Be patient with the children;
They are such fair, frail gifts!
Uncertain as the rifts
Of light that lie along the sky—
They may not be here, by and by,
Give them, not love, but more, above
And harder—patience with the love.

NORMAL ITEMS.

The S. W. S. Normal school opened its Fall term on August 31 with a very large attendance. Indeed the present term shows many of the characteristics of the Spring term—especially so in attendance, increased number of members in faculty, and enthusiasm in the general work of the school.

The new members of the faculty are Miss Mabel Mountsier, training teacher for seventh grade, Mr. John C. Hockenberry, department of psychology and pedagogy, Mrs. John C. Hockenberry, department of German and French, Mr. C. E. Sisson, Commercial department, Miss Blanche L. Corter, trained nurse, department of hygiene, and Miss Aura Schlafly, training teacher for third grade.

During the past vacation some improvements were made in and about the Normal buildings. The most noteworthy of mention is the conversion of the third story of Science Hall into two recitation rooms and one large recitation hall with stage. One of these rooms will be used by grade No. 7, which has been formed recently.

We regret exceedingly that we are called on to chronicle the death of Earl D. Sloan, class of '01, Ruffsdales, Pa. and that of John H. Balsley, class of '02, Connellsville, Pa. Both fell recently as victims to typhoid fever. We shall miss these excellent young men at our alumni meetings, but most of all the communities in which they lived will miss their influence for good and their earnest participation in everything that pertains to the welfare of the people. Rest in peace, young men, God bless you!

The first Sunday evening talk of the term was given by Dr. Ehrenfeld. His topic was Introduction to the Gospel of St. John. It is the purpose of our Principal to have a study of the Gospel of St. John alternate with studies of the great Christian poets.

Mr. M. L. Hepplewhite, a student at the Normal in 1887, is now assistant passenger agent of the P. & L. E. R. R., Pittsburg.

Mr. H. A. Poorbaugh, who was one of the Normal's successful students last Spring, has been elected principal of schools at Ursina, Pa. He will return later to finish a course.

Among the good things announced for the September numbers of the Youth's Companion, is an article by Dr. G. Stanley Hall on the Physiology of Adolescence. Anything that Dr. Hall writes is of interest to teachers, and we feel sure that this article will be no exception.

The discussion of topics at the chapel exercises was found so profitable last year that it has been thought best to continue the practice this year. The first of these topics for the Fall term was a description of Lake George. This topic was presented on the morning of Sept. 7th by Misses McMinn and Heilman, the two Y. W. C. A. delegates sent by the Normal to the late Silver Bay convention.

Miss Nellie Beach of Monongahela, formerly a student at the Normal, was married to Mr. Clyde C. Yohe on July 2, 1903.

Miss Laura Ward, formerly a teacher of voice culture in the Normal, and Mr. John J. McClary were united in marriage July 1, 1903. The couple will reside in California, Pa.

What Is the Public?

Our attention was attracted lately to an article under the foregoing heading published in Our Young Folks. There is so much value in it that we take the liberty to quote what follows.

"A girl who had just finished sharpening a pencil picked up a book and sat down to read, and finger-prints appeared on the margins of the pages she turned. When some one called her attention to the fact she looked up in surprise.

"Yes, I know," she said, "but this is a book from the public library." Her tone seemed to indicate that there is no need of care in handling the books which belong to the public.

Has the "public" rights that we are bound to respect? That question is answered when we stop to think that the public is only a general name for the people about us. Is there any good reason why we should be more careless with the book which belongs to the community than if it were our own private property? Is there any more excuse for our interfering with the comfort of a hundred people than for inconveniencing a smaller number? It is a narrow view of courtesy which limits its claims to the circle of one's especial friends."

Senior Theses.

Each member of the class of '03 was asked to take as his subject for a thesis some theme related to the practical application of scientific principles to the every day work or amusement of the world. The result of the assignments was in every way satisfactory. The theses show much original investigation and wide reading; many of them are illustrated by pen sketches. Following are the subjects and writers: The Boston Subway, L. Earle Anderson; The Manufacture of Wool, Will E. Aydelotte; Explanation and Use of X-Rays, Katharine Beazell; Manufacture of Needles and Pins, Jean Gray Brinton; Wireless Telegraphy, Mary Brinton; Modern House Heating, Margaret Craven; Submarine Cables, W. F. Cree; Oil Wells, Lulu Gregg; A Modern Steamship, Alma Gillespie; The Automobile, Golden Goodwin; Piano Manufacturing, L. Mabel Hugus; The Modern Telescope, Mary M. Iams; Modern Air Ships, W. Reed Morris; The Great Alpine Tunnels, Viola R. Myers; The Electric Light Plant, Sadie Jacobs; Niagara Falls Electric Light Plant, Della Martin; Modern War Ships, Etta M. Post; Modern Photography, Will E. Ruder; The Modern Sky-scraper, Edna M. Reed; The Louisiana Purchase Exposition, Anna L. Reeves; Steel Rails, E. Odessa Stern; The Suspension Bridge, Aura Schlafly; The Typewriter, Helen Streater; Bridge Construction, Bessie Silk; Navigation on the Monongahela, Elizabeth Young; The Modern Printing Press, Clarence H. Young.

Sue—"You'd probably do just as many foolish things."

Tom—"I think likely. There's more fun in doing foolish things than in doing wise ones."

FACULTY NOTES.

Miss Buckbee spent several weeks in institute work during July and August.

Dr. Samuel A. Jeffers enjoyed the sunny fields of Missouri during our rather cool summer.

Dr. and Mrs. Ehrenfeld spent part of their vacation in Eastern Pennsylvania, chiefly at York.

Miss Augusta Acken is away on leave of absence for the Fall term. Her home is at Metuchen, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Harmon made a trip to New York state and to Mt. Pleasant, Pa. during vacation.

Miss Lilley enjoyed for a time during vacation the refreshing breeze so characteristic of Atlantic City.

Mr. Walter S. Hertzog has purchased the Prof. Hall property on College avenue, where he now resides.

Miss Shutterly enjoyed part of her vacation amid the cool breezes of the pretty town of Somerset, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Hockenberry occupy rooms in the South dormitory. Mr. H. was present at the N. E. A. meeting in July.

Mr. G. G. Hertzog spent most of his vacation in California, but also visited in Somerset, Pa., and at some other points.

Mr. Sisson has taken hold of the Commercial department in real earnest. He has already won high encomiums as an instructor.

Miss Schlafly spent part of the vacation at Chautauqua, the famous summer resort, where she was enrolled as a student in the school of pedagogy.

Mr. and Mrs. Meese were in the large crowd of thirty-two thousand teachers at the N. E. A. meeting, Boston. Mr. Meese afterwards spent five weeks in visiting various places in our Normal school district, chiefly in Greene and Somerset counties.

Dr. and Mrs. Noss, besides doing some institute work, spent a large part of their vacation in Boston, in Chautauqua, and along the classic Hudson.

Dr. Smith attended the N. E. A. meeting in Boston early in July. He also visited many places of interest around Boston and in New York City.

Miss Griel taught drawing several weeks in the summer school at Wooster, O., and then enjoyed a well-earned vacation at her home in Lancaster, Pa.

Miss Lewellen spent the months of July and August in her work as a student in an advanced course at the University of West Va., at Morgantown.

Miss Gertrude Cleveland has shortened her name to that of Mrs. Porter C. Humes. The couple were married August 12, and since Sept. 1 have resided at Meadville, Pa.

On Tuesday evening, Sept. 8, Miss Crabbe gave the first of a series of discussions to be followed by the Normal faculty during the year. Her topic was The Kindergarten.

Miss Blanche Corter has been duly installed as head of the department of hygiene in the Normal. It will be her duty to see that good cheer and health reign supreme among us.

Miss Mountsier has taken charge of the seventh grade—the highest grade in the Model school. She will doubtless make her room an excellent preparatory school for the Normal department.

Dr. Lukens spent most of his time in California, meditating, no doubt, on the sayings of the Athenian philosophers, but beautifying, incidentally, the surroundings of his attractive residence on College avenue.

Miss Ward is again with us in the capacity of assistant librarian. Our work has been extended along so many lines that we should obtain far less satisfactory results if we were deprived of the assistance which Miss Ward gives to our large body of students.

Mr. Hildebrand, it seems, worked every day of his vacation and he looks all the healthier for it. His time was spent in teaching in the University of Wooster and in lecturing at the Marietta Teachers' Institute.

Mr. and Mrs. Banker spent their vacation in eastern New York. We regret to say that Mrs. Banker was seriously ill during July and August with a fever. She is, however, we are glad to say, rapidly recovering.

Miss Treganza was a member of the large pilgrimage to Boston in July. In company with six or seven other members of the faculty, she wept at the grave of Longfellow and meditated in the classic shades of Concord.

Miss Thomas, of course, went to Boston to the N. E. A., first because she likes to attend educational meetings, and second because she wanted to be in a crowd that comprised such ambitious people as went from the Monongahela valley. She and Miss Treganza also spent several weeks visiting the Massachusetts State Normal at Hyannis.

You cannot convince a brunette that all is fair in love.

No man is so greedy as to take both sides of an argument.

Few women can pass a mirror without a pause for reflection.

In the search for happiness every man follows his own trail and that is why so few find it.

Character is needed to appreciate environment. A baboon in a garden of roses is a baboon still.

The best evidence of the truthfulness of a statement is the character of the man that is behind it.

Lecture Course.

The California Lecture Association has just closed a contract for an excellent course of lectures and entertainments, all of which are to be given within the period comprised in the Fall and the Winter terms of school. Following are the attractions:

Lecture by Lieut. Hobson, Readings by Mrs. Isabel Carghill Beecher, Joint debate between Gen. Grosvener of Ohio and Hon. Champ Clark of Missouri, Concert by the Chicago Glee Club, and a Musical treat by the Fadettes of Boston. The first lecture of the course will be given by Lieut. Hobson on the evening of October 29. All students who have paid the regular enrollment fee are admitted to these entertainments without further charge.

Books For Young People.

Should be carefully selected by qualified persons.

Should be literature, not simply "reading matter."

Should not be mere compilations or extracts.

Should be interesting.

Should not be chosen to point morals but should nevertheless lead in moral direction.

Should be provided in ample variety, to suit all tastes and all ages.

Should give education in literature, and foster a taste for good reading; and thus

Should include, not only the classics written for children, but many of the interesting masterpieces of literature for adults.

Should have illustrations which illustrate and elucidate the text, and not simply adorn the volume.

Should be printed in type which can be easily read, in lines not long enough to fatigue the eye.

Should not be so heavy as to tire the child.

Should be bound strongly and serviceably, and open easily.

Philomathean Review

Motto: "Vincit qui se vincit."

Alverda E. Hopwood, Editor

Philo is more than ever before setting out early in the year to do good work. An excellent program committee has been appointed and every precaution is being taken to place before the members only that which is best for the whole number.

Miss Eva Brass was the salutatorian at the first meeting of the term, Friday evening, September 4.

Mr. R. V. Robinson of the Senior class has the honor of being president of Philo.

The piano duet, given by Misses Cooper and Stoup, was a feature of the program for the evening of September 11.

The faculty critics for the first two evenings of this term were Dr. Ehrenfeld and Prof. G. G. Hertzog. They each commended the good work of the society.

Mr. George E. Hastings, '99, and Prof. W. E. Bair, '94, were among Philo's visitors at the opening meeting of the term.

Following is a copy of the program for the meeting of September 4:

Salutatory.....Miss Eva Brass
Solo.....Miss Helen Peeson
Recitation—"Kate Shelley".....Miss Nellie Steel
Essay, "Rosa Bonheur".....Miss Alverda Hopwood
Music—Piano solo.....Miss Mae Adams
Oration, "The Russo American".....
.....Mr. Charles Hertzog
Optimist.....Miss Vaun McMinn
Music—Vocal selection.....Choir
Debate by Mr. F. H. Jones and Mr. Edgar Easter. Question: Resolved, That the policy of excluding Chinese from the United States should be maintained and rigorously enforced.
Periodical.....Miss Mary Wakefield assisted by Mr. Paul Piersol.

Philo has reason to feel proud of the large accession to her membership at its first two meetings. The new members enrolled this far are Messrs. B. S. Boyer,

E. Craustare, J. W. Cameron, H. Elliot, E. Potts, F. R. Peese, P. Richey, Clyde Ray, W. P. Walker, A. P. Neeson, and Misses Elizabeth Richardson, Rose Allen, M. Brinton, Helen Bailey, Mabel Campbell, Elsie Kearns, Jean Dulin, Carrie Campbell, May Smith, Minnie Holland, A. Hardie, M. Grimm, Mary E. Gregg, M. Fellabaum, May Lewis, S. McDowell, F. Seven Minds for Everybody.

1. Mind your tongue! Don't let it speak hasty, cruel, unkind or wicked words. Mind!
2. Mind your eyes! Don't permit them to look on wicked books, pictures or objects. Mind!
3. Mind your ears! Don't suffer them to listen to wicked speeches, songs or words. Mind!
4. Mind your lips! Don't let tobacco foul them. Don't let strong drink pass them. Don't let the food of the glutton enter between them. Mind!
5. Mind your hands! Don't let them steal or fight, or write any evil words. Mind!
6. Mind your feet! Don't let them walk in the steps of the wicked. Mind!
8. Mind your heart! Don't let the love of sin dwell in it. Don't give it to Satan, but ask Jesus to make it his throne. Mind!

The Clontian Review

Margaret Davis and Mary V. Lewis, Editors.

We are back again to dear old Clio, and another year of hard work has begun; yet we cannot say that we are sorry, for we have many new helpers among us, Clio as usual having received her share of new members, which is always a majority. We have now forty-one new members and words of welcome and advice may be extended to them as well as to old members in the words of our salutatorian, Mr. DeCius.

"In this group of joyous, eager faces are many that are new in our midst. Some have left home for the first time and are yet sorrowing for loved ones at the old homestead; some seeking a place to enjoy an evening's entertainment have come to listen to our program. To all of these Clio extends a hearty welcome and the assurance that the Blue and Gold will make them feel that they are not friendless and alone but are, together with Clio's present members, brothers and sisters in the common cause of up-building the glorious name of Clio. We fondly hope that many new students will find that Clio is indeed a friend, and, by joining our ranks, will aid us to carry out our designs and ambitions during the entire year.

"The trainer of a boat crew, knowing the supreme importance of even, steady pulling, instructs his men to 'pull together.' Society work, like rowing, needs the 'pull together' spirit. So if we, working in unison, strive to aid one another and to do each his part, when the year's voyage is done we shall bring the noble ship Clio to anchor in the harbor of Victory and not of Defeat."

The following Program was given Sept. 11, 1903.

Music.....	Miss Mary Noss
Recitation—"Over the Hills to the Poorhouse."	Miss Sarah Kelly
Jokes.....	Miss Jennie Coe
Music.....	Miss Morgan
Dream.....	Miss Helen Meese
Biography—"Andrew Jackson"
.....	Mr. R. Grant Furlong
Music.....	Miss Nan Tannehill
Book Report.....	Miss Edith Meade
Debate.—Resolved: That the United States as a nation has reached its zenith.
Affirmative.....	Miss Margaret Davis
Negative.....	Mr. Leslie Hornbake
Periodical.....	Miss Sara Sheplar
Ass't	Miss Blanche Reed.

In past years Clio has been noted for its music and we are glad to say, if we may judge the remainder of the meetings by the first two, that this year will not be an exception. Besides the music rendered at the second meeting, which is shown on the program, we wish to speak of the solo, "When I'm big I'll be a soldier," by Miss Scott, the first meeting of the term.

The evening of Sept. 11, or at least the effect of that evening will be felt in the hearts of all loyal Clions until next June at least, for on that evening our president, Mr. DeCius, appointed the contest committee, whose duty is to choose the four persons who shall represent us in contest at the end of this school year. We hope they will do their work so well that Clio may add one more victory to the many she already has. This committee consists of Mr. Sam'l Garrett, Miss Bessie Reese, Miss Katharine McCool, Mr. Chas. Lewellyn, and Miss Jennie Coe.

Among our visitors this term we have noticed Margaret Craven, Lulu Gregg, Anna Reeves, Earle Anderson, Reed Morris, Clarence Young, and Frank Cree of last year's class, and Kate Reed, Iva Beazell, and Mr. Minehart of former years. We are always glad to welcome old members of either society to our hall.

Here is a rule we can never forget: Pay your dues.

Professor: To prove that the ears of a grasshopper are in its legs, a very simple experiment will suffice. Place one on the table and knock on the table. He will jump off. Now cut off his legs and repeat the experiment, and you will find he will not jump off. Therefore the ears of a grasshopper are in its legs.

Marginalia

BY
Clara E. Stoup

On Monday, Sept. 7th, we had with us at chapel Mr. Morris, the father of Rev. Dr. Morris, pastor of the C. P. church of California. The elder Morris is near his eighty-fifth birthday, but seems to be a man of about sixty. He says few men wear out—they rust out—and he does not propose to belong to the latter class.

Prof. Harmon has begun to get the football team in readiness for the fall work. Watch the first game.

One of the first things to attract the attention of former students on their return to school was the remodeled dining room.

Both literary societies had excellent meetings on the first evening of the term. It is hoped that all the new students will ally themselves soon to one or the other society.

Miss Helen Hopwood of Monessen was the guest of Miss Griel on Sept. 12th.

Some members of the Senior class have elected Greek in their course—another proof that the classics are still having some attraction for the young.

Dr. Lukens has instituted a new arrangement for seating pupils in his room. In place of the ordinary desks and seats, he has provided chairs and tables, the latter generally circular in form. The change makes both for more comfort and better appearance.

The girls of the North Dormitory were treated to a pleasant surprise on the evening of Sept. 11 by some unknown friends who gave them a serenade.

Mr. Hildebrand has ordered a lot of new plants for his school-room. He always has a fine collection.

Miss Thomas returned to her home at Braddock on the evening of Sept. 12th in order that she might enjoy for a few days the company of her brother, who has just come from the Pacific coast.

Messrs. Anderson and Ruder of last year's class visited the Normal on Friday, the 11th inst.

We notice in Mr. Meese's recitation room a beautiful new panel picture of the six great American poets. The sight of these great worthies takes away to some degree the worry of the "slip" reviews.

On Wednesday morning, the 9th inst., Miss Bird gave an interesting talk in chapel on "Two Weeks at Chautauqua." On the morning of the 11th, Mr. DeCius described the Mona Railway system, now being introduced into England.

"The Life and Works of the late James McNeal Whistler" was the subject of an illustrated lecture given by Mrs. Noss to the students on the evening of Sept. 6th.

Our new students, and indeed many older ones, should not fail to notice the numerous pictures hanging in the halls, parlors, and recitation rooms of the Normal. Nor should they fail to notice and use the excellent new works of reference provided for them in the library.

Miss Tannehill, Miss Beeson, and Miss Scott have on several occasions favored the students with vocal selections at chapel. On the morning of the 10th of September Miss Scott sang in a very pleasing manner, "When I Grow Big I'll be a Soldier."

Our trained nurse, Miss Corter, was visiting at Pittsburg most of the week beginning Sept. 7th. She returned on the 11th to accompany Miss Christy, who had taken ill, to her home.

The reception given by the faculty to the students on Saturday evening of the second week of school was an enjoyable affair. Music, games, and other amusements—best of all good cheer, were the features of the evening.

On Sunday evening, September 13, Dr. Jeffers interpreted to the students and teachers present Browning's "Saul."

Our new teachers are now well installed in the school and are already very helpful in the social as well as in the intellectual life of the Normal.

FINAL EXAMINATION LISTS.

Latin.

Senior Class.

1. Decline: ea causa, altior mons, altius flumen, magnus exercitus, brevis dies.

2. Write synopsis of first person plural, indicative, active voice, of iubeo.

8. What is the difference between a spore and a seed?

9. Describe a root-tip and make a drawing.

10. Name the four principal parts of a seed.

An Interesting Problem.

Early in the Spring term one-half of the school went wild trying to solve the following problem which appeared originally in the Popular Science Monthly: "Mary is 24 years old. Mary is twice as old as Ann was when Mary was as old as Ann is now. How old is Ann?"

There is no catch in this problem. It is fair in every particular. In trying to solve it, do not begin before breakfast, for it will make you languid and sleepy. Get at it immediately after dinner and when you get the answer let the Editor of the REVIEW know what it is. He will mail an interesting dime novel to the first subscriber outside of California Borough that sends in a correct answer with the solution.
