[V.36]

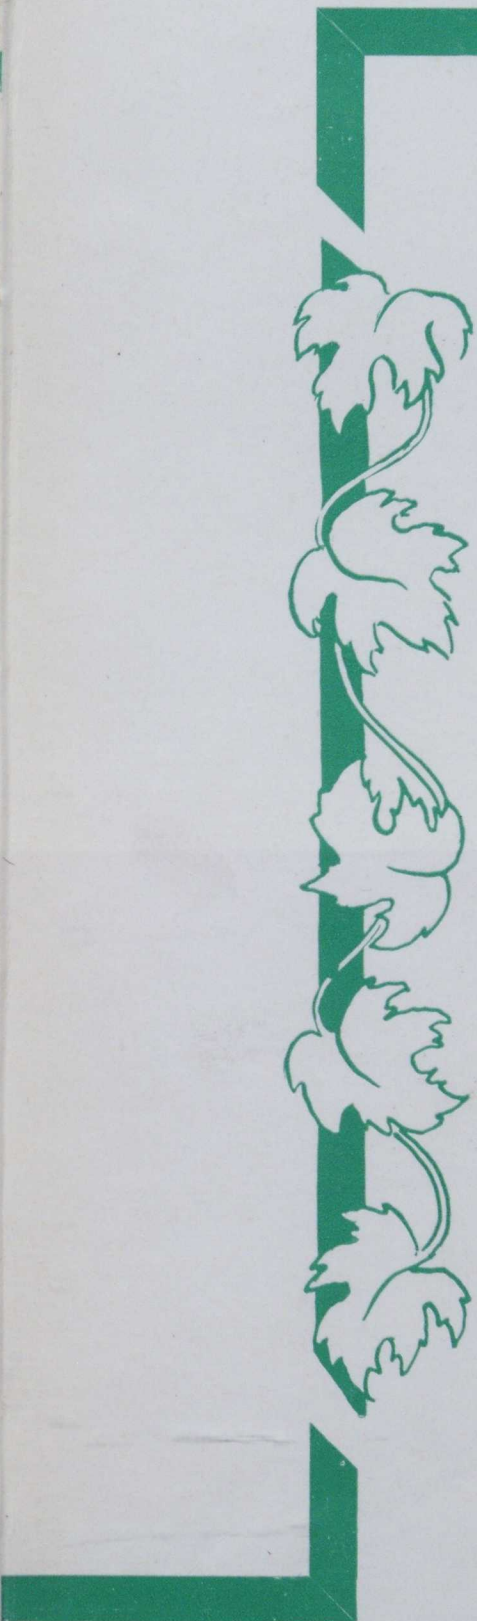

ITH reference to one's liking of a particular locality, it has been said, "The place may not be what one likes, but actually the people that live there." Reasons for your original attraction to our campus may vary from the idealistic quest for knowledge and devotion to the service of teaching to the other extreme where finances compelled you to attend the nearest college. Whatever the basic urge for attending classes here may be, few will leave without making many social contacts in addition to broadening his knowledge.

Our campus spirit is represented, by custom, as that of a Greek god, Vulcan. His "Olympian" character if defined shows industry, ability, strength, and perseverance; all of which contributed to his being chosen as the Greek patron of war. We do not imply a warlike attitude but rather would indicate that development of the Vulcan spirit on our campus has kept the first mentioned qualities of character and in development added another important trait. Our campus reputation as a "friendly college" shows the spirit of Vulcan has broadened to include friendliness. Perhaps you have caught this spirit in your college career; we feel that those about to teach need this industry, ability, strength and perseverance but with all of these we also stress "friendliness."

Alma Mater

California, alma mater;

Now we sing to thee

California, dear forever

In our memory.

With our voices loudly ringing,

Of thy fame we're ever singing

California, alma mater;

Hail! All hail to thee.

For the friends and joys you gave us,

We give thanks to thee

All thy knowledge we'll make worthy

For posterity.

May thy reign be ever prosperous

And thy name forever glorious.

California, alma mater;

Hail! All hail to thee.

Phillip Rossi, '37

The Pledge

I do solemnly pledge:

That I will never consciously or willfully bring discredit to this college;

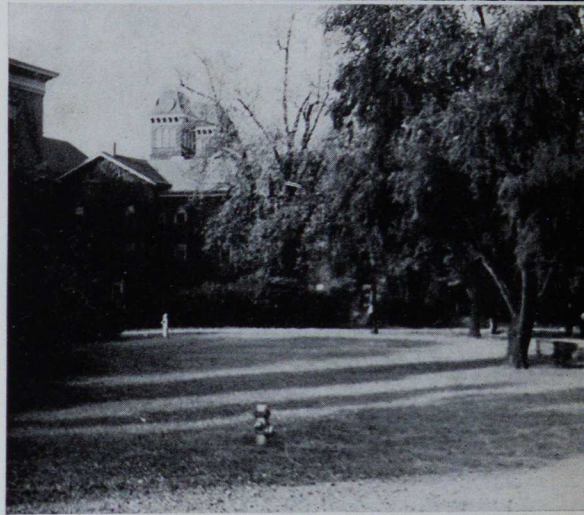

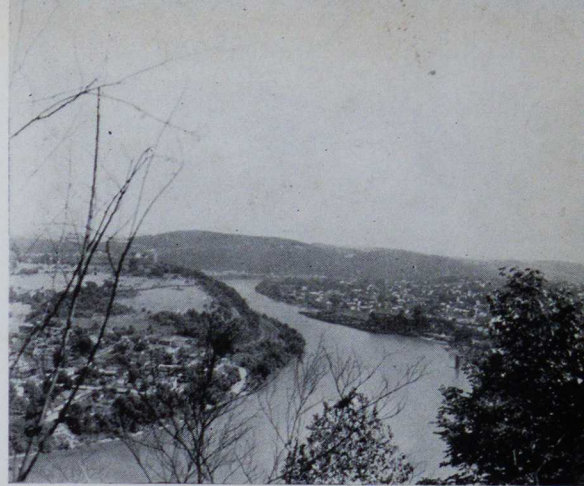

That I will faithfully perform any task entrusted to me;

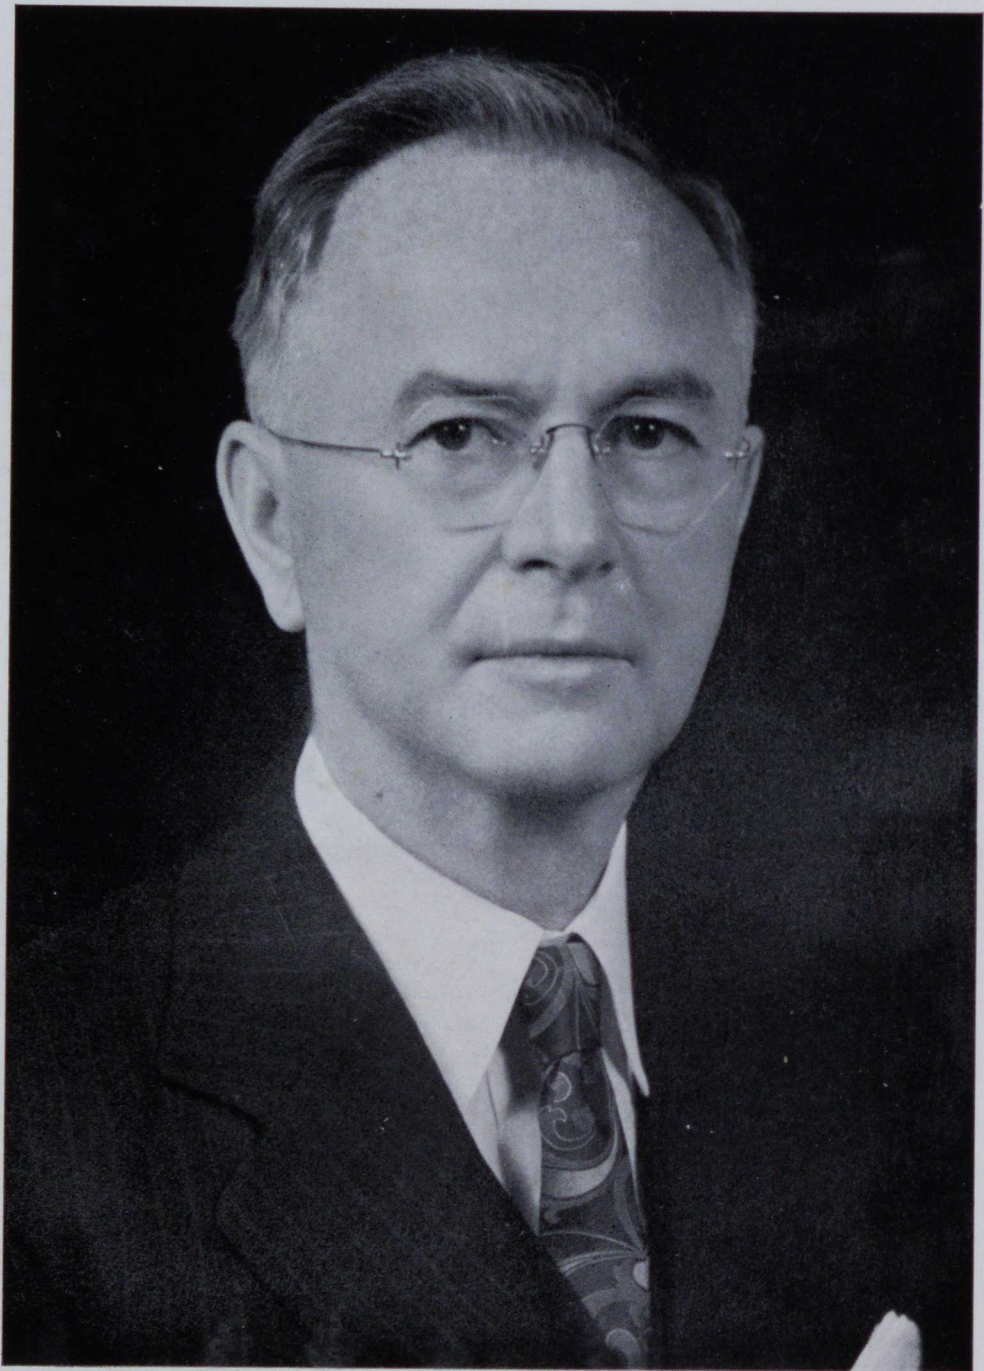

That I will do my utmost to raise the academic, social, and civic standards of this College;

That I will obey its laws and customs, respect its ideals, and honor its traditions;

That I will continually endeavor to prepare myself for the noblest of all professions—that of teaching;

And in all these ways I will strive to transmit to my successors a greater, better, and more beautiful California than was inherited by me.

DR. ROBERT M. STEELE, President

For many years California has been known as the friendly college. A constant and consistent effort through the years has been made by the administration and the faculty to justify its reputation as such and to increase friendly contacts among all members of the college community.

The philosophy on which California operates regards all members of the college—students, staff and employees—as persons, working together to promote the highest degree of self improvement on the part of each one. Consequently, there is developed and encouraged a recognition that each individual has an important function to perform. While each one's service may differ widely from another's, all are necessary, all are important and all are recognized.

It is by no accident that in planning and carrying on general college activities and especially student activities, faculty members and students serve together on committees, most of whose chairmen are students. Here, as equals, faculty members and students come to know each other, learn to respect each other and share each other's points of view. Out of this give and take in life situations and in and out of the classroom firm friendships are formed and a campus atmosphere is created which is even noticed by the casual visitor to the campus. Strangers visiting the campus for the first time frequently remark about a friendly "Good Morning" greeting or an offer of help from students entirely unknown to them.

More emphasis is placed at California on the real worth of individuals than on the accidents of creed, color, or social and financial standing. California's societies and fraternities are integrating rather than divisive factors. Membership is gained by interest, ability and work—not by social standing. And while these societies conduct a varied social program it is one devoid of snobbery and aloofness.

The boy or girl who works to amplify a slender budget is respected as highly at California as the one whose allowance is large enough to more than meet his needs. What one is and what one does are more significant in our student body than what he merely possesses. Our possessions, generally speaking, have been given to us. Our friendships will be largely those we have earned and "a man to have friends must show himself friendly."

The quality of friendship like that of mercy "is not strained." "It is twice blessed. It blesseth him that gives and him that takes."

Friendship, in a true sense, is something that cannot be denied. In the past four years we have shared a part of our lives with people of different races and religions. It is true that our views have differed time and again and in all probability will continue to do so. But at the same time, because of the close association with our fellow students and our differences of opinions, we have profited in that our capacity for accepting new thoughts has expanded considerably.

In this respect we have formed friendships that will not end with the close of our college careers. The future may find us traveling in different directions, but the memories of the friends we have made will always be with us.

The thought of good fellowship and friendship prevailed throughout the years that the juniors have spent at California State Teachers College. Now as the class of 1951 is approaching its final year, there is evidence of the maturity and dignity that they have taken on as upperclassmen. Although now a bit more serious and determined in their goals, the junior class will always be remembered as one of the friendliest that California ever graduated.

The outstanding social event of the year, given by this class, was a formal dance for the student body called "The Penquin Ball." The extra curricular activities records of the members of the junior class are to be praised. Few classes have participated so wholeheartedly and so faithfully or done so much to mold the spirit of friendship through these activities.

Although this year was one of the best yet, they hope to make next year the best ever.

After reaching the halfway mark at California, the sophomores have made a definite place for themselves on campus. They have proven themselves capable college students both in and out of class. The members have shown that, contrary to popular belief, athletics, club work, and other extra-curricular activities do mix with scholarship.

The highlight on their social calendar, a semi-formal dance, "Buttons and Bows" was a splendid success. However, the emphasis of these college students was not entirely on social affairs. They formed new ideas, concepts, and attitudes which aided them in gaining a broader outlook on teaching. Thus, with two years of study and social affairs ahead, the sophomore class is diligently preparing for a brighter future for themselves in the teaching field.

Realizing the responsibilities of college students, the class of 1953 adjusted themselves to campus life within a few weeks. Throughout their freshman year they got into the step of the friendly atmosphere of the college. Meeting new friends was not the only important part of their college year but also on the lighter side was their participation in the extra curricular activities program. The spirit and cooperation of the class was so great that the success of their dance "The Cupid Crawl" was inevitable.

Upperclassmen at California are proud of this class, it is a credit to the school. We all extend our sincere congratulations to the class of '53. You have made the grade and are on your way. Good Luck!

Student Congress

President.....Alvin Oldham
 Vice president.....Rodger Hicks
 Secretary.....Josephine Scalise
 Ex-Officio Faculty Members—
 Mr. Robert Keck
 Mr. George Roadman

To regulate student activity and to stimulate a spirit of unity through out the student body by vitalizing the principles of democratic government, are basic objectives of Student Congress. Representing all organized activities on campus, members meet weekly to determine action and legislative policy for the Student Activity Association. The scope of business is large and often provokes active discussion on proposed measures. This student participation in the administration of the extensive extra curricular program of the college gives to each person involved valuable experience in administration, legislation, and parliamentary procedure.

Student Cabinet

President.....Thomas Erhardt
 Secretary.....Shirley Savage
 Ex-Officio Faculty Member—
 Mr. Robert Keck

Student Cabinet works as a planning committee of Student Congress, performing this function on legislative work too detailed and intricate for the larger body. Reports and recommendations are submitted for final action to Congress on problems requiring lengthy consideration. The members are elected yearly from Student Congress representation by the separate class representations and serve thus as initial formers of student policy.

Much of the detailed investigative work in the distribution of Student Activities allocations are planned by this group. As a further project, Cabinet has this year developed a needed revision to our present Student Activities Association Constitution.

Serving as a coordinating body, the Publications Council acts as an advisory body for the student Campus publications. Membership for the body is composed of a faculty representative and student representative from each publication and three students chosen at large by the president of Student Congress. Among the main duties of the Council are the important functions of presenting a combined allocation to Congress, and to provide awards to outstanding journalistic members of the several staffs. Meetings of the Council are called at the discretion of the Chairman.

Tower Times

Editors.....Mary Laverne Guswiler
 Anthony Donovan
 Sponsor.....Mr. C. M. Hughey

Tower Times, the college newspaper, is distributed to the student body each Thursday. This publication has as its goal the accurate presentation of college news in the most informative manner. Actual functioning of this paper is on a small scale the counterpart of any large "daily" staff. To do this the group not only collects the news, but also performs the various rewrite, proof reading, lay out, and editing duties of the paper. The ultimate goal of all members is the coveted position of editor, and eventually staff members receive training as future sponsors of school newspapers.

Vulcan

Editor.....Edward Phillips
 Associate Editor.....Lucille Tharpe
 Sponsor.....Mr. George Harding

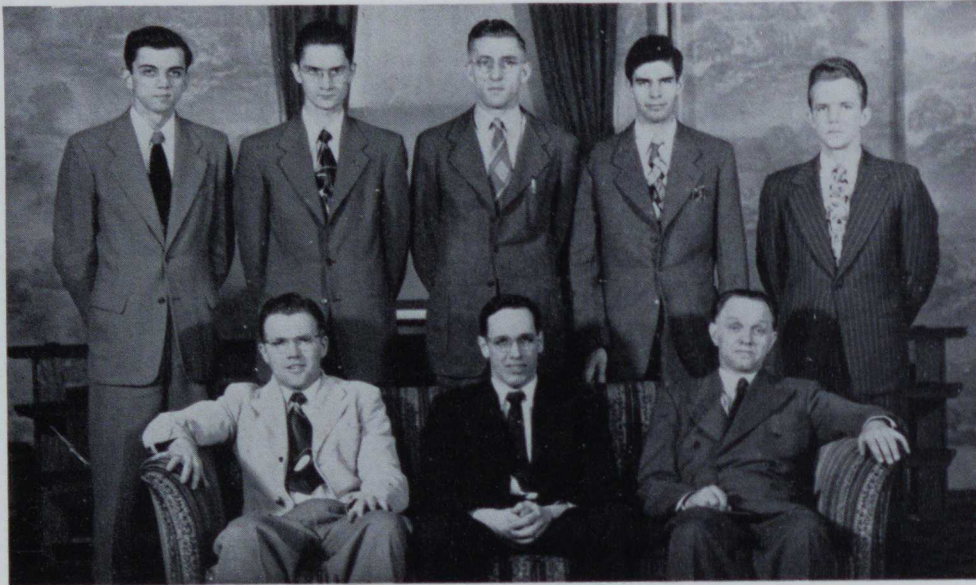

Published once a year for distribution at registration in September, the Vulcan is the college handbook. Staff members are selected in January by the Publication Council with the approval of Dr. Steele.

Information about campus organizations and names of officers of those organizations are features of the Vulcan. Some of its other contents are information about the College and Campus, a list of the faculty, lists of regulations, and a calendar of campus events.

The purpose of the Vulcan is to serve as a reliable source of information about all phases of life at the college. Because the handbook has served to acquaint newcomers with customs and regulations, it has become known as the "Freshman Bible." This year the twenty-second edition of the Vulcan was published. Faculty and Upperclassmen, as well as Freshmen, have come to appreciate the convenience of the Vulcan.

Aiming to recognize students with outstanding ability in, interest for, and contribution to the printing department, the Benjamin Franklin Printers Guild is an active "service" organization on the campus. The Guild, one of the first Industrial Arts organizations organized on campus, limits membership to those who have acquired an "honor" average in printing and have also contributed to school projects.

This group has since its organization contributed actively to special school programs in addition to annual projects of the club aimed at increasing their own breadth and knowledge of printing.

ing the traditions of the college and carrying out a constructive social program are the main purposes of the organization. Executive power of the association is vested in the officers of the council and representatives from each of the classes.

The council sponsored get-acquainted parties, tea dances, and parties with the dormitory girls as guests. At Christmas, each of the girls spirited one of her classmates. The true friendliness of the Women's Traveling Room is in no small part due to the Women's Traveling Council.

The Dormitory Council of Dixon Hall is the governing body of the dormitory. Officers and representatives to the council are elected by the women of the dormitory. Serving as adviser to the council is Miss Cynthia Benzing, Dean of Women. A counselor corps aids the Council in maintaining the self-made rules and regulations.

With the traveling women as guests the Dixonettes held a formal dinner in the Georgian Dining Hall. Other activities were the Christmas Spiriting and Party, the Big Sister Tea, and a Pajama Party for traveling women. Although those activities seem to have been something to remember, the friendships they have helped to stimulate and those that have resulted from dormitory life will be remembered long after the parties are forgotten.

To present music in a pleasant style has been the aim of the women in the glee club. Selections sung by the group vary from popular to semi-classical to folk songs. Under the direction of Mr. E. E. Halstead and accompanied by Naomi Fast, the women, along with the Men's Glee Club, presented concerts at Beallsville, Merrittstown, and other nearby communities. The highlight of the organization is the presentation of a spring concert in the college auditorium.

Membership in the organization, with tryouts in the fall, is based on reading and vocal ability. The members meet weekly to practice group singing and to prepare for various concerts.

As one of the leading musical organizations on campus, the Men's Glee Club works constantly in developing their group, presenting musical experience to men students and quality entertainment to the college and community. Members have an opportunity to help plan and participate in long and short programs. The group this year has performed at assemblies and in several district service meetings.

Their annual minstrel has become almost a tradition on campus; this year it was given locally as an added performance. The membership also holds a traditional dinner in the Georgian Dining Hall followed by a formal dance in Herron Hall. Alumni of the group return to campus for this meeting to make this dinner the "high spot" of the Glee Club year.

The Mixed Chorus devotes itself to the serious study of choral music. Combining the members of the Men's and Women's Glee Clubs, the membership of the group is approximately one hundred. For the fourth annual year, the Mixed Chorus presented Handel's Messiah, as part of the Christmas Season's Program. The Chorus participates in the concerts of the other musical organizations, appearing in Chapel programs, group programs, and the spring concert.

Weekly practices keep the group at a high standard of quality with their varied repertoire. Final performance of the year was the part of the Mixed Chorus in Commencement exercises.

A spiritual, social, recreational, and inspirational program, planned to enrich the students' life on campus — this is accomplished by the Young Men's and Young Women's Christian Associations. Meetings are held each Wednesday at noon and in the evening to serve both traveling and dormitory students.

The combined "Y" presented a variety of programs for the student body: some religious, such as the Thanksgiving and Easter Services; some educational, such as the International Program and Mr. Lewis' talk on Thoreau; some social and recreational, such as the Halloween Party, the Christmas Caroling Party, Sports Night, and the bonfire at the College Farm. Not to be forgotten was the contribution made to the World Student Service Fund. Perhaps more than any other organization the "Y" has helped maintain the friendly atmosphere at State Teachers College at California.

The Sketch Club offers an excellent chance for experience and opportunity for those students interested in cultivating and developing their artistic ability. Individual problems are developed in an atmosphere of helpful cooperation, though competition runs high. Charcoal, water paint, oil paint, crayon, stenciling, clay modeling, wood carving, and soap carving are but a few of the mediums that may be used.

One does not have to be enrolled in an art course to become a member of the Sketch Club. Meetings are held every Tuesday for both activity periods.

Along with the recognition given members by the townspeople and the student body through displays in store windows and in the library those students seem to have provided much personal satisfaction with their work.

Waiters and Waitresses

The pleasant atmosphere of the Georgian Dining Room is in no small way accountable to the waiters and waitresses. This year, the staff, under the direction of Mrs. Arlene Miller, have solved the problem of serving approximately 500 students, three times a day, with a minimum of confusion. Their cooperation and dependability have greatly reduced the annoyances of overcrowding which our large enrollment has imposed on our dining room.

The dormitory students recognize the work of their fellow students whose friendly, efficient service has made the dining room a more pleasant part of college life.

Promoting wholesome recreation and good horsemanship for both inexperienced and experienced riders, is one of the outstanding aims of the Saddle Club. A genuine interest is almost a prerequisite for membership as the members perform all the functions of maintenance, well summarized by the phrase "up in the morning, out on the job." Beginners get training in riding, mounting, and saddling the horses as well as taking care of them.

Comparatively a young organization on campus, the Saddle Club continues expanding every year in many cases completing all necessary labor themselves. This year as part of their program, the club increased the number of horses kept in the campus stable to five.

Athletic Council acts as an advisory board coordinating all competitive athletic activities of the student body. Among many executive functions are arrangement for transportation, purchase of equipment, and scheduling of the seasonal sports. This body consists of four faculty members and four students, who are responsible to Student Congress for all athletic policies. In regulating the extensive athletic program of the college this committee performs great administrative functions.

To recognize participation in major sports, the council presents each spring "honors and awards" to all athletic team members who have participated in the college sports program.

The Varsity Club, co-sponsored by Mr. Bruce and Mrs. Cubbon, promotes friendliness on the campus by its many varied and interesting activities. Since the aim of the organization is fellowship, sports are stressed.

Activities of the organization for the year included the Varsity Club

Amateur Hour, consisting of talented members of the student body; Sports Night, with boxing, wrestling, and a pie-eating contest; and Alumni-Varsity Club basketball game; and the play-off of the intramural basketball teams. The Varsity Club's social activity of the year is the Dinner-Dance to be held March twenty-fifth. Orchestra

Rounding out the music organizations on campus, the college orchestra shows interest in another popular field. Common interest in dance music seems to have been the prime factor in the organizing of this body early in the fall. The "band" has played for numerous campus dances and aided the Men's Glee Club in their minstrel production. An organization of this type is a definite social asset in utilizing local campus talent for informal dances. Practices are held during activity periods and at other scheduled intervals to develop the familiar style of the college orchestra.

Comparatively new as a campus organization, our college band fulfills a need in fostering a college spirit. Although not a large organization, the band is in attendance at most campus events, especially in evidence at the fall football games. Practice is held several times a week in preparation for the many activities of the band. Students also elect a student director from among their membership to aid in the directing of this group.

In addition to playing for many college functions, the band presents several concerts for the student body. Enthusiasm among these musicians runs high, thus compensating for any deficiency in their number of members.

The Association for Childhood Education International was organized on campus just this year. It is an organization for students in Elementary Education. It is professional in scope with the purpose of self improvement. The organization presents speakers, reviews current literature, and makes intensive studies of contemporary affairs in elementary education.

Plans are being made to broaden the scope of the organization and provide a better program for the students next year. The group is an affiliation with the National headquarters of the Association of Childhood Education which already have a faculty group on campus.

To promote among students a better understanding of our government is the outstanding aim among the main aims of the Intercollegiate Conference of Government. The members of the student body who have shown a high degree of interest in political, social, and economic problems are chosen annually to represent their college in Harrisburg. In preparation for the April Conference, these students meet to discuss and compose their platform as this year's meeting has drawn and adopted a "mock" state constitution. Student representatives serve on committees performing for the length of their meeting as "state legislators." Much preparation is needed as a student's success depends upon his command of pertinent facts and parliamentary procedure.

California has been a member of the Intercollegiate Conference on Government since its organization in 1933; and prides itself on relative success in adoption of the local group policies.

Epsilon Pi Tau is a national, honorary, professional organization operating in the fields of Industrial Arts Education and Vocational Education.

The purposes of the organization are to recognize the presence of skills; to promote social proficiency; to foster, reward, and to publish the results of research. Applicants must attain at least a "B" average in their major field of study, and must be vouched for by the two of the membership committee. The local organization, the Psi chapter was installed on our campus in 1942; and this group has since worked for the advancement of their members and members of their field of our college.

The Lambda Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu, a national, honorary society for students of the social sciences, was installed on the campus of State Teachers College at California in May of 1933.

Membership, consisting of seniors, juniors, alumni, and faculty, has grown to approximately two hundred. Election of membership, upon recommendation of the Social Studies Department and action of the faculty membership committee, is based upon outstanding scholastic attainment in the social studies and constructive leadership on the campus. The organization meets each month for the consideration of some current social problem.

An annual "Founders Day Banquet" rounds out the year's activities as members are quite proud of their record in developing a theme at these banquets centered around the main speaker, a leading professional or educational figure.

Phi Sigma Pi is a national, honorary scholastic fraternity for men students in teacher education institutions. Qualifications for election to the fraternity are high scholarship and worthy interests and ideals, with an intent to make teaching a life work.

"The purpose of Phi Sigma Pi fraternity is to render assistance in preparation for the necessary work of teaching." With this phrase, the president sums up the aims and ideals of the group as he opens every meeting. The local chapter, Kappa, elected as its theme for the year "Education through Travel," and has held professional meetings led by educators who had taught and traveled in other countries.

Being elected to Alpha Psi Omega is a mark of distinction for any student of drama. The purpose of this group, the Beta Omicron Cast, is to stimulate dramatics in California State Teachers College, and as such is open to those who have manifested sufficient interest and talent in the field of dramatics. Eligibles must have contributed in an outstanding manner to dramatic production on either the production staff or the cast of characters. By electing students to membership, this organization serves as a reward and a goal for members who participate in plays of College Players.

Membership in Gamma Pi Chi is based on scholarship, loyalty, and cooperation. Better development in social leadership is the aim of this organization. New members are initiated into the organization each semester.

Early in October the sorority held a tea for the Freshman women. Baskets of groceries were filled and sent to homes where they were needed at Thanksgiving and at Christmas. At Easter the girls made and filled Easter baskets for children in a nearby orphanage. Through their work in this organization, the Gamma Pi Chi girls have learned a deeper meaning of the words—charity and friendship.

Sigma Gamma Beta offers opportunities for advancing knowledge through component member clubs of mathematics, chemistry, photography, agriculture, and radio. Each division pursues independent research toward a project; and presents at periodic intervals programs for the main group. This organization of science furthers experiment and experience in all member clubs giving opportunity for development of individual interest.

Membership is open to all who manifest an active interest in any of the subdivisions. The fraternity has sponsored civic and campus projects in the development of its aims—of fellowship in the pursuit of science.

SPORTS

Vulcans

EDINBORO

The initial pigskin contest of the 1949 season was the tangle with the Edinboro Red Raiders. The victorious Vulcans scored a touchdown in every quarter of the game to beat the visiting eleven 25 to 12. The Vulcans scored in the first period on a seventeen yard pass from Joe Gratson to Bert Suder. The second score was the result of Ted Shattuck's seventy yard run.

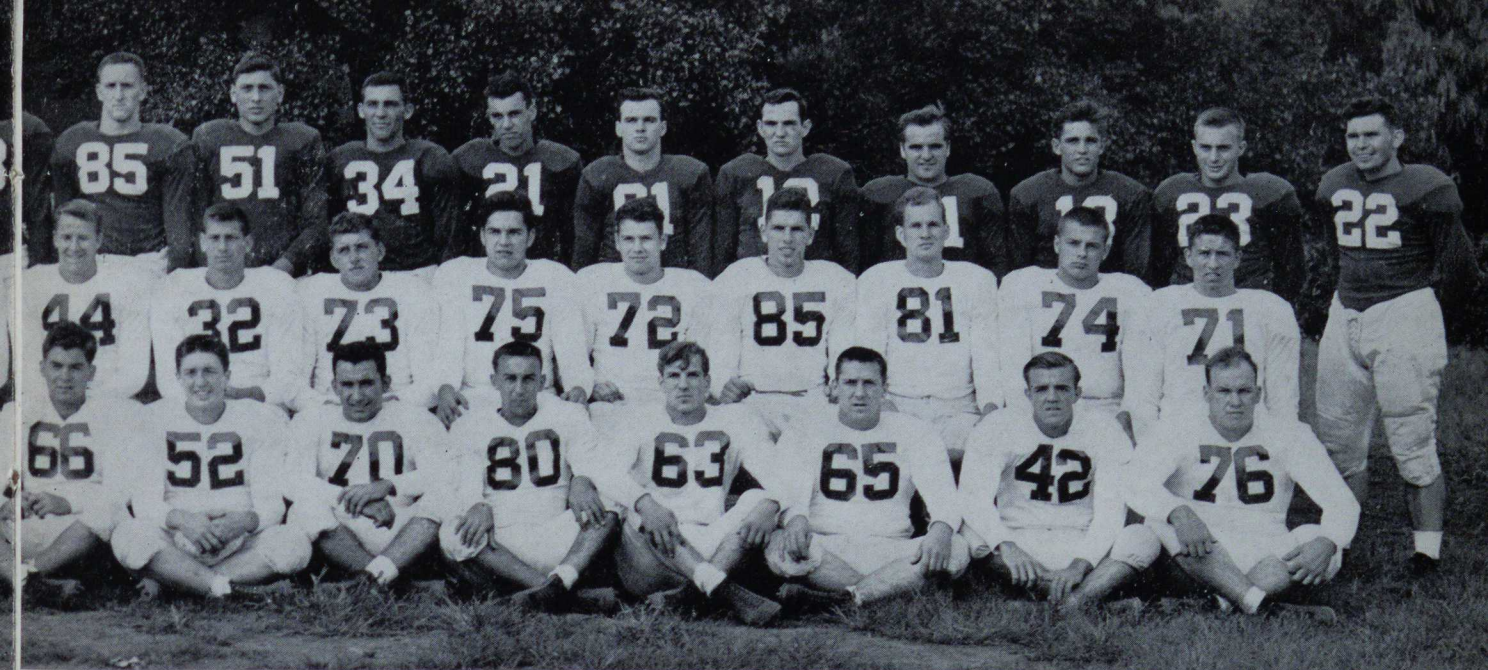

Both teams scored in the third quarter. On the kickoff Don O'Hara ran ninety yards from his own ten to the goal. Chuck Lodge ran ninety yards on an intercepted Vulcan pass to score for the Raiders. Finally, Jim Burns completed a pass to Bob Pollard in the end zone for a Vulcan score. Tepley scored for Edinboro on a forty yard pass from Oldach. Both teams had eight first downs.

WEST LIBERTY

The California Vulcans sustained their only loss of the gridiron season at the hands of the West Liberty team from West Virginia. The powerful Hilltoppers scored their two touchdowns in the first half and succeeded in holding the Vulcans 13 to 8.

Outstanding in the game for West Liberty was Young who scored both their touchdowns.

The Vulcans picked up two points in the second period when Schaub, who was to punt for West Liberty, was tackled in the end zone. California's lone touchdown came in the fourth and final quarter as Bob Pollard shoved over from the one yard line to close a sixty yard drive. Once earlier California had the ball on the West Liberty one yard line but was unable to overcome the Hilltoppers' defense. Throughout the game the West Liberty passing plays were a little too successful for comfort.

INDIANA

Prepared to face their traditional rival and undaunted by the defeat at the hand of West Liberty, the California football team traveled to Indiana State Teachers College on October 8, destined to upset the Indians 27 to 7. Before a spirited and overflowing alumnae crowd on their annual Homecoming Day, the Vulcans, spurred on by a small but enthusiastic California rooting section, displayed fine teamwork in scalping the Indians. Although their opponents had a seven to six lead in the third quarter, the Burns to Simon aerial combination gave C.S.T.C. an unrelinquished lead from there on. O'Hara and Kinder did the final honors to give the Brucemen their second victory of the season.

SLIPPERY ROCK

For the second straight week the Vulcans have spoiled their opponent's Homecoming Day. Both Indiana and Slippery Rock fell victim to the California team on their annual alumnae day.

Before a cheering but disappointed crowd of 3400, the Fire Gods sent the Rockets to defeat. Mitchel Bailey recovered a Rocket fumble to set up the first touchdown play. Don O'Hara passed to Ted Shattuck who lateraled to Bill Hepner for the initial score. The only threat from the Rockets was in the third quarter when they cleared our twenty-five yard line. In a near score Zelinski passed to Suder who ran to the green and white thirteen yard line before being caught from behind. The final score was 7-0.

CLARION

The California Vulcans continued their winning streak by taking over an unbeaten and unscored on Clarion eleven. The Fire Gods accomplished this by scoring a touch-down six plays after the opening kick-off and then adding two more scores in the final quarter. Thus the Clarion teachers were halted 20 to 14 before a homecoming crowd of 2,500.

California's 16 first down record overshadowed Clarion's 5 first downs. Outstanding in the contest were hard running O'Hara, pin point passing Jim Burns and Bob Pollard. Rolling up 300 yards on the ground and through the air, the Vulcans were thwarted by their own fumbles, all five of which were recovered by Clarion.

Stennett and Walls scored for Clarion and O'Hara and Shattuck scored for California with Bickle kicking the extra points.

SHIPPENSBURG

On October 29, the Vulcans defeated the rugged Shippensburg team 13-7 in a thrilling game before a Homecoming crowd of 5,000. Shippensburg displayed surprising strength during the scoreless first half. Early in the fourth quarter, however, the teams were tied 7 to 7 before a tense crowd. Bill Hepner scored the first touchdown for the Vulcans with Bickle kicking the extra point. Shippensburg retaliated by scoring early in the fourth quarter when Gerlock passed to Hatfield who raced thirty-five yards to pay dirt. In the fading minutes of the game California fans were relieved when Pollard intercepted a Shippensburg pass and raced thirty-three yards for the winning six points.

BETHANY

The Vulcans ended their home game series in fine style by overpowering the Bisons from Bethany College. It was California all the way. Shattuck took the first punt and slipped it to O'Hara who went forty-five yards for the first score. From then on the T.D.'s came thick and fast. Shattuck and Pollard registered touchdowns while Dochinez grabbed the ball from mid air and ran thirty-five yards for six points.

Even the subs could not be stopped as they ran through, around, and over the Bisons. Fairheller, Kramer, and Simmons continued to score for California. The longest run was credited to Kinder who took a punt on his thirty and ran to the goal for six more points. Bickle succeeded in making good five out of ten extra points. California racked up a total of eighteen first downs to Bethany's one. The final tally was 65-0.

MILLERSVILLE

The Vulcans ended a fine season by downing their final opponent at Millersville 14-7 on November 12. The Marauders of M.S.T.C. stunned the Fire Gods by scoring the first seven points of the game. Angered by this surprise touchdown the Vulcans retaliated by marching seventy-three yards only to be stymied on the Marauders' seven yard line. Following several punt exchanges, Mitchel Bailey picked up a Millersville fumble on their own two yard line and Pollard shoved across for the score. Bickle's conversion tied the score. In the fourth quarter Anders and Zelinski were instrumental in scoring the second and winning touchdown.

This final victory assured California a tie for the Penn State Teachers' College Championship and boosted our winnings to seven.

Baseball

Baseball season was just getting under way as we went to press; however, the plans for the season had been mapped out. The big feature of the season was the trip through the eastern and southern states which will be made by Mr. Cubbon, who is head coach, and Elmer Cone, the assistant coach, and the CSTC baseball team. The trip includes a six game schedule with Teachers Colleges and Service Teams and also a sight-seeing tour through several historical cities.

The following players are those who will make the trip: 2b Hahn, 1b Milanovich, SS Hrabos, 3b Kalvolchek, RF Sable, OF Zelinski, Mains, Baily, Lach, Tomkovich, C Haidle, Craver, Jorgenson, P Pollard, Monath, Vanamen, Yoder, Kieth, Wohar, Wilson, McKevitt, Perchuto.

MISS LOUISE HILDRETH

California's Women's Athletic Association is one of the most active and useful organizations on campus, because it carries out the idea of a strong mind and a strong body.

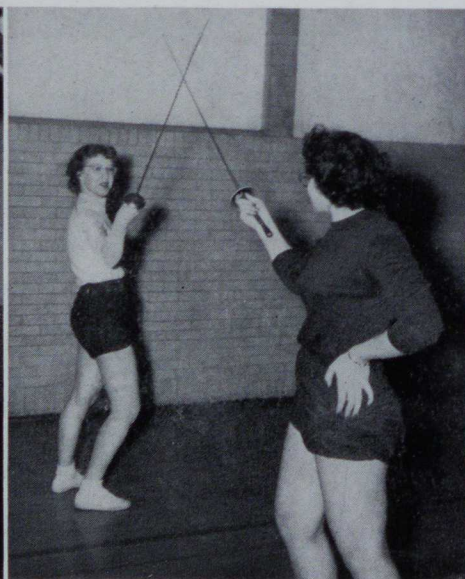

Last October Mary Ann Stash and Lucille Tharpe were delegates to the annual Conference of the Athletic Federation of College Women which was held at Wilson College in Chambersburg, Pennsylvania. From the report given by these girls, we feel sure that California's WAA compares favorably with the other twenty-five WAA's from colleges and universities all over Pennsylvania that were represented at the conference.

March twentieth saw the annual high school playday get under way with Caliifornia girls and high school girls competing in friendly rivalry in basketball, volleyball, badminton, ping-pong, shuffleboard, soft ball, and swimming. The day was climaxed with a banquet at six.

A Women's Rifle Club was organized this year under the direction of Clyde Ober. The club tries to teach the techniques of rifle shooting rather than to hold competitive matches.

Volley ball competition between six teams, sponsored by the WAA was carried on under the same plans as was the basketball tournament.

Edinboro, Indiana, West Virginia University, and Carnegie Tech invited California's WAA to playdays at their schools this year and in turn California held their annual playday for colleges at which time delegates from at least fifteen schools meet for a day of playing and friendship.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

The 1949-50 Intramural Girls' Basketball Tournament was a great one. The winning team was a spirited Junior team D. The bright stars on that team were: Winona Tharpe, captain, Eleanor Zehala, Barbara Blasko, Mary Ann Stash, Shirley Savage, Virginia Rice, Gilda Petito, Angeline Restanio, Betty Codeluppi, and Lois Parkinson. The champion D team won four out of four games played and, as a crowning climax, defeated an All Star team on Sports Night. Congratulations!
