

Soc. Science Colloquium Features National Figures

by Terry Carver
and Lyle Slack

Former U. S. Senator Paul Douglas, U. S. Senator Joseph Clark (D-Pa.), James Farmer of CORE, and Harold Taylor will provide the major impetus for a Social Science Department Colloquium here on April 12 and 13.

"Human Dignity in a Mass Society" will be the general topic of the conference, with Douglas speaking on the role of the federal government in protecting human dignity, Farmer speaking on civil rights and Taylor speaking on the reconstruction of education.

The two-day event will also include a panel discussion among four social science professors from eastern institutions of higher learning. Moderating the panel will be Dr. Hershel Jones, Dean, School of Liberal Arts and Sciences, Williamsport Area Community College.

Participating in the panel will be Dr. Peter Lejins, professor of sociology at the University of Maryland; Dr. Robert Mowitz, professor of political science and director of the Institute of Public Administration at the Pennsylvania State University; Dr. Monroe Beardsley, professor of philosophy at Swarthmore

College; and Dr. Lynn Turgeon, professor of economics at Hofstra University, L.I., New York.

James Farmer

James Farmer, founder and former Director of the Congress on Racial Equality (CORE), will speak in Carver Auditorium Wednesday evening, April 12, at 8 p.m. on "Civil Rights: Where We Stand Today."

Farmer served as Race Relations Secretary for the Fellowship of Reconciliation from 1941 to 1945, as student secretary for the League for Industrial Democracy in the early 1950's, and later as program director for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) before he became director of CORE in 1961.

Farmer resigned the CORE position in 1966 to head a national literary program under the sponsorship of the Center for Community Action Education, a private non-profit agency.

He has been active in leading civil rights demonstrations, has worked both in newspapers and radio, and has published his first book this year, Freedom—When?. Farmer is a graduate of Wiley College and Howard University, receiving his Doctor of Humanities Degree from Morgan State College.

The grandson of a slave, he is a reformer applying to the struggle for racial equality in America the techniques of non-violence and passive resistance that Gandhi used so successfully in India.

Dr. Harold Taylor

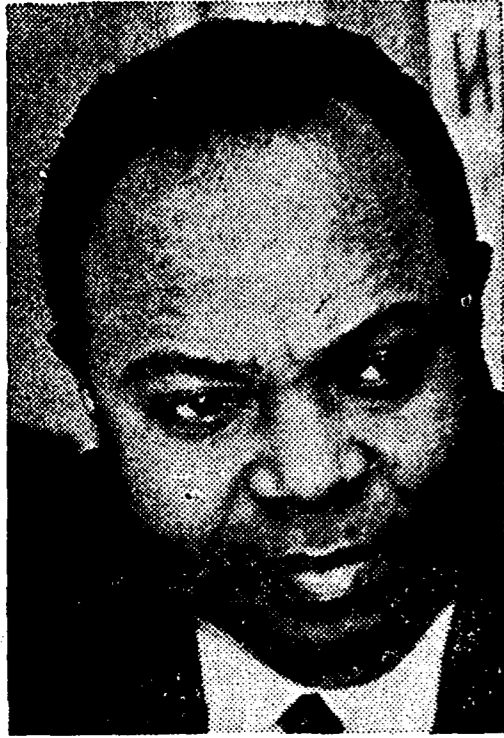

Dr. Harold Taylor, former President of Sarah Lawrence College and Chairman of the National Research Council on Peace Strategy, will speak in Carver Auditorium Thursday afternoon, April 13. He will speak on "The Reconstruction of Education."

Harold Taylor first came to national prominence in 1945 when, at the age of 30, he left his post as a member of the philosophy department of the University of Wisconsin to become president of Sarah Lawrence College, a position he occupied for the next fourteen years.

He is the author of more than two-hundred articles in books and journals of philosophy and education, has lectured extensively in major universities of this country and has recently returned from a State Department sponsored tour to the universities of Greece, Turkey, and Iran.

He has worked in educational experiment through projects ranging from the organization of a Peace

A total of 557 votes were cast.

Congratulations to the newly elected officers.

... BULLETIN ...

In a special meeting on Tuesday evening, College Council voted to contract "Jay and the Americans" in cooperation with the MRA for a BNE presentation on May 14. More details next week.

Discipline Committee Meets With Proctors and JRA's

Student discipline at BSC was the topic of a recent meeting which included representatives of the Junior Resident Advisers (Carol Ritter, Susan Shepherd, and Mary Ann Kaminski), the Proctors (Joseph Cortese, Ray Buckno, and John Horishny), and the Discipline Committee (Dean Ellamae Jackson, Miss Mary Macdonald, Mr. John Scrimgeour, and Dean Paul Riegel. Dean Elton Hunsinger was off campus at the time of the meeting). Among the matters discussed were difficulties in communication, the right of the student to privacy and confidentiality, the roles of the Discipline Committee and the Proctors and Junior Resident Advisers in student discipline cases, the need for understanding of terms used in student discipline cases, committee attempts to insure student understanding of college policies and state law, consistency in disciplinary decisions, and plans for the future.

Student representatives indicated that disciplinary decisions were often misunderstood and the occasion for inaccurate rumors. It was decided that the files of official actions of the Discipline Committee in the Office of the Dean of Students are to be made available to Proctors and Junior Resident Advisers so that they will be in a position to answer questions raised by members of the student body. The publication of accounts of disciplinary cases in the Maroon and Gold was considered a possibility, but was rejected on the grounds that this would be an infringement on the rights of privacy and confidentiality of the students involved.

The present structure and functions of the five-member collegewide Discipline Committee were discussed, and student Proctors and Junior Resident Advisers were invited to heighten their participation in the activities of the Discipline Committee through the submission of reports and recommendations to the Committee and through continuing dialogue with the Committee.

Terms used by the Discipline Committee were outlined and reviewed by those present at the meeting. It was explained that a suspension from the college may be for a specified period of time (three weeks, for example) or for an indefinite period of time (requests for reinstatement in such cases must be directed to the Admissions Committee). Students who are suspended from the college are required to refrain from visiting the

Big Opportunity for BSC

The College Community will have the opportunity to hear several national figures in the areas of civil rights, education, and social legislation as they participate in a colloquium being sponsored by the Social Sciences Department.

The opportunity to hear Mr. Farmer, Dr. Taylor, Senator Clark, and former Senator Douglas, among others, all within a period of two days, should not be passed up by anyone.

Members of the social sciences committee in charge of the planning, headed by Dr. Wilfred Saint, are to be commended for their effort in bringing such an outstanding program to the BSC campus.

Although it is difficult to conceive, we hope this committee will not be embarrassed with small audiences to hear the speakers.

Dr. Saint has indicated that this could become an annual event if this first colloquium is successful.

We hope the program meets with outstanding success and that it will grow even bigger in the years to come.

... Letters To The Editor ...

Dear Editor:

After a long hard campaign, the elections drew to a close at 4 p.m. on Tuesday, March 22. When the results were finally posted, there were many joy-filled faces and about the same number of sad ones. Those people who worked so unselfishly for their candidates all deserve a note of thanks. I would especially like to thank those students who had enough faith in me to give me the opportunity of serving this college as President of YOUR College Council. I would hope that the entire campus can get together to form an energetic, well-organized, and most of all, well-educated Community Government Association. To further this desire, I will continue to write an article for each week's paper explaining new developments in YOUR CGA in terms of basic student understanding. One cannot constructively criticize existing policies without first having a knowledgeable background. For the next issue of the M&G I am preparing a pie graph to illustrate just exactly how your $50 activity fee is being spent, along with some specific state and college policies that have been employed in drawing up the final budget.

Again, I would like to thank all those students who took enough interest in this college to make their opinions count. — John Ondish

Dear Editor:

Congratulations on a job well done in promoting and executing the Bloodmobile on Thursday, March 16. You, your committee, the various service organizations and the many donors, both students, faculty, non-teaching personnel and walk-ins from the town are deserving of the most sincere appreciation for their efforts and their blood contributions in helping the Bloomsburg Area remain in Priority I of the blood program.

Few persons realize that being in Priority I means that any student or resident of the Bloomsburg Area, in the event of an emergency, may receive as much free blood as may be required, regardless of whether or not such student or resident has ever contributed to the blood program. There are undoubtedly many in this area who owe their very lives to blood contributions at our campus bloodmobiles. We trust that as a matter of conscience more Bloomsburg Area residents will respond to the call for blood donations and that they will be inspired by the unselfish example set for them by our own students, faculty, and non-teaching personnel. — George G. Stradtman

To Everyone,

May I offer my deepest thanks to our administration, faculty, and staff for their sincere and spontaneous help in the planning and fulfillment of our Pennsylvania Collegiate Choral Festival. Without the cooperation of so many people an undertaking as large as this is impossible.

However, the greatest praise must be reserved for the BSC students for their courteous consideration of our 110 guests. I believe every student and every director in the festival made a point to express amazement at the gracious manner in which our entire student body hosted the visiting colleges. It seems that Bloomsburg State College knows how to welcome guests and give them the opportunity to work in a pleasant atmosphere. I am very proud that you added so much to the musical and educational values of our festival.

Many Thanks,
William Decker

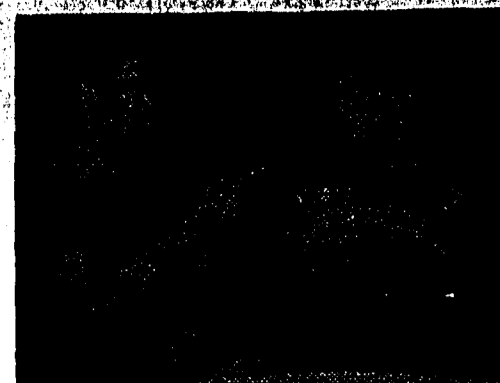

Keyboard Instruction

The music department will offer a course in keyboard instruction for beginners during the post-session. The course is primarily for elementary majors with an area in music. Twelve electronic pianos ordered for the class will be located in the new auditorium. By using earphones, microphones, and amplifiers, the instructor can work with an individual student or several at a time. This course will be offered again in the fall. A course for advanced students will be offered later.

Probably one of the most interesting exhibits of the Fair is HABITAT 67, a complex of individual homes floating free in a modern adaptation of the Hanging Gardens of Babylon. Designed by 28-year-old Moshe Safdie, it embodies a new approach to multiple housing. This is a visitor's must!

by richie benyo

Due to lots-en-lots a-stuff lying around here that should be in this issue, on this page, but which cannot because of many and sundry mundane commitments of policy (and pursestrings) be printed in their entirety, (in all humility to our worthy contributors) have incorporated them herein:

EXPOUND ON EXPO

Having had the opportunity to visit the site of EXPO'67 in Montreal over Easter vacation, we are presenting the first in a series of weekly features on various pavilions elsewhere on this page.

MOVIES ARE MADE OF THESE

Movies are sort-a kool. While in Montreal I saw a French film (award-winning, no less) called A Man and a Woman; see it! Also saw the preview screening of Way Out at the Columbia Theater last week with some pleasant company—it is a chronicle of drug addicts—most interesting. Larry Phillips saw Night of the Generals and reports that generally speaking the movie was very much "artificial." Mmmm.

ONE HUNDRED TEN

It's phenomenal what a good director can do with an oversized cast and an under-sized stage—sort of what a frustrated editor can do with an full-sized collection of material on a much-staffed page. Congrats Players on a good job. For more space . . .

MUCHLY NEEDED SPACE

Before I really run into the hole with space this week, thanx is due to the officials at EXPO'67 and to the hospitality of certain Canadians. Till then—

Joe Gerst Wins NAIA Mat Title

Five Huskies Sent To NCAA Mat Meet

After claiming a third place team ranking in the NAIA tournament, Coach Houk took five wrestlers to the NCAA tournament at Kent State. Grant Stevens (115), Wayne Heim (123), Steve Peters (137), NAIA champ Joe Gerst (152), and Dave Grady (187) represented BSC.

Tough Competition

Finding tough going in the preliminaries, Stevens, Peters, Grady, and Heim lost their first match. Gerst won, however, over his Oklahoma State opponent and proceeded to his second preliminary where he beat Bowling Green's 152 lb. entrant.

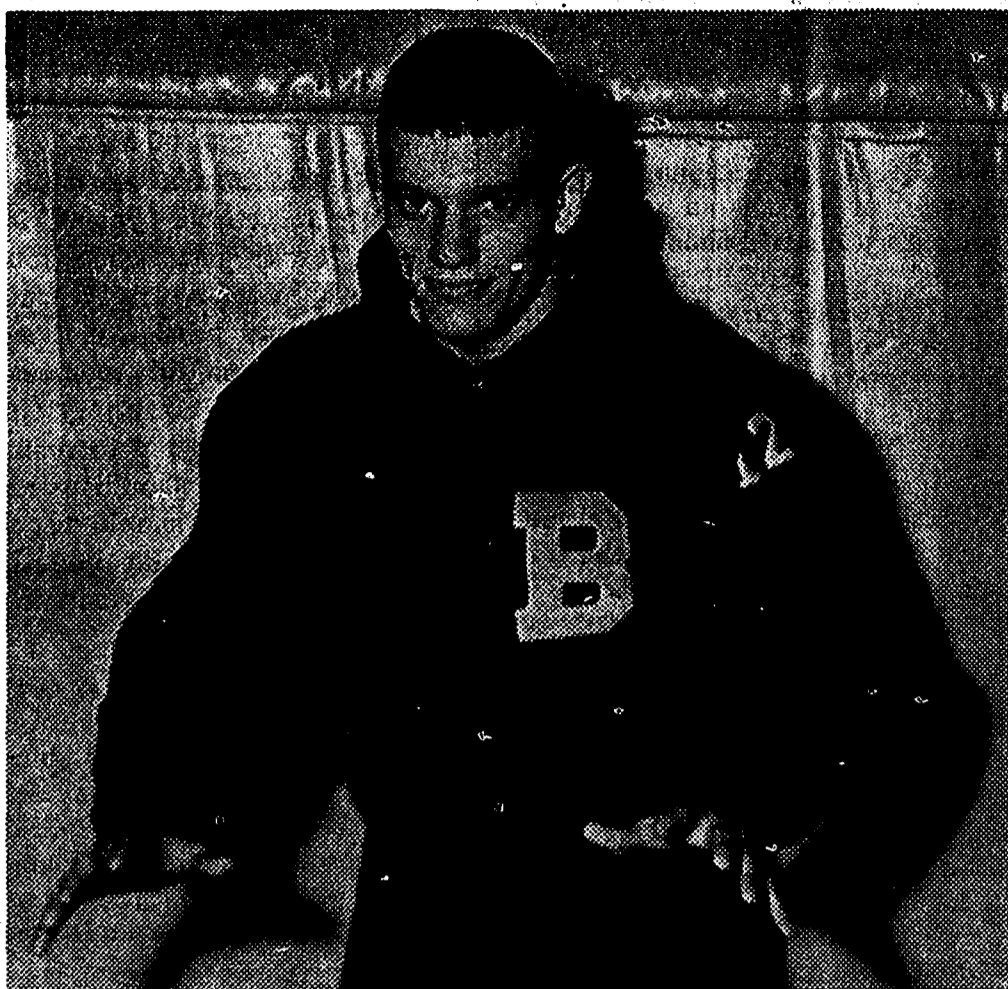

Going into the first rounds, he again won over a Colorado man to advance to the quarter finals. Running into trouble, Gerst was pinned by W. Wells of Oklahoma. He later lost to a Toledo wrestler in the consolation but was rated among the top eight wrestlers in his class at the tournament.

Bright Future

Looking forward to next season, four of the five who journeyed to Kent State will be back. Only Grant Stevens will graduate, leaving Gerst and Peters as seniors and Grady and Heim as juniors in the 1967-68 all indications of an excellent future.

Alter's Team Gains Revenge On Lanes

A long-standing thirst for revenge was quenched Wednesday afternoon, March 22, when Ben Alter's faculty bowling team soundly defeated the Craig Himes' quintet at Bloom Bowl, the losers' home lanes. Alter was high for the victors with games of 211, 157, and 199 for a 567 total. Lavere McClure led the vanquished with a 502 total. He posted games of 157, 189, and 156. Following the match the Himes men furnished refreshments for the winners. This evens out the faculty bowling competition at one win each. A deciding third match is contemplated for late May on neutral lanes.

NATIONAL CHAMP JOE GERST

What does it take to be a national champion? In the case of Joe Gerst, newly crowned 152 lb. NAIA (National Association of Intercollegiate Athletes) wrestling champion, it's ability plus a great amount of determination and aggressiveness. Gerst was crowned the top 152 lb. wrestler in the national tourney held at Lock Haven in which 268 wrestlers from 67 colleges throughout the country participated.

Aggressive Athlete

Anyone who has observed Gerst on the mat since his arrival on the BSC campus in September, 1964, knows that from the opening whistle he's going to get his money's worth. It's not necessary for the fans to shout, "Shoot, Joe, shoot!" Joe usually starts the activity off with a bang and continues pressing throughout the match. This was the case Saturday night when he upset Lock Haven's Klingaman in the final match before 3,000 partisan Lock Haven fans.

Gerst was a good athlete when he attended Danville High School from 1960-64. He was a district wrestling champion and played football with two greats — Jack Curry, Penn State, and Bob Marks, Bucknell. He always displayed a tremendous effort and desire to win. Coach Russ Houk recognized this wonderful asset in Joe while he was still at Danville and decided he wanted him to come to BSC if at all possible.

Football Player

In his first year at Bloomsburg, Gerst was one of the best freshmen halfbacks in the Pennsylvania State College Conference and was a member of the undefeated BSC frosh wrestling team. To date, he has participated in these two sports in his three years at the college and has also donned a track uniform to help the Huskies' cause in the sprints. Not big, but wiry and tough, is the way Houk describes his national champion. "I wish I had a dozen more like him," he stated.

Joe has one more year of competition in football and wrestling and two seasons in track before receiving his sheepskin. It is everyone's bet that he will have his best year on the gridiron next fall and will be aiming to repeat as a national wrestling champion.

This is good news for the BSC rooters, and for an additional shot in the arm, another Gerst, younger brother Terry, entered the college as a freshman this January.

College Tennis Team Hopes to Score First Winning Season Since 1941 Effort

The 1967 tennis team, coached by Mr. Jack Jones, is doing its best to bring the first winning season since 1941 to Bloomsburg. With the best attitude in the past decade and early practice, since January, the team is anxious for warmer weather so it can practice outside. One problem will be in getting courts as not many are available.

The team, co-captained, by Frank "Skip" Rischell and Ed "Leftie" Dietrich, want to break last year's 3-6 record. Senior Bill Gering, Junior Bob Zalonis, and last year's outstanding Freshman, Ron Dietrich will be counted on heavily this season.

Their first match is April 8 with Cheyney.

Frosh Prepare

The Junior Varsity team under the direction of Mr. James Lauffer starts its hard season with Millersville State, April 15.

Eight eager boys are working hard for starting berths in their season of two games each with Millersville, East Stroudsburg, and Bucknell.

Three of the outstanding Freshmen are Allen Marrella, (captain), Art Worley, (co-captain), and Tom Clewell (co-captain). Other members are Ed Barrett, Doyle Klingler, Jim Mehain, and David Hess.

SUCCESSFUL DANCE

The age-old jinx is broken — the social endeavor, the Freshman Mixer with Lycoming College freshmen, sponsored by the Class of '70, was financially successful. About 400 tickets were sold yielding a gross profit of $100. Jeff Prose, class president stated, "I would like to thank all those responsible for the success of the dance and also to thank the Freshman class for their support of this project."

All 11 o'clock classes on Saturday, April 29, 1967—Alumni Day—have been cancelled. The cancellation of classes at that hour will make it possible for students to finish their noon meal before 12 p.m. and to insure an adequate supply of waitresses to prepare tables and serve alumni during the Annual Alumni Luncheon.

McHale Releases Cast For Moliere's "Tartuffe"

The cast for the forthcoming Bloomsburg Players production of Moliere's famous French comedy "Tartuffe" has been announced by Mr. Michael McHale of the Speech department. This seventeenth century satire will initiate the Fifth annual Spring Arts Festival. Production dates are April 20 at 8:15, April 21 at 2:30 and April 22 at 8:15. The Players and the Festival committee have arranged the special matinee on Friday for all of the area schools. The Spring Arts Festival has become so popular with the college students and townspeople of this area that the committee has set aside a special performance to handle the anticipated crowds in Carver auditorium. Cast and Stage Crew

Featured in the cast are Russell Walsh, Larry Remley, Tom Kearns, Skip Bracken, Stephen Johnson, David Boyd, Joe Aufiery, Carole DeWald, Carole Murphy, Phyllis Meeker, Pat Robbins, and Stephanie Rossman. Mr. James McCubbin is set designer and technical director. Brian McLernan is stage manager, and Sharon Bergeron is serving as his assistant.

Text By Richard Wilbur

The text for the play is a translation from the French by Mr.

Richard Wilbur who will be lecturing on Saturday, April 29 in conjunction with the Spring Arts Festival.

Tickets may be obtained by stopping in the Players' office in Waller Hall after April 12. All seats for this play will be reserved.

Radio Programs

Campus news will be broadcast over WHLM radio Sunday through Thursday evenings at 7:35 p.m. If your organization has any announcements, such as meeting times, social events, or service events, please submit them at least a day in advance to Bill Tomlinson, Box 451; Charles Miskar, Box 446; or Donald Ulrich, Box 705.

Field Service

Freshmen who have not already procured application forms for their September Field Experience may pick them up at the Field Services Office, Monday through Friday 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. The Field Services Office is located in Navy Hall—first door to the right, immediately inside the main entrance.

Students Should Act Now To Secure Aid

Spring is here, and "for those who need financial aid for the summer session or next year, the time to start planning is now," according to John Scrimgeour, director of Financial Aid. Students are reminded that applications for employment or aid should be on file before they leave school in May. Parents' Confidential Statements, which are necessary for National Defense Loans, Educational Opportunity Grants, Alumni Loans, and PHEAA Group III Awards, are not valid if they have been on file for more than a year. New PCS forms, application forms, and financial aid brochures are available in the Financial Aid Office, Carver Hall.

Summer Loans

For the summer sessions, it is anticipated that most of the student employment opportunities will be under the Federal Work-Study Program. There is plenty of time to file a PCS and be cleared for summer employment by the end of this semester. A few positions are expected to be available under both the State Student Employment Program and the State Civil Service Program.

National Defense Loans requests will be accepted after the published deadline of April 1, since some students have learned since that time that summer school will be necessary for them.

Announcements

Men's Housing

Several pertinent items concerning men's housing have been brought to light by the office of the Dean of Men.

First, the men's dormitory drawing to choose rooms on campus for the next school year will be held on April 13. Only those students presently living on campus are eligible to choose rooms. All other dormitory students will be assigned to rooms at a later date. It should be noted that all men should check their mail boxes and bulletin boards for further information.

Summer School Housing

Second, applications for summer housing on campus are available at the Dean of Men's Office. During the summer sessions all students must either commute from their own homes or live on-campus. There is no category such as off-campus residents.

Dorm Rooms

Finally, anyone who is not presently living in an on-campus dormitory and who wishes to live on campus next year must have his name placed on the priority list which is kept in the Dean of Men's office. Invitations are sent out on a first-come, first-served basis.

Men's Smoker

The Men's Smoker will be held Thursday, April 13 from 7-9 p.m. in Carver Hall. After the Smoker refreshments will be served in the Commons.

Car Wash

The BSC Circle K Club will have a car wash (weather permitting) on Saturday, April 8 at Bodnar's Firestone Store, Market Street Shopping Center, Bloomsburg. The hours will be 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. and the price will be $1.00 per car.

Counselors Needed

Male counselors are wanted for crippled children's camps in Pennsylvania from June 21 to August 27. Salary, room, board, and laundry are provided. For further details contact Director of Recreation and Camping, Pennsylvania Society for Crippled Children and Adults, 1107 N. Front Street, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, P.O. Box 290.

Research Institute in Washington, D.C. where the problems of disarmament and world peace could be studied in practical terms, to a pilot project for a world college which he conducted in collaboration with twenty-two United Nations countries during the summer of 1963.

His most recent assignment in the field of human rights was as consultant to Adlai Stevenson in developing a human rights program for the use of the Eleanor Roosevelt Memorial Foundation in carrying on Mrs. Roosevelt's work in human welfare.

Senator Joseph Clark

United States Senator Joseph Clark (D. Pa.), a leading dove in American involvement in the Vietnam War and member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, will be on campus to introduce former U.S. Senator Paul Douglas.

Clark is a leading critic of the administration's Vietnam war policy and is chairman of the Senate subcommittee in charge of the war on poverty. He has recently returned from a diplomatic tour of the Middle East and Europe where he conferred with leaders concerning problems from American aid to Egypt to the weakening NATO.

Clark is a second term Senior Senator from Pennsylvania, having been elected in 1956 after a term as Mayor of Philadelphia. Previously he had served a term as City Comptroller of Philadelphia and one year as Deputy Attorney General of the Commonwealth.

The 66-year-old lawyer is a graduate of Harvard University and of the University of Pennsylvania.

Senator Paul Douglas

It is indeed appropriate that a colloquium entitled, "Human Dignity in a Mass Society," should be concluded by such a man of rare courage as Senator Paul Douglas. Throughout his seventy-five years, Dr. Douglas has led a valiant crusade for the individual.

His concern for the rights of the consumer led him to help organize the Illinois Consumer and Investors League, which combated the sale of "watered" stocks. During this time he was also a leading proponent of reduction in electric and gas rates for the benefit of the American citizenship.

When the great depression struck the American public, Dr. Douglas reacted by attempting to secure a respectable and responsible life for every family. He therefore formulated the Illinois Old Age Pension Act of 1935 and the Illinois State Unemployment Insurance Act of 1937. From 1933 to 1935 he was a member of the consumers advisory board of the National Recovery Administration. He also helped to draft the Federal Social Security Act of 1935.

Forsaking a promising political career when Pearl Harbor thrust America into World War II, he enlisted as a private in the United States Marines. He was twice wounded in the Pacific at Pelelieu and at Okinawa. For his "heroic achievement in action," he was awarded the Bronze Star.

Following World War II he served in the Senate from 1948 to 1964. Here he once again waged battle for many causes long before they were popular—such as Medicare, Federal Aid to Education, Civil Rights, Highway Beautification, and Tax Reform. Dr. Douglas has authored such bills as the Minimum Wage Act, Area Redevelopment Act and the Economic Development Act.

Seeing that the country could not afford to waste the talents of such a man as Senator Douglas, President Johnson recently appointed him as Chairman of a New National Commission on Urban Problems. Currently he is engaged in studying housing and building codes, land use regulation, tax policies, and low cost housing.

Dr. Douglas has left his imprint upon the pages of history by his remarkable legislation designed to raise the dignity of the individual.

Discipline Committee

campus of BSC or college-approved housing for the duration of their suspension, and are expected to return to their homes until such time as the period of suspension has lapsed. A student placed on disciplinary probation is no longer in good social standing at the college; any violation of college rules or regulations may lead to the immediate suspension of the student. Further, a student on disciplinary probation is not eligible for invitation to membership in campus organizations nor election to any office in any campus organization. Thus far, such disciplinary actions have been taken by the Discipline Committee only after the accused has had a hearing before the Committee.

The Discipline Committee has maintained a file of all cases heard during the 1966-1967 academic year, and has been guided by actions taken in prior cases and by the past disciplinary records of students appearing before the Committee. Second offenders and student violators on disciplinary probation have received stringent disciplinary penalties. A year-end review of disciplinary cases is planned by the Committee.

The student handbook and policy statements from the Office of the Dean of Women, the Office of the Dean of Men, the Office of the Dean of Students, the CGA, other student governing bodies and state law are used as guidelines in the review of disciplinary questions.

Provisions for appeal of Discipline Committee decisions have also recently been established.

Plans for the future include an expanded Discipline Committee (to involve two elected faculty members and two students elected by College Council) and further study of increased student participation in disciplinary actions through duly constituted student governmental bodies.
