GREETING:

When the days have joined to form months, and the months have rolled into years, old scenes will have slowly faded, and some of the fondest treasures in the storehouse of memory will have been reluctantly lost to view.

If, in those days and years to come, this book may help to bridge the gap between them and today and to brighten the memory of school days at the old Normal, made mellow by the hand of time, we shall know that our labor has not been in vain, and we shall be content.

THE EDITORS.

Dedication

To the many Alumni and former students, who because of their loyalty, are offering their supreme sacrifice—their very lives—to uphold the honor and liberty of their homeland and all those things which are near and dear to them THE 1918 CALNORSEAN is affectionately dedicated, with the earnest hope and prayer that each one may be privileged to return to us safe and unharmed, feeling that he has done all that was possible to win this great World War.

THE CLASS OF 1918.

The following is a list of the students, as nearly complete as it is possible to make it at this time (May 4, 1918). If any names that should appear are omitted, please bear in mind that we have done our best to get them all. The names of the members of the Class of 1918 are starred:

Class Poem

For the Normal Class of Nineteen Hundred Eighteen, the year is done,
Commencement Day, the morning star of the life which awaits has come.
Oh, hail to this Class, so stately, yet so merry and free!
Our jolly group numbers just one hundred forty-three.
We've had our ups and we've had our downs,
We've had pleasant looks, and the darkest of frowns.
But, good-bye to these! Life's path before us gleaming lies.
To-day, we are the happiest in the land, and yet we are not free from sighs,
Because we must leave one another and break these ties.
Though some may be far, and some may be near,
We never can forget our teachers, so dear.
Deeply have they stamped on our minds each ennobling trait;
Ere long, we shall remember how they taught us that work masters fate.
Of course, there were keys and hair dye, Independents and false teeth;
Now, how could we forget how we enjoyed such a treat?
We have builded the ladder by which we rise,
And have kept our eyes turned toward our goal in the skies;
We were happy and merry, and felt a bit glad,
Till we went to Society, and then we were sad.
We were forced to perform, and then at the end,
The lone faculty saw nothing to commend.
We have a talented Class, but I cannot tell you of the peculiar gift of each one,
Because all of these accounts would make my poem too long.
However, I cannot overlook the genius of the excuse composers for Study Hall.
Then, I must tell you of the accomplishment of one Senior, so tall,
"A maiden's wishes are but three, o'er all this world, where e'er she be;
To lovelier grow, to have a beau, and to the bridal altar go."
To Iome alone, of all the hopeful maidens of our Class,
Has come the fond fruition of all these hopes.
Now, my dear Classmates, just one solemn thought, ere we are the departed:
"Droop not, though shame, sin and anguish surround;
Look to yon Heaven, smiling beyond;
What is it for, if not to inspire?
Search for the task for which you are best fitted,
Then honor your work, though it may seem lowly;
For labor, all labor, is noble and holy.
May the service you render, honor the Class."

—RAYMOND CRAFT.

WENDELL MOMYER

SCOTSDALE, PA.

"Momyer"

Clio; Senior Class President; Y. M. C. A. President; Clio President; The Lady of Lyons; The Haunted Gate; Editorial Staff of The Normal Review.

"Quality of mind endureth forever."

Just look at the above picture and decide for yourself if this young man doesn't bear the earmarks of a real executive. His ability as a leader has been well shown in his many school activities. "Be a friend of everyone, and be thorough and just in everything" is his motto. No truer friend could ever be found, and his advice was heeded by all.

He is now in service in the United States Army, and his success is assured wherever he may be. The best wishes for his welfare is extended by all who know him.

But he had some joy in life, too, for he is

*"A lion among ladies;
A man among men."*

MARIE ADAMSON

WAYNESBURG, PA.

"Marie"

Clio. Vice-President of Clio; Assistant Editor of The Calnorsean; Phi Mu; Latin Club; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet; The Lady of Lyons; Pan's Anniversary; Clio Contestant.

*"Here's to the girl with dark brown eyes
And the jolly laugh, so free;
Here's to the girl who can sing like a lark,
And well-liked by all, seems to be."*

Marie entered C. N. S. three years ago, and being an earnest worker, was able to arrange her course to graduate with us. Are we glad? Anyone who knows her, will answer in the affirmative, for she is indeed a jolly companion and a sincere friend. We are all proud of her success and we prophesy for her a brilliant future.

Favorite song: "My Sweetheart is Somewhere in France."

MAE ALLEN

FAYETTE CITY, PA.

"Mae"

Clio.

*The fairest garden in her looks,
And in her mind, the wisest books."*

Mae is one of our modest girls, who, when she speaks, is heeded by all. As a student, she is an earnest and never ceasing worker. The reason for her success in the Model School is found in her favorite saying:

*"Tender-handed stroke a nettle,
And it stings you for your pains;
Grasp it like a man of mettle,
And it soft as silk remains."*

*'Tis the same with common natures,
Use 'em kindly, they rebel;
But be rough as nutmeg graters,
And the 'kids' obey you well."*

ANNA ANDERSON

MONONGAHELA, PA.

"Ann"

Philo. Vice-President of Philo; Vice-President of Junior Class.

*"Friends are like melons—
Shall I tell you why?
To find a good one
We must a hundred try."*

Did you ever have to call for the relief keys? Indeed, it isn't a pleasant feeling when you are locked out. But listen, girls, did Ann ever tell you about her "Key" of relief? It makes a thrilling tale.

Ann seems contented to live five days of each week in the Dormitory, but always likes to spend the week-end at home with mother (?). But you can't blame her, since she lives so near.

IVA AYRES

EIGHTY-FOUR, PA.

Philo. Y. W. C. A.

Here is our proud Iva, but when you once know her, she is always ready to lend a helping hand. She is quite accomplished, for she dances and sings beautifully, besides taking the regular Normal course. Her motto is "Never study more than necessary." Her favorite expression is "Golly Neds!" Her favorite pastime is talking.

EDNA BAKER

CRELLIN, MD.

"Edna"

Philo. Philo President; Y. W. C. A.; French Club; Latin Club.

Motto: "A Little More Sleep; A Little More Slumber."

In the Fall of 1917, Edna's highest ambition was to win for us the Tennis Tournament the coming Spring. But, finding the practice too strenuous, she decided to use her spare moments reclining in the arms of Morpheus.

All joking aside, we are proud of Edna, for she is a good companion and a loyal classmate. The best wishes of the class go with her.

HARRIET BALES

VERSAILLES, PA.

"Jake"

Philo. Y. W. C. A.

Jake is the favorite of all, especially when she receives a delicious box of candy from home (?). At first appearance, you might think her to be the quietest little girl in C. N. S., but really, she is just brimful of fun.

She loves to sing, and the song you hear most frequently is "It's Hard to Kiss Your Sweetheart When the Last Kiss Means Good-bye."

Her favorite expression is "For the Love of Pete."

PRISCILLA BELL

CALIFORNIA, PA.

Philo.

"A quiet, unassuming girl of sterling worth."

Here is an honest-to-goodness product of C. N. S. One who started with Miss Thomas in the Primary grades and is now a dignified Senior. Priscilla takes school life with a seriousness, which if indulged in by the rest of us, would relieve the Profs. of a lot of exasperation.

She is one of our ambitious students, one we are glad to have with us, and one of whom we are sure to be proud.

GLADYS BLACK

NINEVEH, PA.

Philo. Y. W. C. A.

"Blackie" came to us just after the Christmas vacation in '16, so you see she was a Christmas gift to C. N. S. And a right valuable one she is, too. Whenever she is around, and is in a jolly mood, she is making everyone laugh at her funny stunts. Her most common expression is "Now that's just it." She is very fond of fudge and of knitting. We know that she will make a No. 1 school marm, and find lots of fun in teaching the little ones that two and two make four.

PAUL BLYTHE

FAYETTE CITY, PA.

"Paul"

Philo.

"Anything but history, for history must be false."

Paul is not hard to find, as he is one of only two boys of our class possessing red hair. Contrary to the rule that "All people having red hair are ill-tempered," he is very good-natured and has a sunny disposition. Paul just loves Dom. Science, but just ask him what he got in history, and—ye gods, how ne will talk.

MILDRED BOARDE

BELLE VERNON, PA.

Philo.

*"Her face is like the Milky Way in the sky,
A meeting of gentle lights, without a name."*

Mildred has been with us for two years, and we know her as one of the quiet girls of our class, but that is a fine quality for

*"They never taste who always drink;
They always talk who never think."*

Here's success to you, Mildred.

SARA BOOTH

WEBSTER, PA.

Philo.

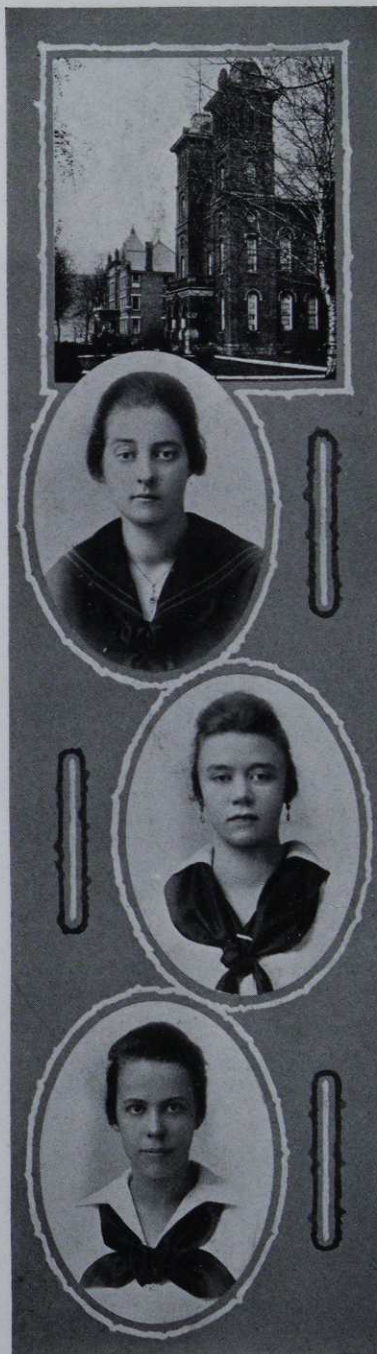

Just as the last school train is about to pull out from the Donora station, in the A. M., you can see this young lady wildly chasing across the bridge that connects Webster and Donora. Some mornings, by some miracle, she is able to board the last coach, but I'll whisper something. If she misses the train altogether, you can hear her say with a sigh of relief, "Thank Goodness! another day off." Since Sara is very seldom with us on time, we appreciate her a lot when she does arrive, because she has a smile worth seeing.

GLADYS BOYD

NEW SALEM, PA.

Clio.

When the name of Gladys is mentioned, the picture of a face with earnest, dark eyes and a smile that illumines comes before us. Gladys is truly one of the shining stars of our class. With reference to Agriculture, she can ask more practical questions than any one else. Psychology is also one of her strongholds. Although Gladys has not been with us the usual length of time, she has been admired by all, and we hasten to extend our well wishes to her.

ANNA BRAUM
WEST ELIZABETH, PA.

"Brother"

Philo.
"Kindly pass the bread." This is Brother's favorite expression at the table, and, being so tiny, demure, and winsome, it is hard for any member of Miss Mac's table to deny her this request. We are glad she is with us this year, for she is always pleasant and one of the best transom breakers in Dixon Hall.

ELEANOR BROWN
NEWELL, PA.

"Enner"

Clio.

*"A wee, little thing, a shy little thing,
Tho' everything she knows;
A bright little thing, a young little thing,
Onward through school she goes."*

"Enner" hails from the Central States. She graduated from Warren, Ohio, High School, and came to us to add to the number of our bright students. She does not need to "cram" for an exam.. for it's all tucked away in her mind.

EARL BURTON
CALIFORNIA, PA.

"Kitty"

Philo. Business Manager of The Calnor-sean; The Lady of Lyons; Basket Ball; Foot Ball; Base Ball.

*"Kitty B. was a jooly old scout,
A jolly old scout was he."*

One of the popular fellows of the Senior Class. He is tall and fair-haired; a congenial fellow, as well as a good student; in athletics, he has been both efficient and versatile.

We heard something about him having a "case;" fess up, Kitty. Who is she?

SARA BUTTERMORE
CALIFORNIA, PA.

Philo.

*"Sara to us doesn't mean money,
But a girl, good natured and sweet as honey;
She is quiet, true, and quite discreet,
And her in teaching but few can beat."*

Ever since Sara has joined our ranks, she has been a blessing to our school. Some may think that a person named Sara Buttermore does not exist, but a recitation period will prove the contrary. Success to her.

GRACE CALHOUN
ELIZABETH, PA.

Philo.

*"Grace is a Philo, true,
And a very good worker, too;
She is always in classes on time,
And always knows what to do."*

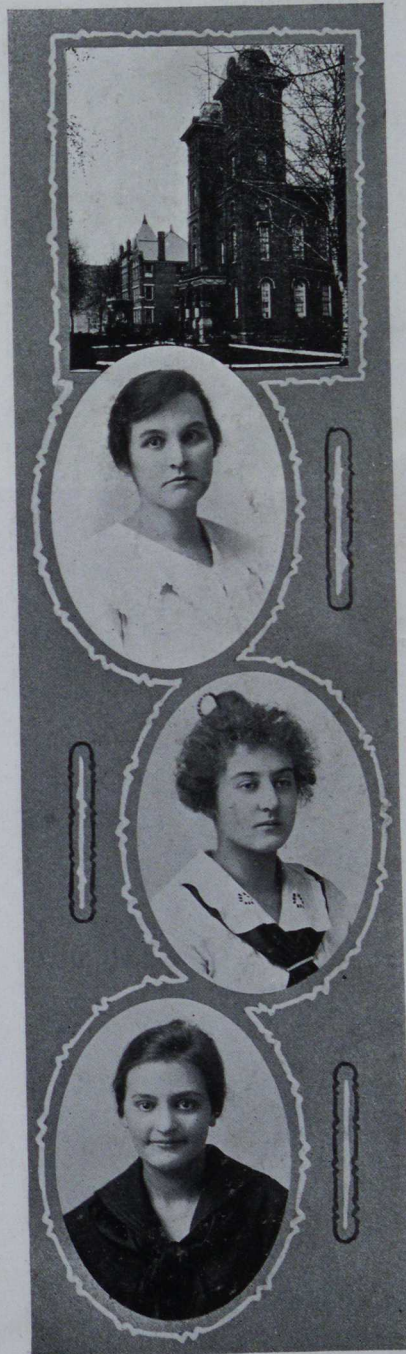

Grace was one of our traveling students, though she became an inmate of the Dorm. during the latter part of her Senior year. She is a pleasant girl, and we know she will be a successful teacher.

HELEN CAMERON
McKEESPORT, PA.

Clio.

"Your modesty is but a candle to your merit."

Helen is a quiet, loving and kind maiden, coming from McKeesport High. Her arrival has added another valuable pearl to our string of Seniors. She has never received a poor grade in any of her subjects. Slow to speak is she, but her words are chosen and weighty. Willing to share her knowledge with others, she is destined to be a success as a teacher.

JOSEPHINE CAMP

ELIZABETH, PA.

"Joe"

Clio.

*"She chatters, chatters as she goes,
Her tongue, it ceaseth never;
Men may come, and men may go,
But Joe goes on forever."*

But talking is not the only gift of Joe; she plays the piano, too. But if you want to know the time of her music, ask her and she will answer, "To save my life, I don't know." French verbs do not worry her, but she does wish that Cicero had come to Caesar's fate. However, she is an "A" student, except in Penmanship.

MARIE CARSON

SPEERS, PA.

Clio. Y .W. C. A. The Lady of Lyons.

*"There was a girl named Carson
Who was always hunting the Parson;
When the Parson she found,
No man was around,
So her name is still Carson."*

"Shortie" came to us direct from the farm. Are we glad? All who know her answer "Yes." It is said that "Shortie's" rendition of her favorite song—"Says I to Myself"—is nothing short of marvelous, though none but Dixon Hall girls can testify as to that. Her frank, winning way will bring her success in teaching, but we predict that she will not remain in the profession long.

MARGARET CHANEY

COAL CENTER, PA.

"Chaney"

Philo.

Margaret is loved by all the class because of her sunny disposition. She has big, brown eyes, which are ever sparkling. She takes great interest in military tactics.

Her favorite song is not "Somewhere in France," but "Somewhere in Arkansas." Nevertheless, we predict a splendid teaching career for "Chaney."

IRENE CHESTER

SPEERS, PA.

Clio. Editorial Board; Class Cartoonist.

"She is small, but oh, my!"

Irene is small and dainty, with blue eyes, fair hair, and—Oh, the dimples! She is known for her ability as an artist, but she is an athletic girl, too, basketball and tennis being her hobbies.

Irene has endeared herself to all by her ever ready smile and her pleasing disposition. It is a joy to know her. Good luck and best wishes, Shortie.

MARGARET COATSWORTH

CALIFORNIA, PA.

"Peg"

Philo. Philo Junior Contestant; Editorial Board.

She is a type of femininity that

*"When she will, she will,
And that's the end of it."*

No silly flirtations nor demure glances, but a straight-forward, clear-from-the-shoulder survey in the white light of reason is "Peg."

She is a star at public speaking, especially in the form of debating, but her ambition is to go to France as a Red Cross nurse.

JENNIE COLE

CALIFORNIA, PA.

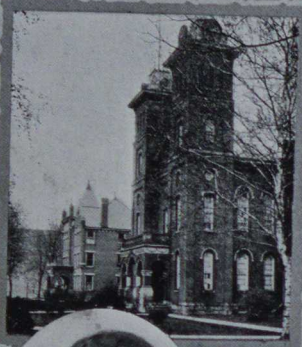

Philo.

"Laugh and the World laughs with you, Weep, and you weep alone."

The first thing you hear on Monday morning and the last thing Friday evening in the halls of C. N. S., above all other noises, is someone laughing. You need not go far until you see "Coley" laughing "fit to kill." She not only laughs in the halls, but everywhere she goes, because—

*"Mirthfulness is in her mind
And she has to get it out."*

MARIE COLEMAN

MCKEESPORT, PA.

"Coleman"

Clio.

Marie came to us in the Fall of 1917, after graduating from the McKeesport High School. She is one of our star pupils and delights in reciting History of (Fr)Ed to us.

We all wonder why Marie makes such frequent trips to Roscoe (?), but she has never felt the necessity of explaining the reason to us. We fear her teaching career will not extend far into the future, though perhaps (?) we are mistaken.

CHARLOTTE CONNER

BELLE VERNON, PA.

Philo.

"Happy am I, from care I am free, Why aren't you all contented like me?"

This little verse certainly expresses Charlotte's continued good natured mood. She is intensely interested in Chemistry, and was frequently seen taking a little, white dog to class with her. But perhaps the equations were too much for it, so it decided to stay at home. It is rumored that she is interested in Dom. Science and particularly in knitting.

BEATRICE CONWAY

MONESSEN, PA.

Philo.

*Here's to Bee, our loving one,
Who loves to dance and have lots of fun;
The only time when at dances she does not appear,
Is when Lent comes 'round to interfere."*

*"From Monessen High this damsel came,
In our glorious halls to strive for fame;
Go to it, Monessen! and send more like her,
And by us you'll be blessed forevermore."*

RAYMOND CRAFT

LOCK FOUR, PA.

"Craft"

Clio. Clio President; Class Poet.

"A handsome youth with a feminine-like quality of voice."

Everybody has some particular subject in which they shine. Some shine in music, others in writing, but Raymond shines in oratory. He is always showing Clio what he can do. He has quite a little persuasive ability, and if you should hear him say "Now look here," you would notice that they look. We hear that he will enter some eastern college, and he has our best wishes.

EVELYN CRAIG

WASHINGTON, PA.

Philo. Y. W. C. A.

"Her ways are ways of quietness."

Evelyn has only been with us a little more than a year, but she has had some teaching experience in North Carolina. She is very quiet and we scarcely know what to say about her, but "Still water runs deep," so we may hear more from her later on.

MILTON CROPP

SOUTH BROWNSVILLE, PA.

"Croppie"

Clio. Baseball; Basketball; Football.

We are proud of this young man. Besides excelling in three branches of athletics, he is socially competent, being acquainted with practically every girl in C. N. S. Although his range of activities is wide, he finds time once in a while to write to a pretty, little Somerset girl, who left our school only a year ago. Croppie's success is imminent.

EVELYN DAVIS
SOUTH BROWNSVILLE, PA.

Clio.

*"Here's to the girl who lives out of town
And travels daily up and down;
She is very quiet and very neat,
And her friends all say she is very sweet."*

Evelyn is a very shy little Miss, very intent on being good and preparing her lessons. Her motto is: "There is no time for work like the present."

BERYL DELL
DUQUESNE, PA.

Philo. Latin Club.

"Beryl the tall, Beryl the fair, Beryl is known everywhere."

Beryl's greatest fear is that all her admirers will meet at Camp Hancock and will make war, not on Germany, but on themselves. Although her work shows preparedness, she is not afflicted with the all-too-prevalent disease of over-studying—Not at all.

Her favorite expression is: "'Er somethin'."

MARY DOLAN
UNIONTOWN, PA.

"Mary"

Philo. Latin Club.

*"Trimness in her steps,
In every gesture, dignity and love."*

Mary, although she has not been with us very long, has imbibed much of the spirit that makes for a true California Normalite. Her favorite pastime is knitting for the soldier boys far, far away. She has brought with her a love for languages. Latin is her favorite, while Spanish comes a close second. We wish her success.

BERNICE DULL

HOOVERVILLE, PA.

Philo. Y. W. C. A.

*"Here's to the merriest;
Here's to the fairest;
Here's to the one whose hair is the reddest."*

Bernice is a jolly, good girl. She is always well informed as to the latest news in Akron, Ohio. Why, I wonder? She surely will make a fine teacher after leaving here, for she studies night and day. Her favorite 9:45 P. M. narration is about her narrow escape from Cupid's arrow at one time, long ago. And now she is going to teach school forever (?).

ESTHER EDWARDS

WILKINSBURG, PA.

"Essie"

Clio. Y. W. C. A. Cabinet; Clio Contestant; Phi Mu; Latin Club.

"Valuable goods often come in small packages."

Although Essie is one of the smallest girls of our class in stature, she ranks high in the class standard. She is always ready to respond to every question asked her by the teachers; at other times, she says nothing—while in class. We predict a happy future for Essie because she is

"A gentle, blue-eyed maid; Modest, but not afraid."

ELIZABETH EICHLER

VANDERBILT, PA.

"Ike"

Philo.

*"As likely a maid as ever you'll see,
A talkative maid who is full of glee,
Whose flowing words are melody."*

"Ike" came to us after completing one year of the High School course at West Newton, and is one of the many girls of our class who come from the farm. She does not always keep it a secret, either, for we often hear her telling about the cows and chickens. "Ike" never worries, but takes things as they come. She never troubles trouble till trouble troubles her.

MARIAN ELLIOTT

BELLE VERNON, PA.

"Mame"

Philo.

*"We love Miss Marian
For well it is true,
When Marian loves
It's always true blue;
And if you'll ask Eddie,
He'll answer 'tis true.'"*

Marian spent three years in Charleroi High School, but in order to get the finishing touches, she came to C. N. S. To those who do not know her she is a quiet and sedate girl, but to others, she has a friendly manner and a happy smile, which have won for her many friends.

JOHN FILBY

WASHINGTON, PA.

"Flibby"

Clio. Junior Class Treasurer; The Lady of Lyons.

"Flibby" is one of our boys who came to us from the farm, but who has recently become a "city guy," for his home is now in Washington. His pleasing, friendly way has made him popular, and we enjoy his presence. One of his ambitions is to be a chauffeur, as well as to teach school. His love for Red and Black is shown, not only in his love for his Alma Mater, but in his selection of girls.

EDGAR FLOWERS

PITTSBURGH, PA.

"Posy"

Clio. The Lady of Lyons; Sophomore Class President.

*"His speech was a fine sample, on the whole,
Which the learned call 'rigmazole.'"*

Crash! Bang! Everybody out of the way! Here comes Posy at five minutes after one, rushing to a one o'clock class. He has always lived up to his motto: "The more haste, the less speed." At last the teachers found it possible to keep him quiet in the English class by giving him the dictionary to read. But all famous professors study the dictionary, so very good, Posy.

Another chapter began in the ever-busy life of Posies, along about Christmas, when he began to sprout wings and decided to join the Aviation Corps. So now he is located in Texas, hoping some day to fly over Berlin. Best wishes to you.

The 1918

ANNA FRANTZ
COAL CENTER, PA.

"Ann"

Philo.

"Absence makes the heart grow fonder."

We are glad that Ann was satisfied to stop at C. N. S., rather than the other schools she has tried. She spent one year in the East Pike Run High School and one year in California High School, but decided this was the best place to spend her remaining school years.

Ann works well and accomplishes much, but her thoughts are in the Soldiers' Camps. This accounts for the fact that she does not notice the fellows of C. N. S.

LUCILLE GAMBLE
BENTLEYVILLE, PA.

Clio.

*"With little to say
She works each day;
That describes our Lucille's way."*

Lucille has proved that she is an all-round girl. She is always ready to aid someone in need. Her favorite sport is debating in Clio. Say, what would we do anyhow, if we didn't hear Lucille say "Do you know your Physics lesson?" Her by-word is "Good-night."

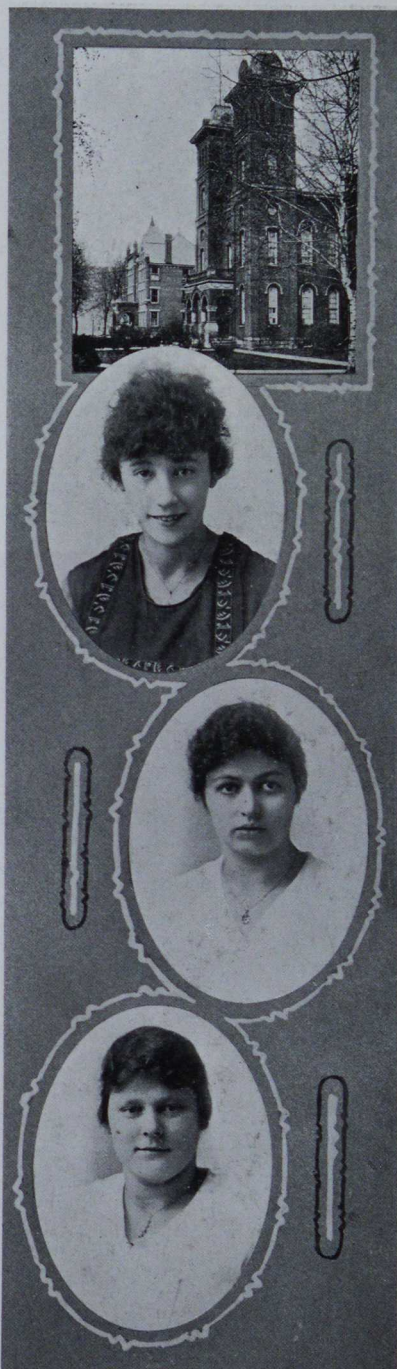

EDNA GARWOOD
UNIONTOWN, PA.

"Gar"

Clio.

"Laugh and grow fat."

This is our Gar's motto, and she surely has succeeded in carrying it out. Edna has spent several years of her youth here, first graduating from the Model School. She has continued through the Normal School, where she is now a Senior, ready to take up her life's work, and we sometimes wonder if it will be modeling "Clay," or traveling ("Lee") ward.

MARY GRANSEBAUGH

CARRICK, PA.

Clio.

*"I used to be a quiet little Miss,
But life with Freda has made me this."*

Even this quiet, little girl with the long name has acquired the habit of talking, but how could she help it after holding her side of the Child Labor Problem against Fritz? Her only bad habit is knitting by candle light, after the lights are out, so we can safely predict a bright future for her.

MOLLIE GOLDSTEIN

MONONGAHELA, PA.

Philo.

*"Mollie moves among the joyous crowd
With smiles in her eyes and laughter on her lips;
To some she whispers, to others speaks aloud;
To some she courtesies, and to some she dips."*

This gay, little traveling student has never had time to become acquainted with the term "Blue Monday," for she has always won first premium in talking. During her spare moments, she visits the Library and copies cake recipes from the magazines. Evidently, Mollie believes in "Preparedness."

BERTHA GORETZKA

GREENCOCK, PA.

Clio. Y. W. C. A.

*"The world is full of a number of things;
I'm sure we should all be as happy as kings."*

Bertha was a very quiet little girl when she joined us last year, but either her thorough study of the World Almanac or the Encyclopedia Britannica has developed greatly her sense of humor. She frequently makes known the very latest news in Dixon in a very interesting way. A frown never wrinkles her brow, but a smile lights her face, and a twinkle of fun gleams from the depths of her merry, brown eyes.

MARGARET HAINES

PERRYOPOLIS, PA.

"Hainsey"

Clio.

Hainsey is one of the brightest girls of the class, and as happy as the day is long, but our hopes for her future were blasted when she was seen designing men's neckties in drawing class. We still hope that this was but a passing fancy, and that she will yet devote her life to educating Young America.

BERTHA HANNEN

CENTERVILLE, PA.

"Bertha"

Clio.

A product of Centerville High School is Bertha, and she has well displayed her ability as a student since being with us. She is very industrious and always dutiful. This seemingly shy girl, like all girls, has time for other things besides books, and always finds time to spend the week-ends at Centerville.

"To know her is to love her."

ELIZABETH HANNEN

CENTERVILLE, PA.

"Eliza"

Clio.

One of our slender, dark-haired lassies is Elizabeth. Her eyes are brown and there is always a smile present to chase away a frown. Elizabeth holds her own in her school work, as the Honor Roll can testify. In our memory, we shall think of thee.

LAVON HICKS

BELLE VERNON, PA.

"Hicksie"

Clio. Vice-President Y. W. C. A.; Manager Girls' Basketball Team; Phi Mu; The Lady of Lyons.

*"Lavon so sweet, Lavon so fair,
Lavon with her wealth of auburn hair;
She is loved by all; hated by none,
She intends to teach in Belle Vernon."*

Lavon has been with us quite a while, but no matter what time of the day you see her, she is smiling. Her motto is: "Keep on the sunny side of life." Owing to her willingness to help and her desire to keep things going, she has played an active part in the social life of the school.

CATHERINE HIGBEE

VENETIA, PA.

"Kate"

Philo. Y. W. C. A.

During Kate's Junior year she was thought to be very modest, but the fact that she has joined the ranks of second floor Dixon proves that she is not. She has a keen sense of humor and gets a great deal of fun out of life as well as out of some people. Her highest ambition is to be cast into the world of teachers.

ETHEL HILDEBRAND

POINT MARION, PA.

Philo. Y. W. C. A.

"There's a time for all things."

Ethel boasts of a roving disposition, but nevertheless, has actually been known to stay here over the week-end, that is, when on for Literary.

Her greatest hobbies are getting up early and hiding in wardrobes from floor-teachers during study hour. She expects to win fame some day by teaching primary pupils to make popcorn balls.

JEAN HOOD
MONESSEN, PA.

Clio. Vice-President Senior Class.

*"What comes from Monessen is always good,
Among this year's blessings, we count Jean
Hood;
A thing of rare beauty is her auburn hair,
There's no use disputing, ye gods—she is fair."*

It did not take Jean long to decide what to do or where to go after graduating from Monessen High. She is a born teacher, and C. N. S. is just the place to bring out her strong faculties. With her quiet voice and modest manner, she is destined to be successful as a teacher.

RUSSELL HOUGH
FAYETTE CITY, PA.

"Russ"

Clio. Class Treasurer.

Russ is one of the quiet, reserved, and unassuming fellows of our class. Being the possessor of such sterling qualities as these, there can be no doubt as to his success in whatever occupation may be his. Although not eating butter or bread, or drinking anything stronger than water are characteristics of Russ, our affection for him causes us to humor him in his peculiarities.

"An honest man, close-buttoned to the chin, Broadcloth without, and a warm heart within."

EVELYN HOUGH
GLASSPORT, PA.

Clio.

*"A little nonsense now and then
Is relished by the best of men."*

"Give thy thoughts no tongue" seems to be the maxim Evelyn should follow, for she objects to keeping a secret, but later you see her true self—mischief gleaming from her brown eyes. As for her vocabulary, she must have swallowed the dictionary of the most modern writers. She will either be a teacher of public speaking or of vocal music, for she always practices those, even at the most inopportune hours.

ANNA HUMPHRIES

CALIFORNIA, PA.

"Ann"

Philo. Class Cartoonist.

We have representatives of all accomplishments in our class, but "Ann" surpasses all when it comes to drawing. It is impossible to walk along the main streets of California without being attracted by beautiful, colored pictures, which this young lady has painted for the Red Cross and others.

Besides this talent, she also possesses a charm which has won her many friends, and made her a desirable companion. Fame waits for her.

THELMA HUMPHRIES

CALIFORNIA, PA.

Philo. Junior Contestant.

*"Pretty, happu, kind, and young,
I laughed and danced, and talked and sung."*

"Hump" has grown up with the Normal. She has frequently been cornered by the little chap with wings, but has kept us all in the dark as to whether she is engaged, or just going to be; she has not patronized C. N. S. talent, so one cannot say for certain.

"Hump" is a being who is divinely tall, and who has a dark complexion. Her hobbies are dancing and teaching to please Mrs. Wayt.

VERA HUSTON

HUMBERT, PA.

Philo.

*"Our cheerful, little Vera
Is the Brownie of our class;
The Seniors think she is a dandy pal,
A wholesome, little lass;
Her eyes are brown and smiling,
And coal-black is her hair;
Her manners are beguiling,
And she is always there."*

Brownie is another of the Somerset crowd, and everyone knows they are a jolly bunch. She is very fond of talking, and never seems to run out of jokes. The fact is she sees a joke in most everything. We hope she will always see the bright side of things and make everyone feel happy.

EMILY JOHNSTON

CANONSBURG, PA.

"Emily"

Philo. Y. W. C. A.

"Never neglecting her studies for vain pleasure."

Emily is the quiet girl of our class. She is never seen out of her room during study hours. Besides her school work, she has time for other duties, being Secretary of the Normal School Bible Class at the Presbyterian Church. She is always happy and has a smile for all.

HOWARD JOHNSTON

BROWNSVILLE, PA.

"Doc," "Claude"

"When fate cannot get a man, she sends a woman for him, and she gets him."

Such is Howard's fate, but what could one expect when he is such a good representation of Beau Brummel (plays, dances, etc.)? Is it any wonder he has been snatched from our midst? We might sum up our Claude's history by saying: "He is an all-around good sport, and may the blessings of '18 go with him for he is making a 'Crossland' journey."

NELLIE JOHNSTON

CANONSBURG, PA.

Philo. Y. W. C. A.

"Silence is golden."

We very seldom have had to silence Nellie, for she never speaks unless urged to do so. There was one place, though, where she always responded, and that was in room B, in her Senior year. This little lady elevated herself to Dixon, leaving the staunch, old halls of North to sorrow in her absence. We beseech her to learn to speak out, for it is a woman's privilege.

DOROTHY KAUFMAN

FREDERICKTOWN, PA.

"Dot"

Clio. Editorial Board.

*"Here's to our Dorothy,
So good and so true;
Her virtues are many,
Her faults are few."*

Dorothy has a quiet yet lovable disposition. Her favorite expression is "Listen, girls!" And you may expect to hear something of importance when she speaks. Third floor Dixon is never lonesome when she has finished her evening studies, but her studies always come first. Did you ever hear her say "Well, honest to Jack?"

LAURA KIFER

IRWIN, PA.

Clio. Latin Club.

*"Patient and quiet and studious, too,
This describes Laura, through and through."*

Laura is one of our bright girls; no matter where you see her, she is always busy. She would rather, it seems, spend her recreation hours doing her school work, for her presence is rare in the halls and cloak rooms. We are sure a bright and prosperous future awaits her.

LILLIAN KINDER

MARIANNA, PA.

Philo.

*"So staunch and true
With golden hair and eyes of blue;
To us who do not know her well,
Very timid and sly she seems;
But all her friends will agree to say
That Lillian is a good sport, anyway."*

CARRIE KIRMEYER

WILSON, PA.

Philo. Philo Contestant.

*"Tall and graceful,
Honest and truthful,
Loyal and dutiful,
You will always find Carrie."*

Carrie is a general favorite, and no wonder, as she is one of the most earnest students of C. N. S. There is no doubt left in our minds as to her future.

MYRTLE KOHOUT

CHARLEROI, PA.

Philo.

"If at first you don't succeed, try, try again."

This motto is followed by Myrtle in all her work. Anyone who knows her, and knows her well, knows she is persevering. Possessed of optimism in its fullest measure, she should be a teacher, and a good one at that, but only the future can tell what her vocation will be.

HELEN KOSSACK

GRINDSTONE, PA.

Philo.

"Speech is great, but silence is greater."

Last year, Helen did not get to C. N. S. until the German lesson was well on its way, but, alas, poor girl was compelled to stay with us until very late in the evening. So in the Autumn of 1917, she became one of the North Hall inhabitants. Her hopes, plans, and ambitions are kept tightly under cover, but some day she will disclose them to the world.

LILLIAN LAMBERT

BELLE VERNON, PA.

Clio.

"Content to follow, when we lead the way."

Here's the little girl who never likes to begin anything. This is not due to her inability, though, for as soon as something is started, Lillian follows, even if it is skipping History of Ed. Her good work in the Model School insures her future success as a teacher. No doubt, her specialty will be Domestic Science, for we all know she is crazy (?) about it.

MAUDE LANGHAM

STOCKDALE, PA.

Philo.

*"Be to her virtues very kind.
Be to her faults a little blind."*

Maude seems to be very true to her Alma Mater, as she always comes on the early train, and never leaves until the last train. Maybe coming so early accounts for her sleeping in the English Class. We'll say it's that, even if it did happen Thursday, for Maude is innocent when it comes to dates.

JAMES LA POE

DILLINER, PA.

"Lamie Ja Poe"

Philo. Philo President; Editor-in-Chief of The Calnorsean; Editorial Staff of The Normal Review; Class Orator; Y. M. C. A. Secretary; The Lady of Lyons; The Haunted Gate.

"Lamie" is one of those whole-souled, good-hearted fellows, and is a friend of everybody (most especially, the gentler sex). It is actually a fact that every time he goes down the street, he finds some little lass to escort back to the Dorm.

Whatever he undertakes in life, we feel sure that he will mark it with success.

LILLIE LAUGHLIN

WILSON, PA.

Philo.

This shy, young maiden with dark, brown eyes, you would think had traveled down from the skies, but we find she has traveled from home to school daily for three years. Although she is here only during the day, we find we enjoy her willing spirit always. Her favorite chum is Carrie.

LOURENA LENHART

BELLE VERNON, PA.

Philo.

We all have idols of some kind or other, and Lourena is no exception to the rule. Just think, Lourena's happens to be a man! It is Howard! He is the embodiment of every known, and, we think, every unknown virtue. Lourena's thoughts are always with him. She lives from Wednesday to Sunday and to Wednesday, again. Nevertheless, she has been a faithful student.

ADELAIDE LEQUE

CHARLEROI, PA.

"Adelaide"

Philo.

Adelaide surely must be a very busy little girl, for she never fails to make good recitations in all her classes. She is always bright and sunny—a cheerful sunbeam everywhere she goes. Her hobby is French. She never talks much, but she does things, and that is the essential part.

MILDRED LEWELLYN

CALIFORNIA, PA.

"Mildred"

Philo.

*"Her very tone is music's own,
Like those of morning birds."*

Although Mildred has spent only three years with us, we are sure she will say "I have enjoyed it." Mildred is placed with the "short and sweet" of our class. We mean to say "good looking," too. All those who know Mildred, find in her a true friend, one whose kind-heartedness is always felt.

LOIS LINN

MONESSEN, PA.

Clio.

"To know her, is to love her."

Did Lois ever expound to you any of her theories for the betterment of the world or the abolition of fairy tales? Well, if not, you have escaped the chief argument of your young life. To look at her, you would think "What a dainty, little girl with an impish dimple in her chin," but oh, looks are deceptive! She has a theory of her own on every subject. She has the answer on the tip of her tongue, even before the teachers have time to ask the question. A bright career lies before her.

ELIZABETH P. LOCKE

VESTABURG, PA.

"Biss"

Philo.

"Biss" is one of the few who have been with us for four years. She knows the trials and tribulations of life at C. N. S.; she also knows the way to the various class rooms, but for some reason, prefers the cloak room as her recitation room. Wherever you see "Biss," you see a charming, dark-haired, rosy-cheeked maiden, who is destined to be a teacher.

BELLE LONG

LIBRARY, PA.

"Belle"

Clio. Y. W. C. A.

*"Grace was in her step, Heaven in her eye;
In every gesture, dignity and love."*

We all love Belle, for there is something winning in that quiet, little smile which makes you want to know her better. She is a diligent and earnest student, but she still finds time to work for the Y. W. She is very enthusiastic in this work, and never fails to do her part when her help is needed. We expect to hear of Belle again in this field. Perhaps she will become noted for performin' the duties of a minister's wife.

EDNA MAE LONG

LIBRARY, PA.

"Edna Mae"

Clio. Editorial Board; Y. W. C. A. President; Pan's Anniversary.

*"To those who know thee most, no words can paint;
To those who know thee, know all words are faint."*

You may go from ocean to ocean and not find so true and loyal a girl as Edna Mae. She really does enjoy hikeing, especially in the Allegheny Mountains, near Eagles Mere. She never is indifferent toward her work, and we know she will be successful as a teacher.

*"Her thoughts are as pure as the Angels are,
And to know her is to love her."*

IOME LOWERS LINDSAY

NORTH BRADDOCK, PA.

"Ome"

Philo. Philo Contestant; Editorial Board; The Lady of Lyons; The Haunted Gate; Phi Mu; Latin Club; Y. W. C. A.

*"Rich and rare were the gems she wore,
And a bright, gold ring on her hand she bore."*

"Ome" came to us after graduating from the North Braddock High School. As a Junior here, she was leading lady in the Junior Class Play, and showed great talent. Needless to say, she is one of the most popular girls in the class.

Now, in her Senior year, she has taken unto herself a husband, so Iome's teaching career has ended before it has begun. We extend you our best wishes for a happy and successful future.

MINNETTA LYTLE

EIGHTY-FOUR, PA.

"Minnett"

Clio.

*"Her mirth the whole world required;
She bathed it in smiles of glee."*

*"Minnett is such a tiny lass,
And just so happy, bright, and gay,
That C. N. S. can sometimes be bright,
Even on a gloomy day."*

A little, tip-tilted nose, you might think she a-courting goes, and, if all reports are true, she does manage to go home quite frequently. Just the same, there are others in the same predicament, so count on us to support Minnett.

MELVINA MACFARLANE

FAYETTE CITY, PA.

Clio.

"I am resolved to grow fat and look young till forty."

Melvina is one of the best-natured girls we have. She is a hard worker and always succeeds, even in penmanship. She never shirks from study, and is always ready to help others along. Two years of travel seem to have agreed with her, and we know teaching will, too.

LEONA MARSHALL

CALIFORNIA, PA.

"Leona"

Philo.

"Never do today what you can put off until tomorrow."

Leona follows this motto day by day and it is often the cause of her absence from many of the class rooms.

She has light brown hair, dark brown eyes, and must we say it—a dimple in her chin. She is a very jolly girl to those who know her, and time passes pleasantly when she is around.

ELIZABETH MARTIN

MARIANNA, PA.

Philo. Latin Club.

*"She looked in innocent surprise,
Her wonder showing in her eyes."*

We have had with us these few years a little gem. She passes through the halls like a shadow, and when one places herself so as to stop the progress of this phantom, it smiles and the eyes sparkle and we realize it is Elizabeth. So diligent, thoughtful, and kind is she that her presence is always felt, although she tries to hide herself away and dream—dear knows what!

FRANCES MATZELLE

CALIFORNIA, PA.

"Frankie"

Clio.

*"She that was ever fair and never proud,
Had tongue at will, and was never loud."*

Five days out of the week you may see Frances rushing up or down Wood Street, for

*"From home to school,
From school to home,
Keeps Frankie swiftly moving."*

We know that Frances will be a good teacher, for she has had fine success in the Model School.

Her favorite hobbies are High School teachers, and strolling toward neighboring towns on Sunday afternoons.

ANNA MELNIK

RANKIN, PA.

"Anne"

Clio. Editorial Board; Latin Club.

Anne is one of those rare individuals, mischief loving, yet studious. Her hobbies are penmanship and grammar. If you wish your penmanship accepted, let Anne do it, or, if you wish to decide whether or not a certain word is a noun or a verb, ask Anne. She partakes, now and then, of that joy of being in someone else's room during study hour.

Taken all around, Anne is a good student, a worthy friend, and will be remembered by all.

BESSIE MILLER

BELLE VERNON, PA.

Philo. Latin Club.

"I wish there weren't so many spiders in our agriculture room." No wonder Bessie says this, for you can see spiders crawling around everywhere. It must be pretty much of a nuisance, if Bessie complains about a thing. She is one of our nicest girls, and always does her work well. You can see the result in her splendid recitations. All we can say to you is "Keep it up, you are doing fine."

FAYE MILLER

BELLE VERNON, PA.

Philo.

Faye is a girl whom everyone is glad to meet, because she always greets you with a smile. She is a person who lets things go as they will, and if they don't turn out just the way she wants them, she merely says "I should worry." We never find her really worrying, yet she is not a girl who makes no effort. She tries to do the best she can, and one thing we must say is that she seldom cuts classes. Taken all in all, she is one whom we will never forget.

MARJORIE MILLER

NEWELL, PA.

"Marj."

Philo. Philo Contestant; Latin Club.

*"She talks, she talks, oh, how she talks!
How could we e'er have listened?
She laughs, then weeps, then laughs once more,
Marjorie Miller, she's christened."*

Wind her up and she will entertain you until she is run down. During her Domestic Science course, she managed to upset the cupboard, spilling the jelly over herself and frightening the rest into hysterics. We have never been able to discover whether she was really after the jelly, or just trying to help Miss Lilley.

MARY MILLER

SMITHTON, PA.

Clio. Latin Club.

"A woman, good, without pretense, Blessed with plain reason and common sense."

Our Mary is an ideal little lady. She has a place for everything, and everything is in its place. Mary is heard oft times to sigh for a voice like Mr. Smith's just to be able to reach A instead of an E—. Her manners and life are a standard by which all might prosper.

A. W. MOATS

GRINDSTONE, PA.

"Tony"

Clio. Business Staff; The Lady of Lyons.

Tony has had quite a little experience as a pedagogue, and has exhibited well his adaptability to an educator's life. Take another look at this picture. Can't you see the twinkle in his eye? Tony is a wit, a humorist, and can create a laugh at his will. Again, Moats is very studious. He is also a reader, and may be found almost any time in the Library poring over such dry, heavy literature as "Puck," or "The Ladies' Home Journal." We know that he will rank high in his profession, and he has our best wishes.

ELLA MOLLENAUER

EIGHTY-FOUR, PA.

"Molly"

Clio.

Any time you wish to see Molly after four P. M., just look down the street, and you will see her strolling with "Kat." Molly is fond of dancing, and we hear she attends a few. We often wonder what attraction home (?) has for her.

*"Her voice is as deep
As the rolling seas;
But whoever she meets,
She is sure to please."*

LYDA MOORE

GLADE, PA.

Philo. Y. W. C. A.

*"Lyda likes Spanish and German, 'tis true;
She stands for Philo and Kaufmann, too."*

Behold Lyda, primarily a product of Somerset County, secondarily, of Paradise Alley. If you have ever gone into the dining room on Friday evening, you have surely seen Lyda hunting for a vacant place. Such is her usual fate over the week-ends. Those who do little deeds of kindness for her are amply repaid by a sunny smile and a flash of white teeth.

VIVIAN MOORHEAD

NEW KENSINGTON, PA.

"Vivan"

Clio. Y. W. C. A.

*"Vivan's hair is very light,
Her eyes are very blue;
And to that lonesome Soldier Boy
She will always prove true."*

After teaching awhile in New Kensington, Vivan decided that C. N. S. should be her Alma Mater, and she liked the life here so well that she stayed for the summer term. Her sunny disposition has won for her many friends. She very frequently becomes afflicted with giggles, and if you see signs of them coming, clear out, for it's contagious.

HELENE MOSKOVITZ

DONORA, PA.

Philo. Philo Contestant; Inter-Normal Debater; Editorial Board.

Helene had not spent many weeks at C. N. S. until both teachers and students began to appreciate her ability. Then, in the course of time, Philo awakened to the fact that she had great ability as a debater and orator. She stood by them nobly, making a great success of her part in the contest. She is one of the shining lights of the Class of '18.

"She opens her mouth with wisdom, and on her tongue is the law of kindness."

GLADYS MYERS
MONONGAHELA, PA.

Philo.

*"This is Gladys, eyes of blue, not brown,
Slender form, and no curly hair;
She is seldom seen wearing a frown,
And when something's doing—she's there."*

Gladys exercises the muscles of her face well, for she never ceases talking except in class; there, she speaks only when asked to recite, for she seems to feel that everyone should have an equal chance in the recitation.

ADAH McCAGUE
MONONGAHELA, PA.

Philo. Normal Review Staff.

*"Endurance is the crowning quality,
And patience the passion of great hearts."*

Adah is one of those happy-go-lucky girls who never borrows trouble from anyone. Her favorite pastimes are loafing in the cloak room and skipping penmanship. One class Adah just loves (?) is public speaking; she couldn't think of skipping it. Adah is also a hard worker and always succeeds. She has our best wishes.

GLADYS McCLASKEY
DUNBAR, PA.

"Happy"

Philo. Editorial Board; Y. W. C. A.

"She is happy all day long."

Somewhere within the portals of Dixon Hall, for the last two years, there has lurked a little fairy. We generally think of fairies as being of a light type, but this one possesses the blackest hair and the shiniest, brown eyes you ever saw. Two bright spots burn in her cheeks, and when these are brightest, you may well know fun is at its highest, and the floor teachers of Dixon are righteously indignant. She is one of our best readers, especially when it comes to Irish selections.

HAZEL McCOMBS

VENETIA, PA.

Philo.

*"Of manners, gently; of affection, mild;
In wit, a woman; in simplicity, a child."*

Hazel has plodded cheerfully through her several years at C. N. S., and has now reached her goal. Outsiders think she is very shy, but the occupants of second floor Dixon could tell many a hair-raising experience at 9:45 P. M., in which Hazel was the principal factor. "Slow, but sure" is her motto, and a good one it is for school teachers.

VELMA McCURDY

McKEES ROCKS, PA.

Clio. Y. W. C. A.

Velma is a crack shot at tennis and baseball, and Gym is the only class she has been known to skip. But still she finds plenty of time to knit and crochet for her hope chest. She has spent a great deal of her time planning to go to the Uniontown races in the side car of a motorcycle, but her plans have never been realized. Her common tale of woe is "I could live in peace if I didn't have to take Public Speaking."

MARIE McNULTY

BURGETTSTOWN, PA.

"Marie"

Clio. Basketball.

*"She is good as she is fair,
None, none on earth above her;
As pure in thought as the angels are,
To know her, is to love her."*

Here we have Marie, the girl with eyes of unholy blue. She is the biggest giggler in the Class of '18. Everything makes her laugh—even the members of State Board. Her favorite expression is "Listen, Kid!" Her favorite study is History (?). Her greatest ambition is to take a trip to Pike's Peak. Outside of being a good sport, we aren't worried about her, for we're sure she will make good.

LULA NIEMAN
POINT MARION, PA.

"Lula"

Philo. Y. W. C. A.

Lula is some sport, although she does like to go home almost every week. She never misses a feed, and is very fond of visiting her friends at all times. Poor Wife has quite a time keeping tab on her. We are really afraid she might become a victim of brain fever, because she studies so much (?). Putting all jokes aside, we think she is a loyal class-mate. Here's luck and more to you.

GWENDOLON PEYTON
WEST MONESSEN, PA.

"Gwen"

Clio.

"Knowledge is power."

Gwen is one of Charleroi High's stars. As an honor student, she entered our midst, and has held her place of renown up to the last. When she spoke up in class, we thought that Webster's Dictionary had taken human form, 'cause this lady knew just what she wanted to say, and always said it so that her hearers had to think for awhile to grasp her meaning. We appreciate her very much.

MARGARET PHILLIS
FAYETTE CITY, PA.

Clio. Inter-Normal Debater.

*"Her accomplishments count into hundreds of things,
From a girl that plays, to a toy that sings;
The will to do, the soul to dare,
No matter what it is, Phil is there."*

Phil is one of the happiest girls we have. She has special ability in saying everything she wishes to say just backwards, which leads, sometimes, to funny expressions. She showed great ability in the Inter-Normal Debate, and we are proud of her. You certainly have missed a treat, if you haven't heard her talk in Dutch. She is especially interested in Dom. Science, for she says she believes in preparedness.

PAULINE PIPER

CALIFORNIA, PA.

Philo. Editorial Board. The Lady of Lyons.

*"Polly's good nature, no one can surpass,
She never frowns at even a 'Hill';
She speaks to all with pleasant words,
And is very popular with all our class."*

Polly's favorite expression is "Wee, wee, Madame," and how demurely she can say it. She expects to further her studies, especially Drawing, at some eastern college, and some day we expect to see her name among those of the great artists.

*Polly loves studies (that's true),
But she loves the Viking Dance, too."*

HORTENSE REEDER

BELLE VERNON, PA.

Philo.

"For nothing lovelier can be found in women than to study household good."

This does not mean that Hortense does not pay much attention to her other lessons, because she is always prepared when called upon. No wonder, as she and Bessie always travel together, doing their lessons while riding back and forth, and two minds usually work better than one. Nevertheless, we wonder just why she takes so much interest in Dom. Science.

GLADYS RENSTROM

FAYETTE CITY, PA.

"Gladys"

Clio.

*'Sweet and modest she goes her way,
Always ready to do and say
The kindest things in the kindest way."*

The Class of '18 would be quite incomplete without Gladys, just as much so as her school life would have been without "Virgia," her constant companion. Gladys' good nature and pleasant greetings have won for her many friends, and no member of the Class deserves them more than she.

MILDRED ROBISON

POINT MARION, PA.

"Millie"

Philo. Captain Basketball Team.

Millie graduated from her home High School and came to offer her services to us. She is known by everyone, as she is the captain of our basketball team, and has scored many victories. She can be seen in all parts of the Gym at the same time holding up her hands to get the ball, and—Whizz! Into the basket it goes. Quick and energetic in athletics, she is not behind in her studies, either, and success is before her.

RUTH ROBSON

HAZZARD, PA.

Clio.

*"A lily with its frail cup filled with dew,
Down-bending, modestly snow-white and pale;
Shedding faint fragrance 'round its native vale,
Minds me of thee, sweet Ruth, mild and true."*

During the time she has spent at the Normal Ruth has been a hard worker, but has always kept this motto at hand: "Never trouble lessons until lessons trouble you." Her record in the Model School was good, and we all know she will be a successful teacher.

MARY RUPERT

ALLENPORT, PA.

"Polly"

Philo.

*"For, when with beauty, we can virtue join,
We paint the semblance of a form divine."*

Mary comes from Allenport, and has traveled to C. N. S. for four years to get her sheepskin. Truly, by her industrious efforts, she has earned it. She is recognized as one of the prettiest girls in our class, and the twinkle in those blue eyes has caused more than one fellow to take notice. However, the time has come when the other would-be admirers must stand aside, for, at last, she has decided on The One. She can sing, she can play, she can study, and she can talk. Yes, success and happiness are hers.

ELIZABETH RUSH

DUNNS STATION, PA.

"Rush"

Clio.

This fair-haired maiden began her career at C. N. S. in the Fall of 1916. Those who do not know her imagine she is a very quiet girl, but the girls of North Hall can tell you differently. Where can you find a jollier girl than Rush? There is one thing of which we are quite certain; that is, that she showed good judgment in desiring to graduate with the Class of '18. Success to her.

MARY SARGENT

FREDERICKTOWN, PA.

Clio.

*"Mary, with eyes of blue;
Mary, so bonny and true."*

Mary believes in perseverance, but now, aren't we glad, she has decided to be an "Eighteener." She rises very early each morning to get to school on time. We all know that she will succeed in her future work, if one is to judge by her past experiences.

ANNA SCHNUTH

VENETIA, PA.

Philo.

*"So cheerful, gay, and happy,
So free from all vexation;
In fact, she's better in the proof
Than in anticipation."*

Anna is always happy, perhaps because of her frequent visits home, where, we have been told, the sun always has a particular "Ray" for her. She has hopes of teaching Elocution, but we are inclined to believe that it will be in private lessons. But, hush! It's a secret. Good luck, Anna.

REAH SEANOR

MONESSEN, PA.

"Rhea"

Philo.

*"Very tidy and very trim,
Very industrious and very prim;
With work always ready, and time to spare,
This describes Rhea, we all declare."*

Rhea is one of the willing workers of our class. We are sure that she has no favorite study, for she excels in all. She has been with us for two years and we know what she can do, so we're not worrying about her future success.

BERTHA SIMMON

LINCOLN PLACE, PA.

"Persimmon"

Clio. Y. W. C. A. Basketball.

*"Here's a smile for those who love me,
And a frown for those who hate me;
And whatever sky's above me,
Here's a heart for any fate."*

"Persimmon" is one of the good sports of third floor Dixon, and spends most of her time on the tennis courts. learning to serve swift balls. She is the possessor of a temper all her own, and when she is angry—look out! She is right there.

ELIZABETH SMITH

CALIFORNIA, PA.

"Biss"

Clio. Phi Mu.

Biss is one of the girls who boasts of being a town student. She considers that she has quite an advantage over both the boarding and traveling students, because she can attend the lectures and other attractions at school, and still enjoy freedom. Biss is some singer and thinks kindergarten work is great. When she meets with some discouragement, which seldom happens, she is heard to exclaim, "Well, for the love of Walter!"

MARIE SMITH

NEWELL, PA.

Clio.

Marie graduated from Brownsville High School. Before coming here, she was a student at Wooster College, Ohio. She travels daily from her home across the river. Marie is always happy, anywhere, anytime, especially when that censored letter arrives. She thought when the Tuscania was sunk that the crisis of her life had come, but a favorable message brought back her joyful mood. She is an earnest worker and is a "shark" in Public Speaking.

ISLA SNEAD

FAYETTE CITY, PA.

"Snead"

Philo.

Busy as a bee is this dignified, young lady, and always ready to do her bit. We all wish her much success in her future profession, but lucky is he whom she teaches alone. Her daily prayer is that the war may be over soon and that he may be brought safely to her again.

VIRGINIA SNEED

SPEERS, PA.

Clio. Secretary of Senior Class.

*"This is Virginia, so gentle and meek,
She wears a smile from week to week,
She is a good student and a friend most true,
And would not dream of breaking a rule."*

Her sweet disposition has gained for her the friendship of everyone. She never says much, except when called upon and then she says something worth while. She is sympathetic towards all, and a friend in need.

CLARA SPRINGER

BELLE VERNON, PA.

"Clara"

Clio.

*"She is mretty to walk with,
And witty to talk with,
And pleasant, too, to think on."*

Clara is one of our merry girls. You can hear her laughter coming from the cloak room almost any time of the day. If you don't believe it, find out for yourself, and you will be well repaid for your trouble. She has proven herself to be an all-around girl and a staunch friend. She takes great pride in her work and is always successful. The good will of the class goes with her.

WINSOME STARK

SMITHTON, PA.

"Winsome"

Philo. Y. W. C. A.

*"A maid, demure and fair and tall,
She glides about with graceful feet,
And speaks to all, in tones most sweet."*

Winsome, having tried her ability as a teacher, and finding herself successful, entered our class in the Fall of '16 to get the finishing touches of the profession. If she ever promises she will do something for you, mark our word, you may depend on it being done, and on time, too. This fair-haired maiden is very sedate (if you just get a glimpse of her back), but a look at her smiling face causes you to reverse your opinion.

AGNES STOCKDALE

STOCKDALE, PA.

Clio.

*"A maiden modest, yet self-possessed;
Youthful and beautiful, and daintily dressed."*

Agnes is one of the brightest girls, for she always knows what no one else does. As far as we know, she has not decided on any special line of work, but we know she will make good in whatever it may be.

VIRGINIA STOY

FRANKFORT, KY.

"Stoy" or "Jinny"

Clio. Clio President, '17; Class Reader, '18; Phi Mu.

*"We have a girl named Stoy,
So bonny and so coy,
Who holds the heart of a Southern boy,
To whom some day she'll bring joy."*

We are proud of this little Kentucky lass, especially of her ability in Reading and Vocal Music. There is one thing that bothers us greatly; that is, "Why does 'Jinny' spend so many of her leisure hours in Pittsburgh?"

FREDA STRENSKE

"Strenske"

Philo.

*"She is always making a noise,
She sings to the top of her voice;
She mocks all the Profs. and boys
On her way to school in the morning.
She quizzes the teachers, so bright,
They, then they answer in fright,
But they must admit she is right,
Our dear Alma Mater adorning."*

This rare mixture of oddity, frolic, and fun is sure to be found everywhere spreading sunshine 'midst the gloom. Freda surely will be a valuable asset as a teacher, but she is very much interested in stage work, so we think we cannot hold her long. Success to her.

ELIZABETH STYCHE

BUENA VISTA, PA.

"Libby" or "Billy"

Clio. Class Valedictorian; Basketball; Y. W. C. A.

*"A little lady with bright, brown eyes,
Whose laughter once rang clear to the skies;
Cheers us now with smiles no more,
Since Frank McVicker went off to war."*

Our Billy knows how to take care of her own part, and we have found that she must have substantial proof before she will believe that certain words are adverbs. She is an all-round good athlete, a sincere friend, and good to look upon. We of '18 find her to possess an admirable character and personality.

EDITH TANZER

MONESSEN, PA.

Philo.

Edith is one of the girls with whom we have to be content to see merely during school hours, for she travels. You can always find her looking for "Bee," Lois, or Mollie. Her favorite enjoyments are crocheting or reading fiction in class. But Edith is a good student, and we frequently find her name on the Honor Roll. She has dark, laughing eyes and dimples. Her gay, little laugh and sympathetic ways will always be remembered. By-word: "Girls, I've eaten my lunch."

ADELA TAYLOR

DONORA, PA.

Philo.

"Patience is a virtue."

Being a product of Donora High, she always likes to tell you of the good times she had while there. On all other topics, Adela is quiet. She is very patient, too. This is proven by the fact that she is even patient enough to teach some of the Model School girls to knit. Well, as every virtue receives its reward, we hope that she will not be forgotten.

BERYL THOMAS

MONESSEN, PA.

Clio.

"Cheerfulness makes hard work light."

To no one does this apply more than to Beryl. She is one of our hard workers, and is never found shirking. If you should ask her if she has her Ag. or her drawings finished, she would answer in the affirmative. But in spite of her work, she always has a smile and a cheerful expression.

EVAREE THORPE

PERRYOPOLIS, PA.

Clio.

Evaree hails from the country and is proud of it. She is very much in earnest about her school work, and is never found loafing on her job. She is a happy, big-hearted girl, and is always ready to help one out of a tight place when she can. We have been unable to keep her here over the week-end, and in this way she has forfeited many good times, but, without a doubt she thinks she can have better times at home, and our good wishes go with her.

GERTRUDE TIPPINS

ALLENPORT, PA.

"Tip"

Philo.

By-word: "In the Sweet Bye and Bye."

Gertrude is one of our most dignified Seniors, even if she is fond of laughing, talking, and singing. Did you ever know a girl to be afraid of a mouse, but not of a "Wolf?" You can often hear her say, "Well, for the love of John, who would have thank it?" We are afraid that her teaching career will not be long because of her ability in the arts of cooking, sewing, and darning.

HELEN TOMASEK

UNIONTOWN, PA.

"Helen"

Clio.

Some day if you should happen to look out the back door of North Hall, you would see a tall girl, with dark, curly hair and dark eyes, going into the restaurant. She is familiar to us all; first, to the boarding students, because of her sunny disposition, and, second to the traveling students, for is it not she who hands out the soup at lunch? She is never too busy to help you and is always willing to let you have your way. We predict a great future for Helen.

ELIZABETH TREASURE

MONESSEN, PA.

"Betty"

Clio. Business Staff The Calnorsean; Assistant Editor The Normal Review; Phi Mu.; Latin Club; The Haunted Gate.

We shall never regret the day that this little lass entered C. N. S. It was not long until we heard of "Betty," and what is more, we are still continually hearing of her in the many activities of our school life. Yes, indeed, "She sure kin tickle dem ivories." No wonder Betty is so popular with such a motto as this:

"Be useful where thou livest, that they may Both want and wish thy pleasing presence still."

MARY UNDERWOOD

MONONGAHELA, PA.

Philo.

*"Ever lightsome, ever laughing Mary,
Who always speakest first and thinkest last;
Thy voice is as clear as a bugle blast;
Right from the ear down to the heart it goes."*

Little can be added to the above, for it exactly expresses how we feel about Mary. The gift of God is her's, and no doubt will stay with her. She is a diligent worker, but is greatly annoyed by the four-legged intruders who occupy her locker much of the time. She says they make her nervous, and she just can't study when they are around.

LILLIAN VAN SICKLE

CASSELMAN, PA.

Philo. Y. W. C. A.

"Nothing is more useful than silence."

Lillian is one of our best students—one who seldom speaks, but speaks with wisdom when she does speak. Because of this fact, we are sure that she will grace the profession of her choice. At first we thought that she would follow teaching for her life's work, but it has been whispered that she is intending to specialize in Domestic Science. Well, whatever your choice, we say "God-speed."

FLORENCE E. WARD

WASHINGTON, PA.

Philo. Philo Reader, '17; Y. W. C. A.; Latin Club.

*"Absence makes the heart grow fonder, says
Florence;
Can that be true, I wonder?
It is, we all say,
And so does the fellow from W. & J."*

Florence is very cheerful and energetic. Her motto is "Time for work, and time for play." Her leisure moments are spent playing tennis, but having had a good teacher (Everly), of course she plays the game well. We wish the future may be very good to her.

BLANCHE WEAVER

FREDERICKTOWN, PA.

Philo.

Blanche is a true Philo and a staunch friend, but watch out when she starts to teach. Everybody sits up and takes notice, for she affords a good representation of the term, "cross schoolmarm." Her favorite classes are Public Speaking and History of Ed. She has not yet decided whether she will teach vocal or eighth grade reading next year.

CAROLINE WELTNER

MCCLELLANDTOWN, PA.

Clio.

*"Dainty, pretty, kind, and sweet,
Such a dancer can't be beat."*

We haven't had much of a chance to become thoroughly acquainted with "Cad." since she has been with us only during the Spring terms. But even Prof. Wayt is powerless to dampen her spirits on a rainy day, for her motto is "Laugh, dance, and have a good time." Her two failings are "Jack" and going home over the week-end. We certainly hope that Caroline's good times will continue as the years go by.

BERNICE WHETSEL

FAYETTE CITY, PA.

"Bernie"

Clio.

"Laugh, and the world laughs with you."

All the C. N. S. crowd loves Bernie, because of her pleasing disposition and her never failing, cheerful grin. One question that all would like to ask this little maid is why she is always singing the song written by Dickson, and, oh, yes! what's the attraction in traveling every day?

MARY WILL

MEYERSDALE, PA.

Philo. Editorial Board; Latin Club.

Mary has the reputation of being the jolliest girl on third floor Dixon. She is very fond of singing, and she may often be heard sending forth her favorite song, "It Ain't Gonna Rain No More," in the ears of an unappreciative audience. Her special hobbies are playing tennis and writing letters at frequent intervals to her Sailor Cousin (?). We wonder why Mary feels best when wearing a Sailor Middy? But Mary is a good student, yes, one of our best, and her future is bright.

FLORENZE WILLIAMS

WEST BROWNSVILLE, PA.

Clio.

Such a tiny, little lady, but, oh, so capable is our Florenze. She trips through the halls whistling like a bird, her head thrown back dreamily unawares of her surroundings. At times, one could hardly distinguish her from that well-known character, "Buster Brown."

*"If by luck, you chance to meet her,
With a kind and pleasant smile, please greet her."*

HAZEL WILLIAMSON
WHITELEY, PA.

Philo.

One of Hazel's pet hobbies is to visit in someone else's room during study hour. This is the only rule she breaks at C. N. S. Hazel also takes great interest in her Latin. She has been known to translate her Vergil word by word and then have it upside down.

One reason, and there are many, why Hazel is so well liked by all is because she always has a pleasant smile with which to greet everyone.

HELEN WYCOFF
FAYETTE CITY, PA.

Clio. Editorial Board.

Helen is a quiet, studious girl; she always knows her lessons. Her special hobby is German. We expect someday to hear her teaching that study with much success if—. The girls of North Hall have been worried for some time over Helen's "Craftiness," but we all have hopes for Helen's future success. May her happiness be radiated among the many people with whom she comes in contact as it has been among her classmates.

MARY ADAIR
DONORA, PA.

Clio.

Mary came to us as a Senior from Indiana Normal. We are very glad to welcome her into our midst, for she is very prompt in all her classes and goes around wearing a contented look on her face. She has made many friends in the short time she has been with us. This little verse describes her very well:

*"She is very quiet,
And very shy;
But we know
She'll get over it bye and bye."*

MARJORIE SWEET

NEW KENSINGTON, PA.

"Marj"

Clio. Latin Club; Phi Mu. Senior Class Song.

*"Yes, Music is the Prophet's Art;
Among the gifts that God hath sent
One of the most magnificent."*

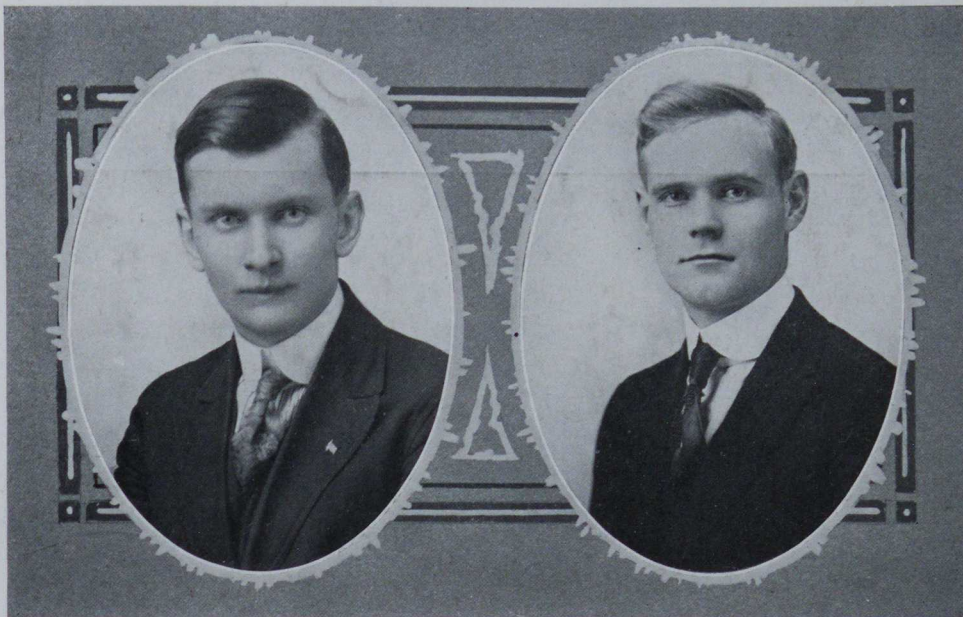

Music is an art, the possessor of which should feel herself luckily endowed. Marjorie is undoubtedly one of the most talented members of our class. Since entering the Music Department of the Normal, she has made rapid progress, and is now fully capable of the duties of a Supervisor of Music.

Although she has a sweet and entertaining voice, her greatest talent is at the piano, where she is an accomplished musician. The ease and rapidity of her execution are extremely artistic, while her tones are reminiscent of the virtuoso.

In fact, we are justly proud of her.

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS

Junior Class History

COLOR—Steel Gray and Scarlet.

FLOWER—American Beauty Rose.

MOTTO—"Climb, though the heights be rugged."

We Juniors have a history of which we may well be proud, and which could serve as an excellent example to other classes, were we given to posing as models. But, being so busy planning for the future, we have little time to spend in reviewing past events and achievements. So, kind and generous reader, you must believe us when we say that our record is, in truth, worthy of our pride.

Long ago, back in '15, our class consisted of forty-eight of the cutest little Freshmen that ever "entered the mill." Now, at the end of our third prosperous year, we count almost three times that number, not of green Freshmen, but of experienced Juniors, who feel capable in every way of "filling the shoes" of the present Seniors, who must soon bid farewell to C. N. S.

As to the future, we use a "Do First and Talk Afterwards" policy (see next year's "Calnorsean" for the results).

Nevertheless, in whatever we may attempt, we propose ever to stand by our colors—steel gray for staunchness and loyalty, and scarlet for courage; to hold dear our flower whose very name signifies Patriotism; to follow our motto which contains the secret of success.

JUNIOR CLASS

Sophomore Class History

The history of our Class dates back to the beginning of the Fall Term in 1916. Unfortunately, our Class has decreased in number since our Freshman year. And, on first thought, you may consider another misfortune: we have none of the stronger sex among us.

The World needs us—the Class of 1920. How much, is only a question of knowing our worth. We, the fairer sex, who number thirty-six, have proved to you our ability by the standards we have reached and kept during the year.

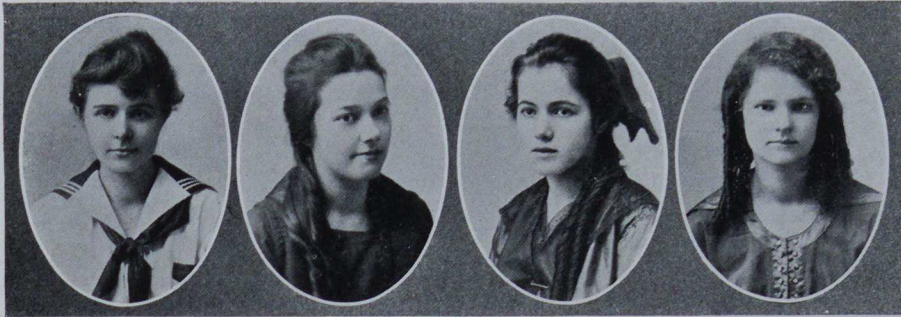

We well know that our goal will be much harder to attain on account of the loss of our fellow-classmates, but we are willing to take the responsibilities in order that our class may be represented in helping “Uncle Sam.” We think we have one of the most patriotic classes in the history of C. N. S.

Our number, though small, is represented by the counties near the Normal, and these counties have given us quality in place of quantity.

We wish to congratulate the Class of 1918 on their successful record during their career here, and to extend our best wishes to each and every member of the Class. It is our intention and purpose to make ourselves equally renowned.

—LOUIE BRADEN.

Clonian Literary Society

COLORS—Blue and Gold.

MOTTO—"Aut, Vincere, Aut Morte."

Forty-seven years ago the Clonian Literary Society was organized in Room M of the California Normal School, placing before its original twenty-five followers the motto, "Aut Vincere, Aut Morte.". Its members have always been true to this ideal—"Either Victory, or Death,"—that was set before them so long ago, and are ever pressing onward and upward under the graceful folds of the Blue and Gold.

At the close of each week, we experience a feeling indescribable, when we hear her halls resound the voices of those delivering an oration or debate. And again, we cherish the fact that we have been given an opportunity to render in this Hall an oral English topic, essay, reading, or other works of literary value which will be of great worth to us.

Each year, new voices solemnly and proudly pledge themselves to join her forces, ever to love and lift her colors to the breezes. Also, each year many go forth into various channels of life to proclaim her teachings.

Clio was the first Society to be established in the Normal School, and her sons and daughters have resolved that she shall be the last to fall.

CLIO LITERARY SOCIETY

Philomathean Literary Society

COLORS—Red and White.

MOTTO—"Energy Wins Over Fate."

If by chance you are given the opportunity to explore the buildings of C. N. S., you will find on the left side of the Main Building, away at the top, a secluded little room. As one enters this mysterious place, he seems to be engulfed in a quiet embrace and his thoughts soar to higher and more worthy ambitions. The Red and White of the walls cast forth a rich, warm glow, and stir the heart of every interested observer. This is our Philo Hall, the home of the Philomathean Society. It isn't false pride that makes us worship our Society and its Hall, but it is the ever present realization of the benefit we have derived from participation in its activities. We wish to make Philo such that in later years, when we return to our Alma Mater, we should still feel the call of this sacred spot, and shall be welcome as before within its walls.

PHILO CONTESTANTS

Clonian-Philomathean Junior Society

At the beginning of the school year, the members of Clio Junior and Philo Junior Societies thought it better to have a joint society, owing to the scarcity of members in the Philo Junior Society, so they were united under the supervision of Prof. Harry Werner. It was given the name "Clonian-Philomathean Junior Society." This plan has proved successful.

The Society has been highly praised by the members of the faculty for the splendid work which it has been doing. The programs have always been carried out successfully. Along with these, we have had many special programs, including Hallowe'en, Thanksgiving, Christmas, Patriotic, Lincoln and Irish programs. The Thanksgiving program was noted for the pantomime, "The Witch's Daughter." We expect to close the school year with a Patriotic program.

The debates dealing with prominent questions of the day, have been a stimulus in awakening interest in current events. The Society also has a number of members who are talented in music and original story writing, which has been well shown in the various meetings.

We, the older members of the Society, take this means to extend a hearty welcome to all new members who have joined the Society since its organization in 1916. The aim of the Society is to give the members of the Freshman and Sophomore Classes an opportunity to develop their literary ability. It is with pleasure, therefore, that each member of the Society goes every Wednesday to prepare himself for future literary work.

Y. W. C. A.

The work accomplished by the Young Women's Christian Association this year has been very gratifying to all. Our forces have engaged in a broad field of work, and have successfully carried forward many worthy undertakings. The co-operation of the teachers and students has been greatly appreciated by those who had the responsibility of the welfare of the Association. Especially do we feel deeply indebted to the Advisory Board for its kind and helpful assistance.

The Bible Study work of this year is one feature long to be remembered, especially the last five weeks of the Winter Term, when the classes were organized and taught according to the Northfield Program. The classes, containing ten members each, were under the leadership of the Cabinet Members, the leaders receiving special instruction from one of the members of the Advisory Board. Ninety and seven-tenths per cent of the Dormitory girls were enrolled in this work, and the average attendance was ninety-three and one-tenth per cent of those enrolled. Club Organization was the Wednesday evening feature of the Spring Term.

The girls responded nobly to our Christmas Bazaar. This, and also the successful Committee Work, has made it possible to arrange to send four delegates to Eagles Mere Conference, this summer.

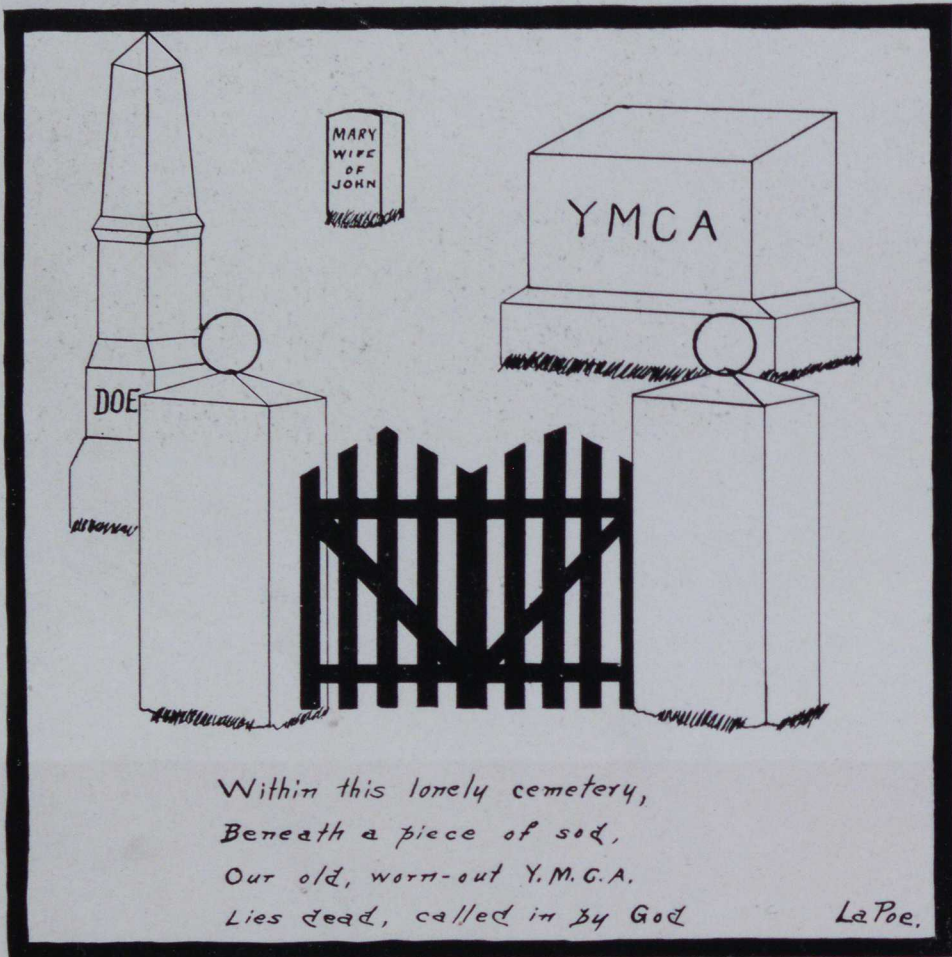

The Seniors wish the Y. W. C. A. much success the coming year.

Phi Mu

The month of November, 1917, saw a new organization formed within the walls of C. N. S., namely Phi Mu. Twenty-one interested girls compose the organization, and all year have enthusiastically carried out their motto: "Musicianship, friendship, and loyalty."

The following officers were elected: President, Elizabeth Treasure; treasurer, Lavon Hicks; accompanist, Elizabeth Treasure; leader, Marjorie Sweet; assistant leader, Rose Gross. A committee, composed of Rose Gross, Beryl Dell, and Esther Edwards, drew up a constitution. Under the guidance of their musical director, Professor Smith, its members have aimed to improve themselves in knowledge, appreciation, and rendition of music. Every meeting of the organization has been well attended, instructive, and pleasant. Yet, their program did not consist of all work and no play. Several times during the year, parties were held. Many times the organization appeared at some special entertainment in Chapel or Vesper services. Pins have been chosen to link the members into a closer friendship during the coming years. We are sure that not one member can ever forget the days spent with "Dear Old Phi Mu."

A Retrospect

Of Latin and its charm, I sing,
Since we have struggled through its mazes;
Ceaselessly we seemed to toil,
But great is the reward of effort.
Remember first your Freshman Latin book—
The first love of your budding youth,
Rich in words new to you.
To Caesar's Gallic Wars there was no end;
We learned how "veni, vidi, vici."
An eloquent man was Cicero
Who next claimed out attention.
"Ad Catalinam," "Pro Archias,"
Familiar to you all must seem.
And last of all, most beautiful,
The verses of Vergilius Maro.
And now, you must with me admit
That we have loved them all.

California Alma Mater

Sub arbores patet campus;
Inter aula est Alma Mater;
Vivat, crescat amor tibi;
California domus est.

Prope fluem, schola nostra,
Cara nobis ad aeternum;
Pectore imo te amamus
California domus est.

Prima luce, meridie,
Multa nocte, flovimus
Multos annos nomen tuum;
Et lucernam sequemur

Iubilare mater; Salve!
Laudes tuas nos cantamus;
Memoriae carae semper
Per vitas nostras manent.

Girls' Basketball

CAPT. ROBISON

There being no boys' football or basketball teams this year, the girls' basketball team has furnished us our sole athletic amusement. They gave us some very fine games, and are to be congratulated on their success. It has been a hard season for them. The coach failed to appear at the beginning of the season, and a new one had to be found. This took time, and it was not until after Thanksgiving that they began their regular practice. But how could they help being successful with "Baby Chester" and Hamilton on the team? We expect to hear great things from "Ham" next year, as she is the only one of the Varsity left.

Father's Soliloquy

"I dreamed a dream, and then awoke
And laughed, for it was funny;
I dreamed my daughter had written home,
And didn't ask for money."

"When he comes walking down the street,
All you can see is his two feet."—Guess who.

Mary—"Jane, what is your husband's usual income?"

Jane—"Oh, about midnight."

George (when meeting an old friend)—"How is everything at your place, now?"

John—"Oh, she is all right."

John Matta—"Was Solomon the fellow who had 100 wives?"

Wendell—"Yes. Why do you ask?"

John—"Didn't he say 'Give me liberty, or give me death'?"

Doctor—"Uh-m-m! Your complexion is quiet sallow. You must diet."

Patient—"What'll I dye it with, Doc?"

Momyer—"Isn't she a beauty?"

La Poe—"Yes, more beauty than brains, I fear."

Momyer—"Oh, well, when I want wisdom, I consult our encyclopedia."

Harry Haight to La Poe—"To whom are you going to donate the Year-book, this year?"

The 1918

La Poe—"We do not donate it to anyone, but we are going to dedicate it to the Soldier Boys, if that is what you want to know."

Would-be Aviator—"What's the hardest thing about aviation, Colonel?"
Colonel (quickly)—"The ground, sir."

Freda Perovsky (writing her letter of application)—"I'm a brunette, five feet tall, and weigh 150 pounds."

Miss Coleman—"Is silage a new plant?"
Prof. Claypool—"No, it's sauerkraut made from corn."

Harriet (pointing to pillows on bed)—"Why do you sleep with your head there?"

Helen—"Because we keep our feet at the other end."

There are meters of rhyme,
And meters of tone;
But the best of all meat
Is to meet 'er alone.

Doctor—"Pardon me, but before beginning this work, I must haxe my drill."

Patient—"Sakes alive! Can't you pull a tooth without a rehearsal?"

Craft—"That makes me so vexed I could crush a grape."

Mr. Cropp (getting oratorical)—"Looking backward into the future, we cannot conceive of the wonderful possibilities that will be afforded us. We should all grasp these splendid opportunities, and, in doing so, we shall retrograde to our highest possible levels." (Whispers heard.)

Advancement

When a Freshman does not understand the Professor's questions, he says, "Pardon me, but I did not understand you;" the Sophomore says, "W'at, Sir?" the Junior says, "I didn't get you;" the Senior says, "Huh?"

A Junior's Lament

My brains are tired,
My hands are weak;
My head is bald, I wear a wig,
And all because I study Trig.

Prof.—"I hope you have a pleasant vacation, and come back knowing more than you do now."

Polite Freshie—"Thanks. Same to you."

We Ask You!

If you don't feel just right; If you can't sleep at night; If you moan and sigh; If your throat is dry; If you can't smoke or drink; If your grub tastes like ink; If your heart doesn't beat; If you've got cold feet; If your head's in a whirl—Why don't you marry the girl?

I Am Proud Of

My husband—Iome Lindsay.
My deep, rich voice—Clara Springer.
My marvelous piano accomplishment—Pauline Piper.
My grace in dancing—Virginia Stoy.
My keen sense of humor—Prof. Wayt.
My ability to pull off a joke—Prof. Field.
My country—Wendell Momyer.
My Liberty Bond—Everyone who owns one.
My Diploma—the Graduate.

Color Harmony

Freshmen are green; Sophomores are blue; Juniors are maroon(ed); Seniors are (well) read.

Always think twice before you speak, and then talk to yourself.

He is a wise man who can't tell his wife the color of his stenographer's eyes.

The hardest thing for a woman to do is to make up her mind in a millinery shop.

The hardest thing for a man to do is to write a letter to a woman that doesn't mean anything to her.

Freshman—"I'm plum stuck on that peach of a berry tone."

Sophomore—"You and him'd make a swell pair (pear). He's a lemon with a ghoulish Adam's apple."

Freshman—"Sour grapes."

Sophomore—"Why, you poor prune! I wouldn't give a fig to have a date with him." ..

He failed in Physics, flunked in Chem.,
They heard him softly hiss:
I'd like to catch the guy who said
That "Ignorance is bliss."

Miss Huston (during German discussion)—"Does little L die?"

Miss Schnuth—"Yes, in the next paragraph."

The 1918

Household Hints

What to do when you spill something on the table cloth: Spread a piece of bread and place it upside down over the spot; the butter will keep the bread from slipping off.

If the razor blade is riveted firmly to the handle, it makes a novel and attractive butter knife.

Take your half-worn razor strop to the harness maker and have it made into a nobby Spring belt.

An appropriate sign for the Registrar's Office: "Come unto Me, all ye who owe bills, and receive your receipt."

Annual Questions

Is this clock right?
Where are the men?
Do you have to be in at ten o'clock?
Do we have to go to Vespers?
Where is the Physics Laboratory that you read about?
What is the C. G. S.?
Why do the lights go out at ten o'clock?
Where's the English lesson?
What became of our Athletics?
Got your Physics problems?
You don't have to go to breakfast, do you?

Evolution (in school)

Freshman, Irresponsible; Sophomore, Irrepressible; Junior, Irresistible; Senior, Irreproachable.

"Ruth, are you going out with that new fellow?"
"For the love of 'John,' no."

Daughter—"Oh Daddy, buy me that knitting bag! It's the dearest thing I ever saw."
Daddy (looking at the price tag)—"You're right."

Bertha—"Did you hear about the murder over in the Normal School garden, yesterday evening?"

Harriet—"No! What, a murder over there?"

Bertha—"Yes, Prof. Claypool killed a potato bug."

Harriet—"Poor thing."

Prof. Claypool—"Miss Carson, how would you care for a lawn in the Fall?"

Miss Carson—"I'd allow the grass to grow."

Prof. Claypool—"All right, you may take care of mine."

Miss Carson—"I will be engaged then."

Found written in blue chalk in front of the Main Building, on the walk: "Tony and Mike are awaitin' Pauline Piper. Pauline is are girl. We like Pauline Piper. Pauline Piper has red cheeks."

Horrors! "The Leper" was murdered in Public Speaking!

Heard in Ag.

Josephine Camp (pointing to some timothy)—"Oh, that's timothy."

Grace Calhoun—"Oh, no, that's hay."

Miss Brunton in Public Speaking—"Your eye says it's there, your feet says it's there, and your hand says it's in between. Now, where is it?"

Two Normal School girls getting their shoes shined: "We should pay only half price; her shoes have cloth tops, and mine are oxfords."

She—"Dearest, will you love me always?"

He—"Sweetest, I have loved you all the ways I know."

Unless a man looks silly when he tells a girls he loves her, he doesn't mean it."

"Some write a joke to make us laugh, Others donate their photograph."

L'Envoi

Four years! Do you remember, dear,
The first day I met you?
A Freshman Picnic, wasn't it,
And we got lost—we two;
And wandered far off into the woods
And walked five miles or so—
Goodness! But doesn't that day seem
A thousand years ago?

Four years! The happiest, I suppose,
That we shall ever see.
Studies? A few, but not enough
To bother you or me.
Hard work? Of course. Too hard sometimes
All day and all night, too;
Life would be harder still, I think,
If there wasn't work to do.

Four years! We've wasted all too much;
There's no use to pretend
We didn't. Parties, theatres,
And dances without end;
The movies—Rex and Bailey's,
And foolishness galore;
But we'd probably do just the same
If we had four years more.

Four years! And this is our last night;
Well, why should we be sad?
We've learned the best C. N. S. knew,
And given the best we had.
You love me, so you say, and I
Love you; what cause for tears?
We have a life ahead of us
For twenty times four years.

Our Duty

A crisis is now upon us,
We are trembling beneath its tread;
It has called away a million
Who'll be numbered with the dead.
But our Boys are up and ready
To face this cruel foe;
Although they hate to leave us,
Across the waves they go.

Our forefathers fought before us,
In seventy-six and sixty-one;
They bravely fought those battles
'Til victory was won.
Hist'ry reepats itself, they say,
And what they say is true;
Our Boys all have the Spirit—
They'll either die or do.

And the girls, they too, are ready
To fight this cruel fate;
They're knitting, knitting, knitting,
From early until late;
Sweaters, wristlets and helmets,
Scarfs and socks galore;
To cheer and warm our Soldier Boys,
Whose hearts are sometimes sore.

We students, I know, can never
Be able to realize
The cause of all the anguish
Beneath the blood-red skies.
The skies that reflect the sufferings
Of a distant, war-rent land;
All the sorrow and anguish is penned there,
Like footprints in the sand.

Oh remember, C. N. S. students,
We are soon to say "Good-bye"
To some more of our brave boys
Who'll either do or die;
We have given ninety-nine
From beneath the Red and Black;
Some day, these walls with open arms,
Might welcome them all back.

They left their Alma Mater,
To fight for you and me;
They've done their part, and they'll do still more,
While they're across the sea;
Our President has gone to war,
And left the Seniors here;
Remembering all his charming ways
And works throughout the year.

May we have just as much spirit,
To uphold his country's cause,
As he had through all his Senior year,
Without a sigh or pause;
He won a place in all our hearts,
He was so good and true;
So let's help him in every way,
Our utmost now to do.

Write a letter to the "Boy"—
The Nephew of Uncle Sam;
Tell him of home and school life,
He'll call you a precious lamb.
He'll appreciate your kindness,
Your boxes, whate'er you send;
So think of the boys who are lonesome,
And some comfort to them send.

Cheer our boys who are fighting
For Democracy, over there,
Pray for them, hope for them, love them,
In the future days to be.
Be proud of our young heroes,
May their courage never lag;
To love, uphold and honor
America's Beautiful Flag.

—MARJORIE MILLER.

Lest We Forget

When far away from C. N. S.,
And lessons are all o'er,
How gladly we shall recall
Our visits to "English Four."

For was it not that then and there
Our fate for us it meant,
When we received the lesson plan
From the weekly "Independent."

And oh, how burdensome it was,
When Mrs. Field said of yore:
"According to the Model,
Analyze sentences 1, 2, 3, and 4."

Oppressing days to us they were,
When laboring with such lessons;
But how we hailed the ringing bell,
Which ended our English sessions.

—B. I. G.

A Statement from the Editor and Business Manager

We take this means of extending our thanks to each and every one who has contributed anything, be it great or small, towards making The 1918 Calnorsean a success. The splendid co-operation of the Faculty, the Editorial Board, the Business Staff, the Senior Class, the Photographer, the Engraver, the Publisher, the Advertisers, and All Others who have had any share in its making has been greatly appreciated.

We who have had charge of the work are only human, and we ask you to notice the mistakes with "a forgiving eye," for we all know that "to err is human."

We hope that its perusal will be as pleasant to the reader as its making was to us, for we have appreciated the opportunity of being of some service to The Class of 1918.

With best wishes for your future success as Alumnæ, we are,

Respectfully yours,

JAMES LA POE, Editor-in-Chief.

EARL E. BURTON, Business Manager.

Southwestern State Normal School

CALIFORNIA, PA.

Trained teachers for the Schools of Southwestern Pennsylvania obtained at the Southwestern State Normal School, California, Pennsylvania. Many Normal graduates receive $70 or $80 the first year, though the law allows $60 as a minimum salary.

No other Institution offers so much for $220 per year. Music Department contains expert instructors whose equal can hardly be found in the best Conservatories. Rates are unusually low. Special Departments of Drawing, Manual Training, Domestic Science, Public Speaking, Physical Training and Penmanship contribute very much to the training of the graduate.

Our TRAINING SCHOOL compares favorably with any to be found anywhere. Large Library of well selected books and magazines. Library has been re-decorated and lighted; Science Hall has received new floors, lighting system, and has been painted inside and out. A new Refrigerating Plant has been added to the equipment of the Kitchen. The Main Building has been re-roofed. The Heating System will be greatly modified and improved during the coming summer.

There are about 100 stars in our Service Flag.

Students are urged to avail themselves of the unexcelled opportunities in this State owned Training School.

The Normal School Service Flag contains over one hundred stars, and this number is being constantly increased. Service Flags in the Schools and Churches in your home communities bear witness to the fact that scores of your friends are doing their duty to the fullest possible extent. But what are we doing—are we doing all we can? Let us have an introspection, decide to do more, and GET BUSY. One girl who is a member of our graduating class said that her first month's wages next Fall would be spent for a Liberty Bond—Was that you?

Thoughts About the Class of 1918

In our Parks, we have a large Cropp of Sweet Williams. Our Piper, who lives in a cozy Dell, under a Linn, in the Senior Camp, furnishes us with charming music, accompanied by the beautiful notes from a Martin. We are industrious, too, for we have a Coleman, who mines Black Cole, which is sold at a Long Booth, nearby. We have a Taylor, two Smiths, a Kaufman (merchant), and four Millers, so we are kept well supplied with the necessities of life. We have provided ourselves with a Sargent and a Marshall to restore order, should anyone try to jump over the Moats. Though we work with a Will and do things in a Rush, we are always Blythe. We are never Dull and never Gamble, and we are always blessed with Treasure. Seven of our Class have gone, and others will go later, to Frantz (France).
