BSC Host May Visit Belgium

Dr. Robert Miller, Chairman of the Committee on International Education, announced that BSC has been contacted by the Experiment in International Living program about the possibility of hosting a group of 25 Belgium university students during the period from May 2-16. This visit will be followed next year by a group of BSC students being hosted in Belgium by the students who visit here this year. Cost to BSC students who go to Belgium will be approximately $260 for the two week trip which would probably be scheduled over the Easter vacation or in early June.

The object of the reciprocal visit is to further international understanding by presenting the

Wastes Wanted

Did you know that it takes 17 fully grown trees to make a ton of paper, that this paper helped to generate more than 190 million tons of solid waste last year, and that waste is increasing by 7 per cent a year which means that by 1980 there will be 340 million tons of solid waste materials? But more significant is the fact that up to 90 per cent of America's solid waste can be but is not being re-used.

In theory recycling can save or even make money for those who invest in such an idea. The Bloomsburg Recycling Committee intends to demonstrate the possibility of recycling large portions of solid waste by gathering statistics on the amount of waste that can be collected in a city of this size, by determining the cost of collecting opportunity to live in homes of host students and attend classes with their hosts. Of immediate concern to the Committee on International Education is the determination of interest by BSC students in hosting a Belgian student.

If any student is interested in being a host for a Belgian student, please fill out the adjacent form and return it to Dr. Miller at Waller 222 at P.O. Box 66 or Dr. Rost at Waller 221, Box 280.

The International Association was treated to Japanese green tea courtesy of Machiko Kamiya.

Also included was an excellent presentation of Haiku and Waka, Japanese forms of poems.

One translates, "Passing by a store of mirrors, I happened to notice a peasant walking miserable."

Future meetings will be announced in "Today."

CGA Meets

C.G.A. met on Monday, March 22, 1971 in Carver Hall. The meeting started with a motion to put miscellaneous back on the agenda. The motion passed in hopes the item will be used only for emergency business.

The Biology Club fund raiser was reconsidered and accepted after discussion of the safety of the articles being sold. They are a set of plastic balls on a string commonly known as "Clackers".

Pitching machines, batting cages, and field tarps, the immediate need of the baseball team were approved by C.G.A. with an allocation of $1,000 to be taken from the College Bookstore Profits.

After the election board report Michael Siproth moved to make three changes in the election code.

1. A candidate wishing to have his party affiliate placed after his name can now do it the day the petition is due instead of two weeks prior.

2. The size of election signs will be changed from 11-14 in. to 14 in. by 22 in.

3. The election petitions for sophomore class officers are now open and are due at the time set by the election board.

A motion by the Young Democrats asked C.G.A. for $60.48 but was refused due to a ruling saying C.G.A. will not be responsible for a loss on a fund raiser.

Mr. Mulka director of student activities motioned to have B.N.E. have a concert on April 22. The assembly voted favorably and polled the five most favored bands. Grateful Dead, New York Rock and Roll Ensemble, Steve Miller, Mary(Peter, Paul, & Mary), and B. J. Thomas. A ceiling of $8,000 was set for the total cost.

$1230 was allocated to the

The project has been very successful thus far, having collected approximately 1,000 books. Faculty advisors to the project include Mr. Donald, Dr. Rost, and Dr. Miller.

Poli. Sci. Dept. Plans Donkey Convention

In March of 1968 fourteen hundred students from eleven colleges, including Bloomsburg, gathered in Centennial Gymnasium to participate in a simulated Republican National Convention to nominate their choices for Presidential and Vice Presidential candidates. The day of the convention was preceded by seminars, rallies and committee meetings. The event was highlighted by the Keynote Address of Gerald Ford, Republican Minority Leader of the U.S. House of Representatives. The program was covered throughout Northeastern and Central Pennsylvania by press, radio and television. With it, Bloomsburg joined a select group of some fifty colleges throughout the United States sponsoring similar events.

Plans are now being made for a Simulated Democratic National Convention to be held in the Spring of 1972. The program is under the sponsorship of the Department of Political Science in cooperation with the College Community as a whole.

A preliminary meeting will be held Tuesday, March 30th at 7:30 p.m. in Old Science Hall 8. Interested students, regardless of political affiliation are encouraged to attend to form the nucleus of a Steering Committee which will hear prime responsibilities for planning and coordinating the program. Those who cannot attend, but are interested in participating, are requested to leave their name and box number at the Waller Hall Mail Room addressed to Dr. Rosholt of the Political Science Department.

Mr. John Surgrin,
I feel that I must take objection to a cartoon published in the March 17 issue of the Maroon and Gold. The cartoon shows the Pope standing above the starving poor with the words abortion and birth control in his hands. The implication seems to be that somehow the Catholic Church in the person of the Pope is responsible for the poverty of the world because of its stand on these two controversial issues.

Certainly there has been much criticism of the stand taken by the Church, but the drawing displays a simplistic attitude which does not take into consideration a multitude of other factors. So far it has not been proven that the use of birth control or abortion has significantly alleviated poverty situations even in predominantly non-Catholic countries. Secondly, there are many other groups which have aligned themselves with the Church against abortion. All of the moral and psychological implications of abortion have not been explored; therefore, the Catholic Church as a moral institution could not advocate this practice. Furthermore, various segments of the sociolegal system itself have not come to full agreement.

There are many other factors to be considered but it is not my purpose to argue a case for the Pope or the Church. However, I should like to point out that in your attempt to illustrate the situation, you have perhaps oversimplified the issue and rashly fixed the blame.

Nancy Wisdo
Newman Advisory Board

Miss Wisdo,

First of all, thank you for showing enough interest in my cartoon to comment on it. I seldom get feedback to indicate that people really give a damn about the issues I cover.

I did not mean to imply that the Catholic Church and - or Pope Paul is responsible for the poverty of the world. That's insane. The blame for such a monumental problem cannot conceivably be affixed to one particular person or institution. What I DID mean to imply was that the Pope and the Catholic Church plays a significant role in perpetuating this malaise. It's the same rationale I use when I do a cartoon about Nixon and Vietnam. I don't place the blame solely on Nixon. But he IS a major reason for this war's continued existence.

I don't think I'm taking a simplistic attitude. I've read enough literature on contraception and abortion to know that the primary reason these practices have not worked adequately in poverty-ridden countries is ignorance. How many Peruvian Indians know how to use a diaphragm, or for that matter what a diaphragm IS? Secondly, I'm not asking the Catholic Church to advocate abortion. But I object to the Church imposing its self-righteous authority over EVERYONE, not just Catholics. This is exactly what it is doing when it uses its enormous influence on state and federal legislators, even though abortion is listed as a felony and not murder, as it has often been called (incidentally, I've never heard of a predominantly Catholic constituency which threatened to vote out its Congressional representative because he happened to be supporting ACTUAL genocide).

Perhaps all the psychological implications of abortion have not been explored, but I'm sure you realize the psychological implications of an unwanted child...the lack of love, the possibility of child abuse, the possibility of mental disorders such as schizophrenia. Whether or not abortion is legalized in states other than Hawaii, New York, Alaska, and Washington, abortions will continue to be performed. This means that the woman who cannot obtain or afford safe hospital abortions will continue to seek out ill-qualified, "underground" abortionists. And whenever a woman dies of an infection or bleeds to death at the hands of one of these butchers, it's worse than tragic. It is senseless.

Poverty and malnutrition are wide-spread afflictions, caused by many factors. Overpopulation, caused by lack of adequate birth control methods, is one of the major factors. I believe that the Catholic Church's practice of discouraging such methods only serves to complicate the problem further.

John Stugrin

Mr. Yarmey,

I cannot believe anyone in his right mind could write an article like yours in the M&G, March 19. You seem to be having a lot of trouble adjusting. I am now in litigation concerning the exact same thing you claim does not exist, the suppression of freedom. I can not speak for the Gadfly, but I can speak for myself and draw upon my experiences at B.S.C. I can not list all the facts about a "power structure" because I am still uncovering them. I will say this, the "power structure" does not end at B.S.C. To protect my complaint in court, I can not go into any details but I can assure you there is strong reason to believe this administration wanted to get rid of me and it had nothing to do with my academic performance.

1. Professors Porter and Skehan were fired for several reasons:

A. Mr. Porter helped defend students from the administration's illegal attacks.

B. Mr. Porter continued to speak out against the administration's suppression of student (YOUR) rights and the faculty's rights. He openly condemned illegal, capricious, and arbitrary acts.

C. He tried to do too much for too many by himself.

D. Dr. Skehan made the "mistake" of coming to Mr. Porter's defense. He was one professor on this campus willing to risk his job for what was right.

E. Dr. Skehan and Mr. Porter had the nerve to say NO when NO was the proper thing to say.

F. Last but not least, Mr. Porter did not uncover the sale of the chain letters, which are illegal gambling. Some of your great administrators were involved. How can you have

War Freaks, Geriatric Goofs, And A Little Chutzpah

by Bob Becker

As an irresponsible kid who never grew up and should have had his fanny whacked a little more often, I would like to avail myself of this opportunity to answer Mike Yarmey's questions about my article which appeared in the 3-8-71 Gadfly. Mike asked me to define and expose the power structure on campus. Nothing could be easier. A power structure is the apparatus which controls an institution. The federal government and big business comprise the power structure in the U.S.; the Pope and the Sacred College of Cardinals comprise the power structure of the Roman Catholic Church; and, in the case of Bloomsburg State College, the Board of Trustees, College President Vice-Presidents, Deans, and Department Chairmen comprise the power structure. A "power structure" is not a leftist phrase coined to describe a right-wing plot; on the contrary, it is simply a point of reference, a general term used to describe a rather complex and involved hierarchy. I did not state, as you say in your article, Mike, that the power brokers at BSC were "dedicated to the suppression of all freedom-loving devoted college students." I simply stated that..." in recent

The subject is Viet Nam, and perhaps I will not approach it correctly for a few of the readers. However, I will approach it in this article. "The War", since no one seems to know if it should be called Viet Nam or Indochina, has not been wound down. It continues to consume lives every day, every week, and every month that it exists. Maybe not as many Americans are dying now, but human beings are still dying. The United States has no right to decide whose lives are more important. Every life is just as important as the next. Every man has the same right to live as any other. This is the theory we profess; this is the theory that we fail to follow.

Many in America fail to identify with the war, casting it away as something that is "being taken care of." The subject occupies the front page of the press everyday, but in the hearts of the American people, it is nonexistent. The war is not nice but ignoring it doesn't solve it. Bombing the hell out of three countries does not solve it. Allowing the military structure to perform murder on Asian peoples does not solve it.

Where are the peace groups? Where are the concerned citizens? Why have people chosen to sit on the sidelines of a senseless, wasteful war? There are many reasons. Some say they're tired, others reply, "It's over as far as I am concerned," still more reply, "It's too far away."

So the war "peaked" in 1968 and 1969, folks, the war may be over. The Viet Cong have won it. The outside influences will eventually be expelled. Don't be shattered by the fact that the U.S. has finally lost a war. The British waged a "wasteful war" at the height of their empire. Russia was defeated by Japan in 1905. And the French pulled out of Viet Nam in 1954 after Dien Bien Phu.

Countries rise and fall. Empires are built up and subsequently disintegrate. The United States is no different. It shall fall. The cracks are beginning to show. The muddle that is Indochina continues to suck the American people, the American dollar into a deadly quagmire.

Future historians will reflect on the mistakes of our involvement. Perhaps they will say we over extended ourselves. Perhaps, they might reach the conclusion that Western philosophies, governments, and processes cannot be adapted to non-western nations all the time.

The final foreign war is being fought as the U.S. steps backward from Asian soil. The Viet Cong — but even more so the Vietnamese — have won, because the foreigners have been driven out of their country. By 1972, all the U.S. soldiers will be out of Viet Nam. As the final plane leaves the riddled country, you can bet that the Vietnamese will be approaching from the other end of the runway. Maybe they'll be waving, but definitely, they'll be smiling (as will some Americans).

The war will not be over when the Americans leave Viet Nam. It will only be ended when North and South are unified, and only then. The North will probably defeat the South Vietnamese army (they can do it any day of the week). It is not difficult to defeat an army which does not have the backing of the people it is supposed to defend. The South Vietnamese should take a lesson from the U.S. on that one. A people will not tolerate a government that is unjust.

When all the games have been played, and peace has been restored, both sides will have won. Vietnamese and Americans alike will be able to turn to the task of putting their nations back together and creating a better life for their peoples.

weeks, various college power brokers have initiated a series of actions aimed at intimidating and silencing the voices of dissent at Bloomsburg. If you compare the two statements (a complex mental process, I am sure), you will notice there is a very discernable difference.

The "plot" against Professor Porter is simply this, Mike: Porter exposed the operation of an ILLEGAL chain letter on campus. Several administrators had their names affixed to it. Suddenly, administrators began to sit in on his classes and "observe" him. Finally, Porter was fired in the fall of 1970 for meeting a class schedule which had been approved by his department chairman. These are facts, and are easily verifiable. Porter and Skehan are both Phi Beta Kappa scholars and are held in high repute by their students. Yet they were fired. If I may borrow a slogan from Bernadine Dohrn and Company—you don't need a weatherman to know which way the wind blows.

You challenge me to list the "inferior" teachers. Where should I start? With the Sociology Department, for example, with its programmed racism? Or should I list the profs whom I consider incompetent in the English or History Departments?

No, Mike, I'm not going to play that game. I don't have to list lousy professors for the benefit of the student body. Most of us know them already; they're the ones in whose classes you spend your time doodling or sleeping because their material stinks, their presentation stinks, their attitude toward you as a human being stinks, and your attitude as a student stinks as a result of it.

You allege that at the pre-demonstration meeting suggestions were made that we storm the auditorium or disrupt the proceedings inside. Well, you're right on that score, Mike! Those suggestions indeed were made. The only problem is that they were made in such a light-hearted vein and in such a joking manner that only the most paranoid of right-wingers would take them seriously.

I share with you the doubt that Dean Hunsinger has anything against kids having a good time; however, may I be so bold as to suggest that Dean Hunsinger likes to see kids having a good time on HIS terms? My idea of having a good time is not sitting at a concert like a motionless zombie and sighing over the saccharine sounds of the Let-terms. As an aging "teeny-

BSC Runner-Up In NAIA Tourney

Slippery Rock and Bloomsburg were surprise runner up finishers last weekend in national collegiate wrestling tournaments and a total of 19 Pennsylvania Conference matmen qualified to compete in the NCAA University Division Tourney, scheduled for March 25-27, at Auburn (Alabama) University.

In the NCAA College Division tournament at Fargo, North Dakota, Slippery Rock placed second behind powerful Cal Poly and the Rockets had four place winners. East Stroudsburg, the PC champ, tied for fifth in the team competition and qualified three grapplers for the University Division action.

SR's Stan Dziedzic won the 150-pound title again and was named the Most Valuable Wrestler in the tournament. Coach Fred Powell also had Tom Cox come in second at 142, Bill Shellhorn third at 167 and Ron Irwin fourth at 134.

For East Stroudsburg, Ted Pease and Kemble Matter were each third at 118 and 134, respectively, while Tony Ptak placed fourth at 142.

In the NIA national tournament at Boone, North Carolina, Bloomsburg was second behind Central Washington in the team standings and had three All-Americans in Wayne Smythe, a surprise champion at 142; Floyd Hitchcock, second at 177, and Mike Shull, third at 118.

Meanwhile, in the NCAA Eastern Regional Qualifying meet at Princeton, a trio of PC wrestlers claimed titles.

West Chester had five qualifers including 150-pound champ Paul Gillespie. Brian Schmidt and Alray Johnson were second at 134 and 142 as was heavyweight Kent Gardner. Tony DeMeno finished at 158.

Clarion and Lock Haven each qualified three and each had a champ. Wade Schalles led Clarion with a first at 158 including a pin over Penn State's Clyde Franz, while LH's Larry Rippey won the 134-pound competition. Byron Parker was fourth at 126 and Paul Brodmerkel third at 142 for LH while Dale Murdock (126) and Bill Simpson (167) were each fifth for Clarion. California has one qualifier as Dave Cook finished fourth at 142.

RULES FOR WATER POLO:

I. The Captain is the only player who is authorized to address the referee.

II. Players may be substituted freely between periods, after scoring a goal, and during official time outs.

III. In case of a cramp or illness, a player may be substituted for when his team gains possession of the ball. The player entering the water must report to the referee and take the position of the player leaving the pool.

IV. The goalkeeper may not hold on to the goal posts, push off sides, nor throw the ball beyond the halfway line. Holding onto goal results in a free throw. (OK to hold on if ball is not on his half).

V. A goal is scored by the ball passing fully over the goaline between the goal posts. A goal may be scored by any part of the body provided the ball has been played by a player. Dribbling the ball through the goal is permissible.

VI. Technical Fouls

A. Result in Free Throw
1. to hold ball under when tackled
2. to strike ball with a clenched fist

3. to touch ball with two hands
B. Result in Goal Throws
1. to go within 5 feet of opponent's goal

VII. No one is to interfere with a person taking a free throw. The player who is awarded a free throw must bring the ball back into play in the near vicinity where the foul was committed. At least two players must touch the ball before goal may be scored.

VIII. Personal Fouls

A. Result in Free Throw
1. to deliberately splash water respect for any college official that has a part in illegal practices? This information was given to the proper officials in Harrisburg.

2. You can ask any student on this campus if they feel they lost some of their freedom when the college forced them to take the classes and professors they gave them. If you bother to pick up the next one or two issues of the Gaddy you will get an idea of some inferior professors (they may know their stuff but they can't teach) and some inferior administrators. I could also mention the number of students that fell asleep in class or a professor I had who read out of a book, period. May I also add that a few concerned students wanted to run a pool as to the teaching abilities of the professors on this campus. They were turned down!

3. Ask the organizers of the PEACE demonstration to see the memo they received from Dean Hoch holding them responsible for any violence that might occur, strongly implying inciting-to-riot penalties.

4. Mr. Yarmey, take a poll of the students that went to the James Gang Concert. You will find an overwhelming number of them enjoyed the concert and if jumping up and down is their thing, who are you to say it's immature?

5. The PEACE demonstration was never planned to be anything else but a PEACE demonstration nor did anyone plan to prevent the freedom of those going to see the movie!

6. Dean Hunsinger's idea of fun or having a good time may be very different from mine. I'm sure it is.

May I add that President Nossen refused to approve $500.00 that C.G.A. had allocated for the Harrisburg 6 lecture. To me, this was the latest in a number of suppressive acts. Isn't this a breach of the Joint Statement? I would like to see if one of our "liberal" profs would stick his neck out like Mr. Porter or Dr. Skehan would.

May I conclude by saying, Mr. Yarmey, YOU look into the facts and try to tell me I'm wrong. Try following your own advice and take care of your problem.

Daniel T. Skok

To the editor:

It's very strange, the similarities between the hip and the straights, concerning the U.S. war effort. Both sides want peace (believe it or not), both sides hate war, both sides want our boys out.

The major difference is that the hips want everything now! The straights would definitely like to win first.

Both sides claim to love America. Neither side understands the other's concept of what love of America is. Both sides also claim that their point of view is for the better instead of America.

Well, let's stop and think for a minute. There are men dying in Vietnam today. Now that is a fact. Those men are your brothers, boyfriends, buddies, fathers and uncles and the kid down the street. You know them. Forget the fact that you are a liberal or a conservative for now. Recognize the fact that these men are people you know and some you love.

Some of us say we fight for a cause, victory over the aggressor, Communism, to make the world a little safer and more pleasant, and more secure for us in that part of the world. Some of us say we fight for a cause. There has been too much blood shed. We want our boys back, now!

Whatever you are and whatever your beliefs, the fact remains there are Americans, fighting — in a war, any war will do. And they need our support. They need our letter of comfort, of hope, of love. They are curious to know what's happening back home. They need all the support we can muster. No matter if they come home tomorrow or a year from tomorrow (and some won't ever come home again, while they are away and fighting a war, while they are gone, every effort should be made to let them know we still care.

I'm sure the hips are concerned with the problems of the country or else they wouldn't go around stoning campuses or waving VC flags in the name of liberty or whatever, not saying that all hips do this sort of thing. My point is this: if you out there are really concerned with your life and your future then you will support our boys in this war or the next, God forbid. But support is not given by rallying around the flag saying "We support our boys, we're trying to end this war. Peace now!" That's what he's over there for, to end the war, to win it. He's not getting shot at risking his life so the commies can take over in the end. Throwing down your gun isn't going to bring peace, because the other guy still has his gun. The only way for a soldier to work at ending a war is to win. He doesn't need that kind of help. "Peace Now!" Peace, yes, when it can be guaranteed to be lasting.

The way to help your brother, boyfriend, or buddies is in a personal way. Person to person. By letter, by radio, by saying "Take it easy, Joe. Hope you're back soon. We're all rooting for you."

One of the more pleasant and satisfying experiences that can happen to a GI, Marine, or sailor or airman is to have someone close and personal write and say, "We're with you, all the way."

Look inside yourselves. Do you want to help? Then help the best way possible. Tell him you care.

Remember it's not your job as a civilian to fight the war from back home by rallying in the streets. It is our job as civilians to support our boys that are doing the fighting.

This generation didn't invent something new by wanting peace. The generations before ours thought first before they acted. Unfortunately, some of us act first before thinking.

in opponent's face

2. to commit a technical foul deliberately to keep an opponent from scoring a goal.

B. Result in Penalty Throw

1. to hold, sink, or pull back an opponent who is not holding the ball.

2. to kick or strike an opponent or make disproportionate movements with that intent.

Goal Throw — ball thrown into play by a player. No one is to interfere with such a throw.

Free Throw — ball thrown into play by a player. No one is to interfere with such a throw.

Penalty Throw — ball thrown at goal. It may be intercepted by goalkeeper. There is to be no interference. The throw shall be taken 15 feet out in the deep end, 20 feet in the shallow end.

Tau Sigma Pi

The sisters of Tau Sigma Pi welcome its fifth and one half pledge class: Terri Hoanzl, coordinator; Peggy Puschak, treasurer; Carol Brennan, Carol Ingalzo, Kathy Keder, Edith Seifert, Donald Smith, Nanette Stoudt and Chri Wagner. We are proud of our pledge Nanette Stoudt for a performance well done in her Madrigal Concert on March 14.

The sisters extend their congratulations to their new sister Pat Lango for becoming AWS's Social Chairman. We sure did miss her while she was in Colorado. Good luck in your new office Pat!

Tau Sigma Pi is also proud to announce their officers for the 1971-72 academic year. They are President, Barbara "Smitty" Smith; vice-president, Susan Roberts; Treasurer, Nancy Laskoski; recording secretary, Linda Gottlieb; corresponding secretary, Theresa Zoranski; pledge mistress, Eileen "Sam" Jurist; directress, Nancy Crapaio; ISC Representative Ann Marie Alloy, Priscilla Reese, and Mary Steinbacher. Special congratulations to our new sister Maria Reddington for being elected president of the Inter Sorority Council.

The sisterhood is looking to the future with bright prospects and much hope.

Delta Epsilon Beta

Sisters of Delta Epsilon Beta would like to announce the induction of twenty new members into their sorority. They are: Connie Beard, Bonnie Buffington, Sharon Cashman, Jeannie Dempsey, Maggie Ennis, Reeny Fay, Kate Furman, Lex Gamble; Brenda Haas, Lydia Henning, Bonnie Scretton, Lori Johnson, Janet Kuppinger, Wendy Lightcap, Barb McCarty, Connie Nagle, Stephanie Verano, Liz Warner, Dawn Williams and Anna Mae Wright.

Hell night was Thursday, Mary 18, followed by refreshments at the DEB senior house, 404 Center Street.

Presently plans are being made for the Spring Pledge Banquet. It is to be held on Saturday nite, March 27th, at the Holiday Inn, Hazleton.

The Sisters would like to take this opportunity to thank the Brothers of Sigma Iota Omega and Phi Sigma Kappa for inviting the Sisters and pledges to informal parties at which everyone had a good time.

A special St. Patrick's night get together was also held for the sisters and pledges by the Brothers of Phi Sigma Epsilon. Once again, everyone enjoyed themselves.

Sigma Iota Omega

On March 13, 1971, the brothers of Sigma Iota Omega held their pledge banquet for the spring semester at the Holiday Inn, Hazleton. Fourteen new brothers were formally inducted into the fraternity at this time.

The new brothers, the members of the ninth pledge class, were: Mike Groover, Ed Hollenbeck, Chuck Stahley, Doug Hartzell, Tim Ross, John Palmer, Bill Wolfe, Jeff Schwartz, Rick Jarman, Jeff Mosser, Jim Gates, Ed Darrah, Arlie Davis, and Glenn Haas.

The addition of the new brothers to the fraternity brings the number of active brothers to 54.

Phi Sigma Kappa

Phi Sigma Kappa brotherhood announced the acceptance of seven new brothers following the completion of the Spring 1971 pledging period on March 12. Congratulations to Pledge class President John Vantine and his fellow pledges, Jim Flynn, Wendell Light, Dave Livingston, Joe Lupia, Ed Johnson, and Phil Struzzi.

The brothers are anxiously anticipating their annual Spring Banquet on April 3rd. This event is the peak of the social activities for the semester and they are putting a full effort into its successful outcome.

For their fund raising event this semester, PSK are presenting "Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid" on March 24, 8:00 p.m. in the Student Union. The proceeds will be used for the completion of the frat's requirements for achieving national chapter status.

The pledges of Phi Sigma Kappa take this opportunity to express their heartfelt thanks to the girls of Luzerne Hall for all of their assistance during Phi Sig's 24 hour duck walk. The food and moral support were greatly appreciated.

Phi Sigma Pi

Phi Sigma Pi, National Honor Fraternity, is in full swing for second semester activities. New officers, for the spring semester, are: Ed Stine, President; Joe Roinick, Vice-President; Dave Seybert, Secretary; Tom Hensley, Assistant Sec'y; Steve Tellep, Treasurer; Ron Rhinehart, Historian; Mr. Richard Donald, Advisor; Dr. H. N. Afshar, Co-Advisor.

On Wednesday, March 17, four new pledges were initiated into the fraternity: Terry Letko, Ted Gauronsky, Rod Morgans, and Mark Harlor.

One of the "big" projects that Phi Sigma Pi is undertaking is the collection of books to be sent to Brazil. All types of books are needed and if anyone has any books to donate contact Mr. Richard Donald, or John Mitchell, Box 2602. Phi Sigma Pi will make arrangements to pick the books up at your office or room, if needed.

Also, Phi Sigma Pi is going to help out with the Bloomsburg Recycling Committee Project on Saturday, March 27th.

Phi Sigma Pi, on the intellectual side, is helping to sponsor John Holt, noted educator and author, for his visit to the campus on Thursday, March 25th.

As a carry over from last year, the National Honor Fraternity is continuing to sponsor an orphan in India-Stanli Gambram.

All the officers and Mr. Donald are working hard to make this a successful year for the fraternity.

A forthcoming AWS newsletter will be called "Women's Lip."

AWS recently approved Self-Regulated Hours for second semester freshmen on a trial basis effective April 2.

Alfred J. Thomas, son of Mr. and Mr. Alfred C. Thomas, 517 South Anthracite Street, Shamokin, Penna., won a National Science Foundation summer internship in psychological research at Bucknell University. Alfred is a junior, majoring in psychology at BSC.

Applications for the second half of the PHEAA State Scholarship are still being accepted, though awards for the second half have not yet been funded. If you did not apply by the former deadlines

Knight On Lit.

On Wednesday, March 31, at 3:00 p.m. in Bakeless Faculty Lounge, the Department of Foreign Languages is sponsoring a seminar on Introduction to Literature, to be conducted by Professor Alan E. Knight, of the Pennsylvania State University. Professor Knight specializes in Medieval French literature and literary criticism, and has done special studies in comparative literature. He will be demonstrating some practical and relevant methods of introducing literature today. All faculty and students (particularly those who will be doing student teaching next year) are invited to attend.

Sigma Pi

Delta Pi chapter of Sigma Pi Fraternity is pleased to announce the elected officers for the 1971-72 term. Those taking office are Bob Parry, Sage; Steve Neumyer, Second Counselor; Steve Coleman, Third Counselor; Mike Vitale, Fourth Counselor; Don Miers, First Counselor and Brett Kiel, Herald. Congratulations to the former executive board, Sage Terry Easterday, Second Counselor Dave Haas, Third Counselor Bob Parry, Fourth Counselor Joel Sittler, First Counselor Mike Vitale and Herald Larry Clees for a term well served.

Members of the 1971 Spring Pledge Class are Ray Keck, Mike Kudrich, Tom Fudge, Mike Armstrong, Angelo Fraccia, Rick Van Horn, Lou Possanza, Gary Violanti, Joe Waskevich and Pledge President Gary Witt.

Plans are underway for the fraternity's fund raising project, and the Awards Banquet to be held in May.

Phi Sigma Pi brothers also acted as ushers and registrars at the Creativity Conference held this past Saturday, March 20th.

War Freaks

bobster" (and I always thought it was teeny-bopper!), I still relish the big beat of a rock and roll band. If you go to a rock concert then expect to see a tremendous outpouring of energy, because that's what it's all about, man. If, however, your musical taste leans in other directions, then may I suggest you catch Yash & Stash with the Polka Dots at your local Moose Club, Anytown, U.S.A.

As far as smoking grass in Haas goes, I will not defend it nor, for that matter, will I condemn it. If a person wants to risk arrest by smoking dope, that is his prerogative. I will not sit in judgement against pot smokers. Nor will I advocate it, for that matter; the laws against marijuana are deplorable.

These are the facts as many people, myself included, see them. If I have allowed an opinion or two to slip into this article, please accept my humblest apologies. If you choose to attack any Gadget articles in the future, we will be only too happy to respond in kind. May I offer some advice from a well known politician?

"In times of difficulty we must not lose sight of our achievements, must see the bright future and must pluck up our courage."—Mao Tse-Tung

If the inspirational words of the much-maligned Chairman Mao did not move you, Mike, then may I suggest to you my recipe for what I call a psychic meatloaf: Take one stereo set with a pair of headphones. Mix with liberal portions of the Beatles and the Jefferson Airplane. Shake the words and music well inside your head. Let cook for a minute, an hour, a lifetime. Obtain the last ten issues of the "East Village Other," "Ramparts," and "New Left Notes," and add a peace demonstration. Season with thousands of kids who have been clubbed, gassed, and beaten. Combine these ingredients with a smouldering anger. Baste with generous amount of love and restraint. Raise the oven temperature, and when the meat loaf is a fiery red, remove it from the oven. Take it to your local headquarters or army induction center and throw it through the front window. Run down the street laughing and singing with the sound of plate glass shattering in your ears, and then, Mike, only then will I accept your application to be Gadget editor next year.

Waste

and transporting waste to recycling center, and by determining the feasibility of this city making recycling a regular part of their solid waste disposal program.

To accomplish this task it is necessary to obtain the cooperation from organizations as well as from each individual. We need help in publicizing the project and voluntary labor in collecting, storing, and transporting the materials to reclamation sites. We need each individual or family unit to separate their own waste materials and to keep a close approximation on the amount of time in collecting waste materials.

Landfill space is getting scarce and our countryside is plagued with cans, bottles, and paper. Our present solid waste disposal systems are a national disgrace. According to ex-Secretary Robert Finch, "Rats, flies, and fleas are common in neighborhoods that do not have adequate waste disposal service....(also) recent studies indicate a relationship between solid waste and no less than 22 human diseases prevalent in this country, including such diseases as encephalitis and hepatitis."

Due to lack of appropriate equipment and funds, we must limit our collection of solid waste to three major categories: (1) Aluminum which includes only those cans without seams (Pils, Ballantine, Gibbons, and Budweiser) and aluminum foil plates and similar materials, (2) Paper; this includes newspaper, magazines and corrugated cardboard, (3) All glass except blue glass. Remove metal bands and caps from bottles.

Our immediate needs are to have volunteers for picking up materials when it is not possible for people to bring their waste to our storage areas and vehicles for transportation. But most important, you must save your aluminum, paper, and glass wastes and get them to us for recycling.

We will begin collecting Saturday, March 27, on Iron St. between 8th and 9th Streets. We will be collecting each Saturday if possible for the next three months. If you have any questions you may contact Mr. William Evans (784-7640), Mr. Robert Sagar (784-5391), Paul Turner (784-6497), or Alan Jones (784-6626).

If you're not part of the solution, you're part of the pollution.
