MONOCAL

PUBLISHED BY THE STUDENTS OF
CALIFORNIA STATE TEACHERS
COLLEGE . . . CALIFORNIA, PA.

DEDICATION

We respectfully dedicate this book to Samuel M. Neagley, a man whose every action reflects the fine traditions and ideals of our chosen profession. Moreover, his popularity with the students is unquestioned. We take off our hats to a teacher and a man; or, to use the vernacular: "a square guy."

THE 1938 MONOCAL

Herman Preseren
Editor

Joseph Zaffy
Business Manager

To the Junior Class falls the burden of editing the yearbook, and to the Sophomore Class falls the pleasure of choosing the editor. . . . Yet putting out the Monocal is not such a burden as some would have us believe. . . . The thrill of building a book far overweighs any editorial troubles which may and do arise. . . . It is really a year's work, but the experience is worth it.

The Staff: editor, Herman Preseren; business manager, Joseph Zaffy; photographers, Tom Emory, Wade Kipp, Frank Cannistra, William Crowley; artists, Jay Luft, Robert Shiffbauer; writers, Wilbur Edwards, Mary Hudock, Michael Tichansky, Gladys Balmer, Doris McCollum, Bonnelle Yarnall, Margaret Foreman, Evelyn Smith, Helen Nagy, Elsie Bodnar, Mary Cartwright, Auburn Lamb.

FOREWORD . . .

Many believe and see tradition as possessed of peculiar sanctity and respectability handed down from generation to generation and strictly conform to it; but at California tradition is used as a source of reference from which an additional insight into the present is gained. Although the present may be conditioned by the past, yet it doesn't necessarily mean that it is restricted to the duplication of the past

Noss Demonstration in the winter . . . Old Main . . . Herron Hall entrance . . . Dixon's front . . . North Hall . . . Ivy covered Library . . . Side view of Herron Hall

. . . and in building for the future we draw upon the present and the past as a source upon which we build a destiny for posterity.

In building this program . . . Herron Hall . . . Noss Demonstration School . . . remodeled Science Hall . . . new Industrial Arts building under construction. . . . the campus beautified—we find an improvement over the past, for the benefit of the present and a base upon which to build a future.

Noss building in the spring . . . Dixon's main portal . . . Wintry scene behind South Hall
. . . The front campus in the winter

DIXON HALL

The vines creep slowly . . . Each year adds a few more inches and a few more memories . . . Soft music . . . Prom . . . white tie and tails . . . Senior Ball . . . Provincial Room . . . ping-pong . . . The years add memories . . . the vines creep slowly . . .

NOSS DEMONSTRATION

Training school for student teachers . . . Not old enough to become ivy covered; it, nevertheless, has captured a part of our memories . . . Freshman English . . . Noisy "kids" . . . Handwritin' . . . Rifle range . . . Speech clinic . . . Each played an important part in the life of the undergraduate.

PRESIDENT'S HOME

The Whitehouse of the campus wherein resides the "first family" of the institution. . . . No other place around has the same intriguing and impressive beauty as does this home; comfortable, tasteful, humble in every sense of the word; but words alone can never describe the true tradition of this beautiful spot.

NORTH HALL

The home of Dean Bernstorf, Mrs. Brown, the dormitory, and the traveling girls. Redecorated recently to make it more beautiful and more cheerful. The Colonial Room, always remembered for its Sunday gatherings, and the traveling room, where tired commuting girls may rest and study.

DRIVEWAY

The driveway, beautifully green in the spring and summer, golden in the fall and snow white in the winter. A sigh of relief to every traveling student when this spot is reached on hard, wintery days. The crossroads of class journeys to Herron and Demonstration buildings.

SCIENCE HALL

Beautiful Science Hall and Library. The Science building has been inactive during the past year due to reconstruction. Will probably be the most beautiful after completion. The entrance to the library where a majority of the commuters enter to do their studying.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

For more than sixty years California has been an institution devoted to the education of teachers for the public schools of Pennsylvania. It has never aspired to change this fundamental purpose. It has never desired to engage in educational work outside the field of teacher education. California's traditions have been deeply rooted in the welfare of school children, the citizens of tomorrow. It has sought to make that tomorrow better than today.

With changing conditions and new needs, curriculums have changed and organizations have been adapted to meet more effectively the new demands. Throughout the history of the State Teachers College at California it has consistently maintained a tradition of friendly helpfulness—faculty and student body working together in a spirit of mutual esteem and cooperation.

California places character as the cornerstone of citizenship and as the first element of fitness for teaching. Worth is placed above respectability and refinement above fashion. California strives to play its full part in providing for every schoolroom a competent teacher—but more than a teacher—a cultured, refined, well informed individual, interested in people, interesting to people, and a citizen who will leave to posterity his community better than he found it.

—Robert M. Steele

FACULTY . . .

As a whole, the faculty at California from its earliest beginning has maintained an attitude of broadmindedness towards students and education.

Out of the past into the present and projecting toward the future a strong feeling of fellowship has developed and prevailed be-

FACULTY

Dr. Harry L. Kriner Moves

Resigns his Dean of Instruction duties. . . . Goes to Harrisburg as one of Dr. Lester K. Ade's many aides. . . . Leaves behind many memories for his wide interest in athletics. . . . Had a great love and was originator of the modern extra-curricular system.

Ella E. Bernstorf Chaperones

Dean of Women . . . amateur gardener about the college grounds . . . expert needlewoman . . . teaches math . . . a great booster of the state of Kansas . . . but loves Pennsylvania . . . A willing counsellor to all who seek her aid.

Paul N. Walker Fosters

Affectionately called "Pop" by his nature lovers. . . . Fosters hikes, bird study groups, trips to various camps, forests, any place where nature can be found. . . . Summer camps are his vacation specialties.

William H. Steers Coaches

As a man, cool, calm, easy-going . . . as a coach, cool, calm, terrific! . . . Always a gentleman, both on and off the field.

Robert M. Keck Electrifies

Spends most of his time in guiding stage constructions and lighting for College Players. . . . Had to go to all the trouble of breaking in a new man when a perfect technical director decided to turn actor.

Dr. E. G. Salisbury Hikes

An out-of-doors man . . . never misses his daily jaunt regardless of the weather . . . likes to fish and is looking forward to a fishing trip in Florida this summer.

Darrell J. Mase Speaks

"Now, at Blue Hole" . . . "Uncle" Darrell's chief topic of conversation since his successful Experimental Camp last summer. . . . Has made correct speech a requirement for all teachers graduated from California.

Dr. J. Riley Staats Advocates

Self expression in education . . . Keeps his students pacing the campus for maps. . . . Makes Geography an exciting course. . . . Holds sway over the Athletic Council. . . . A swell fellow.

Elizabeth Curry Directs

The reason for all the Junior Players' activity . . . Constantly wishes College Players would admit more of her Junior Players . . . Part of the Curry-Keisling team . . . Teaches English.

Dr. Thomas M. Gilland Trains

Observes and coaches student teachers . . . Never indulges in permitting his reactions to be mirrored in his face . . . Nevertheless he is still liked by students and teachers.

FACULTY

Horace Montgomery Quizzes

Our economist is popularly known among the students as "Pop Quiz" which is quite obviously the "essence of the problem" of many students . . . both of government and economics. . . A new "prof" but well-liked . . . Sagacious.

Lois Gillis Greets

The smile she flashes as you enter the General Office always makes you feel immediately at ease. . . Took over Miss Bartley's duties without missing a stride. . . Secretary to Dean Sacco along with her other duties.

Wilma C. Smith Guards

No one can enter our Prexy's office without the consent of Mrs. Smith, Secretary to Dr. Steele. . . Known affectionately as Wilma. . . Last name used to be Connolly until Christmas vacation this term. . . Then changed it to Smith.

Lee Hornbake Waves

Always waves a friendly hand in greeting. . . Quiet, amiable, reserved. . . The intellectual of the Industrial Arts Department. . . Well-liked. . . a splendid addition to our faculty.

FACULTY

S. L. Coover Dreams

A little man whose big dream is coming true . . . the new Industrial Arts Building. . . The power behind those annual conferences held each year by the lads from the shops . . . Energetic.

Bess M. Hazen Paints

Aside from her duties as art instructor, she paints pictures . . . several of which have been exhibited. . . Never worries, though her art classes worry many students till far, far into the night.

Aaron J. Hoover Carves

The reserved economist of the wood shop . . . Also has sheet metal, drawing classes and such, well in hand. . . Probably the quietest man on the campus.

Dr. O. A. Bontrager Thinks

By sticking his tongue in his cheek . . . The favorite, yet the dread of student teachers . . . Often seen with Dr. Gil-land and Mr. Mase . . . dis-cussing the pros and cons of student teaching. . . . Wise to all tricks of teaching and then some.

Mary E. Hornbake Signs

Receipts invariably bear her name . . . Friend indeed of the treasurer who is a little late with his bills and needs a check made out immediately . . . It is a well-known fact that any one on the campus who has at some time been a treasurer would lay down his life for her.

Lillian Conlon Manages

Holds the purse strings of the various clubs on the campus . . . Treasurer of the Student Activity Association . . . A business woman both in efficiency and dress.

Dr. Charles Veon Plays

Can often be heard giving Chopin or Bach a workout in his studio . . . Grand pianist . . . can play jazz, but cannot give it the "soul" he instills in his renditions of the classics.

Lethal Keisling Gestures

Fires all her students with the desire to teach Reading as it should be taught . . . Ges-tures profusely . . . Neat dress-er . . . Was on time for break-fast once . . . last year.

Arthur Pollock Bosses

More of a leader than a boss, however . . . Has charge of the N.Y.A. lads . . . Keeper of the grounds, farm, any-thing that needs looked after . . . Often seen on his knees repairing the floors around the institution.

Althea King Nurses

The lady in charge of the infirmary . . . the one to whom the students appeal when ill, cut, bruised, or otherwise incapacitated . . . Tells them to get more sleep and to quit gadding around so much.

FACULTY

Ruth Myers Originates

Famous for sponsoring the cleverest and best dances at California . . . Is constantly fighting for the rights of her girls . . . Sigma Tau Lambda . . . Girl's Glee Club to you . . . Sponsors the Music Appreciation Club . . . Loves good music.

Dr. Keller Argues

Sponsor of the debate squad . . . Will argue pro or con any question you may care to bring up . . . Hates people who cut his classes . . . The human book of flowing quotations . . . Loves poetry.

E. E. Halstead Sings

Teaches the male song-bird contingent of California how to blend their voices into good, sound harmony . . . Result: the Men's Glee Club . . . Teaches potential teachers how to teach music to children . . . Loves to pun.

C. M. Hughey Advises

The man beneath the eye-shade . . . often seen haunting the Monocal Room . . . also staff members of the Hammer and Tongs . . . Teaches Journalism and English . . . We dare anyone to debase the H&T while he's about . . . Really a grand person.

FACULTY

Minnie Jones Dramatizes

Has unusual dramatic and speech training which she preserves solely for the second grade in the Demonstration School . . . Usually seen with Miss Pardoe.

Dorothy K. Cleaveland Seeks

Ferrets out reference books for students . . . The "Royal Order of Library Loafers" ducks when it hears her step . . . Has made the Library a place to study and not to loaf.

Neva Montgomery Likes

To follow modern advanced methods of teaching . . . Has charge of the fifth grade in the Demonstration School . . . likes to play bridge.

Elmer Schreiner Thumps

His tom-tom puts all Eurhythmic students through their paces. . . . Has the most "continental air" of anyone on the campus. . . . A big smile under a tyrolean hat, a springy gait, and a "good day" to all who come his way.

Louise Hildreth Exercises

Advocate of plenty of rest, fresh air and exercise. . . out-of-doors of course. . . Pleasing voice, charming smile, wind-blown hair. . . Sponsors the Women's Athletic Association.

Alpha Graham Collects

Likes to fish and ski, but would rather collect Indian relics. . . The other half of the Escher-Graham combination. . . Her displays in the Demonstration Building add beauty to the intellectual atmosphere.

Dr. William Cunningham Figures

Devises new ways to beat his proteges playing chess. . . Sponsor of the Science-Math Club, and intensely interested in radios. . . Conspicuous for his crop of flaming red hair.

Catherine O'Keefe Judges

Critic teacher for sixth grade student teachers in the Demonstration School. . . . Greatly admired by all the girls as well as the boys. . . Pal to all active Alpha Psi Omegans.

Elizabeth Smith Arranges

Miss Smith in her first year as dietitian at California has become well adapted. Knows all the ins and outs of good foods. Keeps a careful tab on all "fish" days. Her menus are well liked.

Mrs. King Replaces

When there is a teacher in need, Mrs. King comes to the rescue. Twice in two years she has taken over the reigns as a directing teacher and has done admirable work. Loves to kid the kiddies, but really makes the student teachers work.

FACULTY

Samuel M. Neagley Scores

Vitally interested in finding Means and Medians . . . The perfect teacher of Pestalozzian practice . . . Respected and admired for his absolute impartiality and fairness . . . Teaches Philosophy and sponsors the Rifle Club.

Anthony Stavaski Prints

This dynamo of human energy operates more quickly than his printing presses. . . . prizes a good bound book . . . Never tiring.

George Harding Rambles

Can take a geography class on a rambling tour through any country in the world and discuss everything from land formation to roofing paint. . . . "Chuck full" of knowledge.

Mary N. Brown Mothers

As Matron of North Hall, Mrs. Brown is practically a mother to "her girls" . . . Makes living in the Dorm more home-like and attractive . . . Can usually be found with Miss Bernstorf.

FACULTY

Emma Sacco Schedules

As acting Dean of Instruction Miss Sacco makes out students' schedules. . . . Has revised Dr. Kriner's "Football Team" into her "Bridge Club."

Nellie Pardoe Diagrams

A whiz at diagramming . . . Knows all the angles . . . an expert at bridge and lots of fun to know . . . especially "outside of class."

Ruth Dorsey Checks

Checks books in and out of the library. . . . Keeps track of all books, and never misses a count. . . . Assistant to Miss Cleveland.

Joseph H. Hurst Photographs

The guiding star of the Camera Club . . . A little tap on his cranium always brings forth the expression he needs to explain an experiment. . . . Also the Monocal Advisor.

Arthur S. Gilmore Oversees

Firm believer in the "grapevine" method of communication with the general office (three taps on the pipes) . . . Director of the Student Activities Association.

Salma Johnson Sweetens

Wherever she goes her environment is sweetened by her ready smile and quick wit. . . Assistant Circulation Manager in Library . . . A friend of the students.

Rose Leacock Decorates

Always a helping hand at a social function . . . Develops a habit of "good dress" to students . . . Visited Europe and uses that experience in her appreciation of art classes.

Marie Escher Introduces

Introduces children to their first taste of school in the Demonstration School's grade one. . . Miss Escher is considered one of the best teachers in her profession.

Henrietta Carroll Entertains

Sponsors the Gamma Pi Chi, the society of hostesses. . . Helps her girls in the womanly art of being the "perfect hostess." . . Teaches literature.

Louise M. Ward Philosophizes

Noted for her little quotations from various philosophers, poets, and other writers which she places on the wall in the College Book Store. . . Friendly.

FACULTY

C. B. Wilson Tests

Tests kids and collegians alike to determine their I.Q.'s. . . Psychology students are always wondering what he'll be doing next. . . Teaches psychology by demonstrations on the class. . . Clinic director.

Newton Kerstetter Smiles

Upturned lips and a cheery smile greets all his classes. . . likes to use his pupils in proving certain experiments. . . phrases his questions to motivate the action of the synapse. . . Has the uncomfortable habit of always bringing up material which should have been learned.

C. A. Middleswarth Plans

Spends most of his time planning reports for the students to give. . . Great idealist. . . has great faith in American youth. . . Prefers to associate with young people because he has become so used to them.

J. Homer Sutherland Haunts

Haunts students of chemistry with unknowns. . . Employs the dot system of grading. . . one recitation: you either know the answer or you don't. . . Firm believer in note books.

FACULTY

Dr. Earl Blank Files

Has more files than the Social Security Bureau. . . Has made dramatics an outstanding feature through his Artist Service Bureau. . . Firm believer in laboratory classes.

Sara Steele Mimeographs

Just one of her many duties as secretary to the Director of the Training School. . . "Keeper of the Sanctus Sanctorum" . . . Very efficient.

Clarence Grove Volleys

Insists that he and Coach Steers can beat any other combination at tennis. . . The little man behind the Jay-Vees. . . Takes his time.

IN REMEMBRANCE OF A FRIEND

In special remembrance we devote this space to a teacher, advisor, and friend, Dr. Harry L. Kriner.

He is a firm believer and advocate of extra-curricular activities and athletics and had a tremendous amount of influence in setting up the traditional aspects of these two phases at California since he first arrived.

Dr. Kriner came to California in 1925 and remained until the beginning of the last semester of 1938 when he was appointed as assistant chief of the division of certification in the State Department of Public Instruction.

To those who have known him during the past year and previously he will always remain respected and wish him all the success of the world in whatever future work he may choose to undertake.

CLASSES . . .

Modern times have taken away the student who traveled on horseback and studied his lesson at the same time, and in its place has put the modern automobile and train commuter. California has always been known for its large commuting body, but despite this fact it has graduated thousands of students who were continually known for their fine friendliness, courtesy and admirable attitudes. It has lifted many of the poor and unclassified and helped them to a successful living.

California can be proud of the fact that she has graduated many students who have made a name for themselves in this world. Integrity, ambition, and a willingness of heart have always been noteworthy traditions of California students.

THE SENIORS ACCOMPLISH . . .

. . . their end. With a cloak of dignity, a diploma underneath their arm, and a degree bestowed upon their heads the Seniors terminate their four years of work and play, with a sigh of relief and contentment.

This may be a history of their college life, but their real history begins when each individual enters the world and makes his own choice of the various activities of life.

This class has had more than its share of participants in football, basketball, student government, representative students, and romance. The impressions and inspirations received at California will always be remembered by this outgoing group of young men and women.

The Seniors may ever cherish fond memories of a successful Junior Prom and Senior Ball, of Marshall's puns, of Bradley's gab, of Renstrom's originality, of Duvall's nonchalance and gift of dress, and of Leman's famous derby.

With dignity will they graduate; with enthusiasm and high hopes will they seek their positions in the complicated world of today; and with enjoyment they may accomplish their goals. C.S.T.C. salutes you Seniors with its fondest farewell.

THE JUNIORS STAND OUT . . .

. . . and still hold the honor of being the largest class in the college ever since they entered the front iron gate.

Besides that distinction, the class is known for its unusual amount of talent: leaders, and campus personalities. Having begun their political careers with a freshman campaign, they continued their flair for politics with a sensational Junior election.

The achievements of the Junior Class, however, do not stop with politics. If one delves into other types of activities, one will find that a Junior will be at least partially responsible for their success.

This Junior Class has given us most of our Thespians, a "swell" swing Prom, Linden's socks, McCollum's versatility, Edwards' Provinciator, Kuhn's Latrobe Swing, Zaffy's publicity hounding, and Sloan's continued honor as the most representative girl.

The Juniors look forward to the day of tomorrow when "stoogent" teaching will become a reality and then—degrees and a diploma.

THE SOPHOMORES MOVE ON . . .

. . . on to higher heights. Entering the second year of college life these green Freshmen of yesterday become proud holders of the coveted title, Sophomores.

They lose their former shyness, become engaged and really adapted to the college and contribute notably. Their feats are too numerous to be mentioned here, but a glance at other sections of this book will show that as a whole the class lived up to the fine promise they had as Freshmen.

At their annual election Paul Varner was elected to lead the group for the year with Willis Barkley, Mary Watson, and Joseph Blair chosen as his right hand helpers.

Their good ship, "Sophomore Hop" anchored in Herron Hall with "Skipper" Bates and his syncopating mates providing tuneful rhythms to the Columbus Day dancers.

Bodnar's wondrous orbs, Tichansky's one-man sport page, Madden's "shift system," Kudlik's floor ability, Cartwright's smile, O'Brien's wit, and active Industrial Arts boys contributed to the college glory and honor.

Having completed the half-way mark in their college careers, the Sophomores are ready to delve into the mysteries of their upper class intellectuals.

THE FRESHMEN WERE SO GREEN

. . . that on one occasion one of them tried to quench his thirst at the sun dial, but despite this fact they were welcomed with open arms, dinks, arm-bands, pajama parades and initiation paddles and safely guided to the proper college life.

The new-comers were introduced to their bigger brothers and sisters at the College Mixer in the form of a country carnival and square dance. Later, the officers were elected and Dr. Staats was chosen as their chief advisor and friend.

Socially the Freshmen tried to imitate their upperclassmen by staging the traditional Freshman Frolic, and successfully they did with Frank Lombardo's Orchestra swinging Valentine tunes.

Perhaps Freshmen are green, but what good is a school without them? . . . Without their convict haircuts, Tannehill's sage advice, Butler's deep basso profundo, another Yarnall, Bebo of basketball and football fame, or the other pleasing personalities?

Good they were this year, but, they say, "Watch us next year."

ORGANIZATIONS . . .

Over thirty active organizations have originated directly or indirectly from the few original literary societies that functioned on the California campus years ago. They may be classified as extra-class activities, but in reality they are a definite and fundamental part of each student's orientation to college life.

Sheriff Spellman waits . . . Matuga after a match . . . Kay goes for a stroll . . . Posin' on a cold Sunday . . . McKee sleeps while Hively reads a bedtime story . . . Moffitt looks on . . . a rest on a culvert . . . ready for a picnic . . . catching a pass . . . hitting the bull's eye

The principles of self-government and support have been endowed to the students. The administration is represented by faculty sponsorship. A central governing body, comprised of representatives of the various organizations, controls and directs the organizations and is responsible to the administration.

On the bridge . . . climbing bluffs . . . model of new industrial arts home . . . steamboatin' on the river . . . bashful Wally? . . . the editor plays . . . Bill does a job . . . Dick comes out of a faint

REPRESENTATIVE STUDENTS

Each year the students and faculty of California hold a "popularity poll" to determine the ten most representative boys and ten most representative girls. . . . Each student voted for must be considered on the basis of personality, scholarship, and integrity. . . . Five students, three girls and two boys are then selected from this upper twenty and offered a four-day sojourn in New York City. . . . While there they attend a convention of the Eastern States Association of Professional Schools for teachers, an organization founded by Dr. Ambrose Suhrie, a graduate of C. S. T. C. . . .

This year's group listened to a lecture by Norman Thomas, noted philosopher, attended a formal ball at the Hotel Pennsylvania, and took in the sights of New York. . . . All in all it was a successful trip, both from the standpoint of experience, and education.

Those who attended this year's conference were June Erskine, Margaret Foreman, Katharine Isenberg, Donald Duvall, and Herman Preseren.

HARRISBURG GROUP

Each year California sends a group of students to Harrisburg to an Inter-collegiate Conference on Government, wherein the students discuss current problems of governmental set-up. . . . This conference is composed of a group of some three hundred delegates from approximately forty Pennsylvania institutions, including Teacher Colleges, Liberal Arts Colleges, and Universities. . . .

Each year California sends from ten to thirteen delegates. . . . Student Congress helps to finance the trip with an allocation from the Student Activities Association. . . . The delegates are chosen by the faculty sponsors in connection with the former student delegates and the Student Cabinet. . . .

This year the Conference was called a Governor's Conference at which California was represented as the State of California. . . . Doris McCollum was elected "Governor" and had charge of the group. Professor Horace Montgomery was faculty sponsor of the delegation.

STUDENT CABINET

The job of reviewing allocation demands from the various organizations on California's campus, and recommending how much they were actually going to get, was delegated to this illustrious body at the beginning of the year. . . . Preparation of the docket for Congress meetings, determination of the policy of the Student Activities Association, initiation of legislation, and reporting at any time are other functions of Cabinet. . . . Ten of the members are chosen by a caucus of class representatives in Congress; the president of Congress and president of the Student Activities Association are automatically members, thus making a total of twelve in all. . . . A representative of the president of the college sits in at the meetings to facilitate relationships in that quarter. . . .

Cabinet leads, Congress follows. . . . At times Congress gets rambunctious and overrides some recommendations, but these are few and far between. . . . May be referred to as the Supreme Court of California, although they do not pass on the constitutionality of legislature passed by Congress.

The officers: chairman, Schuyler Marshall; vice chairman, Willis Foster; secretary, Sam Paisley.

STUDENT CONGRESS

Sometimes called "stocgent" Congress, but is far from being a stooge group. . . . Had the distasteful job of allocating less money to more organizations this year . . . received plenty of criticism from various organizations for action taken in reducing allocations, yet they took the only course available to solve the problem of decreased enrollment. . . . Their Freshman Rules Committee caused an explosion during the first semester, but Time, that great healer, closed that wound. . . .

Has the distinction of being recognized as a model student legislature. . . . Earlier this year five representatives from the student body of Slippery Rock Teachers College came to California to study our student government set-up. . . . Listened in on a meeting of Congress and departed with their heads buzzing with ideas. . . .

A year of hard work topped off with a banquet at the end of the year characterizes the duties of these young legislators . . . Potential statesmen.

The officers: president, Eugene McDonald; vice-president, Schuyler Marshall; secretary, Rita Carroll; treasurer, Mrs. Conlon.

TRAVELING WOMEN'S COUNCIL

The guiding hand for the traveling girls. Under their leadership the traveling lassies take care and enjoy the benefits of the comfortable ladies' traveling quarters. They also help to sponsor the annual traveling dance, as well as aiding the sponsorship of Dad's Day and Mother's Day.

There has been no doubt that this group's presence has been readily perceived since it represents one of the largest contingents of students on the campus.

Margaret Renstrom acted as president for the past year while other members of the council were Doris McCollum, Sylvia Kwellner, Gladys Balmer, Betty Koop, Christine McIntyre, Katharine Sale, Ruth Stanton, Hazel Braun, and Ann Kusago.

TRAVELING MEN'S COUNCIL

The integrating unit between the traveling men and the administration. . . . Their duties are to iron out any differences the traveling men may have with resident students, administration, or themselves. . . . Helped sponsor the Traveling Association dance . . . worked with the Traveling Women's Council in this connection. . . .

This year the Council was faced with a problem of housing as the Men's Traveling Room under Science Hall was used as a store-room when that building was repaired. . . . Late election of officers retarded action along this line, however, so the travelers did without a "loafing spot" for the greater part of the year.

NORTH HALL COUNCIL

Under the able direction of June Erskine, president of North Hall council, the girls' dormitory has achieved well worthwhile purpose in different phases of resident girls' lives.

The various social functions, Mother's Day, Dad's Day, Christmas Party, Dorm Dinner Dance, and other private girls' parties are either held or aided by this group.

During the past year in particular, this group has set a standard of fire regulations by which every girl in the dormitory abides for her own protection and safety.

Other members of the council include Dorothy Fullerton, Dorothy Good, Mary Belle Whipkey, and Dorothy Newell.

SOUTH HALL COUNCIL

The governing body of the men's dormitory. . . . This illustrious group listens to complaints, freshmen, or anything else desiring an ear. . . . Determine the severity of freshman rules, and see that they are carried out. . . . Also keep their eyes peeled for any over anxious sophomore that might try to exceed the rules set down by this council . . . South Hall's guiding stars . . . They are instrumental for arranging a well-balanced social program for the dormitory. . . . Although officers, the lads themselves are not policemen. . . . They are merely dormitory students whose business it is to act as a coordinating unit. . . . Instigators of the "Dorm Dinner-Dance" . . . Really nice lads. . . .

The officers: president, Earl Kuhn. Members include Byron Hoon, William Crowley, Michael Poet, Marcellus Kunkelmann, and John Migut.

GAMMA PHI CHI

No better place could a member of the feminine contingent on the campus find to become skilled in the social graces. Twice-monthly the socialites gather to talk over worthwhile subjects over a cup of tea. However, the organization, under the sponsorship of Miss Carroll, carry out a project that is really outstanding and different from anything else on the campus. Each year the group gets together and makes some kind of a project for the sick children of the Charleroi and Brownsville hospitals. During the past year small scrapbooks, depicting dogs, cats, babies, children of foreign lands, and other forms of pictures, were made and distributed, making many a child's eye beam with happy tears and laughter.

ALPHA PSI OMEGA

A fraternity designed to give its members a professional outlook on the theatre . . . has the distinction of being the third largest fraternity in the United States. . . .

To become a member of the local fraternity, the individual must pass first through Junior Players, then College Players. . . . While here he must achieve a rating of distinguished service for one year, must meet certain other requirements in scholarship, professional attitudes, continued activity in dramatics, and must conform also to certain national standards. . . . Not an easy job to acquire membership. . . .

The Beta Omicron cast (California's) has already set "Bless His Little Heart" into production to be used as a road show next year. . . . All members will take part in the production of the show. . . . Under the supervision of Dr. Earl W. Blank. . . . Aside from general campus meetings, the cast holds a social meeting with the alumni once each month. . . .

The officers: president, Margaret Foreman; vice-president, Betty Koop; secretary-treasurer, Doris McCollum.

PI GAMMA MU

Pi Gamma Mu is a national honorary fraternity composed of students of social science. The National Council of Pi Gamma Mu granted a charter to California State Teachers College in May, 1933, as the Lambda chapter.

Requirements to membership in the fraternity are high scholastic standing in the field of social studies and activity in other student projects on the campus.

At each meeting Pi Gamma Mu has an outside speaker. Some for this year were Andrew S. Sukel, Principal of Donora Senior High School, and the Pioneers of the Northwest Expedition.

Members and speakers delve into current world problems which confront the world, and discussions of national and international relations are discussed. Pi Gamma Mu is one of the clubs on the campus which makes it worth while to students for being its members.

Under the guidance of Professor Arthur S. Gilmore . . . Pi Gamma Mu is an organization of growing importance on the campus . . . and several new members were admitted to it this past year.

Officers of the fraternity are: president, Katherine Sale; vice-president, Thomas Cober; secretary-treasurer, Margaret Renstrom and Professor Gilmore.

PHI SIGMA PI

"Onward Education" or some similar phrase would be an appropriate slogan for Phi Sigma Pi, primarily an educational fraternity. The main purposes of the fraternity are training, scholarship, and fellowship. At the business meetings for the campus members, educational researches and projects are discussed.

The qualifications for membership are a "B" average, leadership, friendliness and value to the school. Mr. C. B. Wilson, a national officer, sponsors the organization.

Four professional meetings and two socials are held during the course of the year, and at these are present educational leaders who speak and discuss problems of education. The yearly program is climaxed by a Founder's Day banquet. At this year's banquet Dr. Newland, now head of the Special Education in Harrisburg was present, and spoke to the members and guests. The affair ended with social dancing.

The officers: president, Schuyler Marshall; vice president, William Frye; secretary, Lawrence Sullivan; treasurer, Charles Griffin; historian, Edward Bell.

W. A. A.

This organization, the Women's Athletic Association, affords all the girls on the campus an opportunity to avail themselves of some sport in which they are interested. . . . Tennis, basketball, hockey, hiking, riding, volley ball, archery, and ping-pong are included in their list of sports activities. . . . The club has a social meeting on the first Monday of every month at which they play games and enjoy refreshments. . . .

In the fall of the year, an Intercollegiate Play Day was held on the campus, with representatives from district colleges participating. . . . Miss Hildreth's "gang" also sent a few of their members to represent California at other collegiate Play Days. . . . In May a High School Play Day was held, at which approximately sixteen high schools were represented. . . . The affair consisted of games both indoor and outdoor, with a banquet in the evening to conclude the day of gay festivities. . . . The W.A.A. takes care of more girls than any other organization on the campus.

The officers: president, Martha Meyers; vice-president, Lois Gardner; secretary, Mildred Palmer; treasurer, Alma Raynal; representative to Congress, Retta Mae Williams.

VARSITY CLUB

In their midst will be found the lads who excel in the varsity sports. . . . Every man a "C" man . . . Brawn and brains . . . a happy medium . . . Junior Varsity men are honorary members . . . Sports Nite is sponsored by this group . . . and very capable sponsors they are . . . The "Varsity Drag" is really their nite to howl . . . and howl they do . . . By-word is "Once a member—always a member" . . . To prove this . . . they invite all the alumni back to attend the Drag and the dinner. . . . Their big, red "C"s are the envy of the institution, so it is only natural that these boys do not limit their scope of activity to athletics, but are also active in other extra-curricular activities. . . . A swell bunch of guys.

The officers: president, Herman Preseren; secretary-treasurer, Earl Kuhn.

Y. W. C. A.

From September to May the Y.W. carries on. . . . First the Big Sister-Little Sister party. . . . Intelligent upperclass women introducing their younger and less sophisticated "sistern" to the wiles of college life. . . . Candle-light services in the Game Room . . . Hymns floating across the warm autumn breezes . . . Christmas, and the hymns become carols . . . More candle-light . . . More hymns . . . Conventions, here and on other campuses attracted many delegates. . . . Spring; and the girls work diligently on Mother's Day. . . . and so it goes—every season brings different things for the Y.W. to engage in. . . . Yet through their entire programme is felt the strong pulsating beat, characteristic of the quest for spiritual guidance. . . . A programme, well rounded, spiritually and socially.

The officers for the year are: president, Mary Catherine Sloan; vice-president, Jane Springer; secretary, Lois Gardner; treasurer, Zetta Hixon.

Y. M. C. A.

Its purpose is to elevate the morals of the group and to provide the spiritual guidance necessary for the aforementioned elevation. . . . A difficult task, but, thanks to Dr. Staats and Dr. Salisbury, the success enjoyed has been miraculous. . . . Plays host to the district Hi-Y clubs . . . Keeps the "Y" room the rendezvous of tired, worn out students. . . . Business meetings, every Wednesday evening . . . Speakers are either faculty members or men who have enjoyed some success in their respective fields. . . . Adjourn to the gym after meetings, where they carry on a rather diversified sports program . . . ranging all the way from ping-pong to basketball (as played by the intramuralers). . . . "blessed be their memories, those hardy souls" . . .

The officers: president, Joseph Honeychuck; vice-president, William Frye; secretary, John Primosic; treasurer, Richard Herod; representative to Congress, Earl Kuhn.

JUNIOR PLAYERS

Junior Players . . . the first stepping stone in the life of the would-be Thespian . . . Originated by Darrell J. Mase . . . Meetings, held every second Wednesday, constitute the business and entertainment side of the club. . . . The entertainment consists usually of a one-act play in which the members participate; they act, direct, do stage work and all else connected with the theatre. . . .

A high point of this year's activity was a trip to the Nixon Theatre in Pittsburgh, Pa. . . . saw a modern version of "Julius Caesar" . . . Joined with College Players and staged a dinner-dance at which members doing distinguished service work for the year were awarded pins for their efforts. . . . Also went together with the Senior Players on other occasions when socials were being staged. . . . Sends many students up each semester to College Players.

The officers: president, Harry Hulings; vice-president, Jack N. Schwartz; secretary, Constance Yarnall; treasurer, Marion Huseman.

COLLEGE PLAYERS

One of the liveliest organizations on the campus, and one of the largest . . . Three major productions this year prove the old adage, that variety is the spice of life . . . We wept with pity for "Ma" of "Sun-Up," laughed through three rollicking acts of "The Importance of Being Earnest," and enjoyed the fine acting and directing of the Mother's Day play, "Zaragueta." . . . In addition to the major productions of the club, nineteen one-act plays were presented by the Thespians. . . .

In order to allow all members to participate actively, the club inaugurated a point system, whereby each individual was given definite credit for such work as he might do. . . . The big event this year of College Players was the dinner-dance. . . . At this function the ten most distinguished members were awarded a beautiful pin in recognition of their work. . . . Sponsored by Dr. Earl W. Blank.

The officers: president, Margaret Foreman; vice-president, Alma Raynal; secretary, Gladys Balmer; treasurer, Harry Cornell.

ELEUSIUM CLUB

Preparing students to sponsor Art and Crafts clubs in High Schools is the prime purpose of the Eleusium Club. . . . Also prepares the members to take charge of summer camps, community clubs, and various other functions along this line. . . . This year the club made candle sconces as one of their projects. . . . Grotesque masks, for ornamental purposes, were also created by this energetic group. . . .

Initiation ceremonies are very formal and adapted from the Greeks. . . . Greek costumes are worn by the members of the initiation committee. . . . The "padding" of new members is not quite as formal as the regular ceremony. . . .

The officers: president, Joseph Honeychuck; vice-president, Ray Hagerty; secretary, LaRue Kees; treasurer, John Primosic; representative to Congress, Bill Jacobs.

MONVALEA CLUB

Under the sponsorship of Miss Nellie Pardoe . . . purpose is to train girls for leadership in various activities, but has become almost entirely a bridge club. . . . The girls meet for an hour every Tuesday in order to indulge in their chosen sport. . . . The lassies originally played only auction bridge, but in the past year they developed a classy game of contract. . . .

A feature of this year's program was a "challenge" rubber with four lads from South Hall. . . . Monvalea put up a good, steady fight, but lost the contest. . . . At any rate, possibly they have set a precedent which will be carried on in coming years. . . .

During the year, a Girl Scout training course was offered to the girls, several of whom took advantage of the offer. . . . A Valentine's Day party was another feature of the girls' activities.

The officers: president, Ruth Stanton; vice-president, Henrietta Kissler; secretary, Jane Painter; treasurer, Ella Wilson; representative to Congress, Rita Carroll.

NATURE STUDY CLUB

Hikers . . . fresh air fiends . . . Nature lovers . . . Sponsored by Dean Walker, the biology man . . . Dashed up to Blue Hole for a day of skiing, hiking, and eating. . . . A swell time was had by all, and each vowed to go again. . . .

The purpose of the club is to give its members an appreciation of Nature . . . an opportunity to listen to birds, look at flowers, study fossils, ski, ride, hike, or anything pertaining to the great out-doors. . . . Valuable visual education for any Nature Study or Biology course . . . Although a comparatively new club on the campus, its membership is growing considerably each year.

The officers: president, Elizabeth Moffitt; vice-president, Ernestine Matuga; secretary-treasurer, Eleanora Esken; representative to Congress, Albert Moffitt.

SCIENCE MATH CLUB

Science-Math Club has in reality almost dropped the Math and has devoted itself to Science. . . . Club members have been enthusiastically working on an amateur radio station which is to be established on the campus. . . . To date, the recording device, microphone, and tone and volume control have been completed.

As its contribution to the Lilley Recreation Center, the Science-Math Club is planning an observatory which will be located on the new "Observatory Hill." . . .

Much attention has been given to the club's telescope, also. . . . When a suitable place has been found, students will begin polishing the  $2\frac{1}{2}$  inch mirror.

D. O. Scanlon, well known amateur astronomer, was the guest speaker of the Science-Math Club at the chapel program which it sponsored.

The club members have expressed interest in another field, that of fingerprinting. . . . It is hoped that with the aid of the F.B.I., the club will gain enough information to do competent fingerprinting.

Girls of C.S.T.C. have expressed a liking for things scientific for there are several of them among the members of the club.

Officers of the club: president, Marcellus Kunkelmann; vice-president, Joe Kelley; secretary-treasurer, Zula Bamford.

WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB

Dude ranching was the theme this year,—yes, one of those wild west dude farms was formed in the French Provincial Room. The chief activity was a dance for which Bob McGowan's orchestra provided the rhythmic strains of swing music.

On their annual two spring and fall concerts, Sigma Tau Lambda featured Edith Sagul, flutist. Under the direction and sponsorship of Miss Ruth Myers combinations of quartettes, duets, and other forms of voice combinations are featured at the annual concerts.

The girl songsters also aid in singing for the annual commencement and baccalaureate services. A successful year has been enjoyed—one that will be remembered in years to come.

The officers: president, Hazel Braun; vice-president, Mary C. Sloan; secretary-treasurer, Rita Carroll.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB

With "Kunky" (Marcellus Kunkelmann to youse rabble) scaring the daylight out of people as the Ghost of King Tut, the Men's Glee Club enjoyed a rather successful season. . . . Although concerts were not so numerous, due to a late start, those given were met with quite some approval. . . . For the second part of their regular program this year, the crooners offered a bit of slapstick entitled "Cleopatra," a humorous skit of college life. . . .

Three "discoveries" were featured during the season, namely, an all freshman double quartet, a new soloist in the person of James Butler, and a trombone offering by Jack Bradley. . . .

A dinner-dance held in the Georgian Dining Hall featuring Barry Blue and his orchestra marked the high spot of the season's programme. . . . Quite a few claimed it one of the best affairs held on the campus during the whole year. . . . Broadcast over KDKA to keep up a tradition now five years old . . . All in all a successful season . . .

The officers: president, Howard Pile; vice-president, Francis Geary; secretary, Lawrence Sullivan; treasurer, Wilbur Edwards.

C. S. N. A.

Providing its members with actual experience as advisors is the aim of the Council of School Newspaper Advisors, more commonly known as the C.S.N.A. . . . After three semesters of work on the staff, during which time the individual does everything from janitor work to editing, the potential newshound becomes a pledge to the council. . . . Here, after two semesters of student advising the journalist is given a certificate which authorizes him to sponsor a newspaper in any Elementary, Junior High, or High School in which he may find himself. . . . The chief work of the group is to advise and help members of the newspaper staff along the lines of writing, copyreading, and headlining. . . .

The yearly press conference at Hershey, Pa., during the Christmas vacation is usually attended by some members of the Council. . . . There they try to pick up new ideas in school journalism which will be of aid to the Hammer and Tongs, and also to themselves when they become teachers. . . .

This year the Council awarded certificates to four members: Bertha Jane Bradley, Joseph Zaffy, Herman Preseren, and Wilbur Edwards. . . .

The officers: president, Wilbur Edwards; vice-president, Bertha Jane Bradley; secretary-treasurer, Gladys Balmer; student representative to Congress, Wilbur Edwards.

HAMMER AND TONGS

Probably one of the most progressive organizations on the campus . . . rose from a three column paper with very few illustrations three years ago, to its present status of five columns and plenty of pictures. . . . Really a school of hard knocks and hard work . . . Under the sponsorship of C. M. Hughey—a journalist as well as a teacher. . . . Ultimate goal is that some day the H&T will be a daily. . . . The "Mailbox" has become a clearing house for student opinions . . . the editorial policy has always been favorable to the "lad in the hall" . . . Heard "Cy" Hungerford, noted cartoonist, at their annual banquet to keep up their reputation of bringing only the best to California. . . . Publicity work concerning the new recreation center at the Lilley Farm probably did most to convey to the general student body and alumni the intents and purposes of the farm. . . . Wound up the season with one "dead" columnist, and two others limping down the stretch. . . .

Present staff is to be commended for overcoming a handicap of "greenness" to put out a nice paper. . . . Cartwright, Lamb, Smith, O'Brien, Tichansky and Butler—sophomores and freshmen with the exception of Lamb, a junior, comprise the nucleus of the staff.

CAMERA CLUB

Lights! Action! Camera!

Although the members do not always have lights they certainly have plenty of action with their cameras.

The camera club, formerly known as the Photography club, was organized as one of the first extra-curricular organizations of the California State Teachers College campus. When the club first came into being it boasted the largest enrollment of the organization.

The club meets every second Thursday and the programs contain interesting discussions of photographic interest.

The members of the club delight in snapping all kinds of pictures, and some very interesting compositions have resulted. Besides just taking pictures the camera fans develop films and make prints. The Monocal is indebted to the Camera Club for its photographs. Many of the former members of the camera club have found the club a fortunate experience, and now have started their own photography clubs in their schools.

The officers: president, John McCloskey; vice-president, Thomas Emory; secretary, Juanita Frederick; treasurer, Gladys Garber.

MUSIC APPRECIATION CLUB

The Music Appreciation Club is what its name denotes. The members listen to music and learn to develop an appreciation of fine music.

This organization is under the sponsorship of Dr. Charles E. Veon, head of the Music department of C.S.T.C. The club has not accomplished as much this year as in previous years as far as attending outside concerts and symphonies is concerned.

The members give talks at the various meetings of the club.

The officers: president, Howard Pape; vice-president, Harry McCann; secretary-treasurer, Eleanora Esken.

DEBATE CLUB

The Debate Team this year completed a 600 mile tour of the eastern part of the state with four members of the debate team, Jack Marshall, Joe Smyth, George Roadman and Joe Kelley. . . . During the course of the tour the following seven colleges were visited: Lock Haven, Bloomsburg, Kutztown, Shippensburg, Susquehanna, Lebanon Valley and Albright. . . . The team experienced speaking before a variety of audiences: college, high school, town and city . . . and in the type of debates: conventional and Oregon styles . . . they have no decision debates . . . their purpose being to obtain training that will prepare them to direct this branch of forensic activity in high schools and to develop their speech, organization and presentation of their material. . . .

The officers: president, Joe Smyth; manager, Beatrice Keller; representative to Congress, Schuyler Marshall.

GEOGRAPHY CLUB

The Geography club celebrated its tenth birthday this year, and remembered with sighs the days in years gone by when membership totaled 200, and S.R.O. signs were needed despite the use of Science Hall's large double rooms.

A variety of activities is covered by the club. Lectures by members of the organization and outside speakers, moving pictures, picnics, demonstrations, and field trips make the club both worth while and interesting for any persons interested in geography.

This year the club sponsored a chapel program with Miss Helen M. Strong of the Department of Soil Conservation of the Department of Agriculture as guest speaker. Also to the club's credit is the Geography conference, which was held here in March.

To be included on the sailing list of the boat which will take geographers to Europe under the guidance of Mr. Harding, is the aim of Geography Club members. . . . That is the reason they are hoarding those pennies.

Officers of the club are: president, John Harhai; secretary-treasurer, Gladys Balmer.

RIFLE CLUB

Because of the fact that the Demonstration School range was used for a store room for the science equipment coming out of the remodeling of Science Hall, this club didn't get organized until the second semester. . . . The club, however, was not inactive. . . . Meetings were conducted in class rooms, and noted riflemen were invited as guest speakers. . . .

A novel climax of the semester's activities came when Donald "Nimrod" Higbee bagged a six-point deer weighing 125 pounds during the first few days of hunting season. . . . As a result the club feels that they have had a successful year. . . .

At the beginning of the second semester the greater part of the club's activities shifted to the Noss Range and Steve Stefanik was given the responsibility of rounding out a rifle combination to oppose other rifle teams in the district. . . .

The club is sponsored by Mr. Neagley and Mr. Sutherland. Officers of the organization are president, Donald Higbee; vice-president, Anthony Kula; secretary-treasurer, George Shepler; executive officer, Elmer Riffle.

WHAT THEY HAVE DONE DURING THE PAST YEAR

REPRESENTATIVE STUDENTS: Represented the college at the Eastern States Association for Teachers in New York and the Intercollegiate Conference on Government in Harrisburg.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT: Balanced the budget, futhered student government activities, and sponsored their annual banquet.

TRAVELING COUNCILS: Sponsored the Traveling Dance and aided on Dads and Mothers Days.

RESIDENT COUNCILS: Arranged a system of fire prevention, sponsored the annual Christmas Party and Dorm-Dinner Dance, and help promote the Dads and Mothers Days.

VARIOUS CLUBS: Provided and promoted a large variety of lectures, shows, dances, banquets, parties, concerts, or charity; either to their immediate groups or to others.

FRATERNITIES: Promoted their immediate fraternity banquets and dances, lectures, and bestowed honorary mention upon deserving students of the college.

CHAPEL COMMITTEE: Arranged for a variety of speakers, concerts, recitals, or any other form of a chapel program that took place.

PROVINCIAL ROOM COMMITTEE: Acted in the role of caretakers of this entertainment room. Arranged for the buying of supplies.

ATHLETICS . . .

In the far off past the main thought of Athletics at California has been to win—to win in any way possible. letics has been the road paved toward this achievement.

Traditionally, California has been known, not by glamorous headlines in newspapers, but by the fact that it has produced teachers well qualified in sportsmanship, good leadership, and a clear insight to athletics along with a high scholastic standard.

ATHLETICS AT CALIFORNIA

The Athletic Council, composed of six students and three faculty members, is the unit that coordinates athletic activities at California. . . . Also brings the student body into close contact with the Administration. . . . Created by an act of Student Congress in 1935, it has served its purpose in a manner that deserves the highest recommendations. . . . This outfit buys equipment, schedules games in football, basketball, and tennis—signs contracts, keeps intramural sports going, gives out awards, and, in general, does all the work connected with California's athletic program. . . . They have given to the students a fine athletic program and used an amount of money which would be used to carry but one activity in another college. . . . Some comment raised concerning large allocation, but it can be easily seen that it is quite necessary.

. . . Because of the extensive extra-curricular program at California, Student Congress finds difficulty in guaranteeing sufficient sums to the Athletic Council, but as years roll on the problem of allocation to athletics will grow greater, because athletics will assume a more important role at California in the very near future.

Greater athletic enthusiasm is in store for California when the dream of a decade becomes a realization—Herron Hall will be enlarged with the annexation of an indoor swimming pool. There is great hope of building another major sport at C.S.T.C.

Future students will enjoy the benefits of the present expansion program, on and off the campus. The purchase of the Lilley Recreation Center will offer limitless opportunities for the development of numerous sport activities, novel to California. Only time will ripen development.

The recent purchase of the Rothwell tract will also do its share in years to come in building athletics at California. In all probability, the twenty-acre estate will be the site for the new athletic field so much in need at California since the tearing up of the old athletic battlefield, which is now covered with the new Industrial Arts Building.

With the new land additions, California is afforded the opportunity of reaching a new high in the development of sports. California is still young, but growing fast.

Steers

Leman

Naylor

Grove

W. H. Steers, Coach

A believer in the adage, "Everybody is good for something" and practices just that, on his gridiron duties as coach. Big Bill knows all the ins and outs of football and claims that "material" is the primary essential of any successful team.

Charles E. Leman, Co-captain

The boy from Portage who can smile whether he is down or up. The brain half of the famous Kuhn-Leman combination at guards during the past year.

Clifford Naylor, Co-captain

Once he fell asleep at the wheel and never lived it down, but never did he fall asleep in guiding the wheel of the 1937 Vulcan gridiron heroes.

Clarence Grove, Ass't Coach

Famous for his baseball ability But more recently as a faithful "builder-upper" for Coach Steers. Sends Jay-Vee material up, and provides very excellent records with his green material.

FOOTBALL

FOOTBALL

Sam Bedogne, Halfback

"Slingin" Sam or "Kickin" Sam, in either case the title would be appropriate. Dependable as a punter, passer, and receiver. Loves soccer, baseball, and basketball just as well as football.

Joseph Phillips, Halfback

The watch dog of Herron Hall. Has more "pull" with Hoppy than any other person on the campus. Played guard two years, but moved to the back-field this year. Quite serious in every undertaking.

One of the finest bits of action of the Indiana defeat. Stephen Kuzma, Vluacan halfback, received the ball on his own 40-yard line and behind splendid interference wiggled his way through the center of the line for a dash of 38 yards before he was tackled. The tackle resulted into a fumble for "Kuzy" and an Indiana man recovered. (Note Kuzma tackled and No. 28 falling upon the loose ball.)

Bedogne

Phillips

FOOTBALL

Earl Kuhn, Guard

The other half of the famous Kuhn-Leman combination. Noted for his ability to break through and block opponent's kicks. Plays center just as well. Chief garcon of the Dining Hall.

Edward Hall, Tackle

A giant that can eat football. Goes to school and works at night, with football added as a pastime. His other pastime lives in California.

The play that spelled defeat to a Clarion team for the first time. With California against their own wall, Sam Bartolotta, California quarterback, stood in the end zone and prepared to kick out of danger. The front line broke loose, and three Clarion gridsters rushed in upon Sammy. The ball struck one of the blockers and rolled out of the end zone for what proved to be the winning two points. (Note, Bartolotta completing his kick and the ball rolling loose—out of the end zone.)

Finley

Stephen Kuzma, Halfback

The fleet midget of the team. Probably the only man that can outrun the coach. Noted for his "mousey" squeezings through opponent's line. A printer's devil by trade.

James Zell, Halfback

Another side-stepping, forward-pass catching halfback. Kuzma's roommate and chum. Supplies towels to his football mates and other Herron Hall visitors.

John McCloskey, Tackle

Although a junior, this was his first year on the squad. Proved himself just as capable at end as at tackle. Noted for his quiet, demure manners.

Gail Finley, Tackle

Gail's second year on the team provided an impetus that was needed. Expect much from him in the next two seasons. Another industrialist.

FOOTBALL

Dressing

Roberts

Howard Dressing, Tackle

A huge, burly lad over 200 pounds. Prepped at Massanutten Military Academy. What's his name? "Just call me 'Howdy,'" is the way he puts it. A freshman and a big addition to the line. Someone to watch for in the next three years.

Leo Roberts, Center

A stonewall at the middle contingent of the line. Known for his knowledge of football and ability to express his knowledge. One of the best prospects that trod C.S.T.C. gridiron soil.

Barker kicks one into the coffin corner. Ray Barker, who had been doing the major punting for the team ever since he trod upon the Vulcan gridiron three years ago, did splendid work against the stronger Indiana Indians. Ray outpunted his opponents in distance, but the Indian passing attack and the diminutive shifting of the visitors' Kelly was too much to be offset by kicking alone. (Note, the blocking support Ray received in this bit of action.)

FOOTBALL

FOOTBALL

James Harris, end

Dependable at the wing position. Gets under kicks fast and usually bags the ball carrier. Doesn't say much, but when he does he means it—and no fool-in'. Side kicks with Pete Brown.

Sam Bartolotta, quarterback.

A highly-touted quarterback in the valley. Lived up to his name to some extent in his first year, but several years absence from the green sod took some of the finesse from him. Is expected to regain his form, however.

An end run to the left side of the field. Jimmy Zell and Steve Kuzma, California's halfbacks, did the major part of this sort of ball carrying. However, straight ground plays never did result in much of a noticeable gain for the Vulcans. During the past year the Red and Black either struck suddenly from the air or the line surged into the opponents' backfield and blocked a would-be punt for the majority of their points.

Edwin Black, Manager

A hard working boy with an aim to please all the girdiron heroes he serves. Eddie knew all the answers and was ready for any emergency. The Dapper Dan of the squad.

John Lasko, Guard

A physique that makes a formidable wall for the team. Gets the biggest kick out of trips when eating, because then he doesn't have to prepare his own meal. A reliable man at his post.

A part of the many hundreds that attended the annual Dads' Day affair. Before the game got under way a red or black balloon was given to each person at the game. At halftime the colorful balloons were released to dot the skylines. A beautiful day, it was. The game was broadcast from station WMBS. All in vain, however, as far as the game was concerned. (Can you pick yourself out?)

Bagshaw

Michael Janscik, guard

Michael played three years with the Jay Vees and made this year's team because of his continuous inspired spirit. Would rather do physical work than eat, and particularly teach tumbling to grade school kiddies.

Raymond Barker, end

Four-year man. The only "old timer" on the squad. Adept at getting under kicks and doing his own kicking. The long distance punter of the squad. Believes in freedom of speech and carries it out.

Charles Covalesky, end

Another wingman. Rugged and fast under long distance punts. Loves to gather in passes. A great guy for getting the other gal's address. Usually agrees with you in a friendly manner.

William Bagshaw, end

Another prep from Massanutten. Lived up to that school's tradition of providing good material. Only a freshman, yet handles a ball easier than a knife or fork when eating his mother's pies.

SEASON'S RESULTS

Edinboro 0, California 0

The Vulcans opened their 1937 gridiron season when they opposed a stubborn Edinboro eleven on the latter's field. Although the score doesn't show it, the locals ran roughshod over their opponents, collecting nine first downs to Edinboro's one. The Steersmen did almost everything but score a touchdown.

Westminster 2, California 6

Little hope was held for the Vulcans when they invaded Westminster and opened gridiron relations with their stronger liberal arts friends. In mud and rain, the Steersmen battled against the two-point advantage Westminster gained in the second period. When the fourth quarter opened, things still appeared dismal until the Vulcans rushed in and detoured a Westminster punt and then fell on the ball for a touchdown, to snag the long end of the count.

Fairmont 7, California 9

California lost no time in breaking through Fairmont's line to block a punt and thereby catch their opponents behind their own goal-line to net two points which proved very important when the final whistle blew. Fairmont then netted seven points, but the locals brushed away a probable defeat by also garnering seven points. . . . Another close one.

West Liberty 13, California 0

Football relationship was resumed with West Liberty, but the out-of-staters were not so cordial. . . . Another trip into foreign waters . . . this one proved disastrous to the locals . . . but it's fun losing to a good team.

Clarion 2, California 0

For the first time in football history the locals fell before one of Clarion's mightiest elevens in years. . . . It would have to be Dad's Day, too. . . . This time California was caught behind their own goal line after a kick was blocked. . . . This never happened when dad played, but it still wins football games.

Indiana 19, California 0

The most decisive defeat of the season . . . but this losing is getting monotonous. . . . The Hammer and Tongs, inspired by the hunting season, worded it beautifully. . . . The lead went like this: "An Indiana Teachers eleven unloaded both barrels in the California woodlands last Saturday and jogged home with a 19-0 Vulcan kill strapped over their shoulders. Three hundred persons basked in the rare November sun and saw the Indians track down the Vulcan after wounding him in the second period with a six-point touchdown shot."

✓

Grove City 6, California 7

More success with liberal arts colleges. . . . A dexterous toe that sent the pigskin halving the goal posts after a touchdown was scored was accountable for the thin margin of victory.

✓

Slippery Rock 0, California 6

Unbelievable except when done in black and white. . . . The records were never on the side of California. For the first time since 1926 California was able to gain better than a tie from their traditional rivals. . . . The game was played on a sea of mud at the new Monessen high school stadium.

JAYVEE FOOTBALL

Coach Grove's Baby Vulcan gridders found a tough time getting started last fall and lost the first two games on the schedule to high school elevens before they could collect themselves. When they did collect themselves, they ran roughshod over the Jay Vees of Indiana 27-0 in the first home game of the season, even though it was played on the East Pike Run high school field.

A week later, this same fighting Red and Black eleven held a much heavier and highly touted Washington and Jefferson freshmen eleven to a scoreless tie. On the morning of Dad's Day, the Grovemen captured the Kel-Gens of Uniontown 6-0 as part of the double attraction that ended tragically in the afternoon when the Vulcans lost to Clarion. In a return game with Indiana, the last game of the season, the Junior Indians avenged the previous defeat handed them by the Grovemen by eking out a 8-6 win.

The slate recorded the Jay Vees with two wins, three losses, and one tie.

Hoon

W. H. Steers, coach

Produces better basketball teams than any other. Received his first knowledge of the game on outside courts way up Oregon way. Knows all the ins and outs of both, the man-for-man and zone defenses.

Russell Remaley, guard

The guarding half of the famous "Remaley Twin" combination. Would rather play baseball and work in the print shop. Noted for his long whizzing shots and fast breaks down the court. Claims he is superior to his twin.

Donald Remaley, forward

The forwarding half of the "Remaley Twin" combination. Believed to be named co-captain because the coach couldn't tell him from Russ. High scorer of the squad in his Junior year. He in turn believes that he is superior to his twin and will fight to prove it.

Byron Hoon, manager

Chewing gum provider for the squad on trips. Denies that he is private advertiser for Wrigley's. Noted for his famous pre-game pep talks. Takes pride in the fact that he didn't lose a "sock" during his regime. Quiet, systematic and dependable.

BASKETBALL

BASKETBALL

John Kudlik, center

A quiet, but most efficient lad. Most of his extra-period time is spent in Herron Hall. Another Industrial Arts student. Believes in only one. Plans, someday, to build his own home.

Stephen Kuzma, forward

"The fastest man goes to town," and that he did in the Indiana game. Dribbled through a zone defense and shot the winning goal in an overtime period. Provides a good show when "faking" his opponents. Smooth on the dance floor.

Donald Duvall, center

A three-year man who enjoyed his best season this past year. Height provided him with an advantage under the "bucket." His one regret is that his dad failed to see him in action.

James Zell, guard

The highest scorer of the team. Probably ceded to be the best all around basketeer on the squad. A booster of Hal Kemp's orchestra and swings a mean foot on the Provincial Room floor.

William Bagshaw, center

Proclaimed as the best ball handler on the floor. Rather nice to watch some of his easy, "I don't care movements." Only a freshman who plans nothing definite. Probably will be a big aid to the coach in the years to come.

Morris Goldstein, guard

Three years on the Junior Varsity prepped Morris for the varsity. Usually shoots some beautiful long shots. Will always remember the "long, lost voyage in West Virginia mountains." Makes weekly visits to Smock, Pa., when he doesn't play basketball.

Michael Poet, guard

Another three-year Jay-Vee. Hails from Altoona, and is a loyal booster of that railroad town. Displays a fine brand of fight in any game. Travels home weekly on his railroad pass. An artist when it comes to clock-building.

Edwin Addis, guard

Quiet, but humorous. Has a good word for everyone. A real substitute at any position, and is predicted to be a regular in games to come. One of the many Brownsville lads who makes his home in Herron Hall.

BASKETBALL

SEASON'S RESULTS

California 44, Fairmont 58

Half of the team came back from student teaching and met the other half of the team for the first time. . . . Not a bad showing, but chalk a red mark against the Vulcans.

California 45, West Liberty 44

Whew, that was close. . . . Chalk one up for the Red and Black.

California 34, Slippery Rock 45

Green and White . . . too slippery.

California 45, Indiana 61

It's their turn to win, but need they be so merciless?

California 44, Edinboro 48

Wait'll we get them in Herron Hall . . .

California 42, Clarion 35

It's about time we chalked one up for the Red and Black. . . .

California 41, Frostburg 55

Whew, how they've changed. . . . They weren't that tough last year. . . .

California 37, Indiana 35

Why go into the extra period? . . . It was our turn to win anyway.

California 50, Slippery Rock 55

That Green and White again . . . Don't the Vulcans ever beat them?

California 49, Edinboro 32

Goody, goody! . . . for Edinboro.

California 2, Fairmont 0

Don't get alarmed. . . . Fairmont asked for a forfeit. . . . But it's a good thing they didn't show up!

California 51, Clarion 35

Easy pickin's . . .

California 40, Frostburg 61

Whew! They must be tough . . .

California 49, West Liberty 41

Victory No. seven entered in the books . . .

California 24, Millersville 61

Ouch! Close your eyes. . . . The referee must have cheated. . . . Such a margin of defeat could never occur to the Vulcans. . . . Well, the Steersmen were beaten by Teachers College champs anyway.

California 44, Shippensburg 56

We meet them once a year. . . . Last year we won. . . . Defeat No. nine.

JAYVEE BASKETBALL

From the odd assortments of opponents played this year, which included high school faculty, alumni, electricians, millmen, industrialists, and freshman quintets, the Grovemen came through with twelve victories and four defeats, for a season's percentage of .750 in the sixteen games played.

Every year the Baby Vulcans stage their murderous rampage over their opponents. Within the ranks of these same fighting basketeters are found the potential varsity timber from which Coach William H. Steers draws his players.

Climaxes in the Jay Vee schedule were scored particularly at two contests, which shows their gameness, which is the very essence of their fighting spirit. Early in the season, the locals eked out a thrilling one-point win over the Slippery Rock Jay Vee quintet. The other thrilling contest came later when the Grovemen nosed out the Connellsville Westinghouse five in the last few seconds of play, 37-35.

The Grovemen amassed a total of 566 points as against their opponents' 506, with a proportionate 35 points per game average compared to the opponents' 32 points per game average.

INTRAMURAL CHAMPIONS

Despite the late start and difficulty in getting two teams to meet at opportune times,—when the hard wood court isn't being used by the varsity, junior varsity, the W.A.A. or the tumbling brigade,—Intramural Basketball finally did produce a pennant-winner in the Intramural League.

With not one defeat chalked against them the South Hall passers dribbled through seven stubborn opponents to sit atop the pyramid and atop the heap of also-rans, among which were the California Mudhens, runner-up, and Intramural Champions of yesteryear.

Not until the latter part of March had the teams completed the first half of the schedule. With the coming of April came warm breezes and sunny afternoons and distastes for playing indoors, and it was believed that the intramuralers would call the season "quits," but team captains met and decided to run off a second-half winner through tournament eliminations. The contest narrowed down to two teams, Dixon Hall and South Hall. South Hall won and was proclaimed cup-bearer in Intramural Basketball for the 1938 season.

TENNIS SQUAD

Fairmont . . . . .	1	California . . . . .	8
Waynesburg . . . . .	4	California . . . . .	3
Indiana . . . . .	9	California . . . . .	0
Slippery Rock . . . . .	3	California . . . . .	6
Waynesburg . . . . .	5	California . . . . .	2

With just one varsity man to build the 1937 tennis squad, Coach I. C. Keller wrestled with inexperienced material and inclement weather in whipping into shape a formidable crew. Only five of the eight games scheduled were played, and California was able to win only two of these games, being defeated by Waynesburg twice and by Indiana once. For the first time in tennis history, Indiana defeated our Vulcans.

The local netters were rained out in three games: two with Frostburg and one with Fairmont. Incidentally, California were "reigning" favorites over these teams. California's defeats overweighed her victories for the first time since Dr. Keller took over tennis for the Red and Black fourteen years ago . . . and this wouldn't have happened if Jupe Pluvius hadn't been cantankerous, forcing the racquetmen into being "rained out."

That year saw the Kellerman win-streak end at 21 straight games; Waynesburg for the first time in three years set back the Vulcans. Captain Al Berry's win streak of 17 consecutive victories in singles was also checked at Waynesburg by a lad named McKay.

The 1938 season will be another difficult one for the tennis mentor. Byron Holman and John Symons are the only lettermen back. But California is fortunate in having among its ranks one of the best freshman tennis prospects in years—Rexford Brenneman, 1937 fall tourney king. Coach Keller has one consolation—he has three men around which he can plan to build a 1938 team.

W. A. A. BOARD

These feminine executives act as the governing body of the Women's Athletic Association. Due to the size of the organization, a small governing body is necessary in order to more efficiently direct the activities.

This year the board inaugurated a policy of holding monthly club meetings, a thing never before done in the history of the W.A.A. The Board is composed of four officers, managers of teams participating in various sports activities, and the sponsor, Miss Hildreth. This council takes care of almost all business, discusses ways and means of providing for the girls, and most of the committee-work.

The officers: president, Martha Meyers; treasurer, Alma Raynal; secretary, Mildred Palmer; representative to Congress, Retta Mae Williams.

The Managers: ping pong, Ruth Staley; basketball and volleyball, Evelyn Lilley; hiking, Mary Jane Cornell; tennis, Ruth Bohn; hockey, Mary Belle Whipkey; rifle, Marie Miller.

W. A. A.

The Women's Athletic Association is one of the busiest organizations on the campus the year around. From the very first part of school opening until the very last day, does this organization perform activity on and about the campus.

This year was no exception, the Women's Athletic Association let no grass grow under their feet, but dug right in and carved their niche in athletics at California as they always had, not letting themselves to be outdone by the male of the species. While tiny droplets of perspiration trinkled over their pretty noses, California lassies were busy playing—a sport for every season is their boasting pride.

In the fall the girl's attention is called to fall tennis, field hockey, archery, and hiking about the countryside. In the winter Herron Hall becomes the home for basketball, pingpong, badminton, volleyball, and rifle shooting. In the spring the main "dish" is tennis, while hiking also becomes prominent once more.

Among this year's main accomplishments were the basketball and ping-pong tournaments. In basketball, Team "B" nosed out Team "C" to cop the basketball championship. The team was piloted by Teresa Cupelli and supported by the passers; Fredericks, R. Dalaidi, Sale, Williams, Daniels, Buk, Baker, and Leichter. In ping-pong Frances Plava captured No. 1 honors while Teresa Cupelli and Katherine Sale followed as No. 2 and No. 3 respectively.

The organization, under the sponsorship of Miss Louise Hildreth, does not believe in competition with other college girls; but rather in playing with the other girls as partners instead of competitors.

Two major play-days are sponsored yearly by this group, one in which they play hosts to a score of district colleges, and the other, hosts to district high schools. At these two events, the girls are so divided that one girl from each school is on a certain roster. No two girls may be found on the same list. With this team building competition is put secondary with the fun of playing as the first goal. After the matches the Vulcan girls play hosts to the visiting girls at a banquet, dinner, or a tea.

EPILOGUE

There were happy days, then too, there were some days filled with worry and nights with tossing sleep. But the end has come and what has been done must be. Regardless of how this book is accepted or how hard of a grind it had become, it was fun and full of experience.

However, credit must be given to those who were really responsible for the final completion of the whole project. The theme, traditions, was suggested by Mr. Hurst, who acted so admirably and helpful in his advisory capacity. Jay Luft must be complimented and thanked for the striking title pages. The student photographers are responsible for every picture with the exception of the Junior and Senior portraits, and should be remembered for the many sleepless hours of developing and printing. The writing staff came through in such a fashion that would make any editor's heart sing with joy. To Wilbur Edwards we endow the title of assistant editor for his many gracious and untiring days of welcomed aid. Michael Tichansky and Mary Alice Powell deserve commendation for their many hours of typing the several hundred sheets of copy and to Willis Foster, Virgil Brand and Edward Bell, we owe thanks for their supporting aid. Then there were Mr. Harris, the professional photographer, Mr. Snyder and Mr. Gadd of the Canton Engraving Co., Mr. Weaver, Mr. Wicks, and Mr. Richards of the Pittsburgh Printing Co., all of whom rendered special and friendly service to your editor.

The Monocal of 1938 closes its last page, its biggest problem was to please the students; we hope that it has succeeded in every way.
