

Campus-wide Election Will Select Coed of Year

No. of Summer School Sessions Reduced to Three

Summer session plans for 1961 have been completed. A few changes are involved, primarily calendar changes. Instead of four 3 week sessions as in the past, the 1961 summer session will be divided into a pre, main, and post session.

A pre-session will be held from June 12-30, a three week period. The main session will be six weeks in length, July 3-August 11. Sept. 1 will be the final day of the three week post-session.

Still May Earn 12 Credits

Students who are accelerating still will be able to complete 12 semester hours of work if they attend all sessions.

Dean Hoch reminds students who do plan to attend summer sessions that it is required to live on campus. The only exceptions will be those students who commute from their own homes. Students who have been living in private homes are requested to make their plans to fulfill this requirement.

Offerings To Be Announced

Announcements of undergraduate and graduate offerings for summer Session 1961 will be made in the near future.

BSC Named China Cultural Center

A new program of Chinese culture will be introduced at Bloomsburg State College in the near future. This is part of a new world-study program, which was announced recently by the Superintendent of Public Instruction, Dr. Charles H. Boehm.

The 14 state colleges of Pennsylvania have been designated as "foreign cultural centers." The colleges are to develop special "depositories of information and materials" about particular cultural areas of the world.

First Problem Is Funds

Mr. Boyd Buckingham has cited several ways this program might be developed at BSC in accordance with some of the suggestions from the Dept of Public Instruction. The drive to add books to the library might allow for the addition of Chinese literature. The administration may be able to hire faculty members who are familiar with this field. However, the first step is securing funds to carry out this program.

"The object of the program," Dr. Boehm said, "is to make available to all Pennsylvania students, both in school and college, sources of knowledge about foreign cultures not generally found in other institutions of the state."

Choice Based on Facilities

The superintendent's plan was approved at a recent meeting of the 14 college presidents. The cultural areas were selected on the basis of existing facilities at the colleges for setting up the project. Dr. Boehm expressed the hope that in time the state colleges would earn national reputation for their cultural specialties.

Shippensburg State College students will be given an opportunity to earn six hours of credit this summer while enjoying a cultural tour of Europe and Scandinavia.

Sitting: Anne Golder, Patti Lello, June Housenick. Standing: Suzanne Fisher, Connie Terzopolis, Judy Goss, Hope Wingate, and Nancy McFerran.

9 Seniors to Vie In Campus Vote For May Queen

At the second Senior Class meeting on January 25, the candidates for the May Queen were nominated from the floor. Only senior girls who have a good academic standing, are active in college organizations and have maintained college standards socially, were eligible for nomination.

Nine Women Selected

The following girls have been selected as candidates for May Queen: Sandy Moore, a special education student from Hazleton; Gail Hurter, enrolled in the elementary curriculum is a resident of Pottstown; Kay Gaglione an elementary student from Sunbury; Jane Rlenaker, who is also from Sunbury, is enrolled in the elementary curriculum; Barrie Iveson a business student is a resident of Kingston; Marjorie Ginnick Stover of South Williamsport is a student in special education curriculum; Brenda Cunningham who hails from the Panama Canal Zone is a

Warning Issued to Non-Participants

Dean Hoch announces that the requirement for extra-curricular activities will be more strictly enforced. Students are referred to page 73 of the Pilot for the regulations governing this matter.

Sponsors of extra-curricular were advised at a recent faculty meeting of this requirement. Student extra-curricular activities will be checked before degrees are conferred.

In the following semesters an extra-curricular record will be maintained by Dean McCauslin, dean of students.

business student; Rose Fatzinger, also a business student, is from Bethlehem; and Mary Lou Webb, a resident of Danville, is enrolled in special education.

Vote in March

Gary Reddig, President of CGA will crown the May Queen at the annual May Day program.

Voting for the candidates will be held in the month of March. No definite date has been set. It will be a college-wide election.

College Council Proposes Changes In Constitution

CGA is presently considering two important changes in its Constitution. The first is a proposed elimination of the office of assistant treasurer. According to CGA President, Gary Reddig, Council has decided that the duties of this office can be handled adequately by the treasurer.

Would Eliminate Open Meetings

The second change concerns the elimination of compulsory open CGA meetings. The Maroon and Gold is being considered as one means of reporting Council activities to the students and of getting student suggestions to the CGA.

Other projects confronting College Council are the possibility of spontaneous social activities, such as a dance after a sporting event, and the recommendations for distribution of the parking violation fund. Suggestions for the latter include adding the money to the Kehr-Ward Loan Fund, purchasing a portable public address system, or using the money for scholarships. Committees have been appointed to investigate the possibilities of each problem.

Olympian To Appear Early in the Spring

Material for the Olympian has been approved and submitted to the publisher, and the magazine is expected to be on sale in the latter part of March.

Disappointing Response

The Olympian staff was disappointed in the poor student response to appeals made for contributions. Many of the other state colleges publish a literary magazine four times a year, but there was scarcely enough material for one publication at BSC. It is hoped that in the future more interest will be shown in this endeavor.

New Look Will Be Seen

The poetry and stories that were submitted this year were of excellent quality, and a large sale is anticipated due to the "new look," the reduction in price, and the increase in quantity and quality of the material.

Choice Will Be Crowned at Hop

The most popular miss on campus will be elected by a majority vote of the student body and crowned Co-ed of the Year at the Freshman Hop, March 24.

Seniors

Representing the Senior Class are Judy Goss and Connie Terzopolis. Both girls are in the secondary field; Judy majoring in social studies and English, and Connie in science. Because of their active participation in various campus activities, these girls have become quite popular.

Juniors

From the Junior Class are Sue Fisher and Hope Wingate. Sue is enrolled in the elementary curriculum and enjoys tennis, field hockey and painting. Hope, a business education major, is an active participant in Pi Omega Pi, and enjoys swimming and horseback riding.

Sophomores

The class of 1963 has pinned its hopes to Nancy McFerran and Anne Golder. Nancy plans a career in business education, while Anne is studying French and English.

Freshmen

The Freshman Class enters the competition with Patti Lello and June Housenick; both are enrolled in the elementary curriculum. Patti enjoys swimming, dancing and skating; Nancy fills her leisure time with dancing and swimming.

For the next few weeks, a great deal of attention will be focused upon the election of the Co-ed of the Year.

The date of the Freshman Hop has been moved from Friday, February 17, to Friday, March 24. Details will be announced at a later date.

Shortiss Joins BSC Science Staff

Mr. David K. Shortiss

Mr. David K. Shortiss, formerly of South Williamsport, joined the BSC Science Department in January. He has earned his Bachelor of Arts from Lycoming College, a Master's degree in Education and is now preparing for a Doctorate of Education at Penn State. Formerly employed by Sylvania Electric Products Inc., Mr. Shortiss then taught six years at South Williamsport High School.

His is a member of NEA, PSEA, National Association of Biology Teachers, and the American Institute of Biological Science. His wife is the former Wealthy Keister of Laurelton. They have three children, Carol, 10; John, 8; and Marie, 3.

Walk-ins Needed Today

Betty Scalfo, chairman of the Bloodmobile committee, is shown giving pointers to her committee about solicitation of donors.

There's still time. Time, that is, to donate blood to the Columbia County Bloodmobile. Already ten faculty members, fifty students over twenty-one years of age, and 101 younger students, who have returned their parents' permission slips, have volunteered. However, Betty Scalfo, student head of the committee, reports that approximately 100 additional donors will be needed to fill the quota set at 250 persons.

For the project to be a success, Mr. Schleicher, faculty advisor for the drive, is hoping for support from walk-ins and those students who have not as yet returned their parents' permission slips.

The Red Cross unit will be at Centennial Gym on Thursday, February 16, between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m.

If Open Meetings Are Dropped

Council has recently recommended that compulsory CGA open meetings be dropped from the annual calendar, and that the Maroon and Gold carry more responsibility for reporting the actions and proposed actions of the body. Accurate and timely reporting of Council meetings is impossible unless a new system is devised to speed the release of council news. Council news is presently delayed for a week or more. The release is often ill-timed for the Maroon and Gold printing schedule.

If the Maroon and Gold is expected to increase its coverage of CGA and College Council, it must be permitted to send a reporter to cover the meetings and should be permitted to print the news immediately after it is made.

Are More Books the Answer?

The advent of a graduate program, the selection of BSC as a center for Chinese cultural material, and the increase of outside reading assignments all help to emphasize the importance of the BSC library.

This importance has been recognized by students, who appreciate efforts to expand library services. Steps have been taken to purchase a great number of new books, to remove the juvenile section to the Benjamin Franklin Training School to allow room for reference books, and to enlarge the library staff.

The open stacks also indicate improvement. Librarians no longer need to spend time obtaining books in this section. Open stacks, however, pose a special problem — students are unfamiliar with open stacks, and the relocation of books creates confusion.

Students are often embarrassed by the librarians' answers to inquiries about the location of books. Such responses as, "How long have you been here?" and, "Didn't you attend your library science course?" are not uncommon. The library science course for most students now enrolled at BSC dealt mainly with the classification of books but did not include an orientation to their location in the library.

The antagonism which is now growing could be partially remedied by specific instructions (more than just a general wave of the hand) by the librarians. But more than that is needed. Consideration is necessary from those on both sides of the check-out counter. (Students, too, are guilty of discourtesy.)

We urge both students and staff to aid in the removal of the unpleasantness now associated with a trip to the library.

And to add a cliché:

Courtesy is contagious — must our library remain immune?

A Problem Reduced

The College Book Store has noticeably improved its handling of the opening-of-the-semester book rush. One did not see students in the long and slowly moving lines which were formerly commonplace. Mr. Williams should be thanked for the actions which he took to alleviate the irritating problem of endless waiting.

Students can do their part to facilitate book purchasing. Part of the slow-up in the Store during the past book rush was due to a lack of student knowledge about the titles of texts. Student cooperation is needed for worthwhile progress in solving any Book Store problems which still exist.

Any BSC student is eligible to audition for the Bloomsburg Players' spring production of The Skin of Our Teeth. Try-outs will be held Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, February 21, 22 and 23 beginning at 7:00 p.m. in Carver Auditorium. No advance preparation is required.

AD LIB

by MYLES ANDERSON

Just the other day I was speaking to Mr. Williams, the manager of the Husky Lounge, and he presented me with a drastic problem concerning lounge conditions. In the last several weeks students have been leaving a great deal of lunch bags, papers, cigarette butts, and waste in general on the tables and floor of the lounge. To top things off, a few students each day select certain tables which they use as waste deposit areas making a most unhealthful looking pyramid of trash. Along with these conditions Mr. Williams is replacing on the average of four ash trays a day, and the cups and glasses are being replaced in fantastic numbers. It seems that the breakage figure is considerably less than the replacement amount. In addition to this, there are large quantities of merchandise leaving The College Store without stopping at the cashier's desk.

It's Costing You Money

All of these unorthodox actions are costing students money, a great deal of money. The profits from the Husky Lounge all revert back to student welfare; for example, some of this money is being used to establish grants and student scholarships. The profits also help subsidize the Student National Defense Loan Fund and it's the source of income for the Bloomsburg Hospital Building Fund project that College Council undertook last September. But when the students misuse this lounge it adds to the overhead expenses; therefore, lowering the amount contributed to student benefit.

Lets Keep It the Best

Those of you that have visited other campuses in our conference can certainly say that our lounge out-ranks any students lounge in the state. The lounge has been a selling point for prospective freshmen and visitors to our campus. I certainly don't have to tell you how much Bloomsburg students enjoy what the lounge has to offer. Well, I have presented you with a problem, one that can only be solved by you and the solution lies in eliminating the conditions that prevail.

The COMMUTERS

Hi fellow strugglers! We've been racking our brains for a slogan for the commuters, and, low and behold, we found one in our trusty Pilot. (Freshmen take Note of source.) The Alma Mater reads, "Ever upward, striving, climbing," and that fits us to a "T". If we have to strive, climb or struggle much more, we may never see Spring come to our campus... our money will run out. The extras are the real problem; antifreeze, radiator caps, etc. Well, that's where our money goes. The underground reports that the commuters have been plagued with flat tires. May we suggest a new methods course entitled "How to Change a Flat" (and fix a spare?) Macyle will probably be the first to enroll.

We Were Stood Up

If any of you have parked your coats in Carver Auditorium to reserve a seat for Romulo, maybe you'd better pick it up. General Romulo didn't quite make the scene; our schedule dates it sometime this spring.

That reminds us, we went to Basil Rathbone's performance Friday night; intellectually, we bettered ourselves.

"Calling Dr. Kendall, calling Dr. Kendall, you are wanted in surgery." May we fix our fiddle when you're through? Cat-gut is so expensive these days. Be sure the cat pulls through. It may solve your multiplication problem with the meeses.

Campus Philogyny Climbing

Either more guys are dating more girls than ever before or they are getting more careless about it. During the past week(s) dating has crowded wrestling and basketball out of campus conversations, and while this may be due in part to the fact that it was a cold, snowy period and sports events were cancelled, still, the tendency is noted.

There is, of course, nothing new in dating. Any guy on campus who goes in for it with the idea of originating a new fad which shall be known by his name, like Marxism or Caesarean, will have to consider the priority claims of several hundred generations of historical characters, most of them tall, dark, and handsome (Dobie Gillis and King Gruber are exceptions). Just why height, sight, shade and philanderess seem to have gone hand in hand for centuries is a matter for the modern philosopher and psychologists to determine. We haven't the time or space to do it here.

But the increase in outings turned up during the past week have a certain serious savor lacking that existed in some of those which have gone before. This is neither good nor bad but depends on your outlook. For instance, the fellow who bumped into an incoming coed at registration and married her within the week. No foolishness here, no silly games being played. It was just a matter of taking advantage of a reciprocally good thing. This is, of course, dating carried to an extreme — not our goal.

Also there has been rumors of importing male escorts from other institutions to "ease the tension" of the Bloomsburg Beauties, but this is certainly unnecessary. There are sufficient suitors for our campus cuties so let's continue this latest pleasant trend. — Manny Gonzales

School of the Brave

Who are the bravest students on campus? Who sacrifice, strive, and suffer in the quest of knowledge? Who should be given medals for action above and beyond the call of duty? Who? The noble people who gather from points afar to our fair college, the commuter.

This indeed is an admirable cult, for whom do you know, other than a commuter, that would rise at the ridiculous hour of 6:00 a.m., freeze in an ancient car that never heard of a heater, fall down slippery steps, and to top it off, for lunch, eat cold, squashed sandwiches and a cup of something that the snack bar jokingly calls "coffee."

But the simple fact that they converge from points unknown does not make them an unorganized group. No indeed! Kay Kerlish and Ed Timm, the presidents of the Day Women's and Day Men's associations can attest to that.

What do you think would be a just reward for these admirable commuters? Well, in consideration of their dead batteries, flat tires and boiling radiators, a degree in mechanics would probably be most appropriate. However, since this is quite impossible, the next best thing would be to abolish one three syllable word, Brownbagger.

Commons Complaints

Students of Bloomsburg, as of any college, like to pride themselves on being mature individuals, ready to take their place in the adult, and, (we hope) professional world. Gone are the high school days when students never studied, threw spit balls at the teacher, reacted childishly to parental influence, and "crashed" the lunch line in the school cafeteria. But wait a minute... are they really?

Attention Line Crasher

Consider that last bit of mature behavior, "crashing the lunch line". For some rather obscure reason the maturity of the Bloomsburg students seems to have retrogressed recently to this rather selfish, inconsiderate, and childish behavior. Anyone who has eaten in the Commons lately has probably experienced at one time that rather frustrating sensation that the line is moving backward instead of forward. The reason? Why, Betsy is at the front of the line, and everyone knows Betsy. So, everyone goes to the front of the line. Except you. Why not? Don't you know anyone at the front of the line? Or are you someone left from the "old school" who has still retained some consideration for others and sense of decency which makes you wait your turn.

A Reminder

The cause of this unseemly behavior is rather hard to determine, but the consensus seems to place blame on the freshmen since they are the worst offenders, and this is a relatively new mode of behavior to BSC. But we certainly cannot exclude the upperclassmen, because they are also guilty of this offense. All students should be reminded that this is a privilege which should be reserved for student teachers only.

A Solution

Whatever the cause, it seems foolish and unnecessary for us, as mature individuals, to allow this to exist. At present, the Dining Room Committee is working on corrective measures for this situation which will consist of such steps as securing names of offenders and then taking further action. But why should we allow this to develop to such measure, when we should be able to correct the problem ourselves? It is time the students acted their ages and began behaving like considerate adults who are supposed to maintain the ethics of their profession. May we remind you, one of these is "maturity".

Joan Gutgesell, on behalf of the Dining Room Committee

seniors in general are (or have been) student teaching, may we offer a shot in the arm? Look at it this way, kids; in sixteen weeks you will be a teacher.

One of these days they'll be smiling at you.

Gamma Theta Upsilon Hears James Coombs

James Coombs, a native of Bloomsburg, spoke about his experience as part of the expedition Operation Deepfreeze II in the Antarctica at a recent Gamma Theta Upsilon meeting. The program consisted of slides and explanations. The highlight of the program was the slides of the initiation of the sailors who crossed the Equator for the first time.

Grapplers Win Ninth With 22-4 Victory

The Husky grapplers turned in their ninth straight triumph two weeks ago at the expense of Waynesburg State College. The score was a surprising 22-4. Surprising because Waynesburg was reputed to have one of the stronger teams in the NAIA conference. Coach Houk, as might be expected, had nothing but the highest of praises for his charges as each of them turned in splendid exhibitions.

This was the week of the violent snowstorm and it necessitated the team's departure on Friday afternoon. The night was spent in a motel just outside of Waynesburg and the rest of the trip was finished Saturday afternoon.

Meletski Replaces Hughes

Joel Meletski, a frosh from Somerville, N. J., wrestling for the injured Bill Hughes, started the evening off by drawing with a junior who had at least two years experience on Joel. This was his first start as a varsity performer and he showed fine heart, coming from behind to earn his draw.

In a very active match at 130, Tom "Otz" Gorant piled up 12 points to his opponent's 6, giving Bloom its first of six decisions. Tom had been idle against East Stroudsburg, but showed no ill effects as he flashed his best form of the season.

Scarese Still Undefeated

Dick Scarese kept his undefeated streak going as he gained a 7-3 decision over Berryhill in a match that was not decided until the closing seconds.

Jerry "Legs" Wright clamped one of his powerful leg holds on his foe and, after getting his necessary points, rode him for nearly two full periods. Jerry was subbing for Dom Strinelli who is sidelined with a leg injury.

Steumpfle Wins Easily

Dave Steumpfle, another freshman, scored almost all of his 13 points on take-downs in winning his match at 157. Dave executed some very beautiful leg drops but was unable to contain his man long enough.

In the 167 lb. class Gene Dixon faced Ron Noel, one of Waynesburg's finer wrestlers and bested him 2-0. Noel put up a tremendous battle trying to escape, but Gene rode him very neatly for the verdict.

Poust Draws

Don Poust at 177 drew with Bob Eckley, a wrestler who usually wrestles heavyweight for Waynesburg.

Bill Garson, Husky heavyweight, rounded out the evening by decisioning Loneragon 5-3, losing a point for an illegal hold early in the match.

Husky of the Week

by FRANK CRENETI

Big Bill Garson, undefeated Husky heavyweight wrestler, has been chosen Husky of the week.

Sparked Lock Haven Victory

Garson in maintaining this undefeated streak has come through with some top notch clutch wrestling. The one bout that should stand out in the minds of all Husky supporters is the thrilling 14 to 13 win over Lock Haven this year. Entering the match against the highly rated Bald Eagle heavyweight, with the meet outcome of the wrestling on his shoulder, this bruising heavyweight stayed calm and cool and maintained complete control of the match. When asked how he felt after this match, Bill could make but one reply "great."

Bill, a big strong boy, played four years of football and wrestled for four years while attending Williamsport High School. He is now majoring in speech correction and would like to secure a job in a clinic upon graduation.

Classic Music Fan

The Husky grappler is an avid fan of classical music and can often be seen driving his Willys Jeep Truck. When Bill is not on campus it is a good bet that he is in the general vicinity of Wilkes-Barre General Hospital.

Member of Varsity Grid Team

Bill is a member of the varsity football team and also an active member of the CGA Social Recreation Committee.

Garson attributes his success thus far to good conditioning and the fine coaching of Russ Houk.

B Club Active

Attention Girls! Intramural volleyball is beginning March 1. All girls interested in playing intramural volleyball are urged to sign on a team soon. Along with volleyball, intramural badminton will be scheduled for the girls. Both singles and doubles will be offered. Any girl is eligible for either sport.

The Husky-ettes have formed a basketball team almost equal to our men's team in drive and competitive spirit. They played their first away game at Lock Haven February 13, and will follow with another away game at Susquehanna February 17. Return games with both Lock Haven and Susquehanna are tentatively scheduled here at Bloom. The Husky-ettes look fine and display some playing power both in offense and defense.

Barbara Monore, B Club's secretary, graduated in January and Mary Redman has been appointed by the officers to take the vacant secretary's chair. Mary is a senior in the business curriculum.

Bowlers Score Easy Win Over Bucknell

The Bloomsburg Keglers smashed the boys from Bucknell 2509 to 2107 in a recent three game match.

Jolting Joe Dantas again led the Huskies with a phenomenal 583. Al Dazley, comparative newcomer to the Husky squad, was second with a 542 series.

The Huskies will face Bucknell in a return bout next week.

Courtmen Lose 71-70 To Mansfield

The Husky ball-hawks topped off an exciting week in local sports by nearly upsetting undefeated Mansfield State. The "Mountaineers" successful in their 13th straight contest squeezed out the 71-70 victory in the dying minutes of the contest.

The Huskies led all the way, down to the wire, but with 1:30 left to play, the visitors knotted the score at 70 all. "Mountie" Dave Russell then sunk the deciding foul which put the "Mountaineers" ahead to stay.

Huskies Fail At Foul Line

The Huskies outshot the visitors from the floor but lost the game at the foul line where Mansfield hit 24 out of 33 attempts while Bloom missed 14 of the free throws including one in the final seconds.

Dick "Deno" Lloyd led all scorers with 23 points. He had 19 in the first half, but due to accumulated personal fouls, he saw limited action in the second half. Norm Shutovich also was hampered by personal foul difficulty, but managed to score 11 points before fouling out. "Flip" Houser chipped in with 14 big points to keep the Huskies in the thick of things.

Lloyd Sparks Team

Lloyd showed the fans why he was chosen second team All-State last season as he not only kept BSC in the game with his scoring, but also did a tremendous job rebounding off both backboards. He also stood out on defensive.

The combination of personal fouls and the Huskies' ineptness at the foul line made the difference in a game which was considered the biggest thriller played here to date.

J. V.'s Win Easily

The J. V. basketballers ramped to an easy victory over Mansfield 76-47. Bloom ran away from the Mounty J. V.'s right from the start. With 6'4" transfer Ron Cherbur controlling the boards, Bloom walked off at half-time with a 41-17 lead and eventual easy victory.

SPORTS SHOTS

by WAYNE T. MORRISSEY

It was difficult during last week's Mansfield-Bloom tilt to tell which team had previously been undefeated. Many fans were perfectly justified in wondering why our Huskies had been rated 20 point underdogs. The locals, in a recent outing again West Chester, displayed the type of play that is usually synonymous with championship squads. This brand of ball continued into the Mansfield contest and shows signs of continuing throughout the remainder of the season. At any rate, the 1 point victory over the Huskies represents nothing to me but possible gray hair and a dose of ulcers for the coaches. It certainly isn't convincing proof of the Mountaineers' superiority.

One of the signs of a championship coach and squad is its ability to cope perfectly with injuries to key personnel. Coach Houk and his stalwarts have done just that in the past three weeks.

For two years now, I've been waiting to write the story of the swimmers' first victory. I thought I was going to get that opportunity last week. The men were definitely up for the Millersville meet, and if they had that little more depth which had been noticeably lacking for two years, they could have won. However, the squad has definitely improved over last year, and within the next two years should stack up as one of our best sports endeavors.

On The National Scene

Through the year, this reporter has seen a number of oddities appear on the "national past-time" scene designed to draw attendance. To my recollection, the first was the one-armed outfielder of war time fame, Pete Gray. He was followed by that amiable clown and stellar attraction, Al Schatz. But perhaps, the greatest showman of them all was Bill Veech, former general manager of many clubs including the now defunct St. Louis Browns. While with this club, he hired a midget for pinch-hitting roles and a clown for coaching duties. He also set off fire works and presented the ladies with corsages.

At that time, this reporter felt that these were in keeping with the spirit of the game which had been set by the unpredictable and zany "Gas-House Gang" of St. Louis. But this week the Chicago Cubs have come up with a scheme that seems to be bordering on the ridiculous.

It's true that the Cubs don't shape up as one of the red hot teams in the senior circuit, but it can't be imagined that they want to retain that status for very long. And I ask you, can parading eight managers, one a month, before the fans, accomplish anything but mass confusion? I don't feel that a month's time even gives the manager a chance to learn his players' first names or the positions they play, let alone do the job a manager's supposed to do—bring the potential out of each individual player. I wouldn't be surprised if he had to buy a program to find out what his batting line-up is going to be.

I realize that this is an era of change and advancement, but I can't help feeling that the Cubs are advancing to the rear in this case. It also makes me wonder what's coming next—Kasavubu playing third?

Swimmers Edged Out By Millersville 51-45

Coach Ziegler's mermen showed signs of tasting their first victory last week but were edged out by a strong Millersville squad, 51-45. Millersville, who had trounced two of the other Husky opponents, put together strong efforts in the distance events and in diving to take the closely contested meet.

Nelson Swarts, swimming his best time of the season, walked off with the individual medley relay. Don Young, who is developing into one of the best free-stylers in the league, took first place in both the 100 and 50 yd. freestyle events.

Set School Record

The Huskies finished strong with a school record setting performance in the last relay. Members of this event included, Chuck Jaspers, Nelson Swarts, Tom Little and Don Young.

In a recent contest with East Stroudsburg, the Huskies suffered a 56-38 defeat. The Red Raiders, fresh from a victory over the LaSalle Explorers, showed talent and experience in all events. However, the Huskies did make a noteworthy showing as they placed second and third in almost every event.

Swarts and Young Stand-out

Standouts for the swimmers were Nelson Swarts—200 yd. backstroke, Don Young—50 and 100 yd. freestyle, Tom Little—220 yd. freestyle, Lou Kanetski—440 yd. freestyle and Ron Davidhaiser in diving.

The January edition of the Lock Haven State College newspaper, in reference to the January 25 basketball game, stated "This year's Huskies lack experience with only one senior and one junior."

Loans Available for BSC Students

by NANCY RODGERS

Need financial help? If you do, you can find information concerning scholarships, grants, and loans on pages 31-38 of the Pilot. Loans may be obtained through the National Defense Student Loan Fund and the Alumni Association Loan Fund for extended periods of time. The Kehr-Ward Fund may be used for an emergency short-term loan.

Need Only 2.0 for N.D.E.A.

The National Defense Student Loan Fund is open to students of all classes who have at least a 2.0 average. In addition to the minimum scholastic requirement, selection is based upon certification of need. The federal government allocates the college twenty dollars for each student enrolled to maintain this revolving fund. BSC was allocated $31,000.00 for the 1960-61 school year. This means that three hundred and ten students can borrow $100.00 or that sixty students can borrow the maximum amount of $500. For second semester alone, sixty-five students applied for $79,525.00. Because of the large number of applications, the committee requests that you do not apply unless you have a justifiable need and that you make your request for the minimum amount you require.

Alumni Fund Open to Jrs., Srs.

The Alumni Association Loan Fund is open to Juniors and Seniors who have at least a 2.0 average. Juniors may borrow as much as $200 and Seniors as much as $300. If a student has not borrowed as a Juniors, he may borrow $500 in his senior year.

Short Term Loans

The Kehr-Ward Fund is an emergency loan fund. As much as $50 may be borrowed for a period of 30 days. Renewal of the note for 30 additional days may be made if the social dean involved gives his approval.

Applicants for the National Defense Loan and the Alumni Association Loan may obtain application forms from the Dean of Students. Each applicant will have a personal interview with a member of the faculty, committee of Scholarships Grants, and Loans which is headed by Dean J. Alfred McCauslin. All completed application forms should be returned to the Dean of Students Office. Applications will be reviewed at periodic meetings of the committee. Final approval is given by President Harvey A. Andrus.

Frosh Must Wait Nine Weeks

Freshmen may not apply for these loans until after their first nine weeks period at BSC.

Upon notification of approval, the student may obtain his check from Mr. Horace Williams in the College Book Store for the National Defense Loan, or from Dr. E. H. Nelson, President of the Alumni Association, Caldwell Consistory Building, Market Square, Bloomsburg for the Alumni Association Loan.

The National Defense Loan carries an interest rate of three per cent per year. No interest is charged until one year after the borrower ceases to be a full-time student. Interest is not charged during any period, not exceeding three years, while the borrower is a member of the Armed Services. The principal amount of the loan together with interest is paid in ten regular installments.

Teaching Cancels Half

Cancellation provisions are made for those who are entering public school teaching. The provision amounts to a scholarship of half the amount the student has borrowed when he completes five years of public school teaching.

Students To Present Non-decision Debate

Today, four members of the newly-formed Debating Club will go to St. Cyril's Academy, Danville, to present a non-decision demonstration debate. Next week four members of the Club will travel to Mansfield State College to participate in another non-decision debate.

On February 10 and 11, seventeen members of the Club travelled to King's College to observe a debate tournament.

Drive Launched To Defeat Communism

The Student Statesman, a newly formed newspaper, is launching a drive to educate college students to the Communist line of influence.

Any type of newspaper article dealing with world problems created by the advance of Communism will be acceptable for publication. All stories should be addressed to The Student Statesman, 847 South Grand Ave., Room 303, Los Angeles 17, California.

Study Indicates Drop-Outs Due to Academic Reasons

In a study completed for the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools in February, 1960, Dean of Instruction, John A. Hoch, listed the following reasons for drop outs. Thirty-eight per cent of students leave college for academic standing as stated by the faculty committees. Nine per cent of the students themselves give academic trouble as the reason for their drop out. Marriage and/or family problems are reasons given in sixteen per cent of the cases. Eleven per cent of the drop outs transfer to other colleges. No reason was given by eight per cent of the students leaving. Six per cent give financial difficulties as their reason for leaving school. Miscellaneous reasons such as not interested in becoming a teacher, illness, seeking employment, military service, and personal are given by fourteen per cent of the students leaving college. A check revealed, however, that all of these were in trouble academically.

At the end of the past semester, the student enrollment had decreased by 156. Of this number, 55 were graduated. Of the remainder—101, most left because of scholastic difficulties. Dean Hoch estimates that 140 students will not return in September.

Library Adds New Charging Machine

Two new items have been added to the library. The first is a Gaylord Electric Charging Machine, and the second is a reference department.

Less Chance of Error

The Gaylord Electric Charging Machine is one of the newest machines for libraries. Because of the number of students enrolled in the college, it was necessary to increase the speed and accuracy of the library. When the machine is used there is less chance for error. Each student who wishes to check out a book from the library will receive a borrower's card with a number on it. This same number will be used all through college and must be turned in upon graduation.

Reference Section Moves

Another sign of growth is the new reference department. This is housed in the old children's section. Students will find all reference books here. When a student is using a reference book, he is to read it in the reference department and is not to take it outside the area. Doctor Hildegard Pestel is the reference librarian.

Naval Officer On Campus Today

Lieutenant William T. Paal of the U.S. Naval Air Station, Willow Grove, Pennsylvania, is visiting BSC today. His mission will be to explain the qualifications necessary and the benefits available to young men in the naval aviation programs. Lt. Paal will be available for discussion of these programs in the Husky Lounge between 10:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m.

Buddy Morrow and His "Night Train" Orchestra Play for Spring Week-end

Buddy Morrow and his fifteen piece orchestra will appear Saturday, March 11, in Centennial Gymnasium from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. The program will consist of a variety of music — jazz to the best in show music.

Played with Dorseys

Prior to forming his own orchestra, Mr. Morrow played with such "greats" as Tommy and Jimmy Dorsey and Woody Herman. Jazz is his speciality, but he strives to entertain and to provide the type of music his audience enjoys most.

The band is composed of all-star personnel and ranks as one of the greatest in musical entertainment. Don Trube, one of the outstanding big-band vocalists in the nation, will be a featured guest.

Tickets went on sale outside the Lounge starting Monday, February 13. Admission is $2.00.

New Models Appear In Fashion Show

On Monday, February 13, six new models reported to fashion show rehearsal to learn the various turns, the are of showing accessories, and the necessity of good posture. The new-comers to the fashion show are: Betty Galatha, Mary Schuman, Mary Lou Buck, and Donna Brown. These girls, after extensive elimination, are undergoing training by the returning models from last year's fashion show.

Mrs. McCern Directs

This year's program, under the direction of Mrs. McCern of the Business Department, will have the theme "Overtures of Fashion." Judy Goss is the co-ordinator and narrator of the show. Mr. Ulmer and Mrs. Sachs are designing the set.

Although practice has begun, many problems will have to be decided in the near future. This week the children's models will be chosen, along with the assistant co-ordinator and the children's co-ordinator. Approximately two weeks before the show, the clothes will be chosen. The models will be interviewed on WHLM a week before the show.

Publicity Through Letters

Letters to the school principals in the surrounding counties have been sent to invite the students, especially those in home economics or business curriculum.

Science Department Adds New Equipment

The Science Department of BSC announced recently the purchase of some new equipment. New purchases for the biology department include thirty stereo microscopes with individual illumination and thirty compound microscopes. Electrical and mechanical equipment has been added to the physics department. Also, an entirely new stock in chemicals and glassware has been ordered for use in the chemistry labs.

18 Books Added

Science students will find new reference material in the library. Each staff member has compiled a list of books to be purchased, and from this list, eighteen new books will be added to the library. In addition to the books, subscriptions have been placed for scientific journals and magazines.

Dr. Kuster stated that there are no immediate plans to move all science classes into Sutliff Hall because of the spacing problem. Chemistry and physics classes will continue to be divided between Navy Hall and Science Hall. Since moving into the new Sutliff Hall last year, the faculty has been pleased with the well-lighted classrooms and fine furniture.

Courses Offered

New science courses being offered this semester are mechanics and heat, a revamped course, and bacteriology.

An Open Letter to Winter Sports Enthusiasts

You might be interested in knowing that Waller Hall Association has been the first to comply to the wishes of CGA that campus organizations sponsor a "big weekend." And so, with the moral and financial support of the MAROON AND GOLD, the Waller Hall Association has fulfilled the basic qualification of sponsoring such a weekend — diversification.

For, you see, the scene is different and the type of activity is also different — winter sports at Eagles Mere Resort. This is a Winter Weekend and let Dartmouth sit up and take notice! This event — by the way, the date is February 24-26 — is meant to please everyone. It is open to gangs, troops, "motley crews," unofficially organized sororities, Spartans, and individualists (those who insist on skiing on one ski!) No, there are no qualifications, no rigamarol of being capable or eligible or whatever, to attend this fun-filled event. It doesn't matter if you can't fit into a ski life. You can still go to Waller Hall's Winter Weekend.

Eagles Mere offers tops in winter fun, especially to those who have never been there. In addition to skiing, skating and tobogganing there will be free snowballs and you can build a snowman to look like any prof you want. Even Nurse Crawford approves of winter sports as long as you have a coat on. Dean Lane adds a "word to the wise" — "No sneakers, unless they are covered. Aside from that, go and have fun!"

So, grab your gams, ear muffs, long-johns, Eskimo jackets, skates, pillows (pour votre derriere!) and sign out for Waller Hall Weekend. Speaking of signing out — listen to this! Dean Lane is allocating a general 1:30 a.m. Friday night Just one stipulation. This hour is only for those girls who are going to Eagles Mere.

The remainder of the weekend should prove interesting, too. (You know, the day after, the night affair!?) Seriously, though, Saturday night a movie will be held in Carver Auditorium. "Hit the Deck" starring Mitzl Gaynor and Russ Tamblin will be shown at 7:30 p.m. There will also be a record dance at 9:30 p.m. in Husky Lounge to exercise those sore muscles.

Oh yes, take your Clorets along for we're having hoagies. Take it from Susie Williams, lunch committee chairman — "You'll get more than Sugar Pops! And for only a buck and a half, you can't miss!" — Submitted by the Waller Hall Association
