TO OUR ALUMNI.

Principal's Greeting.

The trustees and faculty of the Normal and the older residents of the town anticipate with pleasure the coming of the Alumni at Commencement. Rumor saith that the number will far exceed all precedent. Come on! You of the earlier classes, come and sit in the shade of large maple trees that were not planted until after you left the school. And you of more recent classes, come and attend chapel again, not in a hall with level floor and loose chairs, but with raised floor and opera chairs. The portraits of all Alumni, either in larger photographs or smaller may be found somewhere on the walls. Not a face has been lost, not a graduate has been forgotten. One beloved teacher is still here, Prof. G. G. Hertzog, who has taught every class, and another, Dr. Smith, who has taught every class but two. You will find an interesting blending of the old and the new, of the familiar and the strange.

To me, personally, your coming will be a rare pleasure. My feelings will be like those of the head of a large and prosperous family when all gather again around the same table and fireside, and tell over again the old stories that have lost nothing by age. The past history of the school through which I have lived seems to me more a dream than a reality. The new things we are doing in the school and the zest I have in the work make me feel like a beginner here, and yet I am not a beginner, for I now have both a wife and a daughter among the alumni, and I had not made the acquaintance of either of them for more than a year after entering the school.

With youthful spirits and perfect health,

PRINCIPAL THEO. B. NOSS.

helping to plan for a larger life and a greater future for the school, I can hardly believe that I was here before the class of '79 had completed the course, before F. R. Hall and D. C. Murphy had graduated, and before Allen Cooper and E. J. Smail had entered.

When I first came to the school, only thirty-nine had graduated, and these were all living. Now, thirteen hundred and fifty-five have received their diplomas and fifty-four have died. Of the entire number of thirteen hundred and fifty-five alumni the only ones I have not personally known are Thos. L. Axtell, '75, Mary P. Crookham, '77, J. H. Douglass, '78, and J. T. Wells, '78.

It is not strange, therefore, that I should look forward eagerly to your coming. Let every one come who can come. We want to see you and want you to see us. If you have children bring them with you and tell them how well you always recited and how carefully you always observed the rules, how the faculty praised you for your conduct and your classmates envied you for your success. Show them your society hall where your debates convinced everybody (but yourself), where your recitations surpassed those of the elocution teacher, where every one said your essays never failed to remind him of certain great writers, and where your periodicals were pronounced the wittiest or most original of any read in society.

Yes, come. Renew your interest in your old school and old schoolmates. Don't let the work and worries, failures and successes of life weaken the ties that bind you to your school days. No one can afford to do that. Cling to the old friends. Fan the embers of the old associations of youth until they glow again and burst into a flame. In the long winter evenings that are to come, memory will sit fondly by these same bright embers, and the welcome forms of classmates and teachers will sit with us by our soul's fireside. What new forms or faces of these latter days can take their places? Come one, come all. Our doors, our rooms, our hearts will all be open to you. On the day and night of the reunion you will be our honor guests, whom it will be our delight to provide with the best lodgings we have and to serve at the best tables we can set.

THEO. B. NOSS.

IMPORTANT ITEMS.

The enrollment in the Normal Department this year is now (May 10) 620, and in the Model Department 447; 1067 in all.

The graduating class will number about 60.

The fall term will begin on the first Monday of September.

The dormitory rooms not already engaged will be given out in order of application.

On May 22nd Dr. and Mrs. Noss will be the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Waller of the Indiana State Normal. Dr. Noss goes to our sister Normal as one of the judges in the Middle Class literary contest.

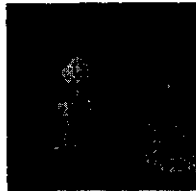

The speakers and subjects for Commencement morning, June 28, will be as follows:

Oretha Baer, Why Alexander Succeeded; Helen Bailey, Greater Pittsburg; Martha Titzell, Sun Power; Marguerite Scott, Solo; Cora Soles, Recitation; Clarence Tannehill, The Thousandth Rose; May L. McLuckie, New Phases of the Immigration Problem; Blanche Elrick, The Burden of Hamlet; Mary Wakefield, The Modern Jew.

The next issue of the NORMAL REVIEW will be published soon after Commencement. Look for it about July 1. It will contain many items of interest. Don't miss it. The present number will reach many who are not subscribers. All such readers are invited to send in their subscriptions now and thus join our ever increasing family. Put fifty cents in an

The cantata entitled "The Coming of Ruth," by Mr. William T. Noss, will be given in the Normal Chapel on the evenings of May 19 and 20. At this writing (May 12) the performance gives every promise of complete success.

Excursion Rates to Commencement.

The request has been made for excursion tickets on the P. R. R. to commencement exercises.

Those expecting to attend any of the exercises of commencement week, should send for the requisite card orders for tickets to the Principal, Theo. B. Noss.

A request will be made to have all trains stop at the corner of the campus during the commencement week, from Sunday to Wednesday inclusive.

Comrade of Old.

Comrade of old, come back to me,
The careless youth you used to be;
Come back, and banish for awhile
Your frowns, and let those stern lips smile;
We'll jaunt the aisles of memory.

Come back, the meadow lands blow free,
And, with the brook that threads the lea,
They call you from your long exile,
Comrade of old.

Here, by the pond, the willow tree
Becks, with its arms, alluringly;
Come back, a truce to court, and trial—
Doff, for a week, the frock and tile,
And come, the boy we long to see,
Comrade of old.

—Stacey E. Baker in Recreation for May.

Notice to Visiting Alumni.

All graduates of the school, and all husbands and wives of graduates, are most cordially invited to be the guests of the school at the time of the reunion, June 26. Meals and lodgings of such kind as we can provide will be furnished free from noon Monday until noon Tuesday. This invitation and promise are made possible through the generous offer of our students to give up their rooms for one night and to take meals at second table for the time named.

Letter to Alumni.

[A letter like the following was mailed to each of the Alumni on April 17, 1905. If you did not get a copy, consider this your letter.—ED.]

To the Alumni of the California Normal School:

DEAR ALUMNUS:—This is a circular letter, yet a very important one.

In short. There are over thirteen hundred alumni of the California Normal School.

The next reunion will be held on Monday evening, June 26th, 1905. We expect at least five hundred of the Alumni present.

Music, the best that can be procured, a sumptuous banquet, and especially prepared addresses will be the program.

A committee of each class will be appointed to arrange for the reunion of its class.

On Tuesday, June 27th, at 1:30 p. m., the "Old Timers" (that is, students prior to 1874) celebrate.

On each alumnus rests the burden of making this reunion a success. Write to the members of your class and to the members of other classes whom you would enjoy meeting at this reunion. Talk about it to each alumnus you meet.

Forward at once to the Secretary your check for $1.50, notifying her whether you expect to be present, and she will forward you a ticket to the banquet and arrange for your accommodations.

Without a doubt this will be the greatest event the old Normal has experienced for many years.

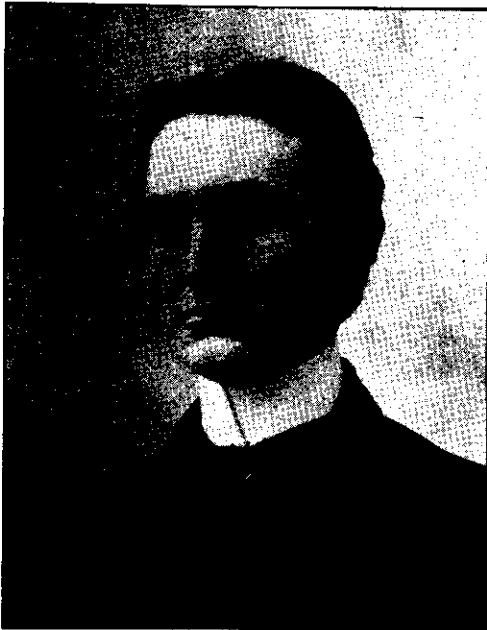

Yours very truly,

A. T. MORGAN,

Pres. of Association.

ANNA M. SHUTTERLY,

Sec'y of Association.

A. T. MORGAN, ESQ.,
Class of '91.

Mr. Morgan, President of the Alumni Association, is a leading attorney at the Washington bar. He is now maturing plans to make the coming reunion a historical event.

Questions Concerning the Alumni Reunion Answered Without Being Asked.

At 7 o'clock Monday evening the reception in the library and on the campus begins and lasts until 8 o'clock. The entertainment with music and addresses in the chapel begins at 8 o'clock and lasts until 9:30 o'clock. The handshaking in the library and corridors of the main building begins at 9:30 o'clock and lasts until 10:30 o'clock. The banquet in the gymnasium begins at 10:30 o'clock and lasts until 12 o'clock.

The "Old Timers" celebrate on Tuesday from 1:30 o'clock to 3:00 o'clock.

The alumni ball game on Tuesday begins at 3:00 o'clock. A few "dead ones" will be in uniform.

Invitations to married alumni include husband and wife; however, in all cases tickets for Monday evening's exercises are $1.50 each.

No guests except the husbands and wives of alumni, and those receiving special invitations will be admitted to the exercises on Monday evening.

The caterer's contract for the banquet will be per plate. You should write the secretary at once, enclosing your check for $1.50, if you expect to be present, so that it may be determined for how many plates the contract should be let.

Edward Vaughan has recently been elected tenor soloist of Christ M. E. Church, Pittsburg, Pa.

Ed. C. Drum has completed arrangements for a "great game" on Tuesday afternoon.

The Gounod orchestra is preparing special music to be played during the banquet.

Ample accommodations can be furnished for all who write the secretary in advance. Those who do not do this will inconvenience the committee very much by making it necessary, at the last minute, to hunt for a place for them to stay.

Miss Etta Lilley of the class of 1891 is chairman of the Decorating Committee. Prof. J. C. Hockenberry of the class of '86, is chairman of the Reception Committee.

We want you to come.

We want you to have a good time.

We are doing our best to prepare for you.

Our alma mater invites us to be her guests, with lodging and meals provided free of expense from Monday noon until Tuesday noon.

The Trustees' Invitation.

To the Alumni, Greeting:

In behalf of the Board of Trustees, over whom I have had the honor of presiding lo these many years, I extend to you a hearty invitation to visit your former ground of conflict where you once engaged in battle with sturdy arithmetic problems, twisted Latin verbs, and with teachers who were not always easy to please. I say come on June 26th and renew acquaintance with your former associates.

MARGINALIA

By Helen Bailey, '05

On the evening of April 8 the Y. W. C. A. gave an informal reception, in the gymnasium, for the purpose of having the girls become acquainted.

The same evening the Y. M. C. A. held "Open House" in the Library, and welcomed the men who have recently come among us. The evening was of an informal nature, sociability, games, music, a yacht race, etc., being the order of the evening. The yacht race gave the men a chance to test their lung power, for the breezes that wafted the yachts to victory were not made by old Aeolus.

Two Seniors, Miss Leanore Harris and Mr. Lewis Stockdale, have delivered their Chapel Readings during this month. The following Seniors have also given orations: Educational Conditions in Porto Rico, Miss Alice Ackard; Cardinal Wolsey, Miss Edith Corter; Nervous Prostration as a fine Art, Mr. Edgar Powell.

Our Chapel exercises have been very interesting this month and much thanks is due to the following persons who have so kindly helped: Miss Huggins, Miss Mary Noss, Miss Lenora Stephens, Prof. Wheeler, Prof. Morse, Miss Bertha Easter, Miss Millie Snider, Prof. Cornell, and the lecturer, Mr. Chas. Seymour.

Saturday evening, April 15, the Seniors and Middle Girls' Basket Ball teams played their first public game, with a score 12 to 6 in favor of the Seniors. Both teams played well and each girl did credit to her team. The boys also played basket ball, indoor base ball, and Professors Harmon and Hammond, Dr. Noss, and Mr. Charlie Hertzog did fine work on the horizontal bars.

During the week beginning April 11, Dr. Charles McMurry delivered lectures to the students. These lectures, which occurred three times a day, were attended by a large number of the students, who enjoyed Dr. McMurry's talks very much.

We are still proud of our base ball team. Although they were beaten the first two games, yet by scoring over Westminster, 9-2, and Morgantown, 3-0, they have shown that they have not forgotten how to play.

A Dramatic club has been formed among six of our students and Prof. Hammond.

PROF. GEO. P. BEARD,

Who was Principal of the Normal from 1877 to 1883.

These people are the Misses Millie Snider, Elsie Ross, Blanche Brightwell, and Mr. Frank Lewellyn, Mr. Edward McCleary and Mr. Ray McPhail. We hope to see some fine work done by this club in the near future.

The Misses Catherine Cooper, Helen Beeson, Mr. Grant Furlong and Mr. Albert Colmery, all of class '04, have been recent visitors at the Normal.

The First Girls' Glee club, assisted by Professors Charles F. Morse, Newton B. Hammond, Charles S. Cornell, and Joseph Wheeler, gave a concert at Brownsville, April 20.

Miss Clara Stoup, '04, has returned to the Normal to take up special work.

On Saturday evening, April 22, an informal reception was given to the dormitory students. The enjoyment of the evening consisted in a promenade and an old fashioned spelling match.

The Sunday evening services for April were conducted by Dr. McMurry, Professor Walter Hertzog, Mr. Noss, Bishop Whitehead, and Mr. W. Seymour of New York. The last named gave an able address on King Herod.

Among the visitors at Chapel recently were, Rev. Mr. Cameron, Rev. Mr. Zwyer, Rev. W. W. Hall, Pittsburg, Mr. A. T. Morgan, '91, Mr. John N. Dixon, Mr. Calvin H. Dils, '91, and Mr. Geo. H. May, '00.

The annual spring reception was given on the evening of April 29. All the teachers and students were present and enjoyed the occasion.

A Second Boys' Glee club has been organized and is known as the "Sweet Tongued Nightingales." This Glee club consists of Dr. Schuh, Prof. Harmon, Messrs. Edward McCleary, Abbot, Rittenhouse, Colson, Gray, Cree, and McPhail.

Our Normal boys are winning in athletics. On Saturday, May 6, the score at Morgantown stood 3 to 0 in favor of the Normals. The score on May 9 between the Normals and Grove City was 12 to 1 in favor of the Normals. The game was played on the home grounds.

NOTES ON OUR BEGINNINGS.

BY DR. C. L. EHRENFELD.

That is, our beginnings as a recognized State Normal School. This dates from May 26, 1874. Of the school's history both previous and subsequent to that date, much remains to be written, but the day when it should be accepted by the State as one of its Normal schools, with authority to graduate students as teachers, had been looked to with ardent longing for years, and when it came it proved to be a great day. It was regarded as the birth hour of the institution.

In addition to Dr. Wickersham, the State Superintendent, the committee was composed of a number of prominent and able men. A few words from a private letter written the day after will help to recall the event:

"Recognition was granted heartily. After inspection, there was a public meeting in the chapel at 2 p. m. Wasn't room for all the people. When Dr. Wickersham read the report of committee recognizing the school, some, even of the men, wept. We had many fine, short speeches. Wickersham got into high spiritual mood, as he nearly always does. The meeting took a high moral and religious tone," etc, etc.

But the school, altho at last recognized, had been kept back from that event so long, by the narrow financial conditions, that instead of having a large class of 12 or 15 ready to graduate, only two were left. Many who for several years had been looking forward to graduation here had at last gone to other schools or turned to other vocations.

The school had to a great extent done College work; had carried students far enough in Latin, Greek, and Mathematics to enter Freshman and Sophomore classes in College.

The first class, consisting of two young men, were examined and graduated by the State Board, July 14, 1875. At an evening meeting in the Chapel the Principal, Professor Ehrenfeld, made an address and gave the young men their diplomas.

The second class numbered six and were all, except one, young men. The exception was Miss Sue Ammons, now Mrs. L. B. Anderson of Millsboro, Pa., who therefore was the first of the young women graduates.

The examination by the State Board was held on Thursday, June 29, 1876. It began promptly in the morning and was continued till ten o'clock p. m., when the whole class was passed. In this class was Dr. J. B. Smith, who a few days after graduation was made a member of the Faculty, as he is today.

There were no formal literary exercises at Commencement. This has a history that can be but briefly touched. First, there was hesitation on the part of the Principals, particularly of those who were College men, to have Commencement exercises after the manner of the College, especially as there was considerable criticism indulged as to their wanting to assume a scholastic dignity to which they were not entitled. But in respect of this school literary exercises had abounded so that a mid-winter contest was held as well as one at the end of the Spring term. Of one of the mid-winter contests Professor Jackman and Dr. J. B. Smith were the chief opponents, each reading ~~one~~ original poem.

The Contest at the Commencement in which J. K. McCollum, afterwards County Superintendent of Washington county, and J. J. Miller, now Judge Miller of the Orphans' Court, Pittsburg, were the debaters, was notable and has probably not been surpassed since in the ability of these antagonists and in the interest of the community.

Philo Items.

By Clara Campbell and Edna Hornfech.

Philo's numbers are rapidly increasing, forty new members having been received since the beginning of the Spring term.

Dr. Noss, Dr. Lukens, Prof. Sisson and Dr. Ehrenfeld were the Faculty visitors for last month.

We were pleased to have with us on the evening of April 21st, Miss Helen Beeson and Miss Catherine Cooper of the class of '04.

The continued story, "A Woman's Bright Invention," by Miss Mae Swan and Miss Sadie Mowry deserves special mention.

The following is an extract from a periodical by Miss Mae Grimm:

May the victory of the past—
Won through honest labor done,—
Be the pillar that at last
Shall support new honors won.

May our glory still burn bright,
And our banner wave on high,
Guiding students to the light,
Where true victory e'er is nigh.

Then on, brave Philos, to the work,
Where victory crowns the way;
From your duty never shirk,
God will help you all the way.

Following were the officers of Philo during the first weeks of the term

President, Mr. Clarence Tannehill; Vice President, Miss Mary Wakefield; Secretary, Miss Susan Moore; Treasurer, Miss M. Hunker; Attorney, Mr. David Smith; Marshal, Mr. Paul Abraham; Critic, Miss Lulu Ferguson.

Clio Notes.

By Mary Chester.

Although excellent work has been done in the Clio Society, Fall and Winter terms, we hope that the standard will be raised even higher by the aid of the new students.

We have looked forward with renewed interest to this new school term and the Society work, so if each member does his best, we can make our Society a success.

The Spring term opened with the following new officers: President, Mr. Edward McCleery; Vice President, Miss Cora Soles; Secretary, Miss Bernice McMichael; Attorney, Mr. Earl Springer; Critic, Miss Evelyn Taggart; Treasurer, Miss Mary Byers; Marshall, Mr. Edgar Powell; Choristers, Miss Marguerite Scott and Mr. Thos Walton.

Miss Evelyn Taggart delivered the salutatorian's address on Apr. 7th.

Our faculty visitors for the past month have been Miss Etta Lilley, Mr. G. G. Hertzog, Miss Hamlin, Miss Lewellyn, and Miss Thomas.

An excellent meeting of Society was held on Apr. 21st, and we were complimented by Miss Lewellyn, who said that Clio is taking a high rank.

The duet "Two Merry Girls," sung by Miss Lenore Stevens and Miss Relda Keitzer was enjoyed by all.

Is it worth while to waste time and paper in saying to the Alumni that as for me you are welcome as the flowers in May? That the memory of these twelve years spent in the service of this school, and incidentally in the service of those who have graduated from it, is, and will be the pleasant memory of my life?

You may have caused me sleepless nights in the past; you may have been the cause of my "saying things," for in the language of my friend Alfred Henry Lewis, you were "sure a wild lot and some tumultuous," yet you were here and were part of it all, and helped us a lot more than you ever hurt us. ### Y. W. C. A. NOTES.

BY MYRTLE LUTHER.

Our Y. W. C. A. has been largely augmented since the opening of the Spring Term. About fifty new girls have enrolled as members and a general spiritual influence is largely felt. On Friday evening, April 27, so many girls came to prayer meeting that we could not all be accommodated in the Y. W. C. A. room, so Mrs. Noss opened her parlors to us.

The interest in all meetings has been intense.

Miss Jean Batty, our new State Secretary, has issued an open letter asking that an additional secretary be employed who will devote her entire time to visiting industrial towns with the view of organizing additional branches of the Y. W. C. A.

The officers for next year have been selected and are as follows: President, Miss Thomas; First Vice President, Miss Mira McCleary; Second Vice President, Miss Millie Snider; Secretary, Miss Carrie Shaw; Corresponding Secretary, Miss Blanche Brightwell; Treasurer, Miss Jean Moon.

MISS KATHARINE ELLIS.

Miss Ellis will be present on June 26 to aid in entertaining the Alumni and other friends of the school. Of a recent performance the Pittsburg Dispatch has this to say: "Much enthusiasm was aroused by the singing of Miss Ellis, who gave Liza Lehman's "Swing Song" and "Nymphs and Fauns," by Bemberg. Miss Ellis' clear soprano shows careful training. Her high notes are clear and pure and her singing was a feature of the evening's entertainment that was a delight to all present.

The Normal Review.

The Editor of the NORMAL REVIEW joins heartily in the strong invitations which his brethren are publishing in this number. He desires in addition to invite you to become a subscriber to the REVIEW.

The Editor believes you ought to read the REVIEW regularly, because in that way you will learn much of what your former acquaintances are engaged in. The next number will give an account of the great reunion of 1905. All through the coming school year there will be items published which you can hardly afford to miss reading.

The price is low—only fifty cents a year. One dollar will pay for two years and an additional two months thrown in for good measure.

You will want the next and succeeding

REVIEWS. Therefore, subscribe now. Address your communication this way: NORMAL REVIEW, Lock Box 102, California, Pa.
