

Unofficial Low Bids Opened For 7-Story Wood St. Dorm

Unofficial low bids totaling $2,646,570 were received by the General State Authority in Harrisburg Wednesday for construction of a seven-story dormitory at BSC.

The brick structure will house 676 male students and will be constructed on the two grass plots opposite Long Porch and facing East Second street.

Unofficial Low Bidders

The unofficial low bidders included:

General construction—Sutter Corporation, Nescopeck, $1,846,900.

Heating and ventilating—John F. Miles Co., Kulpmont, $194,400.

Plumbing—J. L. Turner Co., Wilkes-Barre, $237,700.

Electrical—Howard P. Foley, Co., Harrisburg, $313,700.

Elevators—General Elevator Company, Inc., $53,860.

The bids as announced last night were unofficially $428,000 below allocation made for the building.

Completion Date

College officials said it is hoped construction will begin by late November or early December. The estimated completion date is prior to September, 1968.

Seven Floors

The building will have six floors, each of which will accommodate 100 students. The seventh floor will house seventy-two. There will be a recreation room, lounges, storage areas, laundry room, TV room, study rooms and manager's apartment.

Street Closed

Wood street, between East Second and Pine streets, will be closed while the building extending from Elm to Thornton avenues. Architects for the building were John Schell, Bloomsburg, and Wolf and Hahn, Allentown.

Other Planned Dorm

The other planned dormitory for men is now under construction. Planned to house 300 male students, this structure is being built at the site of Old North Hall and steel work is partially completed. This building is to be finished September, 1967.

Parents' Statements

According to Mr. John Scrimgeour, Parents' Confidential Statements have not yet arrived at the Financial Aid Office. When they come, notices will be in the Maroon and Gold and on bulletin boards around campus.

Richards: "Victory Takes Pain"

(A News Analysis)

A ruddy-faced and energy-bound Bob Richards initiated the first of this year's voluntary attendance assembly programs last Thursday with his address in Centennial Gymnasium.

Pain — Dominant Theme

Sweat, toil, and pain were dominant themes of the Olympic gold medal winner, and students paid their own debt of pain with stinging hands in a 3-minute standing ovation as he ended his hour-long talk. His face often contorted, Richards remembered aloud his own and other's pains that took them on to winning years as the top amateur American athletes. Putting ideals and dreams into blood and work was his message.

It is this kind of philosophy, he said in an interview afterwards, which can continue to make Americans winners at the Olympics. We've got to beat the Monolithic State government of Russia, he said referring to the state supported "amateurs" of the U.S.S.R., and we can do it with our free, voluntary, American way he reaffirmed.

The 40-year-old athlete still has a spring in his walk, though wrinkles now cross his forehead and radiate from around squinting eyes. As he sat talking with radio interviewers, the pent-up energy showed itself through thumping hands and legs and a restlessness that kept him swinging back in his chair, nearly tipping it over.

After all the interviews and pictures were done with, he headed for his own more comfortable forum—the gym mat—and worked out with the Husky Wrestlers, and then swam for a while in the Centennial pool.

He seemed sincere in his high praise of Bloomsburg students, and assured college officials that rarely has he encountered such an eager and receptive audience as he did here. The one impression we can be sure of is the very real one that Bob Richards has seemingly left upon us. Our students were quite satisfied as they left Centennial, and for good reason.

Area Opens For Student Teachers

Dr. C. Stuart Edwards, Director of Secondary Education, has announced that his department is planning to open the Mount Carmel Center next semester as a student teacher area to accommodate an increasing number of student teachers.

At present the 104 student teachers in Secondary Education are serving in eleven high schools in Bucks County and in area high schools including Berwick, Bloomsburg, Central, Danville, Shamokin, Shikellamy, and Southern Area.

He also announced that information on the committee headed by Dean Hoch and him to review and revise the secondary education curriculum, in such areas as majors and professional education, will be available to students at a future date.

The BSC Veterans' Association met October 13. The officers for the coming year are Charles Blankenship, Commander; Dale Kline, Vice-Commander; Ronald Krause, Secretary; Charles Dickenson, Treasurer; Ralph Cope, Sergeant at Arms.

Purpose

The Veterans' Association seeks to keep veterans informed of their government benefits and responsibilities and to orient students as to their prospective military obligations. Meetings are held in Science Hall, room 36, the first and second Tuesdays of every month at 7:00 p.m.

The Science Club will hold a meeting on Thursday, October 27, in Science room 8 at 3 p.m. Plans will be made at this time for the annual field trip.

Mr. Tobias Scarpino addressed the group on "Bubbles: The Flootation Process" at the last meeting.

Science club officers are: President, David Moyer; Vice-president, Derwood Slusser; Secretary, Janet Tazik; Treasurer, Joe Bainbridge; and Program Chairman, Thomas Bateridge. Advisers are Mr. Tobias Scarpino and Dr. Harold Lanterman.

U.S. Coast Guard Seeks Applicants

Applications are currently being accepted by the U.S. Coast Guard Academy. Applicants must be 17 to 27 years old, citizens of the United States, of good moral character, unmarried, in good physical condition, at least 5 ft. 4 in. but not over 6 ft. 6 in. tall, have at least 20/30 vision correctable to 20/20, and be a high school senior or graduate.

They must also have at least 15 high school or college credits including three in English and three in mathematics. Admittance is based on college board scores for December 1966, rank in high school class and leadership potential. Applications must be made to the Director of Admissions, U.S. Coast Guard, New London, Connecticut, not later than December 15, 1966.

C.C. Varsity Ties Bucknell, 28-28

The BSC cross country team put one in the record books Wednesday when they worked a 28-28 tie with the thinclad unit of Bucknell University.

The reason for the unusual tie was that BSC was unable to take more than six runners and Bucknell showed with only five and with the rule that the first five from each unit are counted, the deadlock resulted.

Zablocky Sets Pace

Irwin Zablocky set the pace for the Huskies, completing the course in 27:41 for first place. Bucknell took second and third and BSC's Dick Yost was fourth.

The tie put BSC's record at 1-2-1. Pups Undefeated

While the varsity unit was logging the tie score, the Husky Pups notched their third victory, 20-35, and remained undefeated.

For the frosh, Charlie Moyer, Frank Riley and Dave Smithers crossed the tape together at 29:10 for a 3-way tie. Tom Henry was sixth at 31:09 and Larry Maurer eighth at 32:01.

Varsity Summary

BSC—Irwin Zablocky, 1st, 27:41; Dick Yost, 4th, 28:38; Chuck Bowman, 6th, 29:55; Dale Gering, 8th, 31:34; Jim Gauger, 9th, 31:51; and Richie Benyo, 10th, 32:26.

Leased Lot Cures Parking Problems

Parking facilities for approximately 300 cars will be provided for Bloomsburg State College on land owned by the Bloomsburg Hospital and to be leased to the Pennsylvania Department of Property and Supplies.

Location

The area is just north of Light-street Road on a site which has been filled in past years. It covers approximately 162,000 sq. ft.

Some additional fill will be placed and a five-inch stone base applied.

Cooperation

John R. Bryden, III, board president, stated, "the board was happy to cooperate with the college in helping to solve a serious parking problem."

The site is adjacent to the college. The renewable lease covers a five-year period.

In last week's Maroon and Gold it was reported that Skip Bracken had been expelled for a semester for violation of a social regulation. The Faculty disciplinary committee has since changed the duration of the suspension to three weeks, ending October 31, after which he will serve an indefinite term on disciplinary probation, reporting once a week to a social dean.

Circle K has conducted the drive on campus for blood donors for today's visit to the town of Bloomsburg. The M&G erroneously gave credit for the service project to APO in last week's edition.

THE GET-TOGETHER after the game will be in the Old Library. Free coffee, cider, doughnuts. Admission to dance is free to students, faculty and one guest, paid alumni with one guest. All others: $1.00.

Carol Dewald consoles Bruce Hopkins in their lead roles of the Bloomsburg Players production of Norman Barasch and Carol Moore's comedy, "Send Me No Flowers" which opens October 27th in Carver Hall Auditorium.

Captain Robert E. Akins of the United States Marine Corps will be at BSC Nov. 28 and 29 to talk to students, both men and women, about serving as officers in the Marine Corps. Captain Akins has served in Viet Nam and has been awarded the Legion of Merit in recognition of his services against the Viet Cong. He gained the admiration and esteem of the Vietnamese by following a program of social and economic aid to the villagers.

Highwaymen, Long & Daniels to Star In BNE

The first Big Name Entertainment program of the season, featuring The Highwaymen and the comedy team of Long and Daniels, will initiate BSC's 1966 Homecoming Weekend. The show is scheduled for tonight at 8:15 in Centennial Gymnasium.

Long & Daniels

The comedy team of Long and Daniels is not new to show business. In addition to being regulars on WFIL television station of Philadelphia, they have appeared on both the Eddy Arnold Show and the Ed Sullivan Show. They have had a successful career of music, singing, and dancing for clubs, banquets, theatres, and hotels. They are recording artists for RCA Victor records, their most famous song being an old favorite, "Standing On the Corner."

EDITORIAL

A Harvard University sociologist threw the proverbial monkeywrench into the general atmosphere of criticism directed at American college students with his remarks at Brandeis University in Massachusetts last week. Most college students, said Prof. Seymour M. Lipset as reported in The New York Times, are politically passive, socially conservative, and conventionally moral and are preoccupied with their private goals. And one has to look no further than Bloomsburg to see that he is right.

With exceptions, most students here are politically passive, and as a consequence politically ignorant; just ask your friends who the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court is or who Lin Piao is. With exceptions, most students here are socially conservative; look at your friends and see if you don't find a great number who grudgingly dress as they are expected to dress. And with exceptions, most students here blithely follow moral conventions; look at your friends and see if, despite what they may believe is all right, they don't act morally much the same as college students forty or fifty years ago.

Professor Lipset doesn't offer an explanation for all this, but perhaps Marya Mannes, the well-known social critic, does. In her discussion of young people's long hair and older society's repulsion to it, she says, "Our sharp emotional reaction to it may be more a sign of our own rigidity than of their folly, one more example of a society grown set in its ways, resistant to change, hostile to difference."

It's no accident that the growing generation is passive, conservative, and conventional. A rigid society, perhaps too set in its ways and resistant to change, has made no secret of their desire to bring their children up with exactly their values. We have been trained to think precisely as they do, act precisely as they do, and to look or not look at problems precisely as they have done.

But, as Miss Mannes went on to say, "That society usually prevails is nothing to celebrate." Society, and that includes college administrations, want conformity because it maintains peace. If you don't have non-conformists making noise, all runs quietly, and if you don't have people acting with different values, you don't have to struggle with their example. A peaceful, passive, conventional student body has been cultivated at Bloomsburg, without much success in some instances, just as it has been cultivated at the vast majority of other American campuses.

While it may be granted that the administration has a responsibility to keep peace and that peace is desirable, our scale of values might be examined to see if by gaining that peace we are not sacrificing an even more desirable value. Of course students can't be given complete freedom by an administration, nor should they be. And there's nothing particularly wrong with being passive, conservative, and conventional, so long as the decision to be so is that of the students and not of the administration.

For college is the place where young men and women should learn the meaning of responsibility and the meaning of consequences. This is where we should learn how and why we pick our political leaders; this is where we should learn whether or not we think people should wear beards and why. This is where we should learn whether or not we sanction pre-marital sex and why.

And if, even after guidance from college authorities, we choose to have a communist for our leader and choose to wear a beard and choose to practice pre-marital sex, then that is our decision, that is our right.

We're no longer school children and we'll soon be citizens. But if school policies continue to keep their students tethered on a rope that only allows them to stray within sight of the deans, we are going to leave college without learning the one thing we should have, had we learned nothing else: how to bear the responsibility of our decisions and actions.

The price of a peaceful, conforming student body at this college or any other, may be higher than society thinks. It may well be the death knell for the type of individual that has made any nation great, the individual who learned through freedom how best to harness that freedom in working toward a better world.

Last week's Maroon & Gold carried a news announcement received from Mr. E. McLaughlin that the swimming pool would be open for recreational swimming each Saturday from 2:00 until 4:00 and on Sunday from 2:00 to 4:00.

Probably as a direct result of this administrative announcement, many of the students on campus this past weekend trudged up to the gym for a refreshing swim on Saturday afternoon. But all it became was a nice hike, for the campus guard could not open the pool without a duly authorized lifeguard present.

This raises one important question: Why was there no lifeguard? Hardly an oversight! Since the lifeguards are student employees, they should be responsible—responsible to their job and responsible to those who have their trust in them. If one of them didn't report as scheduled, let's do something to make sure that it doesn't happen again. After all, this isn't the first time that recreational swimming has been cancelled because a life-guard wasn't there! And on a campus where there is not much else planned for Saturday afternoon, it is little wonder that something like this increases our weekend travelers.

"B" Club members have been busy this week making pompom ribbons to be sold in front of Husky Lounge beginning 8:00 a.m. tomorrow.

Current activities of the "B" Club include volleyball tournaments, to be followed by ping-pong in East and West Halls and the gym. In the future, the club plans events in tennauqoit, archery, basketball and softball. In addition, it will sponsor a dance, fun-night activities, and the annual spring water-ballet.

The Grand Duchy of Luxembourg is offering summer employment in all parts of Europe to American college students. Jobs are varied and wages range up to $400 a month. Non-Fiction Novel

Capote Analyzes Mass-Murder; Motives of the Slayers Probed-

In Cold Blood is the true story of the lives and deaths of six people.

Mr. Cutter was the biggest wheat farmer in the Arkansas River Valley, a happily married man and the father of three daughters and one son. His beloved wife Nancy shared in his success during the previous quarter century and was also to share in his violent death. Nancy and Kenyon were the only two Cutter children who were not married. Talented, intelligent and both in the prime of their youth, they too would suffer and die.

The slayers of the Cutter family were Richard Hickock and Perry Smith. Paroled from prison and in search of money, they would soon sulk into the little village of Holcomb and make criminal history. Al Dewey would make history also, for he was the man who searched for the killers and after five long years had the satisfaction of watching them hang for their crime.

Truman Capote in this non-fiction novel gives us a first-hand account of the incidents surrounding the Cutter murder mystery. Individual sketches of all persons involved along with an expose of how the criminal mind functions proved to be by far the highlights of this book. The author allows us to follow the development of the story, the motive, murder, capture and execution of the murderers, giving us the personal feelings of the hunted as well as the hunter with an unbiased attitude. Perhaps this book is not quite the literary innovation that it is made out to be, but one cannot deny the merit of Mr. Capote's workmanship.

The Last Ten Years:

The Days of Festivities and Frolic Pass Too Swiftly Over Homecoming Weekend

CONTEMPLATIONS & REFLECTIONS

by Richie Benyo and Toni Matulis

This weekend marks the 39th Annual Homecoming at BSC. In the space of ten years this event has undergone many alterations: 1957

There was a room-judging of female residences on Thursday evening; a bonfire and pep rally Friday night, as well as a parade with floats, led by the Maroon & Gold band; a band concert Saturday morning at 10:30, and a football game with Shippensburg, followed by a dance at the gym—music by Gerry Kehle.

A pep rally was featured in the parking lot at 7:30, followed by a jazz concert in the Husky featuring Joe Menarchi; Saturday there was a luncheon and open house in the morning, a parade and football game with Mansfield at Mount Olympus, with Johnny Nicolosi playing at the dance in the gym.

1959

Friday night saw a parade, pep rally, bonfire, and a jam session in Husky; Saturday there was a band concert and the dedication of Sutliff Hall, followed by football with East Stroudsburg, and a dance.

1960

The football game was the highlight of the weekend, as BSC defeated Mansfield in a real thriller, 27-21. The Four Freshmen were featured that Friday.

1961

Count Basie was featured as the BNE Friday night; Saturday saw a parade and football with ESSC, followed by a dance in the gym—admission: $1.00.

1962

Woody Herman provided BNE, Millersville provided the game, and the "Esquires" from Mansfield provided the music for the dance Saturday night.

1963

The American Hootenanny Festival initiated the Homecoming on Friday evening in the gym; noon on Saturday saw the annual parade, but unfortunately, the afternoon also witnessed the Huskies being downed by the heels of West Chester. For the second year in a row, the "Esquires" of Mansfield State provided music Saturday evening.

1964

Homecoming was highlighted by the President's Reception on Wednesday evening in celebration of BSC's 125th Anniversary; Friday night BNE presented the Brothers Four; and Saturday saw BSC go against Millersville in football, and King's in cross-country, winning both contests, 20-6 and 16-39 respectively; that evening there was the customary dance in the gym.

Letters

Dear Sir:

I confess that I did not know what to think upon reading Contemplations and Reflections last week. As a member of Beta Sigma Delta I would like to first apologize to the authors for the fact that we do not have $50,000 in our treasury with which to build a frat house. I'm sorry that we would not like to be able to find Beta Sigma Delta members at UCLA, the U. of Hawaii, or anywhere else, even if we could have national affiliations. As for hazing, I'm sorry to report that the infirmary will not be filled with Beta Sigma Delta pledges during our initiation period.

What is a social fraternity? To my way of thinking, a social fraternity is a vehicle whereby men of like interests can get together and share meaningful social experiences. The authors of the column may feel that having a frat house, hazing, and national affiliations are necessary to have a social fraternity, but we of Beta Sigma Delta do not agree. I agree with the columnists in that social fraternities may still have a long row to hoe, but I am mature enough, I hope, to realize that real progress has been made. We who are in social fraternities are, on the whole, satisfied with the existing policy. Beta Sigma Delta is appreciative of the pioneer work done by the brothers of Sigma Iota Omega, and we hope to follow in their footsteps. If the fraternities themselves are satisfied, then why can't the rest of the campus join us in being appreciative of what has been done. Progress must come slowly, and I once again assert that a big step has been made.

In closing, I once again apologize to Mr. Benyo and Miss Matulis for not fulfilling their expectations. I can only say that, being Number Two, Beta Sigma Delta promises to try harder.

Sincerely yours,

William J. Howells

ery song. Their ability to communicate an enthusiasm for the songs of the world in such highly entertaining arrangements, is the foundation of their success.

The Highwaymen

The group consists of Alan Shaw, Renny Temple, Mose Henry, and Ray Connors. Alan Shaw is a graduate of Brooklyn College, with a B.A. degree in Speech and Theatre. He has appeared in over 15 summer stock productions and is a veteran of the off-Broadway stage and television dramas. Alan is an outstanding pianist, violinist, and guitarist.

Versatile Instrumentation

Renny Temple attended the University of Florida, where he met Mose Henry. Renny is the master of the 6 and 12 string guitar and banjo. Mose Henry plays 15 different instruments: percussion, strings, wind instruments, and is a prolific writer and arranger. He worked to help pay his way through college in a rock 'n roll group called "Moses and the Prophets." It was at this time that he met Renny Temple and they put together their first folk group "The Balladeers," which later became "The Vikings Three."

Ray Connors attended the University of Miami where he majored in music. Ray also joined "The Vikings Three." This group has appeared in Carnegie Hall and clubs across the country and Canada. Ray is an accomplished musician on 5 string banjo, 6 string guitar (the only one of its kind), bass, the 12 string guitar, conba drums, bongo drums, and tenor banjo.

Michael

These young men under the musical direction of David Fisher together with manager Ken Greengrass later adopted the name The Highwaymen, and became known overnight with their very first recording "Michael," an original version of an old spiritual, which sold over 1,000,000 copies.

Husky Harriers Beat MSC 27-28

Irwin Zablocky, BSC's ace distance runner, led the Husky Harriers to their first victory in two seasons over the visiting Marauders from Millersville State College last Saturday. The final tally showed BSC victorious by a score of 27-28. Irwin's time for the 4.7 mile course was 28:53; he was supported in the victory by Dick Yost, who placed third, Chuck Bowman sixth, Richie Benyo seventh, and Jim Gauger in tenth. Paul Rhoads of Millersville placed second.

Freshmen Win

A freshman meet was run simultaneously with that of the varsity. The harrier pups remained unbeaten by pulling a 22-34 win. Charlie Moyer finished first for the Huskies with a time of 29:05. He was supported by very strong striding by ace frosh runners Frank Reilly and Dave Smithers, who promise to be valuable members of next year's varsity nucleus, according to Coach Jack Jones, who views the meet last week as the push the team needed for the remainder of the season.

College Bowlers Led By Wunder

The College Bowling League concluded its third week, with the scores below average. Although the scores were low, the matches were fairly close.

High Series

The high series for the week included 540 by D. Wunder, 531 by Carl Nauroth, 527 by Bill Harris, 517 by Dave Waltman, and 505 by Gordon Sivell. High single games consisted of a 203 by D. Wunder and a 200 by Wayne Laubach.

After this past week's action, the Turks, captained by Ralph Bahla-vooni, were in first place having won 10 points while losing only two points.

Joe Gerst seen turning end in run against West Chester. The Huskies lost, 41-21.

Huskies Fall to WCSC 41-21; Lichtel Passes For BSC Td's

Coach Houk's BSC Huskies traveled to West Chester and were handed a 41-21 loss despite an outstanding effort on their part. Playing before a crowd of 6,000, many of whom were BSC students, the Huskies were outdistanced in the high-scoring battle.

Early in the game the Rams drew first blood on a 43-yard pass from Haymie to Nye. Their PAT attempt was good, making the score 7-0. The Huskies came right back, however, with a 7 yard pass from Rich Lichtel to Bob Tucker capping a sustained drive. Bruce Long kicked the PAT tying the score at 7-7.

Two More TD's

West Chester scored two more TD's in the second quarter on a 35-yard pass reception by Miles and a 16-yard run by Derrickson. Both PAT attempts were good and West Chester led at the half 21-7.

Coming back early in the third quarter West Chester's Grove scored on a 1 yard run. The PAT was again good making the score 28-7. Then it was the Huskies turn as Rich Lichtel hit Stan Kucharski with a pass for 29 yards and a TD. Bruce Long kicked his second extra point of the night making the score 28-14.

West Chester scored again on a 2 yard plunge by Derrickson and a successful PAT kick to make the score 35-14 in favor of West Chester.

BSC Scores Again

BSC's final score came on a 30 yard pass as Lichtel hit Stan Kucharski for his second TD of the night. The PAT was successful making the score 35-21.

West Chester was destined to score again on a 7 yard run by Miles, but the PAT this time was wide of its mark putting the Rams out in front 41-21.

The Huskies couldn't score again, though driving to the Ram 1 yard line late in the fourth quarter.

Injuries Hurt BSC

Late in the game Rich Lichtel suffered a dislocation of his left elbow and Bernie Shaffer, a severely sprained ankle. Lichtel will be out of action for an indefinite period while Shaffer doesn't seem to be a likely starter in BSC's Homecoming game with Millersville. How damaging the loss of these two key men will be, remains to be seen. Lichtel's able back-up man John Ferrelley will take over the reins as quarterback to help ease the situation.

SPORTS FIGURES Of the Week

By Norm Jones

This week's sports figure, Bernie Schaefer, lays claim to being one of the real "unsung heroes" of the Husky football team. Playing offensive center is one of the most demanding jobs on any team and BSC's number 52 is one of the best.

Bernie comes from Seaford, New York where he was an outstanding high school athlete, winning six varsity letters. Carrying on here at BSC, he is one of the team's tri-captains and, of course, a letterman and member of the varsity club.

Aside from his athletic interests, Bernie is President of the Men's Resident Association, Historian of SIO, and is a Counselor in Waller Hall.

Late in the West Chester game he suffered a severely sprained ankle. He expects, however, to see action in the Homecoming Game against Millersville.

Husky Freshmen Score First Win

The BSC Husky freshmen football team handed the frosh of Shippensburg State a 7-0 loss at a game held at Shippensburg. The win was the first of the season for the Husky pups and gives them a 1-1 record.

Led by a defense that didn't allow a single first down during the entire game, the Huskies were able to turn a single TD into a victory. That score came when Paul Goida passed 21 yards to end Lamar Beinhower waiting in the Red Raiders end zone. The PAT attempt was good making the score 7-0.

All afternoon the Huskies had their hosts with their backs against the wall but each time the BSC drives fell short by only a few yards. Shippensburg, on the other hand, was completely at the mercy of the Husky defense and was only able to cross into BSC territory once.

with them. I have seldom witnessed the enthusiastic applause given both groups at the end of the "English in Context" program and at the entertainment provided by the Madrigal Singers at the annual luncheon. I hope that the Bloomsburg community will have the opportunity to enjoy the performances in the near future. I especially wish to thank and congratulate Mr. Decker and Mr. McHale for their work with the students.

Soccer Highlights BSC Intramurals

This year's intramural season started with soccer taking the opening role. The games to date have been not only interesting and exciting, but also hard fought. This is the first year for soccer at BSC, and the interest is very high. The attendance at the games has been very good. Highlighting the soccer matches was a personal appearance by Bob Richards. The Intramural Handbooks which contain all the rules and regulations for the intramural season have been distributed to the team captains. Intramurals are a big thing (!) but to be a success we need the support of all the men at BSC.

Newman Announces New Evening Hours

Evening hours for the Newman Center will begin on October 25. These hours will be Tuesday and Thursday 7-10, Saturday 1-5, and Sunday 6-10, according to Father Petrina, chaplain.

Musicians Needed

Father Petrina also stated that there is a need for choir members and musicians for the two student Masses on Sundays. Interested students are asked to contact Father Petrina during Newman hours or to call Kay Kendall, 784-3796.

The Newman Convention for the Diocese of Harrisburg will be held this year at Millersville on November 6. Additional information is available at the Newman Center or by contacting Judy Defant, 784-9811.

President Rocco Gentile and the Newman Officers will conduct tours through the Newman Center after the Student Masses on Homecom-

Harvard Changes Application Date For Grad. Study

Harvard's Graduate School of Arts and Sciences has moved its application date for 1967-68 to December 1, 1966. Prof. J. P. Elder, Dean of the graduate school, said the earlier date was necessitated by the recent increased percentage of college students going on to graduate study.

6000 Applications

Dean Elder anticipates some 6,000 applications for the 900-odd places available in the fall of 1967. The earlier date will give applicants a fairer deal, and will not find filing early a handicap. Interested students may write to Harvard University, Graduate School of Arts and Sciences, Admissions Office, 75 Mt. Auburn Street, Cambridge, Mass., 02138.

ing Sunday. Everyone is urged to attend this Open House.

Forensic Society Plans Busy Year

Mr. Erich Frohman, new varsity debating coach, was introduced at the first meeting of the Forensic Society by Dr. Melville Hopkins, Chairman of the Speech Department. He also introduced Miss Barbara Lowe, novice debating coach, and welcomed new and returning members.

The novice team had its first tournament recently at Lehigh University. Lehigh sponsors this annual tournament as a testing event for beginning debaters. Novices attending from BSC were Bruce Bachart, Karl Kramer, Marshall Mehring, Elaine Onuseback, Donna Wagner and Michael Weinberg. Accompanying the team were Mr. Frohman and Miss Janice Youse in place of Miss Lowe.

The first varsity debaters will meet LaSalle College, next Saturday. Other debates will be at Susquehanna University, University of Pennsylvania and possibly Rutgers and NYCC.

Professors Martin Gildea and Charles Jackson of the Social Studies Department discussed the current debate topic with the Forensic Society. The topic for 1966-67 is "Resolved: That the United States should substantially reduce its foreign policy commitments."

The Maroon and Gold Concert Band has begun rehearsals, in room 42 Science Hall at 4:00 p.m. Rehearsals will be held on Mondays and Wednesdays during the football season.

Instruments are available to students who can play. Any student with prior musical experience is invited to join.

If interested, place a note in Mr. Miller's post office box with your name, the instrument you play, and your post office box number.

Political Notes

by Terry Carver

Last week there were two major developments which may have a decisive effect upon the gubernatorial election: the presence of the Constitutional Party on the ballot and the Shafer-Shapp debate.

The effect of the Constitutional Party being on the ballot is difficult to determine exactly, but one thing is certain: it will benefit Milton Shapp. While Mr. Swartz, the Constitutional Party candidate for governor, has no chance of winning, he may draw up to 120,000 votes away from Mr. Shafer. The Constitutional Party is composed chiefly of old-line conservative Republicans who are disenchanted with the liberal Republicans. Unlike liberals, they tend to vote even if they dislike their regular party candidate. Without the candidacy of Mr. Swartz, they would have been forced to vote for Shafer (since to them, Shafer was the lesser of two evils).

Neither candidate struck a death blow to his opponent in last week's debate. No new issues were presented either, tending to make it unexciting to the general public. Mr. Shafer's speeches were simplified, easy to understand whereas Shapp's were overloaded with statistics. Mr. Shapp however, compensated for this with his warmth and sincerity.

While the Philadelphia Inquirer and the Republican Party insist that Shafer "won" the debate, I believe it helped Shapp's candidacy considerably. The reaction to the debate seemed to cut directly across party lines, i.e. Republicans generally thought Shafer presented the better image, while Democrats believed Mr. Shapp outclassed his opponent. Neither did Mr. Shapp appear as ridiculous as the Republicans portrayed earlier. If this thesis is correct, Mr. Shapp probably has drawn several Democrats who originally were going to vote for Mr. Shafer back into his column. (According to the latest Bucci poll before the debate, 24% of the registered Democrats intended to vote for Shafer.) The validity of this thesis will be determined in the next poll.

On Saturday Mr. Shafer predicted a victory of 420,000 vote plurality whereas Mr. Shapp predicted a 350,000 vote plurality for himself. Both are incorrect. While it may be impossible at this time to determine the victor, one thing is certain: the outcome will be very close. The latest Bulletin poll shows Shapp behind Shafer by 3 percentage points and closing in on Shafer. It therefore appears as though the plurality of the victor will not exceed 125,000 votes, barring a major disenchantment with one of the candidates.

The Dept. of Health and Physical Education will provide athletic and recreational equipment on a check-out basis to students presenting an I.D. card. Equipment may not be kept out overnight.

Mr. Barry Cobb has been named Instructor of Psychology. He earned his B.A. in psychology at the University of Maine in 1965.

"Pops" Concert New Venture For Choir, May Start Series

Choir Soloists

The BSC Concert Choir will present the first of a series of three concerts of light music to be presented by vocal groups this year on Sunday, Oct. 23, at 8:30 p.m. in Carver Auditorium. This program will be informal and designed strictly for entertainment. Other concerts by the choir generally stress more serious vocal music, but Sunday's music will consist of Broadway show tunes, popular songs, and a group of lively spirituals. Selections sung by the choir include: "Falling in Love With Love," "In the Still of the Night," selections from "The Sound of Music," "It is a Beauteous Evening," "Zaccheus," "Climbin' Up the Mountain" and "There's a City Called Heaven."

Soloists,

Specialty numbers include: "Maria"—Ralph Miller, "As Long as He Needs Me"—Jan Space, "Matchmaker"—Linda Cressman, "Who Can I Turn To"—Jack Wise, "A Boy Like That" from "West Side Story"—Sue Harper and Chris Shaar, and a piano solo by the choir's accompanist, Ann Voight.

Everyone is invited to attend this program. "If this concert is a success, more programs of this type will be planned for the future," commented Mr. William Decker, Director.
