Volunteers Asked To Donate Blood For Bloodmobile

The Bloodmobile of the North-eastern Pennsylvania division of the Red Cross will visit Bloomsburg on March 18 in a visit sponsored by BSC.

Priscilla Bangor is heading the committee which is recruiting volunteer donors from the faculty and student body of the college. Mr. George Stradtman is the faculty coordinator for the committee. Volunteer workers have been soliciting names of donors daily for the past two weeks and the final drive will be put on next week outside Husky Lounge.

Students who would like to donate blood are asked to sign up in the next week to allow time for the college to obtain permission for those donors under 21.

Andruss Speaks At Club Meeting

Dr. Harvey A. Andruss recently spoke to members of the Columbia-Montour Torch Club. The speech was on the desire and the ability to develop an appreciation and an understanding of other people's values as among the first steps in attaining world peace.

Basis for Understanding

Dr. Andruss stated that appreciating another people's values is the basis for understanding. Too many American travelers are quick to point out the differences and to degrade the country they are visiting. He also stated that the attitudes and actions of American tourists helped to develop the noted "Ugly American."

Suggestions

Several suggestions made by Dr. Andruss to remedy this situation include better foreign language programs in American schools, a

BSC Chess Team Cops Third Place

BSC's chess team finished in third place in the Region IV Association of College Unions Chess Tournament held at the University of Maryland last weekend. The first team of Gary Deets, Northumberland, and Gordon Clapp, Light Street, finished behind the teams of Penn State and Catholic University, Washington, D.C.

Clapp Takes Fifth

Gordon Clapp was undefeated in five games and accumulated three and one-half points by winning two games and drawing three. Clapp's playing earned him fifth place in the individual standings in a field of forty and in so doing, he defeated the number one man of the University of Maryland in 34 moves, drew the second-rated player of the tournament after four hours of play, and drew the top man from West Virginia, also after four hours of play.

Deets Places Eighth

BSC team captain Gary Deets also contributed three and one-half points with three wins, one draw, and one loss. He finished eighth in the individual standings.

The second team of Dan Marks, Willow Grove, and Jim Sahaida, Hazleton, also did well by earning five and one-half out of ten possible points. Sahaida finished sixth in the individual standings behind Clapp. The highlights of Marks' play was his victory over the top player of Howard University.

broader foreign-exchange program, and increased grants and scholarship arrangements between peoples and not between governments. Also, the American abroad should make an effort to learn something of the country's language, and should act as he does at home—friendly and helpful, substituting questions for criticism.

Bloomsburg Players and Children's Theatre To Present "The Wizard of Oz" In Carver

Janice Feimster and Iva Klingaman

"The Wizard of Oz," a production of the Bloomsburg Players and the Children's Theater, will be presented in Carver Hall next Thursday and Friday, February 25 and 26, at 8:15 pm. In addition, two children's matinees will be presented on Saturday, February 27, at 10 am and 2 pm.

The Cast

The cast of players includes: Jan Feimster, Dorothy; Derl Gilbert, Toto; Cheryl Hummel, Witch of North; Ann Marie Rapella, Scarecrow; Jerry McBride, Tin Woodsman; Jon Ackley, Lion; Iva Klingaman, Witch of West; Tom Welsh, Guardian of Gate; Richard Sherman, Oz; Gerri Minner, Glinda the Good; Carol Murphy, 1st Munchkin and Floria; Becky Ehret, Martie Siensen, Debora Machamer, and Judy Hanselman, Munchkins.

The production represents the fusion of the efforts of two groups — The Bloomsburg Players and the class in children's theater. Mr. Robert Richey, director of the production is also instructor of the theater course. Mr. Michael McHale will serve as business and publicity manager; Miss Amy Short is in charge of costuming; Ann Marie Rapella is choreographer.

High Points

Mr. McHale was interviewed by the M&G in connection with the various facets of the production. He stated that the choreography, under the direction of Ann Marie Rapella, is sure to be a high point. He also said that a number of innovations in make-up have been introduced. An example of this is the transformation of Iva Klingaman into the cackling Wicked Witch. Another high point, according to Mr. McHale, is the transformation of Carver Stage into the cornfields of Kansas, to the yellow brick road, castles, and the Emerald Cities of the magical land of Oz. Mr. McHale urged all students to avail themselves of the opportunity to witness this production.

Admissions

BSC students will be admitted at no cost by presenting their ID cards; faculty by activity books. Admission for children at the special matinees is 35 cents with the accompanying adult being admitted free.

Sigma Alpha Eta Inducts Members

Initiation of five new key members highlighted last week's meeting of Iota Chapter of Sigma Alpha Eta, National Speech and Hearing Fraternity. Mary Steckel, interim chairman, and Robert Greene, treasurer, conducted the initiation ceremony.

New key members inducted are Nancy Dockeray, John Pollinsky, Arthur Pentz, Robert Reese, and Ronald Sittler. Attainment of this level of membership is based on specific academic standards, financial obligations, and active participation in fraternity events. Refreshments were served after the formal meeting.

courses. In addition, a geography average of 2.85 and an overall average of 2.3 are required. For further details contact Dave Kanaski, box 606.

PAC Contest Open To BSC Students

A Peace Essay Contest sponsored by the Brith Sholom Peace Actions Committee is being opened to students attending colleges in New York, Pennsylvania, and New Jersey. PAC is a branch of the Brith Sholom, a Philadelphia based national fraternal organization, with a record of 60 years of humanitarian services.

Contestants are required to write up to 1000 words on the theme "Next Steps To Be Taken In the Search For Peace."

Prizes

Prizes totaling $250.00 will be awarded to the best essays in each region. The writer of the best of the winning essays will be feted by Brith Sholom during its 60th Annual Convention, June 27-30, 1965, at Concord mountain resort in Kiamasha, N.Y.

All entries must be postmarked no later than April 15, 1965, and mailed to Peace Essay Contest, Brith Sholom, 121 S. Broad Street, Philadelphia, Pa. 19107.

Mahood Speaks To Phi Sigma Pi

Dr. A. W. Mahood, an Ophthalmologist at Geisinger Hospital, explained the corneal transplant to Phi Sigma Pi fraternity at a recent meeting. Dr. Mahood traced the developments of Keratoplasty (as corneal transplanting is called) to the present.

He accompanied his talk with slides of actual patients' eyes, before and after operations, to bring home the picture of the excellent work done in this branch of medicine. As he spoke, the minuteness of such an operation became apparent. Materials such as micro-needles, thread as thin as a cobweb, and stitches one millimeter apart illustrated the skill and precision involved in this procedure.

Conclusion

In closing, Dr. Mahood emphasized that transplants come from donors, and that people can regain sight only because others have pledged their eyes to the Eye Bank. Thus, the procedure of restoring sight is one that involves the person needing sight, the person giving sight, and most of all, the person who has the ability and know-how to restore it.

Geology Lectures To Be Presented By Dr. Freedman

Dr. Jacon Freedman, geologist at Franklin and Marshall College will deliver a series of lectures on campus March 25-26. Dr. Freedman's stay will be sponsored by BSC and the American Geological Institute.

Formal Talks

Dr. Freedman will give several formal talks. The lectures will concern: "Geologizing in 3 of the 4 Corners of the World," "Stratigraphy and Structure of the Northern Blue Ridge Mountains," "The Pattern of Folded Folds along the Susquehanna River in the Piedmont of Pennsylvania and Maryland," and "A New Program for Teaching Earth Science at the 9th Grade Level, the Earth Science Curriculum Project."

Informal Talks

Dr. Freedman will also be available for informal talks with students regarding geology and earth science curricula, opportunities in the field, graduate study, and related subjects.

Council Members Retreat To Asbury

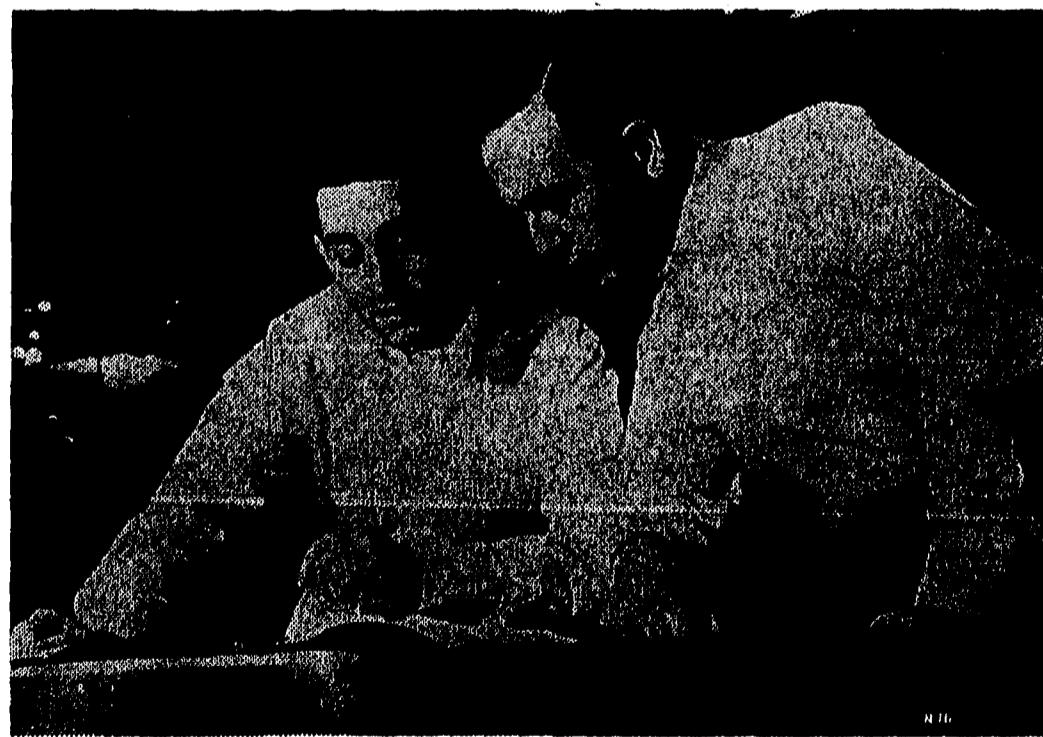

A contingent of twenty-six members of the Council for Exceptional Children, BSC chapter, went on a retreat to Mount Asbury near Carlisle last weekend. Dr. Evabelle Valney, group advisor and Associate Professor of Special Education, accompanied the students.

Dr. Valney was the keynote speaker at the conclave. Her address was titled "The Old Guard Meets The Young Blood." The purpose of the retreat was to allow delegates from BSC, Lock Haven, Millersville, and Penn State, to meet and discuss special education. The group made plans to visit the Scranton Oral School in the near future.

BSC Fraternity Open For New Members

Dr. John Enman announces that membership in Delta Chapter, Gamma Theta Upsilon, national geography fraternity on campus, is now open. To be eligible, a student must have completed two geography courses and must plan to take at least two more undergraduate

Stecher And Horowitz To Present Civic Music Concert February 22

Stecher and Horowitz

Duo-pianists, Stecher and Horowitz will present a concert Monday, February 22, at 8:15 pm at the Bloomsburg Junior High School in connection with the Civic Music Program. Melvin Stecher and Norman Horowitz joined their pianistic talents to form what is now one of the leading young two-man piano teams in America.

The Stecher and Horowitz name first became familiar to the public when the two young men were featured in an extended engagement at the Radio City Music Hall. They gave a total of 84 performances at that time.

Today, in addition to concertizing, Stecher and Horowitz are also directors of the music school which bears their name.

This season, the duo-pianists begin another heavy schedule with concerts starting at the East Coast. Their itinerary will take them completely across the United States and Western Canada. The two men tour with their own instruments, which are Steinways specially matched in color.

The usual policy of students being admitted on cards available at the Dean of Students office will be in effect.

Several Subjects Needed Attention; College Activities Placed In Focus

This week in the editorial columns we did not have enough material on any one subject; therefore we are taking the liberty to ramble on several subjects.

Sports

First of all, the Husky sports department should be commended for the fine season that has been an integral part of the community life. Even though an outsider may look at the statistics and say what a rotten season, we know that our boys did their very best in each and every event. This is what is important; through these events everyone learns to work as a team. This is what life is all about — working as a part of a team. The coaches and the teams are to be commended for the fine season.

Student Participation

Second, we have notices that there is still a lack of student participation in some areas of all college events. These programs are planned with the student and what he may learn from attending such events. For this reason of broadening one's experience, we all should try our very best to attend each event and to benefit as much as is humanly possible. In the next few weeks many programs are planned and we urge everyone to do his best to attend these events.

Spring Arts Festival

Third, the committee working on the annual Spring Arts Festival is busy planning and preparing for a successful week. We would hope that you will make every effort to attend these programs as they are presented. The committee is putting in many hours to make this cultural week a success. All they will need is your support and attendance to make it a complete success.

Stealing

Fourth, it has again come to our attention that some students are stealing from other students. We have moaned and groaned in this column every time it is reported. Must it continue to happen? Is there any reason for this nasty habit to continue? We don't think so and we feel that someone, somewhere should try to solve this problem. We would if we knew where to start, but we don't. Can you help us?

Guest Editorials

Fifth, we again state that our columns are always open for guest editorials and letters to the editor. It seems that someone always has a legitimate gripe but he is never moved enough to do anything about it. Maybe a letter to the editor would get the desired results. Remember, the Maroon & Gold is available to everyone, and this medium would be a good place to air your legitimate complaints.

Maybe you think we have been taking up space this week. However, you are hereby assured that each and everyone of these topics covered is of utmost importance to the entire student body. Take some of these items to heart and the entire community will surely benefit.

Some Of Our Students Ask: "What Price Boredom?"

The population of Bloomsburg State College decreases by hundreds at the end of each week. Where do all these college students go, and why do they go?

A survey of the students revealed these curious facts about the weekly whereabouts of our wandering intellects.

Reasons for Going Home

First, of course, are those that go home, some because their parents want to see if they're still alive and others whose parents wish they would stay away and let them have a weekend to themselves. The latter type of student lives out of his suitcase and goes home because he is bored. There's simply nothing for him to do weekends in Bloomsburg. The former goes home only because of a sound obligation to his family. He figures he owes it to them, and being the nice guy he is, etc. Besides, he needs money.

In actuality, however, this percentage of the weekend wanderers is very slight and almost negligible in the statistics. Where do the majority go then? Perhaps, being college students, they go to "colleges" on the weekends to see what a college weekend is really like. The greatest recipients of our BSC "college-life-starved students" are Bucknell and Penn State.

Shame to BSC

It's a shame when BSC students, not just on occasion but consistently, migrate each weekend to another college. There obviously must be something they seek at another college which is lacking here. And, anyone who has spent a weekend at another college obviously knows what it is. It's those hell-raising fraternity parties, where tomorrow's leaders of our nation are blowing off steam before they settle down to another week's work.

Not Professional?

How, I ask, can Bloomsburg condemn them? Are they not professional, perhaps? Well, the engineers, scientists, lawyers, doctors and dentists who have gone through these schools are considered as professional as high school and elementary teachers.

If the elite of the economic and professional worlds approve of them, how can we scream "dirt" at them. Are we trying to be better than Penn State, Bucknell, University of Pennsylvania, Michigan State or any of a thousand other schools one can name?

Possible for BSC Too

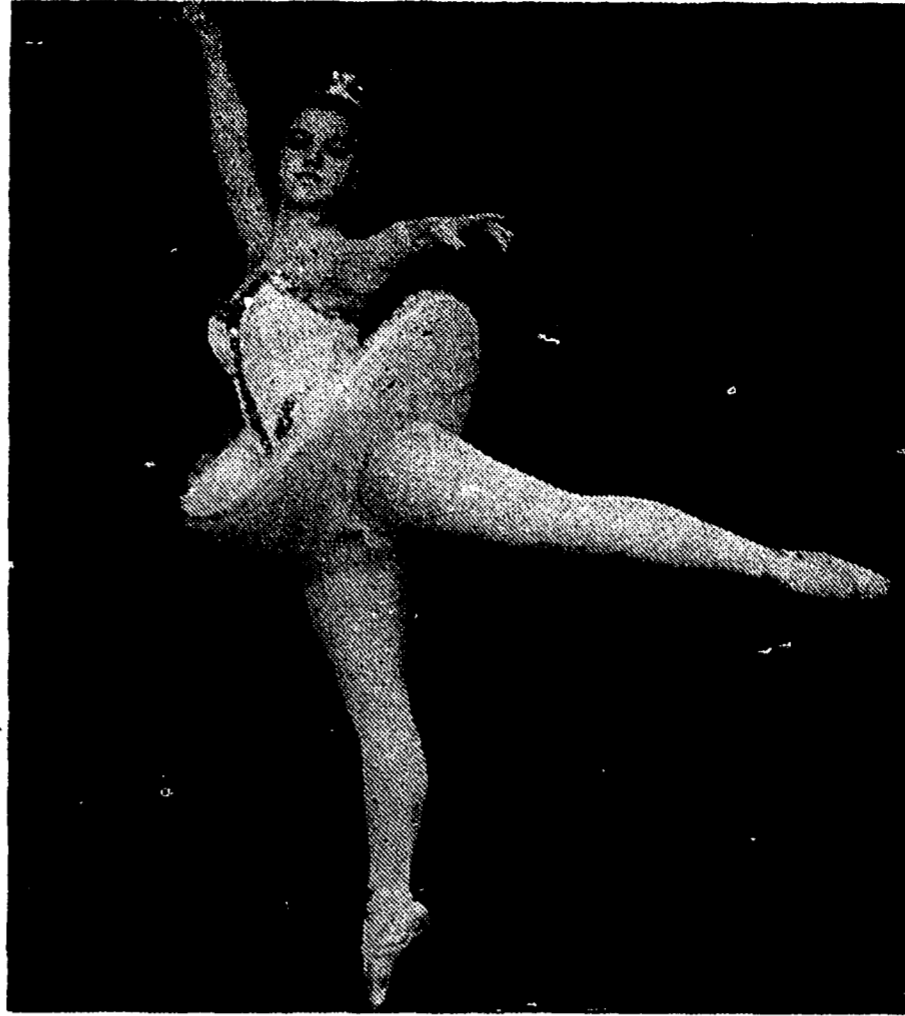

Why, then, can't we have some kind of off-campus fraternity houses here at BSC? This would be possible. There are students in this school who could afford to buy a house themselves, let alone a hundred guys renting one to start. Not only would this solve a small part of the housing problem on campus, but it could also benefit the students by having all those in a certain curriculum together when studying.

A classical comment came from a Penn State student who, when complaining about the condition of his frat house, was told we didn't even have social fraternities: "Man, I cried because I had no shoes, till I saw you with no feet."

Until the precedent is broken around here there will continue to be an exodus each weekend. It's getting so bad now that one can't even go through the lunch lines at Bucknell or State without having at least one student from Bloomsburg ask that most pointless question, "Hey, what are you doing here?"

Copy Deadline-Feb. 22

The next deadline for the Maroon and Gold is Monday, February 22, at 4:00 pm. The next issue will be distributed on Friday, February 26. In order to assure that all news and notices will be in the next issue, please have them in the M&G office by the above deadline.

Ann Marie Rapella

Ann Marie Rapella's Choreography Is No Passing Fancy For Wizard

To Ann Marie Rapella, dancing is more integrated into her life than just something done to release tensions or to socialize. The dance to her is a vivid, imaginative art form.

Like most things, this idea of "love" of the dance and the actual performance did not materialize overnight. It was a quality that emerged throughout years of hard work and many introductions. Ann Marie's introduction to the dance was at the age of eight; this led to twelve years of instructions. She also has to her credit training at the American Ballet Center and the Ballet Reperatory Company in New York City.

Many Unusual Performances

Throughout these years of extensive study, Ann Marie had the joy of performing before several types of audiences. While studying in Scranton, she had the honor of auditioning and becoming a member of the Scranton Ballet Theatre. From the folk dance of the tropic isles to the formal, precise movements of the ballet, she has been in various and exciting shows.

Choreographer On Campus

Currently, on campus, Ann Marie Rapella is the choreographer of "The Wizard of Oz." Most of the numbers she has devised are character dances in which the person involved does a motion sketch of himself. In choreography, although the end result is seemingly simple, there are many factors to be taken into consideration, including set designs, costumes, music, and the student performers. Ann Marie's choreography in this production of the "Wizard of Oz" will be interesting to see.

Oldest Art Form

"The dance," Ann Marie explained, "is one of the oldest art forms. This art form requires much self-discipline and mental alertness. Not everyone studies dancing on a long-term basis. These people look to dancing for other things: poise, grace, proper posture and carriage, and physical correction; for the dance encompasses many aspects of one's being. It represents to me an almost instinctive art form. Look at any child. Watch his movements. Joy, anger, or sadness can easily be detected. Everyone tells a story through his movements and gestures, and this is exactly what dancing is."

If you think twice before you speak, you'll never get into the conversation.

It has been figured that the U.S. national debt is $50 billion more than all the debts of all the other nations combined.

Beauty contests didn't begin in Hollywood, Atlantic City or Miami, but when the second woman appeared on earth.

There will be a mock funeral held for the Lock Haven team tomorrow. The procession will leave Center Square at 12:30 and march to Husky Lounge, where rites will be said over a casket. From there the procession will proceed to a chosen burial plot on Mt. Olympus. All students are invited to join in

by Richie Benyo

Your beauty bespeaks of warmth and charm,
Yet no smile breaks your lips;
No flashing teeth
To add more depth,
No hardy grin
To invite one's eye.

Why I say this I can't tell,
But to break this mystery I'll try —
To find a reason why,
Or die upon the spit,
Consumed by the fires of curiosity,
For I must know.

Tell me why, I pray,
In hopes I can help you
To add a smile to that face,
To add a mere delight.

Sarcasm is one of my traits,
And till you do,
I'll only know you as —
"Smiley"...

Students Resolve: Letter of Apology

by Judy Gers

During the previous week, tension was mounting and nerves were raveled. It was all a part of the grand finale of a semester-final examination week. Now once again, the student breathes a sigh of relief except for one minor detail: How to break the news to the folks?

As the administration relays home the result of the semester, many residents of BSC also communicate with their parents. These letters inevitably contain a series of carefully worded, new semester resolutions. One usually parallels these proud declarations of do's and do not's with their almost but not forgotten New Year's resolutions.

Typical Letter

A typical letter and the thoughts behind it would be similar to this:

Dear Mom and Dad,
I regretfully inform you of my shortcomings of last semester. Well, at least that's taking the right approach — the humble downtrodden student. This semester, I promise that I will do the following. I should at least inform them of my well meaning intents — at least the ideas. (1) I will study 2 hours for every hour in class. That should be easy enough. I'm only taking 12 credits. Humm — that's only a 36 hour week. (2) I will not cut any classes even if ill. I forgot to tell them the nurse caught on to my phoney ills and told me she will not give me any more excuses. (3) I will not waste any time in Husky Lounge. I must go there for lunch after my three classes right around the noon hour. After all, I must keep up my strength. Also, all the main activities are there (talking, ouija board, cribbage and occasionally dances.) A main part of college is social. (4) I will not watch TV until all hours of the night unless assigned. After all, the professor's main interests must be kept up with. Can I help it if he likes the late movies. (5) I will not date during the week. John and I worked that out. We will study together.

Sincerely,
Your well meaning student at BSC

Resolutions Filled

Well, the new semester's resolutions are recorded and filed in the mail box. And, with a bit of luck will beat the administration's notice. Although seemingly good intentions, well, the student winks and says, all fun and no play....

Man can control everything but a woman and a hurricane.

BSC Drops Two Games In a Row

"Ben" Blue trying for 2 against MSC.

The Huskies let an 8 point lead slip through their fingers to fall at the hands of the Golden Bears of Kutztown by a score of 80-76. Kutztown used the foul line to advantage as they connected on 22-30 charity tosses.

Lose Halftime Lead

The Huskies jumped out to a 36-28 halftime lead as Beck got a hot hand. However with 13 minutes left in the ballgame Kutztown gained the lead 49-47 and were never headed.

New Transfer Dangerous

Coach Norton was leary of the Golden Bears, since they picked up two transfer students. Coach Norton's caution was warranted as one of them, Valkeris, stuffed in 23 before going out on personals late in the game.

Beck and Herzig led the Husky scorers as they shared a total of 41 points. Herzig kept the Huskies in the game over the final 10 minutes.

For the second game in a row the Huskies saw a halftime advan-

Wrestlers Win; LHSC Next on List

Last Friday the Bloomsburg State wrestlers won their ninth victory of the season, 23 to 6, in a meet at Shippensburg State College.

The opening bout was close all the way to the finish, with the Red Raiders' opponent winning an 11 to 10 victory on riding time in the final period. Jim Rolley at 157 pulled out an 8 to 6 victory, and Rocco Forte won 9 to 8 over a tough opponent in a match that was decided in the last period. The only pin of the evening came when Ed Taylor, 147, flattened his man near the end of the third period. In other matches, Bill Robb, Bill Paule, Tom Vargo, and Lee Viard all won decisions for the Huskies. The only loss of the evening came in the heavyweight bout when Shippensburg's Kemble decisioned the Huskies' DeWire 5 to 2.

The Big One

Tomorrow night the Huskies face their biggest challenge of the season when they meet Lock Haven State on the home mats. The Huskies, according to Coach Houk, will be going into the meet as the underdogs for the first time this season. Lock Haven, with a slight advantage over the Huskies, is currently ranked number one in the N.A.I.A.

tage go down the drain as the Huskies were beaten by Millersville by a score of 86-70.

The Huskies posted a 54-36 halftime advantage, but couldn't get going in the second half and hit for only six field goals. The absence of Herzig, hurt the Huskies adding to the fact that many fouls were called against the Huskies.

A total of 48 fouls were called on the Huskies, many of which were questionable.

Five men hit in double figures for the Huskies with Ed Beck and Mike Morrow leading the way with 13 each.

The Huskies now have a 4-7 conference record and a 6-10 overall record.

from the SIDELINES

by John Murtin

Tomorrow Bloomsburg State's wrestlers under head coach Russ Houk and assistant coach Gerald Maurey will meet Lock Haven State's wrestlers under coach Elliot "Gray" Simons. Without a doubt, this is one of the biggest wrestling meets in the nation. Bloomsburg State in posting a 9-0-1 record.

Bloomsburg was successful in defeating Purdue, Southern Illinois University, Miami of Ohio, and Indiana State (Indiana) in a tour earlier this season. At the present time, our wrestling team is ranked 3rd in the NAIA standings.

Lock Haven also has a very impressive record. They are 9-0 and ranked first in the NAIA standings. Therefore, they're the toughest team Bloomsburg will meet this year.

There will be nine matches beginning with the 123 lb. weight class and ending with the heavyweight class. In the first bout will be Bill Robb, a junior from Lock Haven. Bill is undefeated with a record of 8-0. Ed Taylor will be going in the 130 lb. class. His only defeat of the season was against the strong wrestling of East Stroudsburg's Bob Guzzo. Ed was also state champ last year and was second in NAIA competition.

In the 137 lb. class will be one of our less established wrestlers. Jim Rolley has only wrestled varsity this year. Jim, nevertheless, is an excellent wrestler and has proved his value to the team by posting a 7-1 record this year.

Rocco Forte will be represented in the 147 weight class. Rocco did not wrestle much last year due to the competition of Dick Scorese. Even though this is his first year Rocco still came through with a 5-3-1 record for the season.

Starting at 157 will be two-time state champion, Bill Paule. Bill has been in the 167 class all year and still has come out with an outstanding record of 8-1-1.

Our other undefeated standout, Tom Vargo, will be going in the 167. Tom has won all ten of his matches in the 177 lb. class so he

Irate Students of Lock Haven Send Degrading Letter To BSC

by George Yacina

Recently, Russel Houk, BSC wrestling coach and Athletic Director, received a letter from some students of Lock Haven State College. The letter consisted of the students' ideas of the Athletic Policies of BSC. The letter is as follows:

February 11, 1965

Mr. Russel Houk
Athletic Director
Bloomsburg State College
Bloomsburg, Pa.

Dear Mr. Houk:

It is with regret that we have written this letter but in all honesty we feel we have no other choice. The students and fans of the LOCK HAVEN STATE COLLEGE wrestling team would like to know what you are trying to prove by your... action of not allowing any LOCK HAVEN fans to purchase tickets until the (SIC) your gym has been filled with pro Bloomsburg people for the LOCK HAVEN - Bloomsburg match on February 20. We feel that this action shows a high degree of unsportsmanlike conduct and is not conducive to the actions of an athletic director of a college or university... I'm (SIC) sure many people now realize that your only objective is winning... We really can't do much about what you did but we feel that your actions won't mean anything and that LOCK HAVEN will win after all. We close this by saying, you have the advantage this year but wait till next year.

Sincerely Yours, (SIC)
The Students of LOCK HAVEN STATE COLLEGE

The Answer From The Sports Editors

This writing is not in harsh retaliation, but to inform the students of their misunderstandings.

The CGA and the Athletic Committee have found it only proper to give the students of BSC first choice in entering the gym since the students have paid their $50 for the Activities Fee.

I suggest that the students of Lock Haven closely examine athletic policies of the other schools, Cheyney, Millersville and the like and they will find only a few not having this policy. They will find the general athletic policies the same. I also suggest that they examine their own athletic policies and, much to their surprise, maybe, they will find their policies similar.

Who Did What First

It is a pure case of the kettle calling the pot black, for it was only a year ago that Lock Haven was host to the strongly contested wrestling match that the visiting students of BSC had to wait until Lock Haven's students entered the gym. And this was accepted by the visiting students.

And I hope that their many, childish cries of unsportsmanship and not playing fair are not the attitudes of the entire student body of Lock Haven, but only a small minor group of radical students.

All Students Welcome

All Lock Haven students are invited and always welcome to the campus of BSC, but they must conform with the Athletic Policies of our school.

should have some advantages in the 167 class.

In the 177 class will either be Jim Lewis or Lou Centrella. Jim is coming back after being sidelined earlier this season with an injury. Lou just back this semester. Lee Viard with a 6-3-1 record will be called upon in the 191 wt. class. He is only a sophomore and has been doing an outstanding job.

Our heavyweight will be Dave DeWire. He has been wrestling some of the other schools' best men as a fill-in and this is the major reason for the losses.

Morgan Defeated By BSC Mermen

Last week, BSC Centennial pool churned with the efforts of the Husky swimmers as they defeated Morgan State by a score of 55 to 40. The meet score was decisive from the beginning, with the Husky swimmers scoring firsts in event after event to take six out of eleven.

Scoring firsts for the Huskies were Don Beltz, Bill Billett, Ray Fox, and Jerry Lomas in the 400 yard medley relay, Regis Stirling in the 200 yard freestyle, Jim Young in the 50 yard freestyle, Ray Fox in the 200 yard individual medley, Dick Steidel in the diving, and Don Beltz in the 200 yard backstroke. This victory and the one over East Stroudsburg put the morale of the Husky swimmers at a new high; however defeat followed in the heartbreaking February 13 meet with Howard University.

Go Down for Howard

The meet with Howard got off to a poor start with a loss in the 400 yard medley relay by only a four second difference in time. Howard took the 200 yard freestyle and the 50 yard freestyle to total 19 points to the Huskies' 6 after three events. The fact that the Huskies were down but not out evidenced itself when Bill Turley and Ray Fox won first and second places, respectively, in the 200 yard individual medley and Dick Steidel and Alan Shoop took first and second in the diving. This resulted in a 22-21 score at the end of the fifth event.

Near Victory

Howard University retaliated with firsts in the 200 yard butterfly and the 100 yard freestyle, but the Huskies revived with a first place by Don Beltz in the 200 yard backstroke to give the Huskies a two point lead, 36-34. When Howard captured first in the 500 yard freestyle, the score changed in their favor (39-40). The 200 yard breaststroke was touch and go for seven lengths and most of the eighth until the Huskies were touched out to lose this event, and when a stunning defeat was handed the Huskies in the 400 yard freestyle, Howard University had the meet, 55 to 40.

Any Symptoms?

Students are urged to report to the infirmary as soon as symptoms of the virus, currently spreading about the campus, appear. Mrs. Crawford, college nurse, reports that many students wait until the illness develops to the extent that they must be sent home to recuperate.

BSC Represented At Kings Tourney

The debate team of John Natras, West Wyoming, and Bill Rowett, Conyngham, both juniors, represented BSC at the Kings College Debate Tournament on February 6-7. College and University debate teams from Vermont to Georgia and from New York to Illinois debated, Resolved: That the Federal Government should establish a national program of public works for the unemployed. The debate was switch side, with each team debating both sides.

Win 2 of 4

BSC defeated the host Kings College team and Rosemont, and lost to Rutgers A and B team, and American University, with the latter two being extremely close contests. With their 2-4 record the team finished about twenty-sixth out of forty-six teams.

The varsity team will next participate at the Annual Debator's Congress at Penn State on March 4, 5, 6.

Art Scholarships Offered By Aspen

Partial tuition scholarships to the Summer 1965 Aspen Poetry-Prose Workshop of the Aspen School of Contemporary Art available to deserving students in poetry or prose. The Workshop emphasizes production of original work by its participants and is not a lecture program.

Intended for Writers

The program is intended for writers who need a concentrated period in which to develop their own work without the usual interruptions of an academic routine. Traditional or experimental modes of expression are encouraged and the aim of all study, discussion, and criticism is to contribute greater awareness of the work's possibilities and to build work with a recognition of the form involved. Nine Week Session

The Workshop offers an intensive nine-week summer session in this area of writing under the guidance of John Frederick Clute, poet and novelist. Discussion and criticism of current writing of the Workshop participants takes place twice weekly in group sessions, and once weekly in individual meetings with Mr. Clute.

Selected poems by Workshop members accompanied by student-faculty art are published throughout the summer in "The Poetry Handbill."

'65-'66 Majorette Captains Named

Diane Mushrush and Judy Mann, both juniors, have been named co-captains of the majorette squad for the 1965-66 school year.

Diane served as a majorette for four years at Catasauqua High School and has been on the BSC majorette squad since her freshman year. Diane is majoring in speech correction.

Judy, a graduate of McKiskey High School, Lancaster, has been a BSC majorette for 3 years. Judy is a Spanish major in the secondary curriculum.

The majorette squad is under the direction of Dr. Charles Carlson, Maroon & Gold band director.

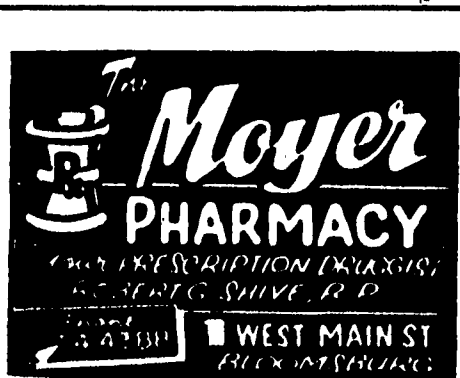

Service Sorority Visits Bucknell U.

Approximately 30 members of the BSC Women's Service Society were the guests of Lambda Chi Alpha at Bucknell on February 6. A full day of activities was scheduled for the girls which included a swimming meet with Cornell, dinner, a basketball game with Lafayette, and a dance in the Lambda Chi fraternity house.

The group of girls, chaperoned by Miss Amy Short, their faculty advisor, and Mr. Edward Grant returned to Bloomsburg that night.

Scholarships

The scholarships are awarded to students recommended by the English department on the basis of merit and real financial need. The awards are in the amount of $125, slightly over one-half of the full tuition fee. Any interested student may contact any member of the English Department for further details.

Anyone wishing to run for an office of the Community Government Association for the 1965-66 term can pick up their petitions in the CGA office. All petitions must be returned by Saturday, February 27, 1965. The offices are president, vice-president, corresponding secretary, recording secretary, and treasurer.

Exams To Be Held For Gov't. Careers

Examinations for government career trainees will be held at BSC on March 4, at 3:00 pm. Mr. Joseph J. Walker from the Bureau of Recruitment will be on campus that day from 9:30 am on, to conduct interviews in Navy Hall.

The new class includes positions in the management specialties, jobs having to do with the regulation of business, community development, museum work, social welfare, public health, and employment services. The annual salary is $5,268.

Fraternity Plans Tutoring Service

The Alpha Delta Chapter of Pi Omega Pi, coeducational business fraternity, has made plans to initiate a tutoring service during the second semester of the 1964-65 school year. The program should be in full operation within two or three weeks after the beginning of the semester.

All business students are eligible and the tutoring will be offered in business subjects only. The tutoring will be done by the members of the fraternity. Any students interested are asked to contact Louis Ciocca, Box 1187, or Dr. Toumey, Box 10 or in Sutliff Hall.

Applications and information may be obtained from the State Civil Service Commission, South Office Building, Harrisburg or from Mr. Jackson in Science Hall, Room 7.

Psyche up for the Lock Haven match tomorrow in Centennial Gym.
