Keeping Busy

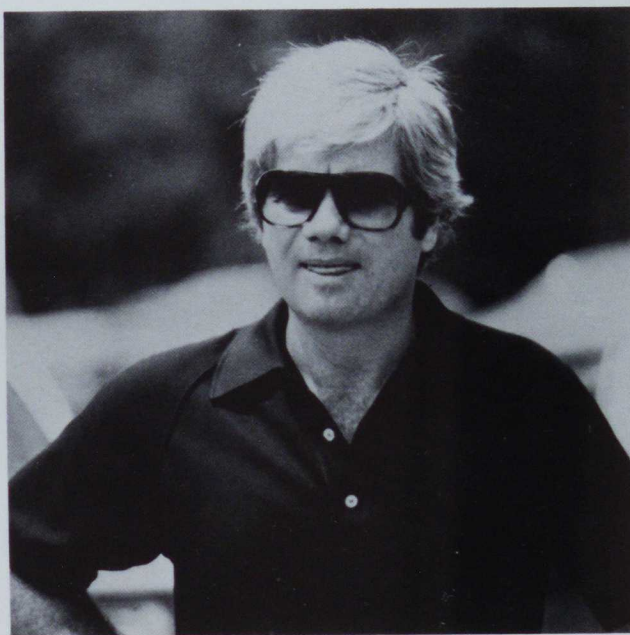

Did Don Cannon use summer baseball camp as an excuse to scout out news stories at CSC? It's not likely, but consider this: during the fall of 1980 all three major Pittsburgh television stations aired stories filmed at CSC.

KDKA's Bob Sprague asked CSC students to voice their sentiments about California Borough's proposed anti-drug paraphernalia ordinance, then rode into town to interview Mayor Daley and Chief of Police Nelson Horner. A Steel City news team came to campus to film the Black League's anti-Klan rally (see page 107), and WTAE devoted one of its Two Minutes public service messages to Louis Oliastro's PLX reading system.

New Clocks For Old

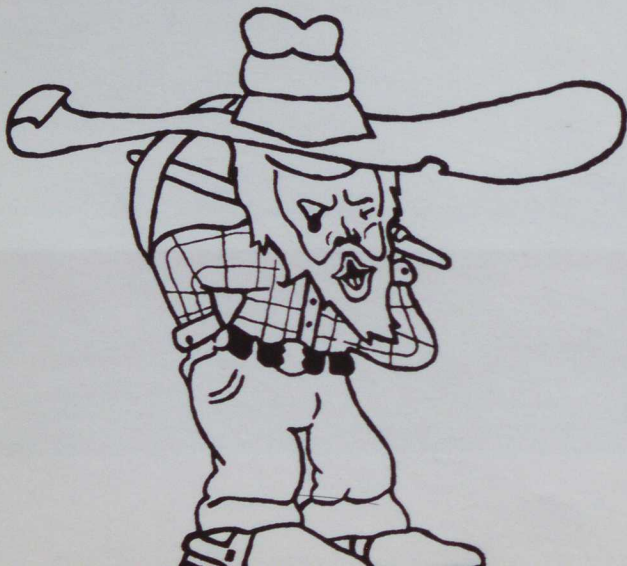

Last spring, the Alumni Association launched a drive to raise money to repair the clocks and restore the lighting on the Old Main Towers. The enthusiastic response brought the project to completion this fall, and Homecoming eve saw the towers of CSC's most famous building once again bathed in light.

Homecoming

A week's worth of ideal autumn weather vanished the night of the alumni riverboat cruise and left us on Saturday with one of the most dismal Homecoming days within memory. What remains remarkable is that the chilling rain, cutting wind and lowering clouds could not spoil the day. If anything, what goes by the vague term school spirit manifested itself in a way it might not have if the day had been more pleasant. But all the rain in the world couldn't dampen the dazzle of some of the prettiest floats ever built, or their makers' delight. Top Rock of the 70's, built by Binns and Clyde Halls, took first place in the float competition.

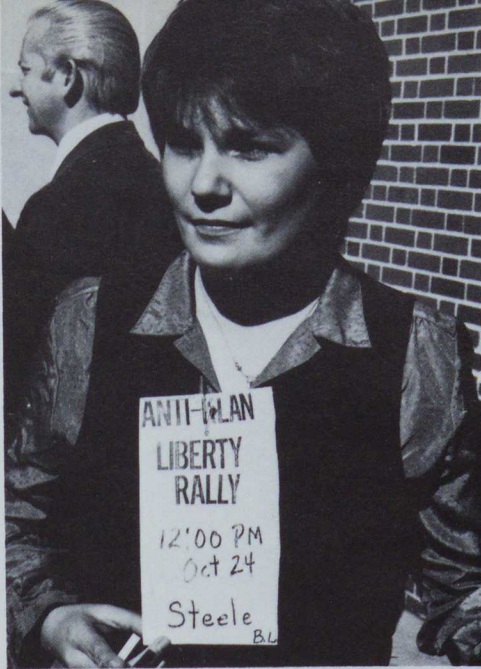

True to their words, the Roosterheads and Nomads played rugby rain or shine, and both emerged victorious in their matches. The lucky few who braved the brutal conditions at Adamson Stadium got to see the hitherto almost luckless Vulcans turn what had given every evidence of a defeat into a victory made all the sweeter coming as it did as a result of some beautiful skilled playing in the final quarter.

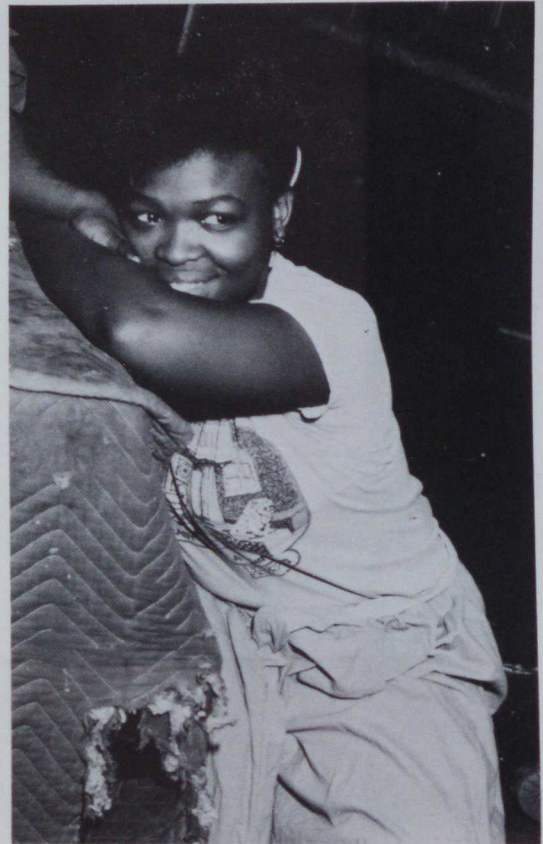

Anti Klan Rally

Anticipating the next day's Ku Klux Klan rally in New Geneva, the CSC Black League held an anti-Klan rally on October 24 to give student leaders and faculty a chance to voice their opposition.
