

INDEX TO RURAL LIBRARIES

Mary B. Fecko
Reference Librarian
Lander College
Greenwood, South Carolina

Rural Libraries is indexed by author, title, and subject. The index spans a six year time period (from 1980 to 1986), with a total of thirteen issues in all. The author and title indexes are arranged alphabetically, and include author's name, title, pagination, volume number, issue number, and year of publication.

The subject index is arranged by general subject headings (in capital letters). Articles pertaining to a subject heading are cited beneath it. The page numbers cited in the subject index differ from those in the other indexes in that the subject index cites only the pages relevant to the subject, rather than all the pages in each article. Furthermore, some of the subject headings are broken down into subheadings. For example, "RURAL LIBRARY SERVICE" is further divided into "Administration," "Budgeting," "Children's Services," etc. Most of the articles in the subject index are indexed under only one key word. General subject headings, rather than specific ones, were chosen to allow for future changes and additions to the index.
