The Madonna of the Trail

Grave, steadfast eyes look down the Nemacolin Trail and with serenity watch the vast numbers that pass daily.

The slow tortuous trek over the rough unmarked Allegheny Mountain in a cumbersome covered wagon seems a fantastic dream to those who skim over the hard surfaced road today. Yet the pioneer mothers helped blaze the trail that became a great National Highway.

Here George Washington passed and after him the frontier travel that opened the great West.

It is fitting that The Madonna of the Trail—tenderly holding her children—should look upon the results of her valiant and courageous efforts, flowing underneath her eyes on the Nemacolin Trail.

Madonna of the Trail

Over the

Nemacolin Trail is that path blazed by the Delaware Chief, Nemacolin, who came to settle this great, wealthy tract of land, owned by the Ohio Company—a group of Virginia traders.

Nemacolin's original path led from Wills Creek (Cumberland) to Griest's Plantation (near Connellsville) then back over the Summit, and down the valley toward the "Forks of the Ohio"—(Pittsburgh).

This trail played an important part in the history of the French and Indian Wars.

Over this trail Nemacolin went to his encounter with de Jumonville and here was fired the shot that started one of the longest and most portentous wars of history.

Over the Nemacolin Trail went the hushed feet of those who carried the dying Braddock to his last resting place, and a few days later, the hurrying feet of Washington's troop on their return to Virginia after the battle at Fort Necessity.

Nemacolin Trail

Later the pack trains came over the same trail, carrying the gay adventurers who sought wider boundaries in the far West; then covered wagons with the pioneer family that went to find new homes in the far places.

Before long a constant stream of wagoners travelled over the trail with supplies for Washington.

This widened and expanded trail became called the National Pike—the main highway over the mountains to the West.

The wagoners were fast drivers—some called “Sharp shooters”—drove as much as twenty miles in a day!—and these began to advocate the improvement of the road which was finally done by the state of Pennsylvania.

Today—one of the most beautiful spots on the National Pike is the graceful curve near here where the tall poplars lift their proud heads to the sky in tribute to the vast horde that pass over this historic Nemacolin Trail.

THE OLD BRADDOCK ROAD

THIS TABLET MARKS A WELL PRESERVED SPAN OF THE OLD BRADDOCK TRAIL, ONE OF THE MOST HISTORIC PIONEER HIGHWAYS IN ALL AMERICA. HERE, NEUMAGLIN AND HIS ASSOCIATES BLAZED THE TRAIL THAT BECAME A NATIONAL HIGHWAY.

HERE PASSED THE LASTEN PACK HORSE TRAIN THAT CARRIED THE FIRST SETTLERS TO THE FIRST ANGLI-SAXON SETTLEMENT WEST OF THE ALLEGHENY MOUNTAINS.

HERE GEORGE WASHINGTON, THE YOUTHFUL AMBASSADOR, WITH HIS ESCORT PASSED ON HIS WAY WITH A MESSAGE TO THE FRENCH FORCES. OVER THIS ROUTE MARCHED CAPTAIN WILLIAM TRENT WITH HIS VIRGINIA SOLDIERS EQUIPPED TO BUILD THE FORT AT THE "FORES OF THE OHIO," NOW PITTSBURGH.

AFTER BEING DRIVEN OFF BY THE FRENCH, THE SAME SOLDIERS, UNDER ERICSON WARD, RETREATED BY THIS ROAD.

OVER THIS GROUND, ON THAT DARK AND RAINY NIGHT, MARCHED COLONEL GEORGE WASHINGTON WITH HIS VIRGINIA TROOPS TO ATTACK JONKOVILLE IN HIS HIDDEN CAMP FOUR MILES NORTH OF HERE.

THAT MARCH ENDED IN THE FIRST CLASH OF ARMS WHICH OPENED THE FRENCH AND INDIAN WAR THAT ENDED IN BRINGING FRANCE FROM AMERICA. OVER THIS ROUTE CAME THE FRENCH AND INDIANS TO ATTACK WASHINGTON AT FORT NECESSITY, ONE MILE EAST OF HERE.

HERE, PASSED IN PROUD ABRAY THE ILL-FATED BRADDOCK ARMY, AND BY THIS ROUTE RETURNED ITS BLEEDING REMNANT AFTER THE DISASTROUS BATTLE.

BY THIS FRONTIER ROAD UNDER GENERAL DANIEL MORRIS, CAME THE SOUTHERN WING OF THE U. S. ARMY THAT QUELLED THE WHISKEY INSURRECTION.

HERE, FOR MORE THAN SEVENTY YEARS THROUGH THIS CONVERGING POINT FLOWED THE FRONTIER TRAVEL THAT PREPARED A WESTERN HAVEN FOR CIVILIZATION. THIS WHETL WORN CHAIN IS A VENERABLE MONUMENT TO A PAST AGE, THE LAST SPAN THROUGH A MOUNTAIN FASTNESS THAT LINKED THE EAST WITH THE WEST.

Old Braddock Road

This tablet marks a well-preserved scar on the Old Braddock Trail, one of the most historic pioneer highways in America.

This road, originally stretching from Cumberland to Wheeling, today has been extended to Baltimore on the east and St. Louis to the west.

Nemacolin and his associates, George Washington, Jumonville, General Braddock, and General Daniel Morgan, are a few of our historic heroes who have made this highway famous.

Here for more than seventy years through this converging point flowed the frontier travel that prepared a western haven for civilization. This wheel worn chasm, is a venerable monument to a past age, the last span through a mountain fastness that linked the East and the West.

THE MONOCAL

Fort Necessity

Long rifles cracked from the bush. Paint bedaubed savages lurked at the edge of the forest. Sturdy soldiers kept a steady fire on the timber.

Inside this crudely-constructed log stockade, a twenty-two year old commanding officer strove to give heart to his haggard, hungry, dejected band of less than four hundred men—soliders of the King of England and the American Colonies.

The Commander was Lieutenant Colonel George Washington, and he was resisting an attack of more than nine hundred French and Indians on Fort Necessity, a hastily-built haven in Great Meadows, about twelve miles east of Uniontown. The time was July 3, 1754.

Today outlines of the old breast works—the “Fort” was hardly more than that—are rising again. Laborers are busy putting up the log-stockade, clearing a plot of 332 acres surrounding the position and marking the battlefield.

Coach Steers, with the assistance of "Bus" Edwards and "Tuffy" McManus, commenced work on a squad of sixty candidates which contained only fifteen veterans. After a great deal of hard work and much careful forethought and planning, the squad was finally divided into the varsity and junior varsity. On the heavier and experienced squad depended the success or failure of the coming season.

The opening game of the season found California dedicating its new athletic field and defeating Millersville 13-6.

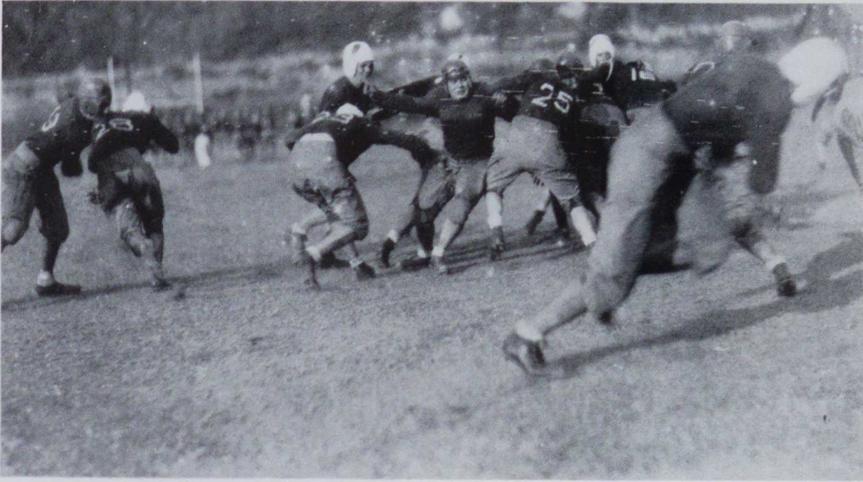

Slippery Rock

The strong Slippery Rock team was held to a lone touchdown by the California warriors, Final score:— Slippery Rock 6, California 0. This game marked the end to athletic relations with Slippery Rock State Teachers College.

California scored a touchdown and extra point in the last few minutes of play to defeat Fairmont Teachers 7-6. This game was broadcast through station WMMN to listeners throughout this section.

Edinboro

At Edinboro, California came through with another 7-6 victory.

THE MONOCAL

Bloomsburgh

After a long journey over the hills of Pennsylvania, California was held to a scoreless tie by the Bloomsburgh Tutors.

Shippensburg

Shippensburg had too much "Green" material for California to overcome. Green proved to be a team in himself and walked away with a 13-10 victory.

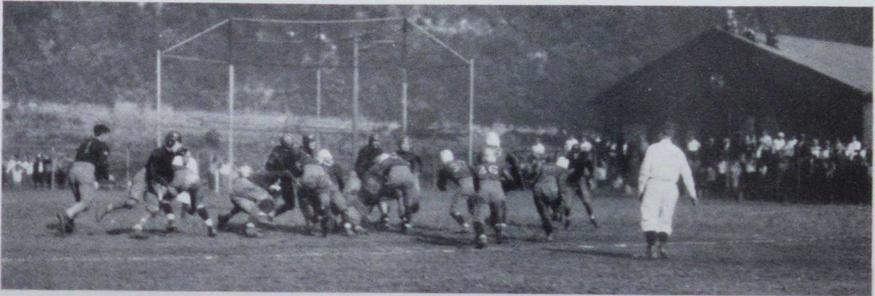

THE MONOCAL

Clarion

This game was played as a part of the celebration of Dad's Day. The boys showed them that they were at California for something else besides an education and romped off with a 6-0 victory.

Indiana

The highly touted Indiana eleven was held to a 0-0 score as the first game of a double-header for the benefit of the unemployed. This game marked the close of the football season.

THE MONOCAL

Basketball

The California basketball season was not successful, from the standpoint of games won. Although there were six letter men from last year, a difficult schedule was encountered, which proved disastrous for the season. The team was also handicapped by meeting opponents on successive nights.

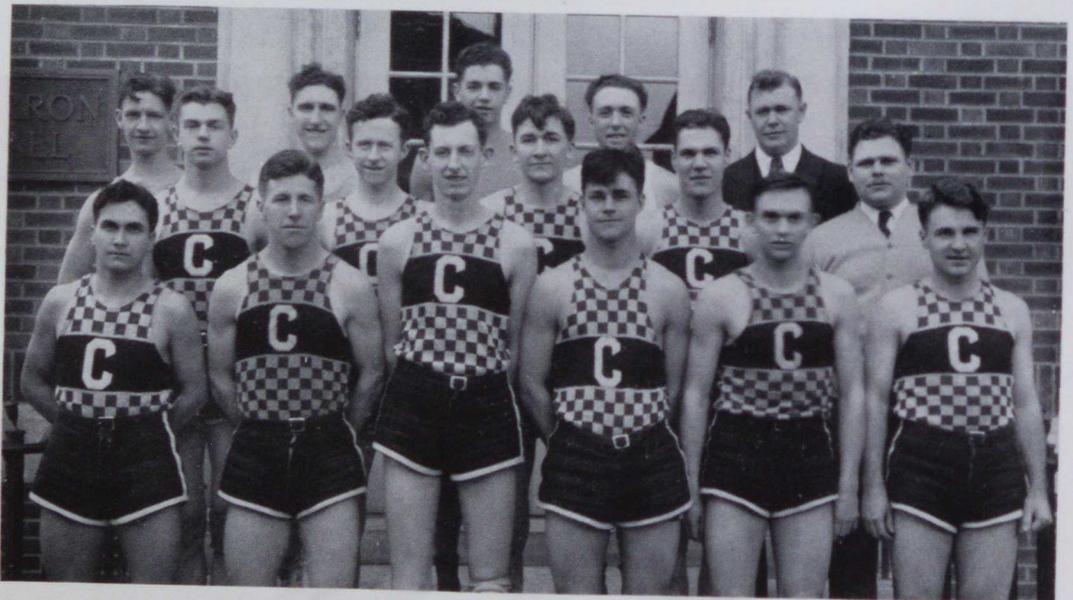

Four games were won out of a schedule of fourteen. All of these games were won on the new Herron Hall floor. Clarion, Lock Haven, Edinboro, and Indiana were the victims.

In the opening tilt of the season, California played a close and interesting game with the strong St. Vincent five. St.

Vincent finally came out on top with a 26-25 score. This game also helped to dedicate the new gymnasium, Herron Hall. No games were won until the latter part of January. The boys then proved that they could win ball games by grabbing three straight from Edinboro, Clarion and Indiana.

Zoretic was the star of the Edinboro game by shooting the winning basket from past the middle of the court.

Three veterans will graduate from this year's squad, Neill, Sisson, and Cree. Although their sensational playing will be missed, we may expect a much brighter season next year. We all look forward to the opening of the new basketball season.

THE MONOCAL

Track

California's track and field team appeared early in the season as the finest all-around aggregation in the history of the school. With a goodly number of lettermen returned, and a corps of fine freshmen advancing to the varsity ranks, Coach Steers found himself with some promising athletes.

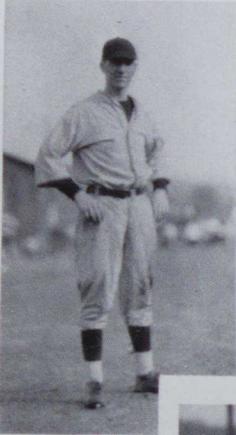

In the triangular meet at Indiana, Clarion copped first, Indiana second, and California third. California was defeated later in the season by Shippensburg and Clarion. Buell, Henderson and Mathues were the point-getters for California in all of the meets.

THE MONOCAL

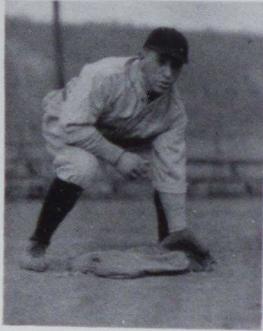

Baseball

The opening of the '31 season found California with a strong array of veterans, led by Captain "Al" Cree. This sport has so steadily increased in popularity that it was a success not only from the standpoint of games won, but from the keen interest and enthusiasm as shown by the student body.

Zoretic
Drum

Feldman

The infield combination settled down to Kleckner, Zoretic, Feldman and Hazelbaker. Drum, Huston, and Sembower were the stalwarts in the outfield. Kent and Zaharawicz formed the catching array with Newman and Rahnke the other half of the battery-men.

THE MONOCAL

Two games—Monessen Independents and California High School—were won during the season, and three were lost—two to Fairmont and one to St. Vincent.

With a wealth of varsity material back this year, California fans may expect a very successful season.

THE MONOCAL

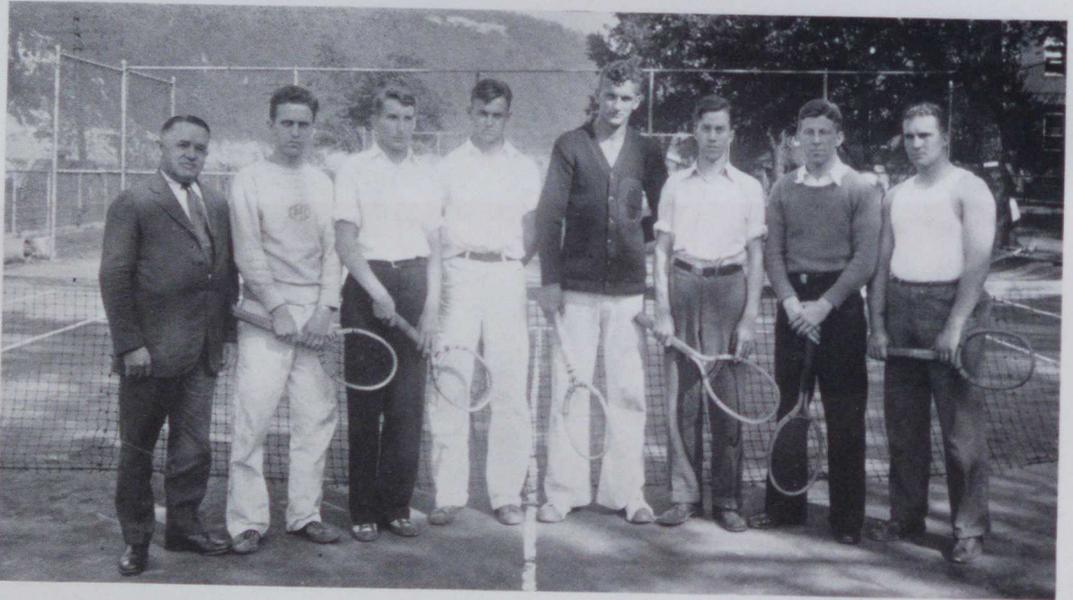

Tennis

As for the past several seasons, California's 1931 varsity tennis team was composed of exceptionally good players, and a splendid record was made by the cohorts of Dr. I. C. Keller.

The California netmen started their season with a pair of victories over Fairmont Teachers College and Brownsville Y.M.C.A. "Seezix" Williams captained the team, and during his four years of inter-collegiate playing, he was defeated for the first time in the Fairmont match. He was later defeated by "Billy" Jacobs who was captain of the Pitt Freshman team. Also, the defeat administered the team by the Pitt Freshman was the first in four years.

California's 1931 record was ultra-impressive, and the prospects for the 1932 team look better.

TENNIS

THE MONOCAL

Cross Country

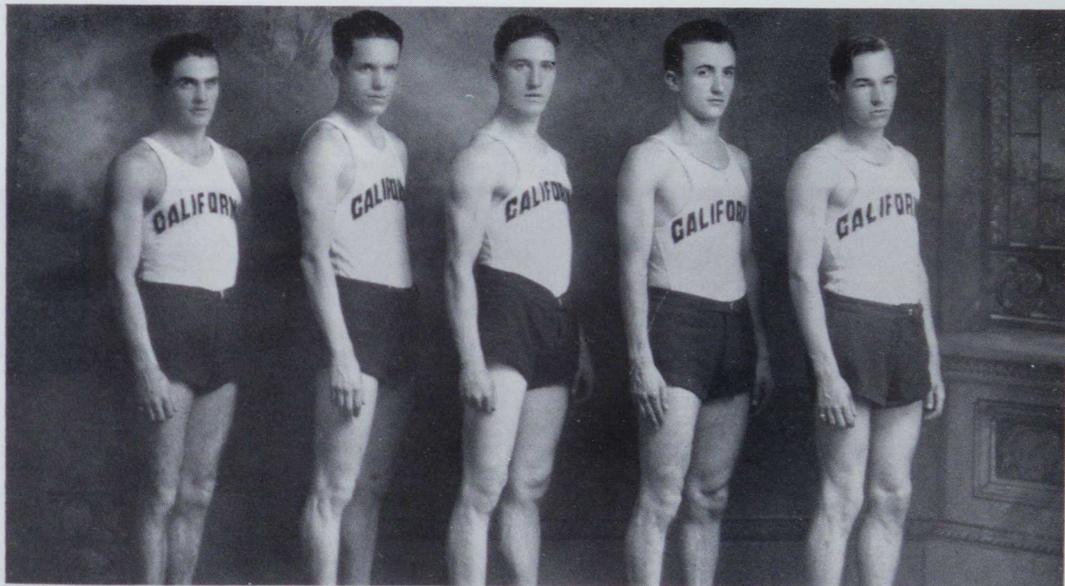

The cross country season can be considered as fair. The season this year ended with one victory out of two starts.

Arthur Henderson proved to be the mainstay for the California team. In both meets he finished first for California, and in the Bloomsburg race, he led both teams to the tape. Henderson was elected captain for the 1932 team.

Indiana was met on the home course, and easily defeated the local boys. This race was run prior to the football game between the same schools.

With everyone coming back, next year's success is assured.

THE MONOCAL

Boys, Intra-Mural Basketball

Three teams were crowned intra-mural champions for the year, 1932. In the class A division, the Wolves were the winners, in class B, the Whales, and in the Freshman division, the Robins. Each team went through their seven games without receiving a defeat. Further interest was developed in the intra-mural games by securing teams from outside of the school for practice games. Ralph Davis was nominated captain of the Whales. Other members of the team were: Samuel Vernallis, Samuel Moreno, Joseph Hayes, Ernest Coyle, and Douglas Phillips. Each year more interest is shown in the intra-mural field, and it is expected that within the next several years this will be the largest activity on the campus.

Girls, Intra-Mural Basketball

Anyone who attended sport's night and saw the girls who played against "Red" Neill and his co-eds, knows that the girls' basket-season was a success. The teams were mixed, the cliques were separated, and all teams seemed evenly matched. There were ten different teams divided into two divisions, beginners and experienced players. These girls who had never played before, learned volumes in one season. The team captained by Francis Brown was the winner of both leagues. Other members of the same team were: Doris Murphy, Ellen Virgin, Victoria Adams, Katherine Kulak, and Henrietta Slosky. Come out again, girls. You may win sometime too!

THE MONOCAL

Hockey

The W.A.A. hockey season, according to Miss Hildreth, was the most successful for several years. The girls were divided into four groups, each under the direction of an experienced upper classman. The Black and White team, coached by Jean Kennedy, won the tournament. They won all of their four games. The climax of the '31 season was reached when the members of each of the four teams and the W.A.A. faculty advisors held a banquet in the college dining room.

Archery

For the first time in the history of our school, archery has become one of "The Events" of the W.A.A. Last fall about thirty-five girls came out to the athletic field and patiently shot and chased the arrows twice each week for about six weeks. This spring the girls are again doing their best to be taught the art by Miss Hildreth. Lack of space on the athletic field prevents all of the girls practicing every evening. We are happy that before long C.T.C. will be noted for its famous archers.

This tablet, erected by the Great Meadows Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, marks the western end of Chief Nemacolin's Trail.

Two forts have been erected on this same spot. Fort Burd was built by Colonel James Burd in 1759. Colonel Burd was sent north by the Virginia land owners in the interest of the Ohio Company, and at this point it was necessary to form some means of safety.

In 1786 Jacob Bowman established a trading post at the old fort. This small fort was further protected by a stone wall which is still standing.

Here is our old friend Karl with his smiles, his jokes, and his matter-of-fact good sense. Whenever a position is open that calls for brains, character, business ability, Karl is called upon to fill it. He has always made good in these positions of trust, and we feel safe in predicting that his future will be a prosperous one.

THERESA ASCHMAN

Charleroi, Pa.

Miss Aschman has been a delight to her Alma Mater many times for, between other things, she has found time to develop a very lovely voice and to share her gift generously. We hope she returns often to us—her welcome is assured and her future holds abundant promise.

IRIS EMMA BILES

Elco, Pa.

Iris has a well-balanced character which is comforting and pleasant, because it does not jump to extremes. She has a calming effect on others who are more excitable or who become depressed more readily. Duties and tasks should be easier for her because she can face them with a calm and steady mind.

AUDREY BARNHART

Greensburg, Pa.

She doesn't say much, but by the occasional twinkle in her eye we know she doesn't miss anything. If she were little, we would call her darling; since she's a college woman, we'll have to call her dignified.

VELMA BARNHART

Greensburg, Pa.

Velma has never made herself conspicuous around California, but we know that she holds a conspicuous place in someone's heart, judging from her actions. The girls all know that she is a real good sport, ready for any kind of a job at any time.

MORRISON BRADLEY

California, Pa.

Morrison has temerity and even knows how to spell it. He has faced the faculty often and talked them down! Morrison is our modern Napoleon, facing all guns with a happy grin.

ROY BROOKS

Donora, Pa

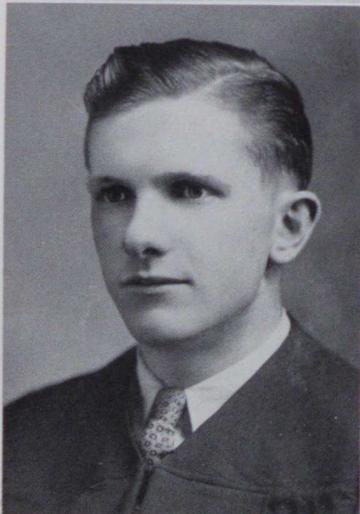

Arise ladies! Blondes not included, Roy has a weakness for brunettes—(We can't blame him for that). All joking aside, folks, Roy is an all around good fellow and his dancing is divine. At tennis Roy is an outstanding performer and he is also a track personality. We will certainly miss Brook's smiling features on the campus because invariably hilarity follows his footsteps and thus he is welcomed wherever he chanced to be.

CLIFFORD BUELL

Belle Vernon, Pa.

A scholar, a gentleman, an athlete, a—but why go on naming superlative qualities when the lot is so much more capably expressed in the one quite over-worked phrase, "A fine, upstanding young man." Clifford Buell attended West Virginia University and the University of Pittsburgh before C. T. C. captured him. He has chosen the ministry for his profession. His hobby is raising fish—he had an aquarium in his room his last year at C.T.C.

WILLIAM BUELL

Clairton, Pa.

An athlete, a musician, an all-around man—that's "Bill." For four years Buell has been a tower of strength on athletic teams—football, track and class basketball. He has been a member of societies, fraternities and clubs working ever for the good of the college. And who will not say that he ranks among the best liked on our campus?

FANNIE BYTHEWAY

Mooween, Pa.

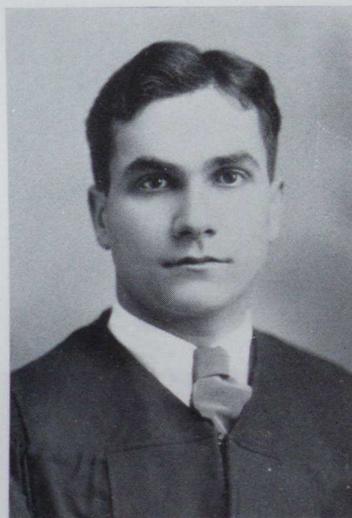

Did you ever see a certain lad named Harry? There you'll find Fannie. Her outstanding virtue is faithfulness, in her studies, in her extra curricular work and even in love——.

On an avocation Fannie is going to be a columnist. She thinks it will be advice to the love-lorn. Her most authoritative advice will be on how to hold a man.

FRANK CAMPAGNA

California, Pa.

Frank "Poco" Campagna is our small but mighty guard of C.S.T.C.'s quintet. Not content with making a name for himself on the basketball five, he seeks laurels in new fields. He is one of the many lovers of the library. If you can't find Frank just look there for him. He'll be posed behind some huge and ancient volume of forgotten lore and perchance napping, though we wouldn't dare think such thoughts. Here's to the future founder of the Campagna now-failing system of collecting library fines

ANNA CAPPALONGA

California, Pa.

That short winsome person whom we see strolling in and out among the big people evidently knowing her destination and seemingly anxious to get there is none other than little Ann. She can handle great big chopsticks, so they say. Talking of sticks, she certainly can swing a wicked hockey stick. Through her interest and untiring efforts in extra-curricular activities has placed herself in the spotlight.

ALBERTA CHILDS

California, Pa.

Alberta's brains and looks are of equally high calibre. She doesn't waste much time on men around school, but makes her conquests farther off. She spends her days in the music room, and in teaching the children of the town the difference between a dischord and a harmony.

FLOYD CHILDS

California, Pa.

"Bucky" likes to start something whenever he sees a chance, but has to maintain a dignity suitable to a relative of the President of the Institution. It is quite a strain on him but he bears up nobly. He has his own individual way of doing things and always gets results.

ANNE MARGARET CONNOR

Charleroi, Pa.

A young lady who combines the pleasing qualities of friendliness, humor, and dependability. She is charming in conversation, and possesses that gift of understanding which is so essential in forming friendships. She has been active in societies and organizations and has contributed much to all.

ALBERT CREE

"Who's that little fellow there with the ball? There—the one who made that shot right through the basket without touching the rim."

"Why, that's Al Cree."

"Of course, I should have known that, after all the notoriety he got in the headlines of the 'Sentinel'."

"Isn't he a waiter? I wonder how he can handle that big tray with all the dishes?"

HOWARD DRUM

California, Pa.

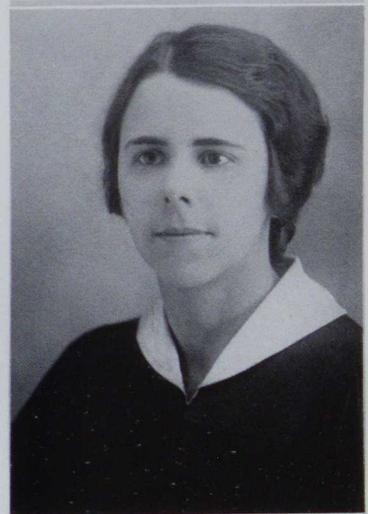

Here we have the handsome feature of Howard Drum. Howard is a star in football, a flash on the basketball court, a genius on the diamond, a whiz on the tennis courts and away above the average in every other line of sport. All this Mr. Drum modestly admits (many of our opponents are also aware of the fact). Someday when you win the World Series, how about autographing a ball for us? Huh, Drummy?

IRENE EASTON

California, Pa.

This member of the fairer sex is Irene Easton—a graduate from the Conservatory of Music as well as from this college. Irene was a whiz in her studies and kept up her good reputation in the California Junior High School this past year. She is also holding her own in the music field—she plays every Sunday in one of the local churches

L. EMERSON EBERT

Centerville, Pa.

Do you know what an optimist is? One who thinks he can find another optimist. That's the kind of a guy Emerson is. Incidentally he's still looking.

And where did he learn to do all those wonderful things on the mats? Oh! that just comes natural.

We think he intends to teach, but rumor has it that his Y.M.C.A. work has convinced him that he should devote his life to converting heathens. I heard him call a young lady a heathen once.

MRS. IRENE EDWARDS

California, Pa.

Mrs. Edwards is taking her fourth year with us in California. Her special field is music—and the Presbyterian Church choir. In class as well as out of class she aims to please! And succeeds very well.

LESLIE EDWARDS

California, Pa.

Coach Edwards, the football idol of the young lads from Coal Center, is the young man on our left. His fame has spread much farther than this, however, due to his activities here at school. Many teams in the district have gone down in defeat through the activities of his freshman proteges.

Although Bus is an old timer around the district his contact with our school has been relatively short. W. and J.'s loss was our gain, for Bus is one of the most popular fellows on the campus.

DAVID ELEY

California, Pa.

"Shakey" is our big man of the campus, noted not only for his avoirdupois, but*(aha!) his priceless wavy locks, which it is rumored have not always been thus. He aims to lend a willing hand to poor forlorn freshmen or to all the little girls for that matter. His ability to tell stories proved to be a boon to his hobby—telling stories of his pre-med days at Pitt.

Keep up the good work, Eley. You might be a philanthropist bye and bye.

THEODORE FERRIS

California, Pa.

George Jean Nathan has a local rival in Theodore. His passion is first nights in Pittsburgh and his comment is spicy and sparkling—but alas, too limited! We hope for wider fields for this young man's discriminating taste in the drama—and Ziegfeld's front rows!

MARY MARGARET GANNON

Donora, Pa.

A most energetic, capable, and versatile young lady! She shows the world a friendly face for she is always smiling and obliging. She is quiet and unobtrusive and shall make no enemies in the world by meanness or nastiness of character, for she has none of that.

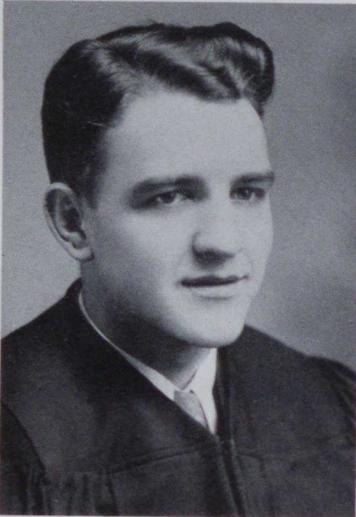

THOMAS GARBART

Farmington, Pa.

Garbart is mighty good natured, and his heart is in proportion with the rest of him. He doesn't worry much about classes, but he always gets through. He is a ring-leader in whatever goes on, especially in adventures for fun and frolic. We feel sure he will continue to be a ring leader, even if he spends his last days in an "Old Man's Home."

KENNETH HILL

California, Pa.

"Kenny" is our fair-haired boy who can be seen about town almost every afternoon chasing from one store to another. Never any lessons to do, that's "Kenny". His personality will go a long way in placing him in the best of positions.

JOSEPH HOGAN, B.A. Hazelwood, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Hogan came from Duquesne; he was not used to so big a school as California, and felt sort of lost at first. But he is beginning to feel more at home now, and we hope he will like it better as time goes on. "Joe" has already demonstrated his pep and happy good-humored personality. He cuts a mean tennis ball, if any one should drive up and ask you.

EUGENE HOLMAN

California, Pa.

Another familiar figure around the school is Shorty Holman. It has taken quite a while for him to finish his work with us but finally he is ready to commence. Shorty is an authority on the history of our school and can give one a detailed account of any memorable event. Always in a hurry, hatless and always tired, seem to be his chief characteristics.

ILA HOLSOPPLE

Bentleyville, Pa.

Ila is a red head, minus the red hot temper—except when she is aroused

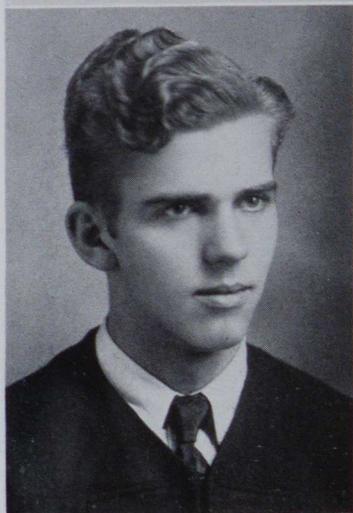

What more can you say of a red headed gal? That doesn't tell the whole story. What versatility. It was athletics, dramatics and a high standard of her scholarship all through her school life.

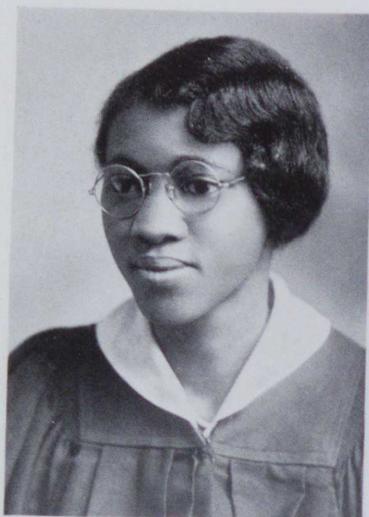

CARL JOHNSON

California, Pa.

Carl hails from East Pike Run or the vicinity. With his dignified bearing and impressive air, he strikes one as being headed for the presidency. But his dignity is all bluff, and we have found that Johnson is just as human as the rest of us. He is conscientious in his studying and all that he does.

MARJORIE JOINER

California, Pa.

From the moment she stepped on the campus, her winning smile and pleasing ways have succeeded in making her popular wherever she goes. She has made the most of her time here and is prepared for her chosen work. The future looks promising to Marjorie, and we wish her the best of success.

MARGARET KYLE

Belle Vernon, Pa.

She's another one of those girls from Belle Vernon. They are assets. We never hear much from Peggy, but when she speaks, it's worth while. Ask any Gamma Pi "Chi'er".

MARY McCOLLUM

Mary has devoted most of her time to studies. However, she has found enough time to make herself so well liked that the position of class secretary was given her. She debates quite a bit among her classmates, but we are not sure whether she ever convinced anyone or not.

FLORENCE KOVALCHICK

California, Pa.

"Flossie" had the advantage of an early start in her athletic career. She brought this athletic ability to C.T.C. Her intra-mural team scooped up every thing in its path, with Floss of course, as its great inspiration.

Latin is her delight. She pounces down upon it, and delving into its secret passages, she brings forth the fruit of her efforts, a perfectly translated page from Cicero, Caesar, Cato or what have you? Ten years hence we expect to see her as Dr. Florence Kovalchick, Head of the Foreign Language Department.

JOSEPH KEIFER

Coraopolis, Pa.

Girls! Do you know that Joe writes poetry? Well, he certainly can. Especially when, "the blue of your hair meets the gold of your eyes." Perhaps at the proper moment he can sing his masterpiece for you. Oh! We're sorry Joe.

And now seriously, we'll all be sorry to lose Joe, because he certainly has been a great help to this institution. As you know, "All good things must come to an end."

MRS. MARY KING

California, Pa.

The vice president of the Alumni Association is a member of the graduating class, but Mrs. King is also making her second appearance on our campus.

BERTHA McMURRAY

California, Pa.

Bucky Lou? You don't know her? Look at that picture. Now you do. It's that sweet girl you have seen going through the halls of C.T.C. for the past four years.

If you want an example of quiet dignity, Bucky is it. If you want lots of fun, Bucky is right there too.

HAROLD McQUAY

Holbrook, Pa.

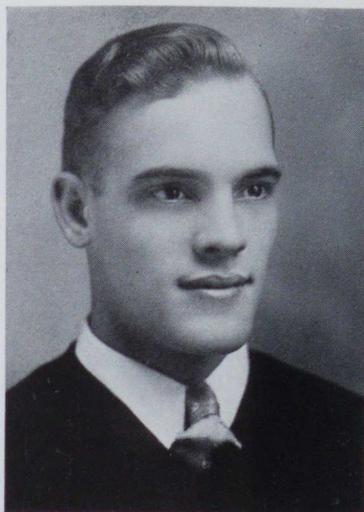

McQuay knows that knowledge is power, so he has set about to obtain power by the way of knowledge. He is steady and persistent in his undertakings, and is perfectly in his element in the classroom. He has that indefinite something that makes people like him. A striking, earnest appearance, and a strong will to win are his dependable guarantees.

JOHN MAGILL

Clairton, Pa.

"When better grades are made Johnnie will make them" (pardon the chizzlin' Mr. Buick). As a chemistry student his prowess is unequalled and as a math and physics shark—well he's just the last word! John is well liked by all his contemporaries and although not of the suave type he gets along famously with the fairer sex. When it comes to student activities (enough of this, people) he's just an ideal student.

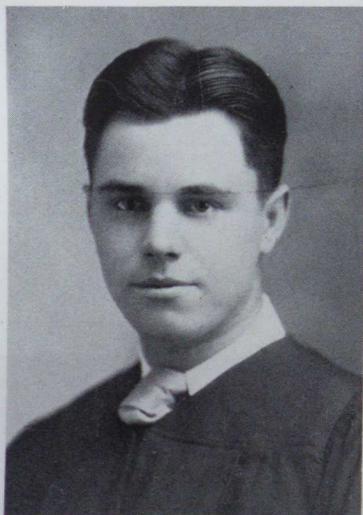

CHARLES MALT

Irwin, Pa.

Malt comes from Norwin, where birds sing bass. This doesn't necessarily mean that Malt can sing. You can see that he is pretty good to look upon, and add to this that he is a mighty fine fellow, and so it is evident why everyone likes him. It was rumored that he had lots of brains, but when we interviewed him he replied, "I really couldn't say." We ask him how old he was, and he said, "I'll see." We do not worry about men getting ahead, for men like him will anyway.

HARRY MANANDISE

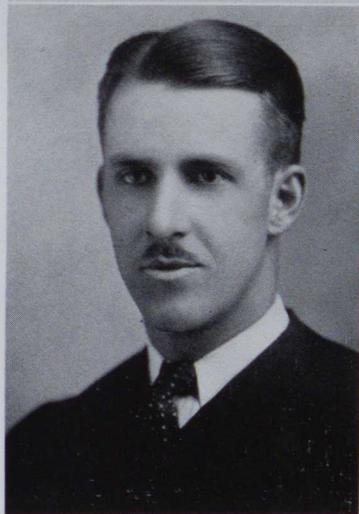

We know this stocky, black-haired fellow by his smile. A broad, irritating smile; a most unreserved smile. Sometime along in his career at C.T.C. Harry enamored of one fair Fanny Bytheway and through the ensuing months this Fanny became a part of the picture of his life. This whole-hearted boy throws himself body and self into his every undertaking. He is the kind that wears well. The years will always be dependable—a safe bet. Well liked, well known, he leaves our halls.

RALPH MANON

Charleroi, Pa.

The "Adonis" on the left is Ralph (better known as "Punk"). Punk is a great athlete, good sport and an all around good fellow. What fair heart does not flutter when he walks down the hall? We are sorry, girls, but it is of no use, for every Wednesday and Sunday evening we can hear Punk's deep baritone voice ringing out as he washes and shaves, then he strides down the main hall—his neat mustache carefully trimmed, and his large bow tie tied flawlessly. He is on his way to Charleroi, girls, and again we express our regrets.

RALPH MILLER

California, Pa.

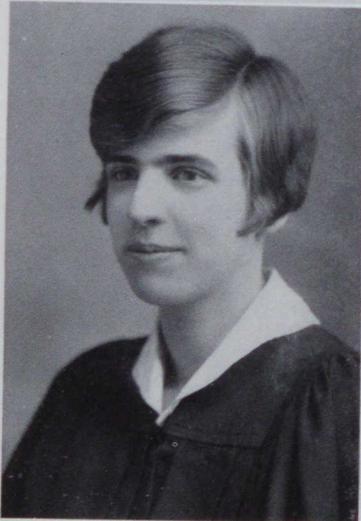

Miller is a contented soul. His tastes are simple and his heart is big. Give him a package of Mail Pouch, a place to put his feet, and someone to listen, and he is happy for the rest of the evening. "Chili" is an inconspicuous chap, but when he does step to the front, you know something is coming.

HENRY NEILL

Donora, Pa.

The noble brow shown here is that of Henry (Red) Neill, versatile athlete, noted grammarian and big mimeograph man from the dorm. Red is in his glory when he can correct the grammar of one of his contemporaries. Woe to the poor Freshman who happens to use a wrong construction in front of this noble defender of the King's grammar. It is all right with us, Red. Aside from having you as coach at Army we would rather see you Professor of English at Harvard than any thing else.

DOROTHY NELSON

Bentleyville, Pa.

My twin! I've found her! Right here at California four years ago.

Born on the same day of the same month of the same year and of the same first name the two Dots (commonly called Dot and Dash) have been inseparable. That's why we can't talk of one without mentioning the other. It's a wonder how too different girls can be so much alike.

BERNARD NOEL

Hastings, Pa.

Barney pulled a fast one on the girls last summer. He broke a rule in the game of love and now they have ruled him ineligible. He got married. The blond Barney will be remembered as a capable fellow to have around, one who could be depended upon to hold up his end of the deal. Barney would like to teach in the Phillipines or Hawaii. Let us hope that he gets his chance.

JANE PERCY

So. Brownsville, Pa.

Jane is a very versatile lass for there is hardly anything done in California Teachers College in which she does not participate. Because of her happy and sweet disposition she has never lacked friends. A better sport would be hard to find. To such a competent person the years hold promises of everything that is to be desired.

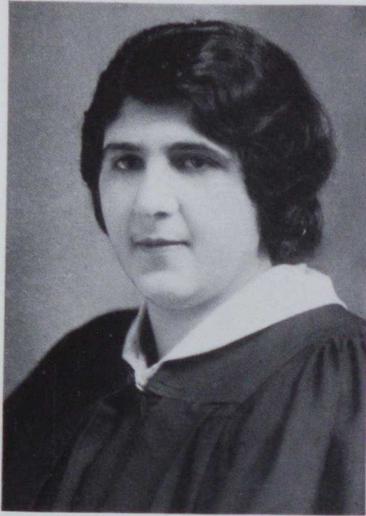

NORA MAE RICHARDS

Beaverdale, Pa.

Wee Winnie Winkle certainly doesn't have anything on Nora Mae. A pattern usually portrays the character of an individual but we certainly got a surprise package this time.

She can make almost any negative speaker decide that he has made a sad mistake and surely must be debating on the affirmative.

KATHERINE SAELI

California, Pa.

A song bird in our midst, but so few know it. Besides of the teacher, Katherine, California may some day boast of the prima donna. She looks like one, she sings like one, and who knows?

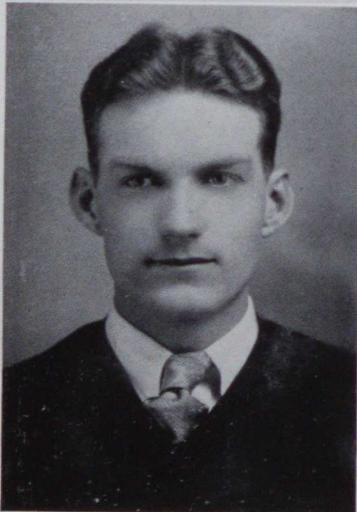

Her geography will help her there too. Perhaps she was mapping out her tours when she poured over those maps so conscientiously. What the future does not hold!

H. D. SHEARER

Connellsville, Pa.

This dark and dapper young man with his little mustache and spats has caused many a weak heart to miss a beat. His rich tenor voice has been the mainstay of the Glee Club, and the Monocal would be lost without the assistance of his photographic ability. H. D. will be missed by many next semester.

CHARLES SHIRLEY

Norwin, Pa.

"Chuck" is the college man of the world. He has been everything from a harmony conductor to a Fuller Brush salesman. He hails from Norwin and doesn't seem to be ashamed of it. If his hair doesn't lose its curl, he is sure to land in the movies playing opposite Garbo.

MILTON SISSON

California, Pa.

He swears he doesn't use curling irons, but his father runs the local hardware store so it looks bad. "Milt" plays basketball in a clean hard way. Finds time to study as well, though we don't know when. In fact, his friends declare that he has only one great weakness—and it's blondes.

MRS. INEZ SMAIL

California, Pa.

Mrs. Smail is making her second appearance in the Monocal. After a Normal Diploma and several years of successful teaching she returned to this college—and is carrying on a keen competition with another young lady concerning grades—for little Miss Beverly Smail is upholding the family reputation in the Demonstration School.

WILLIS SMITH

California, Pa.

"Willy" is a product of California High School. He is four-square, dependable, straight-shooting, and highly imbued with the spirit of California State Teachers College. He partakes of all sports as a recreation. His enthusiasm and loyalty are his main assets.

DAVID SNIDER

California, Pa.

Here we have the Adolphe Menjou of the college. Dave is the debonair gentleman who usually dashes into class anywhere from five to twenty-five minutes late. Sophistication plus—spats—that's Dave. A product of many schools and a graduate of California he has never let his college work interfere with his education and his matrimonial career.

LAWRENCE SUTHERLAND

Claysville, Pa.

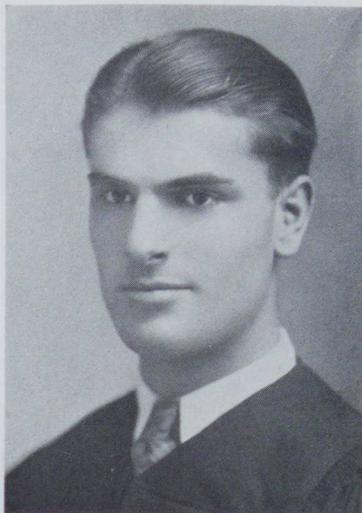

Try to find a better hearted soul than Larry. That is probably the reason he gets to do so many favors for people. Although Larry's white coat looks big he's a very good waiter. And we wonder who'll take his place next year in the dialogue held in World Problems Class?

MARY TESI

Belle Vernon, Pa.

The history instructor asked the class a question. No one could answer it but a dark-haired young woman that sat away back in the "T" section. No one turned around surprised although it happened several times that period. There was nothing to be surprised about. The young woman was Mary Tesi. This conscientious Miss Tesi taught school several years before she came back to get her B.S. at C.T.C. Anything less than a "B" is an obscenity to this efficient "Mary-on-the-spot."

JAMES UNDERWOOD

California, Pa.

This strapping youth has been one of the bulwarks of the front of our football team for the last four years. Jimmy is one who elected to display his merits on the gridiron. Persistent as the revolution of the earth, strong as a half-shot of the Big Bertha he made it miserable for men that played against C.T.C. His fighting heart will live in the annals of C.T.C.

ROBERT VAN BREMEN

Fayette City, Pa.

Bobby is one of the most successful among our extension students. He started out as a coach and instructor just four years ago and now is principal in his Jr. High School. He is a very industrious student and his big interest is education. Athletics is his hobby and the records his teams have established show how successful he has been in this pastime.

SAMUEL VERNALLIS

Bentleyville, Pa.

In our long list of handsome seniors we now come to Sam Vernallis. Sam's one redeeming sin is clothes. He is a boy that could make a Richman suit look like a society brand. It has been estimated that in four years here Sam has used approximately $250 worth of electricity and has worn out three electric irons, pressing suits, ties, etc. We wouldn't be a bit surprised to see Sammy's picture as a Hart, Shaffner, and Marx advertisement sometime in the future.

MARGARET WILKINSON

California, Pa.

Margaret Wilkinson, better known as "Red", needs no introduction to the public. An all around athlete as well as student, she has carved her name in C.T.C.'s book of fame. In basket ball, she was a sure shot; in hockey, volley ball, and baseball she was at the head of the list. In addition, "Red" was a member of the Tennis team—another star of fame. Good grades were her speciality, too. Congratulations, "Red". Keep it up!

MARY LOUISE WILLSON

Belle Vernon, Pa.

On the surface you see an attractive, somewhat sophisticated lady. Underneath? Ah! that's a secret! But we'll let you in on it. Listen:

Oh, girls, I'm in love!

Oh Yeah? Who this time?

(Passed a month):

Oh, girls, I'm in love,
Again????????? Ow!!!!!!!

(Sigh):

She's a great kid anyway.

HAZEL HIMES

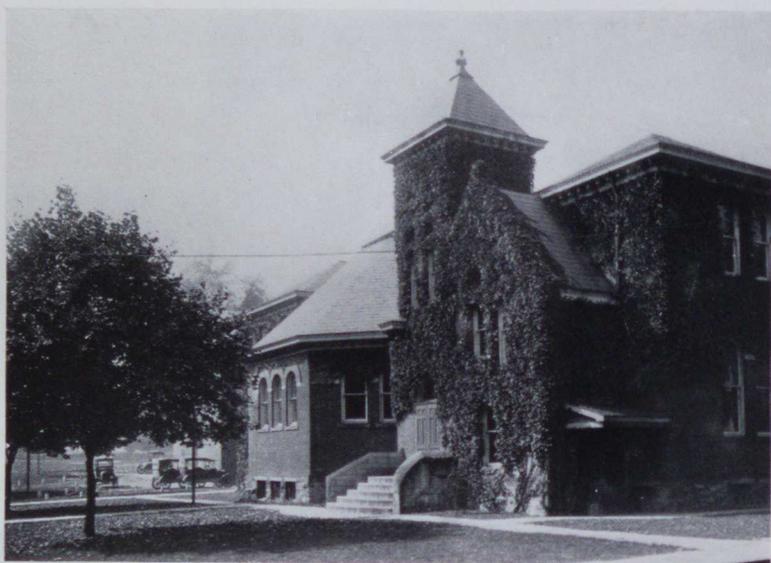

I get what I want how I want it and when I want it. That's Hazel's theme song. Sometimes she gets it and sometimes she doesn't, but when she does, it is through her pleasantness and charm. We hope it works out later as it did here. We will miss you, Hazel!

MARGARET RIDGELEY

Donora, Pa.

Margaret is seldom seen around the halls of California State Teachers College. Having completed the intermediate course several years ago, she decided that a visit on Saturday or an evening through the week was often enough to see her old pals. That's alright Margaret, we know you were here.

The drum sounded, and out of the nearby country came the tribe of the so-called Freshmen. This gathering was at the beginning of the month of September in the year 1930. For one hundred and eighty days this tribe prospered in the land of college.

After partaking of the initiative feast, and after having been duly grounded in the laws of the new hunting ground, they set themselves to the task of gaining new knowledge, so that in time they might hold offices in the world tribe.

All too soon time passed, and the tribe wandered from the halls of learning. For three months the tribe wandered in various far and distant lands and rested from their toil.

Then the drum sounded again, and the tribe came to drink from the spring of knowledge. But this time the tribe was known by the name of the Sophomores. At a council meeting a new chieftain was chosen. The leadership of this tribe was placed in the capable hands of Ralph O'Berg, with Robert Wood as his right-hand council-man.

THE MONOCAL

The scribe of the council chosen was RoGene South, and the warrior deemed trustworthy of keeping the tribe's funds, Charles Groff.

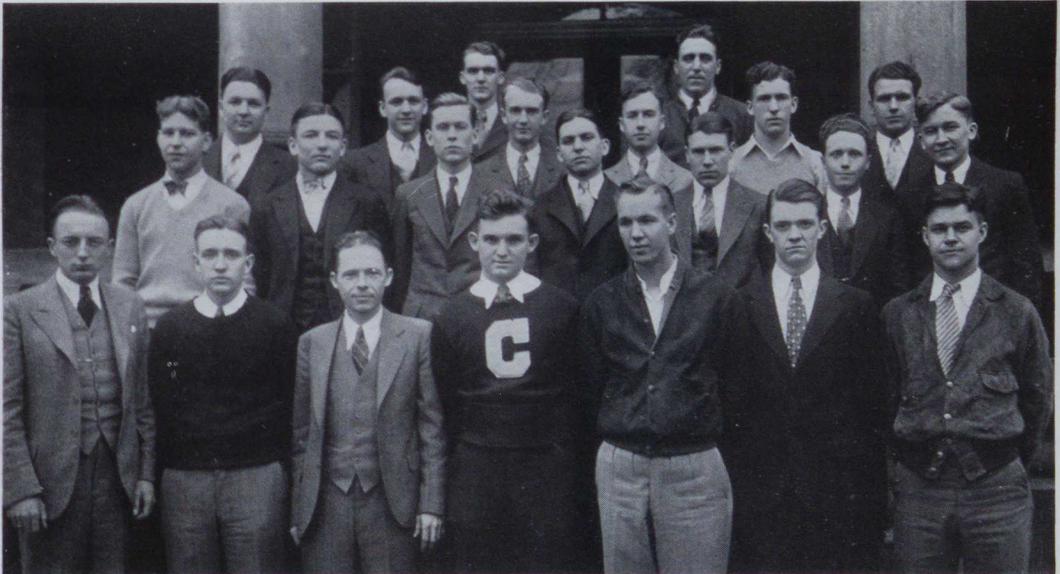

Many noble and stirring activities have been engaged in by the tribe of The Sophomores. The members have achieved notable success.

The most important festivity which they have ruled over during the past season was Sophomore Day, the day when all tribes of the college gathered together on the campus, and there was much joy-making and happiness.

Again the tribe broke up, to return when the drum sounds, and all shall enter the high tribe of Juniors.

Many more things are expected from this Sophomore Class within the next two years.

Freshman Class

As poor green Freshmen, they were safely guided through the paths of initiation to proper college life. The Freshmen were the little brothers and sisters of the upper classmen. They entered a new world of studies, activities, dreams, and achievements. They exemplify: F-friendship; R-reliability; E-enthusiasm; S-scholarship; H-honor; M-mettle; A-accuracy; N-natural.

The new-comers were introduced to their superiors at the first big event of the year, The College Mixer. We do not mean to slight the "Big and Little Sister Party" which was given on the college campus to acquaint the big sister with her little sister.

The Freshmen tried to imitate their upperclassmen by staging the Freshman Frolic. This proved to be a huge success.

Our first year will be remembered for the stricter entrance requirements that we were forced to go through. Many students fell by the wayside in trying to enter California, and therefore the enrollment of the class dwindled to a select few.

B. S. IN SECONDARY EDUCATION

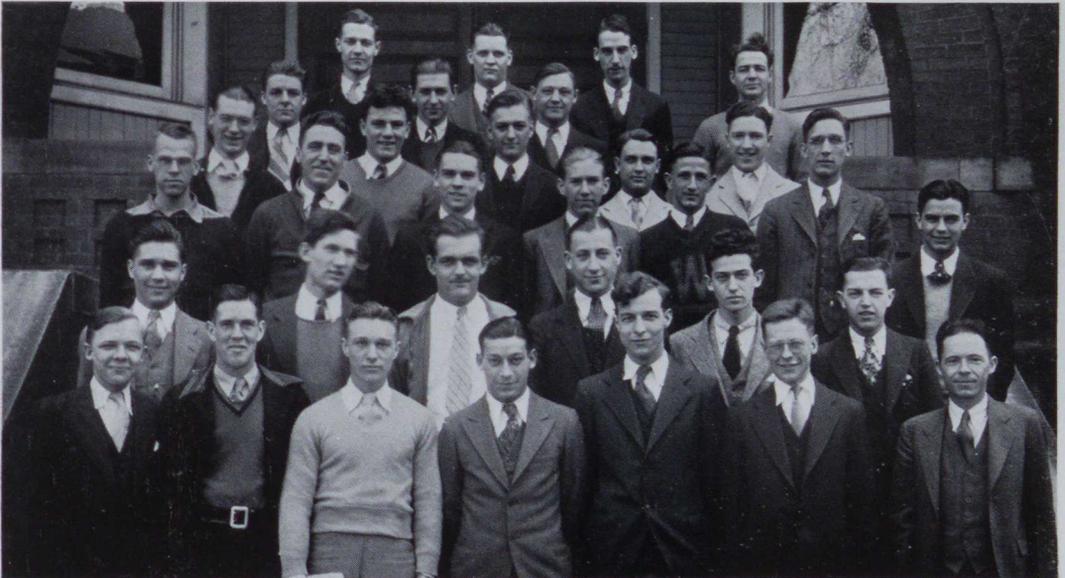

THE MONOCAL

Throughout its Freshman year, now swiftly drawing to a close, this class has persisted in an unceasing effort to be first in scholarship, all campus activities, and to earnestly uphold the ideals of the school. It is impossible to enumerate all of the remarkable things that the Freshman class has done.

Each Freshman Class entering college from now on will be divided into four groups. These are—the students in the Industrial Arts department, and three sections in the straight teaching field. Maybe one will have to work a little harder than the other, but in the end they are here for the same purpose.

They have begun a record from which the entire college will undoubtedly benefit. As they look back over their past achievements with pride and satisfaction and face hopefully the future that will bring them new duties and responsibilities, they pledge anew their honor and loyalty to California.

Washington's Mill

After Washington has scouted and surveyed the land east of the Alleghenies, he found it profitable to build grist mills throughout this entire section. Most of these mills have decayed or been razed. One is still standing, a few miles from the town of Perryopolis.

Nestled in the forest, nature has taken its own course in preserving this mill. The entire inside of the structure has decayed. Washington's ancestors used this mill as a source of revenue until recent times.

Braddock's Grave

“Thus remote from the dust of his father, in an unnoted unhonored, grave, rest the bones of Braddock. A forest oak appropriately points out the place of his grave, but this memorial will not long serve to fulfill its task, since its system is already touched by the finger of decay, and its blasted crest seems to relate with a melancholy significance to not only his fate to whom it owes a name, but to its own prospective doom.

“After the burial, in a large shallow pit hard by were cast what remained of about four hundred soldiers; this done the troops returned to Fort Pitt, satisfied with having at last removed from sight so many of the most melancholy testimonials of their misfortunes.”

THE MONOCAL

Monocal Staff

The Class of 1933 has published the twentieth volume of the MONOCAL. The first volume published at this institution contained less than eighty pages, it had a paper-back cover, the size was six inches high and nine inches wide, and it had a circulation of less than one hundred.

The twentieth volume of the Monocal contains two hundred and eight pages, it has one of the best covers manufactured, there are twenty square inches more space to each page, and the circulation is over seven hundred. It is readily seen that our volume has grown in every respect over the one that was published in 1913.

We hope that the Monocal will gain as much in the next twenty years as it has in the past twenty.

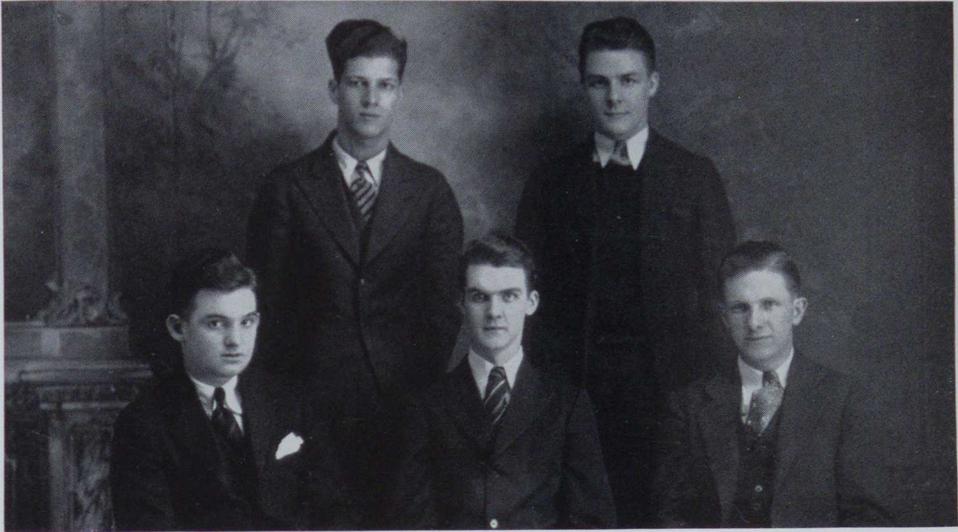

Student Council

The Student Council is the most important organization in the school. Its primary function is to govern the student body. Rules and regulations are laid down after a careful consideration has been given by both the students and the faculty. The membership is made up of the president and one other representative from each organization. The four officers of the council are elected by the vote of the student body. This organization has excellent advisors in Mr. A. S. Gilmore, head of the extra-curricular activities; Miss Bernstorff, dean of women; Mr. Walker, dean of men. During the past year much has been accomplished by this active organization. Some of the major activities were Dad's Day, College Mixer, Men and Women's Freshman Tribunals, and the Christmas Party.

Travelling Men's Student Council

The Travelling Men's Organization, although organized for only two years, is carrying on their work rather successfully.

The new rest room which was inaugurated by the travelling boys only last year, has been kept in good shape and the men are to be commended on their fine cooperation in keeping it looking neat and clean.

We are hoping that we may continue to receive this cooperation and if we do, let us predict the maturity of a very successful organization.

Dixon Hall Council

Every girl in Dixon Hall is a member of the association. She has a right to participate in all of its affairs. If it were not for their worthy cooperation, it would be impossible to have such an organization.

The past year has been a happy one. Credit for this is due not only to the upper classmen but also to the freshmen.

The government of this organization is vested in the officers of the hall.

THE MONOCAL

North Hall Council

The North Hall Council has been working very earnestly during the past year to make the school life of the girls interesting and enjoyable.

We have accomplished our purpose so far that each and every member of the North Hall Organization has taken an active part in the various functions of the student-body, thus bringing about the desired atmosphere.

The "key" word of this organization is democracy, in that every member has the privilege of expressing her opinion on matters concerning the student-government of North Hall.

THE MONOCAL

South Hall Council

The South Hall Council is the governing body of South Hall, a dorm full of regular fellows. This year's council has been particularly efficient, and many long-hoped-for improvements have been made possible through their untiring efforts. They are a group of hard-working go-getters, well fitted to their task of representing a bunch of live wires. These fellows are elected each year by popular vote.

THE MONOCAL

Travelling Women's Student Council

This organization has the responsibility of the representative government for travelling women students. The making of a social program and the direction of their activities come under the jurisdiction of this council.

During the past year the travelling women have purchased dishes and silver; these are available for entertaining. Their rooms have been redecorated, the furniture has been covered, and new draperies have been hung.

Dean Bernstorf and Mrs. Minck have been very helpful and have shown much interest in the planning of our social events.

THE MONOCAL

Travelling Girls

The Travelling Girls are the largest group of the student body. The girls are from all districts along the Monongahela Valley and are a well represented group. The girls have their own rest room where they may rest or study. From eleven o'clock to twelve-forty is a recreational period and from two-thirty on is also for recreational purposes. There are monitors appointed to keep order, thereby helping Mrs. Minck. The Travelling Girls are very active and cooperative in all activities of the school. They are directed by the travelling senate.

It would be very strange not to hear the clattering at morning, noon, and night from the Travelling Girls' Room.

Eleusium Club

This year has proved to be a rather unfortunate one for the Eleusium Club.

This previous sentence, of course, leaves a question in the reader's mind, and to solve the mystery, the misfortune was due to a leave-of-absence of the sponsor, Miss Leacock.

Perhaps we were too energetic! We must say that the club had for its primary purpose the arousing of an appreciation of art, and the raising of funds for purchasing pictures for the adoration of the various buildings on the College Campus.

We faithfully hope that the members of next year's club will carry on where we took our leave.

THE MONOCAL

Clio

For nearly sixty-one years the Clionian Literary Society has given a literary home to all who joined her ranks, as well as offered the opportunities of self-expression, one of our most treasured possessions. The quality of the society is expressed through the programs which are carried out every Tuesday night in Clio Hall. Each year new people proudly pledge themselves to follow the blue and gold. Many go forth each year into the different channels of life better prepared for their work for having been a member of Clio.

THE MONOCAL

Phi Sigma Pi

The Kappa Chapter of the Phi Sigma Pi fraternity enjoyed its most active year during 1931-1932. Climaxing their efforts with the Annual Founders' Day Banquet on May 2, the twenty-seven members of this organization, the only professional educational honorary society in the college, saw the third season of activities draw favorable comments from other chapters throughout the country and the National Offices of the fraternity.

The chief purpose of this organization is to foster professional educational attitudes and to establish certain correct educational ideals. Entrance requirements include high scholarship and an intention to make teaching a life work.

Gamma Pi Chi

This sorority has been organized to maintain a high scholastic standing of the women of California State Teachers College.

Its purposes are both cultural and social with activities conducted in such a manner as to bring out these aims.

To become a member of this organization a student must be, at least, a Sophomore and have a "C" average or better.

The constructing of scrap-books has been one of the main features of our past year's work.

THE MONOCAL

Les Cantatrices

Les Cantatrices is a group of the Girls' Glee Club who like to sing so well that they are willing to devote one night each week to special rehearsal. This group has already joined the ranks of invisible entertainers, for this Spring they sang over the air from station WNBO in Washington, and are scheduled to broadcast from KDKA in the near future.

Sigma Tau Lambda

Each Tuesday evening, promptly at 7:16 finds each member of the Girls' Glee Club in her place, ready for an hour of singing. These rehearsals are thoroughly enjoyed by all the girls. More than that, they bring results, as anyone who hears the glee club programs will admit.

However, the glee club believes that "all work and no play makes Mary a dull girl." Hence, the parties and dances. The outstanding event in the social life of the Sigma Tau Lambda this year was the dance which was held for the girls and their friends. Now, we hear whispers about a moonlight picnic. Well, perhaps, who knows?

THE MONOCAL

Men's Glee Club

Because of the untiring efforts of a most efficient director, Professor E. E. Halstead, the Men's Glee Club enjoyed one of the most successful years in its history.

The most outstanding entertainments that the club sponsored were presented at the Washington County Teachers Institute (followed by a broadcast over station WNBO), at the Washington County Automobile Association Banquet, at the California High School, in the local College Chapel, and at Slippery Rock State Teachers College. Programs of this type, which are planned every year, serve as a stimulus for hearty cooperation and hard work.

THE MONOCAL

Quartet

Under the excellent coaching of Professor E. E. Halstead, the Quartet experienced a successful and pleasant year. The Quartet accompanied the Men's Glee Club on its trips to Washington, Pa., for the banquet of the American Automobile Association, and to Slippery Rock State Teachers College. Its selections were heartily received at both places.

California hopes the Quartet will continue, and that it will be the beginning of a permanent organization.

Orchestra

The California Collegians have certainly taken their place as one of the most important musical organizations on the campus. Their popularity has been (shown) by the numerous engagements they have filled since they were organized in the fall. Much credit for their success is probably due to the untiring efforts of "Chuck" Probert and Kenneth Miller in arranging for the various engagements.

The orchestra is small at present, but hopes with the increasing student body to attain real symphonic proportions.

Philo

Proof of the interest shown in Philo Literary Society this past year is the fact that, although we decided to meet only every other week, the club members soon voted against this decision. Under the supervision of Miss Buehler and Professor Kerstetter, many novel programs have taken place throughout the year. They have been both educational and very entertaining.

One of our major achievements this year was our winning second prize in the Y.W.C.A. Stunt Night. Here is a definite example of history repeating itself, because we also won first prize in last year's stunt night.

We are looking forward to a bigger and better year.

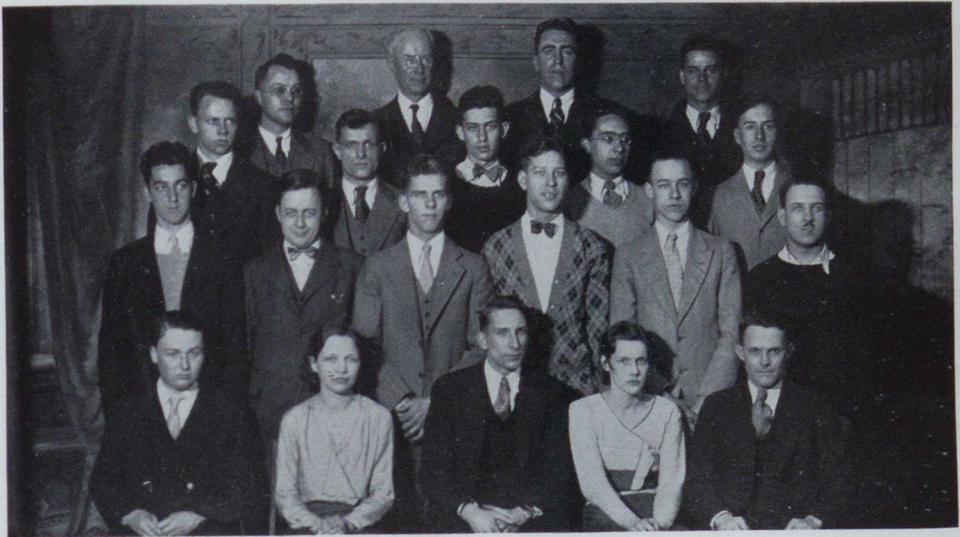

Debating Club

Organized for the purpose of giving valuable training in debating, the Debating Club of the College provides excellent opportunity for those who have participated in debating during their high-school careers or for those, who, although not experienced, are interested. The club consists of a mixed group of debaters who study and analyze the question during the first semester. During the second semester, debates are staged with colleges in Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

The Debating Club invites anyone interested in debating to be present at the first scheduled meeting of the year.

Science and Mathematics Club

The Science and Mathematics Club has just completed its second year's work. The interest in the club is shown by the increased enrollment over the previous year's enrollment.

Many important and interesting questions, pertaining to mathematics and science, are discussed during the meetings, which are held bi-monthly.

All students majoring in mathematics or in science, or those who are interested in either field, are eligible for membership.

With the growing interest in the activities of the club, we will look forward to a bigger year.

College Players

This organization was founded for the purpose of furthering and teaching Dramatic Art. Under the direction of Mr. Connell, much talent has been developed. A high degree of excellence has been established through the production of only the best modern classic plays. An opportunity is also afforded those who desire to demonstrate their ability in stage craft. Some degree of appreciation for the class of work done may be reached by reviewing titles of the major plays produced recently: "Death Takes a Holiday", "White Collars", "Journey's End", "Mrs. Moonlight", and "The Show-Off".

THE MONOCAL

Delta Psi Omega

The forty-ninth chapter of the National Honorary Dramatic Fraternity Delta Psi Omega was established on this campus in May, 1929. It was and is directed by our coach, Professor L. H. Connell. There are eleven charter members. Each year those having qualified for membership are added, until twenty-six members have been admitted. This Fraternity is representative of the dramatic ability on the campus, and the height of attainment in this field is to gain "fraternity-ship". There are nine active members this year.

Young Women's Christian Association

The Young Women's Christian Association is the only organization on the campus providing for the religious ideals and standards for the women students of the California State Teachers College. All the women are eligible to belong to the organization. The Y.W.C.A. has its meetings in the Colonial Room every Wednesday evening at 7:15. The members lead the programs, and interesting problems are discussed by the group. The Mother's Week-End is the annual feature of the organization, and "Stunt Night" is fast becoming popular as one of the main features of the year.

Young Men's Christian Association

In rank, one of the foremost organizations on the campus, the Young Men's Christian Association holds a position of helpfulness and dependability at California.

That the organization won the trophy offered to the body making the greatest total of miles traveled to the Western Pennsylvania Y.M.C.A. Conference held at Allegheny College, Meadville, Pa., is also an indication of the cooperation and fellowship for which the group stands.

With its constancy of purpose, its ever-ready willingness to assist, its aim for higher ideals, and its greatest function, the promotion of fellowship with God and men, the Y.M.C.A. lends a distinctive service on the campus at California.

Monvalea Club

The Monvalea Club entered upon its third year with a membership of over ninety students; this shows the favor in which the organization is held.

The club is divided into two sections, which meet on alternate Tuesday afternoons in the Colonial Room.

The club activity this year was centered about bridge playing. The plan for next year is to work out a Girl Scout Program, having a Girl Scout leader come for a series of studies in Girl Scout Work.

Women's Athletic Association

The Women's Athletic Association promotes athletics by actual participation in them, and it aims to develop a high level of vitality. It instills in its members a love of sports and ideals of good sportsmanship. Its program is varied and interesting.

School years are short, the school day is but a fraction of twenty-four hours. The playing season of any sport is but a brief span, and the contest is really only a few minutes. In comparison, life is long. Sane athletics is worth while, here and now, but much is lost if the training does not carry over into behavior, emotional, mental, and physical, in later life.

Photography Club

The Photography Club, composed of one hundred members, has successfully completed its third year. Its chief aim is to make everyone acquainted with the camera, so that they will be able to use it themselves. We have spent much time this year showing the different types of films and how to develop them. Pictures were taken on the campus to help broaden our knowledge of the camera. Reports and talks of interest in filmland were given before the club by various members.

Some of the money received was used to purchase a flashlight camera.

THE MONOCAL

Geography Club

The Geography Club is composed of those students who are majoring in geography and those who are interested in geographical influences.

The purpose of this organization is to acquaint the members with various parts of the world through the medium of moving pictures, slides and maps.

Meetings are held bi-monthly on Monday afternoon at 3:30. Mr. Harding, head of the Geography Department, is the sponsor.

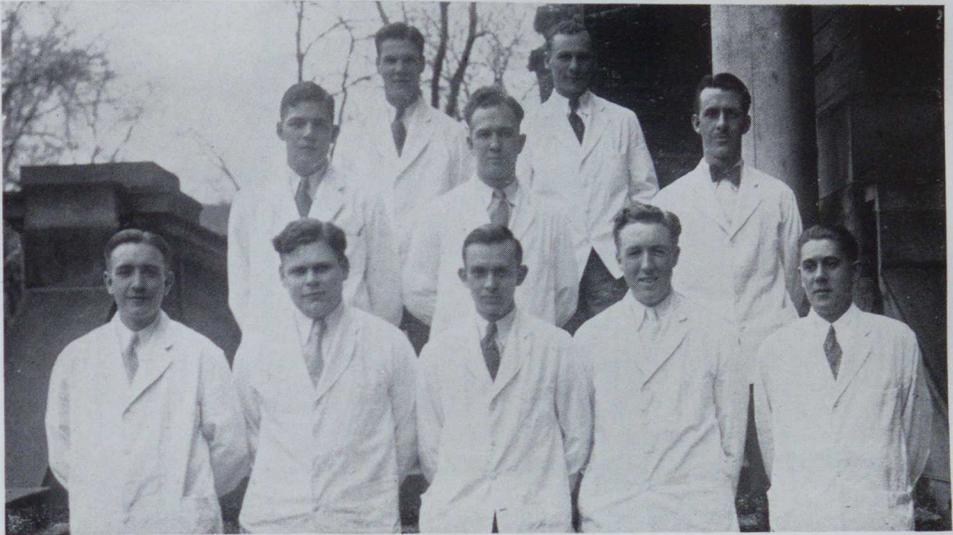

Summer School

Although very little is known about the Summer School graduates until the commencement of the next spring, one is safe in saying that more activities are carried on during the summer term than during the winter sessions. The annual Play Day, the boat ride on the Monongahela, various tennis teams, and the four or five county organizations are a few of the activities. Also, at this season of the year, those students attending Summer School can see the campus in full bloom, and the temptation for study is not so great.

THE MONOCAL

Waiters

Are these "white coats" appreciated? All of the dormitory students answer in unison just one three lettered word beginning with "y" and ending with "s".

Most waiters get tips, but these poor fellows just get "I.O.U'S." Ask any of them about that.

Kenny Miller is honored by having girls request for his table over the weekend. Sam Vernallis helps the nurse along, by seeing that we get our eight glasses of water daily.

Last but not least in the long line of waiters is Johnny Reed. Why not least? Because he holds the door open and sees that in the mad rush no one is injured.

Commendation from an Appreciative Customer:

"For the past eleven years the Pittsburgh Printing Company has printed the 'Yough-a-Mon,' the yearbook of the McKeesport High School. During these years the writer has always found the company to render complete satisfaction. It has always given our high school a superior book at a moderate cost. At no time has the writer had occasion to find serious fault with the personnel of the company or with the workmanship of the books printed. He gladly recommends the company to any school requiring a reliable and efficient printer.
