Convocation In February

The following notice has been issued by the Dean of Instruction, and concerns all students:

"A general convocation of the student body will be held in Centennial Gymnasium on Thursday, February 3, at 10 a.m. In order to hold this meeting, 10 o'clock classes that day will be scheduled to meet at 2 o'clock in the afternoon."

All students who are scheduled to attend assembly on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 2 p.m. are required to attend the February 3 assembly.

Freshmen students whose assembly is scheduled for Thursday at 1 p.m. will meet in Carver Auditorium that day at the regularly scheduled time.

Keep Off The Grass

Dean Paul Riegel has issued the following statement with reference to students cutting across the grass plots on campus and damaging the grass in the process:

"Bloomsburg State College has a reputation as one of the most beautiful college campuses in the middle Atlantic region. This reputation will not endure if the campus begins to look shabby; and abuse of the grassy areas of the campus will certainly produce a shabbiness in short order. The cooperation of the student body is requested in staying off the grass — especially at this time of year when the frozen grass can be so easily destroyed. The college would very much prefer to have the students take responsibility for this action rather than relying on the campus police."

Xi Lambda Listed In APO Magazine

Xi Lambda, BSC Chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, has been listed as a leader, according to size enrollment, among the top 52 chapters in the nation. The announcement came in the official APO fraternity magazine, The Torch and Trefoil. The chairman of the National Membership Committee, E. Ross Forman, stated that BSC's Xi Lambda led the 2,000-6,000 student category of the 1965-66 University year.

Comment

Mr. Forman commented, "Congratulations to the officers, members, and advisors of this chapter. National records of Alpha Phi Omega indicate you led the nation in new pledges, new initiates, and quality programs in your category. You are listed as an incentive for all chapters of Alpha Phi Omega to increase and broaden our objectives for Leadership, Friendship, and Service."

Fraternity Hears White, Hunsinger

The Iota Chapter of Phi Sigma Pi, Professional Educational Fraternity, recently heard two speakers from the BSC faculty during their regular monthly meetings.

On Tuesday, December 14, Dr. Norman E. White of the Physical Science Department, spoke on "Graduate School — How, Why, and Where." Some of the main points of his address included student's reasons for attending, preparation for, selection of and general benefits of present day graduate schools.

At their January 11 meeting, Phi Sigma Pi members heard Dean Elton Hunsinger, Dean of Men and Director of Placement, talk on "College Placement." His speech concerned BSC's roll as interagent between seniors and their prospective teaching positions.

Questions were entertained by both speakers following their talks.

MRA Officers Report On Visit

Steve Boston, Herman Winkler, Dean Hunsinger, Larry Gloeckler, and Sam Bashore plan for trip itinerary.

The recent visit by the officers of the Bloomsburg MRA to various colleges proved to be a tremendous success. It served not only as an informative tour, but also as a good will mission. The representatives received a warm welcome on every campus and the hospitality of the schools visited far surpassed any expectation.

Visit Six Campuses

The visits were informative and progressive. The officers returned to BSC with full knowledge of the procedures and methods used by men's organizations at Lebanon Valley, Franklin and Marshall, Cheyney, West Chester, Ursinus and Albright.

Concerning the trip, Steve Boston, secretary of the MRA, noted,

"The recent trip has shown that improvement is needed in the Men's Resident Association. These benefits will not only aid the men as a group, but the entire student body." Herman Winkler, off campus representative, stated that this trip represented a big step in the direction of better government in the MRA.

Larry Gloeckler, president of the MRA commented, "This trip to the other colleges was an excellent opportunity to discover how other schools attack the problem of student government. From this trip we have developed a sound basis for developing a program of governing the men of BSC which will be extremely beneficial both to the men and to Bloomsburg."

Civic Association Plans Production

"Jose Molina Bailes Espanoles"

The Bloomsburg Civic Music Association will present its next production, "Jose Molina Bailes Espanoles" in Carver Hall Auditorium on Monday evening, January 31, 1966 at 8:15 p.m. There are 500 free tickets available to students and faculty on a first come — first served basis. Students may pick up their tickets at the Dean of Students' Office, and faculty may pick up tickets at the College Bank.

Ed Kern and Ed Slusser have been appointed as student representatives to the Parking Committee. The purpose of this committee is to review prevalent conditions for student parking on campus, to improve parking lots, and to plan for future parking areas. Administrative members of the committee are Dean Riegel, Mr. Williams, and Mr. Gorrey. Serving as consultants are Dean Jackson and Dean Hunsinger.

Topic: Comments And Conditions

So goes another week at BSC.

Sports

First of all we commend all our varsity teams for a perfect record last week. Our record was 6-0, divided equally among the swimmers, wrestlers and basketball players. The pep club is also to be commended, along with the whole college community for the worthwhile project of flying Jim Rolley back from Clearfield. Spirit was exceptionally good during the week, especially at the wrestling meet. Coach Red Whitman of ESSC is to be praised for his offer to let Jim Rolley wrestle last, if necessary. The fact that the opportunity did not arise does not detract from the spirit of his most commendable and sportsmanlike gesture.

Lettermen

Another plug for the Lettermen. Watch for an announcement of ticket sales. Let's get behind CGA and support this concert.

Compulsory Commencement

We can't see the logic behind making the January Commencement program a compulsory assembly. The fact that many students in the midst of exams could put this time to use in studying, coupled with the fact that many students who finish exams on Saturday or Monday will be forced to return or stay over for this assembly, makes this a very questionable policy. Why?

Congratulations Grads

Congratulations and sincere best wishes go out to all January graduates. May the success you have had at BSC continue in whatever you do.

MRA An Active Group

The MRA seems to us one of the most active groups on campus. This group has undertaken a number of worthwhile projects this year and should be recognized and commended by the entire college community.

Dr. Bauer

Last week's assembly programs featuring Dr. Bauer proved to be most entertaining and informative. The program reinforced the popularity of the well-planned, well presented slide lecture. We were glad to witness this fine program.

So goes another week. Good luck with your exams.

Topic: Letters

We are glad to see a number of letters in our mailbag this week. Letters such as those on Mr. Aff's article and Miss Rusinko's comments on the play show an increase in reader interest in this paper and in campus activities as a whole. If you ask any of these people, they will tell you it didn't hurt a bit to write these letters, and we certainly would welcome all mail from our readers.

Vietnam

Of particular interest is the letter from Vietnam commending BSC for our demonstration. This certainly shows the effect demonstrations of this sort have on the morale of our fighting men. It is most heartening to know that even one individual has been affected by our doings. All those taking part are once more to be commended.

In last week's edition, I used the term "rowdiness" to describe the various types of cheering at our athletic events, and the word was interpreted the wrong way. Neither of my columnists was advocating the various types. They were just stating their views on the school spirit. Sorry!

My comment on the spirit of the students at the East Stroudsburg match, EXCELLENT! George Yacina, Sports Editor.

Dean Announces Summer Positions

Looking for something to do this summer in the line of employment? Why not check the Placement Office in New North Hall? After all, the Placement Office does take care of summer placement as well as graduate placement. Did you know that there are many positions available for college students as counselors in summer camps in Md., Pa., N.Y., and Me.? Surprising also, is the fact that you can receive government positions for the summer months through the U.S. Civil Service. Waitresses are wanted in Ocean Grove, New Jersey and all positions are open at Yellowstone National Park in Wyoming.

So, if you are interested in earning money, having a summer away from home, earning money, traveling, earning money, meeting new people or earning more money, why not stop in at the Placement Office and see what they can do to help? You may be surprised!

The Question Is: To Relax Or Cram? This Is A True Test Of Knowledge?

By Howard V. Kearns

The Black Plague strikes again! Have you noticed the increase in circulation of various tablets which are classified as pep pills. They are quite the thing this time of year and all true conformists, those nasty people without identities, must be liable to these sleepless drugs.

It Is Crazy!

Final Exam week had brought about the usual hysteria which might accompany any national disaster. Obviously, this is going to be an article attacking the concept of such a test week, so why waste time or words — I think the whole idea is crazy. Now, to make such a statement, I have just shivered the spines of educators the world over. But, I, the average student who is subjected to the insanity of such policies, am going to voice an opinion which has been voiced a number of times before and will be voiced many times hereafter.

Relaxing Is easy?

Why, in the name of humanitarians, must we be tested for 3½ months work in 5 or more subjects — in just one small week. Now, you have to admit that such an ordeal would be conducive to what educators ironically call cramming. According to the books written by the authorities, cramming is definitely on the outs. In fact, educators tell you that you should relax before any "big" exam and take in a movie — relax, you know, play the role of some kind of a nut. Can you imagine taking in five movies in one week — Doctor Goldfoot and His Bikini Machine; Irma La Douce (that's relaxing); King Rat;

Spy in Your Eye; and your choice of some matinee. If anyone can relax through that, even maintain their sanity, more power to them. At any rate, 3½ months work in 15 or more credits, evaluated in one week is just too far fetched. It can be done and is being done, but the results (?) of such a crammed schedule is questionable.

They Should Know

Even if someone could convince me that recalling some 270 hours of classwork in one prolonged sitting isn't too much I can't see the value in such a barrage of tests. A Prof. should have a good idea of what kind of work you are doing before the final week in the semester. If he doesn't, there is something wrong.

Why clutter up the IBM. Do away with final exams and make me a happy, contented student. You know, it seems that nowadays exams, are the subject of our every effort. Final Exam Week emphasizes grades more than knowledge gained. Perhaps finals are here to stay, to satisfy the wants of competition. Perhaps we will have to conform to this as an existing reality. But, I'll be darned if I'll sit through five movies in one week! So, there!

This publication does not usually follow the policy of foregoing campus news in favor of lengthy advertisements. However, as this is the last issue of the semester, news is scarce and the staff needed a break to study for exams, so we made an exception.

Letters To the Editor

Demonstration

Students at Bloomsburg State College,

I am writing in response to this paper clipping from the Grit. (This was a picture and write up about the rally in support of Viet Nam.) It was really a good feeling to know the people near my home are behind us over here. I am from Williamsport. It seems that the only ones making the headlines anymore are the people that march against our being over here. It seems to me that people with enough brains to go to college, should have enough brains to realize what would happen if we lost this war over here. I am a high school graduate and I know this much. I want to personally thank you all for your concern and backing our being over here.

I have been here for over two months now and have eleven more to go. I only hope that this war doesn't last that long. Keep up your good work. We like to see things like this clipping shows.

I am stationed at a place called Pleiku. I am in the Marine Corps and two other marines and myself are the only Marines here with 500 or 600 Army and Air Force troops. You can imagine the ribbing we get, but it is all in fun. I am a sergeant (just made it the 1st of Dec.), and have been in the Marine Corps for 7 years next month. In that time, I have been to Hong Kong, Borneo, Laos, Philippines (three times), Hawaii (for 19 months), a number of states back there in the World and now over here. I enjoy my work and intend to make the Corp my career.

Again, I want to thank you all for your support and hope to be back home some day soon.

Yours Truly,
Cary Mitcheltree

Ted Aff

Editor:
In his article last week Ted Aff discussed the fact that individuals are becoming a rarity. He described a person who dresses neatly and speaks commonly as being bland and apathetic. Mr. Aff, however, failed to differentiate between conforming and convention. One can be conventional in his manner of speaking and still be unique. Uniqueness, which Aff uses in place of individuality, is a state of mind and not a mode of dress. Conformity, on the other hand, is a conscious adherence to convention not only in mode of dress but also in modes of thought. Uniqueness is not wearing wranglers with a sport coat or growing a beard, rather it is one's ideas and beliefs and how they are implemented. I suggest that the person who grows the beard or professes beliefs without implementing them is the phony and not the person who is merely conventional. In addition the conventional person has a merit which Mr. Aff's unique person does not possess. That is, the conventional person is not the self-oriented personality which Aff implies is necessary to achieve uniqueness.

Tom Free

Editor:

Would the unique Mr. Aff please expound upon the phrase "speak commonly," in order that we bland pseudo-humans may be enlightened and henceforth speak uniquely?

How is it that Mr. Aff draws a parallelization between bland and apathetic. One can surely be "agreeable, pleasantly smooth, mild, soothing" without being "listless, indifferent, unmoved, or not interested." Really, Mr. Aff, "pseudo-human"? Ron Schultz

Twelfth Night

Letter to the Editor:

I want to take this opportunity publicly to thank and commend the Bloomsburg Players and Mr. James McHale for a total production of Twelfth Night that contained that rare blend of entertainment and quality. As were the many students and faculty I've spoken with, I was very pleased

What Motivates A Real Champion?

By Toni Matulis

The winter sports season is now well under way. For some, it doesn't matter, although for others it is an exciting and meaningful time. The reason that some students enjoy these athletic events more than others is because they truly appreciate the effort put forth by the team members. The following story is an impressive example.

One day in October, I saw the finish of a cross-country meet in which one of my fellow BSC students ran over five miles in record time. The name of the athlete is not important, but the circumstances surrounding his run are. This feat was performed on a cold, gloomy, drizzling day. He finished first, far ahead of his closest competitor. When he came in, I thought he was going to die. It was obvious that he had given his best to the race. I expected him to be taken away on a stretcher, but he soon regained his composure.

Most People Wouldn't

I wouldn't run five miles on a beautiful day, even if a crowd of thousands were waiting at the finish line to cheer for me. But this young man had run his heart out on a depressing day with only the coaches, timers, and half a dozen spectators there to observe. And that wasn't the worst of it. The crowning disappointment came when his teammates failed to measure up to his excellence, causing BSC to lose the meet. If that was to be the result, why should he even bother? Most people wouldn't.

I suppose that this is where the dubious term of personal satisfaction enters into the picture. College athletes practice many long, hard hours, and sacrifice their much-needed study time. I salute our athletes who continue to do their very best, not for glory, but for sportsmanship. All of them are true champions.

with the ease with which both the dialogue and action were executed. The performance was a happy moment in Bloomsburg's dramatic activity.

Highlights

By Ray Buckno

Need more be said of our National Champs? True they started out a bit sluggish, but as the season progresses they are tougher with each wrestling meet. This toughness that is being acquired by the team is the sign of a true Champion. For at the outset of the wrestling season things didn't look too bright for our matmen, but this past Saturday the boys of Coach Houk came through with their great winning tradition.

If one was to have paid any attention to the unbelievable and fantastic rumors that came off the East Stroudsburg campus there would not have been a BSC fan in Centennial Gym on Saturday the 15th. According to E-burg, our Huskies were supposed to lay down and play like dead dogs for their opponents. The kindness of this prediction, (E-burg 28, Bloom 3) was that our 3 points were not to be won by any special matmen, the Warriors left that up to us, and our Huskies felt that since any one of them was allowed to acquire those 3 points they would all take a crack. What a beautiful accumulation of points, for we came up with 20 points; 6 Huskies doing the winning and team victory — 20 to 14.

Only one comment left for the matmen of Coach Whitman — that being, would you believe next year?

Many thanks go to the students of Bloom for their generous donations to fly Jim Rolley, our National Champ, back from Clearfield, Pa., to Bloom.

Only one last thought. Good-bye Gene Miller and thanks for the great foul-shooting exhibition in the Shippensburg-Bloom game. For those students who didn't see the game, see Gino in front of Husky Lounge before the end of the semester and maybe you can persuade him to give you a detailed account of his fabulous Globetrotter show on foul shooting.

Due to a critical lack of space in this week's issue Irwin Zablocky has graciously consented to have his column omitted in order that all possible space be given to coverage of recent sports events. The Sports Staff wishes to assure his readers that his feature will appear in the next issue and thanks him for his consideration in this matter.

Huskies Defeat SSC and Juniata; Miller Plays Last Game for BSC

The BSC Huskies led by Jack Gerrity, Mike Morrow, and Gene Miller in his last home appearance, defeated Shippensburg State College, by a score of 76-65 on the BSC court.

In the first half both teams played evenly with the Huskies hanging on to a slim lead. Mike Morrow led on both defense and offense as he added 11 points. Ken Miller, who leads the league with a 25.3 average, kept Shippensburg in the game scoring 19 of his team's 29 points. His efforts weren't enough, however, and the Huskies took a 33-29 lead into the locker room at half time.

Miller High Scorer

The second half saw the Huskies slowly pull away from the visitors with Jack Gerrity dropping in 14 points and Gene Miller adding 12. The Husky defense managed to hold Ken Miller to only 4 points while giving up 9 points to Mike Morrow's younger brother, Dennis.

Keith Taylor frantically tries to pin his Warrior opponent. Taylor finally won the match, 20-2. BSC defeated the Warriors, 20-14.

The BSC varsity wrestlers exhibiting their dual-meet superiority, humbled the previously unbeaten East-Stroudsburg Warriors by a score of 20-14 in Centennial Gymnasium.

In the opening match, Keith Taylor exhibited complete control over his opponent winning by a score of 20-2. At 130, John Ford was pinned by Guzzo of ESSC.

Rolley had his hands full in the next match edging his opponent by a score of 4-3. His win put the Huskies out ahead, 6-5.

Barry Sutter registered the only pin of the night with a quick 1:01 pin.

Centrella, Lewis Win

Joe Gerst won at 152 with an impressive 14-3 decision. Frank Neiswender didn't fare so well at 160, losing 3-0. At 167, Lou Centrella was victorious; moving the team score to 17-8.

At 177 Jim Lewis came close to pinning his man but was forced to settle for a 10-3 victory. In one of the best matches of the evening Tom Vargo lost 1-0 to Cook of East Stroudsburg. The final match of the evening saw Dave DeWire lose 1-0 to Miller of ESSC, making the final score 20-14 in favor of the Huskies.

Trounce MSC

The Husky matmen scored a decisive victory at Millersville, blanking the previously unbeaten Marauders 36 to 0. Millersville went into the meet with a 5-0 record in state college competition; but failed to win a single match.

In the second period of the opener, Stevens was trailing by four points when he broke a cross body ride to reverse his opponent and flatten him for the pin. Keith Taylor, Steve Peters, and Barry Sutter followed with three decisions.

Centrella, Lewis Again

In the 152 lb. bout, Joe Gerst was leading 5-1 but won by default when his opponent had to quit after a knee injury in the second period. Frank Neiswender, 160, got two near falls on the way to a 13-3 victory. Lou Centrella, 167, went up against Millersville's Swift, unbeaten this season and looking for his fifth pin in six matches. But a couple of near falls in the last period gave Centrella a 13-8 victory.

Jim Lewis, 177, had a take down in the first period and used a body press and a half-nelson to pin his man at 1:40 of the second. Tom Vargo, 191, won a 5-0 decision over Lawrence, one of the Marauders' better wrestlers. In the heavy weight bout the score was tied 1-1 in the last period when Dave DeWire got an escape, a takedown, and a penalty point to gain a 7-3 decision.

Risk it. Good news—however startling—is always welcome. Besides, your parents look forward to hearing from you. Call home often.
