BLOOMSBURG STATE COLLEGE

WEDNESDAY, MAY 6, 1970

Special Ed. Department Acquires T.V. System

The Division of Special Education at Bloomsburg State College recently acquired a non-broadcasting television system purchased through a grant awarded by the U.S. Office of Education to the Department of Mental Retardation at the College. The acquisition of this system will greatly add to the flexibility of the teaching program in the Division of Special Education at the College, according to Dr. William Jones, Director.

The use of videotapes will provide means for staff members, student teachers, and cooperating teachers to self-evaluate their teaching skills and demonstration techniques. In addition, this method will permit recording of the student teacher's independent performance in the class for later viewing by cooperating and supervising teachers. It presents the possible recording of classroom problem situations for viewing and discussion in later seminars.

Since the equipment is mobile, it will also be possible for the faculty and students to structure demonstration lessons which may be shown either on or off campus. Not only will it be possible to film complete lessons, but also excerpts dealing with teaching methods and techniques for specific teaching-learning situations.

The Special Education Division uses much equipment of an audiovisual nature. This new equipment now makes it possible to use the instant playback TV for self-instructing situations. The addition of the zoom lens permits photographic access to and magnification of parts which are, in some cases, quite small and inaccessible.

Room L-35 in Andruss Library is equipped with two 27 inch receiver sets thus permitting the showing of clinical observations to approximately 129 students. By using the master antenna, available as part of the Audio-Visual Center services, it is possible to record programs broadcast by commercial stations to be played back at more opportune times.

It is hoped that this equipment may be used in on-going cooperative programs of tape exchange with State and National Instructional Materials Centers, with other state colleges, and also on an intra-college basis with other departments and divisions. It will be possible to extend both audio and visual experiences of clinical situations to a larger population and should be a great help in the program of parent counseling.

The TV equipment will also be utilized in programs such as diagnostic teaching, behavior shaping, and operant training, which are at present emerging of the public school and residential scenes. Educational conferences held on campus or at other locations reasonably close, can be re-

Symposium at Stroudsburg

The social sciences division of East Stroudsburg State College will sponsor an all-day symposium on Saturday, May 9. The theme of this conference is "The Confrontation Over the League of Nations and its Aftermath".

The program will consist of papers to be presented by internationally known scholars and authors. Arthur S. Link of Princeton will serve as chairman of the symposium. Participants will include Warren F. Kheel of the University of Akron, Kurt Wimer of East Stroudsburg State College, Kenneth W. Thompson of the Rockefeller Foundation, James E. Hewes, Jr., of the Department of the Army, Ralph A. Stone of Miami University of Ohio and Selig Adler of the State University of New York at Buffalo.

All students and faculty are invited to attend this program or any part of it. A press conference at 5 p.m. to deal with contemporary problems is open to the public.

Additional reservation blanks and programs may be obtained by writing to Dr. Kurt Wimer, Division of Social Sciences, East Stroudsburg State College, East Stroudsburg, Pennsylvania 18301. The charge for lunch will be $1.50 while the charge for dinner will be $2.75.

In the Special Education Center, Navy Hall, a listing of all advisors in the department of Mental Retardation and their student advisees will be found on the bulletin board near the mail boxes between SPIO and SPII. There will also be sign-up sheets for scheduling your conference with your advisor for planning your Fall schedule. Your program must be worked out before the Advance Scheduling Day, May 13th, 1970.

AAUP Committee 'S'

The AAUP has constructed a committee to study the application of the Joint Statement on Rights, Freedoms and Responsibilities of Students. The committee will gather information as to how the Joint Statement is being put into effect and the extent to which its provisions are being followed.

All students, faculty and administrators are invited to appear before the committee to discuss the Joint Statement. Hearings will be held in the Alumni Room on May 7, from 2 to 3:30 p.m., and on May 12 from 1 to 3 p.m. For more information contact James Lauffer or Richard Micheri.

Lippincott to Speak

Dr. W. T. Lippincott, currently professor of chemistry at the Ohio State University and editor of The Journal of Chemical Education, will address members of the Susquehanna Valley Section of the American Chemical Society and BSC student affiliates tonight, Wednesday, May 6, at 8:00 p.m., in Kuster Lecture Hall. The public is cordially invited to attend his lecture, "Better Ways to Teach Better Chemistry."

Born in Baltimore, Maryland, Dr. Lippincott received his Bachelor of Science degree from Capital University and his Ph. D. from Ohio State. Since 1961 he has been head of the Division of General Chemistry at Ohio State. He was the recipient of the College Teacher Award of the Manufacturing Chemists' Association, of the Distinguished Teaching Award of the College of Arts and Sciences at Ohio State in 1966, and of the Distinguished Alumnus

Applications should state the position they are applying for and their qualifications. Send applications to the Managing Editor, Maroon and Gold, Box 301. The deadline is May 6, 1970.

Two Musical Events To Be Presented

Student Recital

Thursday evening, May 7th, several talented singers and pianists will join forces to present an evening of music in Haas Auditorium, beginning at 8:00 p.m. All are BSC students taking private lessons with members of the music faculty and, although this is the first formal recital to be presented by our music department, all participants are experienced performers who have made previous public solo appearances.

The program will include a wide variety of music from several periods in music history. Keyboard music of the 20th century will be offered by organist Susan Beaver, as well as pianists Nancy Pfeleeger, Mary Sue Petrole, Carl Kishbaugh, and Steve Dugan. Singers will include sopranos Celestine Wrona, Sharon Wenner, and Beth Powlus, as well as baritones Jim Reese and Ben Wagner.

Other participants are mezzo-sopranos Karen Kroll, Marsha Jupina, JoAnn Schlieder, Wanda Greene, and pianists Marilyn Handschuh, Ruth Ann Lashaw, and Joan Gabuzda. The recital is open to all with no admission charge.

Band Concert

On Sunday, May 10, at 8:15 p.m., in Haas Auditorium, the Maroon and Gold Band will present its final campus concert of the current season. The band has presented successful high school assemblies (Northwest, Central, Southern) in recent weeks, as well as a symphonic concert in Haas that began Inauguration Week activities.

The May 10 concert will be a "pop" program featuring a variety of works in several diverse

Fee Payment Begins May 6th

The Community Activities Fee in the amount of $50.00 for the college year 1970-1971 is due in the Community Activities Office, according to the following schedule:

Wednesday, May 6th - All Freshmen

Thursday, May 7th - All Sophomores

Friday, May 8th - All Juniors, and Seniors Graduating in January, 1971st

This fee must be paid on the above dates in order to pre-schedule on May 13th, 1970.

*Seniors graduating in January, 1971, only pay $25.00.

Some of the selections to be presented are: "Flower Drum Song" medley by Rodgers and Hammerstein; "Second Suite" by Jager; "Three Japanese Songs"; "St. Louis Blues March"; a medley of popular songs for the marching band and others.

"The Song of Democracy" by Howard Hanson (to a poetic text by Walt Whitman) will be heard with the combined efforts of the Women's Choral Ensemble and Men's Glee Club. Mr. Richard J. Stanislaw of the Music Department will be the guest conductor for this selection.

The college jazz-dance ensemble, the Studio Band, will also be heard in the appropriate repertoire.

The concert will be open to the college community and the public at no charge.

NTE Exam At BSC

The Office of Institutional Research at Bloomsburg State College has been advised that the college will be listed as a regular Bulletin Center for the National Teacher Examinations on the dates of November 14, 1970, and April 3, 1971, according to Dr. Merritt W. Sanders, Director.

The first time BSC had been used as a Center was January 31, of this year. It is expected that there will be two test dates each college year starting with the 70-71 college year.

The National Teacher Examinations are important for prospective teachers during their senior year since increasing numbers of school districts require them as part of the filing of application for positions. Bloomsburg State has been anxious to have two sessions per year on campus as it will eliminate the necessity for students to travel greater distances for the tests. However, those students wishing to take subject tests in Foreign Languages will still have to go to another Center as Bloomsburg is not equipped to handle the special problem involved with these tests.

Announcement booklets for students and application blanks are expected to be available during the summer sessions at the college in the Office of Institutional Research, Benjamin Franklin building. A student will be permitted to file an application for the November date up until about October 15. Dr. Sanders is available for advising students concerning the National Teacher Examinations. He points out that arrangements can be made for those students who will be student teaching outside of the Bloomsburg area to take these tests at a Center near their student teaching location.

APO's Tom Blackwell

"Things could have been worse . . . it could have rained"

EDITORIAL

"Do you think it's broken," Tom Blackwell said, gesturing toward an ugly, swollen ankle. "No," I replied, its probably just a bad sprain."

Nonetheless, Tom's ankle was broken when he fell (or was pushed) off the main stage at the Bloomsburg Fair grounds, Tom, who coordinated APO's Big Name Concert, was preparing for the "Tommy James and the Shondells" show and, hopefully, thousands of screaming teenies. His mangled ankle was just one of the problems he and his brotherhood had to face. But they put on a terrific concert and deserve lots of congratulations for guts.

Although APO aims its brotherhood at service, Bloomsburg's chapter is as social as any other brotherhood on this campus. The Tommy James Concert is just another example of the good work that can come out of the togetherness created by brotherhood. APO coordinated the concert (which was an $8000 venture) being entirely cognizant of the fact that the ultimate demise could be financial disaster and great hardship for the local brotherhood. They went ahead anyway, working for months, and eventually selling a sizeable number of tickets. It appears that they didn't sell enough, but they will be able to meet their debts. Each brother is donating something like fifteen dollars, to be sure.

Surprisingly, the music wasn't even that bad. The Teardrops, a group from Pittsburgh, were a great warmup for the Shondells. By the end of their set, they had most of the audience standing, dancing and flashing peace symbols. The Shondells were good, but stuck basically to bubblegum music, which really isn't so bad if you think back to when you were younger and thought "I want to hold your hand", was great music. They finished with Neil Young's "Cinnamon Girls", which was played well and is hardly bubble gum. Although the Shondells don't do music I particularly enjoy, the concert was entertainment, and in fact, good entertainment.

APO deserves much credit for this venture. More fraternities should get into big events, using APO as an example. With APO as the innovator, they have allowed other organizations to capitalize on their mistakes. The next organization who tries a large venture may just be financially successful and APO will deserve the credit, APO deserves much credit.

...and while we're talking about good things, vote YES on the referendum.

Letters to the Editor

Referendum

To the Editor of the M&G:

The following statement by President Nossen appears on page three of the minutes of the Faculty Meeting held on April 23. "...this college is also dedicated to the principle of following appropriate procedures and according to everyman his innocence until proved guilty. Be assured that at NO time in our operations, to my KNOWLEDGE, have such procedures been violated, in spite of some (?) charges to the contrary."

Whom in heaven's name does he think he's kidding? Townspeople, Board of Trustees, Faculty, Spiro Agnew?? Very likely. But not any sane person who has been reading the M&G for the last three months.

Letters by Dick Brook, Prof. Primack, dozens of students, and myself have given the President the knowledge that procedures written down in the Joint Statement and the Statement on Continuous Employment have been violated, at last count, around 100 times.

To be very specific, the President knows that the Joint Statement was violated when Norton and Hunsinger suspended the three boys from Shillington without getting a decision from the Executive Council of the Student Affairs Committee as to whether "... the college's interest as an academic community are distinct and clearly involved."

The President knows that a Student Faculty Judiciary with four out of seven members administrators in the employ of Dean Hunsinger (their Department Chairman) is a violation of the poor abused Joint Statement.

The President knows that he himself violated the Joint Statement in questioning the decision of College Council to invite a speaker of their own choosing to the campus this spring. He knows that to put off the speaker's appearance until next fall and surround his appearance with a 11 kinds of conditions is just as much censorship, particularly for seniors, as if he had just said NO.

One could go on and on, in fact 97 times more, but it's pointless because the majority of the Bloomsburg faculty has repeatedly indicated that it doesn't want to be bothered with uncomfortable truths or with having to read the documents on procedures. It's much more comfortable to live in a dream-land filled with fairy tales spun by myth makers. This has to be the whackiest college in the U.S. of A, as Blass pointed out a long time ago, Deake G. Porter

Ed. Note: In regards to his position on a member of the Chicago seven speaking on the campus, Dr. Nossen claims that his opposition is not due to political expediency, but, by virtue of his office as president of the college, he is responsible for the welfare of the students and the college plant (and indicated that riots have often emerged at other colleges as result of a visit of one of the seven). He also claims that the statement "...conducted in a manner appropriate to the academic community" from the joint Statement, implies a need for study and question in this situation.

CORRECTION

In the April 29, issue of the M&G (page 3) the statement, "It is clearly established that college authorities could not be subpoenaed to give testimony for the state, or that they would not volunteer such testimony." In Mr. Brook's Forum article on the Mann Case should have read "IT IS NOT clearly established . . ." Our apologies to Mr. Brook.

Dear Editor:

CGA? A referendum? Is that something like a grass-in or a raffle-off? Are those campus subversives involved in one of their red armband rallies again? These are not, I hope, typical questions rising from the blue haze of smoke pouring out of the Big Dog.

May 13 and 14 will mark an important date in student and community government for Bloomsburg State College - it is your opportunity to voice your opinion concerning membership of CGA in the future. The proposed constitutional change will retain the Dean of Students, Dean of Instruction, Dean of Women, Dean of Men, the Director of Public Relations, and the Director of Student Activities as non-voting members, as well as the representative of the faculty.

When this item first appeared on College Council's agenda, it was proposed by the Executive Committee (Jeff Prosseda, Dave Haas, Jo Ann Lucroz, Jim McCabe, and me.) The Executive Committee had decided to remove this item because, despite its limitations and innumerable frustrations, Bloomsburg's CGA was a bit more successful than the other state colleges' student governments. Frank Pizzoli then questioned why this item should not be subjected to student opinion through a referendum vote. Council defeated this proposal. Incidentally, the Executive Committee voted for the motion.

Without further haste, Council was petitioned for a special meeting to reconsider a vote for the referendum. Although this meeting was not held because of East-

FORUM

Good afternoon, my fellow Americans,

I don't have prime TV time, as the White House's top resident did on April 20, to speak to you about Vietnam. But, the message I bring contains more facts and more truth, much more truth, than has ever been given to you by our ruler.

A fact that you should consider is that we backed the wrong side in Vietnam. We have sent over 40,000 American youth to their death to DENY the Vietnamese people their age old dream of FREEDOM FROM FOREIGN DOMINATION, SUPPRESSION, & INFLUENCE. This fact could easily be seen in the tears of ALL Vietnamese eyes on the announcement of the death of their George Washington, Ho Chi Minh. His dream was their dream. His determination is their spirit today.

Another fact is that we have lost the war. More bombs have fallen in Vietnam than in all of World War Two, yet the spirit of the Viet Cong lives while massive desertions continue from the puppet government's forces. So, we look to the CIA strongholds of Laos and now Cambodia for a new foothold in Southeast Asia.

A fact of more immediate concern to everyone in this country is that you can't have guns and butter at the same time,

Or, more accurately the military can't have 50 per cent and more of our tax money and the people, especially the poor, have consumer services. And when labor is needed to make implements of death and destruction it can't at the same time make consumer goods to spend its income on. Therefore the supply of consumer goods lags and prices rise, inflation. For example college tuition has gone up this year and it is not at all unlikely that it could go up as much as $200 next year.

Our air is filled with poison; our rivers are filled with shit; our rats live longer than the children in poor families; our minds are shackled by suppression in this country; over half of our national budget is invested in the perfection of the machinery for decreed death.

How can we continue to be guilty, through silence, of supporting the Nixon policy. We must stop the war. If there are no soldiers, we cannot wage war. If there is open, unanimous opposition, there can be no war. If there can be no war, humanity can survive (man is capable of thinking and finding solutions to all his problems.)

Peace Now!
Elmer Chase

P.S. Wasn't pride the downfall of Oedipus Rex, Mr. Nixon? Will it be the downfall of America?

BSC Takes 4th at Cedar Cliff

Last Saturday, the BSC cindermen trucked to the Cedar Cliff Relays. The final results found Millersville in first place, Towson State in second, Kutztown State in third, Bloomsburg in fourth, and Clarion fifth. Five other teams also participated in the events.

The Huskies having a well rounded team with considerable amount of depth, are a much more powerful dual meet team than a relay team.

The trackmen started off with a third place in the 440 yard relay with the team of Lucysyn, Berger, Eckert and Masters coming in with a time of 43.9.

In the 880 yard relay, Bloomsburg was again in third place with the same team that participated in the 440 yard relay.

The two-mile relay team of Russ Susko, Charlie Graham, Terry Lee and Larry Strohl took fourth with a time of 8:12.3.

In the shuttle hurdle relay, the team of Graham, Reeves, Herb and Kusma pulled second place in a time of 102.4.

The mile-relay team of Lucysyn, Bittner, Graham and Berger got a fourth place time of 3:26.0.

The high-jump relay with Yancheck and Prizer took fourth place.

The Huskies were hurt during this relay carnival for three reasons: (1) John Ficek injured his ankle and we were therefore unable to participate in the shot-put relay.

(2) Due to a change in eligibility, the Huskies did not have an entry in the spring-medley relay.

(3) Bad baton passes cost the runners too much time.

Since most of these events aren't run in the state championships, the Huskies won't have to worry about the results of this relay meet. The Huskies are still a very strong contender for the state title.

Mansfield

The BSC golfers put away their seventh win of the season Saturday when they defeated Mansfield State College 10½-8½ on the home team's green. The local duffers captured three of the six individual matches and received an additional point for the low team total.

John Marshall of BSC lost to Mansfield's Doug Simonds 2½-½. In the number two position BSC's Jeff Hock lost to Pascaulla 2½-½.

Bob Snyder, in the third position, sparked the team to life when he defeated Bob Overberger 2½-½.

Mansfield bounced back strong with a 3-0 defeat of BSC's Bob Simons by Gary Sutton.

However, the Huskies pulled through in fine form when MSC's Mickey Seibert and Tom Dodge were defeated 3-0 by Steve Neumeyer and Rick Jurbella respectively.

In the individual medalist scoring, Rick Jurbella was BSC's low man with 75 and Doug Simonds was low for Mansfield with 74.

Today, Wednesday, May 6, Coach Jack Jones and his "flog squad" will return to Mansfield with their 7-2-2 record and par-

Ballet

Over 20 participants will be featured in the Annual Water Ballet performance Planta-Sea-Land, sponsored by the women's "B" Club of Bloomsburg State College in Centennial Pool on Thursday and Friday, May 8-9 at 8:15 p.m. The event is open to the public at no charge for admission.

Several of the members of the BSC swimming team will perform with the "B" Club members. Jodi Kohler and Sharon Nester are serving as co-directors and Miss Eleanor Wray, Department of Physical Education, is the faculty advisor.

Baseballers Win 4 - Lose 3, 7 Games Played In 5 Days

by Jack Hoffman

The BSC diamondmen, under Coach Clark Boier, have played seven games in the past five days. The Huskies have won 4 and lost 3. Pitching stamina played an enormous factor since most pitchers had only two days rest.

BSC split a double header with Lock Haven State College on April 28. Winning the first game 10-9 and dropping the second 8-3.

Bill Houser earned the win in the first game striking out two and walking four, while he allowed 12 hits. Houser pitched five innings and Greg Stahora saved the day in the sixth. Wes Detar got the loss for Lock Haven.

BSC dropped the second game to the tune of 8-3. John Lepley received the loss after being relieved by Jeff Mosser. Rod Borrows went the distance for Lock Haven and got the win. Borrows gave up three hits, three runs and four walks. BSC allowed eight runs, five hits and issued four free passes. The Huskies made four errors while the Haven team committed none.

On April 29, the Huskies swept a double header from East Stroudsburg on BSC soil. In the first game, BSC squeaked by ESSC in nine innings, 2-1. Greg Stahora started for the Huskies and allowed 1 run on seven hits and issued only two free passes. Bill Cook started for the losers and was relieved in the sixth inning by Joe Papi who later received the loss. The Huskies collected two runs, six hits and made three errors. ESSC made two errors.

In the second game, Bob Perry went the distance and blanked East Stroud, 8-0 allowing only four hits and four bases on balls. Jack Hafer started for ESSC and was credited with the loss. Tom Kalabious relieved Hafer in the fifth inning. BSC collected eight runs on nine hits while making no errors.

Dame Fortune smiled upon the Huskies on April 30, as they scored a decisive 11-3 victory over Millersville State at the BSC diamond. The Huskies collected 11 runs on eleven hits and received six free passes. Millersville had three runs on seven hits. Bob Warner started and finished strong for the victors, striking out seven and walking only three. Warner aided his winning cause with a tremendous grand slam home run in the sixth inning.

er vacation and the P.S.A.S.G. convention, this item was placed on the agenda for the April 13 meeting. After much discussion about the fear of losing a cooperative government and creating many administrative absences in Council seats, this motion finally passed and Council members then retired to their respective corners to read their Child Psych books and sleep.

As stated above, I felt until recently that our form of government was one of the lesser of several evils. I'm not sure yet that Bloomsburg students are willing to work with the diligence required of autonomy, but then again, I think our faculty association, the SDS, the Black Panthers, and the United States congress have this problem, too.

A government (and I hesitate to state self-government) composed of thirty students can function no better than a roomful of Deans, Directors, even Presidents, without first of all, an "I care" attitude and secondly, a stick-to-it quality for hard work.

Next year, the Constitution of the Senate promises votes for 12 students. Whether or not the hope for more student involvement in academic affairs and policy changes for this school are fulfilled remains to be seen in the yet unformed "by-laws" of this body. I am again seeking not to be disillusioned and finally disappointed on still another issue of such importance to student government.

Just for the record, several Council members had overlooked bringing their copies of this document to the April 27 meeting of Council. The discussion which centered around amending and accepting this document came almost entirely from outside Council. When I proposed a rather simple change stating that student senators should receive copies of the agenda, the motion did not receive a second. After previous question was called, which required a vote on this motion for accepting the Constitution of the Senate, one Council member did put down her Child Psych book and asked what she was voting for.

Rumblings have also reached my ears concerning the attendance of administrators at next year's Council meetings if membership is retained without a vote. Hints of "taking my bat and ball and going home" seem evident here. These people need to be present in an advisory capacity for a "cooperative" student government.

To quote from Dean Hunsinger's Philosophy of College Government, page 6 of the Pilot, "The Council's primary purpose is to stimulate and guide student self-development so that the student learns both how to make a living and how to live. They accomplish these aims only through an open mind and a genuine democratic spirit. Good college government develops an educational opportunity for those students who are reaching out toward a better way of life through conscientious application and serious motivation guaranteed every college student."

"With the changing patterns of life in general, and college in particular, the College Council discharges areas of responsibility through committee structure and encourages students to establish their own government to regulate college life."

Instead of screaming "power," why not quietly but firmly echo "peace" and get down to work. Let's try an all-student government. Vote for the change in the Community Government Association constitution on May 13 and 14.

At the mistake of misquoting an old friend of mine, I'm finding that caring and being involved is not an office of CGA or an editorship of the GADFLY but a way of life. Regretfully, I am still disappointed.

Hopefully,
Jean Reese

Manliness

Dear Editor:

Once again I was assured of the "manliness" of our BSC boys. This assurance occurred at Theta Gamma Phi's fashion show - an annual event which I have attended for the past three years now. Each year this sorority puts on a very enjoyable show of spring and summer fashions, for the college and community. The sisters, the sponsors, the models, and the advisers all put in many hours to make their show the success that it always is. But this year they made the mistake of selling some of their tickets to the wrong creatures, and as a consequence they had the misfortune of having these animals in their audience on Thursday evening. This event is intended for mature, interested men and women (who did, thank goodness, make up the majority of the audience), and not for those children who displayed their ignorance and rudeness. We already know of their characteristics. Did they have to come anyway and prove to us that they have not changed? These are usually the ones who are constantly demanding new rights and freedoms, aren't they? Well, maybe if they grew up a little, they would get the respect that they desire. Maybe then, others would listen. Sure, they got the attention they wanted, but I didn't see too many people who were impressed by it. I certainly wasn't.

These boys did not even have the sense to stop with a few comments, but instead they kept it up through the entire show to a point where it was practically nauseas. What really irked me the most was the fact that no attempt was made to do anything about these irritants. Only one comment was made and this was done by one of the speakers. Naturally, it only brought on more remarks by our heroes. Of course, no one should have had to say or do anything to them since they are SUPPOSED to be mature, intelligent young men. But, if they wanted to behave like children, they should've been treated like children. I feel sorry for these "boys"; they have so much to learn, amend for convenience in this situation.

Article IV Student Affairs Section B Clause 2

"Students shall be allowed to invite and to hear any person of their own choosing. Those routine procedures required by the college before a guest speaker is invited to appear on campus shall be designed only to insure that there is orderly scheduling of facilities and adequate preparation for the event, and that the occasion is conducted in a manner appropriate to the academic community. The institutional control of campus facilities shall not be used as a device of censorship. It shall be made clear to the academic and larger community that sponsorship of guest speakers does not necessarily imply approval or endorsement of the views expressed, either by the sponsoring group or the college".

The GOOD doctor must not be aware of the existence of this college document, within which bounds ALL members of the College Community must function, or he simply wishes to violate it. Of course we all know that throughout the past year our inspirational leader has been reminded of its existence. So, I must conclude that he wishes to violate it.

The "Presidential Hotline" column in the May 1, 1970 issue of the "Maroon and Gold" reported the president's first response to the motion passed by CGA to invite a member of the Chicago 7 to speak. The response was a list of reasons why the president (who has acquired so much more wisdom than students because of all his experience and sterile powers to reflect on problems of an age and generation that he wasn't equipped, because of the antiquated environment of 30 years ago in which he was raised, to understand,) couldn't personally favor inviting a member of the "7" to speak at BSC. His last reason was the cost which the representatives of the student body had voted on as being reasonable, and proper for the service to be rendered.

I see nowhere in the Clause cited above where the enlightened president's preferences are to enter into the decision of a group to invite a speaker. It also is impossible to find the words that say he should be the judge of the worth of the services of a speaker. The proper role for the President in this case would have been to insure that facilities had been acquired for the speech, and that CGA had followed college procedure to insure safety, etc. The purpose of the president in the CGA structure is not to pass judgment on policies of that organization or to set up committees to present an alternative to CGA, but rather to advise and recommend, and to insure that college policy is not violated.

President Nossen has not fulfilled his responsibility to CGA or to the College Community. Yours in Freedom, (Freedom?) Elmer Chase corded for replay. Overall planning for the acquisition and utilization of the equipment has been co-ordinated with Audio-Visual Materials Center in close cooperation with its Director, Mr. Thaddeus Piotrowski.

BSC faculty member Dr. John McLaughlin had prior experience with the equipment as a member of the staff of the Special Education Department at Penn State. Dr. Emily Ruwesaat, chairman of the Department of Mental Retardation and Dr. Jones, received orientation in non-broadcast and Closed Circuit Television in a mobile TV demonstration van which previously visited the BSC campus.

Political Group to Organize

by Bob Becker

It has become obvious to many students that there is a disproportionate amount of power in the hands of administrative personnel at BSC. In a healthy educational institution, decisions which solely concern students should be made by students alone. For example: regulations concerning the student life style are made not by students themselves, but by college administrators; thus, women are virtually imprisoned in the sterile atmosphere of a dormitory by a ridiculous and out-dated sign-out-sign-in system. When administrators are confronted with requests for change, they invariably answer that the students themselves have their own self-regulatory governing bodies. Close examination of these "governing bodies," however, reveals a strong administrative influence. The administrative staff has a greater proportional representation of CGA than either faculty or students, yet CGA is supposed to be a student organization in self-government. In College Council's rare occasions of passing a motion unpopular with administrators, the said motion is killed one way or the other. To be specific, College Council recently approved money for the express purpose of bringing a "Chicago 7" speaker to BSC by the convincing margin of 19 to 10. But President Nossen said no, why, we can't have CRIMINALS at BSC. (Claude Brown was contracted to speak here last year, and HE'S done time in jail!) So we are faced with the prospect of an administration which is insensitive to student wants and needs. Since our demands will not be honored when expressed through legitimate channels, what then are the alternatives? I can think of only two: either abandon any hopes of making gains in the area of student decision-making and join the mindless vegetable-mentality corps; or, by organizing the student body into an effective political force, show your solidarity of interest and effectively work towards achieving ends beneficial to students.

A student-oriented political group is long overdue on this campus, and I'm not talking about the Young Republicans. At a preliminary meeting held last Wednesday, various students voiced their desire for such a multi-objective organization. In response to this an organizational meeting will be held Thursday, May 7, for the express purpose of forming such a group. This meeting will be held at 7:30 in the Bookstore Lounge, and all interested students are urged to attend. Your ideas for the nature of the organization's course of action are eagerly sought. If student unity is forthcoming and of a positive direction, there is almost nothing that we cannot obtain in the nature of legitimate demands. We have nothing to lose, for our gains have been tokens; a new direction must be taken.

Fatigue was apparent as BSC dropped a double header to Mansfield State at MSC on Saturday, May 2. The Huskies dropped the first 5-0 and the second 6-1. Greg Stahora pitched six innings giving up five runs and was relieved by John Choyka in the seventh. Bob Deliberto went the distance for MSC allowing only two hits, and one base on balls. Mansfield collected five runs on nine hits and committed no errors. BSC had just two hits and made one error.

In the second game Bob Perry went the distance for the Huskies and despite a fine pitching exhibition, he received the loss as the BSC team was defeated 6-1. Dave Hagadorn was the winning pitcher for MSC, striking out nine and issuing four free passes. Bloomsburg collected one run on two hits and made two errors while Mansfield got six runs on six hits and made seven errors.

Ed. Note: The following is a quote from the SUNDAY INDEPENDENT (Parade) April 28, 1970.

"The streets of our country are in turmoil. The universities are filled with students rebelling and rioting. Communists are seeking to destroy our country. Russia is threatening us with her might and the Republic is in danger. Yes, danger from within and without.

"We need law and order. Yes, without law and order our nation cannot survive. Elect us and we shall restore law and order". - Adolf Hitler, in an electioneering speech, in Hamburg, Germany, 1932.

increasing cooperation in interdisciplinary programming with Geisinger Medical Center, Selinsgrove State School and Hospital, and White Haven State School and Hospital makes the equipment invaluable as an extension into those environments either for taking information to those institutions or bringing it back for BSC faculty members and students.

Outstanding Athlete

Bloomsburg State College announced that Ralph Moerschbacher, a member of the 1969-70 Swimming Team, will be honored in the 1970 volume of OUTSTANDING COLLEGE ATHLETES OF AMERICA. Nominated earlier this year, Moerschbacher was chosen to appear in this awards publication on the basis of his achievements.

Nominations for this awards volume are made by athletic departments of colleges and universities throughout the country. Criteria for selection include an athlete's sports achievements, leadership ability, athletic recognition and community service.

For a rundown of the other 9 BSC athletes named to the 1970 volume of OCAOA, see the April 8th issue of the M&G.

Censorship of CGA

Dear Editor,

I would like to remind Dr. Nossen of the responsibility that he has ignored regarding what amounts to his censorship of the right of CGA to invite a speaker to BSC.

Let me begin by citing the section of the BSC Joint Statement which the president saw fit to
