Foreword

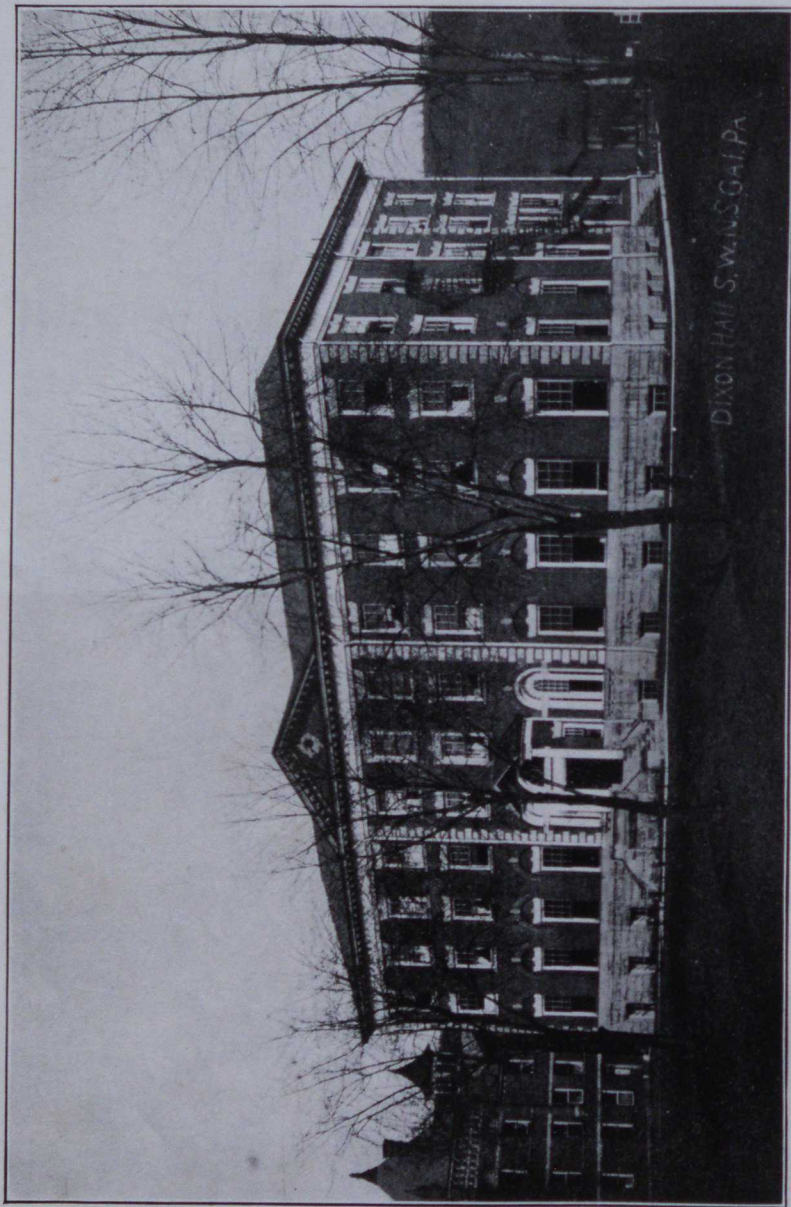

IN the compilation of this, the fourth volume of the Calnorsean, we have not attempted to make this book a masterpiece of literature but rather to portray Normal School life as it is in the Southwestern State Normal School. It is evident that our work will not please everyone as all persons do not look at this work from the same view point. However, what we have done has been for the interest and amusement of all the students, and we hope the majority of them will be satisfied. Don't forget, ye readers, that this is our first experience along this line of work and when you commend or criticize this volume of the Calnorsean, keep before you the fact that we are only amateurs. We now respectfully commend this volume of the Calnorsean into your hands, trusting it has fulfilled its mission in every respect.

He was elected to the Department of Education in 1913. Graduate Student, University of Pittsburgh.

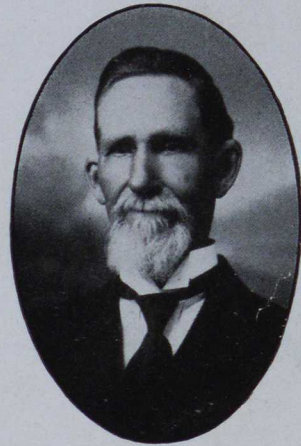

PROF. G. G. HERTZOG

Mr. Hertzog, with this year, closes his public services as a teacher. He began his work with the State Normal School at California in 1866, and now in 1916 completes his fiftieth year with the school. Prior to this he taught seven years in the public schools of the state, thus making in all a service of fifty-seven years, the last fifty averaging ten and one-half months as time is now counted.

Forty-four years of this time he was a trustee of the school and served as secretary of the Board of Trustees and shared with others the burdens of building up a great institution for the most part under adverse circumstances. He has been closely associated with all of the principals of the school and was himself acting-principal for more than three years.

He was born Sept. 22, 1837, in southwestern Fayette County, near Point Marion, reared on a farm and learned the trade of a carpenter with his father. During the winter he attended the public schools and later he was a student at Georges Creek Academy, at Smithfield, Fayette County, under the noted teacher C. A. Gilbert, and still later of the Southwestern Normal College, as this school was then named, and where without making application he was engaged to teach. About the year 1900, through the kindness of Dr. Noss and other friends, for distinguished services in his chosen line of work, Bethany College conferred a honorary degree but Mr. Hertzog, while appreciating the kindness of his friends and the action of the institution named, preferred to be known simply as a teacher and the final necessary steps were never taken.

Mr. Hertzog lives at the head of College Avenue, where he at first located, and expects to have an abiding interest in the school so long the scene of his labors, and in which his son W. S. Hertzog is principal.

"CUBA AND THE CUBANS."

Miss Anna Buckbee has lived in Cuba, where she enjoyed unusual opportunities for studying the manners, customs, and political condition of our southern neighbors. Her lecture is illustrated with more than one hundred high-grade stereopticon views, which were made especially for her, and have been beautifully colored by the best artists in this line of work. They deal with the climate, productions, industries, education, religion, social and political customs and the characteristics, peculiar to this island and its inhabitants.

SENIOR

1916

Senior Class History

City of the Monongahela,
Wireless Station 3,
June 21, 2416.

Dearest Home-folks:

In a recent wireless I told you of the strange ruins discovered when the excavation work was being done for the new building which is being added to our Teacher's College. Careful research has proved that these ruins are part of an ancient Normal School existing until somewhere between 1900 and 1925. The beauty and grace of the style of the architecture and the language in some writings found also go to prove that it belongs in this period. Further study has brought out the fact that these buildings were destroyed in the World War, probably about 1917.

Underneath one of the towers of these ruins was found a small iron safe and in this a number of papers all sealed with red seals bearing the name of J. B. Smith, Reg. One of these was dated June 20, 1916, and proved to be the History of the class graduating from the school in that year.

Some of the customs in this ancient school were very strange and funny. We of the day of the ultra-violet ray find it hard to imagine what they mean when they say, "All lights turned out promptly at ten."

It appears that "rules and regulations" were strong points of the institution. The writer of the History tells how, on entering school, each student was presented with "a printed program on the back of which you will find some information which I think will be helpful to you," this information consisting of a long list of "do's" and "don't's" for the unfortunate victim to remember.

Long and dangerous journeys were often undertaken by the members of this class. Sometimes they went to the School Orchard to observe a Demonstration; once they went on a Sledding Party to Brownsville (after a lot of study we decided a sled was a vehicle in which these ancient people traveled when there was a faint trace of snow on the ground) and had a Chicken and Waffle dinner at the largest hotel in the city; and then in June they were taken by some members of the Faculty on a long, long journey to Washington, D. C., to shake hands with the president (as the head of their National government was called) and see that Congress (their Legislative body) was running things properly.

These people were certainly very much alive to the great problems and questions of their day. A Debating Team composed of three members of this class met a team from a neighboring Normal in a debate to decide whether or not their Nation should, in view of the war conditions in other countries, adopt a system of Military Preparedness. The question was, as following events showed, wisely settled affirmatively, and the government immediately began to make preparations for the World War which so soon destroyed that ancient school.

Along athletic lines these people showed great prowess. A large gymnasium was one of their proudest possessions and the young men especially showed great interest and liking for this part of their training. A great deal of the work was done outside of the regular periods, wonderful acrobatic stunts being performed on apparatus temporarily suspended from dormitory windows.

We were greatly impressed when we read of the over-zealous efforts of these people who traveled long distances daily to and from school on a slow and dangerous contrivance which they called a train. It went so slow that it took three hours to make a trip which we can easily make in three minutes.

As a class they were unusually gifted along the lines of Art and Music. One of our own instructors is a descendant of Mme. Marion, the famous painter, who was a member of the class. That famous old opera "Pinafore" was once given by the class and the leading parts were taken by the famous Mme. Williams and Mme. Phillips.

Mention was made of some ancient landmarks on the Campus among them being an old stone bench near the Tennis Court. The bench was said to be a source of great trouble and annoyance to the Faculty because "it served as a trysting place for 'cases'." Now the only meaning we have been able to work out for the word "case" is "a receptacle or box" and, as the conclusion that it served as a place for the storage of refuse boxes is not very logical, we are very much in the dark as to the meaning of this statment.

The conclusion of the History was the following, these things being considered very necessary to such a body of people:

Motto—"Crescat Scientia"—May knowledge increase.

Class Colors—Yellow and Purple

Class Flower—Violet

CLASS YELL

Hec-ti-minicus—holi-ge-saw,

Te-bunc-te-a-tahoo-hoo,

Seniors! Seniors! Rah, Rah.

I might tell you a lot of other interesting things but I shall have to save them for my next wireless.

HISTORIAN

Class Poem

Temple of Learning! whose power and fame
 Have won for Thee an undying name;
 Thy lofty walls and thy corridors
 Have sheltered thru the changing years
 Students who owe Thee their fruitful careers;
 To Thee, Oh Alma Mater dear,
 We pay our parting tribute here.

Of many a class art thou justly proud,
 And each has merited its own reward;
 But the class of Royal Purple and Gold
 In higher esteem thou wilt surely hold.
 Soon our ties of union will sever,
 Our parting today may be forever;
 But, tho from coast to coast we roam,
 May this be our Mecca, wherever our home.
 Brief was our stay 'neath thy friendly towers,
 Yet verdant the memory of those hours.

And on thru Life's current when duty calls,
 All will respond, whatever befalls.
 How sacred the art of teaching others
 Truths that unfold to nature's lovers.
 No longer shall text books, page after page,
 Annoy the child thru his youthful age;
 For the boys and the girls we teach shall find,
 Interest and sympathy for them combined.
 These were instilled thru our training here,
 And we shall impart them everywhere.

Alma Mater, Thee shall we praise
 For success that may crown our future days;
 May the years to Thee bring wealth untold,
 And richer prospects for Thee unfold.

CLAIRE CAMPBELL

PAUL E. GATES

Fairchance, Pa.

"Cracker" or "Ze Duke"

Uniontown High School; President of Senior Class; Latin Club; Manager of Baseball Team, '16; Latin Play.

As president of our class Mr. Gates has been very successful and thru his earnest efforts our class has made a success of everything that we attempted. "Cracker" is a stern believer in the equality of man, and tries to bring everybody to the same level. One thing he excels in is his ability to laugh. He laughs at everything, even the faculty. If there is nothing else to laugh at he will laugh about nothing. Although there is a laughing trait in "Cracker's" character, he is very serious when the time comes to be serious. "Cracker" frequents the Monongahela division of the Pennsylvania Railroad to Charleroi, although we are ignorant of his purpose. He is welcome wherever he goes, even the PR smiles to see him on the job. He has distinguished himself in the Normal by his ability to sing and by his accomplishments in athletics (?)

ADELAIDE CARRIE ANDREW

Claysville, Pa.

"Andy"

Clio; Y. W. C. A.; Cinderella.

*"Her eyes are stars of twilight fair,
Like twilight, too, her dusky hair."*

This is the 'steenth million time this quotation has been used but really it fits Adelaide so perfectly that we couldn't resist using it again. The girls all envy "Andy's" ability to comb her hair in a style all her own. We humbly suggest that a sure way to fame would be for her to write a book entitled "How to Dress and Care for the Hair." If you feel the need of entertainment, she is always right there with the goods for she's witty and she's clever. We all expect her to do something very original some day. Adelaide is another maiden whose heart has learned to beat with thots for another. Long distance messages? Oh, no, only Charleroi! Who? A Phg! But let "Andy" tell you about him for you may be sure she can!

MARY JESSIE BARNUM

Allenport, Pa.

"Mary"

Charleroi High School; Philo.

*"She was as good as she was fair;
None—none on earth above her!
As pure as the Angles are,
To know her was to love her."*

By-word: "My Heavens"

We now view the face of Mary. She has a quiet, unassuming disposition which has won for her the love and respect of all who know her. One thing that has always bothered Mary is, "that she has to look down so far to see her feet." Even though her classmates are not aware of it, Mary has some love for the masculine part of human species. We are sure that her genial smile, together with her womanly traits, will win for her success in any path of life.

CHARLES BARR

Amity, Pa.

"Ezekiel" or "Charlie"

Philo Pres.; Y. M. C. A.; Pinafore; Brass Band; "She Stoops to Conquer"; Chairman of Senior Class Executive Committee.

As for "Charlie" we consider him one of the most reliable men of our class. "Charlie's" chief ambition is to become a medical doctor, but his relations with one of the fairer sex indicate that this intention will never be promoted. One of his contributions to C. N. S. is the support he gives the pillars in the main corridor. It would be a rare conversation if "Charlie" were caught talking about anything without getting mixed up in an argument about automobiles if you limit the argument to Fords.

"Charlie's" common expressions are: "I should Wherry," "Gee whizz, fellows," and "Let's get someone this evening."

EMMA BELL
Dravosburg, Pa.

"Emmy Lou"

Y. W. C. A. Cabinet; Editorial Board; Pinafore; Glee Club; Clio Treasurer.

*"Here's to the girl with the bright blue eyes,
And the jolly laugh so free;
Here's to the girl who can sing like a lark,
And well liked by all, seems to be."*

Emma is one the most faithful members of our class, for she has been with us all four years. She traveled her first year, but decided that C. N. S. was too far away from her home, so she boarded her other three years. If anyone has the blues, just send for Emma. She is a sure cure for all ills. She has proved herself a very agreeable companion by her sunny, optimistic nature. Emma has special ability in saying everything that she wishes to say just backwards, which of course leads to ludicrous expressions. For her future we need not fear for we all feel that she will succeed wherever she goes.

LILLIAN VICTORIA BLEUEL
Monessen, Pa.

"Lil" or "Bluey"

Philo; Pinafore; Cinderella; Graduate of Monessen High School.

"Much study is injurious to the flesh."

By-word: "Ach Himmel"

Yes, gentle reader, this is none other than "Bluey." She "grindeth" not, neither doth she "cram," yet she is right up among the scholarship leaders. Of course she is German and proud of it, nicht wahr (?). She takes a peculiar delight in Bud Fisher's cartoons, having a particular liking for the character "Mutt." "Lil" never (?) cuts chapel or classes. She says she will teach four years but we predict two at the most. May she be a successful teacher and an obedient wife.

LLOYD E. BOCKES
Akron, Ohio

"Doc" or "Nick"

Philo President; Philo Orator; Inter-Normal Debating Team; Junior Class President; Y. M. C. A. President; Student Board; Editorial Board; Pinafore; Y. M. C. A. Basket Ball Team.

"You ought to be quiet and do nothing openly."

This is he, the pride of the class of 1916. He came into our midst two years ago from the hills of Somerset County, bringing with him that enthusiasm which is so characteristic of the sons of that county. This enthusiasm has won for him a great many friends, even among the fairer sex. Lloyd is a fellow who works hard and for this he deserves much credit. It was this hard work that caused him to be chosen as one of the three to represent the school in the Inter-normal Debate and to uphold the honor of Philo as orator in the annual contest. We hope that Lloyd will be able to keep his good work up wherever he goes.

RUTH BRADSHAW
Elizabeth, Pa.

Philo.

*"She that was fair and never proud,
Had tongue at will, and yet was never loud."*

Ruth is such a tiny wee girl and she travels so far to get here. A person unacquainted with Ruth would take her to be very quiet and backward but those who know her best know that this is not so. She can carry on a good conversation and is very decided in her opinions.

Ruth never fails to recite in class and is very fond of asking questions about the things she does not fully comprehend.

Ruth is a good sport. In her Junior year she wanted to show school spirit by going to a baseball game. The ball, going astray, decided to light on a small person and struck Ruth on the arm. For the next few weeks Ruth was compelled to go about with her arm in a plaster-of-paris case. Ruth was soon back in class although she would have felt better at home. Ruth undoubtedly believes that "Where reason and feeling conflict, reason is always right."

EDNA MAE BROOKS
Rices Landing, Pa.
"Brooksie"

Philo; Pinafore.

"Sleep, eat, and be merry, for tomorrow you must work hard again."

By-word: "My Stars"

"Brooksie" absolutely excludes two words from her vocabulary, namely, work and worry. She believes in the "movies," "sweets" and "sleep" but the greatest of these is "sleep" as was shown in History of Education about 9:20 every morning. Edna is a small girl but is full of fun and is always laughing heartily. She has a good time but manages to have some time for study for she is ever ready to recite or start an argument.

JUANITA CLAIRE CAMPBELL
Charleroi, Pa.
"Claire"

Charleroi High School; Clio; Class Poet.

*"Hang sorrow! Care will kill a cat;
And therefore lets be merry."*

By-word: "Oh, Gosh!"

Behold another product of Charleroi High School. Quiet (?) and companionable, always optimistic and agreeable, Claire is well liked by all who know her. She is very gifted in assuming an expression of wisdom when it is time to work a game of "bluff" on a poor unsuspecting teacher. Claire is a good student two weeks before examination. But with all her faults she is an amiable girl and always ready to do the right thing by a friend.

ETHEL CARRICK
Monongahela, Pa.

"Epp"

Clio; Cinderella.

*"Her pretty feet like snails did creep
A little out, and then,
As if they played at bo-peep,
Did soon draw in again."*

"Epp's" reputation as a dancer was spread thru our halls and so she was chosen to be the leading dancer in the Cinderella play. We hope to hear of her world-wide fame along this line in the near future.

Little things never cause "Epp" to worry or fret. She takes life as it comes her way.

"Epp" dines at the hotel quite frequently and as soon as the waiter comes around "Epp" says, "Soup, please." She never tires of "soup" and always prefers it first (?). "Epp" will probably teach a few years. She is justly noted for her good looks. But isn't she coquettish though?

HAZEL CARSON
Speers, Pa.

"Dot"

Clio; Y. W. C. A.; Student Board.

*"Her mouth's like a mouse trap
That works upon springs,
She opens it often,
And says funny things."*

Hazel is one of the girls of our class who never thinks of being in a hurry. The last moment does everything for Hazel. She is very optimistic. One can be consoled by her in time of trouble and we all feel sure that a secret is a secret when told to Hazel. We enjoy seeing her laugh just to get a glimpse at her pretty dimples. In order to see well she wears a pair of magnifiers, which indeed give her a very dignified appearance. With her many good characteristics she has won many friends and we wish her the best of success as she leaves us and goes out to teach.

SEVILLA CHESTER
Speers, Pa.

"Sevilla" or "Seviller"

Clio.

"Sevilla" has quite a long distance to travel to and from school every day, but even that has its advantages, for how well can she observe the beauties of nature while she climbs up one hill and goes down another. She spent two years in the Charleroi High School, and then came to California to finish. Sevilla quite frequently scolds when things do not suit her, especially, when the menu of the "beanery" does not measure up to her standard of excellence. She is very fond of traveling, especially in a "Studebaker," which occasionally saves her train fare home.

FRANCES PAULINE COCHRAN
Uniontown, Pa.

Philo Vice President; Business Staff of Calnorsean.

*"Let me give light, but let me not be light,
For a light wife maketh a heavy husband."*

Hail to a graduate of Uniontown High School! After teaching awhile, Pauline took up work at C. N. S. Are we glad? We'll all say "Yes," for 1916 is proud of her ability when it comes to knowledge. From her work in the Model School, teaching is her profession, and all success is due her. She studies hard, is a good sport and she really "Cases" (at home). If you don't believe us, the post office tells its story and the candy and smiles Pauline carries to her room.

GERTRUDE WARD COFFROTH
Somerset, Pa.

"Fid"

Philo; Y. W. C. A.

"The blush is nature's testimony to the dignity of virtue."

"Fid" came to us two years ago from Somerset and in all that time she has done her best in making dormitory life pleasant for others. She is a jolly entertainer—full to the brim with jokes funny stories and quaint sayings, which she renders in a pleasing, southern accent, but because of her modesty only her closest chums know about this. She is an ardent suffragette, but nevertheless she excels in the culinary art and her chief hobby is "home making."

"Fid" is never in higher spirits than when she spies a letter in her box—a letter with a southern post mark and at mail time you hear her singing "Down beneath the sheltering palms." We are afraid her career as a schoolma'am won't be a very long one at this rate.

BERTHA COZAD
Mannington, W. Va.

"Cozy"

Clio; Y. W. C. A.; Girls' Glee Club.

"Cozy" is a girl whom we seldom see angry. She has the peculiar ability of being able to laugh and talk at the same time. No one likes better than she to go to a feast; she goes earliest and stays latest. It's forgivable though, because everybody likes "Cozy"; she is companionable and jolly.

One of the surprises of this life is to hear such a deep low-pitched voice proceeding from such a little girl, for "Cozy" is undoubtedly one of the smallest girls in our class, but after all "It is better to be little and shine than to be big and cast a shadow."

HOWARD YOUNG CROSSLAND
Belle Vernon, Pa.
"Crossland"

President of Philo; Sophomore President, '14; Inter-Normal Debating Team; Baseball, '14, '15 '16; Pinafore; "When the Fates Decree;" Y. M. C A. Basket Ball Team; "Keep Mum Society"; Philo Debater; Editorial Board; President of Student Board.

*"He brushes his clothes
And smooths his curls,
Powders his face,
Then talks to the girls."*

After spending one year at Grove City College, "Crossland" decided that C. N. S. would be a better place to complete his preparatory education, and since joining our ranks in the spring of 1914 he has proved himself a very capable student, and has taken part in all school activities. In baseball he has been a very valuable man. He never misses a ball while in the field and seldom hits it while at the bat. Never start an argument when "Crossland" is around. The very fact that he can argue has won him a place on the Normal debating team and honored him as Philo's debater. He contemplates taking a law course but we think he would make a better sailor, for he has a peculiar knack of seizing spars (Spahrs).

REBEKAH DEILY
Pittock, Pa.
"Bekky"

Clio; Y. W. C. A.
"She hath ever her jest and her song."

Many girls on third floor Dixon have heard a tramp, tramp, tramp and then a cheery singing, "I'm on my way to dear old Dublin Bay." and have mistaken it for a parade. Upon investigating, however, they found only "Bekky" letting loose a little of her surplus mirth. Bless her heart! She has chased the glooms from many a room. "Bekky" doesn't believe in much study. "Use your time to better advantage" is her motto. She lives up to it, too, for her fingers are never idle—she sews, crochets, embroiders and goodness knows what she plans to do with it all. Rebekah is very fond of children and they, it is plain to be seen, love her in their way, for she is always surrounded by a group of youngsters in the Model.

LENA ANTOINETTE DESETTI
Donora, Pa.
"Lena"

Clio.
"Nothing great was ever accomplished without enthusiasm."
By-word: "Well, say."

We have in this character an example of that modest, sweet type of girl, which is rare in this particular locality. She doesn't say much, but when she does, it is worth listening to. We know her to be a scholar and teacher of no mean ability and we sincerely hope she realizes her ambition in the Donora Schools. Saying little and doing much, her place in the hearts of those who know her is assured for all time.

CHARLES EMERY DORNAN
Eighty Four, Pa.

"Charlie"

Philo; Editor-in-Chief of Calnorsean; Y. M. C. A.; Philo President; Latin Club; Latin Play; Senior Class Play; Football Team, 1915.

"I can study my books at any time, for they are always disengaged."

When the first roll of the class of '16 was called in the fall of 1912 "Charlie" answered, "Here," in that same familiar way to which we have become so accustomed. He has always been very popular with the belles of the school, but after casing with several he has come to the conclusion that one "Bell" was enough for him. He is always creating some disturbance in the dormitory but it reaches its height about five minutes before meal time when he can be heard yelling at the top of his voice. "Holt, pour my water." "Charlie" is greatly interested in athletics and the football team will lose a valuable guard. As editor of the 1916 Calnorsean he has worked hard and faithfully and much of the credit for the success of the book must be given to him.

ETTA KATHARINE DOVE
Masontown, Pa.

Clio; Y. W. C. A.; McClellandtown High School.

"Patience and virtue."

Etta is one of the quiet girls of our class yet she has a keen sense of humor, and her hearty appreciation of a good joke is contagious. She has a generous supply of patience which no amount of school trials and tribulations can even disturb.

The regularity with which Etta travels home, semi-monthly, caused curiosity and uneasiness among her friends here, but she wisely keeps her own counsel and they still wonder why.

Etta is fond of crocheting slippers, but she would willingly lay them aside any time to take a walk downtown.

We predict for this quiet maiden a successful career as primary teacher in Masontown, Pa.

MARTHA DULL
Rockwood, Pa.

"Martha"

Philo; Y. W. C. A.

"Still water runs deep."

Martha is a very quiet, unobtrusive girl. She stays in her room and attends strictly to her own affairs, never meddling with others. This, no doubt, is why she is such a good student. Nothing seems too difficult for her, and she won't give up a problem until it is solved satisfactorily. English grammar is one of her hobbies, and Arithmetic is another. She has been very successful in the Model school. She has a quiet, sympathetic, motherly manner, which wins the children to her. The community in which she teaches, we predict, will be richer, kinder, better for having known her.

JOHANNA MARIE ESTENFELDER
Charleroi, Pa.

"Jo"

Philo Essayist; Pinafore; Cinderella; Calnorsean Editorial Board; Graduate of Charleroi High School.

"Never idle a moment; always thrifty and thoughtful of others."

By-word: "Which place?"

"Jo" is the life of our class. She has never been known to wear a frown, but always has a bright smile for everyone. Because of her kindness, her pleasant, frank manner and her cheerful disposition, she is well liked by both faculty and students and her success as a teacher is assured. In fact, "Jo" meets with success in everything she undertakes because she is a good worker and is anxious to please.

Her chief occupation is making people laugh. She never (?) laughs at her own jokes. "Jo" is always happy when she approaches the "Gates" of the C. N. S. campus. Her favorite song, which she may be heard singing at any time, is "Here Comes My Daddy Now." The title of her favorite book is "Dad."

ANNA MAINE EVANS
Fayette City, Pa.

"Maine"

"Short but sweet."

By-word: "Oh, Gee!"

Indeed perpetual motion may never be discovered but this busy little girl furnishes us with a good substitute. We may easily say of Maine that valuable goods are done up in small packages. She acquires things with a remarkable ease all her own. She was never known to study; never known to flunk anything and it is a safe bet that she will make a good teacher.

RUTH FEE
Brownsville, Pa.

"Ruth"

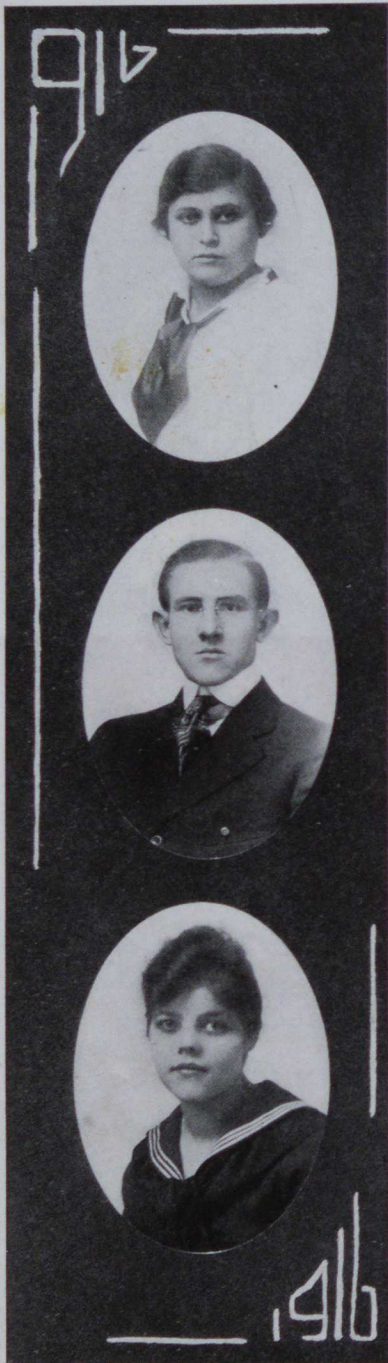

Clio

"Never frown over difficulties."

"Ruth is one of our industrious and delightful Seniors who is always busy, yet she finds time to enjoy herself. She is admired by all her classmates and thinks this the best class ever. Her pleasing and sympathetic character has won for her a host of friends which will be friends forever. No matter how hard her work she never shirks it, and when difficulties come to her she never frowns or gets cross, but meets them with a smile which possibly accounts for her success.

She firmly believes that her duty is to become one of the prosperous and energetic teachers of the great tomorrow.

JEANNE FERRIER
Donora, Pa.
"Jean"

Philo.

*"There's so much joy for the least of us,
There's so little pain for the most of us,
It seems funny to me that any of us
Can't smile all the time at the rest of us."*

This modest young lady travels every day from Donora but nevertheless takes a great interest in the school. She is especially accomplished in the art of map making to prove certain sociological facts. She is always merry and happy and is therefore a general favorite. Her ability to do things is very evident as she is successful in everything she undertakes. She does not care much for the movies and seldom attends them. She is sincere to all her friends who join in wishing her much success in the future.

RAYMOND E. FILBY
Amity, Pa.
"Fliby" or "Bishop"

Clio; School Band; Y. M. C. A.; Pinafore; Baseball.

"Silence is not always the ear mark of a philosopher."

"Fliby" hails from his father's farm near Amity. Although he spent his youth on the farm, we foretell he will never be a farmer. He is a very industrious and diligent student and never complains about having too much to do (?). "Fliby" seems to make a hit wherever he goes, especially among the fair sex. Indeed have his attractions been so numerous that he has found very little time to devote to school activities. Manual Training seems to be the one accomplishment to which the success of this Senior is attributed.

Some of "Fliby's" expressions are: "Oh, piffle!" "I should worry" and "Tee hee."

MARY FITCH
Alicia, Pa.
"Mary"

Clio; Latin Club; "When the Fates Decree."

*"When she is walking thru the hall,
She thinks of Joe and he is all;
She stand and talks as you all see,
But she most fears the faculty."*

Now no one need wonder how she spends her spare moments. Without doubt "Mary" is one of the smallest girls of our class but everyone agrees that she is "short but sweet." Mary's most favorite saying is "I've something to tell you," and she is very fond of whispering this in your ear while you are bound for a class. Mary's sweet disposition has won for her many friends. You can not help loving her when she glances at you with her dreamy eyes and gives you a pretty smile.

Mary, we wish you much happiness each day of your life and leave it with you to get a good husband and make a good wife.

ALICE FORBES
California, Pa.

"Forbsey"

Philo; Pinafore; Tennis Tournament, '14, '15, '16; Vice President, Tennis Association; Philo Basket Ball Team.

*"As lively a maid as ever you'll see,
A talkative maid that is full of glee,
Whose flowing words are melody."*

"Forbsey" is a sweet, friendly girl of California who helps to make the dorm girls feel at home in this large and friendless city. She is an enthusiastic Philo, but she is forever seeking a solution to the animated puzzle of her life, how to escape the nerve racking trial of taking part in a society debate. Alice is a good scout and is also our tennis star.

Shall we ever forget, Seniors, how proud we were of her when as Juniors we saw her play in the 1915 tennis tournament?

BYRD R. FOX
New Stanton, Pa.

"Bird"

Philo; "Mule Kick Society"; Y. M. C. A.; Business Staff.

"A man's a man for a' that and a' that and a' that —and a' that."

Look what we have here. His looks and name do not seem to harmonize very well for his name seems to indicate some wild animal but when you look at him he seems to have a very pleasing countenance. We know that when he first arrived at C. N. S. he was rather wild looking but since he has been here for four years he has become rather tame. "Bird" is one of the few persons that ever gets the honor of graduating twice from the same school. "Bird" graduated with the class of '13 in the three year course but decided that he would like to be back with some of his old friends so he is here with us to graduate with our illustrious class of '16 in the four year course. We do not know positively what "Bird" intends to take up for his life's work but we all wish him success in whatever he undertakes.

MARIA FRENCH
Coal Bluff, Pa.

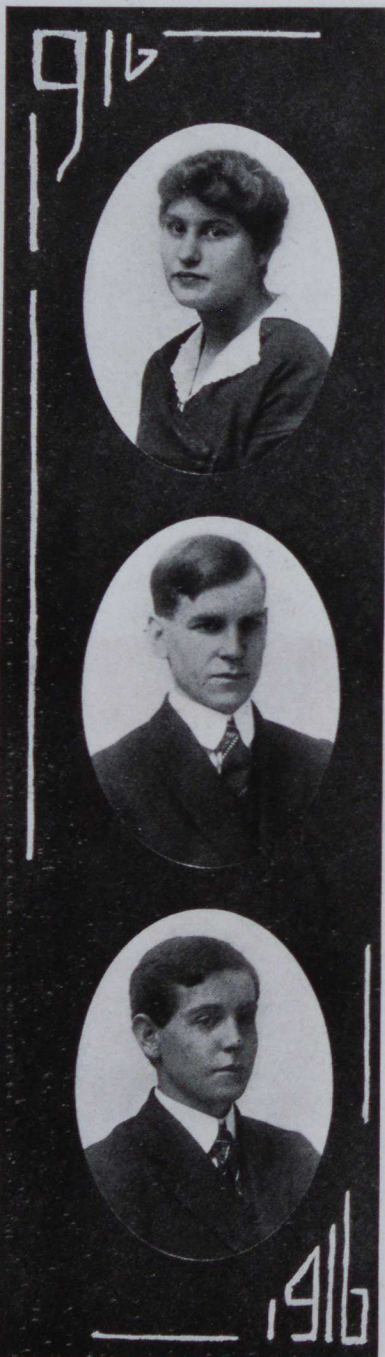

Monongahela High School; Philo.

"Never do any thing that your teachers would not have you do."

Maria hails from her home in Coal Bluff and spends most of her time in going to and from school but she says, "This is the life for me."

Maria is a studious girl and takes great pride in her work. You can see this little girl going about the halls with a smile for every one. It is her purpose, as is evident, to become one of our "schoolmarm" after completing her course. This girl deserves much credit for the ability and earnestness with which she does her work.

JEAN FURNIER
Allenport, Pa.
"Jean"

Philo.
*"Sometimes cunning, sometimes coy,
Yet she never fails to please."*

"Jean" is one of the blondes of our class, for yellow hair one seldom sees. She has labored industriously for four years in the hall of learning and her labors have not been in vain, for "Jean" is one of our good students. Because of her success in the Domestic Science department of our school, we all feel sure that "Jean" will some day make a successful housewife for the "Lucky Man." One of Jean's favorite expressions is "Oh, kids," which she uses on most any occasion, whether it be joyful or sad.

EDWARD BERNARD GALLAGHER
California, Pa.
"Ed"

Philo; Football, '15.
*"Where ignorance is bliss
'Tis folly to be wise."*

This young man is just as bright and jovial as the name sounds. When he gets tired of hard study he lays aside his books and goes to the library where he reads something light, such as Puck, in order that his mind may be rested and that he may be more able to endure the drudgery of the classroom. His liking for books, especially fiction, has won for him the distinction of having read as many, if not more books, than anyone else in the class. "Ed" has now been with us for four years and during all this time he has been able to retain his good humor and broad smile. The class of '16 has no fear for his success in the future.

JAMES AUGUSTINE GALLAGHER
California, Pa.
"Jimmie"

Philo; Football, '15; Basket Ball, '16; Pinafore.
"A workman that needeth not be ashamed."

"Jimmie," after completing his work in the grades, decided that he would like to become a teacher where he could give the pupils what had been given him while he attended school. With his books under his arms, he could be seen coming to school almost every day for the last four years, thus making the appearance of a student, and this is not far wrong for he excels in some of his studies, German for instance. "Jimmie" is always kind and considerate, ready to aid anyone desiring it. This is because he is one of the most good natured, big hearted fellows to be found. By these good qualities he has won a host of friends.

Good luck to you, James, in the future.

MARGARET BELLE GORDON
Venetia, Pa.
"Mag"

Philo; Y. W. C. A.; Latin Club.

"To teach 'little angels' is her soul delight."

All honor to her. She shimmers and shines in Domestic Science. So good luck to this sign of future life, but "Mag" certainly gleams and glimmers when it comes to teaching—experienced, too, so we know she'll have success.

A good disposition has been bestowed upon her, as she helps everybody most willingly. She also is an earnest Christian worker.

Her honor work in Peters Township High School is something to be proud of.

MARIE GRAHAM
Pittsburgh, Pa.

Philo; Y. W. C. A.; Executive Committee of Senior Class.

*"I am resolved to flirt no more,
It leads to tribulation;
Not that I used to flirt before,
But as a bar against temptation."*

We are glad that Marie came to us after she had experimented two years at Slippery Rock Normal. She is a member of the second floor tribe and a leader among them. She also belongs to our elite as may be judged by her favorite expression, "Isn't she common," and "Women, I wouldn't look at him at home." Marie's main difficulty is in keeping from one "date" all knowledge of her other ones. Notwithstanding, Marie is a conscientious student; a happy and entertaining friend whom we all enjoy.

STELLA FLORENCE GREENBERGER
Brownsville, Pa.
"Stell"

Clio.

"They are never alone that are accompanied with great thots."

Dear reader, look beneath this calm, serene countenance. "Stell" always looks as if she is thinking deeply. Maybe she is but she very seldom gives anybody else a peep into her thots. She is original and will not accept anyone else's views without due deliberation. "Stell" does not believe in over study and is especially opposed to cramming for "exams." Her prospects are excellent and we wish her the best of success in anything she may undertake.

CHARLES GREGG

Lover, Pa.

"Charlie" or "Chuck"

✓ Clio.

*"In order to be like one of the boys,
He devotes his time to the making of noise."*

Make way for the fellow with the raven locks, for here is the chap that can well boast of the blackest hair in our class. Taking into consideration his olive complexion, black hair and general features, one might think him to be Spanish, but do not get a wrong idea, for "Charlie" comes from "Lover" and not from Spain. Because of his youthful appearance, few can believe that he has graduated from high school and taught for a year. He is never seen in a hurry, but takes his time about everything. With his easy stride, he always manages to get there in plenty of time. "Charlie" never is heard to waste energy in talking, for he is a firm believer in "Think before you speak."

MARY ELIZABETH GREGG

Speers, Pa.

"Gregg"

*"Her cheeks are like roses,
Her dimples how merry."*

Ah, how true are these lines, for where would one find such rosy cheeks, and who in the class does not envy her dimples? Elizabeth belongs to the kindergarten of the class of 1916, but her youth does not interfere with her ability to learn, for she is very brilliant. She has a frank and open way of saying and doing things. She is very sober at times but if she gets started to giggle there is no way of stopping her. She is an ardent suffragette and is well able to make her mark in the world, because of her ambitious, independent nature.

VERNER GUINN

California, Pa.

"Vern"

✓ Clio President; Senior Tennis Team; Inter-Normal Tennis Tournament; President of Tennis Association.

*"Some girls say they love me, others say they don't,
But I say I doubt it, because I've tried it out."*

In the course of declining events there comes a time when every man realizes the necessity of being good. We believe that Verner has fully realized the fact and that being good is the necessary characteristic of man. To accomplish this end Verner spends his leisure time in the solitary corners of Old Main with a fair damsel. During the year (Leap Year) Verner has assumed the responsibility of escorting a beautiful little maiden to all social occasions. Since the innate characteristics of this young man are so promising, we predict a bright and happy future for him. His favorite expressions are, "Oh, Shaw" and "Mine Wife."

MARGARET HACKETT
Charleroi, Pa.
"Peg"

Charleroi High School; Clio; Vice President of Senior Class.

*"She is pretty to walk with
And witty to talk with,
And pleasant, too, to think on."*

By-word; "Ah Girls."

Let us introduce to you "Peg," an auburn haired maiden who came to us from Charleroi High School. There are days on which "Peg" feels elevated and refuses to sit with the rest of the girls on the train going to and from school. Just as the train is leaving the station (7:17 a. m.) she may be seen with her arms full of lunch and books trying out her ability as a marathon racer. In more ways than one "Peg" gives promise of a successful career.

ELIZABETH HALL
Lock Four, Pa.
"Lib"

Clio.

Light hair, pretty blue eyes, two pretty dimples, pearly white teeth, tall and slender in stature—this describes Elizabeth. For her pretty smile you need just look at her picture.

Elizabeth has proved to us her ability as a student for we never fail to see her name recorded on the honor roll. Believing in the old saying, "It is better to make hay while the sun shines," "Lib" carries this out and always has her work up to date.

Elizabeth has high ideals and tries to make them better. One of her ideals, she informs us, has never appeared.

From her excellent teaching in the Model School we believe she will make an ideal teacher.

VIRGINIA B. HAMILTON
Roscoe, Pa.
"Vir"

Philo.

*"'Vir' is a maiden, dainty and fair,
With large sparkling eyes and a wealth of red hair."*

Virginia is one of the dearest girls in our class. Not only does she bring her smiles to the Normal but she takes them with her to the Model, too. No wonder the youngsters like to have her with them on a rainy day.

She is very versatile—if she ever finds herself without a position as a school teacher, we feel certain that she will make a success at costuming. She is a second "Lady Duff Gordon."

MARGARET H. HARRIS
California, Pa.

"Margaret"

Philo.

"Silence gives consent."

Margaret is very deliberate both in movement and in speech. She is difficult to become acquainted with, but after the wall of reserve is scaled you find a charming friend. Margaret is very quiet, never bothering anyone but tending strictly to her own affairs. From all reports of her work in the Model School we predict for her great success in her teaching career.

HAZEL NAOMI HARSHEY
Penn Station, Pa.

"Hazel"

Y. W. C. A.; Clio Reader.

"How far that little candle throws his beams!
[So shines a good deed in a naughty world.]"

The repose of the Dixon Hall dwellers was sometimes disturbed in "the wee sma' hours" by musical strains issuing from within the walls of number thirty-three. Investigation proved that it was only Hazel practicing the vocal music lessons in preparation for the next day's teaching of the "young hopefuls" at the Model School.

Hazel is intensely interested in the paraffine candle production, and the "beams thrown out" from number thirty-three frequently disappear only when a gentle "tap" on the door is heard. She is an ardent supporter of the new post office and is always there at mail time. Hazel has been an earnest and conscientious worker in all school activities with which she has been connected, and during her two years sojourn at California, she has made many friends among the student body.

EDITH HAWK
Wilkinsburg, Pa.

"Bob," "Edith" or "Edutz"

Philo Secretary; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet; Calnorsean Board; Cinderella.

"Here's to the merriest; here's to the fairest;
In other words, here's to you."

Very pretty is Edith and one of the most beloved of all our girls. She works with a will and accomplishes things she sets out to do. All "A's" are her pay, but she claims "Physics worries me to death," but we hope not, for 1916 wants all honor of her famous graduates.

Her roommate "Fluffy" and she are a couple of Senior chums that one enjoys seeing together as they always put you in the mind of Mutt and Jeff. Besides "Fluffy's" claim to her, Philo also holds a claim and proud is Philo to do so for she is one of her best workers. We all hope that Edith meets with success in the future as she has in the past and she has the best wishes of the class of 1916 for a most bright and brilliant future.

RUTH HAYDEN
Elizabeth, Pa.
"Ruth"

Clio.

"They are only truly great who are truly good."

"Ruth" is a very shy, conservative little miss, very intent on being good and preparing her lessons. She, never having cut a class herself, looks with horror upon anyone who frequently commits that crime. She is a good student, especially in Physics. She is very fond of toys, taking keen delight in playing with the magnets in the "Lab."

"Ruth" spends many of her spare moments in the library, busily engaged in catalog work or hunting references for a "History of Ed." chart. She is never found "casing" in the halls, nor is she ever found out of her room during study hours.

Her work in the Model School has been a success, and we predict for her a brilliant future as teacher in the primary grades.

SADIE RAE HERSCHE
Charleroi, Pa.
"Sade" or "Rae"

Philo; Normal Review Staff; Pinafore; Graduate of Charleroi High School.

"For if she will, she will; you may depend on't,
And if she won't, she won't; so there's an end on't."

By-word: "For the love of Mike."

This bright, merry, sprite came to us from Charleroi High School. Her persistent way has impressed us all. When "Sade" knows a thing she knows it and "that's all there is to it." In her agitation she fails to find words to express her feelings, her favorite expression being, "You provoke me beyond —." She has never yet been able to find the proper word to insert. She is a good student and takes a particular delight in reciting German poetry. One of Sadie's chief characteristics is that she agrees with nothing which is said or done in the classroom or outside of it.

SYLVIA HILLE
Bellevernon, Pa.
"Syb"

"Her dark eyes! charms are vain to tell;
There are some youths who know it well."

The most striking feature about "Syb" is her eyes. Sometimes they are shining pools of merriment; at other times they shoot out sparks of fire; while between times a dreamy, far away expression lurks in them, giving her an almost "a penny for your thoughts" appearance. She loves a scrap and never misses one, being always right there to give advice but never being partial to one side or the other. Her chief accomplishment is sleeping in class and not being caught at it. Her favorite saying is, "Say, kids, isn't that the limit?"

CHARLES HOLT
Farmington, Pa.

"Slim" or "Squire"

Philo; Y. M. C. A.

"Talk to him about Jacob's ladder and he will ask you the number of steps in it."

"Slim" is one of the most prominent men of our class. His chief attractions seem to be among the fairer sex. He came from his father's farm near Farmington to C. N. S. to get some real knowledge. Thru his strenuous efforts he has been able to acquire it. He is noted for his superior arguing ability and if arguing will get a man anything in this world "Slim" will surely be a wealthy man. Altho he is a very diligent student, his favorite pastime seems to be selling soap and pencils. However, we are sure "Squire" will make a success of what ever he undertakes. Some of his expressions are: "Six for a quarter," "I wonder who will buy the last one," and "Think you'll ever come back."

ESTELLA HORMELL
California, Pa.

"Stella"

"Whether it pays to discuss a subject or dismiss it, is best determined by "Stella" herself."

"Stella" is one of the busy Seniors and is never in a hurry. She has great ability along the line of elocution which she is always displaying in the classroom. Her favorites are Kindergarten and Domestic Science. After graduating she expects a position along this line of work.

It is true that there is plenty in store for all those that seek. She will have the best wishes of her teachers and classmates for success, after she has gone out from C. N. S. as a representative of its great work.

PATTY HOUSTON
Cameron, W. Va.

"Patsy"

Philo; President, Y. W. C. A.

"We can live without pictures,

We can live without books,

But no human being can live without cooks."

Patty is a famous cook, her reputation as a baker of delicious cakes having reached California from far away Virginia and because of this we fear her teaching career will be a short one.

Patty is fond of sewing and has a passion for knitting, even if the article in question doesn't turn out the desired width and shape.

In all school work Patty is a faithful student, yet she finds time to attend games, lectures and all the other good things offered by the institution. She is naturally straight-forward and expresses her opinions with frank sincerity. Patty dwells just at the junction of "Paradise Alley" where a friendly gas jet burns all night, so it's folly to have lights within when there is one without.

Her favorite expression is, "Believe me, I got bawled out."

JANET MARIE HUFFMAN
Bentleyville, Pa.

"Janet"

Clio; Latin Club; Bentleyville High School.
"Be careful whom you talk to in the halls."

This modest little girl is one of our dignified Seniors, who is always busy. She entered our class a quiet girl but has made a great change since. She is a noted speaker, if you doubt it ask Wilbur. It seems to be her delight to discuss topics of the day with someone else. She has a very pleasing way of expressing herself which is admired by all. It is the desire of this girl to secure a position where she can help others as well as herself.

MADELINE HUNT
Elizabeth, Pa.

"Madeline" or "Hunt"
*"The deed I intend is great,
But as yet I know not."*

By-word: "By Jove."

Here is a girl of quiet demeanor who carries herself aloof from the other members of the class. She is a good student, being original in her thoughts and a deep thinker. Before coming the C. N. S. she attended the University of Pittsburgh and still has a warm feeling for that institution. Her characteristic pose is "hands on hip"—all attention. She is very much opposed to arm movement and may be seen during penmanship period wiggling her fingers as if she had never heard of the Zaner Method. From her teaching in the Model School we are assured of her success as a teacher.

PAULINE R. IRWIN
Alicia, Pa.

"Pene"

Philo; Cinderella; "When the Fates Decree;"
President of Latin Club; Graduate of Claysville High School.

*"If you hear of some dignified spieling
You can trust that "Pene" is there;
If you want the latest fashion
Take a peep at Pauline's hair."*

Pauline is a tall, slender lass with a wealth of brown hair and serious gray eyes. She is one of our most attractive looking girls. You often hear the word "Rittenhouse" occur in "Pene's" conversation. Don't get excited, girls, for she isn't talking about Rittenhouse dinners, banquets and so on. It is only the name of a man, or in other words it is "Rit," but "Pene" can tell best just who "Rit" is. Her most distinguishing characteristic is Dignity. Yes, really a capital is necessary there. She is frequently shocked by the pranks of the other girls on the floor. Then you should hear her lecture.

Pauline excels in telling stories to children and we predict a happy future for her in this her chosen work.

HATTIE JOHNSON
California, Pa.
"Hattie"

Clio.

*"Diligent and industrious as she can be,
There are still many things she cannot see."*

Hattie's usual method of concluding a recitation is, "and things like that." We have wondered in vain what the "things like that" can be. We admire her for her industrious disposition and her stick-to-it-iveness. We expect great things of her for the Training School children love her attractive way of telling stories to them. It is evident that if there's anything original needed she is the one that is able to give it. She has prepared herself so that she can do something that will be worth while.

HAZEL FERN KIMMEL
Somerset, Pa.

"Fluffy"

Philo; Y. W. C. A.; Latin Club.

"Silent she goes, neglectful of her charms."

"Fluffy" is one of our tiny girls, but what she lacks in size she makes up in learning. She is ever busy—no one has ever seen "Fluffy" loitering in the hall on her way to classes. She is fond of German, dotes on French and has a perfect thirst for Caesar, Cicero and Virgil. She intends to put all her knowledge to good usage, too, for she intends to take the degree of "Mrs." two or three years hence.

In the two years that she has been with us she has cheered many with her quiet yet cheerful manner and her sweet disposition. Truly to those who know her best, she is a friend most true and hearty.

Her favorite saying is, "What in the world shall I do."

ANNA ELIZABETH KLATT
Carnegie, Pa.

"Annie"

Clio; Latin Club.

"Anxious to learn and be friendly, Clever and willing to work."

Most modest, quiet and shy is "Annie," yet she possesses qualities which insure her success as a teacher. Her work is good, always on time and efficient in all. She is very hard to get acquainted with, but after making the first advance, she will receive you as a friend, then you'll be glad of the break you made.

She never talks much and never eats potatoes.

ANNA J. LOCKE
California, Pa.
"Anna"

Philo.

"Here's to the girl that lives in town,
And travels daily up and down.
She's very quiet and very neat,
And her friends all say she is very sweet."

Anna's friends seem to think that her name is originally short enough, for they do not belittle her with a nickname. "Mathematics" is her hobby and we expect to hear of her in the future as a teacher in some great college.

Anna is striving hard, for at the end of the year not only a roll of sheepskin awaits her but also a beautiful diamond ring. Go to it, Anna. We all wish you luck.

MARY VIRGINIA LOUDEN
McKees Rocks, Pa.
"Mary"

Philo; Latin Club.

"Whence is thy learning?
Hath thy toil o'er books consumed the midnight oil?"

"Mary" is one of our industrious little girls. She has never been known to give a poor recitation in class. Usually when the teacher fails to have the other members of the class answer the brain-racking questions, her hand soars in the air. - We admit that Mary does not take a very active part in the social affairs at C. N. S. but nevertheless she does well the duties that attend her. She has a great fear of bugs and insects and runs and yells when one approaches.

We are sure that a bright and prosperous school teaching career awaits Mary.

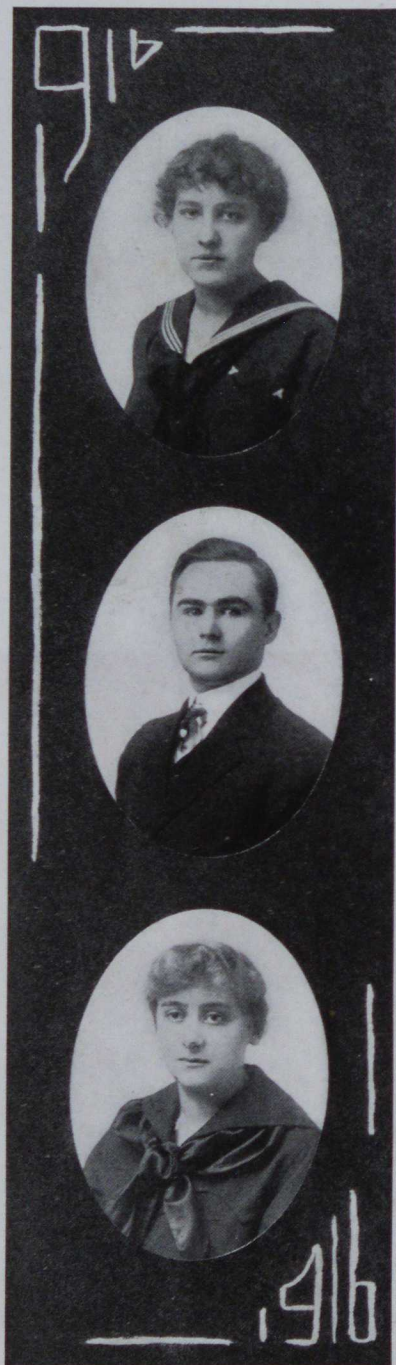

HAZEL LUTES
Charleroi, Pa.
"Julia"

Philo.

"Friends are like melons—
Shall I tell you why?
To find a good one
We must a hundred try."

All that know Hazel will see at a glance how well these lines suit her. About her it cannot be said, "To meet her is to know her," for Hazel is rather conservative, but you gain her friendship, it is never lost. She spent two years in Charleroi High School and then came to C. N. S. to finish her course. Because of her frank, winning way, she is well liked by children as well as by adults and we all feel that she will succeed in the teaching profession.

MILDRED VANNOIE MASTERS
Coal Centre, Pa.

"Mill"

Clio; Latin Club; Pinafore; Cinderella; Latin Play; Calnorsean Editorial Board.

By-word: "My Goodness!"

"My strength is as the strength of ten, because my heart is pure."

Some achieve greatness; some have greatness thrust upon them; and some are born in Coal Centre. But she can't help that. She is the shining light of the class and never knows how it feels to be off the honor roll. Apparently a quiet modest girl, but when she speaks she puts the finishing touches on the argument. We are assured of her future success at Wellesley and we know she will be happy for "he" also is going in the same direction. Ask her. Her keen eye serves as a warning and when the girls are gossiping in the Main Hall, "Mill" murmurs in low tones, "Shut up, girls, here comes one of the Faculty."

JOHN E. MAUST
Clifton Mills, W. Va.

"Johnnie"

Philo; Y. M. C. A.; Pinafore; "Keep Mum Society."

"Cooking is the finest art."

"Johnnie" is one of those studious boys, who is frequently found in his room pondering over the mysteries of Physics, Agriculture and Geometry, rather than embracing a rare opportunity for downtown pleasures. He is very methodical in his habits, taking a daily nap before study hours at night, and always arriving in classrooms at the appointed time. He is neither shy nor quiet, usually making his presence known by means of his "still" small voice.

"Johnnie's" theory of domestic bliss is based on good cooking, and he will choose his wife rather for her ability to prepare a good dinner than for her proficiency in the art of teaching.

His favorite flower is the "Lily" of the Monongahela valley and his favorite expression is, "I know it is."

HAZEL MAUDE MATTISON
Columbus, O.

"Hazel"

Clio Secretary; Cinderella.

"For the girl worth while

Is the one with a smile,

When everything goes dead wrong."

Hazel is a rather reserved girl at times but has won many friends because of her sweet disposition and her efforts to help others. She studies and earns good grades for herself; yet she always has time for fun. Her motto is "There is a time for work and a time for play." Hazel is an enthusiastic worker for Clio, always remaining true to the Gold and Blue. She has met with great success in her kindergarten work and we all wish her the best of success in her teaching next year.

EFFIE LILIAN McCLUNE
Ford City, Pa.

✓ "Mother"
Clio; Y. W. C. A.; Lincoln Program; Calnorsean Editorial Board.
*"Her voice was ever soft, gentle and low—
An excellent thing for a woman."*

Effie came to C. N. S. in 1914 after having the experience of teaching several years. She is one of our best students and can always be depended upon to have her work done at the proper time and in the best way. She is witty, humorous and enjoys a joke at any time, making her an agreeable companion. She has made many friends who wish her much success in her future teaching. One of her chief pastimes is crocheting. Her chief laments are that she isn't allowed to have lights after ten o'clock and that she is generally crocheting when floor teachers decide to call upon her. One of her chief pleasures seems to be going to Pittsburgh for the week-end. We wonder why.

WILLIAM McCLURE
Davistown, Pa.

Philo; Senior Tennis Team; Y. M. C. A.
"A shy little red headed lad who is one of the lights of our class."

Would any one suppose from his looks that he is quiet and solitary? If so to such a one we say, "Beware!" Appearances do too often prove deceitful. "Bill's" entire description can be given in the words describing a typical Irishman. Although he never seems to be in a hurry he is generally found in the right place at the right time.

One characteristic in this bright young man is his ability to argue. He would argue St. Peter out of his keys in order to show you that green is not blue. Whatever "Bill" pursues as a life work will undoubtedly be a success, if he uses the same determination that he exercises in argument.

ELLA MARIE McCOMBS
Venetia, Pa.

Graduate of Peters Township High School; Senior Hockey Team; Philo; Y. W. C. A.; Pin afore; Cinderella.

*"Marie is a fortunate student,
Yet oft is she heard to bewail,
As yearly State Board near approaches,
I'll bet you a sundae I'll fail."*

"Marie" is a quiet, dignified miss to acquaintances, but a witty entertainer and splendid chum to her friends, among whom she is a general favorite. She is a strong student and daily lessons or faculty exams are the least of her troubles, but those of State Board are regular mountains in her estimation.

California Normal taught Marie the gentle art of tating, and the work is so fascinating that her shuttle and thread are sometimes visible in the classrooms—but "to students only."

LOU OLIVE MCCRACKEN
McCracken, Pa.

"Cracky"

Philo; Senior Hockey Team; Y. W. C. A.; Pinafore; Cinderella; Graduate of Aleppo High School.

*"A glance at "Cracky" will assure us
Life is not an empty dream,
But instead is full of gladness,
If we would catch its gleam."*

"By Cracky" is a fun loving maiden of Greene County whose special forte is championing her native district. She is a great talker and sleeper, often combining the two. At such times one must be careful not to disturb her as she may threaten "to shoot the lads." Lou Olive is not invincible to the charms of the opposite sex as we remember she has gone to a lecture accompanied by a male escort. Still, we hope she will not disappoint us but teach for a while. She is interested in hockey and did some expert playing in the Senior-Junior contest games. We foretell a happy future for her and extend our best wishes for it.

MAUDE CATHERINE McDONALD
Elizabeth, Pa.

"Maude"

Philo.

"Is it the size of her feet or the loss of sleep that causes this girl to shuffle her feet?"

By-word: "Goodness!"

Maude, during her stay with us, has been a studious girl, always getting her lessons before play, which, however, seems to be a great worry to her. If she is not careful she will be gray-haired before she is twenty-five. Nevertheless, Maude is a lover of fun and seems to be so much more cheerful now than she used to be. Why? Maude will tell you.

With her sympathetic insight into human nature success is insured for Maude and the best wishes of the class of '16 go with her into her chosen profession.

RUTH MCGUFFIE
Deep Valley, W. Va.

"Ruth"

Philo; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet; Normal Review Staff; Lincoln Program; Latin Play; Latin Club. "Nothing is difficult to the faithful."

After a preparatory course in the Academic Department of West Virginia Wesleyan College, Ruth came to us in the fall of 1914 and since then Ruth's work and "A's" are synonymous. All praise be to her for her most excellent work. She has also proved herself to be an excellent Y. W. worker and cabinet member.

Ruth is "wee," tiny and everything else that's quiet, nice and modest, but when you know her she is most sympathetic and delights in helping one. She's witty, too, and interesting to talk with.

There is no doubt as to her future success and certainly her earnest work will be a help to her.

DOROTHY A. MICHENER
Millsboro, Pa.

"Dorothy"

East Bethlehem Township High School; Philo; Cinderella; Girls' Glee Club.

"Music hath charms."

This sweet voiced singer came to us in the fall of '14 after graduating from East Bethlehem Township High School. Are we glad? Well, anyone who knows "Dorothy" will answer in the affirmative, for she is a jolly companion and a sincere friend. "Dorothy" is one of the musicians of the Senior class and we all enjoy hearing her sing, in fact, we are proud of her talent and we all prophesy for her a brilliant future, if not as a school teacher surely as a great singer. We all wonder why "Dorothy" makes so many trips home but we are led to think it is only to see mother and the rest of the family.

CLAIRE MILLER
Crafton, Pa.

"Miller"

✓ Clio President; Senior Class Secretary; Secretary of Latin Club; Secretary of Tennis Association; Senior Hockey Team; Girls' Basket Ball Team; Girls' Glee Club; Y. W. C. A.; Latin Play.

"Claire is very full of humor,
Some one said she has a beau,
But she says it's just a rumor
And denies that it is so."

Claire is a pretty, slim little girl with dimples which are her most bewitching feature. Claire's a dear, a mischievous, witty girl, a brainy, brilliant girl and everything that one likes. She is greatly interested in athletics and plays tennis, hockey and basket ball, having won a school sweater in the latter. Indeed some of her most joyous hours were spent with "Gym" and his associates, altho she never cases. She is a Clio from head to foot, a most earnest worker, and has served as president. Many are the opportunities open to her, and here's best wishes from the class of '16 to you, Claire.

CATHERINE MINICKS
Brownsville, Pa.

"Katie"

✓ Clio.

"A cheerful and sunny disposition."

This little miss with the demure brown eyes is known among us as little "Katie." She travels the P. R. R. every day on her extensive travels to and from C. N. S. Her hair is black (which we all know is not a color), so of course "Katie" is very fond of colored hair, especially auburn. Because of her pleasant smile and unassuming manner, she is well liked among her school friends. "Katie" is especially fond of the science of Physies, and fully intends to become a teacher of it some day. "Oh girls" is one of her slang phrases, for she is not very proficient in the use of bad language.

GALIA MINOR
Carmichaels, Pa.

Clio; Latin Club; Y. W. C. A.

"It is the wise head that makes the still tongue."

Galia has that power, possessed by so few, that makes you feel "comfy" and "at home" with her. There's always a happy smile and kind sympathetic word in room 42 for any one that has the blues. She has never been known to talk idly—everyword she says rings true. Galia is very studious, too. She always finds time for her many studies in spite of the fact that she is overburdened with other more important affairs. She is a splendid scholar knowing her books from "kiver to kiver" and then some, for book knowledge, according to her is worthless if not compounded with common sense. Her work in the Model School was very successful, and it is the sincere wish of every classmate that the future may be very good to her.

IVA MOFFITT
Centerville, Pa.

"Ivy"

Clio; Y. W. C. A.

"Absence makes the heart grow fonder."

We were all glad when "Ivy" decided to join the class of '16. She formerly belonged to another class but stopped to try her success at teaching and finding herself successful in the art decided to finish her course at C. N. S.

To strangers "Ivy" seems to be one of the quietest girls in school, but to those who know her best, she is jolly and full of fun. "Ivy" is very industrious, as her grades show, and we feel sure that she will make a mark in the world as a teacher.

ALICE BERDELLA MONTGOMERY
West Elizabeth, Pa.

"Alice"

"Little people should be seen and not heard."

This tiny little maiden came to us two years ago and has not grown one mite since she landed at C. N. S. However she is older than her height would lead you to think. She does not believe in working too hard, for she thinks the grading is unfair anyway and once "attempted" to tell a member of the faculty what she thought about it. Her future as a teacher can have but one outcome, success. Size is not one of her qualifications, but all the rest are there.

Her by-word is "My heart."

BELLE MONTGOMERY
Fayette City, Pa.
"Belle"

Philo.

*"For the girl worth while,
Is the one who will smile
When everything goes dead wrong."*

"Belle" comes to us from across the Monongahela. She travels every day and it does not matter whether the river is high or low; whether it rains or it snows; she always manages to get to C. N. S. in plenty of time to begin the many duties of the day. "Belle" has a very optimistic nature and is known among us by her giggle, for no matter what happens she takes it as a joke and giggles about it. Because of her patience with "Young America," "Belle" has succeeded with her teaching in the Model School and we all expect to hear of her in future years as a number one teacher.

MAUD MULLER MORGAN
McKeesport, Pa.
"Mud"

Philo; Y. W. C. A.

*"A sense of humor is a saving grace for anybody
Next to love it's the finest gift of the gods."*

Who enjoys life more than Maud? Her ringing laugh may be heard in the corridors at any time of the day, and sometimes at night, too, for she can see fun in everything from an imaginary mouse in her room down to a German text or unexcused class absence. Maud is very fond of study; is an artist at all sorts of fancy work, and a wonder at dress-making. Domestic Science is her favorite work here, and she is absent from this class only when illness prevents her being there. This merry maiden is very fond of cats, yet we entertain no fears of her future—quite the contrary we predict that her teaching career will be a brief one.

RUTH EDNA MOUNTSER
North Belle Vernon, Pa.
"Ruth"

Philo.

"The less said the better."

By-word: "Gracious."

Conscientious and conservative, describes this maiden who hails to us from North Belle Vernon. She wears a bored expression when called upon to recite German poetry and her expression does not change while the rest in the class are reciting. Ruth never gets excited around exams and always wears an "I should worry" look. She is of the type that make good and we are sure of her future welfare.

MARY VERONICA MURPHY
Roscoe, Pa.
"Murphy"

Philo.

*"Deep brown eyes running over with glee,
Bonnie brown eyes are the eyes for me."*

If Mary were paid a dollar an hour for doing nothing she would be a millionaire, and, when work appears, she disappears. Nevertheless, she has a habit of mysteriously disappearing with her books and proving her ability by star recitations. No one ever saw "Murphy" without a smile upon her face and she always has a cheery smile for all. When Mary has an opinion, she is not slow about expressing it. She never worries, but just takes things as they come and "never troubles trouble till trouble troubles her."

BLANCHE MURPHY
Smock, Pa.
"Blanchette"

Clio; Y. W. C. A.; Pinafore.

*"Where "Blanchette" goes it's always spring,
Her presence brightens everything;
The sun smiles bright, but where her grin is,
It makes brass farthings look like guineas."*

Blanche took her first three years of preparatory work at Perryopolis High School, but in order to have the right finishing touch, came to C. N. S.

Like all fat people she is good natured and jolly and is ever ready with a joke. She is very fond of playing jokes on people and being a person who can give as well as take, she never grows angry when a joke is played on her.

Her favorite saying is, "Say, that is funny."

ROY MYERS
Markleysburg, Pa.
"Rag"

Philo; Y. M. C. A.; Pinafore.

"Boys, the dumber I talk to you, the longer you get."

Here he is! At your first look at him one would think he never laughed. But take another look. He is a wit, a humorist and a funny man, that is, when ladies are not present for "Rag" is very bashful. He is always making some one laugh and yet he doesn't know that he is doing it. But that does not altogether explain "Rag" for there is also a serious side to his life. With all his humor he is a hard worker and a very good student and he never fails to do his work creditably. If you want a favor done just go to "Rag" for he is always willing to help a friend in need. We feel sure that his good nature and his general usefulness will win success for him wherever he goes.

FRANCIS E. PATTERSON
Claysville, Pa.

"Patsy"

Philo; Y. W. C. A.; Graduate of Claysville High School.

*"She may be shy and quiet,
And she may not seem to care
For things around about her,
But readers just beware
For "Patsy" won't be bothered,
And "Patsy" won't be bossed,
And "Pat" must have her own sweet way
And "Patsy" won't be crossed."*

Francis graduated at Claysville High School in 1913 and then came to C. N. S. that fall and entered the Junior class. She undoubtedly did not care to graduate with the 1915 class, so she taught a year and then joined our brilliant class. We are glad to have had her with us and wish for her success in abundance in the future.

ALICE PHILLIPS
Long Branch, Pa.

"Phillips"

Clio.

*"O fairest of the rural maids!
Thy birth was in the forest shades;
And all the beauty of the place
Is in thy heart and on thy face."*

An old adage says, "Good things always come in small bundles." So it is with Alice for she is quite small but what she lacks in quantity she makes up in quality. By her sweet disposition and unassuming manner, she wins the heart of everyone. Alice spent her first year at C. N. S. in the Academic Department, but entered the Normal Department her second year. Here she has been ever since. Considering the distance that she travels every day to and from school we should appreciate her presence among us.

REVA PHILLIPS
Library, Pa.

"Reve"

Clio; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet; Senior Hockey Team; Manager of Gilrs' Basket Ball Team, '16; Latin Club; Girls' Glee Club; Pinafore; Clio Orator.

*"When it comes to working,
She says, 'It's no use.'
I'll go down in the hall,
And talk to Bruce."*

North Hall claims "Reve" as one of its inmates and her chums consider her their best friend and like wine her acquaintance improves with age. She is a good student, bright and full of fun and life. Two paths of fame await her, maybe three, (1) voice, (2) composing original orations, or (3) marriage. All take note to the last for "Reve's" a caser. Her hero, "The Knight of the Burning Pestle," is inscribed on all her penmanship papers "Bruce Smith"; "Bruce J. Smith." No wonder she improved in that art. Success to Reva.

As for singing, Reva's ahead,
As for casing, her favorite is "Red."

RUTH ELEANOR POWELL
California, Pa.
"Ruth"

✓ Clio; Cinderella; Senior Hockey Team; Glee Club.
"Her ways are ways of pleasantness."
By-word: "Good night."
"Kid, of all the work I have to do, I'll never get done." This is Ruth's greeting, but in spite of it we all know that she does get done. Sober, serious and rather reserved at times; just get acquainted with Ruth and you will find a jolly, loving girl. She is interested in school in all of its various activities and is a ready participant in all sports. There is just one question we would like to ask: "Are the stores in Brownsville so much better than those elsewhere, that she must go there to shop?"

SARA KATHLEEN PREECE
Dunbar, Pa.
"Sara"

Graduate of Dunbar High School; Philo; Y. W. C. A.; Cinderella; Senior Class Executive Committee.
"A maiden ever shy of spirit so still and quiet that she blushes at herself"
Blushing is as natural to Sara as is sunshine after an April shower. We love to tease her because she forgets just what to answer us and blushes so prettily. She is one of our witty entertainers and has always a store of jokes in readiness to dispel the solemnity of any occasion. Sara is a member of the Dixon Hall Daily Club, a select instructive congregation of students which holds a short business meeting on third floor, at least once a day. This blushing Senior finds time for daily strolls down street with no greater demand in view than a two cent stamp. The mail man is partial to Sara and seldom fails to bring her a goodly supply of letters and packages.
We predict for her a successful career as a school teacher.

ELVA M. RANKIN
Buena Vista, Pa.
"Elva"

✓ Clio.
"Patient and quiet and studious, too, This describes Elva thru and thru."
Elva is one of the many girls of our class who comes from the farm. She does not keep it a secret either for we often hear her telling us about the cows and chickens. She would rather, it seems, spend her recreation hours at work either doing school work or fancy work, for her presence is scarce in the parlors and halls at this time. We are sure that a bright and prosperous future awaits Elva.

LESTER E. RECKARD
Clifton Mills, W. Va.

"Les"

✓ Clio President; Pinafore; Y. M. C. A.; Editorial Board.

"Tis better to have loved and lost Than never to have loved at all."

"Les" is one of those innocent fellows of whom we know so little. One thing we do know about him is that he is very studious and always arrives at class on time, something very rare at C. N. S. He takes an active part in literary work and in the work of the Y. M. C. A. His beautiful wavy hair is a mark of distinction among the ladies. Thus you can see why he is an active member of the society of casers. In other activities of the school "Les" shows very little interest. Other things could be said of him but the lack of space and the fear of embarrassing him makes it necessary to call a halt

LEILA REED
California, Pa.

"Leila"

Philo; Graduate of East Pike Run High School.

When "Leila" decided to go to school she was at a loss as to where she should go, but finally decided to enter C. N. S. During her time here she has made many friends. "Leila" is one of those Seniors that we call industrious. She knows how to please her teachers. This she can do with comparative ease when the spirit moves her, and she never gets "fussed."

It seems that her specials are Physics and Domestic Science. Some wonder why Domestic Science, but she believes in "preparedness."

LUCILE RHOADES
Buena Vista, Pa.

"Lucy"

✓ Clio; Y. W. C. A.; Pinafore.

*"We love little "Lucy," her heart is so warm,
And if you don't cross her, she'll do you no harm;
So don't contradict her, or else if you do,
Get under the table and wait till she's through."*

If you want something done that nobody else wants to do, ask "Lucy" about it. She never refuses to help anyone no matter how busy she is herself. Lucile is very determined in her manner and usually succeeds in obtaining her rights. She has pretty curly hair and laughing eyes and has made many friends during her four year course at C. N. S.

RUTH ROBINSON
Connellsville, Pa.

"Robbie"

Connellsville High School; Clio; Latina Sodality; Student Board; Senior Hockey Team; Tennis Association; Y. W. C. A.; Pinafore; Latin Play; Girl's Glee Club; Speaker at Football Banquet; Cheer Leader; Class Valedictorian.

"They spread out the feast"—reading
Virgil—
*And filled up the cup to the brim;
Oh, yes, I forgot, there's a social,
Come out, now, and get in the swim.*"

Ruth, having been built that way, is the squarest member of our class, and as a square is always an object of neat proportion, so is she. One of the exciting features of Dixon Hall is seeing Ruth and her tall slim "wife" dashing off to classes. Take a look at Ruth's titles—now if you don't know her it shows that you aren't very popular yourself. Ruth is a good leader; we need more like her to help make things go. She is a loyal Clio and a sincere friend.

HORTENSE SCANNELL
Terrace, Pa.

"Hortie"

Clio; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet; Latin Club; Senior Hockey Team; Pinafore; Graduate of Homestead High School.

*"Sweet and modest she goes her way,
Always ready to do and say
The kindest thing in the kindest way."*

"Hortie" is an earnest working miss who has had quite a bit of experience in selling Y. W. chocolates thus giving her friends a sweet memory of her. She may be depended upon in "Gym" to execute the commands as they should be and, as a result, often finds herself performing differently from all the rest of the class. She is quite interested in hockey and did some good work in the Senior-Junior contest games. We predict a good career for "Hortie" as she is very thorough in everything—questioning until she learns what she wants to know. We all give our hearty best wishes for her success.

MARY M. SEINAR
California, Pa.

"Mary"

Philo Reader; Inter-Normal Debating Team; Pinafore.

"Her ruling passion is the love of fame."

Wind her up and she will go until she runs down. The running down is composed of a series of chuckles ending with a giggle. Mary laughs at everybody and everybody laughs with her. She has a great many other characteristics all her own. She is an excellent seamstress and a born elocutionist. Her cheerful voice may be heard at all hours of the day. Her favorite pastime is talking and some of her favorite expressions are, "O go on," and "I should worry about flunking." We do not know what the future has in store for her but whatever it may be we wish her the best of success.

LILLIAN BELLE SHANNON
Charleroi, Pa.

"Shannon"

Philo; Hockey; Y. W. C. A.

*"Some may talk and some may stop,
But she goes on forever."*

Shannon came to us from the country—some-where in the region of the wild and woolly Charleroi, and we are glad to have known her. She has a motherly disposition and a tongue that won't be stilled—no, not even by a whole bevy of teachers. She never visits during study hours, and never endeavors to hide any girls in her wardrobe when a gentle tap sounds on the door. Nevertheless she is a busy girl, for when not studying she is working at her Domestic Science. She is one of our Senior Hockey "sharks," too, and we're glad of it. The only thing a little mystical about her life is her frequent trips home over the week end. We wonder why?

SARA N. SHAW
Otto, Pa.

"Sara"

Graduate of Glassport High School; Philo; Pinafore; Y. W. C. A.; Lincoln Program; Editorial Board.

*"The sweetest garland to the sweetest girl,
And so we offer it to you;
For as every body knows,
To you the honor's due."*

Sara is a pretty brown-eyed girl of whom '16 is justly proud. She is one of our best students and one of the happiest members of our class. Sara has many friends not only among the students but also among the faculty. She is one of those fortunates who could have a man for every occasion of "social intercourse." We always feared that Sara had no love for her fellow-"men" until lately when a dark-haired man began to take part in her Normal School life. We don't know just what Sara is going to do in the days to come, but we do know that with her pleasing personality and talents she is bound to succeed.

ARNOLD W. SHOW
Ohiopyle, Pa.

"Betty"

Philo President; Y. M. C. A.; Pinafore.

"He was the mildest mannered man that ever schuttled ships or cut a throat."

"Betty," as can be judged from his name, is one of our most ardent lady "fussers," but because of his underhandedness the ladies are scarcely aware of the fact. This year "Betty" is kept busy keeping up his appointments and studies and seeing that "Bill," his roommate, does not fall out of bed. Besides these necessary functions "Betty" finds time to enter into the spirit of the school. He can occasionally be seen supporting the pillars in the Main Hall. "He is very cute," says one of his admirers. Besides all these defects "Betty" has many good qualities which are too numerous to mention. He is an ardent worker for Philo, Y. M. C. A., and the other school activities in which he is interested.

RUTH ALMEDA SICKMAN
West Elizabeth, Pa.

"Sickie"

✓ Clio Debater; Senior Class Treasurer; Cinderella; Graduate of Clairton High School.

*"And still the wonder grew,
That one small head could carry all she knew."*

"Sickie" came to us from Clairton High School where she had won many honors during her four year cours. After her arrival at California she decided to keep the good work up, for she always gets excellent grades and at the same time takes part in all social activities.

When sympathy and advice are needed she is "right there" with a cheery smile. As a congenial companion and a good-natured girl, Ruth is ranked among the best of our class.

ESTHER SIEBART
California, Pa.

"Esther"

Philo; Pinafore; Varsity Basket Ball Team; Senior Tennis Team; Senior Hockey Team.

"Her ways are wondrous, too."

Let us see what we have here. Examine her face. Would you think she is one of the best girl athletes in the school? Well, we think so. Esther has been one of the star basket ball players of C. N. S. for two years. She also played on the Senior Hockey Team, and on the Senior Tennis Team. On both of these teams she did excellent work helping to win the championship in hockey and the cup in the inter-class tennis tournament.

Do not think, dear reader, that this young lady is only an athlete, for Esther shines in her work whatever it may be. We trust that her cheerful spirit will make itself felt wherever she may go

Her favorite expressions are, "Ah, no," and "Gwan."

DELLA GERTRUDE SILBAUGH
Uniontown, Pa.

"Della"

Philo; Glee Club; Y. W. C. A.

*"Her voice was ever soft, gentle and low;
An excellent thing in a woman."*

"Della" is an active member of the "Dixon Hall Daily Club" and is seldom absent from its meetings. Her modest, unassuming manner, ready smile and kindly sympathetic nature have won for her a host of warm friends among the student body. She is never out of her room during study hours, unless she has permission from a teacher or a fellow-student granting her that privilege; neither does she have a light within, when there is none without.

"Della" is an authority on crocheting slippers and knitting scarfs, so during the "before Christmas rush" her room was frequently the scene of a select fancy work party. She is a good chum and willingly assists all troubled victims to straighten out their "worries" and "tangles."

BESSIE EDITH SLOAN
California, Pa.
"Bess"

Philo; Academic C. N. S.; Tennis Association.
"Never do today what you can put off until tomorrow."

"Bess" is a very industrious student, yet she finds time to help others out of their difficulties. She spends considerable time in the halls talking to her friends. She is very enthusiastic over her work, and her specials are Kindergarten, Domestic Science and Elocution. It is evident that this girl will not always be a teacher and she thinks it wise to prepare while she has a chance.

Some of her common expressions are "Come on, I must go," "Come Mary," "I'm mad," "Don't hurry."

FANNIE CLEMENS SMITH
California, Pa.
"Fannie"

Clio; Academic C. N. S.; Pinafore.
"When it's warm, take a fan."

"Fannie" is one of the students who entered our illustrious class, and it is evident that she helped make it what it is. She hails from the hill and is seldom late for school. She has not as yet decided on any special line of work, but the chances are that she will be one of the noble and brilliant teachers. This girl is seldom seen loitering in the halls, but always on the move, making friends and entertaining those that she has, which are many.

This is a pleasant little girl, loved and respected by all who know her, and she has the best wishes of all for a great success.

EDNA GRACE SNYDER
Rockwood, Pa.

Philo; Latin Club; Y. W. C. A.
"Silence is more eloquent than words."

Edna is one of the many girls who joined our ranks in the fall of 1914. Having completed her course in the Rockwood High School, she thot that C. N. S. was the best place to receive that higher education that gives her the unlimited privilege to teach in the public schools of her native state. We, the members of the class of 1916, are glad to have in our ranks one who is such an ardent worker and good student. With her departure from this school goes our heartiest wishes for her success in her chosen profession.

HELEN SPAHR

Coal Center, Pa.

"Blondie"

Clio; Y. W. C. A.; Normal Review Staff; Class Historian; Captain of Senior Hockey Team.

*"One kind kiss before we part,
Drop a tear and bid adieu;
Though we sever, my fond heart,
Till we meet shall pant for you."*

Very straight and very prim is Helen. It takes this type of person to be a leader in domestic affairs. Helen will ever be remembered by her classmates as one of the little bread-bakers of C. N. S. She can make a loaf of bread that will make your mouth water to look at it.

Lessons worry Helen little for she gets them with little concentration of thought. She would rather spend the study periods crocheting and tatting. Helen has the mind of a philosopher. No one knows what she is thinking about. "Blondie" believes that the wise are silent. Faithful and loyal has Helen ever been to her Alma Mater during her stay of four years and we are very glad to have known her and to have had her with us.

ROBERT H. SPROUL

Ohiopyle, Pa.

"Bob" or "Quaker"

Philo President; Latin Club; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet; School Band; Business Manager fo Calnorsean; "When the Fates Decree."

"The father of the Senior class."

As business manager of the Calnorsean "Bob" has been a diligent toiler. There is very little humor in the esteemed hero of our class. He seems to make everything very serious, and demands proof for everything he absorbs. "Bob's" chief occupation is study, Cicero appealing to him most (?). During the time he has spent with us he has been very busy helping in whatever he could. He is a slideless trombone player and helps to fill the ranks of the Normal School band.

His proverbs are: "Whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap," "Cicero's dead and so is his book," and "Casing makes one's studies suffer."

WILLIAM HENRY SPROWLS

Clarksville, Pa.

"Red"

Clio; Football; Pinafore; Mule Kick; Keep Mum.

And turn thy auburn hair to white."*

Here, indeed, is no ordinary man. Altho he has the brightest of red hair, he has no temper—"you can't make him sore." He is '16's tallest son. He always stands up for books as opposed to "our faculty," but herein lieth the greatest point of difference. According to a tale prevalent in C. N. S., once upon a time our big W. H. called upon a maiden fair and since then he declares he'll never have another. Query—Just what does he mean? The writer has sought in vain for the explanation of this remark so that he might satisfy the curiosity of his fair readers. Ask "Red."

MARION DEAN STOCKDALE
Stockdale, Pa.

"Marion"

Clio; Calnorsean Editorial Board.

"The most certain sign of wisdom is continual cheerfulness."

Marion is one of the veterans of the class. When the first "green freshies" arrived in the fall of 1912, she was among them, and soon became known because of her studious habits and her talent for drawing and music.

When in the course of a recitation some perplexing question is hurled her way she never fails to respond, but answers with such fluency that one asks, "How can one so young be so knowing?"

In spite of all this Marion is a lover of fun and no one enjoys a joke more than she.

Because of her ability to draw, we all expect to hear of her in the future as one of the great American artists.

SARAH K. STORER
West Brownsville, Pa.

"Silence gives consent."

This fair maid began her career as a California co-ed in the fall of 1912. Thanks for her good taste in preferring to graduate with the class of 1916. To those who do not know her she is a very quiet and sedate girl but to others—well, we will have to let that to their good judgment. Sarah is a very studious girl, and never has occasion to cut classes without a good reason. We have never been able to determine along just what line Sarah's inclination extends, but, however, we have heard recently that she has developed quite a fondness for Domestic Science. Draw your own conclusions. We are glad to have her as one of the members of our class and we feel sure that she will be successful in whatever she undertakes.

ADALAIDE SUCAR
California, Pa.

Philo.

"I have always preferred cheerfulness to mirth."

Adelaide has the distinction of coming to us from 'way over the waters' just a few years ago. Her friendly manner and happy smile have won for her a host of friends. She has been a faithful worker and has mastered the heavy subjects that stared her in the face when she entered C. N. S. She has conquered them all, library work included. That library! What pangs the period caused her! For Adelaide cannot hold her tongue two seconds at a time. She won her way into our hearts, and in the same way may she win the hearts of those to whom she will be known as teacher. Every fellow-worker extends his heartiest wishes for her success.

Her favorite saying is, "Isn't that grand?"

MARGARET THEAKSTON

Brownsville, Pa.

"Peg"

Philo; Y. W. C. A.

*'A maiden modest, yet self-possessed;
Youthful and beautiful and daintily dressed.'*

"Peg" came to us during the winter term of last year, and not one of the many acquaintances that she has made since has been sorry that she decided to cast her lot with us. She is a regular busy-bee on the wing from early morning until late at night. Her chief hobby is studying Physics—one can hardly coax her away from her beloved book after school. She pores over it for a short time, then sighs and groans, "Oh, State Board in this!" However, she is not a grind but cheers every one with her merry smile. She has a mind all of her own and firmly declares that she has a perfect aversion to "casing." When asked why she goes home every week-end, "Peg" smiles and quotes, "There's no place like home."

HAZEL VESTA THOMAS

Munhall, Pa.

"Tommy"

Clio; Y. W. C. A.; Glee Club; Pinafore; Latin Club; Graduate of Munhall High School.

*"It all depends upon the way you look at it,
The point of view is everything in this world."*

Hazel usually looks at all clouds in such a way that their silver lining is visible, so her world is a happy one. She is brim full of life and spirit and can usually be found in an animated group of Dixon Hall dwellers. Exams never bother Hazel until they come, and notebooks only when they must be handed in. Tatting is her favorite occupation and she is never so happy as when thus engaged. Hazel will tell you that "there is no place like home," and when the world holds only sunshine for her, we know she is going there. Her favorite expression is, "I'll say it is."

NANNIE TOWNSEND

Venetia, Pa.

"Nan" or "Nannie"

Philo Secretary; Graduate of Peters Township High School; Y. W. C. A.; Hockey Team; Pinafore; Cinderella.

*"Happy am I;
From every care I am free;
Why aren't they all contented like me?"*

As for "Nannie" we consider her one of the most brilliant girls of our class. Although she is very small, no one ever dares to insult her. "Nannie" is especially noted for her superior talking ability and no one ever regrets a long conversation with her. Nannie's two most striking characteristics are her good looks and her happy-go-lucky disposition. Her motto seems to be "Never trouble trouble, till trouble troubles you."

Her most favorite sayings are "I forgot all about that, girls," and "Don't be in a hurry, girls."

MILDRED ERMA UNDERWOOD

California, Pa.

"Mil" or "Millie"

Clio Essayist; Cinderella; Captain Varsity Basket Ball Team, '16; Senior Hockey Team.

"She is always smiling and happy, And hasn't a care, you'd think."

Here we have "Mil," one of those girls who never believes in doing today what she can put off until tomorrow, especially in the study line. Nevertheless, she is a good student. With sunny hair, merry eyes and the "darndest" of laughs, she has the faculty for making friends. "Millie's" greatest hobby has always been basket ball, and in this sport she excels. On the basket ball floor she is entirely "at home" and is always ready when the whistle blows.

HENRY JAY WALKER

Somerset, Pa.

"Hen" or "Slicker"

Philo President (2); Assistant Editor of Calnorsean; Pinafore; Treasurer of Y. M. C. A.; Boys' Glee Club; Brass Band; President of Athletic Association; Senior Class Play; Editorial Staff of Normal Review.

"A hard case to diagnose, but you know the best part of the bottle is under the cork."

"Hen" is a typical Pennsylvania dutchman as you can easily see when you behold this intellectual figure. He came into our midst in the fall of 1912 and is one of the few boys that can boast of having been with us from "Freshies" to Seniors. In order to be like some of the boys he devotes his time to the making of noise. When you hear a noise like a Fourth of July Celebration you know it is "Hen" Walker for he has great ability along this line. In general this little sawed off, hammered down dutchman has very many good qualities but his greatest fault or accomplishment is that he does like to ease with the fair birds and "Robins" in the school. As assistant editor of the Calnorsean "Hen" has worked hard and diligently as he has done in all his studies during his sojourn with us. We all hope that in the future he will be a howling success.

HAZEL WATSON

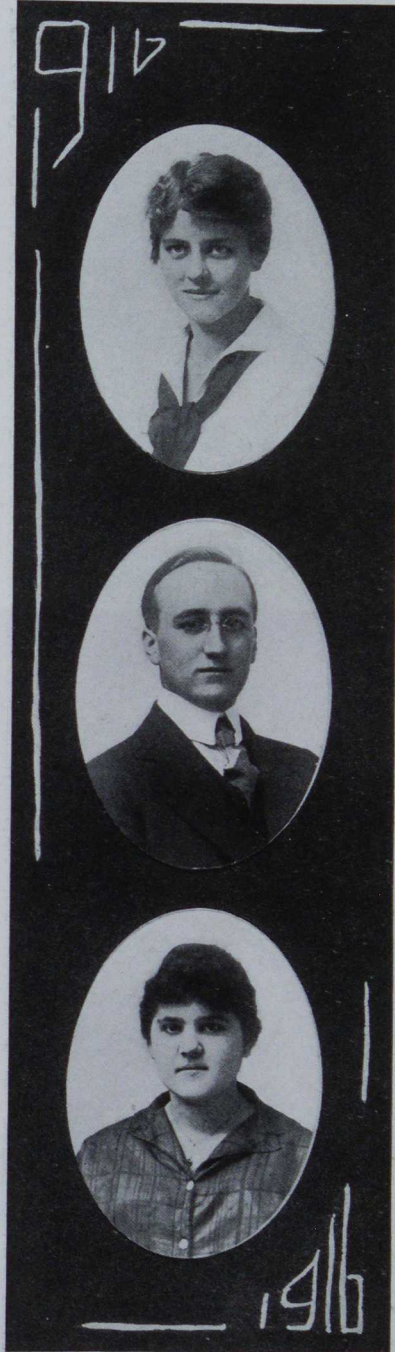

Lock No. 4, Pa.

"Hazel"

Philo.

"This sweet girl's name is Hazel, Your friendship she is sure to win."

Hazel is a very sweet and pretty maiden who has surprised many of her classmates by exhibiting a beautiful diamond ring which we hope will not prevent Hazel from entering the teachers' ranks. We all feel sure her teaching will be successful as she is an earnest worker and has such an attractive personality. She gained part of her education in the Charleroi High School and then decided to come to C. N. S. and we are all glad of it. Domestic Science is one of her accomplishments and she will probably be an expert at it. In whatever she undertakes she has the best wishes of her classmates for success.

FAYE WEAVER
Fayette City, Pa.
"Faye"

✓ Clio; Latin Club; Latin Play; Pinafore; Cinderella.

*"Deep brown eyes running over with glee,
Bonnie brown eyes are the eyes for me."*

Faye never could decide to live with us at C. N. S., all because of her love for her native city. However this didn't hinder her nor her ability to make friends. Another reason for traveling is, company home from the train and who says that isn't fun and who blames her? She has been here since our beginning, coming here as a "Frosh" in 1913 and staying till now, a finished product and ready to teach.

ELIZABETH CALVERT WELSH
Dawson, Pa.
"Betty"

Graduate of Scottdale High School; Philo; Y. W. C. A.; Pinafore.

"Happy am I, from care I am free, Why aren't you all contented like me?"

This little verse certainly expresses "Betty's" continued good natured mood. Words fall like music from her lips which speak no evil of any one.

"Betty" is a diligent worker in all her studies but where she excels is in domestic science for "Betty" is a good cook. She is interested not only in the practical side of cooking but in the chemical side also for she often burns the midnight oil in order to learn that H_2O plus $NaCl$ = Salt water. "Betty" tried to case once but it seems that she is either hard to please, doesn't like red hair, or the fault lies at home; however, she does associate with the boys at times and she was the only girl of the Senior sledding party who had the distinction of having had two fellows at the same time.

We cannot tell what the future has in store for her but we trust that her cheerful spirit will make itself felt wherever she goes.

KATHLEEN ELIZABETH WHITE
Charleroi, Pa.
"Kat"

✓ Clio; Pinafore.

Be to her faults a little blind."*

When you hear a little giggle you know that Kathleen is near. She is a good cure for lonesomeness and we all enjoy having her around. She has many faults, a few of which are sleeping in class, cutting classes and talking too much. With these exceptions she is all one would demand of a good student. "Kat" is light-hearted and was never known to be serious. Doubtless she will be a valuable addition to the teaching profession sometime hence.

STEWART ADAM WHITEMAN
California, Pa.

Philo President; Pinafore.
"Work and win."

Stewart has been with us ever since the birth of our class in 1912. During this time he has proved himself a good student by his power of stick-to-it-iveness. During all these years Stewart has worked before school in the morning and after it closed in the evening in order that he might secure for himself an education. We are sure that Stewart will never regret this for after all what good is there in anything if you do not get it by hard work. Besides all this Stewart has found time to take part in all the school activities. He takes advantage of every opportunity offered him. He takes an active part in the literary work in the school and has distinguished himself by his ability to debate. He anticipates going to Washington, D. C., with the class and make himself known to the President of the United States.

We wish him the best of success in his chosen profession.

CORA WILLIAMS
California, Pa.

"Cora"
Clio; Graduate of Vocal Music Department; Pinafore; Class Song.

"A dangerous 'fusser!' Should she ever get started."

Cora's achievements in whatever she pursues are wonderful. She has gained a wide reputation as a singer, and as a teacher she is unsurpassed. Cora has been very popular ever since she entered the Normal, for her voice and humor attract everybody. We expect to hear of her as a distinguished Prima donna in later years, but she sometimes conveys an intention of giving up any such ambition. Besides being a good student and an enthusiastic class worker, Cora finds time to take part in any school activity in which she is able to assist. Her favorite expressions are, "Oh joy!" and "Mercy!"

HELEN GRETTA WILLIAMS
Uniontown, Pa.

Philo; Uniontown High School; Y. W. C. A.
"Fear no more the heat of the sun,
Nor the furious winter's rages."

To Helen this has been a "cold, cold world" and all the trials of her life are summed up in this one sentence, which is heard as frequently in the balmy days of June as in the bleak December days, "Really, girls, I'm just a little bit chilly."

Helen is diminutive in stature, but what she lacks in size is made up in energy, for she is never found idle.

Helen is gifted with a sunny disposition, and has a ready smile for all; is intensely fond of Physics and delights in State Board exams. Mathematics is her pet hobby and we expect to find her, in the near future, happy and successful, filling the position of Geometry teacher in Uniontown High School.

IRVIN WILLIAMS
Brownsville, Pa.
"Ig"

Philo.
Take a good look at him, everybody! Now, would you believe that he is our Agriculture shark? It seems rather strange but it's true. In the classroom nothing delights him more than to give an intelligent talk on corn, and at home he is continually grubbing about in the orchard, spraying, pruning and what not. He is an excellent chauffeur too and goes whizzing along in his Buick, but not alone, however. He never loafs—he is always seen in the library poring over some dry, heavy literature such as "Puck," "Everybody's," and "The Ladies' Home Journal." He is gay and cheery and his friendly smile makes you like him and always remember him. One plank in his platform is "Case"—but don't let the Faculty get you.

FLORENCE WILLIG
McKees Rocks, Pa.

Clio; Y. W. C. A.

Florence is one of our quiet, conscientious little girls. She is never seen in the hall during study hour, and never pays social calls except during proper calling hours. Florence, with all her studies, finds time for little outside diversions. She is very fond of writing long themes on housekeeping, giving lectures to an awed group of girls on the value of certain foods, and demonstrating the way to make lace of all sort and description. Her work in the Model School has been a splendid success, and we expect to hear of her as one of the educators in the state.

ELSIE L. WINNETT
Gibson, Pa.
"Else"

Philo Vice President; Senior Hockey Team; Student Board; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet; Pinafore; Girl's Glee Club; Brass Band, '14 and '15; Vice President, Junior Class; Editorial Board.

*"In all her classes she makes very good marks,
But where she excels is casing with Sparks."*

"Else" is one of the girls who can boast of spending four years of her life in C. N. S. During this time she has always taken an active part in the various school activities and her pleasing personality and cheerful manner have won for her many friends. In the musical circles of C. N. S. "Else" stands high as an accomplished pianist.

She has always taken a great interest in her studies but her special study during her Senior year has been the study of a certain Junior. There is a practical side to this study also, for every Tuesday evening we hear of "Else's" going to North Parlor in order to cultivate the art of conversation (?).

Next year "Else" hopes to make life more worth while for others by playing the role of teacher. Endorsed with a cheerful disposition, a large capacity for friendship, and a love for learning, she may expect great success in her chosen profession.

MALINDA WRIGHT
Elizabeth, Pa.

Philo.
"Her virtues are many, her faults few."

After spending one year at Indiana, Malinda decided that C. N. S. was the best place for her to complete her education, and after coming to this conclusion she decided that the class of 1916 was the best class. So in the fall of 1914 she arrived at C. N. S. and enrolled as a member of said class. Although she has a long distance to travel each morning, the smile on her face never wears off.

During the two years that she has been with us, she not only has proved herself a good student but has won the admiration of all who know her by her gentle manner.

We believe that she will make a good teacher and the best wishes of the class go with her into her chosen profession.

CONSUELO M. YOUNG
McKees Rocks, Pa.
"Connie"

Philo; Y. W. C. A.; Pinafore; Cinderella; Calnorsean Editorial Board.

"They'd have set your beauty within a bower,
But we cannot spare you, we need you so;
You are vital force; you are not a flower.
You are challenge and promise, peace and power,
Your starry gaze and your brow of snow."

"Connie" came to C. N. S. after completing the course in the Pittsburgh High School and since then has been recognized as one of our prettiest girls. Her beautiful brown eyes and hair are the envy of her less fortunate friends but "Connie" does not let this spoil her as she is a general favorite among girls and fellows—the latter especially, not only here but in places many miles distant. This is one of the reasons "Connie" gets her weekly—or is it daily—letter from Wilmington, Delaware. Nevertheless, she delights in bright things, especially red hair. Have you ever heard Connie's second nickname? It is Prince. It was originated by the Model School children who admired her so when she played so well the part of "Prince" in Cinderella. Besides all these things "Connie" is a good student, her name always appearing on the honor roll. She is one of those girls who don't bother about anything but somehow she always gets there, but no wonder for one glance from those eyes charms anyone. Have we forgotten Connie's dignity? No, It is another of Connie's pleasing characteristics. We predict a brilliant future in teaching for "Connie" and all extend our best wishes for it.

JUNE YOUNGSON
Arnold, Pa.
"June"

Clio; Pinafore; Senior Hockey Team; Treasurer, Tennis Association; Cheer Leader; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet.

*"Here's to June so fair and slender,
She's neither a borrower nor a lender,
She is small but has much to say,
For you see she's leader in the Y. W.
C. A."*

This tiny maiden graduated from Arnold High School and presented herself to our class in time for the exams in the spring term of 1914. So she has spent two years of her life in most energetic work—tennis, basket ball, and casing. She goes at things for all she's worth and as a social leader her success is great.

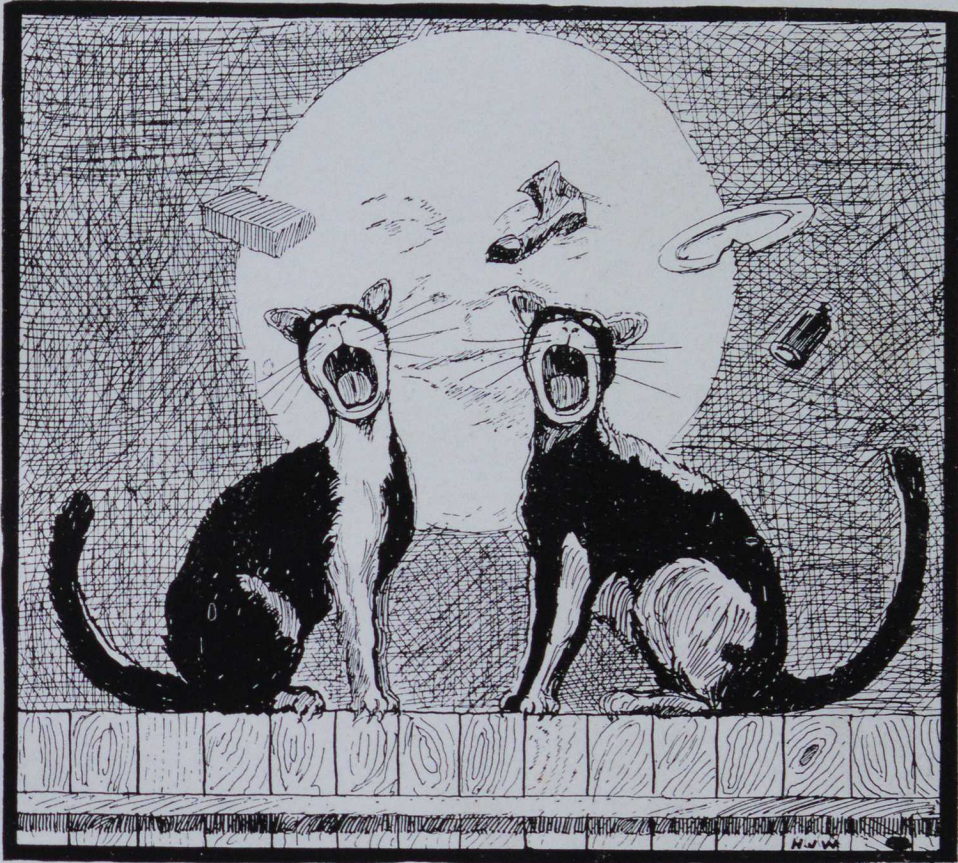

She shines in eating candy and ice cream, and in Domestic Science (?), for didn't she win second prize in bread making? Now "Jonnie" is congratulating himself on not having to eat baker's bread. Here's to June and her future.

SARA BELLE ZIMMERMAN
Canonsburg, Pa.
"Sari"

Peters Township High School, '14; Philo; Senior Hockey Team; Y. W. C. A.

*"It's easy enough to get a case, when you're standing in the hall,
But when to a show you'd like to go,
you can't get any at all."*

A quiet sedate miss is Sara, striving little for prominence and keeping the even tenor of her way. When all is dull and dreary and life hardly seems worth while, "Sari" gets off a quaint bit of humor that wakes us up and lets us know that the sun still shines. Her pleasant disposition and sympathetic nature have brought for her many friends. Of late she has caught that most contagious of C. N. S. germs—the case germ. Altho she was advised by one who had been there before that it was exceedingly dangerous, "Sari" insisted upon her right as a free woman to follow her own desires as any Free-man would do in such an affair.

MUSIC

MARY F. EWING
Youngstown, Pa.

"Mary"
Philo; Basket Ball, '16; Secretary of Athletic Association; Pinafore.

*"I may roam over mountains,
I may sail over the sea,
But I'll never find another
Like Horace McKee."*

Mary's talent does not lie in her ability to sing, altho she is an accomplished song bird, but in her experimental genius. Knowing that some fires must be coaxed she began with Sparks but naturally sparks either die out or burst into flames. However, contrary to the opinion of all, her sparks died out but the embers remained on which Mary built her future hopes. These embers smouldered but a short time while Mary was searching for a key to the situation. Suddenly they burst forth into flames and Mary said, "I have found McKee."

During the two years that she has been with us, we have had the pleasure of hearing her sing many times and we always enjoyed it too, for Mary is an accomplished singer. We now leave her, hoping that the darts of Cupid go wide of the mark until she has won the fame that is due her.

DELLA NEBO
Millsboro, Pa.

"Della"

"She hath a heart as sound as a bell and her tongue is the clapper, for what her heart thinks her tongue speaks."

During the spring term "Della" decided to become a true Normalite by living in the dormitory, but regularly every Friday evening she goes home to see her mother (?). Della's cheery voice is often heard in the "dorm" and she always has a pleasant word for everyone.

"Della" has great musical talent and we have often had the pleasure of hearing her sing. Her great ambition is to become a music teacher and we all wish her abundant success in her chosen profession.

MRS. MARY TWEED
Lock Four, Pa.

"And like the brook's low song her voice—a sound which would not cease."

Mrs. Tweed is one of the most talented members of our class. She is very fortunate indeed, being the possessor of a sweet voice, a cheerful disposition and a husband. She is very earnest and sincere about her work, and comes from Lock Four every morning to fight the day's battles in the Model School and other departments of the Normal.

Mrs. Tweed's voice is exceptionally high and sweet and well suited to the Italian songs which she renders in such a pleasing manner.

It is the wish of every Senior that she succeed in all the plans she undertakes in the future.

Commercial Department

THIS department offers two courses—a four-year course and a two-year course, each adapted to meet the needs of the individual student. Students completing either course are given a diploma.

Not only does this department offer the work given generally in commercial schools, but students have, in addition, access to all of the school activities, such as the library, athletics, literary work and the social life of the school. This enables students to grow harmoniously.

The department is well equipped with typewriters, files, letter copying apparatus, etc. The typewriters are of the latest models and are of four makes, namely, Remington, Underwood, L. C. Smith and Oliver, the object being to prevent students from becoming so accustomed to one make that they cannot use another. In fact, thruout the course, the work is presented in such a way that later the student can adapt himself to the work of any office, no matter what the make of machine or style of books may happen to be.

The work in typewriting is touch writing entirely. It includes copy work, manifoldng, tabulating, billing, stencil cutting, addressing envelopes, transcribing from shorthand notes, and taking dictation directly on the machine. Accuracy is the keynote thruout the work. The shorthand used is the Benn Pitman system. The bookkeeping taught is the Modern Illustrative presentation, together with actual office practice drawn from the instructor's own personal experience. In Commercial Law, the aim is not to make lawyers of the students, but to teach them their rights, so that they may avoid trouble which ignorance of the law imposes upon one.

FLORENCE DONAHEY
South Brownsville, Pa.
"Donny"

Clio.
"Large people should be heard, not seen."

Florence received the early part of her education in McKeesport. She has a special talent for estimating the time it would take one to walk around a city. Florence is going to Kentucky next fall where she will take a teacher's commercial course. She has considerable musical ability and in a few short years we hope we shall hear her familiar melodious voice on the victrola records.

FRANK KOTLER
Coal Center, Pa.
"Here's Kotler, a Commercial, too,
We wish you luck in whatever you do."

Kotler is the brightest and most industrious young man in his class. He believed that a commercial training would be worth more to him than a teacher's course and is graduating with very high honors. He is so quiet and modest that we know very little of him. Basing our opinion on his ability and good nature, we anticipate a prosperous career for him. We sincerely wish him success in whatever he undertakes.

ELIZABETH PATTON
South Brownsville, Pa.
"Libby" or "Pat"

Clio.
"We would all wonder what was going to happen,
If we would go to a place of amusement and not see "Libby" Patton;
But come what may,
She is always the gayest of the gay.
If there are any beaux to voice,
"Libby" is always there to take her choice.
Of talking she is very fond;
And to the remarks of others, with giggling will respond."

■ This is our commercial girl whose cup of jollity is filled to the very brim. She chatters and laughs the live long day. "Pat" has so thoroughly mastered the art of stenography that the teachers are very anxious to give her dictation. Altho we know she makes much noise now, we know when she is stationed in the Master Mechanic's office, the tapping keys will relieve her vocal cords.

Junior Class History

WE, the class of '17 feel it our duty to contribute to the class of '16 Heartiest Greetings.

Our class has grown from timid "Freshies" to Juniors only by excess energy and candle light. When we began our school career here in the fall term of '13, we were as green as the fruit that is called the cucumber. We profited by the good examples of the higher classmen and thus rose to the second rung of the ladder. At the beginning of our Sophomore year we were getting pretty well acquainted with the school and its customs. We passed a year of not much excitement—only toiling hard for the unknown things that should occupy the "vacant" spaces above. After finding a few of the unknown things, we managed to get to the third rung which is our Junior year.

Our class excels in athletics. Our girls tied the Seniors for first place in the inter-class contest in hockey. Out of a small number of boys, the Junior class has placed nine (9) in the varsity football team and four (4) in the varsity basket ball team. The prospects in baseball rest upon the Junior class. The girls' basket ball has two Junior varsity players and three subs who will be varsity players next year.

The Junior class has selected a college play to be given in honor of the Seniors. This will be something out of the ordinary as the class of '16 gave a comic opera last year.

Our class is counted one of the strongest and largest classes that has been here for years. They all hope to carry the standards of the school to the highest degree and make a prosperous class of Seniors next year.

The class of 1918 holds a position of great importance in C. N. S. Its members adhere strictly to their motto, and you will all have to admit that since the organization of our class last year our knowledge has increased wonderfully in more ways than one. We have also increased greatly in number. Last year there were only fifty-one members enrolled in our class. Now we have increased to the grand total of eighty-five. But notwithstanding our craving for knowledge, we are anxious to get out into the world. We feel certain that we will soon become rich because we have several Mills and a good Miller. We are also well fitted to give entertainments because we have a large Cropp of Flowers that may always be depended upon.

We fear that this brief account has been too much about ourselves. We sincerely wish to bring our congratulations to the present graduating class on their excellent record and successful work. We also wish to extend our best wishes to the members of all the classes of C. N. S.

Philomathean Literary Society

Colors—Red and White

Motto—Energy Wins Over Fate

ACH passing year is drawing us nearer and nearer to the time when we must face the stern realities of life. The success with which our lives are met depends in a large measure upon our literary work. To speak forcibly and well is one of the aims for which we have striven.

The Philomathean Society was organized in 1874 and since then has made remarkable progress. The past year is one which will not soon be forgotten and we realize that our efforts have not been in vain. In the past year Philo has admitted many new members who were won by the spirit and success of the organization. It is our sincere wish that they will be benefited in the future as they have been in the past.

The extent of our success is known to us all. The programs were interesting, instructive, and well rendered. Each member has put forth great effort and taken heed of the inspiring motto "Energy wins over fate." All those who have been working earnestly can truthfully testify that they have been greatly benefited by the experiences received while performing.

The keynote to our success is unity. Let each member contribute something which will help us to realize our great aim. The assistance of each one is required to make our meetings more profitable and interesting.

Let us say to the new members, as well as to the old ones, that the literary phase of school life should not be neglected. It is one of the greatest factors in the educational life of a student and one that makes him feel a master of himself and others.

We cannot expect to be aroused by the breeze of those brushing past us. Let us be up and doing. There is much to be done. One by one let us join the ranks and with our Red and White banner triumphantly floating before us, let us set forth towards the glittering goal that awaits us.

Clionian Literary Society

Colors—Gold and Blue

Motto—Aut, vincere, aut morti

FORTY-TWO years ago a small company gathered in one of the rooms of this institution and organized the Clionian Literary Society. There is no need for retrospect for all know what the Clionian Society has done during these forty-two years of organization. Today lawyers, county superintendents, and present educators revisit Clio's hall and testify of the literary training, the training of loyalty and the social training that they received in our society.

Along the line of literary training the society helps us cultivate a better appreciation of the best literature and helps us express our own ideas clearly and understandingly. Any society to be truly great must have members, true and steadfast to its cause.

Let us make Clio truly great by serving her whenever the golden opportunity comes our way. The social side of society life furnishes one of the most pleasant memories which students cherish in after life, and members of the society never forget the many enjoyable hours spent in Clio Hall. We sincerely hope that the Clionian Society will maintain her high standard of training its members for later life.

From her colors, which we have with us always in the golden sun in his setting of blue, we learn the lesson of fidelity and constancy, factors which count for much in our society work. We feel sure that her members have learned the lessons of fidelity and constancy by the efforts they have put forth to perform whenever called upon. The officers of this year are to be highly praised. They have ever sacrificed their own personal interests for the good of Clionianism. A hearty welcome is extended to any earnest student who wishes to be a follower of the Gold and Blue.

We, the Seniors, who realize that the school days are swiftly passing feel a deep regret that we must soon break from the bonds of society fellowship. Abraham Lincoln, in his Gettysburg speech, said, "The world will little note nor long remember what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here." Thus it is with each member of Clio. We may forget what we have said here, but we can never forget what we have accomplished here.

JUNIOR LITERARY SOCIETIES

"I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly."

HIS motto shows God's own thought for the girls and gives glimpses of the life abundant which the Association promotes thru physical, social mental and spiritual training.

At the beginning of the school year the Association gave a reception to the new girls and thus introduced them at once to the best life of the school. Our membership increases steadily with each succeeding year.

Our Bible study is always of especial interest. The Freshman and Sophomore classes studied the women of the Bible with the aid of Miss Thomas. The Junior class under the supervision of Miss Barnum studied James Slack's "Jesus, The Man of Galilee." The Senior girls with Mrs. Fiske studied Edward Everett Norton's "Selected Epistles of Paul." The weekly prayer meetings were also uplifting and helpful. During the spring term the meetings were divided into two classes; in one "The Eight Week Clubs" were studied with Miss Barnum, and in the other foreign mission study with Miss McIntosh as instructor.

Each year there is the problem of raising money with which to send delegates to the summer conferences. This year it has proved to be no problem whatever for our Christmas bazar was very successful as were also our socials and chocolate sales. These delegates come back bringing fresh inspiration and new ideas for the next year's work.

"Ye shall hallow the fiftieth year and proclaim liberty thruout the land." The month of February was observed as a nation wide Jubilee of the Y. W. C. A. Our Jubilee celebration began with a members' rally on February 4th and closed with a birthday celebration on March 4th.

"Christ is the end, for Christ was the beginning; Christ the beginning for the end is Christ."

Y. W. C. A. CABINET

IN proportion to the number of men in our school, the membership of the Y. M. C. A. presents a very creditable showing, having eighty-five per cent of the total enrollment of young men. The working plan of the Y. M. C. A. has been somewhat changed this year. At the beginning of each term a social is held as a means of welcoming the men and to awaken a spirit of altruistic fellowship. The regular meetings of the Association are every Wednesday evening at six o'clock. Two classes in Bible study were started under the leadership of Professor Wentzel and H. A. Menser. The Association is represented in athletics as usual by a basket ball team and a very strong baseball team.

The school was represented at several Association Conferences this year—Penn State Evangelistic Campaign, Students' Volunteer Conference, at Grove City, and the Annual President's.

The Association has been very successful with its deputation work this year. We had men working in the near vicinity of the school, and did some work in the neighboring villages.

It is the aim of an Association of this kind to develop in a student nobility, altruism and sincere Christian fellowship and to furnish a means whereby its members may become better qualified to be called sons of the Alma Mater.

Sodalitas Latina

WHILE the Latin Club is practically a new organization in C. N. S. the members realize its value and the meetings are by no means a dread. Each and every person is very enthusiastic and proud to take an active part in the meetings. The events of first meeting of the year may be described to show the work done by the Club.

The titles of twelve books had been translated into Latin and written on the blackboard. The members were asked to translate these titles which proved to be the names of books such as "The House of Seven Gables," "The Tale of Two Cities," etc. This contest was very instructive as well as interesting and amusing. Each person who attended the meeting had been asked to represent some character familiar to Latin students. The object was to discover what noted people represented. This was done by asking various questions such as "Who were your friends and your enemies?" "What is your age?" etc. Such characters as Aeneas, Dido, Ascanius, and Anchises were represented. The evening's program was closed by the singing of Latin songs, as is the usual custom.

The play "When the Fates Decree," which was presented by the Latin students on February 5, 1916, was pronounced a success by every one who saw it. The story of the play centered about Aeneas, the Trojan leader, and Dido, queen of Carthage. Due to the excellent training received from the instructor, everyone was able to execute his lines in the very best manner.

On Saturday evening, February 18, Miss McIntosh very pleasantly entertained the members of the Club at a social gathering. This party was highly enjoyed by all and much interest was shown in the contest, which was to write life histories of each other.

Football Resume

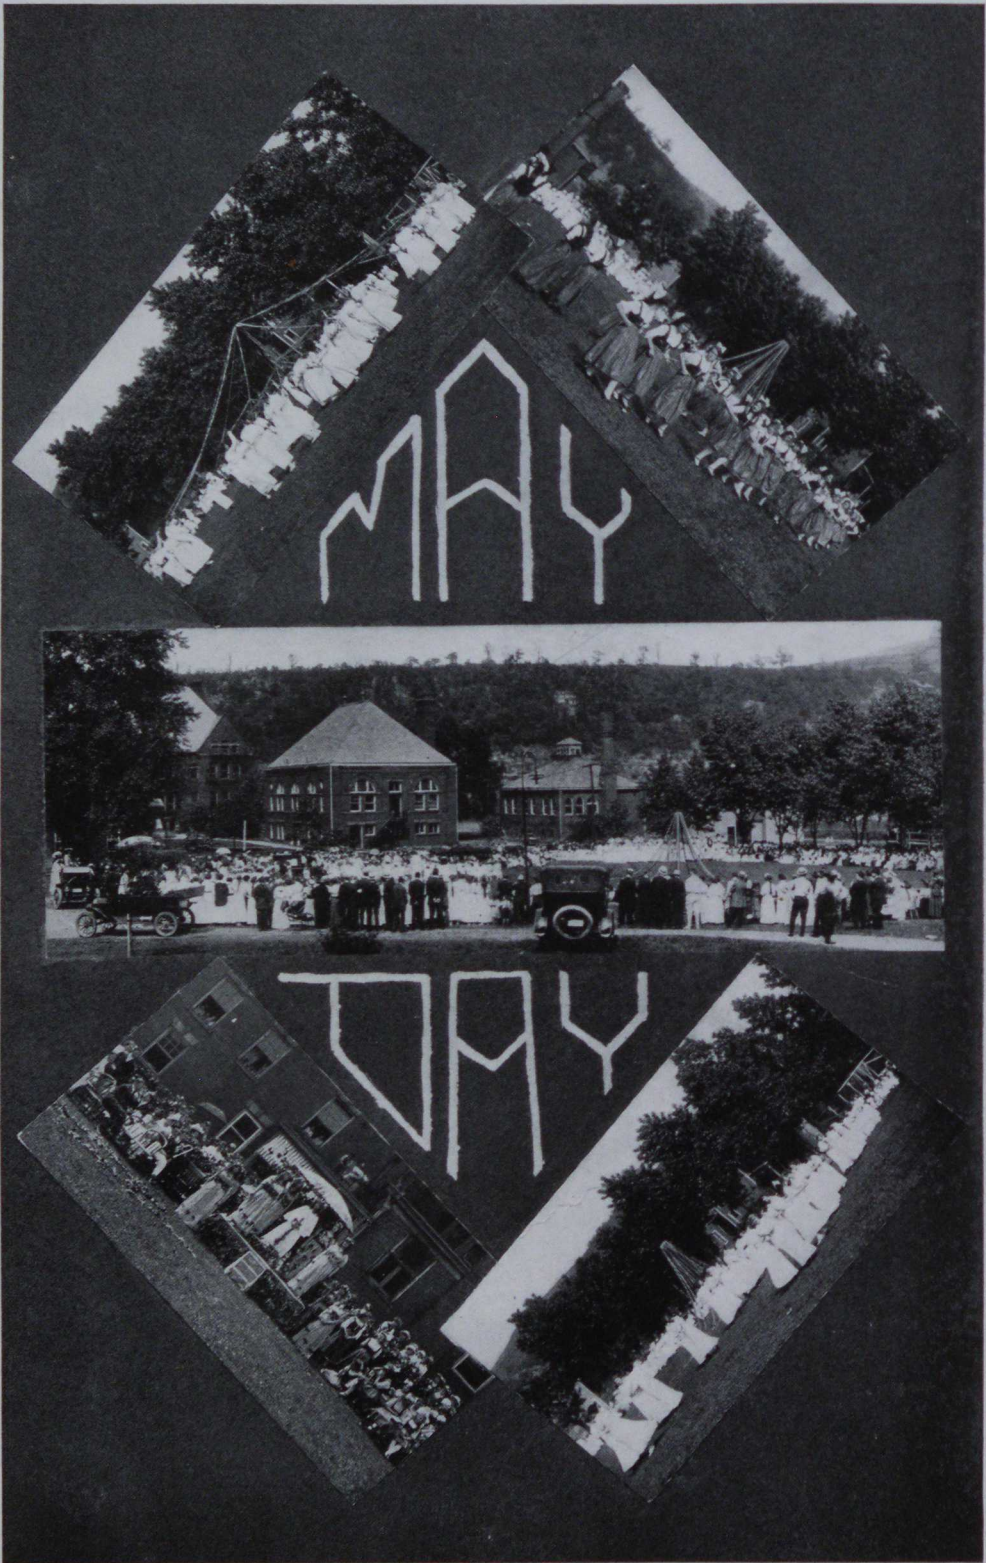

IN reviewing the season of 1915, if we count the number of defeats and victories, it was on the whole a very satisfactory season for out of the nine games played C. N. S. was victorious in four, defeated in four and one resulted in a tie. Taking all into consideration this was a very good record for a team composed almost entirely of new men, as "Son" Mills was the only letter man of last year's team back in school and he was disabled in the fifth game of the season by a broken collar bone. The reason for such defeats as the team received at Scottdale and Slippery Rock was not on account of poor playing, nor of not being well drilled for the contests, but was because they were outweighed and outclassed by the teams which they met.

As to the coming season the outlook is very bright, for with Smith re-elected as captain and the loss of but two of the varsity men, Dornan and Gallagher, there is no doubt that C. N. S. will have one of the best teams in 1916 that it has had in recent years.

SENIOR HOCKEY TEAM

Hockey

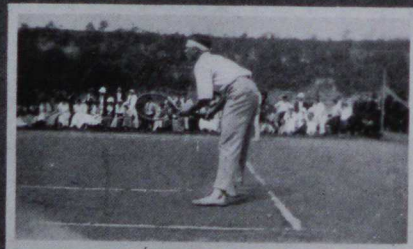

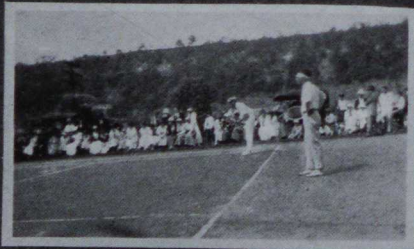

IN the fall hockey was decided to be the sport for the girls, hence large numbers reported to Miss Long to learn the game. Before long the Junior and Senior teams wished to clash in order to gain the famous name of "Hockey Champions." The first combat was preliminary, the Seniors winning, 3-1. After that a real game was waged, the Juniors carrying off the laurels, 3-2. Were they going to win the title? "No," said the Seniors, and they were the victors, 3-2, at the last game which was played after a snow fall in very cold weather. On this account the final game was called off, thus ending the season with winning qualities awarded both teams.

The Boys' Basket Ball Team

KEPLER MILLS, Captain

IN reviewing the 1916 basket ball season we find that the boys have had great success for out of the twelve games played seven were victories for them. They were outclassed in a few games but on a whole they played a good, clean game. Two of the teams which defeated them, they succeeded in defeating when played a little later in the season and on our own floor. The season was ended in a grand victory when the Red and Black defeated the fast West Newton team by a score of 56 to 18.

Of those composing the team Captain Mills and Crispen were veterans, having played with the team last year. As forwards Crispen, Cropp and McVickers were wonderfully quick and played a good game, while a better pair of guards than Black and Smith would be hard to find. Captain Mills at center was the mainstay of the team and made most of the scores, having made during the season 237 out of the 381 points scored.

The team in 1917 should be one of the best in the history of the school, for with Mills re-elected as captain and the entire team back in school with one year's experience playing together there cannot be any doubt as to its success next year.

The Girls' Team

THE girls have ended one of the most successful seasons that any team could wish for, having been defeated in only one game and that on account of both guards having been forced out of the game on account of illness. This was undoubtedly one of the best girls' teams in western Pennsylvania for they completely outclassed any team with which they played

Six girls, Underwood, Hackney, Hayden, Markle, Siebart and Miller were awarded the beautiful school sweaters bearing the official basket ball monogram of the school. Of these six, Hackney, Hayden, and Markle will be back next year and they will form a nucleus around which can be built a team just as strong, if not stronger than this year's team.

THE SEASON OF 1916

As the Calnorsean goes to press on the same day that the season opens, it is impossible to give many facts concerning the team for the season of 1916. All we can give is prospects and they are very bright, for with Captain Letrick as the mainstay in the pitcher's box and Mills catcher we are sure of a good battery. All the men on the team are experienced and there is no reason why the team this spring should not be one of the best along the valley.

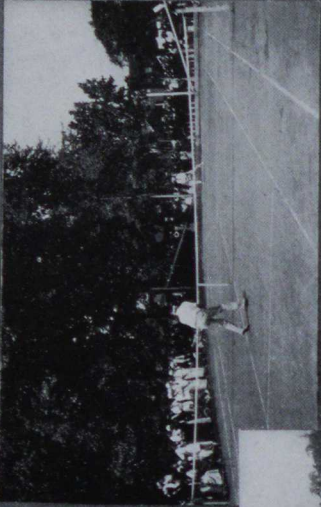

The new fence recently erected by the school around the athletic field has added a new stimulus to baseball and we feel sure that the student body as a whole will take more interest in baseball than they have during previous seasons.

First Senior Sled Ride

F is for faculty who gave us permission;
I is for ice which suited the condition;
R is for roads which led to Brownsville;
S is for Storey House up on the hill, and
T is for Thomas who got a bad chill.

S is for sorrow of those not taking part;
E for the early hour at which we did start;
N is for noise we had all the way;
I for impromptus which were in full sway;
O is for overcoats in case of a storm;
R is that "red blanket which kept us all (?) warm."

S is for sleds, I guess there were two;
L is for load, which the horses well knew;
E is for ease of which we had none;
D is for dinner, the best under the sun.

R is for "Rag." Oh, the speech he did make!
I is for interest we all did take, except in D for departure which came all too soon, but
E for enthusiasm made everything boom.

Senior's Departing Hymn

Normal days are gone forever
 With their joys and with their woes;
 Bonds we never thought to sever
 From life's path where'er it goes.

Sometimes days were light and cheery,
 Filled with pleasure, hope and joy;
 If others were a wee bit dreary,
 Happiness must have alloy.

On and on we toiled in silence
 O'er the pages of books on "Ped."
 Language, math and science,
 Things we Seniors no more dread.

How we loved the thought of striving,
 Toiling on with classmates dear;
 And the joy of friends a vieing
 When commencement time draws near.

So while working with the sternest,
 We have learned much to unfold;
 Life is real, life is earnest,
 And our lives are yet untold.

Dear old Normal, tears are falling,
 What we are we owe to thee;
 Now other fields are calling
 So we'll say farewell to thee.

“Pinafore”

The commencement season of 1915 opened on Saturday, June 26, with the rendition of the opera “Pinafore” by the class of 1916. This was excellently done and too much credit cannot be given Professor Dobson for his tireless efforts to make the venture a success. Every seat in the house was taken and the audience was very appreciative.

The cast of characters was as follows:

SYNOPSIS

Ralph Rackstraw, a sailor on Capt. Corcoran’s ship Pinafore, is madly in love with the captain’s daughter Josephine. Her father has already arranged her marriage with Sir Joseph Porter K. C. B., whom Josephine honors but does not love. Ralph professes his love for Josephine but on account of his lowly station, she rejects him. Later she discovers her mistake and she and Ralph plan an elopement. Dick Deadeye, a sailor, warns the captain of their plans and he intercepts them and demands an explanation. Ralph is sent to prison in disgrace. Little Buttercup then comes forward with a painful revelation of how she had interchanged Ralph and the captain in childhood’s happy hours. Ralph then becomes the captain and Captain Corcoran becomes a common sailor. After this change of condition Sir Joseph gladly releases Josephine of her promise and marries cousin Hebe. Josephine and Ralph are happily united. Captain Corcoran, now a common sailor, professes his love for Little Buttercup who gladly accepts him.

CLASSES OF 1918 AND 1919 IN SHAKESPEAREAN PROGRAM

“Boys, your faults are many;
Girls have only two—
Everything they say,
And everything they do.”

Prof. Wright—“Now class, don’t ask any more questions. Remember, curiosity killed a cat.”

Chas. Holt—“What did the cat want to know?”

A flea and a fly in a flue
Were imprisoned—now what could they do?
Said the fly, “Let us flee;”
“Let us fly,” said the flea,
And they flew thru a flaw in the flue.

“Casey,” said Pat, “How do yez tell the age of a turkey?”

“Oi can always tell by the teeth,” said Casey.

“By the teeth!” exclaimed Pat, “But a turkey has no teeth.”

“No,” admitted Casey, “But Oi have.”

Mary Ewing, (To Prof. Wright)—“Tipperary was in my room last night. Do you know Tipperary?”

Prof. Wright—“No, I don’t play much popular music.”

Mary—“Why, Tipperary is Virginia’s cat.”

Miss Shutterly (Advising Seniors)—“Dont depend on some one else. Do things for yourselves. I’ve done that since I was fifteen years old and I know that just when you think you have a man he slips away from you.”

A joke—The boy's pool table.

Miss Lilley (In Domestic Science)—“Miss Edith, why are different fuels used in different places?”

Edith—“Because they are economical and are found in the community.”

Miss Lilley—“No that's not right at all. It's because they are cheap and they are found just at your own back door. Now I want you to get that little thing.”

Guinn—“Great Caesar! did you see the fight this morning?”

Crispen—“What fight?”

Guinn—“The cat licked its paw.”

Heard in Chemistry—Crude iron is made in the following way: The iron is put in at the top of the furnace and comes out at the bottom as pigs.

Rock-a-by Senior on a tree top,
As long as you study the cradle will rock;
But if you stop digging the cradle will fall
And down will come grades, diploma and all.

Found in a Freshman's note book—Boyibus kissibus
Sweet girlorum;
Girlibus likibus,
Wanta somorum.

Why is bread like the sun?

“Because,” said the Swede, “It rises out of der yeast and sets behind der vest.”

Senior—“Where is that man Holt?”

Holt—“Did you call me a man?”

Senior—“Yes, but I made a mistake, I beg your pardon.”

Mr. Field (In History of Ed class)—“There is a man in Pittsburgh known as the head Chemist who receives $25,000 a year.”

Reva—“Is he married?”

Miss Jolly—“Oh dear!”

Mr. Maust—“Who?”

Mr. Walker—“I now let the hands of the chair in the seat of the new president.”

Wentzel (In Agriculture)—“Don't kill that fellow, he's a ladybug.”

Rag Myers gazed into the window of a bookstore at the following sign:

Dickens' Works all this week for only $4.00.

“He does,” exclaimed Rag in disgust, “The dirty scab.”

Teacher—“What is a mountain range?”

Model School pupil—“A mountain range is a large stove.”

Helen Williams (Looking at photo of Hazel's brother)—“Why he's good looking; he doesn't look at all like you.”

Inventor—“That machine can do the work of ten men.”

Visitor—“Goodness! My wife ought to have married it.”

Geology Teacher—“Name three well known bluffs around here.”

Student—“Gates, Myers and Crossland.”
