Plans are now being made for the summer sessions at BSC. Students desiring information concerning the courses being offered may obtain summer session booklets, free of charge, in either Mr. Bunge's or Dean Hoch's offices.

Opportunities will be given to language students majoring or specializing in French, German, and Spanish to complete their first year of elementary level studies in the languages (French 102, German 102, and Spanish 102) or the second (intermediate level) of course work (French 202, German 202, and Spanish 202). Students who have completed two years of study in the languages may schedule three to six credits in The Fine Arts of France, Germany or Spain (French 205, German 205, and Spanish 205) in the workshop. Students are reminded that they may schedule a total of six credits in the workshop.

An unusual opportunity will be given to students in the 1965 Summer Elementary Education Workshop and a limited number of in-service teachers to participate in a Seminar in the Montessori Method. The seminar will be conducted by two teachers from the St. Nicholas' Training Centre for the Montessori Method of Education, London, England. Many of the methods and procedures of the Montessori Method can be adapted and/or adopted for use in elementary classrooms.

The course will be in session during the two weeks from Monday, July 26, 1965, through Friday, August 6, 1965. A fee of $20.00 will be required of participants who are not members of the workshop class. Persons interested should write immediately to Dr. Royce O. Johnson, Director of Elementary Education, Bloomsburg State College.

Students needing the Basic Biology course (101) will be able to take the Survey of Basic Biology course in either the Pre- or Post-Session of Summer School. This biology course has no laboratory periods and is a 3-credit course.

The Fourth Annual Spring Arts Festival opened last night with the Bloomsburg Players' presentation of John Patrick's comedy, "The Teahouse of the August Moon." Two more performances will be given at 8:15 pm tonight and tomorrow evening.

This presentation initiates a week of effort to bring the students of BSC into closer contact with cultural opportunities on the campus. Each year, care is taken to represent all the facets of the fine arts so that no field is neglected.

This year drama is being represented by two presentations, one in the form of "The Teahouse of the August Moon" as mentioned above, and the other in a drama lecture by Gerald Weales who will talk on "Arthur Miller and the Name Game" at 8:15 Wednesday evening.

Presentations by Jack Bookbinder on Monday, at 8:15 pm, and on Tuesday at 2:00 will encompass the field of art. He will speak on "The Roots of Modern Art" and on "The Art of This World." ### No Charge

All events will be held in Carver Auditorium and are open to the public. There will be no charge.

Open Council Meeting Features Discussion of Grievances

Approximately 200 BSC students attended the 13th regular meeting of College Council on Monday evening, April 12, in Science Hall. This was a regular scheduled meeting and was open to all students. Although some old business was discussed, the meeting was concerned mainly with grievances arising from the sit-in of April 9.

President Thomas Miller opened the meeting with a short welcome and stated that all future meetings of College Council will be open to the student body. He stated that there will be no more "closed door" meetings, but instead open meetings, probably in Carver Hall if possible. He also laid the ground rules for discussion, stating that members of the student body may take part in discussions but only Council members would be allowed to make motions and to vote on issues.

Old Business

Miller then opened the meeting to old business. Gil Gockley gave a report of the Big Name Entertainment Committee, stating that a $1300 profit has been shown this year through Big Name Entertainment. He made a motion that tickets for the Spring Concert of Dick Gregory and the Four Lads be set at $2.00 general admission and $2.50 reserved seats. Discussion centered on what has been done with the profits of previous years. It was explained that half of the money is placed in a general fund and the other half is placed in the Endowed Lecture Series Fund. The motion was passed.

New Business

The meeting then turned to new business. Mike Fitzpatrick, speaking for the pledge class of Alpha Phi Omega, sought approval from Council for the fraternity to conduct an Ugliest Man on Campus contest. (Actually, he would be the most popular man on campus.) Each organization on campus would nominate a candidate and campaign for him. Voting would be by money—1¢ for each vote. The winning candidate's sponsoring organization would receive all the money collected in votes on his behalf. The remaining money would be divided—25% to the United Fund, and 75% to the fraternity's scholarship fund. The winner's name would be engraved on a permanent plaque and would be announced at the Spring Concert. Council approved the contest.

Ray Gross then gave a report on the second election for CGA and class officers. He showed how the machines served as a double check on voting, and stated that 1235 votes were cast.

Husky Lounge Profits

It was announced that profits from the Husky Lounge may be used for injuries to BSC athletes. A motion was passed that the President of the College release $5,000 to cover injuries to Thomas Carr, freshman wrestler injured in a February accident.

The subject of the marring of Dr. Andruss's portrait was then brought up. Students were urged to sign the petition of apology for the action of "an immature individual." New Library Policy

Dean Hoch then announced that, because $10,000 worth of books disappeared from the library last year, a new policy of checking books will be initiated. Tables manned by members of the service organizations will be set up near the door to see if books leaving the library are properly checked out. Electrical equipment, basing detection on metal plates in the books will be installed.

Sit-in

The meeting then turned to a discussion of the sit-in held the previous weekend, and of the grievances growing out of it. President Miller remarked on the sit-in, saying that it was caused mainly by social restrictions on BSC students. He gave the opinion that students would have been better off to go through the proper channels of complaint. He rebuked the student body for complaining among themselves but not voicing these complaints. He stated that both students and faculty are to blame if conditions are poor.

Dean Hoch's Statement

Dean Hoch then read a statement in which he attempted to point out the blame for the situation. He stated that the administration definitely was partly to blame, but he concluded that Council was also at fault. He said that Council has not served its purpose as a sounding board for student complaints, and therefore must share the blame for the breakdown of the orderly process of student government. He said that Council has failed in its duties.

Vice President Gil Gockley then stated that, although a number of grievances listed had not been brought before Council, the main reason for the demonstration was that students want to know the justification of the administrative directives. Dan Guldish added that many of the grievances which caused the sit-in were not discussed in Council before the demonstration, but that none of the administrative policies which students disapproved of were discussed either.

Discussion

Discussion then centered on various aspects of the demonstration. Included were outdoor basketball courts, Junior parking, and finances. Discussion then centered upon the dress policy. Council had passed this policy in the school year 1959-60. A motion was carried that nullified the old policy and placed no restrictions on dress at any time except in classrooms, administrative offices, and in the Commons during the evening meal.

Committee Set Up

Because of the time that would be involved in the discussion of each of the twenty-one grievances listed by the student body, a motion was passed whereby the list of grievances would be submitted to a committee. This committee would evaluate the list and make a series of recommendations and would report back to council. Members appointed to the committee were: Larry Gloeckler, Nelson Romont, Dan Guldish, Gil Gockley, Jean Zenke, Jane Pellen, and all administrative members of College Council.

Discussion of vending machines in the girls dorms, state legislation concerning the state colleges, and publicity for demonstrations concluded the meeting.

Newspaper Purpose Clarified: Journalistic Rules Important

It has been brought to the attention of the editorial board of the MAROON & GOLD that the BSC student body feels that this newspaper is not providing the college community with the complete news coverage that is deemed desirable.

At this time we would like to clear the record and state again our purposes, policies, and our problems involved in keeping the college community informed of the happenings on this campus.

Purposes

According to our constitution, and we quote, the general aim of the MAROON & GOLD "... is to gather and edit all news pertaining to Bloomsburg State College which will be of interest and value to the students, faculty, and administration and to publish this news in accordance with the principles set forth in the Editorial Policy of the MAROON & GOLD.

"The more specialized aim of the publication shall be to serve as a training laboratory which, as a part of the educational aims of the college, will offer students the opportunity in both editorial and business departments to gain some professional experience and above all to learn the meaning of that responsibility to society which is a fundamental part of newspaper publishing."

Policies

Our policies in the area of newspaper content are determined by the timeliness and importance to BSC students of the items under consideration during any given time. Some students feel that there is too much space devoted to such articles as civic music and spring arts programs. Yet why shouldn't the student newspaper cover these items carefully? It is you the students who are paying for these events in the first place, and such events have both significance and interest for the campus community. The money to pay for such events comes from the Community Activities Budget which in turn is made up of your $50 Activities Fee.

In connection with this subject of content the staff of the MAROON & GOLD analyzed the content of the newspaper and came up with the result that approximately two-thirds of the paper is composed of articles and news items that are directly or indirectly related and due to the efforts of our student government. (See individual article for results of survey.)

In answer to the question of why this paper didn't cover the recent sit-in, we believe we have a justifiable answer. The paper wasn't scheduled to come out until after Easter vacation and, therefore, couldn't very well cover the event. Other items to consider here are the contract with the printer and our budget. The contract for printing says that copy must be in their hands Tuesday for a Friday publication. Thus we can't sit down and compose a paper and have it printed the next day.

The second item, the budget, is just large enough to allow for 25 issues per year (possible 26 if we can keep expenses down). We try to schedule these issues over the year in order that we can provide the best possible coverage of all campus events. Until we get more money, this is the best coverage we can provide, i.e., 25 issues per year.

Thus far, we have not said anything about censorship or ways to change the policy of the MAROON & GOLD. First let's consider censorship. This paper is not censored. The content of the paper is not read prior to publication by any member of the faculty or administration. However, we are subject to the rules of good journalistic taste and style and to the responsibilities to the administration and board of directors which every campus publication should assume. When there are questionable articles, the editor asks the adviser to read them and to O.K. them, or suggest changes. The fact is that all newspapers are ultimately subject to some kind of control. Reporters for the NEW YORK TIMES are not free to write stories suitable to the NEW YORK DAILY NEWS—and vice versa. A campus publication is in much the same relation to the administration and board of trustees as is a metropolitan daily to its owner and publishers. Without policy control a newspaper would fail.

For changing the policy of the M&G the correct procedure is to go through College Council which in turn will discuss the problems with the paper's adviser and staff to resolve the problem.

It is hoped that this article will clarify some of the questions that are prevalent within the student body. If there are still questions about the paper, we shall be more than happy to answer them.

We realize that our purpose is to serve the college community, but we ask you to remember that we must abide by the rules of good journalism.

Letters To The Editor

(Letters to the editor are an expression of the individual writer's opinion and do not necessarily reflect the views of this newspaper.)

Dear Editor,

I would like to take this opportunity to welcome you and the rest of the community to the land of George Orwell's 1984. For those of you who don't know what is inferred by this, it is the time of the anti-sex leagues (BSC). How close is this to our own situation?

Many complaints have been voiced about the situations in the dormitory lounges, but as far as many students are concerned these lounges would really be welcomed. These people are the girls, and the guys who date the girls, that live off campus. Why can't the school supply at least one room in each off campus house for a reception area? Most other campuses with off campus houses do supply such a convenience. The majority of our houses do have a living type room which could easily be converted to a reception room.

Many more of you would feel this way if you had waited for a few minutes in near zero weather, or had to kiss your date good-night in such weather and then have her reprimanded for a public display of affection. I am not blaming the JRA's for doing their job, but feel the blame falls on the college that would let such a situation exist. Many couples have taken to the alleys for privacy only to have a memorandum, issued from the Bloomsburg Police Department, stating arrests will be made on any college couples found in alleys. Congratulations, Bloomsburg Police, for siding with our college to complete our own anti-sex league, BSC.

Frank Klein

The next deadline for the MAROON AND GOLD is April 26 at 4:00 pm in the office. The next issue will be published on Friday, April 30.

Don't forget the Spring Arts Festival being held now thru May 2.

Glovemen Split Dbl-Header Hopkins Pitches Three Hitter

BSC Track Team Defeated by WSCS

The Bloomsburg State College Huskies opened their 1965 track season on April 7 at West Chester State College. The Rams captured thirteen of the seventeen events as they walked off with a 105-40 victory.

Prosseda and Zablocky Win Mile

For the Huskies, Jan Prosseda and Irwin Zablocky finished first and second respectively in the mile and two mile events with Jan running the mile in a time of 4:29 and the two mile in 9:52. John Montgomery placed first in the high jump with a leap of 5'10". The only other first place finish for the Huskies was in the shot put event as John Zarsky won with a toss of 43'7".

Second Place Finishers

Second place finishers for the Husky squad were Joe Figliolino in the 220, Otis Johnson in the broad jump, and Tom Fowles in the discus.

West Chester won the relay races and swept both the intermediate and the high hurdles; they also won the javelin, pole vault, and the 100 yard dash.

The Crusaders of Susquehanna carried an undefeated record to Light Street field last Tuesday and left with their first loss of the season. The Huskies took the first game, 4-2, but dropped the night-cap, 2-1.

Hopkins Throws Three Hitter

The first game was marked by a 3 hitter from By Hopkins. By had a no-hitter going for 6 innings but was touched for three hits and two runs in the seventh. By that time the Husky offensive had the game on ice. They scored 2 in the third when Ronnie Kirk walked, Ray Emma singled and John Gara doubled them home. A double by Kirk and a single by Emma produced a run in the fifth; a single by Roy Bower, an advance on a fielders' choice and a single by Gary Horn produced the final Husky run in the sixth.

Pitchers Duel in Second

The second game saw a good pitching duel between the Crusaders' Kennedy and Bill Hunter of Bloomsburg. John Whitelock started for the Huskies but was knocked out in the second when he gave up 2 runs. Hunter came on in relief and shut out the Crusaders the rest of the way. The Huskies lone run also came in the second on singles by Hunter, Horn, and Kirk but it wasn't enough as Susquehanna went on to win, 2-1.

Sigma Alpha Eta Plans Field Trip

The regular meeting of Iota Chapter, Sigma Alpha Eta, featured Mr. Harvey Snyder as the speaker of the evening. Mr. Snyder is the speech and hearing consultant for the Department of Public Health. His topic was "The Role of the Speech Pathologist in Mental Retardation." In his opinion mental retardation is the most important area for the speech pathologist.

Definite plans were made for the fraternity's annual field trip which will be taken on April 25 and 26 to Gallaudet College for the Deaf in Washington, D.C.

Golfers Victorious Over East Stroud

The stickmen of BSC led by Coach Bruce "Nick" Dieterick downed East Stroudsburg State College last Friday by a score of 14-4.

First Win Over ESSC

This was the first win for the Huskies over the Stroudsburg Warriors in three years. This win on the Briar Heights course saw four Huskies, Bill Bloom, Jack Foust, Ray Hebert, and Phil Hiale add 3 points each to the victory. Two of these stickmen scored way out in front of their opponents. Bill Bloom finished 8 up and Phil Hiale finished 7 up on their competitors. Miller Wins

The other winner was George Miller who defeated Warren Landis by a score of 2-1. Ken Huhn of BSC put on a good showing.

On April 24, the BSC stickmen will go against Shippensburg State College on SSC home course.

Analysis of Newspaper Coverage Indicates Column Space Available

A copy analysis of the MAROON & GOLD was made recently by the staff and is recorded below.

The purpose of this survey is to show that the balance of content is in favor of the students and not the administration as some would like to believe.

Now let's see just what these figures mean. If you will compare the total column inches under the headings "College Council," "Council supported activities," "sports," "student features," and "student activities" to the total column inches available, you will see that two-thirds of the content of the paper is directly related to the students and student activities.
