good marks never fail to come her way. She is a star at Mathematics and in her Junior year had the distinction of having a perfect paper in Solid Geometry under State Board.

1915 CALLED BY NORSSEAN

LOLA JAMISON, Claysville, Pa.
"Catastrophe"

*"A form more fair, a face more sweet,
 Ne'er hath it been my lot to meet.
 And her modest answer and graceful air,
 Show her wise and good as she is fair."*

Lola is very small, but nevertheless she is an active body with plenty of determination. Almost any time in the day you can hear her quiet, but decided voice saying, "Mercy sakes, no!" Although she is small she is an important quantity that we could not afford to be without. She has a little "ginger," too, when things become annoying, but this only adds variety to life and makes it more interesting.

RUTH KEEHAN, Gibsonton, Pa.

Philo; Latin Club.

"Much study is injurious to the flesh."

Ruth has a strong appetite for Wallace's dainties and may be seen there most any of her moments. When not at Wallace's, you may find her in the library looking at the latest patterns. The pupils in the Model School love to have Ruth read stories for them, from a book, as she reads in such a pleasing way. In fact, Ruth always is pleasant, no matter what her trouble may be.

ELIZABETH KENNEDY, Sharpsburg, Pa.
"Simp"

Clio; L'Alliance Francaise.

"Simp" came from Sharpsburg, perhaps that accounts for her brilliancy. To look at "Simp" you would not think that she talks continually. She is very fond of spending her time in the evenings visiting her friends. Her main subject of conversation is telling her troubles and getting the advice of other people. "Simp" is always anxious for Sundays to come, she is very fond of church as she goes both morning and afternoon. We have often wondered why? We fear that in spite of her splendid ability as a teacher she will not make teaching a life work, as she is contemplating the study of music, (instrumental of course).

1915 CALKINS NORSEMAN

WILLIAM J. KILLIUS, Coal Center, Pa.
"Boone"

Clio; Washington Birthday Cabinet; Deutscher Verein; Editorial Board; Football; L'Alliance Francaise.

Although he has been afflicted with the name of William Joseph for a good many years, "Boone" has recovered sufficiently to enable him to graduate with the wonderful class of 1915. He is one of those boys of our class who has very little to say. "Bill" is very industrious, studying all the time, unless he is doing something else, and as a result stands high in his classes. "Boone" is also a star member of the football team and is a valuable member of Clio Society, taking a prominent part in all discussions. He is a very good teacher already, so we expect great things of him later in life.

MAY LAVERY, West Leisenring, Pa.
"Mazie"

Clio; Deutscher Verein.

May is one of our classmates who has not changed at all since we knew her in her Freshman Year. She appears to be a quiet, modest, young lady, but the girls who know her best, will testify that she can play practical jokes and keep up her end of all the fun. For four long years she has toiled faithfully here. She has embraced many opportunities and has cast her lot in Domestic Science. Now she can serve dainty dishes and sew straight and narrow seams and can minister to all the comforts of home-life. She has always been interested in all class affairs and has done her best to raise the standard of our class and be true to the green and gold.

EDITH LEMON, Uniontown, Pa.
"Mademoiselle Citron"

Philo; Ivy Day Orator; Latin Club.

Edith, tall and stately, came to us during the year of 1914. She did not like to leave her home in Uniontown to spend so many valuable months in C. N. S., but Edith is ambitious and she wanted the training that she could get here. Edith is very industrious and spends many hours crocheting. Her special talent seems to lie along the line of Domestic Science, though her studies do not suffer for this. Edith can see the fun in life, too, as those who live on second floor North will tell you.

1915 CALNORSEAN

BERTHA LEONARD, Roscoe, Pa.
Philo; Deutscher Vere:n; L'Alliance Francaise.

"The talent of success is nothing more than doing what you can do well, and doing well whatever you do, without a thought of fame."

Bertha is one among us, if no other, who seems to be interested in school work. She can be seen almost any time either in the library studying, or on her way to some class where she will have a chance to show her ability as a student. She also seems to have a good memory, because from all appearances she remembers the saying of her mother when she was but a child—"You must be seen and not heard." Bertha is very quiet and does not talk much, but when she does say anything it is always something worth saying.

ALVIN D. LETCHWORTH, Fairchance, Pa.
"Letch"

Philo President and Debater; Inter-Normal Debating Team; Business Manager of Calnorsean; President of Tennis Association, 1914; Washington's Birthday Cabinet; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet; Boys' Glee Club; Inter-Class Tennis Tournament; Junior Class Play.

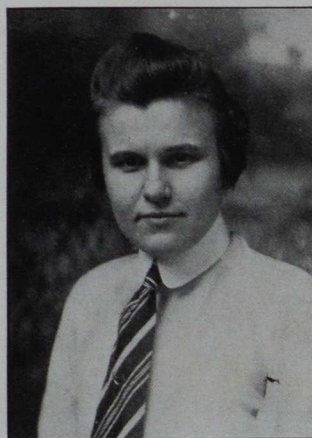

During the four years "Letch" has spent in C. N. S., he has learned considerable about debating, being on the Inter-Normal and the Society Debate. As Business Manager of the Calnorsean, "Letch" has always been on duty. "Letch" has a deep bass voice which he has developed to a high degree of proficiency, and those who have heard him sing such masterpieces as "Genevieve, Sweet Genevieve," feel confidence that he will never have to worry over "The High Cost of Living." He contemplates spending four years in a school of Dentistry, after which he expects to deliver lectures on the folly of cracking nuts with the teeth.

ELIZABETH H. LONG, California, Pa.
"Dick"

Clio Orator; Business Staff; Captain Varsity Basket Ball; Student Board; Y. W. C. A.; Tennis Team, 1911, '12, '13; Captain Hockey Team, '13; Sodalitas Latina; Vice President Tennis Association.

Those who have attended C. N. S. need no introduction to "Dick." To others, we will say, mere words do not describe her. All who have known "Dick" realize that outspoken and independent though she is, her personal magnetism has won for her many friends, among whom "Dick's" opinion is law. Born leader that she is, she has the power to inspire those around her with confidence and a determination to win. As an orator she ranks high and has been chosen by Clio as one of their contestants. Since she has lived so near the Normal all her life and has come up through the Model School, she has been intimately associated with every phase of Normal life; in fact, there are few so widely known.

1915 CALLED BY NORSEAN

RUTH LOVE, Rices Landing, Pa.

"Lovie"

Philo; L'Alliance Francaise; Deutscher Verein; Sodalitas Latina.

"Lovie" graduated from public school and took an extra course in Latin. She came to our school but three years ago and has proven herself an excellent student. Through her thoughtfulness and hard study, she will graduate in the class of 1915. "Lovie" is always studying. Some of her favorite sayings are: "If I only had my Virgil!" "Oh me!" "Just think of it!"

*Ruth is industrious,
We agree,
And happy too,
As she can be.*

MARY LUCKY, Point Marion, Pa.

"Lucky Mary"

Philo; Y. W. C. A.; Girls' Glee Club; L'Alliance Francaise; Deutscher Verein.

Mary is a firm believer in the old saying, "Laugh and the world laughs with you." Early in life, Dame Fortune endowed her with a smile that won't come off. Do not waste your time trying to make her worry, for, gentle reader, it can't be done. German exams. and History of Education tests may do their worst, but they never ruffle "happy go Lucky's" disposition the least bit. Life's too short to mourn, anyhow. This "Lucky" girl is a good student. She came here after graduating from Uniontown High School. She has a mind of her own and possesses a superabundance of class spirit.

ESTHER LUNDEEN, Swissvale, Pa.

"Imp" "Chickina"

Philo Secretary; Girls' Basket Ball Team; Y. W. C. A.; Vice President of Tennis Association 1915; Latin Club.

Esther is best known to the Normal students by the name "Imp." She came to C. N. S. from Edgewood High School and has been a member of the class for two years. She is a jolly good scout, an anti-knocker and heart-whole. "Imp" imagines she would like to live on a farm, especially a "Chicken Farm."

*This is Esther, eyes of blue, not brown,
Slender form and no curly hair.
She never was seen to wear a frown,
And when something's doing she's always there.
She's a good student and a friend most true,
And scarcely ever breaks a rule;
She usually enjoys doing what she should do,
Except, that she hates to go to Sunday School.*

1915 CALIFORNIA NORSEAN

GARNET LYNN, Donora, Pa.

"Ib"

Clio.

"Kind and gentle is she."

Garnet's manner is quiet, but her smile is very eloquent. "Ib" has even been known to seriously disturb the equilibrium of a certain young man's existence, while she herself has remained impervious to Cupid's attacks. She says very little, but when she speaks, her words are like unto the Delphian oracle in their wisdom. Garnet's favorite phrase is, "Well, I think so," spoken in a very sympathetic decisive tone when someone voices a grievance from which she suffers, too. Her greatest ambition is to travel, but, being a patriotic American, she prefers our own United States to Europe for her journeys.

CARRY LYON, Turtle Creek, Pa.

"Grandmother"

Philo; L'Alliance Francaise; Deutscher Verein; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet.

Behold a young lady with the head of a philosopher on her shoulders. She gives sage advice to her frivolous neighbors and begs them to stop, look and listen before plunging into a new brand of mischief that may bring the stored up wrath of the Faculty down upon their heads. It is not generally known that she leads a double life, but nearly half the time she is decidedly frivolous. She enjoys midnight feeds immensely and giggles until exposure to a floor teacher seems imminent. By means of violent threats or bribes of sandwiches and cake she is persuaded to reserve her unseemly mirth for a more appropriate time.

HAZEL LYTLE, Donora, Pa.

Philo Essayist; Deutscher Verein.

Hazel always seemed to be very fond of California school life since she attended society regularly every Friday. We have as yet been unable to discover the attraction. Philo rewarded her faithfulness by choosing her their contest essayist. Hazel entered last year's class as a third year but quit in the spring term deciding to wait and graduate with the class of '15, where her great height would be lost in the larger numbers. She has at last reached the top, ready to drop off into the dark future, which, however, may be brightened by the smile which she constantly wears.

1915 CALLED BY NORSEAN

WILLIAM S. LYTLE, California, Pa.

"Nico"

Clio President; Junior Class Play; Editorial Board; Washington's Birthday Cabinet; Deutscher Verein; L'Alliance Francaise.

Here is a small specimen of humanity who though size is against him, attracts a great deal of attention. "Nico" has spent six years in our institution, having graduated from the academic department before entering the Normal course. He has stood especially high in all his class work, being on the honor roll throughout the year. "Bill" has been an active society worker. He is not only a leader in literary society, but a star in all social activities. Lytle was very successful with his teaching in the model school and with his great abilities we are sure that he will be a success in the teaching world.

MAY MARSHALL, Yohoghany, Pa.

"Smilie"

Philo Treasurer; Y. W. C. A.; Attendant to May Queen; Deutscher Verein.

*"Happy am I;
From care I am free;
Why aren't they all contented like me?"*

This little verse certainly expresses "Smilie's" continued good nature mood. If she were going to teach she might worry over the Faculty's requirements, but as it is she finds them least troublesome. We have never been able to determine along just what line May's inclination extends. We have heard lately, however, that she developed quite a fondness for Domestic Science. Draw your own conclusions. On the whole she is a very conscientious girl, who makes good use of her moments, but is always ready for a good time. We are glad to have her as one of our members and we feel that she will be successful in whatever she takes up.

RIZPAH MAXWELL, West Newton, Pa.

"Riz"

Philo; Editorial Board; L'Alliance Francaise; Deutscher Verein; Y. W. C. A.; Hockey Team, 1913.

*Open your eyes, all ye that read,
For this is "Riz" of the Senior class;
As for laughing she is in the lead,
And her good nature, no one can surpass.*

"Rizzie" is one of our jolly good-natured girls. Although not very large as to size, yet she has a never ceasing fund of good humor. She has been at C. N. S. for four years, and has taken in her share of knowledge during this time. "Rizzie" seems to have a propensity for Domestic Science as she usually excels in that art, and we predict her putting her knowledge into practical use some day. Dancing and playing tennis are her favorite amusements. We know not what the future has in store for her, but we know she will make good, whatever it will be.

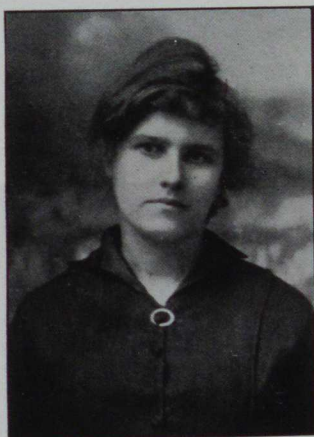

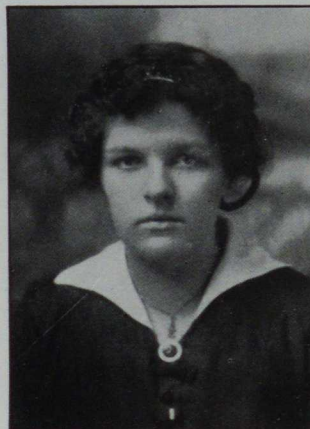

1915 CALNORSEAN

MARGUERITE McDERMITT, Uniontown, Pa.

"Geat"

Philo; Deutscher Verein; L'Alliance Francaise; Latin Club.

"Geat" is one of those quiet girls who are really known well by only a few. When you know her, you find that she has a wonderfully sweet disposition. She is jolly and full of fun. We have never seen her angry in all the time she has been with us. She is always ready to help and may be called a "Lifter." She likes to dance and does not think it too much trouble to show other girls how to do it. "Geat" loves little children very much. We predict some day she will be one of Uniontown's finest primary teachers.

CATHERINE McDONOUGH, Belle Vernon, Pa.

Philo; Deutscher Verein.

One never thinks of Catherine being in a hurry, yet in some mysterious way, she is always found in her place when the bell rings. Hitherto, she has been somewhat in the background, but we discover that she found her proper sphere when she started to teach for Miss Thomas in the primary grades. If she would only take up kindergarten work, we feel sure that Catherine would succeed. She should never lose her habit of singing at her work.

HORACE McKEE, Mt. Morris, Pa.

"Mac"

Editor-in-Chief of Calnorsean; Philo President and Attorney; Junior Class Play; Washington's Birthday Cabinet; L'Alliance Francaise; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet.

"Mac's" early life at California was quiet and uneventful. During these years his chief ambition was to buy a one-passenger Ford and speed away to some lonely spot in the country and spend his time reading Thoreau's "Essay on Solitude." However, during the last two terms of his Senior year he seems to have changed his entire attitude towards life and this once model young man is now seen supporting the pillars in the main corridor like a hardened old-timer. "Mac's" taste for music is limited especially for some of the rag time pieces as, "Never Take a Walk With Mary." Such pieces seem to rub the fur the wrong way. Cutting the soft stuff, "Mac" has the sweetest disposition of any boy in the dormitory, no matter what difficulty comes his way he meets it with a smile. As Editor-in-Chief of our Year Book, there could have been none better. He should be credited with the success of the book.

1915 CALCONS NORSEAN

JENNIE MCLEAN, Houston, Pa.
"Bunch"

Clio; Deutscher Verein; Inter-Normal Debating Team; Y. W. C. A.

Another of our distinguished members is "Bunch"; although small in stature, she is neither small in spirits nor in ambitions. Her aims are very high and she is a firm believer in the worship of high ideals. Although she was burdened with German, Physics, and the preparation of the Inter-Normal Debate, she tried her best to make "callers" during study hour comfortable. Her manner is very modest, but what does her small head not contain! From table jokes to the soundest of morals she proves herself master of the situation. We predict for her a happy and prosperous future from the popularity of being a great debater.

KATHERINE MCLEAN, McKees Rocks, Pa.
"Kitty"

Clio Vice President; Optimist Class Day; French Play; Girls' Glee Club; Y. W. C. A.; Deutscher Verein; Secretary of L'Alliance Francaise.

Katherine expressed a desire that her editorial be written in French in order that she might read it more easily. That, however, may involve some drawbacks for other readers. She is quite an intellectual young lady who can both "sprechen Deutsch" and "parle francais." She also has a natural affinity for Caesar, Cicero, and their fellow countrymen. "Kitty" enjoys discussing weighty subjects and has been known to talk by the hour of psychological research and Platonic friendships. In spite of these intellectual attainments she seldom misses an opportunity for having a good time.

LENA MILLER, Beallsville, Pa.
"Lenar"

Philo; Attendant to May Queen.

Lena, better known as "Lenar" is easily recognized by her brown eyes, curly locks and small stature. She loves to apply the many principles of domestic science which her beloved teacher, Miss Lilley, has instilled in her? ? ? If any information concerning autos is desired, she is the little lady to whom you may go. She is an excellent historian of Beallsville and vicinity for she often takes a spin into the delightful and charming scenes in her beloved Chalmers.

1915 CALLED NORSEAN

NORA MORTON, Millsboro, Pa.

Clio; L'Alliance Francaise.

Nora has been with us but two years, yet we believe that she will not be among those who are sorry to leave C. N. S. Why? We leave that for your imagination, only telling you that each Friday sees Nora bound for home. Nora is a jolly girl with laughing, dark eyes, who likes very much to play jokes on her friends. She can take a joke, too. Perhaps this accounts for the fact that one day Nora received a perfectly lovely box of—what? Chocolate Creams? Not at all. Nora is very fond of dancing and is seen in the gymnasium upon every occasion.

PAUL G. NEW, California, Pa.

"Newsey"

Clio President; L'Alliance Francaise; Varsity Football; Brass Band; French Play.

Paul is what we call an all-around good fellow. He has spent four years at the Norma', during which time he has made only friends. Paul has distinguished himself in many lines despite his handicap. He was a valuable member of the football team, having the honor of missing only two nights' practice in two years. Whether Paul was in the game or not he always had an inspiring word for the team. Paul is also a very accomplished cabinet maker; the way he handles his tools in Manual Training is one of the sights of the school. He has informed us that he has decided to teach in a rural school next year. We all unite in wishing him all kinds of success in whatever branch of work he enters.

GENEVIEVE NUTT, Lock No. 4, Pa.

"Nutty"

Clio Editor; May Queen; Junior Class Play; Editorial Board; Deutscher Verein.

*"Although she is near the head of her class,
The favorite expression of this favored lass
Is, 'I know I didn't pass.'"*

"Nutty" is the name by which this little Miss is best known. She is one of the two of the class who graduated from a four-year course in the Charleroi High School and then made the decision that two years of her industrious life would be spent in this fair place. She has been one of the happy dwellers of North Hall for two years, and although studious by nature, she is not by any means a book-worm, but we must say she is especially fond of her "Deutsch." Her presence is always known if she isn't to be seen, for her cheery voice carries far and wide. Motto: "Silence! footsteps are approaching."

1915 CALLED BY NORSSEAN

BERTHA NYE, New Castle, Pa.

"Bullets"

Philo Valedictorian; Toast at Football Banquet.

*"A maid demure and fair and small;
She glides about with graceful feet,
Speaking when spoken to, in tones most sweet."*

"Bullets" is one of the charming young maids of our class. She has a pleasing manner and sweet disposition and is always ready to help when anyone is in need. Bertha's talents are many, one is Domestic Science and we expect to see her at the head of the department of Domestic Science in some college in the future. We know she will make a success at this, but we are afraid that some lucky bird will take her and fly away.

FLORENCE O'MALLEY, Homestead, Pa.

"Floss"

Clio; Latin Club.

"Floss" graduated from Homestead High School in 1913. She always has a perpetual smile and a crochet hook. She is exceedingly fond of learning how to do that lace "just for a sample." She fairly goes into rhapsodies over new samples. "Floss" is completely wrapped up in kindergarten work, and tries out all her new methods upon her Dixon Hall neighbors. "Floss" makes a person think of "The flowers that bloom in the spring tra la," because she is just bubbling over with happiness. Her favorite expression is "Honest, it's the truth."

EDNA PARKINS, Roscoe, Pa.

"Susie Perkins"

Philo; Deutscher Verein.

"Susie" is another daughter of that family of "Red Hair" and freckles. However, her red hair and freckles make her none the less attractive in the eyes of the camera, as the accompanying cut shows. Seriously, Edna has made a fine record at C. N. S. She is a good student and delights in studying, especially drawing (?). She is also very optimistic. Anytime her friends feel as though they were down and out, they go to her for a dose of cheerfulness. "Susie" has had a hard time deciding what she will do upon leaving here. But as her ice "Berg" has melted, she has decided to settle down for life in a teacher's chair. We trust that her cheerful spirit will make itself felt, wherever she goes.

1915 CALLED BY NORSEAN

LLOYD PEPPER, Coal Center, Pa.
"Pep"

Philo Basket Ball Team, '13-'14.

He is not really as hot as his name implies, but, of course, he won't let anyone pick on him just because he is small. His favorite expression is "I'm small, but I know a lot." However, when it comes to girls, "Pep" is a minus quantity. He has never offered any excuse for this, but it has been suggested that it is on account of his extreme youth (?). His chief delight is teaching in the Model School and going to Chapel (?). He never misses either under any provocation. He is, to quote from one of the Faculty, "A splendid little model."

LOUISE PIRL, Duquesne, Pa.
"Buzz"

Philo; Y. W. C. A.

*She is always smiling and happy,
 And hasn't a care, you'd think.*

"Buzz" came to us in 1914 from Duquesne High. Every one knows her because her chief accomplishment is being kind. She is a favorite among children, especially in the kindergarten. The chief ambition of "Buzz" is to become a kindergarten teacher and we all feel sure that she will make a success at it. She is very fond of walking and swimming. In fact she is fond of water in every form; she also uses water as a protection by using a water gun.

GEORGIA E. PRICE, Gibsonton, Pa.
"Harve"

Clio; Musical Contest, '14; Class Song; Washington's Birthday Minuet; Latin Club.

"Harve" has made herself famous by her musical ability on the piano, in the musical circles of "C. N. S." Nor is music her greatest virtue, for her hearty laugh, that makes the girls all forget the "blues," makes her popular. Georgia is one of the lucky girls who live near here. That occasions a great deal of going home, of course, to see her mother (?), of whom she is very fond. Greatest success to Georgia in her teaching for she deserves it after her hustling and working.

1915 CALCONS NORSEAN

MARGARET REED, Elizabeth, Pa.
"Peggy"

Clio Reader; Y. W. C. A.; Editorial Board; L'Alliance Francaise; Deutscher Verein.

Margaret, who came to join our class three years ago, has been one of our loyal members. Part of her time here has been spent in Paradise Alley. She has much ability along the line of elocution, and in the future we expect to hear of her being a teacher of this art in some noted college. However, we do not think she will follow that profession long, but will begin in the field of practical Domestic Science. Margaret is constantly captivating someone, especially those of the opposite sex, with her bewitching smile. She has her own emphatic opinion and decided tastes and "never troubles trouble 'til trouble troubles her."

BESSIE RIDGWAY, Allenport, Pa.
"Slim"

Clio; Hockey, '13; Deutscher Verein.
*"For the girl worth while,
Is the one with a smile,
When everything goes dead wrong."*

"Slim," called by some, "The Naughty Brier Rose," has neither lost the bright twinkle in her eye, nor has she lost in flesh, during her three years' travel to the Normal. Her sweet disposition and her jovial nature have won for her many friends among her classmates. Her name, appearing on the Honor Roll, is proof that she is a good, conscientious student. As a practice teacher in the Model School, she took great interest in her work and was liked by all her pupils.

INEZ RIGGS, California, Pa.
"Rigsie"

Philo; Class Historian; Hockey, 1913; L'Alliance Francaise; Captain Philo Basket Ball Team.

To look at "Rigsie" is to know that she is not an ordinary person. An ordinary person could not possess "Rigsie's" hair, for instance. Only a few own locks of such fiery gold. Moreover she seems quite as good humored as any girl in the school. Inez likes basket ball and plays that game with vim. She was also a star hockey player in the second year of the class. Inez likes to talk. Those in her French class can testify to the truth of this statement. Does she talk in French or English, that she is able to carry off the "A's"?

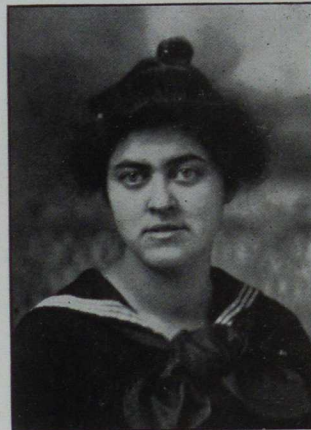

1915 CALCONY NORSEAN

ETHEL SCHROYER, Point Marion, Pa.
"Schrader"

Philo, Secretary and Treasurer; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet; Girls' Glee Club; L'Alliance Francaise.

This young lady came to us from the Point Marion High School. She is never seen without a smile on her face and she fairly radiates good cheer from one end of Dixon Hall to the other. Individuals are endowed with various talents, but Ethel is more fortunate than most of us, for wonderful being, she fully comprehends all the intricacies and perplexities of Domestic Science. She fairly haunts the sewing room, hoping to find a new embroidery stitch or salad recipe. Usually you find her surrounded by a circle of poor, benighted amateurs, whom she is doing her level best to teach the differences between buttonholes and bread making.

EMILY SCOTT, Monongahela, Pa.
"Scotty"

Clio; Deutscher Verein; L'Alliance Francaise; Latin Club.

"Scotty" is a nice little girl with a cheery word and a winsome smile for every one—even the Faculty. Although regular in attendance, her thoughts are not always centered upon pedagogical study for they oft wander away on "Phil"—osophy. "Scotty's" skill in Domestic Science is shown by the booklets she writes on household management. Putting all jokes aside, Emily is a leader in class work and a member whose name never fails to appear on the honor roll.

LEATTA SEITZ, Homestead, Pa.
"Letty"

Clio Vice President; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet; Deutscher Verein; L'Alliance Francaise.

Another of our class is "Letty," born "down on the farm," which accounts for her beautiful brown eyes. Absent-minded and thoughtful as she is, she is a "jewel" in our class. She says she owes all her genius to her daily rambles through the wonderful works of nature in the orchard. Her entire affections seem to be centered in Domestic Science and French. She is a dainty little cook and has been heard speaking in the French Language in her dreams. "Letty" is preparing to teach, but does not wish to make it a life profession for she says "Lady Teachers" so often become "Old Maids," and this very idea is repugnant to her desires.

1915 CAL CNS NORSEAN

MARGARET SHARPNACK, Rices Landing, Pa.
"Mutt"

Philo; Deutscher Verein; L'Alliance Francaise.
Margaret is better known in her own district and to her school friends as "Mutt." All who know Margaret can quite readily appreciate such a nickname, as she is of a tall, slender build. It is said that she often coaxes the other girls to wear high-heeled shoes to raise them to her plane. But, "Mutt," there is one consolation, in that, a coat for you does not cost any more than one for the rest of us. A favorite sport of Margaret's is boat-riding, and she finds it quite convenient to indulge every morning on her way to school. At school she is quite an expert at Penmanship. Notwithstanding all these points, she is a nice, sweet-tempered young lady, and as we might say as "unpretentious as a wild rose."

EDITH SHEPLER, Elizabeth, Pa.
"Shep"

Clio; Class Donor.

"Shep" is one of our students who travels a long way each day to get here. She is without doubt one of the jolliest and wittiest girls in school. Edith is also somewhat of a poetess, having written several fine pieces of poetry for society. "Shep" stands high in her studies and looks like a promising young teacher, but from present indications we don't believe that she will teach very long, as she intends to apply the principles which she has learned in Domestic Science.

DORA SIEBER, Belle Vernon, Pa.
"Shorty"

Philo; Deutscher Verein.

"Short but sweet"

Dora is the little "Golden Locks" of our class. Her golden hair and soft brown eyes, together with a sweet disposition, make quite a charming young miss. She is one of those girls whose presence is made felt by her sunny smile. Although "Shorty" devotes almost every period in the day to the happiness of others, there is one set aside explicitly for her own enjoyment and benefit. That is when she wanders into Room C., with her "Deutsches Buch." It is then that she delves into the realms of Wilhelm Tell and quite frequently gives translations which would have astounded Schiller himself. We are positive that Dora will not forsake her high calling as a teacher for anything so trivial as a man.

1915 CALCONS NORSEAN

MAY SINCOCK, Uniontown, Pa.

"Maysie"

Philo Vice President, Editor; Editorial Board; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet; Class Cartoonist; Hockey Team, '13; L'Alliance Francaise; Sodalitas Latina.

*This quiet precise little lass,
Is very popular with our class;
She glides about with graceful feet,
And speaks to all in tones most sweet.*

May is one of the very industrious lassies of our class, yet she is never too busy to help others with their difficulties or to assist in any social function where she is needed. Her ability as a business lady has been proved by the skillful way in which she has handled the finances of the Y. W. C. A., and also by her proficiency in selling—Brewster's chocolates. This little maid has literary ability also, for proof of this read the Philo number of the Normal Review, of which she was the editor-in-chief. We cannot tell what the future has in store for her, but whatever it is we know she will be a success.

MABLE SMITH, California, Pa.

"Smithie"

Philo; Deutscher Verein.

"Smithie" is a demure maiden. She is never in a hurry, but always on time. She has been with us three years, and in this time has gained many friends who wish her all success as a teacher. She is a good student. One of the classes that she especially loved was the Senior English class. Why not? Where is there a class with better advantages? Can one not sew baskets and listen to what is going on in this class? Where is there such an opportunity for taking a little nap? And what a pleasure for "Smithie," who is a proficient elocutionist, to stand before the class and call,

"Char-coal, Char-Co-al, Char-coo-oo-oo-al."

EDNA STEWART, Waynesburg, Pa.

"Stewart" "Telis"

Clio; Y. W. C. A.; Inter-Class Tennis Tournament; Varsity Basket Ball Team; Deutscher Verein; Hockey Team, '13.

Who said Waynesburg? That is where "Telis" Stewart comes from, and from the farm at that, which accounts for her pretty complexion. What "Telis" likes best is to join in all athletics possible, especially Tennis and Basket Ball. She is a star at both. We think that she will become a gymnasium teacher as it seems to be her highest ambition. She is also a member of one of the tribes of third floor Dixon, who is never seen out of her room, except when returning a book. She is a hard worker and here's wishing that will bring her success.

1915 CAL NORSEAN

MARGARET STONESIPHER, Murdocksville, Pa.

Clio; Deutscher Verein; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet; Toast at Washington's Birthday Banquet; Student Board.

Besides being a good student and an enthusiastic class worker, Margaret found time for social pleasures and for doing earnest and effective work in the Y. W. C. A. She is exceedingly conscientious in all her dealings, not even using a "pony" in German and Latin. Margaret has been quite famous by acquiring a strong liking for "das liebe Deutsch" and "Physics." We feel that this loyal member will do credit to her Alma Mater in her chosen work. She is very sympathetic and cures all the sorrows and troubles of all her friends. We wish her much success in life's journey.

EVA SUMNEY, Donora, Pa.

"Sumney"

Philo; Deutscher Verein.

Eva is another representative from Donora High but she thought two years was long enough to spend there so the spring of 1913 found her a student of C. N. S. Eva is tall and you always know when she is around, for if there is anything at all to argue about, Eva is in the lead. Eva has a good voice for reading. It won a high school contest and she has been requested to show her ability in society quite a number of times since entering C. N. S. Her chums in her home town will tell you that she is a firm believer in "Walking for her health," and for some reason or other she seems to prefer the air near the river.

MABEL SWEARINGEN, Dunbar, Pa.

Philo; Deutscher Verein; L'Alliance Francaise; Y. W. C. A.

Every once in a while this young lady hies herself to Dunbar and returns with a suitcase full of "eats." While the aforementioned good things last, her room needs an annex to accommodate the crowd. She was a charter member of the Country Store Loafer's Club, which held forth at great length on the timely topics of the day. This growing organization, owing to superabundance of news at hand was in a flourishing condition until officially notified by higher authorities that it must go into the hands of a receiver at once. Thus do many good things come to grief. She is a shining star in Domestic Science and we suspect that she will never spend enough time in the school room to become eligible to a teacher's pension.

1915 CALLED BY NORSEAN

ALICE E. TAYLOR, Monongahela, Pa.

"Billy"

Clio; Deutscher Verein; Latin Club.

Some know her as "Billy," but most of her C. N. S. friends know her as just "Taylor." Taylor came to us in the fall of 1913. She is a graduate of Monongahela High School, one of the finest of its kind in the valley. Those who know "Billy" are able to appreciate her fine sense of humor. She can take a joke as well as give one, and she is always there with a laugh when one is needed. We predict for this young lady great happiness in the school-room or wherever she may be. She wins friends very quickly and is kind and generous to those who are her friends. We expect some day to see her at the head of the Domestic Science Department of the Monongahela Schools, as she is very fond of this subject.

MARY THOMPSON, Rices Landing, Pa.

"Just Mary"

Philo; Deutscher Verein.

Mary graduated from the Jefferson High School in 1912. She then decided to take up teaching. After teaching one year she came to C. N. S. where she has been for two years. Mary is a very studious girl, she is also very inquisitive at times. Arithmetic is her hobby as she never fails when asked to solve a problem. We predict that some day she will be one of the greatest mathematicians in the world. Mary never thinks of such things as boys. She says, "I should worry."

*Mary is quiet and sweet and pure,
Of her success in life, we are quite sure.
She is like a breeze on a summer day,
She helps all she can, then slips away.*

RUTH THOMPSON, Donora, Pa.

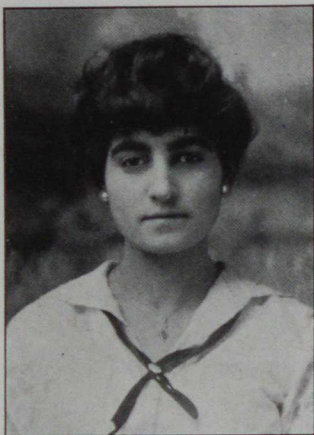

"Tommy"

Philo Reader.

What have we here? A tall slender maiden, who would make a very appropriate heroine for an ultra modern novel. Ruth's qualifications for this are, a generously carved mouth, green eyes, and a very winning smile. She is an accomplished young lady. Ruth will play for you gladly, or dance, if you will obligingly sing or whistle an accompaniment, but she considers her base solos the best of her parlor tricks. We are very sorry to record one fault, and that is a fondness for the opposite sex when their complexion and scarfs have a tendency towards "pinkness." However, we expect her to recover from this just as she has from the measles and the other childish attacks.

1915 CALLED BY NORSEAN

JOSEPHINE TOUCHE, Monesson, Pa.

"Joe"

Philo; Deutscher Verein; L'Alliance Francaise.

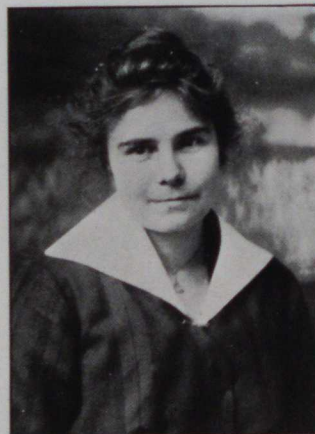

Josephine is a tall, stately girl of French and Italian ancestry, and seems to have inherited the artistic temperament of both those races. After graduating from Monesson High, she decided to further develop her talents in this institution. The ordinary school tasks possess no charms for her, but she is always ready to display her knowledge of the latest dance step, or to sing for you, especially in the hall at noon. Josephine has no trouble in translating foreign languages. The language teachers can depend upon what she says to be correct.

MARY VANBRENAN, Coal Center, Pa.

"Mary"

Philo; Deutscher Verein.

Mary is one of the most industrious students of our class. Although she is very quiet and has nothing to do with the boys, she can be jolly when she tries. She is a very prominent figure in Domestic Science, making dainties for all her less fortunate friends. Her aspirations are high, but we know she is going to make good. Fortunate indeed will be the district where she works; we were going to say the man who gets her (meaning of course the principal). Climb on, Mary, the sky's the limit.

BEATRICE VANKIRKE, Waynesburg, Pa.

"B"

Clio Secretary and Valedictorian; Deutscher Verein; Y. W. C. A.; Latin Club.

"B" is one of our industrious little girls who comes from the farm. But this one could never detect, so well had she mastered the art of keeping that secret. Go what will, or come what may, meet "B" and your drooping spirits are revived by her broad, cheery smile. To strangers, her appearance may seem quiet, but to her chums she is a jolly, talkative, fun-loving girl. She has won many friends and this, no doubt, explains why she receives so many letters. "B" is always anxiously waiting for the mail to be passed, and what a disappointed little girl returns to her room if she, perchance, is one who is slighted. From conversations with "B," we fear she will not pursue her profession as a pedagogue very long, as she seems to have made different plans already.

1915 CALLED BY NORSIEAN

MILDRED VANZANDT, Point Marion, Pa.

"Millie"

Philo Secretary and Salutatorian; Class Day Pessimist; President Y. W. C. A.; Editorial Board; President L'Alliance Francaise; French Play; Deutscher Verein.

Mildred is one of our industrious girls, at work from early dawn till late into the night. Burning candles is against the rules, but she made good use of the gas light just outside her room door. Whenever a special poem is needed, all one has to do, is to tell Mildred of it and she does the rest. She is an earnest worker in the Y. W. C. A. Her work for Philo needs to be praised and every member of the society feels that she is one of the shining lights. We know not what the future hath in store for her, but this we know, whatever it be, she will make good.

MABEL WALTERS, Uniontown, Pa.

"Happy"

Clio Secretary; Deutscher Verein; Y. W. C. A.; May Queen Attendant.

Her motto is "Be happy but don't rush," and she practices it to the letter, never making her associates nervous by quick or unexpected movements. She is a very handsome young miss, with entrancing brown eyes. This buxom lassie meets the world with a smile, and generally leaves it with one. She takes every thing easy and was never known to be angry in her life. By strenuous efforts she can get two faint lines between her eyebrows, but really she wouldn't frighten anyone. Her chief interests were in penmanship, German and vacation days.

MARY M. WALTERS, Fairchance, Pa.

"Bugs" "Ma"

Clio Secretary and Salutatorian; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet; Deutscher Verein; Girls' Glee Club; Latin Club.

"She hath a heart as sound as a bell, and her tongue is the clapper, for what her heart thinks, her tongue speaks."

Mary hails from Fairchance and is an ardent, enthusiastic worker in any cause which happens to interest her. She is loyal to her school from the sole of her head to the crown of her feet. We have often noticed that she is especially interested in Geology; at least she derives a great deal of pleasure from her study of "Stones." Mary is a sweet, lovable girl, and will be remembered affectionately by all her classmates. Her one great ambition in life is to become a doctor, and we all wish her immeasurable success in her chosen profession. She has failed, as yet, to select her future Alma Mater, but we predict for that institution, whatever it may be, great profit by her presence.

1915 CALIFORNIA NORSJEAN

GROVER CLEVELAND WASHABAUGH, Mt. Pleasant, Pa.
"Krug"

Philo President; Varsity Football, 3 and 4; President of Student Board; Junior Class Play; Basket Ball; "Sewing Circle."

Isn't he a husky looking guy? He surely is, and is as husky as he looks. He puts his great strength to good use when about six members of an opposing football team rush at him. When such a scene takes place on the field, you may be sure that "Krugar" will "land" all six at once. Besides being a good guard for the football team, he showed his ability for the same position on the basket ball team. Even though this boy is big in body, and strong, he is said to have one weakness, that is, admiration for the gentle sex, which in many cases has frequently proven a strong element in the character of a man.

*"A mighty spirit fills that frame,
 A spirit mightier than his name."*

HAZEL WEAVER, Fayette City, Pa.
"Haze"

Clio; Deutscher Verein.

For four years, "Haze" has left her home in Fayette City every morning, and in spite of snow and high river, has made her way to the Normal. We think that traveling has been good for Hazel, for one passing along the hall cannot help noticing her name as it stands out on the Honor Roll. In addition to being bright, "Haze" is also good, for she is so fond of school that she is even found there on Sunday. Some may say she was so quiet that we hardly knew she was here; but, never mind, Hazel, we notice that quiet people nearly always make good.

EDNA E. WEIGHT, Lock No. 4, Pa.
"Flicker"

Clio; Toast at Washington's Birthday Banquet; Deutscher Verein; Latin Club.

This young lady is sometimes called "Flicker" and at other times she is merely "Weightie." She came to California in the fall of 1913, a graduate of Charleroi High School. "Weightie" is a little hard to understand, but once you learn to know her you find her as dignified as any Senior ever dare be. We expect to hear of her being instructor in the Agricultural Department of some college, as she is extremely fond of the study of grains, such as "Oats." She also seems to be especially fond of the word "particularly."

1915 CALLED BY NORSEAN

ALICE GRACE WIDDUP, Beallsville, Pa.
"Betty"

Philo Secretary; Y. W. C. A.; Attendant to May Queen; Latin Club.

"Betty" won our hearts when she came to us two years ago. She is a sunny natured little girl with curly hair and laughing eyes, always ready to speak a kind word for somebody. She has a great many duties both social and otherwise, for "Betty" never misses a Tuesday night going to North Parlor or a lecture, and several impromptu meetings between times, and yet with all this, she has a splendid record in her classes which would seem to indicate that her head is full of serious thoughts of her class work. Domestic Science seems to be her life study and we believe she will become an expert.

HANNAH WILLIAMS, Donora, Pa.
Clio; Y. W. C. A.

Hannah is one of our silent girls, an unusual thing, many people think. She must be a firm believer in the old adage, "Don't speak if you've nothing to say," for we seldom hear her voice. One thing is certain, she is no chatter box. She is a conscientious student and spends much of her time poring over books. Arithmetic seems to be a favorite subject for she was never known to appear in class without a fully prepared lesson. Those who know her will find her a helpful friend, always sympathetic and considerate to those about her.

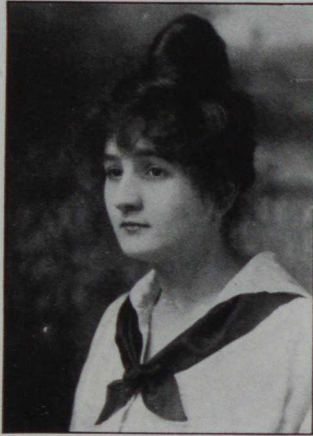

HAZEL WILLIAMS, Allenport, Pa.
"Fernie"

Philo; Hockey, '13; Deutscher Verein.
"Modest and simple and sweet, the very type of Priscilla."

Among those who use the P. R. R. daily, is one called "Fernie." She is very studious, always attending strictly to lessons. When only a "second year," "Fernie" was very fond of Caesar, in fact, one could see her any hour, carrying her beloved manuscript around with her. This little lassie never has much to say, but all the same she gets there every time. Perhaps she has practiced the old saying, "A still tongue maketh a wise head"; and who can say that "Fernie" has not profited by it?

1915 CALIFORNIA NORSEAN

HAZEL WILLIAMSON, Charleroi, Pa.
"Willie"

Philo; Y. W. C. A.; Washington's Birthday Minnet; Deutscher Verein.

After a short sojourn in Charleroi High School, "Willie" severed her relations with that institution and landing in California, embarked with the class of '15. "Willie" is full of life and pranks, never does she let pass an opportunity to make her chums the object of some huge joke. The more ridiculous the joke, the happier is this little miss. If there is anything exciting to happen, "Willie's" right there and usually an active leader. The one class in which she shines is Domestic Science. It is here that the rest of us unfortunates are put to shame when our splendid little models are paralleled with "Willie's." When nothing exciting, as a home talent or a floor parade is scheduled, "Willie" may be heard picking away at her mandolin.

HELEN WOERNER, Sharpsburg, Pa.

Philo; L'Alliance Francaise; Y. W. C. A.; Secretary of Sodalitas Latina.

*"I chatter, chatter as I go,
My tongue it ceaseth never;
Men may come and men may go,
But I go on forever."*

The fates bestowed upon this young lady many gifts. Talking is not her only strong point. She can read Latin like a Roman senator. French verbs do not bother her. In fact she could talk in any language if she chose. Helen can be very industrious when she wants to, but she works "when the spirit moves her" to do so. However, she manages to be an "A" student without much trouble. Helen is musical, but few people know it, for she does not like public performances.

OPAL WOODRING, California, Pa.
"Opal"

Philo; L'Alliance Francaise.

Opal is the fourth of a family of girls who claim S. W. S. N. S. as their Alma Mater. Two years ago she came into our class from the High School on the hill and since then has joined loyally and creditably in our school functions. Opal is a good student and has taken a great interest in composition. Letter writing is one of her accomplishments which she practices intensely. Strange as it may seem, her critic is not a member of our English Department. Opal will doubtless specialize in French, and her success is certain.

1915 CALLED BY NORSEAN

EDNA YORKE, Washington, Pa.
"Ednar"

Clio; L'Alliance Francaise; French Play; Deutscher Verein; May Queen Attendant.

This tall, dignified young lady believes in taking life easy. No one ever beheld her rushing madly down the hall or up a flight of stairs. Instead, she saunters into the class room with a calm, collected air and a dreamy look on her face. She never becomes excited, never loses her equilibrium, and her favorite expression is, "Calm yourself, mademoiselle." "Ednar" has very pronounced views on the European War, and doesn't hesitate to express them. Anything French is sure to appeal to her. In fact her greatest talent lies in her impersonations of the villains in French plays. The poor hero has no chance at all and is lucky to escape with his life.

TENIA ZANERDELLI, Monongahela, Pa.
"Teeny"

Clio; Toast at Washington Birthday Banquet; L'Alliance Francaise; Deutscher Verein.

This young Miss has the distinction of being born in sunny Italy, near the lake region. At present, however, she hails from the renowned city of Monongahela, from which High School she is a graduate. Look at her eyes and you will soon see by their sparkle that she is full of humor, and yet also means business. Tenia is very witty and original. Although in no respect a pessimist, she rejoices greatly in arguing. Most statements made to her are usually met with her firm and effective, "I don't believe it," "Dann geht es los." Tenia is one of those girls who never shirks. Her work is always done cheerfully and efficiently. She is an Honor Roll Student and one of whom the Senior class may be proud, and whose acquaintance makes life sweeter, for having known her.

ANNA ZEBLEY, Lemont Furnace, Pa.,
"Ann"

Philo; Deutscher Verein; Y. W. C. A.

Although Anna is most often called "Ann," another name which would be quite fitting is "Grandma." Ever since the Seniors were taught knitting and crocheting, "Ann" has been at it. And by her patient and constant efforts she has become quite skilled in the art and indeed would make an efficient teacher. Another of "Ann's" specialties is sleeping. No doubt that is why the little lady is so pretty. Just go into her room some evening and there she'll be, all curled up, taking a nap. "Ann" is one of those people who can do two things at once—sleep and talk. By her association with a certain lemon, it was feared that some negative effect might be made upon her pleasant disposition, but such, we are glad to say, is not the case.

1915 CALIFORNIA NORSEAN

DORA DRUM, California, Pa.

"Dodo"

Miss Drum graduated several years ago from the Normal Department and this year she completes her course in vocal music. Dora is a popular young lady, especially among the opposite sex, for her wit and interesting conversation amuse everybody alike. Her sweet voice is sought quite frequently at social functions and we have always enjoyed hearing her sing. She also has shown apt ability in dramatic productions, and it was not long ago that she participated in a comedy, "Melinda Pike," much to the amusement of all her friends.

DAVID EWING, Latrobe, Pa.

"Andy"

Philo President; Baseball; Glee Club; Senior Tennis Team; Y. M. C. A.; Music Recital; Deutscher Verein.

Well! Let us see what we have here. Examine that face. Does he not have the look of a genius about him? That is just the very thing that gives us an excuse to mention his name. "Andy" hails from Latrobe and we must say that we are glad he hailed, for a true classmate he has been. "Andy" is one of our music students, and is to be congratulated on the fine bass voice that he possesses. During the past two years we have had the pleasure of hearing him many times. We now leave him with hopes for "world fame."

1915 CALLED NORSEAN

MRS. SARAH HILEMAN KEYES,
California, Pa.

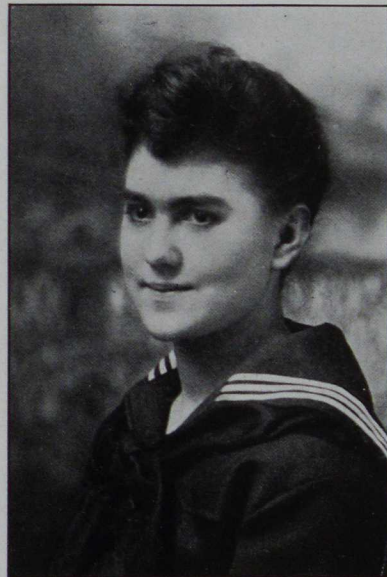

"Happy"

Originally Mrs. Keyes belonged to our class in the regular Normal course, "but a young and persistent knight stole away her heart by night." However, she decided to continue her course in Music and we were glad to welcome her back to our ranks. In her Junior year, she worked most industriously to master the subject of Domestic Science and we all marveled at the intensity with which she attacked the said subject. No longer do we wonder, no more are we mystified, for Sarah, in the month of July, responded to the persistent wooing of her youthful lover and accepted him. Now, together, they are reaping the benefit of her energetic perusal of Domestic Science, and together, perhaps, suffer painful intervals of indigestion. Sarah and "Pike" reside in a cozy little flat in California, and history again repeats itself,—they are happy with their home and each other.

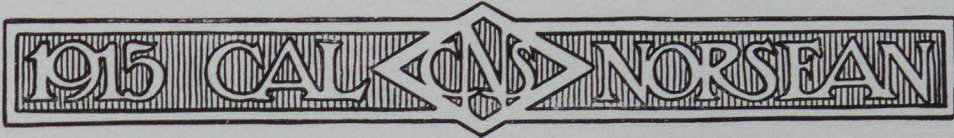

CORA WILLIAMS, California, Pa.

Clio; Pinafore; L'Alliance Francaise.

Cora's talent is her wonderful voice. No one knows the best of her until they have heard her sing. In the future, the Senior class expects to point with pride to Cora's achievements in the musical world. Another of her strong attributes is her strong temper. Little things disturb her peace of mind, so when you hear an extra loud noise in the hall, don't be alarmed as it is only Cora stamping her foot at some trifle. Cora is evidently a firm believer in the Biblical proverb that, "A prophet is not without honor save in his own country," for she rarely favors us with her voice, but prefers to sing in distant towns—easily reached by a Ford runabout.

Commercial Department

HIS is the first time in the history of the school that there has been a section of the "Calnorsean" given to the Commercial Dep't. and we hope to do it credit.

The Commercial Department is composed of nineteen students and an exceptionally good teacher. The teacher, Mr. Bert DeBoer, came here from the state of Michigan and from the very first day to the very last, he has given all his time and energy to this Department, except for an hour or two each day, when he and his wife take a long walk. We often wondered whether they took this walk to see the beautiful country around here or for the fresh air and exercise. We finally came to the conclusion that on account of coming from a place where there was lots of fresh air, they were not used to being shut up in a building all the time, so therefore, the walks.

Mr. DeBoer or Bert, as we call him when he is not around, is a man that anyone would like. As a teacher he cannot be beaten. If you do the right thing with him, you will receive the same in return. A person, to look at him would say that he had a fiery temper on account of his hair, which as you all know is auburn, but all we have to say is, that we have never had the experience of seeing that temper in action. If he has a fiery temper, he certainly has it under control. He has a good way of rebuking a person when he does something that deserves a calling down. He usually says about three sentences and then quits, but it makes you so ashamed of yourself that you would not do that thing again, if you were paid for it.

On the 13th of February he sprung a surprise on us. We always knew that he had a liking for basket ball, but he never told us that he ever played the game. So on the night of the 13th, about 7 p. m. when the Faculty Basket Ball Team marched out on the floor, whom should we see but Bert. Well, then, the game was doubly interesting for the Commercial Students. It was not long after the game started until we found out our teacher could do more than teach. The way he followed that ball, and the slick ways of elbowing his opponents out of the way, was a treat to watch. He certainly did play a good game. He held up his share of Basket Ball for the Commercial Department.

The Commercial course is composed of Shorthand, Bookkeeping, Typewriting, Penmanship, Commercial Law and Business English.

The Commercial Department, as well as the Normal Department, has, for the first time, a Penmanship teacher. Miss Amy L. Applegate came here in the fall of 1914 to take up her work of Penmanship. She arrived in our Department on Tuesday. We began our drills on that day and have kept them up ever since. We are all pleased with the results we have achieved under the direction of Miss Applegate. And all hope to receive a diploma under her as her aim is to teach you to write and then to get you a diploma.

1915 CALCONS NORSEAN

FRANK BECKER, Newell, Pa.

"Milky"

"Milky" represents our Newell force in the Commercial Department. He is kind-hearted and always likes to treat the bunch. Frank gained and improved in his studies every day, and we hope that he will keep up his good work in the future. He has a long walk to get here, but he is always on time.

*Here's Becker, a Commercial too,
We wish you luck in whatever you do.*

GARNET M. CRAVEN, Coal Center, Pa.

"Garnet"

Coal Center has furnished the Normal with much good material, but none better than this young lady from the hilltop. Here is one of our most fascinating "blondes" who has led her associates a merry chase for honors. Garnet's studious habits in Commercial have not detracted one iota from her social career. Unlike most young ladies, she will be able to take "dictation." Her pleasant disposition will bring her preference in her chosen field and, no doubt, she will be very successful—so wish we all.

GERTRUDE HARRISON, California, Pa.

"Butch"

Philo; Basket Ball.

For some time Gertrude was not in school, but she came back this year and entered the Senior year of the Commercial Department. She has always lived in California and of course has had the advantage of coming up through the Model School. Her classmates of the Commercial course assure us that she is getting along well and has won the name of "Speed Queen" in shorthand.

1915 CALIFORNIA NORSEAN

MARGARET A. HARTMAN, California, Pa.
"Margie"

This is a charming young Miss from the Commercial Department, who will take her place in the Commercial world, fully equipped. Already one "Chap" has offered her a position. Lest you think that stenography is her only forte we will say that she is also quite a musician, being an excellent accompanist—to tenor singers. Basing our opinion on her ability and good nature, we anticipate a splendid career for her. We sincerely wish her success.

RICHARD HASSON, California, Pa.
"Dick"

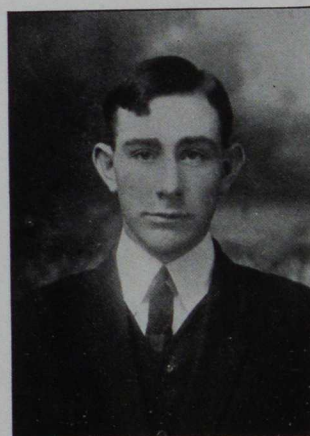

"Dick," one of the youngest and brightest students of the Commercial Department, is very quiet and modest, but he is ever ready to lend a helping hand to one of his friends. He is very witty and always has an answer ready when called upon. Richard is very industrious, too, and you can find him "hitting the typewriter" during any of his spare moments.

*Here's to Dick, our good old friend,
 We wish him pleasure without end.*

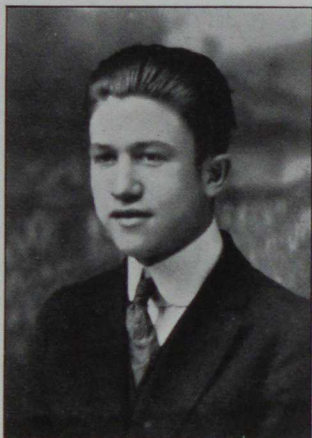

LLOYD HEINER, California, Pa.
"Jake"

Philo; Football; Basket Ball; Baseball.

"Jake," as he is called by his school companions, is a young man of solid convictions. He has made a record here in the Normal, not only in his class work, but in his athletic sports. "Jake" was a star basket ball man and also shines in baseball. With his ability to work and with his benevolent disposition, Heiner will make good in the business world. This wish is extended to him very frankly by all the students of C. N. S.

1915 CAL NORSEAN

OPHAS HOWARD, Coal Center, Pa.

"Ophie"

Philo; Sport of the Commercial Department.
 "Ophie," as his friends call him, is very popular. He is one of those rare boys who is never too busy to help some one else. Moonlight strolls seem to be his chief delight. Ophas hopes to become a great orator and some day we expect to hear of him surpassing W. J. Bryan.

*Here's to Oph, with a big, broad smile,
 Who is happy and cheerful most all the while,
 And has succeeded in captivating Margaret with all her style.*

CLARENCE LLEWELLYN, California, Pa.

"Chap"

"Chap" is located in the Commercial Department, and is gifted with lots of "pep" and hustle. Llewellyn has been a lady's man ever since his face has been around C. N. S. Nevertheless, he has done good solid work here and should land a profitable position. Many times he has been "bawled out" for exposing his high tenor in chapel and elsewhere, but in spite of all these faults, he will succeed in the future, and will have the hearty cooperation of all his school friends.

ALBERT R. LONG, Coal Center, Pa.

"Tangle"

Philo; Football; Basket Ball; Baseball; "Sewing Circle."

"Tangle" is an all-around man both in athletics and in his studies. He plays football, basket ball, and baseball. Albert is also very good in his studies, being an exceptionally good bookkeeper. "Tangle" is good natured, always cheerful, and he is ever ready to help any one who asks for his assistance.

1915 CALKINS NORSEAN

EDWARD NOEL, Hastings, Pa.
"Manager"

"Gasoline Gus"
All kinds of scraps.

"Manager" dropped into C. N. S. in the fall of 1914, from his home in the mountains—just in time to become a valuable member of the football team. He is a youth who, although he does not burn midnight oil over his lessons, stands well in his class. As his nickname indicates, he takes great pleasure in running automobiles, and some day we expect to hear of him being a great automobile racer.

HE history of our class dates back to the beginning of the fall term of 1912. The class then consisted of but thirty-six members, which increased to sixty-four in number during the next year, a gain of $77\frac{2}{3}$ per cent over our Freshman year. We have now entered our Junior year with a total enrollment of one hundred thirty-six, or an increase of $277\frac{3}{4}$ per cent over our Freshman class and $112\frac{3}{4}$ per cent over our Sophomore class. It is true our number at first was small, but it possessed exceptional ambition, and has since proved its ability by the numerous activities upon which it has entered, and the new ones it has organized. The class, small as it was, and having but ten boys, was able to engage in almost all sorts of athletics.

At the beginning of the fall term of 1913, the class organized and showed such literary talent that it was agreed by the faculty and authorities that the lower literary society to which our class belonged should be taken at once into the higher society.

Late in the spring term of 1914, the students of C. N. S. held an inter-class tennis tournament. In this tournament our class maintained its own well, taking second honors.

This year has been very prosperous for our class, intellectually, physically, and politically. Upon the honor roll, an important feature in the grade system, our class has more than held its place. The prospects for athletics another year are extremely brilliant, and preparations are already being made for inter-class and inter-scholastic games. In fact the Junior class holds a high rank in all the activities of the school. No Junior class in the history of the school has attempted to present so artistic an entertainment in honor of the Senior class as we are now offering. We are preparing to give one of the most popular comic operas, "Pinafore" by Sir Arthur Sullivan. This is being rehearsed frequently with prospects of a very strong and successful presentation. This shows our wonderful advance in musical art as well as in ability of organization.

We wish to bring congratulations to the present graduating class on their excellent record and successful work, and to extend our best wishes to each and every member of the class.

It is our purpose to stand by the school in all the principles for which it stands, and not come short in any precedent set by former classes.

DIXON HALL

Dear Seniors of the S. W. S. N. S.—

Grave perplexity overwhelms us at this time and sends us to you, the sober, sedate, serene, solemn, dignified and distinguished seniors, with appeal for a chart showing us the road over Normal Mountains or the tunnel through it.

From our humble place down in the valley we long to reach the delightful peaks on which you stand. How did you ever get up there?

The world needs us, the class of 1917. How much, is only a question of knowing our worth. Of the sterner sex we number twenty-five, while of the clinging vine species we are eighty-two.

Our officers are:

President	CHARLES MOORE
Vice President	ELEANOR RICHARDSON
Secretary	EDITH CROSSLAND
Treasurer	EDGAR HERRINGTON

Seniors, see our torn and bleeding hands and read our Motto, "We are not at the top but climbing." For the Crimson of our class colors we go to the western sky at sunset and we get our Silver from the silver sheen of the calm and beautiful lake.

The counties nearest to the Normal have bequeathed to our class their best thinkers. We appeal to you to help us to be the brightest and best ever known and hope that we have easier climbing than did you.

How did you manage your solids? We planed our way through the first course of Geometry but are warned that solids must be tolerated, too. Is that true? Where can the best "ponies" be procured for Virgil and Cicero? What fees to State Board will insure a passing grade when we need our precious time for tennis and baseball?

Note a few peculiarities:—Our class contains one Shirk, one Rich, (during hard times this comforts us), two Barrs are crossed if provocation comes to us. We never are overcome with thirst for we have two Wells. Our Cousin reminds us of the unity of life the world over. Ayers follows in line as they do whenever riches exist. Much as we all possess, our heirs, must share our good fortunes.

We appeal to you with this yell that you help us be the brightest and the best.

Clonian Society

SOME one has said "Education is preparation for complete living." In order that our Normal training may fully meet this demand, it must over-step the bounds of the "Three R's," and expand along lines which will give the student this preparation. It is not the one who knows the most, who is needed and for whom society is eagerly waiting, but it is the one who can intelligently express and put into action that which he knows. Clio, a wide-awake, animated and progressive literary society, has as her chief aim this very thing—namely, to enable her members to give expression fluently to their thoughts and ideas, and thus train them for future service. Within her hall is an atmosphere of cosmopolitanism and mutual interest and helpfulness. To any good earnest student who is desirous of becoming one of her number, she makes an offer of inestimable value. Moreover, Clio not only stimulates us to adequately express the ideas we already have, but helps us to acquire more by cultivating an appreciation of the best literature. To this end many interesting programs have been rendered, which have put us in touch with the life and works of eminent writers, or interesting and quaint holidays.

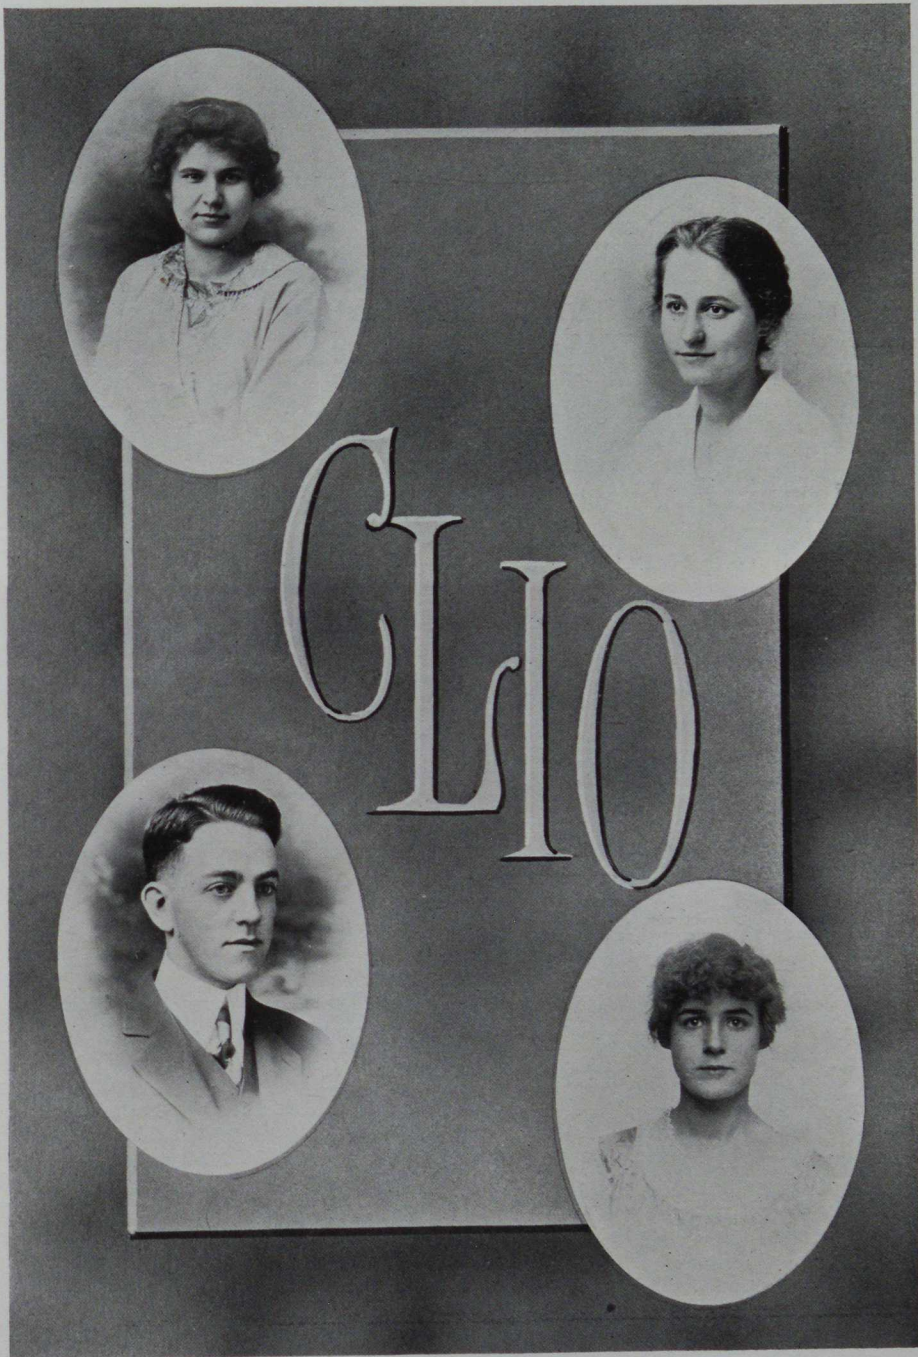

Clio's interest and influence is felt in various phases of school life. Over-stepping distinct literary bounds, it especially ran high during the basket ball season, when in three hotly contested inter-society games she came out master of the situation.

Realizing the literary and social value of Clio, it is with regret that we, the Seniors, must soon sever our relations with her. And it is our one hope that the coming seniors will perpetuate and increase our earnest efforts and leave nothing undone which will redound to the honor and welfare of the gold and blue.

Philomathean Society

THE Philomathean Literary Society was first organized in the summer of 1874. From that nucleus the organization of the present day has developed with a firm, steady growth. The motto "Energy Wins Over Fate" has reflected the spirit of every loyal Philomathean from that day to this. As a literary organization its aim has been to develop in each individual member higher ideals, a larger appreciation of good literature, clearer thinking and greater powers of expression. The splendid energy and effort put into the work have yielded ten-fold results both by making individuals stronger and more certain of their powers and by bringing the society as a unit to a higher and better standard.

Philo has never known a backward year in her history. Each semester has seen her forging ahead in an effort to lift the colors higher than before. This year the progress has been very marked. Early in the fall new students, recognizing the merits and the attractions of the "Red and White," began an influx that continued through the year and filled our hall almost to overflowing. The assimilation of these new people was accomplished without effort and they more than filled the places of the departed Seniors of the preceding year. Talent as well as numbers increased. This was evident from the orations, debates, essays and various other performances that were presented on the platform at each weekly meeting. Plenty of originality was in evidence, too.

Each and every member has the interest and the welfare of the society at heart and this accounts for the spirit and the incentive that keeps the Philo banner waving high.

PHILO CONTESTANTS

Sodalitas Latina

HIS is the first time in the history of C. N. S. that a Latin club has been organized.

Its membership consists of the present Virgil class, the Cicero class and all the students having had four years of Latin in the past.

The Officers of the club are:—

President	ELLEN HOGE
Vice President	GEORGIA PRICE
Secretary	HELEN WOERNER
Treasurer	MARGARET HALL

The Latin club enjoyed the Roman cake made from the recipe taken from section 84 of the "De Re Rustica Cato." "Savillum hoc modo factio. Farinae selibram, casei Piis. Una commisceto quasi libum. Addito mellis PÆ et ovum unum. Catinum fictile oleo unguito. Ubi omnia bene commiscueris, in catinum indito. Catinum testo operito. Videto ut bene percocas medium, ubi altissimum est. Ubi coctum erit, cactimum eximito melle unguito, papaver infriato, sub testum subde paulisper postea exmito. Ita pono cum catillo et lingua."

Translation.

½ lb. flour, 2½ oz. of cheese. Mix together as in a "libum," add 3 oz. honey, and one egg. Grease an earthenware pan with olive oil. When you have thoroughly mixed all the ingredients, pour into pan, cover with lid (the Romans used earthenware, not metal). See that you thoroughly bake the middle where it is deepest. When done, remove from oven, smear the top with honey, scatter poppy seeds over top, plunge the bottom of the pan for a moment into cold water, then remove the cake from the pan. Serve on small dishes with spoons.

Notes:

The farina (flour) was rather coarse, and the process of separating bran from flour had not yet been discovered. Use Graham flour. The catinus, from descriptions, resembles our soup plates. It varied in size. Roman lb. equals 11½ ozs. avoirdupois. The Roman lb. was divided into 12 ounces.

The Romans did not use yeast or baking powder. The cake, if carefully made according to directions, is not half bad, and will give an idea of the taste of Roman baked products. This is only one of the many interesting features taken up in the Latin club. Some plays have been read and preparations are being made for the presentation of some of them.

1915 CALCASPAR NORSEAN

THE Y. W. C. A. at the Normal School has become a strong organization. It stands for the best that is in every girl, for her moral success and the uplift of her student life.

For convenience, its members were divided into committees with a chairman in charge of each. Each committee had a certain work to do. Prayer meetings were held every Friday evening. Every Sunday morning three Bible classes met. Our Bible study was very interesting since the different classes were formed. Each of these classes was taught by members of the faculty. The Freshmen and Sophomores, under the supervision of Miss Anna Thomas, studied "Women of Ancient Israel" by Charlotte H. Adams. They studied the character of Ruth, Deborah, Sarah, Rebecca, Jezebel, and the Shunamite woman. The Junior class, under the supervision of Miss Berdina McIntosh, studied "The Mind of The Messiah" by Charlotte H. Adams. The Senior class, under the supervision of Miss Ella Pollock, studied "Selected Epistles of Paul" by Edward Everett Nourse. They studied Paul's missionary journeys emphasizing different counties and cities he passed through. They also paid particular attention to the purpose and character of the epistles. The leaders of these classes encouraged reading outside of the textbooks. They were very interesting to both the leaders and students and both gained much from the study. Everyone was given a cordial welcome to the Bible study classes and prayer meetings.

The bazaar, socials and candy sales were all successful. The money obtained from these was used for sending delegates to the Eagles Mere Conference. The girls who attend this conference receive many suggestions which are helpful throughout the following year's work.

The Y. W. C. A. gives the girls a broader grasp on life and trains them to express their own thoughts. It also rounds their education to completeness.

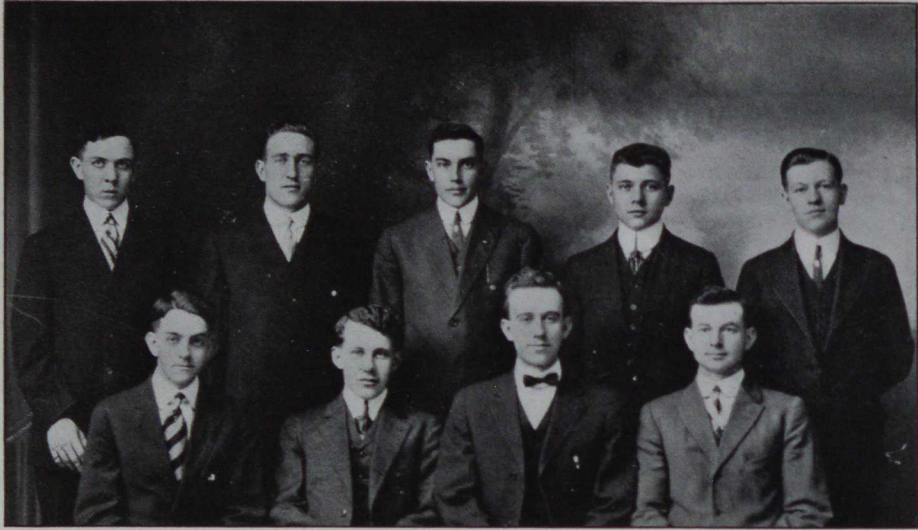

1915 CALIFORNIA NORSEAN

DURING the past year the Association has progressed in the various lines of work which it attempts to accomplish in the Normal. No agency of the school does so much for the spiritual uplift of the individual who is preparing himself to be a teacher. Regular meetings were held each Sunday in which the work was not carried on by individuals but by the Association as a whole, which was working towards a common end. Throughout the Fall and Winter Term Bible study classes were conducted very successfully on alternating Sundays by Professors Fiske and Wentzel. At other times the meetings were in charge of the student members, who developed various topics relating to school life. From time to time the interest in the meetings was increased by the presence of State Secretary Ellers and other visiting religious workers.

Several socials were held by the Association which furnished a profitable line of entertainment for the students and served to introduce new fellows at once to the best life of the school.

Football Season 1914

WILLIAM L. DUNN, Captain, 1914

We are all pleased with the record made in the 1914 football season. This year's team did not win all the games they played but a team cannot always be judged by its defeats and victories. Out of the twelve games played six were victories for the Normal. For these victories much credit must be given to the splendid coaching of Professor Sharadin and to the headwork and hard playing of Captain Dunn.

The season was opened September 26th by a hard fought game with the Beallsville Collegians, which resulted in a very favorable score. The next game, also a victory, was played with Chalfant College, a team which had not been beaten for the last three seasons. The next three games, Monessen Collegians, Greensburg High School and Waynesburg College, were played against teams which greatly outweighed the Normal squad. This was especially true of Greensburg High School, probably the strongest aggregation of gridiron warriors among the High Schools of the state. When we play such teams as these, it is almost certain that the score will be against us. Two games were played with Uniontown High School, both being victories for the Normal. Latrobe was one of the best games of the season. In this game our boys outplayed the Latrobe boys at all times of the game but because of the numerous penalties, the resulting score gave the game to Latrobe. The Alumni game was one looked forward to by all and glad were we when the varsity carried the ball over the line scoring another victory. The season closed with a game played with Scottdale High School on Thanksgiving Day and a royal time was enjoyed by all the boys.

The record for the season is as follows:

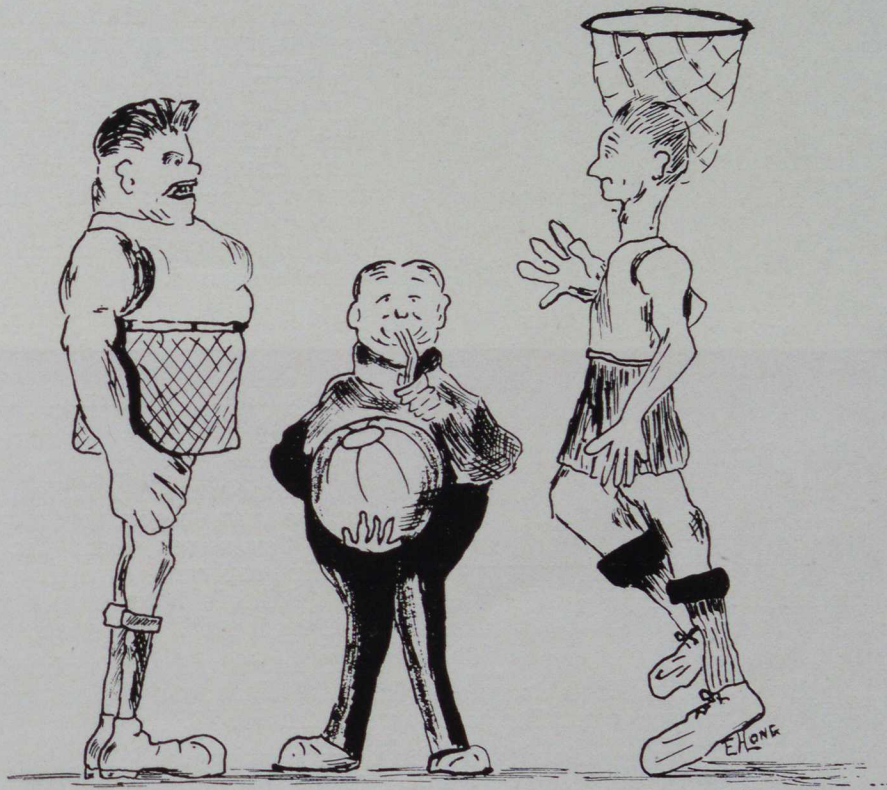

Sept. 26	C. N. S.	13—	Beallsville Collegians	0
Oct. 3	C. N. S.	7—	Chalfant College	0
Oct. 10	C. N. S.	0—	Monessen Collegians	6

ELIZABETH LONG, Captain Girls' Team

One of the unique features, not to be overlooked in the annual athletic write-up, is the girls' basket ball team.

Early in the fall term it was announced that all girls interested in basket ball "should report to Professor Sharadin at the Gym."

Old and new alike did as they were bidden and all told there were thirty-five or forty students out the first night. Plainly, the coach was going to find it difficult to choose from such extensive squad.

However, as the evenings went on the group became smaller and the proposition once so perplexing, presented itself in a different light much to the satisfaction of the coach.

Soon the members of the prospective team began to differentiate themselves from the remaining aspirants by their celerity, skillful floor work and aptness for shooting goals.

The first game was played at Wilkinsburg with the High School, on Jan. 12. That was the only game of the season that we lost. The score was C. 21, W. 23.

January 28, on our own floor, the team again played Wilkinsburg High School and defeated them badly—C. 24, W. 15.

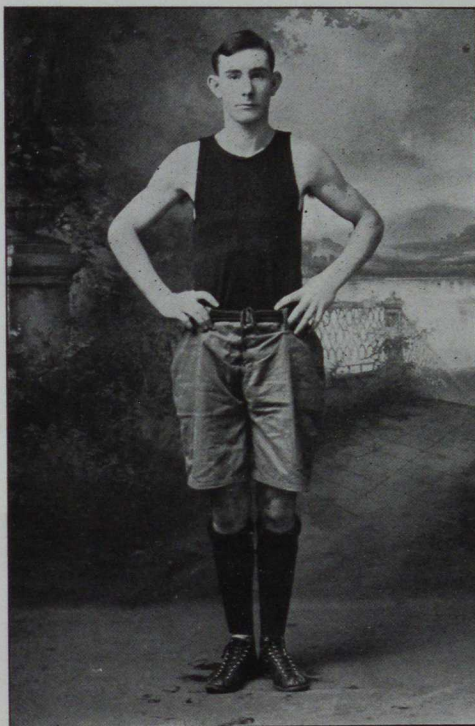

Two very hard fought games were played with the Charleroi High School, on February 28. Score, C. N. S. 21, C. H. S. 14; and the other Mar. 12. Score, C. N. S. 17, C. H. S. 7. These two games were the last of the season.

Although the schedule was limited this year, next year we hope that the girls will have more frequent opportunities to display their skill, and uphold the fair name of their Alma Mater.

The line-up this year was: Capt. Elizabeth Long, L. F.; Bess Gerge, R. F.; Mildred Underwood, C.; Mildred Hackney, L. G., Edna Stewart, R. G., Esther Lundeen, substitute R. G.; Ellen Easton, substitute R. F.; Wilda Cook, substitute R. F.

With Misses Hackney, Underwood and Cook as a nucleus for the team, next year's report should be as good a one as that of this year.

Senior Tennis Team

IN ATHLETICS the Senior Class has been unusually successful. Among numerous events we did not neglect our tennis talent.

In the Fall our class was represented by a full team in the Interclass Tournament—Messrs. Ewing and Letchworth composing the team for Men's Doubles; Mr. Ewing, Men's Singles; Misses Stewart and Long, Ladies' Doubles; and Miss Long in Ladies' Singles.

Although both events for men were lost it was not without great difficulty that our opponents won over the team. However, we redeemed ourselves in both Ladies events, the Singles and Doubles being won with comparatively little effort upon the part of our players.

Considering that the Sophomore class won two events and our class the other two, it was necessary for the two classes to play Mixed Doubles and thus split the tie. Mr. Ewing and Miss Long played Miss Duff and Mr. Crispin and wrested a victory from the hands of the Sophomores, and placed it within those of the Seniors.

Now, our fair name rests upon the large and beautiful cup that resides in the Library, and, when at any time, after graduating, we come again to our Alma Mater, we may find a certain satisfaction in recalling this victory.

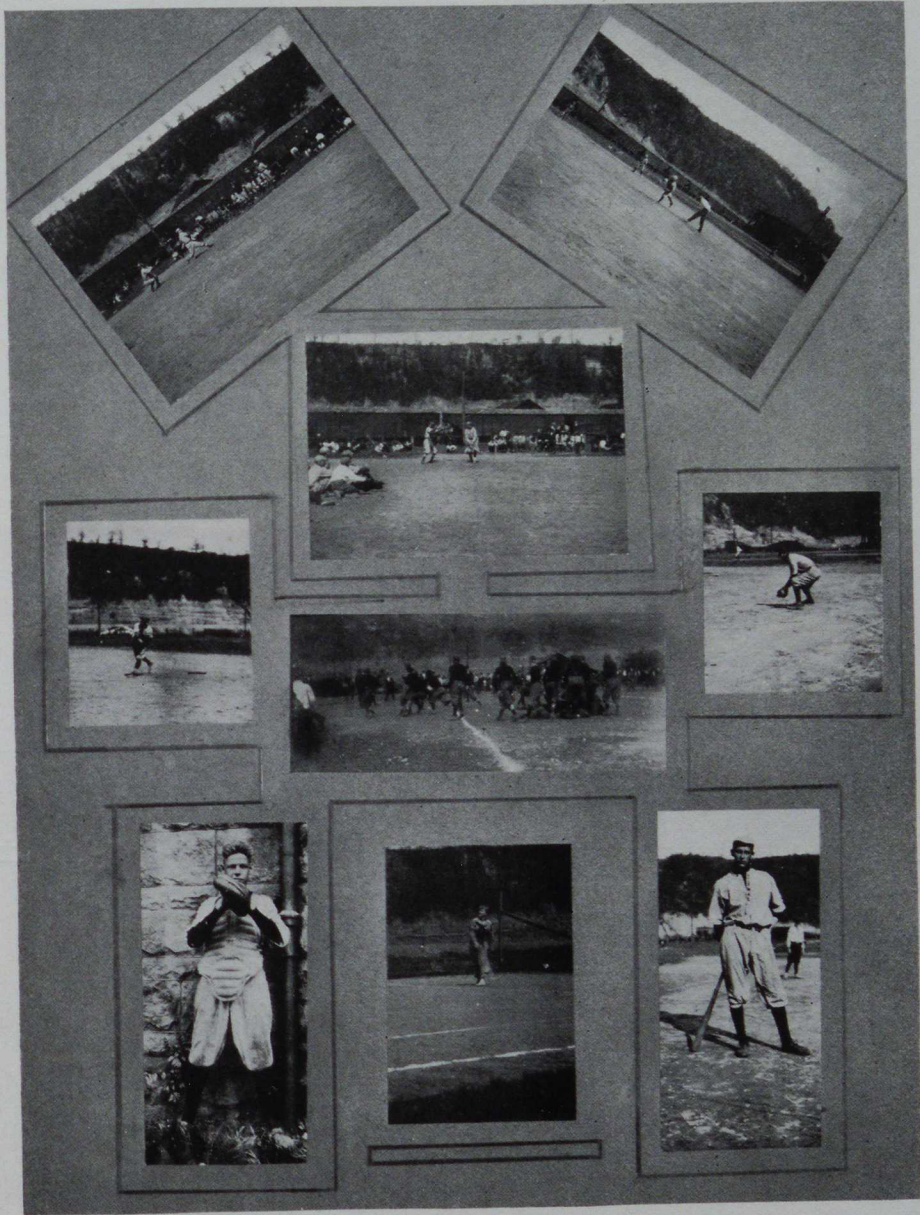

Gymnasium

This is the gym, an ancient structure
Small and weak and old.
Forty years behind the fashion,
In summer, hot; and winter, cold.

But with all its clumsy defects,
Much too numerous to tell,
It has stood for many a year,
And served its purpose well.

But we think its days are ended,
Its mission is fulfilled;
And a brand new modern Gym
They surely ought to build.

State Ownership has come at last,
We are hoping for this thing,
A bigger, better, finer Gym,
We pray that this will bring.

The Victory of the Seniors

It was the Brownsville "Old Home Week,"
Which last Autumn chanced to be,
And the people gathered in that old town
To mark a century.

Proud was the town in bunting and flags,
Her streets filled with people gay;
And the new bridge waited the Governor's word,
To open for traffic's way.

The Committee had urged that our Normal School
Would assist in the grand display;
So our Seniors bold and our new brass band
To the station made their way.

Proud were they all when they saw us go,
In the early Autumn dawn;
With caps and gowns and pennants gay,
And Veon leading on.

The band was playing a merry tune,
The Seniors yelled Rah! Rah! Rah!
And proudly waving the stars and stripes,
Was gallant Washabaugh.

Now we had ordered a special car
To take us to the show;
We would enter Brownsville in proper style,
And dignity, don't you know!

1915 CALIFORNIA NORSEAN

In came our train with a deafening roar,
Down sank our hearts with thuds,
For every coach was packed to the steps;
We surely were "left in the suds."

"Oh, Veon, where is our vacant coach?
Oh, say; where can it be"
But Veon answered not a word,
Astonished so was he.

Then up and spoke our gallant "Prin,"
"No tears now will we shed;
For there is room for every one
In the baggage car ahead."

They shoved and packed us in that car
Like sardines in a tin;
But what cared we for a thing like that?
We were on that trip to win.

The Children who lived along the way,
With fear and trouble fled;
When they heard the wild and dreadful shouts
From the baggage car ahead.

"Oh, Father, we hear a dreadful noise,"
"Oh, say, what can it be?"
"Some students from the C. N. S.
From every care set free."

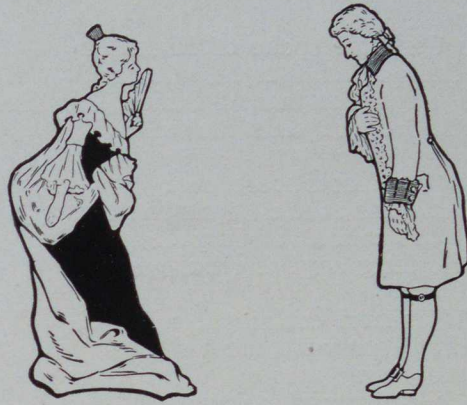

But on we bumped in that baggage car,
With yell, and cheer, and song;
And soon we reached that gala town,
One hundred and forty strong.

And then we marched up hill and down,
Looked dignified and wise;
And won the envy of all the rest,
By carrying off the prize.

The judge who gave us the envied prize,
Saw nothing of frills and fads,
But maidens earnest, modest and neat,
And studious, gallant lads.

Then bearing our honors with proper air,
We made our way toward home;
And our hearts rejoiced as we once more saw
Our dear old college dome.

Then hurrah for our Seniors and victory won!
May their honors never grow less.
Hurrah for our girls! Hurrah for our boys!
Hurrah for the C. N. S.

The Banquet

George Washington gave a banquet
 And all his cabinet came,
 Colonial dames and damsels
 And men of wondrous fame.

The hall was decked with colors
 Red and white and blue;
 The lads and lassies quite transformed
 With paint and powder too.

Celery soup and wafers,
 Waiters come and go;
 Roasted lamb and "taters"
 Before us in a row;
 Martha Washington salad,
 (The waiter let it fall)
 Don't you think the ice cream
 Is the best of all?

When the dinner was over
 Miss Buckbee began her speech.
 She first introduced Miss Evans,
 Who Washington did preach.

The story of John Adams
 Miss Stonesipher then told,
 Miss Zanardelli talked next
 Of Jefferson of old.

1915 CALLED NORSEAN

Miss Gerstner spoke of Hamilton,
Miss Edna Weight of Knox,
Miss Hoge then last of Randolph's fame,
And ended thus the talks.

After the toasts were over
And the music began to play,
Came the cabinet all in procession
Looking anything but gay.

With graceful curtsies the ladies,
The men with faces set
Began to step through the measure
Of the quaint old minuet.

For many minutes they danced there
Under the eyes of all;
At every turn a curtsy
And a graceful rise and fall.

Then came the time for departing
To our rooms in every hall,
And the girls, quite famished by this time,
To feasts went one and all.

Third Floor Revelry

'Twas the night before leaving,
And on the third floor,
That the students had planned
To make the halls roar.

Not a girl was stirring
At a quarter past ten,
But at exactly ten thirty
The noise began.

Girls in their kimmies,
And girls in their caps,
Were all in their doors
Ready, for the signal to tap.

When down in the hall,
The signal was given
There were horns and yelling
Which it seems is forbidden.

Then, out in the hall,
We heard the feet patter,
And each of the teachers
Saying, "What is the matter?"

Then they knocked at each door,
And at some of them twice,
And asked for the horns
With voices like ice.

After all the girls returned,
We were each told the place,
And met in the high school
The teachers to face.

Our names in the office
(On record they say),
They must have a victrola,
Or how would they play.

1915 CALLED HIS NORSEAN

The Life

When profs are hard and flunks come fast,
 And all the world seems cruel,
 We moan and groan around the town
 And cuss the doggone school.
 And when the Secretary her sign puts up,
 Inviting us to call,
 And tell Prex why we never go
 To chapel now at all;
 When other studes have chickens here
 For lectures now and then,
 And you have never heard from her
 Since daisies won't tell when;
 When father sends no fifty bucks,
 But twenty-five instead;
 It makes you feel so deathly sick
 You want to go to bed.
 And then you go flop off to sleep
 While others dance (?) and then,
 You doze for just a little while
 And hear that sweet Big Ben.
 And it's so cold your tootsies freeze
 When you stick out your toe;
 And yet you know it means get up,
 And off to classes go.

TOAST TO SENIORS

Listen, and I will tell you of a class that is true and strong,
 Of a class that never shirks no matter what goes wrong.
 When we are gone, the teachers all, will so very gloomy feel,
 For ne'er a class went forth before, so strong in might and zeal.

This class, no one the slightest bit can roast;
 The best thing they can do is to grant a great big toast.
 So here's to the Seniors of C. N. S.,
 A strong class they all are;
 We drink to the health of every one
 And wish them success and power.

A FARCE IN ONE ACT

It was a calm and peaceful Sunday evening—quiet brooded over all, when suddenly from the end of the main corridor came cries and sounds of battle—"Hoch der Kaiser! Choke der Kaiser!—Vive la France!—Three cheers for the Dutch!—Hip-hip-hooray for the Allies! were heard from the excited spectators.

Startled, the school fire department was about to turn out, thinking that a German aeroplane had dropped a bomb, or a submarine was sinking us, or undermining our constitution.

When the smoke of battle cleared away, Miss Bauman was retreating in dignified haste, seeking re-inforcements or protection in the person of Miss McIntosh (who is neutral), and the French, in the person of Miss Waldron, were in full possession of the field of combat.

It developed that the cause of such confusion was that the ladies disagreed about the sinking of the steamer Lusitania; Miss Bauman upholding the Germans in their deed, and Miss Waldron, highly indignant, taking the part of the English.

Latest reports from the Hague say that a truce has been declared between the two parties.

1915 CALIFORNIA NORSEAN

ARRIVING AT CALIFORNIA

“Husky Hanner” upon being asked which one of the Dixon Hall floor teachers she wanted for a mother replied: “Guess I’d rather be an orphan.”

Prof. Fiske, in Physics—“Miss Luckey, explain what is meant by ‘pitch.’”

Miss Luckey (thinking a while and, after vainly trying to express herself, replied to Prof. Fiske)—“Oh, well, you know, and I know, so you tell them.”

“Letch” and Dr. Veon have nothing to do on Sunday afternoon, so they go out on the hill and crack “nuts.”

Prof. Fiske (in Astronomy)—“Miss McCrackin, what proofs do we have that the earth is a globe?”

Miss McCrackin—“I suppose the same proofs that it is round.”

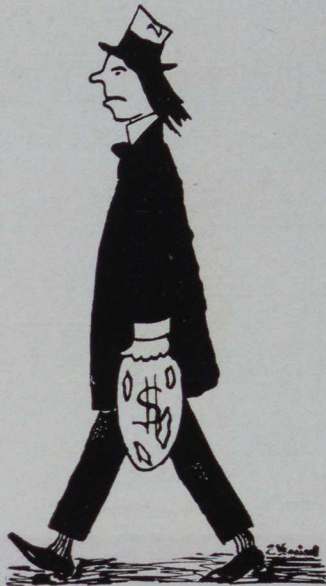

Mr. Sharadin (in Physical Training)—“Attention, now start with your left fore foot, first!”

Prof. Fiske (in Astronomy)—“Holt, what is the appearance of the moon through a telescope?”

Holt—“Something like the earth, only there are no houses or buildings on it.”

Prof. Hertzog (after one of the members of his class had left the class room without saying a word)—“She went out without leaving us a lock of her hair.”

1915 CALIFORNIA NORSEAN

LEAVING CALIFORNIA

Mr. Washabaugh (at waiters' table)—“Some one ask the blessing while I get some jelly.”

Miss Lemon—“Will a tomato bug bite?”

Mr. Wentzel—“That depends upon how green you are.”

Mr. Wentzel—“Miss Long, what's a runner?”

Miss Long—“A runner I—I—I, what kind of a runner?”

Mr. Hertzog—“Mr. Haines, what was your motive in going boat-riding?”

Mr. Haines—“To keep the girls from bothering me.”

SUITE OR SUIT

Pat had seen the word “Suite” used in connection with furniture. Being in need of bed-room comforts he entered a store with the purpose of buying some.

Pat—“Have ye's a cheap bed-room suit?”

Clerk (producing a pair of pajamas)—“How would this do?”

And the fight was on.

MINNEHAHA

“How did you come out in the examination?”

“I got a 100—”

“Say—now—!”

“I certainly did; 40 in Math, 30 History and 30 Chemistry.”

PRINCETON TIGER
