Capacity Enrollment At CSTC

Eight New Faculty Members Appointed

CALIFORNIA. — Classes resumed at California State Teachers college yesterday with a capacity enrollment of 1182 full time students. Late registrations and Saturday class enrollment are expected to bring the total enrollment to 1350 students for the fall semester. Capacity enrollment of full time students was made possible through the efforts of people of the community who opened their homes to students when college dormitory space was completely filled.

Included in the full time enrollment were approximately 350 new students. Activities for these freshmen during the week included orientation, registration and a Student Mixer. Orientation activities were presided over by Mrs. Lela T. Hamilton, Dean of Women, and Mr. Frank W. Lenox, Dean of Men. Dr. Michael Duda, President of the College, addressed the new students at a Freshman Convocation in Steele Auditorium.

New Faculty

Dr. Michael Duda, president of the college, has announced that the Board of Trustees and the Department of Public Instruction have approved the appointment of eight new members to the California State Teachers college faculty. The appointments are as follows:

Mrs. Sulo Alto as assistant professor of elementary education. Mrs. Alto formerly taught in the California community schools and will teach fourth grade in the Noss Laboratory school. She received her bachelor of science at CSTC and a master of library science from Carnegie Tech.

Edwin H. Beamer as assistant professor of geography. A resident of Bellevue, Pa. Mr. Beamer attended Indiana State Teachers college and holds a master of letters from the University of Pittsburgh. He has taught in Pleasantville, Pa., Redbank Valley Joint schools, New Bethlehem, Pa., and Penn Township Schools, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Placement Rate High At CSTC

A survey of the 1957 graduation classes from California State Teachers College by Dr. Stephen Pavlak, College Placement Officer, reveals that 234 of the 242 graduates have either been placed or are continuing their education. A breakdown of the placement figure shows that 156 members have accepted teaching positions in Pennsylvania, 34 have left the state to accept teaching positions, 12 will continue their education in graduate schools, 20 will enter the armed forces and 12 will enter industry. Marriage and failure to register with the placement office account for the eight listed as not placed.

Uniontown Resident

John P. Watkins as assistant professor of English. Mr. Watkins has taught at North Hills Joint schools, Oakmont public schools, and Edgewood Senior high school. A resident of Uniontown, he received the Bachelors degree from CSTC and a master of arts from West Virginia university.

Paul E. Ross as assistant professor of physical education. He attended CSTC and received a master of education from the University of Pittsburgh. Mr. Ross comes to the college from the Donora Public schools. He has also taught in South Union Township Schools and Fallowfield Township Schools.

Miss Rose Dalaidi as assistant professor of elementary education. A graduate of CSTS and the University of Pittsburgh, where she received the master of education, Miss Dalaidi will teach first grade in the Noss Laboratory school. Her public school experience was obtained in Centerville borough and the California Community schools.

Taught Here

Jon R. Craig as assistant professor of chemistry. Mr. Craig attended Allegheny college and West Virginia Wesleyan where he obtained the bachelors degree in chemistry. He holds a master of letters from the University of Pittsburgh. Teaching experience includes American high school, Wiesbaden, Germany, Brownsville high school, Ellsworth high school, Donora high school, and most recently Mt. Lebanon high school.

Richard M. Birch to assistant professor of industrial arts. A former resident of Vestaburg, Mr. Birch graduated from CSTS and received the master of education from Pennsylvania State university. Public school experience included Mechanicsburg Area Joint high school and Cumberland Valley high school.

Raymond Pecuch as assistant professor of driver training. Mr. Pecuch is a member of faculty of the California Community schools and will teach driver education and highway safety on a part time basis.

Dr. Michael Duda To Talk At County PTA Conference

Dr. Michael Duda, president of the California State Teachers College will be the principal speaker at the Fall Conference of the Washington County Parent Teacher Associations in the Carroll Township Junior High School Saturday, Oct. 19, 1957.

Superintendents of all schools in the County, supervising principals and principals are invited to attend the meeting with the 250 expected P.T.A. delegates. Dr. Duda will address the group on the subject "Higher Education."

In the afternoon session, there will be special music directed by the County music chairman, Miss Marie Kelley, principal of the sixth street school in Donora. Following the special music a fashion revue is planned to dramatize the importance of P.T.A. publications. This revue is to be modeled by the chairmen wearing the publication hats.

Registration will begin at 8:45 a. m. with a general business meeting at 9:30 a. m. The meeting will adjourn at 3:30 p. m. Being an all day session, dinner will be served at noon and reservations are to be made no later than Oct. 15, 1957.

The above plans were formulated at a recent meeting of the executive committee of the Washington County Parent Teacher Associations held in the public meeting room in the County Courthouse, Washington.

Mrs. Charles Richardson, Sr., president of this association urges all P.T.A. members to plan to attend.

Dr. Roadman Is Named CSTC Dean

Dr. Roadman

Dr. Michael Duda, president of the college, has announced that the board of trustees, with approval of the Department of Public Instruction, has appointed Dr. George H. Roadman as the new dean of instruction for the California State Teachers college. Dr. Roadman succeeds James S. Porter who has been acting dean for the past year.

The new dean of instruction was educated in the Luzerne and Redstone township public schools. He graduated from California State Teachers college in 1941, received the master of arts degree from the University of Pittsburgh in 1950, and his doctor of philosophy degree from the same institution in 1957. Dr. Roadman has taught social studies at California State Teachers college since 1946. Previous to that he taught social studies in Redstone high school. He entered military service in August 1942 and served in the European theater of operations for eighteen months with the 272nd Field Artillery battalion of the 83rd Infantry division. He was honorably discharged in March, 1946, with the rank of captain.

He is a member of the State Board of Private Correspondence schools, Phi Alpha Theta National History fraternity, American Historical association, the Pennsylvania State Education association and the National Education association. Currently, Dr. Roadman is serving as President of the California State Teachers college Alumni association.

Dr. Roadman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Roadman of Merrittstown. Mrs. Roadman is the former Betty Jean Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Roberts, 115 Knox avenue, Monessen.

Other new administrative appointments include Irvin J. Shutsey as director of student teaching, Dr. Harold E. Kemper as director of admissions and registrar, Dr. Merrill G. Campbell as director of public relations, Dr. Malverne Wolfe as director of advanced standing and guidance services and Jack F. Hoyes as head of the education division.

CSTC Professor Program Chairman For Convention

Anthony T. Stavaski, Associate Professor of Industrial Arts at California State Teachers College, will serve as program chairman this week when the Industrial Arts Association of Pennsylvania meets in its fifth annual convention in Harrisburg. General theme of the convention, which is scheduled for October 25 and 26 in the Scottish Rites Temple of Harrisburg, is "Our Cultural Heritage."

Mr. Stavaski has assembled an imposing array of personalities and demonstrations for the more than 400 state industrial arts teachers who will be in attendance. Among the speakers will be Dr. Walter R. Williams, State Director of Industrial Arts in Baltimore, Maryland, Public Schools, Dr. Lynwod Lingenfelter, Director of Public Relations at Millersville State Teachers College, Dr. Kenneth F. Perry, President of the American Industrial Arts Association, and Dr. Willaim E. Warner, Professor of Industrial Arts at Ohio State University.

Four members of the Industrial Arts staff at California also have places on the program. They are Dr. Shriver L. Coover, Director of the Industrial Arts Department, Mr. Ralph L. Charney, Assistant Professor of Industrial Arts, Mr. Gaston Lebois, Assistant Professor of Industrial Arts, and Mr. Irvin Shutsy, Director of Student Teaching. Fifty-two commercial exhibitors will display their latest in Industrial Arts equipment and supplies at the convention.

A new feature of the convention

this year will be a teacher employment clearing house. Prospective Industrial Arts teachers from various colleges will be given an opportunity to meet with school superintendent or supervisors to discuss employment.

Dr. Robert D. Goldman, Director of Fine and Industrial Arts for Philadelphia, is President of the state organization. Mr. Stavaski, who serves as Vice President, has long worked through both national and state organizations for the improvement of Industrial Arts teaching. The Pennsylvania State Industrial Arts Association last year recognized Mr. Stavaski's contribution by making him the recipient of their first Distinguished Service Award.

Two Faculty Members At CSTC Earn Doctorate Degrees During Summer

(continued from page one) dissertation shows that Thomas Morton came to New England in 1634, where, after a discouraging start, he began to prosper. Prosperity and a gay party featuring a Maypole led the Plymouth Pilgrims in 1628 to raid his plantation and send him to England accused of violating the King's proclamation against selling guns and ammunition to the Indians. Morton soon returned unpunished but in 1630 was arrested by the new colony of Massachusetts Bay, tried on trivial charges, and sent to England. Again no punishment resulted. It seems probably that Morton was twice evicted, not for the reasons charged, but for condoning irregular sexual relations between his men and Indian women.

In England Morton was active in actions hostile to the Massachusetts colonies. He successfully prosecuted a quo warranto action for repeal of the Massachusetts Bay patent and in 1637 published a book, The New English Canaan, about New England.

His book has high praise for the natives and natural resources of the region but ridicules the English settlers — Pilgrims, Puritans, and non-Puritans alike. His purpose was to attract to the regions beyond the control of the established governments people like himself, who would undermine the trade of his persecutors with pleasure and profit.

In 1643 he returned to Plymouth as a land agent. In 1644 he was arrested in Massachusetts Bay colony and tried for his legal acts in England against the colony. He was kept in jail for a year while Governor Endecott tried unsuccessfully to secure evidence against him. With no evidence on the record, he was fined 100 pound sterling and permitted to go to Maine, where he lived only a very short time, his health apparently broken by his winter in Boston's unheated jail.

A modernized text of Morton's book forms a part of the dissertation.

Research on the dissertation has led to requests for data concerning the author for inclusion in the Directory of American Scholars and Who's Who in American Education.

In addition to his professional work, Mr. Stavaski has been

CSTC Has 1,341 Enrollment; 58% Commute

The biggest problem at California State Teachers college is the inability to accept all students who wish to study there, causing a more selective attitude in acceptance of students.

So said Dr. Michael Duda, president of the college, Monday night at a meeting of the Fredericktown Rotary club in the Methodist church.

Mr. Duda, speaking on the courses, facilities and problems at the college, said 1341 students are registered in the school. Commuters make up 58 per cent of the student body, with a ratio of about 2-1 in favor of male students.

At California, he continued, a student pays approximately one third of the actual cost, with the balance being absorbed by the state and its taxpayers. The present cost per year to a resident student is $715 and a commuting student about $200.

James D. Livingston, president, presided. David Page was program chairman.

Visitors were Frank Garwood, Brownsville; Frank Ward, Fredericktown; All Faull, Carmichaels; and Dick Krause, Carmichaels.

130 CSTC Seniors To Attend Session At Pittsburgh

California State Teachers college will be represented by 130 members of the senior class at a Classroom Teacher Vs. Future Teacher day sponsored by the Department of Classroom Teachers of the Pennsylvania State education association on Saturday, October 5. The meeting will be held in the Cathedral of Learning of the University of Pittsburgh. California seniors will join seniors majoring in education from other area liberal arts and state teachers colleges as well as representatives and sponsors of high school Future Teachers of America clubs in Western Pennsylvania.

The purpose of the meeting is threefold: (1) to interpret the philosophy of professional association to future teachers, and to acquaint them with the organization, goals, function, & achievements of these organizations on the local, state and national levels; (2) to help find answers and solutions to problems which may be facing the future teachers before that big "first" day; (3) to inspire, encourage, compliment, and reassure the future teacher for having chosen teaching as a career.

Kenneth Cury, professor of education at the University of Pittsburgh, will be host to the group. Dr. Paul Masoner, dean of the school of education at the University of Pittsburgh, Dr. Frank Guhle of the National Education association, and Dr. William H. Johnson of the University Education department will be the main speakers at the meeting. Miss Lucy Valero, representing the Pennsylvania State Education association, will summarize the meeting for the delegates.

Major work of the meeting will be accomplished by dividing the student and teacher representatives into informal small groups for discussion. Miss Dorothy Harpster, sponsor of the CSTC group, will preside over a discussion group.

Top TV Writer To Speak At CSTC

Robert Shaw

California — Robert Shaw, one of the youngest and most successful writers in television and radio will lecture here on the subject "The Monster in Your Living Room" at Steele Auditorium on Friday, October 25, at 1:30 p. m.

Now only in his early thirties, Shaw has been regarded since his mid-twenties as one of the most formidable writing talents of the airwaves. Author of two of television's highest-rated dramatic shows, "Robert Montgomery Presents" and "The Schlitz Playhouse of Stars", he continues to write "Mr. District Attorney", which for more than two years has been at the top of the Hooper list of radio crime programs. Choosing themes that are contemporary, he keeps pace not only with the demands of his audiences but also with the growing responsibilities of the two leading media of mass entertainment.

His meteoric rise in radio began when he created the daytime serial, "Front Page Farrell", in an instantaneous hit. He followed soon after with others — "Philco Vance", "The Shadow" and "Mr. Keene, Tracer of Lost Persons". All were carried by national networks and were continuous successes. Constantly creating new characters and situations in his nimble mind, he presented a few months later one of radio's all-time hits, "Mr. District Attorney". This program, which demonstrated the moral force of good crime dramas, won a citation from the National Conference of Christians and Jews because "It dramatizes the American Spirit of brotherhood."

When he was at the peak of his radio career, he created another original series, "The Adventures of Christopher Wells", aired over the Columbia Broadcasting System.

A highly versatile talent, Shaw made an easy switch to video with the advent of television. Knowing his way around the networks, he was called in early to write for the new medium. Today two of the shows he writes, the Robert Montgomery hour and Schlitz Playhouse are among the ten television productions with the largest audiences, each featuring well-known stars of television and Hollywood.

Leading Television Author To Speak At CSTC Friday

Robert Shaw, author of two of television's leading dramatic programs, "Robert Montgomery Presents" and "The Playhouse of Stars," will tell how he attained success when he appears Friday, Oct. 25, in Steele Auditorium on the California State Teachers College campus.

In his lecture on television, "The Monster in Your Living Room," Shaw says he will reveal many of the penetrating impacts which this new form of entertainment has had on life in America.

Shaw first attained fame and success as author of radio's all-time popular shows, "Mr. District Attorney," "The Shadow" and "The Adventures of Christopher Wells." He is now regarded as one of the country's leading TV writers.

Well aware of the moral responsibilities of television and radio, Shaw has a definite plan of action to present to that portion of the public which demands that TV utilize its vast potentialities for good entertainment.

Appearing at the College under the auspices of the Assembly Committee he will also give a picture of the inside working of the medium in which he has achieved fame and success — of its stars, its programs and its future.

Submit Bids For CSTC Auditorium

Vulcans Tally Twice In 3rd

Denison Grabs 44-13 Verdict At California

CALIFORNIA, Sept. 22—Denison University packed too many weapons for California Teachers Saturday, nabbing a 44-13 decision over the Vulcans in their opener.

Dick Cash led the Big Red attack with touchdown runs of 72 and eight yards, the latter coming on a pass play.

Other Denison six-ponters were registered by Darwin Zahn, 48 yards; Bob Jones, three yards; Doug Dudley, 69 yards; Marv Smith, two yards, and Tom Young, two yards.

Denison stepped away to a 6-0 lead in the opening chapter and boosted it 24-0 at halftime.

California got back into the game temporarily in the third stanza when Adam Vlanich sprinted 18 yards to paydirt on a pitchout, and John D'Arrico bucked over from the one, bringing the Vulcans within 11 points at 24-13.

Denison promptly pulled away for keeps, tallying three fourth-period touchdowns.

The Ohioans piled up 470 yards net rushing against 144 for California and outdowned the home team, 15-8.

Open Bids On CSTC Auditorium

HARRISBURG — Bids on additions to the $390,000 auditorium at California State Teachers college will be received November 20 by the General State authority.

Plans call for construction of a stage, dressing rooms at the basement level, toilet facilities, storage and work rooms.

The GSA undertook the project at the request of the department of public instruction.

CSTC Faculty Group Attends Conference

GROVE CITY — More than 100 high school and college educators from throughout Western Pennsylvania attended a recent two-day regional conference of the Pennsylvania Association for Student Teaching held at Grove City college.

Theme of the session was "Creating Climate for Student Teaching." Among the highlights of the meeting were the special conferences held for persons interested in primary, intermediate, or secondary school education.

Among those attending were: Edgar L. Lawton, supervising teacher, who served as chairman of the Intermediate Division; Miss Rose Dalaida, Miss Rose Hughes, Miss Alda Marsh, Miss Lena Vella, Mrs. Edgar L. Lawton, and Merrell Holman, all members of the faculty of California State Teachers College.

Washington PTA Hears Dr. Duda

Dr. Michael Duda, president of California State Teachers college, delivered a talk titled "Higher Education" at the fall meeting of the Washington county council of Parent-Teacher associations recently in the new Carroll township junior high school.

Dr. Duda stated, "We should have a two year junior college course, because the step from most high schools is too great a span to college." He added that he would like to see Washington county council of Parent-Teacher associations and Washington county educators work and plan toward that goal.

Presiding was Mrs. Charles Richardson, senior council president.

Unit presidents were introduced. Other guests included Mrs. Michael Duda, Mrs. Kenneth Thompson, past president of council and Dr. Ralph Glott, elementary supervisor of California schools.

Appointing Public Relations Director Part Of 'Dr. Duda Renaissance' At CSTC

"Dr. Duda Renaissance" is the apt characterization that is given to the great forward step that has been taken at the California State Teachers College since Dr. Michael Duda became president of the institution a short time ago.

Enrollment rosters disclose that the 1957-58 enrollment is the greatest in the history of the school.

Dr. Duda, who was named president of the school following the retirement of Dr. Robert M. Steele, who served for a long period as president, was attracting lots of attention in the state as an unusually proficient school administrator prior to his appointment. He served for many years as the supervising principal of the public schools of Monessen, Westmoreland County's largest city.

For the first time in the long history of the college, a public relations office has been established. In the past, school publicity has been more or less of a hit-and-miss proposition, but an orderly flow of news pertaining to the school and its activities of public interest is promised by the new office.

Dr. Merrill G. Campbell has been named the school's first director of public relations. He is a member of the college faculty, teaching in the industrial arts department. He is well qualified for the important position to which he has been named.

Dr. Campbell, who holds a full professorship, is a native of Ligonier. He was raised within a stone's throw of historic Fort Ligonier and says that as a child he frequently dug up Indian arrowheads, leaden musket balls and other mementoes of warfare in that early period of American settlement while working in the family garden.

His early education was gained in the Ligonier Public Schools. Subsequently, the family moved to the California district. He was graduated from East Pike Run Township High School in 1932. Four years later he was awarded a bachelor of science degree in industrial arts at California State Teachers College. A decade later, he obtained both doctor of education and master of education degrees at the University of Pittsburgh.

Prior to coming to the faculty at California State Teachers College in 1948, Dr. Campbell had a varied teaching experience. He taught in Dale Borough schools at Johnstown, Cambria County; Midland Public schools at Midland, Beaver County, and Allegheny County schools in Barton, Maryland.

During undergraduate days, Dr. Campbell gained some experience in handling news of school events which he expects to stand him in good stead in the public relations office he now occupies.

The public relations job is not a full-time one, but is just incidental to his regular duties as a professor of industrial arts — By S. M. House.

CALIFORNIA, Pa. — Dr.

Merrill G. Campbell, a faculty member, has been named director of the newly established public relations department at California State Teachers College by Dr. Michael Duda, president.

Formation of the office is one of many new departures Dr. Duda has inaugurated since he succeeded Dr. Robert M. Steele, who retired. His program is being referred to here as the "Duda Renaissance."

Dr. Campbell is a native of Ligonier and a graduate of California State with post graduate work at Pitt. He joined the faculty in 1948 and is professor of industrial arts.

California Teachers In Dad's Day Contest

Br. Title Oct 25 '57

Dad's Day will be observed tomorrow afternoon when California State Teachers college entertains Clarion State Teachers college. Kickoff is slated at 2 p. m.

Coach Ted Nemeth's Vulcans are still bothered by the flu bug with eight members of the squad still sidelined.

Three other players—Fleming Mosely, Bernard Roberts and Adam Vlanich—also may miss tomorrow's tilt because of injuries.

Probable starting lineup for the Vulcans tomorrow will have Donald Skupinsky and James Mendola at ends, John Trivonovich and George Stoicovy at tackles, John Scarvel and Frank Marella at guards, Curt Calamari at center, Don DiNardo at quarterback, John Glatz and Ron Novak at the halves and John Darrigo at fullback.

The Vulcans are still looking for their initial victory after having lost to Denison university, Indiana State Teachers college and Shippensburg State Teachers college.

Games with Lock Haven State Teachers college and Edinboro State Teachers college were postponed because of the flu epidemic.

145 Attend Workshop At CSTC

Geography Teachers Welcomed By Dr. Duda

Some 145 educators attended a geography workshop recently in the Noss school, California State Teachers college, which began the formal activities of the Washington county geography study group.

Miss Eugenia Baxter, Carroll township, president of the organization, presided and Dr. Michael Duda, president of the college, greeted the group.

Lawrence R. Sutherland, assistant county superintendent, expressed appreciation and commendation of the study group's achievements on behalf of the Washington county office of education.

Useful Teaching

A highlight of the program was a concrete demonstration of techniques of useful teaching in geography by Mrs. Linnie B. James, resource teacher of geography, Forest Hills schools, Allegheny county. She discussed "The Uses of Graphic Materials in Geography."

Various individual grade or area level groups met to consider some improved methods of teaching-learning useful geography. Chairmen of these groups were Dr. Ralph Glott, director of Elementary education, California Community schools; Paul L. Varnum, supervising principal of East Washington schools; Dr. Jacob Burkey, supervisor of elementary education, Bethlehem Joint; George E. Baker, supervisor of elementary education, Fort Cherry Joint; E. M. Caseber, supervisor of elementary education, Chartiers-Houston joint; Dr. Thomas M. Gilland, consultant in teacher education, California; Mrs. Louise Fischer, teacher in Grade 7, East Washington; J. N. Schwartz, supervisor of secondary education, Fort Cherry joint, and Mrs. Erna G. Gilland, geography education consultant, California.

Individual Counseling

Following a luncheon in the college dining room, Mrs. James met with a large group who had previously expressed a desire for individual counseling.

Tuesday evening, November 19, the Houston school of the Chartiers-Houston Joint will be host to the Study Group at its final 1957 meeting. It is hoped that all teachers and other educators at each educational level will attend. Dinner will be served at the nearby Methodist Church but those not attending the dinner are invited to join the group for its business meeting which includes the election of officers.

The second part of the meeting will be in the Houston School. Specific techniques of "How and What to Teach" at each grade or area level will be concretely demonstrated and discussed. Specific results in the Chartiers-Houston Schools will be displayed. The entire program will deal with many valuable and constructive ideas in carrying out "Our Improved Program in Useful Geography Education."

Students Vote Today; Local Girl Is Candidate

Five girls from the junior and senior classes at California State Teachers college have been nominated by the student body as the 1957 homecoming attendants. One will be chosen homecoming queen today as students vote in Old Main. Student congress, the organization which will assist the returning grads in their annual Homecoming Day celebration, has conducted an extensive campaign for the five nominees and student interest in the voting is high.

Nominated were Lucia DeRocco, Mary Ann Dimperio, Judy Hunter, Donna Mandarino, and Dena Morris.

Miss DeRocco, a junior majoring in speech correction is from Monessen. She is active in Delta Sigma Epsilon, Jazz club, Sigma Alpha Eta and the Monocal staff.

Miss Dimperio, a junior from Brownsville, is enrolled in the elementary curriculum. Her activities include vice presidency of the Women's Traveling council and membership on the Monocal staff.

Speech correction is Miss Hunter's major. She's a resident of Charleroi and participates in the Committee on social activities, Sigma Alpha Eta, College Players and the Tribunal.

Miss Mandarino, a senior from Monessen, is also majoring in speech correction. Donna is secretary of Intercollegiate Conference on Government, a reporter on Tower Times, and a member of College choir, Debate club, Monocal staff, Tribunal and Gma Pi Chi.

Miss Morris, who lives in Waynesburg, is a senior majoring in English. Her list of activities include College Players, Women's Athletic association, cheerleaders President of the Womens Dorm council, president of Alpha Psi Omega, vice president of student congress, and vice president of Delta Sigma Epsilon.

The queen and her attendants will reign over homecoming festivities on the California campus on Saturday, October 12. The program for returning alumni will get under way with a parade of floats based on the theme, "Disneyland". A football game with Shippensburg State Teachers college will follow the parade. Final event of the day will be a semi-formal Sophomore Class-Alumni Dance in Herron Hall. Sammy Bill and his orchestra will provide the music.

Students At CSTC Plan For Homecoming Oct. 12

The annual Homecoming celebration at California State Teachers College will take place Saturday, Oct. 12. An interesting program is being planned by a committee from the Alumni Association and the Committee for Social Activities of the student body.

The program will feature a parade of floats representing college organizations and classes. The bands of several area high schools and the State Teachers College Band will furnish the music.

The parade will begin at 1 p. m. and will be followed by the homecoming football game with Shippensburg State Teachers College at Booster Field.

Between halves of the game first and second awards will be made to winning floats in each of three divisions; classes, large clubs and smaller organizations. In addition an award will be made to the float that is judged to be the most outstanding in all respects.

The nomination and election of the Queen and her court will take place on campus during the week of September 23.

Alumni will be guests at the Homecoming Dance sponsored by the Sophomore Class. Sammy Bill's Orchestra will provide the music.

Noss Laboratory Pupils Send Parents To School

CALIFORNIA — The tables will be turned Thursday afternoon, Nov. 14, when pupils of the Noss Laboratory School on the campus at California State Teachers College will remain home and send their parents to school. The unique occurrence is a part of the school's observance of the 37th annual American Education Week.

The parents will replace their children in the classroom to assist in formulating new objectives for the school and to discuss special methods with the teacher and student teachers. Parents will be "kept after school" to participate in a social hour arranged by the staff.

The Noss Laboratory staff, under the direction of Dr. Stephen E. Pavlak, principal of the school, have formulated the following set of tentative objectives which will serve as the basis for discussions.

The objectives of a school are the guide posts that indicate the direction in which the program is pointed; Noss School emphasizes the development of the "whole" child—physical, mental, social, emotional, moral and spiritual. It strives to create attitudes, interests and ideals that are wholesome and consistent with our democratic way of life. The main goal of the Noss Laboratory School is to provide for the maximum growth of each child. The following objectives have been accepted for the educational program:

1. To discover and to develop the aptitudes of the individual child.
2. To stimulate an enthusiasm for learning.
3. To develop skill in the use of the tool subjects.
4. To develop an appreciation and an understanding of the world in which we live.

5. To foster the ability to evaluate and to do critical thinking.
6. To instill proper health habits and body care.
7. To provide opportunities for desirable social experiences.
8. To develop proper mental attitudes and emotional stability.
9. To encourage self-expression through creative activities.
10. To inspire highest moral and spiritual ideals.
11. To provide an atmosphere conducive to a democratic way of life.

In addition to the Thursday meeting, parents have been urged to visit the Noss School every other day this week to observe the regular work of the classroom.

Theme for the week is "An Educated People Move Freedom Forward."

CSTC Freshmen Name Officers

In one of the most closely contested campus elections of recent years, William J. Coleman, a student in the elementary curriculum, was elected president of the freshman class at California State Teachers College. Coleman resides in Mt. Pleasant and is a graduate of Mt. Pleasant Ramsay High

Serving as vice president will be Ronald A. Paglia, a graduate of California Community Schools who is enrolled in the secondary curriculum.

Sharon Skupnick of Nemaocolin, a graduate of Cumberland Township High School, was elected secretary. Miss Skupnick is a major in elementary education.

Dean Billik, an industrial arts major from Aliquippa and a graduate of Hopewell Township High School, is the new treasurer.

CSTC To Host Fourth Annual Teen-Age Traffic Safety Conference November 12

High schools in Southwestern Pennsylvania will send six representatives to the Fourth Annual Teen-Age Traffic Safety Conference at California State Teachers College, Tuesday, Nov. 12.

The objective of this conference, which will have as its theme, "Traffic Safety For All Teen-Agers," is to provide an education experience in traffic safety for solving problems in the school community.

The meeting is one of a series of statewide meetings held under the supervision of the Department of Public Instruction. Raymond Pecuch, instructor of driver education and safety at California State Teachers College, will serve as general chairman for the conference. State Trooper Duane O. Lacock of the Washington barracks will act as consultant. Driver Education teachers from the participating schools will be adult advisors to the teenager groups.

Registration will take place in Steele Auditorium Lobby at 9 a. m. Following a general assembly in Steele Auditorium for instructions and orientation, the students will organize into discussion groups under the leadership of student chairmen. Luncheon will be served in the Georgian Dining Room of the college at 12:30 p.m. The conference will close with a general assembly in Steele Auditorium at 2:30 p.m.

The topics and the students who will discuss them are:

PANEL ONE, ROOM 101— Does the press do the teen-age driver justice? What part can the high school play in this matter?

Dwain Johnson, Donora High School, Chairman; Mary Brown, Connellsville High School, co-chairman; Bitsy Howard, Peters Township High School, secretary; Gene Moffat, Peters Township; John Carson, Donora; Patty Porterfield, Connellsville, members; Edward Hall, Donora; Edward Spotts, Connellsville; and Ron DeGrange, Peters Township; adult advisors.

PANEL TWO, ROOM 102— Are teen-age traffic safety conferences worthwhile? Why or why not? List some ways to follow-up the resolutions drawn from a teen-age safety conference.

Dorsi Fox, Burgettstown High School, chairman; James Noan, West Allegheny High School, co-chairman; Betty Billenberger, Turkeyfoot Valley Joint High School, secretary; Sharon Lukehart, Burgettstown; Patty Bogatay, West Allegheny; and Linda Clark, Turkeyfoot Valley; Joseph Pusateri, Burgettstown; Alex Kramer, West Alexander; and Tom Simon, Turkeyfoot Valley, adult advisors.

PANEL THREE, ROOM 20— How can a mutual understanding between law enforcement officers and teen-age drivers on safe driving be developed? Should there be a separate traffic court for teen-age drivers with a specially trained judge? Why or why not?

Linda Dixon, Bethlehem Joint High School, chairman; Fred Churchill, Moon High School, co-chairman; Hinda Mandell, Munhall High School, secretary; Robert Stuvek, Bethlehem Joint; Carol Graydos, Moon; and Nina Bruno, Munhall, members; Duane Wood, Bethlehem; Brooks Barcher, Moon; and Anthony Mattee, Munhall, adult advisors.

PANEL FOUR, ROOM 104— De turnpike or express highways minimize driving fatigue? How? Will President Eisenhower's new highway expansion program reduce or raise the accident rate on our highways? Explain why or why not.

Joann Sestak, North Union High School, chairman; Joan Zahar-ewicz, California High School, co-chairman; Joyce Sutherland, Charleroi High School, secretary; Richard Giachetti, North Union; Joyce Pushnak, Charleroi; and Nancy Haywood, Brownsville, members; Edmund Slater, North Union; James Protin, Charleroi; James Boyle, Brownsville, adult advisors.

Fourth Annual Teen-Age Safety Conference To Be Held At CSTC

CALIFORNIA — Under the theme of "Traffic Safety for All Teenagers", high schools of southwestern Pennsylvania have been invited by Dr. Michael Duda, president of the California State Teachers college, to send six representative students to the fourth Annual Teen-Age Traffic Safety Conference at the college on Tuesday, November 12th. Objective of the conference is to provide an educational experience in traffic safety for the solving of problems in the school community.

Participating from area high schools are Linda Dixon and Robert Stuvek, Bethlehem Joint high school; Joan Zaharewicz, California high school and Nancy Haywood and James Boyle from Brownsville high school.

The meeting is one of a series of statewide meetings held under the supervision of the Department of Public Instruction. Raymond Pecuch, instructor of driver education and safety at California State Teachers college, will serve as general chairman for the conference. State Trooper Duane O. Lacock of the Washington barracks will act as consultant. Driver education teachers from the participating schools will be adult advisors to the teenager groups.

Registration will take place in Steele auditorium lobby at 9 a.m. Following a general assembly in Steele Auditorium for instructions and orientation, the students will organize into discussion groups under the leadership of student chairman. Luncheon will be served in the Georgian dining room of the college at 12:30. The conference will close with a general assembly in Steele auditorium at 2:30 p.m.

Dr. Duda To Speak In Washington Today

Dr. Michael Duda, president of California State Teachers College, will be the guest speaker at the regular monthly meeting at the Washington County Supervising Principals Association to be held today at the Washington YM-CA.

Dr. Duda will speak on an important phase of education, and then hold a discussion period.

The officers of the Association are: President, L. Wilburn Nelson, supervising principal of Carroll township schools; vice president, Dr. J. Vincent Cannoley, supervising principal of Fredericktown; secretary, R. Braden, assistant county superintendent of schools; treasurer, E. M. Casper, elementary supervising principal, Chartiers-Houston Joint School district.

Wheeling Woman To Speak At CSTC Today

CALIFORNIA — Mrs. Louis Nassif of Wheeling, West Virginia, will tell about life and problems in the Near-East when she appears at an assembly program to be held in Steele auditorium at California State Teachers college today at 12:30. Mrs. Nassif is sponsored by the recently organized history club under the direction of Dr. John W. Keller, professor of Social Studies. In lieu of the usual fee for a speaker of Mrs. Nassif's experience, she will accept used clothing from the college students for Palestinian-Arab Refugees.

Teen Drivers Ask Fair Deal

By LOU IWLER
Sun-Telegraph Staff Writer

CALIFORNIA, Pa.—Teenage drivers are anxious to start a public relations campaign to influence the adult world.

They want Dad and Mom to see their point of view. They want adults to see their good features as well as their faults.

At the same time they want the minority of undesirable teenage drivers to convert to good driving.

Teenagers strongly believe newspapers are unfair because this minority of "hot rod" drivers receive the "big play" in print, while the good drivers go unrecognized.

THESE POINTS and others were brought out yesterday at the fourth annual Teenage Safety Conference at California State Teachers College.

About 200 students and driver education teachers from six counties and 32 high schools participated. One teenage panelist said:

"If we take driving more seriously it would help a lot in showing adults we want safety."

This teenager wants other teenagers to consider their lives and the lives of others when they go out on the highway.

ONE STUDENT suggested the student newspaper as a vehicle for teenage safety.

A special page in the school paper should be devoted to drivers, it was suggested. Careless driving by certain students should be pointed up to cause these persons to change their behavior.

Another participant suggested a year-round safety contest in high schools with prizes to safe drivers. She explained:

"Some hotrodders show their better side when they are with adults or in a Teenage Road-E-O. But they drag-race the first chance they get."

A year-round program, she said, would bring out the best in all teenagers at all times.

FOR THE TEENAGE "public relations" campaign, they adopted a resolution to pommel newspapers, parent-teacher groups and their own parents with the importance of driver training and safety on the highway. One said:

"We need parent backing."

ONE POINTED OUT his parents have little or no interest in his driving or his good judgment. They did not understand "his point of view."

Other teenagers disagreed and stated his problem was in the minority.

Another youth suggested a special license for teenagers between the ages of 16 and 18 until they become "mature."

Another suggested re-testing semi-yearly or yearly, especially for eyesight. It was pointed out there are many drivers who need glasses and don't know it or don't bother.

POLICE SHOULD GO to the schools to discuss safe driving, a student said. He stated:

"When we go back with this to our classrooms, others will laugh us off or take what we say too lightly. They will listen to a traffic officer."

The group questioned special courtrooms for teenage drivers. One said:

"We want the same type of punishment adults get—not too lenient nor too rough."

THERE SHOULD BE special training classes for delinquent teenage drivers like they have in Pittsburgh, a student said.

He referred to the Violators' Clinic for adults and teenagers. Washington, Fayette, Greene, Westmoreland and Somerset Counties.

In charge of the conference was Raymond Pecuch, college instructor in driver education and safety. He was aided by staff members, other high school driver training teachers and State Trooper Duane Lacock of the Washington (Pa.) Barracks. Dave Harris, California, was teenage chairman.

Student moderators were Dwain Johnson, Donora; Mary Brown, Connellsville; Doris Fox, Burgettstown; James Noan, West Allegheny High School; Linda Dixon, Fredericktown; Fred Churchill, Moon Township; Joann Sestak, Uniontown, and Joan Zaharewicz, California.

Have Roles In CSTC Players Production

GARNET REYNOLDS
In Cast Of "Pygmalion"

CAROLYN GHRIST
Plays Feminine Lead

FRANCES ZAMPAN
Has Supporting Role

CSTC Players To Present "Pygmalion" This Week

"Pygmalion," George Bernard Shaw's great play which was the basis of the Broadway hit, "My Fair Lady", will be the annual fall production of the College Players at California State Teachers College. The play will be presented in the new Robert M. Steele Auditorium November 20, 21, 22 and 23.

Miss Mon Valley of 1957, J. Carolyn Ghrist, will play the feminine lead, Liza Doolittle. Miss Ghrist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Ghrist of Claysville, is a 1954, graduate of Claysville High School.

Carolyn is a three-year veteran of College Players and serves as the president of the organization. Her past performances include "Bell, Book, and candle;" "Kind Lady," and "Our Town."

Cast in the major role of Professor Higgins, the male lead, is Andrew Zahratka, Andrew is a graduate of Jeannette High School and a former Penn State Thespian. He is the son of Mr. Vincent Zahratka of Jeannette.

Major supporting roles in the play are held by Stanley Sawa of Donora, Shirley Markel of Pitarin, Judith Lebowitz of Uniontown, and Cosmo Inserra of Roscoe.

Other participants are Patricia Buchta, Charleroi; James Seanor, New Alexandria; Darla Barth, Charleroi; Hale Vandermer, Belle Vernon; Frances Zampan, Canonsburg; Garnet Reynolds, California; Katherine Louttit, Monongahela; Joy Gossie, Charleroi; Benny Goodman, Johnstown; and Nancy Hurst, Pitarin.

The production is under the direction of Miss Louise Davis, Assistant Professor of Speech at California.

CSTC To Observe Veterans Day

CALIFORNIA — Students at California State Teachers college will observe the opening of American Education Week and Veterans' Day with a special assembly program in Steele auditorium at 10:15 and an afternoon holiday.

The Veterans' club under the sponsorship of Dr. O. R. Bontrager will present the special memorial assembly. Richard Bernardo, a junior from Belle Vernon and a Korean veteran, will preside at the program. Lucille Musial of Monessen will entertain with selections on the electric organ. Henry Ream and Ronald Jones, Belle Vernon freshmen, will play taps after the traditional moment of silence.

In keeping with the theme of American Education week, An Educated People Moves Freedom Forward, the emphasis for Veterans' day is education for responsible citizenship.

California Rotarians Hear George Harding

George E. Harding, head of the geography department at California State Teachers college, spoke before the weekly meeting of the California Rotary club last night at Pagonis restaurant.

Mr. Harding spoke on his trip to Canada and used slides to illustrate his talk.

President Oliver Patterson was in charge of the meeting.

Joint Dinner Meeting At CSTC Tuesday

A joint dinner meeting of the California Area Branch of the Association for Childhood Education and the school administrators of the area will be held at California State Teachers College Tuesday, Dec. 3. Dinner will be served in the college dining hall at 6:30 p.m.

The speaker and discussion leader will be Dr. Maurice E. Trusal, director, Bureau of Curriculum Development, Department of Public Instruction.

Dr. Trusal will discuss and explain the type of organization being developed for work on the curriculum of the public schools of the state. He will indicate how

Speech Correction Program Available

Expanded Service Announced For Students In California-Fredericktown Elementary Schools

An expanded service is available to children in the elementary schools of the California-Fredericktown area this year.

Robert Huffman initiated a speech correction program in the California Community schools in September, 1956, and in February of this year extended his service to the Bethlehem Joint schools as part of a Washington county-operated program. This fall, Mr. Huffman will also give speech correction service to schools in West Bethlehem township and West Brownsville.

Mr. Huffman's headquarters will be in the Republican school in California. His time will be scheduled according to the most efficient therapy practices and the number of children with defective speech found in each of the four school districts served.

Large Area

Because of the large area served, emphasis will be placed on prevention of serious speech problems. Direct therapy service will therefore be limited to the estimated 150 youngsters in elementary grades suffering from serious speech problems. Children with minor problems or slow speech development will be reached through a speech development and improvement program in the classroom. It is hoped that a vigorous speech program of this type will eventually eliminate the severe problem now found in the secondary schools.

The new service in the California-Fredericktown area is one of seven speech correction programs inaugurated in 1957 by the Washington county school board under the leadership of W. H. Donaldson, county superintendent of schools, and Dr. Douglas J. Bowman, supervisor of special education.

The speech correction program will be supervised by Miss Anne O'Hagan, county speech and hearing therapist. In 1952, Miss O'Hagan began a hearing rehabilitation program on the schools. Administrators and school boards in a number of school districts in this area have provided space for hearing therapy centers to which children from the surrounding area come for rehabilitation lessons.

Area Teachers To Meet At CSTC

Seminar On Social Studies To Be Tonight

A Social Studies Workshop Seminar will be held at 7:30 p.m. today at the State Teachers college in California. Social Studies teachers from the Fayette, Washington, Greene and Westmoreland County areas have been invited to attend the first of a series of such meetings to be held in the Vulcan lounge.

Dr. George S. Hart, head of the social studies division, has announced that the program will deal with "Local Resources in the Teaching of History." An idea kit and resource booklet will be presented to those in attendance.

Dr. Phil R. Jack will be chairman of the workshop and is the author of the research material which serves as the basis for the program. Dr. Jack is a graduate of the Pennsylvania State university and the University of Pittsburgh. He is the author of several articles which have appeared in the Western Pennsylvania Historical magazine and he is active in the American Folklore Society. His PhD dissertation was based on the social history of two counties in Western Pennsylvania.

Dr. Malverne Wolfe, Dr. John Keller, Dr. George Hart, Mr. William Hepner and Dr. George Roadman of the Social Studies Division will assist in the group discussion following the program.

STC Contracts or Area Firms

FARRISEBURG, Nov. 20 (AP)—The Federal State Authority today announced unofficial low bids for construction of an addition to the auditorium of California State Teachers College. They included: general construction, Branna Construction Co., Pittsburgh, 8,600; heating, Robert A. Bruno Co., Washington, Pa., $16,320; plumbing, Edward R. Koch, Canonsburg, $18,646; electrical, Phegny Electric Co. Inc., Pittsburgh, $32,975.

The Lake Drilling Co. of Cleveland submitted the low bid of $79 for test borings at the college in connection with construction of a new science classroom building, to replace one built more than 60 years ago. The authority allocated $746,000 for construction.

Famed Cossacks To Perform At CSTC

The world famed Don Cossack Chorus and Dancers will appear at the California State Teachers College's Steele Auditorium on Friday, February 28 at 1:30 p. m. The chorus will be conducted by Serge Jaroff.

CSTC Students Hear Talk By Sen. Humphreys

By Tele. Feb. 14 '58

CALIFORNIA — Members of the Discussion club, the History club, and the class in World Politics from California State Teachers College were observers at a political meeting held at Twin Coaches on February 11th. Senator Hubert H. Humphreys, member of the United State Senate and Chairman of the Senate Sub-Committee on Internal Security, was the featured speaker.

Senator Humphrey's address was a trenchant critique of our Middle Eastern policies. He called on all citizens, regardless of party, to unite behind a more constructive foreign policy which would give encouragement to the hopes and aspirations of Middle Eastern people in their program of national development and their search for stability.

Representing the Discussion club were Arlene Little, Uniontown, John Sage, Burgettstown, Larry Klingensmith, Brownsville, and club chairman William Dando, Fayette City. Students attending from the world politics class included Andrew Mindek, New Salem, Harold Huber, California, Edward Ercegovic, Brownsville, and Eugene Hall, Brownsville. History Club members present were Toni Moscovits, Republic, and William Dando. Dr. John W. Keller, professor of history at the college, accompanied the group.

CSTC Home With Indiana

The California State Teachers College floormen will be trying to chalk up their fourth win of the season tonight when they entertain the Indiana tutors.

California has copped two of its last three contests. The Vulcans won successive engagements from Edinboro and West Liberty, prior to suffering 101-81 setback at Clarion Friday night. The only other triumph on the CSTC record is an early-season victory over Waynesburg.

The Vulcans will be back in action again Thursday night, meeting St. Vincent at Latrobe.

Elsewhere on tonight's district front, Westminster entertains Baldwin-Wallace, Gannon visits Thiel and St. Vincent appears at St. Bonaventure.

Washington-Jefferson and Waynesburg resume action Wednesday night, meeting each other on the Wash High floor.

CSTC Dean Talks To Republic Club

Dr. George Roadman, dean of instruction at California State Teachers college, was the speaker last night as the Republic Rotary held its annual Ladies night affair.

Dr. Roadman, who taught at Redstone high school before World War II, compared social conditions of Washington's time and the present.

Entertaining were Joseph Zaucha and Charles Kalin with accordion solos, and Barry Feelo who rendered two vocal selections.

Mike Kelly served as toastmaster while Ralph Bill was general chairman.

Don Cossack Chorus To Appear At CSTC

The world famed Don Cossack Chorus and Dancers will appear at the California State Teachers College's Steele Auditorium Friday, Feb. 28 at 1:30 p. m. The Chorus will be conducted by Serge Jaroff.

Originally the Cossacks were horsemen of Tartar and Slavonic origin which supplied the Czars of Russia with its most dashing cavalry divisions from the vast Don River Valley. At the end of the first World War, many of them wound up in Crimea, last stronghold of the White Russians. After some time they were given permission to go to Bulgaria.

In 1922 the Chorus was crystallized in Sophia, Bulgaria's capital, where with several rehearsals a week, they sang together in the Russian Consular Church. Through the influence of the late ballerina Tomara Karsavina, a leading western concert manager arranged their first Western tour.

The troupe first visited the United States in the winter of 1930, and has appeared in this country annually for 26 seasons. They have sung in virtually every country in the world except Red China and Soviet Russia, presenting more than 7,800 concerts.

Serge Jaroff, the Conductor of the Don Cossacks, studied in the Synodal Music Academy in Moscow under the patronage of the Grand Duchess Marie. In World War I he served as lieutenant in the Imperial Machine Gun Corp. He met the members of the Chorus in the internment camp where they sang the songs of their lost homeland around the evening campfires.

CSTC Student Congress Elects Its Officers

Richard Strojan was reelected president of Student Congress at the annual election at California State Teachers College.

The reelected leader of California's 1324 students lives in Herminie and is a graduate of Sewickley Township Schools. He is a junior majoring in English and minoring in social studies.

Elected vice president was James Cullen, of Houston, who is a sophomore majoring in Industrial Arts. Cullen is a graduate of Chartiers-Houston High School and in addition to his duties with Student Congress he participates in the College Choir and the Men's Glee Club.

Rita Willis, a junior from Carmichaels and a graduate of Cumberland Township High School, was reelected secretary. Her major is Speech Correction and her other campus activities include Sigma Alpha Eta and Delta Sigma Epsilon. She is also secretary to College Choir.

Newly elected representatives to Student Cabinet from this area are Robert Mihallik, McClellandtown; Sandra Platts, Charleroi, and James Cullen, Houston.

Hotz Out To Cop Scoring Crown Tomorrow

The scoring race between Roger Hotz and Ronald Botz — a pair of names that sound like something out of musical comedy — is going right down to the wire. Statistics in the race for the scoring lead in the 14-team state teachers college conference now read: Botz, 287; Hotz 253. Botz took over the scoring lead yesterday when he scored 26 points against Mansfield.

Hotz can win the title Saturday when CSTC plays Slippery Rock at the Vulcan gymnasium. He will need 34 points to tie Botz.

The 195-pound CSTC star can also set two other records if he has a hot night Saturday. He needs 37 points to beat the 289 high for one season set by John Parker, Millersville, who set the record in 12 STC games during the 1955-56 season. Hotz will play in only 10 conference games this year. He needs 45 points to beat the 29.6 points per game average set by Jimmy Kennedy at CSTC in 1952-53. Kennedy is now junior high basketball coach at California. Hotz's average per game has been 28.3.

Highest score for Roger this year was in the second game against Clarion when he bagged 36 to 33 for his rival, Botz. In the first CSTC-Clarion game it was Hotz 15-Botz 26.

The public probably hasn't heard the last of the Hotz - Botz rivalry. The six-foot five Hotz is a junior while the five foot 10 Botz is only a sophomore.

ALSO PLAYS TENNIS

Hotz, who lives only a long shot (two blocks) from the Vulcan gym, is just as much at home on the tennis court as he is on the cage court. As the fourth ranked member of the CSTC racket squad he helped bring the STC tennis title to CSTC for the past two seasons. This spring Roger will probably rank as the number two man behind Dennis Kuremsky, McKeesport.

The towering CSTC center came to the college from California high where he was a regular for three years. In his senior year at California high he won conference honors.

After he completes college, Hotz has ambitions of being a pro basketball player. His cage skill continues to improve and he continues to grow and could easily realize his ambition.

When Roger puts his size 14 shoes under the table he eats like a man just off a six-day hunger strike. As a result his lean frame continues to fill out and he looks like he will hit the 220 mark as a normal playing weight.

WOULD LIKE TO COACH

He is a math major with a minor in biology and after a try at pro ball would like to teach and coach basketball.

Roger's father, Alex, of 230 Shibleth street, was furloughed at the Homestead mill on December 31. Mr. Hotz is also a six-footer and weighs 195. Roger's sister, Melanie, 13, a student at California, and his mother, are not exceptionally tall.

The CSTC star's favorite spectator is Delores Gernot, a freshman at the Mercy School of Nursing, and a resident of Speers. Her classes permitted her to see only a few games this season.

CSTC record for the season is 3-14. But Coach Gene Nester isn't discouraged. He has the same team returning next year, including Hotz and a hot sophomore prospect, Kenny Rager.

Hotz's total season score is 423, a 24.7 average.

Shown above is Roger Hotz, CSTC center, trying to concentrate on a mathematics assignment. But his mind keeps wandering to the 34 points he needs to win the scoring honors in the 14 team State Teachers college race.

CSTC meets Slippery Rock Saturday night to give Hotz his last chance to win top honors. In case you are interested in the size of that shoe, it's a size 14.

Hotz Is Named To All-Star Unit Of Loop

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., (AP)—Member coaches of the Pennsylvania State Teachers Colleges Basketball Conference have selected its all-star team. Joe Delise of Indiana polled the most votes.

Others named to the first team Wednesday were Jack Bizyak of Indiana, Ronald Botz of Clarion, Roger Hotz of California and Sy Williams of Millersville.

This is Delise's third consecutive year on the all-star team. Botz is the only sophomore on the first team.

Second team:

Gerald Terrette, Lock Haven; Charles German, East Stroudsburg; Terry German, West Chester; Jim Bishop, Millersville; Jim Gustave, Bloomsburg.

Honorable mention:

Reggie Rife, Millersville; Dick Danielson, Clarion; Walter Askins, Edinboro; Carson Carr, WEST Chester; Jamie Kimbrough, Indiana; Dale Shearer, Shippensburg.

Science Is Topic At Teacher Meeting

Hubert Snyder, Assistant Professor of Science Education at the California State Teachers College, addressed a meeting of the elementary teachers of Amwell Township Schools in Amity. He discussed the implementation of the science program at the elementary school level.

The joint meeting of the Amity and Lone Pine Schools was under the direction of John Moorhouse, the school principal. Glenn Muirhead is supervising principal.

CSTC Alumni Launch Drive

The Alumni Association of California State Teachers was told of the serious need for funds and active members at a recent meeting of the group in California.

Dr. George Roadman, Dean of Instruction at California and Alumni president, said that funds are particularly needed for the emergency student loan fund since the enlarged enrollment and present recession have both placed a heavy drain on that fund.

Committees were organized to conduct drives in the communities of the college service area.

Jack Hoyes, associate professor, and Leon Trembach, alumni member, teamed up to provide the program.

CSTC Prof Speaks To Bible Class

Thirty members and guests attended a dinner meeting of the E. M. Bowman Men's Bible class of the First Presbyterian church in the church dining room last evening.

The pastor, the Rev. Donald C. Smith, served as toastmaster. Introduced as guests were Raymond T. Barner, Marion Whetsel and Adelbert Jameson who have served as guest teachers recently, and Thomas Carter and John Eichelberger.

Also presented were the class officers, Marion Moore, president, who expressed the thanks of the class for serving a delicious steak dinner; and Kenneth Porter, secretary-treasurer. Earl Arnos is

George Roadman, member of the faculty of California State teaching positions.

Teachers college, was guest speaker. Mr. Roadman discussed the life of Daniel Sturgeon, who served in the U. S. Congress from Pennsylvania from 1837 to 1851. The speaker said that Mr. Sturgeon is little known as a public speaker and he characterized himself as the outstanding authority on Sturgeon's life. He traced Sturgeon's life and made application to some of the things he did to the present time.

CSTC Students Elect Officers

Students at California State Teachers College have elected Jackson B. Thomas, Markleysburg Junior, to the highest student position on the campus, president of the Student Activities Association.

Thomas has been active in campus, president of the Student Activities Association.

Thomas has been active in campus affairs and is currently president of the Junior Class. He is a member of the Discussion Club, Omicron Alpha Kappa, and serves as Head Waiter in the campus dining hall. The new student president is majoring in social studies. He is a graduate of South Union High School.

David R. Mead, a sophomore from Oil City, was elected vice-president. Mead is sophomore class president, a past president of Alpha Phi Omega, a member of Omicron Alpha Kappa and active in the Committee for Social Activities. The Venango County native attended Cronberry High School and is an industrial arts major at California.

Elected as S.A.A. Secretary was Virginia M. Semsey. Miss Semsey is a freshman enrolled in the secondary curriculum. She hails from Uniontown and is a graduate of South Union High School. In addition to her campus activities she dances professionally and has her own dancing school.

The Student Activities Association is responsible for all campus activities including the managing of more than $45,000.00 in student activity fees. It is composed of all full time students at the college.

Paul Ross Is Coach

California Teachers Reviving Wrestling

CALIFORNIA, Feb. 17 — Wrestling is being revived on a varsity basis at California State Teachers College.

Coach Paul Ross will introduce his squad to the students and public at a wrestling clinic, accompanied by exhibition bouts, Wednesday night at 7:30 Herron Hall. The Student Fellowship organization will sponsor the program.

The sport was dropped from the varsity roster at CSTC in 1938.

An intramural mat program, succeeding the varsity sport, was discontinued in 1940.

Coach Ross was a member of the Vulcans' varsity wrestling teams in 1937-38-39. He directed the intramural program here in 1939-40.

Following his graduation, Ross coached wrestling at Donora High two seasons.

The current squad consists of 26 members, a few of whom own scholastic experience. But since the bulk of the squad is comprised of newcomers, little can be expected of the grapplers this season.

Four matches have been arranged to date. The Vulcans will visit St. Vincent February 20 and the Washington YMCA February 22.

California will host St. Vincent February 24 and the Washington Y February 27.

CSTC Summer Session Set

Dr. George Roadman, Dean of Instruction, has released the dates and a preliminary schedule for what is expected to be a record breaking summer session at California State Teachers College.

The pre-session will be held June 2nd through June 20th, the six-weeks session from June 23rd to August 1st, and the three-week post session from August 4th to August 22nd. Pre-scheduling for the summer sessions is expected to get under way on April 11th.

A total of 143 college courses will be offered to students and teachers-in-service during the twelve week period.

Name CSTC Students To Bloomsburg Confab

Four members of the Student Congress have been elected to represent California State Teachers college at the state teachers college student conference in Bloomsburg on April 10th to 13th. The four student delegates are Shirley Turney, a senior from Addison, Charlotte Miller, a junior from Jeannette, Shirley Kokesh, a sophomore from Mason-town, and James Cullen, a sophomore from Houston. The group will be accompanied by Dean of Men, Frank Lenox.

The group will participate at the conference by serving on panels and in discussion groups concerned with school life and problems of the various colleges.

Industrial Arts Director At CSTC Wins Recognition

CALIFORNIA — Dr. Shriver L. Coover, Director of Industrial Arts at the California State Teachers College, has been listed as one of the twenty outstanding national leaders in industrial arts education in a study published by Central State College in Edmond, Oklahoma. Factors governing the selection of names were academic training, professional experience, published books, and contributions to professional magazines. An additional factor was a survey of names mentioned most frequently by other industrial arts educators.

Two former students of Dr. Coover, graduates of California State Teachers College, were also selected. They were Dr. R. Lee Hornbake, Dean of the Faculties at the University of Maryland, and Dr. Donald Maley, Professor of Industrial Education at the University of Maryland.

Dr. Coover is a graduate of Shippensburg State Teachers College and Carnegie Institute of Technology. He received his master's and Doctor's degree at the University of Pittsburgh.

His "General Shop" at Beaver Falls High School in the late twenties was a pioneer approach to education for a technical age and attracted nationwide attention. He organized the Industrial Arts Department at California in 1929.

He spent two years as a special representative of the Institute of Inter-American Affairs in Chile where he directed fifteen North American subject matter specialists in reorganizing the high school curriculum for that country. He also studied educational facilities and teaching methods in Panama, Peru, Bolivia and Argentina.

For the past several years Dr. Coover has served as Vice President of the American Vocational Association representing Industrial Arts.

Pleasant Hurst, and Hempfield.

Four From CSTC At Conference

CALIFORNIA— Four California State Teachers College undergrads will attend the annual spring conference of the Western Pennsylvania Citizenship Clearing House at Chatham College Saturday, March 22. The conference will be oriented toward Democratic students since the fall conference at Allegheny College featured the Republicans. Major themes of the conference will be "Challenges to the Democratic Party," and "Democratic Outlook in the 1958 Elections."

The conferences are designed to encourage and stimulate student interest in practical politics. The Citizenship Clearing House is dedicated to the theory that college students should be encouraged to take an active interest in politics.

Participating in the program for the college students will be Mrs. John J. Kane, "The Woman's Point of View," Andrew J. Fenrich, "The Headquarter's Point of View," Roy A. Schafer, "The Young Democrat's Point of View," and the Honorable Elmer J. D. Holland, "The Congressional Outlook."

The CSTC representatives will be Andrew Bryner, a junior from North Union Township; Miss Donna Mandarino, Monessen senior, and Mr. William Dando, a sophomore from Fayette City. Accompanying the students will be their sponsor on the campus, Dr. George S. Hart, head of the Department of Social Studies at California State Teachers College.

Better Schools To Be Discussed At Meeting

Public relations programs emphasizing the organization and functions of citizens committees for better schools will be discussed at a dinner meeting to be held at 6:30 p. m. Wednesday in the dining room of California State Teachers College.

The speaker will be Curtis Roosevelt, Regional Director of the North Atlantic States for the National Council for Better Schools.

Dr. Thomas M. Gilland, president of California Area Branch of the Association for Childhood Education, who made the announcement of the meeting, said the program is designed for those interested in the welfare and functioning of public schools.

The meeting will also be valuable to members of boards of education, members of civic and service clubs, PTA members and parents of school children, Dr. Gilland said.

Further information concerning the program may be obtained by telephoning Dr. Gilland at WEST 8-2469.

CURTIS ROOSEVELT

Teachers Discuss Banquet

CSTC Group To Participate In ICG Convention

CALIFORNIA — The Southwest Regional Convention of the Intercollegiate Conference on Government will be held at Mt. Mercy College, Sunday. Regional schools which will be represented at the convention included California State Teachers College, University of Pittsburgh, Duquesne University, Washington and Jefferson College, Seton Hill College, Indiana State Teachers College, Chatham College and the host college, Mt. Mercy.

The state-wide conference of I. C. G. will be held April 17, 18, 19 at Harrisburg, Pa., and will be devoted to the discussion and enactment of bills of national import.

Michael Koury, Uniontown, vice-chairman of the California Chapter of I. C. G. will act as chairman of the Committee on Natural Resources at the Mt. Merch Conference. Jack France, Donora, a senior in the Secondary curriculum at the college, is Chairman of the California delegation and will act as a member of the very important Rules Committee at Harrisburg.

Committee assignments of the members of the California State Teachers College delegation are as follows: Sandy Platts, Charleroi, Military Affairs; Ronald Novak, California, Education; John Timney, Fair Oaks, Labor; Edward Zaharewicz, California, Natural Resources and Agriculture; Dick Strojjan, Irwin, Judiciary; William Dando, Fayette City, Foreign Affairs; John Sage, Burgettstown, Taxation and Finance; Andrew Bryner, Business and Industry; Elaine Cutler, Uniontown, Civil Rights; Donna Mandarino, Monessen, Government Organization; Michael Koury, Uniontown, Military Affairs; Jack France, Donora, Rules.

Faculty sponsors of the Intercollegiate Conference on Government at California State Teachers College are Dr. George S. Hart, Head of the Social Studies Department, and Dr. George Roadman, Dean of Instruction at the College.

Educational Group To Hear Dr. Bertin

The featured speaker at the biennial Legislative Banquet of the Washington County Educational Council Banquet will be Dr. Eugene P. Bertin, Executive Secretary of the Pennsylvania State Education Association. Dr. Bertin has chosen as his subject "The Impact of the Satellite on Education."

The banquet will be held at the dining hall of the California State Teachers College at 6:30 p. m. on Saturday evening, March 22, 1958.

Dr. Bertin was born on a farm near Williamsport and has lived in Pennsylvania most of his life, with time out for military service during World War II. He has held positions as Supervising Principal, Director of Public Relations in the Department of Public Instruction for the State of Pennsylvania as well as that of a classroom teacher in the Williamsport High School. He has written many pamphlets and articles on education as well as addressed untold numbers of educational gatherings.

Dr. Bertin lists his hobby as people and says that he has yet to find the kind of person that he doesn't like. His address on "The Impact of the Satellite on Education" is expected to focus the local spotlight on this perplexing problem as it affects the local educational picture.

Father, Daughter Combine On Article

Dr. Shriver L. Coover, Director of Industrial Arts at California State Teachers College, is the author of an article appearing in the March issue of the National Education Association Journal. The two-page spread used actual classroom situations to explain to teachers the place and purpose of industrial arts in the scheme of general education required for life in an industrial-technological democracy.

Assigned to edit the article from the Journal staff was Patricia (Pat) Coover, daughter of Dr. Coover. Miss Coover is a former CSTC student and West Virginia University graduate with a major in journalism. Pat's mother Mrs. Shriver L. Coover, is a member of the English Department at California State Teachers College.

CSTC Debaters Enter Tourney

The Debate Club of California State Teachers College will participate in the state tourney of the Debate Association of Pennsylvania College being held at Grove City College Thursday, Friday, and Saturday.

The topic for the tournament this year is, "Resolved: that the requirement of membership in a labor organization as a condition of employment should be illegal."

Taking the affirmative argument for CSTC will be Garnet Reynolds, freshman from California, and Barbara Ferrari, a sophomore also from California.

The negative views will be voiced by Cosmo Inserra, a senior and Debate Club veteran from Roscoe, and Peggy Chontos, a sophomore from Large.

Miss Louise Davis, assistant professor of Speech at the college, and Mr. John Watkins, assistant professor of English, are sponsors of the Debate Club and will coach the team.

Weekly Student Paper At CSTC Tries Innovation

The weekly Tower Times, published by the students of the California State Teachers College, is experimenting with the innovation of a double staff. The two staffs are recognized as Staff A and Staff B under the guidance of Student Editor, George A. Kupets, a junior from Republic. The two staffs will alternate in their publications of the Tower Times. The main objective of the reorganization is to improve the general content of the paper. Competition and cooperation between the two alternate staffs is expected to be displayed in better quality news and features for the student body.

Managing editor of Staff A is Audrey Leitzell, McKeesport Junior. Her staff is composed of Esther Nicholson, Meyersdale, news editor; Thomas A. Suttly, Scenery Hill, sports editor; Thomas Patterson, photographer; Rose Marie Pollifroni, Bentleyville, circulation manager; Howard Roberts, Connellsville, Robert Bailing, New Kensington, Rose Marie Rogers, Jeannette, Barbara Woodall, Carnegie, Phyllis Morgan, Gibsonia, Georgianne Smith, Aliquippa, Gloria Katz, Aliquippa, Eileen Roadman, Independence, and Joan Kacharik, Monessen, as reporters; Catherine Kudas, Bentleyville, Loretta Verosko, Ellsworth, Jackie Cowell, Coal Center, Sandra Cramer, Charleroi, Barbara Barnhart, Mt. Pleasant, Wilma Phillips, Morgan, and Dorothy Utzman, Jeannette, as typists.

Her staff is Patricia Busti, Rices Landing, news editor; Karl Wendelin, Monessen, feature editor; George Kanyak, Brownsville, photographer; Ralph Zarlino, Ellsworth, circulation manager; Nancy Hurst, Pitcairn, Irene Easler, Finleyville, James Seanor, New Alexandria, and Robert Mihallik, McClellandtown, reporters; Lois Bailey, California, Monica Ferrari, Monongahela, Sally Graham Pitcairn, and Mary Jane Biddle, Brownsville as typists.

Mr. C. Mart Hughey, Professor of English, and Mr. John Watkins, Assistant Professor of English, are the faculty advisors to the Tower Times staff.

Middle East Tensions To Be CSTC Topic

Dr. A. Azorsky will discuss "Middle East Tensions" before a student group at the California State Teachers College on Wednesday, March 19, at 12:30, in the Main Hall Assembly Hall. The discussion will be followed by a question period. The History and Social Studies Club under the sponsorship of Dr. John Keller, Professor of History, will sponsor the meeting.

CSTC To Be Testing Center For Teachers

The Educational Testing Service of Princeton, N. J., has announced that California State Teachers College will be used next year as an examination center for the National Teacher Examinations.

Dr. Halvern R. Wolfe, Director of Advanced Standing and Guidance Service at California, will serve as supervisor for the administration of the tests. Satisfactory scores on the NTE are required by many school districts as a qualification for employment.

STRESS ON SCIENCE ASKED BY SURGEON

Dr. Y. Trine March 6
Both Method and Ethics
Are Cited in Lecture to Parley on Semantics

The great task of our time is to make the American public science-conscious, Dr. Russell Meyers, a brain surgeon, declared yesterday.

Dr. Meyers, Professor of Surgery and chairman of the Division of Neurosurgery at the State University of Iowa, delivered the seventh annual Alfred Korzybski Memorial Lecture of the Institute of General Semantics.

The session was held at the Carnegie International Center, 345 East Forty-sixth Street. It was part of an all-day conference on contributions of general semantics to education held under the auspices of the institute, the International Society of General Semantics. School and college teachers and specialists in executive training presented papers.

Mr. Korzybski, the Polish-American philosopher and mathematician who died on March 1, 1951, founded general semantics as a discipline. It is a theory of human evaluation of experience leading to behavior based on what seems to be at the time the best scientific knowledge. The fourth edition of his basic work, "Science and Sanity," was presented at the session.

The task of making people science-conscious, Dr. Meyers said, involves not only making them aware of scientific method but of the need to subscribe to scientific ethics. He went on: "For catching up with the Russians and keeping down the threat of annihilation by them are goals that can be achieved not by illusory 'crash programs' but by a long-time effort. This long-time effort can be sustained only by an attitude toward science that makes it part of the daily lives of the public at large."

Techniques of teaching general semantics through science and the humanities to children and adults were discussed by Dr. Marporie Swanson, Associate Professor of Biochemistry, Duke University; Dr. O. R. Bontrager, Professor of Education, Pennsylvania State Teachers College; Mrs. Anne Dix Meiers, Montclair, N. J., school teacher; Capt. Walter Weese, Air Force Academy; Dr. Elwood Murray, the School of Speech, University of Denver, and others.

One hundred twenty-five persons from various parts of the country attended. Miss M. M. Kendig, director of the Institute of General Semantics, Lakeville, Conn., presided at the memorial session. Robert U. Redpath Jr. was conference chairman.

CSTC Prof Speaks In New York

Dr. O. R. Bontrager Mar. 6 '58
Dr. O. Ray Bontrager, professor of education at California State Teachers college, was one of the speakers at a conference on the contributions of general semantics to education. The conference was held at the Carnegie International Center in New York under the auspices of the Institute for the International Society of General Semantics.

Dr. Bontrager's lecture was a part of a presentation on the techniques of teaching general semantics through science and the humanities to children and adults.

European Travel Is CSTC Topic

Warren H. Burton, Acting Dean of Instruction at Cheyney State Teachers College, will deliver an illustrated lecture on "Travel in Europe" to an assembly of students, faculty, and other interested persons in the California State Teachers College's Steele Auditorium at 12:30 p.m. Friday, March 21.

Dean Burton is a former chairman of the Geography Department at Cheyney State Teachers College and now serves as president of the Pennsylvania Council of Geography Teachers. He is a member of the National Council for Geographic Education.

Burton's presentation will be based on a 1956 European Tour which included visits to England, Scotland, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, the Netherlands, Belgium, Germany, Switzerland, and France.

The assembly is sponsored by the CSTC Geography Club. Dr. Gabriel P. Betz, Professor of Geography at California State Teachers College, is the advisor to the organization.

CSTC Prof Speaks In New York

Dr. O. Ray Bontrager, professor of education at California State Teachers college, was one of the speakers at a conference on the contributions of general semantics to education. ## Math Contests To Be Held In Five Counties

The Mathematics Council of Western Pennsylvania will sponsor an Algebra I Contest in Washington, Allegheny, Fayette, Greene, and Westmoreland Counties at 10 a. m. Saturday, April 19.

Prizes will be awarded to students with the highest scores in each county. The five students with the highest scores will then compete in an elimination contest on WQED television the week of May 12.

Earl Myers, Associate Professor of Mathematics at the University of Pittsburgh, is the general chairman of the contest.

In Washington County the contest will be held at California State Teachers College. George Novak, of West Bethlehem High School, is the Washington County Chairman. He is being assisted by Miss Mary Jane Underwood, of Centerville High School, Mrs. Jean Brenner, of Claysville High School, and James P. Braden, assistant county superintendent.

Application forms along with directions for entering the contest have been mailed to the high schools. Applications from the high schools entering students in the contest must be received by the registration chairman of each county by April 1. In Washington County Mrs. Jean Brenner, Box 519, Washington, Pa., is the registration chairman.

CSTC Talks Are Open To Public

Dr. Thomas M. Gilland, president of the California area branch of the Association for Childhood Education, has announced that his group has arranged an outstanding program which will be presented at a dinner meeting to be held in the state teachers college dining room on Wednesday, March 12, at 6:30 p.m. The meeting will deal with programs of public relations emphasizing the organization and functioning of citizens' committees for better schools. Curtis Roosevelt, regional director of the North Atlantic states for the National Citizens Council for better schools, will address the meeting.

The program will be of interest to everyone who has concern for the welfare and functioning of the public schools. It should prove particularly valuable to members of boards of education, members of civic and service clubs, parent - teacher association members and parents of school children. All such groups are invited to attend or send representatives. Reservations should be made before March 10th. J. J. Kulikowski, a teacher in the California community schools, is the secretary of the association.

CSTC Fraternity Has New Program For Undergrads

Psi Chapter of Epsilon Pi Tau, International Honors Fraternity in Industrial Arts Education at California State Teachers College, initiated a new type of service program for campus undergrads this week when it sponsored a "How to Stay in College" clinic. A special invitation was extended to new freshmen on the campus. In spite of inclement weather, the clinic was well attended.

Panel members consisted of faculty members and selected upperclassmen including student teachers. Members of the panel were Ralph F. Charney, assistant professor of industrial arts, Gary Reighard, junior, Conemaugh borough; Richard Long, senior, Gibsonia, Jay Hessel, junior, Portage; and George Richmond, Conneautville senior who served as moderator. Suggestions from the panel members included the development of an adequate filing system, organization of class notes, efficiency in study habits, development of a study schedule, and the need of seeking qualified help from faculty and upperclassmen.

Questions from the floor and the exchange of study suggestions concluded the program. Highlights of the discussion from the floor centered on the part personal problems of students play in scholastic attainment.

Alumni To Hold Session At CSTC

The Alumni Association of the California State Teachers college will hold a kick-off party Saturday, March 8, at 8 p.m. in the Vulcan lounge on the campus.

Jack Hoyes, chairman of the faculty alumni committee, has arranged an evening of entertainment which will include a variety show, movies and refreshments.

The event will open a membership and fund raising campaign designed to strengthen the association. A coordinated effort from the more than 10,000 alumni members in Western Pennsylvania will be sought to aid the College in meeting the challenge of the times to professional education.

THE NEXT TEN YEARS

The Seventh Annual Conference of the Department of Higher Education was held November 8 and 9 at the Holiday Motor Hotel, Mechanicsburg, R. D., Pennsylvania. Approximately one hundred delegates representing institutions of higher learning throughout the state were in attendance. The theme of the four sessions of the conference was "A Bold Look at Post High School Education in the Next Decade".

Dr. John C. Hoshauer, President of the Department of Higher Education, opened the conference Friday morning and presented the program for each day's sessions. After preliminary remarks, the president presented John H. Ferguson, Co-chairman of the Governor's Commission on Higher Education who gave the keynote address.

Need Stressed For State Support

Dr. Ferguson reviewed the current program for higher education as outlined by the Department of Public Instruction. The main features of this program embrace three proposals: (1) scholarships approximating 20,000 for undergraduate students; (2) student loans, mostly for graduate students; and (3) authorization for the establishment of junior colleges by first and second class school districts as well as county school boards. The speaker emphasized the great need for the commonwealth to assume a leading role in support of higher education at the state level.

Dr. Ferguson proceeded to give a brief resume of Governor Leader's action in presenting the above program to the legislature with the latter body deferring decision until a future date. However it is planned to introduce substantially the same program at the next session of the legislature.

The speaker concluded his address with a detailed summary of Pennsylvania's position among the states for financial support of higher education and again emphasized the urgency for the state government to assume a greater responsibility for financial support.

The second session of the conference was held Friday afternoon and the speaker was Dr. Clifford Hooker, from the University of Pittsburgh. He spoke on the topic "A Bold Look at Research in Post High School" and challenged the delegates with a series of proposals designed to increase graduate research and make it more effective.

Government and Private Funds Necessary

The speaker suggested that greater effort be expended to secure capable graduate students to assist regular college staff members so the latter may have more freedom and time for research and writing activities. He spoke of the too frequent attitude of foundations giving grants with too many restrictions. In order to ameliorate this condition, he stressed the need for unrestricted grants from government and private sources if any desirable and rapid growth is to take place in research.

One phase of research that Dr. Hooker expressed as essential was the establishment of a research staff in institutions of higher learning whose duty it would be to: (1) evaluate the quality and validity of existing courses being offered, (2) determine optimum class size for most efficient teaching, and (3) determine the best methodology for the courses taught.

Stinnett Dinner Speaker

The third session of the conference was the dinner meeting where the delegates socialized around the dinner table and related many of their professional experiences and problems. The speaker for this occasion was Dr. Thomas M. Stinnett, Executive Secretary, National Commission on Teacher Education and Professional Standards.

In keeping with his reputation, Dr. Stinnett delivered an outstanding address, taking for his subject "No Hiding Place". The philosophy he chose to convey to the delegates was one of pressing responsibility to provide an opportunity to obtain a higher education for individuals with ability and desire. This responsibility he laid at the door-step of the American Public. "The American Public must re-examine the values of life," he said. Pressures of world affairs are forcing changes on college traditions and, under any circumstances, capable students are entitled to post high school education.

The delegates convened Saturday morning for the final session. The speaker was Dr. Theodore Distler, Executive Secretary, Association of American Colleges, who spoke on the topic "A Bold Look at Support in Post High School Education in the Next Decade."

Many Sources For Support

The speaker, while not negating the effectiveness and need for financial support from state and federal government, reminded the delegates of the necessity of obtaining financial support from other sources as well. He expressed the belief that a combination of sources would be most desirable. Dr. Distler challenged the group to carefully examine existing policies regarding sources of college finances and discussed approaches and several areas where additional funds might be available.

The Seventh Annual Conference was concluded in a brief summary session by Dr. Walter A. Sauvain of Bucknell University. Dr. Sauvain expertly epitomized the important features of the sessions and the conference as a whole.

A REMINDER

All state teachers college faculty are reminded about the APSTCF luncheon Friday, December 27 at the Harrisburger Hotel. Mr. J. Bruce Buckler, Manager of General Education, International Business Machines Corporation, is the featured speaker.

All faculty personnel and friends are invited to attend.

Tickets for the luncheon may be secured by contacting Dr. Edna A. Bortorf, Secretary, Lock Haven S. T. C., or your local APSTCF representative. Make your reservations early. See you then!

College Boys Are Not Anxious For Week To End

You can excuse the male students at California State Teachers college for wearing big smiles and hoping this week will be a long one.

Tomorrow until Saturday has been designated as "Twirp Week" on the CSTC campus. And during that time the gals will make like Daisy Maes and chase the boys.

During the four days the boys will be allowed to enter the dining halls first and the girls will assist the boys in being seated. Girls will open the doors for male students and milady will walk on the outside of the sidewalk when canvorting with her date.

"Treat Boys"

Wednesday and Thursday will be "girls treat boys" days. Cakes and coffee at the Snack Bar will be brought by the girls. For those who skip meals in the dining hall, the girls may buy dinner for their favorite beaux.

Friday and Saturday are "date nights". The girls have to call for their dates at the fellows' living quarters. The College Players play, Time Limit will be the ideal place to take a date on Friday.

On Saturday evening a movie, "A Star is Born" with Judy Garland, is scheduled at Herron hall for the girls and their dates. Following the movie, a dance will be held at Vulcan. At the dance, King Twirp will be chosen. In past years, the girls have made corsages for their dates to wear at the dance.

Co-chairman for "Twirp Week" are Dennis Kuremsky and Janet Bristor.

Fraternities, Sorority At CSTC Elect

CALIFORNIA — Three fraternities and sororities at California State Teachers College recently elected new officers for the year 1958-1959.

Karl E. Wendelin of Monessen, a junior majoring in English, was elected president of Kappa Chapter of Phi Sigma Pi, a national honor fraternity for men in the field of education.

David R. Mead of Oil City was elected president of Omicron Alpha Kappa, a new fraternity. Mead is a sophomore majoring in industrial arts.

Donna Schmitt of Snowden Township, a junior majoring in elementary education, heads Kappa Delta Pi, an honor sorority. Other officers are Elizabeth Van Voorhis, Finleyville, R. D., vice president; Dolores Tekavec, Brownsville, secretary-treasurer; and Judy Karpen, Brownsville, historian.

Three freshmen, Dean S. Billik of Aliquippa, Carl F. Lander of Sutersville and Leonard Keller of Uniontown represented Lambda Omega chapter of Alpha Phi Omega at the fraternity's Eastern States Regional Conference in Washington, D. C. The fraternity is a national service fraternity for former members and leaders of the Boy Scouts.

The annual Founder's Day Banquet of CSTC chapter of Epsilon Pi Tau will be held in White Swan Hotel, Uniontown, April 12. The

CSTC Students To Attend Talks

Three California State Teachers College undergrads will attend the annual spring conference of the Western Pennsylvania Citizenship Clearing House at Chatham college tomorrow. The conference will be oriented toward Democratic students since the fall conference at Allegheny College featured the Republicans. Major theme of the conference will be "Challenges to the Democratic Party," and "Democratic Outlook in the 1958 Elections."

The conferences are designed to encourage and stimulate student interest in practical politics. The Citizenship Clearing House is dedicated to the theory that college students should be encouraged to take an active interest in politics.

Participating in the program for the college students will be Mrs. John J. Kane, "The Woman's Point of View," Andrew J. Fenrich, "The Headquarter's Point of View," Mr. Roy A. Schafer, "The Young Democrat's Point of View," and the Honorable Elmer J. D. Holland, "The Congressional Outlook."

The CSTC representatives will be Andrew Bryner, a junior from North Union township, Donna Mandarino, Monessen senior, and William Dando, a sophomore from Fayette City. Accompanying the students will be their sponsor on the campus, Dr. George S. Hart, head of the department of social studies at the teachers college.

CSTC Opens Spring Grid Drills April 11

CALIFORNIA — Spring football practice will open at California State Teachers College on Friday, April 11 with 33 candidates expected.

Coach Ted Nemeth has 16 returning lettermen, of whom seven are regulars. These include Frank Marella, guard; Curtis Calamari and George Stoicovy, tackles; Don Skupinsky, end; and Tony Soukovich, Adam Vlanich and Dave Hammond, backs. Two newcomers who are expected to help the fighting Vulcans are Peter Petroff, center, and Carl Trimmer, back. Carl is a 10-second man, which may help to give the Vulcans a new look.

Also expected to help the Vulcans at end is Jerry Cederlof, a former member of the 1952 bowl team, back from the service.

Other promising prospects are Joe Sarra, Belle Vernon fullback; Bill Coleman, Mt. Pleasant halfback; Mike Kosloff, Beth Joint quarterback; Joe Sopcak, Tarrantum end; Mike Hardoby, Brownsville end; Roy Horne, Allison Park tackle; Fleming Mosely, Monessen guard; Ted Lorch, Allison Park tackle; Jack Scarvel, Farrell guard; and Francis West, Wildwood Center.

The heaviest losses were at end and in the backfield. The coaches hope to install speed as the new look, but first they will have to come up with a few fast backs.

California Teachers New Steelers' Training Site

By JIMMY MILLER

It won't be a pullman ride or a plane trip to the Steelers' training camp this season, at least.

In fact, it will be only an hour and a half auto drive from downtown Pittsburgh to reach California State Teachers' College, which today was selected as the new camp by Coach Buddy Parker.

The acquisition of the training base, located hard by the Monongahela River up in the Mon Valley, a hotbed of football, thus ends a six-year stand for the Steelers at St. Bonaventure University in Olean, N. Y.

ONE OF THE REASONS Parker gave for choosing California State was "it's easily reached by auto, being only 60 miles from the home office." And his reason for leaving Olean was "it was too remote."

Parker, after viewing most of the district colleges as prospective sites, settled on the Tutors' school because of its many advantages, one of which, of course, was its accessibility.

Another was the fact that President Michael Duda and Athletic Director Gene Hester of the School made it plain they would welcome the Steelers.

Both Duda and Hester attended a Steeler luncheon in the Roosevelt Hotel today as guests of Parker and signed formal contracts issuing training rights to the pros.

PARKER IS highly pleased with the new site and after pointing out the school's sundry features, said:

"It's a beautiful place to train. And it is close to Pittsburgh which makes it ideal. We will have all the facilities needed to properly condition the club.

"The players will sleep in a new dormitory and we will have the use of three fields on which to run through our drills and plays. There also are big recreation rooms and a well-equipped gym. I think we picked a winner this time."

PRESENT PLANS call for

Parker to move into the training quarters with his staff on July 26, with the first group of rookies reaching there the next day.

The newcomers, said Parker, will be worked out for four days and then scrimmaged. And only the best of the crop will stay on to meet the main guard which will arrive about Aug. 1.

In all, the Steelers will spend a month in the school before breaking camp. From Sept. 1 until Sept. 11 the club will be housed here in town and probably will do its training at South Park.

ARTER THAT it will travel to St. Louis and Los Angeles for exhibition games before meeting the 49ers in San Francisco in the league opener on Sunday, Sept. 28.

One of the prime movers in getting the Steelers to look over school property as a training base was James Hamer, a National Football League official who formerly was on the board of trustees at the institution.

Students At CSTC Elect Student Activities Head

Students at California State Teachers college today elected Jackson B. Thomas, Markleysburg junior, to the highest student position on the campus, President of the Student Activities association. Mr. Thomas has been active in campus affairs and is currently president of the junior class. He is a member of the Discussion club, Omicron Alpha Kappa, and serves as head waiter in the campus dining hall. The new student president is majoring in social studies. He is a graduate of South Union high school.

David R. Mead, a sophomore from Oil City, was elected Vice-President. Mr. Mead is sophomore class president, a past president of Alpha Phi Omega, a member of Omicron Alpha Kappa and active in the committee for social activities. The Benango county native attended Cronberry high school and is an industrial arts major at California.

Elected as S. A. A. Secretary was Virginia M. Semsey. Miss Semsey is a freshman enrolled in the secondary curriculum. She hails from Uniontown and is a graduate of South Union high school. In addition to her campus activities she dances professionally and has her own dancing school.

The Student Activities association is responsible for all campus activities including the managing of more than $45,000.00 in student activity fees. It is composed of all full time students at the college.

Panthers Down Vulcan Nine

PITTSBURGH—Pitt scored three runs in the last of the ninth inning here Wednesday to dump California Teachers, 6-5, in the Vulcan debut.

CSTC overcame a 1-0 deficit with four runs in the fifth inning on singles by Ron Novak, Don Franks, Andy Machusko, Joe Sarra and Tony Soukovich.

Soukovich's double and Adam Vlanich's one-bagger scored the final Vulcan run in the sixth and the score remained at 5-3 until the final stanza.

Soukovich smashed two singles, in addition to his double and Franks and Novak also had a pair of one-basers apiece.

The CSTC squad will play West Liberty and Bethany in a Saturday twin-bill at West Liberty, W. Va.

CSTC Prof Speaks In New York

Dr. O. Ray Bontrager, professor of education at California State Teachers college, was one of the speakers at a conference on the contributions of general semantics to education. The conference was held at the Carnegie International Center in New York under the auspices of the Institute for the International Society of General Semantics.

Dr. Bontrager's lecture was a part of a presentation on the techniques of teaching general semantics through science and the humanities to children and adults.

Mr. Korzybski, Polish-American Philosopher, founded general semantics as a discipline. It is a theory of human evaluation of experience leading to behavior based on what seems to be at the time the best scientific knowledge.

Virginia Campbell and the Rev. Donald Smith, all of Brownsville. Also attending from Brownsville, but not shown was Joseph Rodgers, member of the local school board.

75 Persons Attend California Program

National Council For Better Schools Speaker Tells How Citizens Groups Can Aid Education

Curtis Roosevelt, an official of the National Council for Better Schools, told how citizen groups can help American education in a talk last night at the California State Teachers college dining hall. Some 75 persons interested in helping education attended the function.

The program was arranged by Dr. Thomas M. Gilland, president of California Area Branch of Association for Childhood Education.

Mr. Roosevelt, who is regional director for the council, explained that the organization was founded on the principle that "All school controls are in the hands of citizens, and enlightened citizens, mean better schools."

Cross Section
A good citizens committee for better schools should be a cross section of the town, it should be representative of the community, he said.

Mr. Roosevelt emphasized "The citizens committee is a fact finding group — not a pressure group. We must work with school officials."

Through many studies it has been proven, said Mr. Roosevelt, that the teacher serves best in advisory position.

The program ended with a discussion of how to bring better teachers into the community. Mr. Roosevelt pointed out that the number one way should naturally be more money. But he added quickly that the citizens committee should create a good climate for the teachers. Show that the teachers are to have a respected place in the community and that they are really wanted.

Mr. Roosevelt ended by stating that there is nothing wrong in going out and recruiting teachers.

Name CSTC Students To Bloomsburg Confab

Four members of the Student Congress have been elected to represent California State Teachers college at the state teachers college student conference in Bloomsburg on April 10th to 13th. The four student delegates are Shirley Turney, a senior from Addison, Charlotte Miller, a junior from Jeannette, Shirley Kokesh, a sophomore from Mason-town, and James Cullen, a sophomore from Houston. The group will be accompanied by Dean of Men, Frank Lenox.

The group will participate at the conference by serving on panels and in discussion groups concerned with school life and problems of the various colleges.

Steelers To Train For '58 NFL C

Pro Football Club To Start Drills July 27

CALIFORNIA—This picturesque Mon Valley community, a football hot-bed in its own right, is buzzing with excitement following the disclosure that the Pittsburgh Steelers will train at California State Teachers College in preparation for their 1958 NFL campaign.

Announcement of the Steelers' shift in training headquarters from St. Bonaventure University at Olean, N. Y., to this site approximately 50 miles south of Pittsburgh was made at a press luncheon Tuesday in Pittsburgh.

Dr. Michael Duda, CSTC president, and Gene Hester, the school's athletic director, attended the luncheon to complete arrangements for the Steelers visit with Dan Rooney, son of the club president, Art Rooney, who is in New York and was unable to attend the affair.

The Pittsburgh team, desiring a more accessible training site, selected California after inspecting several available locations.

Coach Buddy Parker, commenting on the choice said:

"It's a beautiful place to train. And it is close to Pittsburgh, which makes it ideal. We will have all the facilities needed to properly condition the club.

"The players will sleep in a new dormitory and we will have the use of three fields on which to run through our drill and plays. There also are big recreation rooms and a well-equipped gym. I think we picked a winner this time."

Three campus buildings will be made available to the Steelers, Dr. Duda revealed. They include Johnston Hall, a new 125-room dormitory; Herron Hall (the gym) and the cafeteria-style dining room in Dixon Hall.

The Steeler staff will move into the new training site July 26. The first contingent of players, comprising rookies, will arrive the next day.

Parker said that the newcomers will be worked out for four days and then scrimmaged to weed out those who will remain to meet the main guard, expected to arrive about August 3.

In all, the Steelers will spend a month in the school before breaking camp Sept. 1. From that date until Sept. 11, the team will be quartered in Pittsburgh and will probably drill at South Park. The first exhibition game is scheduled for Aug. 16 against the Cleveland Browns in Akron, O.

The new site is the ninth in Steelers history.

Pittsburgh opens its league season in San Francisco Sunday, Sept. 28.

The change in training sites is the second big announcement out of the club offices in a month. Earlier, the club switched its home games from Forbes Field to Pitt Stadium.

CSTC Summer Session Geography Class Plans 1600 Mile State Tour

The entire state of Pennsylvania will become the geography classroom when the class in geography of Pennsylvania field course assembles on the California State teachers college campus for the pre-summer session on June 2nd.

Dr. Gabriel P. Betz, Professor of Geography at California, will take his class into virtually every section of the state on a 1600 mile tour designed to "acquaint the student with the physical environment of Pennsylvania and the activities of man in the Commonwealth."

The three credit course will start with class work on the campus. The group will then leave the campus for their field work on June 10th returning to the campus on Thursday, June 19th.

Points of interest will include Gettysburg, Hanover, the Pennsylvania Dutch country, Philadelphia, the Pocono Mountains, the Wyoming Valley, the Grand Canyon of Pennsylvania, and Erie. A study of economic activities such as agriculture in Lancaster County, forestry in the Allegheny National Forest, quarrying in the Lehigh Valley, commerce in Erie, and manufacturing in Philadelphia will be made in all of the regions visited. The geography of the Battle of Gettysburg will be a unique feature of the study.

Class size will be limited to thirty students and teachers in-service. The first thirty persons who sign for the class will be given priority.

Above is the front of the newly redecorated sanctuary of the First Presbyterian church, California. The old pipe organ was removed and a new electric organ installed in the church. The huge cross at the front of the church replaces the bank of organ pipes. The cross, which was formally dedicated Sunday, March 30, was made by Irvin Shutsy, on the staff of the practical arts department of California State Teachers college. The new organ was featured Tuesday evening when the combined choirs of the Methodist and Presbyterian churches presented an Easter cantata. Mrs. Frank Donovan, director of vocal music in the California Community schools, presented a half hour's prelude before the cantata. The cantata, "Memories of Easter Morn," was sung by a choir of 40 voices, directed by John W. Edwards Jr., director of the California Presbyterian church choir.

Junior Historians Will Hold Conference At CSTC

CALIFORNIA — The annual conference of the Southwestern Region of the Pennsylvania Federation of Junior Historians will be held at California State Teachers College Thursday, April 24. Sessions will be held in the Robert McCurdy Steele Auditorium with Charlene Pezzoni of Monongahela High School, president of the Southwestern Region, presiding. Dr. Michael Duda, president of the college, will bring greetings to the group.

Major emphasis of the morning session will be a group of historical studies based on the topic "The One Hundredth Anniversary of the Inauguration of Pennsylvania's native President, James Buchanan." Participating will be Roger Golomb, Monongahela, Donna Patterson, Immaculate Conception, Frank Spornak, Monongahela, Audrey Masciarelli, Dunbar Township, Michael Pirchsky, Monongahela, Suzanne Davis, Monongahela, and Paula Danels, Monongahela.

James Hughes, Chairman of the State Advisory Council, will address the group on the "Purpose of the Junior Historians." Entertainment will be provided by the College Players with a cutting of "Bernadine," and the Varsity Five, well known campus musical group under the direction of William L. Dovenspike.

Luncheon for the group will be held in the Georgian Dining Hall. The afternoon program includes swimming in the Herron Hall pool, dancing in Vulcan Hall, and tours of the college campus.

Regional officers are Charlene Pezzoni, Monongahela, president, Rosemary Withum, Immaculate Conception, vice president, Robert Pikulsky, German Township, second vice president, and Carol Welsh, Immaculate Conception, secretary. ## CSTC Girls Score In Debate Tourney

CALIFORNIA —California State Teachers College was represented at the Annual Dickinson College Debate Tournament by an all-female debate team. The girls proved that debating is not entirely a manly art by winning four of its eight debates in the tournament.

Members of the California affirmative team were Garnet Reynolds, sophomore from California, and Barbara Ferrari, junior from California. The negative team was composed of Peggy Chontos, sophomore from Large, and Cora Jarvis, Tarentum junior. Accompanying the team were Nancy Hurst, Pitcairn, who served as judge at the tournament, and Miss Louis Davis, faculty advisor to the group.

The affirmative team won three of its four matches with the negative team victorious in one. Cora Jarvis was ranked fourth as speaker in the tournament.

Vulcans Rally After Trailing By 2-1 Margin

California Teachers College recorded its third victory in eight outings at the expense of Washington and Jefferson Monday, copping a 4-2 verdict at Washington Park.

The loss was the fourth for the winless Presidents.

Wash-Jeff grabbed a 1-0 lead in the first when George Bailey walked, stole second, moved to third on Bob Bowser's sacrifice and scored on Ron Pellegrini's fly.

California deadlocked the score in the fourth when Andy Machusko singled, took second on a wild pitch and romped over on Norm Gregor's one-base blow.

The Presidents went ahead in the first, when Larry Bress reached base on a fielder's choice, took second and third on an error and scored on Bailey's grounder.

Machusko's fielder's choice, a stolen base, another fielder's choice and Joe Serra's hit enabled the visitors to pull even at 2-2 in the sixth.

The Vulcans moved ahead, 3-2, in the seventh on singles by Dick Bill Painter's double and an wild pitch.

Bill Painter's double end an error produced California's final run in the ninth.

The Vulcans outhit the Presidents, 10-6. Novak and Serra were the stickers to hit safely twice.

Wash-Jeff entertain's Slippery Rock Tuesday.

CSTC School News Editors Receive Awards

Assistant Professor John Watkins, left, advisor for the California State Teachers College weekly newspaper, "Tower Times," presents awards to Mrs. Janet R. Keith, Monessen; Thomas Patterson, Brownsville; Charlotte Miller, Jeannette; and George Kupets, Republic; in recognition of six semesters of work on the paper. The award is from the Council of School Newspaper Advisors.

CSTC Editors Given Awards

CALIFORNIA—Four staff members of the Tower Times, weekly collegiate newspaper of the California State Teachers College, were the recipients of awards by the Council of School Newspaper Advisors. The awards were presented at an assembly of the student body to George Kupets, Republic, student editor; Charlotte Miller, Jeanette, managing editor; Thomas Patterson, Brownsville, photographer; and Mrs. Janet R. Keith, Monessen, student advisor.

The award is in recognition of six semesters of work on the Tower Times and signifies that a student has served capably in all capacities from cub reporter to student advisor. The award winners of this year will serve as editors-advisors on the next years staff.

The Council of School Newspaper Advisors was organized to serve the best interests of the college by publishing regularly a student newspaper. It aims to provide instruction and experience for students in the production and sponsorship of a student newspaper.

Faculty advisors for the Tower Times are Mr. C. Mart Hughey, Head of the English Department, and Mr. John Watkins, Assistant Professor of English.

"The Shakespeare Newsletter"

Unusual Newspaper Read By Dr. I. H. Keller

Dr. I. H. Keller, nationally famous Shakespeare scholar and retired member of the faculty at California State Teachers College, is shown here reading one of the world's most unusual newspapers.

It is "The Shakespeare Newsletter," the news stories in which concern exclusively the research and activity of Shakespeare scholars, reviews of books, articles and other material relating to the Bard of Avon.

The paper was started about seven years ago by Dr. Louis Marder, an English professor at Kent State University, Kent, Ohio. That there was a niche in the literary world for such a publication is evidenced by the fact that within the comparatively short time since its founding circulation has climbed to 1,700 copies per issue.

It is needless to say that the circulation of this unusual newspaper is probably one of the most "highbrow" in the world today.

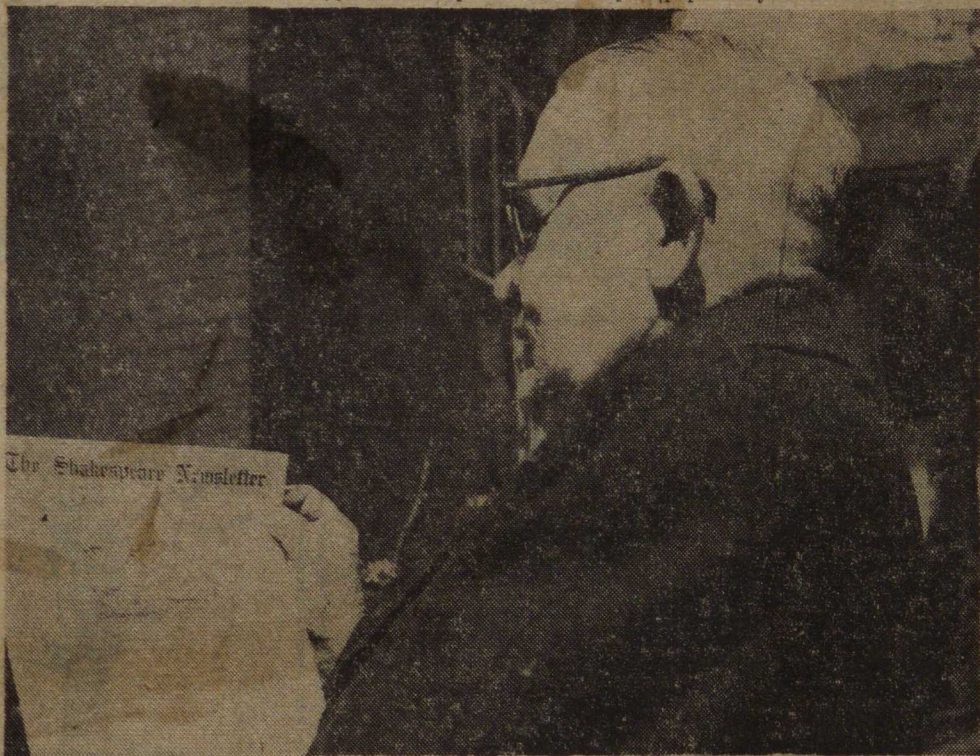

The paper goes to subscribers in every one of her 48 states and to 18 foreign countries. Two subscriptions came in from Moscow,

Russia. To the average man in the street it seems incredible that there could be enough going on about a seventeenth century dramtist and his works to fill the pages of a bi-monthly newspaper today.

But interest continues so lively in Shakespeare that the publisher and his assistants review from 175 to 200 articles which must necessarily be condensed to some extent for each issue of the paper.—By S. M. HOUSE.

Good athletes are a dime a dozen, but Ron Novak of nearby California was outstanding in the classroom as well as the athletic field when he attended California Teachers.

They gave Ron and other members of the Class of '58 their walking papers at CSTC last week, but his kind are few and far between. To wit:

He served as president of the Student Activities Assoc., a member of the ICS, the Math Club, Phi Sigma Pi, the College Farm Board and the Snack Bar Committee. Also, he was president of his class since his sophomore year.

On top of his social activities and school obligations, Novak was also a four-year letterman in football and baseball. He was named the Most Outstanding Back at CSTC in 1957 and served as past president of the Varsity Club.

A mathematics major who's planning to go into graduate work, Novak's hobbies include reading, camping, Boy Scout work and, naturally, athletics. Unlike most athletes, or anybody else for that matter, he insists his greatest leisure enjoyment is reading.

Little wonder then that CSTC officials on the dais quietly tipped their caps when Novak was handed his sheepskin at commencement exercises.

CSTC Dean Of Women Is Co-Author Of Textbooks

CALIFORNIA — Mrs. Lela T. Hamilton, Associate Professor of Education and Dean of Women at California State Teachers College, is the co-author of two new editions of junior high school textbooks published by the L. W. Singer Company. The two are part of an English series entitled "Enjoying English." The new editions are for grades 7 and 8. Mrs. Hamilton's co-worker on the books was Dr. Don M. Wolfe, Professor of English at Brooklyn College and a former teacher of high school English at Bellevue, Pennsylvania.

MRS. LELA T. HAMILTON

The new editions represent the creative cooperative effort of more than seventy teachers and supervisors. The authors believe that only the practicing classroom teacher can give the realistic help needed to build a superior textbook. These teachers helped with the organization, checked the amount of practice material, tested assignments, and contributed their most successful teaching methods and devices. In addition, they made available an unlimited supply of resource materials including student themes and stories, letters, plays, charts, and activities.

Pennsylvania teachers who participated were Mr. Robert E. Cooley, Mrs. Frances Russ, Mrs. Jane Schultz, and Mrs. Marylou Strayer, Coraopolis Junior High School; Mrs. Margaret Bair and Miss Beatrice Ritzo, Forest Hills Junior High School; Mrs. Isabel C. Hixon and Mr. Charles S. McDaniel, Moon Junior-Senior High School; Miss Virginia Kerr, Oakmont Junior High School; Miss Hannah E. Bechtel, Shaler High School; and Miss Sally Lou Ammerman, Westinghouse Memorial High School.

Mrs. Hamilton formerly taught junior high school English at Lockport, New York, Kingston, Pennsylvania, and Webster Springs, West Virginia. She is currently working on a revision of the Sixth Grade Book which will feature a number of new units which have been developed in the Noss Laboratory School on the college campus. Her collaborators on the new text are Dr. Mary Dunn, Supervisor of Elementary Education for the Uniontown Schools, and Mrs. Ethel K. Howard, Supervisor of Elementary Education in the Lakewood Schools, Cleveland, Ohio.

Teachers Of Mentally Retarded In Session

Final meeting in the series of six in-service workshops for Washington county teachers of special classes for mentally and physical-handicapped children was held Thursday at California State Teachers college.

Mrs. Rose Hughes, teacher at Noss laboratory school, served as a consultant. Among the topics discussed at the meeting as suggestions for good teaching used upon an evaluation of 14 selected special classes in Washington county. One session was spent in considering the role of the school psychologist in making recommendations for school placement of individual children.

Following the dinner held in the college dining room, teachers displayed and explained projects which have been developed by the children. Also discussed were teaching procedures and techniques, program evaluation and arithmetic skills.

Attending were: Dr. Stephen Pavlak, Dr. Ralph Hott, Adelia Birkinsha, Rose Hughes, Bertha Letrick, California Community Schools; Ernest Iaddock, Louise Popowiniak, Harlboro; Thelma Venturi, Garret D. Reynolds, Monongahela; Elizabeth Staley, Centerville; Noella Bullock, Donora; Isabel Smith, Fallowfield Township; Emily, Connie Phillips, Diane French, Washington; Helen J. ## CSTC Teachers Will Retire

Mr. Harding

Mr. Halstead

Total Education Service 91 Years

Two Veteran Members Of CSTC Faculty Retiring This Year

Dr. Michael Duda, President of the California State Teachers College, has announced that two veteran members of the college staff, Mr. Edwin E. Halstead and Mr. George E. Harding, will retire at the close of the spring semester. Their combined service to the state of Pennsylvania totals 65 years and their total service to education is equivalent to 91 years.

Mr. Edwin E. Halstead, Assistant Professor of Music and Head of the Fine Arts Department, came to California in 1924. He is a native of Ohio where he attended Warren High School. His college education was attained at Ohio University, Oberlin Conservatory, Cornell University, and New York University. The latter school granted him a Bachelor of Science in Music in 1923 and the Master of Arts Degree in 1929. Additional study was done at the California State Normal School, the University of Pittsburgh, and the Fred Waring Music Workshop.

Mr. Halstead's 49 years of teaching includes Supervisor of Music in the Cortland, Ohio, Schools from 1909 to 1910, and in the Bellaire, Ohio, Schools from 1910 to 1919. He served as Director of Music in the normal school and public schools of Warren, Ohio, from 1919 to 1924.

His choral groups at the Teachers College have been tri-state favorites since their organization in 1924.

Mr. Halstead is the author of

EDWIN E. HALSTEAD

GEORGE E. HARDING

a widely used elementary school textbook, "Workbook for Elementary Ear Training." Plans for the immediate future include a European tour for Mr. and Mrs. Halstead.

Dr. Michael Duda Addresses Church Mother Breakfast

The Holy Name Society and the Young Ladies Sodality of St. Timothy's Roman Catholic Church, Smithton, were hosts to the Mothers and their children at the regular monthly meeting of the Holy Name Society. After they had partaken of Communion, the organizations and their mothers gathered in the church auditorium where they were served a complete Communion breakfast prepared by the Ladies of St. Timothy's and served by the Young Ladies' Sodality.

After breakfast, the president, Frank Buscanics introduced the Spiritual Director, Rev. Francis R. Gresko who spoke on the Retreat at St. Vincent's which will take place June 26th. Many of the members are planning to attend.

A prize was given to grandmother Mrs. Francis Vidale and 3 other mothers were singled out in the group and presented with gifts from the Young Ladies Sodality. The oldest mother present was Mrs. Mary Ann Rechichar who is the mother of 10 children. The youngest mother recognized was Mrs. Tom Babyak, mother of 4 children, and the mother with the most children present was Mrs. Josephine Szary. After the presentation of these gifts, the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Sigmond Prybolsky entertained the group with accordion selections.

President Buscanics then introduced the speaker for the Communion breakfast, Dr. Michael Duda, president of California State Teachers College, who gave a very inspiring address to the group of 200 concerning the degree of appreciation that should be shown to worthy mothers of today for their many accomplishments and also their love of all their children that is shown not only on Mothers Day, but every day of the year.

June 1, a District Holy Name Society meeting will be held at St. Timothy's which will consist of 16 parishes in Westmoreland County. Plans will then be made for their annual banquet.

2 Teachers College Profs Will Retire

CALIFORNIA, Pa. — Two veteran members of the California State Teachers College faculty will retire at the end of this semester.

Edwin E. Halstead, Fine Arts Department head, and George E. Harding, head of the Science Department, have 91 years of teaching between them, 65 years with the state.

Halstead also is assistant professor of music and Harding is associate professor of geography. Halstead came to California in 1924 and Harding in 1927.

HALSTEAD TAUGHT in the Cortland (O.) schools in 1909-10 and at Bellaire, O., from 1910 to 1919 and was director of music at the normal school and public schools of Warren, O., from 1919 to 1924.

Harding started teaching at Fremont College in 1916-17. He was superintendent of Wheeler County (Neb.) High School from 1917 to 1920. He was superintendent of Dorchester (Neb.) High School from 1921 to 1925, and taught at the University of Indiana until 1926.

Halstead attended Ohio University, Oberlin Conservatory, Cornell University and New York University, where he was graduated with bachelor of science in music and a master of arts degree.

HE ALSO STUDIED at the California State Normal School, the University of Pittsburgh and the Fred Waring Music Workshop.

Harding attended Fremont College and graduated from Nebraska Wesleyan University. He was awarded a master of arts degree at the University of Nebraska. He also took graduate studies at Ohio State, Clark and the University of Pittsburgh. He wrote the "Workbook In Geography of Pennsylvania" and "Elements of World Geography." He iniated at California field trips and summer geography tours of part of the United States and Canada.

New Library At California To Be Dedicated

The California Library Club will dedicate a new library in the former Pennsylvania Railroad station at 8 p. m. Saturday, May 24. Open house will be held in the library from 11 a. m. until 8 p. m. that day.

Angus Douple, Associate Professor of Art at California State Teachers College, will show oil and watercolor paintings at the dedication. In the exhibit are pictures ranging from photographic realism to various styles of modern semi-abstract types. The artist works in many moods, although his latest paintings represent the bold expressive techniques that are in fashion today.

Some of the pictures were painted in Europe and Asia, on his recent trip around the world. Of particular interest are those done when he taught for a year at the State Training College for Teachers in Mandalay, Burma. The brilliant color of the Burmese people and their Buddhist temples add a lively note to the exhibit.

Mr. Douple is a graduate of Kutztown Teachers College, and studied at Columbia University, in New York City and Provincetown, Mass., the New York School of Fine and Applied Art, the Art Institute of Chicago, Pennsylvania State University and the University of Pittsburgh. He taught 16 years in the public schools in eastern Pennsylvania before coming to California in 1946. During the thirties he exhibited in shows in New York, Philadelphia, Harrisburg and Reading, having won numerous awards in oil and watercolor techniques.

After coming to California he concentrated in various craft mediums, and so much of his time was spent in building his unique contemporary home on Malden Road that only a few paintings were made within a ten year period. However, within the past three years he has made more than 100 pictures. He is a member of the Associate Artists of Pittsburgh and exhibits with the Pittsburgh Plan For Art regularly.

mal school, the University of Pittsburgh, and the Fred Waring Music Workshop.

Mr. Halstead's 49 years of teaching includes supervisor of music in the Cortland, Ohio schools from 1909 to 1910, and in the Bellaire, Ohio, Schools from 1910 to 1919. He served as director of music in the normal school and public schools of Warren, Ohio, from 1919 to 1924.

Mr. Halstead is the author of a widely used elementary school textbook, "Workbook for Elementary Ear Training."

Plans for the immediate future include a European tour for Mr. and Mrs. Halstead.

Mr. Harding, associate professor of geography and head of the Science Department, is a native of Nebraska. He attended Franklin Academy at Wilsonville, Nebraska, Fremont college, and Nebraska Wesleyan University from which he received the Bachelor of Arts degree in 1924. The University of Nebraska granted him the Master of Arts degree in 1928.

Four Enter CSTC College Player's Hall Of Fame

CLAIFORNIA — Four members of California State Teacher College Players have been awarded the honor of being elected to the organization's Hall of Fame. There must be a two-thirds majority vote of the membership present in order to be elected to the Hall of Fame. The members chosen will have their names placed on a plaque which will hang in Steele Auditorium.

The members chosen this year were:

Carolyn Ghrist McGill, Claysville, Carolyn was an active member of College Players since joining in May 1955. She appeared in College Player's productions of "Kind Lady", "Pygmalion", "Bell, Book, and Candle", and "Our Town". She was the president of College Players the first semester, 1957, and she is also a member of Alpha Psi Omega, National Honor Fraternity in Dramatics.

Cosmo Inserra, Roscoe, who held roles in "Our Town", "Pygmalion", and a leading role in "Time Limit". Cosmo is also the master of ceremonies for a weekly radio show on WESA. The program is sponsored by College Players.

Mary Jo McWreath, Washington, who was active in the technical work behind the productions. Mary Jo held a minor role in "Our Town". She is also a member of Alpha Psi Omega.

Thomas Turachak, California, who has been a member of College Players since September, 1954. Tom appeared in "She Sloops To Conquer", "Kind Lady" and "Our Town." He was also the sound chairman for several of these productions. Tom joined Alpha Psi Omega in December 1956.

Up Standards Of CSTC Admissions

CALIFORNIA, Pa.—The faculty and administrative council of the California State Teachers College have unanimously approved higher entrance standards for applicants. The new standards, subject to approval of the Board of Trustees, will go into effect next November. For all students graduating in the lower half of their high school class, the percentile score on the School and College Ability Test will be raised from 20 to 25 in November, 1958, and from 25 to 30 in March, 1959. Students graduating in the upper half of their high school class must have a percentile score of 10 on the entrance examination for November and a score of 15 will be required in March, 1959.

Dr. Harold E. Kemper, Director of Admissions, has announced the acceptance of 336 new students for admission in September. Lack of physical facilities has made it necessary to reject additional applications to the industrial arts curriculum. All available space in the dormitories for women is also taken for the fall session. Current applications indicate that the enrollment of new students for the fall semester will reach 500.

The 1913 Class of the California State Teachers college held its 45th reunion on May 24, at the Teachers college with 45 members and nine guests present for the occasion. The class attended the business meeting at 10:45 a. m. and the annual luncheon of the Alumni at 12:15 p. m. in the Georgian dining room. After the luncheon the class assembled in front of the Main Hall for a picture. Following this they gathered in the Vulcan Lounge for an informal program.

Greetings were read from many who could not attend the reunion. Among them were greetings expressing their regret from two members of the faculty, Bruce Cobaugh, Pittsburgh, and Miss Mary Noss, Athens Ohio. A brief memorial service for deceased members was conducted by the Rev. Chalmers Goshorn, Presbyterian minister from Lancing, Maryland. Those who passed away recently were Dr. Lloyd Mehaffy, Washington, Pa., Ernest Boucher, class president, Somerset, Pa. and Ben Crago, Waynesburg, Pa.

Dr. John Dull, M. D., Washington, D. C. gave an interesting talk in which he paid tribute to two deceased members, Byrd Fox, who gave his life in World War II and Ernest Boucher a lifetime friend. He recalled many things they had done together beginning with boyhood days and school days together in Somerset. Dr. Dull also expressed appreciation to the California Alumni association for selecting him to represent the Alumni association at a meeting of the Association of Pa. Alumni in Washington D. C. in February.

Other brief talks were made by Dr. Donald Jacobs, M. D. Waynesburg, Pa., Tom Null, Lebanon, Pa., Adlai McCormick, Waynesburg, Pa., Ruth Baer Hetrick, Slippery Rock, Pa., and Joe Stewart, Rockyhill, Connecticut. Winona Coatsworth Long read a very beautiful poem. Jess Wade, Morgantown, West Virginia was elected sponsor of the class to replace Miss Bertha McDonough

Fourteen seniors were inducted into National Honor society at a recent assembly program at the California Community high school. Faculty members taking part in the induction ceremonies were Mrs. Miriam Donovan, Arthur T. Cairns, William R. Watkins

Salary Hike For Teachers, College Heads Is Proposed

HARRISBURG (AP)—A proposal to increase the salaries of state teachers college presidents was taken under consideration Wednesday by the State Executive Board. The proposal also would classify the positions in accordance with the commonwealth's compensation plan.

Secretary of Administration John H. Ferguson, who made the proposal, said the presidents of the state's 14 teachers colleges were the only institutional heads in state service who were not included in the plan.

The exact amount of the raise was not determined. The board said details would have to be worked out in accordance with changes in the method of providing compensation.

State teachers college presidents presently receive salaries ranging from $8,589 to $11,130 but also receive food, housing and other maintenance valued at $2,400 per year.

Since maintenance is not taxable, Ferguson said, the estimated real income for the presidents ranged from $11,700 to $14,400. Under his proposal, the salaries would have ranged from $12,075 to $15,387.

Workshop Held At CSTC By Educators

CALIFORNIA — The Pennsylvania Branch of the National Association of Secondary School Principals opened their two-day workshop at California State Teachers College Tuesday with the keynote address being delivered by Assemblyman Stephen McCann, Carmichaels, a member of the State House of Representatives Committee on Education.

Following Mr. McCann's remarks, the western Pennsylvania educators broke up into discussion groups, which focus their attention on various educational problems and then will render their reports and recommendations to the entire group.

Rep. McCann spoke to the assembled educators concerning the problems which face education today. He stated that the Pennsylvania educational system is good but that it can and must be improved. He also pointed out that in Pennsylvania every child has an opportunity for a free education at public expense. He also stresses the forward steps which have been taken in this state in regard to education of the handicapped and mentally retarded. He feels that we must also do something of a similar nature for the gifted child.

The workshop sessions will continue through Wednesday. The questions being considered are: I. The Place of Vocational-Industrial Education in the Comprehensive High School; II. What are the Essential Elements of a Good Secondary School?; III. Pro's and Con's of Merit Rating; and IV. What Should Constitute the Science Program in the Secondary School?

There are many noted educators from Pennsylvania in attendance at these meetings. Among them are: Mr. William Stevenson, Area Coordinator of Trade and Vocational Education, Penna. Dept. of Public Instruction; Dr. Charles Manwiller, Supervisor and Director of Curriculum, Pittsburgh Public Schools; Dr. Paul L. Glatzert, Director, Bureau of Curriculum Field Service, Penna. Dept. of Public Instruction; Miss Tyyne Hanninen, Supervisor of Speech Correction, Monessen School District; Lucy Valero, Asst. Secretary, Pennsylvania State Education Assn., Harrisburg; Mr. James Mason, Supervisor of Elementary Education, Wilkens Township Schools; Mr. Bert Johnson, Director of Vocational Education, McKeesport Vocational High School; Dr. Vernon C. Lingren, Professor of Education and Director of Student Teaching, University of Pittsburgh; Dr. Lee E. Boyer, Asst. Director of Curriculum Development, Penna. Dept. of Public Instruction.

The co-chairmen are Mr. Henry H. Furio, Principal, Monessen High School and Mr. Albert Hazelbaker, Principal, Monessen Junior High School. The coordinators representing California State Teachers College are Dr. Frank Naylor and Mr. Paul Walker while the workshop adviser is Dr. Thomas Gilland, of the college.

CSTC Has Record Summer Enrollment

CALIFORNIA—Classes resumed Wednesday at California State Teachers College with the largest pre-summer session enrollment of post-war years. The enrollment of 718 is expected to be increased to 735 with the late registration of teachers-in-service whose school sessions will not end until later this week. This will better last year's record 599 by more than twenty per cent. The previous high was 557 in 1949.

School officials estimate that at least 600 of the total enrollment are regular full-time students at the college who are accelerating their graduation date by attending summer sessions. Approximately 70 per cent of the students at California complete the required courses in less than four years.

Honor Classes Of 1908, 1933

CSTC To Hold Alumni Spring Day Saturday

CALIFORNIA — The annual Spring Alumni Day Celebration will be held at the college campus on Saturday, May 24, and will honor the golden and silver anniversary classes of 1908 and 1933. Registration begins at 9:30 a. m. in Main Hall and continues throughout the morning. Approximately 500 members from graduating classes as far back as 1896 are expected to attend to participate in many reunion activities. The committee for the Fiftieth Anniversary of the class of 1908 is headed by Mr. David Binns of Fayette City and includes Mrs.

Edna Deyarmon, Brownsville; William Grimes, California, Senator J. Albert Reed, California, and Mrs. Eva Yarnal Williams, California. Jack F. Hoyes, Associate Professor of Education at the college, will head the silver anniversary arrangements for the 278 members of the class of '33. The luncheon, to be served in the Georgian Dining Room at 12:15 p. m., will be attended by 400 "old grads." The program is to feature a welcome address by Dr. Michael Duda, introduction of the honor classes, a response by Mr. J. Albert Reed who will speak for the class of 1908, acknowledgements of special guests and the introduction of the new officers for 1958-1960. The annual business meeting will be held in the Colonial Room from 10:45 a. m. to 12:00 p. m. noon. The election of officers and reports on Alumni activities for 1957-1958 will be made. Discussion of a proposed statewide alumni organization will feature this meeting. Dr. George H. Roadman, Alumni President and Dean of Instruction at California, will preside.

Following the luncheon reunion activities and campus tours will culminate in a snack for those classes making prior arrangement. The 1908 class will meet in the Colonial Room and the 1913 class will meet in Vulcan Lounge. The 1933 class will use the Library as its reunion headquarters. Other class desiring room reservations will be able to arrange for quarters at the registration desk.

CSTC Will Graduate 283 Seniors Monday

California State Teachers College will grant the Bachelor of Science in Education Degree to 283 graduating seniors at Commencement exercises in Steele Auditorium at 10 a. m. Monday, May 26.

The graduates and their guests will hear the Reverend Charles C. Noble, Dean of the Chapel at Syracuse University, deliver an address entitled, "Getting at Our Unfinished Business."

Nineteen students have earned honor ranking in the graduating class. Two of these have achieved the coveted Highest Honor, which requires 75% of all credits to be A's with no more than eight credits of C, and no D or F grades. They are Joanne Brewer of Brownsville and Judith Wolfe of California.

High Honor was attained by Reid M. Grove, Uniontown, James H. Maple, California, and Mildred Marushchak, California. Graduating with Honors will be

Phyllis Bodna; West Brownsville, R. D.; Donald E. Coughenour, West Newton; Robert Coughenour, Sewickley Township; Alfred Gunter, Fredericktown, R. Teacher's Pet Hobby Is Education

CALIFORNIA, Pa. — Pupils in the first grade of Locust Grove school in West Mifflin, near Pittsburgh, probably don't know it but their young teacher is a pretty exceptional girl.

Judith Wolfe, 20, the teacher, has just won her degree from the State Teachers' college here in two and one-half years, instead of the regular four years.

She has been the Locust Grove first grade teacher since January, but now she has been graduated with her bachelor of science degree in education.

She plans to continue at West Mifflin.

Not only did Judith finish her schooling in record time, she was the highest honor student in the class, being valedictorian and holder of a special hood, symbolic of high attainment.

She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. M. R. Wolfe. Her father is history professor at the college here, holder of a doctor of philosophy degree and director of advanced standing, a work which seeks to help students do the best work of which they are capable.

Curcio and Mrs. Mary Veltic.

Mrs. Ceillie Harris was appointed to make plans for a strawberry social to be held in June.

The pig was won by Mrs. Mary Curcio. Mrs. Sabol reminded the members of their special devotions to the Blessed Virgin during the month of May.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Jennie Romito and Mrs. Josephine Bartosik. Others attending were: Mrs. Sabol, Mrs. Rose Sweitzer, Mrs. Lama, Mrs. Eleanor Musar, Miss Cosner, Mrs. Josephine Musar, Mrs. Harris, Mrs. Curcio, Mrs. Cecelia Sopko, Mrs. Mildred Widmer, Mrs. Eleanor Pidanich, Mrs. Veltic, Mrs. Madorma and Mrs. Minerva Albert.

Angus Douple To Show Slides At Newell

The Christian Mothers of Our Lady of Perpetual Help church, Newell, met in regular session Tuesday in the church basement. Mrs. Esther Sabol, president, conducted the session. The minutes were read by Mrs. Irene Lama, secretary and Mrs. Eleanor Musar, treasurer, gave the financial report.

A report on the sick and vigil committee was given by the chairman, Miss Lena Cosner.

Announcement was made that Angus Douple, art teacher at California State Teachers college, will show color slides of his trip to India on Tuesday, May 13, at 7:30 p.m. in the church basement. The public is invited to attend. Small children must be accompanied by their parents.

The crowning of the May Queen will take place on Sunday, May 18, at 2 p.m. Miss Suzanne Sobek will crown the Blessed Virgin Mary. Attendants will be Kathy Curcio and Sandra Pidanich.

Instead of the spaghetti supper planned for May 22 a covered dish supper will be served. Mrs. Esther is serving as chairman. Aides include: Mrs. Eleanor Musar, Mrs. Stella Madorma, Mrs. Mary

CSTC Increases Entrance Standards For Applicants

CALIFORNIA — The faculty and administrative council of the California State Teachers College have unanimously approved higher entrance standards for applicants. The new standards, subject to approval of the Board of Trustees, will go into effect next November.

For all students graduating in the lower half of their high school class, the percentile score on the School and College Ability Test will be raised from 20 to 25 in November, 1958, and from 25 to 30 in March, 1959. Students graduating in the upper half of their high school class must have a percentile score of 10 on the entrance examination for November and a score of 15 will be required in March, 1959.

Dr. Harold E. Kemper, Director of Admissions, has announced the acceptance of 336 new students for admission in September. Lack of physical facilities has made it necessary to reject additional applications to the industrial arts curriculum.

All available space in the dormitories for women is also taken for the fall session. Current applications indicate that the enrollment of new students for the fall semester will reach 500.

Paintings Of CSTC Artist To Be Featured

Formal opening ceremony of the California Public library will be held tomorrow at 8 p.m. The library will be open for inspection during the day. The public is invited to visit the library and to attend the formal program.

Featured in the opening will be a showing of oil and water color paintings by Angus Douple, associate professor of art at California State Teachers college.

The formal program: Invocation, Dr. Edgar Lawrence, pastor of the California Presbyterian church; flag presentation, American Legion; welcome, Burgess Robert Conaway; music, William Dreucci; "Birth of the California Library," Mrs. Thelma McLaughlin; "Incorporation of the Library Club," Mrs. Walter Ansil; "The Library Now," and introduction of officers and trustees, Mrs. A. J. Hoover; Acknowledgments and introductions, Mrs. Robert J. Woods, benediction, the Rev. Fr. Herbert J. Cost.

In the Douple exhibit will be pictures ranging from photographic realism to various styles of semi-abstract types. The artist works in many moods, although his latest paintings represent the bold expressive techniques that are in fashion today.

Some of the pictures were painted in Europe and Asia, on a recent trip around the world. Of particular interest are those made when he taught for a year at the State Training college for teachers in Mandalay, Burma. The brilliant colors of the Bur-

Boost Entrance Ratings At CSTC

The faculty and administrative council of the California State Teachers college have unanimously approved higher entrance standards for applicants. The new standards, subject to approval of the board of trustees, will go into effect next November. For all students graduating in the lower half of their high school class, the percentile score on the School and College Ability Test will be raised from 20 to 25 in November, 1958, and from 25 to 30 in March 1959. Students graduating in the upper half of their high school class must have a percentile score of 10 on the entrance examination for November and a score of 15 will be required in March, 1959.

Workshop Listed Tuesday At CSTC

The Pennsylvania branch of the National Association of Secondary School Principals will sponsor a southwestern District summer workshop and discussion groups at California State Teachers college tomorrow and Wednesday.

Registration will be held at 9 a. m. tomorrow in the main hall. The keynote address at the 10 a. m. opening session will be delivered by Assemblyman Stephen McCann.

Problems to be studied by the discussion groups are: "The Place of Vocational - Industrial Education in the Comprehensive High School;" "What Are the Essential Elements for a Good Secondary School?" "Pro's and Cons of Merit Rating," and "What Should Constitute the Science Program in the Secondary Schools?"

Many Remarkable Advances Made

CSTC Industrial Arts Department Is One Of Finest, And Possibly Largest, In Country

The Industrial Arts Department at the California State Teachers College may be the largest collegiate department of its kind in the United States. For many years it has been recognized as one of the leading industrial arts departments in the country, but a recent survey of available statistics failed to disclose any surpassing it in size.

If ultimate analysis of statistics proves it to be the largest, as it now appears to be, added lustre is promised for an already nationally recognized Washington county collegiate curriculum.

Dr. S. L. Coover is the veteran director of the Industrial Arts Department. It was under his directorship that many of the remarkable advances have been made in this department of the teacher's college.

So excellent is the reputation of this department that graduates of this department in industrial arts at California are annually sought by leading industrial organizations and schools in all parts of the country.

The latest enrollment figures for the department totalled 387, according to Dr. Merrill G. Campbell, faculty member and director of publicity at the college.

Dr. Coover is recognized nationally as an authority in industrial arts. "Industrial Arts— from Boats to Telescopes" was the title of an article he wrote which was published in a recent issue of The Journal of the National Education Association.

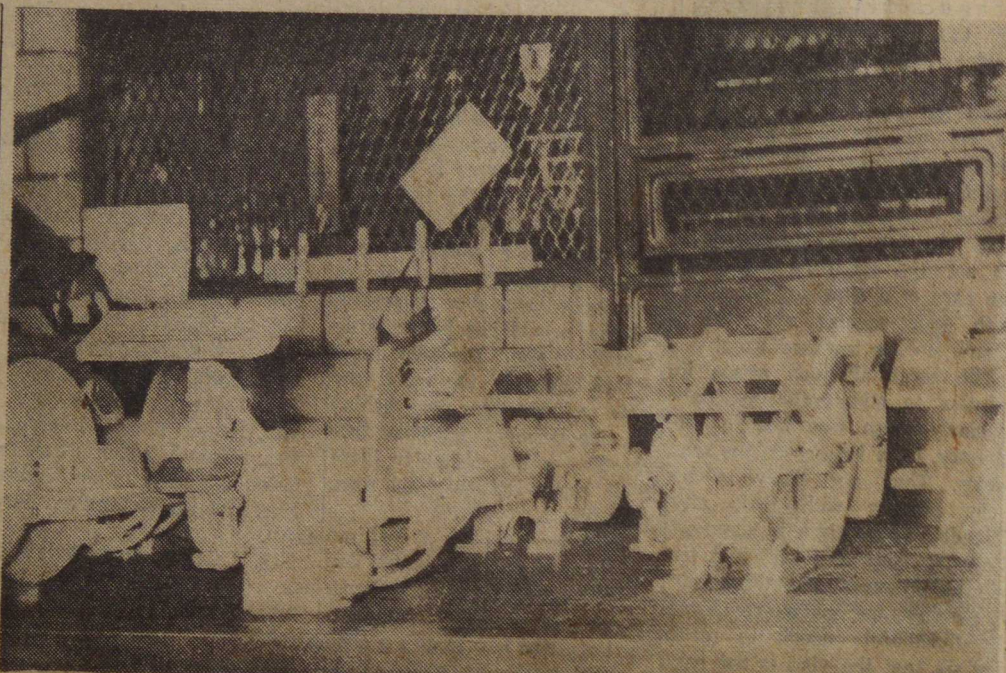

More than a decade ago Dr. Coover was granted a three-year leave of absence to make a study of the Institute of Inter-American Affairs. He was asked to serve on the commission engaged in setting up a program of secondary education in the public schools of Chile.

Anthony T. Stavaski, director of printing in the industrial arts curriculum, is currently president of the Industrial Arts Association of Pennsylvania.

Dr. Stavaski is slated to preside at the sixth annual conference of the association scheduled to be held in Hershey, Pennsylvania, Friday and Saturday, October 25 and 26, at which the general theme is to be "Industrial Arts and the Growing America."

A well-equipped printing plant is operated by the college under the foremanship of Dr. Stavaski. The plant is capable of producing both letterpress and offset printing and has mechanical typesetting facilities. Installation of a large new process camera for the making of offset plates is planned for the near future.

Much of the printing used by the college is produced in the plant. "The Industrial Arts Leader," a periodical school departmental publication, is printed here.

A new faculty member was added recently to the staff in the industrial arts curriculum. He is John McCrory, a graduate of the California State Teachers College in 1951, who headed the industrial arts department at Greenville High School prior to returning to his alma mater.

Members of the Astronomy Club recently built a twelve and one-half inch reflecting type astronomical telescope. A steel tube sixteen inches in diameter and twelve feet long was donated to the college for the telescope by the Pittsburgh Steel Company, with plants in nearby Monessen and Allenport. The weight of the finished telescope is estimated at about one-half ton and it would have cost around $2000 if purchased ready made.

It is planned to use the telescope for advanced study in science, physics and astronomy. Astronomical photography is contemplated eventually.— BY S. M. House.

Alumni Officers Of CSTC To Meet

CALIFORNIA - The executive committee of California State Teachers College Alumni Association, will meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, June 24, with committee chairmen, directors and school officers. The meeting will be held in the College Alumni Lounge.

Plans for the annual Homecoming Day, scheduled for Saturday, October 18, will be formulated. Miss Bertha McDonough, newly elected president of the association, will discuss plans for the coming biennium with other officers.

Included in the agenda will be the appointment of committee members and adoption of a budget for the new year.

CSTC Dean Author Of New English Textbook Series

Co-Authors Textbooks

Mrs. Lela T. Hamilton, Associate Professor of Education and Dean of Women at California State Teachers College, is the co-author of two new editions of junior high school textbooks published by the L. W. Singer Company. The two are part of an English series entitled "Enjoying English". The new editions are for grades 7 and 8. Mrs. Hamilton's co-worker on the books was Dr. Don M. Wolfe, Professor of English at Brooklyn College and a former teacher of high school English at Bellevue, Pennsylvania.

The new editions represent the creative cooperative effort of more than seventy teachers and supervisors. The authors believe that only the practicing classroom teacher can give the realistic help needed to build a superior textbook. These teachers helped with the organization, checked the amount of practice material, tested assignments and contributed their most successful teaching methods and devices. In addition, they made available an unlimited supply of resource materials including student themes and stories, letters, plays, charts, and activities.

Pennsylvania teachers who participated were Robert E. Cooley, Mrs. Frances Russ, Mrs. Jane Schultz, and Mrs. Marylou Strayer, Coraopolis Junior High School; Mrs. Margaret Bair and Miss Beatrice Ritzo, Forest Hills Junior High School; Mrs. Isabel C. Hixon and Charles S. McDaniel, Moon Junior-Senior High School; Miss Virginia Kerr, Oakmont

Junior High School; Miss E. Bechtel, Shaler High School and Miss Sally Lou Ammer, Westinghouse Memorial School.

Mrs. Hamilton formerly a junior high school English teacher in Lockport, New York, King of the Springs, West Virginia, is currently working on a revision of the Sixth Grade Book which will feature a number of units which have been developed in the Noss Laboratory School on the college campus. Her co-authors on the next text book will be Mary Dunn, Supervisor of Elementary Education for the town Schools, and Mrs. Ethel Howard, Supervisor of Elementary Education in the Lakeside Schools, Cleveland, Ohio.

Break Ground For CSTC Steele Auditorium Project

William Hormell, superintendent of buildings and grounds, Dr. Michael Duda, president of the college, Nick Fusco, building inspector for the General State Authority, and Gilbert Auel, partner in A. Martini and company, participate in ground breaking for the new stage and dressing rooms which will complete the Robert McCurdy Steele auditorium on the campus at California State Teachers college.

Ground was broken Monday for the construction of a stage and dressing rooms to complete the Robert McCurdy Steele Auditorium on the campus of the California State Teachers college. The major portion of the auditorium was built in 1952 and dedicated in 1953. A temporary stage was installed at that time to make the building usable for assemblies and limited programs. The addition will be built by the General State Authority at a cost of $164,238. A Martini and Company of Pittsburgh is the contractor for the general construction. Other contractors will be Leslie E. Crise of Bentleyville, heating; Coleman - Good, Inc of Pittsburgh, plumbing; and the Electric Service company of Brownsville, electric wiring. The addition is scheduled for completion by June 17, 1959.

Bids Received For New CSTC Building

HARRISBURG (UPI)—Unofficial low bids totaling $657,255 have been received by the General State Authority for construction of a new science classroom building at California State Teachers College in Washington County.

Branna Construction Corp. of Pittsburgh submitted the apparent low bid of $419,000 for general construction. Other unofficial low bidders were: Harry Dougherty and Son, Inc., Freeport, $87,255, heating; Andrew Metz Plumbing Co., Pittsburgh, $66,000, plumbing; Hiles and Lightholder, Canonsburg, $85,000, electrical work.

The new two-story building with plexi-glass dome for a 12-inch telescope for astronomy experiments, will replace an obsolete structure erected before 1890.

CSTC Plans Post Summer Classes

CALIFORNIA—A three-week post-summer session will get under way at California State Teachers college Monday, August 4, and continue through August 22. Registration for the session will be held in Herron Hall Monday, August 4, at 8 a. m. with classis starting at 11 a. m. the same day.

The summer classes are designed to aid regularly enrolled students to accelerate their college program and to help teachers-in-service who wish additional preparation or certification.

A total of thirty college courses will be offered in the three-week period. Dr. George H. Roadman, dean of instruction, has announced that additional sections of american government, general psychology, and basic biology have been organized to meet students needs. Added to the previously announced summer schedule is a course in American constitutional history. For teachers and students interested in atypical education a course in arts drafts for atypical classes has been scheduled.

GSA Bonded Debt Shown

HARRISBURG — The General State Authority made public its eighteenth semi-annual report which covers a six-month period from November 1, 1957 to the close of the fiscal year on May 31, 1958.

A. J. Caruso, Executive Director, reported assets of the Authority amounting to $346,711,108, including a net of $192,655,643 in project costs on which rental is being paid by the Commonwealth.

The Authority markets its bonds to obtain money for constructing and equipping projects requested by various Commonwealth departments and agencies. Those projects are rented by the Commonwealth on a 30-year basis.

The semi-annual report listed uncompleted direct and other project costs totaling $72,247,760; a cash fund for projects amounting to $696,622; Authority funds invested in U. S. Government securities, and interest receivable, totaling $22,353,365; an aggregate of $307,582 in operating, bond redemption and other current funds, and $3,308,470 in unamortized bond discounts.

The Authority listed eight series of bonds involving an obligation of $252,217,000; accrued interest amounting to $2,132,867; a total of $41,764,026 in commitments on contracts awards, and $22,773,521 in reserves for payment of bond principal and interest, current expenses and other requirements. The Authority has retired $27,783,000 of its bonded indebtedness to date.

The Authority listed 494 projects completed since its inception in 1949, at a cost of $192,655,643 with 55 projects under construction. The estimated cost of those projects was $102,339,052.

The report stated that the Authority has 81 projects under design or in the bidding stage, but not yet listed as under construction, with a total cost for professional fees and estimated construction cost of $101,888,402. Forty-three additional projects estimated to cost $9,022,579 have been approved.

CSTC Enrollment For Summer High

CALIFORNIA, — Final enrollment figures show 892 students enrolled for the six-week summer session on the campus at California State Teachers College. The figure represents a new high for the post-war years and is approximately two-thirds of the regular fall-spring enrollment. The summer students are participating in 86 classes ranging from Analytical Geometry to Zoology. All departments of the school are involved in the summer session with 56 members of the faculty teaching the various classes. The session will end August 1. A three-week post-summer session will open August 4.

CSTC To Get $546,000 Library

The General State Authority has approved proceeding with the preparation of plans and specifications and cost estimates for a new library to be constructed at California State Teachers college. An allocation of $546,000 has been made for the project. Notification of the approval was received by Dr. Michael Duda, president of the college, from the state superintendent of public instruction, Dr. Charles H. Boehm.

The new structure will replace the library now located in Main Hall which was constructed in 1868. Increasing enrollment in recent years has made the old structure inadequate in terms of space. The new library is part of a master plan for renovation and enlargement of teacher education facilities at the college.

CSTC Has Record Enrollment

Classes resumed today at California State Teachers college with the largest pre-summer session enrollment of post-war years. The enrollment of 718 is expected to be increased to 735 with the late registration of teachers-in-service whose school sessions will not end until later this week. This will better last years record 599 by more than twenty percent. The previous high was 557 in 1949.

School officials estimate that at least 600 of the total enrollment are regular full-time students at the college who are accelerating their graduation date by attending summer sessions. Approximately seventy percent of the students at California complete the required courses in less than four years.

CSTC Building Contracts Let

HARRISBURG, Pa. — The following contracts were awarded yesterday by the General State Authority for construction of a science building and some electrical improvements at California State Teachers' college:

General construction — Branna Construction Corp., Pittsburgh, $421,700, heating - Harry Dougherty and Sons, Inc., Freeport, $87,255; plumbing - Andrew Metz Plumbing Co., Pittsburgh, $66,000, electrical - Hiles and Lightholder, Canonsburg, $85,000.

Approve Pension For Dr. Grose

HARRISBURG, July 30 — (UPI) — The state Employees Retirement Board has approved a life-time pension of $590 a month for Dr. C. Herman Grose, former deputy superintendent of the state Public Instruction Department.

Grose, 62, retired recently after more than 33 years of Commonwealth service. Before he served as a deputy superintendent he was president of the California (Pa.) State Teachers College.

Pa. Approves Pensions For CSTC Teachers

HARRISBURG, Pa. — The State Employees Retirement board has approved pensions for E. E. Halstead, and George Harding, both of California State Teachers college.

Mr. Halstead will receive $307 a month after 35 years of service, and Mr. Harding will receive $304 per month after 31 years of service.

California Plans Steeler Welcome

Residents of nearby California are dusting off the red carpet for the Pittsburgh Steelers who'll do their pre-season training at California State Teachers College this summer.

A "Welcome Steelers" movement headed by Attorney Oliver Hormell will be given added impetus Monday night at a meeting in the Arlington Hotel in California, starting at 9 o'clock.

To Plan Program

Purpose of the meeting, explained Mr. Hormell, will be to outline plans for a royal reception and parade for the Steelers when they arrive on the CSTC campus, plus a schedule of events while the pros are going through their paces in preparation for the National Football League season.

Other members of the "Welcome Steelers" committee include Burgess Robert Conaway, Dr. Joseph Downey, Tony Saeli, John Combs, Robert Woods and Joe Goldberg.

To Assist in Project

Assisting in the project will be the Vulcan Quarterback Club of California State Teachers College and the Mon Valley Sports Writers Association which will co-promote a clinic-exhibition featuring the Steelers Thursday, Aug. 7, at the Charleroi High School Stadium.

Others interested in taking part in the promotion are invited to attend the meeting Monday night.

First Tuneup Aug. 30

Steelers Report At CSTC July 27

PITTSBURGH — It's June but already Buddy Parker, the Pittsburgh Steelers head football coach is thinking about blowing up the football.

As a matter of fact, he already has dispatched letters advising his rookies and veterans that the season is "just around the corner—and start getting in shape..."

He told his rookies to report to the Steelers' new training headquarters—California State Teachers College in California, Pa. — on Sunday, July 27th and the veterans to "arrive for the evening meal on July 29th."

"We hope to give the newcomers a brief indoctrination," Parker said, "before mixing them with the veterans. This will give us a chance to get to know them and will give them a chance to know us."

Parker said he expected to have the full compliment—60 players, the league limit—in training camp when the vets assemble. "We have a lot of problems," he continued, "but our big search will be for a good running halfback, a big blocking fullback and, possibly, an offensive end."

"Our defensive unit was one of the best—if not the best—in the league last year and, barring the unforeseen, we should be fairly fixed in that department." "Our concentration will be on the offensive unit during the first stages of practice."

The Club will remain at California until the first of September at which time it will break camp and head for the West Coast for the opening of the regular season against the San Francisco 49ers on September 28th.

Tri-State fans will get their first look at the 1958 Steelers in Pitt Stadium on Saturday, August 30th when they play the Chicago Bears in a game sponsored by Syria Temple for its Crippled Children Hospitals.

Steelers Look Over Front Page Welcome To CSTC

Four Pittsburgh Steelers look over the hometown newspaper for the California area, the Brownsville Telegraph, in front of their dormitory, Johnson hall on the California State Teachers college campus. Actually the four huskies didn't pay much attention to the front page headline welcoming them to California, or the photographer, Dan Goss, who took their picture. They had their eyes on Patricia Wasil, Telegraph assistant advertising manager. All four Steelers agreed Pattie looked Grade A in her new sack dress. Shown above are, seated, left to right, Len Dawson, quarterback; Jerry Leahy, linebacker; Standing, Bill McPeak, assistant coach; Babe Dimanancheff, assistant coach.

Pro Football Clinic-Exhibition For Fans Slated At Charleroi High Stadium Aug. 7

CHARLEROI, Pa. — Ever wonder how a pro football team is assembled for competition in the rugged National Football League?

Tri-State district fans will be given the opportunity to see first hand how the Pittsburgh Steelers are indoctrinated in the various phases of the game Thursday night, August 7, when they are featured in a unique demonstration at the Charleroi High School Stadium.

Coach Buddy Parker and his staff will put the 1958 Steelers through the mill, showing the intricacies of the multiple offensive and defensive patterns used by pro teams and how to off-set them. The clinic-like exhibition will be climaxed by an intra-squad termining which players will make the squad and which ones will not. The "study in pro football" is being co-sponsored by the Vulcan Quarterback Club of California State Teachers College and the Mon Valley Sports Writers Association. Net proceeds will be given to the Needy Student Fund of the Quarterback Club.

The appearance of the Steelers, who will train at California State Teachers College, beginning July 27th, will be preceded by an hour-long musical show and concert featuring the crack Charleroi High Band. This program will start at 7:00 p. m. The Steelers will follow at 8:00 p. m. and demonstrate their various football techniques during the regular workout.

Parker, on a recent visit to the California campus, reported that he and his aides were looking forward to his visit with the Monongahela Valley fans—"probably the most rabid football enthusiasts in the world."

Easing Restrictions On Instructors Asked

HARRISBURG (AP) — Public Instruction Department officials conceded Thursday that school code restrictions have barred some top-flight educators from state teachers college faculties. But they said the restrictions "are set up, basically, for the protection of the public."

Dr. George A. Hoffman, newly appointed deputy superintendent of public instruction, and Dr. Carl E. Seifert, also a deputy superintendent, discussed particularly the requirement that any faculty member of a state teachers college have at least two years experience teaching in public secondary or primary school.

Dr. Hoffman said "there is no question" that the 14 teachers colleges have missed getting some able professors because of the restrictions.

"The argument in favor of the restriction is that teachers colleges are designed primarily for preparing teachers," Hoffman said.

"It has been the feeling that faculty members should have some experience in public schools."

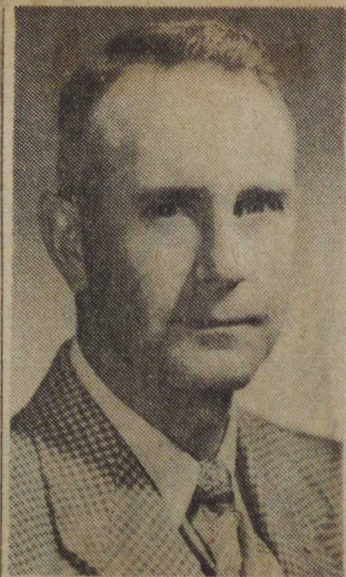

Opponents contend that the emphasis should be on subject matter, not technique. In most cases, they added, it is not feasible for a college teacher, particularly one of higher faculty rank, to turn back to teach two years of secondary or primary school at the beginner's pay in order to be eligible for a Pennsylvania state teachers college post.

Seifert agreed that the restriction occasionally costs the teachers colleges a top instructor. He added, however, that the restrictions "are desirable in most cases."

Hoffman added that there is a trend toward liberalizing the restrictions, set up by legislative action, to allow the colleges to determine their own requirement.

ACCEPTS APPOINTMENT —

Dr. R. W. Shackelford, professor of Industrial Arts at California State Teachers College, accepted an appointment to the faculty of San Francisco State College, San Francisco, Calif. He will teach graduate and undergraduate professional courses in industrial arts education. Dr. Shackelford, a native of Iowa and a graduate of Simpson College, Indianola, Iowa; Colorado State University, and the University of Florida, will assume his new duties in September.

CSTC To Begin Session Aug. 4

CALIFORNIA. — A three-week post-summer session will get under way at California State Teachers College Monday, August 4, and continue through August 22. Registration for the session will be held in Herron Hall Monday, August 4, at 8 a.m. with classes starting at 11 a.m. the same day.

The summer classes are designed to aid regularly enrolled students to accelerate their college program and to help teachers-in-service who wish additional preparation or certification.

A total of thirty college courses will be offered in the three-week period. Dr. George H. Roadman, Dean of Instruction, has announced that additional sections of American Government, General Psychology, and Basic Biology have been organized to meet students needs. Added to the previously announced summer schedule is a course in American Constitutional History. For teachers and students interested in Atypical Education a course in Arts Crafts for Atypical Classes has been scheduled.

The California Rotary club last night heard Ted Nemeth, head football coach at California State Teachers College, speak on the bright prospects of his team for the new season.

Louis Crawford presided at the meeting. Rex Loder, Johnsonburg was a visiting Rotarian.

CSTC President To Address Schoolmen

Dr. Michael Duda, President of the California State Teachers College, will address the annual conference of the Pennsylvania School Directors Association at their annual banquet Saturday, July 26. The conference is being held at Indiana State Teachers College July 25, 26 and 27 for the discussion of current school problems.

The group will hear a number of leading State educators during the session. Included in the program is entertainment by the Indiana Summer Theater Guild and a Sunday morning worship service at the College's Flagstone Theater.

Conaway Given College Position

Mr. Conaway

Son Of Burgess To Teach At Mansfield

Dr. Lewis W. Rathgeber, president of Mansfield State Teachers college, today announced the appointment of Joseph E. Conaway California, son of Burgess and Mrs. Robert Conaway, as an assistant professor of speech.

Mr. Conaway was graduated from California State Teachers college with a B. S. degree in speech and social studies and earned an M. A. degree in speech at the Pennsylvania State university.

A graduate teaching assistant at Penn State from 1955 to 1957, Mr. Conaway has experience in summer stock acting and directing, and has taught speech at Charleroi high school and East Liverpool, O., high school.

CSTC Has Record Summer Enrollment

Final enrollment figures show 892 students enrolled for the six-week summer session on the campus at California State Teachers college. The figure represents a new high for the post-war years and is approximately two-thirds of the regular fall-spring enrollment. The summer students are participating in 86 classes ranging from analytical geometry to zoology. All departments of the school are involved in the summer session with 56 members of the faculty teaching the various classes. The session will end on August 1st. A three-week post-summer session will open on August 4th.

Geography Group Plans CSTC Meet

Washington County Session Is Held

WASHINGTON, Pa. —The Washington County Geography Study group discussed many important items of interest at its cabinet meeting held Tuesday. The theme chosen for the 1958-59 agenda of the Study group's sessions was "Testing and Evaluating."

Arrangements were set for the annual Geography Workshop; the sessions will be held Saturday, September 13, at State Teachers college, California from 9 a.m. until noon. Registration will be from 9-9:30, followed by a general assembly. At that time Dr. Thomas Gilland will present an analysis of the theme, "Testing and Evaluating". The analysis will be illustrated and will emphasize "evaluating."

Immediately after Dr. Gilland's address, group sessions will meet. Specific criteria for each grade level will be demonstrated and discussed. Those who wish individual information on expression work may, upon request, have an afternoon meeting made available.

New geography text books, new maps and globes, and other new materials adhering to the modern trend in geography education will be on display.

Other interesting events brought to the group's attention were The National Council of Geography Teachers meeting in New York city Friday and Saturday, November 28-29; the geography exhibit at The Buhl planetarium, Pittsburgh, January 26 through February 13, 1959; and the possibility of a Washington county geography expression work exhibit in the spring of 1959.

Cabinet members attending Tuesday evening's meeting were Lawrence Sutherland, Assistant County Superintendent of Schools, Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Gilland, Allene Walker, president. Dr. Frank Naylor, Dr. Jacob Burkey, Camille Ammons, Chester Bailey, Mary Kuzepka, Mary DeCarlo, Eugenia Baxter, and Louise Fischer. The next Cabinet meeting will be held Thursday evening, September 18, 1958, the place to be announced at a later date.

California Plans Post Summer Term

CALIFORNIA, Pa., July 31—A three-week post-summer session will get under way at California State Teachers College on Monday, August 4th and continue through August 22nd. Registration for the session will be held in Herron Hall on Monday, August 4th, at 8:00 a. m. with classes starting at 11:00 a. m. the same day. The summer classes are designed to aid regularly enrolled students to accelerate their college program and to help teachers-in-service who wish additional preparation or certification.

A total of thirty college courses will be offered in the three-week period. Dr. George H. Roadman, Dean of Instruction, has announced that additional sections of American Government, General Psychology, and Basic Biology have been organized to meet student needs. Added to the previously announced summer schedule is a course in American Constitutional History. For teachers and students interested in Atypical education a course in Arts Crafts for Atypical Classes has been scheduled.

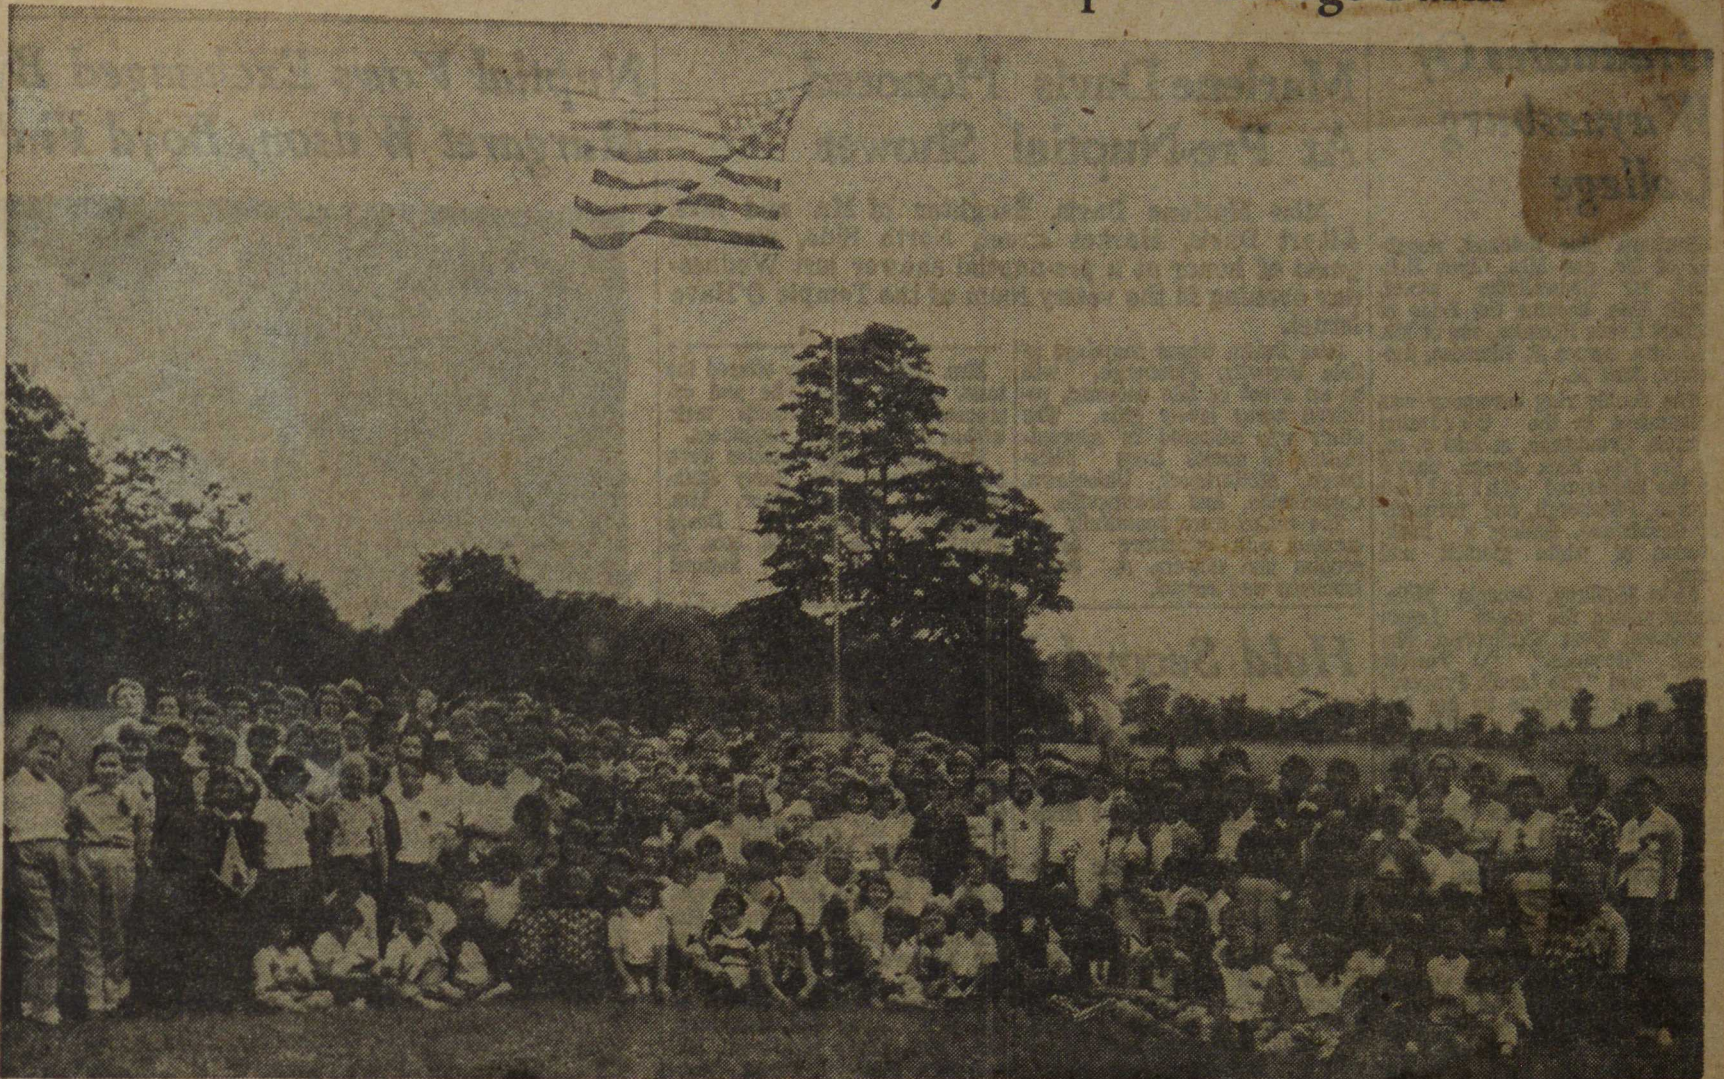

A banner crowd is expected at the Charleroi high school stadium tomorrow night when Coach Buddy Parker unveils his 1958 Pittsburgh Steelers in an intra-squad contest . . . Preceding the study in football as the "big boys" play it will be an hour-long musical show featuring the crack Charleroi high school band . . . The football clinic will show how Coach Parker and his assistants put the Steelers through their multiple variations of offensive and defensive plays, climaxed by an intra-squad game as the veterans and rookies battle for the 35 places on the squad . . . District fans will see such stars as Earl Morrall, Billy Wells, Gary Glick, Len Dawson, Tank Younger, Ray Mathews, Dale Dodrill, Dale Atkeson, Jack Butler, Frank Varrichione, Dick Young, Ed Sears, Jerry Leahy and many others in action . . . Tickets are on sale at $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

California Girl Scouts, Brownies Hold Day Camp At College Farm

Above are 155 Girl Scouts and Brownies and 53 leaders and assistant leaders who participated in a week's day camp at the California State Teachers college farm, Route 88, between Brownsville and California.

The camp was conducted under the direction of Helen Rapp who served as director and Mrs. Madeline Proctor, who was the supervisor. Arts and crafts instruction, cookouts, hikes, nature study, development of Scouting skills made up the week's program. A junior group of 14 Scouts spent two nights at the farm in a "sleep out." Friday, Dr. Michael Duda, president of the college, and Dr.

George Roadman, dean of instruction, visited the camp and were high in their praise for its operation. The day came close Friday evening with a basket picnic for the girls and their parents and a campfire. Dramatics groups presented skits. Hundreds of items of handicraft work also were on display.

Press day was on tap at the Pittsburgh Steeler camp at California State Teachers college Wednesday with photographers from Pittsburgh and district papers getting their fill of photos . . . The "Welcome Steeler" committee also tossed a luncheon for the Press and Steeler officials at St. Thomas Aquinas R. C. church in California . . . Members of the committee include Attorney Oliver Hornell, Burgess Bob Conway, Dr. Joseph Downey, Bob Wood, John Combs, Tony Saeli and Joe Goldberg . . . Already approximately 10,000 fans have watched the Steelers go through their drills at CSTC.

Billy Wells, veteran Steeler halfback, will soon be seen in a movie, "Snob Hill" which features Debbie Reynolds . . . Wells is an actor during the off season and the ex-Michigan State flash has a bit in the movie . . . The Slo-Pitch Softball league will play an all star game Sunday at the Richeyville field . . . Manager Jack Parr of the Allison team in the County league had his biggest day at the plate last evening when he blasted two homers against Smock . . . Already 777,276 fans have watched the Pirates in action in 49 home games . . . The attendance is approximately 200,000 over last year.

Big fellow in white on opposing side is George Tarasovic, a defensive end who is also a linebacker.

Parker Sends Steeler Rookies Through Early Drills At CSTC

Workouts were limited to calisthenics today for the advanced guard of Pittsburgh Steelers at the new training camp at California State Teachers college.

Quarterbacks limbered up pitching arms and halfbacks practiced side-stepping maneuvers.

Pads will be donned for more strenuous workouts Sunday. The only practice session tomorrow will be held at 10 a. m.

Two drills are slated daily during the week with Coach Buddy Parker announcing that the morning session will start at 10 and the afternoon session at 3:30.

Assistant Coach Bill McPeak was the official greeter when the squad of mostly rookies arrived in camp late yesterday afternoon.

Parker announced that the initial scrimmage session will be held on Tuesday.

Many of the recruits will be sent home after the Tuesday scrimmage as the veterans are slated to arrive in camp Tuesday afternoon.

Only a handful of veterans arrived in camp yesterday with the rookies. Among the vets were Quarterbacks Earl Morrall, Len Dawson and Jack Kemp, Halfbacks Richie McCabe and Gene Cichowski and Linebacker Jerry Leahy.

Among the highly touted rookies in camp are Aurelius Thomas, All American guard from Ohio State; Dick Lasse, outstanding end from Syracuse and George Volkert, crack halfback from Georgia Tech.

Complete Steeler roster in camp follows:

ENDS — Dick Lasse, Syracuse; Larry Aldrich, Idaho; Mike Henry, USC; Tom Miner, Tulsa; Hal Smich, UCLA; Dean Akin, Jacksonville State; Don Bishop, Los Angeles C. C.; Joe Childress, N. E. Louisiana State; Jon Evans, Oklahoma A. & M.; Gene Keady, Kansas State; Tom Torian, Tenn. A. & I.

TACKLES — Evert Jones, Utah; Bill Schmitt, Pitt; Jack Muldowney, Dayton, Joe Lewis, Compton College.

GUARD — Aurelius Thomas, Ohio State; Kenneth Deason, E. Texas State.

CENTERS — Dick Campbell, Marquette; Dick Gaspari, George Washington.

QUARTERBACKS — Earl Morrall, Len Dawson, Jack Kemp.

HALFBACKS — Gene Cichowski, Maurice Mosley, no college; Bill Zador, Drexel Tech.

FULLBACKS — Allen Cann, Syracuse; George Kom, Idaho State; Ed Sears, Florida.

Among the early arrivals at California State Teachers college yesterday afternoon with the Pittsburgh Steelers was Tom Miner, outstanding field goal and extra point kicker in the Canadian league the past two seasons. A graduate

Steeler Rookies Like CSTC Camp

CALIFORNIA, Pa. (AP)—Rookies are amazed and pleased with the college atmosphere at the National Football League training camp of the Pittsburgh Steelers.

The club is training at the state teachers college in this Washington County town and Coach Buddy Parker makes first year men sing their school songs at mealtime.

One player, who was in another NFL camp last year, praised the set-up, saying:

"Veteran players last year wouldn't even speak to me for the first two weeks. It made things miserable for us. I may not make this team but I'll be rooting for them anyway."

Coach Buddy Parker and the entire Pittsburgh Steeler family are high in their praise of the fans in the district . . . "I've never seen fans like in the Monongahela valley", Parker told a group as he viewed the 5,000 fans at the Steeler scrimmage Saturday afternoon . . . Officials of the Steelers have never seen crowds attending practice sessions like the valley fans at the CSTC training site . . . Parker went on to say that the fans will be rewarded with a real ball game Thursday night when the Steelers stage an intra-squad game at the Charleroi high school stadium . . . Tickets are on sale at $1 for adults and 50 cents for students with all the proceeds to go to the Vulcan Quarterback Club of California State Teachers college and the Mon-Valley Sports Writers association.

Far Cry From Good Old Days

Steeler Clinic Here to Point Up Progress of Pro Football

Time was when professional football was considered an inelegant sport in some quarters but not any more.

A far cry from the so-called good old days, the game has progressed by leaps and bounds and acquired so much dignity that it now ranks as one of America's favorite pastimes.

Football At Its Best

That's why tri-state district fans will be seeing football at its best come August 7 when the Pittsburgh Steelers stage a unique clinic-exhibition at the Charleroi High School Stadium.

Pro football had its inception at the turn of the century in nearby Latrobe and started to pick up momentum during the roaring 20's when such pioneers as the Canton Bulldogs, Massillon Tigers, Portsmouth, Ohio, Carlisle Indians, Chicago Bears and Green Bay Packers started blazing the trail.

Game Polished Up

But it wasn't until the early 30's that the game "graduated" from the knock-'em-down, drag-'em-out class to a more dignified level, with scholarly collegians adding science and poise to it with each passing year.

Today, pro football is considered the leading form of entertainment in its field.

The intricacies of the game will be exhibited and explained in detail as coach Buddy

Parker and his aides put the Steelers through their paces in the clinic-exhibition which will be climaxed with a 46-minute intra-squad scrimmage.

The main course will be served at 8 o'clock, preceded by an hour-long musical entree featuring the Charleroi High Marching Band.

Tix On Sale Here

Tickets are selling now for the pre-season attraction and can be purchased in Charleroi at Dub's Cigar Store, Hilltop A. C., Police Dept., and Wellington Hotel.

78 High Schools Invited To Steeler Clinic Here

Calling all tri-state high school football coaches and their squads!

Here's an opportunity to see how the "big boys" play the game when the Pittsburgh Steelers stage a unique clinic-exhibition Thursday, August 7th, at the Charleroi High School Stadium.

The football show gets underway at 8 o'clock and will be preceded by an hour-long marching drill and concert featuring the stellar Charleroi High School Marching Band.

So that schoolboy gridders in the district will be given a chance to see how the pros operate, the sponsoring Vulcan Quarterback Club of California State Teachers College, where the Steelers will do their pre-season training, and the Mon Valley Sports Writers Association have established special squad prices for the novel demonstration.

Seventy-eight high school grid coaches in the tri-state area have been contacted by officials in charge of the clinic-exhibition, which will be climaxed by a forty-five minute intra-squad scrimmage, to attend the event for educational reasons.

Coach Buddy Parker and his six-man staff will put the squad through its various offensive and defensive maneuvers on the field and the commentary will be given by a well-known pro football personality.

Tickets for the clinic-exhibition are on sale now and can be purchased at Dub's Cigar Store, Police Dept., Hilltop A. C. and Wellington Hotel in Charleroi.

A HARD-BOILED COACH SMILED yesterday as neighborhood boys gathered for the opening of the Steelers' training camp at California State Teachers College.

And what'd the boys want? Just the autograph of Buddy Parker, who's starting his first full season as coach of the Steelers. (Story on Page 3.)

Starting 23rd Season

Joe Tucker to Warm Up Doing Steeler Clinic-'Game' Here

When it comes to pro football, few sportscasters are as well versed as Joe Tucker on the subject.

That's why the veteran Pittsburgh announcer will be right at home when he does the commentary for the Pittsburgh Steelers' unique clinic-exhibition Thursday, August 7, at the Charleroi High School Stadium.

In 23rd Year

Often referred to as the "Voice of the Steelers," Tucker is starting his 23rd year as play-by-play announcer for Steeler games. He started in 1936, three years after the Steelers obtained a franchise in the National Football League, and has been at it ever since.

He also does telecasts of Steeler away games.

A native Canadian—he was born Dec. 23, 1910 in Saskatchewan—the 48-year-old Tucker came to Pittsburgh in 1928 and ranks as one of the leading sportscasters in the country. He does a daily sports show for WWSW and telecasts for KDKA-TV and has described practically every sport worth airing for upseen sports audience.

Has Three Children

Happily married the past 23 years, he is the father of three children, Murray, 18, a sophomore at Oberlin (O.) College; Bob, 21, a Pitt graduate and Phi Beta Kappa studying law, and Lynn, 12. His hobbies are horse racing and golf (he's a 10-handicapper).

Tucker will introduce the Steelers and coach Buddy Parker's coaching staff, as well as describe the various maneuvers which the players will go through during the clinic. A 45-minute intrasquad "game" will climax the show, which is co-sponsored by the Vulcan Quarterback Club of California State Teachers College and the Mon Valley Sports Writers Association.

The stellar Charleroi High School Marching Band will perform before the football demonstration comes off at 8 o'clock.

Tickets for the clinic exhibition are on sale now and can be purchased at Dub's Cigar Store, Hilltop Athletic Club, Wellington Hotel and the Police Dept. in Charleroi. Adult tickets are $1.00 and children will be admitted for 50 cents.

Only One-Third Of Colleges Crowded; Others Seek Students

NEW YORK — (UPI) — Educational snobbery is becoming a major headache to the nation's colleges and universities.

Educators complain it is helping to create a mistaken idea that most institutions of higher learning are jammed and turning last June's high school graduates away in droves.

Nothing could be further from the truth, educators report.

Much publicity has been given to the fact that Harvard and Vassar, Smith and Yale, Princeton and Wellesley, Stanford, MIT, Caltech and a number of other top-drawer schools are full.

But at the same time, classroom facilities have been going begging in hundreds of less famous college and universities, according to reports from United Press International bureaus across the country.

Of the nation's 1,800 public and private colleges and universities, only 60 to 70 actually could hang out standing room only signs tomorrow, said a spokesman for one of the nation's largest private schools, New York University.

"Many of the others are scratching around to find good, qualified students," he said.

Hardest hit have been the small, privately supported colleges whose existences depend in large measure on tuition. Even NYU, where tuitions make up about 44 per cent of the total income, was 1,200 tuitions short last year.

Arthur E. Traxler, executive director of The Education Records Bureau, an independent organization, said one major reason for the erroneous impression that all colleges are overcrowded is a strong feeling along the eastern seaboard that a first-rate college education is available only in about 15 or 20 top independent liberal arts colleges and universities.

"Administrators, teachers and counlors in many secondary schools often seem to share the opinion that a small, highly selected group of colleges does a far better job of preparing young people for successful and useful life careers than do the more than 1,000 other four-year colleges in the United States," he reported to the College Entrance Examination Board.

Educators said some of today's vacancies are a result of the low depression birth rate of the 1930's. Another factor cited was the fact that many schools are "tooling up" for the 1960's, when they will be swamped with the bumper crop of World War II babies.

"The talk about overcrowding of colleges refers to 1960, and not 1958," said Dr. Carroll V. Newsum, president of NYU. "Any student who can do the work will be able to enter the college in the fall of 1958."

The New York State Commission on Non-Tax Supported Colleges and Universities reported studies indicate that 57 non-tax supported college and universities in the state could have admitted 22,000 more full time undergraduates last year.

Charles D. O'Connell, University of Chicago admission director, supported the New York findings. He said his school could take additional well-qualified students, but he gave no figure. One of Chicago's problems, he said, is a shortage of dormitory space.

O'Connell said there is "great pressure" on about 40 colleges, most of them in the east, while many others across the country "go begging."

The Associated Colleges of Illinois, an organization that seeks financial aid for 24 small liberal arts colleges, reported that classroom space for about 2,000 additional students is going to waste in these schools, largely because of a shortage of dormitories. A drive is under way to raise funds for living quarters at such colleges at Knox, Lake Forest and Monmouth, the association said.

Colorado College at Colorado Springs had 960 full-time undergraduates last year and expects about 1,000 next semester but could handle 150 more men.

Baptist-supported Wake Forest College, at Winston Salem, N. C., said it has been turning down women applicants since March, when the co-ed quota was filled, but "we'd be happy to hear from well-qualified males."

Other church-supported schools also are having enrollment problems, according to a spokesman for the National Council of Churches. He said many of the nation's 250 fully church-operated schools could handle larger student bodies.

Hollace G. Roberts, admissions director of Western Reserve University at Cleveland, said:

"Our enrollment is higher, but we could use more students this year. We're not turning people

Fayette City Native, Perryopolis Pastor, Awarded Scholarship

The Rev. James E. Ridgway has accepted a one year scholarship to do advanced research in Hellenistic culture at Hebrew Union College Jewish Institute of Religion in Cincinnati, Ohio. He will be one of eight Christian scholars doing advanced study at the institution.

Mr. Ridgway received his high school education at Charleroi and graduated from California State Teachers College with a bachelors degree in education. He received his Divinity Degree from Garrett Biblical Institute, the Graduate School of Theology of Northwestern University, and has studied in the German and French languages at the graduate school of the University of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Ridgway, an ordained member of the Pittsburgh Conference, is the son of Mrs. Walter

N. Ridgway of Fayette City.

For the past two years he has been pastor of the Perryopolis Methodist charge which includes the Perryopolis, Layton and Fairview Methodist churches. Under his pastorate many fine accomplishments have been realized outstanding among them being: a new roof, organ and chimes in Perryopolis, redecoration of sanctuary and Sunday school rooms at Layton and Fairview and the inauguration of a new financial program in the three churches. Church attendance has more than doubled and membership has grown in the charge.

Mr. Ridgway will preach his farewell sermon on Aug 31, on the subject "The Sojourners." He will serve as minister at large in the Ohio Conference and is expected to assume his new duties around September 22.

For Rookies Only

Steelers Stage First Workout

The Pittsburgh Steelers start their weeding-out process today when a crop of 40 rookies begin workouts at nearby California State Teachers College.

Initial drills usually include limbering up exercises and calisthenics, but coach Buddy Parker hinted that head-bumping sessions will also be on the bill of fare as the two-a-day schedule gets under way.

"All we're going to do now," said Parker, explaining the purpose of the rookie camp, "is to find out which of these guys can play football."

"We're not going to try to teach any football in this period," he said. "We're just going to weed out the boys who don't belong. By the time the veterans start working, every rookie who's still on the squad will have a chance to make the team."

"We're not going to waste time on boys who have no possible chance of making the team," Parker said. "We'll get rid of them right away."

Parker wouldn't venture a guess as to how many of the 40 rookie candidates will still be around at that time.

A full-scale scrimmage on Tuesday will climax the early drills.

Assistant Coach Bill McPeak was the official greeter when the squad of mostly rookies arrived in camp Friday.

Parker spent most of his time with his coaching staff and quarterbacks Earl Morrall, Len Dawson and Jack Kemp.

STEELER SNACKS: Nearly 100 district fans were on hand to greet the rookies who are quartered in Johnson Hall, adjacent to CSTC athletic field . . . Acting as camp registrar is Tim Rooney, 20-year-old son of Steeler "piez" Art Rooney. He attends Duquesne U. . .

—First arrivals: Joe Lewis, 6-3, 240-pound tackle from Compton Junior College in Los Angeles; halfback-end Leon Johnson from Tennessee A & I; halfback Maurice Mosely, 6-1, 205 pound non-collegian from San Pedro, Calif. . .

—Hugh "Welcome Steelers" signs greeted rookie crop in quiet, rustic California—overhead and on street corners. Each intersection also had huge football painted white as markers to campsite . . .

—And California High latched on to a good one when they named Bob Dolan, ex-Charleroi High gridder who also played at California Teachers, an assistant to football boss Mitch Bailey. . .

—Dolan, who graduated from CHS in 1948 and teaches math, joins Jim Underwood and John Kupets as Trojan aides, with Larry Papini giving up football to become head baseball coach. Papini succeeds Don Cornell who is slated for an administrative post in California Community schools.

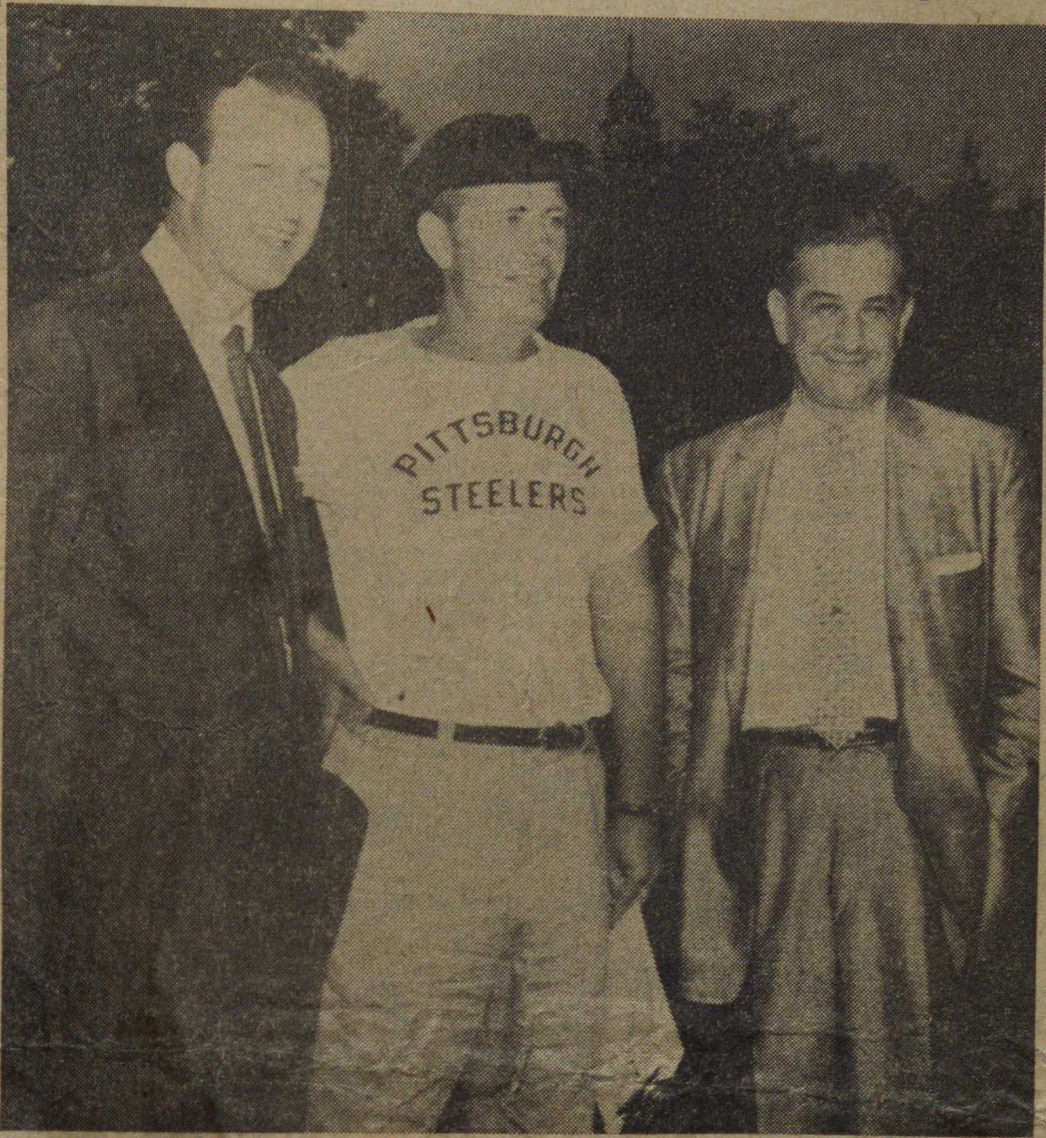

—By the way, Dolan, an up-and-coming Man Valley grid official, and Bailey are products of nearby Roscoe. . .

—Which reminds us, Steeler owner Art Rooney and several members of the coaching staff and playing personnel, will be special guests at a Holy Name Society Communion Breakfast at St. Joseph's R. C. Church in Roscoe this Sunday. . .

—The breakfast will follow the 8 a. m. Mass and will be held in the basement of the church. Father John Fitzgerald, a native Pittsburgher who's well acquainted with Mr. Rooney, completed arrangements for the affair and is looking for a banner turnout—at Mass and breakfast. . .

THE NEXT TEN YEARS

The Seventh Annual Conference of the Department of Higher Education was held November 8 and 9 at the Holiday Motor Hotel, Mechanicsburg, R. D., Pennsylvania. Approximately one hundred delegates representing institutions of higher learning throughout the state were in attendance. The theme of the four sessions of the conference was "A Bold Look at Post High School Education in the Next Decade".

Dr. John C. Hoshauer, President of the Department of Higher Education, opened the conference Friday morning and presented the program for each day's sessions. After preliminary remarks, the president presented John H. Ferguson, Co-chairman of the Governor's Commission on Higher Education who gave the keynote address.

Need Stressed For State Support

Dr. Ferguson reviewed the current program for higher education as outlined by the Department of Public Instruction. The main features of this program embrace three proposals: (1) scholarships approximating 20,000 for undergraduate students; (2) student loans, mostly for graduate students; and (3) authorization for the establishment of junior colleges by first and second class school districts as well as county school boards. The speaker emphasized the great need for the commonwealth to assume a leading role in support of higher education at the state level.

Dr. Ferguson proceeded to give a brief resume of Governor Leader's action in presenting the above program to the legislature with the latter body deferring decision until a future date. However it is planned to introduce substantially the same program at the next session of the legislature.

The speaker concluded his address with a detailed summary of Pennsylvania's position among the states for financial support of higher education and again emphasized the urgency for the state government to assume a greater responsibility for financial support.

The second session of the conference was held Friday afternoon and the speaker was Dr. Clifford Hooker, from the University of Pittsburgh. He spoke on the topic "A Bold Look at Research in Post High School" and challenged the delegates with a series of proposals designed to increase graduate research and make it more affective.

Government and Private Funds Necessary

The speaker suggested that greater effort be expended to secure capable graduate students to assist regular college staff members so the latter may have more freedom and time for research and writing activities. He spoke of the too frequent attitude of foundations giving grants with too many restrictions. In order to ameliorate this condition, he stressed the need for unrestricted grants from government and private sources if any desirable and rapid growth is to take place in research.

One phase of research that Dr. Hooker expressed as essential was the establishment of a research staff in institutions of higher learning whose duty it would be to: (1) evaluate the quality and validity of existing courses being offered, (2) determine optimum class size for most efficient teaching, and (3) determine the best methodology for the courses taught.

Stinnett Dinner Speaker

The third session of the conference was the dinner meeting where the delegates socialized around the dinner table and related many of their professional experiences and problems. The speaker for this occasion was Dr. Thomas M. Stinnett, Executive Secretary, National Commission on Teacher Education and Professional Standards.

In keeping with his reputation, Dr. Stinnett delivered an outstanding address, taking for his subject "No Hiding Place". The philosophy he chose to convey to the delegates was one of pressing responsibility to provide an opportunity to obtain a higher education for individuals with ability and desire. This responsibility he laid at the door-step of the American Public. "The American Public must re-examine the values of life," he said. Pressures of world affairs are forcing changes on college traditions and, under any circumstances, capable students are entitled to post high school education.

The delegates convened Saturday morning for the final session. The speaker was Dr. Theodore Distler, Executive Secretary, Association of American Colleges, who spoke on the topic "A Bold Look at Support in Post High School Education in the Next Decade."

Many Sources For Support

The speaker, while not negating the effectiveness and need for financial support from state and federal government, reminded the delegates of the necessity of obtaining financial support from other sources as well. He expressed the belief that a combination of sources would be most desirable. Dr. Distler challenged the group to carefully examine existing policies regarding sources of college finances and discussed approaches and several areas where additional funds might be available.

The Seventh Annual Conference was concluded in a brief summary session by Dr. Walter A. Sauvain of Bucknell University. Dr. Sauvain expertly epitomized the important features of the sessions and the conference as a whole.

RESEARCH

Dr. Catherine Keever of Millersville S. T. C. has recently made an extensive investigation for the National Science Foundation in collaboration with Dr. Elsie Quarterman of Vanderbilt University.

The research entitled "Establishment of Grimmia Laevigata on Bare Granite" was a problem to determine the ecological position of a certain kind of hardwood forest in the pine belt of the coastal plain of the southern states. The investigation is significant as it relates to the conservation of pine forests, which are considered to be more valuable than hardwood. The core of the research was the determination of the type of hardwoods that would eventually replace pines.

The team of researchers traveled over 7000 miles in the states of South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, and the eastern part of Texas, searching for hardwood forest stands and making preliminary studies of them.

Drs. Keever and Quarterman expect to continue their study during the summer of 1958 with the expectation of publishing their findings in 1959.

Dr. George B. Lewis of Clarion S. T. C. is again preparing a compilation of research studies that have recently been made or are being made by faculty personnel of institutions of higher learning in the state of Pennsylvania.

This bulletin will be circulated by Dr. Lewis at a meeting of the Higher Education Department of P. S. E. A. at its annual convention in Harrisburg December 26 to 28.

CONFERENCES

California S. T. C. was host to a Teenage Traffic Safety Conference held Tuesday, November 12th on the local campus. This gathering was one of a series of statewide meetings sponsored by the Department of Public Instruction on the theme "Traffic Safety for All Teenagers".

Raymond Pecuch, Instructor of Driver Education and Safety, served as chairman and Duane O. Lacock, State Trooper from the Washington Barracks, acted as consultant. Adult advisors from participating groups were the driver education teachers that accompanied the students to the conference.

The conference consisted of a general assembly held in Steele Auditorium, discussion groups, and a luncheon in the Georgian Dining Room of the college. The discussion groups met to consider the following eight questions: (1) What part can the high school play in this matter? (2) Does the press do the teenage driver justice? (3) Are teenage traffic safety conferences worthwhile? (4) What are some ways to follow-up the resolutions drawn by a teenage traffic safety conference? (5) How can mutual understanding between law enforcement officers and teenage drivers on safe driving be developed? (6) Should there be a separate traffic court for teenage drivers with a specially trained judge? (7) Do turnpike or expressway highways minimize driving fatigue? (8) Will President Eisenhower's new highway expansion program reduce or raise the accident rate on our highways?

Another of the Teen-Age Traffic Safety Conferences was held on the campus of the state teachers college at East Stroudsburg, Tuesday, November 12. This conference was the fourth in as many years especially designed to meet many of the problems faced by the driver in our contemporary society.

The teen-agers came from the counties in the service area of the college and represented a cross-section of the youth that drive our modern vehicles today. Dr. Leroy J. Koehler, President of the college opened the conference with a welcoming greeting to be followed by Mr. Richard Bullock, Pocono Township High School, who announced the theme "Traffic Safety for All Teen-Agers — Back the Attack on Traffic Accidents in Every Way Possible."

Mr. James M. Heller, Department of Highway Safety Education, Liberty High School, Bethlehem, Pa., gave the keynote address "How to Reach More People for Traffic Safety". After the main address, the attendants to the conference separated into four groups to consider specific phases of traffic safety.

The afternoon session consisted of an appropriate movie, group discussions, decision meetings, and a panel discussion and forum.

The local program was planned and administered by Mr. Howard R. DeNike, Associate Professor of Health and Physical Education at the college. The Male Chorus of the college, under the direction of Mr. Wilfred G. Clelland, Associate Professor of Music, provided several musical selections.

Shippensburg S. T. C. was the scene of a Mental Health Conference Monday and Tuesday November 18 and 19 on its campus. The conference was well attended by faculty and students. Teachers in the area served by the college were special guests.

The featured speaker of the conference was Dr. Dana L. Farnsworth, Director of Health Service at Harvard University.

"Evaluation in the Elementary School" was the theme adopted at a recent In-Service Teachers Conference held on the campus at Kutztown S.T.C. Mr. George D. Weiss, Director of the Campus Elementary School, headed the planning committee for the function. Program speakers were: Dr. Genevieve Bowen, Elementary Curriculum Consultant, D. P. I.; Dr. Howard Lane, Professor of Education at New York University; and Dr. James F. Baker, Director of Harvard-Boston University Extension Courses.

The conference staged a demonstration for each grade in the elementary school and conducted three discussion groups where class piano, art and library services were considered as they relate to elementary education.

A regional Teen-Age Safety Conference for over one hundred young people from high schools in the nine county areas was held at Lock Haven S. T. C. Saturday November 8. Mr. Ernest I. Schrot, Instructor in Safety Education at the college was in charge of the conference.

Kutztown S. T. C. held its nineteenth annual Art Conference on the college campus October 25 and 26. The theme of the conference was "Communication In and Through Art". Guest speakers were Dr. Jack Arends, Associate Professor of Art Education at Columbia University; Dr. Raymond Stites, Curator of Education at the National Gallery of Art; and Mary A. McKibbin, Director of Art in the public schools of Pittsburgh.

Dr. Italo L. deFrancesco, Director of Art Education at Kutztown chaired the conference assisted by students majoring in art, who conducted demonstrations in various media and presented new techniques of teaching on various levels of the public schools.

A Social Studies Workshop Seminar was held on the campus at California S. T. C. Thursday November 14. Social Studies teachers from counties in the adjacent areas were invited to attend this conference, the first in a series of such meetings.

Dr. George S. Hart, Head of the Social Studies Division, announced the theme, "Local Resources in the Teaching of History" as the focal point of the series. Dr. Phil R. Jack was chairman of the workshop and authored the research material which served as the basis for the sessions. Others of the local faculty and members of the Social Studies division who served as group discussion leaders were: Dr. Malverne Wolf, Dr. John Keller, Dr. George Roadman, and William Hepner.

Over one hundred art teachers and supervisors attended the Annual Art Conference at Edinboro October 31, along with one hundred fifty high school art students. Separate programs were provided for teachers and pupils. Edinboro art majors performed demonstrations in commercial art, drawing and lettering, pottery, jewelry crafts, and painting.

The featured speakers of the conference were: Dr. David Lehman, Art Specialist of the D. P. I. and Dr. Harold J. Brenner, Rochester Institute of Technology.

LOOKING AHEAD

Lock Haven S. T. C. is presently planning "An Institute for International Relations" to be conducted during the summer of 1958.

Dr. Paul Bernstein, Professor of Social Studies, will be administrator of the institute and has announced that resource personnel from Israeli, Egypt, and Turkey, will be on the institute staff. Other experts expected to participate are: a representative from the Russian Institute of Columbia or Harvard Universities, a representative from the United States Department of State, and a representative from the Coal and Steel Commission.

It is planned to hold daily sessions of the institute for one and one-half hours during the main session of the summer school. The institute will carry three semester hours credit.

The Pennsylvania State Education Association holds its annual convention in Harrisburg, December 26 through December 28. The theme of the convention this year is adopted from the NEA centennial slogan "An Educated People Moves Freedom Forward".

A glance at the November issue of the Pennsylvania School Journal assures professional personnel a varied program including general sessions, prominent speakers, departmental meetings, round tables, business sessions, and social activities.

Why not plan to attend the convention to learn what is going on and thus be well informed on the status of education in your state?

CHRISTMAS GREETINGS

Quietly, peacefully, moon and stars a pattern weave,

Quietly, peacefully, Little Jesus came at eve, Lonely Child at eventide; Why did angels in heaven above

Sing His praises, sing His love?
And in holy zeal, Why did shepherds kneel?

Quietly, peacefully, In the manger for the sheep,
Quietly, peacefully, Jesus lay in holy sleep,
Little Jesus, Child of life;
Hence through earth and heaven above
Men and angels know His love.
In the Father's name Little Jesus came.

Catharine Quimby

The shepherds in the fields around Bethlehem received the news in foreboding silence; the wise men journeyed from afar under a star-studded sky; and the angels echoed the chorus of peace. These are events that mark the coming of the Messiah.

May we dare hope that Christmas in 1957 be as awe-inspiring as it was to the shepherds of old, as compelling as it appeared to the wise men, and as joyous as it became to the heavenly hosts? United, we join in the angel serenade "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men."

APSTCF wishes for you and yours a joyous Christmas and a prosperous New Year.

THE NEW LOOK

Mothers and fathers, after having assumed the very responsible duties of parenthood and the normal chores of adult life, often wish they had the opportunity to return to school once again. At California S. T. C. recently, parents were given this very privilege as a part of the observance of the thirty-seventh annual American Education Week.

This unusual event was held on the campus at California November 14 when the pupils stayed home and the parents attended school. In fact, the parents were "kept after school" to participate in a social hour.

The program was sponsored by the staff of the Noss Laboratory School under the direction of Dr. Stephen E. Pavlak, Principal. The following objectives were formulated as a basis for discussion:

(1) to discover and develop aptitudes of the individual child, (2) to stimulate enthusiasm for learning, (3) to develop skill in the use of the tool subjects, (4) to develop appreciation and understanding of the world in which we live, (5) to foster the ability to evaluate and do critical thinking, (6) to instill proper health habits and body care, (7) to provide opportunities for desirable social experiences, (8) to develop proper mental attitudes and emotional stability, (9) to encourage self-expression through creative activities, (10) to inspire highest moral and spiritual ideals, and (11) to provide an atmosphere conducive to a democratic way of life.

The overall aims of the staff of the Noss School emphasize the development of the "whole" child—physical, mental, emotional, moral, and spiritual. A definite effort is made by the staff to create attitudes, interests, and ideals that are wholesome and consistent with the democratic way of life. The main goal is the one of providing for maximum growth of each child.

MASTER'S DEGREE TEACHER EDUCATION PROGRAMS

The Fund for the Advancement of Education is providing grants to a limited number of higher education institutions carrying on a program in teacher education that culminates in the master's degree. The following information applies to five such institutions and is pertinent to five phases of the program as it is operated in the respective graduate schools.

Institution and degree

Brown University	Master of Arts in Teaching (Secondary) Master of Education (Elementary)
Cornell University	Master of Education (Elementary)
Harvard University	Master of Arts in Teaching (Secondary) Master of Education (Elementary)
Johns Hopkins University	Master of Education (Secondary)
Yale University	Master of Arts in Teaching (Secondary)

How students are selected for study in the master's degree program varies somewhat in each institution. However, the criteria for selection show many similarities.

At Brown, candidates must prove: (1) evidence of ability to carry on a high quality of academic work (2) personal qualifications for effective teaching.

In Cornell, selection is made on the basis of three criteria of an evaluation committee: (1) undergraduate transcripts (2) personal interviews (3) background. Personnel with student teaching experience or teaching experience are excluded.

Harvard University requires: (1) a personal interview (2) graduation from an approved college (3) a "B" average in the junior and senior years (4) a broad general education (5) evidence of leadership ability (6) personal commitment to teaching as a career.

Johns Hopkins candidates are required to: (1) show interest in teaching (2) show lack of professional preparation (3) exhibit ability to do advanced work on graduate level in their subject matter area (4) have personal qualities for teaching.

At Yale University, students are selected on: (1) basis of undergraduate record (2) results of Graduate Record Examination scores (3) recommendation from undergraduate colleges (4) basis of personal interview.

The policy regarding quotas set by each institution participating is as follows:

- Brown— No quota; facilities limit quota
 Cornell— Money available adequate for twenty students
 Harvard— No exact quota. Facilities limit quota to 225
 Johns Hopkins— Maximum of thirty students in any one year
 Yale— No quota

The number of students participating in the graduate program is:

- Brown— Total of 89; 12 full time students
 Cornell— 10 students
 Harvard— Secondary, 154; elementary, 69
 Johns Hopkins— 18
 Yale— About 50

Do students in the program hold part-time or full time teaching positions in public school systems? The data show:

- Brown— Yes; some of both Cornell— Student teaching only
 Harvard— One pair of students hold a full-time, paid teaching position for one term of the academic year
 Johns Hopkins— Each student teaches one full-time semester
 Yale— Practice teaching; no staff positions

AROUND THE CAMPUSES

Anthony T. Stavaski, Associate Professor of Industrial Arts at California S. T. C. was elected president of the Pennsylvania Industrial Arts Association at its recent fifth annual convention. Other officers elected were Cel Aman, Supervisor of the division of Vocational and Secondary Industrial Arts for Philadelphia; Mark Muth of West Chester; and Charles E. Williams, Industrial Arts Instructor of Springdale; as vice president, secretary and treasurer respectively.

Mr. Stavaski has been connected with California S. T. C. since 1935 and has had wide experience in his field in Massachusetts before joining the faculty at the former institution. He has achieved national renown in the area of graphic arts and was editor of "The Industrial Arts Teacher", a publication of the American Industrial Arts Association.

The auditorium of the state teachers college at East Stroudsburg was the scene of a meeting between cooperating teachers, grade supervisors, heads of college departments, principals, and school superintendents the evening of Oct. 24. Dr. Nathan G. Meyer, Director of Student teaching and Placement, presided over the general meeting that presented the theme "Accent on Methods".

After greetings from Dr. Leroy J. Koehler, President, Mr. Roger Dunning, Elementary Supervisor of the Stroudsburg Public Schools, spoke on the subject "What is Good Teaching". Following Mr. Dunning, Mr. Thomas Manley, cooperating teacher, presented his views concerning "Motivation and Discipline". "Observing, Assisting, and Teaching" was the topic presented by Miss Ruth Florey, Mathematics teacher in the East Stroudsburg Public Schools.

For the second phase of the meeting, the participants separated into specialized groups to consider the practical problems inherent in each group relative to the cooperating teacher and the student teacher. The groups embraced problems dealing with the elementary and secondary levels, health and physical education, and administration.

The final phase consisted of a social period and light refreshments for some one hundred of the participants.

The Education Association of Millersville S.T.C. entertained new faculty members and their families in September at a picnic at the local Boy Scout Lodge.

The local association also featured an address by Dr. John Cartwright, Superintendent of Allentown Public Schools at its most recent meeting. Dr. Cartwright spoke on the topic "Public Relations". At the same function, it was announced that Dr. A. G. Breidenstine, Dean of Instruction at Millersville, would lead a discussion at the November meeting on the subject "Evaluation of the College".

Edinboro State Teachers College has been approved by the International Relations Committee of the AACTE and the Office of Private Cooperation of the United States Information Agency for a grant in aid for interinstitutional contacts and exchange of information with the Escuela de Pedagogia Universidad Central del Ecuador Quito, Ecuador. This information exchange program is to help build mutual understanding between the two schools.

Dr. Herman Offner, Dean of Instruction at Edinboro, who was a consultant to the Bavarian Government in Germany following World War II, will head the exchange program at Edinboro. The dean has explained that Edinboro will send materials and pictures to the Ecuador school and will receive similar materials in exchange.

Education in Ecuador differs in many ways from that of the United States. The caste system limits those who are educated and rote memorization is still the prevalent method of education.

John B. White is the newly appointed dean of men at Kutztown S. T. C. who will assume his new duties January 22, 1958. Mr. White, at the present time, is assistant principal at Muhlenburg High School. A graduate of Kutztown and Temple University, which institution awarded him a master's degree in educational administration, he replaces Dean William Liggitt who resigned to become professor of social studies at Jersey City S. T. C. in New Jersey.

The American Children's Education Club on the campus at Slippery Rock recently held a Children's Book Exhibit. Mrs. Jane Beatty, Library Consultant, cooperated in securing materials for the
