

C.G.A. Establishes Students Standard Committee

Judiciary Committee Duties

The following is an up-to-date statement on the Community Government Association Standards Committee which was approved by College Council in the eleventh regular meeting of the 1965/66 academic year (held Mar. 28th, 1966).

An Overview

The elected leaders of your College Council have created a new group which will be known as the Community Government Association Standards Committee. The Committee will consist of a chairman, elected by College Council from either the representative of the sophomore or the representative of the junior class, and seven working members which will include the remaining class representatives to College Council.

Duties

The duties of the Standards Committee include:

1. To enunciate the approved college community dress and social policies.
2. To enforce approved policies within the limits of delegatory power derived from mutual consent of the social deans.
3. To properly utilize this authority in disciplining policy violators.
4. To justly discipline all offenders and to maintain records of such offenses for each academic year.
5. To direct a student observer group (all College Council members and class officers elected-at-large) whose responsibility it will be to report violations in a prescribed and formal manner. (Policy violations will also be reported by faculty members and college administrative officials.)
6. To submit a written report to each College Council member concerning all violations and penalties occurring between the period of each College Council meeting.

Powers

The disciplinary powers of the Standards Committee:

Punitive action will normally be based upon a four-step continual-violation system. The first offense will usually result in a verbal warning by the committee. The second violation will be answered with a verbal and written warning with notice of impending action if unsanctioned practices continue. Third-time offenders will face social probation with the length of the penalty determined by the seriousness of the offense.

Any fourth-time offenses will result in immediate notification of the appropriate social dean with a committee recommendation of severe disciplinary action.

The Standards Committee will hear all cases of policy violation except for those situations demanding immediate and decisive action by the social deans.

The chairmen of the Standards Committee will be directly responsible to the College Council for his own and his group's actions.

Social Policy Statement

As proven by past performances, it is known that the majority of the students of Bloomsburg State College are young adults and are therefore mature individuals. No responsible person consciously desires to bring disgrace upon himself or his institution. Each student's behavior is his own. He should always act with discretion in order to elicit only positive comments for himself and his college.

So entrusting the individual with his own social responsibility, it is necessary to be aware of:

1. His actions with regard to school property and the possessions of others.
2. The presence of other people.
3. The behavior demanded by each social situation.

Regrettably, we must be realistically prepared for that small minority among us who cannot control their own behavior. Social responsibility in such cases will be assumed by the Standards Committee of CGA and, in severe situations, action will be taken by the appropriate college administrators.

In accordance with the above, the individual student of Bloomsburg State College is accountable to the students, faculty, and administration for representing himself and his institution well.

Student Dress Policy

Your CGA is readily aware of the fact that Bloomsburg's student population is composed of modern generation whose philosophy of living is concerned with new styles in modes of dress. Casualness is in vogue. As fellow students, your CGA representatives are in complete sympathy and favor the major trends in taste and styles. However, we, as future adults, cannot

Pres. Gockley Evaluates Committee

Fellow Students:

Your College Council has initiated a new committee known as the Community Government Association Standards Committee. Its origin actually stems from our "all night" effort in which we asked for an updating of social and dress policies. Democracy takes time, and a year later, we see the final results—an endeavor of the students to regulate and to enforce the policies that we, as students, develop.

When I was asked to give justification for asking for a more liberal dress policy, I merely stated that all we wanted was a chance to relax when we please as we would in our home. The administration, realizing that this is our home, complied with our needs and gave us complete support.

The next question was who is going to handle the individuals who overlook or disregard our social responsibilities and must concern ourselves with appropriate dress. So, for this reason, your Standards Committee has established the following college policy:

1. Casual wear is not permitted in the Commons, Administrative offices, classes, and all of Carver Hall. (Exception: the showing of a movie by the Social Recreation Committee.)
2. Casual clothes may be worn whenever a student is not attending classes.
3. Dress other than casual wear requires socks for male students.
4. On Sunday, casual wear will not be worn before 12:00 noon.
5. Dances will be casual wear unless otherwise specified by the Social Recreation Committee, in conjunction with the Social Deans.

Criteria For Dress

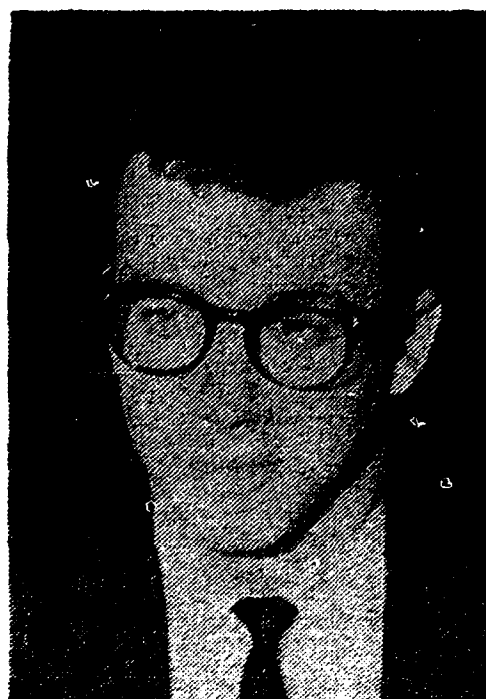

Formal: (men) tuxedo or dinner wear; (women) gowns.

Informal: (men) Dark suits, Sunday dress, sport coat and slacks; (women) cocktail dresses, Sunday dress, party dresses.

Classwear: (men) slacks, presentable shirts, sweaters, socks, and shoes; (female) dresses, shirts, blouses, sweaters, and shoes.

Casual: (men and women) Bermuda shorts, shorts, cut-offs, blue dungarees(jeans), and sweatshirts.

go beyond the written policies. This is where our committee comes into the foreground.

Looking at the policy objectively, one can see it is benefiting the students and giving us what we sought for many years. But, a warning must be issued! I imagine that there are some students among us who will fight and purposely try to block the policies of the Standards Committee.

Those that try to destroy the committee, those that ridicule the committee, or those that refuse to cooperate, must be made to understand that this is the strongest student committee ever established at Bloomsburg State College. This committee will have the sole responsibility to enforce, regulate, and review any matters pertaining to its written policy.

No dean or faculty member will know who, why, or when a student has been called in by the committee. Could anything be more fair to the students here at Bloomsburg?

The students must understand that the Standards Committee is for the benefit of the students, and that their cooperation in following these policies will insure the success of this committee.

If you have any questions pertaining to the Standards Committee or any other phase of our college community, please feel free to contact me or any of your CGA representatives.

Sincerely,
Gil Gockley,
President, CGA

The Husky trackmen won their first two victories of the season on the same afternoon at the Central High field against Kutztown and East Stroudsburg. The Huskies took ten first and six seconds to put them way in the lead with 76 points. East Stroudsburg had 58 and Kutztown 46.

Figliolino Stars

Competing in four events, Joe Figliolino gave a remarkable performance. After bringing the 44C yard relay team to victory, Joe went on to capture both the 100 and 220 yard dashes, running the 220 in 21.8, his fastest time this season.

In the long distances, Irwin Zablocky took both the mile and two mile runs and Joe Fazzari had one of his best days with a first in the 880 and a second in the mile behind Zablocky. Joe also ran in the mile relay. The Huskies swept the two mile, with Tom Ginger and Dick Yost placing second and third and Jim Reifinger took a second in the 440.

Clemm Wins Hurdles

Paul Clemm won the 120 high hurdles and in the 330 intermediate hurdles freshman Tom Huston competing unofficially, bettered his own record set the week before at Lock Haven by .3 second with a time of 40.0.

Gene Shershen won the javelin and Emerson Schnable took the shotput. John Zarski finished second in the discus and third in the shot. The high jump was won by John Montgomery with a leap of

C.G.A. Council Constructs Constitution Changes

College Council and the Administration have approved the following proposals for revision of the Community Government Association Constitution. These proposals are actually amendments which must be approved by two-thirds of the quorum of CGA, quorum being a majority of the association.

Each article to be amended will be first printed as it was, and then as it will be under the new amendments.

Article II, Object. Original—"The object of this organization shall be to cooperate with the responsible authorities in promoting personal and group responsibility in guiding and regulating the affairs and activities of all students under the jurisdictions of the College." The revision would change the last part to read "... activities of all full time undergraduate students under the jurisdiction of the College."

Article III, Membership. Original—"All students and faculty under the jurisdiction of the Bloomsburg State College at Bloomsburg, Pennsylvania, shall be, ipso facto, members of the Association." Revision—"All full-time students in the undergraduate school shall be members of the Association. Full-time faculty members shall also be members of the Community Government Association."

Faculty members shall become members of the Association upon payment of the faculty activities fee thirty (30) days following the beginning of the semester. The total membership for voting purposes shall be determined by the Dean of Students and certified by the President of the College."

Article IV, Meetings of the Association. Original—"Meetings of the Association will be held during assembly periods upon call by the President of the Association or by petition of twenty or more members." Revision—"Regular meetings of the Association will be held upon call of the President of the Association or by petition of 100 or more members."

Special meetings may be called at the discretion of the President of the Association."

Article VI, The College Council.

Here the revision would add one member to the College Council. Sec. 4—" (g) A non-administrative faculty member elected by the Bloomsburg State College Faculty Association as their representative in College Council."

Article VIII, Officers. The revision deals with the duties of the Recording Secretary. Original—"Section 2. Duties, (c) It shall be the duty of the Recording Secretary to keep a record of the proceedings at all meetings and to have custody of all papers of the College Council. The Recording Secretary shall appoint the C.G.A. Office Committee." The revision would strike out the sentence reading "...The Recording Secretary shall appoint the C.G.A. Office Committee."

Article IX, Procedure For Officer Election. Original—"Section 1. The President of the Association shall be a member of the Senior class for both semesters of his term. The Vice-President shall be a member of the Junior class. The Recording Secretary, the Corresponding Secretary, and the Treasurer shall be members of the Sophomore or Junior class. The citizenship and scholarship records of all nominees shall be satisfactory as certified by the President of the College."

"Section 2. (a) Petitions shall be required of all candidates for offices of the Association. The proper form must be secured from the Chairman of the Election Board and returned to him one week prior to the date of nominations."

(b) At a meeting of the Association two weeks preceding the date of the final election, nominations of all approved candidates shall be made from the floor. A list of nominees shall be posted one week before the primary election."

(c) A primary election shall be held for the purpose of selecting nominees and a notice shall be posted one week before the primary election. In the event that there are only two nominees for any given office, no primary election for that office will be necessary."

(d) A final election shall be held for the purpose of selecting by ballot the officers of the Association. A majority of the votes cast by a quorum is necessary for the election of an officer."

"Section 3. Class representatives of the College Council shall be elected at the same time as the class officers. Freshman officers and representatives shall be elected at the end of the first grading period."

"Section 4. The elections for Community Government Association officers shall be completed not less than eight weeks before the termination of the second semester."

Revised—"Section 1. The President of the Association shall be a member of the junior or senior class for the duration of his term. The Vice-President, Recording Secretary, the Corresponding Secretary and Treasurer shall be members of the sophomore, junior or senior classes for the duration of their terms. The citizenship of all nominees shall be satisfactory as certified by the Dean of Students, and the scholarship records of all nominees shall be satisfactory as certified by the Dean of Instruction."

"Section 2. (c) The total membership of the Association (for voting purposes) shall be determined by the Dean of Students and certified by the President of the College or an administrative officer designated by him, not more than one week prior to the primary election."

(c) A final election shall be held for the purpose of selecting by ballot the Officers of the Association. A majority of the votes cast by one half of the total membership is necessary for the election of an officer."

Section 2, paragraphs (a), (b), and (d) remain unchanged, as do sections 3 and 4.

Council, in passing these revisions sought to provide for a more flexible method of student self-government. Students, faculty, and administration are urged to vote on the proposals. Questions concerning any of these proposals may be directed to any member of College Council.
