Lynn Roccograndi and Gail Bower

Lynn Roccograndi and Gail Bower co-star in the Bloomsburg Player's production of "Picnic." The Pulitzer Prize winner for drama has been performed the past two evenings in Carver Auditorium before members of the college community and area theater-goers.

First Lead

Playing his second role and first lead, Roccograndi appears as Hal Carter, a handsome wanderer and college drop-out. Miss Bower portrays Madge Owens, a young girl who forsakes a comfortable future with a wealthy college man and chooses the boastful vagabond.

Supporting Players

Jon Ackley is cast as Madge's unsuccessful suitor. Sharon Bergeron and Karla Klinoff appear respectively as Madge's mother, and younger sister. Rosemary Sidney and Howard Bevans, two older people in a permanent state of going steady, are played by Sharon Repp, and Larry Remley.

Ruth Campbell and Carole Murphy appear as two school teachers, and Bob Wynne plays a young brat appropriately called Bomber.

Special Meaning

"Picnic" has special meaning for young people, and there are also moments of recognition for young and older teachers alike. It is indeed true to American life and young adults.

"It is hoped by the Players that "Picnic" will provide an evening of drama which will give the audience a richer insight into their own lives," says Mr. Robert Richey, director, and Mr. Michael McHale, manager.

"Lettermen" Concert Regale Tonite By Big Name Entertainment Comm.

The Big Name Entertainment Committee will present The Lettermen in concert tonight, in Centennial Gym. This will be the second BNE presentation during the present academic year.

Fresh Sound

The Lettermen boast one of the freshest, most magnificent vocal blends of any group in the entertainment field, and the sound has brought them almost instantaneous success. Individually, Tony Batala, Jim Pike, and Bob Engermann had been vocalists for sometime in various groups. When these groups disbanded Jim and Tony met Bob in California, and "The Lettermen" began. They sing folk songs and new songs, but always in their style.

Ticket Prices

Due to the tremendous response to the last concert, the ticket prices for this concert are $2.00 for general admission and $2.50 for reserved seats. Tickets are available in the College Council office.

The Lettermen

Students Respond! 900 Pints Pledged

About nine hundred pints of blood have been pledged thus far for the March 10th visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile to the BSC campus. This figure means that approximately one student out of every three (not counting other members of the college community) have pledged to donate a pint of blood to meet the goal of 500 pints.

Chairmen

Michael Fitzpatrick is serving as chairman and Priscilla Bangor, Edward Kern, and William Post, are serving as co-chairmen. Mr. George Stradtman is faculty advisor to the committee. An extensive publicity campaign was conducted to secure pledges.

It is important that all persons promising to donate live up to their pledges in order to make the drive a success in reality, not just on paper.

Your Blood Is Needed!

Pledge now for the March 10th Bloodmobile visit

The book, The Gospel According to Peanuts, will be presented by the Student Christian Association on Tuesday, March 1, at 7 p.m. in room 6 of Ben Franklin.

The entire college community is invited to attend. Also, anyone who is interested in membership in the SCA will be accepted at this meeting.

Air Force Seeks Qualified Students

"Education has become a yardstick for measuring a person's potential. The more education assimilated, the further one may be expected to go in life and the more rewarding the future should be." This advice comes from Sergeant Bob Shearer, BSC's Air Force Recruiting Representative.

Qualified Men

The Air Force needs good qualified young men and women, but not at the expense of quitting college to enlist. "Stay in school and graduate," says Shearer, "and then consider a place on the Aerospace Team."

The Air Force wants more education for its members in order to make them more valuable, and the Air Force has provided means for furthering their education. Air Force personnel have a unique opportunity to gain college credits, to complete their studies to gain a degree, or even to go on to a Master's or Doctor's degree in their area.

Information

For more information on Aerospace opportunities, after graduation, contact Sergeant Shearer in Husky Lounge every Tuesday from 10:30 to 12:30 or telephone Sunbury 286-6662 collect.

Auto Crash Fatal; Junior Loses Life

A BSC co-ed was killed on Wednesday, February 16, when a foreign compact automobile bearing her and three other BSC students struck the rear of a Pennsylvania Department of Highways vehicle on Route 22, a mile north of Duncan.

The victim, Miss Penny L. Eichorn, twenty, a junior at BSC, was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell M. Eichorn, Columbia Avenue, Camp Hill, Pa.

The other occupants of the automobile were Joseph Pazych, a freshman, Meriel Frederick, a junior and Gerald Gorman, a junior. Pazych is showing improvement after being removed from the critical list last Friday at Harrisburg Polyclinic Hospital. Miss Frederick and Gorman were treated and released.

Summer schedules are now available in the registrar's office. Students who are interested may pick up one of these schedules and fill out the attached registration form. Any students wishing to change their summer schedules between now and June must see Mr. Bunge concerning the change.

Linda Beattie Chosen Co-ed of Year

Donna Schlavo, a junior social studies major from Jersey Shore, Pa., was also in the court. ## Topic: Comments and Conditions

Sports: Well, we lost the big one. Congratulations to the winners and to them go the fruits of victory. You defeated the team of pride, Lock Haven, but remember, heavy is the head that wears the crown, and the Husky (alias Big #1) will haunt you until states and nationals, when the tables will be turned. Our swimmers are doing a tremendous job as evidenced by last week's victory over Lock Haven, the first in the history of the rivalry. Congratulations, Mermen.

Big Weekend

Social Weekend warriors are not usually attacked in this column. Let it suffice to say that with this weekend's lineup of activities, the Lettermen Concert, a swimming meet, Past Presidents of CGA Day, "Picnic," and a dance, it would seem to be not the best move to go home.

By the way, does anyone think there's an outside chance that the bells in Science Hall could be fixed so they will ring?

Are The English People Destroying Fair Play By Wiping Out Monster?

Howard V. Kearns

The Loch Ness Monster strikes again! Great headlines, aren't they? Well, the English are at it again, their monster is on the loose and this time they really have pictures of the ghastly creature... isn't that enough to send shivers up your spine... I have a bad back, so I wouldn't know.

Lovable Monster

It seems that this sea monster never gives up. This guy has been around for some time and nobody can figure out what or who he "really is," or what keeps him going. People have been seeing this lovable little guy for about 200 years. He's good natured and he has never bothered anyone. Occasionally he poses for a few photographs for the kids. So what happens? The English have finally decided to capture the beast and cut him up to find out what makes him tick. Now considering he is the only "monster" (other than human) we have had around lately, why cut him up into little pieces to see what "made" him tick? I mean, this ghoul has possibilities.

Tourist Possibilities

The movie industry would have a feast—probably a blood feast—with our beloved sea serpent. We'd come out with a whole new line of horror TV shows featuring our dear monster, replacing our present line of horrors featuring bats and spys, divorce court, and perhaps even Chet and David. Tourist business in Scotland would boom. Scotland would finally be on the map and England would have another first. Why, there would be hotels and motels with beds shaped like ancient dinosaurs, to get into the "feel" of things. There would be special tours of the monster area by plane, boat, and surf board. And finally, as Big Ben strikes twelve, the monster could appear and throw kisses to the crowds.

Russian Rivalry

When we have finished with all this foolishness, we would probably all invest in Sinclair Gasoline, for the commercials would have the real "thing." Russia would get in on the act and claim the monster as a long lost brother of our dear departed Nikita (that line might have possibilities) or they would create one of their own. They never were the type to be outdone. Would

Discs, Dances, Dementations Divide Dull, Discotheque, And "In"-Different

by Luton Houtz

How is your ability in gymnastics? If you are something less than proficient, you had better practice a few splits and flips. There is a new dance craze, whose impact has not yet been felt on campus. In addition to the regular twists and gyrations to which everyone has become accustomed, there is now a series of acrobatic antics to show off the athletic ability of each and every dancer.

Turnabout In Play

At one time, dancing was considered to be feminine—a threat to man's virility. But many basketball and football coaches had their teams learn the art of ballet in order to increase agility. Now, there seems to be a reversal. Athletics have entered the realm of dance.

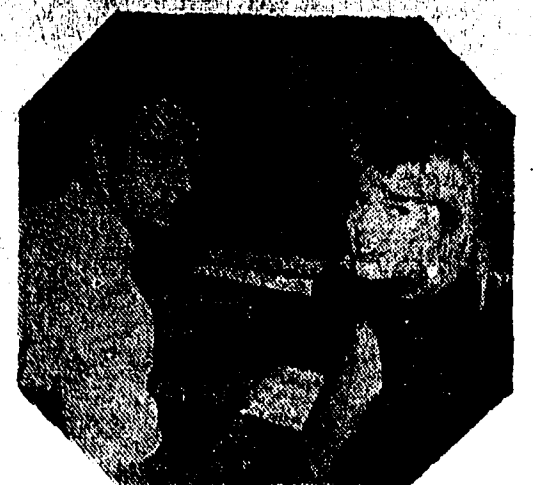

Looking into the last six decades, it is curious to observe the changes in the dance patterns of American youth. Beginning with the now famous Charleston and Blackbottom of the Twenties, we then went into the thirties and forties with the jitterbug—a dance just as wild, but with more bodily contact, if you wish to call it that. We have yet to match that style of throwing around dance partners. This evolved more or less into the Rock 'n' Roll of the Fifties with its turns, throws, push-offs, and twists. And speaking of twists, that is what came next in the interim between the R 'n' R and what has come to be known as anything from the Frug to the Jerk. The Twist became so popular that the elders caught on to it almost as fast as the young people as was evidenced with the many "Peppermint Loun- ges," not only in the United States, but also in Europe since it was adopted by the Jet Set.

No Known Category

The most recent dancers are almost impossible to categorize under any one name. There are just too many variations. The only thing which ties them together is the fact that they all involve physical activity in some form. In fact, there is so much physical activity in the new one that there is a complete lack of people around the dancers. If one gets too close, he is almost guaranteed an aching shin bone, at the very least. It will be interesting to see just what kind of device the diabolical minds of new dance crazes dream up next. Who knows? Maybe we will do a complete reversal and just stand still. Or has that been done already?

OUR SIDE OF THE COIN

by Richie Benyo and "Stevie" Fecher

Happiness Is--

This may be the weekend that IS! In fact, this entire week, for the go-getter, might be enough to restore a student's faith in the social outlooks for BSC. Ah-ha, before you yell "Disclaimer!," take a little look at this week...

Picnic Begins

Wednesday night saw the opening of the Bloomsburg Players' third production of the year, "Picnic," a real prize-winner; while Batman played behind the Bat-screen.

Thursday was another "filled" day, with the annual "Battle of the Classes" being the main feature of the Assembly Program; the fall of the evening saw the rise of the curtain on the second performance of "Picnic," and Husky Lounge was converted into the Bat-room for the conclusion of this week's Master-beast.

BNE Contest

Tonight is the only night of our schedule that sees a single happening: The long-awaited Lettermen Concert in Centennial Gymnasium.

Tomorrow evening's agenda features both a record dance and the closing performance of the Bloomsburg Players' "Picnic."

Bloodmobile

But, that isn't the end of it. After our Spring Vacation is over, we come back to a great American institution: The Bloodmobile Program. If this introduction to it sounds sarcastic, it isn't meant to be. For, of all charities, this one of life is perhaps the best of all possible charities.

Artists In Words Wanted - Contest!

Creativity has been a time-worn issue. Everyone talks about it, but there are only a few rare chances for one to display this urge. Once again, the National Poetry Contest gives the creative poet a chance.

No Limitations

Any college student is eligible to submit his verse, with no limitation as to form or theme. Shorter works are preferred by the Board of Judges, because of space limitations. Each poem must be typed or printed on a separate sheet, and must bear the name and the home address of the student. The name of the college attended must be included also. The closing date for submission of the manuscripts by the college students is April tenth.

Opportunity Afforded

Well now, with spring vacation coming on, the student poet has both the time and the chance to take advantage of this opportunity. The student has only to mail his finished product to Offices of The Press; National Poetry Press; 3210 Selby Avenue; Los Angeles 34, California.

Welcome Past Presidents

The next deadline for the Maroon & Gold is on March 14, 1966 at 4 o'clock. The next issue of the paper will be outside of Husky on March 18, 1966.

Letters To the Editor

To the Editor:

When the final examination week policy was adopted by faculty action one year ago, it was agreed that the faculty would evaluate the results of the trial period. Nearly all of the faculty agreed that the final examination week had met its objectives, and this year's calendar was drawn up to include a week of final examinations.

Students who remember the 1965 experience will recall one objection; namely, that the examination period began immediately following the last day of classes for the semester. To correct this fault, Mr. Bunge, our Registrar, was asked to schedule one day between the end of classes and the first day of the final examination week. This was done, and students seemed to be well satisfied with the arrangement.

you believe Alexandri Belshki? He invented the Russian telephone.

Anyway, why kill this lovable, successful monster? Let's get the Humane Society behind us (that's enough to push us anywhere) and save the ghoul. I think we can learn a lot from this character, like how to survive another 200 years!

— before the exam week!

However, "three days before the beginning of examinations" appears to be rather unnecessary. To those of us responsible for planning the instruction program of the college, preparation for examinations (for the serious minded student) begins with the first week of classes and continues throughout the semester. Most of us believe that one day of "cramming" is unnecessary, if the student has done the job expected of him from day to day.

The suggestion to "do something about three exhaustive examinations in one day" merits serious consideration. However, if students who complain about this situation can provide the Registrar's Office with some workable plan, I am certain that Mr. Bunge will give their suggestions serious attention. To this date, the computer in the Data Processing Center has been unable to provide an examination schedule that fits every need... perhaps the human mind can find the answer.

Contrary to the belief of some students, a final examination week is not a "week off" at the end of each semester, and faculty and the administration of this college will make every effort to see that the objectives of a final examination week are met. However, reasonable suggestions and constructive criticisms are always welcome within the policies and philosophy of a final examination week.

Dear Editor:

I was extremely pleased to see your new column, "Movies." I think this is a big step forward to making a broader and better newspaper. Intelligent reviews make good reading. I do not agree with Mr. Benyo's comments, but I'm glad to see a critical point of view.

I feel that the movie was gruesome but it was true and people are more interested in shocking "believe it or not" rather than people picking coffee beans in South America or shopping at Macy's for instance.

Again I say, "Hurray!" and let's have "More."

— Larry Phillips

The Bloomsburg community had the privilege of seeing the widely-acclaimed performance of "Othello". On the screen of the Columbia Theatre, the audience witnessed a performance by the "Shakespearean Greats", who proved the universality of the playwright.

Superb Acting

The tragedy of the Moorish general, Othello, and his fair-skinned wife, Desdemona, was skillfully enacted by Laurence Olivier and Maggie Smith. The nod for the outstanding performance goes to Frank Finlay, who portrayed Iago, the treacherous friend of Othello. His characterization was realistic and human while he still personified pure evilness. He was very convincing as he plotted the destruction of Othello. Justice must also be given by mentioning the dramatic performance of Joyce Redman as Emilia, Desdemona's maid-servant. Although Maggie Smith played her part well as the completely innocent wife, the part didn't provide an opportunity to display her full potential as an actress. As mentioned, Iago was tremendous, but Olivier had command of the stage when the two actors appeared on stage. The creative artist, Olivier, translated this Shakespearean drama with great skill. His portrayal of Othello was a success because of the violence and tense emotion in the characterization. Although the second portion of the play moved with precision, the "Temptation Scene" seemed to drag.

Sets Effective

The sets, costumes, and lighting gave the exact atmosphere intended. The effectiveness of the simple sets enhanced and backed the acting abilities of the performers.

This inspiring film served a dual purpose: it did Shakespeare justice and provided an evening of interesting entertainment.

Beyond a doubt, to quote the grand-dad wrestling coach of the East, Herbert Jacks, (ex-coach of LHSC) "This is the best wrestling team in Lock Haven's history." As for this columnist, I agree with Coach Herbert Jacks and go on to say that LHSC is one of the best teams on the Eastern Coast, with Lock Haven goes Lehigh, Navy and Penn State. But at the same time the students of Bloomsburg have nothing to be ashamed of, for the difference in score was 20 points, but a few bouts were close in score, and it is in individual bouts where one sees how good a team is man for man, and we are also very good.

The score could have been a bit closer but due to what this columnist considers poor officiating the match turned into a run-away. Now I am not belly-aching or alibiing for the students of BSC or for my own part, but the fact that the official, Dave Bates, was a bit hasty with some calls and at other times a bit tardy, would be an understatement.

Just to state that the official wasn't the best doesn't resolve the complete problem or bring to light the entire picture.

One must stop and think of the factors involved. Number one, this was a crucial match between two small college power-houses and naturally every call that came up was important in deciding the outcome. That is any call which can go either way or is close to the 50-50 point, naturally the home team will get the nod from the official. This is because hometown fans and newscasters are present. It is less pressure for an official to have 200 visiting fans "riding his back" than to have 3000 hometown fans screaming and hollering at him.

The second factor which enters into the picture is that of human error. That is, all officials are liable to error and at one time or another, most officials do commit errors, but keep them to a minimum, or else they are considered by coaches and fans to be a bad risk to officiate at any match of importance, or for that fact, of any match of non-importance.

With these two factors taken into consideration this columnist could have and would have overlooked some calls that were made and would have attributed them to human error. But anyone who witnessed the match and that goes for LHSC students as well as BSC students felt that many calls were way past the erroring margin allowed for an official. Also the inconsistency of the official, to make exception for take downs outside the circle when made by LH and not to give points for the same when Bloom would do so seemed pretty disgusting.

As the old saying goes "if it's good for the goose, it's good for the gander." This should pertain to both teams in all calls; and the one officiating should always keep this thought in mind. For it is here with consistency and inconsistency by officials where many meets

Open Letter From Pep Committee

Coach G. Simons
Wrestling Coach
Lock Haven State College
Lock Haven, Pennsylvania

Dear Mr. Simons,

As co-chairmen of Bloomsburg State College's Pep Committee we would like to congratulate you and your grapplers on their fine performance Saturday night. We have also been asked to apologize for some of our students behavior at the match. Many of them have met with serious consequences from our administration because of their un-called for actions.

We are safe in saying that, speaking for the majority of our student body, we have never seen a better wrestling team's performance, especially against a National Championship team. We didn't really expect to come out on top but we did expect to give a better showing then we did for this great rivalry. Our great fans and supporters only state, "Wait till next year!"

Again we sincerely hope you accept our apologies and make it known to your team, students, and community that the students of Bloomsburg State College are behind you 100% in the seasons tournaments. If BSC cannot win, we sincerely wish that the National Title will remain in Pennsylvania. You are indeed a true representative of Pennsylvania's superior wrestling program.

Yours truly,
JIM DEER

BSC Sports Editor Offers Comments

By GEORGE YACINA

It has been brought to my attention, through various sources, that the conduct used by the students of BSC at Lock Haven was something that we are not proud of. These few students have all but ruined the integrity of Bloomsburg. Sure these individuals have been punished by the administration, but no amount of punishment will remove the scar that has been placed on the college, on the wrestling team and on Coach Houk. It is a shame that so few people have ruined it for so many.

The rivalry between our schools is a wonderful and intangible object which cannot be destroyed just because of a few people acting up. Last year, the letter sent to BSC from a few Lock Haven students caused most ill feeling. It is realized that this letter did not reflect the complete attitude of the students of Lock Haven. And now I hope that these few students of BSC will not cause an unfavorable attitude toward all at BSC. Our rivalry is fierce and it should stay this way, and it should not turn into a war.

We of the Maroon and Gold sports staff wish to congratulate the wrestling team of Lock Haven and to wish them the best of luck in the upcoming tournaments.

To end, only congratulations and respect go out to Coach Gray Simons and his matmen of Lock Haven State, also best of luck.

Then John Biggs and Linwood Nester finished first and third respectively in the 50 yard freestyle. In diving, Don Beaulieu was first and Dick Steidel was second for BSC. ## Huskies Fall To LHSC 26-6; Wrestlers Lose First Meet BSC's Barry Sutter against Bill Blacksmith of LHSC. Sutter lost 8-2.

Coach Houk's Husky wrestling team lost their first dual meet of the season to the strongest team in the history of Lock Haven State College. Coming out on the short end of a 26-6 score the Huskies were completely overwhelmed by the arch rival Bald Eagles.

In the opening match of the evening Keith Taylor allowed LHSC's Jeff Larson to get the first takedown and was never able to make up the difference losing 9-6.

Rolley Loses

At 130 lbs. Jim Rolley trying for a pin continually rode his opponent, Bob Larson too high after getting takedowns and reversals. As a result Larson gained easy points for reversals and Rolley lost 14-8.

Steve Peters in the 137 lb. class wrestling an excellent match was tied with LHSC's Dick Rhodes at the final buzzer only to lose 5-4 on riding time as his opponent held the minimum one minute advantage.

Barry Sutter facing Bill Blacksmith of the Bald Eagles fought to the end only to lose 8-2 to the older of the Blacksmith brothers.

Campbell Wins

With the team score 12-0 in favor of LHSC, Jim Campbell wrestling his first match of the season put the Huskies on the scoreboard with an 8-6 win over Darryl Claar. In this 152 lb. contest Campbell made the first takedown and held his early advantage throughout the match.

In one of the hardest fought matches of the night Joe Gerst wrestling LHSC's Jim Blacksmith in the 160 lb. class couldn't contain his opponent losing 7-2.

Frank Neiswender also found tough opposition in the 167 lb. class losing 7-3 to Bald Eagle Tom Elling.

Tom Vargo scored the only other Husky win at 177 lbs. Vargo had little trouble with John Smith running up a 9-3 score.

At 191 lbs. Husky Jim Lewis absorbed his first loss of the year at the hands of Lock Haven star Jerry Swope. Losing 6-2 Lewis held off Swope during the early stages only to succumb later.

In the final BSC's Dave DeWire suffered a knee injury and was forced to forfeit to Bob McDermott.

Freshmen Win

The Husky Freshmen saved the evening from being a total loss beating Lock Haven's Freshmen 24-14.

Pinning for BSC were Greg Rogers, Dave Grady, and Mike Cunningham while Ron Russo, Kurt Grabfelter, and Mike Smith also won.

SHE: I can picture my mother right now—all alone, by the telephone . . . wondering where I am . . . and how I am . . . and if I am going to call her.

HE: Why don't you?

SHE: And ruin the picture?

Yes—and ruin the picture. Parents—especially mothers—worry. Often for no reason. They like to be reassured. A telephone call is the best way to do it.

Huskies Lose Three in a Row; Fall To LHSC, MSC; K-Town

The Bloomsburg Basketball team was defeated by Lock Haven State 75-61. The loss was the Huskies fifth straight while the win was Lock Haven's first in fifteen games.

It was the same old story as the smaller Huskies were unable to rebound effectively and in the closing minutes of the game Bloom ran into foul trouble.

Bloom was led by Sophomore "Rico" Fertig and Junior John Gara. Lewis had 22 and Brehm 17 for the winning Bald Eagles.

Fresh Set Record

The Bloomsburg Freshmen set a single game scoring record as they downed the young Bald Eagles 134-80. It was strictly no contest as Coach Voss's boys were ahead at half 58-40.

Three of the young Huskies outscored the entire Lock Haven team. Jack Carney had 32, Jim Dulaney had 28, and Bob Matuza had 21. Palmer Toto contributed 10 points.

SWIMMING

second place finishes for the BSC Tankmen. Jim Poechmann finished second in the 200 freestyle and Linwood Nester in the 50 yard free style. Fred Bausch, Ray Fox, Jim Young, and Fischel finished second in the respective events: 200 yard breaststroke, 200 backstroke, 100 freestyle, and 200 individual medley.

The Husky Tankmen gained their seventh win of the season. In the three college meet Bloomsburg scored 93, Trenton State 50, and Glassboro College had 19 points. The swimmers under Coach McLaughlin won 9 of the 11 events and finished 1-2 in 5 of the events.

Jim Poechmann, a sophomore, was first in the 200 yard freestyle and the 200 butterfly. John Biggs, also a sophomore, captured first place in both the 50 and 100 yard freestyle. Don Beltz, a senior, won the 200 backstroke. Walt Fischel finished first in the 200 medley. Other individual winners were Pete Wilde in the 500 yard freestyle and Britt Jones in the 200 backstroke.

The Bloomsburg 400 medley relay team of Don Beltz, Britt Jones, Ray Fox, and Jim Young captured this event for BSC. The Huskies had many second, third finishes besides the 5 first places in the meet.

The BSC Swimming Team will finish its last meet of this year home against Howard University. The Husky Tankmen will conclude the year with the state meet at West Chester on March 12.

Curry had 20 points in the losing cause. The win was the Freshman's 13th in 15 games.

Lose To MSC

The Huskies lost a high scoring contest 100-97 to Millersville State College in Centennial Gymnasium.

Unable to break a losing streak BSC fought all the way only to lose at the foul line.

At the half Millersville held a 56-48 lead. The Huskies managed to tie the game in the third quarter and push the contest right down to the wire losing by only three points. Gerrity High

High point man for the night was MSC's Raspen with 37. For the Huskies Jack Gerrity added 19 while Rico Fertig contributed 15 to the losing cause.

In the preliminary the BSC Freshmen continued their winning ways defeating the Millersville Frosh 99-72.

Fall To KSC

The Bloomsburg Basketball team was defeated by Kutztown State College in a real thriller 65-63. The game went into overtime as John McKay hit a jumper and tied the score at 59-59.

John Creswell really broke the Huskies back as he had 25 points and hit a 15 ft. jumper that won the game for the Golden Bears.

It was nip and tuck game all the way. The Huskies had the lead twice in the overtime but they were unable to hold the lead.

"Rico" Fertig led the Bloom attack with 12 points and Jack Gerrity and Dave Duke each had 11 points.

The Husky Pups beat the Young Bears by a score of 99-76. The Pups had little trouble as they were ahead 57-35 at half time.

The Huskies were led by Jim Dulaney's 23 points, Palmer Toto 19, Bob Matuza and George Yankay 12 and Larry Driscoll's 11.

The BSC Husky Rooks led the Franklin and Marshall Chess Team by a score of 2½-1½ Sunday afternoon, when one game had to be adjourned. The game will have to be decided by an expert before the final score can be determined. A win or draw will give BSC a victory. A F&M win will tie the match. The two teams had met previously at Franklin & Marshall in a match which ended in a tie. Sunday Husky winners were L. Thomas and R. Scott; Latsha drew, and Berlin was defeated.

from the . . . SIDELINES

by Irwin Zablocky

I'm glad to see the Varsity Club finally completed its picture of all the varsity teams for 1965. The aim of the Varsity Club is to put up five such frames over a five year span. If the project is carried out, these pictures will add something special to Husky Lounge and should even boost the morale of our athletes.

The Varsity Club would like to express their appreciation to Mr. Dietterick, the Maroon & Gold, and the Obiter for pictures, to Mr. Wilson for his help in planning, to Mr. Gorey and his men for their cooperation in making this project a success.

The Swimming Team is on their way to the most successful season since the sport was initiated at BSC. Right now they are 7-3 with a meet with Howard U. today at 3:00. This is their last home meet as well as the school's last home meet of the winter season.

If they win today and tomorrow against Lycoming, they will have compiled an exceptionally good 9-3 log. The freshmen have also done a terrific job winning all five of their meets.

Some of the outstanding performers on the team have been John Briggs, in the 50 and 100 yd. freestyle, Jim Poachman, 200 yd. medley, Don Beltz, 200 yd. backstroke, Pete Wilde, 500 yd. freestyle, Britt Jones, 200 yd. breaststroke, Don Beaulieu and Dick Stiedel, diving, and Linwood Nester in the 50 and 100 yd. freestyle.

Next year's outlook is even more optimistic with the nucleus of this year's team being mostly sophomores and some up-an-coming freshmen talent to add to the effort. Rumor has it that next year's 400 yd. medley relay team may even be good enough to send to the Nationals!

The basketball team should be commended for their fine effort against Millersville. The Marauders have been scoring over 100 points per game all season and were here to avenge an earlier loss to the Huskies. Besides Roger Rospen for the visitors is one of the leading scorers in the PSCAC and did a good job with 37 points.

They were in the game all the way, never giving up even when they were down by as many as 18-20 points. Because they didn't give up, they eventually tied the score with 4:00 to go in the game. The rest of the game was nip-and-tuck

Olympian Deadline Set at March 12

The deadline for contributions to the Olympian, the college literary magazine, has been extended until Saturday, March 12th, following the return from Spring Vacation. In order to meet publishing commitments, material cannot be accepted after this date. Essays and other prose works would be greatly appreciated, as well as poems and short stories.

Name Required

The Olympian cannot accept any work for publication without knowing the author's correct name. Those students who have submitted their work anonymously or under pseudonyms are requested to contact the Olympian.

Typists Needed

Additional typists are needed on the Olympian staff. The work, which will last only for about a month, will consist of the retyping of manuscripts for publication and may be done on the typist's own time.

The Olympian may be contacted through Box 673, Waller Hall.

The Chess team of BSC swept all five boards in beating Muhlenberg College, 5-0. Winning for Bloomsburg were Joe Kressler, Ray Depew, Leonard Thomas, Bob Scott, and Bob Latshaw. The match was played last Monday at Muhlenberg.
