Big Names Hi-Lite BSC Homecoming

President Welcomes Alumni

WELCOME HOME:

Your Alma Mater welcomes you and your friends back to the campus, which is now accommodating 2,000 students with an instructional staff of 127.

At the present time more than $6,000,000 has been allocated and appropriated for the construction of two women's dormitories to accommodate 500 women, a men's dormitory to accommodate 300, an auditorium to seat 2,000, and architects have been appointed to draw plans, but appropriations have not been made, for a Library which will seat 750 and eventually shelve 200,000 volumes, to cost approximately $1,500,000.

Construction is in progress on an expansion of the heating plant, and the construction of all utility lines to meet the electrical, water and sewer needs of the present campus when it accommodates 3,000 students.

Recent land purchases include the Dillon Homestead and the Bloomsburg Country Club. This increases the present campus to more than 60 acres, and a second campus is planned of a similar size.

You may not be able to visit your old campus haunts, but I feel sure that you will notice signs of progress.

Harvey A. Andrus
President

PRIZE-WINNING ORCHESTRA

ESQUIRES OF MSC TO PROVIDE MUSIC FOR SATURDAY DANCE

The Esquires, a prize-winning student orchestra from Mansfield State College, will be the main attraction at the Homecoming dance.

Only music students of the highest caliber are members of the Esquires, and all of them have had previous dance band experience. Some have played professionally, others in local combos and dance bands, and several of the previous members have gone on to play in professional orchestras. This fifteen piece dance band has been a student organization of MSC for the past twenty years but has had college support for only the last nine years.

18 to 27 Years Old

As a student organization of state-wide renown, the Esquires are under the constant scrutiny of the entire college faculty, administration, and student body. When an exceptionally difficult passage of music must be executed, an Esquire is usually called upon. Age-wise, the Esquires rank from 18 to 27 years, the youngest member being Ramsey Meredith of Washington, D.C. He is the only freshman in the group, all other members are of the Junior and Senior classes.

In addition to BSC, the Esquires will be appearing at State College, Lycoming College, Wilson College, Johnsonburg, Saint Mary's Moose Club, and will be touring with the Mansfield Concert Band.

Decca Recording

The Esquires placed first in the 1962 Intercollegiate Jazz Festival that was held at Lycoming College. They have made an album "Selections From the Esquires" on the Decca label. The album puts forth the Esquires' versions of many old standards but was available only to students, faculty, and Mansfield area residents.

Woody Herman and Herd Present Concert In Centennial Gym This Evening at 8 PM

Many Outstanding Members in Herd

Woody Herman's band has long been known for its big names and outstanding musicians. Each time Woody started a new group the fans viewed the opening with hesitance and unfavorably compared it with the former ones.

For instance, some say that the present herd is not as good as that of the "Apple Honey" days that featured big name soloists as Stan Getz, Zoot Simms, Jimmy Gueffre, and Al Cohn. Here Woody quickly points out, "They weren't big names when they joined us, if they had been we wouldn't have been able to afford them . . . who's to say these new men won't become famous too?"

Members Young—But Good

Indeed, the critics had a right to speculate so, for this is a young band with several of its members recent graduates of Boston's Berklee School of Music. However, all indications seem to point to the fact that this new herd will equal if not surpass the former ones. George T. Simon states in the August 26, 1962 New York Herald Tribune, "The arrangements are exciting. The brass is brilliant. The trumpets blast as one. They blow high, but they're accurate and they get a great blend. The saxes are loose and easy. And the rhythm section—well, if there's one reason why this Herd stands out from all the rest, it's because of the rhythmic trio's fantastic, swinging drive."

Simon a 25 Year Critic

Mr. Simon's statement certainly sounds optimistic, especially since (Cont. on p. 6, col. 1)

BSC Chess Team Tops Muhlenburg

BSC Chess team won over Muhlenburg by a score of 3-2 recently. Bruce Albertson (MSC) won over Richard Roke, Danny Marks (BSC) topped D. Schwartz, C. Hallenborg (MSC) beat Floyd Walters, Al Geasy (BSC) won over G. A. Somers, and Kurt Kohler (BSC) beat G. Besses. The following matches played were not included for team score: J. Gallagher (BSC) beat B. Eisenhard, J. Cope (MSC) won over J. Cooper, and Dr. G. Selder topped E. Reed.

First Semester Schedule

Richard Roke, president of the BSC Chess Club and treasurer of the Eastern Pa. College League and Mr. Treblow, advisor, attended a meeting of the league at Muhlenburg recently to plan the schedule for the first semester. Monday, October 15, found BSC at Muhlenburg; Thursday, October 25, at Kutztown; and Thursday, November 15 at Lafayette. These league matches will all be played away. The games will be double round robins with BSC as visitors playing the white boards.

Bloomsburg placed third out of five teams last year and hopes are that this year will prove successful for BSC. Dr. Selders and Mr. Treblow will accompany the team for their first match.

BSC's Big Name Tradition Upheld By MSC Esquires

Big name entertainment has come to be a major part of BSC's Homecoming. With the appearance of the "Esquires" at the Saturday night dance, the tradition will be upheld.

The Esquires have not only placed first in the 1962 Intercollegiate Jazz festival that was held at Lycoming College and recorded an LP on the Decca label. They have also had many of their former members playing on a professional basis with top name bands, and many of their present members have played professionally or in local clubs and dance bands.

Grads Go Professional

Tony Stud, William Buckner, and Louis Lantz, who were 1958 graduates of Mansfield State College, have gone on in music on a professional basis. They have played with Les Elgart, Kai Winding, Si Zentner, Charlie Barnet and many other bands of equal status. Jerry McClure, who also played with the aforementioned bands, has gone into the teaching profession.

John Kalivoda, the Esquires' present leader, is a medical technologist who has graduated from Carnegie Institute of Medical Technology. He had his own combo for six years in the Erie area before coming to Mansfield State College to pursue a career in music.

Richard Schiavo, the lead alto sax, is from Philadelphia. He was leader of a high school dance band which ranked number one in the nation in 1960.

Don Griffith, formerly of Chicago, has played professionally in the nightclub circuit of Chicago. He plays the baritone sax.

John Harper of Sayre, Pennsylvania, is one of the trumpet players. He is an ex G.I. and was a member of the U.S. Army Dance Band in Fort Dix, New Jersey.

Ramsey Meredith, the drummer, is from Washington, D.C., and has played professionally in and around the Washington, D.C. area. He is also one of the Esquires' arrangers.

Woody Herman, who brings his award-winning orchestra to BSC tonight, is often called the 'youngest old-timer in the music business.'

Woody was a vaudeville troupier when he was only nine years old. He did an act singing and playing the clarinet and was billed as "The Boy Wonder of the Clarinet." When Woody finished high school he enrolled in Marquette Music School in Milwaukee and after a year of study started working with local bands. In 1929 he joined Tom Gerun's band, then one of the leading orchestras.

Featured with Martin and Simms

With the Gerun band, Woody went to California, playing in and around San Francisco for a number of years as featured singer and instrumentalist with the group. The band had several other vocalists then of whom you may have heard — Tony Martin and Ginny Simms.

In 1933, Woody joined Isham Jones, one of the first big swing bands followed the Casa Loma pattern, and with Jones produced a series of Victor discs, including "Dallas Blues," which are now rare items for the Woody Herman collector. In 1936, Jones wanted to retire and a group of men in the band formed a corporation, elected Woody president, and took over the band.

Woody's First Band

The first years were tough, bookings were scarce, and the band was far from a click. But it was a good band and when it finally hit, was a solid success. Count Basie, who made his New York debut opposite the group at the Roseland Ballroom remembers they frightened him!

When the inroads of the wartime draft became too great, the corporation dissolved. "The Band That Plays the Blues" assumed a new style as new men came into it. From the big band blues of "Bishop's Blues" "Blues on Parade" and "Woodchopper's Ball" and the other sides recorded for Decca in that era, they evolved a new swing style which led into the startling series of Columbia records of the mid-forties — "Caledonia," "Your Father's Mustache," "Wildroot," "Apple Honey" and "Northwest Passage."

Stravinsky Composition

High spot of this band's career was its Carnegie Hall concert in 1946 when it presented Ralph (Cont. on p. 6, col. 4)

Features Flashback of Campus

The Maroon and Gold would like to take this opportunity to welcome BSC's Alumni to its 35th Homecoming celebration. We hope that you enjoy your weekend.

In this issue of the M&G you will notice quite a few features concerning BSC as it was "then." We have chosen these topics for publication not only for the "old grads" reverie, but also to give the present students a basis by which to compare our campus as it is now in its present state of metamorphosis. And, indeed, it is a metamorphosis, for while we look forward to a liberal arts curriculum, we also have our academy and literary institute to look back upon. As distant as the past may seem, we still have a long way to go — scholastically and otherwise.

Our staff members have found it quite interesting to prepare this special Homecoming issue for you. In unearthing the facts they have come across numerous items that have produced the inevitable comparisons. Most of them have been favorable, however some of them have not. It might not be a bad idea for some of our present students to take the time and look into those dusty volumes.

This might well be considered a strong point in the favor of an organization such as the newspaper, providing another facet in his educational gems. The M&G staff is brought into contact with almost every aspect of BSC at some time or another. Indeed, the reader is constantly informed on the subjects of sports, club, fraternity, faculty, and administration needs. We also present features, cartoons, and many other non-news items of interest to the student.

For the most part, when a student joins the M&G staff their experience is somewhat limited. On the reporting staff this deficiency is alleviated by our journalism classes under the direction of our advisor, Mr. Richard Savage. Because they must produce material on a steady basis, they develop a responsibility that is so necessary in the profession.

The Snip and the Pendulum

by KATHY ROSELLI

Homecoming Weekend is here; visitors and alumni will be taking their nostalgic tours around BSC's campus. As they meander up the walk to Science Hall, they will see that some balanced piece of architecture enhanced by that same gnarled trees. When they enter this hall of learning, however, they will immediately notice that something is definitely missing — namely, that hallowed fixture of Science Hall — Foucault's Pendulum.

What happened to Foucault's Pendulum? The aforementioned question embodies the mystery of the semester. After many thorough investigations, amateur Sherlock Holmes enthusiasts are still baffled by this crime. A short, thin piece of wire mysteriously hanging from the ceiling is all that remains of this profound physical experiment.

Plagued With Queries

One snip of a wire has caused chaos on campus. The pilfering of this pendulum has produced a new low in the morale of the college community. Physics professors are being plagued with frantic queries concerning the truth of the earth's rotation. Are we still on the move or have we really reached a standstill. A recent college poll has proven that more students of physical science are having difficulty comprehending the principles behind the rotation of the earth since the defilement of this visual aid.

What were his reasons for purloining this pendulum, the sadistic thief is urged to return it in order to restore the natural equilibrium of this college. This frustrated weight-lifter, bowler, or shot-put thrower will be shown mercy if he returns the bob immediately. He will not have to face anyone of authority. The culprit is asked to roll the pendulum into the nearest administration office — and run!

The Old Order Changeth . . .

by CAROL DeFELICE

In case there is a shade of doubt in anyone's mind, they are not digging fall-out shelters on campus. Those huge mounds of red earth, which have appeared recently on the lawn and around buildings, represent the growth and expansion of BSC.

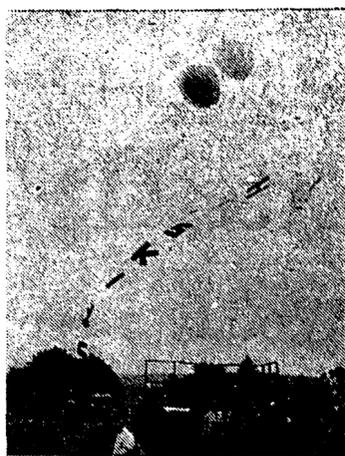

For the benefit of the hoarse instructors in Science Hall and the students who have a difficult time hearing from the second row, the noise is emitted by the crew working on the heating plant, which will provide for the future expansion of the college. From now until May 15, 1963, noises will be heard in and around Science Hall — only during class hours; the workers also take their ten minute breaks when the instructors and students do.

Provide Water Drains

Work is also being done on the terrace between Waller Hall and Science Hall to provide storm water drains for the campus. If you use the short macadam path leading to Science Hall, step lightly on the boards which lie across the path. The boards are not very stable and tend to ooze mud when stepped upon in rainy weather.

Athletes will be glad to hear that a locker room is being constructed under Centennial Gymnasium. For those of you who are not athletes, watch for the detour alongside the gymnasium.

There's Life On Mt. Olympus

A little pep does go a long way! The truth of this statement was proven at the Mansfield game on Saturday, September 29. The group of students responsible for this aerial demonstration of school spirit are to be congratulated. They helped to add extra zest to one of the most exciting football games of the season.

It Could Be Worse

by Sue Morrison

Everyone of us at one time or another has heard the familiar remark of all adults, "Now when I was a girl..." or "Back in the good old days, when I was a young man..." But just how good were the "old days?"

Bloomsburg State College in the "good old days" was known as Bloomsburg Normal School, and things were very difficult at that time. The system then, in fact, might be the answer to many of the complaints which both faculty and students have today.

Many of the present problems of the administration could be solved by following the example of the Normal School. No longer would they be worried about parking problems. The simple answer — there were no cars. Commuters had to travel to and from school by trolley car, and the students on campus went home on vacation by train. Certainly, this would relieve the congestion on Long Porch at the "hour of exodus" on Saturdays, but it would present a problem, for trains are no longer used. Luggage or couples were never a worry to the Dean of Women, then known as Preceptress, because at that time the school was not equipped with fire towers.

Eighteen Inch Rule

Students, here is the answer to all your social problems! When BSC was a normal school, their two big dances of the year were usually well attended. There were no wall-flowers then; boys danced with boys and girls with girls. Socializing was definitely discouraged because an eighteen inch separation between the opposite sexes was maintained at all times. After all social rules had been followed to the strict limit, what wasn't prohibited could be accomplished until 7:00 p.m., which was the late hour for everyone. Boys, however, had the privilege of a 10:00 p.m. late on Saturday evenings.

Well, perhaps the "good old days" aren't the answer to your problems, but they can certainly make you appreciate the "here and now."

New York Trip Open

Alpha Psi Omega, BSC's educational dramatic fraternity is planning a weekend trip to New York City on November 10 and 11, 1962. Hotel and bus will cost approximately $12.00 to be paid by Nov. 1, 1962. The obtaining of theatre tickets will be an individual responsibility.

Interested persons are asked to contact Lovey Kopetz, P.O. Box 448, by Friday, October 19, 1962.

For Men Only

Men... would you consider letting a woman know more than you? Would you admit that a woman knows more than you?

Well, let's face it men — every woman knows something that we don't know. Are we going to sit back, reading our sports pages and playing touch football, and let them have this knowledge? No, men, we're not! We're going to find out what every woman knows.

How are we going to do it? We can't ask them because they'll never tell us "their big secret."

What we're going to have to do is go to see the play, "What Every Woman Knows." Some guy named Barrie found out their secret and wrote this play to inform the men of the world.

The Bloomsburg Players first production is being presented on November 1 and 2, in Carver Auditorium, at 8:15 p.m., and that will let us out early enough to have fun afterwards.

Dress casually, for the temperature (of the play) may require a few loosened collars and rolled-up sleeves.

For Women Only

Women, we know something that they don't know. Who's "they" — the men, of course. This is a secret that we must guard closely, and I realize how hard it is to keep a secret, especially if it is important.

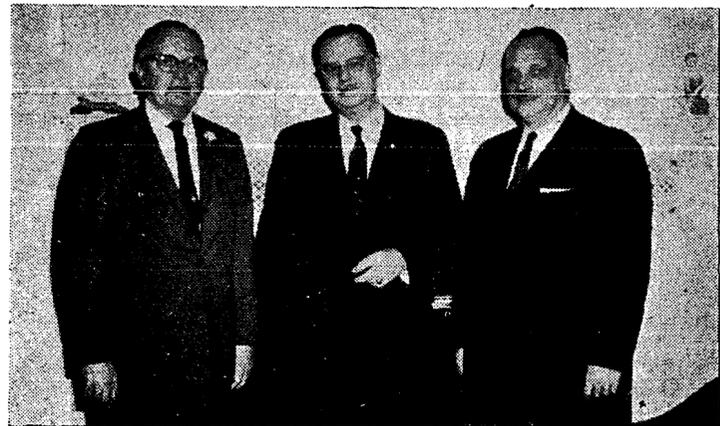

Now, our secret is in danger of becoming exposed to "them." "What Every Woman Knows," a play telling our secret, is to be presented by the Bloomsburg Players.

We must try at all costs to prevent any of them from seeing the production. Women, use some of your feminine charms to keep them away — if at all possible.

The cast of this revealing production includes Henry Fetterman as Alick, Don Hopkins as James, Andrew Harnichar as David, Lovey Kopetz as Maggie, Robert Hensley as John Shand, Mary Miskevich as Comtisse, Bonnie Lyshan as Lady Sybil, Stephen Stedman as Mr. Venables, and Kay Deibler as Grace. In the crowd scene are Douglas Caldwell, Priscilla Greco, Marjorie Harper, Virginia Johnson, Milton Van Winkle, and Thomas Yezeriski.

Women, remember to resist the temptation to tell our secret and keep them from seeing the play at all costs.

Senator Scott States Views On Political and World Situation

Dr. Andruss hosts Senators Scott and Confair

United States Senator Hugh Scott and Pennsylvania Senator Zehnder Confair appeared recently in an assembly held in Carver Auditorium. While here, Senator Scott stated some of his views concerning current politics, federal aid to education, Cuba, and Berlin.

Early in his speech Senator Scott explained that the government should exist to take care of those things which the people cannot take care of by themselves, and getting away from federal government is building better state government.

Senator Scott went on to explain that there is a need for the elimination of waste. As an example, he cited government offices employing twenty people. If one were to walk in at any time and find more than four working, "you've hit them on a day when they expect the boss."

Vandenberg Rule

In discussing American unity and foreign relations it was brought out that the "Vandenberg Rule" was usually employed. Under it, there is a right for total debate to develop the issue, but once the decision is reached, both parties should support it.

Mississippi Problem

Becoming less expository and more political, Senator Scott compared Kennedy with Eisenhower on the present Mississippi situation. He stated that the problem has arisen from the lack of resolution to go forward promptly with all the forces necessary to accomplish the objective. Whereas Eisenhower ordered troops promptly and with no hesitation, Kennedy halted, waited, and hesitated. He didn't send a large enough force down in the first place and the resistance built up. By the time he sent the entire unit down, "there were enough forces there to invade Cuba."

Cuba Situation

On the Cuban problem Senator Scott stated that the difficulties could be overcome by "resolute action by a resolute president backed by a resolute Congress and the people." One action that he definitely recommended was blacklisting the ships and boycotting the firms that were supplying Cuba by not allowing them into United States' ports.

The Assembly was then opened to a question and answer session. The question of making Berlin a free city was brought up first. Senator Scott stated that we would leave Berlin under no circumstances whatsoever unless a resolution is arrived at which is satisfactory to the West Berlin government and the NATO allies. However, his expectations are that the present situation will continue for many years.

Armed Forces

A student then questioned the enlistment of Cubans that can't speak English in the U.S. armed forces. To this Senator Scott stated that this is one way by which the anxiety of people to serve somewhere in the cause of freedom can be met.

Aid To Education

He was then asked to state his views on federal aid to education. Senator Scott first expresses favor for federal aid through loans and scholarships, but not grants. He approved of the construction of buildings for those schools, that cannot afford it, but added that most of them can support expansion. He also favors subsidies to scientific research studies but does not approve federal aid for the salaries of school teachers and school of religious studies.

Woody Herman And Band Tour For Good Will

Winning the admiration of all, Woody Herman found himself called upon by the United States State Department to tour South America on a goodwill tour. The tour covered a 21 week period and 23 countries, and was deemed such a great success that Woody Herman was asked to return at a future date. In fact, letters still pour into Woody's New York address from fans made on that trip.

England Appearance

Woody has most recently scored another musical first — the first Anglo American band ever to appear in England. He took with him to England his library and key musicians such as Jim Campbell on drums, Bill Harris on trombone, Charle Byrd on guitar, Vince Guiraldi on piano and Renault Jones and Nat Adderley on trumpet. Combining forces with a powerful group of famous English jazz musicians they took England by storm and even Woody was surprised by the way the band swung. From there he took his small group of American musicians to Saudi Arabia, where he completely fascinated the natives with the driving music the group produced.

Brings BSC a Big Band

Returning to the United States Woody reformed the same big band that received so much acclaim and went back on the road. This is the band being presented to you.

Today, all the band business is talking about the success of Woody Herman and America's Greatest Entertaining Unit. It is a tribute to Herman and his faith in himself and in the young musicians of today. "I look at those kids and I have to keep on" Woody told an interviewer recently who asked why he was still in the business over 20 years. "There's nothing wrong with the band business that spirit like that won't cure."

Jobs Offered In Europe by ASIS

"Earn, learn, and travel in Europe." American Student Information Service — ASIS — offers you a summer job in Europe. More than 3000 summer jobs are available to American college students in such countries as Spain, France, Germany, England, Switzerland, and Scandinavia. Openings include life-guarding, waiting on tables, office work, factory work, farm work, construction work, child care, and camp counseling. Students can expect wages as high as $175 a month in some countries down to only room and board in other countries.

All Plans Considered

In conjunction with its European Safari program, ASIS offers each student a European tour, a complete set of long-play language records, complete health and accident coverage, a special student pass allowing discounts throughout Europe, and a free copy of the book, "Earn, Learn, and Travel in Europe." The program also includes complete travel arrangements with a round-trip scheduled jet flight. However, students are free to make their own travel arrangements.

Celebrating its sixth anniversary, ASIS is awarding travel grants and cash scholarships up to $175 to the first 1000 applicants. For additional information about the Safari program, inquire at the Maroon and Gold office.

Library Releases Statistics On Its Present Holdings

The library wishes to extend its welcome to all alumni of Bloomsburg. It will be opened to visitors until 5 p.m. during the Homecoming activities. Alumni are invited to visit the library which has expanded vastly during the past year.

Miss Keefer reports that during 1961-62, total circulation amounted to 37,500. This represents an increase of 7,800 over the previous year. In the reserve department, total circulation was 21,400 — an increase of 1,300.

Along with this increase in circulation there has also been an increase in the number of books available. During the past year 4,400 books, including bound volumes, have been processed and placed on the shelves. The generosity of the alumni and friends of BSC has helped make this expansion possible. Among those who donated books and magazines to the library during the past year are: Harvey A. Andruss, Edwin M. Barton, Dean Emeritus Sutliff's private library, Beatrice Mettler, J. Almus Russell, Howard Fenstermaker, Donald Bashore, Gwendolyn Reams, Elinor R. Keefer, Martha MacNeal, Genevieve Blatt, Herman Schneebeli, Zender Confair, U.S. Department of State, Charles Halstead, Robert Solenberger, Clayton Hinkel, Thomas B. Martin, Virginia Duck, Dorothy Evans, Mary Homrighous, Mary Kramer, Charles Jackson, Kimber Kuster, United Auto Workers Chrysler Local, Lehr's Men Shop, Arcus, Lars Edburgh, Student Christian Association, International Relations Club, Gamma Theta Upsilon, and Circle K.

Mlle. Sponsors Writing Contest

Attention feminine journalists. Mademoiselle is again sponsoring two contests for student writers: The College Board Competition and the College Fiction Contest. Requirements: a woman undergraduate with ability in writing, merchandising, editing, promotion, fashion, advertising, or art.

This annual contest is sponsored by Mademoiselle for college girls throughout the United States. In the Fiction Contest there will be two first prizes of $500 each and publication of their stories in Mademoiselle. Two runners-up will receive honorable mentions and their stories will be purchased at Mademoiselle's regular rates. Other finalists will receive personal criticisms of their stories from Mlle's Fiction Editor.

Mademoiselle's College Board competition will grant guest editorships and top consideration for permanent jobs to twenty girls. Ten will win Honorable mentions of $25 each and consideration for jobs with Mlle and other Carde host publications. Ten special encouragement awards of $20 each will be given to girls who write on one of the subjects listed.

Students may enter one or more stories of any length to the fiction contest. They must be original, and have fictitious characters and situations and can have appeared in undergraduate or alumni publications.

Football Team Battles WC But Go Down Fighting 28-0

On Friday night, October 12, the Huskies journeyed to West Chester State College to play the game we all awaited. The fired up Bloomsburg team put on a spirited battle with the Rams of WCSC before bowing to the "Bondermen" 28-0. Bloom's hopes for an upset were dispelled by the inability of the Husky offense machine to get a drive going and the alertness of the Ram secondary. Defensively, the boys did somewhat better as they did a bang-up job on the Ram's stellar runner, Joe Iacone.

Little All-American

West Chester quarterback, Terry Eberly, completed 9 out of 15 passes to gain 140 yards and three touchdowns. Little All-American Iacone put on a show by gathering 132 yards rushing.

The possible turning point of the game occurred at the end of the second quarter. West Chester had possession on the Husky 6 yard line and the situation was fourth and goal; there were 37 seconds remaining in the half and the Rams led 7-0. If BSC could have held, the game might have been a different story.

Illuminating Spot

The crisp downfield blocking of the West Chester team (which is a West Chester trademark) enabled the Rams to get off the line quicker and beat our boys to the punch.

An illuminating spot on the part of BSC was the fine punting of fullback Gary Sprout, who averaged 41 yards for 8 punts. Gary "Huff" Barnaba and Ken Robbins also deserved a lot of credit for their fine defensive effort.

We are back on home territory tomorrow as the Huskies meet Millersville State College for our Homecoming game. Get behind the team and help cheer them to victory.

BSC Hockey Team Bows Against LHSC

The 1962-63 girl's field hockey team traveled to Lock Haven State College, Lock Haven, Pa., on Tuesday, Oct. 9, to open their extramural season. BSC's eleven girl varsity team was captained by centerforward Mary Ann Bodolus. Due to heavy rain the game was called during the second half and the junior varsity game was cancelled. Although the Huskies were scored upon three times, Coach Wray indicated, "I'm more than pleased with the game and more than disappointed that we did not have the second game." The Lock Haven field hockey team will play BSC on Mt. Olympus, Monday, October 29.

Doug Durnin, trombone player and Business Manager for the Esquires, is from Harrisburg, and a transfer student from the University of Miami. He has played with Ralph Flanagan and the Campus Ramblers, a Dixieland band from the University.

Appear in Three States

The Esquires are veterans of club, college, and high school appearances throughout the states of Pennsylvania, New York, and New Jersey. With this background, the B.S.C. students can well consider them "Big Name Entertainment".

from the SIDELINES

by Fred Saxton

The climax to any college homecoming weekend is the football game. And, Bloomsburg State College homecomings are no exception to this rule. Year after year, the football game on Mt. Olympus is the main event with its color, noise, and excitement.

During the thirty-four Bloomsburg homecomings, there have been some exciting grid contests on Mt. Olympus. There have been years when the Huskies whitewashed their opponents; other years have seen the Huskies in some close contests. And, there are games which the Husky fans would like to forget.

Perhaps some returning graduates will recall the thumpings the Huskies handed Kutztown State in 1950, under coach Robert Redman (35-0), or Trenton State in 1953, while Jack Yohe was head mentor, (48-0).

Those alumni who were students at BSC seven years back no doubt remember the struggle the Huskies had with King's College before emerging the victor, the final score being a 20-19 decision.

Then, too, how many former students would like to forget last year's lashing at the hands of a powerful East Stroudsburg eleven. Stroudsburg scored 36 points while holding the Blairmen scoreless.

So much for the past. Let's look at the present. This year the 35th annual Bloomsburg State College Homecoming will reach its high point on Saturday afternoon when the Huskies meet the Marauders of Millersville State College.

The Huskies are still nursing a 28-0 wound inflicted by the powerful Rams of West Chester State. But, the team is hungry for their second win and should satisfy their hunger at the expense of the hapless Marauders who are 1-3-0 in the season. They dropped their opener to Randolph-Macon, defeated Kutztown in their second outing, and dropped their last two decisions to West Chester and Mansfield State.

Our Huskies will still have to battle for their second win of the season, as the Marauders have shown signs of being a scrappy ball club. So, make your way to Mt. Olympus and give the Huskies your support! They'll show their appreciation by giving their best and beating Millersville.

"What's in a name?" When speaking of the Husky football squad, names mean a great deal — nicknames that is. They don't call Gary Barnaba "Sam Huff" because he looks like the New York Giant's linebacker. Gary, like Huff, is big,

... Husky fullback, was selected "Back of the Week" because of the outstanding blocking, running, and punting performances he gave in the 6-6 deadlock against Kings. He reversed the tide of the Monarchs with "booming" punts deep in BSC territory while under extreme pressure and at the same time, ran the ball for considerable yardage when it was needed. Gary, who is also Bloom's blocking back, gave Dick Rohrer some extra time in the backfield from onrushing Monarch linemen with great effort and spirit.

Gary is a junior from Lewistown, playing his second year of varsity ball at BSC. He is majoring in the Business Curriculum.

tough, and eager to play football. He likes contact and likes to tackle.

Gary Sprout isn't called "Bull" because he looks like one. If you've ever watched our Husky fullback run, you'll know why he's called "Bull." Though he isn't big, he is powerful. Anyone getting in the "Bull's" way when he is carrying the ball better watch out! If Gary sees an opponent in his path, he puts his head down and bulls his way through. Take notice also that the opponents he bulls over are slow in getting to their feet. Last week a West Chester lineman did not get up for some time. When he did, he had to leave the game.

Anyone who witnessed the Mansfield game a few weeks ago should know why Rich Boerner is known as "Buz." After taking a short pass from quarterback Dick Rohrer, "Buz" buzzed by a few would-be tacklers and buzzed into paydirt unmolested.

Trevor Carpenter may not be referred to as "Fuzzy Thurston" off the football field. But, on the field it would be unfair to call him anything else. For those of you who don't know why Fuzzy Thurstone is, he is an All-Pro guard for the Green Bay Packers.

Looking through the record book always proves interesting. And, it even proved more interesting when it was discovered that many of the BSC grid records are held by two members of the 1962 Husky squad.

Trevor Carpenter

... Offensive and defensive tackle, was selected "Lineman of the Week" for the Bloomsburg-Kings game at Kings College two weeks ago. Trev, as usual, was a tremendous lift to the Huskies' morale, as he went the full sixty minutes on both offense and defense. He was involved in many bruising tackles that halted the key Monarch drives and did not let up although the Kings' line held a considerable edge in weight over Bloomsburg's. On offense, his hard hitting and blocking served as a spearhead in Bloom drives and was responsible for many fine runs through his slot. Generally speaking, Trev played his usual brand of hard, strenuous football from beginning to end.

Trevor is a senior from Scranton, majoring in secondary education. This is his fourth year of football at Bloomsburg; he has had three years of varsity experience.

IRC Sponsors Israeli Consul

On Tuesday, October 27, the International Relations Club will present its first assembly program. It is bringing to BSC Consul David Ben-Dov, Educational Attache to the Embassy of Israel, Washington, D.C. The topic of his address will be "Israel's Relations with the New Nations."

Mr. David Ben-Dov was born in Haifa in 1923 and graduated at the Reali Secondary School there in 1941. From 1942-46 he served in the British Army, the last two years in the Jewish Brigade in Europe.

During the Israel War of Independence, Mr. Ben-Dov served in the Israel Defense Army, first in Jerusalem and then with the General Headquarters. After the war, he was awarded his MA degree from the Hebrew University, having majored in History, International Law, and International Relations.

In 1953 Mr. Ben-Dov was awarded a British Government scholarship and spent over two years at St. Antony's College, Oxford, doing post-graduate work in Political Science. He received his post-graduate degree for a thesis on British and French policies in the Middle East during the inter-war period.

Mr. Ben-Dov served Kol Israel, the Israel Broadcasting Service, as news-editor and commentator and was also on the staff of the Hebrew University.

New Twirlers in Majorette Corps

BSC's nine majorettes can be seen twirling batons at football games, pep-rallies, and in the Homecoming Parade. The girls, who perform in conjunction with the Maroon and Gold College Band, show evidence of a four day pre-season band camp of concentrated practice and instruction. Band directors, Dr. Carlson and Mr. Miller, aid Captain Linda Schmidt in training the corps.

Hailing from Morton, Penna., head majorette, Linda Schmidt has taught twirling as well as being active in majorette corps since her high school days. This senior, majoring in elementary education, is a typist for the Maroon and Gold, a member of the Obiter Staff, and active on the College Pep Committee.

Two More Seniors

Majoring in elementary education, senior twirler Shelvie Guyer, finds time to participate in the English Club, the Athenaeum Club, and the SPSEA. She has been performing as a majorette since junior high in Watsonstown. Special interests include reading, ballet, and dancing.

Returning for her second year, Betty Hodavance is a senior from Peckville, Pennsylvania. She enjoys music, reading, and dancing.

Around BSC's campus Betty may be seen at the meetings of the SPSEA, the Obiter staff, and the International Relations Club.

The junior class is represented by majorettes Barbara Rowe and Bonnie Jean Austin. Both these girls have been in the corps for their entire three years, and both are majoring in elementary education. Barbara has joined the Olympian Staff and the college chorus. This resident of Berwick enjoys music and sports. Bonnie Jean is a member of the college Pep Committee and of the Social Recreational Committee.

Also Returning

Hellertown's Sharon Fehr and Trevoise's Beth Kroupa are returning to the corps for their second year. Both members of the class of '65 were captains of their high school majorette corps. Sharon is majoring in elementary education. Beth, a business education student, is a member of the Business Club.

New to BSC's corps but not to the techniques of twirling are Diane Mushrush and Judi Mann. Diane, who hails from Catauqua, is majoring in special education. She enjoys participating in basketball and swimming. Lancaster's Judi has also joined the College Choraleers.

Dick Rohrer is the possessor of three school records. In the 1959 Bloomsburg-West Chester game, Dick passed for 254 yards, a record for the most yards gained passing in a single game. It was in that same game that Rohrer established another record. Rohrer's net yardage, rushing and passing, was 246, a record for total offense in a single game.

During the 1960 season, the Husky signal-caller attempted 107 passes and had an average gain per completion of 7.2 yards. His 7.2 average is a Husky record.

Moses Scott is the other record-holder. His single-game record of most PAT's scored was set against Mansfield before a homecoming crowd in 1960.

The versatile back holds three season records, all set in 1960.

INTRAMURALS . . .

For the sake of those people who like to partake in athletic events, but for some reason or the other do not have time or ability to be on the varsity teams, Bloomsburg State has set up a terrific intramural program. This year's intramural program, under the direction of Mr. Ziegler and the coordination of Don Watkins, offers sports ranging from soccer and football to wrestling and swimming.

The first four intramural sports that were offered this year were SOCCER, TENNIS, ARCHERY, and FOOTBALL. These tournaments began on September 24, 1962 and all but football have just been completed. The final matches for tennis champion have just been completed last Friday between Jan Prosseda of league A and Charles Klobe of league B. JAN PROSSEDA emerged the victor of these matches.

In SOCCER, the COMMUTERS emerged as victors of this tournament with a 4-0 record. The men who "kicked" their way to the championship are: Glenn Shoffler (capt.), K. Steward, K. Miller, K. Wochley, E. Hartman, D. Scholley, L. Ritchie, S. Rummel, J. Miller, R. Snyder, J. Keller, J. Schneider, K. Mussleman, and D. Trout.

The tournament in ARCHERY was just completed leaving THOMAS WERTS to hold the honors with a score of 248 points.

The FOOTBALL tournament is still going and will be going on for about two more weeks. At the moment, THE UNBELIEVABLES of League A and the REBELS of League B are out in front of the pack. However, with two weeks of good playing to go, almost anything can happen.

Coming Events

Basketball will begin in the first week with CROSS-COUNTRY to follow it in the second week. WEIGHT-LIFTING, SWIMMING, and WRESTLING are other sports to be started in the very near future — watch for them!

Remember, the intramural program needs members to survive; and these members are NOT members of any of the varsity teams. So, if you like to play and participate in these sports, go out there and GO!

Has anyone ever seen a more untidy place than the M&G office the morning after — work-night, that is.

Three Original Buildings Exist On BSC Campus

There are only three buildings on the BSC campus that are anything like they were originally, most of the present buildings are either new or have been changed a great deal. The three that are most like the original are Science, Ben Franklin, and Old North.

Science Hall was erected in 1906 on what was then an athletic field. In the basement were music rooms. The first floor was devoted to biological departments, and had large laboratories for the study of zoology, physiology, botany, and geology. There was a laboratory for medical preparatory students. On the second floor were laboratories for physics, chemistry, and geography. There were two lecture rooms for the use of these departments. They contained lanterns, screens, and equipment for demonstration and illustration. On the third floor there were two large rooms used for the literary societies and a well-equipped art studio.

Benjamin Franklin Training School was dedicated in 1930. Dr. Francis B. Haas, College President at that time, said that in searching for a name for the training school, suggestions had been asked from the faculty and other sources. The main attempt was to select a name keeping in mind the children. They wanted a name which would be identified with every field of learning. Because Benjamin Franklin contributed so much to many phases of human endeavor, it was proper to name it after him. The inscription, "Education is the foundation of happiness," which appears over one of the doors was Franklin's.

Waller and North Halls were the living headquarters for boarding students, Waller Hall was opened in 1869 when Bloomsburg was formally recognized as the Bloomsburg State Normal and Literary Institute. It was named for D. J. Waller, Jr., Principal of the school for 27 years. On September 4, 1875 Waller Hall burned to the ground. It was during a Saturday afternoon, so no lives were lost. Construction of a new T-shaped building was started on September 24. North Hall was damaged in a fire in 1904. In 1894, a four-story dormitory was built connecting Waller and Noetling Halls.

FROSH WILL PRESENT TALENT SHOW

The Freshmen Talent Show will be presented to the BSC students October 23 and 25 at 2 p.m. in Carver Auditorium, under faculty supervision of Mr. William Cope and Mr. Myles Anderson, with student supervision of Candy High and Ernie Shuba.

Dancers, a pianist, vocalists, and comical monologue is the composition of the talent show which is the first class even for the Freshmen class. This show becomes the upperclassmen's basis for appraisal of the new students.

Present Innovation

A new innovation is the student program which will replace the standard variety show MC. Also, more effective lighting by use of the Trouper Spotlight will produce the talent in blackout series using the music of a small combo during these brief intermissions.

Freshmen talent will be performing before a modern stage setting of a night club using "informality and sophistication to get away from the standard variety show," commented Ernie Shuba.

BSC Faculty And Students Busy On Weekend Program

Extensive work by faculty and student committees have gone into the preparation for this 35th annual celebration of BSC's homecoming.

One of the main attractions of tomorrow, the parade, will demonstrate a great portion of those labors. This year, since Bloomsburg High School's homecoming happens to coincide with BSC's, their parade will follow. This dual presentation is scheduled to move at 12:15, and will take the following course: starting at Centennial Gymnasium, it will move to Main Street, then to Market, to Fifth, to East, and back to Main where it will disband.

Organizations Contribute

The parade will consist of floats from: nearly every organization, the Maroon and Gold Band under the direction of Mr. Nelson Miller, an Air Force color guard and two missiles, four queens selected by the Vet's Association for each branch of the service, and a Homecoming Queen selected by Phi Sigma Pi. Prizes totaling $110 with $40 as first prize will be awarded for the five best floats. The judges who will be seated in front of the court house consist of Dean John A. Hoch, Miss Gayle C. Jones, Mr. Otto D. Harris, and Mrs. Harvey A. Andrus. Dean McCauslin will also participate in the judging.

The Grand Marshall of the parade is Dr. Alfred McCauslin, Dean of Students who has headed the committee. Assisting him in planning and coordination with the high school has been Myles Anderson and members of the CGA.

WCNR and WHLM Publicize

Broadcast over radio station WCNR and WHLM and over a public address system in Main Street; the parade will be led by Mr. Alan Harvey of the Bloomsburg Town Council, who will be followed by President Andrus and Mr. Frank Golder, Bloomsburg High School principal.

NOTES and QUOTES

by LARRY REOLA and BARRY OROUSE

This is the first issue this year that "Notes and Quotes" has appeared in the Maroon and Gold. For the benefit of the Freshmen and for those of you that may have forgotten, "Notes and Quotes" is a polling of the prevalent opinions held by members of the student body and faculty. Each time the column appears there is a question concerning a problem facing the college, or an issue of timely concern. Quotes are printed exactly as the person has written it. The only qualification for the publication of a quote is the person's signature.

The question asked for this issue was: "Are you going to Homecoming this year? Why?"

"I am going to homecoming festivities. I have attended homecoming the past two years and I enjoyed both of them. I expect this year will be just as entertaining." Howard Martz, Junior

"Yes, I think that all members of the college community should support the school in all such undertakings. I feel that the big name entertainment, which is presented on Friday night, is one of the best opportunities for the college student body to see and hear the best personalities, in their field, that can possibly be offered. These are the two reasons why I am going to attend the homecoming events." Arian Baer, Sophomore

"Yes, because I like to see and hear Woody Herman." Betty Adams, Sophomore

"Going to weekend activities but not to concert. Don't like Woody Herman." Bob Westover, Senior

"As far as I know I have no one to go with and I'm not going by myself. Also, I am in a wedding Saturday morning." Bonnie Shultz, Freshman

"Yes, because I always go." Jim MacNeal, Junior

"No, I'm not going to homecoming because I don't have a date." Kim Shaffer, Sophomore

"Yes, if my date doesn't back out on me." John Kerlish, Freshman

"I would go, but I have to work." Bob Raup, Sophomore

"My reasons for not attending Homecoming stem from various problems. First, I am a commuter and gas costs money. I am not working at present and neither is my father. Second, I am carrying a heavy schedule and don't feel I can spare the time. My studies come first since this is the primary reason for my attendance here at Bloomsburg. Last of all, my interest does not lie in this field. Being interested in archery and outdoor activities, I have never become interested in social activities on the school level. I don't believe I would enjoy myself and do not plan to attend." J. Lars Edburgh, Senior

"I really don't know if I'm going, but if I do go it will be for the following reason. I'm going to be married next year and I would want to show my future wife what a college homecoming is like." William R. Hoosty, Jr., Sophomore

"Yes. I don't need a reason. I'm just going. Isn't everybody?" Don Haines, Senior

This year is not unusual in college opinion concerning Homecoming. The same excuses and reasons are offered as have been offered in previous years. The general consensus of faculty opinion is — if nothing else is scheduled, they will go. However, Woody Herman is quite popular with them. This year there has not been the "high pressure" selling of tickets. If the general student body doesn't support the big-name entertainment, there just won't be any. This is as it should be! It certainly would be a good reason to go to the concert Friday night, even if the particular entertainer leaves something to be desired, just so there could be another big-name concert, for the following might be just the person you've always waited to see. There is one question that has been bothering me — where is the notice posted saying that only dates are allowed at the concert and Homecoming?

he has been writing reviews ever since the first Herman Herd came out. In the first review, twenty-five years ago, Simon noted that, "No rhythm section can really swing out unless it has a good drummer. This section not only has a good drummer; it has a terrific drummer."

George Simon now goes on record as saying, "It's the same today. In Jake Hanna, Woody has the most propulsive big-band drummer to emerge on the jazz scene in years. The way he drives everything before him (with valuable assists from bassist Chuck Andrus and pianist Nat Pierce) is absolutely astounding."

Play Area Build

A new playground has been constructed on the south side of Mt. Olympus for the Benjamin Franklin School. The playground area was formerly confined to the small area directly in the rear of Old North Hall.

Since much of the equipment was antiquated and unsafe, the Planning Committee, consisting of Mr. Walter Blair, Mr. Michael Flanagan and Mr. Warren Johnson, supervised the purchase of new and safe playground apparatus.

Pierce, who helped organize the band and who writes many of its arrangements, is already well known. But Hanna and Andrus aren't. Neither are such names as Bill Chase, Sal Nistico, Gordon Brisker, Larry Cavelli, Paul Fontaine and Phil Wilson, all featured soloists."

Will Always Listen

Woody has no qualms about having a comparatively young band. As a matter of fact, this is an outgrowth of his personality, he's always willing to listen. When scouts, who seem to be unearthing a good musician under every music stand, bring a musician around, Herman gives him every opportunity to succeed. "One reason the guys love to work for Woody," notes Nat, "is that we never feel we're actually working for the man. It's more like working with him."

Relationships with BSC, Town Have Been Mutually Good

"Town and gown" has long been a term used to describe relationships between colleges and the community in which they are located. During the history of BSC and the town of Bloomsburg there has been a close relationship which has, in the long run, been mutually beneficial to both. The town has helped our college to grow and the college has helped the town in its economic growth, culture, and in civic welfare.

Cooperation Brings Mutual Growth
Close cooperation between townspeople and college administrators has made possible the rapid growth of BSC. For example, by opening their homes to college students, the people of Bloomsburg are not only helping the college but also themselves. They help themselves directly by the increase in their income and they help the rest of the town indirectly as a result of this income.

The money brought into the town by the members of the College community is an important factor in the economy of Bloomsburg. As a local merchant stated, "The college is one of our major industries." The basis for his statement lies in the fact that the college employs 127 faculty members and nearly as many non-instructional employees. These people and their families provide a large percentage of the town's economic stability.

The growth of BSC has developed a reciprocal cycle that continues to enlarge as more students and faculty come to BSC. Another contribution to the economy of the town is the many visitors that are attracted to BSC by such activities as Freshman's Parents Day, Homecoming, Educational Conference, Business Education Contest, Alumni Day, Sales Rally, Commencement, and by the many sports events.

In the future, the presence of BSC in this area will be a definite asset to the industrial development of Bloomsburg and the surrounding areas. The presence of an institution of higher education is an excellent selling point for an area when trying to attract new industry. Such industries are interested in the possibilities for good education for their employees' families and for additional education opportunities for employees.

BSC has also helped the Civic Music Association with a yearly contribution for more than a decade. The assembly programs, dramatic productions, big name entertainment, and the various lecture programs have always been open to the public. These intellectual and cultural offerings give the people of Bloomsburg an opportunity that would not be available if BSC were not located in this area. Looking back to the statement that the presence of a college in a town is an important factor in attracting new industry into an area, industry looks at the cultural opportunities as well as educational and financial opportunities.

Growth Includes More Industry
Industry also enters areas that show they are active in civic development. In this field the town of Bloomsburg has worked with BSC very closely in the building of the sewage treatment plant that services the town and the college. The college has just fulfilled its pledge to the Bloomsburg Hospital. BSC for many years maintained a room at the hospital; it was the college that furnished the room and saw to it that the room was always in good condition. BSC has contributed money to the purchase of the new ambulance and has in years past contributed to the maintenance of the town ambulances. It has been the policy of the college to contribute one dollar for each student enrolled to the Town Library for the improvement of its service to the townspeople and the students of BSC. Due to the growth of student population, the ever growing faculty brings into the town specialized people that can be of significant service to the town. Several examples of how the faculty of BSC has been of service to the town are in the field of mental health such as personnel from the Special Education Department of BSC working with the Mental Health Society. On other occasions, the faculty of the Science Department have helped the Bloomsburg Water Authority with some of its problems. The college has often opened its doors to groups that would have otherwise not had a place to meet.

As was stated by our Publicity Director, Mr. Boyd Buckingham, "For the number of students we have enrolled here, there are few problems that arise concerning town and college relations." It is to the credit of the students and the administration of BSC that few such problems exist.

Gamma Theta Upsilon Welcomes Applications For Membership

The Delta Chapter of Gamma Theta Upsilon, National Geographic Fraternity, BSC, announced that it will receive and consider applications for membership in this organization anytime during the current semester.

Membership in Gamma Theta Upsilon is open to any student, man or woman, who has an interest in Geography and desires to strengthen his or her professional training in this cultural and practical discipline through academic experiences other than those of the classroom. Delta Chapter will accept applications from students in the fields of geography, social studies, physical sciences, or in elementary education who are able to meet the registration requirements.

Membership in the geography fraternity requires that the student shall have completed at least six semester hours in geography and shall have earned at least a "B" average in this field and possess an all-college cumulative average of at least 2.3. In addition, the applicant would specify that he or she intends to take at least twelve semester hours in geography. Both World Geography and Geography of the United States and Pennsylvania would be counted toward the required hours. Social Studies majors could meet the latter requirement by one additional course in geography than is required of them and elementary students selecting geography as a field of competency would automatically meet the requirement.

Steady Growth Seen In History Of BSC Newspaper

The first news publication of the college appeared in 1923 as the "Bloom-In-News." This weekly publication was a news bulletin with Walter P. Benninger as editor-in-chief. The faculty advisory committee at that time was Miss Helen Babb, Miss Edna Monroe, and Mr. S. L. Wilson.

Wilson Helps To Establish M&G

Mr. Wilson came to Bloomsburg in 1923 and became head of the English department and faculty advisor of publications. The college paper was greatly due to the efforts of Mr. Wilson who helped the staff through many difficult times. Mr. Wilson is a native of Philipsburg, Pa. He received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Bucknell, Master of Arts from Columbia University and did graduate work at Harvard University.

Name Changed
In 1924 the name of the paper was changed from the "Bloom-In-News" to "The Maroon and Gold." The paper was on a fairly sound basis at this time but it took a bit of work to meet the test of succeeding. All faculty members and students subscribed to the paper so it could meet its financial needs. A vaudeville was given under the direction of the staff for the benefit of the "Maroon and Gold."

In 1924 the editor-in-chief was elected by the student body. The editor then selected his own staff. At this time the staff felt the need for a "bigger, better, more beneficial paper" and they therefore published a larger paper. The faculty as well as students wrote for the paper and everyone looked forward to each Friday when the paper would come out.

In 1929 a six page paper was published instead of the four page weekly. The paper contained weekly news of student activities, sports, literary articles, and poems by students. The staff now meet regularly once a week to discuss problems and to make definite assignments. Also additional departments were added to keep up with the growing school.

In 1931 the method of choosing an editor was changed. The editor and business manager were elected by the Community Government Association, also in this year the paper was put on the same basis as the athletic teams and was thus handled by the school.

Becomes Semi-Monthly Issue

Around 1932-33 the paper became a semi-monthly issue. The outstanding characteristic of the paper at this time was the publishing of forceful and thought-provoking editorials.

In 1934 the M&G saw its first woman editor. The paper also continued its editorial strength and also followed an "all news-less gossip" policy. This year also saw the selection of an associate editor in the second semester to take over in the following September. In 1931 the M&G took first place in the Pennsylvania School Press

Phi Sigma Pi Pledges Ten

Ten selected students from the college have been pledging Phi Sigma Pi fraternity this past week. The Pledgees are Lee Ahlum, Neil Belles, Jim Goss, Howard Griggs, Linc Miller, Ron Rupert, Jim Shymansky, Bob Brann, Neil Mercado, and Gene Steinruck. Their various activities for the week were as follows: Professional impromptu speeches in the Husky Lounge on Monday night. Signing up students that need tutoring in any subject, presenting an assembly program on Tuesday and Thursday, construction of a bulletin board, making posters for Woody Herman and the Homecoming game, selling tickets for the Woody Herman concerts, and working for the brothers. Pledge week will end tomorrow after the Who Will Be Phi Sig Sweetheart?

The brothers of Phi Sigma Pi have nominated and voted on a college female student to represent the fraternity for homecoming. The Sweetheart must have a satisfactory average and must be approved by the Dean of Students. The pledgees are busily working on a float for the sweetheart to ride on. Who will be the sweetheart? Come to the Homecoming parade and see her on the Phi Sigma Pi float.

Ulmer To Speak

Mr. Robert Ulmer, Chairman of the Art Department here at Bloomsburg will be one of three discussants at the 24th Annual Art Education Conference being held at Kutztown State College on November 2, 1962.

"The Art of Visual Expression" will be the theme of the conference proceedings. Mr. Robert Ulmer, Mr. Dominick Farnani, Associate Professor of Art Millersville State College and John R. Sawyer, Assistant Professor of Art Kutztown State College will discuss the address "Spontaneous and Deliberate Ways of Learning" given by Robert Burkhart, teacher-researcher of Art Education.

Association and second place in the Columbia Scholastic Press Association judging. The M&G thus was setting the pace for all teacher's colleges publications.

During 1938 student opinion began to be expressed freely through editorials and letters to the editor. In 1939 the M&G was exchanging newspaper with 90 other colleges on the continent.

War News In Headlines

War news covered the headlines of the paper in 1942 and the "reflection of student opinion" on emergency war measures taken by the government was voiced in the paper. A new department was added to the paper during the war — Men in Service Department. The function of this department was to keep in touch with BSTC students in the services and to send them a copy of each issue of the M&G.

The M&G was a paper without an office in 1949 because of the remodeling of Noetling Hall, but the situation was soon taken care of. In 1951 the M&G introduced a classified ad column and a calendar of events column for the first time.

Thus the copy of the paper you are holding in your hands is the result of many years of hard work and many changes. It is the hope of the paper that all these changes have made the M&G a more enjoyable and better paper to read.

Many Changes in BSC Curriculums For a More Complete Education

The curriculum during the past 25 years has undergone many minor changes in order to present the student with better opportunities for a more complete education. The following curriculums were inaugurated at State Teachers College, Bloomsburg, Pa., beginning September 7, 1937:

Elementary Education

1) Four-Year Elementary Curriculum leading to the B. S. in Education with college certification in (a) Kindergarten-Primary, (b) Intermediate, (c) Rural fields. The State Standard Limited Certificate was issued at the end of three years if students made this decision at the end of their freshman year. This certification was valid for three years, during which time twelve semester hours of advanced credit in the elementary field was earned in order to renew it for three more years. This process was continued until the four-year requirement for the degree of B. S. in Education had been fulfilled at which time the College Provisional Certificate was issued.

Special Education

(2) Six semester hours, selected from the "Electives for Special Education," earned in addition to completing the Four-Year Elementary curriculum was used to certify a person to teach special classes for the mentally retarded. This meant that a person was certified to teach in the elementary school, and at the same time certified to teach adjustment, special, opportunity, or orthogenic classes in the elementary school.

Secondary Curriculum

(3) Four-Year secondary curriculum leading to B. S. in Education with college certification two or more of the following fields: English, Social Studies, Geography, Mathematics, French, Latin, Science and Speech.

Business Education

(4) Four-Year business education curriculum leading to the B. S. in education, with opportunity to secure college certification in the following subjects: Bookkeeping and Accounting, Business English, Commercial and Economic Geography, Commercial Law, Commercial Mathematics, Economics, Junior Business Training, Office Practice, Salesmanship, Shorthand, and Typewriting. Retail selling could also be chosen as a field of certification.

During the succeeding 25 years all curriculums have been designed to give students the academic and cultural background necessary to make them competent in their respective fields. Consideration has also been given to areas of pupil needs in the basic educational program for teachers. Education and psychology courses stress the needs of youth and the principles of learning applicable to meeting them. Emphasis is also laid on the dynamics of mental hygiene pertaining to youth and the community.

In order that the college may offer a better cultural and academic background more faculty members have been added to the staff of BSC. The library has been enlarged to meet the great demands put on it by students and professors. And many programs such as the Civic Music Association programs and the special assembly speakers have received more attention.

Faculty and Program Changes

In the future the curriculums will again change and be added to. With the Liberal Arts program, scheduled to start in September, 1963, faculty needs, as well as requirements of the state council of education, must be met. Faculty needs will include additional instructors in math, foreign languages, and philosophy. The requirements to be met by the state council of education include the employment of a Liberal Arts Director, a series of liberal arts workshops in philosophy and purposes of the program. Students enrolling in the new arts program will have to take a year of foreign language, a year of college mathematics, and a year of laboratory science in addition to their field of specialization.

Although the changes in the curriculum during the past 25 years have been great, it is expected that the changes in the next 25 years will be even greater. These changes are necessary as our society progresses into the space age and at BSC it is necessary to prepare students for their place in the world of tomorrow.

Staff Attends ACPLA

Two members of the BSC library staff, Miss Gwendolyn Reams and Miss Lola Maxwell, attended the Annual Conference of the Pennsylvania Library Association recently held in Philadelphia.

The Conference was designed to bring forth inspiring ideas applicable to all levels of library developments. The program, whose theme was "188 in Action" considered the expansion of library services through books, buildings and personnel.

An outstanding feature of the program was the presence of Katherine Anne Porter as guest speaker. Miss Porter is author of Ship of Fools, currently topping the best-seller list.

Chapter of CEC Holds Meeting

The first meeting of the Alpha Chapter of Council for Exceptional Children was held on October 8 in the social rooms of Science Hall. The new president of C.E.C., Paul Bingaman, informed the group that Mr. Iano will replace Miss Kramer as co-sponsor along with Dr. Maïtta and Dr. Selders.

Suggest Membership Change

At the meeting it was suggested that membership should not be limited to only those in the field of Special Education, but also open to anyone interested. They would belong on a local level instead of the national level, and any freshmen or sophomores, in Special Education, would also join locally. An amendment will have to be made to the constitution to make it official.

C.E.C. decided to have a float in the Homecoming Parade, and Dr. Selders volunteered his car for the occasion. Virginia Boudman is the chairman of the float committee.

The convention to be held in Bedford Springs on October 26 and 27 was discussed, and all were invited to attend.

There was a social get together with refreshments after the meeting.

Social Studies Talks To Resume

The informal discussion groups of the Social Studies department will resume sometime this month stated Dr. John J. Serff, director. The exact date is not definite and will be left to the planning committee who will prepare the program for the first meeting.

The object of the discussion groups is to informally discuss subjects, topics, controversial issues and questions pertaining to the field of social studies. Juniors who are majoring in social studies form the nucleus of this group. However, last year sophomores and seniors who were interested participated in the discussions.

The meetings are held either in the home of a staff member or on the college campus. Dr. Serff feels the program met strong enthusiasm last year and he is hoping for the same reception this year.

Kappa Delta Pi Plans Discussed

Kappa Delta Pi, Coeducational Honor Society in Education, held its first meeting recently. Plans were discussed for the coming year and in particular, for the pledging of new members. It was decided that formal pledging should be held during the week of Homecoming in order to add more color to this event.

This year's officers for Kappa Delta Pi are: president—Jessie Reppy; vice president—Jere Hock; recording secretary—Wanda Kline; corresponding secretary—Joanne Tenzyk; treasurer—Laura Mae Brown; historian—Frederick Minnick. The advisor of the organization is Mrs. Deborah Griffith.

Presidents Aid BSC Development To Insure Education for Youth

C. F. Waller, a graduate of Williams College, acted as head of the first Bloomsburg Academy originated in 1839.

The Academy was started by the citizens of Bloomsburg prompted by a great desire to place before the local youth an opportunity to secure a classical education.

The growth of the institution was such that in 1856 the Academy was changed to the Bloomsburg Literary Institute. The program consisted of a common school department followed by a two year curriculum for the preparation of elementary school teachers. Scientific, classical and commercial courses were also offered. In 1869 the school was approved as a State Normal School and Literary Institute.

Welsh Chosen as Principal

In 1890, Judson P. Welsh was chosen principal of the institution, and he remained in this capacity until 1906. He was a promoter and realized that new buildings were needed. In 1894 a new four story dormitory connecting Waller Hall and Noetling Hall, and a new gymnasium were constructed. Where Science Hall now stands a baseball diamond was laid. It was, also, during this time that the phrase "the friendly spirit which is Bloomsburg" was coined.

Dr. Welsh's predecessor was D. J. Waller, who remained principal until 1920. He prompted the building of Science Hall in 1906 and brought about the utilization of eight and one-half acres of land, bought in 1904, for an athletic field.

Fisher Establishes 3-Year Course

Following the resignation of Dr. Waller, C. E. Fisher was elected principal. He planned to establish a closer relationship between the school and the town schools. On May 2, 1922, Dr. Fisher announced that a decision to establish a three year course for the preparation and training of junior high school teachers had been decided upon.

Regular Meetings Held by SCA Club

The regular meeting of the Student Christian Association was held recently in Carver Auditorium. Mark Hornberger, president, conducted the business meeting.

A worship service was presented by Barbara Scheithaur, Betty Girven, Lars Edburgh, Hedley Kellian, and Marsh Gilson. Carol Kaminski sang the solo, "I Would Be True," around which the worship program was built.

The second meeting was held on Wednesday, October 17, at 7 p.m., in Carver Auditorium. The Rev. John Palmer, of the Glad Tidings Pentecostal Church, will be the speaker. All faculty members and students are invited to attend the meetings of the Student Christian Association.

BSC Student Christian Association was represented by Judy Balestrini, James Russell, and Clayton H. Hinkel, faculty sponsor, at the recent YWCA Regional Council and the YMCA State Council meeting in the Philadelphia YMCA camp, Downingtown, Pennsylvania.

Dr. Fisher left in 1923 to take the position as president of a state teacher's college in Washington.

The next principal of B.S.C. was Dr. G. C. Reimer, who remained as such until 1927. During his term North Hall was converted into a men's dormitory and the present lobby of Waller Hall was built. Bloomsburg changed from a normal school to a college during this period.

Up until this time the institution was headed by a principal, who had the same responsibilities as a high school principal. However, after B.S.C. became a college the office of president came about. Haas First President

The first president of the college was Dr. Francis B. Haas who held this position from 1927 until 1939. During this time the transition from a two year to a four year basis was started and the quality point system as a graduation requirement was inaugurated. From 1934 to 1940 the growth of the college was great in personnel and plants. At this time Centennial Gym, Navy Hall, a maintenance building and a new heating plant were welcome additions.

Andruss Comes in 1939

Dr. Harvey A. Andruss came to BSC as president in 1939. Since this time there have been many changes and improvements. New buildings have been added including Sutliff Hall and New North Hall. Finally in 1960 B.S.T.C. was changed to B.S.C. with plans to introduce a liberal arts course. There are also plans to enlarge the college in the near future by adding classroom facilities, dormitories, and personnel. Work has begun on these projects recently. By 1960 it is hoped dormitory space will be available for 2000 students.

Sigma Alpha Eta Plans Bake Sale

The annual bake sale of Sigma Alpha Eta, national speech and hearing fraternity, is scheduled for the week of October 29 to November 2. It is to be held at the entrance to Husky Lounge, opening at 8:00. Ada Minelli is the chairman of the bake sale committee this year.

As in previous years, the money from this sale will finance a Christmas party for special education classes from the Memorial and Ben Franklin Schools and for those children receiving speech therapy.

This year's programs include: October—Initiation of members; November—Field trip to the National Convention in New York City; December—Christmas Party for children; January—Film on a special area in the field of speech and hearing; February—Second semester initiation; March—Panel Discussion; April—Speaker; May—Banquet with guest speaker.

The 1962-63 co-ordinating chairmen are: Bill Hinkle, Nancy Johnson, Sally Creasy, Marcy Gammon, Becky Burke, Dean Custer, Hank Finkner, Jan Drury, Ada Minelli, Barbara Chyko, Andy Leeper, Ann Hocker, Rochelle Johnson, Wanda Kline, and Gloria Rumbel.
