President Andruss congratulates the champions as they return to BSC.

Last week at Terre Haute, Indiana, the Bloomsburg State wrestling team captured the national N.A.I.A. wrestling championship. The Husky triumph brought them their third national title in the last six seasons and a new national champ — Jim Rolley.

The seven Husky matmen who participated in the tournament — Grant Stevens, Bill Robb, Jim Rolley, Ed Taylor, Rocco Forte, Bill Paule, and Tom Vargo — were among some 290 wrestlers from 60 schools throughout the nation. The Husky squad won 21 out of their 28 matches to build up a total of 60 points, far ahead of second place Lock Haven with 50 points. St. Cloud of Minnesota finished third with 48 points, followed by Waynesburg and Morehead, tied for fourth with 46 each.

Rolley Scores 16 Points

The Huskies, with only one first against three for Lock Haven, showed great overall strength and balance, and were assured of the title even before going into the final round of the tournament. Jim Rolley, a junior wrestling his first season as a varsity regular, won all four of his matches to lead the Huskies with 16 points.

Robb and Taylor in Finals

The only other Huskies to make the finals, Robb and Taylor, both gained second place finishes with 4-1 records and 15 and 12 points respectively. Robb also received the tournament trophy for the most pins in the least amount of time. Tom Vargo won a third with 10 points on five wins, two in consolation matches, and one loss. Bill Paule took a fourth and scored seven points with four wins, three in the consolations, and one loss. Stevens and Forte both suffered losses in the preliminary rounds and did not qualify for the consolations.

In the preliminaries the Huskies scored 13 points. Stevens was pinned in a tough bout and Forte, after winning a close decision in his first match, was also pinned. Robb took two by pins and Vargo won with a fall and a decision, while Taylor, Rolley, and Paule all outpointed their opponents.

Loses to Eisenhower

In the quarter and semi-finals the Huskies took the tournament lead, with St. Cloud and Lock Haven tied for second, and advanced three men into the finals. Bill Paule met Lock Haven's Eisenhower and lost by decision. Eisenhower went on to win in the finals also. Tom Vargo won an exciting match with a tough Lincoln Univ. opponent, but was pinned in his second bout to lose a shot at the finals. Both went into the consolations, winning five matches between them, which became the deciding factor in the BSC victory. Bill Robb again won two by pins and Jim Rolley took one by decision and another by default after leading 5-1. Ed Taylor, in one of the best matches, took a close 1-0 decision over a Japanese opponent and won another, 8-3.

Heartbreak for Robb

In the opening match of the finals for the Huskies, Bill Robb who did a great job throughout the tournament, lost a 10 to 4 decision to Dave Hazelwinkel of St. Cloud. Leading by only one point going into the third period, Jim Rolley got a reverse on his Concordia opponent, and followed with a pin for the only fall in the finals. In the last Husky match, Ed Taylor met a familiar opponent, Tom Gusic of Waynesburg. Each has won over the other in previous matches, but Gusic clinched a 5 to 1 decision.

The next issue of the MAROON & GOLD will be published April 2, 1965. The next deadline for all articles will be March 29 at 4:00 pm in the MAROON & GOLD office. There will be no paper next week due to the end of the nine weeks grading period.

Gockley & Kahn Vie For CGA Pres.; Opponents Campaign In Assembly

ed vice-president of his class. In his sophomore year he served as president of his class and became a member of Phi Sigma Pi Fraternity. This year, as a junior, Gil served as vice-president of CGA and chairman of the Big Name Entertainment Committee.

Kahn

Wally Kahn, the other nominee for the office, has also been active during his career at BSC. He is a member of the debating club, the College Choraleers, and the Alpha Phi Omega Fraternity. He has served as a sports writer for MAROON & GOLD and co-chairman of Hospitality Committee.

Candidates

Other candidates running for CGA offices include Daniel Guydish and Marlin Kester, vice-president; Emmajane Pellen and Celie Flaherty, corresponding secretary; Julia Filo and Sally Reagen, recording secretary; and Alan Bartlett and Mike Mellinger, treasurer.

Campaign speeches by the candidates for the presidency and vice-presidency were heard in a combined assembly last Tuesday. Final elections will take place this Thursday and Friday, the 18th and 19th in the Husky Lounge.

Dr. Jacob Freedman To Visit BSC; Geology Lectures Open To Students

Lectures in the area of geology will be open to students and faculty of BSC on March 25-26. The lectures will be delivered by Dr. Jacob Freedman, chairman of the Department of Geology at Franklin and Marshall College. He is sponsored by the American Geological Institute and BSC.

Dr. Freedman

Dr. Freedman will present the first of four formal lectures in assembly on Thursday, March 25, in Carver Auditorium. The title of the illustrated lecture will be "Geologizing in 3 of the 4 Corners of the World." Immediately following the assembly, the lecturer will talk to interested students about "A New Program for Earth Science at the 9th Grade Level" in Room 104, Sutliff Hall.

On Friday, March 26, Dr. Freedman will discuss "Geological Problems of the Appalachian Piedmont" and "Stratigraphy and Structure of the Northern Blue Ridge Mountains" at 2 and 3 pm respectively in Room 104, Sutliff Hall.

Informal Meetings

In addition to these scheduled talks, Dr. Freedman will be available both days for informal consultations with students interested in geology and earth science. Time and weather permitting, he will serve as consultant on a short tour of locally significant geological sites.

Dr. Freedman, a native of Manchester, N.H., received his B.S. degree in geology from the University of New Hampshire and his A.M. and Ph.D. degrees in geology from Harvard University. He has served as geologist for several branches of the United States Geological Survey in Alaska, Israel, and Michigan. He has written numerous papers and reports on the mineral resources, petrology, and stratigraphy and structure of the above areas as well as of New Hampshire and southeast Pennsylvania.

Fall Scheduling Plans Announced

Advanced scheduling for the fall semester, 1965, will be held in Centennial Gym on Friday, May 21, and Saturday, May 22. Students will pay their $50.00 activities fee, (in cash or check) for next year in the gym lobby, and will proceed to begin scheduling. Students will be able to arrange their schedules by obtaining a Master Schedule Booklet from the book store.

After registering for the fall semester, the students will schedule tentatively for the spring semester. From the results of the tentative scheduling, the various departments will be able to determine what electives are most desired.

Congratulations Huskies - You're No. 1

Voting Is Every Students Voice; So Why Not Let Yourself Be Heard?

Every year when election time arrives at BSC, we are faced with the apathy of the student body toward voting. This year, however, the problem is more acute. Not only do we have to beg students to vote, but there is a lack of candidates running for office. When nominations were made public, there were two offices with only one candidate for each in class elections and the same for CGA.

Has disinterest in student government, toward which so much criticism is aimed, reached such a point that from over two thousand students, we cannot find a few student leaders?

Reluctance to undertake the responsibility of an office is understandable because it is often a thankless job. Office holders are the constant target of criticism, all too often unjustified. But if we refuse to take responsibility now, will we ever undertake it in our professions? Criticism will not be silenced simply because we hold a degree. Responsibility

We need to place more action where our mouths are. It takes more than a candidate or a voter alone. We must have co-operation from both and both have their responsibility. The candidate must be prepared to face the rigors of office and the voter must choose on the ballot and then back his choice. If he really thought before he voted, there would be no need to change his position.

The nominations have been made, the leaders have done their part even though there are still some uncontested positions. Now we need the backing of the students. Let's get out and vote. We shouldn't have to count ballots and announce — no, not announce, BEG for more in order to meet the quota. If you have, at anytime, criticized student government even once, then get out and vote. You only have to do it once.

Husky Grapplers Gain Championship; Return For Well-deserved Acclaim

"We're number one!" This was the chant that greeted our wrestling team last Sunday as they returned from the NAIA tournament as National Champs. Our team has had a very successful season and all of BSC is proud of the team.

We would like at this time to publicly congratulate the boys and Coach Houk for the fine effort they have put forth this year. Once again BSC has proven itself as an outstanding college in one of its many areas of excellent achievement.

Once again we offer our thanks and congratulations to the Huskie wrestling champs for their outstanding year.

Conformity Is The Cause Of Apathy; Society Should Reflect Individualism

by Judy Gers

Follow the latest fad in dress so that you will not feel like an outsider; make certain that you dance like everyone else, so that they know you are able; don't display any original thoughts, so that you can be part of a group; all of these patterns are apparent today at this college. The generalized heading for this trend is conformity.

Everyone must conform to a certain extent if they are to keep within the social structure (laws, codes of behavior, etc.). But, too much conventionalism and not enough individualism leads to an apathetic, childlike college. There would be no personal identity. Only the group would be the result. Yes, there would be social affairs but no real live ones: everyone would dress, dance and talk identically like his neighbor. As for the student government, they would only echo the ideas of the group and the administration. Each professor and class would take on the static structure of the last one. Leaders? Oh no, they would not be conforming. Some of these attitudes are beginning to prevail—up with conformism and group; down with individualism and the person.

Examples

Where are the individualists? They were too different for the small college so they had to conform or leave. For example: a girl enjoys and is quite apt at modern dance. She enters one of the talent shows and is told that this art form is vulgar. Our example cannot fight city hall so her only path is no dance. Another example: a boy likes to wear a beard. He keeps it well trimmed and it does not break any rules. Result: shave or leave. This is not acceptable; it is non-conformity. These examples are not meant to say take up modern dance or grow a beard. But, only to illustrate that the individual who was once on campus is no longer identifiable but a thing of the past. Danger!

Nonconformists are good for a college and a certain amount of liberty in dress, actions and discussion is not detrimental but stimulating. If one wants to dance and dress like the crowd, that is all right. But the danger is when everyone is to think like the crowd. This leads to an educated moron who will never contribute to his college or, later on, to his society.

Art Exhibit And Lectures Featured This Year In Spring Arts Festival

by Jennifer Smith

This year, as in past years, art will play a featured role in the Spring Arts Festival. BSC may anticipate several fine programs in this area, which will consist of a display of contemporary painting, and two lectures.

A contemporary art exhibit of thirty paintings will be on display for the duration of the festival in Waller Hall. These paintings range in style from Realism to abstract expressionism, and are on loan from the Living Arts' Foundation of New York City. Important artists whose work is represented are Rudolph Baranik, Hans Hofmann, Moses Soyer, Philip Evergood, William Gropper, and Sol Wilson.

Encourages Interest

The Living Arts Foundation was organized in 1954 by Mr. David Teichman, a lawyer, in order to promote and encourage an interest in the work of living American artists by the general public. The foundation purchases works of art and sponsors exhibits in colleges and museums.

Besides an art display, the Spring

Arts Committee has arranged for two lectures by Jack Bookbinder, Director of Art Education, Philadelphia public schools. Mr. Bookbinder is represented in several collections, and has received a number of awards and prizes. He has also presented several television programs dealing with art, and is noted as an author in his field.

The first of the lectures which he will present will be entitled "The Roots of Modern Art." This program will be on Monday, April 26, at 8:15 in Carver Auditorium. It is an examination of the art of today and its relation to the art of preceding centuries with emphasis on the relationship between art and society.

The second lecture, "Art of This World," will be delivered during the regular assembly program on Tuesday, April 27. Through the correlation of music, narration and the projection of pictures in full color, the program will cover the art and life of several continents, touching on the milestones of 5,000 years of painting.

Research Work In The Library Turns Students Into Investigators

by Rich Benyo

There is an old Italian proverb that goes something like this: "There is a procedure for everything." The friend that told me this could always back up his claim, too, but rarely used it in fields other than those of immediate interest to him. I should clarify that statement somewhat, and the easiest way to do that would be to simply state that he was a Romeo of the first order. Ah, did Tony have the beautiful procedure... wish some of it had rubbed off on me. But, that is wood of a different grain, as I seldom say always.

Formula for Quest

Keeping Tony's Theory in mind (I don't claim that he invented it, but he was sure a master of it.), I tried to apply it to other fields, such as finding a reference in the library, which, I am told, would interest BSC students more than my going into the fields that Tony used it in.

Okay, now. Let's take that trip thru the tomes of our library, looking for a reference that will suffice to encompass the assignment that was so joyfully presented to you by Professor Snitzelbopper last week, and which you only have 24 hours to get done, since you let it slip on while you did other things, which is really unusual for you, right? Well, with an assignment book, a note pad, a bunch of needle-sharp pencils, a magnifying glass, and your Super Snooper Spy Kit, you make your way thru the swinging (?) doors to the BSC Library.

Pathway Through Jungle

You make your way down the aisle, among other studious people, with only an occasional snore reaching your ears. On the left, up ahead, is the card catalog. Should be able to find something in there, if it isn't having inventory done to it again. Now, to look it up.

What's wrong? Let me guess—ah—you forgot what the assignment was, right? Hmmm, I thought so. Well, you have your assignment book with you, don't you? Right, look it up there.

So, you search thru your well-kept notes, shuffling and making just a little noise while doing so. Don't worry, the librarian understands—see that knowing look in her eyes? That isn't disapproval, it's a knowing look.

Finally, after some cluttering of desks with catalog drawers, you find the exact book you want. That's right. Grab your books and get to the stack room where the book is supposed to be located. Don't worry about the catalog drawers, the librarians will take care of them for you.

Stack Section: Danger

Now you've only got to face the obstacle course of the stack room. But you've done it before, so you can pass thru the ordeal with only skinned knees and bruised arms.

The shelf is before you. That's the right row, yes. Looks as though someone got there first, huh? Things like that happen. Don't slam that bench against the rack

Student Poetry

REMINISCING

by Connie Bryner

I can think of nothing sadder,
Than reminiscing through the year;
It fills the heart with a thousand pains,
And the eyes with a thousand tears.

The growing future holds so much more,
The past offers only regret —
Of things you should have done,
and didn't;
Opportunities you never met.

Memories rule too many lives,
They move in and take command;
Destroying the dreams yet to be born;
They deaden the heart and still the hand.

Never look back to what might have been,
Keep your thoughts always moving ahead;
The past gives nothing to console
the hurt,
For the years gone by are dead.

If you find your thoughts in "the good old days,"
Wake up and dry your tears;
Look ahead and smile, that is what counts,
Close the door — Erase the years.

Letters To The Editor

The following letter to the editor was received from Lock Haven State College:

The Editor
Maroon & Gold Student Newspaper
Bloomsburg State College
Bloomsburg, Pa.

Dear Editor:

I am enclosing herewith a copy of the March 5 issue of the Eagle Eye which carries on Page 3 a reprint from your paper regarding the anonymous letter which Coach Houk received prior to our dual wrestling match.

First may I congratulate you on the handling of the matter and second, may I call your attention to one error in the printed answer by your sports editor under the heading "Who Did What First." It is stated that a year ago at the match held at Lock Haven "The visiting students of BSC had to wait until Lock Haven's students entered the gym." This is not a statement of fact. At the match to which reference is made, both entrance doors to the Thomas Field House were opened at identically the same moment. This simultaneous opening was arranged and executed by our Athletic Director Mr. Stephen Jacobs, somewhat to the dismay of some of our own students who felt that they should receive seating preference.

I think in all fairness the Maroon and Gold should print a correction.

Sincerely,

Edward H. Young

Director of Public Relations

EDITOR'S NOTE: Correction noted.

like that! Just turn around and go back out.

That's it. Hey, wait, the card catalog is on the left. Don't leave like that; you haven't done your assignment yet!

What's that?

Your roommate had the same assignment last semester from a different prof, so you'll use that one? Won't there be any charge for it?

Oh, you're able to get it for only half price since it's your roomy...? Well, OK then. I'll find someone else to exemplify the procedure, then.

Come to think of it, you've got yourself a pretty good procedure too....

VICTORY!!

WCSC Captures Swimming Title

The Rams of West Chester retained their PSCAC swimming title at Cheyney last Saturday by a 21 point margin over the Rockets of Slippery Rock. The Huskies gained only 10 points on three fifth places to finish well back in the field of six teams.

Point Collectors for BSC

Collecting points for the Huskies were Bill Billett, Don Beltz, Ray Fox, and Jerry Lomas in the 400-yard medley-relay and Regis Sterling and Jim Young who joined Fox and Lomas in the 400-yard free style. Dick Stiedel also took a fifth in diving.

Freshmen Could Have Helped

The freshmen rule, invoked at BSC this year, hampered the Husky performance and forced many of the boys to enter several events. If freshmen had been able to compete for the Huskies, a third place finish is a conservative estimate.

All Mermen To Return

All the Husky mermen will be back next year for at least one semester and with the quality of the present freshmen squad, a much better performance is expected of the Husky swimmers in next year's state title competition.

700 Miles for Merz

ART (A. J. Foyt) MERZ should be given a great deal of the credit as he drove over 700 miles for the Huskies in the Ford. Only five of the boys had drivers' licenses, but DUKE & NITO served for humor.

Great School Spirit

This expedition clearly typifies the degree of school spirit behind the wrestling team which has helped to make them champs. Counting champion Jim Rolley's family, there were 15 BSC fans present, which was 15 more than any of our relatively close rivals, including Lock Haven, had.

The girls' team finished their season with a record of 2-4. The last game was played with Muhlenburg. Bloomsburg was host and won. The score was 37-28.

The red Volkswagen carried RAY BUCKNO, MARC BARTLEBAUGH, ALVIN BRUNNER & FRAN EBERHART, while the Black Bomb (a '51 Ford) transported the following: JOE SCHEIN, BOYD KEISER, ART MERZ, MIKE OETHERS, LOU CENTRELLA, & THE DUKE. Also present was NITO BRUMLEY.

These 11 men braved 1500 miles and the elements of nature to see BSC bring home the national title.

BUCKNO's crew left Bloom at 4 pm Friday, while SCHEIN's men didn't leave the Husky Lounge until 11:30 pm because, "we suddenly were unbelievably psyched."

The climax to our winter sports was our victory in the NAIA wrestling championship at Terre Haute, Indiana. Jim Rolley, PSCAC champ, was our lone NAIA champion. This "established" wrestler did a tremendous job all season, and showed his superiority by pinning his man in the third period of the final match. Of course, it was our overall team effort which brought us the championship.

Congratulations "Champs" and good luck in the NCAA.

Bob Herzig made the headlines over the weekend. For his third consecutive year, Bob was named to the first team of the PSCAC basketball players. Bob was at the head of the list of the first five. Other members included: Emory Mimms, Cheyney; Dan Petchel, Edinboro; Reggie Weiss, Shippensburg; and Dick Kautz, West Chester. Bob becomes one of the honored few to have been named to the all-star team three times. Emory Mimms, at the same time is only a freshman and has a good possibility of being named four times.

Our spring sports have all started their training and will begin their seasons the first week of April.

The golf team is comprised of a six man team and two reserves. Coach "Nick" Dietterick has a good sized team with 22 candidates reporting for pre-season training. Some of his promising men are George Miller, Ray Herbert, and Phil Haile, all seniors. Then with juniors Bill and Rick Heller and Sophomore John Kwasnoski, the team has quite a bit of depth. We should definitely place higher in the states than we did last year.

Our tennis team meets the toughest opposition in the state. Shippensburg, Stroudsburg, and Millersville always have powerhouses. However, this year we have five returning men who will strengthen our team considerably. Seniors Rip Van Winkle and Chuck Wilson will be leading the team. Then, Coach

Houk 'Coach of the Year'; Receives Third NAIA Award

Russell Houk, BSC's wrestling coach has been named "Coach of the Year" for the third time in the last four years.

Houk Builds Powerhouse

Coach Houk, in his eight years as head coach for the Huskies, has developed BSC into a national small college wrestling power.

Two other Pennsylvania coaches placed second and third in the balloting. Placing second was Gray Simmons of Lock Haven, and Clay Ketterling, third.

1962-63 Houk "Coach of the Year"

Coach Russell Houk was previously named "Coach of the Year" in the NAIA in 1962 and again in 1963.

Norton will have underclassman in Tom Evans, a junior, Skip Rishel, and Mike Mellinger, sophomores.

The baseball team with an 11-4 record last year will have quite a few good boys back. Rolley Boyle and By Hopkins will be carrying the pitching load backed up by Jerry Doto and Frank Dowman. Other members who should do a good job are Ray Emma (batting .415 last year) and Roy Bower, seniors. Ron Kirk, Bill Cron, John Gara and Gary Horn are all experienced. Coach Mentzer has an excellent group of candidates.

The track team with a record of 8-1 last year and a second place in the state meet, should be really tough. Paced by champion distance runner Jan Prosseda this track team looks really good. Joe Figliolino and Jim Derr lead the sprinters. In the middle distance we have Wayne Thomas, Jim Reifinger, Fred Rapp, and Jim Young. We have strong field men in Ken Cromwell, John Zarski, Tom Fowles, Gene Shershen, Otis Johnson, John Montgomery, and Charlie Wayes. With such a strong turnout, we should be the team to beat in the state.

Workshop Plays To Be Presented

The Bloomsburg Players Workshop group will present two one-act plays and a short reading on Friday, March 26, at 8:00 pm in the basement of Navy Hall. These plays, under the direction of Miss Short, and assistant direction of Connie Bryner are: "Sorry, Wrong Number" and "The Maker of Dreams." The reading, from Poe, will be presented by David Schnaars.

Attendance will be based on a ticket arrangement. The tickets will be free, and may be obtained in Miss Short's office, in Noetting on Monday, March 22 between 1:00 and 2:00, and Tuesday between 10:00 and 11:00. Students may also order tickets by writing to Box 82. This is being done to see how many tickets will be needed, and if necessary, these plays will also be presented Thursday, March 25.

BSC Chess Team Defeats Lafayette

The BSC Chess Team defeated the Lafayette College Chess Team by a score of 3-2 on March 11 at BSC to become the undisputed leader in the Eastern Pennsylvania College Chess League. The Husky Rooks were defeated by the Lafayette team in the first half of the EPCCCL season last September. Lafayette is the only team in the league to have defeated BSC this year.

Deets Loses

On first board Gary Deets, BSC senior, Northumberland, lost to James Heatherington of Lafayette. Heatherington defeated Deets in a short, effective, opening game of offensive. Danny Marks, BSC senior, Hatboro, was defeated by Michael Silverman of Lafayette in second board play.

Clapp, Kressler, Sahaida Win

Gordon Clapp, BSC junior, Light Street, defeated Richard Spitelnick on third board. Spitelnick made a bad exchange and Clapp took advantage of his opponent's bad position to win. Joe Kressler, BSC senior, Bloomsburg, defeated Richard Deupree on fourth board by use of a strong end game. Kressler used a king-knight move in the end game. Jim Sahaida, BSC senior, Hazleton, secured the victory for the Huskies by defeating Tom Skyler, of Lafayette.

Band Clinic Held; Area H.S. Attend

A band music reading clinic was sponsored by BSC on Wednesday for area high school band directors and superior performing high school band students. The purpose of the clinic was to read through some of the latest junior and senior high school band music that has been published during the past year. The Maroon and Gold band served as the nucleus for the clinic band. Among the area high schools represented were Bloomsburg, Central Columbia, Berwick, Danville, Hazleton, and South Williamsport.

Forensic Society Cops First Place In State College Debate Tournament

John Witcoski, John Taylor, William Rowett, and John Natras captured first place for BSC in the Third Annual State College Debate Tournament at Clarion State College last weekend. Samuel Prichard, coach, accompanied the group to Clarion.

The BSC debaters defeated East Stroudsburg and Clarion State Colleges and split with Edinboro State College in amassing a 4-2 record and 234 points. Clarion, the defending champion, finished in second place with a 3-3 record and 224 points. The negative team of John Witcoski and John Taylor had a 3-0 record while the affirmative team of William Rowett and John Natras had one of only three affirmative wins in the tournament. In doing so, the affirmative team handed Clarion's negative team its only loss of the tournament.

Earlier this month William Rowett, Terry Carver, and Lauren Miller represented BSC at the J. F. O'Brian Debators' Congress at Penn State. The Congress was attended by approximately sixty college students.

Carver represented BSC on the majority committee on Viet Nam and Miller represented BSC on the minority committee on Viet Nam. Rowett was elected chairman of the minority committee on the unemployment issue when the regularly appointed chairman failed to appear.

Due to the combined efforts and manipulation of the three debaters, BSC was able to capture a Majority Committee Chairmanship at next year's congress.

BSC To Sponsor Asian Conference

"Southeast Asia in Perspective," a conference on various aspects of Southeast Asia will include guest speakers Wilbur W. Hitchcock, Foreign Service Institute; Milton E. Osborne, Cornell University; Robert Van Niel, Russell Sage College; and George M. Guthrie, Pennsylvania State University.

The conference will be sponsored by BSC and held on campus April 9. The conference will be open to teachers-in-service as well as faculty and students of BSC.

Topics

Topics which will be presented during the day include "Some Aspects of Buddhism in Southeast Asia," "Historical Factors Operating Upon Contemporary Southeast Asia Problems," "Family Structure and Philippine Society," "Background to Laos," "Southeast Asia Leadership Viewed in Historical Terms," and "Southeast Asian Culture, Past and Present."

Committee

Plans for the events are being coordinated by a subcommittee composed of Mr. Donald J. D'Elia, Dr. Bernard H. Friedman, Mr. Henry R. George, Mr. Wiefred Saint, Mr. Theodore M. Shanoski, Dr. Barbara J. L. Shockley, Mr. Robert R. Solenberger, and Dr. John J. Serff. Other participants are Dr. William Carlough, Mr. Edson J. Drake, and Mr. Charles E. Jackson.

Sonia Arova of the National Ballet Company.

Nat'l. Ballet Co. Coming Mar. 25

The National Ballet Company will appear March 25 at 8:00 pm in the Bloomsburg Senior High School as part of the Civic Music Series. It was founded primarily as a resident company for the Nation's capital to serve the artistic and educational needs and wishes of Washington, D.C.

Most of the Company's 30 week season is spent in the capital, performing, practicing and preparing new works to add to its repertoire. The remaining time is devoted to tours throughout the country.

The National Ballet is under the direction of internationally famous dancer and choreographer, Frederic Franklin. Sonia Arova is prima ballerina. Other leading dancers are Andrea Vodehnal, Roni Mahler, Stefan Grebel, Roderick Drew, and Michael Bruel.

In January, 1965, the Company celebrated the second anniversary of its debut in the Nation's capital. Highlighting their second season was a command performance at the White House.

Besides its popular success and critical acclaim the National Ballet received special recognition from the Ford Foundation in the form of a $400,000 grant in December, 1963.

Students may obtain tickets at Dean McCauslin's office while the supply lasts.
